

etc. [no obj] — + into • She was trying to hack into the network. • Someone hacked into the company's financial records. [+ obj] The Web site had been hacked.

hack off [phrasal verb] 1 hack (something) off or hack off (something) : to cut (something) off in a rough and violent way • She used an ax to hack the dead branch off (the tree). 2 hack (someone) off also hack off (someone) informal : to make (someone) angry and annoyed • It really hacks me off to see people treated so unfairly. — see also HACKED OFF

²hack noun, pl hacks [count]

1 : the act of hitting something roughly with an ax, knife, etc. • He took a hack at the branch.

2 baseball, informal : SWING • He took a hack at a high fast-ball and popped it up.

3 : a loud, dry cough • a smoker's hack

— compare ³HACK

³hack noun, pl hacks [count]

1 disapproving a : a writer who produces a large amount of work mainly to make money • a hack writer b : someone who does work that is not important or original • a political hack

2 US, old-fashioned + informal : TAXI; also : the driver of a taxi : CABDRIVER

3 a : a horse that can be hired for use b : an old, worn-out horse

— compare ²HACK

hacked off adj [more ~; most ~] informal : angry or irritated • He was really hacked off when they lost the game.

hack-er /'hækə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 computers : a person who secretly gets access to a computer system in order to get information, cause damage, etc. : a person who hacks into a computer system

2 US, informal : a person who plays a sport badly • My friends and I have been playing golf for years, but we're still just a bunch of hackers. • a tennis hacker

hack-les /'hækəlz/ noun [plural] : hairs along the neck and back of an animal — often used figuratively with raise or rise to describe something that makes people angry or annoyed • The court ruling is sure to raise some hackles [=sure to upset some people] • Their arrogant attitude is what really made my hackles rise [=really made me angry]

hack-neyed /'hæknid/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not interesting, funny, etc., because of being used too often : not fresh or original • hackneyed phrases/jokes hack-saw /'hæksə/ noun, pl -saws [count] : a saw used for cutting metal — see picture at CARPENTRY had past tense and past participle of HAVE had-dock /'hædək/ noun, pl haddock [count, noncount] : a fish that lives in the Atlantic Ocean and that is often eaten as food — see color picture on page C8

Ha-des /'heɪdɪz/ noun [noncount]

1 : the home of the dead in Greek mythology

2 or hades informal — used as a more polite way of saying “hell” • It's hotter than hades today.

hadn't /'hædnɪt/ — used as a contraction of had not • They hadn't arrived at the party yet. • Hadn't we better be going now?

haemoglobin, haemophilia, haemophiliac, haemorrhage, haemorrhoid Brit spellings of HEMOGLOBIN, HEMOPHILIA, HEMOPHILIAC, HEMORRHAGE, HEMORRHOID

hag /'hæg/ noun, pl hags [count] offensive : an ugly, evil, or unpleasant old woman hag-gard /'hæɡəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : looking very thin and tired especially from great hunger, worry, or pain • She looked tired and haggard. • We were shocked by his haggard appearance.

hag-gis /'hæɡəs/ noun, pl -gis-es [count, noncount] : a Scottish dish made from the organs of a sheep that are chopped up, mixed with suet, onions, oatmeal, and seasonings, and boiled in the stomach of the sheep hag-gle /'hæɡəl/ verb hag-gles; hag-gled; hag-gling [no obj] : to talk or argue with someone especially in order to agree on a price • I dislike having to haggle (with a salesman) over/about the price of a new car. • She is good at haggling.

— hag-gler /'hæɡələ/ noun, pl hag-glors [count] • a skillful haggler

ha-gi-og-ra-phy /,hægi'ɑ:grəfi/ noun, pl -phies disapproving : a book about someone's life that makes it seem better than it really is or was : a biography that praises someone too much [count] a hagiography about a famous politician

[noncount] The book gives a good idea of his virtues without resorting to hagiography.

ha ha or ha-ha /'ha:'ha:/ interj — used to represent laughter • “Ha ha! That's a good one!” he chuckled. — often used in an ironic way • Oh, ha ha. That's very funny. [=that's not really funny at all] hai-ku /'haɪku/ noun, pl haiku also hai-kus : a Japanese form of poetry or a poem written in this form [noncount] a master of haiku [count] He has written many beautiful haiku. ♦ A haiku has three lines, with the first line containing five syllables, the second line containing seven syllables, and the third line containing five syllables again.

¹hail /'heɪl/ noun

1 [noncount] : pieces of ice that fall from clouds like rain • Many cars were damaged by hail during the storm.

2 [singular] : a large number of small hard objects (such as bullets or stones) flying or falling together • They were gunned down in a hail of bullets. • a hail of pellets — often used figuratively • The court's decision was met with a hail of criticism. [=was strongly criticized by many people]

²hail verb hails; hail-ed; hail-ing [no obj] — used with it to say that hail is falling • It's hailing outside. [=hail is falling from the sky] — compare ³HAIL

³hail verb hails; hailed; hailing [+ obj]

1 : to speak of or welcome (someone or something) with praise or enthusiasm • The town hailed him as a hero when he returned with the championship trophy. • His supporters have hailed [=strongly praised] his decision to run for reelection. — often used as (be) hailed • She is being hailed [=acclaimed] for her generosity. • The new drug has been widely hailed as a great breakthrough.

2 : to call out in order to stop or get the attention of (someone or something) • We hailed the passing ship. • He hailed a taxi for me. — see also HAILING DISTANCE hail from [phrasal verb] hail from (a place) : to have been born or raised in (a place) : to come from (a place) • He hails from a small town in western Kansas.

— compare ²HAIL

hailing distance noun [noncount] : the distance within which it is possible to hear someone who is calling out • They were within hailing distance of each other.

Hail Mary /-'meri/ noun, pl ~ Marys [count]

1 : a Roman Catholic prayer to the Virgin Mary

2 American football : a long forward pass thrown into or close to the end zone as playing time runs out • He threw up a Hail Mary at the end of the first half. • a Hail Mary pass hail-stone /'heɪl,stoʊn/ noun, pl -stones [count] : a piece of hail hail-storm /'heɪl,stoʊm/ noun, pl -storms [count] : a storm that produces hail

hair /'heə/ noun, pl hairs

¹a [count] : a thin threadlike growth from the skin of a person or animal • He plucked a hair from his arm. • There are dog/cat hairs all over my coat. b [noncount] : a covering or growth of hairs • The hair on her arms is blond. • He has a lot of hair on his chest. • facial/pubes hair c [noncount] : the covering of hairs on a person's head • He got his hair cut last week. • Your hair looks nice. • She has long/black/straight hair. • He has a thick/full head of hair. • a balding man who is losing his hair • a lock/strand of hair • hair conditioners/curlers • a hair dryer • I'm having a bad hair day. [=my hair does not look nice today]

2 [singular] informal : a very small distance or amount • He won the race by a hair. • He was a hair off on the count.

hair of the dog (that bit you) informal : an alcoholic drink that is taken by someone to feel better after having drunk too much at an earlier time hide or hair, hide nor hair see ²HIDE

in your hair informal ♦ Someone who is in your hair is bothering or annoying you. • His wife says that since he retired he's in her hair all day because he's at home so much.

keep your hair on Brit, informal — used to tell someone not to become too excited or upset let your hair down informal : to relax and enjoy yourself •

We work hard all week, so when Friday comes we like to let our hair down a little and have some fun.

make your hair curl informal ♦ If something makes your hair curl, it frightens, shocks, or surprises you. • I've heard stories about that guy that would make your hair curl.

make your hair stand on end informal ♦ If something makes your hair stand on end, it frightens you. • Just hearing his voice makes my hair stand on end.

not have a hair out of place informal : to have a very neat appearance • a politician who never has a hair out of place not turn a hair informal : to remain calm even though something frightening or shocking has happened • Most people would have been very nervous in that situation, but she never turned a hair.

out of your hair informal ♦ Someone who is out of your hair is no longer bothering or annoying you. • Let me take the children out of your hair while you cook dinner.

pull your hair out or tear your hair out informal : to be very worried or upset about something • We've been tearing our hair out trying to decide what to do.

split hairs : to argue about small details or differences that are not important • His lawyers are splitting hairs over the wording of his contract. — see also HAIRSPLITTING

— haired /'heəd/ adj • a long-haired cat • a dark-haired person — hair-less /'heələs/ adj • a hairless breed of cat

hair-brush /'heə,bɾʌʃ/ noun, pl -brush-es [count] : a brush for the hair — see picture at GROOMING

hair-cut /'heə,kʌt/ noun, pl -cuts [count] : the act or result of cutting and shaping someone's hair • The girls got haircuts yesterday. • He just had a haircut. • Do you like my haircut? • a short haircut

— hair-cut-ter /'heə,kʌtə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

hair-do /'heə,du:/ noun, pl -dos [count] : a way of cutting and arranging someone's hair • a stylish hairdo

hair-dress-er /'heə,dresə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who cuts and shapes hair

— hair-dress-ing /'heə,dresɪŋ/ noun [noncount] • She is taking classes in hairdressing.

hair-grip /'heə,grɪp/ noun, pl -grips [count] Brit : BOBBY PIN

hair-line /'heə,lain/ noun, pl -lines [count]

1 : a thin line or crack • The plate had a hairline running across it. — often used before another noun • a hairline crack • He suffered a hairline fracture of his shin bone.

2 : the line where your hair starts on your forehead • He has a receding hairline.

hair-net /'heə,net/ noun, pl -nets [count] : a net worn over someone's hair to keep it in place

hair-piece /'heə,pi:s/ noun, pl -piec-es [count] : a section of real or false hair that is worn to cover a bald spot on your head or to make your hair look longer, thicker, or a different color hair-pin /'heə,pɪn/ noun, pl -pins [count]

1 : a pin that is worn in your hair; especially : a pin shaped like a U that is worn to hold your hair in place

2 : an extremely sharp turn in a road that is shaped like a U — often used before another noun • a hairpin turn/curve hair-rais-ing /'heə,reɪzɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very frightening or exciting • a hair-raising adventure/story

— hair-rais-ing-ly adv

hair's breadth or US hair-breadth /'heə,bretθ/ noun

[singular] : a very small distance or amount • He came within a hair's breadth of winning the race. [=he came very close to winning the race] — often used before another noun • a hair-breadth escape [=a very narrow escape]

hair slide noun, pl ~ slides [count] Brit : BARRETTE

hair-split-ter /'heə,splɪtə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : a person who argues about differences that are too small to be important hair-split-ting /'heə,splɪtɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the act of arguing about differences that are too small to be important • The lawyers have been engaging in legalistic hairsplitting.

— see also split hairs at HAIR

— hairsplitting adj • lawyers making hairsplitting distinctions

hair-style /'heə,stajəl/ noun, pl -styles [count] : HAIRDO

hair-styl-ing /'heə,stajlɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the act or job of cutting and arranging people's hair • the latest trends in hairstyling

— hair-styl-ist /'heə,stajlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] • a professional hairstylist hair trigger noun, pl ~ -gers [count] : a trigger on a gun that needs very little pressure to cause the gun to shoot hair-trig-ger /'heə,trɪgə/ adj, always used before a noun : becoming angry very easily • He has a hair-trigger temper.

hairy /'heri/ adj hair-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : covered with a lot of hair • hairy arms • a hairy chest

2 informal : causing fear or tension : dangerous or stressful • The taxi ride got a little hairy. • When the deadline approaches, things can get a little hairy.

— hair-i-ness /'herɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

hajj /'hædʒ/ noun [singular] : a journey to Mecca that is a religious duty for Muslims

hake /'heɪk/ noun, pl hake [count, noncount] : a large fish that lives in the Atlantic Ocean and is often eaten as food

ha-lal /hə'lɑ:l/ adj

1 : accepted by Muslim law as fit for eating • halal meat

2 : selling or serving halal food • a halal butcher • a halal restaurant

hal-cy-on /'hælsɪjən/ adj, always used before a noun, literary : very happy and successful — used to refer to a happy and successful time in the past that is remembered as being better than today • She looks back fondly recalling the halcyon days/years of her career, when she was just out of college.

hale /'heil/ adj hal-er; hal-est [also more ~; most ~] : healthy and strong — usually used in the phrase hale and hearty • His mother remains hale and hearty in her old age.

¹half /'hæf, Brit 'hɑ:f/ noun, pl halves /'hævz, Brit 'hɑ:vz/

1 : one of two equal or nearly equal parts into which something can be divided [count] She broke each cookie into halves. • "Which half do you want?" "I'll take the smaller half." • Two halves make a whole. [noncount] The price has been reduced by half. [=by 50 percent; by an amount that is

hair

afro

braid (chiefly US), plait (chiefly Brit) dreadlocks

cornrows

pigtails

ponytail

part (US), parting (Brit)

bangs (US), fringe (Brit)

crew cut,
buzz cut (US)

equal to one half of the original] — see also BETTER HALF, OTHER HALF

2 a [count] : either of the two equal periods of playing time in sports like football and basketball • The team fell behind in the first half but rallied in the second half to win the game.

b the half : the time when the first half of a game ends • The score was tied at the half. [=at halftime]

3 [count] Brit, informal : half a pint of a drink (such as beer) • “What’s yours?” “A half of lager, please.”

and a half 1 — used in measurements of time, distance, weight, etc., to indicate one half of the unit of measurement • My daughter is two and a half (years old). [=two years and six months old] • The fish was a foot and a half long. [=one foot and six inches long] • ten and a half pounds [=ten pounds and eight ounces] 2 informal — used to say that something is very good, large, difficult, etc. • That was a meal and a half! [=that was a very big meal] • Renovating a house is a job and a half. [=is a very difficult job]

by halves informal : in an incomplete way — used in negative statements to say that someone does things with a lot of energy and effort • She never does anything by halves—it’s all or nothing!

go halves also go half and half : to share the cost of something equally • We decided to go halves (with each other) on the expenses.

in half : into two equal parts : into two halves • She cut the apple in half.

the half of it informal — used to say that a situation is even worse than you think it is or than it seems to be • “It sounds like you’ve been having some problems.” “You don’t know the half of it!” • Sales are down but that’s only the half of it—the company is closing several stores.

too . . . by half chiefly Brit, informal — used to say that someone or something has too much of a particular quality usually in a way that is annoying • an arrogant politician who is too clever by half

²half pronoun : a number or amount that is equal to one half of a total • “Do you want the whole piece?” “Half would be enough, please.” • Thirty students took the exam; half (that number) passed. [=15 students passed] • Half of 30 is/equals 15. • I seem to spend half (of) the day on the phone. • She gave half (of) her money to charity. • Half a million people live in this area. • Do you want half (of) my sandwich? • Half the time the kids are outside playing. [=the kids are often outside playing] • Getting to your destination is half the fun of a vacation. = Getting there is half the fun. • Half the problem is that we do not have enough employees to handle the increased workload. • I waited for half an hour [=30 minutes] • Please wait (for) half a minute/second [=for a moment] while I try to connect you. • half a dozen [=six] eggs • He’s always chasing women half his age [=women who are much younger than he is]

half the battle see ¹BATTLE

have half a mind see ¹MIND

³half adj, always used before a noun

1 : equal or nearly equal in size, value, amount, etc., to one half of something • a half cup of coffee • He owns a half share in the company. • a half pound of cheese • a half million people • a half mile away • a half circle • a half dozen [=six] eggs — see also HALF HOUR, HALF PRICE

2 : not complete : PARTIAL • She looked at him with a shy half smile. — often used in combination • a shy half-smile • We need resolute action, not timid half-measures.

⁴half adv

1 : to an extent that is equal or nearly equal to half of something • The glass of water is half full/empty. • The crowd was half cheering and half jeering. • She’s half French and half Italian. [=one of her parents is French and the other is Italian] • The meeting began at half past two. [=at 2:30] = (Brit) The meeting began at half two. • We arrived at the station at noon, and the train departed at half past. [=at 12:30] • The train departed at half past the hour.

2 : not completely : to some degree : PARTIALLY • He was only half aware of what was happening. • She had half persuaded me to stay. • The door was half open. • These eggs are only half cooked. • I was half asleep [=very tired; not completely awake] when you called. • She looked half dead [=she looked very tired/ill] half again as much/many (etc.) as (US) or Brit half as much/many (etc.) again as — used to say that the size or amount of one thing is 50 percent more than another • If 100 people were expected and 150 came, half again as many people came as were expected. • This dress costs half again as much as that one.

half as big/much/good (etc.) as — used to say that the size, amount, or quality of one thing is half or nearly half that of another • The bush is half as tall as the tree. [=the tree is twice as tall as the bush] • This dress costs half as much as that one. • If 100 people were expected and 50 came, only half as many people came as were expected. • If he can play the guitar half as well as he can sing, he should have quite a career. [=he will have a very successful career if he can play the guitar well, even if he doesn’t play as well as he sings] • The sequel isn’t half as good as the original movie. [=the original movie was much better than the sequel]

half off — used to say that something is being sold at half the original price • Peaches are half off today.

not half 1 : not nearly • He’s not half the fool you think he is. = He’s not half so foolish as you think he is. [=he is much smarter than you think he is] • an aging baseball player who is not half the hitter he once was [=he is not nearly as good as a hitter as he once was] 2 Brit, informal — used to emphasize a statement or description • She doesn’t half swear! [=she swears a lot] • It’s not half cold today! [=it is very cold today] • “Is it cold out?” “Not half!” [=yes, it is very cold]

not half bad informal : surprisingly good • Her singing was not half bad. [=not bad at all] • The food there is not half bad. [=pretty good] half-and-half /ˈhæfənˈhæf, Brit ˈhɑːfənˈhɑːf/ noun [non-count] US : a mixture of cream and whole milk • She usually puts half-and-half in her coffee.

half-assed (US) /ˈhæfˈæst, Brit ˈhɑːfˈæst/ or Brit half-arsed /ˈhæfˈɑːst, Brit ˈhɑːfˈɑːst/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal + impolite

1 : poorly done or planned • He did a half-assed job.

2 : stupid or foolish • a half-assed remark half-back /ˈhæf,bæk, Brit ˈhɑːf,bæk/ noun, pl -backs [count]

1 American football : a player on offense who lines up next to the fullback and who runs with the ball and blocks

2 : a defensive player in games like soccer and field hockey who is positioned in front of the fullback half-baked /ˈhæfˈbeɪkt, Brit ˈhɑːfˈbeɪkt/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : not well planned : foolish or stupid • a half-baked idea half bath noun, pl ~ baths [count] US : a bathroom that has a sink and toilet but no bathtub or shower half-breed /ˈhæf,briːd, Brit ˈhɑːf,briːd/ noun, pl -breeds [count] offensive : a person who has parents of different races; especially : a person who has a Native American parent and a white parent half brother noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a brother with the same father but a different mother or the same mother but a different father • George is my half brother.

— half-breed adj

half-caste /ˈhæf,kæst, Brit ˈhɑːf,kɑːst/ noun, pl -castes [count] offensive : a person who has parents of different races — half-caste adj

half-cocked /ˈhæf,kɑːkt, Brit ˈhɑːfˈkɒkt/ adj, US, informal : showing a lack of preparation or careful thought : stupid or foolish • half-cocked officials/ideas go off half-cocked (US) or Brit go off at half cock informal : to do or say something without preparing for it or thinking about it • Before you go off half-cocked, try listening to the explanation.

half-dollar /ˈhæfˈdɒlə, Brit ˈhɑːfˈdɒlə/ noun, pl -lars US

1 [count] : a coin that is worth 50 cents

2 [singular] : the sum of 50 cents • kids selling lemonade for a half-dollar • a half-dollar price increase half-hearted /ˈhæfˈhɑːtəd, Brit ˈhɑːfˈhɑːtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling or showing a lack of interest or enthusiasm • a half-hearted smile • half-hearted applause from the audience • He made a half-hearted attempt to contact them.

— half-heartedly adv • smiling halfheartedly

half hour noun [singular]

1 : 30 minutes • Trains depart every half hour. : a period of time that lasts for 30 minutes • I waited a half hour in line.

2 : the middle point of an hour • Tours start on the half hour [=at 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, etc.]

half-life /ˈhæfˈlaɪf, Brit ˈhɑːfˈlaɪf/ noun, pl -lives [count, technical] : the time it takes for a radioactive substance to lose half its radioactivity • a half-life of 200,000 years — often used figuratively to describe how long something remains useful or popular • Slang usually has a short half-life. [=slang usually is popular for only a short time]

half-light /'hæf,lart, Brit 'hɑ:f,lart/ noun [noncount] : dim grayish light • the half-light of early morning half-mast /'hæf'mæst, Brit 'hɑ:f'mɑ:st/ noun [noncount] : the position in the middle of a mast or pole ♦ A flag is flown at half-mast or lowered to half-mast to show respect for a person who has died.

half-moon /'hæf,mu:n, Brit 'hɑ:f,mu:n/ noun, pl -moons
1 [singular] : the moon when only half of it can be seen — compare FULL MOON, NEW MOON

2 [count] : something that is shaped like a half-moon • The pattern consists of circles and half-moons. • half-moon earrings [=earrings that are shaped like half-moons]

half note noun, pl ~ notes [count] US : a musical note equal in time to half of a whole note — called also (Brit) min-im half-pen-ny /'heɪpni/ noun, pl -nies /'heɪpniz/ [count] Brit : a former British coin worth one half of a penny half-pipe /'hæf,paɪp, Brit 'hɑ:f,paɪp/ noun, pl -pipes [count] : a curved structure with high sides that is used for doing tricks on a skateboard, snowboard, etc.

half price noun [noncount] : half of the original price • I bought these shoes at half price. = I paid half price for these shoes.

— half-price adj • half-price items • All winter coats are half-price today. — half-price adv • Reserve now and fly half-price.

half shell noun

on the half shell : served in one of the two halves of the shell • oysters on the half shell half sister noun, pl ~ -ters [count] : a sister with the same father but a different mother or the same mother but a different father • Emily is my half sister.

half-staff /'hæf'stæf, Brit 'hɑ:f'stɑ:f/ noun [noncount] US : HALF-MAST

half step noun, pl ~ steps [count] US, music : SEMITONE half-time /'hæf,taim, Brit 'hɑ:f,taim/ noun [noncount] : the period of rest between the end of the first half and the beginning of the second half in games like football and basketball • The score was tied at halftime. • The coaches discussed strategy during halftime.

half-tone /'hæf,toun, Brit 'hɑ:f,toun/ noun, pl -tones [count] technical

1 : a shade of gray in a photograph • using software to lighten/darken the picture's halftones

2 : an image printed by a method that creates many small dots half-truth /'hæf,tru:θ, Brit 'hɑ:f,tru:θ/ noun, pl -truths [count] : a statement that is only partly true and that is intended to deceive people • I'm tired of all these half-truths—I want to know the real story.

half-way /'hæf'wei, Brit 'hɑ:f'wei/ adj

1 : in the middle between two points • She was leading at the halfway mark/point of the race. • We're halfway toward completing the project.

2 always used before a noun, informal : not total or complete : PARTIAL • They're only offering halfway measures, not a real solution.

meet (someone) halfway see ¹MEET

— halfway adv • I was halfway home when I realized I had forgotten my briefcase. • The project isn't done yet, but we're halfway there. • He stopped halfway up the stairs. • We left halfway through the speech. • (informal) I'm willing to eat anywhere as long as the food is halfway decent [=fairly good]

halfway house noun, pl ~ houses

1 [count] : a place where people who have recently left a prison, mental hospital, etc., can live until they are considered ready to live by themselves

2 [singular] chiefly Brit : something that combines the qualities or features of two different things • The car is the perfect halfway house between a family caravan and luxury sedan.

half-wit /'hæf,wɪt, Brit 'hɑ:f,wɪt/ noun, pl -wits [count] informal : a foolish or stupid person • He says the people he works with are a bunch of half-wits.

— half-wit-ted /'hæf'wɪtəd, Brit 'hɑ:f'wɪtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] hal-i-but /'hæləbət/ noun, pl halibut [count, noncount] : a large fish of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans that is often eaten as food

hal-i-to-sis /,hælə'tousəs/ noun [noncount] medical : the condition of having breath that smells bad : bad breath hall /'hɑ:l/ noun, pl halls [count]

1 : a usually long, narrow passage inside a building with doors that lead to rooms on the sides • The bathroom is down the hall. • Her office is at the end of the hall.

2 : the area inside the entrance of a building • I'll meet you in the front hall. • The front door opens onto a large hall.

3 a : a large room or building for meetings, entertainment, etc. • We rented a hall for the wedding reception. • a concert/dining/dance hall • a lecture hall [=auditorium] — often used in proper names • Carnegie Hall • the Hampden County Hall of Justice — see also CITY HALL, MESS HALL, MUSIC HALL, TOWN HALL b : a building where students live at a college or university : DORMITORY • (US) a residence hall = (Brit) a hall of residence

4 Brit : a large, impressive house — used in proper names • The family owned Locksley Hall for generations.

the halls of power see ¹POWER

— see also STUDY HALL

¹hal-le-lu-jah /,hælə'lu:jə/ interj — used to express praise, joy, or thanks especially to God • Hallelujah! Praise the Lord! • It's the weekend! Hallelujah!

²hallelujah noun, pl -jahs [count] : a shout or song of praise or thanks to God

hall-mark /'hɑ:l,mɑ:k/ noun, pl -marks [count]

1 : a quality, ability, etc., that is typical of a particular person or thing • He had all the hallmarks of a great baseball player. • Humor is one of the hallmarks of her style. • The murder bore all the hallmarks of a serial killer's work. — compare EARMARK

2 : an official mark that is put on gold and silver objects in Britain to indicate their purity

Hall of Fame noun, pl Halls of Fame [count] chiefly US : a place that is like a museum with exhibits honoring the famous people and events related to a particular activity (such as a sport) • We visited the Basketball Hall of Fame.; also : the group of people who are honored in such a place • He was elected as a member of the Baseball Hall of Fame.

— Hall of Fam-er /,hɑ:lə'feɪmər/ noun, pl ~ -ers [count] • Hall of Famers [=members of the Hall of Fame] will be at the event to sign autographs.

hal-lowed /'hæləud/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : holy or blessed • The church stands on hallowed ground.

2 : highly respected • hallowed customs/traditions

Hal-low-eeen /,hælə'wi:n, ,hɑ:lə'wi:n/ noun, pl -eens [count, noncount] : the night of October 31 when children dress up as ghosts, witches, monsters, etc., and go to houses to ask for candy — compare TRICK OR TREAT

hal-lu-ci-nate /hə'lu:sə,neɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing : to see or sense something or someone that is not really there : to have hallucinations [no obj] The patient may hallucinate if she has a fever. [+ obj] His thirst caused him to hallucinate (that there was) an oasis in the desert.

hal-lu-ci-na-tion /hə,lu:sə'neɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] : something (such as an image, a sound, or a smell) that seems real but does not really exist and that is usually caused by mental illness or the effect of a drug • He could not tell if what he was seeing was real or if it was a hallucination. • He has been having hallucinations due to the medication.

— hal-lu-ci-na-to-ry /hə'lu:sənə'tori, Brit hə'lu:sənətri/ adj • hallucinatory drugs [=drugs that cause hallucinations] • hallucinatory images

hal-lu-ci-no-gen /hə'lu:sənədʒən/ noun, pl -gens [count] : a substance (such as a drug) that causes people to see or sense things that are not real : a substance that causes hallucinations

— hal-lu-ci-no-gen-ic /hə,lu:sənə'dʒenɪk/ adj • hallucinogenic drugs

hall-way /'hɑ:l,wei/ noun, pl -ways [count]

1 : HALL 1 • Her office is at the end of the hallway.

2 : HALL 2 • I'll meet you in the front hallway.

ha-lo /'heɪlou/ noun, pl -los or -loes [count]

1 : a circle of light that is shown in a religious painting, drawing, etc., around the head of a holy figure (such as an angel, saint, or god) — often used figuratively • the child's halo of golden curls • The scandal has tarnished the candidate's halo. [=has damaged his reputation as a morally good person]

2 : a bright circle seen around the sun or the moon

halt /'hɑ:lt/ verb halts; halt-ed; halt-ing

1 [+ obj] : to stop (something or someone) from moving or continuing • The project had to be halted due to lack of funds. • They voted to halt expansion of the shopping mall. • The strike halted subways and buses.

2 [no obj] : to stop moving or happening • The troops halted outside the city. • The fighting halted briefly. • The project halted when funding ran out. • The guard shouted, "Halt! Who goes there?"

halt noun, pl halts

1 [singular] : the stopping or ending of movement, progress, or action • The contract brought a halt to [=ended] the strike. • They put a halt to the rumors. • The chairman called a halt to [=stopped] the proceedings. • The car skidded/slowed to a halt. • The project came to a (grinding) halt = The project ground to a halt [=the project stopped completely]. • The project came to a screeching/crashing halt [=the project stopped suddenly and completely].

2 [count] Brit : a small railroad stop at which there is no station

hal-ter /'hɑ:ltə/ noun, pl -ters [count]

1 : a set of straps placed around a horse's head so that the horse can be led or tied halting /'hɑ:ltɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : stopping often because of not being sure about what to say or do : not steady • She answered in a halting voice. • The baby took a few halting steps. • Progress in the negotiations has been halting.

2 : a piece of clothing worn on a woman's upper body that is held in place by straps around the neck and back and that leaves the back, arms, and shoulders bare — called also halter top; see color picture on page C14

— halt-ing-ly adv

halve /'hæv, Brit 'hɑ:v/ verb halves; halved; halv-ing [+ obj]

1 : to divide (something) into two equal parts : to divide (something) into halves • He halved the sandwich.

2 : to reduce (something) to one half of the original amount or size • The store is halving the price of many summer items.

halves plural of ¹HALF

ham /'hæm/ noun, pl hams

1 : meat from the leg of a hog that is often prepared by smoking or salting [noncount] a piece/slice of ham • We're having ham for dinner. • a ham sandwich [count] a delicious ham

2 [count] informal a disapproving : a bad actor who performs in an exaggerated way • He was once a fine actor, but now he's just an old ham. • a ham actor b : someone who enjoys performing and who tends to behave in an exaggerated or playful way when people are watching • Cameras bring out the ham in her.

3 [count] : someone who operates an amateur radio station — often used before another noun • ham radio • a ham radio operator

ham verb hammed; ham-ming

ham it up informal : to act or behave in an exaggerated or playful way • She likes to ham it up for the camera.

ham-burg /'hæm,bərg/ noun, pl -burgs [count] US, informal : HAMBURGER

ham-burg-er /'hæm,bəgə/ noun, pl -ers

1 [count] : a flat, usually round cake of finely chopped beef that is cooked and served usually in a roll or bun • They served hot dogs and hamburgers at the cookout.

2 [noncount] : beef that has been cut into very small pieces : ground beef • Add the cooked hamburger to the sauce. — called also (Brit) mince

ham-fist-ed /'hæm,fɪstəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : awkward or clumsy : HAM-HANDED • a ham-fisted performance ham-hand-ed /'hæm,hændəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : awkward or clumsy • The actress gave a ham-handed performance. • a ham-handed attempt at humor • The apology was rather ham-handed.

ham-let /'hæmlət/ noun, pl -lets [count] : a small village

ham-mer /'hæmə/ noun, pl -mers

1 [count] a : a tool that has a heavy metal head attached to a handle and that is used for hitting nails or breaking things apart — see picture at CARPENTRY; see also SLEDGEHAMMER b : a similar tool made usually of wood and used especially for hitting a surface to make a loud noise • an auctioneer's hammer

2 [count] : the part of a gun that strikes a charge causing the gun to shoot

3 [count] : a piece inside a piano that strikes a string to produce a sound

4 [count] : a stick that is shaped like a hammer and that is used to play a musical instrument

5 a [count] : a heavy metal ball with a flexible handle that people throw as a sport b the hammer : an event in which people compete by throwing a hammer • He won a gold medal in the hammer. — called also the hammer throw hammer and tongs : in a very forceful and energetic way • under the hammer — used to describe something that is being sold at an auction • Some valuable paintings went under the hammer today.

Our neighbors were arguing again last night. They were going at it hammer and tongs.

hammer verb -mers; -mered; -mer-ing

1 a : to force (something) into a particular place or shape by hitting it with a hammer [+ obj] He hammered the dent out of the fender. • I hammered [=drove] the nails into the wall. • The copper was hammered [=pounded] into a flat sheet. [no obj] The carpenters were hammering all afternoon. b [+ obj] : to attach (something) with a hammer and nails • The workers are hammering the studs to the frame.

2 informal a [+ obj] : to hit (something or someone) in a very forceful way • The batter hammered the ball over the fence. • Someone tried to hammer him over the head with a club. • Many towns were hammered by the hurricane. b :

to hit (something) hard and repeatedly [+ obj] The typist's fingers were hammering the keys. • He was hammering [=pounding, banging] the door with his fists. [no obj] He was hammering at/on the door. • The rain hammered down on the roof. c [no obj] : to beat very quickly and forcefully • My heart was hammering. [=pounding]

3 [+ obj] informal : to defeat (an opponent) very easily • The home team was hammered 9–0.

4 [+ obj] informal : to harm or criticize (someone or something) severely — often used as (be) hammered • Local businesses are being hammered by the new shopping mall. • He is being hammered by his political opponents for his failure to cut taxes.

5 [no obj] : to keep talking about something or trying to do something — usually + at • He kept hammering at the need for tax relief throughout his speech. — often + away • I know we can solve this problem if we just keep hammering away (at it).

hammer into [phrasal verb] hammer (something) into (someone) : to force (something) to be learned very well by (someone) by repeating it again and again • They are constantly trying to hammer good manners into their children. • She hammered it into me that I could succeed.

hammer out [phrasal verb] hammer out (something) or hammer (something) out : to produce (something, such as an agreement) by a lot of discussion or argument • After hours of discussion, we finally hammered out an agreement/deal. • We'll hammer the details out later.

hammered adj, not used before a noun [more ~; most ~] slang : very drunk • They got/were hammered last night.

ham-mer-ing /'hæməɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 : the sound made when something is being hit by a hammer, by rain, etc. [noncount] Loud hammering was coming from next door. • We could hear the hammering of the rain on the roof. [singular] We could hear a loud hammering from next door.

2 [singular] informal — used to say that someone or something has been very forcefully hit, damaged, criticized, etc. • The old church got/took quite a hammering [=was badly damaged] during the storm. • The governor took a hammering from the media for his decision. • Our team got/took quite a hammering [=was badly beaten] in yesterday's game.

hammer throw noun

the hammer throw : ¹HAMMER 5b

ham-mock /'hæmək/ noun, pl -mocks [count] : a type of bed that consists of a piece of cloth hung between two trees, poles, etc.

ham-per /'hæmpə/ verb

-pers; -pered; -per-ing [+ obj] : to slow the movement, progress, or action of (someone or something) • Bad weather could hamper our search efforts. = Bad weather

hammock

could hamper us in our search efforts. • The project was hampered by budget restraints. • Construction is hampering traffic on the highway.

2hamper noun, pl -pers [count] : a large basket usually with a cover: such as a : a basket for food • a picnic hamper b US : a basket for holding dirty clothes until they can be washed • a clothes hamper — see picture at BATHROOM

ham•ster /ˈhæmstər/ noun, pl -sters [count] : a small animal that is often kept as a pet

1ham•string /ˈhæm,striŋ/ noun, pl -strings [count]
1 : a tendon at the back of a person's knee
2 : a muscle at the back of a person's upper leg • This exercise will strengthen your hamstrings. = This exercise will strengthen your hamstring muscles.

2hamstring verb -strings; -strung /-,strʌŋ/; -string-ing [+obj] : to damage or ruin the force or effectiveness of (something or someone) • The mayor tried to hamstring our efforts by cutting the budget. • The company claims it is being hamstrung by government regulations.

1hand /ˈhænd/ noun, pl hands
1 [count] a : the body part at the end of your arm that includes your fingers and thumb • These gloves will keep your hands warm. • She put her hands over her eyes. • He sat quietly with his hands folded in his lap. b — used in some phrases to refer to a person • I'm afraid this job will need more than one pair of hands [=more than one person] • It's a big job, but many hands make light work [=if many people work on it, it will be easier to do]
2 hands [plural] : power, possession, or control • The maps were in the hands of the enemy. [=the enemy had the maps] • The land between these mountains remains in private hands. [=is privately owned]
3 [singular] : physical help : assistance in doing something • Do you need a hand? • I'll be happy to lend a hand [=help] — often + with • Can you give/lend me a hand with [=help me with] this suitcase? • Let me give you a hand with that. — see also HELPING HAND
4 [count] : a long, thin part that points to a number on a clock or dial • Many clocks have a second hand, a minute hand, and an hour hand.
5 [noncount] somewhat old-fashioned : a promise of marriage • He asked for her hand (in marriage). [=he asked her to marry him] • She offered her hand in marriage to him. [=she said that she would marry him] • She gave him her hand in marriage. [=she married him]
6 [singular] : the act of hitting your hands together to show approval, appreciation, etc. : the act of applauding • Let's give him a big hand! [=a big round of applause]
7 [count] a : the cards that are held by a player in a card game • He studied his hand before deciding how much to bet. — often used figuratively • The program is designed to help children who have been dealt a cruel hand in life. [=children who have suffered or had bad things happen to them] • Even her critics say her chances of succeeding are great since she has been dealt such a strong hand. [=she is in a strong position] — see also overplay your hand at OVERPLAY b : a single round of play in a card game • He lost the first hand but won the next two.
8 [count] a : a hired worker • factory hands • The cowboys were simply hired hands with no ownership rights. — see also FARMHAND, OLD HAND, STAGEHAND b : a member of a ship's crew — usually plural • All hands on deck!
9 [count] : someone who performs or produces something (such as a work of art) — usually singular • These two portraits are by the same hand. [=by the same artist]
10 [singular] : a particular way or style of doing or handling something • The hand of a master is evident in these sculptures. [=these sculptures were obviously done by a very skillful artist] • He runs the business with a firm hand. • a cook who has a heavy hand with the salt [=who uses too much salt] — see also HEAVY-HANDED
11 [singular] old-fashioned : the way a person's writing looks : a type of handwriting • a note written in an elegant hand
12 [count] : a unit of measure equal to 4 inches (about 10.16 centimeters) and used especially to measure the height of horses • a horse that is 15 hands high a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush see BIRD a show of hands see 2SHOW
at first hand see 1FIRST
at hand : close in distance or time • She likes to keep the phone (close) at hand. • We need to address the problem at hand [=the particular problem we are dealing with] and not argue about these other issues.

at the hand(s) of : by or through the action of (someone or something) • They were treated badly at the hands of the prison guards. • The people had suffered at the hands of a cruel dictator.

by hand 1 : with the hands • The stone was carved by hand. 2 : from one person directly to another • I delivered the document to his office by hand.

by the hand : by holding someone's hand • I took him by the hand and led him through the crowd. — sometimes used figuratively • You can't expect me to lead you by the hand through every difficult situation.

by your own hand : by your own actions • She died by her own hand [=she killed herself; she committed suicide]

change hands see 1CHANGE
eat out of someone's hand see EAT fall into the hands of see 1FALL fall into the wrong hands see 1FALL force someone's hand see 2FORCE get your hands dirty see 1DIRTY get/lay your hands on : to find, get, or control (someone or something) • I'm still trying to lay my hands on my car keys. • He couldn't wait to get his hands on her money. • Wait until I get my hands on you. [=you will be in trouble when I catch you] give your right hand see 1GIVE good with your hands : skillful at things that require the use of your hands • He's always been good with his hands.
grease the hand of see 2GREASE hand and foot 1 — used to describe someone whose hands and feet are tied to prevent escape or movement • The prisoner was bound/tied hand and foot. 2 ♦ To wait on someone hand and foot is to provide everything that someone needs or wants. • I can't stand the way they wait on her hand and foot!
hand in glove : very closely • We are working hand in glove with the police to recover the stolen property.
hand in hand 1 : holding hands : grasping another person's hand • They walked on the beach hand in hand. 2 — used to say that two people or things are very closely connected or related • In a film, the images and sounds go hand in hand. • The chef works hand in hand [=very closely] with a nutritionist.
hand over fist informal — used to say that someone is earning or losing money very quickly or in large amounts • They were making/earning money hand over fist.
hands are tied ♦ If your hands are tied you cannot do anything about a situation because you do not have the power to act freely. • I'd like to help you, but my hands are tied. • The judge says her hands are tied because the law requires a harsh sentence in such cases.
hands off — used as a command to tell someone not to touch something • Hands off my property! • “Those cookies look delicious.” “Hands off! We're saving them for later.”
hand to mouth : without much money : in poverty • They have been living hand to mouth since he lost his job. = It's been hand to mouth since he lost his job. — see also HAND-TO-MOUTH hat in hand (US) or Brit cap in hand : asking or begging for something in a respectful way • He came to me, hat in hand, asking if I could get him a job at the company.
have a hand in : to be involved in (something) • She had a hand in designing the new highway. • Did he have a hand in this decision?
have someone in the palm of your hand see 1PALM have your hands full : to be very busy • She'll have her hands full with the new baby.
heavy on your hands see 2HEAVY hold hands or hold someone's hand 1 : to hold a person's hand in one of your hands for a period of time • two people holding hands • He held hands with his daughter. • He held her hand as they walked. 2 : to guide someone through a process by carefully explaining each step • I don't need you to hold my hand.
in good/safe hands : being taken care of very well • With her in charge, the office is in good hands. [=she will do the job well] • You're in safe hands with us. [=you will be safe with us] in hand 1 : in your possession or control • We started our hike with compass and map in hand. • He has the situation well in hand [=he is in control of the situation] ♦ To take someone in hand is to begin to guide or direct someone who has been behaving badly. • You need someone to take you in hand, young lady, and show you how to behave! 2 chiefly Brit : available for use • If we work at this rate we'll have a month in hand before our deadline is up!

H

join hands see JOIN

keep your hand in informal : to continue to be involved in some activity • He retired several years ago, but he still comes by the office occasionally because he likes to keep his hand in (the business).

keep/get your hands off (of) : to not touch (something) • Keep your hands off the cookies! We're saving them for later. — often used figuratively • The military is asking lawmakers to keep their hands off [=not change] the defense budget.

know (something) like the back of your hand see ¹KNOW
lay a hand on : to touch or harm (someone) • He claims that he never laid a hand on her.

off your hands : no longer in your possession or no longer your responsibility • If you don't want those golf clubs anymore, I'll be glad to take them off your hands. [=I'll be glad to take them] • She's trying to find a way to get some of that extra work off her hands.

on hand 1 : available for use • We have plenty of water on hand. 2 : present and available to do something • Five musicians were on hand to accompany her. • A priest was on hand to console them.

on the one hand, on the other hand — used to introduce statements that describe two different or opposite ideas, people, etc. • On the one hand, I think the price is fair, but on the other (hand), I really can't afford to spend that much money. • He's a good guy. His brother, on the other hand, is a very selfish man.

on your hands — used to say that you have something or are responsible for something • With all that extra work on her hands she'll need all the help she can get. • Once this project is over she should have some time on her hands. [=free time] — see also blood on your hands at BLOOD on your hands and knees : with your hands and knees on the ground : in a crawling position • She went down on her hands and knees.

out of hand 1 : very quickly without serious thought • He rejected the plan out of hand. • Suggestions that the hearing should be delayed were dismissed out of hand. 2 : not controlled • The kids were (getting) out of hand. [=were behaving in a wild and uncontrolled way] • He warns that technology is getting out of hand.

out of your hands — used to say that you cannot control something • The decision is out of my hands.

play into someone's hands see ¹PLAY

putty in your hands see ¹PUTTY

safe pair of hands Brit : someone who can be trusted with responsibility or a job • The next leader of the party should be a safe pair of hands.

sit on your hands see ¹SIT

take (something) into your (own) hands : to take control of something • The judge had no sympathy for people who insisted on taking the law into their own hands. [=trying to punish criminals themselves instead of allowing the legal system to do it] • After months of waiting for something to happen, he decided to take matters into his own hands.

to hand : available for use • I don't have all the latest data (immediately) to hand.

try your hand : to try to do something — usually + at • She wanted to try her hand at photography.

turn your hand to : to begin doing (something) usually in a skillful way : to start (a new activity, field of study, etc.) • an actress who has turned her hand to directing • After he left publishing, he turned his hand to law.

wash your hands of see ¹WASH

with your bare hands : using only your hands and no tools or weapons • He tried to kill me with his bare hands.

— see also FIRSTHAND, HANDS DOWN, SECONDHAND, SLEIGHT OF HAND, UPPER HAND

²hand verb hands; hand-ed; hand-ing [+ obj] : to give (something) to someone using your hands • He handed her a letter. = He handed a letter to her. • Hand me that picture.

hand back [phrasal verb] hand (something) back or hand back (something) : to return (something) by handing it to someone • He handed the letter back (to her) without reading it. • The clerk handed back my credit card.

hand down [phrasal verb] hand (something) down or hand down (something) 1 : to pass (something) from a person who is older (such as a parent) to a person who is younger (such as a child) • She will hand the diamond ring down to her niece. • The farm was handed down from generation to generation. 2 chiefly US, law : to form and express (a decision or opinion) in writing • The Supreme Court has handed down its decision.

hand in [phrasal verb] hand (something) in or hand in (something) : to give (something) to a person who will review or accept it • Students should hand their papers in on Thursday. • He handed in his resignation.

hand it to informal : to give credit to (someone) for doing something • I've got to hand it to you. You did a great job planning the party.

hand off [phrasal verb] hand (something) off or hand off (something) US : to give (something) to another person • (American football) The quarterback handed off the ball to the halfback. • She handed the job off to her assistant.

hand on [phrasal verb] hand (something) on or hand on (something) formal : to pass (something) from one person to another • These stories have been handed on from generation to generation.

hand out [phrasal verb] hand (something) out or hand out (something) : to give (something) to several or many people • They will hand out [=distribute] copies of the newsletter today. • He's always handing out advice to the people he works with. • She handed flyers out at the grocery store.

hand over [phrasal verb] hand (someone or something) over or hand over (someone or something) : to give up control or possession of (something or someone) • They demanded that he hand the documents over to them. • They agreed to hand over their hostages.

hand-bag /'hænd,bæg/ noun, pl -bags [count] : a woman's small bag or purse used for carrying personal things and money — see picture at BAG

hand baggage noun [noncount] : HAND LUGGAGE

hand-ball /'hænd,bɑ:l/ noun, pl -balls

1 [noncount] : a game for two or four players who use their hands to hit a ball against a wall

2 [count] : the ball used in handball

hand-bas-ket /'hænd,bæskət/ noun

go to hell in a handbasket US, informal : to become completely ruined • He's convinced that the country is going to hell in a handbasket.

hand-bill /'hænd,bil/ noun, pl -bills [count] somewhat old-fashioned : a small printed advertisement or announcement that is given out to many people by hand hand-book /'hænd,buk/ noun, pl -books [count] : a small book that gives useful information about a particular subject • a handbook of English • a writer's handbook

hand brake noun, pl ~brakes [count]

1 : a brake that is operated by pushing or pulling a lever with your hand

2 : PARKING BRAKE

¹hand-craft /'hænd,kra:ft, Brit 'hænd,kra:ft/ verb -crafts; -craft-ed; -craft-ing [+ obj] : to make (something) by using your hands • She handcrafted a set of bowls out of red clay. — handcrafted adj • a handcrafted [=handmade] set of bowls • a beautiful handcrafted bed

²handcraft noun, pl -crafts [count] : HANDICRAFT

hand-cuff /'hænd,kʌf/ verb -cuffs; -cuffed; -cuf-fing [+ obj] : to put handcuffs on (someone) • handcuff a prisoner hand-cuffs /'hænd,kʌfs/ noun [plural] : a set of two metal rings that are joined together and locked around a person's wrists • Police put handcuffs on the prisoner.

hand-eye coordination noun [noncount] : the way that your hands and sight work together so you are able to do things that require speed and accuracy (such as catching or hitting a ball) • an athlete with good hand-eye coordination

hand·ful /'hænd,fʊl/ noun, pl -fuls

1 [count] : an amount that you can hold in your hand • The children collected seashells by the handful. — often + of • a handful of strawberries

2 [singular] : a small amount or number — often + of • Only a handful of people showed up for the lecture.

3 [singular] informal : someone or something that is difficult to control • Our dog is a real handful.

hand·gun /'hænd,gʌn/ noun, pl -guns [count] : a small gun (such as a revolver or a pistol) designed to be held and shot with one hand hand·held /'hænd,held/ adj, always used before a noun : designed to be used while being held in your hands • a hand-held movie camera

handheld noun, pl -helds [count] : a small electronic device or computer that fits in your hand hand·hold /'hænd,hould/ noun, pl -holds [count] : a place or part on a surface that you can hold on to with your hand while climbing a cliff, mountain, etc.

hand–hold·ing /'hænd,houldɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : patient attention, support, or instruction • New computer users often require a good deal of hand-holding. — see also hold hands at ¹HAND

hand·i·cap /'hændi,kæp/ noun, pl -caps [count]

1 sometimes offensive : a physical or mental condition that may limit what a person can do : a physical or mental disability • a mental/physical handicap ◇ Some people consider the word handicap offensive in this sense and prefer the word disability.

2 : a problem, situation, or event that makes progress or success difficult • His shyness was a handicap in his job.

3 golf : a number that shows a golfer's level of skill and that is used to allow golfers of different abilities to compete with each other • She's been practicing a lot and her handicap has gone down from 18 to 12.

4 : a horse race in which some horses are required to carry more weight so that all the horses in the race will have an equal chance of winning

handicap verb -caps; -capped; -cap·ping [+ obj]

1 : to make success or progress difficult for (someone) — usually used as (be) handicapped • He was handicapped by his extreme shyness.

2 US : to make a judgment about the likely winner of a race or contest • handicap the horses in a race = handicap a race • It's very hard to handicap the election at this point.

— hand·i·cap·per /'hændi,kæpə/ noun, pl -pers [count]

hand·i·capped /'hændi,kæpt/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] sometimes offensive : having a physical or mental condition that limits what a person can do : having a handicap • He has been handicapped since his motorcycle accident. • physically/mentally handicapped ◇ Some people consider the word handicapped offensive in this sense and prefer disabled.

2 : designed or reserved for disabled people • handicapped parking spaces • a handicapped entrance

hand·i·craft /'hændi,kra:ft, Brit 'hændi,kra:ft/ noun, pl -crafts [count]

1 : an activity that involves making something in a skillful way by using your hands • Her favorite handicraft is sewing.

2 : an object made by skillful use of your hands — usually plural • The street is lined with vendors selling handicrafts. — called also handcraft hand·i·ly /'hændəli/ adv [more ~; most ~] : without trouble : very easily • He won the card game handily.

hand·i·work /'hændi,wə:k/ noun [noncount]

1 : work that is done by using your hands • They admired the potter's beautiful handiwork.

2 : something done by a particular person or group • I think all of these problems are her handiwork.

hand·ker·chief /'hæŋkətʃəf/ noun, pl -chiefs also -chieves /'hæŋkətʃəfs/ [count] : a small cloth used for wiping your face, nose, or eyes — called also (informal) hankie

han·dle /'hændl/ noun, pl han·dles [count]

1 : a part of something that is designed to be held by your hand • He held the shovel by the/its handle. • The handles on the bag were torn. • a door handle [=the part that you turn with your hand to open a door] — see picture at BAG; see also LOVE HANDLES

2 slang : ¹NICKNAME • What's your handle?

fly off the handle see ¹FLY

get/have a handle on informal : to understand (something)

• I can't quite get a handle on the way this machine works.

It seemed like she had a good handle on the situation. [=she understood the situation and was able to deal with it]

— han·dled /'hændld/ adj — usually used in combination • a wooden-handled basket

handle verb handles; han·dled; han·dling

1 [+ obj] a : to touch, feel, hold, or move (something) with your hand • Handle the fruit carefully or it will bruise. • The baked potatoes were too hot to handle with our bare hands. b : to manage or control (something) with your hands • He knows how to handle a motorcycle. • He handles his motorcycle well. • She learned how to handle a weapon.

2 [+ obj] : to do the work required for (something) • She handles all the bookkeeping. • The system is handled by the main computer. • She's proven that she can handle anything. • The airport handles both passenger and cargo flights.

3 [+ obj] : to deal with (a person, situation, etc.) successfully • She couldn't handle being away from her children for more than a couple of days. • He's having a hard time handling the pressure of his new job. • A good politician knows how to handle the press. • Do you think he can handle the truth?

4 [+ obj] : to express thoughts about (something) in a piece of music, writing, or art • The class discussed how the author handled [=dealt with] the theme of loneliness in the novel.

5 [+ obj] : to be involved with the buying or selling of (something) • They own a store that handles rugs. • He was arrested for handling stolen goods.

6 [no obj] — used to describe how easy or difficult it is to control a vehicle • I'm looking for a car that handles well in the snow. • "How does his motorcycle handle?" "It handles very well."

handle yourself : to behave • She closely watched how the boys handled themselves at the ceremony. • She handled herself well under very difficult circumstances. — see also HANDLING han·dle·bar /'hændl,bɑ:ə/ noun, pl -bars [count] : a straight or bent bar with a handle at each end that is used to steer a bicycle, motorcycle, etc. — usually plural • Keep both hands on the handlebars. — see picture at BICYCLE handlebar mustache noun, pl ~ -taches [count] : a thick, long mustache that curves upward at the ends

han·dler /'hændlɜ:/ noun, pl -dlers [count]

1 : a person who trains or controls an animal • a dog handler and breeder

2 : a person who carries or handles something • a baggage handler • food handlers

3 chiefly US : a person who guides, helps, or manages a political or public figure • a politician and his handlers

han·dling /'hændlɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 a : the act of touching, feeling, holding, or moving something • These items require careful handling. b : the way that someone deals with a person, event, situation, etc. — often + of • His handling of the situation could not have been worse. • The media's handling of the tragedy has been criticized.

2 : the act or process of packing and shipping something to someone (such as a customer) • There are additional charges for shipping and handling.

3 : the way a vehicle moves when it is driven or ridden • The car's handling was smooth.

hand luggage noun [noncount] : small pieces of luggage that a passenger can carry onto an airplane • You are entitled to one piece of hand luggage per flight.

hand·made /'hænd'meɪd/ adj : made with the hands or by using hand tools • a handmade rug • handmade furniture

hand·maid /'hænd,meɪd/ noun, pl -maids [count] : HAND-MAIDEN hand·maid·en /'hænd,meɪdn/ noun, pl -ens [count] somewhat old-fashioned : a female servant or maid — usually used figuratively • He feels that government has become the handmaiden of corporate interests. [=the government only serves corporate interests]

hand–me–down /'hændmi,daʊn/ adj : owned or used by someone else before you : ²SECONDHAND — used especially of clothing • He was wearing an old, hand-me-down jacket. — sometimes used figuratively • He has some old-fashioned, hand-me-down notions about the role of women.

— hand–me–down noun, pl -downs [count] • Her closet was full of hand-me-downs from her older sisters.

hand·off /'hænd,ɑ:f/ noun, pl -offs [count] American football : an act of handing the ball to another player • He fum-

H

bled the ball while attempting a handoff. — see also hand off at ²HAND

hand-out /'hænd,aʊt/ noun, pl -outs [count]

1 : something (such as food, clothing, or money) that is given to someone who is poor • He sat on the sidewalk asking for a handout. • The family wasn't interested in government handouts. — see also hand out at ²HAND

2 : a document that is given to people • The handouts had all the major points of his speech outlined on them. • advertising handouts

hand-over /'hænd,ouvə/ noun [singular] : the act or process of giving control of someone or something to another person, country, etc. • the handover of power from the old government to the new government — see also hand over at ²HAND hand-pick /'hænd'pɪk/ verb -picks; -picked; -pick-ing [+ obj]

1 : to pick (something, such as a fruit) by using your hand • They run a farm where you can handpick fresh strawberries. • a box of handpicked strawberries

2 : to choose (something or someone) carefully by yourself instead of letting someone else do it • The executive hand-picked her successor.

hand puppet noun, pl ~ -pets [count] US : a puppet that fits over your hand like a glove and is moved by the fingers and hand of its wearer — called also (Brit) glove puppet hand-rail /'hænd,reɪl/ noun, pl -rails [count] : a narrow bar placed on the side of a walkway or a flight of stairs that you can hold as you walk hand-saw /'hænd,sɔ:/ noun, pl -saws [count] : a saw designed to be used with one hand hands down /'hændz'daʊn/ adv, informal

1 : without much effort : very easily • She could win any race hands down.

2 : without any doubt : DEFINITELY • It's hands down the best movie of the year.

— hands-down /'hændz'daʊn/ adj, informal • the hands-down favorite to win

hand-set /'hænd,set/ noun, pl -sets [count] : the part of a telephone that you hold near your ear and mouth for listening and speaking — see picture at TELEPHONE hands-free adj, always used before a noun : designed to be used without being held in your hands • a hands-free cell phone hand-shake /'hænd,'ʃeɪk/ noun, pl -shakes [count] : the act of grasping someone's right hand with your right hand and moving it up and down : the act of shaking hands • She greeted him with a handshake. ; also : the manner in which a person shakes hands • He has a firm/weak handshake. ♦ A handshake is often the way people greet each other, but it is also used when people part from each other or when they have made an agreement. • The deal was sealed with a handshake. — see also GOLDEN HANDSHAKE hands-off /'hændz'ɔ:f/ adj, always used before a noun : allowing people to do what they want to do without bothering or stopping them • His hands-off approach to teaching allows students to choose the focus of their studies.

hand-some /'hænsəm/ adj hand-som-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : pleasing to look at : ATTRACTIVE • It was a handsome house situated on a large lot. • The book includes many handsome illustrations. ; especially, of a person : having a pleasing appearance that causes romantic or sexual feelings in someone • a handsome face • I predict that someone tall, dark, and handsome is going to come into your life. ♦ Men are more frequently described as handsome than women. synonyms see BEAUTIFUL

2 always used before a noun : large in size or amount • He inherited a handsome fortune. • He made a handsome profit on the sale of the house. • They made handsome [=generous] contributions to charity.

3 always used before a noun : done or achieved in an impressive way • The book is a handsome tribute to a great poet. • (chiefly Brit) She won a handsome victory in the election.

— hand-some-ly adv • The book is handsomely illustrated with ink drawings. • He was handsomely [=generously] rewarded for his loyalty. — hand-some-ness noun [non-count] • an actor known for his rugged handsomeness

hands-on /'hændz'ɔ:n/ adj

1 always used before a noun a : gained by actually doing something rather than learning about it from books, lectures, etc. • New employees are given hours of hands-on

training. • They need hands-on experience with the machinery. b : involving or allowing the use of your hands or touching with your hands • The children's museum is full of hands-on displays. • hands-on activities

2 [more ~; most ~] : actively and personally involved in something (such as running a business) • He felt strongly that the staff needed a more hands-on manager. • She's always been very hands-on when it comes to running the restaurant.

hand-spring /'hænd'sprɪŋ/ noun, pl -springs [count] : a fast movement in which you jump forward or backward, land on your hands, swing your legs up and over your body, and then land on your feet • He did a handspring on the lawn hand-stand /'hænd,stænd/ noun, pl -stands [count] : the act of balancing on your hands with the body and legs straight up in the air hand-to-hand /'hændtə'hænd/ adj, always before a noun : involving physical contact between people — used to describe fighting that is done with the hands or with knives, clubs, etc., instead of guns, arrows, etc. • hand-to-hand combat hand-to-mouth /'hændtə'maʊθ/ adj : having only enough money to survive • After the factories closed, many people lived a hand-to-mouth existence. [=many people were poor] — see also hand to mouth at ¹HAND hand tool noun, pl ~ tools [count] : a small tool (such as a hammer or wrench) that usually does not use electricity

hand towel noun, pl ~ -els [count] : a small towel for drying your hands — see picture at BATHROOM hand-work /'hænd,wɜ:k/ noun [noncount] : work done with your hands and not by a machine • She wore a beaded dress that required many hours of handwork.

hand-wo-ven /'hænd'wouvən/ adj : woven by hand : woven using a machine (called a loom) that is not powered by electricity • handwoven cloth/fabrics hand-wring-ing /'hænd,rɪŋɪŋ/ noun [noncount] disapproving : worried talk or behavior • There has been a lot of silly hand-wringing over the latest hike in interest rates.

— hand-wring-er /'hænd,rɪŋə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

hand-writ-ing /'hænd,rɑɪtɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count, non-count] : the way a person's writing looks • Her handwriting is nearly impossible to read.

handwriting (is) on the wall see ¹WALL

hand-writ-ten /'hænd,rɪtən/ adj : written with a pen or pencil and not with a computer or typewriter • a handwritten note handy /'hændi/ adj hand-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 a : very useful or helpful • a handy cookbook/gadget • a handy little tool • The extra batteries for the flashlight came in handy [=were useful] when the electricity went off. b : near or close • He always liked to keep a dictionary handy. [=on hand, nearby] • (Brit) My flat is handy for [=near to] the underground.

2 : clever or skillful in using your hands, doing small jobs, etc. • She's handy with a needle and thread. • He's handy around the house.

handy-man /'hændi,mæn/ noun, pl -men /-,mən/ [count] : a person (especially a man) who is skillful at doing small jobs (such as household repairs)

handyman's special US, informal : a house that is being sold at a low price because it needs many repairs

¹hang /'hæŋ/ verb hangs; hung /'hʌŋ/ or in sense 3 hanged; hang-ing

1 a : to attach or place something so that it is held up without support from below [+ obj] He hung the painting on the wall. • We hung paper lanterns from the trees. • My grandmother used to hang the wash on a clothesline. [no obj] A photograph of her family hangs on the wall. • Several of her paintings are hanging in the Museum of Modern Art. • Your coat is hanging in the closet. • The curtains hang all the way (down) to the floor. — see also HANG UP 2 (below) b [+ obj]

: to decorate (a surface) by hanging something (such as a picture) on it — usually used as (be) hung • The walls are hung with paintings. [=there are paintings hanging on the walls] c [+ obj] : to put (wallpaper) on a wall • They plan to hang wallpaper in the hallway.

2 [no obj] : to be in a lowered position • He let his arm hang down into the water. • We hung [=leaned] over the side of the boat and waved. • Her hair hung loose/limply.

3 past tense and past participle usually hanged a : to kill (someone) by using a rope that goes around the neck and holds the person's body in the air without any support from below [+ obj] They will hang him in the county jailhouse. •

He was hanged for his crimes. • He hanged himself. [no obj] He hanged for his crimes. b old-fashioned — used to express surprise, anger, etc. • We need those supplies now, hang the cost! [=we need them no matter how much they cost] • I'll be hanged if I'll do anything to help him. [=I won't do anything to help him]

4 [no obj] : to float over a place or object for a long time • Storm clouds were hanging low overhead. • Smoke hung above the crowd. • The smell of perfume hung in the air around her.

5 [no obj] — used to say that a decision has not yet been made • The decision is still hanging. — see also HUNG JURY, HUNG PARLIAMENT

6 [no obj] US, informal : to be or stay somewhere for a period of time without doing much • We were hanging [=hanging around/out] at Suzee's.

7 [+ obj] chiefly US, informal : to make (a turn) especially while driving • Hang a right at the stoplight.

8 [no obj] baseball, of a pitch : to fail to curve in the desired way • a hanging curveball

a peg to hang something on see ¹PEG

hang around or Brit hang about/round [phrasal verb] informal 1 hang around/about/round or hang around/about/round (a place) : to be or stay in a place for a period of time without doing much • We just hung around all afternoon, listening to music. • They hung around the theater after the play was over. 2 hang around/about/round with (someone) : to spend time relaxing, talking, or doing things with (someone) • She hangs around with older kids. • Who does he usually hang around with?

hang back [phrasal verb] 1 : to be or stay behind others • The little girl followed the older children but hung back a little. 2 : to be unwilling to do something because of nervousness, fear, etc. • When there's work to be done, she doesn't hang back.

hang by a thread : to be in a very dangerous situation or state : to be very close to death, failure, etc. • The patient's life was hanging by a thread. [=the patient was very close to dying]

hang fire chiefly Brit : to be delayed • The project has been hanging fire for several years. • The decision is hanging fire.

hang in [phrasal verb] 1 chiefly US, informal : to keep working or trying in a difficult situation • She says she'll hang in until she makes the business work. • She did her best to hang in against some of the more experienced swimmers. — often used in the phrase hang in there • Hang in there, kid! Don't quit! 2 hang in the air : to be incomplete or uncertain • The design of the new currency is still hanging in the air.

hang loose see ²LOOSE

hang on [phrasal verb] 1 : to keep happening or continuing • He had a terrible cold that hung on all spring. 2 : to wait or stop briefly • "Can we go now?" "Hang on, I'll be ready in just a minute." 3 hang on or hang on (to) (someone or something) : to hold or grip someone or something tightly • Hang on or you'll fall! • Hang on tight! • The children hung on his arm. • Hang on to your purse. • The children hung on to his arm. 4 hang on to (something) : to keep (something) • You should hang on to those old coins; they could be valuable. 5 a hang on (something) : to be determined or decided by (something) : to depend on (something) • The decision hangs on one vote. b hang (something) on (something) : to base (a story, theory, etc.) on (something) • There weren't enough facts on which to hang a newspaper story. • You can't hang your case on her testimony. 6 hang on someone's every word : to listen very carefully or closely to (someone) • The children hung on the teacher's every word.

hang out [phrasal verb] 1 informal : to be or stay somewhere for a period of time without doing much • The gang hangs out at the corner store. • Our dog spends all his time hanging out [=hanging around] on the front porch. — see also HANGOUT 2 hang out with (someone) informal : to spend time relaxing, talking, or doing something with (someone) : to hang around with (someone) • He spent a couple of days hanging out with his old friends. 3 hang (something) out or hang out (something) : to hang (something wet) outside to dry • I hung the laundry out on the clothesline. • I hung out the sheets to dry. 4 hang (someone or something) out to dry informal : to leave (someone or something) in a helpless or unprotected state • When things got tough, the company hung us out to dry.

hang out your shingle see ¹SHINGLE

hang over [phrasal verb] hang over (someone) : to be a threat or danger to (someone) : to cause (someone) to feel worried or guilty • They are glad that the deadline is no longer hanging over them. • I can't relax with that test hanging over my head. [=I can't relax until after I take that test] — see also HANGOVER hang tight [phrasal verb] US, informal : to wait before doing anything • Investors are being advised to hang tight until the stock market rebounds.

hang together [phrasal verb] informal 1 : to stay with someone • If we just hang together a while longer, I know that we can work out our problems. 2 : to work in a logical and effective way • The movie starts out well, but the story doesn't hang together after the first hour.

hang tough chiefly US, informal : to keep working or trying to succeed in a difficult situation • The team hung tough through the whole game, but lost in the end.

hang up [phrasal verb] 1 hang up or hang up (something) or hang (something) up : to end a telephone connection by putting the handset on its base or by turning the telephone off • "Is he still on the phone?" "No, he hung up." • Let me talk to her before you hang up the phone. — often + on • I can't believe he hung up on me! [=that he suddenly hung up while I was talking to him on the phone] 2 hang (something) up or hang up (something) : to put (something) on a hook or hanger • Hang up your coat, please. — see also ¹HANG 1a (above) 3 hang up (something) informal : to stop doing (something) : to finish using (something) for the last time — used figuratively • She decided to hang up her running shoes [=she decided to quit running] and to start riding her bike instead. 4 hang it up US, informal : to stop doing something • After all this time, you're just going to hang it up? [=quit] — see also HUNG UP hang with [phrasal verb] hang with (someone) US, informal 1 : to spend time with (someone) • He's just been hanging with his friends. 2 : to stay close to (someone) : to keep up with (someone) • He hung with the leaders for the first half of the race, but then he began to fall behind.

hang your hat see HAT

hang your head : to have your head turned downward because of shame or embarrassment • He hung his head in shame.

let it all hang out see ¹LET thereby hangs a tale — used to suggest that there is a story about something that has just been mentioned • I realized where I had seen him before—and thereby hangs a tale.

²*hang* noun [singular] : the way in which something hangs • the hang of a skirt get the hang of informal : to learn the skills that are needed to do (something) • He was finally getting the hang of his job. [=he was finally beginning to understand and become skillful in his job] • She's getting the hang of driving.

give a hang informal : to be concerned or worried about something — usually used in negative statements • I don't give a hang [=I don't care] what they say.

hang-ar /'hæŋə/ noun, pl -ars [count] : a building where aircraft are kept hang-dog /'hæŋ,dɑ:g/ adj [more ~; most ~] : sad or depressed • He came home with a hangdog expression/look on his face.

hang-er /'hæŋə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a usually curved piece of metal, plastic, or wood that is used for hanging clothing

hang-er-on /'hæŋə,ɑ:n/ noun, pl hang-ers-on [count] : someone who spends a lot of time around a person, place, or group in order to get something (such as fame, money, or power) • a star who is always surrounded by hangers-on

hang glider noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a small aircraft that consists of a metal frame covered with strong cloth and that is flown through the air by a person who hangs beneath it; also : a person who flies a hang glider

— hang gliding noun [noncount] • I've always wanted to try hang gliding.

hang-ing /'hæŋɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 : the act of killing someone by hanging that person from a rope tied around the neck [count] The hanging was scheduled for 3 o'clock. [noncount] He was sentenced to death by hanging.

2 [count] : something (such as a curtain) that is hung on a wall especially for decoration — often plural • There were several antique wall hangings in the house.

hang-man /'hæŋmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] : a person who kills criminals by hanging them

hang-nail /'hæŋ,neɪl/ noun, pl -nails [count] : a small piece of skin hanging loose at the side or bottom of a fingernail

hang-out /'hæŋ,aut/ noun, pl -outs [count] informal : a place where a person spends a lot of time • The park was their favorite hangout. — see also hang out at ¹HANG hang-over /'hæŋ,ouvə/ noun, pl -overs [count] : a sick feeling or condition that comes after drinking too much alcohol at an earlier time • She woke up with a hangover.

hang time noun [noncount] US, informal : the amount of time that something (especially a ball that is hit, kicked, or thrown) remains in the air • He got some amazing hang time on that pass.

hang-up /'hæŋ,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] informal : something that causes you to feel worried, afraid, embarrassed, etc. • We all have our hang-ups. — often + about • He has a lot of hang-ups about money.

hank /'hæŋk/ noun, pl hanks [count] : an amount of yarn, thread, etc., that has been wound into a large loop or loose ball — compare SKEIN han-ker /'hæŋkə/ verb -kers; -kered; -ker-ing [no obj] informal + old-fashioned : to have a strong or constant desire for something • She is still hankering after [=longing for] a return to the good old days. = She is still hankering to return to the good old days. • By the middle of the winter, they were hankering for a warm day.

— hankering noun [singular] informal + old-fashioned • They had/felt a hankering for ice cream. • She had a hankering to buy a new car.

han-kie or han-ky /'hæŋki/ noun, pl -kies [count] informal : HANDKERCHIEF han-ky-pan-ky /,hæŋki'pæŋki/ noun [noncount] informal 1 : sexual activity • We thought there was some hanky-panky going on between him and his secretary.

2 : dishonest or suspicious activity • They accused the company of financial hanky-panky.

Ha-nuk-kah also Cha-nu-kah /'hɑ:nəkə/ noun, pl -kahs [count, noncount] : an eight-day Jewish holiday that is celebrated in November or December hap-haz-ard /,hæp'hæzəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having no plan, order, or direction • We were given a haphazard tour of the city. • a haphazard procedure

— hap-haz-ard-ly adv • Books and papers were scattered haphazardly on the desk.

hap-less /'hæpləs/ adj, always used before a noun [more ~; most ~] somewhat formal + literary : having no luck : very unfortunate • She plays the hapless heroine who is unlucky in love.

— hap-less-ly adv • the movie's haplessly ineffectual hero

hap-pen /'hæpən/ verb -pens; -pened; -pen-ing [no obj]

1 : to take place especially without being planned : OCCUR • Mistakes/Accidents will happen. • Something like that was bound to happen sooner or later. • You never know what's going to happen when they get together. • What happened at school today? • "What's happening?" "They're installing new equipment."

2 not used in progressive tenses a : to do or be something by chance — followed by to + verb • The children happened to be asleep when we called. • I happened to overhear their conversation. • I happen to know his brother. • Do you happen to know the way to the station? b — used with it to describe something that occurs by chance • It (so) happened that the children were asleep when we called. • It happened to rain that day. • As it happened, it rained that day. • It (just so) happens that I know his brother. c — used to make an angry or forceful statement; followed by to + verb • The woman you've been looking at happens to be my wife! • I happen to think that the movie was actually very good.

happen along or happen by [phrasal verb] US, literary + old-fashioned : to come to or by a place by chance • He was about to leave when his old girlfriend happened by.

happen into [phrasal verb] happen into (a place) US : to enter (a place) by chance • She happened into the room just as the music started.

happen on/upon [phrasal verb] happen on/upon (someone or something) literary + old-fashioned : to find or meet (someone or something) by chance • She happened on a little cottage in the woods. • I happened upon them at the grocery store.

happen to [phrasal verb] happen to (someone or something) : to affect or involve (someone or something) as the result of an event or action • An odd thing happened to me on my way to the office last week. • I wonder what/whatever happened to that guy. [=I wonder where that guy has gone and what he has been doing]; especially : to affect (someone or something) in a bad or harmful way • I promise nothing will happen to you. • What happened to the car? There's a big scratch on the fender.

¹happening noun, pl -ings [count] : an event or occurrence — often plural • There were strange happenings at the inn.

²happening adj [more ~; most ~] informal : fashionable or popular • This is quite a happening town on the weekends.

hap-pen-stance /'hæpən,stæns/ noun, pl -stances formal + literary : something that happens by chance [non-count] Our meeting was pure happenstance. • We met each other by happenstance. [count] It was an agreeable happenstance that we met.

hap-pi-ly /'hæpəli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 : in a happy way or state • They have been happily married for 12 years. • The story ended happily. • She giggled happily. • They lived happily ever after.

2 — used to say that something good or lucky has happened • Happily, no one was injured. [=I am happy to say that no one was injured]

3 : in a very willing way • He says he'll happily [=gladly] postpone the appointment. • We happily accept credit cards.

hap-pi-ness /'hæpinəs/ noun, pl -ness-es

1 [noncount] : the state of being happy : JOY • They made a toast to long life and happiness. • They found happiness together.

2 [count] somewhat formal : an experience that makes you happy • I wish the them every happiness. [=I hope that they will be very happy]

hap-py /'hæpi/ adj hap-pi-er; -est

1 a : feeling pleasure and enjoyment because of your life, situation, etc. • She was a very happy child. • I can see that you're not happy in your work. [=I can see that you do not enjoy your work] • You don't look happy. What's the problem? • We're all one big, happy family here. • I'd do anything to make/keep her happy. • She's happy playing with her toys. = She's happy when she plays with her toys. b : showing or causing feelings of pleasure and enjoyment • I could hear the children's happy laughter in the other room. • She had a very happy childhood. • They've had a very happy marriage. • remembering happier times • a happy event/occasion • I was glad the movie had a happy ending. c not used before a noun : pleased or glad about a particular situation, event, etc. • We are so happy that you were able to come to the party. • They are not at all happy about the rise in taxes. • He's not happy with the way the project is going. • It's great that he won the scholarship. I'm very happy for him. [=I am glad something good happened to him] d : very willing to do something — usually followed by to + verb • I would be happy to assist you.

2 — used as part of a greeting or wish for someone on a special holiday or occasion • Happy birthday, Mom! • Happy Holidays!

3 always used before a noun : lucky or fortunate • We were brought together by a series of happy accidents. • a happy coincidence

4 always used before a noun : fitting or suitable • a happy choice of words • He was a happy choice for chairman of the committee.

(as) happy as a clam see ¹CLAM

happy medium see ¹MEDIUM

happy returns see ²RETURN

— see also TRIGGER-HAPPY

happy camper noun, pl ~ -ers [count] chiefly US, informal : someone who is pleased or happy • I was one happy camper when I heard the news. — often used in negative statements • When she found out that the report wasn't ready, she was not a happy camper. [=she was angry or upset] hap-py-go-lucky /,hæpigou'laki/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not worried about anything • He's always been a happy-go-lucky guy. • She has a happy-go-lucky disposition.

happy hour noun, pl ~ hours [count, noncount] : a time at a bar when drinks are sold at a lower price than usual • Happy hour runs from 5:00 to 7:00.

¹ha-rangue /hə'ræŋ/ noun, pl -rangues [count] : a forceful or angry speech • He delivered a long harangue about the evils of popular culture.

²harangue verb -rangues; -rangued; -rangu-ing [+ obj] : to speak to (someone) in a forceful or angry way : to deliver a harangue to (someone) • He harangued us for hours about the evils of popular culture.

ha-rass /hə'ræs, 'herəs/ verb -rass-es; -rassed; -rassing [+ obj]

1 : to annoy or bother (someone) in a constant or repeated way • She was constantly harassed by the other students. • He claims that he is being unfairly harassed by the police. • He was accused of sexually harassing his secretary. [=of making unwanted sexual comments to her]

2 : to make repeated attacks against (an enemy) • The troops harrassed the defeated army throughout its retreat.

— harassed adj [more ~; most ~] • She looked very harassed and distraught. — ha-rass-ment /hə'ræsmənt, 'herəsmənt/ noun [noncount] • police harassment • children subjected to harassment by bullies • He was accused of sexual harassment.

har-bin-ger /'hæbəndʒə/ noun, pl -gers [count] : something that shows what is coming — usually + of • The warm weather is a harbinger of spring. • Is this news a harbinger of better days to come? • a harbinger of death/doom

¹har-bor (US) or Brit har-bour /'hæbə/ noun, pl -bors [count]

1 : a part of the ocean, a lake, etc., that is next to land and that is protected and deep enough to provide safety for ships

2 : a place of safety and comfort : HAVEN — often used in the phrase safe harbor • She can always find (a) safe harbor in her home.

²harbor (US) or Brit har-bour verb -bors; -bored; -bor-ing [+ obj]

1 : to give shelter to (someone) : to hide and protect (someone) • It is illegal to harbor an escaped convict.

2 : to have (something, such as a thought or feeling) in your mind for a long time • He still harbors deep feelings of resentment toward his former employer. • I don't harbor any illusions about our chances for success. • harbor a grudge • har-bor doubts/bitterness

3 : to hold or contain (something) • She studies the genetic material harbored in a cell's nucleus. • Some of these animals may harbor disease that could affect humans.

¹hard /'hæd/ adj hard-er; -est

1 : very firm or solid : not easy to bend, cut, etc. : not soft • hard ground • a hard bench/floor/shell • hard cheese/rubber • This bread is (as) hard as a rock. [=very hard] — opposite SOFT

2 : physically or mentally difficult : not easy • That test was hard. • a hard task • hard work • She was asked a lot of hard questions. • We're going to have to make some hard choices/decisions. • It's hard to solve this problem. = This is a hard problem (to solve). = This problem is hard (to solve). • He's a hard guy to figure out. = He's a guy who's hard to figure out. = It's hard to figure that guy out. • It was very hard to find a replacement for her. • Their story is hard to believe. • It's hard not to worry about her. • It's hard to tell/know what she's thinking. • He was sentenced to five years of hard labor. [=time in prison spent in intense physical labor]

3 a : difficult to experience : severe or harsh • He has learned a hard lesson. • It's been a hard winter. [=a very cold winter with harsh weather] : having a lot of pain, trouble, or worries • She has had a very hard life. = Life has been very hard for her. • I had a hard [=tough] day at the office. • We've been having some hard [=poor, bad] luck. ✧ Hard times are times when there is a lot of trouble, poverty, worry, or failure. • She's stuck with them through all the hard times. • The region has been experiencing some economic hard times. • After years of success, their business has fallen on hard times. b : having a harmful or destructive effect • His health has suffered from years of hard living. • This old bicycle has obviously gotten some hard use.

4 : working or doing something with a lot of energy • She's a hard [=diligent, energetic] worker.

5 : very forceful • The plane made a hard [=jarring] landing. • He hit a hard line drive past the shortstop. • A hard rain was falling. • He was knocked out by a hard right to the jaw. : quick and forceful • hard acceleration • hard braking • a hard left turn

6 : done with a lot of careful thought and attention : thorough or intense • The jeweler gave the gem a long hard look. [=the jeweler looked at the gem very closely and carefully] • Investors are taking a very hard look at how the company does business.

7 : able to be clearly seen and measured : not able to be questioned or doubted • Those are the (cold) hard facts of the case. • She is still collecting hard data on the software's performance. • It's an interesting theory, but there is no hard evidence that supports it.

8 a : not seeming to care about other people or to feel kindness or affection • He's a hard man. • a hard taskmaster • She has an extremely hard [=unfeeling] heart. • He's as hard as nails. [=he's very hard or tough] — opposite SOFT b : not gentle or friendly • hard [=harsh] words

9 : holding extreme political views • a member of the hard [=far, extreme] right/left

10 : relating to serious matters • They only report hard news. — opposite SOFT

11 a : containing a large amount of alcohol • hard liquor • the hard stuff b : containing alcohol • hard cider/lemonade

12 : powerful and extremely harmful to the health • cocaine and other hard drugs — opposite SOFT

13 of water : containing many minerals and therefore unable to make bubbles with soap • hard water — opposite SOFT

14 : having clear, sharp lines • trying to soften the hard edges of the image

15 : very bright and unpleasant • hard lighting • the cold, hard light of day

16 : sounding like the "c" in "cold" or the "g" in "geese" • The "g" in "gorilla" is hard, but the "g" in "giant" is soft. • the hard "c" in "cat" — opposite SOFT

17 informal : physically strong • hard [=muscular] bodies

a hard act to follow see FOLLOW

a hard nut (to crack) see NUT

a hard row to hoe see ¹ROW

between a rock and a hard place see ²ROCK

drive a hard bargain see ¹BARGAIN

give (someone) a hard time : to criticize or annoy someone • They gave him a hard time about quitting the team.

hard feelings 1 ✧ If you have hard feelings, you feel dislike or anger toward someone who you think has mistreated you. • She felt/had no hard feelings towards him. • The court's decision has caused a lot of hard feelings. 2 ✧ The phrase no hard feelings is used in speech to say that you are not upset or to ask if someone else is upset. • "I'm sorry I broke our date last night." "That's OK; no hard feelings." • "So, we're still friends, right? No hard feelings?"

hard knocks see ²KNOCK

hard of hearing : not able to hear well • He has become a little hard of hearing in his old age.

hard on 1 a : causing damage or strain to (something) • Reading in dim light is hard on your eyes. [=it puts a strain on your eyes; it is not good for them] • This kind of work can be hard on your back. b : causing stress or worry to (someone) • These past few months have been hard on everyone, but things should get better soon. 2 : treating or judging (someone) in a harsh or critical way • Don't be too hard on the boy. [=don't judge or treat the boy too harshly] • She is sometimes too hard on herself. • There's no need to be so hard on yourself—you did the best you could.

hard up informal 1 : lacking money • We're pretty hard up these days. 2 : having not enough of something — + for • She always seems to be hard up for cash. • He's hard up for friends. [=he has few friends] have a hard time ✧ If you have a hard time doing something or with something, it is difficult for you. • She's having a hard time adjusting to college life. • The school has had a hard time recruiting substitute teachers. • He's been having a hard time with his research paper.

play hard to get see ¹PLAY

the hard way : in a way that involves difficult or painful experiences • He found out the hard way that crime doesn't pay. [=he found out by being punished for his crimes] • She insisted on doing things the hard way.

²hard adv hard-er; -est

1 : with a lot of effort or energy • You have to work hard in order to succeed. • I know how hard she tried. • She ran as hard as she could. • working/studying/fighting hard • We've thought long and hard about this problem. ✧ If you are hard at work (on something) you are doing work with a lot of effort and energy. • You shouldn't disturb her while she's hard at work. • We're hard at work on the new project.

2 : in a very forceful way • He hit the ball hard. • a hard-hit ball • The ball hit him hard on the wrist. • He pressed his nose hard against the window. • swallowing hard • She pushed hard against the door, but it wouldn't open. • The wind was blowing hard. • The snow/rain came down hard. • The dog bit down hard on the thief's hand. : in a loud and forceful way • She was breathing hard. • laughing/crying hard ✧ If you are hit hard or hard hit by something or if something hits

you hard, it affects you powerfully in a very painful or shocking way. • His business was hit hard by the recession. • Her sudden death hit them hard. ♦ If you take something hard you are very upset or hurt by it. • She took it hard [=she was very upset] when he left. • We took the defeat hard.

3 a : in a very direct and intense way • He looked hard into her eyes. b : in an extreme or complete way • He fell hard for the girl next door.

die hard see ¹DIE

hard by old-fashioned : next to • The school stood hard by a church.

hard done by Brit : treated harshly or unfairly • He felt very hard done by when he was laid off after many years of faithful service.

hard on the heels of see ¹HEEL

hard-and-fast /ˈhɑːdnˈfæst, Brit ˈhɑːdnˈfɑːst/ adj — used to say that something (such as a rule) cannot be changed • a hard-and-fast rule hard-ass /ˈhɑːd,æs/ noun, pl -ass-es [count] chiefly US, informal + impolite : a very tough person who treats other people harshly • He has a reputation for being a hard-ass.

— hard-assed /ˈhɑːd,æst/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a hard-assed cop/journalist hard-back /ˈhɑːd,bæk/ noun, pl -backs : HARDCOVER [count] The store sells only hardbacks. [noncount] The book is sold only in hardback. • a hardback edition

hard-ball /ˈhɑːd,bɑːl/ noun [noncount] chiefly US, informal 1 : BASEBALL

2 : forceful and sometimes dishonest methods used to get something you want — often used after play • He's not afraid to play political hardball. [=to use tough and perhaps dishonest methods to meet a political goal] • hardball tactics/politics hard-bit-ten /ˈhɑːdˈbitn/ adj [more ~; most ~] : tough and experienced • hard-bitten journalists • a hard-bitten cynic/skeptic

hard-boiled /ˈhɑːdˈboɪld/ adj

1 of an egg : boiled until all the inside parts have become solid • hard-boiled eggs — compare SOFT-BOILED

2 a [more ~; most ~] : not feeling or showing emotions such as affection or kindness : emotionally tough • a hard-boiled detective b chiefly US : having a tough detective as the main character • a hard-boiled novel • hard-boiled fiction hard-bound /ˈhɑːd,baʊnd/ adj, chiefly US, of a book : having a stiff or hard cover • hardbound books [=hardcovers] — compare SOFTBOUND hard candy noun, pl ~ -dies [count, noncount] : a small, hard piece of candy with a sweet and usually fruity flavor — called also (Brit) boiled sweet hard cash noun [noncount] : money that a person has and can use immediately : money in the form of bills and coins rather than checks or credit cards • He wanted hard cash for his watch.

hard-charging adj [more ~; most ~] US : very aggressive, determined, or ambitious : HARD-DRIVING • a hard-charging young executive

hard-cooked adj, US : HARD-BOILED 1 • hard-cooked eggs

hard copy noun, pl ~ cop-ies [count] computers : a printed copy of a document • print a hard copy of the report hard core noun [singular] : a small number of very active and enthusiastic members of a group : the most devoted and active members of a group • He knows that he can count on the support of a hard core of party loyalists.

hard-core /ˈhɑːdˈkɔː/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very active and enthusiastic • He knows that he can count on his hard-core supporters. • hard-core fans

2 : showing or describing sex acts very openly • hard-core pornography — compare SOFT-CORE hard-cov-er /ˈhɑːdˈkʌvə/ noun, pl -ers US : a book that has stiff or hard covers [count] She bought several hardcovers. [noncount] His first novel was published in hardcover last spring. — often used before another noun • the book's hardcover [=hardbound] edition — called also hardback; compare PAPERBACK, SOFTCOVER hard currency noun, pl ~ -cies [count, noncount] : money that comes from a country with a strong government and economy and that is not likely to lose its value hard disk noun, pl ~ disks [count] computers : a disk that is not flexible and that is used to store computer data • Remember to save the file to your hard disk. — compare FLOPPY DISK, HARD DRIVE hard-drinking adj [more ~; most ~] — used to describe a person who often drinks a lot of alcohol • He had a troubled relationship with his violent, hard-drinking father.

hard drive noun, pl ~ drives [count] computers : a device that is used for storing computer data and that contains one or more hard disks • an external/removable hard drive hard-driv-ing /ˈhɑːdˈdraɪvɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very aggressive, determined, or ambitious • a hard-driving businesswoman/entrepreneur hard-earned adj [more ~; most ~] : achieved or acquired through a lot of effort or hard work • Someone stole all her hard-earned money. • a hard-earned victory hard-edged /ˈhɑːdˈɛdʒd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having a tough or sharp quality • Critics have praised her hard-edged satire. • hard-edged realism • a hard-edged campaigner hard-en /ˈhɑːdn/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 : to become hard or firm or to make (something) hard or firm [no obj] It will take several hours for the concrete to harden (into a solid block). • The gel hardens quickly. • The presence of certain substances in the blood can cause the arteries to harden. [+ obj] These additives are designed to harden the steel. • substances that can harden the arteries

2 : to become more definite and strongly felt or to make (something) more definite and strongly felt [no obj] Opposition to the government has hardened as news of further scandals has leaked out. [+ obj] The news has hardened opposition to the government.

3 [+ obj] : to make (someone) hard : to make (someone) less emotional and less likely to feel sorry for other people • He had been hardened by his years of military service.

4 [no obj] : to begin to be or seem harsh, angry, serious, etc. • Her voice/manner hardened as she spoke of her determination to win.

harden your heart ♦ If you harden your heart or if something hardens your heart, you stop having kind or friendly feelings for someone. • She hardened her heart against him.

— hard-en-er /ˈhɑːdnə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • a metal hardener — hardening noun [noncount] • hardening of the arteries

hardened adj [more ~; most ~]

1 — used to describe something that has become hard • hardened arteries • a hardened patch of skin

2 : very tough because of harsh experiences : not having the kind of emotions (such as fear, sorrow, etc.) that most people feel in difficult or dangerous situations • a hardened criminal • It's so dangerous that even hardened journalists won't go there. ♦ If you become hardened to something, you are no longer saddened or shocked when you see or experience it. • New doctors quickly become hardened to the terrible injuries suffered by accident victims.

hard-eyed /ˈhɑːd,aid/ adj [more ~; most ~] : looking at things in a very critical way without emotion • a hard-eyed realist • hard-eyed scrutiny

hard-fought adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : requiring a lot of effort or hard work • He won a hard-fought campaign for reelection.

2 : achieved or acquired through a lot of effort or hard work • a hard-fought [=hard-earned] victory/triumph hard hat noun, pl ~ hats [count] : a hat that is worn by workers at a building site to protect their heads from falling objects — see picture at HAT hard-head-ed /ˈhɑːdˈhedəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not willing to change ideas or opinions : very stubborn • He was always hardheaded about getting his way. • a hard-headed old man

2 : having or involving careful and practical thoughts and ideas that are not influenced by emotions : practical and realistic • We need to take a more hardheaded approach to these problems. • She gave him some hardheaded advice. • a hardheaded judgment/analysis

— hard-head-ed-ly adv • dealing hardheadedly with the facts — hard-head-ed-ness noun [noncount] • the hard-headedness of the old man

hard-heart-ed /ˈhɑːdˈhɑːtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing no kindness or sympathy for other people • a hard-hearted businessman • a hard-hearted decision

— hard-heart-ed-ness noun [noncount]

hard-hit-ting /ˈhɑːˈhɪtɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very effective or forceful • a hard-hitting interview/documentary • a hard-hitting [=aggressive] investigative reporter hard line noun [singular] : a strict and forceful way of behaving when you are dealing with other people — usually used after take • She is known for taking a hard line with terrorists. [=for dealing with terrorists in a forceful way] • The government has taken a hard line in treaty negotiations.

— hard-line /'hɑəd'laɪn/ adj • a hard-line [=very strict] conservative — hard-lin-er /'hɑəd'laɪnə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • conservative/liberal hard-liners

hard-luck /'hɑəd,lʌk/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : of or relating to bad luck • a hard-luck story

2 chiefly US : experiencing or having bad luck • He was the hard-luck [=unlucky] loser of last night's match.

hard-ly /'hɑədli/ adv

1 a : BARELY, SCARCELY — used to say that something was almost not possible or almost did not happen • She could hardly bear to look at him. • I could hardly believe my eyes. [=it was difficult to believe what I was seeing] • I can hardly believe it! • She was hardly able to control her excitement. b : almost not at all • We hardly knew them. • It hardly matters what I think. • The changes in service have hardly been noticed. c : almost not • There are hardly any new features in this software. • Hardly anyone showed up for the meeting. • Hardly a day goes by when I don't think about you. d — used to say that something reached a specified condition or happened only a short time before • I had hardly [=barely] arrived when the telephone rang.

2 : certainly not • The news is hardly surprising. = The news is hardly a surprise. [=the news is not surprising at all] • This is hardly a new idea for a movie. • "Is this a new idea for a movie?" "Hardly! I've seen dozens of movies just like it."

hardly ever see EVER

hard-ness /'hɑəd'nəs/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of being hard • the hardness of a diamond • The wood's hardness makes it suitable for carving. • There was a hardness [=toughness] in her voice I hadn't heard before.

hard-nosed /'hɑəd'nouzd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very tough • She can be very hard-nosed in her business dealings. • a hard-nosed football player

2 : not influenced by emotions : practical and realistic : HARDHEADED • hard-nosed science/realism • a hard-nosed analysis hard-on /'hɑəd,ɑ:n/ noun, pl -ons [count] impolite : an erection of the penis hard-pressed /'hɑəd'prest/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 — used to say that it is difficult to do something; followed by to + verb • You would be hard-pressed to find a better solution. [=it would be difficult to find a better solution] • He was hard-pressed to prove the claims he'd made.

2 : in a bad situation because you do not have enough money, time, etc. • a financially hard-pressed public school system • hard-pressed nations/voters/farmers — sometimes + for • families that are hard-pressed for time/money • He's hard-pressed for space [=he does not have much space] in his new apartment.

hard put adj [more ~; most ~] : HARD-PRESSED — used to say that it is difficult to do something; followed by to + verb • He was hard put to describe their musical style. [=it was difficult for him to describe their musical style] • I would be hard put to find an explanation. — sometimes used in the phrase hard put to it • She was hard put to it to say what the story was about. [=she found it hard to say what the story was about] hard rock noun [noncount] : loud rock music that has a heavy regular beat — compare SOFT ROCK

hard rocker noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : someone who plays or performs hard rock hard science noun, pl ~ -ences [count, noncount] : a science (such as chemistry, physics, or astronomy) that deals with things that can be observed and measured

— hard scientist noun, pl ~ -ist [count]

hard-scrab-ble /'hɑəd,skræbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] US

1 : having poor soil • a hardscrabble farm • hardscrabble prairies

2 : having harsh and difficult conditions because of poverty • a hardscrabble childhood • He lived a hardscrabble life. • a hardscrabble cotton town hard sell noun [singular]

1 : an aggressive way of selling something — usually used with the • He gives every customer the hard sell. — compare SOFT SELL

2 US : something that is difficult to sell : something that others are not willing or likely to accept • Such an expensive project will be a hard sell during these slow economic times.

hard-ship /'hɑəd,ʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships

1 [noncount] : pain and suffering • He had suffered through considerable/great hardship. • The city has been experiencing a period of financial/economic hardship.

2 [count] : something that causes pain, suffering, or loss • They had to endure the hardships of life on the frontier.

hard shoulder noun, pl ~ -ders [count] Brit : 'SHOULDER 5

hard-top /'hɑəd,tɑ:p/ noun, pl -tops [count] : a car that has a metal top which cannot be removed — compare CONVERTIBLE

hard-ware /'hɑəd,weə/ noun [noncount]

1 : things (such as tools or parts of machines) that are made of metal • a hardware store

2 : equipment used for a particular purpose • military hardware [=guns, tanks, etc.] especially : computer equipment • She bought some new hardware for her system. — compare SOFTWARE hard-wearing adj [more ~; most ~] Brit : lasting for a long time : DURABLE • hard-wearing boots hard-wired /'hɑəd,wajəd/ adj : having permanent electronic circuits and connections • a hardwired network — often used figuratively • Humans are hardwired for speech. = Speech is hardwired in/into the human brain. • Mothers are hardwired to protect their children.

hard-won /'hɑəd'wʌn/ adj [more ~; most ~] : HARD-EARNED • a hard-won victory • our hard-won reputation for quality

hard-wood /'hɑəd,wʊd/ noun, pl -woods

1 [count, noncount] : the wood of a tree (such as an oak or maple) that is heavy and hard • They used expensive hardwoods for the flooring. — often used before another noun • hardwood floors

2 [count] : a tree that produces hardwood • oaks, maples, and other hardwoods — often used before another noun • hardwood forests — compare SOFTWOOD hard-work-ing /'hɑəd'wəkiŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : using a lot of time and energy to do work : INDUSTRIOUS • a hard-working young woman [=a young woman who works hard]

har-dy /'hɑədi/ adj har-di-er; -est

1 : able to live through difficult conditions (such as a cold winter or a drought) • a hardy rose • the hardest plants/animals

2 : strong and able to accept difficult or unpleasant conditions • Most of the soldiers were hardy young men. • Hardy fans stuck with the team through good times and bad. • Only the hardest pilgrims made the journey.

— har-di-ness /'hɑədɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • the hardiness of the rose • cattle bred for hardiness

¹hare /'heə/ noun, pl hares also hare [count] : a fast animal that resembles a rabbit

²hare verb hares; hared; har-ing [no obj] Brit, informal : to run or go very quickly • He came haring round the corner at top speed.

hare-brained /'heə'breɪnd/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : very silly or foolish • a harebrained scheme/idea/plan

hare-lip /'heə'lip/ noun, pl -lips [count] old-fashioned + often offensive : CLEFT LIP

har-em /'herəm/ noun, pl -ems [count]

1 a : a house or part of a house in which the women of a Muslim household live b : the women who live in a harem in a Muslim household

2 informal : a group of women who are associated with one man • the pop star and his harem

har-i-cot bean /'heɪ,kou-/ noun, pl ~ beans [count] Brit : NAVY BEAN

hark /'hɑək/ verb harks; harked; hark-ing [no obj] old-fashioned + literary : LISTEN — usually used as a command • "Hark! I hear a rustling of the leaves." —H. D. Thoreau, Walden (1854) • "Hark, she speaks!" —Shakespeare, Macbeth (1605–06) hark back to [phrasal verb] hark back to (something) 1 : to return to or remember (something in the past) • He always harks back to the good old days of his youth. 2 : to look or seem like (something in the past) • The movie has a style that harks back to the golden age of Hollywood.

har-le-quin /'hɑəlɪkwən/ noun, pl -quins [count]

1 : a pattern of diamond-shaped figures of different colors — usually used before another noun • fabric decorated with a harlequin pattern • harlequin ice cream

2 or Harlequin : a comic character in old stories and plays who wears a mask and colorful clothes with a diamond pattern

har·lot /'hælət/ noun, pl -lots [count] old-fashioned + disapproving : PROSTITUTE

¹harm /'hæm/ noun [noncount] : physical or mental damage or injury : something that causes someone or something to be hurt, broken, made less valuable or successful, etc. • No harm was done. • I never meant to do/cause you any harm. [=I never meant to harm/hurt you in any way] • They threatened him with bodily harm. • The scandal has done irreparable/lasting/great harm to his reputation. • I want to be sure that no harm will come to her. = I want to be sure that she won't come to any harm. [=that she won't be hurt in any way] • She'll do anything to protect her children from harm. • They have suffered serious physical/psychological harm. • These new regulations could cause lasting harm to small businesses. • He claims that he didn't mean any harm. [=that he didn't mean to hurt or bother anyone] • What's the harm in letting her leave early? = I don't see any harm in letting her leave early. = There's no harm in letting her leave early. [=letting her leave early will not hurt anyone or cause a bad result] • He thinks the treatment may do more harm than good [=be more harmful than helpful]

harm's way : a dangerous place or situation • As a war correspondent, she never hesitated to put herself in harm's way. • The soldiers were sent into harm's way. • The tug towed the sailboat out of harm's way.

no harm done informal — used to tell someone that no apology or concern is necessary because no damage has been done • "I'm so sorry about forgetting to call earlier." "That's OK. No harm done."

²harm verb harms; harmed; harm-ing [+ obj] : to cause hurt, injury, or damage to (someone or something) : to cause harm to (someone or something) • He would never intentionally harm his children. • She is trying to destroy weeds without harming [=damaging] her crops. • chemicals that could harm the environment • The scandal has seriously harmed his reputation. synonyms see INJURE harm·ful /'hæmfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : causing or capable of causing damage or harm • The chemical kills harmful [=dangerous] bacteria. • They claim that the drug has no harmful [=bad] side effects. — often + to • These conditions can be harmful to plant/animal life.

— harm·ful·ly adv — harm·ful·ness noun [noncount]

harm·less /'hæmləs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not causing harm : unable to cause harm : not dangerous • a harmless snake • His ideas seem harmless enough. : not meant to cause harm or offense • We're just having a bit of harmless fun. • It was just a harmless joke. — sometimes + to • These chemicals are deadly to insects but they are supposed to be harmless to animals and people.

— harm·less·ly adv • The incident began harmlessly enough but soon escalated into a riot. — harm·less·ness noun [noncount]

har·mon·ic /hæ'mɑ:nɪk/ adj, technical : of or relating to musical harmony rather than melody or rhythm • two different harmonic styles

— har·mon·i·cal·ly /hæ'mɑ:nɪkli/ adv • a piece that is harmonically simple but melodically complex

har·mon·i·ca

/hæ'mɑ:nɪkə/ noun, pl -cas [count] : a small musical instrument that is played with your mouth • A harmonica has many small openings that produce different sounds when air is blown or sucked through them.

harmonica

har·mo·ni·ous /hæ'mouniəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 music : having a pleasing mixture or combination of notes • a harmonious song • harmonious voices

2 : having parts that are related or combined in a pleasing way • The living room was decorated in harmonious colors. • a harmonious combination of flavors

3 : not experiencing disagreement or fighting • a harmonious family • The two countries have maintained a harmonious [=friendly and peaceful] relationship for many years. • harmonious relations

— har·mo·ni·ous·ly adv • Their voices blended together harmoniously. • flavors/colors blending with each other harmoniously • people living together harmoniously — har·mo·ni·ous·ness noun [noncount] • the harmoniousness of their voices

har·mo·nize also Brit har·mo·nise /'hæmənaɪz/ verb -niz-es; -nized; -niz-ing

1 [no obj] : to play or sing different musical notes that sound pleasing together : to play or sing in harmony • A group of singers were harmonizing on the street corner.

2 [no obj] : to be combined or go together in a pleasing way : to be in harmony • The flavors harmonize (with one another) beautifully. • Their beliefs did not always harmonize.

3 [+ obj] : to cause (two or more things) to be combined or to go together in a pleasing or effective way • The singers harmonized their voices beautifully. • a recipe that harmonizes flavors from different parts of the world • The background music is not harmonized with the action on-screen.

— har·mo·ni·za·tion also Brit har·mo·ni·sa·tion /,hæmənaɪ'zeɪʃən, Brit /hæ'mə,naɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

har·mo·ny /'hæməni/ noun, pl -nies

1 : the combination of different musical notes played or sung at the same time to produce a pleasing sound [noncount] She taught him how to sing harmony. [=how to sing notes that combined with other notes in a pleasing way] — often used after in • She taught him to sing in harmony. • They sang in perfect harmony. [count] a song with complicated harmonies and rhythms

2 [singular] : a pleasing combination or arrangement of different things • a harmony of flavors/colors • When things are in harmony or when one thing is in harmony with something else, they go together well or they agree with each other very well. • Every part was moving in perfect harmony. • The two machines are linked and working in harmony. • That principle is not in harmony with our ideals. • When people are in harmony or in harmony with each other, they live together in a peaceful and friendly way. • She lives in harmony with her neighbors. • To bring something into harmony with something else is to change it so that it agrees with or matches something else. • Our proposal has been revised to bring it into harmony with their requirements. • When things are out of harmony or when one thing is out of harmony with something else, they do not agree or combine well. • The modern furnishings seem out of harmony with the Victorian architecture. • The governor's statement is totally out of harmony with the mayor's earlier comments.

¹har·ness /'hænəs/ noun, pl -ness-es [count]

1 : a set of straps that are placed on an animal (such as a horse) so that it can pull something heavy

2 : a set of straps that are used to connect a person to something (such as a parachute or a seat) • The pilot strapped himself into his harness before takeoff. • a safety harness in harness Brit : working at a job : on duty • I was back in harness on Monday, handling paperwork at my desk.

²harness verb -nesses; -nessed; -ness-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to put a harness on (an animal) • harness the horses b : to attach (an animal) to something with a harness • The horses were harnessed to the wagon.

2 : to use (something) for a particular purpose • Engineers are finding new ways to harness the sun's energy to heat homes. • The company is harnessing technology to provide better service to its customers. • They harnessed the power of the waterfall to create electricity. • harness anger to fight injustice

3 : to connect or join (things) together • She harnessed several computers (together) to work as one large computer.

harness racing noun [noncount] US : the sport of racing two-wheeled carts that are pulled by horses

¹harp /'hæp/ noun, pl harps [count] : a musical instrument that has strings stretched across a large open frame and that is played with your fingers • pluck/play a harp — see picture at STRINGED INSTRUMENT

— harp·ist /'hæpɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] • a talented harpist

²harp verb harps; harped; harp-ing

harp at [phrasal verb] harp at (someone) US, informal : to tell (someone) constantly or repeatedly to do something • My mother was always harping at me to clean my room.

harp on [phrasal verb] US harp on (something) or Brit harp on about (something) informal : to talk about (a subject) constantly or repeatedly in an annoying way • She's always harping on the importance of a good diet. • He seems to enjoy harping on my shortcomings.

har·poon /hæ'pu:n/ noun, pl -poons [count] : a long weapon used especially for hunting large fish or whales

— harpoon /hæ'pu:n/ verb -poons; -pooned; -pooning [+ obj] • They harpooned the whale. [=killed the whale]

with a harpoon] — har·poon·er noun, pl -ers [count]
harp·si·chord /'hɑ:psɪ,kərd/ noun, pl -chords [count] : a musical instrument that is similar to a piano but with strings that are plucked rather than struck — see picture at KEYBOARD
— harp·si·chord·ist /'hɑ:psɪ,kərdɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] • a famous harpsichordist har·py /'hɑ:pɪ/ noun, pl -pies [count]
1 Harpy : an evil creature in Greek mythology that is part woman and part bird
2 : an angry and unpleasant woman : SHREW har·ri·dan /'herədən/ noun, pl -dans [count] old-fashioned + literary : an angry and unpleasant woman : HARPY, SHREW har·ried /'herɪd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : bothered by many problems or worries : very worried or anxious • harried shoppers/travelers har·ri·er /'herɪə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a type of hawk har·row·ing /'herəwɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very painful or upsetting • She gives a harrowing account/description of her battle with cancer. • They managed to escape after several harrowing encounters with the enemy. • a harrowing ordeal/experience — har·row·ing·ly adv • a harrowingly honest description har·rump /hə'rʌmf/ verb -rumps; -rumped; -rump·ing informal : to say (something) in a disapproving or complaining way — used to suggest that the person who is speaking is very serious, pompous, etc. [+ obj] “These charges are absurd,” he harrumphed. [no obj] They stood around harrumphing about the current state of politics.
harsh /'hɑ:ʃ/ adj harsh·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]
1 a : unpleasant and difficult to accept or experience • The climate there is very harsh. • We’ve had an extremely harsh winter. • a harsh environment • It’s time for her to face the harsh realities of this situation. • The accident serves as a harsh reminder of the importance of wearing a seat belt. b : having an unpleasant or harmful effect because of great strength or force : too intense or powerful • harsh colors • a harsh [=shrill] whistle/voice • The lighting in the room was very harsh. • harsh chemicals/detergents
2 a : severe or cruel : not kind • harsh discipline • a harsh disciplinarian • The state has established harsh penalties for drug dealers. • She has been criticized for her harsh treatment of his students. • He was sentenced to a harsh prison term. b : very critical : strongly negative • He had harsh words for his opponent. • harsh language • She has faced some extremely harsh criticism. • He has been one of her harshest critics.
— harsh·ly adv [more ~; most ~] • She promised to deal harshly with all criminals. • He treats his students harshly. • The room was harshly lit. — harsh·ness noun [noncount] hart /'hɑ:t/ noun, pl harts [count] chiefly Brit : a male deer : STAG; especially : a male red deer — compare ²HIND
¹har·vest /'hɑ:vəst/ noun, pl -vests [count]
1 : the season when crops are gathered from the fields or the activity of gathering crops • The beginning of the harvest varies from year to year. • It is time for the harvest. • harvest time
2 : the amount of crops that are gathered • They prayed for a bountiful harvest. • We had enormous harvests of corn this year.; also : the amount of a natural product gathered in a single season • the salmon/timber harvest — sometimes used figuratively • The government will reap a bitter harvest of discontent [=many people will be extremely unhappy and angry] if it fails to meet the people’s needs.
²harvest /'hɑ:vəst/ verb -vests; -vest·ed; -vest·ing [+ obj]
1 : to gather (a crop) • It is time to harvest the wheat.
2 : to gather or collect (something) for use • They want to harvest timber in these woods. — sometimes used figuratively • She has harvested the rewards/fruits of her labors.
har·vest·er /'hɑ:vəstə/ noun, pl -ers [count]
1 : a person who gathers crops or other natural products
2 : a large machine that is used for harvesting crops harvest moon noun [singular] : the full moon in autumn has see HAVE
has·been /'hæz,bɪn/ noun, pl -beens [count] informal : a person who is no longer popular or successful • They called him a washed-up old has-been. • a famous child actor who had become a has-been at 25 — often used before another noun • a has-been singer
¹hash /'hæʃ/ verb hash·es; hashed; hash·ing
hash out [phrasal verb] US, informal hash out (something) or hash (something) out 1 or hash over (something) or hash (something) over : to talk about (something) • The detectives hashed out their theories about who committed the murder. • They’ve spent quite a bit of time hashing over the problem. • We need to sit down and hash things out. [=talk about things; discuss the situation] 2 a : to find (a solution) by talking • Their lawyers hashed out a resolution. b : to solve (a problem) by talking • We were finally able to hash out our differences.

²hash noun, pl hashes [count, noncount] : a dish of chopped meat mixed with potatoes and baked or fried • corned beef hash make a hash of informal : to ruin (something) by making many mistakes • He made a hash of the whole project! — compare ³HASH, ⁴HASH
³hash noun [noncount] informal : HASHISH — compare ²HASH, ⁴HASH
⁴hash noun, pl hashes [count] Brit : ³POUND — compare ²HASH, ³HASH
hash browns noun [plural] : boiled potatoes that have been cut up, mixed with chopped onions and fat, and fried until brown — called also hash brown potatoes, hashed brown potatoes, hashed browns hash·ish /'hæ,ʃɪ:ʃ, hæ'ʃɪ:ʃ/ noun [noncount] : an illegal drug that comes from the hemp plant and that is usually smoked or chewed hash sign noun, pl ~ signs [count] Brit : ³POUND hasn’t /'hæznt/ — used as a contraction of has not • The mail hasn’t arrived yet.
hasp /'hæsp, Brit 'hɑ:sp/ noun, pl hasps [count] : a device that is used to fasten a door, lid, etc. ♠ A hasp is a metal strap that fits over a metal loop and is held by a pin or lock.
¹has·sle /'hæsəl/ verb has·sles; has·sled; has·sling informal
1 [+ obj] : to bother or annoy (someone) constantly or repeatedly • Other kids were always hassling her because she was overweight. • I’m sick of being hassled by telemarketers.
2 [no obj] US : to argue or fight • I don’t have time to hassle with you about this! Just do what I tell you to do!
²hassle noun, pl hassles [count] informal
1 : something that is annoying or that causes trouble • All this paperwork is a hassle. • They’ve had to deal with flight delays and all of the other hassles of holiday travel. • Cooking is too much of a hassle tonight. [=it is too much trouble; I do not have enough time, energy, etc., to do it]
2 US : a fight or argument • He got into a hassle with his landlord.
has·sock /'hæsək/ noun, pl -socks [count]
1 : a cushion that you kneel on while praying
2 US : a cushion or soft stool that is used as a seat or for resting your feet • a sofa and hassock [= (more commonly) ottoman]
haste /'heɪst/ noun [noncount] : speed of motion or action : quickness or eagerness that can result in mistakes • The application had been approved with undue haste. — often used with in • He left in haste [=hurriedly, in a hurry], so I didn’t get a chance to talk to him. • She sent the letter in haste and later regretted it. • In their haste to leave for the airport, they forgot their passports.
haste makes waste US — used to say that doing something too quickly causes mistakes that result in time, effort, materials, etc., being wasted make haste old-fashioned : to move, act, or go quickly : HURRY • “You will be too late, if you do not make haste.” — Jane Austen, Persuasion (1817) has·ten /'heɪsn/ verb has·tens; has·tened; has·ten·ing
1 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to happen more quickly • A factory was built, hastening [=accelerating] the town’s growth. • His death was hastened by alcohol abuse.
2 [no obj] old-fashioned : to move or act quickly • When she heard the baby crying, she hastened [=hurried] up the stairs.
hasten to add/say/explain (etc.) : to immediately say something in order to prevent confusion or misunderstanding • The company announced that the initial tests look promising, but they hastened to add that there is still much more testing to be done. • Let me hasten to point out that these changes will not affect our existing clients.
hasty /'heɪsti/ adj hast·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]
1 a : done or made very quickly • I made a hasty sketch of the scene. • Seeing the dog, the cat made/beat a hasty retreat up a tree. b : done or made too quickly • We don’t want to make any hasty decisions. • a hasty marriage
2 : acting too quickly : RASH • He later realized that he was too hasty in his decision to quit.

– hast·i·ly /'heɪstəli/ adv • She hastily gathered her things and left. • a hastily made decision – hast·i·ness noun [noncount] • the hastiness [=haste] of his decision hat /'hæt/ noun, pl hats [count] : a covering for the head that often has a brim and a rounded or flat top • a straw hat — see also COWBOY HAT, HARD HAT, TOP HAT

at the drop of a hat see ¹DROP

hang your hat ✧ The place where you hang your hat is the place where you live or stay. • I'm looking for a new place to hang my hat.

hat in hand see ¹HAND

hats off to informal — used to give praise or credit to someone • Hats off to Susan for doing such a great job.

I'll eat my hat see EAT

keep (something) under your hat : to keep (something) secret : to not tell anyone about (something) • I'll tell you what happened, but you have to keep it under your hat.

pass the hat : to collect money usually for a particular purpose • They passed the hat at one of their meetings and collected almost $200. • passing the hat for families affected by the disaster take your hat off to informal : to give (someone) praise or credit • I (have to) take my hat off to her. She did a great job.

talk through your hat see ¹TALK

throw/toss your hat in/into the ring : to announce that you are going to try to win a contest (such as an election) • Yet another candidate has thrown his hat into the ring.

tip your hat see ¹TIP

wear many hats : to have many jobs or roles • She wears many hats: she's a doctor, a musician, and a writer.

— see also OLD HAT

hat·band /'hæt,bænd/ noun, pl -bands [count] : a decorative piece of cloth that goes around the base of some hats

hat·box /'hæt,bɒks/ noun, pl -box-es [count] : a round container for storing or carrying hats

¹hatch /'hætʃ/ noun, pl hatch-es [count]

1 a : an opening in the deck of a ship or in the floor, wall, or roof of a building • He squeezed into/through the hatch and crawled below deck. b : the covering of such an opening • He lifted the hatch.

2 : a small door or opening in an airplane or spaceship — see also ESCAPE HATCH

batten down the hatches see ¹BATTEN

down the hatch informal ✧ If something goes down the hatch, you swallow it. • a whiskey that goes down the hatch smoothly

²hatch verb hatches; hatched; hatch·ing

1 a [no obj] of a bird, insect, fish, etc. : to come out of an egg : to be born by coming out of an egg • We watched the chicks hatch. b [+ obj] : to cause (a young bird, insect, fish, etc.) to come out of an egg — usually used as (be) hatched • newly hatched chicks

2 a [no obj] of an egg : to break open as a young bird, insect, fish, etc., is born • The eggs will soon hatch. b [+ obj] : to cause (an egg) to hatch • a hen hatching her eggs

3 [+ obj] : to create or produce (something, such as an idea or a plan) usually in a secret way • They hatched a plot to overthrow the government. • hatch (up) a scheme

hatch·back /'hætʃ,bæk/ noun, pl -backs [count] : a door that opens upward on the back of a car; also : a car that has such a door — see picture at CAR

hatch·ery /'hætʃəri/ noun, pl -eries [count] : a place where people raise young chicken, fish, etc., from eggs • a salmon hatchery

hatch·et /'hætʃət/ noun, pl -ets [count] : a small ax that has a short handle bury the hatchet : to agree to stop arguing or fighting : to end a disagreement and become friendly • After all these years, they've finally buried the hatchet.

hatchet job noun, pl ~ jobs [count] informal : a very harsh and unfair spoken or written attack • The reviewers did a hatchet job on her latest book. [=the reviewers criticized her latest book very harshly or unfairly] hatchet man noun, pl ~ men [count] : a person whose job is to do harsh and unpleasant things that other people do not want to do • She doesn't criticize her opponent's character directly. She has her hatchet men in the media do it for her. • He was fired by his boss's hatchet man.

hatch·ling /'hætʃlɪŋ/ noun, pl -lings [count] : a recently hatched animal : a very young bird, fish, etc., that has just come out from an egg

hatch·way /'hætʃ,wei/ noun, pl -ways [count] : an opening or passage into an enclosed space (such as a cellar or an attic)

¹hate /'heit/ noun, pl hates : a very strong feeling of dislike [noncount] You could see the hate [=hatred] in his eyes. • These crimes are motivated by prejudice and hate. [count] They have been unable to overcome their hates and fears. — sometimes used before another noun • The organization gets a lot of hate mail [=extremely angry letters, e-mail, etc.] from people who disagree with their policies. • a hate crime [=a crime done against someone because of the person's race, religion, etc.] • Hate speech [=speech expressing hatred of a particular group of people] is not allowed at school. — opposite LOVE

²hate verb hates; hat·ed; hat·ing

1 : to dislike (someone) very strongly : to feel hate for (someone) [+ obj] He was a cruel tyrant who was hated and feared by his people. • She hated them for betraying her. • They were political rivals who truly/bitterly hated each other. • What is it that you hate about him most? • a hated ene-

hat

my [no obj] children whose families have taught them to hate — opposite LOVE

2 [+ obj] : to dislike (something) very strongly : to find (something) very unpleasant • She hates [=really dislikes] cold weather. • I hate spinach. • I hate doing this. • I hate having to do this. = I hate it when I have to do this. • They hate being apart from each other. • I hate the idea of leaving my mother alone all week. • She hates cooking. — often followed by to + verb • They hate to be apart from each other. • She hates to cook. — opposite LOVE

3 [+ obj] — used to apologize for doing something or to express regret or guilt • I hate bothering you [=I'm sorry to bother you], but would you mind moving your car? • I'd hate it if they got the wrong idea. [=I would feel regret if they misunderstood] — often followed by to + verb • I hate to bother you [=I'm sorry to bother you], but would you mind moving your car? • I hate to say it, but I don't think he has much chance of winning. • I'd hate (for) them to get the wrong idea. hate someone's guts see ¹GUT

— hat-er noun, pl -ers [count] • a cat hater [=a person who hates cats]

hate-ful /'heitfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very bad or evil : causing or deserving hate • a hateful crime

2 : full of hate • hateful enemies/people : showing hate • hateful comments/words — hate-ful-ly adv • It's not clear if the comments were meant hatefully or not. — hate-ful-ness noun [noncount] • the hatefulness of the crime hat-mak-er /'hæt,meikə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person whose job is to make hats hat-pin /'hæt,pin/ noun, pl -pins [count] : a kind of pin used especially in the past by women to fasten hats to their hair ha-tred /'heitrəd/ noun, pl -treds : a very strong feeling of dislike : HATE [noncount] He had an irrational fear and hatred of foreigners. • She makes no attempt to conceal her hatred for her opponents. • This troubled city is filled with hatred, prejudice, crime, and fear. [count] The war was fueled by hatreds that were centuries old.

hat-ter /'hætə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : a person who makes, sells, or repairs hats

mad as a hatter informal + old-fashioned : severely mentally ill : CRAZY • He's a nice fellow, but mad as a hatter.

hat trick noun, pl ~ tricks [count] : three goals scored by one player in a game of ice hockey, soccer, etc. • score a hat trick — often used figuratively • She scored a hat trick when her last three novels all won prizes.

haugh-ty /'hɑ:ti/ adj haugh-ti-er; -est : having or showing the insulting attitude of people who think that they are better, smarter, or more important than other people • haughty [=arrogant] aristocrats • He rejected their offer with a tone of haughty disdain. • a haughty attitude

— haugh-ti-ly /'hɑ:təli/ adv • haughtily disdainful — haugh-ti-ness /'hɑ:tinəs/ noun [noncount]

haul /'hɑ:l/ verb hauls; hauled; haul-ing [+ obj]

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition a : to pull or drag (something) with effort • Haul the ropes in. = Haul in the ropes. • They hauled the boat up onto the beach. • The car was hauled away/off to the junkyard. b : to move or carry (something) with effort • We used buckets to haul water up from the river. • She hauled herself to her feet and limped home. • I'm tired of hauling this heavy camera around with me.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to force (someone) to go or come to a place • The police caught him and hauled him (in) to the station. • The prisoner was hauled away in handcuffs. • They hauled her off to court/jail.

3 : to carry (someone or something) in a vehicle • The cattle were hauled by rail. • The company has a fleet of trucks that are used to haul freight.

haul ass US, informal + impolite : to move quickly • You'd better haul ass or you'll miss your flight.

haul in [phrasal verb] haul in (something) or haul (something) in US, sports : to catch (a ball or pass) • He hauled in a long touchdown pass.

haul off and US, informal : to suddenly do (something specified) — followed by a verb that expresses some kind of usually violent action • She hauled off and punched him in the face.

haul on [phrasal verb] haul on (something) : to forcefully pull (something) • haul on the reins

haul over the coals see COAL

— haul-er (US) /'hɑ:lə/ or Brit haul-i-er /'hɑ:lijə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • cattle haulers

²haul noun, pl hauls [count]

1 : the act of pulling or dragging something with effort : the act of hauling something • each haul of the rope

2 : a usually large amount of something that has been stolen, collected, or won • a burglar's haul • Authorities seized the drugs in one of the biggest drug hauls in the history of the county. • The kids always collect a substantial haul of candy on Halloween.

3 : a distance to be traveled • It's just a short haul from our cabin to the beach. — see also LONG HAUL haunch /'hɑ:ntʃ/ noun, pl haunch-es [count] : the upper part of a person's or animal's leg; especially : the upper part of an animal's rear leg used as meat • a haunch of venison on your haunches : sitting on or close to your heels with your knees bent • The girl was sitting/squatting on her haunches in the sand, searching for shells.

¹haunt /'hɑ:nt/ verb haunts; haunt-ed; haunt-ing [+ obj]

1 of a ghost : to visit or live in (a place) • Spirits haunted the house. • Some people believe that the ghost of an old sea captain haunts the beach.

2 : to eventually cause problems for (someone) as time passes • If you ignore the problem, it will come back to haunt you. • Their failure to plan ahead is now coming back to haunt them.

3 : to keep coming back to the mind of (someone) especially in a way that makes the person sad or upset • The tune haunted me all day. • He was haunted by his memories of the war. [=he could not forget his memories of the war]

4 : to visit (a place) often • She spent much of her vacation haunting bookstores and antique shops.

²haunt noun, pl haunts [count] : a place that you go to often • The restaurant became one of her favorite haunts. • I went back to visit my old childhood haunts. [=the places I often went to when I was a child]

haunted adj

1 : lived in or visited by ghosts • Everyone says that the inn is haunted. • a haunted house

2 : troubled or upset • a mysterious young woman who always has a haunted expression on her face haunting adj [more ~; most ~] : sad or beautiful in a way that is difficult to forget • The old prison camp is a haunting reminder of the country's dark past. • the haunting sounds of the violin • the haunting beauty of her voice

— haunt-ing-ly adv • her hauntingly beautiful voice haute cou-ture /,outku'tuə, Brit ,əutku'tjuə/ noun [noncount] somewhat formal : the people and companies that create clothes that are very expensive and fashionable; also : the clothes they create • a fashion designer who's a renowned master of haute couture • celebrities wearing haute couture • haute couture fashions/designers/models haute cui-sine /,outkw'zi:n/ noun [singular] : cooking that is done in a very skillful and complicated way

have /'hæv, əv; in "have to" meaning "must" usually 'hæf/ verb
has /'hæz, əz; in "has to" meaning "must" usually 'hæs/; had /'hæd, əd/; hav-ing /'hævɪŋ/ ♦ For many senses of have, the phrase have got can also be used. Each sense, idiom, or phrasal verb below in which this phrase can occur includes the note "—also have got." See "have got" (below) for more information.

1 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] a : to own, use, or hold (something) • Do they have a new car? • You can have it until I get back. • She has a red bike, and I have a blue one. • She got another part-time job and now she has two jobs. • I'm looking for the newspaper. Do you have it? • He had the newspaper right in his hand. • I used to have a necklace like that, but I lost it. • She used to share a room with her sister, but now she has her own room. — also used for things that cannot be seen or touched • Do you have an appointment? • Do you have any experience in this line of work? [=have you done this kind of work before?] • She has so many things that she wants to do. • They have a deadline that must be met. — also have got • Have they got a new car? • She's got two jobs. • Have you got it? • I've got an appointment. — see also MUST-HAVE b ♦ If you have (something) to do, finish (etc.), there is something that you must do or want to do in order to complete a task. • We have things to do. = (chiefly Brit) We've things to do. • I have several more pages to read. • She has six more rows to knit. • "But I have promises to keep..." —Robert Frost, "Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening" (1923) — also have got • We've got things to do.

2 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] — used to say that something is available or not available • They had nothing to eat or drink, nothing to wear, and nowhere to live. • We didn't want to do it, but we had no choice/alternative. • You have a tremendous opportunity, and you should make the most of it. • The group will have enough tickets for everyone. • Do you have any spare change? • Do you have a minute/moment/second? [=are you available for a short time right now?] I have a few things I'd like to discuss with you. • Give me a call when you have a few minutes/moments. [=when you have a short period of time available] • I don't have the time to talk right now. [=I am too busy to talk right now] — also have got • I haven't got the time to talk right now. • Have you got a minute/moment/second? — see also HAVE THE TIME (below)

3 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] — used to describe a quality, skill, feature, etc., of a person or thing • She has an impressive knowledge of French. [=she knows French very well] • He has a way with words. [=he uses words/language very effectively] • She has a good outlook on life. • The car has power brakes. • That country has a king; this country has a president. • All the children in that family have red hair. • A man who had a foreign accent [=a man with a foreign accent] was asking to see you. • The museum has interesting exhibits. • I have a fear of spiders. [=I am afraid of spiders] — also have got • He's got a way with words. • The car's got power brakes.

4 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] : to include or contain (something or someone) • The list has my name on it. [=my name is on the list] • April has 30 days. [=there are 30 days in April; April is a month with 30 days] • The club has 100 members. — also have got • The list has got my name on it. • The club's got 100 members.

5 [+ obj] a : to give birth to (a child) • She had her first child when she was 25. • She's going to be having another baby soon. b not used in progressive tenses : to be the parent of (a child) • She and her husband have three children. • They have a son. — also have got • They've got a son and a daughter.

6 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] — used to describe a relationship between people • I have two sisters and a brother. • She has many friends and few enemies. • I wouldn't want to have him as an enemy. [=I wouldn't want him to be my enemy] • Do you have a big family? [=is your family big?; are there many people in your family?] • Does he have a girlfriend? • They have [=employ] a housekeeper. • We have many satisfied clients. • I have a customer who comes in every Tuesday and orders a tuna sandwich. — also have got • I've got two sisters and a brother.

7 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] : to tightly hold (someone) • The dog has him by the leg. [=the dog is tightly holding his leg in its mouth] • She had me by the arm and wouldn't let go. — also have got • The dog's got him by the leg.

8 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] : to get (something) • Whenever she sees the latest new electronic gadget, she needs to have it. • This piano is the best to be had. [=it is the best that can be bought or owned]

9 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] : to receive or be given (something) • We had some bad/good news yesterday. • I had a letter from my cousin last week. • "Waiter, can I have the check, please?" "I'll bring it right away." • Could I please have your attention? [=would you please give me your attention?] • Can I have a moment of your time? [=can I speak to you for a moment?]

10 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] — used to describe the position of a person or thing • He had his hands behind his back. [=his hands were behind his back] • She had her back to the door and didn't see me enter the room. • He has a bodyguard with/near him whenever he goes out in public. • The house has a large tree next to it. [=there is a large tree next to the house] — also have got • The house has got a large tree next to it.

11 [+ obj] : to cause or produce (something, such as an effect) • The defeat had a terrible effect/impact on the team's spirits. • Her decision might have serious consequences.

12 [+ obj] a : to experience (something) • "Are you having fun?" "Yes, I'm having a wonderful time!" • Everyone had a good time at the party. = A good time was had by all (at the party). • She's had many strange things happen to her recently. = She's been having a lot of strange things happen to her recently. • I've had a bad/tough/long day. • I'm having trouble getting this computer to work. [=I am unable to get it to work] • I've had a good life. • We've had another setback. • She had [=suffered] a heart attack at the age of 50. b not used in progressive tenses : to experience or be affected by (an illness or injury) • I have a cold. • My uncle has diabetes. • She has a broken leg. — also have got • I've got a cold. • She's got a broken leg. c : to experience (an emotion or feeling) • I have many regrets. [=I regret many things] • I have complete confidence in your abilities. = I don't have any doubts about your abilities. — also have got • I've got many regrets. • I haven't got any doubts about your abilities.

13 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] — used to describe a person's thoughts, ideas, etc. • Everyone has a different opinion about what to do. • I have a few thoughts on the matter. "What time is it?" "I have no idea." = "I've no idea." [=I don't know] • "Was it hard?" "You have no idea (how hard it was)!" [=it was extremely hard] • I don't have a clue. = I haven't a clue. [=I don't know] — also have got • Everyone's got a different opinion. • I haven't got a clue.

14 [+ obj] : to perform (an action) : to do or participate in (an activity) • Did you have a good nap? • I was having a nap [=I was napping] when a loud noise woke me up. • We need to have a long talk. • I have soccer practice every Tuesday. • Please don't interrupt us when we are having a conversation. • (Brit) Have a sleep/lie-down. • (Brit) Have a think. • Have a look at this. [=look at this] • I had a (good) look, but I couldn't find the problem. • Let me have a try. [=let me try]

15 [+ obj] : to provide (something) as entertainment or as a social gathering • We're having [=giving, throwing] a party on Saturday. Can you come? • We're having a little get-together. • The museum is having [=holding] an exhibition of her work. = She's having an exhibition of her work at the museum. [=the museum is exhibiting her work]

16 [+ obj] a : to cause, tell, or ask (someone) to do something • Have her call me [=tell her to call me on the telephone] when she gets back. • Have my assistant schedule another appointment for you. • You should have someone check that out for you. • She's having the children stay with us for the weekend. [=the children are staying with us for the weekend because she wants them to] • He had the barber cut his hair short. [=he got the barber to cut his hair short] • What would you have me do? [=what do you want me to do?] • They would have us believe [=they want/expect us to believe] that all these problems can be fixed by raising taxes. b : to cause (something) to be changed, removed, added, or affected in a specified way • I had my nose straightened by a plastic surgeon. • He had his hair cut short by a barber. • The doctor said I should have this mole removed. • We are having new windows installed. • I just had new tires put on the car. c — used when you hire someone to do something or when you go to a place (such as hospital or a mechanic's shop) so that something can be done • She's having surgery next week. • I had an X-ray. • When was the last time you had a check-up? • We're having some work done on the house. • The car should have regular maintenance checks. [=someone should check the car regularly]

17 [+ obj] — used to say that someone (such as a guest or a worker) is at your home or is coming to your home • We're having guests this weekend. • I'd love to come for a visit, if you'll have me. [=if you would welcome me as a guest] • We're going to have a plumber in to look at the furnace. • She has guests to/for dinner several times a week. • I had my friends back to my place for drinks after the movie. — see also HAVE OVER (below)

18 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] a : to cause (something) to be in a specified state or condition • He had dinner ready by the time she came back. • It's hard to think when she has the radio on so loud. • He had the computer working again very quickly. • Please have your assignment ready/done/finished/completed by tomorrow. — also have got • She's got the radio on so loud. • Have you got your assignment ready? [=is your assignment ready?] b — used when something that belongs to someone or something is damaged, destroyed, or taken • I had [=got] my nose broken in a fight. [=my nose was broken in a fight] • She had her car stolen last week. [=her car was stolen last week] • The house had its roof torn off in the hurricane.

19 [+ obj] : to allow (something) — used in negative statements • We'll have no more of that behavior! = We can't have that sort of behavior! = We can't have you behaving like that! = We can't be having you behave like that!

20 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] : to accept (someone) • Who will we have as our leader?; specifically : to accept (someone) as a husband or wife • I'll marry her if she'll have me! • She wouldn't have him.

21 a not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] : to be able to control, capture, or defeat (someone) • We have him now! He can't possibly escape! — also have got • We've got him now! b ♦ The phrases You have me there and There you have me or (more commonly and informally) You've/You got me (there) are used in speech to mean "I don't know." • "How on earth can he justify his behavior?" "You have me there." • "When exactly was the company founded?" "There you have me." • "Why did she leave?" "You got me." The phrase You got me is sometimes shortened to Got me in very informal speech. • "When does the movie start?" "Got me."

22 [+ obj] a : to eat or drink (something) • We had steak for dinner last night. • We'll be having [=eating] dinner at six. • Will you have a drink with me? • Would you like to have some black pepper on your salad? • "What will you have (to drink)?" "(I'll have) A glass of red wine, please." • Did you have dessert yet? • Have some cake. It's delicious! b : to smoke (something) • She had a cigarette while she was waiting for the bus. c — used to say how you want food or drink to be cooked or prepared • I'd like to have my steak well done, please. • I usually have [=take] my coffee black.

23 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] informal : to have sex with (someone) • He claims that he's had dozens of women.

24 [auxiliary verb] — used with the past participle to form the perfect tenses of verbs • We have been friends for many years. • She has bought a new car. • They had already left by the time we arrived. • I have not seen that movie yet. • Has the rain stopped? • I have never been so embarrassed! = Never have I been so embarrassed! • Having never been to Chicago, I really don't know much about it.

usage When have is used as an auxiliary verb, the shortened forms 've for have, 's for has, and 'd for had are common in informal writing and usual in speech. • I've already seen that movie. • I've never been so embarrassed! • We've been friends for years. • She's bought a new car. • They'd already left by the time we arrived. The negative forms haven't, hasn't, and hadn't are also common in informal writing and usual in speech. • I haven't seen that movie yet. • Hasn't the rain stopped? • We hadn't arrived yet when they left.

be had : to be tricked or fooled by someone • She doesn't want to buy a used car because she's worried about being had by a dishonest salesman. • I don't trust them. I think we've been had. [=I think they have tricked us] have against [phrasal verb] have (something) against (someone or something) : to have (something) as a reason for not liking (someone or something) • She has a grudge against her former boss. • What do you have against him? [=why do you dislike him?] • I have nothing against her personally—it's her friends I don't like. — also have got • She's got a grudge against her former boss. • What have you got against him?

have back [phrasal verb] 1 have (something) back : to receive (something that is returned to you) • If I lend you this book, can I have it back by next Tuesday? • How I wish I could have my youth back (again)! 2 have (someone) back a : to be with (someone who has returned) again • Welcome home! It's great to have you back (with us again)! • We'd love to have you back for another visit. • He longs to have her back in his life. • The doctor said he'd like to have me back for more tests next week. b : to allow (someone) to return • He wants to return to his wife, but she won't have him back.

have done with old-fashioned : to stop doing (something) : to bring (something) to an end • Let us have done with name-calling.

have got : HAVE usage Examples of have got are shown above and below for each sense, idiom, and phrasal verb in which it occurs. Note that have got is used only in the present tense. It is common in place of have in informal writing, and it is usual in ordinary speech. The contracted forms 's for has and 've for have are commonly used for the first part of this phrase. • He has it. = He has got it. = (more commonly) He's got it. • We have to go. = We have got to go. = (more commonly) We've got to go. The usual negative forms of have got are haven't got and hasn't got. • We do not have it. = We have not got it. = (more commonly) We haven't got it. • She doesn't have a chance. = She hasn't got a chance.

have had it informal 1 a : to be too old or damaged to be used • We need a new stove. This one has had it. • My old dictionary has just about had it. Time to get a new one. b : to be so tired or annoyed that you will no longer allow or accept something • That's it. I've had it. I won't pay these kinds of fees any more. • I've been working all day and I've had it. c : to be angry about something that has continued for a long time • I've had it (up to here) with all these delays! [=I am fed up with all these delays; I am very annoyed by all these delays] 2 : to be completely ruined or defeated • After this scandal, he's had it as a politician. [=he will no longer be able to be a politician] • His political career has had it. [=his political career is finished/ruined] have it 1 — used to say that what is being reported is a rumor, a story, etc. • Rumor/word has it [=a rumor says] that the company will be going out of business. • Legend has it [=according to legend] George Washington slept here. 2 — used to describe a person's condition or situation • He's had it pretty tough since his wife died. [=his life has been difficult since his wife died] • You've never had it so good (as you have it now)! • We have it pretty good right now. — also have got • We've got it pretty good right now.

have it in for : to want to hurt or cause problems for (someone you do not like) • She's had it in for me for a long time. — also have got • She's got it in for me.

have it in you : to have the ability to do something • His last performance was wonderful; I didn't know he had it in him! [=I didn't know he was capable of such a performance] • I don't think she has it in her to be cruel. [=I don't think she's capable of being cruel] — also have got • I don't think she's got it in her to be cruel.

have it out : to settle a disagreement by talking or arguing • If you don't like the way he's treated you, you should have it out with him instead of just brooding about it.

have mercy/pity : to treat someone with mercy or pity • The prisoner begged the judge to have mercy. — usually + on • The prisoner begged the judge to have mercy on him.

have on [phrasal verb] 1 have (something) on or have on (something) : to be wearing (something) • She has on a new suit. • He had nothing on. [=he was naked] — also have got • She's got on a new suit. 2 have (something) on (you) informal : to be carrying (something) • Do you have any spare change on you? • I don't have my wallet on me; I left it at home. — also have got • Have you got any spare change on you? 3 have (something) on : to keep (a device or machine) operating • They have the radio on all the time. 4 have (something) on chiefly Brit : to have plans for (something) • Do you have anything on for tomorrow? [=do you have any plans for tomorrow?] • What do you have on for tomorrow? [=what are your plans for tomorrow?] — also have got • Have you got anything on for tomorrow? 5 have (someone) on Brit, informal : to trick or fool (someone) in a joking way — usually used as (be) having (someone) on • He said he knew the Prime Minister, but I think he was just having me on. [=he was joking; he was just putting me on] 6 have nothing on (someone) or not have anything on (someone) : to have no evidence showing that someone has committed a crime or done something bad • The police were suspicious, but they had nothing on her. • If the police don't have anything on you, they have to let you go. — also have got • They haven't got anything on me. • They've got nothing on me. 7 have nothing on (someone or something) : to have less of a particular quality than (someone or something) • The winters here are bad, but they have nothing on the winters I remember when I was a child. [=they are not as bad as the winters I remember; the winters I remember were worse] • He says Houston has nothing on Chicago [=Houston is not as good as Chicago] when it comes to fine restaurants. — also have got • Houston's got nothing on Chicago.

have over [phrasal verb] have (someone) over — used to say that someone is coming to your home as a guest • We're having some friends over for dinner tonight. — see also HAVE 17 (above) have (someone or something) (all) to yourself : to be in a situation in which you are not required to share someone or something with anyone else • We have the entire evening to ourselves. [=we have no plans to do anything with anyone else this evening] • She has the house all to herself this weekend. [=she is the only one staying in the house this weekend] • I'm happy to have you to myself tonight; it will give us a chance to talk privately.

have the time ♦ If someone asks you if you have the time, that person is asking if you know what time it is. • "Do you have the time?" [=can you tell me what time it is?] "Yes, it's have to : MUST: such as a — used to say that something is required or necessary • You have to follow the rules. • You have to stop. [=you must stop; I command you to stop] • I told him what he had to do. [=what he must do] • We have to correct these problems soon or the project will fail. • I have to remember to stop at the store. • "Do you have to go?" "Yes, I'm afraid I really have to." • If you have to go, at least wait until the storm is over. • Do what you have to (do). • I didn't want to do it but I had to. — also have got to • You've got to stop. • I've got to go now. ♦ Note the difference in meaning between not have to and must not. • You don't have to do it. [=it is not necessary for you to do it] • You must not do it. [=you are not allowed to do it; you are forbidden to do it] b — used to say that something is required by a rule or law • All passengers have to exit at the next stop. — also have got to • All passengers have got to exit at the next stop. c — used to say that something is desired or should be done • You have to read this book. It's fantastic! • You have to come visit us soon. [=we would like to have you visit us soon] • You really have to see the doctor about that cough. [=I urge you to see the doctor; I really think you need to see the doctor] — also have got to • You've got to come visit us soon. d — used to say that something is very likely • It has to be close to noon. • She has to be the most beautiful woman I've ever seen. [=I think she is the most beautiful woman I've ever seen] • He has to have a lot of money to live the way he does. • The bus has to be coming soon. • There has to be some mistake. — also have got to • It's got to be close to noon. • There's got to be some mistake. e — used in various spoken phrases to emphasize a statement • I have to say, I was surprised to hear from him. • She's a talented actress, you have to admit. • I have to admit, I expected better results. • It has to be said that the movie was not very good. • I have to warn you, this will not be easy. — also have got to • I've got to say, I was surprised to hear from him. • She's a talented actress, you've got to admit. f — used in questions or statements that express annoyance or anger • Do you have to be so unreasonable? • Why does it always have to rain on the weekend? • Naturally it has to rain on the day when we planned a picnic. — also have got to • It's got to rain on the day when we planned a picnic.

10 minutes past 3." — also have got • Have you got the time? — see also HAVE 2 (above)

have to do with see ¹DO

have with [phrasal verb] 1 have (someone) with (you) : to be with (someone) • They had their grandchildren with them when they arrived. [=they arrived with their grandchildren] 2 have (something) with (you) : to be carrying (something) with (you) • I don't have my wallet with me.

I have it — used to say that you suddenly remember, understand, or have found something; usually I've got it • Now, what was his name? Tony? Tom? No, I've got it! Tim. His name was Tim.

I'll have you know — used to emphasize something in a somewhat annoyed or angry way • "Did your son go to college?" "Did he go to college? I'll have you know that he was given a full scholarship to Harvard!"

there you have it — used to say that something has just been shown, described, or stated in a very clear and definite way • "But we can't spend more money unless we have more money to spend!" "Precisely. There you have it."

what have you see ¹WHAT

you had to be there — used to say that people cannot understand something because they did not experience it or see it themselves • I know it sounds weird, but it was so funny. I guess you had to be there.

ha·ven /'hervən/ noun, pl -vens [count] : a place where you are protected from danger, trouble, etc. • The shelter offers/provides a haven from abusive spouses. • The inn is a haven for weary travelers. • This national park provides a safe haven for wildlife. — see also TAX HAVEN

have-nots /'hæv,nɔ:ts/ noun

the have-nots : people who have little money and few possessions : poor people — usually used in the phrase the haves and the have-nots • the gap between the haves and the have-nots [=between rich people and poor people] haven't /'hævənt/ — used as a contraction of have not • We haven't tried the new restaurant yet.

haves /'hævz/ noun

the haves : people who have a lot of money and possessions : wealthy people — usually used in the phrase the haves

and the have-nots • the gap between the haves and the have-nots [=between rich people and poor people]

hav·oc /'hævək/ noun [noncount] : a situation in which there is much destruction or confusion • the havoc of war • A powerful tornado wreaked havoc on [=caused great destruction to] the small village. • The disease can play havoc with the body's immune system. • Several small children can create/cause havoc in a house.

haw /'hɑ:/ verb haws; hawed; haw-ing

hem and haw see ³HEM

¹hawk /'hɑ:k/ noun, pl hawks [count]

1 : a bird that kills other birds and animals for food — see color picture on page C9

2 : a person who supports war or the use of military force • The hawks voted against the proposed cuts in military spending. — compare DOVE watch (someone or something) like a hawk : to watch (someone or something) very carefully • The storeowner watches those teenagers like a hawk whenever they come in because she's afraid they're going to steal something.

— hawk-ish /'hɑ:kɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a hawkish politician

²hawk verb hawks; hawked; hawk-ing [+ obj] : to offer (something) for sale especially by calling out or by going from one person to another : PEDdle • Vendors were hawking soda and hot dogs. • hawking newspapers — compare ³HAWK

— hawk-er noun, pl -ers [count] • a newspaper hawker

³hawk verb hawks; hawked; hawking [+ obj] : to clear (material) from your throat by coughing, making a noise with your voice, etc. — usually + up • hawking up phlegm — compare ²HAWK

haw-ser /'hɑ:zə/ noun, pl -sers [count] technical : a very thick rope or cable for towing or tying up a ship haw-thorn /'hɑ:θoən/ noun, pl -thorns [count] : a type of bush or small tree with white or pink flowers and small red fruits

hay /'heɪ/ noun [noncount]

1 : grass that has been cut and dried to be used as food for animals • a bale of hay

2 US, informal : a small amount of money — usually used in negative statements • They made over a million dollars last year, and that ain't hay! [=that is a lot of money]

a roll in the hay see ³ROLL

hit the hay see ¹HIT

make hay (while the sun shines) : to get value or use from an opportunity while it exists : to not waste an opportunity • These good economic conditions won't last forever, so investors need to make hay while the sun shines.

hay fever noun [singular] medical : a sickness that is like a cold and that is caused by breathing in plant pollen

hay-field /'heɪ,fi:ld/ noun, pl -fields [count] : a field where grass is grown for hay hay-loft /'heɪ,lɔ:ft/ noun, pl -lofts [count] : the upper part of a barn where hay is stored

hay-mak-er /'heɪ,meɪkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly US, informal : a powerful hit with the fist : a very hard punch • He was knocked down by a haymaker to his jaw. • throw/deliver a haymaker

hay-rick /'heɪ,rɪk/ noun, pl -ricks [count] chiefly Brit : HAYSTACK

hay-ride /'heɪ,raɪd/ noun, pl -rides [count] US : an informal event in which a group of people ride for pleasure in a wagon, sleigh, or open truck that is partly filled with straw or hay hay-stack /'heɪ,stæk/ noun, pl -stacks [count] : a large pile of hay

a needle in a haystack see ¹NEEDLE

hay-wire /'heɪ,wajə/ adj, informal : not working properly • a haywire immune system — usually used in the phrase go haywire • The disease has caused her immune system to go haywire. [=to stop working properly] • The old radio went haywire. • The stock market has gone completely haywire.

¹haz-ard /'hæzəd/ noun, pl -ards

1 [count] : a source of danger • Young people should be educated about the hazards of excessive drinking. [=about how drinking too much alcohol is harmful] • That old staircase is a safety hazard. [=it is dangerous; someone could get hurt by using it] • a fire hazard [=something that could cause a fire] • a health hazard = a hazard to your health [=something that could make you sick] • Hand injuries are an occupational hazard for typists. [=typists are likely to have hand injuries because of the work they do] • a traffic hazard [=something that could cause an accident involving a car, bicycle, etc.]

2 [count] golf: something on a golf course (such as a pond or an area of sand) that makes hitting the ball into the hole more difficult • a water hazard

3 hazards [plural]: HAZARD LIGHTS

2 hazard verb -ards; -ard-ed; -ard-ing [+ obj]

1: to risk losing (something, such as money) in an attempt to get, win, or achieve something • His friend asked him to hazard a small sum in a business venture.

2: to offer (something, such as a guess or an opinion) even though you may be wrong • She was unwilling to hazard [=venture] a guess as to the outcome of the election. • hazard an opinion hazard lights noun [plural]: special lights on a vehicle that flash on and off and are used to warn other drivers of a dangerous situation (such as when the vehicle is not working properly) — called also hazards

haz-ard-ous /'hæzədəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]: involving risk or danger: DANGEROUS • It was a hazardous voyage. • These are hazardous chemicals that can cause death if inhaled. • hazardous driving habits — sometimes + to • Smoking can be hazardous to your health.

— haz-ard-ous-ly adv

hazard pay noun [noncount] US: extra money that someone is paid for doing work that is dangerous — called also (US) danger pay, (Brit) danger money

haze /'heɪz/ noun [singular]

1: dust, smoke, or mist that has filled the air so that you cannot see clearly • The bar was filled with a smoky haze. • a haze of smoke

2: a state of confusion • She stumbled around in a drug-induced haze.

— hazed /'heɪzd/ adj • the pale, hazed sky — usually used in combination • the smoke-hazed sky/bar • a drug-hazed state

ha-zel /'heɪzəl/ noun, pl -zels

1 [count]: a kind of bush or small tree that produces nuts

2 [count, noncount]: a color that combines light brown with green and gray

— see also WITCH HAZEL

— hazel adj • hazel eyes

ha-zel-nut /'heɪzəl,nʌt/ noun, pl -nuts [count]: the nut of a hazel — called also (US) filbert; see picture at NUT

haz-ing /'heɪzɪŋ/ noun [noncount] US: the practice of playing unpleasant tricks on someone or forcing someone to do unpleasant things ✧ Hazing is done as part of a ritual that people (such as college students) must go through before they are allowed to become members of a group (such as a fraternity).

— haze /'heɪz/ verb haz-es; hazing; hazed [+ obj] • Varsity team members hazed the new players by leading them around campus on leashes.

hazy /'heɪzi/ adj haz-i-er; -est

1: partly hidden, darkened, or clouded by dust, smoke, or mist: hidden by haze • We had only a hazy view of the mountain. • hazy sunshine, also: having or filled with haze • hazy weather

2 a: not clear in thought or meaning: VAGUE • He gave us a hazy account of how he had spent the last two weeks. • She has only hazy memories of the accident. b: not certain • I'm a little hazy [=unclear] on/about the details.

— haz-i-ly /'heɪzəli/ adv • hazily remembered — haz-i-ness /'heɪzɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • the haziness of the view/memories

H-bomb /'eɪtʃ,bɑ:m/ noun, pl -bombs [count]: HYDROGEN BOMB

HDTV abbr high-definition television

1 he /'hi:, i/ pronoun

1: that male — used to indicate a male person or animal that is the subject of a verb • He is my father. • Ask your brother where he is going. • He has been planning this trip since January. • (on the telephone) "Hello, I'd like to speak with Jim." "This is he." [=I (the person who answered the phone) am Jim] — compare SHE

2: that person — used in a general sense or when the sex of the person is unknown • Everyone should do the best he can. • Tell whoever is in there that he had better come out. • He who laughs last, laughs best. ✧ This use of he was common in the past but is now often avoided because it is considered sexist.

2 he /'hi:/ noun [singular]: a boy, man, or male animal • "Somebody called when you were out, but I can't remember who." "Was it a he or a she?" — sometimes used in combination • a he-goat

1 head /'hed/ noun, pl heads or in sense 7 head

1 [count]: the part of the body containing the brain, eyes, ears, nose, and mouth • She patted the dog on the head. • He nodded his head in agreement. • The ceiling's low—watch your head! • head injuries • They were covered from head to foot/toe in mud. [=they were completely covered in mud] • He has a full head of hair. [=he has a full amount of hair on his head] — see picture at HUMAN; see also TALKING HEAD

2 [count]: a person's mental ability: mind or intellect • You shouldn't let your heart rule your head. [=you should be guided by reason and not by your emotions] • She did some quick calculations in her head. [=without writing anything; mentally] • I keep hearing that song in my head. = That song keeps running through my head. = I can't get that song out of my head. • It never even entered my head to run for office. [=I never thought of running for office] • The problem is all in his head. [=the problem is not real; he's just imagining it] • Don't go putting ideas in/into his head. [=don't cause him to have ideas or suspicions that he would not have himself] • You should put that idea out of your head. [=you should stop thinking about that idea] • She always says the first thing that comes/pops into her head. [=the first thing that she thinks of] • I'm sure we can solve this problem if we just use our heads. [=think carefully] • That guy should have his head examined. = That guy is not right in the head. [=that guy is crazy] • You need a cool/calm head [=an ability to remain calm] to deal with someone like him. • a clear head [=an ability to think clearly] ✧ If you have a good head on your shoulders, you are intelligent and have good judgment. • You don't have to worry about her—she's got a good head on her shoulders.

✧ When you get/take it into your head to do something, you suddenly decide to do it in a way that seems foolish or surprising. • He's taken it into his head to try skydiving. • I somehow got it into my head to run for public office. ✧ If you get it into your head that something is true, you begin to believe something even though there is no good reason for believing it. • She's somehow gotten it into her head that I don't like her. [=she believes that I don't like her although I do like her]

3 [count]: a person who has a specified mental or emotional quality • A fight was avoided when cooler heads prevailed. [=when calmer or less angry people were able to convince others not to fight] — see also HOTHEAD, SOREHEAD

4 [singular]: a distance equal to the length of a head • The horse won the race by a head. • I'm a head taller than you.

5 [count]: the front side of a coin: the side of a coin that shows a picture of a person's head • the head of a penny — usually used in the plural to refer to one of the two choices you can make when a coin is thrown in the air to decide something • I call heads. • Is it heads or tails? [=did the coin land with heads or tails facing up?] • It landed heads up. — compare 1TAIL 3

6 head [plural]: individual animals • 100 head of cattle

7 [count] a: an end of something that is like a head in shape or position — usually singular; often + of • She placed the pillows at the head of the bed. • We arrived early so that we'd be at the head [=front] of the line. • The chairman sat at the head of the table. • the head [=top] of a nail/pin/screw — compare FOOT b: the part of an object that hits or touches something else • a grinding head • the hammer's head — often + of • the head of a spear • the head of a golf club — see also ARROWHEAD, SPEARHEAD, WARHEAD

8 [noncount]: the position of being a leader • She's at the head of her class. [=she is the best student in her class]

9 [count] a: a person who leads or directs a group or organization • Have you met the new department head? — often + of • She is the head of our sales division. • heads of families/households • heads of state [=leaders of countries] — often used before another noun • the restaurant's head cook • the team's head coach b chiefly Brit: HEAD TEACHER

10 [count]: a tight mass of leaves or flowers on a plant • The flower heads on the plant are very large. • a head of cabbage/lettuce • a head of garlic

11 [count]: the place where a stream or river begins — usually singular • the head of the Nile

12 [singular]: pressure caused by the water or steam in a machine ✧ When an engine has a full head of steam, it has built up a full amount of power. This phrase is often used figuratively to describe something that is moving forward in a fast and powerful way. • The project started slowly, but now we have a full head of steam.

13 [count] : the bubbles that form on the top of some liquids (such as beer) — usually singular • the foamy head on a beer

14 [singular] : the point at which a situation becomes very serious or when action is required • Things came to a head when the workers threatened to go on strike. • These new revelations brought the scandal to a head.

15 [count] : a small, inflamed area on the skin with a spot in the middle — see also BLACKHEAD

a big/swelled head informal : an overly high opinion of yourself • All those compliments have given him a big head. [=have made him very conceited]

a head : for each person • The price is $20 a head.

a price on someone's head see ¹PRICE

bang heads together see ¹BANG

bite someone's head off see ¹BITE

butt heads see ³BUTT

count heads see ¹COUNT

eyes in the back of your head see ¹EYE

get it through someone's head : to cause someone to learn and remember something • She's finally gotten it through their heads that she doesn't eat meat.

get it through your head : to accept or understand (something) • He can't seem to get it through his head that I'm not interested in working with him.

get your head round Brit : to understand (something) • She couldn't get her head round why he had to leave.

go over someone's head : to discuss something with a person who is higher in rank than someone else • He went over his supervisor's head to complain about the policy to the company's president. [=he complained about the policy to the company's president rather than his supervisor] go to your head 1 of an alcoholic drink : to make you feel drunk • I just had one glass of wine, but it went straight to my head. 2 : to make you believe that you are better than other people • He has never let his fame go to his head.

have a head for : to have an ability to understand or deal with (something) • She's always had a (good) head for business. • (Brit) He has a head for heights. [=he is not afraid of heights; being up high does not bother him] have/get your head (screwed) on right/straight informal : to think or act in a smart and sensible way • She's young, but it's clear that she has her head screwed on right. • You think that's a good idea? You need to get your head screwed on straight.

head and shoulders above — used to say that someone or something is much better than others • They are/stand head and shoulders above the competition.

head in the sand ✧ If you bury/have/hide (etc.) your head in the sand, you ignore something unpleasant that you should be dealing with. • He can't just bury his head in the sand every time there's a problem.

head over heels : very deeply in love • We were head over heels (in love). • He fell head over heels for some girl he met at school. • (US) He went head over heels for her.

heads roll informal ✧ If you say that heads will roll or (less commonly) heads are going to roll, you mean that people will be severely punished or will lose their jobs because of something that has happened. • When the boss finds out about the mistake, heads will roll.

hit the nail on the head see ¹HIT

hold up your head or hold your head (up) high : to be proud : to not feel ashamed • Even though they lost the game, they can still hold up their heads because they tried their best.

keep your head : to remain calm • She has shown that she can keep her head in a crisis.

keep your head above water : to avoid financial failure while having money problems • We have so much debt that we're barely able to keep our heads above water.

keep your head down informal : to behave in a quiet way that does not attract attention • a politician who is keeping his head down and trying to avoid controversy

knock heads see ¹KNOCK

knock someone's head off see ¹KNOCK

knock some sense into someone's head see ¹SENSE

knock (something) on the head see ¹KNOCK

lose your head : to become very upset or angry • He lost his head and said some things he regrets.

not make head or/nor tail of or US not make heads or/nor tails (out) of informal : to be unable to understand (something) • I couldn't make heads or tails of her reaction.

• His handwriting was so bad that we couldn't make heads or tails out of it.

off the top of your head see ¹TOP

off your head Brit, informal : crazy or foolish • He's not just eccentric—he's completely off his head! • He's gone off his head over some girl.

on your head 1 : with the upper and lower parts of your body reversed in position • Can you stand on your head?

2 : in or into great disorder • News of the discovery turned the scientific world on its head. 3 — used to say that you will be blamed for something • If we miss our deadline, it will be on your head. [=it will be your fault]

out of your head informal : unable to act or think in a reasonable and controlled way because of drunkenness or strong emotion • He was (drunk) out of his head. [=he was extremely drunk] • Her parents were out of their heads with worry [=were extremely worried and upset] when she didn't come home on time.

over your head : beyond your understanding or ability • The technical details were over my head. [=too complicated for me to understand] • That joke went right over my head. [=I did not get that joke] • We realized after we started the business that we were (in) over our heads. [=we were trying to do something that was too difficult]

per head : for each person • The price is $20 per head.

put/stick/raise your head above the parapet see PARAPET

put your heads together : to think of a solution to a problem with another person • I'm sure we can solve this problem if we just put our heads together.

rear/raise its ugly head ✧ If something bad rears/raises its ugly head, it suddenly becomes obvious or causes trouble. • Inflation threatened to rear its ugly head.

scratch your head informal : to be confused about something and unable to understand the reason for it • His odd behavior left us all scratching our heads.

scream/shout/yell/laugh (etc.) your head off informal : to scream/shout/yell/laugh (etc.) very loudly or for a long time • She was screaming her head off. • You can shout your head off at him, but he still won't listen. • If they saw me dressed like this, they'd laugh their heads off.

shake your head see ¹SHAKE

two heads are better than one — used to say that it is easier for two people who help each other to solve a problem than it is for one person to solve a problem alone turn heads : to attract attention or notice • The car's sleek design is bound to turn heads.

²head verb heads; head·ed; head·ing

T [+ obj] a : to be the leader of (something) • She heads the committee. • The group was headed by the church pastor. • He was accused of heading the revolt. — often + up • The research committee was headed up by several leading scientists. b : to be first on (a list) • He heads [=tops] the list of candidates for the job.

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to go in a specified direction or toward a specified place • She turned around and headed (for) home. • I hopped in the car and headed down the street. • After lunch, we headed back to the office. • She headed out early this morning. • The birds have already started heading south for the winter. ✧ To be heading or headed somewhere is to be going or directed somewhere. • Where are you heading? = Where are you headed? [=where are you going?] • The ship was heading/headed out to sea. — often + for • We were on a plane headed for Hawaii. — often used figuratively • The economy may be heading into a recession. • If you keep acting like this, you'll be heading/headed for trouble!

3 [+ obj] soccer : to hit (the ball) with your head • The forward headed the ball into the goal.

head off [phrasal verb] 1 : to go to another place • I'll see you later—I'm heading off. • He headed off to work. 2 head (someone) off or head off (someone) : to stop (someone) from moving forward • We can head them off at the pass. 3 head (something) off or head off (something) : to prevent (something) from happening • They tried to head off the crisis by raising interest rates.

head·ache /'hed,eɪk/ noun, pl -aches

1 : an ache or pain in the head [count] I'm starting to get a headache. [noncount] The symptoms include fever and headache. — see also SPLITTING HEADACHE

2 [count] : a difficult or annoying situation or problem • The city's biggest headache is traffic. • Managing your finances can be a real headache.

— head-achy /'hɛd,eɪki/ adj [more ~; most ~] • I was feeling tired and headachy.

head-band /'hɛd,bænd/ noun, pl -bands [count] : a band of cloth or some other material worn on or around your head

head-board /'hɛd,bɔ:rd/ noun, pl -boards [count] : an upright board at the end of a bed where you rest your head — see picture at BED

head boy noun, pl ~ boys [count] Brit : an older male student in a British school who is chosen to have special duties and to represent the school head case noun, pl ~ cases [count] informal : a person who has mental or emotional problems : a crazy person • Her brother's a real head case.

head-cheese /'hɛd,tʃi:z/ noun [noncount] US : a food made from parts of the head, feet, and sometimes the tongue and heart of a pig — called also (Brit) brawn

head cold noun, pl ~ colds [count] : a cold that mainly affects areas in your nose, throat, etc., and that makes breathing difficult head count noun, pl ~ counts [count] : an act of counting the number of people at a place, event, etc. • She did a head count to make sure all the students were on the bus.

head-dress /'hɛd,dres/ noun, pl -dress-es [count] : a decorative covering for your head • The dancers wore ceremonial headdresses.

head-ed /'hɛdəd/ adj : having a head or heads of a specified type or number — usually used in combination with another adjective • a curly-headed child [=a child with curly hair] • a red-headed actress • a two-headed ax — see also WRONG-HEADED

head-er /'hɛdər/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a word, phrase, etc., that is placed at the beginning of a document, passage, etc., or at the top of a page • a column header • an e-mail header [=lines at the beginning of an e-mail message giving information about the message's origin, etc.] — see picture at TABLE; compare FOOTER

2 informal : a fall in which your head hits the ground • She tripped on the rock and took a header.

3 soccer : a shot or pass made by hitting the ball with your head • He scored with a header past the goalie. — see also DOUBLEHEADER

head-first /'hɛd'fɛst/ adv

1 : with the head leading • She dove into the water headfirst. — compare FEETFIRST

2 : without taking time to think about your actions • She rushed into the relationship headfirst.

— headfirst adj • a headfirst dive/slide head-gear /'hɛd,giə/ noun [noncount] : things (such as hats and helmets) that are worn on your head • The law requires cyclists to wear protective headgear. • Her preferred form of headgear is a big, floppy hat.

head girl noun, pl ~ girls [count] Brit : an older female student in a British school who is chosen to have special duties and to represent the school head-hunt-ing /'hɛd,hʌntɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the activity of finding people who are suited for a particular job — often used before another noun • They retained a head-hunting firm to fill the position of chief executive officer.

— head-hunt-er /'hɛd,hʌntər/ noun, pl -ers [count] • Corporations often use headhunters to find candidates for executive positions.

head-ing /'hɛdɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count]

1 : the direction in which a ship or aircraft points • What is your current heading?

2 : a word, phrase, etc., that is placed at the beginning of a document, passage, etc., or at the top of a page • We organized all the recipes under different subject headings. • a chapter heading — see picture at TABLE

3 : a name or label used for a group of people or things • His paintings usually fall/go/come under the heading of realism.

head-lamp /'hɛd,læmp/ noun, pl -lamps [count] : HEADLIGHT head-land /'hɛdlənd/ noun, pl -lands [count] : a narrow area of land that sticks out into the sea : PROMONTORY

head-less /'hɛdləs/ adj : having no head • a headless pin • a headless body

head-light /'hɛd,lait/ noun, pl -lights [count] : a light on the front of a vehicle (such as a car or motorcycle) — see picture at CAR

head-line /'hɛd,lain/ noun, pl -lines

1 [count] : the title written in large letters over a story in a newspaper • The story of his arrest appeared beneath the headline "Caught!" • She only had time to scan the headlines before she had to rush out the door.

2 headlines [plural] : the major news stories reported in newspapers, magazines, or television news programs • Surprising developments have kept the murder investigation in the headlines for several weeks. • He made/grabbed headlines [=became the subject of major news] with his recent antismoking campaign. • She has grabbed/hit/made the headlines by making public accusations of corruption within the government. • The murder investigation has been in the headlines for several weeks.

headline verb -lines; -lined; -lin-ing [+ obj]

1 : to provide (a newspaper story) with a headline — usually used as (be) headlined • The story of his arrest was headlined "Caught!"

2 US : to be the main performer in (a show or concert) • The band is headlining the music festival.

head-lin-er /'hɛd,lainər/ noun, pl -ers [count] : the main performer in a show or concert • He was the headliner at a local night club.

head-lock /'hɛd,lɔ:k/ noun, pl -locks [count] : a method of holding someone by putting your arm around the person's head • He had me in a headlock.

head-long /'hɛd'la:ŋ/ adv

1 : with the head leading : HEADFIRST • I dove headlong to the floor.

2 : without taking time to think about your actions — usually + into • We rushed headlong into marriage.

— head-long /'hɛd,lɔ:ŋ/ adj, always used before a noun • a headlong dive • We made a headlong rush for the door.

head-man /'hɛd'mæn/ noun, pl -men /-'men/ [count] : a man who is the leader of a tribe or village : CHIEF head-mas-ter /'hɛd'mæstər, Brit 'hɛd'mɑ:stər/ noun, pl -ters [count]

1 : a man who is the head of a U.S. private school

2 : a man who is the head of a British school head-mis-tress /'hɛd'mistrəs/ noun, pl -tress-es [count]

1 : a woman who is the head of a U.S. private school

2 : a woman who is the head of a British school

head-on /'hɛd'ɑ:n/ adv

1 : with the head or front hitting first • The two cars collided head-on.

2 : in a very direct way • She decided to confront/meet the challenge head-on.

— head-on adj, always used before a noun • a head-on collision/confrontation head-phones /'hɛd,fəʊnz/ noun [plural] : a device that is worn over your ears and used for listening to music, the radio, etc., without having other people hear it • a pair/set of headphones head-piece /'hɛd,pi:s/ noun, pl -piec-es [count] : a usually decorative covering for the head • The bride wore a veil with a beaded headpiece.

head-quar-tered /'hɛd,kwo:təd/ adj, not used before a noun : having headquarters in a certain place : based in a particular location • The company is headquartered in Springfield, Massachusetts.

head-quar-ters /'hɛd,kwo:təz/ noun [plural] : a place from which something (such as a business or a military action) is controlled or directed ♦ Headquarters is plural in form but is used with both plural and singular verbs. • The company's headquarters is/are in Atlanta.

head-rest /'hɛd,rɛst/ noun, pl -rests [count] : the part of a seat or chair that supports your head — see picture at CAR head-room /'hɛd,ru:m/ noun [noncount] : the space between the top of your head and a ceiling or roof when you are standing or sitting • There isn't much headroom in the basement. [=the ceiling is low in the basement] • He's looking for a car with a lot of headroom.

head-scarf /'hɛd,skɑ:ʃ/ noun, pl -scarves [count] : a piece of cloth worn over a woman's or girl's head head-set /'hɛd,set/ noun, pl -sets [count]

1 : a pair of headphones

2 : a device that holds an earphone and a microphone in place on a person's head

— see picture on next page

head-stand /'hɛd,stænd/ noun, pl -stands [count] : the act of positioning your body so that your head and hands are on the floor and your legs and feet are straight up in the air •

headset

She can do a headstand. [=she can stand on her head]

head start noun, pl ~ starts [count]

1 : an advantage given to a someone at the beginning of a race • They gave me a five-minute head start.

2 : an advantage that you have or get when you are starting to do something • She took some extra classes to get a head start in/on her career. • His natural athletic talent gave him a head start on/over his peers.

head-stone /'hed, stoun/ noun, pl -stones [count] : a stone that marks the place where a dead person is buried and that usually has the person's name and birth and death dates on it — called also gravestone, tombstone head-strong /'hed, stra:ŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not willing to do what other people want : very stubborn • The child is very headstrong. • He is known for his headstrong behavior.

heads up interj, US, informal — used to tell someone to look up because of possible danger • He shouted, “Heads up!” as he threw the ball.

¹heads-up /'hedz'ʌp/ noun [singular] US, informal : a message that tells or warns someone about something that is going to happen • She gave him a heads-up that the company's president will be visiting the office.

²heads-up adj, always used before a noun, US, informal : showing that you are very aware of what is happening around you : ALERT • a heads-up play by the first baseman head table noun, pl ~ tables [count] : the table at which the most important people sit during a formal meal

head teacher noun, pl ~ -ers [count] Brit : the person who is in charge of a school head-to-head adv : in a direct competition or contest • The two teams will compete head-to-head for the championship. • He'll go head-to-head with his toughest opponent in the upcoming debate.

— head-to-head adj, always used before a noun • a head-to-head competition head-wait-er /'hed'weɪtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a waiter who is in charge of other waiters in a restaurant

head-wa-ters /'hed,wɑ:təz/ noun [plural] : the beginning and upper part of a stream or river • the headwaters of the Amazon

head-way /'hed,wet/ noun

make headway : to move forward or make progress • The wind kept the boat from making headway toward shore. • The boat made little headway [=moved forward very little] against the strong wind. • We're gradually making headway with the project. • They've recently made some headway in their search for a cure.

head-wind /'hed,wɪnd/ noun, pl -winds [count] : a wind that is blowing toward something (such as a ship or an airplane) as it moves forward — compare TAILWIND head-word /'hed,wɔ:d/ noun, pl -words [count] : a word placed at the beginning of an entry in a dictionary, encyclopedia, etc.

heady /'hedɪ/ adj head-i-er; -est

1 : causing feelings of excitement or dizziness : having a powerful effect on your senses • a heady wine/aroma • The plane soared to heady heights.

2 : very excited and happy • They were heady with their newfound success.

heal /'hi:l/ verb heals; healed; heal-ing

¹[no obj] : to become healthy or well again • The cut healed slowly. • You've got to give the injury time to heal. • After the divorce, he needed some time to heal.

²[+ obj] : to make (someone or something) healthy or well again • The ointment will help heal the wound. • heal the sick • Only time will heal the rift/breach between the two families. [=make the two families become friendly again]

— heal-er /'hi:lə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • Native American healers • Time is a great healer. — healing adj • The tree sap is believed to have healing powers. • the healing process — healing noun [noncount] • traditional methods of heal- ing — see also FAITH HEALING

¹health /'helθ/ noun [noncount]

¹a : the condition of being well or free from disease • We nursed him back to health. • My aunt is quite elderly, but she still has her health. [=she is still healthy] • She is the picture of health. [=she is very healthy] ♦ If you drink (to) someone's health, you take a drink as a wish for that person to be healthy. b : the overall condition of someone's body or mind • He's in good/poor health these days. • He has continued to enjoy good health in his old age. • Her health is excellent. = She is in the best of health. • Smoking is bad for your health. • He is concerned about his sister's mental health.

² : the condition or state of something • We must protect the health of our oceans. • The economy is in a period of robust financial health. • Investors are worried about the company's health.

give (someone or something) a clean bill of health see ¹BILL

²health adj, always used before a noun

¹ : of or relating to medical care • She works in the health field. • health insurance/services • He was treated at the health center.

² : relating to or affecting the condition of your body or mind • health education • Have you had any health problems recently? • These chemicals pose a health hazard/risk.

health care noun [noncount] : the prevention or treatment of illness by doctors, dentists, psychologists, etc.

— health-care adj, always used before a noun • health-care workers health club noun, pl ~ clubs [count] : a private club where people go to exercise

health farm noun, pl ~ farms [count] chiefly Brit : SPA 1b health food noun, pl ~ foods : a food that is believed to be good for your health : a food that has no artificial ingredients [noncount] He eats only health food. • She shops at the health-food store. [count] The restaurant offers a variety of health foods.

health-ful /'helθfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : good for your health : HEALTHY • healthful living • a healthful lifestyle/diet • The meal was both healthful and satisfying.

— health-ful-ly adv — health-ful-ness noun [noncount]

health spa noun, pl ~ spas [count] : SPA 1b healthy /'helθi/ adj health-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

¹a : having good health : not sick or injured : WELL • healthy babies • tips for staying healthy b : showing good health • a healthy complexion • He has a healthy [=heartly, large] appetite.

² : good for your health : HEALTHFUL • a healthy lifestyle/diet • healthy living • Those foods aren't healthy (for you). = It's not healthy (for you) to eat those foods.

³ : doing well : successful or growing • a healthy economy • The company is financially healthy.

⁴ : large in size or amount • A healthy number of her poems were published in the magazine. • She has a healthy bank account. • This line of work requires a healthy dose of self-discipline. • His business earns a healthy profit.

⁵ : sensible or natural • The students have a healthy curiosity about the world. • a healthy respect for dangerous animals

— health-i-ly /'helθəli/ adv • living healthily • healthily active people — health-i-ness /'helθinəs/ noun [noncount]

— healthy adv, informal • He eats healthy. • She lives healthy by exercising and eating right.

¹heap /'hi:p/ noun, pl heaps [count]

¹ : a large, disordered pile of things • He dumped the grass clippings into the compost heap. • a heap of old newspapers • She left her dirty clothes in a heap on the floor. — see also SCRAP HEAP

²informal : a great number or large amount of something • He's in a heap of trouble! — often plural • They've got heaps of money.

³informal : an old car that is in poor condition • I can't believe he's still driving that old heap.

at the bottom/top of the heap — used to describe a person's level of success, position in society, etc. • Quite a few people applied for the job, but his past work experience put him at the top of the heap. [=made him the strongest candidate of the group] • People at the bottom of the heap [=poor people] will not be helped much by the new tax cuts.

collapse/fall (etc.) in a heap : to fall very suddenly to the ground and lie there • Overcome by heat exhaustion, he collapsed/fell in a heap.

²heap verb heaps; heaped; heap-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to put (something) in a large pile • He heaped the leaves (up) beside the fence. • They heaped food on our plates. [=they put a lot of food on our plates] — often used as (be) heaped • Books and magazines were heaped in a corner. • Bags of flour were heaped (up) on the counter. b : to put a pile or heap on or in (something) — + with • They heaped our plates with food. • She brought out a basket heaped with fruit. [=filled with a large amount of fruit]

2 : to give (something, such as praise, blame, etc.) in large amounts — + on or upon • The critics heaped scorn on our efforts. [=the critics were very scornful of our efforts] • He was embarrassed by all the praise being heaped upon him.

heaped adj, Brit : HEAPING • a heaped plateful • a heaped tablespoon heaping adj, US

1 : holding a large pile of something • I ate three heaping platefuls of rice and beans.

2 : holding as much as can be held • Add one heaping tablespoon of sugar.

hear /'hiə/ verb hears; heard /'həd/; hear-ing

1 not used in progressive tenses a : to be aware of (sound) through the ear [+ obj] Do you hear that music? • I can't hear you. = I can't hear what you are saying. • I couldn't hear a word of what he said over all that noise. • I thought I heard him leave. • He was heard leaving. = He was heard to leave. [no obj] Would you turn the volume up a little? I can't hear. • She doesn't hear well. [=her ability to hear sounds is poor; her hearing is poor] b [+ obj] : to listen to (someone or something) • I heard her in concert a few years ago. • Have you ever heard Wagner sung/performed in English? • The committee will hear witnesses today.

2 : to be told (something) [+ obj] I hear he's leaving town. • "Is he leaving town?" "So I've heard." = "So I hear." • "Is he leaving town?" "That's what I'm hearing." [=that's what people are saying] • I don't know what happened. I'll let you know if I hear anything. • I've heard it said that smoking is bad for your health. • He heard it on the radio. • (old-fashioned) I hear tell that he's leaving town. • Have you heard the one/joke about the traveling salesman and the farmer's daughter? [no obj] Didn't you hear? There's a storm heading our way. — often + about • A week passed before they heard about the incident. • Frankly, I'm sick of hearing about his problems.

3 [+ obj] : to give attention to (someone or something) • Lord, hear our prayers.

4 [+ obj] law : to listen to and make a judgment about (a court case) • The judge will hear the case.

be hearing things : to hear sounds that are not real • She swears she heard someone open the door, but I think she's just hearing things.

hear from [phrasal verb] hear from (someone) : to receive a letter, a telephone call, etc., from (someone) • We heard from them yesterday. • I haven't heard from her lately. • I haven't heard anything from her lately.

Hear! Hear! — used during a speech or meeting to say that you agree with what someone else has just said hear of [phrasal verb] hear of (someone or something) : to be aware of the existence of (someone or something) : to know about (someone or something) • He's supposed to be a famous actor, but this is the first time I've ever (even) heard of him. [=the first time I have heard his name] • I've never heard of such a thing! • If I hear of a job opening, I'll let you know. — see also NOT HEAR OF (below)

hear out [phrasal verb] hear (someone) out : to listen to (someone who wants to tell you something) • I know you don't agree but hear me out.

hear yourself think informal — used to say that you cannot think clearly because of loud talking, music, etc. • That music is so loud I can't hear myself think.

I hear what you're saying informal — used to say that you understand what someone is telling you • I hear what you're saying but I still disagree.

make your presence heard see PRESENCE

make yourself heard see ¹MAKE

never/not hear the end of it informal — used to say that someone will keep talking about something for a long time • If it turns out that he's right, we'll never hear the end of it. [=he will keep reminding us that he was right]

not hear of : to not allow (something) • We tried to pay him for his help, but he wouldn't hear of it. [=he wouldn't allow us to pay] — see also HEAR OF (above)

you could hear a pin drop see ¹PIN

hear-er /'hiə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who hears or listens to someone or something • Different hearers may interpret the same phrase differently.

hear-ing /'hiɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [noncount] : the sense through which a person or animal is aware of sound : the ability to hear • Her hearing is good/poor. • He suffered some loss of hearing in his right ear. • She is hearing-impaired [=not able to hear well] — see also hard of hearing at ¹HARD

2 [noncount] : the distance within which someone's voice can be heard • She stayed within hearing of her mother's voice. [=she stayed close enough to her mother to hear her voice]

3 [count] : an opportunity to explain why you did, said, or believe something — usually singular • They agreed to give both sides a fair hearing [=they agreed to listen to and consider statements from both sides]

4 [count] : a meeting or session at which evidence and arguments about a crime, complaint, etc., are presented to a person or group who will have to decide on what action should be taken • The judge has granted them a hearing. • The committee held public hearings on the bill.

hearing aid noun, pl ~ aids [count] : an electronic device worn in or on the ear to help a person who has hearing problems to hear better hear-say /'hiə,seɪ/ noun [noncount] : something heard from another person : something that you have been told • You can't judge them solely on the basis of hearsay. • They're supposedly getting married soon, but that's just hearsay. • (law) hearsay evidence [=evidence presented by a witness that is based on another person's statement]

hearse /'hɜːs/ noun, pl hears-es [count] : a large car that is used for carrying a coffin to a grave

heart /'hɑːt/ noun, pl hearts

1 [count] : the organ in your chest that pumps blood through your veins and arteries • I could feel my heart pounding/racing. • He has a bad/weak heart. — often used before another noun • He suffers from a heart condition. • heart failure/disease/surgery • a heart murmur • Aerobic exercise increases your heart rate [=pulse] — see picture at HUMAN; see also CORONARY HEART DISEASE, OPEN-HEART

2 [count] : the front part of your chest • He put his hand on his heart. • (literary) She clutched the child to her heart. [=breast, bosom]

3 a [count] : the heart thought of as the place where emotions are felt • You shouldn't let your heart rule your head. [=you should be guided by reason and not by your emotions] • When she heard the news, her heart filled with joy/sorrow. • You're a man after my own heart [=we have similar likes and dislikes] • He offered to help us out of the goodness of his heart [=because he is a good person and not because he wanted to get anything for himself] • He wears his heart on his sleeve [=he shows his emotions very openly] • She's not too smart, but at least her heart is in the right place [=she is a kind person who is trying to do good things] • I just didn't have the heart to tell her that I didn't like her singing. [=I couldn't tell her because I knew that she would be hurt by what I said] • The idea struck fear into their hearts [=made them very afraid] • I decided to follow my heart [=to do what I truly wanted to do] and take up acting. • My heart goes out to [=I feel very sorry for] the families of the victims. • Her heart's desire [=greatest wish] was to become a movie star. • She just couldn't find it in her heart to forgive them. • I felt in my heart that our relationship was never meant to be. • I think she knows in her heart that they're right. = I think she knows it in her heart of hearts [=she knows it even though she does not want to admit it] • They said they'd try to fix the problem, but I could see that their hearts (just) weren't in it [=they did not really feel much interest or enthusiasm about doing it] b : a kind or generous feeling for other people [noncount] a ruler without heart [count] a ruler without a heart • He has a kind heart. [=he treats people kindly] • He has a cold/hard heart. [=he treats people in a harsh or unfriendly way] • She has a big heart = She is all heart = She has a heart of gold [=she is a very kind person] • She has a heart of stone [=she does not care at all about the feelings of other people] • Have a heart Can't you see he needs help? — see also CHANGE OF HEART, HEART-TO-HEART, LONELY HEARTS

4 [noncount] : feelings of love or affection • It's best not to interfere in matters/affairs of the heart [=romantic matters/

affairs] • He was determined to win/steal/capture her heart. [=to win her love]

5 [noncount] : emotional strength that allows you to continue in a difficult situation • The team has shown a lot of heart.

6 a the heart : the central or most important part of something • deep in the heart of the forest • Their offices are in the heart of the city. • Let's get right to the heart of the matter. b

[count] : the central part of some vegetables • artichoke hearts • cabbage hearts

7 [count] : a shape that looks like a simple drawing of a heart and that is used as a symbol of love and affection • The child decorated the card with hearts and flowers.

8 a [count] : a playing card that is marked with a red heart • one heart, two diamonds, and two clubs — see picture at PLAYING CARD b hearts [plural] : the suit in a deck of playing cards that consists of cards marked by hearts • the king of hearts — compare CLUB, DIAMOND, SPADE absence makes the heart grow fonder see ABSENCE

at heart 1 : at the most basic level • I'm really a romantic at heart. • She's 81 years old, but she's still young at heart. [=she behaves and thinks like a much younger person] 2 : as a main concern • We have your best interests at heart. [=we want to do what is best for you] break someone's heart : to cause someone to feel great sorrow or sadness • He broke her heart when he left her for another woman. • Her boyfriend left her with a broken heart. • It breaks my heart to think of how those children have suffered.

by heart : from memory • She knows the entire poem by heart. [=she has learned the poem and can recite it from memory] • He learned the speech by heart.

close/dear/near to your heart : very personally and emotionally important to you • This topic is one that's very close to my heart. [=I care very much about this subject] • The school is very near and dear to her heart.

cross my heart see ²CROSS

cry your heart out see ¹CRY

do your heart good : to make you feel very happy • It does his heart good to know that his daughters have become friends.

eat your heart out see EAT

faint of heart see ¹FAINT

from the bottom of your heart or from the/your heart : in a very sincere way • He thanked us from the bottom of his heart. • When I said you were my best friend, I meant it from the bottom of my heart. • His speech at the memorial service was straight from the heart.

harden your heart see HARDEN

have your heart set on (something) or set your heart on (something) ✧ When you have your heart set on something or when you set your heart on something, you want it very much. • She has her heart set on a new bicycle.

heart in your mouth informal ✧ If your heart is in your mouth, you are very excited or nervous about something. • He waited for her arrival with his heart in his mouth.

heart is knocking see ¹KNOCK

heart skips a beat informal ✧ When you say that your heart skipped a beat or that something made your heart skip a beat, it means that you suddenly became very surprised, excited, or nervous about something. • When I learned I was on live television, my heart skipped a beat. • The news was enough to make his heart skip a beat.

heavy heart : a feeling of sadness • It is with a heavy heart that I bring you this bad news.

know your own heart see ¹KNOW

light heart : a feeling of happiness • He left for home with a light heart.

lose heart : to begin to feel that you cannot do something that you have been trying to do ; to become discouraged • They never lost heart, even in the face of adversity.

lose your heart : to fall in love with someone • He met a beautiful woman and lost his heart. — usually + to • She lost her heart to a dashing young artist.

open your heart 1 : to talk in a very open and honest way about your feelings • He opened his heart (to her) and told her how he really felt. 2 : to begin to be generous and kind • We should all open our hearts and do something to help those poor children.

pour your heart out see POUR sick at heart : very sad and upset • The idea of children suffering from hunger made him sick at heart.

sing/dance/play (etc.) your heart out : to sing/dance/play (etc.) with great energy or effort • The band played their hearts out in hopes of winning the prize.

take heart : to begin to feel better and more hopeful ; to stop feeling sad or discouraged • Take heart; things will get better soon.

take (something) to heart : to be deeply affected or hurt by something • He took their criticism (very much) to heart.

to your heart's content : until you feel satisfied ; as long or as much as you want • They let him eat and drink to his heart's content. • Let's go somewhere where we can talk to our hearts' content.

warm the cockles of your heart see COCKLE with all your heart : in a very sincere and deeply felt way • I love him with all my heart. • She tried with all her heart to please them.

your heart bleeds for ✧ If your heart bleeds for someone, you feel great sadness or pity for that person.

your heart leaps ✧ When your heart leaps, you become very happy or joyful about something. • Our hearts leapt when we heard that she had won.

your heart melts ✧ When your heart melts, you begin to feel love, affection, or sympathy for someone or something. • When he saw the puppies, his heart melted. • It would have melted your heart to see her lying in that hospital bed. • A warm smile melts the heart.

your heart sinks ✧ When your heart sinks, you become sad or disappointed about something. • My heart sank when I saw the sad expression on her face.

heart-ache /'hɑ:t,eɪk/ noun, pl -aches : a strong feeling of sadness [count] I've had more than my share of heart-aches in my life. [noncount] If you ignore the problem, you'll just cause yourself more heartache [=grief] later on.

heart attack noun, pl ~ -tacks [count] : a sudden painful and dangerous condition in which your heart stops beating properly • Her chest pains turned out to be caused by a minor heart attack. • He died of a massive heart attack. • He fell off the swing and nearly gave me a heart attack. [=scared me very badly]

heart-beat /'hɑ:t,bɪ:t/ noun, pl -beats [count] : the action or sound of the heart as it pumps blood • The patient had a rapid heartbeat. • irregular heartbeats

in a heartbeat US, informal : in a very brief time ; without any delay or hesitation • Even though the job was difficult, he says he'd agree to do it again in a heartbeat.

heart-break /'hɑ:t,breɪk/ noun, pl -breaks : a very strong feeling of sadness, disappointment, etc. [count] He recently suffered a string of romantic heartbreaks. [noncount] She's had more than her share of heartbreak. [=her heart has been broken many times]

heart-break-er /'hɑ:t,breɪkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone or something that causes you to feel very sad, disappointed, etc. : someone or something that breaks your heart • a handsome actor who has a reputation as a heart-breaker [=as someone who breaks the hearts of many women] • The team's most recent loss was a real heartbreaker.

heart-break-ing /'hɑ:t,breɪkɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : causing great sadness, disappointment, etc. • She wrote a heartbreaking story about the death of her grandfather. • It was heartbreaking to know that there was nothing I could do. • The team suffered another heartbreaking defeat.

— heart-break-ing-ly adv [more ~; most ~] • a heartbreakingly tragic movie heart-bro-ken /'hɑ:t,broukən/ adj [more ~; most ~] : filled with great sadness • She is heartbroken [=brokenhearted] that things turned out so badly.

heart-burn /'hɑ:t,bɜ:n/ noun [noncount] : an unpleasant hot feeling in your chest caused by something that you ate • I like spicy food, but it gives me heartburn.

heart-en /'hɑ:tən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to feel more cheerful or hopeful • The team's victory has heartened its fans. — usually used as (be) heartened • The team's fans were heartened by the victory.

— heartening adj [more ~; most ~] • It was heartening to see him looking so happy. • We've received some heartening news.

heart-felt /'hɑ:t,felt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : deeply felt ; very sincere • You have our heartfelt thanks/sympathy/congratulations. • Our most heartfelt wish is for our children to be happy.

hearth /'hɑ:θ/ noun, pl hearths [count] : the floor in front of or inside a fireplace • They swept the ashes from the hearth. • (literary) They longed for the comforts of hearth and home. [=the comforts of home]

heart-healthy /'hɑ:t,həlθi/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly US : good for the health of your heart • a heart-healthy diet • heart-healthy foods heart-i-ly /'hɑ:təli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 : in an enthusiastic and energetic way : in a hearty way • The children ate heartily. [=they ate a lot of food] • We all laughed heartily. • I heartily recommend the movie.

2 : completely or fully • I'm heartily sick of their complaints. • I'll be heartily [=very] glad when this job is done. • They heartily agreed.

heart-land /'hɑ:t,lænd/ noun, pl -lands [count]

1 a : a central area of land • We drove into Scotland's heart-land. b : the central area of the U.S. which is known for traditional values • a politician who is popular in the American heartland

2 : an area that is the center of an industry or activity • the heartland of high technology heart-less /'hɑ:tləs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very cruel • a heartless person/act

— heart-less-ly adv • She rescues pets that have been heartlessly abandoned. — heart-less-ness noun [noncount]

heart-rend-ing /'hɑ:t,rɛndɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : causing great sadness or sorrow • a heartrending [=heartbreaking] story/cry heart-sick /'hɑ:t,sɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very sad or disappointed • They were absolutely heartsick over/about the loss of their home. • I was heartsick to learn of their divorce.

— heart-rend-ing-ly adv

heart-stop-ping /'hɑ:t,stɑ:pɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun [more ~; most ~] : extremely shocking or exciting • a heart-stopping adventure • heart-stopping views of the canyon heart-strings /'hɑ:t,striŋz/ noun [plural] : deep emotions • That movie really tugs/pulls at your heartstrings. [=makes you emotional] • a writer who knows how to play on his readers' heartstrings

heart-throb /'hɑ:t,θrɑ:b/ noun, pl -throbs [count] : an attractive and usually famous man • the latest teen heartthrob

1 heart-to-heart /'hɑ:tə'hɑ:t/ adj : very sincere and honest • The two of them had a heart-to-heart talk. [=they spoke to each other about their feelings very honestly]

2 heart-to-heart noun, pl -hearts [count] : an honest, serious, and private conversation • He had a heart-to-heart with his son about the facts of life.

heart-warm-ing /'hɑ:t,wɑ:mɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : causing pleasant feelings of happiness • The movie is a heartwarming story about a boy and his dog. • It's heart-warming to see how his neighbors have helped him.

hearty /'hɑ:ti/ adj heart-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : done or expressed in a very open, cheerful, and energetic way • He gave us all a hearty welcome/greeting. • Our plan won their hearty [=wholehearted] approval. • a hearty laugh/handshake

2 : strong, healthy, and active • hearty young men and women • His grandmother remains hale and hearty in her old age. • All of the children have hearty appetites. = All of the children are hearty eaters. [=all of the children eat large amounts of food]

3 : large enough to satisfy hunger • a hearty meal • hearty soups

— heart-i-ness noun [noncount]

1 heat /'hi:t/ noun, pl heats

1 [noncount] : energy that causes things to become warmer • The sun's heat melted the snow. • the intense heat of a fire • She applied heat to the sore muscles in her leg. • body heat

2 [noncount] : hot weather or temperatures • a period of high heat and humidity • The crops were damaged by drought and extreme heat. • the desert's dry heat [=hot temperatures with little moisture in the air] — often used with the • She doesn't like the heat. • The runners performed well despite the 90-degree heat. • These flowers tend to wilt in the heat of summer. • They found a place to rest during the midday/afternoon heat. • They rested during the heat of the day. [=the hottest part of the day]

3 a : the level of temperature that is used to cook something [count] — usually singular • The meat was cooked at a high heat for 10 minutes. • Reduce the heat to low and simmer. [noncount] Cook the milk over low/gentle/medium heat. b [singular] : a source of heat used for cooking something : the hot part of an oven, stove top, etc. • Remove the pan from the heat.

4 [singular] chiefly US : a system that is used to provide warmth to a room or building • The house uses electric/gas/oil/solar heat. [=heating] • Would you please turn up/down the heat? [= (Brit) heating]

5 [noncount] a : strong and often angry feelings • It's a topic that generates a lot of heat. • He responded with some heat [=he responded in an angry way] to the accusations. b : the time when emotions are most strongly felt — used in phrases like in the heat of passion, in the heat of the moment, etc. • The crime was committed in the heat of passion. [=when the criminal was very angry] • She said things in the heat of the moment [=when she was angry for a short period of time] that she later regretted. — see also in the heat of (the) battle at ¹BATTLE

6 [noncount] chiefly US, informal a the heat : pressure to do something • The administration is putting the heat on legislators to approve the tax bill. • She's at her best when the heat is on. [=when she feels a lot of pressure; when she needs to finish something quickly] • The company has turned up the heat on [=has put extra pressure on] its employees to finish the job quickly. ♦ The expression if you can't stand/take the heat, get out of the kitchen means that you should not try to do a difficult job if you cannot deal with the pressure and problems that are part of the job. b : criticism or abuse • He will likely take/get a lot of heat for his decision.

7 [count] : one of several races or contests that are held in order to decide who will be in the final race or contest • The top two finishers in each heat will move on to the finals.

— see also DEAD HEAT

in heat (US) or Brit on heat — used to describe a female animal that is ready to have sex and is able to become pregnant • The cat is in heat. • like a dog in heat • an animal that is coming into heat [=beginning to be in heat] more heat than light ♦ To produce or generate more heat than light means to cause anger without helping to make something better understood. • Her first book on the issue generated more heat than light.

pack heat US slang, old-fashioned + humorous : to carry a gun • a thug who was packing heat

— see also PRICKLY HEAT

— heat-less /'hi:tləs/ adj • heatless buildings

2 heat verb heats; heat-ed; heat-ing [+ obj] : to cause (something) to become warm or hot • I heated the vegetables in the microwave. • They heat their house with a wood stove.

heat up [phrasal verb] 1 : to become warm or hot • The morning started out cold but it heated up quickly. 2 : to become more active, intense, or angry • Their conversation started to heat up. [= (Brit) hot up] • Competition between the two companies is heating up. 3 heat (something) up or heat up (something) : to cause (something) to become warm or hot • Could you heat up the vegetables, please?

— see also PREHEAT

heat-ed /'hi:təd/ adj

1 : including a system that provides warmth • a heated pool/apartment

2 [more ~; most ~] : marked by excited or angry feelings • a heated argument/debate/dispute • Their conversation/discussion quickly became heated.

— heat-ed-ly adv • He heatedly denied the rumors.

heat-er /'hi:tə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a machine that heats water or air • a water heater — see also SPACE HEATER heat exhaustion noun [noncount] medical : a condition that happens when someone is too active in extremely hot conditions and that causes a person to sweat and feel very weak, dizzy, etc. — called also (chiefly US) heat prostration; compare HEATSTROKE

heath /'hi:θ/ noun, pl heaths [count] : an area of land that is covered with grass and small shrubs hea-then /'hi:ðən/ noun, pl hea-thens or heathen [count] old-fashioned + often offensive : a person who is not religious or who does not practice Christianity, Judaism, or Islam — heathen adj • heathen gods/practices • a heathen people/nation

heath-er /'heðə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a low-growing plant of northern areas that has small leaves and tiny white or purplish-pink flowers

Heath Rob-in-son /,hi:θ'rɑ:bənsən/ adj, always used before a noun, Brit : RUBE GOLDBERG • a Heath Robinson contraption/device heating noun [noncount] : a system that is used to provide warmth to a room or building • a house with electric heating [=heat] • (Brit) Would you please turn up/down the heating? [= (US) heat] • The house has central heating. [=a system that heats all parts of a building]

heat lightning noun [noncount] chiefly US : flashes of light in the sky that happen without the sound of thunder and that are produced by distant lightning heat-proof /'hi:t,pru:f/ adj : not able to be burned or melted • a heatproof bowl/dish/plate

heat prostration noun [noncount] chiefly US, medical : HEAT EXHAUSTION

heat rash noun, pl ~ rashes [count, noncount] medical : a skin rash that people sometimes get during hot weather : PRICKLY HEAT

heat resistant adj [more ~; most ~] : not easily burned or melted • heat resistant cooking utensils

heat-seeking adj, always used before a noun : designed to follow the heat from an airplane or rocket in order to destroy it • heat-seeking missiles

heat-stroke /'hi:t,straʊk/ noun [noncount] medical : a serious condition that happens when someone has been in high temperatures for a long time and that causes a person to stop sweating, have a very high body temperature, and become exhausted or unconscious — compare HEAT EXHAUSTION, SUNSTROKE

heat wave noun, pl ~ waves [count] : a period of unusually hot weather

¹heave /'hi:v/ verb heaves; heaved; heav-ing

1 : to lift or pull (something) with effort [+ obj] We heaved the box (up) onto the table. • I tried to heave myself (up) out of the chair. • She heaved the door shut. [no obj] — usually + on • The sailors started heaving on the rope.

2 [+ obj] US : to throw (something) with effort • heave a rock • The quarterback heaved the ball down the field.

3 [+ obj] : to breathe in and breathe out (a sigh) in a slow or loud way • She sat down and heaved a sigh of relief.

4 [no obj] a : to move up and down repeatedly • He stopped running and stood there with his chest heaving. • The boat heaved up and down with the waves. b : to be pushed up • The roads have begun to heave with frost.

5 [no obj] informal : VOMIT • The smell made me want to heave. ♦ If your stomach is heaving, you feel like vomiting. heave into view or heave in/into sight past tense and past participle hove : to slowly move closer and become visible • A ship hove into view on the horizon.

heave to [phrasal verb] past tense and past participle hove of a boat or ship : to stop moving • The ship hove to.

— see also HEAVING

²heave noun, pl heaves [count]

1 : an act of lifting or pulling something with effort • We lifted the box onto the table with a heave. • He gave the rope a mighty heave.

2 : a forceful throw • The quarterback uncorked a mighty heave.

— see also DRY HEAVES

heave-ho /'hi:v'həʊ/ noun

the (old) heave-ho informal : the act of causing someone to leave a job, place, or relationship • The team's coach gave him the heave-ho [=made him leave the team] • We got the old heave-ho [=we got kicked out; we had to leave] when we couldn't pay the rent on our apartment.

heav-en /'hevən/ noun, pl -ens

1 or Heaven [singular] : the place where God lives and where good people go after they die according to some religions • She prayed to God in Heaven. • He hopes to go to Heaven when he dies. • Our baby is a gift from heaven.

2 [noncount] : something that is very pleasant or good • The week at the beach was (sheer/pure) heaven. • (chiefly US) The cake tastes like heaven [=it is delicious] • Her voice sounded like heaven. [=it sounded very beautiful]

3 the heavens : the sky • the brightest star in the heavens • The heavens opened (up) [=it began to rain] and the game had to be stopped.

4 — used informally by itself and in phrases to make a statement or question more forceful or to express surprise, anger, etc. • “Have you ever committed a crime?” “Heavens, no!” • Good heavens! You startled me. • Heaven's above I haven't seen you in a while. • My heavens [(more commonly) my goodness] you've grown! • Who in heaven's name [=on earth, in God's name] could that be? • Where in heaven's name have you been? • For heaven's sake turn down that music!

(a) heaven on earth : a very pleasant or enjoyable place or situation • We spent our vacation in a real heaven on earth. • The time we spent together was heaven on earth.

heaven forbid see FORBID

heaven help someone see ¹HELP

heaven knows see ¹KNOW

made in heaven : very good and successful • Theirs was a marriage made in heaven • Our partnership is a match made in heaven

move heaven and earth see ¹MOVE

thank heaven/heavens see THANK to high heaven informal : very much, very badly, etc. • The kids were laughing and screaming to high heaven. [=very loudly] • This whole situation stinks to high heaven [=it stinks; it is very bad or wrong]

— see also HOG HEAVEN, SEVENTH HEAVEN

heav-en-ly /'hevənli/ adj

1 always used before a noun : appearing or occurring in the sky • the moon, stars, and other heavenly bodies

2 always used before a noun : of or relating to heaven : divine or blessed • heavenly angels/choirs • heavenly grace

3 [more ~; most ~] informal : very pleasant or good • The weather was heavenly. • a heavenly dessert heav-en-sent /'hevən,sent/ adj : very lucky or helpful • a heaven-sent opportunity • Her advice was heaven-sent.

heav-en-ward /'hevənwəd/ also chiefly Brit heav-en-wards /'hevənwədz/ adv : toward the sky • Lift your eyes heavenward.

heavi-ly /'hevəli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 : to a great degree : very much • heavily salted foods • heavily armored vehicles • heavily populated/forested areas • He relies heavily on his wife for advice. • These artists borrow heavily from Picasso. • Our flowers were heavily damaged by a late spring frost. • She drank and smoked heavily for years. • The decision weighs heavily on my mind. [=the decision is difficult and causes me to feel worried]

2 : in a slow or heavy way • He sat down heavily on the couch. • He was leaning heavily on the table. • She sighed heavily then said “Okay, I'll do it.”

heaving adj, Brit : filled with people and activity • The shop was heaving [=teeming] with customers.

¹heavy /'hevi/ adj heavi-er; -est

1 a : having great weight : difficult to lift or move • “Is that box too heavy for you to lift?” “No, it's not very heavy.” • a heavy suitcase • heavy pots and pans • The truck was carrying a heavy load. — opposite LIGHT b : large in size and weight • The man was six feet tall with a heavy build. • a tall, heavy [=less politely] fat man

2 : having a particular weight • How heavy is it? [=how much does it weigh?]

3 a : greater in amount or degree than usual • Turnout for the election is expected to be heavy. • We got caught in heavy traffic. b : strong • heavy perfume • heavy winds c : great in amount • Heavy rains caused flooding in the area. • heavy bleeding/sweating • She was wearing sunglasses and heavy makeup. • The storm caused heavy damage to the building. • The company is facing heavy losses this quarter. • We suffered heavy casualties. [=many deaths or injuries] • a day of heavy fighting d : difficult to accept or bear • They are paying a heavy price for their mistakes. • It is a heavy burden for one person to bear. : harsh or severe • The stress has taken a heavy toll on his health. • heavy fines/penalties e : great in degree or effect • He came under heavy attack/fire for his comments. • She is the heavy favorite to win. • the country's heavy reliance on oil • (chiefly Brit) He caught a heavy cold. — opposite LIGHT

4 : involving a lot of physical effort • an hour of heavy exercise/exertion • Why do I have to do all the heavy work? • I hurt my back and couldn't do any heavy lifting — sometimes used figuratively • He does all the heavy lifting [=difficult work] while his partner gets the recognition. — opposite LIGHT

5 : very loud or forceful • The song has a heavy beat. • There was a heavy knock at the door. • heavy footsteps • He delivered a heavy blow to his opponent. — often used figuratively • The new government was dealt a heavy blow. — opposite LIGHT

6 : important and serious • We were having a heavy conversation about our son's future. • This is pretty heavy stuff. • doing some heavy reading/thinking • a heavy thinker — opposite LIGHT

7 : difficult to move or lift up because of tiredness • My legs became heavier with every step. • Her eyelids grew heavy.

8 : dense and thick : having a lot of hair, trees, etc., in a small area • He has a heavy beard. • The animals have shed their heavy winter coats. • areas of forest and heavy brush • heavy fog/smoke • heavy clay soil — opposite LIGHT

9 : made of thick material • a heavy winter coat • heavy blankets

10 : having too much heat, moisture, etc., and not enough fresh air • The air was heavy and still. • The air in the room was heavy with smoke. • the heavy odor of wet dogs

11 a : showing signs of rain or snow • sailing in heavy weather • a heavy sky • heavy clouds b : having large waves • heavy seas

12 : deep and loud • She let out a heavy sigh. • the heavy breathing of a tired runner ✧ The phrase heavy breathing is sometimes used in a joking way to refer to sexual activity. • a night of heavy breathing

13 a : eating, drinking, or using large amounts of something • a heavy eater/drinker/smoker • a cook who has a heavy hand with the salt [=who uses too much salt] b : done often and in large amounts • heavy alcohol consumption • Years of heavy smoking had destroyed her lungs. — opposite LIGHT

14 a : very rich, dense, or thick • fruit in heavy syrup • The bread was a little heavy. b : making your stomach feel full • heavy desserts • a heavy breakfast of pancakes and sausage — opposite LIGHT

15 a : large and powerful • heavy machinery/equipment • the army's tanks and heavy artillery • He flew heavy bombers in World War II. b of a group of soldiers : having more weapons and armor than other groups • heavy infantry/cavalry — opposite LIGHT

16 of a person's accent : very easy to notice • She spoke French/English/German with a heavy [=thick] accent.

heavy date chiefly US, humorous : an important romantic date • He has a heavy date tonight.

heavy going : difficult to do or finish • The cold made the race heavy going for many runners. • The book is really heavy going at the beginning.

heavy heart ✧ If you have a heavy heart, you are sad. • I announced my decision to leave with a heavy heart.

heavy on : having or using a large amount of (something) • His movies are light/low on talk and heavy on action. • She tends to be heavy on the salt. [=she uses a lot of salt]

heavy sleeper : someone who does not wake up easily heavy with : carrying or having a large amount of (something) • The trees are heavy with fruit. • Her comments were heavy with irony.

hot and heavy see ¹HOT

make heavy weather of Brit, informal : to treat (something) in a way that makes it seem more important or difficult than it really is • an actor who makes heavy weather of what should be a simple scene

— heaviness noun [noncount] the heaviness of the table [singular] He felt a sudden heaviness [=a feeling of pressure] in his chest. — often used figuratively • There was a heaviness [=a feeling of sadness] in his heart.

²heavy adv : in a heavy way • HEAVILY • The smoke hung/lay heavy in the air. • The decision weighs heavy on my mind. [=the decision is difficult and causes me to feel worried] go heavy on : to use a lot of (something) • Go heavy on the sauce, please.

heavy on your hands ✧ If time hangs or lies heavy on your hands, it passes very slowly. • Time hung heavy on his hands.

³heavy noun, pl heavies [count]

1 : a bad person in a movie or play • VILLAIN • He played the heavy in film after film.

2 US, informal : a person or thing that is serious, important, or powerful • HEAVYWEIGHT • The conference will be attended by several media heavies. • They have become one of the industry heavies.

heavy cream noun [noncount] US : very thick cream — called also (Brit) double cream heavy-duty /'hevi'du:ti, Brit 'hevi'dju:ti/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : designed to do difficult work without breaking • heavy-duty vehicles/machines

2 US : very intense or serious • heavy-duty efforts • a heavy-duty conservative • I need to do some heavy-duty studying. • Her plan is facing some heavy-duty opposition.

heavy goods vehicle noun, pl ~ -hicles [count] Brit : HGV

heavy-handed /'hevi'hændəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : dealing with people or problems in a severe or harsh way : too strict or controlling • Their efforts to keep the peace have been heavy-handed. • heavy-handed tactics/measures

2 : awkward or clumsy : showing a lack of skill • Her love songs tend to be a bit heavy-handed. • a writer with a heavy-handed style

— heavy-handed-ly adv — heavy-handed-ness noun [noncount]

heavy hitter noun, pl ~ -ters [count] US, informal : an important or powerful person or thing • She spoke to a room full of political heavy hitters. • Their company is one of the industry's heavy hitters.

heavy industry noun [noncount] : the production of goods (such as coal or steel) that are used to make other goods — compare LIGHT INDUSTRY

heavy metal noun, pl ~ -als

1 [noncount] : a type of loud rock music that has a strong beat • He listens to heavy metal.

2 [count, noncount] technical : a metal that is very dense and heavy • lead, gold, and other heavy metals

heavy-set /'hevi'set/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having a heavy and often somewhat fat body • THICKSET • a short, heavyset man

heavy-weight /'hevi,weɪt/ noun, pl -weights [count]

1 : a fighter in the heaviest class of boxers : a boxer who weighs more than 175 pounds (79.5 kilograms) — often used before another noun • They are fighting for the heavyweight title. • the heavyweight champion of the world

2 : someone or something that is very important and powerful • Their company is one of the industry's heavyweights.

3 : something that is heavy — often used before another noun • heavyweight paper • heavyweight cotton/wool/silk

He-bra-ic /hi'breɪk/ adj : of or relating to the Hebrews or their language or culture • Hebraic traditions • Hebraic texts/music

He-brew /'hi:bru/ noun, pl -brews

1 [count] : a member of an ancient group of people who lived mostly in the kingdom of Israel and practiced Judaism

2 [noncount] a : the language of the ancient Hebrews : b : the language of modern Israel

— Hebrew adj • the Hebrew people/Bible

heck /'hek/ noun [noncount] informal — used as a more polite form of hell • Oh, heck, I forgot my keys. • “Did you give her any money?” “Heck, no!” • They were mad as heck. • I decided to go just for the heck of it. • It was one heck of a good fight. • Where in (the) heck did I put my keys? • My back hurts like heck. • Let's get the heck out of here. • What the heck was that? • What the heck, let's try it.

heck-le /'hekəl/ verb heck-les; heck-led; heck-ling : to interrupt (someone, such as a speaker or performer) by shouting annoying or rude comments or questions [+ obj] Several protesters were heckling the speaker at the rally. • The players were being heckled by the fans. [no obj] People in the crowd were booing and heckling as she tried to speak. — heck-ler /'heklə/ noun, pl -lers [count] • There were several hecklers at the rally. — heckling noun [noncount] • She was upset by the crowd's heckling.

hec-tare /'hek,tə/ noun, pl -ares [count] : a unit of area in the metric system that is equal to 10,000 square meters or 2.47 acres

hec-tic /'hektɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very busy and filled with activity • We both had hectic days at work. • She maintains a hectic schedule as a journalist and mother. • a hectic lifestyle

— hec-ti-cal-ly /'hektɪkli/ adv • hectically busy

hec-tor /'hektə/ verb -tors; -tored; -tor-ing [+ obj] : to criticize or question (someone) in a threatening way • The judge ordered the attorney to stop hectoring the witness.

— hectoring adj [more ~; most ~] • a hectoring tone of voice

he'd /'hi:d, id/ — used as a contraction of he had or he would • He thought he'd [=he had] better be leaving. • He'd [=he would] have done the same thing himself.

¹hedge /'hedʒ/ noun, pl hedg-es [count]

1 : a row of shrubs or small trees that are planted close to each other in order to form a boundary

2 : something that provides protection or defense — usually + against • She invests her money as a hedge against inflation. • hedges against loss/disappointment/uncertainty/failure

²hedge verb hedges; hedged; hedg-ing

1 [+ obj] : to surround (an area) with a hedge • The garden is hedged by flowering shrubs.

2 : to avoid giving a promise or direct answer [no obj] She hedged when she was asked to support the campaign. [+ obj] He hedged his earlier comments about the need for new management.

hedge against [phrasal verb] hedge against (something) : to protect yourself from (something) • They hedge against inflation by investing their money. • looking for ways to hedge against risk/failure

hedge around or hedge about [phrasal verb] hedge (something) around/about Brit : to limit or restrict (something) — usually used as (be) hedged; usually + with or by • Their offer is so hedged around with conditions [=so restricted by conditions] that it hardly seems worthwhile. • a rule that is hedged about by exceptions hedge in [phrasal verb] 1 hedge in (something) or hedge (something) in : to form a boundary around (something) • a field hedged in [=surrounded] by trees 2 hedge in (someone) or hedge (someone) in : to surround or restrict (someone) in a way that prevents free movement or action • We have been hedged in by their rules and regulations.

hedge your bets : to do things that will prevent great loss or failure if future events do not happen as you plan or hope • They decided to hedge their bets by putting half their money in stocks and the other half in bonds.

hedge fund noun, pl ~ funds [count] finance : a group of investors who take financial risks together in order to try to earn a lot of money hedgehog /'hedʒ,hɑ:g/ noun, pl -hogs [count] : a small, brown animal of Europe, Asia, and Africa that has sharp spines on its back and that can roll itself up into a ball

hedgehog

hedge-row /'hedʒ,rou/ noun, pl -rows [count] : a row of shrubs or trees that form the boundary of an area

he-do-nism /'hi:də,nizəm/ noun [noncount] : the belief that pleasure or happiness is the most important goal in life

— he-do-nis-tic /,hi:də'nɪstɪk/ adj • a hedonistic lifestyle

— he-do-nis-ti-cal-ly /,hi:də'nɪstɪkli/ adv

he-do-nist /'hi:dənɪst/ noun, pl -nists [count] : a person who believes that pleasure or happiness is the most important goal in life

hee-bie-jee-bies /,hi:bi'dʒi:biz/ noun

the heebie-jeebies informal : nervous feelings • He gave me the heebie-jeebies. [=he made me feel nervous] • I got the heebie-jeebies when I saw him looking at me.

heed /'hi:d/ verb heeds; heed-ed; heed-ing [+ obj] : to pay attention to (advice, a warning, etc.) • She failed to heed the warnings. • We must heed the words of our leaders [=listen to our leaders' advice] and make peace. • Many people have heeded his call to volunteer. [=listened to him and volunteered]

heed noun [noncount] : attention or notice — often used with pay or take • She pays no heed to the concerns of others. • She does not pay their concerns any heed. • Sailors take heed. [=listen to this warning] A storm is on the way. • He failed to take heed of our advice. = He failed to pay heed to our advice. [=he failed to follow our advice]

heed-less /'hi:dləs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not paying careful attention • They remain heedless of their own safety. • the heedless use of natural resources • heedless waste

— heed-less-ly adv

heel /'hi:l/ noun, pl heels

1 [count] : the back part of your foot that is below the ankle — see picture at FOOT

2 a [count] : the part of a shoe or sock that covers the heel of your foot b [count] : the part of the bottom of a shoe or boot that is under the heel of your foot • shoes with low/high/cushioned heels — see picture at SHOE; see also HIGH HEELS, SPIKE HEELS, STILETTO HEEL c heels [plural] informal : shoes with high heels • She does not like wearing heels.

3 [count] : the part of the inside of your hand that is closest to your wrist • She scraped the heel of her hand.

4 [count] : the end of a loaf of bread

5 [count] old-fashioned : a bad or selfish man • I felt like a heel when I couldn't stop to help.

at someone's heels : following someone very closely • The dog was (nipping) at my heels. • He once had a big lead in the campaign, but now the other candidates are nipping at his heels.

cool your heels see ²COOL

dig in your heels see ¹DIG

drag your heels see ¹DRAG

head over heels see ¹HEAD

kick up your heels see ¹KICK

on someone's or something's heels 1 ♦ If you are (close/hard/hot) on someone's or something's heels, you are chasing or following that person or thing very closely. The police were hot on his heels. 2 ♦ If something comes or follows close/hard/hot on something's heels or close hard/hot on the heels of something, it happens very soon afterward. • Her decision drew much criticism, and so did the explanation that followed hard on its heels. • Her second movie followed close on the heels of her successful film debut. • His resignation comes hard on the heels of the announcement that the company is going bankrupt.

spin/turn on your heel : to turn away from someone in a very quick or sudden way • He told us he had nothing more to say, then he turned on his heel and walked away.

take to your heels : to begin to run away • They took to their heels when they saw the policeman approaching.

to heel 1 : to a position that is close behind • She called the dog to heel. [=she told the dog to return close to her] • The dog came to heel. 2 : into a controlled or obedient condition • We hope these measures will help to bring inflation to heel. [=will help to control inflation] • The President is trying to bring to heel his opponents in the legislature. [=to force his opponents to do what he wants them to do] They are not likely to come to heel.

under heel ♦ If you are under the heel of someone or under someone's heel or US under heel, you are completely controlled by another person, group, etc. • They put us under their heel. • They kept us under heel.

— see also ACHILLES' HEEL, DOWN-AT-THE-HEELS, WELL HEELED

heel verb heels; heeled; heel-ing [no obj]

1 — used as a command to tell a dog to walk next to you Heel! Good dog.

2 of a boat or ship : to lean to one side • The boat heeled (over) in the strong wind.

heft /'heft/ noun [noncount]

1 : weight or heaviness • the heft of a good hammer

2 chiefly US : importance or influence • She uses her political heft [= (more commonly) clout] to get bills passed.

heft verb hefts; heft-ed; heft-ing [+ obj] chiefly US : to lift (something) up • He hefted the suitcase (up) onto the bed.

hefty /'hefti/ adj heft-i-er; -est

1 : large and heavy • He was a tall, hefty man. • a hefty book : big and strong • hefty football players

2 : very large • Her boss gave her a hefty raise. • The new equipment comes with a hefty price tag. [=it is expensive] • a hefty amount/fee/payment/sum • a hefty dose of irony

3 : very forceful • He gave the door a hefty kick/shove.

— heft-i-ly /'heftəli/ adv — heft-i-ness /'heftɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

he-ge-mo-ny /hɪ'ɡeməni, Brit hɪ'geməni/ noun [noncount] formal : influence or control over another country, a group of people, etc. • They discussed the national government's hegemony over their tribal community.

heif-er /'heɪfə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a young female cow, especially : one that has not had a calf height /'haɪt/ noun, pl heights

1 : a measurement of how tall a person or thing is : the distance from the bottom to the top of a person or thing [count] What's the height of the building? • These bushes grow to heights of up to five feet. [noncount] a woman of average height • We were measured for height and weight. • The ride has a height requirement. You have to be four feet tall to ride. • He is six feet in height. [= (more commonly) he is six feet tall] • She rose/stood (up) to her full height. [=she stood straight up] — see picture at GEOMETRY

2 [noncount] : the condition of being tall • I was surprised by his height.

3 [count] : the distance above a level or surface • The land reaches a height of 600 feet above sea level. • The height of the ceiling is eight feet. [=the ceiling is eight feet above the floor; the ceiling is eight feet high]

4 [count] a : a great distance above the ground • It was frightening to look down from such a dizzying/great height — usually plural • I'm afraid of heights. b : an area that is higher than the areas around it • The soldiers left the heights they were defending. — usually plural; often used in the names of places • We used to live in Washington Heights. the Golan Heights

5 [singular] : the most advanced or extreme point of some thing • During the height of the violence, dozens of people lost their lives. • He was at the height of his fame when he died. [=he died when he was most famous] • At its height, their civilization was the greatest in the world.

6 heights [plural] : very good or successful levels • Her popularity rose/soared to great heights. • They have taken the company to new heights.

7 the height of — used to say that something is an extreme example of something • It was the height of stupidity to quit the team. [=it was extremely stupid to quit the team] • the height of arrogance/folly/hypocrisy • Long skirts are now the height of fashion. [=are now extremely fashionable] • the height of style/luxury height-en /'haɪn/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing : to increase the amount, degree, or extent of (something) : INCREASE [+obj] The plan will only heighten tensions between the two groups. • This tragedy has heightened our awareness of the need for improved safety measures. [no obj] Tensions between the two groups have heightened.

— heightened adj • The meeting now has heightened [=more, greater] significance.

hei-nie /'haɪni/ noun, pl -nies [count] US slang : the part of the body you sit on : BUTTOCKS • Get off your heinie and do some work.

hei-nous /'heɪnəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very bad or evil : deserving of hate or contempt • These murders were especially heinous. • people accused of committing heinous crimes/acts

— hei-nous-ly adv — hei-nous-ness noun [noncount]

heir /'eə/ noun, pl heirs [count]

1 : a person who has the legal right to receive the property of someone who dies • His heirs could inherit millions of dollars. — often + to • She is the sole heir to her family's fortune.

2 : a person who has the right to become a king or queen or to claim a title when the person holding it dies • The king left no heirs when he died.

heir apparent noun, pl heirs apparent [count]

1 : an heir whose right to receive money, property, or a title cannot be taken away • The Prince of Wales is (the) heir apparent to the throne of England.

2 : a person who is very likely to have a job or position after the person who has it now leaves • The coach named her assistant as her heir apparent.

heir-ess /'erəs/ noun, pl -ess-es [count] : a girl or woman who is an heir; especially : a girl or woman who inherits a large amount of money heir-loom /'eəlu:m/ noun, pl -looms [count]

1 : a valuable object that is owned by a family for many years and passed from one generation to another • a priceless family heirloom

2 US : an old type of plant that is still available because individual people have continued to grow it for many years — usually used before another noun • heirloom tomatoes • heirloom roses

heist /'haɪst/ noun, pl heists [count] chiefly US, informal : an act of stealing something from a bank or store • bank heists • a jewel heist

— heist verb heists; heist-ed; heist-ing [+obj] • The jewels were heisted [=stolen] last night.

held past tense of ¹HOLD

helices plural of HELIX

he-li-cop-ter

/'helə,kɑ:ptə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : an aircraft that can stay in the air without moving forward and that has metal blades that turn around on its top

he-li-o-cen-tric

/'hi:liju'sentrik/ adj : having or relating to the sun as the center •

Galileo proposed the heliocentric theory that the Earth goes around the sun. — compare GEOCENTRIC

he-li-pad /'helə,pæd/ noun, pl -pads [count] : a special area where a helicopter can take off and land • The building has a helipad on its roof.

he-li-port /'helə,pɔ:t/ noun, pl -ports [count] : a small airport that is designed for use by helicopters

he-li-um /'hi:lijəm/ noun [noncount] : a chemical element that is a colorless gas, that is lighter than air, and that is often used to fill balloons

he-li-x /'hi:liks/ noun, pl -li-ces /'helə,sɪz/ also -lix-es [count] : the shape formed by a line that curves around and along a central line : SPIRAL — see also DOUBLE HELIX

— he-li-cal /'helɪkəl/ adj

hell /'hel/ noun

1 or Hell [singular] : the place where the devil lives and where evil people go after they die according to some religions

2 : a very difficult or unpleasant situation or experience [noncount] Getting the loan approved was pure/sheer hell. • He went through hell during his divorce. • She had to go through hell to get where she is today. [singular] Living with the disease can be a hell on earth. • The pain has made her life a living hell.

3 informal + impolite — used to express anger, annoyance, etc. • Hell, I don't know why he did it! • But, hell, why not? • Oh, hell, I forgot my keys. • "Did you give her any money?" "Hell, no!"

all hell breaks loose informal — used to describe what happens when violent, destructive, and confused activity suddenly begins • I heard people shouting at each other, and suddenly all hell broke loose.

as hell informal + somewhat impolite — used to make a statement more forceful • It was (as) funny as hell. [=it was very funny] • They were mad as hell. • We've been working as hard as hell to finish on schedule. • "Can you finish on schedule?" "We'll sure as hell try."

catch hell chiefly US, informal + somewhat impolite : to be yelled at or criticized in a very angry and severe way • She caught hell (from her boss) for coming in late.

come hell or high water informal — used to say that something will definitely happen or be done even though other events or situations might make it difficult • I will be there on time, come hell or high water.

for the hell of it informal + somewhat impolite : for the fun of doing something : without having a particular reason • Just for the hell of it, I decided to go. • He likes to start arguments for the hell of it.

from hell informal + somewhat impolite — used to describe someone or something that is very bad or unpleasant • It was the vacation from hell: everything that could go wrong, did. • bosses from hell give (someone) hell informal + somewhat impolite : to yell at or criticize (someone) in an angry way • Her boss gave her hell for coming in late. • Give them hell, John!

go to hell informal + impolite 1 — used to show that you are very angry with someone • I'm not coming, so you can just go to hell! • He told his boss to go to hell. 2 : to become completely ruined : to fail completely • The economy is going to hell.

go to hell in a handbasket see HANDBASKET

hell of a informal + somewhat impolite 1 — used to make a statement more forceful • It was one hell of a good fight. [=it was a very good fight] • He is one hell of a nice guy. 2 : very good • She's a hell of a player. [=she's a very good player] 3 : very bad or difficult • We've been having a hell of a time trying to finish on schedule. • This is a hell of a mess we're in.

hell on US, informal + somewhat impolite — used to describe something that causes a lot of damage or trouble • Running can be hell on your knees. [=can do a lot of harm to your knees] • His constant traveling was hell on their relationship.

hell to pay see ¹PAY

in hell informal + impolite 1 — used to make a statement more forceful • There is no way in hell I'm going! • We don't have a hope in hell [=we have no hope] of getting out of this mess. 2 or in the hell US — used to make a question more forceful • What in hell is wrong now? • How in the hell did that happen?

like a bat out of hell see ³BAT

like hell informal + impolite 1 : very much • My back hurts like hell. 2 : with a lot of energy and speed • We've been working like hell since morning. • When I say "go," run like hell. 3 : very bad • This place looks like hell. 4 — used to say in an angry and forceful way that you will not do something, do not agree, etc. • "You're coming with me!" "Like hell I am!" • "It's your fault!" "Like hell it is!"

play hell with or Brit play merry hell with : to cause many problems for (someone or something) : to have a very bad effect on (someone or something) • High oil prices are playing hell with the nation's economy.

helicopter

raise hell informal + somewhat impolite 1 : to complain in a loud or angry way • People are raising hell about the new law. 2 : to behave wildly and make a lot of noise • He and his friends used to get drunk and raise hell on the weekends. — see also HELL-RAISER

the hell informal + impolite 1 — used to make a statement or question more forceful • Let's get the hell out of here. • (chiefly US) They moved way the hell up north. • How the hell did you do that? • Who the hell do you think you are? • What the hell is going on? 2 — used to say in an angry and forceful way that you will not do something, do not agree, etc. • "You said you'd pay for it." "The hell I did!" [=I never said that] • "It's your fault!" "The hell it is!" — see also WHAT THE HELL (below)

the hell out of informal + impolite — used for emphasis after words like scare, frighten, and beat • That movie scared the hell out of me. [=scared me very badly] • The boxer beat the hell out of his opponent.

to hell and back informal ✧ Someone who goes to hell and back experiences a very difficult or unpleasant situation often for a long time. • She's been to hell and back since her daughter became ill.

to hell with or the hell with informal + impolite — used to say in a forceful and angry way that you do not care about someone or something. • They want me to stop, but to hell with them! I'll do what I want to do!

what the hell informal + impolite 1 — used to express anger, surprise, etc. • What the hell! Just what do you think you're doing!? 2 — used to say that you are not worried about or bothered by something • So I figured, what the hell, let's give it a try. • We lost a little money, but what the hell, it's not a big deal.

when hell freezes over informal + impolite — used to say that you think that something will never happen • I'll apologize when hell freezes over. [=I'll never apologize]

he'll /'hi:l, hɪl/ — used as a contraction of he will • He'll be here soon.

hel·la·cious /,he'leɪʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly US, informal : very difficult, large, or powerful • Traffic is hellacious this time of day. • hellacious winds hell-bent /'hel,bent/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very determined to do something especially when the results might be bad — usually + on • He's hell-bent on (getting) revenge. • They seem to be hell-bent on starting a war. — sometimes followed by to + verb in U.S. English • They seem to be hell-bent to start a war.

Hel·len·ic /he'lenɪk/ adj : of or relating to ancient Greek culture hell·fire /'hel,fajə/ noun [noncount] : the fire of Hell • a minister who preaches hellfire and damnation [=who talks about how bad people will be tortured in Hell] hell·hole /'hel,houl/ noun, pl -holes [count] informal : a very dirty or unpleasant place • The factory is a hellhole.

hel·lion /'hel,jən/ noun, pl -lions [count] US, informal : a person (especially a child) who behaves badly • My children can act like little hellions when they're bored.

hell·ish /'helɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very bad, unpleasant, or shocking • We've been having hellish weather lately. • hellish living conditions • The battlefield was a hellish scene of death and destruction.

— hell-ish-ly adv

hel·lo /hə'lou/ noun, pl -los

1 — used as a greeting • Hello there! How are you? • Hello, my name is Linda.

2 [count] : the act of saying the word hello to someone as a greeting • We exchanged hellos. [=we said hello to each other] • They welcomed us with a warm hello.

3 — used when you are answering the telephone • Hello. Who's this? [=who is calling?] • Hello. May I speak to Linda, please?

4 — used to get someone's attention • Hello? Is anybody here?

5 — used to express surprise • Well, hello! What do we have here?

hell-raiser /'hel,reɪzə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal + disapproving : a person who behaves badly or causes trouble for others • He said that the protesters were just a bunch of hell-raisers.

— hell-raising /'hel,reɪzɪŋ/ adj • a group of hell-raising teenagers — hell-raising noun [noncount] • He did a lot of hell-raising when he was younger.

hell·uva /'heləvə/ — used in writing to represent the sound of the phrase hell of a • He's a helluva nice guy. [=he's a very nice guy]

helm /'helm/ noun, pl helms

1 [count] : a handle or wheel that is used to steer a ship or boat • The ship's captain took the helm. [=steered the ship] • The ship's captain was at the helm. [=steering the ship]

2 [singular] : a position of full control or authority in an organization • She took the helm of the university. • He left after only a year at the helm [=in charge] of the corporation.

hel·met /'helmət/ noun, pl -mets [count] : a hard hat that is worn to protect your head — see also CRASH HELMET, PITH HELMET

— hel-met-ed /'helmətəd/ adj • helmeted warriors

helms·man /'helmzmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] : a person (especially a man) who steers a ship or boat

helms·per·son /'helmz,pəsn/ noun, pl -sons [count] : a person who steers a ship or boat

¹help /'help/ verb helps; helped; help·ing

1 : to do something that makes it easier for someone to do a job, to deal with a problem, etc. : to aid or assist someone [+ obj] Let me help you with that box. = Let me help you lift/carry that box. • help a child with her homework = help a child (to) do her homework • I helped her up/down the stairs. [=I gave her support so that she could go up/down the stairs] • Help me! I'm drowning! [no obj] Don't blame me: I was only trying to help! • She helped (to) set the table. • Help! Somebody call the police!

2 : to make something less severe : to make something more pleasant or easier to deal with [+ obj] Rest helps a cold. • She took an aspirin to help her headache. • Some color would really help [=improve] this room. • Humor often helps a tense situation. [no obj] Yelling doesn't help. • It's not much money, but every little bit helps. — often followed by to + verb • It helps to know you care. [=I feel better because I know that you care]

3 [+ obj] a : to give (yourself or another person) food or drink • There's plenty of food, so help yourself. [=take as much food as you would like] — often + to • He helped his neighbor to a glass of wine. • Help yourself to whatever you'd like. b informal : to take something for (yourself) without permission • He saw the money lying on the table, and he helped himself. [=he took the money] — usually + to • He helped himself to the money.

can help ✧ If you can help something, you can prevent it from happening. • Can I help it [=is it my fault] if no one listens to my advice? • There will be no more layoffs. At least not if I can help it. [=if I can prevent it; if it is up to me]

cannot help 1 ✧ If you cannot help yourself, you cannot control your actions or stop yourself from doing something. • I know I shouldn't eat any more, but I can't help myself. • They knew they shouldn't go, but they couldn't help themselves. 2 ✧ If you cannot help something, you cannot stop it or prevent it. • I can't help loving you. • I know I shouldn't be angry, but I can't help it—it's just the way I feel. 3 ✧ If you cannot help doing something or cannot help but do something, you cannot stop yourself from doing it. • I couldn't help having some dessert. • We couldn't help laughing. = We couldn't help but laugh. 4 ✧ Something that cannot be helped cannot be avoided. • It's too bad that we have to leave, but it can't be helped.

God/Lord/heaven help (someone) — used to express strong feelings of worry or concern about what is happening or could happen • If he ever gets control of the country, Lord help us! • Heaven help you [=you will be in trouble] when he finds out you dented the car.

help off/on [phrasal verb] help (someone) off/on with (something) : to do something that makes it easier for (someone) to put on or take off (clothing, shoes, etc.) • Let me help you off with your boots. • He helped her on with her coat.

help out [phrasal verb] help out or help (someone) out or help out (someone) : to do something so another person's job or task is easier • I can't do this myself. Won't someone please help me out? • I sometimes help out in the kitchen. • He helped out with the bills whenever he could. [=he helped pay the bills whenever he could] so help me (God) — used to stress that a statement is serious and truthful • I'm going on a diet and, so help me, this time I'll stick to it!

²help noun, pl help

1 [noncount] a : activities or efforts that make it easier to do a job, deal with a problem, etc. • He thanked us for our help. • I could use some help with the dishes. • We could hear shouts for help coming from the house. • a help menu/screen [=a part of a computer program that gives instructions and information about how to use the program] b : something (such as money or advice) that is given to someone who needs it. I couldn't have bought this house without financial help. [=without money given to me by someone else] • She is very unhappy and needs some serious/professional help. [=she should see a counselor or psychologist to help her with her problems]

2 [singular] : someone or something that makes it easier to do a job, deal with a problem, etc. • She has always been a real help (to me) in times of trouble. • He's been more of a hindrance than a help.

3 [noncount] a : the fact of being useful to someone • You've been (of) no help at all to me. [=you haven't helped me at all] b : the state of being helped • Is there any help for us? [=is there anything that can be done to help us?] • The situation is beyond help [=nothing can be done to improve the situation] • (Brit) There was no help for it but to tell her parents. [=there was no way to avoid telling her parents]

4 [plural] : servants or paid workers • We need to hire additional help. • The help have already left for the day. • It's hard to find good help. • (US) I looked through the help wanted ads. [=the part of the newspaper in which jobs are advertised] help desk noun, pl ~ desks [count] : a group of people who provide help and information usually for electronic or computer problems — usually singular • Call the help desk if you have trouble with the software.

help·er /'hɛlpə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who helps another person with a job or task • The carpenter measured the wall while one of his helpers brought in the tools.

help·ful /'hɛlpfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : making it easier to do a job, deal with a problem, etc. : giving help • A helpful neighbor shoveled our walkway. • She offered us helpful [=useful] suggestions. • a helpful hint

2 : willing to help other people • a kind and helpful person come in helpful see come in at 1 COME

— help·ful·ly adv • He helpfully offered to carry the groceries for me. — help·ful·ness noun [noncount] • I appreciate your helpfulness.

help·ing /'hɛlpɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count] : an amount of food that is put on a plate at one time : a portion of food : SERVING • He had two helpings of carrots. • Can I give you a second helping? — sometimes used figuratively • He needed a generous helping of self-confidence to ask for a raise.

helping hand noun, pl ~ hands [count] : help or assistance • I'm always willing to lend/give a helping hand. [=I am always willing to help]

helping verb noun, pl ~ verbs [count] grammar : AUXILIARY VERB

help·less /'hɛlpəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not protected : not able to defend yourself • a helpless little baby • The civilians were helpless against their attackers.

2 : unable to do something to make a situation, task, etc., better or easier • Firefighters were helpless against the blaze. • I feel helpless. Isn't there anything I can do?

3 a : not able to be controlled • helpless laughter/rage b : not able to control something (such as laughter or anger) • The crowd was helpless with laughter. • He was helpless with rage.

— help·less·ly adv • We stood by helplessly while the fire destroyed the house. • They were laughing helplessly. — help·less·ness noun [noncount] • feelings of helplessness and despair help·line /'hɛlp,laɪn/ noun, pl -lines [count] : a telephone service that offers help or information • Call our toll-free helpline for more information.

help·mate /'hɛlp,meɪt/ noun, pl -mates [count] old-fashioned + literary : a person who is a companion and helper; especially : WIFE

help·meet /'hɛlp,mi:t/ noun, pl -meets [count] old-fashioned + literary : HELPMATE

hel·ter·skel·ter /'hɛltə'skɛltə/ adv

1 : in a confused and careless way • The children raced helter-skelter through the house.

2 : in no particular order • magazines stacked helter-skelter on her desk

— helter·skelter adj • a helter-skelter rush through the train station

2 helter·skelter noun, pl -ters [count] Brit : a slide that twists around a tower at an amusement park

1 hem /'hɛm/ noun, pl hems [count] : the edge of a piece of cloth that is folded back and sewn down • shorten the hem of the dress/skirt/trousers — see color picture on page C12

2 hem verb hems; hemmed; hem·ming [+ obj] : to sew down a folded edge of cloth on (something) : to give (something) a hem • hem the dress/skirt/trousers • The curtains need to be hemmed.

hem in [phrasal verb] hem (someone or something) in or hem in (someone or something) : to surround (someone or something) very closely or in a way that makes movement or escape difficult — usually used as (be) hemmed in • The town is hemmed in by mountains on all sides. • He was hemmed in by reporters as he tried to leave the courthouse. — often used figuratively • He felt hemmed in by the school's rules. [=he felt that the rules prevented him from acting freely]

— compare 3 HEM

3 hem verb hems; hemmed; hemming

hem and haw chiefly US, informal 1 : to stop often and change what you are saying during speech because you are not sure of what to say or are trying to avoid saying something • The question surprised her and she hemmed and hawed a bit before answering. 2 : to take a long time before you make a decision about what to do • The city council hemmed and hawed for a year before deciding to build the new school.

— compare 2 HEM

he·man /'hi:mæn/ noun, pl -men /-,mɛn/ [count] informal : a man who is very strong and masculine • He plays another he-man in his latest action movie.

hemi·sphere /'hɛmə'sfiə/ noun, pl -spheres [count]

1 : a half of the Earth • the Northern/Southern Hemisphere [=the half of the Earth that is north/south of the equator] • the Eastern Hemisphere [=the half of the Earth that is east of the Atlantic Ocean and that includes Europe, Africa, Asia, and Australia] • the Western Hemisphere [=the half of the Earth that is west of the Atlantic Ocean and that includes North and South America]

2 : half of a sphere : half of a round object

3 technical : either of the two halves of the brain • a tumor in the right/left cerebral hemisphere

— hemi·spher·ic /'hɛmə'sfɪrɪk/ or hemi·spher·i·cal /'hɛmə'sfɪrɪkəl/ adj, technical • a hemispherical structure

hem·line /'hɛm,laɪn/ noun, pl -lines [count] : the bottom edge of a dress, skirt, or coat • The hemline falls just above the knee. • I shortened/raised the hemline on the dress.

hem·lock /'hɛm,lɔ:k/ noun, pl -locks

1 [count, noncount] : an evergreen tree with soft wood

2 [noncount] a : a type of poisonous plant that has small white flowers b : a deadly drug or drink made from this plant • Socrates died after drinking hemlock.

he·mo·glo·bin (US) or Brit hae·mo·glo·bin /'hi:mə,gloubən/ noun [noncount] technical : the part of blood that contains iron, carries oxygen through the body, and gives blood its red color

he·mo·phil·ia (US) or Brit hae·mo·phil·ia /'hi:mə'fɪljə/ noun [noncount] medical : a serious disease that causes a person who has been cut or injured to keep bleeding for a very long time

he·mo·phil·i·ac (US) or Brit hae·mo·phil·i·ac /'hi:mə'fɪli,æk/ noun, pl -acs [count] : a person who has hemophilia

1 hem·or·rhage (US) or Brit haem·or·rhage /'hɛmə'rɪdʒ/ noun, pl -rhag-es medical : a condition in which a person bleeds too much and cannot stop the flow of blood [count] The patient suffered a cerebral hemorrhage. [noncount] There is a possibility of hemorrhage with the procedure. — sometimes used figuratively • The company has suffered a financial hemorrhage. [=the company has lost large amounts of money]

— hem·or·rhag·ic (US) or Brit haem·or·rhag·ic /'hɛmə'rædʒɪk/ adj, medical • a hemorrhagic fever [=a fever that causes hemorrhaging]

2 hemorrhage (US) or Brit haemorrhage verb -rhages; -rhaged; -rhag·ing

1 [no obj] medical : to bleed in a very fast and uncontrolled way • The patient began to hemorrhage after the surgery.

2 [+ obj] : to lose (people, money, etc.) in a very fast and uncontrolled way • The company is hemorrhaging money. [=the company is losing very large amounts of money]

— hemorrhaging (US) or Brit haem·or·rhag·ing noun

[noncount] • The patient has internal hemorrhaging.

hem-or-rhoid (US) or Brit haem-or-rhoid /'hem,roid/ noun, pl -rhoids [count] : a swollen and painful area located at or near the anus — usually plural • a patient who suffers from hemorrhoids

hemp /'hemp/ noun [noncount] : a plant that is used to make thick ropes and some drugs (such as hashish and marijuana)

hen /'hen/ noun, pl hens [count]

1 : an adult female chicken — compare ROOSTER

2 : a female bird of any kind

hence /'hens/ adv, formal

1 : for this reason • He was a newcomer and hence [=consequently, therefore] had no close friends here. • He knew he could not win the election—hence his decision to withdraw. • The company lost a great deal of money. Hence, the CEO was asked to resign.

2 : later than the present time • a week hence [=a week from now] • What will life be like a century hence?

hence-forth /'hens,foəθ/ adv, formal : from this time forward : starting now • Henceforth, supervisors will report directly to the manager. • She announced that henceforth she would be running the company.

hence-for-ward /'hens'foəwəd/ adv, formal : HENCE-FORTH

hench-man /'hentʃmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] disapproving : a trusted follower or supporter who performs unpleasant, wrong, or illegal tasks for a powerful person (such as a politician or criminal) • a gangster surrounded by his henchmen

hen-house /'hen,haus/ noun, pl -houses [count] : a covered shelter for chickens or other birds hen-na /'henə/ noun [noncount] : a reddish-brown dye used especially for coloring hair or skin

hen party noun, pl ~ -ties [count] Brit, informal : a party for women only; especially : a party for a woman who is about to be married — called also hen night

hen-pecked /'hen,pɛkt/ adj, informal — used to describe a man who is constantly controlled and criticized by his wife • a henpecked husband hep /'hep/ adj hep-per; hep-pest [also more ~; most ~] US slang, old-fashioned : having or showing knowledge about the newest things in music, fashion, etc. : HIP • a hep cafe • She's hep. ♦ Hep is often associated with people who played and listened to jazz music in the mid-20th century.

hep-a-ti-tis /,hepə'taɪtəs/ noun [noncount] medical : a serious disease of the liver that causes fever and makes your skin and eyes yellow hep-cat /'hep,kæt/ noun, pl -cats [count] US slang, old-fashioned : a person who knows about the newest things in music, fashion, etc. : a hip person • a cool hepcat ♦ Hepcat often refers to someone who played or listened to jazz music in the mid-20th century.

hep-ta-gon /'heptə,gɑ:n/ noun, pl -gons [count] mathematics : a flat shape that has seven sides and seven angles — hep-tag-o-nal /'hep'tægənəl/ adj • a heptagonal shape/room hep-tath-lon /'hep'tæθlən/ noun, pl -lons [count] : an athletic contest for women that consists of seven running, jumping, and throwing events • She won a gold medal in the heptathlon.

¹her /'hə, ə/ adj, always used before a noun, possessive form of SHE : relating to or belonging to a certain woman, girl, or female animal • She bought her own house. • Her parents will visit soon. • What is her name? : made or done by a certain woman, girl, or female animal • I would like to read some of her essays. • She was jailed for her crime. • It's her turn to play. — sometimes used figuratively to refer to something thought of as female (such as a ship, car, machine, or country) • The ship is in port to have her hull repaired. • the United States and her allies — see also HERS

²her pronoun, objective form of SHE — used to refer to a certain woman, girl, or female animal as the object of a verb or a preposition • Tell her I said hello. • Did you invite her? • I gave the book to her. • a gift for her • The dress fits her sister as well as her.

¹her-ald /'herəld/ verb -alds; -ald-ed; -ald-ing [+ obj]

1 : to be a sign of (something that is beginning to happen or will happen soon) • Rain heralds the arrival of spring. • The technology heralded a new age of space exploration.

2 : to greet (someone or something) with enthusiasm — usually used as (be) heralded • This achievement will be heralded

all over the world. • She is being heralded as the year's best new author. ♦ Someone or something that is much-heralded receives a large amount of praise or admiration. • a much-heralded film

²herald noun, pl -alds [count] formal

1 : a sign that something will happen • The early flowers are heralds of spring.

2 : an official messenger in the past • Mercury was the herald of the Roman gods.

her-ald-ry /'herəldri/ noun [noncount] formal : the activity of creating or studying coats of arms and of tracing and recording family histories

— he-ral-dic /he'rældɪk/ adj • crosses and other heraldic devices

herb /'əb, Brit 'hə:b/ noun, pl herbs [count] : a plant or a part of a plant that is used as medicine or to give flavor to food • a dish seasoned with chopped fresh herbs • rosemary, sage, and other herbs — see color picture on page C6

her-ba-ceous /hə'beɪʃəs/ adj

1 : relating to herbs • herbaceous flavors/aromas

2 : relating to a type of plant that has a soft stem • herbaceous plants/perennials • a herbaceous border [=a garden of flowering plants that die in the autumn and grow again in the spring]

herb-al /'əbəl, Brit 'hə:bəl/ adj, always used before a noun : made of or relating to herbs • herbal tea/supplements • a doctor who practices herbal medicine [=the use of herbs to treat illness]

herb-al-ist /'əbəlist, Brit 'hə:bəlist/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who grows, sells, or uses herbs to treat illness herb doctor noun, pl ~ -tors [count] chiefly US : a person who uses herbs to treat illness

her-bi-cide /'həbəsaɪd/ noun, pl -cides [count, noncount] : a chemical used to destroy plants or stop plant growth

her-bi-vore /'həbə,vəʊ/ noun, pl -vores [count] : an animal that only eats plants

— her-biv-o-rous /,hə'bɪvərəs/ adj • herbivorous animals

her-cu-le-an or Her-cu-le-an /,həkjə'li:jən/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very large, difficult, powerful, etc. • a herculean task/effort • Herculean strength • They took on the herculean job of restoring the house after the fire. • a problem of herculean proportions

¹herd /'həd/ noun, pl herds

1 [count] : a group of animals that live or are kept together • herds of cattle/horses/elephants • The herd grazed peacefully in the pasture.

2 a [count] : a large group of people • A herd of shoppers waited anxiously for the store to open. b the herd : common people : people as a group • the common herd • He always sticks with the herd. [=he always does what other people do; he does not think for himself] • I refuse to follow the herd. [=do what other people do]

ride herd on see ¹RIDE

²herd verb herds; herd-ed; herd-ing

1 [+ obj] : to gather and move (a group of animals) • herd cattle • The horses were herded into the corral.

2 a [+ obj] : to move (people) in a group • We left the hotel and were herded onto a bus. • They herded the students into the auditorium. b [no obj] : to form a group or move as a group • The commuters herded onto the train.

— herd-er /'hədə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

herds-man /'hədzmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] : a person (especially a man) who watches over a herd of cows, sheep, etc.

¹here /'hiə/ adv

1 a : in this place : at this location • I like it here. • I'm here to help you. • Turn here. • Hello—is anyone here? • I'm sure I left my glasses (right) here. • They have lived here for 30 years. • Please sign here. [=at the place indicated by the speaker] • At last we're here! = Here we are at last! [=we have finally arrived] • “Hey, where are you?” “I’m over/out/down/up/in here.” • I’m planning to be back here by 6:00. — used in speech when something is found • Have you seen my glasses? Oh, here they are. • Ah, here’s the book I’ve been looking for. b : to or into this place • Come here. • I’ve come here to help you. • Bring the book here. • He rode his bicycle here this morning. • When will you get here? • Here comes the bus. [=the bus is coming right now]

2 a : at this point in a process, activity, story, etc. • Here the author introduces a new character. • The speaker paused here for a moment. • Here the film changes from black-and-white to color. b : in the matter that is being considered

: in this case • Here we agree. • The essential conflict here is their different ways of cutting costs. c : appearing or happening now • Here's your chance for a new career. • Winter is here at last.

3 a informal — used to make a statement about the present situation or subject more forceful • Hey, I'm trying to work here! • We're talking about a lot of money here! • Let's get serious here! b informal — used after a noun to emphasize which person, thing, etc. you are referring to • This book here is the one I was talking about. • My brother here just bought a new car. c — used when you are giving something to someone • Here's my phone number. • "Could you pass the salt?" "Sure, here you are." = "Sure, here it is." = "Sure, here you go." from here on (out) US, informal : from this time forward • From here on out, I'm making all the decisions.

here and now : at the present time • Instead of dwelling on the past, we need to deal with the problems that exist here and now. — often used in the phrase the here and now • We need to deal with the problems that exist in the here and now. [=the problems that exist in the present] here and there : in different places • Books and papers were strewn here and there. • He's traveled here and there.

here goes or chiefly US here goes nothing informal — used when you are about to try doing something new, difficult, or unpleasant • It's hard to explain, but here goes. [=I will try to explain] • I've never skied before, so here goes nothing.

here is — used in speech and informal writing to introduce a person, subject, or action • Here is what I think we should do. • Here's the thing/problem—I already told her I would go. • Here is the latest election news. • Here's how you should hold the golf club.

here's to — used to express good wishes for someone, to say you are pleased about something, etc., before you drink something; used for making a toast to someone or something • Here's to the new couple. May they find great happiness together. • Thank you all for your hard work. And now, here's to another successful year!

here, there, and everywhere informal : in many different places : all over • I've been looking for you here, there, and everywhere.

here to stay : likely to last or be present for a long time • She's convinced that her bad luck is here to stay.

here we go informal — used when something is just beginning to happen or move • "Here we go," I said as the roller coaster began to climb the first hill.

here you go (again) see ¹GO

neither here nor there : not important or interesting • What I think is really neither here nor there. You have to make up your own mind.

out of here or outta here informal — used to say that you are leaving • It's five o'clock, so I am out of here. [=I am leaving this place]

up to here see ²UP

²here interj

1 — used to say that you are present • When he calls your name, say "here." • "John Smith?" "Here!"

2 — used for emphasis or to attract someone's attention • Here, let me help you with that. • (chiefly Brit) Here, what are you doing with my bike?

3 — used in calling a pet to you • Here, boy! Good dog!

³here noun [noncount]

1 : this place • get away from here

2 : this point • I've done my part. You take it from here. [=you are responsible from now on] hereabouts /ˈhɪrəˌbaʊts/ also US hereabout /ˈhɪrəˌbaʊt/ adv, informal : near or around this place : in this area • We don't see a lot of snow hereabouts. — compare THEREABOUTS

¹hereafter adv, formal

1 : after this : from now on • Hereafter the two companies will operate in full partnership. — often used in legal documents • my client, hereafter the plaintiff [=my client, who will be called "the plaintiff" from this point onward]

2 : in a future time or state • We don't know what will happen hereafter.

²hereafter noun

the hereafter : an existence that comes after life ends : life after death • belief in the hereafter hereby /hiəˈbaɪ/ adv, formal : by means of this act, these words, this document, etc. • I hereby declare the Olympic Games officially open. • The sum will hereby be charged to your account. • The parties to the lawsuit hereby agree to settle the matter out of court.

he-red-i-tary /həˈredəˌteri, Brit həˈredətri/ adj

1 : passed or able to be passed from parent to child before birth • hereditary traits/diseases • He suffers from a rare hereditary condition.

2 formal a : passing from a person who has died to that person's child or younger relative • The position is hereditary. [=inherited] • a hereditary monarchy b : holding a position or title that was passed on from your parent or an older relative • a hereditary ruler/monarch he-red-i-ty /həˈredəti/ noun [noncount] formal : the natural process by which physical and mental qualities are passed from a parent to a child • Heredity plays no part in the disease.

here-in /hiəˈɪn/ adv, formal

1 : in this book, document, etc. • For an explanation of the abbreviations used herein, see the section entitled "Abbreviations in this Work."

2 : in this statement, fact, or detail — used to introduce something that is related to the main subject and that is usually followed by an explanation • The company faces more competition every year. Herein lies the challenge. In order to maintain our current standing, we have to increase sales.

here-in-after /ˌhɪrəˈnæftə, Brit ˌhɪərəˈnɑːftə/ adv, formal : ¹HEREAFTER ¹

her-e-sy /ˈherəsi/ noun, pl -sies : a belief or opinion that does not agree with the official belief or opinion of a particular religion [noncount] They were accused of heresy. [count] He was preaching dangerous heresies. — often used figuratively • To disagree with the party leadership was heresy.

her-e-tic /ˈherəˌtɪk/ noun, pl -tics [count] : someone who believes or teaches something that goes against accepted or official beliefs • The church regards them as heretics.

— he-ret-i-cal /həˈretɪkəl/ adj • heretical ideas/writings • It would be heretical to suggest changing company policy.

here-to /hiəˈtuː/ adv, formal : to this document • I attach hereto my revisions.

here-to-fore /ˈhiətəˌfoː/ adv, formal : until this time : before now • Heretofore her writing has never displayed such depth of feeling. • This technology has created heretofore unimaginable possibilities.

here-with /hiəˈwɪθ, hiəˈwɪd/ adv, formal : with this : included with this note, letter, document, etc. • You will find my check herewith. • Herewith are your instructions. • I enclose herewith my revisions.

her-i-ta-ble /ˈherətəbəl/ adj, formal

1 : able to be passed from parent to child before birth • a heritable disease

2 law : able to be passed from a parent or older relative to a child • a heritable title her-i-tage /ˈherətɪdʒ/ noun, pl -tag-es [count] : the traditions, achievements, beliefs, etc., that are part of the history of a group or nation — usually singular • a nation with a rich heritage of folklore • His Polish heritage was very important to him. • These battlefields are an important part of our heritage and should be preserved.

herky-jerky /ˈhɜːkiˌdʒɜːki/ adj [more ~; most ~] US, informal : not smooth or graceful : marked by sudden movements or changes • a herky-jerky dance • a film criticized for its herky-jerky editing her-maph-ro-dite /həˈmæfrəˌdaɪt/ noun, pl -dites [count] : a person, plant, or animal that has both male and female parts

— hermaphrodite adj • hermaphrodite populations — her-maph-ro-dit-ic /həˈmæfrəˌdɪtɪk/ adj • hermaphroditic species

her-met-ic /həˈmɛtɪk/ adj, formal : closed tightly so that no air can go in or out • hermetic [= (more commonly) airtight] seals

— her-met-i-cal-ly /həˈmɛtɪkli/ adv • hermetically sealed containers her-mit /ˈhɜːmɪt/ noun, pl -mits [count] : a person who lives in a simple way apart from others especially for religious reasons

her-mit-age /ˈhɜːmɪtɪdʒ/ noun, pl -ag-es [count]

1 : a place where a hermit lives

2 : a house or building that is far away from other houses, buildings, or people • On weekends he escapes to his hermitage in the mountains.

hermit crab noun, pl ~ crabs [count] : a type of crab that lives in the empty shell of another animal (such as a snail)

her-nia /'hæniə/ noun, pl -ni-as medical : a painful condition in which an organ (such as the intestine) pushes through the muscles that are around it [count] He has a hernia. [noncount] He was treated for hernia. — called also rupture

he-ro /'hi:rou/ noun, pl heroes or in sense 3 heros [count]

1 a : a person who is admired for great or brave acts or fine qualities • He returned from the war a national hero. • the hero of a rescue • She was a hero for standing up to the government. b : a person who is greatly admired • a football hero • His father has always been his hero. • He has always been a hero to his son. ♦ Hero can refer to either a man or a woman, but it is often used to refer specifically to a man. The specific word for a woman who is brave and admired is heroine. — see also FOLK HERO

2 : the chief male character in a story, play, movie, etc. • The hero [=protagonist] of the film is a fisherman.

3 pl usually heros US : SUBMARINE SANDWICH

he-ro-ic /'hi:rowik/ adj

1 : of or relating to heroes • the heroic age • heroic legends

2 [more ~; most ~] : having or showing great courage • It was heroic of those women to fight for the right to vote. • The soldiers received medals for their heroic actions.

3 [more ~; most ~] : very large or great in size, amount, etc. • Despite heroic efforts to save the business, it ultimately went bankrupt. • a political battle of heroic proportions • Heroic [=drastic] measures may be required to save the patient. — he-ro-i-cal-ly /'hi:rowikli/ adv • women who fought heroically for the right to vote he-ro-ics /'hi:rowiks/ noun [plural] : actions that show courage : heroic acts or behavior • Despite his heroics on the football field, he has had a troubled life. — often used to describe heroic actions that are regarded as foolish • We need to be cautious now. This is no time for heroics.

her-o-in /'herəwən/ noun [noncount] : a powerful illegal drug that is made from morphine her-o-ine /'herəwən/ noun, pl -ines [count]

1 : a woman who is admired for great or brave acts or fine qualities • The town remembered her as the heroine of the flood and erected a statue in her honor.

2 : the chief female character in a story, play, movie, etc. • a tragic heroine

her-o-ism /'herə,wizəm/ noun [noncount] : great courage • acts/feats of heroism • women who showed heroism by fighting for their right to vote

her-on /'herən/ noun, pl -ons [count] : a large bird that has long legs and a long neck and bill — see color picture on page C9

hero sandwich noun, pl ~ -wiches [count] US : SUBMARINE SANDWICH hero worship noun [noncount] : foolish or excessive admiration of someone • He objects to the unthinking hero worship of great athletes by their fans.

— hero-worship verb -ships; -shipped also US -shipped; -ship-ping also US -ship-ing [+ obj] • As a child he hero-worshipped his older brother.

her-pes /'hæpi:z/ noun [noncount] : a disease that causes painful spots on the skin

her-ring /'herɪŋ/ noun, pl herring or herrings [count, noncount] : a fish that lives in the northern Atlantic Ocean and is often eaten as food — see also RED HERRING her-ring-bone /'herɪŋ,boun/ noun [noncount] : a pattern used on cloth that consists of rows of parallel lines that slant in opposite directions to form V shapes — usually used before another noun • a herringbone pattern/design • a herringbone jacket hers /'hæz/ pronoun

1 : that which belongs to or is connected with her : her one : her ones • The book is hers. [=the book belongs to her; it is her book] • Hers is the book on the left. [=her book is the one on the left] • a former professor of hers [=one of her former professors] • That face of hers [=her face] is hard to forget.

2 Brit, informal : her home • Let's go back to hers for a drink.

her-self /'hæ'self/ pronoun

1 : that same woman, girl, or female animal: a — used as the object of a verb or preposition to refer to a woman, girl, or female animal that has already been mentioned • She considers herself lucky. • She accepted the award for her co-workers and herself. • She is proud of herself for finishing college. • She wrapped the blanket around herself. • "I wonder what he meant?" she said/thought to herself. • She had the house (all) to herself. [=she was alone in the house] • She wanted to see it for herself [=she wanted to see it rather than have someone tell her about it, describe it to her, etc.] b — used for emphasis to refer again to a woman, girl, or female animal that has already been mentioned • She told me herself that she would be here. • It's hard to believe that she was young once herself. • My father wanted my mother to see a doctor, but she herself didn't think it was necessary. • We were welcomed by the company president herself. • She was nervous about meeting them, but I told him to just be herself [=to behave like she normally does]

2 : her normal or healthy self • She was herself again after a good night's sleep. • She's not herself today; something's bothering her.

by herself 1 : without any help from other people • She shoveled the driveway by herself. • She did her homework (all) by herself. 2 : with nobody else : ALONE • The grandmother still lives in the house by herself. • She went to the store by herself.

hertz /'hæts/ noun, pl hertz [count] technical : a unit used for measuring the frequency of sound waves — abbr. Hz

he's /'hi:z, iz/ — used as a contraction of he is or he has • He's [=he is] tall. • He's [=he has] told me that before.

hes-i-tant /'hezətənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : slow to act or speak especially because you are nervous or unsure about what to do : feeling or showing hesitation • She took a hesitant step back from the door. • He seems hesitant about accepting the job. — sometimes followed by to + verb • He seems hesitant to accept the job.

— hes-i-tan-cy /'hezəntənsi/ noun [noncount] • We were surprised by his hesitancy about accepting the job. — hes-i-tant-ly adv • She hesitantly stepped back from the door. • He hesitantly asked a stranger for directions.

hes-i-tate /'hezə,teɪt/ verb -tates; -tat-ed; -tat-ing

1 [no obj] : to stop briefly before you do something especially because you are nervous or unsure about what to do • She hesitated and waited for her friend to say something. • He hesitated about/over accepting the job.

2 [+ obj] : to be unwilling to do something because of doubt or uncertainty • I sometimes hesitate to say what I am really thinking. • I hesitated to come without being asked. • I wouldn't hesitate to ask for your help if I felt I needed it. • Don't hesitate to call if there is a problem.

he who hesitates is lost — used to say that it is important to make decisions and do things in a quick and definite way

— hes-i-ta-tion /,hezə'teɪʃən/ noun [noncount] A moment's hesitation could have cost him his life. • He showed no hesitation about/over accepting the job. • I would do it again without hesitation [=with no delay or doubts] [count] After several brief hesitations he proceeded.

hes-sian /'heʃən, Brit 'hesiən/ noun [noncount] Brit : BURLAP

het-ero-dox /'hetərə,dɔ:ks/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not agreeing with established beliefs or standards : UNORTHODOX • a heterodox religious thinker • heterodox ideas

— het-ero-dox-y /'hetərə,dɔ:k-si/ noun, pl -dox-ies [count, noncount]

het-er-o-ge-ne-ous /,hetərə'dʒi:nijəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : made up of parts that are different • an ethnically heterogeneous population — opposite HOMOGENEOUS

— het-er-o-ge-ne-ity /,hetərəudʒə'ni:ʒəti/ noun [noncount]

het-er-o-sex-u-al /,hetərəu'sekʃəwəl/ adj

1 : sexually attracted to people of the opposite sex • a heterosexual male

2 : based on sexual attraction to people of the opposite sex • heterosexual behavior — compare BISEXUAL, HOMOSEXUAL

— heterosexual noun, pl -als [count] • male heterosexuals

— het-er-o-sex-u-al-i-ty /,hetərəu'sekʃə'wæləti/ noun [noncount]

het up /'hetʌp/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal + somewhat old-fashioned : very excited or upset • John can get all/very het up about/over politics. • What are you so het up about?

heu-ris-tic /'hju:'ristik/ adj, formal : using experience to learn and improve • heuristic writing techniques • heuristic methods • heuristic computer programs

— heuristic noun, pl -tics [count] • The program uses heuristics [=heuristic methods] to continually improve its performance.

hew /'hju:/ verb hews; hewed; hewed or hewn /'hju:n/; hew-ing [+ obj] : to shape (something) by cutting with a sharp tool (such as an ax) • They hewed logs to build a cabin. • The walls are built of stones hewn by skilled craftsmen. • roughly hewn logs — sometimes used figuratively • Settlers hewed a town from the wilderness. • His father hewed a fortune from the railroads. — see also ROUGH-HEWN hew to [phrasal verb] hew to (something) US : to follow or obey (something) • Everyone must hew to the rules/standards. • He is a politician who has always hewed [=adhered] closely to the party line.

hex /'hɛks/ noun, pl hex-es [count] chiefly US : a magical spell that is meant to cause bad luck for someone • He claimed that a witch had put a hex on him.

— hex /'hɛks/ verb hexes; hexed; hex-ing [+ obj] • He claimed that someone had hexed him.

hexagon /'hɛksəˌɡɔːn, Brit 'hɛksəɡən/ noun, pl -gons [count] mathematics : a flat shape that has six angles and six sides — see picture at GEOMETRY

— hex-ag-o-nal /hɛk'sæɡən/ adj • a hexagonal room

hey /'heɪ/ interj

1 — used to attract someone's attention or to express surprise, joy, or anger • Hey (there), it's good to see you! • Hey, wait for me! • Hey, what are you doing with my car! • Hey you!—get away from there!

2 — used to indicate that something is not important, that you are not upset about something, etc. • I thought she was my friend, but, hey, it's not the first time I've been wrong. • "We lost." "Hey, you can't win them all." • "I'm sorry to be so late." "Hey, don't worry about it."

hey-day /'heɪˌdeɪ/ noun, pl -days [count] : the time when someone or something is most successful, popular, etc. — usually singular • In the heyday of big cars nobody cared how much gas cost. • That's when he was in his heyday.

hey presto interj, Brit : PRESTO • A wave of the hand and, hey presto, it's gone!

HGV /ˌeɪtʃˌdʒiːˈviː/ noun, pl HGVs [count] Brit : a large truck ✧ HGV is an abbreviation of "heavy goods vehicle."

hi /'haɪ/ interj — used as an informal way of saying "hello" • Hi, how are you? • Aren't you going to say hi to [=greet] him?

HI abbr Hawaii

hi-a-tus /haɪ'eɪtəs/ noun, pl -tus-es : a period of time when something (such as an activity or program) is stopped [count] The band is making an album again after a five-year hiatus. [noncount] (US) The television network put the show on hiatus [=it stopped broadcasting the show] for several months. = The show went on hiatus for several months.

hi-ba-chi /hɪ'baːtʃi/ noun, pl -chis [count] chiefly US : a small grill (sense 1b) for cooking food over charcoal

hi-ber-nate /'haɪbəˌneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [no obj] of an animal : to spend the winter sleeping or resting • bears hibernating in their dens

— hi-ber-na-tion /ˌhaɪbəˌneɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • bears in hibernation

hi-bis-cus /haɪ'bɪskəs/ noun, pl hibiscus or hi-bis-cus-es [count, noncount] : a type of shrub that has large colorful flowers

hic-cup also hic-cough /'hɪˌkʌp/ noun, pl -cups also -coughs

1 a [count] : a sound in your throat that is caused by a sudden, uncontrolled movement of muscles in your chest after you have eaten or drunk too much or too quickly b hic-cups [plural] : a condition in which you make hiccups repeatedly • The baby has (the) hiccups. • I got the hiccups.

2 [count] informal : a small problem, change, or delay • Our computer problems were caused by a hiccup in the power supply. • The stock market has continued to rise, except for a slight hiccup earlier this month.

— hiccup also hiccough /'hɪˌkʌp/ verb -cups also -coughs; -cuped also -cupped or -coughed; -cup-ing also -cup-ping or -cough-ing [no obj] • Someone in the audience started hiccuping.

hick /'hɪk/ noun, pl hicks [count] US, informal + disapproving : an uneducated person from a small town or the country • We felt like a bunch of hicks when we went to the city for the first time. — often used before another noun • a hick town [=a town where the people are hicks]

hick-o-ry /'hɪkəri/ noun, pl -ries

1 [count] : a type of tree that has very hard wood and that produces nuts which can be eaten — called also hickory tree

2 [noncount] : the wood of a hickory tree

¹hidden past participle of ¹HIDE

²hidden adj

1 : not seen or known • a hidden [=concealed] microphone/camera • His suggestions have a hidden [=secret] purpose. • hidden motives • He's accused of having a hidden agenda [=a secret plan]

2 : not easily found or recognized • There was a hidden flaw in the airplane's design. • the hidden costs in buying a home • searching for hidden meanings • a hidden valley

¹hide /'haɪd/ verb hides; hid /'hɪd/; hid-den /'hɪdn/ or hid; hid-ing /'haɪdn/

1 [+ obj] a : to put (something) in a place where it cannot be seen or found • She hid the gifts under the bed. • His records were hidden (away) in the back room. b : to prevent (something) from being seen • Clouds hid the sun all day. • She hid her face in her hands. [=she covered her face with her hands] • They live in a house hidden among the trees. • a house hidden (from view) by trees

2 a [no obj] : to go to or stay at a place where you cannot be seen or found • She hid under the bed. • The prisoners hid (out) down by the river after escaping. • criminals hiding (out) from the police • Photographers were hiding behind the fence. • He has nowhere to hide. — sometimes used figuratively • He tried to hide from his responsibilities. [=he tried to avoid his responsibilities] • She has been accused of hiding behind her reputation [=using her reputation to protect herself] instead of answering the charges openly. b [+ obj] : to put (someone or yourself) in a place that cannot be seen or found • She hid him/herself under the bed. • She hid him from the police.

3 [+ obj] : to keep (something) from being known • She tried to hide the fact that she was looking for another job. • You shouldn't try to hide your feelings (from me). • He made no attempt to hide his anger. • You can ask me anything. I have nothing to hide.

hide your light under a bushel see BUSHEL

²hide noun, pl hides [count]

1 : the skin of a usually large animal • cattle hides

2 informal — used to talk about protecting or saving yourself or someone else from harm • He betrayed his friend to protect his own hide. [=to protect himself] • Thanks for helping me out—you really saved my hide! [=kept me from being harmed; saved me]

3 chiefly Brit : ³BLIND 2

hide or hair or hide nor hair informal : any sign of a particular person or thing • He hasn't seen hide or hair of his son [=hasn't seen his son at all] since he went off to college. • We haven't seen hide nor hair of a gas station.

tan someone's hide informal + old-fashioned : to beat or whip (someone) very badly • He threatened to tan my hide if I didn't do what he told me to do.

hide-and-go-seek noun [noncount] US : HIDE-AND-SEEK hide-and-seek noun [noncount] : a children's game in which everyone hides from one player who tries to find them • play hide-and-seek hide-away /'haɪdəˌweɪ/ noun, pl -aways [count] : a hidden place : a place where someone goes to be alone • The resort is a perfect romantic hideaway for young couples.

hide-bound /'haɪdˌbaʊnd/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : not willing to accept new or different ideas • a hide-bound conservative • hidebound traditions [=old traditions that are out-of-date and should be changed] hid-eous /'hɪdijəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very ugly or disgusting • The room was filled with hideous furniture. • a hideous deformity/crime • He let out a hideous [=frightful] laugh. — hid-eous-ly adv • Her face was hideously deformed by the fire. — hid-eous-ness noun [noncount] hide-out /'haɪdˌaʊt/ noun, pl -outs [count] : a place where someone (such as a criminal) hides to avoid being found or captured • a secret hideout

¹hid-ing /'haɪdn/ noun [noncount] : the state of being hidden • She went into hiding [=she went to a secret place where she would not be found by the people who were looking for her] to avoid reporters and television cameras. • He has been in hiding for years. • He came out of hiding to answer the rumors. — compare ²HIDING

²hiding noun, pl -ings [count] chiefly Brit, informal : a severe beating — usually singular • My father threatened to give me a good hiding. — sometimes used figuratively • They gave us a good hiding [=they defeated us badly] in that game.

on a hiding to nothing Brit, informal : on the way to failure : certain to fail

— compare ¹HIDING

hiding place noun, pl ~ places [count] : a place where someone or something is hidden or can be hidden • My favorite hiding place when I was a kid was in the attic.

hi·er·ar·chy /ˈhɑjəˌrɑki/ noun, pl -chies [count]

1 : a group that controls an organization and is divided into different levels • The church hierarchy faced resistance to some of their/its decisions.

2 : a system in which people or things are placed in a series of levels with different importance or status • He was at the bottom of the corporate hierarchy. • a rigid hierarchy of social classes

— hi·er·ar·chi·cal /ˌhɑjəˈrɑkɪkəl/ also hi·er·ar·chic /ˌhɑjəˈrɑkɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • The army has a rigid hierarchical structure. — hi·er·ar·chi·cal·ly /ˌhɑjəˈrɑkɪkli/ adv • The church is organized hierarchically.

hi·ero·glyph

/ˈhɑjərəˌɡlɪf/ noun, pl -glyphs [count] : a written character that looks like a picture : a character used in hieroglyphics

hieroglyphs

hi·ero·glyph·ic /ˌhɑjərəˈɡlɪfɪk/ noun, pl -ics [count] : HI·EROGLYPH

— hieroglyphic adj • hieroglyphic writing

hi·ero·glyph·ics /ˌhɑjərəˈɡlɪfɪks/ noun [plural] : a system of writing (such as the one used in ancient Egypt) that uses characters that look like pictures

hi-fi /ˈhaɪˈfaɪ/ noun, pl -fis

1 [noncount] : HIGH FIDELITY

2 [count] somewhat old-fashioned : a piece of electronic equipment for reproducing sound in a clear and accurate way • We bought a hi-fi for the bedroom.

— hi-fi adj • hi-fi sound reproduction • a hi-fi system • hi-fi equipment

hig·gle·dy·pig·gle·dy /ˌhɪɡəldiˈpɪɡəldi/ adv, informal : in a messy way : without order • All the dishes were stacked higgledy-piggledy next to the sink.

— higgledy-piggledy adj • a higgledy-piggledy assortment of things

¹high /ˈhaɪ/ adj high·er; -est

1 a : rising or extending upward a great distance • high mountains/peaks • a high [=tall] building • a high fly ball — opposite LOW b : extending or reaching upward more than other things of the same kind • high boots • a high collar • a high fence • high [=tall] grass — opposite LOW c : located far above the ground or another surface • high clouds/altitudes • The sun was high [=far above the horizon] in the eastern sky. • The apartment has high ceilings. • The cat was found high (up) in the tree. • The airplane was high above the clouds. — opposite LOW d : having a specified height • The bush is six feet high. • a building 100 stories high • The grass was knee-high. [=the grass reached a person's knees] • waist-high water — see also SKY-HIGH e always used before a noun : rising above surrounding land • They have a home in the high country. • the high plains • The houses are built on high ground. — opposite LOW

2 a : greater than usual in amount, number, or degree • They were traveling at a high (rate of) speed. = They were traveling at high speed. • They reached speeds as high as 100 mph. • He's being treated for high blood pressure. • high cholesterol • a high fever • She earns a high salary. • high anxiety • high heat/humidity/temperatures • high interest rates • high intelligence • His books are in high demand. • We liked the house, but the price was too high. • He has received high praise for his efforts to help the homeless. • They are paying him a high compliment. — opposite LOW b : near or at the top of a range • Temperatures were in the high 80s. [=were around 87–89] — opposite LOW

3 a : very favorable • He holds you in high regard/esteem. = He has a high opinion of you. [=he thinks highly of you; he regards you favorably] • They started their trip with high hopes/expectations. [=they started their trip hoping/expecting that it would go well] • Hopes are high that the strike will be settled soon. • All the children were in high spirits [=were very happy and excited] on the last day of school. — opposite LOW b : very good • We manufacture products of high quality. • He got high marks/grades throughout college. • high morale • Our vacation ended on a high note. [=it ended in a pleasant or enjoyable way] • Our trip to the museum was the high point [=the most enjoyable part] of our vacation. — opposite LOW c : morally good • She is a woman of high character. • high ideals/principles • high standards of conduct — opposite LOW

4 : above others in power, importance, etc. • high officials = officials of high rank = high-ranking officials • The decision will be reviewed by a higher court. • Losing weight is a high priority for him. • He has friends in high places. [=he has friends who have power and influence] • He is high on the list of possible candidates for the job. [=he is considered to be a very good choice for the job] — opposite LOW

5 : not low in sound • a high voice : occurring near the top of the musical scale • a high note — opposite LOW

6 always used before a noun : very strong or forceful • high winds/explosives

7 : having qualities that appeal to intelligent people • high art • high comedy — opposite LOW

8 always used before a noun : filled with the most activity • The rates at the resort are more expensive during (the) high season. [=the season when it is most busy or popular] • The town is filled with tourists in high summer. [=in the middle of summer]

9 always used before a noun : of or relating to people who have and spend a lot of money on travel, good food, etc. : rich and luxurious • high society/living • the high life

10 : very exciting or intense • high adventure • The hostage crisis has provided many moments of high drama. [=many highly dramatic moments]

11 of a river, stream, etc. : rising farther up the banks than usual : having more water than usual • The river is high. — opposite LOW

12 not used before a noun, informal : intoxicated by alcohol or drugs • All he wanted to do was to get high. • He was as high as a kite. [=very high; very drunk or intoxicated] — often + on • He was high on cocaine.

come hell or high water see HELL

high and mighty informal 1 : having or showing the insulting attitude of people who believe that they are better or more important than other people • He's not so high and mighty now that he needs our help. • I can't stand her when she acts/gets (all) high and mighty like that. 2 the high and (the) mighty : people who are important and powerful • She likes to rub elbows with the high and mighty.

high in : containing a large amount of (something) • These vegetables are high in nitrogen. • a diet high in fiber high on US, informal : excited or enthusiastic about (someone or something) • The coach is very high on this new player. • Party leaders are high on her prospects.

in high dudgeon see DUDGEON

it's high time informal ♦ If it's high time to do something, it is time to do something that should have been done a long time ago. • It's high time we made some changes around here. • It's high time (that) you cleaned your room.

pay a high price see ¹PAY

to high heaven(s) see HEAVEN

synonyms HIGH, TALL, and LOFTY mean being above the usual level in height. HIGH is used for things and not people, and it refers to distance from the ground or some other surface. • A high fence surrounded the house. TALL is used for both people and things. • tall buildings • She is tall for her age. LOFTY is a literary word that is used for something that rises to a very great or impressive height. • lofty mountains

²high adv high·er; -est

1 : at or to a high place or level • The painter climbed high on the ladder. • The hawks were circling high in the air/sky. • The letters were stacked high on the table. • a high-flying airplane • If you want to be successful, you have to aim high. [=you have to be ambitious]

2 : at a high rate • Don't value yourself too high. [=highly] • a high-paid lawyer

3 : at a high price • buy low and sell high

4 informal : in a rich manner : in the manner of people who have and spend a lot of money • He is living pretty high.

be riding high see ¹RIDE

fly high see ¹FLY

high and dry : in a helpless position : without help or protection • The company suddenly went out of business and left its customers high and dry.

high and low : EVERYWHERE • They've searched/looked high and low for a new car that they can afford.

high off the hog or high on the hog US, informal : in a luxurious style • Those movie stars live pretty high off the hog.

hold your head (up) high see ¹HEAD

run high see ¹RUN

set the bar higher see ¹BAR

³high noun, pl highs

1 [count] : a high point or level • Oil prices reached a new high last winter. • an all-time/record high • She achieved a career high in points [=she scored more points than she ever had before] in last night's game. • The high [=the highest temperature] today was 75. • The forecast is for showers with highs in the 70s. • He talked about the highs and lows [=the good parts and bad parts] of his college years.

2 [noncount] US : a gear that is used for faster speeds of travel in a vehicle • He shifted into high. — called also (US) high gear

3 [count] informal : a state of intoxication produced by a drug • The high only lasted a few minutes.

4 [count] weather : an area of high atmospheric pressure • A strong high brought clear skies and warm temperatures.

from on high 1 a : from God or heaven • He claimed to have heard a voice from on high. b : from people with power or authority • orders from on high 2 : from a high place • We looked down from on high at the lush valley.

on a high informal : feeling happy and excited • He was on a high after receiving the promotion.

on high : in the sky : up above • the clouds on high : in heaven • the gods on high

high-ball /'haɪ,bɔ:l/ noun, pl -balls [count] US, somewhat old-fashioned : a drink of alcoholic liquor mixed with water or another liquid and served in a tall glass high beam noun, pl ~ beams US : the setting of a vehicle's headlights that makes the brightest light [noncount] The car's headlights were on high beam. [plural] Turn off your high beams. — called also (Brit) full beam; compare LOW BEAM high-born /'haɪ'boʊn/ adj, formal : born into a family with very high social status • a highborn lady high-brow /'haɪ,brau/ adj [more ~; most ~] often disapproving : interested in serious art, literature, ideas, etc. • The book was a popular success, but it was trashed by highbrow literary critics. : relating to or intended for people who are interested in serious art, literature, ideas, etc. • It's an art film that you can see only at highbrow theaters. — compare MIDDLEBROW, LOWBROW

— highbrow /'haɪ,brau/ noun, pl -brows [count] • The book is generally looked down upon by literary highbrows.

high chair noun, pl ~ chairs [count] : a child's chair that has long legs so that the child sits at the height of a dining table

high-class /'haɪ'klæs, Brit 'haɪ'kla:s/ adj high-er-class; high-est-class [also more ~; most ~] : very fancy, wealthy, or expensive • I felt out of place at such a high-class party. • a high-class neighborhood • The restaurant is trying to attract a higher-class clientele. — compare LOWER-CLASS high command noun [singular] : the most powerful and important leaders of an organization or military force • the Republican high command

High Court noun [singular] : SUPREME COURT

high day noun, pl ~ days [count] Brit : a day when a religious festival or holiday is observed : HOLY DAY — usually used in the phrase high days and holidays

high-definition adj, always used before a noun, of a television : having a very clear picture and a wide screen • a new high-definition TV — see also HDTV high-end /'haɪ'end/ adj high-er-end; high-est-end [also more ~; most ~] US : higher in price and of better quality than most others • He designs clothes that are available only at high-end [=upscale] boutiques and department stores. • This is a high-end camera with lots of extra features.

high-er /'haɪə/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : far above the ground • The forecast is for strong winds at higher elevations.

2 : located toward the north • in the higher latitudes

3 : above another or others in position, rank, or order • high-er and lower courts

4 : more advanced or developed • higher and lower animals higher education noun [noncount] : education or learning at a college or university • Students and their parents worry about the rising cost of higher education.

higher learning noun [noncount] : education or learning at a college or university • He founded a prestigious institution of higher learning. [=a college or university] higher power noun, pl ~ powers [count] : a spirit or being (such as God) that has great power, strength, knowledge, etc., and that can affect nature and the lives of people • belief in a higher power high-er-up /'haɪə'ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] informal : a person in an organization or government who has a lot of power and authority • Her hard work and clever ideas impressed the higher-ups and earned her a promotion.

high-fa-lu-tin /'haɪfə'lu:tn/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : seeming or trying to seem great or important • I enjoy the opera, but not all of the highfalutin [=pretentious] people it seems to attract. • a highfalutin way of talking

high fashion noun [noncount]

1 : the newest fashions that are usually bought by only a small number of people • boutiques that sell high fashion to the very wealthy

2 : HAUTE COUTURE

high fidelity noun [noncount] : the very good quality that some recorded sounds or copied images have — high-fidelity adj • high-fidelity [=hi-fi] recordings • high-fidelity sound • high-fidelity speakers high finance noun [noncount] : activities (such as buying companies and investing in stocks) that involve large amounts of money • the world of high finance high five noun, pl ~ fives [count] chiefly US, informal : a gesture in which you slap the palm of your hand against the palm of someone else's hand in the air usually to show that you are happy about a victory or accomplishment • People began cheering and giving each other high fives.

— high-five verb -fives; -fived; -fiv-ing US, informal [no obj] People were cheering and high-fiving when the election results were announced. [+ obj] People cheered and high-fived each other.

high-fli-er or high-fly-er /'haɪ'flaɪə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who is very successful or very determined to succeed in business, politics, etc. • young high-fliers in the computer industry high-flown /'haɪ'floun/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : using fancy words that are meant to sound important and impressive • Her books are filled with abstract ideas and high-flown language. • high-flown rhetoric high-fly-ing /'haɪ'flaɪn/ adj, always used before a noun [more ~; most ~]

1 : flying far above the ground • high-flying airplanes

2 : very successful or determined to succeed • a high-flying young executive • a high-flying company high gear noun [singular] US : ³HIGH 2 • She shifted the car into high gear.

in/into high gear : in or into a state of great or intense activity • The project is now in high gear. [= (Brit) top gear] • Fuel prices are expected to rise as the summer travel season kicks/moves into high gear.

high-grade /'haɪ'greɪd/ adj high-er-grade; high-est-grade

1 : of a very good quality • high-grade paper/steel

2 : medically serious : relating to a dangerous medical condition • a high-grade tumor/fever

high ground noun

the high ground : a position in which you have an advantage over others • They claim to have the (intellectual) high ground in this debate. [=they claim to have the (intellectually) better position] — often used in the phrase the moral high ground • These countries lost/ceded the moral high ground [=they stopped being morally better than others; they lost the right to consider themselves morally better than others] when they entered the war to protect their economic interests. • She believes she has the moral high ground on this issue. [=she believes her position on the issue is the morally correct one] high-hand-ed /'haɪ'hændəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not having or showing any interest in the rights, opinions, or feelings of other people • arrogant and high-handed public officials • She's notorious for her high-handed treatment of employees.

— high-hand-ed-ly adv • treating her employees high-handedly — high-hand-ed-ness noun [noncount]

high-heeled adj, always used before a noun, of a shoe or boot : having a tall heel • high-heeled pumps

high heels noun [plural] : women's shoes that have tall heels • For the party she wore a black silk dress and high heels. — see picture at SHOE

High Holiday noun, pl ~ -days [count] : either one of two important Jewish holidays: a : ROSH HASHANAH b : YOM KIPPUR

high horse noun [singular] informal ✧ If you are on a/your high horse, you are talking or behaving in a way that shows that you think you are better than other people or that you know more about something than other people do. • I'm not going to get up on a high horse and tell you that you're wrong for doing this. • Oh, climb/get (down) off your high horse. You don't know any more about it than the rest of us.

high jinks /'haɪ,dʒɪŋks/ noun [plural] : wild or playful behavior • It's a silly movie about adolescent high jinks.

high jump noun

be (in) for the high jump

Brit, informal : to be certain to be punished • If the boss finds out what we've done, we're (in) for the high jump! [=we're in for it; we're in trouble]

the high jump : an athletic event in which people compete by trying to jump over a bar high above the ground • He won the gold medal in the high jump.

high jump

— high jumper noun, pl ~ -ers [count]

high-land /'haɪlənd/ noun, pl -lands [count] : an area where there are many mountains or where the land is high above the level of the sea — usually plural • a home in the highlands • the Scottish Highlands [=the mountainous area in the northern part of Scotland] — compare LOWLAND

— highland adj, always used before a noun • a highland region/village — high-land-er /'haɪləndə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • rivalries between highlanders and lowlanders high-level /'haɪ'levəl/ adj, always used before a noun high-er-level; high-est-level : of great importance or high rank • These military secrets are known only to a few high-level government officials.

¹high-light /'haɪ,lait/ noun, pl -lights [count]

1 : something (such as an event or a detail) that is very interesting, exciting, or important : the best part of something • I missed the game, but I saw the highlights on the evening news. • The jazz concert was the highlight [=high point] of our trip. — compare LOWLIGHT

2 : a light spot or area • brown hair with (natural) gold highlights • She added highlights to her hair. [=she dyed parts of her hair a lighter color than the rest] • (technical) the highlights of a photograph/picture/painting

²highlight verb -lights; -light-ed; -light-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to make or try to make people notice or be aware of (someone or something) : to direct attention to (someone or something) • Unfortunately, the media insisted upon high-lighting his troubled past. • The speech highlighted [=emphasized] the importance of improving education in rural communities. b : to be a very interesting, exciting, or important part of (something) • Our trip was highlighted by a great jazz concert we attended.

2 : to mark (something, such as text) with a bright color • The students highlighted important vocabulary words in their textbooks. • Important names and dates in each chapter are highlighted. • (computers) Use your mouse to highlight the text that you want to revise.

high-light-er /'haɪ,laitə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a special pen with brightly colored ink that you can see through ✧ People use highlighters to mark parts of a page so that those parts will be easy to see.

high-ly /'haɪli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 a : to a great degree • She is one of the most highly respected journalists in the country. • This is a highly [=very] sensitive matter. • highly accomplished/successful • That idea seems highly [=extremely] unlikely to me. b : in an amount or number that is greater than usual : to a high degree • a highly paid [=high-paid] executive • highly priced items

2 : in an approving way : with approval • He speaks highly [=favorably] of you. • They regard her highly.

highly strung adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly Brit : HIGH-STRUNG high-mind-ed /'haɪ'maɪndəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing intelligence and a strong moral character • a high-minded person • high-minded intentions • a novel with high-minded themes

— high-mind-ed-ly adv • speaking high-mindedly — high-mind-ed-ness noun [noncount]

High-ness /'haɪnəs/ noun, pl -ness-es [count] — used as a title for a member of a royal family; used with his, her, or your • Her Highness the Queen • His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales • Your Highness

high noon noun [singular]

1 somewhat old-fashioned : exactly noon • The duel was to take place at high noon.

2 : the time when a fight or contest will happen or be decided • We are approaching high noon of the election campaign.

3 : the most important or active time of something • the high noon of her career high-octane adj

1 of engine fuel : of a good quality that allows an engine to run efficiently • high-octane gasoline

2 informal : very powerful, strong, or effective • high-octane football • high-octane coffee [=coffee that contains a lot of caffeine]

high performance adj, always used before a noun : better, faster, or more efficient than others • high performance cars/airplanes/boats • high performance running shoes high-pitched /'haɪ'pɪtʃt/ adj high-er-pitched; high-est-pitched [also more ~; most ~] : making a high sound : HIGH • She has a high-pitched voice. • The car's brakes produced a high-pitched squeal.

high-pow-ered /'haɪ'pawəd/ also high-pow-er /'haɪ'pawə/ adj

1 of a person : very successful, important, and powerful • a high-powered executive

2 : very energetic or forceful • a high-powered performance by a rock musician

3 of a machine or device : very powerful • high-powered computers • high-power lasers

high-pressure adj, always used before a noun

1 : using or involving forceful methods to sell something • a high-pressure salesman • high-pressure sales tactics

2 [more ~; most ~] : causing or involving a lot of mental or emotional stress : very stressful • She has a high-pressure job on Wall Street. • the high-pressure world of advertising

3 a : having or using a lot of force or pressure from air, water, etc. • a high-pressure hose • gas stored in a high-pressure container b of weather : having a high atmospheric pressure • A high-pressure system will bring us better weather later this week. • a high-pressure center/area high priest noun, pl ~ priests [count]

1 informal : a person (especially a man) who is a leader in a particular profession, subject, etc. — often + of • the high priest of psychotherapy • the high priest of horror fiction

2 : an important priest in some religions

high priestess noun, pl ~ -esses [count]

1 informal : a woman who is a leader in a particular profession, subject, etc. — often + of • a high priestess of the civil rights movement • the high priestess of the blues

2 : an important priestess in some religions

high-profile adj [more ~; most ~] : attracting a lot of attention in newspapers, on television, etc. • a high-profile legal case • a high-profile athlete • She has a very high-profile job.

high-ranking adj, always used before a noun high-er-ranking; high-est-ranking : having a high rank or position • high-ranking officials high-rise /'haɪ'raɪz/ adj, always used before a noun

1 of a building : very tall : having many floors or stories • a high-rise apartment building

2 : made up of high-rise buildings • a high-rise district

— high rise noun, pl ~ rises [count] • My apartment is in the high rise on the corner.

high-risk adj

1 : likely to result in failure, harm, or injury : having a lot of risk • a high-risk [=dangerous] activity • high-risk investments

2 : more likely than others to get a particular disease, condition, or injury • high-risk patients • patients in the high-risk group high road noun, pl ~ roads [count] old-fashioned : a main road

the high road 1 chiefly US : a morally proper way of doing something • Several local news programs reported the rumor, but the city newspaper took the high road [=behaved properly] and waited to see if anyone could confirm the story. 2 : an easy way to do something • The book claims to teach the high road to financial success.

high roller noun, pl ~ -ers [count] informal

1 : a rich person who spends a lot of money • a high roller known for his lavish parties

2 : a person who gambles large amounts of money • The casino offers special deals to attract high rollers.

high school noun, pl ~ schools

1 [count, noncount] : a school in the U.S. and Canada for older children • She's in high school. = She goes to high school. = She attends high school. • He graduated from Manchester High School. — often used before another noun • the high school track team • high-school students ✧ Children in the U.S. and Canada attend high school for their last three or usually four years of schooling before possibly going to a college or university. — compare ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL, MIDDLE SCHOOL

2 [singular] — used in the U.K. in the names of secondary schools • She sat A levels at Slough High School for Girls.

high schooler noun, pl ~ -ers [count] US : a high-school student high seas noun [plural] : the open part of a sea or ocean : the part of a sea or ocean that is away from land • The ship was attacked on the high seas.

high-security adj, always used before a noun : carefully locked, protected, or guarded • a high-security prison/facility

High Sheriff noun, pl ~ -iffs [count] Brit : SHERIFF 2

high-sound-ing /'haɪ'saʊndɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : using words that are meant to sound important and impressive • high-sounding rhetoric/language

high-speed /'haɪ'spiːd/ adj

1 : designed to go or move very fast • high-speed trains

2 : going or moving very fast • The robbers led the police on a high-speed chase. • a high-speed Internet connection high-spir-it-ed /'haɪ'spɪrətəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : full of energy or enthusiasm : LIVELY • a high-spirited group of school children • She gave a high-spirited performance.

— high-spir-it-ed-ness noun [noncount]

high street noun, pl ~ streets [count] Brit : a town's main street where there are many shops, banks, etc. • 74 High Street — often used before another noun • high street shops/retailers high-strung /'haɪ'strʌŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly US : very nervous or easily upset • stories of high-strung performers who place unreasonable demands on the people who work with them • Dogs of this breed are often high-strung. [= (chiefly Brit) highly strung]

high-tail /'haɪ,teɪl/ verb -tails; -tailed; -tail-ing

hightail it US, informal : to leave a place as quickly as possible • When we heard the night watchman, we hightailed it out of there as quick as we could.

high tea noun, pl ~ teas [count, noncount] chiefly Brit : an early evening meal at which tea and often cold meat and sandwiches are usually served high-tech also hi-tech /'haɪ'tek/ adj [more ~; most ~] : relating to or using new electronic devices and technology • high-tech devices/materials • high-tech solutions • high-tech businesses • The methods they use are very high-tech.

high tech also hi-tech noun [noncount] : HIGH TECHNOLOGY high technology noun [noncount] : the use or creation of new scientific methods or materials especially when they involve computers or electronic devices • advances in high technology • This region has become a center of high technology. — often used before another noun • high-technology [= high-tech] products/industries high-tension adj, always used before a noun : having or using a very powerful flow of electricity : HIGH-VOLTAGE • high-tension wires

high-test adj : HIGH-OCTANE • high-test fuel • high-test vodka

high tide noun, pl ~ tides [count, noncount] : the tide when the water is at its highest level • At high tide the water covers the rocks completely. — sometimes used figuratively • He became involved in social issues at the high tide of the civil rights movement. [= at the most active and important time of the civil rights movement] — compare LOW TIDE

high-toned /'haɪ,təʊnd/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly US

1 : having a high moral or intellectual tone or quality • a high-toned movie/play • high-toned moral themes

2 : HIGH-SOUNDING • high-toned phrases

high-top /'haɪ,tɒp/ adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US, of a shoe or sneaker : extending up over the ankle • high-top sneakers

— high-tops /'haɪ,tɒps/ noun [plural] • The kids wore jeans and high-tops. [= high-top sneakers] high treason noun [noncount] : TREASON • The conspirators were hanged for high treason.

high-up noun, pl ~ -ups [count] Brit : HIGHER-UP high-volt-age /'haɪ'vɒltɪdʒ/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : having or using a very powerful flow of electricity • high-voltage wires

2 [more ~; most ~] : having or showing a lot of energy • a high-voltage [= dynamic, electric] performance/performer high water noun

come hell or high water see HELL

high-water mark noun, pl ~ marks [count]

1 : the time when something is most active, successful, etc. : PEAK • It was the high-water mark of her career.

2 : the highest level that water from a river, ocean, etc., reaches especially during a flood high-way /'haɪ,weɪ/ noun, pl ~ -ways [count] chiefly US : a main road that connects cities, towns, etc. • I had heard there was a traffic jam on the highway, so I took the side roads. — compare EXPRESSWAY, FREEWAY, INTERSTATE high-way-man /'haɪ,weɪmən/ noun, pl ~ -men /-mən/ [count] : a man especially in the past who stopped travelers on roads and robbed them highway robbery noun [noncount] US, informal : the practice of charging a price that is very high and usually unfair for something • Charging that much to see a movie is highway robbery!

high wire noun, pl ~ wires [count] : a rope or wire on which a performer walks and does tricks high up in the air to entertain people especially as part of a circus : a high tight-rope — usually singular • walking/performing on the high wire — often used before another noun • a high-wire act [= a circus performance on a high wire] — sometimes used figuratively to refer to something that is difficult or dangerous • The company is walking a financial high wire. [= behaving in a financially risky way] • a financial high-wire act

hi-jack /'haɪ,dʒæk/ verb -jacks; -jacked; -jack-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to stop and steal (a moving vehicle) • He hijacked a truck, threatening the driver at gunpoint. b : to steal (something) from a moving vehicle that you have stopped • A band of robbers hijacked the load of furs from the truck.

2 : to take control of (an aircraft) by force • A group of terrorists hijacked the plane.

3 : to take or take control of (something) for your own purposes • The organization has been hijacked by radicals.

— hijack noun, pl ~ -jacks [count] • recent airline hijacks

— hi-jack-er noun, pl ~ -ers [count] • airline hijackers

— hijacking noun, pl ~ -ings [count] • recent airline hijackings

¹hike /'haɪk/ verb hikes; hiked; hik-ing

1 : to walk a long distance especially for pleasure or exercise : to go on a hike [no obj] We spent the afternoon hiking around the lake. • She hiked 10 miles in the hot desert sun. • We hiked (up) to the camp. [+ obj] We hiked some of the shorter trails. • Our neighbors spent their vacation hiking the Rockies.

2 [+ obj] : to suddenly increase the cost, amount, or level of (something) • The state keeps hiking the tax on cigarettes. • There's talk of hiking the eligibility age.

3 [+ obj] : to pull or lift (something, such as yourself or part of your clothing) with a quick movement • I hiked myself onto the ledge. — usually + up • She hiked up her long skirt and stepped over the hedge.

4 [+ obj] American football : to pass (the ball) back to the quarterback at the start of a play : SNAP • The center hiked the ball too soon, and the quarterback fumbled.

— hik-er noun, pl ~ -ers [count] • The hikers wandered away from the trail and got lost. — hiking adj • hiking boots — hiking noun [noncount] • My hobbies include hiking and photography. • Our neighbors like to go hiking in the mountains.

²hike noun, pl hikes [count]

1 : a usually long walk especially for pleasure or exercise • We went for a hike around the lake. • a 10-mile hike

2 : a usually sudden increase in the cost, level, or amount of something • The school lost a number of students after the tuition hike. • a price/tax/wage hike

take a hike US, informal + impolite — used in speech as an angry way of telling someone to leave

hi-lar-i-ous /'hɪ'ləriəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very funny • Some people don't like his comedy, but I think he's hilarious.

• She gave us a hilarious account of her first days as a teacher. • a hilarious comedy

— hi-lar-i-ous-ly adv • a hilariously irreverent comedy

hi-lar-i-ty /hɪ'lərəti/ noun [noncount] : noisy fun or laughter

• My attempt to carve the turkey was a source of great hilarity at the dinner table.

hill /hɪl/ noun, pl hills

1 [count] : a usually rounded area of land that is higher than the land around it but that is not as high as a mountain • She watched the sun set behind the hills. • The house was built at the very top of the hill.

2 [count] : an area of sloping ground on a road, path, etc. • Our driveway is a long, steep hill. • He came barreling down the hill at 65 miles per hour.

3 [count] : a pile of something : HEAP, MOUND • The plows came and cleared the streets, forming a hill of snow on the street corner.

4 the Hill US, informal — used to refer to the U.S. Congress • a proposed new law that is being debated on the Hill [=on Capitol Hill]

a hill of beans chiefly US, informal : something that has little or no value — used in negative statements • These proposals don't amount to a hill of beans. = These proposals aren't worth a hill of beans. [=these proposals have no value; they are useless]

over the hill informal : old and no longer successful, attractive, etc. • an athlete who's over the hill • an over-the-hill actor hill-bil-ly /hɪl,bɪli/ noun, pl -lies [count] US, usually disapproving : a person who lives in the country far away from cities and who is often regarded as someone who lacks education, who is stupid, etc. • Other kids called her a hillbilly because of her accent and her simple clothes.

hillbilly music noun [noncount] US : COUNTRY MUSIC

hill-ock /hɪlək/ noun, pl -ocks [count] : a small hill

hill-side /hɪl,sɑɪd/ noun, pl -sides [count] : the side of a hill • Streams of rainwater rushed down the hillside. — often used before another noun • a hillside neighborhood

hill-top /hɪl,tɒp/ noun, pl -tops [count] : the top of a hill • They built their house on a hilltop. — often used before another noun • a hilltop view • a hilltop town hilly /hɪli/ adj hill-i-er; -est : having many hills • hilly terrain • hilly roads.

— hill-i-ness noun [noncount]

hilt /hɪlt/ noun, pl hilts [count] : the handle of a sword or dagger to the hilt : as much as possible : to the greatest possible limit or extent • The farm was mortgaged (up) to the hilt. • She played the role to the hilt.

him /hɪm, ɪm/ pronoun, objective form of HE

1 — used to refer to a certain man, boy, or male animal as the object of a verb or preposition • I hadn't heard from my brother in a while, so I gave him a call. • Do you know him? • His mother punished him for hitting his little sister. • I often play basketball with him.

2 — used to indicate either a male or female object of a verb or preposition in general statements or when the sex of the person is unknown • If any student misbehaves, send him to the office. ♢ This use of him was common in the past but is now often avoided because it is considered sexist.

him-self /hɪm'self/ pronoun

1 : that same man, boy, or male animal: a — used as the object of a verb or preposition to refer to a man, boy, or male animal that has already been mentioned • He accidentally cut himself while shaving. • He bought himself a new wallet. = He bought a new wallet for himself. • He doesn't consider himself old. = He doesn't think of himself as (being) old. • The cat washed himself. • He wrote a note to himself. • He had the house (all) to himself. [=he was alone in the house] • "It's almost morning," he said to himself. • He wanted to see it for himself. [=he wanted to see it rather than have someone tell him about it, describe it to him, etc.] b — used for emphasis to refer again to a man, boy, or male animal that has already been mentioned • He told me himself that he was broke. = He himself told me (that) he was broke. • He reminded them that he was young once himself. • The proposal was made by the governor himself. • The composer himself conducted the symphony.

2 : that same person — used to indicate either a male or female object of a verb or preposition • Everyone must fend for himself. [=all people must fend for themselves] ♢ This use of himself was common in the past but is now often avoided because it is considered sexist.

3 : his normal or healthy self • After a good night's sleep, he felt like himself again. • He's not himself today; something must be bothering him. • He was nervous about meeting them, but I told him to just be himself. [=to behave like he normally does] by himself 1 : without any help from other people • He shoveled the driveway by himself. • He did his homework (all) by himself. 2 : with nobody else : ALONE • He lives in the house by himself. • He likes to travel by himself.

every man for himself see ¹MAN

¹hind /haɪnd/ adj, always used before a noun : at or near the back of something • The dog stood on his hind [=rear] legs, begging for food.

²hind noun, pl hinds [count] chiefly Brit : a female deer : DOE; especially : a female red deer — compare HART hin-der /hɪndə/ verb -ders; -dered; -der-ing [+ obj] : to make (something, such as a task or action) slow or difficult • Their journey was hindered [=impeded, slowed] by snow and high winds. • The witness refused to cooperate, hindering the investigation. • The country's economic growth is being hindered by the sanctions. • It's not clear whether the change will help or hinder our project.

hinder from [phrasal verb] hinder (someone or something) from (something) : to stop (someone) from (doing something) • Financial troubles hindered [=prevented] him from going on the trip. • Unfortunately, her ignorance has never hindered [=stopped] her from giving her opinion.

Hin-di /hɪndi/ noun [singular] : an official language of India — Hindi adj • Hindi grammar hind-quar-ter /haɪnd,kwɔətə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : the back left or right part of the body of an animal with four feet — usually plural • the dog's/horse's hindquarters

hin-drance /hɪndrəns/ noun, pl -drances

1 [count] : a person or thing that makes a situation difficult : a person or thing that hinders someone or something • She wanted to sign up for the class, but the cost was a hindrance. [=the class cost too much] • Is my presence here a help or a hindrance? — often + to • I'm afraid you're more of a hindrance to me than a help at this point. • These sanctions are a hindrance to the country's economic growth.

2 [noncount] : the act of making it difficult for someone to act or for something to be done : the act of hindering someone or something • He should be allowed to live where he chooses without hindrance. = (chiefly Brit) He should be allowed to live where he chooses without let or hindrance.

hind-sight /haɪnd,sɑɪt/ noun [noncount] : the knowledge and understanding that you have about an event only after it has happened • It's easy for us to say that the war was wrong, but we have the advantage/benefit of hindsight. • In hindsight, it's clear that there were alternatives. = With hindsight, we clearly see that there were alternatives. — see also twenty-twenty hindsight at TWENTY-TWENTY

Hin-du /hɪn,du:/ noun, pl -dus [count] : a follower of Hinduism

— Hindu adj • Hindu philosophy • They are Hindu. [=they are Hindus]

Hin-du-ism /hɪn,du:,ɪzəm/ noun [singular] : the main religion of India which includes the worship of many gods and the belief that after you die you return to life in a different form

¹hinge /hɪndʒ/ noun, pl hing-es [count] : a usually metal piece that attaches a door, gate, or cover to something and allows it to open and close — see picture at DOOR

²hinge verb hinges; hinged; hing-ing [+ obj] : to attach (a door, gate, or cover) by hinges — usually used as (be) hinged • a storage trunk with a hinged lid hinge on also hinge upon [phrasal verb] hinge on/upon (something) : to be determined or decided by (something) : to depend on (something) • The outcome of the election hinges on how the candidates perform in the debate.

¹hint /hɪnt/ noun, pl hints [count]

1 : a small piece of information that helps you guess an answer or do something more easily • I can't tell you the answer, but I'll give you a hint. [=clue] • The book includes helpful hints [=tips] for inexperienced cooks.

2 : information about something given in an indirect way • Her face gave me a hint of what she was thinking.; especially : a statement that suggests something that you do not want to say in a direct way • He's been dropping hints that he'd like to be invited to the party. [=he has been saying things that show that he wants to be invited] • When she told me how much work she had to do, I got/took the hint [=I understood what she was suggesting] and left. • “I have a lot of work to do.” “OK, I’ll leave. I can take a hint.”

3 : a very small amount of something • The sauce has a subtle hint of garlic. • It was late March, but there was still a hint [=trace] of winter in the air. • He had a hint of a German accent. • They’ll betray you at the first hint of trouble.

2 hint verb hints; hint-ed; hint-ing : to say (something) or give information about (something) in an indirect way [+ obj] — usually + that • He’s been hinting that he might run for mayor. [no obj] I keep hinting, but she’s not catching on. I think I need to be more direct. • The boss hinted about possible layoffs.

hint at [phrasal verb] hint at (something) : to talk about (something) in an indirect way • He’s been hinting at the possibility of running for mayor. = He’s been hinting at a mayoral run. • The history textbook only hinted at the racial prejudice of that era. • What is she hinting at?

hin·ter·land /ˈhɪntərlænd/ noun, pl -lands [count] : an area that is not close to any cities or towns : a remote region • a/the rural hinterland ♦ Hinterland is usually singular in British English but is often plural in U.S. English. • She had grown up in the city and knew nothing of life in the hinterlands.

1 hip /hɪp/ noun, pl hips [count] : the part of your body between your waist and legs on each side • She stood with her hands on her hips. — see picture at HUMAN joined at the hip informal — used to describe two people who are often or usually together • She and her sister used to be joined at the hip [=inseparable] when they were kids.

shoot from the hip see 1 SHOOT

— compare 2 HIP

— hipped /hɪpt/ adj • a wide-hipped woman [=a woman with wide hips]

2 hip noun, pl hips [count] : ROSE HIP — compare 1 HIP

3 hip adj hip-per; hip-pest [also more ~; most ~] informal

1 : knowing about and following the newest styles, fashions, etc. • He tried to learn about the latest bands so he could impress his hip new college friends.

2 : very popular or fashionable • She knows how to get into all of the hippest clubs and restaurants.

hip to informal : aware of (something) • He’s hip to what’s going on in the jazz world.

— hip-ness /ˈhɪpnəs/ noun [noncount]

4 hip interj — used in a cheer • Hip, hip, hooray!

hip bone noun, pl ~ bones [count] : the large bone between your waist and your legs that has sides that spread outward to form the hips — see picture at HUMAN

hip flask noun, pl ~ flasks [count] : FLASK 1

hip-hop /ˈhɪp,hɑ:p/ noun [noncount] : rap music • I listen to hip-hop and reggae. • a hip-hop artist; also : the culture associated with rap music

hip-pie also hip-py /ˈhɪpi/ noun, pl -pies [count] : a usually young person who rejects established social customs (such as by dressing in an unusual way or living in a commune) and who opposes violence and war; especially : a young person of this kind in the 1960s and 1970s • longhaired hippies • draft-dodging hippies • She used to be a hippie, but she’s fairly conservative now. • an old/aging hippie [=an old person who still lives like the hippies of the 1960s and 1970s] • The band appeals to a new generation of hippies. — often used before another noun • the hippie generation/movement • my hippie days [=the time when I was a hippie]

hip-po /ˈhɪpou/ noun, pl -pos [count] somewhat informal : HIPPOPOTAMUS

hip-po-pot-a-mus /ˌhɪpəˈpɑ:təməs/ noun, pl -mus-es or -mi /-,maɪ/ [count] : a large African animal that has an extremely large head and mouth and short legs and that spends most of its time in water

hip-ster /ˈhɪpstə/ noun, pl -sters [count] informal : a person who follows the latest styles, fashions, etc. : a hip person • a movie that appeals equally to hipsters and suburbanites

1 hire /ˈhajə/ verb hires; hired; hir-ing

1 a chiefly US : to give work or a job to (someone) in exchange for wages or a salary [+ obj] She had very little office experience, so the company wouldn’t hire her. • a hired hand/worker • We hired someone to clean the office once a week. [no obj] The company isn’t hiring right now. b [+ obj] : to use or get the services of (someone) to do a particular job • You should hire [= (more formally) employ] a lawyer to look over the contract.

2 [+ obj] chiefly Brit : to pay to use (something) : RENT • hire a hall • a hired car hire out [phrasal verb] 1 hire out (something) or hire (something) out chiefly Brit : to allow someone to use (something) in exchange for money • The hotel hires out [=rents out] boats to guests. 2 hire out or hire (yourself) out US, informal : to take a job : to work for wages or a salary • She hired out as a cook. • He’s a teacher most of the year, but in the summer he hires himself out as a tour guide.

— hiring noun [noncount] • Who’s in charge of the hiring and firing of the office staff? • the company’s hiring practices

2 hire noun, pl hires

1 [count] US, informal : someone who has been hired for a job • The company has a few new hires.

2 [noncount] Brit : RENTAL • The hire of a car and other equipment will of course incur a supplementary charge. • a car-hire firm — often used before another noun • a hire car [=a car that is or can be rented; a rental car] for hire 1 a : available to be used in exchange for money • They have boats (available) for hire. [=for rent] b : available to do work in exchange for money • Several people in the neighborhood responded to the “gardener for hire” signs she posted. 2 : in exchange for money • He says he’ll do farm work for hire.

on hire chiefly Brit : kept to be used by people in exchange for money • The boats are on hire to the guests from the management.

hired gun noun, pl ~ guns [count] chiefly US

1 : a person who is paid to kill someone

2 : a person who is hired to do a specific job and especially one that some people consider to be morally wrong • business executives and the hired guns they pay to polish their images hire-ling /ˈhajəlɪŋ/ noun, pl -lings [count] disapproving : a person who is paid for doing a job that is not respected or that is considered morally wrong • She’s one of the political hirelings who run the candidate’s campaign.

hire purchase noun [noncount] Brit : INSTALLMENT PLAN • They bought the furniture on hire purchase.

hir·sute /ˈhəːsu:t, Brit ˈhəːsju:t/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal + often humorous : having a lot of hair especially on the face or body : HAIRY • his hirsute chest

1 his /ˈhɪz, ɪz/ adj, always used before a noun, possessive form of HE

1 : relating to or belonging to a certain man, boy, or male animal • He bought his own house. • His house is out in the country. • What is his name? • He sat quietly at his desk. : made or done by a certain man, boy, or male animal • I would like to read some of his essays. • He was jailed for three years for his crime. • It’s his turn to play.

2 — used to refer to a person of either sex in general statements or when the sex of the person is unknown • Each student should do his own work. [=each student should do his or her own work; all students should do their own work] ♦ This use of his was common in the past but is now often avoided because it is considered sexist.

2 his /ˈhɪz/ pronoun

1 : that which belongs to or is connected with him : his one : his ones • The book is his. [=the book belongs to him; it is his book] • My eyes are blue and his are brown. • The red car is mine; his is the green one. • Are you a friend of his? [=are you his friend?] • That face of his [=his face] is hard to forget. 2 Brit, informal : his home • Let’s go back to his [=his place] after the show.

His·pan·ic /hɪˈspænɪk/ adj : coming originally from an area where Spanish is spoken and especially from Latin America • Hispanic people; also : of or relating to Hispanic people • Hispanic culture

— Hispanic noun, pl -ics [count]

1 hiss /ˈhɪs/ noun, pl hiss-es [count] : a sound like a long “s” • The air escaped from the balloon with a hiss. • the hiss of a snake • the boos and hisses of the audience

2 hiss verb hisses; hissed; hiss-ing

1 [no obj] : to produce a sound like a long “s” : to make a hiss • The radiator hissed as it let off steam. • a hissing noise 2 : to show that you dislike or disapprove of someone (such as a performer or speaker) by making a hiss [no obj] The audience booed and hissed (at him) when he came on stage. [+ obj] The audience hissed him off the stage.

3 [+ obj] : to say (something) in a loud or angry whisper • “Leave me alone!” he hissed.

hissy fit /ˈhɪsi-/ noun, pl ~ fits [count] informal : an uncontrolled expression of strong emotion : FIT • She threw/had a hissy fit [=she became very angry and upset] when I told her she couldn't go.

his·ta·mine /'hɪstə,mɪ:n/ noun, pl -mines [count] medical : a chemical substance in the body that causes the symptoms that people experience when they are allergic to something — compare ANTIHISTAMINE

his·to·ri·an /hɪ'stɒrɪjən/ noun, pl -ans [count] : a person who studies or writes about history • a military historian

his·tor·ic /hɪ'stɒrɪk/ adj

1 a [more ~; most ~] : famous or important in history • a/an historic event • historic landmarks b [more ~; most ~] : having great and lasting importance • It's wonderful to see so many people here on this historic occasion. • She returned safely from her historic flight into space. • The court made a historic decision last week. c : happening or existing in the past • historic interest rates • They know of many historic volcanic eruptions in the area. d : considered in comparison with the past • Unemployment is at a historic low. [=an all-time low; the rate of unemployment is lower than it has ever been]

2 : of or relating to history or the past : HISTORICAL • the historic importance of the river • historic artifacts/relics

his·tor·i·cal /hɪ'stɒrɪkəl/ adj

1 : of or relating to history • He strove for historical accuracy in the movie. • historical research/facts • a historical museum [=a museum that shows objects relating to the history of a place] • a historical society [=a group of people who work to preserve the history of a place]

2 : based on history • a/an historical novel [=a novel that tells a story about events and people in the past] • historical fiction

3 : arranged in the order that things happened or came to be : CHRONOLOGICAL • The kings are listed in historical order.

— his·tor·i·cal·ly /hɪ'stɒrɪkli/ adv • The movie is not historically accurate. • historically significant events • Historically [=in the past], the school has had a strong sports program.

his·to·ry /'hɪstəri/ noun, pl -ries

1 [noncount] : the study of past events • I studied history in college. • a professor of medieval/American history — see also NATURAL HISTORY

2 [noncount] a : events of the past • They were one of the greatest teams in history. • the dawn of recorded history [=the beginning of the time when important events in the past were written down] • These problems have occurred throughout (human) history. • It was one of the most destructive storms in modern/recent history. • It was a period in American history when most people lived and worked on farms. • Her discoveries have earned her a place in history. [=she will be remembered in the future because of her discoveries] • How will history judge the policies of the current administration? [=how will the policies be regarded in the future?] • History has shown that such attempts have always failed. [=such attempts have always failed in the past] • They believe that they will succeed because history is on their side [=because other people have succeeded in the past in similar situations] • You can't rewrite history. [=you can't change what has happened in the past] • A talent scout spotted her behind the counter at a soda fountain and the rest is history. [=the rest of the story about her success is well-known] • They won the championship last year. Will history repeat itself this year? [=will the same thing happen again?]

b : past events that relate to a particular subject, place, organization, etc. • He gave us a tour of the building and told us about the company's history. [=about how the company began and how it has developed over time] • The company has been successful throughout its history. [=throughout the entire time of its existence] • Nothing like this has occurred before in the company's 20-year history. [=in the 20 years that the company has existed] • There is quite a bit of history [=much has happened] in this old house. • The history of space exploration is a fascinating topic. • The school can trace its history back to the early 19th century. [=the school has existed since the early 19th century]

3 [count] : a written record of important events that have happened since the beginning of something • He wrote a well-known history of the British empire. • The book begins with a brief/short history of the Internet.

4 [count] : an established record of past events, actions, etc. — usually singular • The patient has no (prior) history of heart problems. [=she has not had heart problems in the past] • The prisoner has a history of violence. [=the prisoner has been violent in the past] • a patient's medical history [=a record of past medical problems and treatments] • a worker's employment history [=a record of jobs that a worker has had] • It's hard to buy a car if you don't have any credit history. [=if you have not borrowed and repaid money in the past] • They have a family history of heart disease. [=many people in their family have suffered from heart disease in the past]

5 [noncount] informal : someone or something that is finished • Their winning streak was history. [=their winning streak was finished/over] • His boss told him that if he was late one more time, he would be history. [=he would be fired]

ancient history see ANCIENT

go down in history : to be remembered as a very important person or event • The discovery of the structure of DNA will go down in history.

make history : to do something that is very important or famous and that will be remembered as part of history • They made history by discovering the structure of DNA.

his·tri·on·ic /,hɪstri'ɑ:nɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : too emotional or dramatic • histrionic behavior/gestures — his·tri·on·i·cal·ly /,hɪstri'ɑ:nɪkli/ adv

his·tri·on·ics /,hɪstri'ɑ:nɪks/ noun [plural] disapproving : behavior that is too emotional or dramatic : histrionic behavior • a tennis player known for his histrionics on the court • He told the story simply, without any histrionics.

¹hit /'hɪt/ verb hits; hit; hit·ting

1 a : to move your hand, a bat, etc., quickly so that it touches someone or something in a forceful or violent way [+ obj] She told her son to stop hitting his sister. • She hit him hard with her purse. • He hit the fence with a stick. = He hit a stick against/on the fence. • The boxers hit each other with their fists. [no obj] The boxers were hitting furiously at each other. b [+ obj] : to cause (something, such as a ball) to move by hitting it forcefully with a bat, racket, etc. • He hit a fast-ball (over the fence) for a home run. • She hit the ball right to the shortstop. c : to touch (something or someone) in a forceful or violent way after moving at a high speed [+ obj] The ball hit the house. • The plate shattered when it hit the floor. • The tank was hit by enemy fire. • He was hit by a car. • The ship hit an iceberg. [no obj] The plate shattered when it hit. d [+ obj] : to cause or allow (something, such as part of your body) to touch something in a forceful or violent way • I accidentally hit my head on/against the side of the door while I was getting into the car. • She hit her elbow on the edge of the table.

2 a [+ obj] : to attack (something or someone) • Our plan is to hit the enemy before they can hit us. b : to affect (something or someone) in a harmful or damaging way [+ obj] The ship was hit by a sudden storm. • A powerful earthquake hit the city. • Many families have been hit hard by the layoffs. = Many families have been hard hit by the layoffs. [=many families have been badly affected/hurt by the layoffs] • If you really want to teach your son a lesson you should hit him where it hurts and take away his cell phone. [no obj] Many people were unprepared when the storm hit. • The layoffs have hit hard here.

3 [+ obj] a : to come to (something) by chance or accident while you are moving • We hit a west wind coming out of port. • I was late because I hit a traffic jam on the way over. b : to begin to have or experience (problems, trouble, etc.) • The project went smoothly at first, but then we started to hit [=encounter] some problems.

4 [+ obj] informal : to become suddenly or completely clear to (someone) : STRIKE • It suddenly hit [=occurred to] me that I was doing something wrong. [=I suddenly realized that I was doing something wrong] • The importance of the victory hasn't really hit her yet. • I was just about to give up when the solution hit me. • When you meet him, the first thing that hits you [=the first thing that you notice] is his air of confidence. • The smell hit me [=I noticed the smell] as soon as I opened the door.

5 [+ obj] : to get or come to (a goal, level, etc.) : REACH • He hit 100 mph on his motorcycle. • They expect the temperature to hit 90 this afternoon. • Sales hit $100 million last year alone. • Gold prices hit an all-time high last week. • a singer who can hit the high notes • He kept digging until he hit [=struck] water. • The stock market hit bottom [=reached an extremely low point] • (informal) Next year he'll hit the big four-oh/five-oh [=turn 40/50 years of age]

6 [+ obj] informal : to arrive or appear at, in, or on (a place) • We hit [=went to] the beach nearly every day this summer. • They got up early and headed out to hit the (ski) slopes. [=to go skiing] • The magazine's new issue hits newsstands tomorrow. [=the new issue becomes available on newsstands tomorrow] • The new product should hit the shelves/market soon. = The new product should hit stores soon. [=the new product should be available in stores soon] • These new illegal drugs only recently hit the street [=became available for illegal purchase]

7 [+ obj] informal a : to turn (something) on or off with a switch • Could someone please hit the lights? b : to move (a switch) to an on or off position • The lights came on when she hit the switch c : to push down on (the brake pedal or accelerator in a vehicle) in a sudden and forceful way • I had to hit the brakes hard to avoid an accident. • She suddenly hit the accelerator and sped away. = (US) She suddenly hit the gas and sped away.

8 a : to succeed in hitting (something aimed at) with a shot, throw, etc. [+ obj] hit the bull's-eye • hit the target — sometimes used figuratively • Her criticism really hit the mark [=her criticism was very accurate] • [no obj] The first shot hit but the second shot missed. b [+ obj] : to succeed in making (a shot) • She hit [=made, sank] 40 percent of her shots last season. • She hit her first basket but then missed the next one. c [+ obj] : to succeed in making a pass to (another player) • The quarterback hit the wide receiver (with a pass) for a touchdown.

9 a [no obj] : to try to hit the ball with a bat in baseball, cricket, or a similar game • It's your turn to hit. [=bat] b [+ obj] : to produce (a home run, a ground ball, etc.) by batting • He hit 30 home runs last year. • He hit a ground ball to the shortstop. • She hit a double to left field. c [no obj] : to have a specified batting average • This year he's hitting [=batting] .300. [=his batting average is .300] d : to hit the pitches thrown by (a pitcher) [+ obj] He has hit this pitcher well/poorly in the past. [no obj] He has hit well/poorly against this pitcher in the past.

10 not used in progressive tenses [+ obj] informal : to deal another card to (a player in blackjack) • Hit me. [=deal another card to me]

hit a nerve see NERVE

hit a/the wall see ¹WALL

hit back [phrasal verb] : to attack or criticize someone who has attacked or criticized you • If you hit me, I'll hit back. • The team hit back with a touchdown of their own. — often + at • The Senator hit back at his critics.

hit home see ²HOME

hit it informal — used to tell a group of musicians to begin playing • Hit it, boys! [=let's begin playing music]

hit it big or hit big see BIG hit it off informal : to become friends : to get along well • The two of them hit it off (with each other) immediately. • Though we work together, we've never really hit it off.

hit on/upon [phrasal verb] 1 hit on (someone) US, informal : to talk to (someone) in order to try to start a sexual relationship • She's always being/getting hit on at the gym. • Some drunk at the bar was hitting on her. 2 hit on/upon (something) : to succeed in finding (something, such as a solution) • She thought about the problem for days before she finally hit on a solution. • He hit on a new way to do things. • We hit upon the answer accidentally.

hit out at [phrasal verb] hit out at (someone) informal : to make an angry attack against (someone) • The singer hit out at [= (more commonly) lashed out at] her critics.

hit someone for six see SIX hit the books see ¹BOOK

hit the buffers see ¹BUFFER

hit the deck or hit the dirt or hit the ground : to drop down to the ground or floor suddenly • She hit the deck when the gunfire started.

hit the fan see ¹FAN

hit the ground running : to begin an effort or activity in a quick, energetic, and effective way • The new administration hit the ground running after the inauguration.

hit the hay or hit the sack informal : to go to bed • I'm tired. I'm going to hit the hay.

hit the jackpot see JACKPOT hit the nail on the head informal : to be exactly right • He hit the nail on the head with that analysis.

hit the panic button see PANIC BUTTON

hit the road see ROAD

hit the roof or hit the ceiling informal : to become very angry or upset • His parents really hit the roof when they found out he had flunked out of school.

hit the skids see ²SKID

hit the spot see ¹SPOT

hit the streets or US hit the pavement informal : to go out in search of something or for a specific purpose • I grabbed the classifieds and hit the pavement, looking for a new job. • The reporters hit the streets to interview passersby. — see also ¹HIT 6 (above)

hit the town see TOWN

hit the trail see ²TRAIL

hit up [phrasal verb] hit (someone) up or hit up (someone) US, informal : to ask (someone) for something (such as money) • She's waiting for the right moment to hit up her father for a loan. [=to ask her father for a loan] • I donated money to that charity a few months ago, and they're already hitting me up for more.

hit your stride see ²STRIDE

know what hit you see ¹KNOW

²*hit* noun, pl hits [count]

1 a : an act of hitting someone or something • The player was penalized for an illegal hit from behind. • The torpedo made a direct hit. b — used to describe being hit by something (such as a bullet, bomb, punch, etc.); usually used with take • The bunker took a direct hit from the bombers. • The plane took some hits, but the pilot was able to fly back to the base. — often used figuratively • His pride took a hit. [=his pride was hurt] • The company took a public relations hit when it lost the lawsuit. [=the company's public image was damaged when it lost the lawsuit] • She took a big financial hit when the stock market fell. [=she lost a lot of money]

2 a : something that is very successful • The show was a (smash/big) hit. • The album is a collection of the group's greatest hits. [=the group's most popular and successful songs] — often used before another noun • a hit record/song • a hit movie — see also ONE-HIT WONDER b : someone or something that is liked by someone very much • The pony ride was/made a big hit at the party. — usually + with • The pony ride was a big hit with the kids at the party. [=the kids at the party enjoyed the pony ride very much]

3 : a successful effort to reach a desired goal or result • His business ventures have been a mixture of hits and misses. [=some of his business ventures have been successful and some have failed]

4 baseball : BASE HIT • He got/had two hits in last night's game.

5 computers a : an act of connecting to a particular Web site • The site had/got over a million hits last month. [=people connected to the site more than a million times last month]

b : a successful attempt to find something in a search of a computer database or the Internet • A search for his name in the newspaper's database produced/found more than 30 hits.

6 informal : a single dose of an illegal drug • Can I get a hit? • He took a hit of LSD.

7 informal : a planned murder done by a paid killer • an attempted hit on the gang's leader — see also HIT MAN

— hit-less /'hitləs/ adj • a hitless musical group [=a musical group that has not had any hit songs] • She has gone/been hitless [=has not had any base hits] in her last three games. • He pitched six hitless innings. [=six innings in which no batter got a base hit]

hit-and-miss /'hitn'mis/ adj : sometimes successful and sometimes not : not always good or successful • The company has relied on a hit-and-miss [=hit-or-miss] approach to developing new products.

¹*hit-and-run* /'hitn'ran/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : involving a driver who does not stop after causing an accident • a hit-and-run accident • Police are looking for an unidentified hit-and-run driver.

2 : involving quick action by someone who then leaves or runs away quickly • hit-and-run raids along the border

²*hit-and-run* noun, pl -runs [count] baseball : a play in which a base runner begins running as soon as a pitch is thrown and the batter tries to hit the pitch — often used before another noun • a hit-and-run play

¹*hitch* /'hɪtʃ/ verb hitch-es; hitched; hitch-ing

1 [+ obj] : to attach, fasten, or connect (something) with a hook, knot, etc. • hitch a trailer to a car • He hitched his horse to a post outside the saloon. = He tied his horse to a hitching post outside the saloon.

2 informal : HITCHHIKE [no obj] He hitched across the country last summer. [+ obj] He hitched his way across the country last summer.

get hitched informal : to get married • He's getting hitched to his college sweetheart.

hitch a ride or chiefly Brit hitch a lift informal : to get a ride in a passing vehicle • Her car broke down, so she had to hitch a ride/lift with a passing truck.

hitch up [phrasal verb] hitch (something) up or hitch up (something) : to pull (a piece of clothing) up with a quick movement • She hitched her skirt up above her knees.

hitch your wagon to (someone or something) see WAGON

²hitch noun, pl hitches [count]

1 : a hidden problem that makes something more complicated or difficult to do • It sounded like a good plan, but there was just one hitch. [=catch] • The plan went off without a hitch.

2 : a device that is used to connect one thing (such as a plow or trailer) to another (such as a tractor, car, or animal) • a trailer hitch

3 US, informal : a period of service in the military, at a job, etc. • He went back to college after doing his hitch in the army. • a seven-year hitch at the newspaper

4 : a type of simple knot that is used to hold or fasten something for a short time hitch-hike /'hɪtʃ,haɪk/ verb -hikes; -hiked; -hik-ing : to get a ride in a passing vehicle by holding out your arm with your thumb up as you stand on the side of the road [no obj] Her car broke down, so she had to hitchhike back home. [+ obj] He hitchhiked his way across the country last summer.

— hitch-hik-er noun, pl -ers [count]

hi-tech variant spelling of HIGH TECH

hith-er /'hɪðə/ adv, old-fashioned + literary : to this place • come hither [=come here] • She has been very busy, traveling hither and yon. [=here and there; traveling to many different places] • traveling/wandering hither and thither [=here and there] — see also COME-HITHER

hith-er-to /'hɪðə,tu:/ adv, formal : until now : before this time • The biography reveals some hitherto [=formerly, previously] unknown facts about his early life.

hit list noun, pl ~ lists [count] : a list of people, organizations, etc., that a person or group plans to oppose or eliminate • the gunman's hit list • Excess spending is at the top of the governor's hit list. [=it is the first thing the governor plans to eliminate] hit man noun, pl ~ men [count] : a person who is paid to kill someone • She hired a hit man to kill her ex-husband. • Mafia hit men

hit-or-miss /'hɪtə'mɪs/ adj : not carefully planned or directed • a hit-or-miss [=hit-and-miss] method of finding answers • a hit-or-miss procedure/proposition hit-ter /'hɪtə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : a person who hits someone or something; especially, baseball : a player who is trying to hit the ball • The pitcher walked the first hitter. [=batter] • He's a good fielder but a poor hitter. — see also DESIGNATED HITTER, HEAVY HITTER, PINCH HITTER

HIV /'eɪtʃ,ar'vi:/ noun [noncount] medicine : a virus that causes AIDS • The patient is HIV positive/negative. ♦ HIV is an abbreviation of "human immunodeficiency virus."

¹hive /'haɪv/ noun, pl hives [count]

1 a : a nest for bees — called also beehive b : the bees living in a hive

2 : a place filled with busy activity • The house was a hive of activity as we prepared for the party.

²hive verb hives; hived; hiv-ing

hive off [phrasal verb] chiefly Brit 1 a : to separate from a group • The youngest campers hived off into another room.

b hive off (someone or something) or hive (someone or something) off : to separate (someone or something) from a group • They hived off the youngest campers into another room. 2 hive off (something) or hive (something) off : to give control of (something) to another person or group • The new owners hived off the best parts of the company to another part of their corporate empire.

hives /'haɪvz/ noun [noncount] medicine : a condition in which an area of your skin becomes red and itchy • I broke out in hives after being stung by the bee.

hi-ya /'haɪə/ interj, informal : HI • "Hiya, sweetheart."

HM abbr Her Majesty, Her Majesty's, His Majesty, His Majesty's

hmm also hm /'m, 'hm/ interj — used to represent a sound made by someone who is thinking about what to say or do • I thought to myself, hmm, what's the best way to take advantage of this opportunity?

HMO /'eɪtʃ,em'ou/ noun, pl HMOs [count] US : an organization that provides health care to people who make regular payments to it and who agree to use the doctors, hospitals, etc., that belong to the organization ♦ HMO is an abbreviation of "health maintenance organization." — compare PPO

HMS abbr Her Majesty's ship; His Majesty's ship

¹ho /'hou/ interj

1 — used to attract attention • "Land ho!" [=I see land]

2 ho ho or ho ho ho — used to represent laughter • Ho ho ho Merry Christmas! — often used in an ironic way • Ho ho That's very funny. [=that's not really funny at all]

²ho noun, pl hos or hoes also ho's [count] US slang, offensive : WHORE hoa-gie /'hougi/ noun, pl -gies [count] US : SUBMARINE SANDWICH • She had a meatball hoagie for lunch.

¹hoard /'hoəd/ noun, pl hoards [count] : a large amount of something valuable that is kept hidden • a hoard of jewels • a squirrel's hoard of nuts

Do not confuse hoard with horde.

²hoard verb hoards; hoard-ed; hoard-ing [+ obj] : to collect and hide a large amount of (something valuable) • hoarding money/food

— hoard-er noun, pl -ers [count]

hoarding /'hoədn/ noun, pl -ings [count] Brit : BILLBOARD

hoarse /'hoəs/ adj hoars-er; -est : having a harsh or rough sound or voice • She could only speak in a hoarse whisper. • The cold made me a little hoarse. — see also shout yourself hoarse at 'SHOUT

— hoarse-ly adv — hoarse-ness noun [noncount]

hoary /'hori/ adj hoar-i-er; -est

1 a : very old • hoary [=ancient] legends • a hoary tale of revenge b : not interesting, funny, etc., because of being used too often : not fresh or original • a hoary cliché/joke

2 literary : having gray or white hair • He bowed his hoary head. • a man hoary with age

¹hoax /'houks/ noun, pl hoax-es [count] : an act that is meant to trick or deceive people • The bomb threat is probably a hoax, but we should still evacuate the building. • She was the victim of a cruel hoax.

²hoax verb hoaxes; hoaxed; hoax-ing [+ obj] : to trick or deceive (someone) — usually used as (be) hoaxed • People were hoaxed by the Web site.

— hoax-er noun, pl -ers [count]

hob /'hɑ:b/ noun, pl hobs [count] Brit : COOKTOP

hob-ble /'hɑ:bəl/ verb hob-bles; hob-bled; hob-bling

1 [no obj] : to walk with difficulty because of injury or weakness • She picked up her cane and hobbled across the room.

2 [+ obj] : to slow the movement, progress, or action of (someone or something) • Critics say that his policies will hobble [=hamper] economic growth. • She is sometimes hobbled by self-doubt. • He has been hobbled by a knee injury.

3 [+ obj] : to keep (an animal) from straying or wandering by tying two legs together • hobble a horse hob-by /'hɑ:bi/ noun, pl -bies [count] : an activity that a person does for pleasure when not working • She collects stamps as a hobby. • He has many hobbies, including photography and gardening.

— hob-by-ist /'hɑ:bɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] • The camera is perfect for professionals as well as hobbyists.

hob-by-horse /'hɑ:bi,hoəs/ noun, pl -hors-es [count]

1 : a subject that someone speaks about or complains about often • Once he gets on his hobbyhorse and starts talking about taxes, you can't get him to discuss anything else. • She's been riding that hobbyhorse for months.

2 : a stick with a horse's head at one end that a child pretends to ride

hob-gob-lin /'hɑ:b,gɑ:blən/ noun, pl -lins [count]

1 : an ugly or evil creature that plays tricks in children's stories

2 : something that causes fear or worry • intimidated by the hobgoblins of etiquette

hob-nail boot /'hɑ:b,neɪl/ or hob-nailed boot /'hɑ:b,neɪld-/ noun, pl ~ boots [count] : a heavy boot with short nails driven into the bottom to protect against wear hob-nob /'hɑ:b,nɑ:b/ verb -nobs; -nobbed; -nob-bing [no obj] : to spend time with someone (such as a famous or wealthy person) in a friendly way • He loves to hobnob with celebrities.

ho-bo /'houbou/ noun, pl -boes also -bos [count] US : a person who has no place to live and no money and who travels to many different places • an old hobo [=tramp] riding on a freight train

Hobson's choice /'hɑ:bsənz-/ noun, pl ~ choices [count] : a situation in which you are supposed to make a choice but do not have a real choice because there is only one thing you can have or do • He jokingly referred to dinner as a Hobson's choice between soup and salad or salad and soup.

¹hock /'hɑ:k/ noun, pl hocks [count]
1 : a small piece of meat from the leg of a pig • ham hocks
2 : the part of the rear leg of a four-footed animal (such as a horse) that is like the human ankle — see picture at HORSE — compare ²HOCK, ⁴HOCK

²hock noun [noncount] informal
1 : the state of being in the possession of a pawnbroker ✧ An item that is in hock has been exchanged for money in an arrangement with a pawnbroker. If the money is returned, the item will be returned, or else the pawnbroker may sell it to someone else. When the item is returned it is out of hock. • His gold watch is in hock. • She got her earrings out of hock.
2 : the state of owing money to someone or something : DEBT • He is in hock to his boss for several thousand dollars. [=he owes his boss several thousand dollars] • She had to go into hock to pay for her college tuition. • He's trying to get out of hock. — compare ¹HOCK, ⁴HOCK

³hock verb hocks; hocked; hock-ing [+ obj] : to give (something that you own) to a pawnbroker in exchange for money : to put (something) in hock • He hocked [=pawned] his gold watch to help pay for his medical bills.

⁴hock noun, pl hocks [count, noncount] Brit : a type of German white wine — compare ¹HOCK, ²HOCK

hock-ey /'hɑ:ki/ noun [noncount]
1 chiefly US : ICE HOCKEY
2 chiefly Brit : FIELD HOCKEY

hockey skate noun, pl ~ skates [count] : a special skate used for ice hockey — see picture at SKATE ho-cus-po-cus /,houkəs'poukəs/ noun [noncount] : language or activity that is meant to trick or confuse people • He misled voters with his political hocus-pocus.

hodge-podge /'hɑ:dʒ,pɑ:dʒ/ noun [singular] chiefly US : a mixture of different things • a hodgepodge of styles — called also (Brit) hotchpotch

¹hoe /'hou/ noun, pl hoes [count] : a garden tool that has a flat blade on a long handle — see picture at GARDENING

²hoe verb hoes; hoed; hoe-ing : to work on (something, such as a garden or a crop) with a hoe [+ obj] The garden has to be hoed. [no obj] She was hoeing in the garden all day.

hoe-down /'hou,dəʊn/ noun, pl -downs [count] US : an informal country party where people do square dances

¹hog /'hɑ:g/ noun, pl hogs also hog [count]
1 a chiefly US : a pig • a hog farmer b Brit : a male pig that has had its sex organs removed and that is raised for meat
2 informal a : a selfish or greedy person • Don't be such a hog! Other people have to eat too! — see also ROAD HOG b : something that takes or uses a large amount or too much of something • This car is a gas hog. [=it uses a lot of gasoline] • The new software is a real memory hog.

go hog wild US, informal : to do something in an extreme or excessive way : to go wild • They went hog wild with special effects in this movie.

go (the) whole hog informal : to do something in a very thorough and complete way • If we're going to have a party, we might as well go the whole hog and hire a band.

high off/on the hog see ²HIGH

²hog verb hogs; hogged; hog-ging [+ obj] informal : to take, keep, or use (something) in a way that prevents other people or things from having or using it • He's been hogging the remote control all night. • Stop hogging the road. [=stop driving in a way that does not allow room for other cars to pass] • I hate when she hogs the bathroom. [=she stays in the bathroom for a long time when other people want to use it] hog heaven noun [noncount] US, informal : a very pleasing or satisfying state or situation • We had plenty of food, good wine, and beautiful weather. We were in hog heaven.

hog-wash /'hɑ:g,wɑ:ʃ/ noun [noncount] informal : foolish or meaningless talk : NONSENSE • You wouldn't believe the hogwash he was spouting at us. • His argument is hogwash.

ho hum /'hou'hʌm/ interj — used to show that you are bored, not interested, etc. • As another election campaign gets started, most voters seem to be saying, "Ho hum, here we go again."

ho-hum /'hou'hʌm/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : having or showing no excitement or enthusiasm • He's been leading a very ho-hum [=dull, boring] existence. • I don't see how you could be so ho-hum [=indifferent] about this movie.

hoick /'hoɪk/ verb hoicks; hoicked; hoick-ing [+ obj] Brit, informal : to lift or pull (something) with a quick movement : YANK • He hoicked up his trousers and waded in.

hoi pol-loi /,hoɪpə'loi/ noun [plural] : ordinary people : people who are not rich, famous, etc. — usually used with the • aristocrats who treated the hoi polloi with contempt

¹hoist /'hoɪst/ verb hoists; hoist-ed; hoist-ing [+ obj]
1 : to raise (something) especially by using ropes or machinery • hoist the sail/flag • The steel girders were hoisted into place and securely welded. • The engine was hoisted out with a winch. • The cargo was hoisted up onto the ship.
2 chiefly US, informal : ¹DRINK • He stopped at a bar after work to hoist a few beers with his friends.
3 basketball, informal : to take (a shot) • She hoisted a last-second shot that would have won the game if it had gone in.
hoist by/on/with your own petard see PETARD

²hoist noun, pl hoists [count] : a machine used for lifting heavy loads

hoi-ty-toi-ty /,hoɪti'toɪti/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly US, informal : having or showing the insulting attitude of people who think that they are better, smarter, or more important than other people • a bunch of hoity-toity snobs

hok-ey /'houki/ adj hok-i-er; -est US, informal + disapproving
1 : obviously fake : PHONY • She gave us some hokey excuse for being late.
2 : very silly, old-fashioned, or sentimental : CORNY • a hokey melodrama ho-kum /'houkəm/ noun [noncount] informal 1 chiefly US : foolish or untrue words or ideas : NONSENSE • Everyone knows his story is pure hokum.

2 : writing, music, etc., that is too dramatic or sentimental and not very original • His new film is yet another piece of Hollywood hokum.

¹hold /'hould/ verb holds; held /'held/; hold-ing
1 [+ obj] a : to have or keep (something) in your hand, arms, etc. • Hold the rail so you won't fall. • He was holding his hat (in his hand). • He was holding a large package in his arms. • Would you hold this for me? • She showed him the correct way to hold the racket. • She held his hand. = She held him by the hand. b : to put your arms around (someone) : to embrace or hug (someone) • Some people just don't like to be held. • He held her close/tight and kissed her.
2 a [+ obj] : to put or keep (something or someone) in a specified place or position • He held the pen in his mouth while he dialed the number. • Hold the pen upright when you write. • She picked up the trophy and held it over her head. • You have to hold the button down for several seconds. • I held the door open for her. • Hold your arms at your sides. b [+ obj] : to keep (something or someone) in the same place or position • I need someone to hold this string while I finish tying the knot. • She held the ladder steady while he climbed up it. • It took six guards to hold him (down). • The board was held in place/position by a couple of nails. • The Federal Reserve has been holding interest rates down/up. • The cover was held on by a piece of tape. c [no obj] : to remain in the same place or position • The anchor held. • The line of soldiers held under constant attack. • Please hold still for a moment. • His weight has held steady for several months now.
3 [no obj] : to continue to be good • We arrived late but our luck held and we were able to get tickets. • We hope the weather holds through the weekend.
4 [+ obj] a : to own or possess (something) • The bank holds (the) title to the car. • Do you hold any shares/stock in the company? b : to have or keep (a job, a position, etc.) • She has never before held public office. • It's been a struggle for him to hold a job. • In the last election the Democratic party managed to hold several seats but lost others. • President Franklin Roosevelt held office for 12 years. = Franklin Roosevelt held the office of president for 12 years. c : to succeed in keeping (something that is being attacked) • The troops were able to hold the bridge. • The line of soldiers held their position/ground and fought off the attack. d : to have (something that you have achieved or earned) • She holds a master's degree in chemistry. • a swimmer who holds several world records
5 [+ obj] : to support the pressure or weight of (something or someone) • The floor will hold 10 tons. • I don't know if the roof can hold all that snow.

6 [+ obj] a : to have or keep (a belief, a feeling, etc.) in your mind • There's no need for him to hold [=bear] a grudge against me. • I don't hold any resentment toward/against him. • a belief held by many = a widely held belief • I will always hold that memory in my heart. b somewhat formal : to consider or judge (someone or something) in a specified way • They hold me responsible. — often + for • He should be held accountable for his actions. • The store can't be held liable for damage to your vehicle. — often followed by to + verb • The court held his actions to be grounds for a lawsuit. [=the court said/ruled that his actions were grounds for a lawsuit] • His latest book is generally/widely held [=considered] to be the best one. • "We hold these truths to be self-evident . . ." —U.S. Declaration of Independence (1776) c not used in progressive tenses, somewhat formal : to have or express (an opinion, belief, etc.) — + that • I hold [=believe] that such problems should be dealt with at the federal level. • The Supreme Court held [=ruled] that the trial court had acted properly. — sometimes used figuratively • Tradition holds that [=it is traditional that] the oldest member of the family be seated first.

7 [+ obj] : to cause (a meeting, class, sale, etc.) to take place • A sale will be held next weekend. • Free elections will be held next month. • We will hold [=have] the meeting at 2 o'clock. • The President has decided to hold [=give] a press conference. • They're holding an art show at the gallery. • The two sides will hold [=have] talks/discussions to resolve the dispute.

8 [+ obj] a : to contain (something) • The box holds his collection of old photographs. b not used in progressive tenses : to have enough room for (an amount) • The disk can hold 1.44 megabytes of data. • How much water can that bucket hold? • The bottle holds two liters. • The dining room holds 500 people.

9 [+ obj] : to continue to have (someone's interest or attention) • The speaker wasn't able to hold [=keep] our interest/attention for long.

10 [+ obj] : to have (a specified quality, feature, etc.) • His eyes held [=had] a quizzical look. • She has always held a special place in my heart. [=I have always had special feelings for her] • This hotel has long held [=claimed] a place among the world's finest. [=has long been considered one of the world's finest] — often + for • Music holds great appeal for many people. [=music appeals greatly to many people] • His job holds no surprises for him. [=nothing about his job surprises him] • Her paintings hold a real fascination for me. [=her paintings fascinate me] • No one can know what the future holds (for us). [=no one can know what will happen (to us) in the future] • These experiments hold great promise for future cancer research.

11 [+ obj] : to stop doing (something) or wait to do (something) • Tell the men to hold their fire [=not shoot] until I give the order. • Hold everything [=wait; stop] We're not doing this right. • Hold it right there. [=stop right there] Where do you think you're going?

12 [+ obj] a : to keep (something) available for later use • A room at the hotel will be held for us for 24 hours. • We will hold these flight reservations for you until tomorrow. b : to delay the handling of (something, such as a telephone call) for a time • Please hold all my calls while I'm in the meeting.

13 [+ obj] : to prevent (something, such as a vehicle) from leaving • The train was held until the track was cleared. • Would you hold the elevator for me? • Hold that taxi!

14 [+ obj] chiefly US : to not use or include (something) in preparing food • I'd like a roast beef sandwich on rye, and hold the mustard please. [=do not put any mustard on the sandwich]

15 [+ obj] : to force (someone) to stay in a place (such as a prison) • The police are holding him for questioning. • Terrorists are holding the passengers hostage. • They're being held hostage/captive/prisoner. — sometimes used figuratively • He was held captive by his own fears.

16 [+ obj] : to continue moving on (a course) without change • The ship continued to hold its course.

17 [+ obj] of a vehicle : to stay on (a road) in a safe and secure way when being driven at high speeds • The car holds the road well when turning quickly.

18 [no obj] : to be true : to remain valid • Her advice still holds [=applies] today. • The general rule holds in most cases. — often used in the phrases hold true and (less commonly) hold good • The general rule holds true in most cases. • Their son needs support and understanding. The same holds true for all children. • The advice she gave us 10 years ago still holds good today.

19 : to wait to speak to someone on the telephone [no obj] All operators are currently busy. Please hold. [+ obj] All operators are busy. Please hold the line for a minute.

hold a candle to see CANDLE hold against [phrasal verb] hold (something) against (someone) : to use (something) as a reason to have a bad opinion of (someone) • He lied to her once, and she still holds it against him. • Nobody is going to hold it against you if you don't come. [=no one is going to be angry or upset with you if you don't come]

hold a gun to someone's head see ¹GUN

hold all the aces see ¹ACE

hold (all/all of) the cards see ¹CARD

hold back [phrasal verb] 1 a : to stop yourself from doing something • She wanted to introduce herself to him but she held back out of shyness. b : to make a less than complete effort • She could have beaten him in the race, but she held back and let him win. [=she did not run as fast as she could have so that he would win] c hold (someone) back : to stop (someone) from doing something • Once he starts talking, there's no holding him back [=it's very hard to get him to stop talking] 2 hold (something) back or hold back (something) a : to not allow (something) to be seen or known by someone • He was unable to hold back his tears. [=to keep from crying] • The government held back [=withheld] some crucial information from the media. • I know you're angry, so don't hold anything back (from me). [=tell me everything] b : to keep (something) • He held several thousand dollars back in case of an emergency. c : to delay (something) • The company held back the first shipment of the new product until it was completely ready. 3 hold (someone or something) back or hold back (someone or something) : to stop (someone or something) from moving forward : to stop (someone or something) from advancing to the next level, grade, or stage • She might have been more successful, but bad health held her back. • He was held back [=kept back] in first grade.

hold court see ¹COURT

hold down [phrasal verb] 1 hold (something) down or hold down (something) a : to stop (something) from being or becoming too high • Could you please hold the noise down? I'm trying to read. • The company is trying to hold down costs/expenses/prices. b : to continue to have (a job) • It's been a struggle for him to hold down [=keep] a job. 2 hold (someone) down or hold down (someone) : to stop (someone) from doing something or advancing to a higher level, position, etc. • We need to free ourselves of the unfair restrictions that are holding us down.

hold firm : to refuse to change what you have been doing or believing • They are holding firm on their refusal to proceed. • Despite opposition, she has held firm to her decision.

hold forth [phrasal verb] formal : to speak about something for a long time • He held forth about/on the need for reform in his country.

hold hands or hold someone's hand see ¹HAND

hold in [phrasal verb] hold (something) in or hold in (something) : to stop (an emotion) from being expressed • Don't hold your feelings in. Let them out.

hold off [phrasal verb] 1 a : to wait to do something • You need to decide now. You can't hold off any longer. • He held off as long as he could. — often + on • She decided to hold off on her vacation for a while longer. ✧ If you hold off doing something or hold off on doing something, you wait to do it at a later time. • He held off on announcing his decision. b : to not happen until later • The rain held off until we got home. [=it didn't rain until we got home] 2 hold (someone) off or hold off (someone) : to stop (someone) from coming near someone or something • Her bodyguard held off the crowd. [=kept the crowd away from her] 3 hold (something) off or hold off (something) : to defend against (something) successfully : WITHSTAND • The soldiers held off the attack. • Our team held off a late rally by the other team.

hold on [phrasal verb] 1 : to have or keep your hand, arms, etc., tightly around something • He was holding on [=hanging on] for dear life. • Hold on (tight). It's going to get bumpy. • The steps are slippery; you'd better hold on to the railing. 2 : to succeed in keeping a position, condition, etc. • I hope we can hold on until help arrives. • They were able to hold on for a 10–9 victory. 3 : to wait or stop briefly • “Can we go now?” “Hold on, I’ll be ready in just a minute.” 4 hold on to (something) : to keep possession of (something) • She’s trying very hard to hold on to her money. • He has managed to hold on to his lead in the polls. : to not lose or give up (something) • Despite all his troubles, he has somehow held on to his faith in himself.

hold out [phrasal verb] 1 a : to continue to exist or be available • I don’t know how much longer our supply of food will hold out. [=last] • You should do it while your courage is still holding out. • I’m going to keep writing as long as my money holds out. b : to continue to work • My old car is still holding out. 2 : to continue to oppose someone or defend against something : to refuse to surrender or give in • The troops were able to hold out until help arrived. • Many of the strikers are still holding out. — see also HOLDOUT 3 hold out (something) or hold (something) out a : to reach outward with (something, such as your hand) • He held out [=extended] his hand in greeting. • She held out the car keys and asked him to drive. — sometimes used figuratively • I held out the hand of friendship to my enemies. [=I offered friendship to my enemies] b : to say that there is a good reason to have (something, such as hope) • The doctor didn’t hold out [=offer] much hope for her recovery. [=the doctor didn’t say that there was much hope for her recovery] c : to say that (a possibility) exists • The mayor has held out the possibility that the library will be expanded in the future. [=has said that it is possible that the library will be expanded] 4 hold out for (something) : to refuse to accept or agree to something in order to get (something) • The workers are holding out for higher pay. • The wide receiver is holding out for a new contract. 5 hold out on (someone) informal : to keep something (such as information) from (someone) • She didn’t tell me she was rich; she’s been holding out on me.

hold over [phrasal verb] 1 hold over (something) or hold (something) over a : to cause (something) to happen later • A vote on the proposal has been held over [=delayed, postponed] until tomorrow. b US : to cause (something) to continue beyond a normal or planned time • The movie is being held over for two more weeks. [=the movie will continue to be shown for two more weeks] 2 hold (something or someone) over or hold over (something or someone) : to keep (something or someone) from an earlier time • He is the only player to have been held over from their previous team. — see also HOLDOVER 3 hold (something) over (someone) : to use your knowledge of (something) to influence or control the behavior of (someone) • She knows about his criminal past and has been holding it over him [=she has been threatening to tell other people about his criminal past] to force him to cooperate.

hold the bag (US) or Brit hold the baby informal : to be given all of the blame or responsibility that should be shared with others • His friends ran away and he was stuck/left holding the bag.

hold the fort see FORT

hold the line see LINE

hold to [phrasal verb] 1 a hold to (something) : to continue to have or follow (a plan, purpose, etc.) • He has held to his plan of exercising regularly. : to not change (a decision, belief, etc.) • Despite opposition, she has held to her decision. b hold (someone) to (something) : to force (someone) to do what is required by (something, such as a promise) • You made a promise and I’m going to hold you to it. • He was held to an impossible standard. [=he was required to meet very high expectations] 2 hold (someone) to (something) : to prevent (an opponent) from having or getting more than (a specified number of scores or shots) • Our team held the other team to just three runs. • The defense held him to only one shot attempt in the first half.

hold together [phrasal verb] 1 : to stay joined together or in one piece • The empire held together for many decades. 2 hold (something) together or hold together (something) : to cause (something) to stay joined together or in one piece • The coach hopes to hold the team together for at least one more season. • The box was held together by a strong glue.

hold up [phrasal verb] 1 : to continue in the same condition without failing or losing effectiveness or force • The sales team was holding up well under the stress. • The nurse came in to see how I was holding up. • Their music still holds up 20 years later. 2 hold (something) up or hold up (something) : to raise (something) • He held up his hand. 3 hold up (something or someone) or hold (something or someone) up a : to delay, stop, or slow the movement, progress, or action of (something or someone) : DELAY • Their decision was held up for months. • A major accident held traffic up for hours. • She was late for the meeting because she got held up in traffic. — see also HOLDUP b : to use a gun to rob (a person, store, etc.) • Someone held up the gas station. • He was held up by a masked robber. — see also HOLDUP c : to cause (someone or something) to be noticed for a particular reason • His work has been held up to ridicule. [=his work has been ridiculed] • Experts have been holding these programs up as examples of government waste.

hold water see WATER

hold with [phrasal verb] hold with (something) : to agree with or approve of (something) — usually used in negative statements • I don’t hold with all these newfangled notions!

hold your breath see BREATH

hold your ground see GROUND

hold your horses see HORSE

hold your liquor see LIQUOR

hold your nose see NOSE

hold your own : to do well in a difficult situation • It was a tough interview, but she managed to hold her own. • She’s been holding her own against cancer.

hold your tongue also hold your peace : to keep silent : to not say anything about something • It was difficult, but he somehow managed to hold his tongue.

²hold noun, pl holds

1 : the act of holding or gripping something [count] — usually singular • He had/kept a tight hold on the rope. • He loosened/tightened his hold on the handle. [noncount] He took hold of the rope. [=he took the rope and held it] • She grabbed hold of his arm. [=she grabbed his arm] — often used figuratively • The idea of being an actress first took/ grabbed hold of her when she was in college. [=she first became excited by the idea when she was in college] • Jealousy took hold of him. [=he began to feel very jealous]

2 [count] : a way of holding your opponent in wrestling • The wrestler applied an illegal hold. — see also CHOKE HOLD, STRANGLEHOLD

3 [singular] a : power that is used to control something or someone [noncount] His ideas have lost their hold on/over the public. [=the public is no longer interested in his ideas] • The law has no hold over her. • He is trying to tighten his hold on the company’s finances. [=to gain greater control of the company’s finances] • He has a hold on her. [=he has power over her; he controls her] b : an understanding of something — usually + on • It’s hard to get a hold on the cause of these problems.

4 [count] : something that can be held or stepped on for support while you are climbing • She searched for holds in the rock. — see also FOOTHOLD, HANDHOLD, TOEHOLD

5 [singular] : an order that something is to be kept for a particular person or time • I asked the library to put a hold on the book for me. [=to hold the book for me]

6 [count] : an area on a ship or airplane where cargo is stored cop hold of see COP

get hold of or chiefly US get a hold of 1 : to get possession of (something) : to succeed in getting (something) • Somehow she managed to get hold of the band’s new album before it came out. • Where did you get hold of that idea? [=what led you to believe that idea?] 2 : to find and talk to (someone) : to contact (someone) • I need to talk to my lawyer, but I haven’t been able to get hold of him. • I’ve been trying to get a hold of [=get in touch with] my lawyer for days. 3 get hold of yourself or chiefly US get a hold of yourself : to get control of your thoughts and emotions and stop behaving in a foolish or uncontrolled way • Get a hold of yourself and tell me what happened.

lay hold of 1 : to take and hold (something) : GRAB • Lay hold of that rope and pull. 2 : to understand (something) • The idea is difficult to lay hold of.

no holds barred ✧ If there are no holds barred, there are no limits or rules for what can and cannot be done in a particular situation. — see also NO-HOLDS-BARRED on hold 1 : in the state of waiting to speak to someone on the telephone • The person I wanted to speak to wasn’t available, so the operator put my call on hold. • They kept me on hold for hours! 2 : in the state of being delayed for a time • Our vacation plans are on hold. = Our vacation plans have been put on hold.

take hold or chiefly US take a hold : to become effective, established, or popular • The change in the law has not yet taken hold. • new ideas that have recently taken hold in the fashion industry

hold-all /'hould,ɑ:l/ noun, pl -alls [count] chiefly Brit : CAR-RYALL

hold-er /'houldə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who holds or owns something • She is the holder of an honorary degree. • the holder of a world record • the ticket holder — see also CARDHOLDER, OFFICEHOLDER, RECORD HOLDER, SHAREHOLDER, STOCKHOLDER

2 : a device that holds something • a cigarette/cup holder

¹hold-ing /'houldɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [count] : property (such as land or stocks) that is owned by someone — usually plural • She has been selling many of her holdings in the stock market.

2 [noncount] sports : the illegal act of using your hands or arms to slow or stop the movement of an opponent in sports like ice hockey and American football • penalized 10 yards for holding

²holding adj, always used before a noun

1 : causing or intended to cause a temporary stop or delay • The troops were engaged in a holding action until reinforcements could arrive. • a holding operation

2 — used to describe a place where someone or something is kept for a time before being moved somewhere else • The prisoner was placed in a holding cell. • a holding tank/pen holding company noun, pl ~ -ies [count] business : a company whose main business is owning more than half of another company's stock holding pattern noun, pl ~ -terns [count] : a course flown by an aircraft while waiting for permission to land • Our plane was in a holding pattern for almost an hour because of the fog. — sometimes used figuratively • The company has put production in a holding pattern [=has temporarily stopped production] while better testing methods are developed.

hold-out /'hould,aut/ noun, pl -outs [count]

1 a : a person who refuses to reach an agreement until certain terms are met : a person who holds out • He says he might be a holdout at the start of the next season if the team doesn't agree to pay him more. b : an act of holding out for something • He is expected to end his three-week holdout and join the team tomorrow.

2 : a person who continues to do or use something after others have stopped doing or using it • A few holdouts still use typewriters, but nearly everybody uses computers now.

— see also hold out at ¹HOLD hold-over /'hould,ouvə/ noun, pl -overs [count] US : someone or something that remains or is kept from an earlier time • He is the only holdover from their last championship team. • This policy is a holdover from the previous administration. — see also hold over at ¹HOLD hold-up /'hould,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count]

1 : a usually brief delay • a traffic holdup • Hey, what's the holdup? [=what is the reason for the delay?] — see also hold up at ¹HOLD

2 : a robbery that is done using a gun • There have been a series of holdups at local banks.

¹hole /'houl/ noun, pl holes

1 [count] : an opening into or through something • I have a hole in my sock. • He fixed the hole in the roof. • a bullet hole • make/poke/drill a hole • a mouse hole in the wall

2 [count] a : a hollow place in the ground • The dog dug a deep/shallow hole. — see also FOXHOLE, SWIMMING HOLE, WATER HOLE b : a place in the ground where an animal lives • a rabbit hole

3 [count] golf a : the cup into which the ball is hit • Her putt rolled right into the hole. b : one of the separate parts of a golf course that includes a tee and a green • She made a birdie on the seventh hole. • The course has 18 holes.

4 [count] : a flaw or weakness • There are plenty of holes in the theory. • There are a couple of holes in their defense. • The police were unable to poke any holes in his story. [=to find evidence showing that his story was not true] — see also LOOPHOLE

5 [singular] informal a : a difficult or embarrassing situation • He's in trouble and needs someone to help get/dig him out of this hole. [=fix, jam] • They found themselves in a hole, trailing by 10 points with not much time left in the game. b US : the state of owing or losing money • She gave them a loan to help get them out of their financial hole. [=debt] • He was hundreds of dollars in the hole [=he owed hundreds of dollars] by the end of the night.

6 [count] — used to describe a situation in which someone or something is gone or missing • When their daughter went to college, it left/made a big hole in their lives. [=they missed their daughter very much when she went to college]

7 informal a [count] : a dirty and unpleasant place • I can't believe he lives there! It's such a hole! — see also HELLHOLE

b the hole US : a prison cell where a prisoner who is being punished is kept alone • He spent a month in the hole [= (more formally) in solitary confinement]

8 [count] a baseball : an open area between two fielders • He hit a grounder that went through the hole between the first and second basemen. • He hit a sharp ground ball into the hole. [=the area between the shortstop and third baseman] b American football : an open area between defenders that allows an offensive player to move the ball forward • a running back skilled at finding holes

an ace in the hole see ¹ACE

like a hole in the head informal ✧ If you do not need something at all, you can say that you need it like a hole in the head. • She already has too many shoes. She needs another pair like a hole in the head.

punch holes in informal : to weaken (an argument, idea, etc.) by proving that parts of it are wrong • Lawyers tried to punch holes in her argument.

²hole verb holes; holed; hol-ing golf : to hit (the ball) into the hole [+ obj] She holed a long putt for a birdie. [no obj] — + out • She waited for her partner to hole out [=to finish putting the ball into the hole] before she putted.

hole up [phrasal verb] informal : to stay in a place hidden or apart from other people • The criminals holed up in a downtown motel for a few days. • The band holed up in the recording studio to record their album. ✧ You can hole up in a place or be/stay holed up in a place. • The band was/stayed holed up in the recording studio.

hole in one noun, pl holes in one [count] golf : a score of one on a hole in golf • She got/made/had a hole in one on the eighth hole. — called also (US) ace hole-in-the-wall noun, pl holes-in-the-wall [count] informal

1 chiefly US : a small place (such as a bar or restaurant) that is not fancy or expensive • We had dinner at some hole-in-the-wall downtown.

2 Brit : ATM

hol-ey /'houli/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : having holes • holey socks

¹hol-i-day /'hɑ:lə,deɪ, Brit 'hɒlədi/ noun, pl -days

1 [count] : a special day of celebration • a religious holiday : a day when most people do not have to work • July 4 is a national holiday in the U.S. • The stock market is closed tomorrow because it's a holiday. — often used before another noun • holiday gifts/parties • Do you have any plans for the holiday weekend? [=a weekend that is preceded or followed by a holiday] ✧ In U.S. English, the holiday season and the holidays refer to the time from November until the beginning of January during which many holidays are celebrated. • How are you celebrating the holiday season? • I'm looking forward to going home for the holidays. — see also BANK HOLIDAY, LEGAL HOLIDAY

2 Brit : VACATION [noncount] She'll have four weeks' holiday next year. • She spent two weeks on holiday [= (US) on vacation] in Italy. [count] We're planning on taking a holiday in the Caribbean. — often plural • She went to the Caribbean for her holidays. • He spent the summer holidays in Spain.

²holiday verb -days; -dayed; -day-ing [no obj] Brit : to spend a holiday in or at a particular place : VACATION • She likes holidaying in the Caribbean.

holiday-maker noun, pl -ers [count] Brit : VACATIONER

ho-li-er-than-thou /,houliəðən'təu/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : having or showing the annoying attitude of people who believe that they are morally better than other people • a holier-than-thou attitude

ho-li-ness /'houlinəs/ noun

1 [noncount] : the quality or state of being holy • the holiness of this sacred place

2 Holiness [count] — used in the titles of high religious officials • His Holiness the pope • Does Your Holiness require anything else?

hol-is-tic /hou'listɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : relating to or concerned with complete systems rather than with individual parts • Holistic medicine attempts to treat both the mind and the body. • We need to take a more holistic approach to improving our schools.

hol·lan·daise /ˈhɑːlənˈdeɪz/ noun [noncount] : a rich sauce made of butter, egg yolks, and lemon juice or vinegar — called also hollandaise sauce

hol·ler /ˈhɑːlə/ verb -lers; -lered; -ler·ing chiefly US, informal

1 : to call out loudly : SHOUT [no obj] He was hollering across the fields to his workers. • They were screaming and hollering at each other all night. [+ obj] He hollered (out) orders to his workers. • She hollered across the street, “Did you hear the news?” • Someone was hollering my name.

2 [no obj] : to make loud or angry complaints • People always holler about tax increases.

— holler noun, pl -lers [count] • If you need any help, just give (me) a holler. [=just let me know if you need any help]

¹hol·low /ˈhɑːlou/ adj hol·low·er; -est

1 : having nothing inside : not solid • a hollow log

2 : curved inward or down • hollow [=sunken] cheeks • There was a hollow spot in the field.

3 : not having real value or meaning • They achieved a hol·low victory over a team missing its best players. [=their victory was not an important or impressive one since the other team was missing its best players] • She made hollow promises. [=she made promises she would not keep] • Their threats ring hollow. = Their threats have a hollow ring. [=their threats do not seem truthful or sincere]

4 ✧ A sound that is hollow is like the sound made when you hit something that is empty inside. • He heard a hollow sound when he knocked on the wall.

5 : weak and without any emotion • “It’s useless,” he said in a hollow voice. • a hollow laugh

— hol·low·ly /ˈhɑːləli/ adv • “It’s useless,” he said hollowly.

— hol·low·ness noun [noncount] • the hollowness of her promises

²hollow noun, pl -lows [count]

1 : a place or area (especially on the ground) that is lower than the area around it • a grassy hollow

2 : an empty space inside of something • The owls nested in the hollow of a tree.

in the hollow of your hand ✧ If you hold something in the hollow of your hand, you hold it in your palm with your hand curved like a cup • I held the bead in the hollow of my hand.

³hollow verb -lows; -lowed; -low·ing [+ obj] : to remove the inside of (something) • They hollowed the log to make a canoe. — often used as (be) hollowed • a hollowed tree hollow out [phrasal verb] hollow (something) out or hollow out (something) 1 : to remove the inside of (something) : to make an empty space in (something) • The kids were hollowing out pumpkins. • a hollowed-out log 2 : to form (something) by digging or cutting the inside of something • Workers hollowed out a tunnel through the mountain. • He hollowed out a bowl from the wood.

hol·ly /ˈhɑːli/ noun, pl -lies [count, noncount] : a tree or bush with dark green leaves and bright red berries; also : the branches of this plant which are used for decoration especially at Christmas

hol·ly·hock /ˈhɑːliˌhɑːk/ noun, pl -hocks [count] : a tall plant with rounded leaves and brightly colored flowers

¹Hol·ly·wood /ˈhɑːliˌwud/ noun [singular] : the American movie industry • an actor who has had a long career in Hollywood ✧ Hollywood is a part of Los Angeles, California, where the American movie industry is based.

²Hollywood adj, always used before a noun

1 : relating to or characteristic of people in the American movie industry • the Hollywood lifestyle

2 : relating to or typical of a movie made in Hollywood • a story with a Hollywood ending [=a happy ending; an ending like the one you often see in movies]

ho·lo·caust /ˈhouləˌkɑːst, ˈhɑːləˌkɑːst/ noun, pl -causts formal

1 the Holocaust : the killing of millions of Jews and other people by the Nazis during World War II • The museum is devoted to the Holocaust. • Her parents were survivors of the Holocaust. = Her parents were Holocaust survivors. • a Holocaust memorial

2 [count] : an event or situation in which many people are killed and many things are destroyed especially by fire • There were fears of a nuclear holocaust.

ho·lo·gram /ˈhouləˌgræm, ˈhɑːləˌgræm/ noun, pl -grams [count] : a special kind of picture that is produced by a laser and that looks three-dimensional hols /ˈhɑːlz/ noun [plural] Brit, informal + old-fashioned : VACATION • Where did you have your hols?

Hol·stein /ˈhoulˌstiːn/ noun, pl -steins [count] US : a black-and-white cow used for milk

hol·ster /ˈhoulstər/ noun, pl -sters [count] : a leather case that you wear on your body and that holds a small gun

ho·ly /ˈhouli/ adj ho·li·er; -est

1 a : connected to a god or a religion • a holy temple • a holy relic worn by one of the saints • the Holy Bible b : religious and morally good • a holy man

2 informal — used in phrases that show surprise or excitement • Holy cow! [=Wow!] • Holy mackerel! You got your hair cut! • Holy smoke!

3 informal — used for emphasis • That boy is a holy terror. [=he is very difficult to control] • He gave them holy hell. [=he scolded them in a very angry way]

Holy Communion noun [noncount] formal : COMMUNION

holy day noun, pl ~ days [count] : a day when a religious festival or holiday is observed

Holy Family noun

the Holy Family : Jesus Christ, his mother Mary, and her husband Joseph

Holy Father noun [singular] — used to refer to the Pope

Holy Ghost noun

the Holy Ghost : HOLY SPIRIT

Holy Grail noun, pl ~ Grails

1 or holy grail [count] : something that you want very much but that is very hard to get or achieve • Finding a cure for cancer is the holy grail of medical researchers.

2 the Holy Grail : the cup that is said to have been used by Jesus Christ and that was sought by knights during the Middle Ages

Holy Land noun

the Holy Land : the area in the Middle East where the events of the Bible happened • We visited the Holy Land.

holy of holies noun

1 the holy of holies : the most holy part of a Jewish temple

2 [singular] humorous : something (such as a place or event) that is thought of as very special and which only a few people are allowed to use, see, etc. • His trophy room is the holy of holies where only his closest friends are allowed.

holy orders noun [plural] : the position of a Christian priest, bishop, etc. • He took holy orders. [=became a priest]

Holy Spirit noun

the Holy Spirit : God in the form of a spirit in Christianity • the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit — called also the Holy Ghost

Holy Trinity noun

the Holy Trinity : TRINITY 1

holy war noun, pl ~ wars [count] : a war that is fought to defend or spread one group’s religious beliefs

holy water noun [noncount] : water that has been blessed by a priest

Holy Week noun [noncount] : the week before Easter in the Christian church

hom·age /ˈɑːmɪdʒ, Brit ˈhɑːmɪdʒ/ noun

1 [noncount] : respect or honor • People bowed in homage to [=as a sign of respect for] the king as he passed by. • Her paintings pay homage to [=honor] women artists of the past.

2 [singular] : something that is done to honor someone or something • Her book is a/an homage to her favorite city.

hom·bre /ˈɑːmbreɪ/ noun, pl -bres [count] US, informal : a man : GUY • He is one tough hombre. [=he is very tough]

¹home /ˈhoum/ noun, pl homes

1 : the place (such as a house or apartment) where a person lives [count] Right now his home is a small apartment. • People are concerned about protecting their homes. • (chiefly US) The neighborhood is filled with expensive new homes. [=houses] • They’ve started on a major home-improvement project. [=a project to make their house better, bigger, more modern, etc.] • They have a second/vacation home on the lake. [noncount] There’s no place like home. • Let’s stay at home tonight. [=let’s not go out tonight] • I must have left my notes at home. • We’re a long way from home. [=we are not close to our house] • I will be away from home [=I will not be at my house] for two weeks. • He has no place to call home. [=he does not have a place to live] • He works at/from home. [=he does his work in his house and not in an office building] — see also AT HOME (below), MOBILE HOME, MOTOR HOME

2 [count] : a family living together in one building, house, etc. • She made a good home for her husband and children. • She came from a troubled home. [=a family with many problems] • He comes from a broken home [=a family in which the parents have divorced] • She lived at home [=she lived with her parents or family] until she got married. • He left home [=left his parent's house and lived in his own house] after graduating from high school.

3 a : a place where something normally or naturally lives or is located [count] Australia is the home [=habitat] of the kangaroo. [noncount] The islands are home to many species of birds. b [count] : the place where something began or was created — usually + of • The restaurant advertises itself as the home of the "Big Burger." c [count] : a place where something is placed, stored, etc. • Can you find homes for these files in your office?

4 : the place where someone lives or originally comes from : the place to which you feel most strongly attached [noncount] New York will always be home to me. • They made their home [=they settled] on the banks of the Mississippi. • People back home [=in his hometown; in the place he is from] would never believe how much he has changed. [count] He has fond memories of his boyhood home. [=the place where he lived as a boy]

5 [count] : the place where an organization, a company, etc., is located and operates • This building will be the orchestra's new home. • The big television networks have their homes in the same city.

6 [count] : a place where people who are unable to care for themselves live and are cared for • an orphan's home • an old people's home • She doesn't want to put her mother in a home — see also NURSING HOME, REST HOME at home 1 : in your own country and not a foreign country • We face serious threats both at home and abroad. 2 sports : in a team's own stadium, park, etc. : in the place where a team is based • The team's next six games are at home. [=in its own stadium] • The team has done much better at home [=in its home games] than on the road. — see also ¹HOME 1 (above) 3 : relaxed and comfortable • She feels at home on the stage. • They made me feel (right) at home my first day at the new job. • Come on in and make yourself at home [=do what you need to do to feel relaxed and comfortable] • The professor is equally at home in politics and history. [=knows a lot about both politics and history] • I've never really felt/been completely at home with [=comfortable and confident about using] all these new-fangled machines.

7 [noncount] : a place that you try to reach in some games (such as baseball) • He was tagged out at home. — see also HOME PLATE

charity begins at home see CHARITY home away from home (US) or Brit home from home : a place that is as pleasant and comfortable as your own home • Whenever he came to the city, his brother's place was like a home away from home.

home sweet home ♡ You say home sweet home to show that you are happy when you return to your home after being away from it.

— home-like /'houm,lai/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly US • an inn with a homelike atmosphere

²home adv

1 : to or at the place where you live • She called home to say she would be late for dinner. • He's sending money home from a job overseas. • She is on her way home. • It's great to be back home. • (chiefly US) They're never home when I try to see them. • I can't wait to come/go/get home. • (chiefly US) Let's stay home tonight. [=let's not go out tonight] • He brings/takes home about $750 a week. [=the amount of money he gets after paying taxes, health insurance, etc., is about $750 each week]

2 a : into a finished or final position • He used a hammer to drive the nail home. • shove the bolt home [=all the way into its place] b sports : to, toward, or into a goal • He fired the puck home. [=he shot the hockey puck into the goal]

bring home the bacon see BACON

bring (something) home : to make (something) very clear and obvious in usually a forceful or unpleasant way — usually + to • The importance of regular exercise was brought home to him when his best friend developed heart problems.

close to home see ²CLOSE come home to : to become very clear and obvious to (someone) in usually a forceful or unpleasant way • The truth about her marriage came home to her when he left her.

come home to roost see ²ROOST

drive your point home : to say something in a very strong or forceful way : to make a point very forcefully • He drove his point home during the debate.

hit/strike home : to become very clear and obvious in usually a forceful or unpleasant way • The truth about their marriage finally hit home.

home free (US) or Brit home and dry informal : sure of succeeding, winning, etc. : no longer in danger of failing • If we can meet this next deadline, we'll be home free.

nothing to write home about see WRITE

ram home see ²RAM

till/until the cows come home see ¹COW

³home adj, always used before a noun

1 : of or relating to a home or family • She has a happy home life. • Please give us your home phone number. • What is your home address?

2 : designed to be used in your home • a home entertainment system : done or made in your home • home cooking — often used in combination • He couldn't wait to have a home-cooked meal. [=a meal made and eaten at home] — see also HOME MOVIE, HOME VIDEO

3 sports : at a team's own field, stadium, arena, etc. • the home team • home games • The team opens its home season in just two weeks. — compare AWAY, ROAD

4 chiefly Brit : of, relating to, or coming from within your own country : DOMESTIC • We can make a profit on home sales alone. • the home market

home brew see ²BREW

⁴home verb homes; homed; hom-ing

home in on [phrasal verb] home in on (someone or something) : to find and move directly toward (someone or something) • The missile was homing in on its target. — often used figuratively • Researchers are homing in on the cause of the disease.

home base noun, pl ~ bases

1 [count] : the place in which someone or something lives or operates — usually singular • The company's home base is in New York. • (informal) She returned to her home base [=she went back home] after a long month of traveling.

2 [noncount] baseball : HOME PLATE home-body /'houm,bɑ:di/ noun, pl -bod-ies [count] informal : a person who likes to stay home • He's a homebody who hates parties.

home-bound /'houm,baund/ adj

1 : unable to leave your house because of age, injury, etc. • They deliver meals to homebound people.

2 : going home • Homebound travelers were stranded at the airport. • homebound traffic • a homebound train home-boy /'houm,boi/ noun, pl -boys [count] US slang

1 : a boy or man from your own neighborhood or hometown • He dedicated his win to his homeboys back home.

2 : a member of your gang • He was hanging out with his homeboys. — called also homey home-buy-er /'houm,bajə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who buys a house, apartment, etc. • The books has helpful information for first-time homebuyers. [=for people who are buying their first home]

home-com-ing /'houm,kamɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [count] : the act of returning to your home or to a place that is like your home • A large crowd gathered at the airport for the soldiers' homecoming.

2 or Homecoming [count, noncount] US a : an annual celebration for people who attended a college or university • Homecoming weekend b : an annual celebration for high-school students that includes sports games and a formal dance • Who's taking you to Homecoming? = Who's taking you to the Homecoming dance?

home economics noun [noncount] : a subject or class that teaches cooking, sewing, and other skills that are useful in the home • She learned to sew in home economics. — called also (US, informal) home ec

home fries noun [plural] US : potatoes that have been cut into small pieces and fried — called also home fried potatoes

home front noun

the home front : the people who stay in a country and work while that country's soldiers are fighting in a war in a foreign country • During the war we had to keep up morale on the home front [=keep up morale among the people living and working in our home country]

home-girl /'həʊm,gəl/ noun, pl -girls [count] US slang

1 : a girl or woman from your own neighborhood or hometown • She was happy to be back home with her homegirls.

2 : a girl or woman who is one of your friends home-grown /'həʊm'grəʊn/ adj

1 : grown or made at home or in your local area • The family sells their homegrown vegetables at the local market.

2 : raised in or coming from your local area • The music festival will feature some homegrown talent this year.

home help noun, pl ~ helps [count] Brit : a person whose job is to help ill or elderly people in their homes with cooking, cleaning, etc.

home-land /'həʊm,lænd/ noun, pl -lands [count]

1 : the country where someone was born or grew up • He returned to his homeland for the first time in many years.

2 : a usually large area where a particular group of people can live • The rebels are fighting for an independent homeland. • the Department of Homeland Security [=a department in the U.S. government that is responsible for the safety of the U.S. and its citizens]

home-less /'həʊmləs/ adj : having no place to live • homeless people • We volunteer at the homeless shelter. [=a building where homeless people can sleep and get food]

the homeless : homeless people : people who have no place to live • a shelter for the homeless

— home-less-ness noun [noncount]

home loan noun, pl ~ loans [count] : ¹MORTGAGE

home-ly /'həʊmli/ adj home-li-er; -est

1 US : not pretty or handsome : plain or unattractive • She has a homely face. • He's a bit homely but nice.

2 Brit : plain and simple in an appealing or pleasant way • the homely appeal of farm life • The hotel has a homely [= (US) homey] atmosphere.

— home-li-ness noun [noncount]

home-made /'həʊm'meɪd/ adj : made in the home and not in a factory, store, etc. • homemade bread — compare STORE-BOUGHT home-mak-er /'həʊm,meɪkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly US : a wife who does work (such as sewing, cleaning, or cooking) at home and usually does not have another job outside the home : HOUSEWIFE • TV commercials often show happy homemakers.

— home-mak-ing /'həʊm,meɪkɪŋ/ noun [noncount] • the challenges of homemaking home movie noun, pl ~ -ies [count] : a movie that you make for people to watch in your home and that is usually of your family or a family event • We watched home movies of the family reunion. — compare HOME VIDEO

home office noun, pl ~ -fices

1 [count] : a room in your house where you do office work • When I began working from home, I set up a home office.

2 the Home Office Brit : the department in the British government that deals with the law, the police, and prisons, and that decides which people can come into the country

ho-me-op-a-thy also Brit ho-moe-op-a-thy /,həʊmi-'ɑ:pəθi/ noun [noncount] : a system for treating illnesses that uses very small amounts of substances that would in larger amounts produce symptoms of the illnesses in healthy people

— ho-meo-path also Brit ho-moeo-path /'həʊmijə,pæθ/ noun, pl -paths [count] Maybe you should see a homeopath. — ho-meo-path-ic also Brit ho-moeo-path-ic /,həʊmijə'pæθɪk/ adj • homeopathic medicine/treatments home-own-er /'həʊm,əʊnə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who owns a home, apartment, etc. • The new law should provide tax relief for homeowners. • Do you have homeowner's insurance? [=insurance that covers damage to your house or the things inside your house]

home page noun, pl ~ pages [count] : the part of a Web site that is seen first and that usually contains links to other parts of the site • They have designed a simpler home page that is easier to use.

home plate noun [noncount] baseball : the base that a runner must touch in order to score • The runner was tagged out at home plate. — called also home base

hom-er /'həʊmə/ noun, pl -ers [count] baseball, informal : HOME RUN • He hit three homers in yesterday's game.

— homer verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing [no obj] • He homered three times in yesterday's game.

home-room /'həʊm,ru:m/ noun, pl -rooms US : a classroom where students go at the beginning of each school day [count] They were assigned to different homerooms. [non-count] He was late for homeroom.

home rule noun [noncount] : government of a place (such as a country or territory) by the people who live there instead of by another country • The citizens petitioned for home rule.

home run noun, pl ~ runs [count] baseball : a hit that allows the batter to go around all the bases and score a run • He hit three home runs. — compare DOUBLE, SINGLE, TRIPLE home-school /'həʊm,sku:l/ verb -schools; -schooled; -school-ing US : to teach your children at home instead of sending them to a school [+ obj] They homeschooled both their children. [no obj] Parents who homeschool are meeting on Thursday.

— homeschooling noun [noncount] • They believe in homeschooling.

home-school-er /'həʊm,sku:lə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US

1 : a child who is taught at home instead of in a school • Both of their children were homeschoolers.

2 : a parent who teaches a child at home instead of sending the child to a school • His parents are homeschoolers.

home-sick /'həʊm,sɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : sad because you are away from your family and home • He was/got homesick when he went to college. • She was homesick for her mother's cooking.

— home-sick-ness noun [noncount]

home-spun /'həʊm,spʌn/ adj [more ~; most ~] : plain and simple • People enjoy his folksy, homespun manner.

¹home-stead /'həʊm,sted/ noun, pl -steads [count]

1 : a house and the farmland it is on • They decided to farm the old homestead.

2 US : a piece of government land that a person could acquire by living on it and farming it when the western part of the U.S. was being settled

²homestead verb -steads; -stead-ed; -stead-ing US : to settle on government land and farm it [no obj] They homesteaded in Alaska. [+ obj] They homesteaded the territory in the 1860s.

— home-stead-er /'həʊm,stedə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

home-stretch /'həʊm'streɪʃ/ noun, pl -stretch-es [count] : the part of a racetrack between the last turn and the finish line • The horses are in the homestretch. — often used figuratively • The presidential race remains extremely close as we enter the homestretch. [=as we near the finish] — called also (Brit) home straight

home theater noun, pl ~ -ters [count] : an entertainment system for your home that usually includes a large television, a DVD player or VCR, and a sound system with many speakers home-town /'həʊm'taʊn/ noun, pl -towns [count] : the city or town where you were born or grew up • She returned to her hometown to stay after college. • hometown friends home truth noun, pl ~ truths [count] : an unpleasant fact about someone or something — usually plural • She was all ready to tell him some hard home truths. • The doctor told me the home truths about the dangers of smoking.

home video noun, pl ~ videos

1 [noncount] US : movies that are sold on videotapes or DVDs and are meant to be watched on television at home • the latest releases in home video • the home video market

2 [count] : a home movie that is recorded with a video camera • We watched a home video of their wedding.

home visit noun, pl ~ -its [count] Brit : HOUSE CALL home-ward /'həʊmwəd/ also chiefly Brit home-wards /'həʊmwədz/ adv : in the direction of home • He struggled homeward in the rain. • I am homeward bound [=going home]

— homeward adj • a homeward voyage/journey home-work /'həʊm,wɜ:k/ noun [noncount]

1 : work that a student is given to do at home • Please do/finish your homework. • She started her algebra homework. — compare CLASSWORK

2 : research or reading done in order to prepare for something — used in the phrase do your homework • The candidate did his homework [=studied the issues] before the debate.

¹hom-ey /'həʊmi/ adj hom-i-er; -est [or more ~; most ~] chiefly US : comfortable or familiar like home • a homey [= (Brit) homely] restaurant with a warm fireplace • a homey atmosphere

— hom-ey-ness or hom-i-ness noun [noncount] • We liked the homeyness of the restaurant.

²homey noun, pl -ies [count] US slang : HOMEBOY

ho-mi-cid-al /ˈhɑːməˈsaɪd/ adj

1 : likely to kill someone • a homicidal maniac

2 : of or relating to murder • a homicidal obsession • homicidal thoughts ho-mi-cide /ˈhɑːməˈsaɪd/ noun, pl -cides chiefly US : the act of killing another person : MURDER [count] The number of homicides increased last year. [noncount] He has been arrested for homicide.

hom-i-ly /ˈhɑːməli/ noun, pl hom-i-lies formal

1 [count] : a usually short talk on a religious or moral topic • The priest gave a brief homily on forgiveness.

2 : advice that is often not wanted [count] We had to listen to another one of his homilies about the value of public service. [noncount] a politician with a fondness for homily

hom-ing /ˈhəʊmɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : returning home • an animal with a homing instinct [=an ability to return home from a great distance]

2 technical : able to find and follow a target • A homing device guides the missile to the target. • a homing torpedo homing pigeon noun, pl ~ -geons [count] : a pigeon that is trained to return home from a great distance hom-i-ny /ˈhɑːməni/ noun [noncount] : a food made from dried corn • We had pork and hominy stew.

ho-mo /ˈhəʊmə/ noun, pl -mos [count] informal + offensive : a homosexual person

ho-mo-ge-neous /ˈhəʊməˈdʒiːniəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] somewhat formal : made up of the same kind of people or things • a racially homogeneous neighborhood [=a neighborhood in which all the people belong to the same race] • a fairly homogeneous collection of examples — compare HETEROGENEOUS

— ho-mo-ge-ne-ity /ˈhəʊməˈdʒəːniːjəti/ noun [noncount] formal • racial/economic/cultural homogeneity

ho-mog-e-nize also Brit ho-mog-e-nise /həʊˈmɑːdʒəˌnaɪz/ verb -niz-es; -nized; -niz-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to treat (milk) so that the fat is mixed throughout instead of floating on top

2 : to change (something) so that its parts are the same or similar • The new curriculum is an attempt to homogenize education throughout the county.

— ho-mog-e-ni-za-tion also Brit ho-mog-e-ni-sa-tion /həʊˈmɑːdʒənəˈzeɪʃən, Brit həʊˈmɒdʒənəˈzeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the homogenization of society — homogenized also Brit homogenised adj • a carton of homogenized milk • an increasingly homogenized society

ho-mog-e-nous /həʊˈmɑːdʒənəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : HOMOGENEOUS

ho-mo-graph /ˈhɑːməˌgræf, Brit ˈhɒməˌgrɑːf/ noun, pl -graphs [count] : a word that is spelled like another word but that is different in origin, meaning, or pronunciation • The words “bow” for a part of a ship and “bow” for a weapon that shoots arrows are homographs.

hom-onym /ˈhɑːməˌnɪm/ noun, pl -nyms [count] : a word that is spelled and pronounced like another word but is different in meaning • The noun “bear” and the verb “bear” are homonyms.

ho-mo-phobe /ˈhəʊməˌfoʊb/ noun, pl -phobes [count] : a person who hates or is afraid of homosexuals or treats them badly

— ho-mo-pho-bia /ˈhəʊməˌfoʊbiə/ noun [noncount] • She was accused of homophobia. — ho-mo-pho-bic /ˈhəʊməˌfoʊbɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • homophobic remarks

ho-mo-phone /ˈhɑːməˌfoʊn/ noun, pl -phones [count] : a word that is pronounced like another word but is different in meaning, origin, or spelling • “To,” “too,” and “two” are homophones.

Ho-mo sa-pi-ens /ˈhəʊməˌseɪpijənz, Brit ˈhəʊməʊˌsæpijənz/ noun, pl Homo sapiens technical : the species of human beings that exist today [noncount] All people are members of Homo sapiens. [plural] All Homo sapiens [=human beings] share certain characteristics.

ho-mo-sex-u-al /ˈhəʊməˌseksjəwəl/ adj, somewhat formal

1 : sexually attracted to people of the same sex • a homosexual man

2 : based on or showing a sexual attraction to people of the same sex • homosexual behavior • a homosexual affair — compare BISEXUAL, HETEROSEXUAL

— homosexual noun, pl -als [count] • bias against homosexuals — ho-mo-sex-u-al-i-ty /ˈhəʊməˌseksjəˈwæləti/noun [noncount] • He is very open about his homosexuality.

hon /ˈhʌn/ noun, informal — used to address someone you love • Hey, hon, would you get the door for me? ♦ Hon is a short form of honey.

Hon. also Brit Hon abbr honorable — used in titles • the Hon. Judge Smith presiding

hon-cho /ˈhɑːntʃou/ noun, pl -chos [count] chiefly US, informal : a person who is in charge of other people • corporate honchos • Talk to the head honcho. [=the person with the most authority]

hone /ˈhoun/ verb hones; honed; hon-ing [+ obj]

1 : to sharpen (something, such as a knife) with a stone • hone a blade

2 : to make (something, such as a skill) better or more effective • She honed her language skills by reading and writing every day.

hone in on [phrasal verb] US : to find and go directly toward (someone or something) • The missile was honing in on [=homing in on] its target. — usually used figuratively • Researchers are honing in on the cause of the disease. ♦ Although hone in on is widely used, many people regard it as an error for home in on.

¹hon-est /ˈɑːnəst/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 a : good and truthful : not lying, stealing, or cheating • They are honest people. • He says that it's impossible to find an honest politician. • These criminals pose a danger to honest citizens. — opposite DISHONEST b : showing or suggesting a good and truthful character • He has an honest face. — opposite DISHONEST

2 : not hiding the truth about someone or something : not meant to deceive someone • Just give me an honest answer. • an honest reply • If you want my honest opinion, you should get a job. • To be perfectly/quite honest, I don't want to go. • You shouldn't be afraid of a little honest criticism. [=criticism that is based on facts] • I'd be less than honest [=I would be lying] if I told you there won't be problems. • He gave us a painfully/brutally/refreshingly honest account of his childhood. • I don't think these people are being honest with me. [=I don't think they're telling me the truth] — opposite DISHONEST

3 a : not deserving blame : not done with the intent of hurting or harming anyone • It was an honest error/mistake. b : done using your own work or effort • He still goes to the office every morning and puts in an honest day's work. : not gotten by cheating, lying, etc. • He's just trying to earn an honest living. [=he is trying to earn a good amount of money for his hard work] • These people work hard, and they deserve an honest wage. [=an amount of money that is fair for the work that is done]

4 : plain and good : not fancy • The restaurant prides itself on serving simple, honest food.

make an honest woman of (someone) or make (someone) an honest woman old-fashioned + humorous : to marry (a woman, especially a woman you have already had sex with) • When will he finally make an honest woman of her?

²honest adv, informal — used to stress that a statement is true • I didn't do it—honest I didn't! • She is not my friend, honest. — sometimes used in the phrases honest to God or honest to goodness • Honest to God, I wasn't there that night. • He told you that? Honest to goodness? [=really?; honestly?] — see also HONEST-TO-GOODNESS

hon-est-ly /ˈɑːnəstli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 a : without cheating or lying : in an honest way • Officials counted the votes honestly. • The bank has always dealt honestly with me. • I can honestly say that I have never seen that man before today. • He spoke honestly about the mistakes he had made. b : in a genuine way : without pretending • He was honestly [=truly] frightened by what the doctor told him. • She honestly believes that she has been mistreated.

2 — used to stress that a statement is true • Honestly, I don't know how you can raise kids and work too. • I honestly don't know what to do.

3 informal — used to express annoyance or disapproval • Honestly! Is that the best you can do?!

honest-to-goodness adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US, informal : REAL • He is an honest-to-goodness legend. • an honest-to-goodness movie star

hon-es-ty /ˈɑːnəsti/ noun [noncount] : the quality of being fair and truthful : the quality of being honest • She is admired for her kindness and her honesty. • He demands honesty from everyone who works for him. • He didn't even have enough honesty to tell me he was leaving.

honesty is the best policy — used to say that telling the truth is better than lying even when it is hard to do • He realized honesty is the best policy and told them what really happened to their car.

in all honesty — used to stress that a statement is true • In all honesty, I don't know what you're talking about. • I don't like him, but in all honesty, I don't know why.

hon·ey /ˈhʌni/ noun, pl -eys

1 [noncount] : a thick, sweet substance made by bees • She likes honey in her tea.

2 informal — used to address someone you love • “Honey, would you pass the salt?” • Honey, I'm home!

3 [singular] chiefly US, informal : something that is very good • The shortstop made a honey of a play. [=he made a very good play] • Your car is a real honey.

land of milk and honey see ¹LAND

hon·ey·bee /ˈhʌni,bi:/ noun, pl -bees [count] : a bee that makes honey — see color picture on page C10

hon·ey·comb /ˈhʌni,kəʊm/ noun, pl -combs : a group of wax cells with six sides that are built by honeybees in their hive and that contain young bees or honey [noncount] a piece of honeycomb [count] One of the honeycombs was empty.

hon·ey·combed /ˈhʌni,kəʊmd/ adj : having many holes or open spaces • The car bumper includes a special honey-combed plastic. • The rock is honeycombed with caves.

hon·ey·dew melon /ˈhʌni,duː-, Brit ˈhʌni,djuː-/ noun, pl ~ -ons [count] : a type of large fruit (called a melon) that has a hard, smooth skin and green flesh — see color picture on page C5

hon·ey·moon /ˈhʌni,muːn/ noun, pl -moons [count]

1 : a trip or vacation taken by a newly married couple • Where are you going on your honeymoon? • a honeymoon cruise

2 : a pleasant period of time at the start of something (such as a relationship or a politician's term in office) when people are happy, are working with each other, etc. • The honeymoon (period) between the business partners was brief.

honeymoon verb -moons; -moon; -moon·ing [no obj] : to go on a honeymoon • They honeymooned in Niagara Falls. • a honeymooning couple

— hon·ey·moon·er noun, pl -ers [count] • The resort attracts many honeymooners.

hon·ey·suck·le /ˈhʌni,səkəl/ noun, pl -suck·les [count, noncount] : a type of shrub that has bright, colorful flowers

honk /ˈhɔːŋk/ verb honks; honked; honk·ing

1 [no obj] of a goose : to make a loud sound • We could hear the geese honking overhead.

2 a [no obj] of a horn : to make a loud sound • a honking horn b : to cause (a horn) to honk [+ obj] The people in the cars behind us kept honking [=blowing, (Brit) hooting] their horns. [no obj] I honked at the car in front of me.

honk noun, pl honks [count] : the loud sound made by a goose; also : a similar loud sound • the honk of a horn hon·ky or hon·kie /ˈhɔːŋki/ noun, pl -kies [count] US, informal + offensive : a white person

hon·ky·tonk /ˈhɔːŋki,tɔːŋk/ noun, pl -tonks

1 [noncount] a : a type of lively music usually performed on a piano b US : a type of country music with a heavy beat

2 [count] US : a cheap nightclub or dance hall that often features country music

— honky-tonk adj, always used before a noun • a honky-tonk piano/song

hon·or (US) or hon·our /ˈɑːnə/ noun, pl -ors

1 [noncount] : respect that is given to someone who is admired • These people deserve to be treated with honor. • The team brought honor to the school. • Please welcome our guest of honor. [=the person who is being specially honored] • He was given a place of honor at the table. [=a seat for someone who is being specially honored] • The trophy has a place of honor [=a special position for something that is highly valued] on the mantel. • They're having a dinner in honor of the new coach. = They're having a dinner in the new coach's honor. [=they are having a dinner as a way to show respect and admiration for the new coach] • The building was named in honor of the city's founder. • He wore his ethnic heritage as a badge of honor. [=he was proud of his ethnic heritage and did not try to hide it]

2 [noncount] a : good reputation : good quality or character as judged by other people • He was prepared to fight to defend/protect/uphold his family's honor. b : high moral standards of behavior • She has a keen sense of honor. • a code of honor • He would not do it as a matter of honor. • He's a man of honor.

3 [singular] formal a : a special opportunity to do something that makes you proud — usually + of • She was given/granted the honor of christening the ship. • I have the honor of informing you that you have won first prize. • May I have the honor of this dance? [= (more commonly) will you dance with me?] b : something that shows that other people have respect for you • It was an honor to be invited. • It's a great honor (for me) to be here with you tonight. • I hope you'll do me the honor of accepting this invitation. [=it will make me feel happy and proud if you accept this invitation]

4 [count] : something (such as a title or medal) that is given to a person as a sign of respect and admiration • She has received/won many honors and awards for her charitable works. • Charitable organizations have been heaping honors on him. • He was buried with full military honors. [=a special military ceremony for a person who has died] — see also MEDAL OF HONOR

5 [singular] : an admired person who is a source of pride and respect for the other members of a group, organization, etc. — used in the phrase an honor to • She was an honor to [=a credit to] her profession.

6 Honor [count] — used as a title for a judge or mayor • Please welcome His Honor, the mayor. • We request a recess, Your Honor.

7 honors [plural] a : special credit or recognition given to students who have successfully done work at a high level • She graduated with (top/high) honors. b : a special course of study for students who want to take classes at a high level • honors classes/courses • an honours degree from a British university do the honors : to do the actions performed by a host or hostess • My mother cooks a big turkey for Thanksgiving every year, and my father does the honors at the table. [=my father carves and serves the turkey] • The Ambassador did the honors by introducing the guest speaker.

lap of honour see ³LAP

on your honor formal — used to say that you promise to do something • On my honor, I will do my duty.

word of honor see ¹WORD

— see also MAID OF HONOR

honor (US) or honour verb -ors; -ored; -or·ing [+ obj]

1 a : to regard or treat (someone) with respect and admiration : to show or give honor to (someone) • You should honor [=respect] your parents. • When we got married, we promised to love and honor each other. • We were honored with/by the queen's presence. • (often humorous) Thank you for honoring us with your presence. [=thank you for coming here] b : to show admiration for (someone or something) in a public way : to give a public honor to (someone or something) • She has been honored by several organizations for her charitable works. • We need to find an appropriate way to honor these brave people. • They're holding a dinner at which she is being honored (with an award) as player of the year. • They have established a scholarship as a way to honor his memory/achievements.

2 a : to do what is required by (something, such as a promise or a contract) • He claims that the company failed to honor [=fulfill] the contract/warranty. • honor a warranty b : to accept (something) as payment • honor a credit card • honor a check c : to repay (a debt) • They are accused of failing to honor their debts.

— honored adj • He was welcomed as an honored guest. • I feel honored to have been invited. • an honored tradition

hon·or·able (US) or hon·our·able /ˈɑːnərəbəl/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] a : deserving honor and respect • The college has a long and honorable history. • an honorable profession b : having or showing honesty and good moral character • an honorable man • It is not honorable of you to behave like that. c : fair and proper : not deserving blame or criticism • They are trying to find an honorable way out of this dispute. • He assured her that his intentions were honorable. • He received an honorable discharge from the army.

— opposite DISHONORABLE

2 Honorable a — used as a title for some government officials • the Honorable Senator/Judge — abbr. Hon. b Brit — used as a title for the children of some members of the nobility; abbr. Hon.

— hon·or·ably (US) or hon·our·ably /ˈɑːnərəbli/ adv

• He served honorably in the war. • He was honorably discharged from the service.

honorable mention noun, pl ~ -tions [count] : an award or special praise given to someone who has done something extremely well but who has not won any of the official prizes

hon-o-rar-i-um /ˌɑːnəˈrɛrɪəm/ noun, pl -ia /-ijə/ also -iums [count] formal : an amount of money paid for a service

• We are willing to offer a small honorarium that we hope you will accept for judging the competition.

hon-or-ary /ˌɑːnəˈrɛrɪ, Brit ˌɑːnəˈrɛrɪ/ adj

1 : given as a sign of honor or achievement • He was awarded an honorary degree/title.

2 always used before a noun a : regarded as one of a group although not officially elected or included • He's an honorary member of the club. b : holding a position for which no payment is given : not paid • He is the honorary president/chairman of the commission.

hon-or-ee /ˌɑːnəˈriː/ noun, pl -ees [count] US : a person who is being given an honor • Three honorees were chosen for the Hall of Fame.

honor guard noun, pl ~ guards [count] chiefly US : a person or group that is the guard at a formal or ceremonial event (such as a military funeral or a parade)

hon-or-if-ic /ˌɑːnəˈrɪfɪk/ adj : giving or expressing honor or respect • an honorific name/title

— honorific noun, pl -ics [count] • The title “Excellency” was used as an honorific.

honor roll noun, pl ~ rolls [count] US : a list of people who deserve to be honored; especially : a list of students who have received good grades in school — called also (Brit) roll of honour; compare DEAN'S LIST honor society noun, pl ~ -ties [count] US : a group of students who are honored for receiving good grades honor system noun, pl ~ -tems [singular] chiefly US : a system in which people are trusted to follow rules and to act in an honest way • Customers are on the honor system to pay for any software they choose to purchase.

honour, honourable Brit spellings of HONOR, HONORABLE

hooch /ˈhuːtʃ/ noun [noncount] chiefly US slang : alcoholic liquor especially when it is cheap or made illegally • a bottle of hooch

1 hood /ˈhʊd/ noun, pl hoods [count]

1 a : a soft covering for the head and neck often attached to a coat or cape b : a cloth covering worn over the entire head to hide a person's face • Witnesses reported that the bandits were wearing hoods. — see color picture on page C15

2 a : a cover that is used to protect or shield something (such as part of a machine or a camera lens) • The photographer used a lens hood to cut down on glare. b US : the movable metal covering over the engine of an automobile • What kind of engine do you have under the hood? • a hood ornament — called also (Brit) bonnet; see picture at CAR c US : a device attached above a cooking surface that is used for carrying off smoke and fumes • a range hood — compare ²HOOD, ³HOOD

2 hood noun, pl hoods [count] US, informal : HOODLUM • a gang of hoods — compare ¹HOOD, ³HOOD

3 hood noun, pl hoods [count] US slang : a neighborhood; especially : a poor neighborhood in a large city • his friends in the hood • programs to help kids living in the hood — compare ¹HOOD, ²HOOD

-hood /-ˌhʊd/ noun suffix

1 : state : condition : quality • likelihood • falsehood • childhood • adulthood

2 : people sharing a condition or character • brotherhood

hood-ed /ˈhʊdəd/ adj

1 : having a hood • a hooded jacket/sweatshirt : wearing a hood • a hooded figure

2 of an animal : having a head that is colored or formed in a way that looks like a hood • a hooded duck/cobra

3 — used to describe eyes that are half closed • He looked at us with hooded eyes.

hood-ie /ˈhʊdi/ noun, pl -ies [count] informal : a hooded sweatshirt

hood-lum /ˈhʊːdləm, ˈhʊdləm/ noun, pl -lums [count] : a tough and violent criminal : THUG • a small-time hoodlum hood-wink /ˈhʊd,wɪŋk/ verb -winks; -winked; -wink-ing [+ obj] informal : to deceive or trick (someone) • Don't let yourself be hoodwinked into buying things you don't need.

hoo-ey /ˈhuːwi/ noun [noncount] chiefly US, informal : foolish talk or writing : NONSENSE • Don't waste your money on that book—it's a lot of hooey.

1 hoof /ˈhʊf/ noun, pl hooves /ˈhuːvz, ˈhʊvz/ also hoofs [count] : the hard covering on the foot of an animal (such as a horse or pig) — see picture at HORSE; see also CLOVEN on the hoof 1 of an animal : while still living : before being killed for meat • The cattle cost $1.20 a pound on the hoof. 2 informal, of people : while doing something else • She ate lunch on the hoof to get the report done on time.

HOOF

— hoofed /ˈhʊft/ adj • hoofed animals

2 hoof verb hoofs; hoofed; hoof-ing [no obj] US, informal : to dance as a performer • The cast was hoofing on the stage. hoof it informal : to move or travel on foot : to walk or run • We quickly hoofed it down to the subway station.

— hoof-er /ˈhʊfə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • a talented hoof-er [=dancer] on Broadway

hoof-and-mouth disease noun [noncount] : FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE

hoof-beat /ˈhʊf,bɪt/ noun, pl -beats [count] : the sound made when an animal's hoof hits the ground hoo-ha also hoo-hah /ˈhuː,hɑː/ noun [noncount] informal + usually disapproving : great excitement or concern about something • Despite all the initial hoo-ha, people came to accept the new building.

1 hook /ˈhʊk/ noun, pl hooks [count]

1 : a curved or bent tool for catching, holding, or pulling something • He baited the hook [=fishhook] with a worm. • a coat/picture hook

2 : a ball or shot in golf and other games that curves to the side instead of going straight • She hit a hook into the left rough.

3 boxing : a punch coming from the side of the body instead of going straight forward • He threw a right/left hook to his opponent's body. — compare JAB, UPPERCUT

4 basketball : HOOK SHOT

5 baseball, informal — used to describe the action of removing a pitcher from a game • He got the hook [=he was removed] after allowing three runs in the second inning. • The manager gave him the hook

6 : something (such as part of a song) that attracts people's attention • The song has a catchy hook. • They used the commercial as a hook to get people to visit their Web site.

by hook or by crook informal : by any possible means • She was determined to succeed by hook or by crook.

hook, line and sinker informal : without hesitation or doubt : COMPLETELY • He gave them some ridiculous explanation, and they fell for it hook, line and sinker. [=they believed his explanation completely] off the hook 1 informal — used to describe someone who has avoided trouble or punishment; usually used with get or let • He counted on his friends to get him off the hook. [=to protect him from trouble or punishment] • I wasn't going to let her off the hook so easily. 2 of a telephone : with the receiver not resting in its usual position • They took the phone off the hook so that it wouldn't ring.

on the hook for US, informal : owing money for (something) : responsible for (something) • He's still on the hook for the cost of the repairs.

ring off the hook see ³RING sling your hook see ¹SLING

hook

picture hook

fishhook

coat hook

2 hook verb hooks; hooked; hook-ing

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition a [+ obj] : to connect or attach (something) with a hook • The train cars were hooked together. • My sweater was hooked on a branch. • I hooked the door shut. b [no obj] : to be attached by hooks • The dress hooks in the back. • The two parts hooked together.

2 [+ obj] : to catch (something, such as a fish) with a hook • He hooked a large fish.

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to bend (a part of your body, such as an arm) and place it around something. • He hooked his arm around my neck. • She hooked her fingers around the doorknob. • He hooked his thumb through a loop of his pants.

4 [no obj] : to curve like a hook • The bird's beak hooks downward.

5 sports : to hit or kick (a ball or shot) in a way that causes it to curve to the side : to hit a hook [+ obj] (golf) She hooked her drive into the rough. • (American football) The kicker hooked the ball to the left and missed the field goal. [no obj] (golf) The ball hooked into the rough.

hook into [phrasal verb] hook into (something) informal : to become connected to (something, such as a computer network or a source of electrical power) • We don't have the hardware we need to hook into the network.

hook up [phrasal verb] 1 informal : to join together to do something • The two men hooked up to form a new company. — often + with • She hooked up with a guitarist and drummer. 2 chiefly US, informal : to meet at a place • We are planning to hook up after the game. — often + with • We plan to hook up with our friends after the game. 3 hook (someone) up chiefly US, informal a : to cause (someone) to have a friendly or romantic relationship with someone • They hooked him up with some new friends. [=they introduced him to some new friends] • She tried to hook him up with [=fix him up with] one of her friends. b : to provide (someone) with something that is needed or wanted • Don't worry. I'll hook you up. — usually + with • She hooked me up with some great tickets. 4 hook up (something or someone) or hook (something or someone) up : to attach (something or someone) to a device by means of electrical connections • hook up the wires/speakers • The patient was hooked up to a monitor/respirator. — see also HOOKUP

hooked adj

1 : shaped like a hook • the bird's hooked beak
2 not used before a noun, informal a : addicted to a drug — usually + on • He was hooked on cocaine. b : very interested in and enthusiastic about something • Her friends talked her into playing golf, and now she's hooked. — usually + on • He's hooked on skiing. • She got hooked on the show after watching one episode.

hook-er /'hukə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal : PROSTITUTE hook shot noun, pl ~ shots [count] basketball : a shot made by swinging the ball up and over your head with a long movement of your arm hook-up /'huk,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] : an arrangement or part by which pieces of equipment can be connected • The interview will be broadcast through a satellite hookup. • The cabin has electric and water hookups. • telephone/computer/Internet hookups — see also hook up at ²HOOK

hooky also hook-ey /'huki/ noun

play hooky US, informal : to be away from school without permission : to not be at school when you should be • He was playing hooky [=skipping school] with his friends.

hoo-li-gan /'hu:liɡən/ noun, pl -gans [count] : a usually young man who does noisy and violent things as part of a group or gang • The windows were broken by a gang of teenage hooligans. • soccer hooligans [=violent soccer fans who fight against other soccer fans]

— hoo-li-gan-ism /'hu:liɡə,nɪzəm/ noun [noncount]

hoop /'hu:p/ noun, pl hoops [count]

1 a : a circular object : a large ring • She wore gold hoops as earrings. = She wore hoop earrings. b : a large metal ring used for holding together the sides of a barrel c : a large ring used by performers or for play — see also HULA-HOOP

2 basketball a : a metal ring that the ball must go through in order to score points • He grabbed the rebound and put the ball back up through the hoop. [=basket, net] b informal : a successful shot • They scored a quick hoop [=basket, bucket] on a fast break. c US, informal : BASKETBALL • hoop fans — usually plural • hoops fans • Let's play/shoot some hoops. • a game of hoops • college/pro hoops

3 : an arch through which the ball must be hit in the game of croquet : WICKET

jump through hoops see ¹JUMP

hoop-la /'hu:,pla:/ noun [noncount] chiefly US, informal + usually disapproving : talk or writing that is designed to get people excited about and interested in something • Many people have grown tired of all the hoopla surrounding the opening of the new theater.

hooray variant spelling of HURRAH

hoose-gow /'hu:s,ɡau/ noun

the hoosegow US, informal + humorous : PRISON, JAIL • The cops threatened to throw him in the hoosegow.

¹hoot /'hu:t/ noun, pl hoots [count]

1 : the loud, deep sound made by an owl; also : a similar loud, deep sound • (Brit) the hoot [=honk] of a car's horn

2 : a loud laugh or call made by a person • hoots of laughter • The announcement was met with hoots of derision/scorn.

3 informal : an amusing person or thing — usually singular • Your father is a hoot. • Wasn't that a hoot?

give a hoot also care a hoot informal : to care at all about someone or something — used in negative statements • I don't care a hoot about what they say. • I don't give two hoots about his problems.

²hoot verb hoots; hoot-ed; hoot-ing

1 [no obj] of an owl : to make a hoot • We could hear an owl hooting in the woods.

2 Brit a [no obj] of a horn : to make a loud sound : HONK • a hooting horn b Brit : to cause (a horn) to hoot [+ obj] The people in the cars behind us kept hooting [= (US) honking] their horns. [no obj] I hooted at the car in front of me.

3 : to call out or laugh loudly [no obj] The crowd booed and hooted when it was announced that the show was canceled.

[+ obj] The crowd hooted its disapproval. • The speaker was hooted down by a small group of protesters. [=the protesters loudly shouted at the speaker so that the speaker could not be heard] • The speaker was hooted off the platform by a small group of protesters.

hoot-er /'hu:tə/ noun, pl -ers

1 [count] : a person or device that hoots

2 hooters [plural] US, informal + impolite : a woman's breasts

3 [count] Brit slang : ¹NOSE 1 • He has an enormous hooter.

hoo-ver /'hu:və/ verb -vers; -vered; -ver-ing Brit : VACUUM [no obj] I spent the morning hoovering. [+ obj] She hoovered the carpet.

hooves plural of ¹HOOF

¹hop /'hɑ:p/ verb hops; hopped; hop-ping

1 [no obj] : to move by a quick jump or series of jumps • He hopped over the hot sand. • We crossed the stream by hop-ping from one rock to another. • A frog was hopping along the edge of the pond. • I sprained my ankle and had to hop (on one foot) back to the house to get help.

2 [+ obj] : to jump over (something) • hop a puddle/fence

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] informal a : to move or go quickly • I hopped out of bed, got dressed, and headed off to work. • I need to hop into the shower [=I need to take a quick shower] before we go. • He hopped in the car and drove off. • She hopped on the train/elevator/plane. b : to go from place to place without staying long at any one place • We spent the evening hopping from one night club to another. • She's been hopping from job to job for years.

4 informal a [+ obj] US : to ride on (an airplane, train, etc.) • She hopped [=took] the first available flight to New York. b always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to make a short trip especially in an airplane • They plan to hop down/over to the conference. — see also HOPPING hop it Brit, informal : to go away quickly • She told her brother to hop it [=beat it] and leave her alone.

hop to it informal : to act or move quickly • The car was ready to leave and he was told to hop to it.

²hop noun, pl hops [count]

1 a : a short, quick jump • She did a little hop to the left. b : the bounce of a ball • The shortstop fielded the ball on the second hop.

2 old-fashioned : a social event with dancing • a sock hop [=a social event of the 1950s in the U.S. at which teenagers danced in their socks]

3 informal a : a short flight in an airplane • a hop down to Philadelphia b chiefly US : a short trip • a quick hop to the grocery store a hop, skip, and (a) jump informal : a short distance • Her house is just a hop, skip, and jump from mine.

— see also HIP-HOP

¹hope /'houp/ verb hopes; hoped; hop-ing : to want something to happen or be true and think that it could happen or be true [no obj] No one knows yet if anyone survived the crash. At this point, we can only hope. • "Will you be able to come to the party?" "I hope so." [=I want to go to the party]

but am not sure that I will be able to] • “Will you have to miss the party?” “I hope not” [=I do not want to miss the party] — often + for • He’s hoping for a promotion. • An apology is the best/most we can hope for. • She was hoping for an invitation to the party. • She finally got her hoped-for promotion. • All we can do is hope for the best [=hope that things will turn out as well as possible] [+ obj] She hoped that she would be invited to the party. = She hoped to receive an invitation to the party. • We all hope (that) things will be better soon. = We’re all hoping (that) things will be better soon. • They hope to succeed. • I hope (that) she remembers. • I hope you’re feeling better soon. • That’s what she hoped would happen. • It is (to be) hoped that the strike will end soon. • Let’s hope that the strike ends soon. • I hope I haven’t bored you. • Everyone in your family is well, I hope.

here’s hoping informal — used to say that you hope something will happen • Here’s hoping (that) it doesn’t rain.

hope against hope : to hope for something when you know that it will probably not happen or be true • We’re hoping against hope that they survived the crash.

²hope noun, pl hopes

1 : the feeling of wanting something to happen and thinking that it could happen : a feeling that something good will happen or be true [noncount] When they started their life together, they were young and full of hope. • Rescuers have not yet abandoned/lost hope that more survivors will be found. • The drug has brought/given hope to thousands of sufferers. [count] We allowed ourselves to entertain hopes that the crisis would end soon. • The goal raised/lifted the hopes of the team. • The hope is that there will be a settlement soon. • The lawyers do not want to raise false hopes of an early settlement. • Our hopes are fading/dwindling. • We had high hopes of winning the game. [=we felt we had a very good chance of winning the game] • You shouldn’t get your hopes up [=feel so hopeful] • She went back to the restaurant with hopes of finding her purse there. = She went back to the restaurant with the hope of finding her purse there. [=because she thought and hoped that she might find her purse there] • He told them the truth with the hope that they would understand.

2 [noncount] : the chance that something good will happen • She believes there’s hope of/for a cure. [=that a cure is possible] • He had little/no hope of attending college. • The latest reports hold out hope for a possible end to this crisis. • They have a glimmer/ray of hope [=a small chance] of winning. • His condition is beyond hope [=his condition is hopeless]

3 [singular] : someone or something that may be able to provide help : someone or something that gives you a reason for hoping • He’s our last/best hope. • At this point their only hope is that someone will offer to buy the company. • What hope is there for someone like me?

4 [count] : something that is hoped for • All my hopes have been fulfilled at last. • Our fondest hope is that our children will be happy and healthy. • We all have hopes and dreams for the future. • We have great hopes for the coming year.

fix your hopes on/upon see ¹FIX

in (the) hope of/that or in hopes of/that : with the hope that something will happen or could happen • He returned to the crime scene in (the) hope of finding further evidence. • He waited in hopes that she would show up.

live in hope chiefly Brit : to hope for something when you know that it will probably not happen or be true • We live in hope that there will be some survivors of the crash.

pin (all) your hopes on see pin on at ²PIN hope chest noun, pl ~ chests [count] US, old-fashioned : a chest or box in which a young woman keeps things (such as silverware and linen) that she will use after she gets married

¹hope-ful /ˈhoʊpfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : full of hope • The mood is sad rather than hopeful. • a hopeful message : feeling or showing hope • He was hopeful that things would get better soon. • I still feel hopeful about the future. • She is hopeful of winning the race. • a hopeful tone of voice

2 : giving someone feelings of hope • There are hopeful signs that the crisis may end soon. • The movie has a hopeful ending. • Investigators report that there have been some hopeful developments in the case.

— hope-ful-ness noun [noncount]

²hopeful noun, pl -fuls [count] : a person who hopes to do something • a presidential hopeful [=a person who hopes to become president] • young hopefuls in Hollywood

hope-ful-ly /ˈhoʊpfəli/ adv

1 : in a hopeful manner • They gazed up at us hopefully.

2 : it is hoped : I hope : we hope • Hopefully, it won’t rain tomorrow. [=I hope that it won’t rain tomorrow] • Hopefully things will get better soon.

hope-less /ˈhoʊpləs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having or feeling no hope • He felt confused and hopeless after losing his job.

2 a always used before a noun : unable to be changed • She’s a hopeless romantic. b informal : unable to be helped or improved : very bad • We were the most hopeless group of golfers you ever saw. • We were hopeless at (playing) golf.

3 : giving no reason for hope • a hopeless situation • He’s very ill, but his condition isn’t hopeless.

4 : unable to be solved or done : IMPOSSIBLE • a hopeless problem/task

— hope-less-ly /ˈhoʊpləsli/ adv • He stared hopelessly out the window. — used especially to add force to a statement • He’s a hopelessly naive person. • She was hopelessly addicted to tobacco. • They fell hopelessly in love. — hopeless-ness noun [noncount] • feelings of hopelessness

hopped-up /ˈhɑːptʰʌp/ adj [more ~; most ~] US, informal

1 : showing or feeling the effects of a drug • a hopped-up addict • She was hopped-up on morphine.

2 : very energetic or excited • hopped-up music • The casino was hopped-up on opening night.

3 : having more than usual power • a hopped-up [=souped-up] engine hop-per /ˈhɑːpə/ noun, pl -pers

1 [count] : someone or something that hops • (informal) a job hopper [=someone who keeps changing jobs] • The third baseman caught a hopper. [=a ball that bounced on the ground]

2 [count] : a container that is used for pouring material (such as grain or coal) into a machine or opening

3 the hopper US a : a box that bills are put into before they are considered by a legislature b : a mix of things to be considered or done • The company has several new product ideas in the hopper.

¹hop-ping /ˈhɑːpɪŋ/ noun [noncount] informal : the activity of going from one place to another place of the same kind — usually used in combination • Every night they went club hopping. [=they went to a number of different clubs every night] • gallery-hopping • bar-hopping

²hopping adj, informal : very busy or active • The bar was hopping. • The boss kept me hopping all day.

³hopping adv, informal : very or extremely — used in the phrase hopping mad • Many employees are hopping mad over the new contract.

hop-py /ˈhɑːpi/ adj : having the taste or smell of hops • hoppy beer/flavor

hops /ˈhɑːps/ noun [plural] : the dried flowers of a plant that are used to give a bitter flavor to beer and ale

¹hop-scotch /ˈhɑːpskɑːtʃ/ noun [noncount] : a child’s game in which players hop through a series of squares drawn on the ground

²hopscotch verb -scotch-es; -scotched; -scotch-ing [no obj] chiefly US, informal : to move from one place to another • The tour hopscotched from city to city. • We hopscotched across the country.

horde /ˈhɔːd/ noun, pl hordes [count] usually disapproving : a large group of people • A horde of tourists entered the museum. • Hordes of reporters were shouting questions.

Do not confuse horde with hoard.

ho-ri-zon /həˈraɪzn/ noun, pl -zons

1 the horizon : the line where the earth or sea seems to meet the sky • We sailed toward the horizon. • The sun rose slowly over/above the eastern horizon. — see color picture on page C7

2 [count] a : the limit or range of a person’s knowledge, understanding, or experience • Reading broadens/expands one’s horizons b : the limit of what is possible in a particular field or activity • These discoveries have opened up new horizons in the field of cancer research.

on the horizon : coming in the near future • Scientists believe that a major breakthrough is on the horizon.

hor-i-zon-tal /ˌhɒrəˈzaːntl/ adj : positioned from side to side rather than up and down : parallel to the ground • a horizontal line/beam — compare VERTICAL

— horizontal noun, pl -tals [count] • a design with strong horizontals [=horizontal lines or parts] — hor-i-zon-tal-i-

/ˌhɒrəˈzɑːntli/ adv • The line extends horizontally.

hormone /ˈhɒɹmoun/ noun, pl -mones [count] : a natural substance that is produced in the body and that influences the way the body grows or develops • sex hormones • a hormone deficiency

– hor-mon-al /hɒəˈmounl/ adj • hormonal changes

– hormonally adv • hormonally controlled changes hormone replacement therapy noun [noncount] medical : the use of the hormone estrogen to treat symptoms of menopause

¹horn /ˈhɒən/ noun, pl horns

¹ [count] a : one of the hard pointed parts that grows on the head of some animals (such as cattle, goats, or sheep) b [count] : a hard pointed part that grows on the nose of a rhinoceros c [noncount] : the hard material of which horns are made • utensils made of horn

2 [count] : something that is shaped like a horn • a saddle horn

3 [count] a : a brass musical instrument (such as a trumpet or trombone) — see also ENGLISH HORN, FRENCH HORN b : an instrument made from an animal's horn that is used for music or for producing loud signals

4 [count] : a device that makes a loud noise • The driver in the car behind me blew/honked his horn. — see picture at CAR

5 the horn US slang : ¹*TELEPHONE* • When he heard there was trouble, he got on the horn to the police. [=he phoned the police] blow your own horn or toot your own horn US, informal : to talk about yourself or your achievements especially in a way that shows that you are proud or too proud • We've had a very successful year, and I think we have a right to blow our own horn [= (Brit) blow our own trumpet] a little.

lock horns see ²*LOCK*

on the horns of a dilemma : in a situation in which you have to choose between things that are unpleasant or undesirable pull in your horns also draw in your horns : to begin to behave in a more careful way; especially : to spend or invest money more carefully • The bad economic news has caused many investors to pull in their horns.

take the bull by the horns see ¹*BULL*

– horn-less /ˈhɒənləs/ adj • a hornless animal

²horn verb horns; horned; horn-ing

horn in [phrasal verb] US, informal + usually disapproving : to add your comment or opinion to a conversation or discussion that you have been listening to • Whenever I start to talk, he always horns in. — usually + on • He always horns in on the conversation.

horned /ˈhɒənd/ adj : having horns or parts that look like horns • a horned dinosaur • horned cattle • a horned owl [=an owl that has feathers on its head that look like ears or horns]

hor-net /ˈhɒənət/ noun, pl -nets [count] : a flying insect that has a powerful sting hornet's nest noun [singular]

1 : a situation or place in which there are many dangers • The principal entered the hornet's nest of angry parents.

2 : an angry reaction • His comments stirred up a hornet's nest of angry opposition and criticism.

horn-rimmed glasses noun [plural] : eyeglasses with frames made of a plastic that resembles horn (sense 1c)

horn-rims /ˈhɒən,rimz/ noun [plural] : HORN-RIMMED GLASSES

horny /ˈhɒəni/ adj horn-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : made of horn (sense 1c) or a similar substance • a horny growth

2 : hard and tough • horny skin

3 informal : sexually excited • horny teenagers

horo-scope /ˈhɒə,skoup/ noun, pl -scopes [count] : advice and future predictions based on the date of a person's birth and the positions of the stars and planets • She checked the newspaper for her horoscope.

hor-ren-dous /həˈrendəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very bad or unpleasant : HORRIBLE • horrendous crimes • Her taste in clothes is horrendous. • a horrendous traffic jam

– hor-ren-dous-ly adv

hor-ri-ble /ˈhɒəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : causing horror : very shocking and upsetting • He suffered a horrible death. • The crime scene was too horrible to describe. • a horrible accident

2 : very bad or unpleasant • a horrible [=disgusting] smell • That was a horrible [=terrible, awful] movie. • The team had a horrible season last year. • He realized that he had made a horrible mistake.

– hor-ri-bly /ˈhɒəbli/ adv • He died horribly. • He was horribly disfigured in the fire. • Something had gone horribly wrong.

hor-rid /ˈhɒəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very shocking or bad • People there are living in horrid conditions. • a horrid [=horrible] crime

2 : very unpleasant • The medicine was horrid. • He's a horrid little man.

– hor-rid-ly adv

hor-ri-fic /hɒəˈɹɪfɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : causing horror or shock • a horrific crime

– hor-ri-fic-al-ly adv • a horrifically brutal murder • horrifically expensive hor-ri-fy /ˈhɒə,fai/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to feel horror or shock : to greatly upset and shock (someone) • The details of the crime horrified the nation. • They were horrified by/at the movie's violence.

– horrified adj [more ~; most ~] • He was horrified to realize that his comments had been overheard. • She had a horrified look on her face. – horrifying adj [more ~; most ~] • a horrifying experience – hor-ri-fy-ing-ly adv • a horrifyingly brutal crime

¹hor-ror /ˈhɒərə/ noun, pl -rors

¹ [noncount] : a very strong feeling of fear, dread, and shock • There was a look of horror on her face. • He saw to his horror that he couldn't escape. [=he was horrified to see that he couldn't escape] • The crowd watched in horror as the fire spread.

2 [noncount] : the quality of something that causes feelings of fear, dread, and shock : the horrible or shocking quality or character of something • His friends were shocked by the horror of his death. • the horror of war

3 : something that causes feelings of fear, dread, and shock : something that is shocking and horrible [count] His crimes were unspeakable horrors. • His memoirs recount the horrors of the war. [noncount] tales of horror have a horror of : to have a strong dislike for or fear of (something) • Some students seem to have a horror of using the dictionary. • Like many teenagers, she has a horror of being seen in public with her parents. • He has a horror of being caught unprepared.

4 [count] chiefly Brit, informal : a child who behaves very badly • Their children are perfect little horrors!

horror of horrors informal + humorous — used to describe something as shocking or horrible • There was no television at the cabin, so—horror of horrors!—we had to spend the evenings reading books and playing board games.

shock horror see ³*SHOCK*

²horror adj, always used before a noun : intended to cause feelings of fear or horror • a horror movie • He writes horror novels.

horror show noun, pl ~ shows [count] informal : something that is difficult to deal with or watch because it is so bad, unpleasant, etc. • The trial has been a horror show.

horror story noun, pl ~ -ries [count] informal

1 : a story about an actual event or experience that is very unpleasant • We've all heard horror stories about airlines losing people's luggage.

2 : an experience that is very unpleasant • Her childhood was a horror story.

hors d'oeuvre /ɒəˈdæv/ noun, pl hors d'oeuvres [count] : a food served in small portions before the main part of a meal • a tray of assorted hors d'oeuvres

¹horse /ˈhɒəs/ noun, pl hors-es

¹ [count] : a large animal that is used for riding and for carrying and pulling things • ride/mount a horse — often used before another noun • a horse farm • horse people [=people who raise or have a special interest in horses] — compare COLT, FILLY, FOAL, GELDING, MARE, PONY, STALLION; see also QUARTER HORSE, RACEHORSE, WORKHORSE

2 [count] a : a frame used to support a piece of wood while it is being cut with a saw : SAWHORSE b : a large piece of equipment used in gymnastics : POMMEL HORSE

3 horses [plural] informal a US : HORSEPOWER • a car with 275 horses b the horses : horse races • He lost a lot of money on the horses.

4 [count] US, informal : an athlete who is strong and who helps a team to win — usually plural • a team with the horses to win the pennant [=a team with the good players needed to win the pennant]

a horse of a different color chiefly US, informal : a very different thing or issue • That's what we'll do when he gets here. But if he doesn't show up . . . well, that's a horse of a different color.

beat a dead horse (chiefly US) or flog a dead horse informal 1 : to keep talking about a subject that has already been discussed or decided • I don't mean to beat a dead horse, but I still don't understand what happened. 2 : to waste time and effort trying to do something that is impossible • Is it just beating a dead horse to ask for another recount of the votes?

change horses in midstream : to choose a different leader or policy during a time when serious problems are being dealt with • a politician whose slogan for reelection is "Don't change horses in midstream"

eat a horse informal ✧ Someone who is very hungry can be described as being hungry enough to eat a horse. • I didn't eat today and now I'm so hungry I could eat a horse.

from the horse's mouth informal, of information : from the original source or person and therefore thought to be true • I know it's hard to believe but I heard it (straight) from the horse's mouth.

hold your horses informal — used to tell someone to slow down, stop, or wait for a short time • "Hurry up. We need to get going." "Hold your horses. I'll be ready in a minute."

look a gift horse in the mouth : to look in a critical way at something that has been given to you • I noticed the guitar wasn't made of real wood, but I didn't say anything because you shouldn't look a gift horse in the mouth.

put the cart before the horse see ¹CART

the wrong horse ✧ If you choose/pick/back (etc.) the wrong horse, you choose or support someone or something that is not successful. • The company has been losing money, and many investors are beginning to feel that they may have backed the wrong horse.

— see also CHARLEY HORSE, DARK HORSE, HIGH HORSE, HOBBYHORSE, ONE-HORSE, ROCKING HORSE, SEA HORSE, STALKING HORSE, TROJAN HORSE

²horse verb horses; horsed; hors-ing

horse around or Brit horse about [phrasal verb] informal : to play in a rough or loud way : to engage in horseplay • They were horsing around instead of studying. • He horsed around with the kids for a while.

¹horse-back /'hɔːs,bæk/ noun

on horseback : on the back of a horse • Before the invention of the automobile, people often traveled on horseback. [=they traveled by riding horses]

²horseback adj, always used before a noun : on the back of a horse • a horseback rider [=a person riding on a horse] • Do you enjoy horseback riding? [=the activity of riding horses]

— horseback adv, chiefly US • riding horseback

horse chestnut noun, pl ~ -nuts [count] : a tree with flowers that grow in large bunches and large brown seeds;

also : the seed of a horse chestnut tree horse-drawn adj : pulled by a horse or by a group of horses • a horse-drawn carriage horse-feath-ers /'hɔːs,fedəz/ noun [noncount] US, old-fashioned slang : foolish or untrue words : NONSENSE • He thought the story was a lot of horsefeathers.

horse-fly /'hɔːs,flaɪ/ noun, pl -flies [count] : a type of large biting fly horse-hair /'hɔːs,heə/ noun [noncount] : hair from the mane or tail of a horse

— horsehair adj • horsehair fabric • a horsehair couch/sofa [=a couch/sofa filled with horsehair]

horse laugh noun, pl ~ laughs [count] informal : a loud laugh

horse-man /'hɔːsmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count]

1 : a person (especially a man) who rides horses • a skillful horseman

2 : a person (especially a man) who breeds or raises horses — compare HORSEWOMAN

— horse-man-ship /'hɔːsmən,ʃɪp/ noun [noncount] • a camp where children learn horsemanship [=learn how to ride horses]

horse opera noun, pl ~ -eras [count] chiefly US, old-fashioned : ²WESTERN • the star of many horse operas

horse-play /'hɔːs,pleɪ/ noun [noncount] : rough or loud play : energetic and noisy playful activity • The lamp got broken when the kids were engaging in a little horseplay.

horse-pow-er /'hɔːs,pawə/ noun, pl horsepower : a unit used to measure the power of engines [noncount] We need an engine with greater/more horsepower. [=a more powerful engine] [count] an engine with 200 horsepower — often used figuratively • intellectual horsepower

horse race noun, pl ~ races [count]

1 : an event in which horses race and people bet on which horse will win

2 chiefly US : a close contest • The election is sure to become a horse race by early summer.

— horse-rac-ing /'hɔːs,reɪsɪŋ/ noun [noncount] • He lost a lot of money betting on horseracing.

horse-rad-ish /'hɔːs,rædɪʃ/ noun, pl -ish-es

1 [count] : a tall plant whose root is used for making a sauce

2 [noncount] : a strong sauce made from the root of the horseradish plant — often used before another noun • a spicy horseradish sauce horse's ass noun, pl ~ asses [count] US, informal + impolite : a very stupid or foolish person : ASS • She angrily told him to stop acting like a horse's ass.

horse sense noun [noncount] informal : the ability to make good judgments or decisions : common sense • He credits his success to good old-fashioned horse sense.

horse-shit /'hɔːs,ʃɪt/ noun [noncount] US, informal + offensive : NONSENSE, BULLSHIT

horse-shoe /'hɔːs,ʃuː/ noun, pl -shoes

1 [count] a : a U-shaped band of iron nailed to the bottom of a horse's hoof as a shoe b : something shaped like a horseshoe • The lake was a horseshoe surrounded by tall pine trees.

2 horseshoes [plural] US : a game in which players try to get horseshoes around a stake in the ground by throwing them at the stake from a certain distance

horseshoe

horse show noun, pl ~ shows [count] : an event where people bring horses to compete against one another horse trade noun, pl ~ trades [count] : a clever and often secret agreement made by powerful people who are usually trying to get an advantage over others • a political horse trade — horse trader noun, pl ~ -ers [count] • a politician who is known as a clever horse trader — horse trading noun [noncount] • political horse trading horse-whip /'hɔ:s,wɪp/ verb -whips; -whipped; -whipping [+ obj] : to hit (someone) with a whip • He thinks that any government official who steals public money should be horsewhipped.

horse-woman /'hɔ:s,wʊmən/ noun, pl -women /-,wɪmən/ [count]

1 : a woman who rides horses

2 : a woman who breeds or manages horses — compare HORSEMAN

hors-ey or horsy /'hɔ:si/ adj hors-i-er; -est

1 : of, relating to, or involved with horses • horsey people [=people who own or are interested in horses] • a horsey family

2 : suggesting a horse or horses • a horsey face

hor-ti-cul-ture /'hɔ:tə,kʌltʃə/ noun [noncount] : the science of growing fruits, vegetables, and flowers — compare AGRICULTURE

— hor-ti-cul-tur-al /,hɔ:tə'kʌltʃərəl/ adj • horticultural books — hor-ti-cul-tur-ist /,hɔ:tə'kʌltʃərɪst/ or chiefly Brit hor-ti-cul-tur-al-ist /,hɔ:tə'kʌltʃərəlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] • They had several horticulturists on staff to care for the orchard.

ho-san-na /həʊ'zænə, həʊ'zɑ:nə/ noun, pl -nas [count] : an expression of enthusiastic praise • The book was met with hearty hosannas from literary critics. [=literary critics praised the book enthusiastically] — sometimes used as an interjection • Hosanna in the highest!

1 hose /'həʊz/ noun

1 pl hos-es : a long, usually rubber tube that liquids or gases can flow through [count] There are several hoses stored in the shed. • a fire hose [=a hose used to spray water on a fire] • a garden hose [=a hose used to water a garden] [noncount] We need another 50 feet of hose. — see pictures at GARDENING, SCUBA DIVING

2 hose [plural] : clothes (such as stockings, socks, and pantyhose) that are worn on the legs and feet • women's hose — called also hosiery

2 hose verb hos-es; hosed; hos-ing [+ obj]

1 : to spray or wash (something) with water from a hose — usually + down or off • At the end of the day he hosed down/off the sidewalk outside his shop.

2 US slang : to cheat or trick (someone) • We got hosed.

hose-pipe /'həʊz,paɪp/ noun, pl -pipes [count] Brit : ¹HOSE 1

ho-siery /'həʊzəri, Brit 'həʊzjəri/ noun [noncount] : ¹HOSE 2 • a shop that sells hosiery

hos-pice /'hɔ:spəs/ noun, pl -pic-es [count]

1 : a place that provides care for people who are dying • She chose to go to a hospice instead of a hospital. — often used before another noun • He was placed in hospice care for the last three months of his life. • a hospice program

2 somewhat old-fashioned : a place where travelers can stay : INN; especially : an inn kept by people in a religious organization hos-pi-ta-ble /hə'spɪtəbəl, 'hɔ:spɪtəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : generous and friendly to guests or visitors • The people of that country are very hospitable. — often + to • They were very hospitable to their guests. — opposite INHOSPITABLE

2 : having an environment where plants, animals, or people can live or grow easily • It's a hearty plant that grows in even the least hospitable climates. • elderly people moving to Florida for its hospitable climate — often + to • The climate here is hospitable to many species. — opposite INHOSPITABLE

3 : ready or willing to accept or consider something — usually + to • a person/company known for being hospitable [=open] to new ideas

— hos-pi-ta-bly /hə'spɪtəbli, 'hɔ:spɪtəbli/ adv • Their guests are always treated hospitably.

hos-pi-tal /'hɔ:spɪtəl/ noun, pl -tals [count] : a place where sick or injured people are given care or treatment and where children are often born • (US) She's in the hospital. = (Brit) She's in hospital. • (US) She was admitted to the hospital yesterday. = (Brit) She was admitted to hospital yesterday. [=she was hospitalized yesterday] • (US) She'll be discharged from the hospital tomorrow. = (Brit) She'll be discharged from hospital tomorrow. — often used before another noun • hospital beds • a hospital gown

hos-pi-tal-i-ty /,hɔ:spɪ'tæləti/ noun [noncount]

1 : generous and friendly treatment of visitors and guests : hospitable treatment • It was refreshing to be met with such hospitality after our long journey.

2 : the activity of providing food, drinks, etc. for people who are the guests or customers of an organization — often used before another noun • a job in the hospitality business/industry • entertaining potential clients in a hospitality suite hos-pi-tal-ize also Brit hos-pi-tal-ise /'hɔ:spɪtəlaɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj] : to place (someone) in a hospital for care or treatment • The doctor wants to hospitalize her for a few days so that he can run some tests. — usually used as (be) hospitalized • He was hospitalized after the accident.

hospital

— hos·pi·tal-i·za·tion also Brit hos·pi·tal-i·sa·tion /ˈhɑːspɪtələˈzeɪʃən, Brit ˈhɑːspɪtəˌlɑːˈzeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] He was released after a brief hospitalization. [noncount] Her injuries were not serious enough to require hospitalization.

¹host /ˈhəʊst/ noun, pl hosts [count]

1 : a person (especially a man) who is entertaining guests socially or as a job • We were greeted at the front door by our host. — compare HOSTESS

2 : a person who talks to guests on a television or radio show • He/she is the host of the talk show. • a game-show host

3 : an animal or plant in which another animal or plant lives and gets its food or protection • A tick can often carry diseases, making it a danger to its hosts. • a human host — compare PARASITE 1 play host to ✧ A place or organization that plays host to an event (such as a meeting or convention) provides the things that are needed for that event. • Each year, the city plays host to [=hosts] the film festival for one week. • The mall was playing host to [=hosting] an auto show.

— compare ³*HOST*

²host verb hosts; host-ed; host-ing [+ obj] : to be the host for (a social event, a group of people, etc.) • He/she is going to host the music awards. • They hosted a dinner party on Saturday.

³host noun, pl hosts [count] : a great amount or number • a (whole) host of options — compare ¹*HOST*

Host /ˈhəʊst/ noun

the Host : a round, thin piece of bread used in the Christian Communion ceremony

hos·tage /ˈhɑːstɪdʒ/ noun, pl -tag-es [count] : a person who is captured by someone who demands that certain things be done before the captured person is freed • The terrorists demanded a plane and a pilot in exchange for the hostages. • The hostage crisis is now entering its second week. • The passengers were taken hostage. • They were held hostage for several days. — sometimes used figuratively • a neighborhood being held hostage to fear [=a neighborhood controlled or dominated by fear]

a hostage to fortune ✧ In British English, a hostage to fortune is something (such as a promise or an action) that someone has made or done that may cause problems in the future. In U.S. English, this phrase is much less common and is usually understood to mean a person whose future success or failure is controlled by luck or fortune.

hos·tel /ˈhɑːstl/ noun, pl -tels [count]

1 : an inexpensive place for usually young travelers to stay overnight — called also youth hostel

2 Brit : a shelter for homeless people hos·tel·ry /ˈhɑːstlri/ noun, pl -ries [count] old-fashioned : an inn, pub, or hotel

host·ess /ˈhəʊstəs/ noun, pl -ess-es [count]

1 : a woman who is entertaining guests socially or as a job • We were greeted by our hostess. — compare HOST

2 : a woman whose job it is to greet and help people in a restaurant or on an airplane or ship

3 : a woman who talks to guests on a television or radio show • She's the hostess of a popular talk show.

hos·tile /ˈhɑːstl, ˈhɑːstajəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : of or relating to an enemy • They were entering hostile territory. • hostile [=enemy] troops

2 : not friendly : having or showing unfriendly feelings • a hostile atmosphere/expression • Her suggestions were given a hostile reception. • hostile behavior • an openly hostile critic • It was a small town that was hostile to/toward outsiders. • a hostile witness [=a witness in a legal case who supports the opposing side]

3 : unpleasant or harsh • The camel is specially adapted to its hostile desert habitat. • a hostile workplace

4 business : involving an attempt to buy a company from people who do not want to sell it • a hostile takeover

hos·til-i·ty /hɑːstɪləti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : an unfriendly or hostile state, attitude, or action • They were both glad to have gotten through the divorce proceedings without any visible signs of hostility. • The townspeople showed open hostility to/toward outsiders.

2 hostilities [plural] formal : acts of fighting in a war • Peace talks were stalled after recent hostilities. • Both sides are calling for a cessation of hostilities.

¹hot /ˈhɑːt/ adj hot·ter; hot·test

1 a : having a high temperature • hot August nights • hot and humid weather • taking a hot bath/shower • a hot climate/country • It is/gets hot in the summer and cold in the winter. • The baked potatoes were too hot to handle with our bare hands. • We worked all afternoon in/under the hot sun. • The chicken was fried in hot oil. • Your forehead feels hot. I think you might have a fever. • a blazing/sizzling/steaming hot afternoon • boiling/burning/fiery hot — see also RED-HOT, WHITE-HOT b : having a feeling of high body heat • I was feeling hot and tired. c of food or drink : heated to a hot or warm temperature : served at a hot or warm temperature • hot cereal • a hot meal • a selection of hot beverages — see also PIPING HOT

2 informal a : currently liked or wanted by many people • The new toys are so hot that stores can't keep them in stock. • a hot new restaurant • He's considered a hot [=appealing, desirable] prospect. : currently very active or strong • Her new book is a hot seller. • She spoke about the latest hot trends in the computer industry. : currently causing a lot of interest or discussion • reporters pursuing a hot story • a hot concept/idea • His decision has been a hot topic of conversation. ✧ Something or someone that is a hot commodity/item/property is currently very valuable or popular. • Exotic mushrooms are a hot commodity. • The success of her latest movie has made her a hot property in Hollywood. • Computer games are a hot item in stores this year. b : very good — usually used in negative statements • I don't think that's such a hot idea. [=I don't think it's a good idea] • He came home early because he wasn't feeling too hot. [=he wasn't feeling well] • Things aren't looking so hot at this point. c : having a period of unusual success or good luck • The team has been hot recently. = The team has recently been on a hot streak [=the team has been winning a lot recently] • When you're hot, you're hot [=when you are having good luck, you keep winning or succeeding repeatedly]

3 a : marked by anger or strong feelings • a hot [=heated] argument • His decision has been a topic of hot debate. • This is an area of hot dispute. ✧ An issue or topic that is too hot to handle causes so much anger or controversy that people avoid discussing or dealing with it. b always used before a noun : easily excited or angered • He's known for his hot [=bad] temper. c : ANGRY • He was starting to get pretty hot about the delays. • You shouldn't allow these little delays to get you all hot and bothered. [=to make you angry and upset] — see also HOT UNDER THE COLLAR (below)

4 of food : having a spicy or peppery flavor • hot chilis • hot sauce/mustard • Do you prefer your curry hot or mild?

5 informal a : sexually excited by or interested in someone — + for • Everyone knows she's hot for the new guy in her office. b : sexually attractive • The girl he's dating is really hot. • He was voted the hottest [=sexiest] actor in Hollywood. c : exciting in a sexual or romantic way • He's nervous because he has a hot date tonight. d of sex : very intense or exciting • hot sex e : EAGER — usually followed by to + verb • She's hot to party. — sometimes + for • The students are hot for reform.

6 music : having an exciting rhythm • hot jazz

7 informal : very strong or determined • We're going to face some hot competition.

8 : newly made : fresh and warm • bread hot from the oven ✧ Something, such as a story or book, that is hot off the press has just recently been completed, published, or printed. • His new book is hot off the press.

9 : following closely • The police are in hot pursuit of the escaped convicts. [=the police are chasing the convicts and are close to catching them] ✧ To be hot on the heels of or hot on the trail of someone is to be chasing someone very closely. • The escaped convicts are heading south, but the police are hot on their heels. • The police are hot on the trail of the escaped convicts. To be/follow/come hot on the heels of something is to come or happen immediately or very soon after something. • Their second album is coming hot on the heels of the first. To be hot on the trail of something is to be very close to doing, finding, or getting something. • The company says it is hot on the trail of a new cancer treatment.

10 : very bright • hot colors • hot pink

11 : carrying electric current • The black wire is hot.

12 informal : recently stolen • hot jewels

13 informal : dangerous and difficult : difficult to deal with because of danger • criminals who leave town when things get hot [=when there is too much danger that they will be caught by the police]

blow hot and cold see ¹BLOW

hot and heavy informal : sexually intense, active, or exciting • They have a very hot and heavy relationship.

hot on informal : strongly favoring or liking (something) • The company president is very hot on [=big on] the idea of developing new products.

hot tip informal : a valuable piece of information about something (such as the stock market or a horse race) that can help someone get money or an advantage hot to trot informal : very eager to have sex • a movie about a couple of college students who are hot to trot hot under the collar informal : angry or upset • He tends to get a little hot under the collar when his wife keeps him waiting.

like a hot knife through butter see ¹KNIFE

strike while the iron is hot see ¹STRIKE

– hot-ly adv • a hotly contested election • a hotly debated issue • He hotly denied any involvement in the controversy.

– hot-ness noun [noncount] • the hotness [=spiciness] of the pepper

²hot verb hots; hot-ted; hot-ting

hot up [phrasal verb] Brit : to become more intense or lively • The controversy has hotted up [=heated up] again.

hot air noun [noncount] informal : talk that is meant to sound important but does not mean very much • She's full of hot air.

hot-air balloon noun, pl ~ -loons [count] : a large balloon that is filled with heated air and that floats in the sky with a basket underneath for people to ride in hot-bed /'hɑ:t,bed/ noun, pl -beds [count] : a place where something grows or develops easily : a place where something happens very commonly • The neighborhood has become a hotbed of crime. [=a place where many crimes occur] • a hotbed of research • a hotbed of political unrest hot-blood-ed /'hɑ:t'blədəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : becoming angry or excited very easily • a hot-blooded young man

hot button noun, pl ~ -tons [count] : an issue that causes people to feel strong emotions (such as anger) and to argue with each other • The film is considered very controversial for all the hot buttons it pushes. • a political hot button

– hot-button adj, always used before a noun • The budget is a real hot-button issue right now.

hot-cake /'hɑ:t,keɪk/ noun, pl -cakes [count] chiefly US : PANCAKE like hotcakes informal : at a very fast rate : very quickly • The new record is selling/going like hotcakes.

hot chocolate noun, pl ~ -lates [count, noncount] : a hot drink that is chocolate-flavored • a cup of hot chocolate — called also hot cocoa

hotch-potch /'hɑ:tʃ,pɑ:tʃ/ noun [singular] Brit : HODGE-PODGE

hot dog /'hɑ:t,dɑ:g/ noun, pl ~ dogs [count]

1 : a small cooked sausage that is mild in flavor and is usually served in a long roll (called a hot dog bun)

2 US, informal : a person (such as an athlete) who performs or plays in a way that is meant to attract attention : a person who hotdogs • The other players on the team don't like him because he's such a hot dog.

3 US, old-fashioned + humorous — used to express approval or pleasure • "She said we could go!" "Hot dog!"

hot-dog /'hɑ:t,dɑ:g/ verb -dogs; -dogged; -dog-ging [no obj] US, informal : to perform or play in a way that is meant to attract attention • hotdogging skiers • His opponents have accused him of hotdogging after he scores a touchdown.

– hot-dog-ger /'hɑ:t,dɑ:gə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • They've accused him of being a hotdogger. [=hot dog]

ho-tel /hou'tel/ noun, pl -tels [count] : a place that has rooms in which people can stay especially when they are traveling : a place that provides food, lodging, and other services for paying guests • check into a hotel • check out of a hotel

ho-tel-i-er /hou'teljə/ noun, pl -iers [count] : a person who owns or operates a hotel hot flash noun, pl ~ flashes [count] US : a sudden brief hot feeling experienced especially by women during menopause hot flush noun, pl ~ flushes [count] Brit : HOT FLASH

hot-foot /'hɑ:t,fʊt/ verb -foots; -foot-ed; -foot-ing [no obj] informal : to go quickly — usually + it • We had to hot-foot it [=hurry] back home to get there in time for dinner.

hot-head /'hɑ:t,hed/ noun, pl -heads [count] informal : a person who gets angry easily : a hotheaded person • Working on the project with such a hothead has been unpleasant.

hot-head-ed /'hɑ:t'hedəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : easily angered • a hotheaded boss; also : very angry • He wrote a hot-headed letter.

hot-house /'hɑ:t,haus/ noun, pl -hous-es [count] : a heated building used for growing plants — compare GREENHOUSE

– hothouse adj, always used before a noun • hothouse tomatoes [=tomatoes grown in a hothouse]

hot line noun, pl ~ lines [count]

1 : a telephone service for the public to use to get help in emergencies • a suicide prevention hot line

2 : a telephone connection that allows leaders of different countries to talk to each other directly and that is always kept ready for use • They set up a hot line between Washington and Moscow.

hot pants noun [plural] : very short and tight shorts for women hot plate noun, pl ~ plates [count] : a small portable device with a metal plate used for cooking or heating food hot pot noun, pl ~ pots [count, noncount] chiefly Brit : a mixture of meat and vegetables cooked together with liquid in a single pot hot potato noun, pl ~ -toes [count] informal : an issue or question about which people have different opinions and feel very strongly • He tried to avoid taking a strong stand on political hot potatoes like abortion.

hot rod noun, pl ~ rods [count] informal : a car that has been changed so that it can be driven and raced at very fast speeds

hots /'hɑ:ts/ noun

the hots informal : strong feelings of sexual attraction for someone • Everyone knows she has the hots for the new guy in her office. [=she is very attracted to the new guy in her office]

hot seat noun

the hot seat : the position of someone who is in trouble or is being asked many difficult or embarrassing questions •

When the company ran into financial trouble, it was the accountant who found herself in the hot seat.

hot-shot /'hɑ:tʃ,ʃɑ:t/ noun, pl -shots [count] informal : a talented and successful person • The company has hired a couple of young hotshots to revamp its advertising campaign. : someone who is successful or skillful in a showy or flashy way • That guy thinks he's a real hotshot. — often used before another noun • They've hired a hotshot lawyer.

hot spot noun, pl ~ spots [count] informal

1 : a very popular or active place • The new restaurant is the latest hot spot in town. • a vacation hot spot

2 : a place where there is much danger or fighting • This part of the country is a hot spot of rebel activity. • a global hot spot [=an area in the world where war is possible or likely] hot spring noun, pl ~ springs [count] : a place where hot water flows out of the ground — usually plural • We hiked to the hot springs.

hot stuff noun [noncount] informal

1 : someone or something that is unusually good or popular • I remember when that guy was hot stuff. [=I remember when he was very popular] • His music was hot stuff back in those days.

2 : a person who is considered hot (sense 5b) : a sexually attractive person • The new guy in her office is hot stuff.

hot-tem-pered /'hɑ:t'tempəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : becoming angry very easily : having or showing a hot temper • a hot-tempered political activist • a hot-tempered reply hot ticket noun, pl ~ -ets [count] US, informal : someone or something that is very popular • The musical is this season's hot ticket. • She's a hot ticket on the lecture circuit.

hot-tie /'hɑ:ti/ noun, pl -ties [count] informal : a sexually attractive person • His girlfriend is a real hottie.

hot tub noun, pl ~ tubs [count] : a large tub of hot water in which people sit to relax or spend time together hot water noun [noncount] informal : a difficult situation : TROUBLE — used with in or into • He's in hot water [=in trouble] with the IRS for failing to report his income. • The book got her into hot water with people on both sides of the issue. [=the book made people on both sides of the issue angry at her]

hot-water bottle noun, pl ~ bottles [count] : a rubber container that is filled with hot water and used to warm a bed or a part of your body hot-wire /'hɔ:t,wajə/ verb -wires; -wired; -wir-ing [+ obj] informal : to start (a car or the engine of a car) by connecting wires in the electrical system without using a key • His car was stolen when somebody broke a window and hot-wired the engine.

¹hound /'haʊnd/ noun, pl hounds [count]

1 : a dog; especially : a type of dog that has a very good sense of smell and is trained to hunt

2 : a person who is very determined to get something especially for a collection : a very enthusiastic collector • autograph hounds

²hound verb hounds; hound-ed; hound-ing [+ obj] : to chase or bother (someone or something) in a constant or determined way • He is being hounded by the press. • They hounded me with questions. • They hounded me for my autograph. • hound a politician out of office hour /'aʊə/ noun, pl hours

1 [count] : one of the 24 equal parts of a day : 60 minutes • She wasn't supposed to eat for six hours before the operation. • You'll be paid by the hour for/on this job. • The job pays ten dollars an hour. • We've been waiting (for) an hour. • She exercises for a full/good/solid hour every day. • He practiced the piano for hours at a time. = He spent hours practicing the piano. • She was half an hour late. • They arrived a few hours later. • A project like that can take hours (to finish). • The project required long/endless hours of work. • He spent all his waking hours [=all of the hours in the day that he was awake] working on the project. • (Brit) She has been working all the hours God sends. [=she has been working very long hours] • He's counting the hours until his retirement. [=he is waiting eagerly for his retirement] • We talked for hours and hours. = We talked for hours on end. = We talked for many hours. • She grew more nervous with each passing hour. [=as each hour passed] • The mood changed from hour to hour. — see also HALF HOUR, QUARTER HOUR

2 [count] a : the time shown on a clock or watch • The hour [=time] is half past ten. [=10:30] • We arrived just as the clock struck the hour. [=we arrived at exactly 12:00, 1:00, 2:00, etc.] • (US) The program is scheduled to start at the top of the hour. [=at the beginning of the hour; at 12:00, 1:00, 2:00, etc.] • The next train will leave on the hour. [=at the beginning of the next hour] • Trains leave the station every hour on the hour. [=at the beginning of each hour; at 12:00, 1:00, 2:00, etc.] • Trains leave the station every hour at ten minutes before the hour. [=trains leave at 12:50 (10 minutes to one), 1:50 (ten minutes to two), etc.] • Trains leave every hour at ten minutes past the hour. = (chiefly US) Trains leave every hour at ten minutes after the hour. [=trains leave at 1:10, 2:10, etc.] b : a particular time during the day • a late hour • What are you doing here at this hour? [=why are you here at such a late hour?] • at the midnight hour [=at midnight] • These animals are most active in the hour just before sunrise. • You can call me at any hour of the day or night. • People began arriving in the early hours of the morning. • The park is open during daylight hours. • We arrived at the appointed hour. [=we arrived at the time that had been agreed upon] • They serve breakfast at all hours. = They serve breakfast at any hour. [=at any time of day] • These animals are active at all hours of the day. [=throughout the day] • They were up till/until all hours. [=they were up very late] • The store is open twenty-four hours a day. [=the store is open all day and night] ♦ The wee/small/early hours are the very early hours of the morning. • They studied into the wee hours. • The negotiations lasted into the small hours (of the morning).

3 a [count] : the time of a specified activity • She likes to go for a walk during her lunch hour. • the breakfast/dinner hour • the cocktail hour — see also ELEVENTH HOUR, HAPPY HOUR, RUSH HOUR, ZERO HOUR b [count] : a particular time or period of time • The hour of reckoning had come. [=the moment of truth had come; the time when something would be decided had come] • They helped us in our hour of need. [=the time when we were most in need of help] ♦ The man/woman (etc.) of the hour is a person who is being honored or praised or who is enjoying success at a particular time. • The success of his latest film has made him the man of the hour in Hollywood. ♦ Someone's or something's darkest hour is a time of great trouble or danger. • They helped us in our darkest hour. ♦ Someone's or something's finest hour is a time of great success, courage, or heroism. • The troops triumphed in our country's finest hour. c hours [plural] : a time scheduled or used for a particular purpose or activity •

School hours are from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. • She works regular/normal hours. [=she works a regular schedule; she works during the day on Monday through Friday] • She has been working longer hours. [=she has been working for more hours than usual each day] • Visiting hours on this hospital ward are between 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. • Personal phone calls are not allowed during business/office hours. • He enjoys reading and relaxing in his off hours. [=the time when he is not working] • We keep early hours out here in the country. [=we go to bed early] • She has been keeping late hours at the office. [=she has been working late]

4 [count] : the distance that can be traveled in an hour • She lives two hours away. • Her house is two hours north of here. • Her house is two hours' drive from here. = Her house is a two-hour drive from here.

5 hours [plural] — used to refer to time when time is being measured on a 24-hour clock • In the military, 4:00 p.m. is called 1600 hours.

after hours or Brit out of hours : after the regular hours of work or operation • The professor gave out his phone number so students could reach him after hours.

an/per hour — used in measurements that describe the speed of something • The speed limit is 65 miles per hour. • a fastball thrown at 88 miles an hour hour-glass /'aʊə,glæs, Brit 'aʊə,glɑ:s/ noun, pl -glass-es [count] : a device for measuring time ♦ An hourglass is a glass container with an upper part and a lower part connected by a narrow opening. The upper part contains sand which flows into the lower part in a specified amount of time (such as an hour).

— hourglass adj, always used before a noun • an hourglass shape hour hand noun, pl ~ hands [count] : the short hand that marks the hours on a watch or clock — compare MINUTE HAND, SECOND HAND

hour-ly /'aʊəli/ adj

1 : happening every hour • hourly bus service

2 a : paid for one hour of work • an hourly wage [=an amount paid for each hour of work] b : paid by the hour : earning an hourly wage • hourly workers

— hourly adv • The news was updated hourly. [=every hour]

¹house /'haʊs/ noun, pl hous-es /'haʊzəz/

1 a [count] : a building in which a family lives • Would you like to come to my house for dinner? • a two-family house • I spent the weekend just putting around the house. — often used before another noun • house pets/plants • a house guest • house parties b [singular] : the people who live in a house • He made enough noise to wake the whole house.

2 [count] a : a structure or shelter in which animals are kept — see also BIRDHOUSE, DOGHOUSE, HENHOUSE b : a building in which something is stored • a carriage house — see also BOATHOUSE, WAREHOUSE

3 [count] : a building where students or members of a religious group live • a fraternity house

4 a [count] : a group of people who meet to discuss and make the laws of a country • The bill has been approved by both houses of Congress. • The two houses of the U.S. Congress are the Senate [=the upper house] and the House of Representatives. [=the lower house] • The two houses of the British Parliament are the House of Lords [=the upper house] and the House of Commons. [=the lower house] b the House : HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES • They hope to win enough seats in the election to regain control of the House. — see also HOUSE OF COMMONS, HOUSE OF LORDS

5 [count] a : a specified kind of business • a publishing house • fashion houses • an investment banking house • a brokerage house b : a place or building where a specified kind of activity or entertainment occurs • an auction house • a house of God/worship [=a place, such as a church, where people go for religious services] • (US) a movie house [=a cinema, (US) a movie theater] : a place where an illegal activity occurs • a gambling house • a house of prostitution — see also OPERA HOUSE c : a particular kind of restaurant • We had dinner at the local fish house. • a seafood house • Oyster stew is a specialty of the house. [=a special dish that is featured in a restaurant] ♦ A house wine is a basic wine that is always available in a restaurant. A house salad and a house (salad) dressing are the regular salad and dressing in a U.S. restaurant. • Would you like the house salad or a spinach salad? • The house dressing is a creamy vinaigrette. — see also COFFEEHOUSE, STEAK HOUSE

6 [count] : the audience in a theater or concert hall • They had a full/packed house on opening night. • When the movie ended, there wasn't a dry eye in the house. [=everyone had tears in their eyes] ♦ To bring down the house or to bring the house down is to get great approval and applause or laughter from an audience. • His performance brought down the house night after night.

7 House [count] : a royal or noble family including ancestors and all the people who are related to them • the House of Tudor

8 [noncount] : a type of electronic dance music with a heavy, regular beat — called also house music

clean house US 1 : to clean the floors, furniture, etc., inside a house • He cleans house on Tuesdays. 2 : to make important basic changes in an organization, business, etc., in order to correct problems • After the corruption was revealed, the police chief decided it was time to clean house.

(from) house to house ♦ If you go (from) house to house, you go to each house or apartment in an area and do or ask for something. • Volunteers went from house to house asking for donations. — see also HOUSE-TO-HOUSE house in order ♦ To put/get/set (etc.) your house in order is to improve or correct the way you do things. • We should get our (own) house in order before we criticize others for their mistakes. • The company needs to get its financial house in order. [=to correct its financial problems]

keep house : to do the work that is needed to take care of a house • When I started living on my own I had no idea how to cook or keep house. • You need someone to keep house for you. — see also HOUSEKEEPER, HOUSEKEEPING

like a house on fire informal : extremely well • Those two got on/along like a house on fire. [=they liked each other very much] • (US) The business started out like a house on fire. [=the business started very successfully] on the house : without charge : FREE • The drinks are on the house.

people who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones see ¹GLASS play house ♦ When children play house they pretend that they are adults and that they are doing the things that adults do in a house, such as cooking and serving food. • She always loved playing house with her little sister.

set up house : to become settled in a house where you are going to live • They moved to California and set up house in a suburb of Los Angeles.

— house-ful /'haus,ful/ noun, pl -fuls [count] • a houseful of guests

²house /'haʊz/ verb hous-es; housed; hous-ing [+ obj]

1 : to provide shelter or a living space for (someone) • More prisons are needed to house the growing number of inmates. — often used as (be) housed • The soldiers were housed in poorly heated huts.

2 : to be a shelter for (something) : to store or contain (something) • The museum houses an impressive collection of jewels. — often used as (be) housed • The paintings are now housed in the National Gallery.

3 : to surround or enclose (something) in order to protect it •

The carpenter built casing to house the hot water pipes.

house arrest noun [noncount] law : the condition of being forced to stay in your home rather than in prison as a form of punishment — often used with under • He was placed under house arrest until the trial.

house-boat /'haus,bout/ noun, pl -boats [count] : a boat that is also used as a house house-bound /'haus,baʊnd/ adj : unable to leave your home • She has been housebound since she fell.

house-break /'haus,breɪk/ verb -breaks; -broke /-,brʊk/; -bro-ken /-,brʊkən/; -break-ing [+ obj] US : to train (an animal) to urinate or defecate outside the home or in an acceptable place indoors • She's trying to housebreak [= (chiefly Brit) house-train] a puppy.

house-break-ing /'haus,breɪkɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the act of forcefully entering someone's house in order to commit a crime (such as robbery)

— house-break-er /'haus,breɪkə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

housebroken adj, US, of an animal : trained to urinate or defecate outside the home or in an acceptable place indoors • Pigs are said to make very good pets once they are housebroken. [= (chiefly Brit) house-trained] house call noun, pl ~ calls [count] chiefly US : a visit by a doctor to someone's house • Does your doctor make house calls?

house cat noun, pl ~ cats [count] : a cat that is kept as a pet house-clean-ing /'haus,kli:nɪŋ/ noun [singular] : the act or activity of cleaning the inside of a house or apartment and its furniture, appliances, etc. • We gave the place a thorough housecleaning.

house-coat /'haus,kəʊt/ noun, pl -coats [count] : an informal and often long and loose piece of clothing that is worn by a woman at home

house-dress /'haus,dres/ noun, pl -dress-es [count] chiefly US : an informal dress that is usually worn only while cleaning or doing other housework house-fly /'haus,flaɪ/ noun, pl -flies [count] : a common fly that lives in or near people's houses — see color picture on page C10 house-guest /'haus,gest/ noun, pl -guests [count] : a person who visits and usually stays in someone's home overnight • We have houseguests this weekend.

¹house-hold /'haus,həʊld/ noun, pl -holds [count] : the people in a family or other group that are living together in one house • At that time, not many households had telephones. • This form should be filled out by the head of the household. [=the person in the house who is responsible for making decisions and earning money]

²household adj, always used before a noun

1 : of or relating to a house or to the people living in a house • household appliances/chores

house

2 : known to many people : familiar or common • a famous actor who has become a household name [=a person or thing whose name is very well-known] house·hold·er /'haus,houldə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly Brit, formal : someone who lives in a house, apartment, etc.

house·hus·band /'haus,həzbənd/ noun, pl -bands [count] : a married man who stays at home, does cleaning, cooking, etc., and does not have another job outside the home

house·keep·er /'haus,ki:pə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person whose job is to manage the cooking, cleaning, etc., in a house house·keep·ing /'haus,ki:pɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the work (such as cooking and cleaning) that is done in a house : HOUSEWORK • Who does your housekeeping? • housekeeping expenses

2 : the things that must be done regularly to keep something working properly • We took the computer offline to do some basic housekeeping.

house·maid /'haus,meɪd/ noun, pl -maids [count] chiefly Brit, old-fashioned : a female servant who does cleaning, laundry, etc.

house·mate /'haus,meɪt/ noun, pl -mates [count] : a person who lives in the same house with another person but is not a part of that person's family • In college, she lived in a house off campus with five housemates. • The TV belongs to my housemate.

house music noun [noncount] : HOUSE 8 house of cards noun, pl houses of cards [count] : a structure built by balancing playing cards on top of each other — often used figuratively to describe something (such as a plan) that is weak and can fail easily • Her elaborate scheme collapsed like a house of cards.

House of Commons noun

the House of Commons : the part of the British or Canadian Parliament whose members are elected by voters

House of Lords noun

the House of Lords : the part of the British Parliament whose members are not elected by voters

House of Representatives noun

the House of Representatives : the larger part of the U.S. Congress or of the Parliament of Australia or New Zealand — compare SENATE house·paint·er /'haus,peɪntə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person whose job is painting houses house party noun, pl ~ -ties [count] : a large party at someone's house that usually lasts for several days house·plant /'haus,plænt, Brit 'haus,plɑ:nt/ noun, pl -plants [count] : a plant that is grown or kept indoors — see color picture on page C6

house·proud /'haus,praʊd/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly Brit : proud of your house because you spend time and effort cleaning or improving it house·sit /'haus,sɪt/ verb -sits; -sat; -sit·ting : to stay in and take care of someone's house or apartment while that person is away [no obj] They asked a friend to house-sit for them while they were away. [+ obj] They asked a friend to house-sit their apartment for them while they were away.

— house·sit·ter /'haus,sɪtə/ noun, pl -ters [count]

house·to·house /,haʊstə'haus/ adj, always used before a noun : going or made by going to each house, apartment, or building in an area • The police made a house-to-house search of the area. — see also (from) house to house at ¹HOUSE house·top /'haus,tɔ:p/ noun, pl -tops [count] : the roof of a house house·train /'haus,trein/ verb -trains; -trained; -train·ing [+ obj] chiefly Brit : HOUSEBREAK

house·trained /'haus,treɪnd/ adj, chiefly Brit : HOUSEBROKEN

house·wares /'haus,weəz/ noun [plural] : small things (such as cooking utensils or lamps) that are used in a house • I bought some housewares for our new place. • the housewares department of a store house·warm·ing /'haus,wɔ:ɪmɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count] : a party to celebrate moving into a new home — usually singular • Are you going to his housewarming? • a housewarming party/gift house·wife /'haus,wɑɪf/ noun, pl -wives /-,waɪvz/ [count] : a married woman who stays at home, does cleaning, cooking, etc., and does not have another job outside the home house·work /'haus,wɜ:k/ noun [noncount] : work (such as cleaning, cooking, or laundry) that is done to keep a house clean and running properly • I got up early and did some housework.

hou·sing /'haʊzɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [noncount] : the houses, apartments, etc., in which people live • The cost of housing continued to rise. • The state should provide more/better housing for poor people. [=should provide poor people with more/better places to live] • low-income housing • housing costs — see also SOCIAL HOUSING

2 [count] : something that covers or protects something else (such as a mechanical part) • I had to remove the housing to inspect the vent.

housing development noun, pl ~ -ments [count] US : a group of houses that are built near each other and sold or rented by one owner — called also (Brit) housing estate housing project noun, pl ~ -jects [count] US : a group of houses or apartments that are built for poor people — called also (US) project

hove past tense and past participle of ¹HEAVE

hov·el /'hʌvəl, 'hɑ:vəl/ noun, pl -els [count] : a small, poorly built and often dirty house

hov·er /'hʌvə, Brit 'hɒvə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er·ing [no obj]

1 : to float in the air without moving in any direction • Watch as the hummingbird hovers over the flowers. • Helicopters hovered above us. • Bees hovered around the hive.

2 : to stay very close to a person or place • Waiters hovered near our table. • nervous mothers hovering over their children

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition a : to stay near a specified point or level • Unemployment rates were hovering around 10 percent. • Temperatures will continue to hover around freezing. b : to be or remain in a specified state or condition • The patient was hovering between life and death. • The country hovers on the brink of famine.

hov·er·craft /'hʌvə,kraɪft, Brit 'hɒvə,kra:ft/ noun, pl -craft [count] : a vehicle that moves just above the surface of land or water on a cushion of air

¹how /'haʊ/ adv

1 : in what manner or way • How and where did you meet him? • How shall I address the President? • How will we pay for the trip? : by what means • “How did you get here?” “By bus.” • “How did she die?” “She had cancer.” • How do you know that? • How did you find us? • How could you have known?

2 : for what reason : WHY • How did you happen to move here? • “Is it going to rain?” “How should/would I know?” [=I don't know]

3 : to what degree, extent, or amount — used before an adjective or adverb • How handsome is he? • How much longer do we have to wait? = How much longer is the wait? • I don't know how good the service is at the new restaurant. • I'm not sure how old he is. • It's a pity how rarely we see each other.

4 — used for emphasis before an adjective • How old he is! [=he is very old] • How wonderful/strange/awful! • How kind of you to ask! • (informal) How cool is that! [=that is really cool]

5 a — used to ask if someone feels good, bad, happy, sad, etc. • “How are you?” “Very well, thank you.” • “How are you doing?” “Okay, I guess.” • “How is your mother these days?” “Much better.” • How do you feel? = How are you feeling? — see also HOW DO YOU DO (below) b — used to ask if something is good, bad, etc. • How's the new job? [=do you like your new job?] • How are things at home? • How did they do/performance [=did they do/performance well or badly] in the tournament? • How was the play? • How do you like the soup? = How is the soup? [=do you like the soup?; is the soup good?] • I can bring it over tomorrow. How's that? [=is that all right?] • Let me get you another blanket. There, how's that? [=is that comfortable?; is that better?] • He will send a check. How will that be? = How would it be if he sent you a check? [=would it be acceptable if he sent you a check?]

and how chiefly US, informal — used for emphasis • Prices are going up, and how! [=prices are going up very quickly] • “Will you be glad when it's over?” “And how!” [=I will be very glad when it's over] as how informal : ²THAT • I don't know as how your plan would be any better than mine. • Seeing as how things were getting worse [=because things were getting worse], she decided to do something. • (US, informal) She allowed as how the situation was serious. [=she admitted that the situation was serious]

how about 1 : does that include (someone) : what about • “We’re all going to the beach.” “How about Kenny?” 2 informal a — used to show that you are very impressed by someone or something • He won again! How about that guy! [=isn’t that guy amazing/impressive?] b how about that chiefly US — used to show that you are surprised or pleased by something • He won again! How about that! [=what good news!; isn’t that great?] 3 also US (informal) how’s about a — used to make a suggestion about what could be done • We’ll need to talk about this again. How about (meeting) next month? • How about [=what about] driving to the coast for the weekend? • How about another game? [=would you like to play another game?] • What should we do tonight? How about (seeing) a movie? • How’s about some more pie? b — used to ask someone to give you something • How about a couple of dollars until payday? [=can you loan me a couple of dollars until payday?] • How’s about (offering me) a drink? c — used to ask if someone will do something • Well, how about it, are you coming? 4 — used to ask someone to tell you something in response to what you have just said • I like skiing and hiking. How about you? [=what sports do you like?] • I’m ready to go. How about you? [=are you ready, too?]

how can/could 1 — used to show you think that someone has done or said something shocking or wrong • “We don’t need his help anyway.” “How can you say that?!” [=it is very wrong of you to say that] • How could she just walk away from her children like that? 2 — used to express doubt that something will happen, is possible, etc. • How could I (ever/possibly) leave this job? • How can I (ever/possibly) thank you? [=I can never thank you enough; I am extremely grateful to you] 3 how could you informal — used to show disappointment in someone’s actions, thoughts, words, etc. • You threw away my gift? Oh, how could you?

how come chiefly US, informal — used to ask why something has happened, is true, etc. • “He said he’s not going.” “How come?” [=why isn’t he going?] • How come you’re here so early? [=why are you here so early?] • How come no one told me?

how dare you see 1 DARE

how do you do formal : HELLO — used especially when you are first introduced to someone • How do you do, Miss Smith?

how do you like that — used for emphasis or to show surprise or disapproval • He’s moving to Hawaii? Well, how do you like that! [=that’s a surprise] • She canceled at the last minute. How do you like that?

how goes it? see 1 GO

how’s everything (going) see EVERYTHING

how so : in what way : why do you think that • “This room looks different.” “How so?” [=in what way does it look different?]

how’s that (again) informal : WHAT — used to request that something be repeated or explained again • How’s that? [=what did you say?] I didn’t hear you. • I don’t understand. How’s that again?

how’s that for informal — used for emphasis to describe someone or something you think is very impressive • He won first prize! How’s that for a guy who almost didn’t enter the contest at all! • They took care of everything for us. How’s that for hospitality? [=that was very hospitable]

how will/would — used to express doubt that something will happen or is possible • How will we (ever) get everything done on time? • How would he manage without her? [=I don’t know if he will be able to manage without her; I doubt he will manage without her]

2 how conj

1 : in what manner or way • We asked how we could help. • Let me tell you how we’ll pay for the trip. • The book tells the story of how the company was founded. • She explained how she came to live here. • I don’t know how the service is at the new restaurant. • I remember how they fought. • It’s strange how [=the way that] things happen. • Be careful how you talk; you could get fired. • And that’s how it is. [=that is the state of the situation] • They want to know how you’re doing. [=if you are happy, successful, etc.]

2 : THAT • She told us how she had to work hard. • He knows how you are a valued employee. • It’s amazing how they completed the bridge so quickly.

3 : in whatever way : HOWEVER • He’ll cook it how you like it.

how’d /ˈhaʊd/ — used as a contraction of how would or how did • How’d [=how did] you like your meal? • How’d [=how would] you like to go to the beach?

how-dy /ˈhaʊdi/ interj, US — used as an informal greeting • Howdy, folks.

1 how-ev-er /ˈhaʊˈevər/ adv

1 — used when you are saying something that is different from or contrasts with a previous statement • I’d like to go; however, I’d better not. [=I’d like to go, but I should not] • The forecast is bad. It’s possible, however, that conditions could improve. • Sales are up this quarter. However, expenses have increased as well.

2 : to whatever degree or extent : no matter how — used before an adjective or adverb • However many people come [=whether a few people or many people come], we’ll be ready. • She couldn’t convince him, however hard [=no matter how hard] she tried.

3 — used as a more forceful way of saying how • However did you do that? [=how did you ever do that?]

2 however conj : in whatever manner or way • Do it however you like. • I will help however I can.

how-it-zer /ˈhəʊɪtsər/ noun, pl -zers [count] : a large gun that is used to fire shells high into the air for a short distance howl /ˈhəʊl/ verb howls; howled; howl-ing

1 [no obj] of a dog, wolf, etc. : to make a long, loud cry that sounds sad • The dogs were howling at the moon.

2 [no obj] of the wind : to make a long, loud sound • The wind was howling.

3 [no obj] : to cry out loudly in pain, anger, amusement, etc. • He howled in agony. • The audience howled with laughter. [=the audience laughed very loudly]

4 : to say something in a loud and angry way [+ obj] “I can’t take it!” she howled. = She howled that she couldn’t take it. [no obj] Activists are howling (in protest) over the court’s decision. • protesters howling for change

— howl noun, pl howls [count] • We heard the dog’s howls. • He let out a howl of protest. • howls of laughter howl-er /ˈhəʊlər/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal : a stupid but funny mistake or error • The article was full of howlers.

howling /ˈhəʊlɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : producing the long, low sound made by strong wind • a howling storm

2 informal : very great • The movie was a howling success.

how’s /ˈhaʊz/ — used as a contraction of how is • How’s your meal? • How’s she doing?

1 how-so-ev-er /ˈhaʊsəˈwevər/ adv, formal : 1 HOWEVER

2 howsoever conj, formal : 2 HOWEVER

1 how-to /ˈhaʊˈtuː/ adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US : giving practical instruction or advice on how to do something yourself • how-to books on starting your own business

2 how-to noun, pl -tos [count] chiefly US : a way of doing something yourself : instruction about how to do something • the how-tos of balancing a checkbook

hp abbr horsepower • a 200 hp engine

HQ abbr headquarters • Check in at camp HQ by 8:00.

hr abbr hour • a 35-hr work week

HR abbr, US 1 home run; home runs • He had three HR in the first game.

2 human resources • Talk to HR about benefits.

3 House of Representatives — used in the names of laws being voted on in the House of Representatives • Voting on HR 1740 will start next week.

HRH abbr Her Royal Highness; His Royal Highness

HS abbr high school • Springfield HS

ht. abbr height

HTML /ˈeɪtʃˌtiːˌemˈel/ noun [noncount] : a computer language that is used to create documents or Web sites on the Internet • Do you know HTML?

http abbr hypertext transfer protocol; hypertext transport protocol — used in Internet addresses • http://www.Merriam-Webster.com

H₂O /ˈeɪtʃˌtuːˈoʊ/ technical — the chemical symbol for water • two parts H₂O

hub /ˈhʌb/ noun, pl hubs [count]

1 : the central and most active part or place • the hub of the city • The island is a major tourist hub. [=a place where many tourists go] • She was at the hub of all the activity.

2 : the airport or the city through which an airline sends most of its flights • All of the airline’s coast-to-coast flights pass through its hub.

3 : the center of a wheel, propeller, fan, etc. • The spokes attach to the hub of the wheel.

hub-bub /'hʌ,bʌb/ noun [noncount]

- 1 : a loud mixture of sound or voices • All the hubbub in the airport made it hard to hear the flight announcements.
2 : a situation in which there is much noise, confusion, excitement, and activity • the hubbub surrounding the film star • We went to the country to escape the hubbub of the city. • What's all the hubbub about?

hub-by /'hʌbi/ noun, pl -bies [count] informal : HUSBAND hub-cap /'hʌb,kæp/ noun, pl -caps [count] : a removable plastic or metal cover on the center of a car or truck wheel — see picture at CAR hu-bris /'hju:brəs/ noun [noncount] formal + literary : a great or foolish amount of pride or confidence • His failure was brought on by his hubris.

huck-ster /'hʌkstə/ noun, pl -sters [count] US, disapproving : someone who sells or advertises something in an aggressive, dishonest, or annoying way

HUD /'hʌd/ abbr, US (Department of) Housing and Urban Development • an official at HUD ♦ The Department of Housing and Urban Development is a part of the U.S. federal government that is responsible for policies that relate to providing housing for U.S. citizens.

¹hud-dle /'hʌd/ verb hud-dles; hud-dled; hud-dling [no obj]

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to come close together in a group • People were huddling (together) in doorways to get out of the rain. • We huddled around the campfire. • The sheep huddled together for warmth. • "Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free . . ." —Emma Lazarus, "The New Colossus" (1883)

2 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to sit or lie in a curled or bent position • The students huddled over their desks.

3 a : to come together to talk about something privately • Union representatives are huddling to discuss the proposal. b American football : to gather in a huddle — often + up • The players huddled up.

²huddle noun, pl huddles [count]

1 : a group of people or things that are close to each other • sheep standing in a huddle

2 a : a private discussion or meeting • The boss is in a huddle with the marketing director b American football : a group of players who have gathered away from the line of scrimmage for a short time to hear instructions for the next play • The quarterback called the offense into a huddle.

hue /'hju:/ noun, pl hues [count]

1 : a color or a shade of a color • We decorated the room in hues of blue and green.
2 : kind or type • politicians of every hue [=of every kind] hue and cry noun [singular] : an angry protest about something • There was a hue and cry in opposition to the film.

hued /'hju:d/ adj : having a specified type of color • brightly/ richly hued [=colored] cloth • green-hued ¹huff /'hʌf/ verb huffs; huffed; huff-ing [+ obj] : to say (something) in a way that shows you are annoyed or angry • "The project is a complete waste of time," she huffed.

huff and puff 1 : to breathe in a loud and heavy way because of physical effort • He was huffing and puffing when he got to the top of the stairs. 2 : to show you are annoyed or angry • She'll huff and puff for a while, but she'll calm down later.

²huff noun

in a huff : in an angry or annoyed state • They argued and she left in a huff. • When he didn't get the promotion, he quit his job in a huff. [=he got angry and suddenly quit his job]

huffy /'hʌfi/ adj huff-i-er; -est informal : angry or annoyed • Now, don't get huffy—I was only teasing.

— huff-i-ly /'hʌfəli/ adv • He huffily refused to answer.

¹hug /'hʌg/ verb hugs; hugged; hug-ging

1 : to put your arms around someone especially as a way of showing love or friendship [+ obj] I hugged him close. • She hugged her daughter. [no obj] We hugged briefly, and then it was time to say goodbye.

2 [+ obj] : to hold (something) tightly with your arms • I hugged my knees to my chest.

3 [+ obj] : to stay close to (something) • The road hugs the river. • The boat hugged the shore. • body-hugging clothing [=clothes that are tight]

— hug-ga-ble /'hʌgəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a cute, huggable puppy

²hug noun, pl hugs [count] : the act of putting your arms around someone or something as a way of showing love or friendship • hugs and kisses • He gave me a big hug. [=he hugged me] huge /'hju:ɔ:/ adj : very large : very great in size, amount, or degree • a huge building/truck/garden • The crowds were huge. • Renovating the house is a huge undertaking. • The store is having a huge sale tomorrow. • The presentation was a huge success. [=the presentation was very successful] — huge-ly adv • a hugely popular movie

huh /'hʌ/ interj, informal

1 chiefly US — used at the end of a statement to ask whether someone agrees with you • It's pretty good, huh?

2 — used when you have not heard or understood something that was said • "His name is Cholmondely." "Huh?" [=what?]

3 — used to show surprise, disbelief, or disapproval • "His wife left him." "Huh! I thought they had a happy marriage."

hu-la /'hu:lə/ noun, pl -las [singular] : a Hawaiian dance that has flowing hand and hip movements

Hula-Hoop /'hu:lə,hʊ:p/ trademark — used for a plastic hoop that is twirled around your body by moving your hips

hulk /'hʌlk/ noun, pl hulks [count]

1 : the main part of something (such as a ship, car, or building) that has been ruined and is no longer used • The ship's rusting hulk is still visible on the rocks. • the burned out hulk of the factory

2 informal : a large person • He's a (great) hulk of a man. [=he's a very large man]

hulk-ing /'hʌlkiŋ/ adj, always used before a noun : very large or heavy • A hulking figure appeared in the doorway. • hulking buildings

¹hull /'hʌl/ noun, pl hulls [count]

1 : the main part of a ship or boat : the deck, sides, and bottom of a ship or boat — see picture at BOAT

2 : the outer covering of a fruit, grain, or seed • sesame seed hulls

²hull verb hulls; hulled; hull-ing [+ obj] : to remove the outer covering of (a fruit or seed) • hulling seeds

hul-la-ba-loo /'hʌləbə,lu:/ noun, informal

1 : a very noisy and confused situation [singular] The announcement caused quite a hullabaloo. [noncount] The announcement caused a lot of hullabaloo.

2 : a situation in which many people are upset and angry about something [singular] There was a hullabaloo over his controversial statements. [noncount] There was a lot of hullabaloo over his controversial statements.

hum /'hʌm/ verb hums; hummed; hum-ming

1 [no obj] : to make a low continuous sound • The garden was humming with bees. • The refrigerator hummed in the background.

2 : to sing the notes of a song while keeping your lips closed [no obj] I was humming to myself. • We hummed along to the music. [+ obj] Can you hum the tune for me? = Can you hum me the tune? • I hummed a little song.

3 [no obj] : to be very active or busy • By noon, the office was really humming. • The restaurant hums on weekends.

— hum noun [singular] • the hum of insects • We could hear the hum of conversation from the next room.

¹hu-man /'hju:mən/ adj

1 : of, relating to, or affecting people • the human body • the human brain • human suffering • problems that have occurred throughout human history • The accident was blamed on human error. [=the accident was blamed on a person's mistake rather than on the failure of a machine] • a story that has human interest = a human-interest story [=a story that is appealing because it involves the experiences of real people] • The need to be loved is simply part of the human condition. [=part of being a person] • an area where ancient human remains [=parts of the bodies of dead people] have been found

2 [more ~; most ~] a : typical of people • a human failing/ weakness • human kindness • human emotions • His desire for revenge was very human. [=was very typical of the way people are] b [more ~; most ~] : having good or bad qualities that people usually have • She is a very kind and human person. • I once thought that he was perfect, but now I know that he's all too human. [=that he has the same problems, weaknesses, etc., that other people have] ♦ If you say that someone is only human, you are saying that the mistakes someone has made could have been made by anyone. • We do the best we can, but we're only human. c : looking or human

acting like a person • The dog's expression was almost human. — compare INHUMAN

3 always used before a noun : made up of or consisting of people • The assembly line was a human machine. • Everyone held hands and formed a human chain.

put a human face on ✧ If you put a human face on something, you make it more appealing, easier to understand, or easier to care about by connecting it to an actual person. • The author puts a human face on the disease by interviewing people who have it.

²human noun, pl -mans [count] : a person — usually plural • a disease that affects both humans and animals — see picture on the page before this one

— hu-man-like /'hju:mən,laɪk/ adj • the cat's humanlike reaction human being noun, pl ~ beings [count] : a person • She's a very warm and generous human being. • We should do more to help our fellow human beings. • The drug has not yet been tested on human beings.

hu-mane /'hju:'meɪn/ adj [more ~; most ~] : kind or gentle to people or animals • a humane prison guard • It's not humane to treat animals that way. • a humane attitude • Conditions in the prison are more humane now. — opposite INHUMAN

— hu-mane-ly adv • treating the animals humanely — hu-mane-ness /'hju:'meɪnnəs/ noun [noncount]

human immunodeficiency virus noun [noncount] : HIV

hu-man-ism /'hju:mə,nɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : a system of values and beliefs that is based on the idea that people are basically good and that problems can be solved using reason instead of religion — see also SECULAR HUMANISM

— hu-man-ist /'hju:mənɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] • He was one of the best-known humanists of his time. — hu-man-is-tic /'hju:mə'nɪstɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • humanistic values hu-man-i-tar-i-an /'hju,mænə'terɪjən/ noun, pl -ans [count] : a person who works to make other people's lives better • She has been recognized as a great humanitarian for her efforts to end world hunger.

— humanitarian adj, always used before a noun • humanitarian efforts • humanitarian aid [=help or money given to people, countries, etc., in order to improve living conditions] — hu-man-i-tar-i-an-ism /'hju,mænə'terɪjə,nɪzəm/ noun [noncount] • She has been honored for her humanitarianism.

hu-man-i-ty /'hju'mænəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] a : the quality or state of being human • They were joined together by their (common) humanity. b : the quality or state of being kind to other people or to animals • We appealed to his sense of humanity. — opposite INHUMANITY

2 [noncount] : all people : HUMANKIND • These discoveries will be of benefit to all humanity. • She was cut off from the rest of humanity.

3 humanities [plural] : areas of study (such as history, language, and literature) that relate to human life and ideas • the college of arts and humanities • He's taking courses in both the sciences and the humanities.

hu-man-ize also Brit hu-man-ise /'hju:mə,narɪz/ verb -izes; -ized; -izing [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) seem gentler, kinder, or more appealing to people • The new publicity has helped to humanize the corporation's image. • They promised to humanize conditions at the company.

hu-man-kind /'hju:mən,kɑɪnd/ noun [noncount] : all people as a group • a discovery that will be of benefit to all humankind

hu-man-ly /'hju:mənli/ adv : within the range of human ability • Conditions were not humanly tolerable. [=could not be tolerated by human beings] • We'll do everything humanly possible [=everything we can do] to help. • I need your report as soon as (is) humanly possible. [=as soon as you can] human nature noun [noncount] : the ways of thinking, feeling, and acting that are common to most people • You can't change human nature. • It's only human nature [=it is normal] to want a better life.

hu-man-oid /'hju:mə,nɔɪd/ adj, always used before a noun : looking or acting like a human • humanoid robots • The movie is about humanoid aliens invading Earth.

— humanoid noun, pl -oids [count] • a movie about humanoids who invade Earth human race noun

the human race : all people : human beings as a group • the history of the human race • destructive weapons that could wipe out the (whole) human race

human resources noun

1 [noncount] : a department within an organization that deals with the people who work for that organization • She works for human resources. • Human Resources will contact you about your interview. • our human resources department — abbr. HR

2 [plural] : a group of people who are able to do work • We are using human resources to respond to the problem.

human right noun, pl ~ rights [count] : a basic right (such as the right to be treated well or the right to vote) that many societies believe every person should have • They believe that freedom of speech is a basic human right. — usually plural • The defendant was deprived of his human rights. • human rights violations

¹hum-ble /'hʌmbəl/ adj hum-bler; hum-blest [or more ~; most ~]

1 : not proud : not thinking of yourself as better than other people • Despite all his achievements, he has remained humble. • He is very humble about his achievements. • She is too humble to let praise go to her head. • a very humble person

2 a always used before a noun : given or said in a way that shows you do not think you are better than other people • a humble request • Please accept my humble apologies. • (sometimes humorous) In my humble opinion [=in my opinion], he is the most talented actor on the stage today. • Her humble suggestion is that we review the data more carefully. b : showing that you do not think of yourself as better than other people • a humble attitude/manner

3 : not high in rank or status • He comes from a humble background. • She's not ashamed of her humble beginnings.

4 : not special, fancy, or expensive • a meal made of humble ingredients • Welcome to our humble home/abode.

eat humble pie see EAT

— hum-ble-ness /'hʌmbələnəs/ noun [noncount] • He accepted the honor with humbleness. [= (more commonly) humility] — hum-bly /'hʌmbli/ adv • The business began humbly but quickly became successful. • She accepted his compliments humbly.

²humble verb hum-bles; hum-bled; hum-bling [+ obj]

1 : to make (someone) feel less important or proud : to make (someone) humble • The experience *humbl*ed him. • Her success has *humbl*ed her critics.

2 : to easily defeat (someone or something) in a way that is surprising or not expected • Last year's champion was *humbl*ed by an unknown newcomer.

humble yourself : to do or say something which shows that you know you have been wrong, have behaved with too much pride, etc. • He needs to humble himself and ask for their forgiveness.

— humbling adj [more ~; most ~] • It was a humbling experience for me. • a very humbling defeat

hum-bug /'hʌm,bʌg/ noun, pl -bugs

1 [noncount] : language or behavior that is false or meant to deceive people • Their claims are humbug. • She's only 30? Humbug!

2 [count] old-fashioned : someone or something that is not honest or true • He's just an old humbug. [= (more commonly) fraud]

3 [count] Brit : a hard peppermint candy

hum-ding-er /'hʌm'dɪŋə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal : something that is very impressive or exciting • The last storm was a real humdinger! • I hear we're in for another humdinger of a storm!

hum-drum /'hʌm,dɹʌm/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not interesting : dull, boring, and ordinary • She liked the movie, but I thought it was humdrum. • another humdrum day at the office • humdrum chores hu-mer-us /'hju:mərəs/ noun, pl hu-meri /'hju:mə,raɪ/ [count] medical : the long bone of the upper arm between the shoulder and the elbow — see picture at HUMAN hu-mid /'hju:məd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having a lot of moisture in the air • humid weather • a humid climate/day/season • It's very hot and humid [=muggy] today.

hu-mid-i-fi-er /'hju'mɪdə,fajə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a machine that adds moisture to the air in a room — compare DEHUMIDIFIER

hu-mid-i-ty /'hju'mɪdəti/ noun [noncount] : moisture in the air • the humidity of the region • It's not the heat that will get you—it's the humidity. : the amount of moisture in the air •

The temperature is 67 degrees with humidity at 75 percent. • an area of low/high humidity

hu-mil-i-ate /hjuˈmili,eɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] : to make (someone) feel very ashamed or foolish • I hope I don't humiliate myself during the presentation. • He accused her of trying to humiliate him in public. • She was hurt and deeply humiliated by the lies he told about her.

– humiliating adj [more ~; most ~] • It was a humiliating defeat. – hu-mil-i-a-tion /hju,mili'eɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [noncount] I can't take any more humiliation. [count] The loss would be one more humiliation for our team.

hu-mil-i-ty /hjuˈmɪləti/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of not thinking you are better than other people : the quality or state of being humble • He accepted the honor with humility. • The ordeal taught her humility.

hum-mer /ˈhʌmə/ noun, pl -mers [count] US, informal : HUMMINGBIRD • A hummer was feeding at the flowers.

hum-ming-bird /ˈhʌmɪŋ,bɜːd/ noun, pl -birds [count] : a very small, brightly colored American bird that has wings which beat very fast — see color picture on page C9

hum-mock /ˈhʌmək/ noun, pl -mocks [count] : a small hill

hum-mus /ˈhʌməs/ noun [noncount] : a soft food made of ground chickpeas, garlic, and oil hu-mon-gous also hu-mun-gous /hjuˈmʌŋgəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : very large : HUGE • a humongous dish of ice cream

hu-mor (US) or Brit hu-mour /ˈhjuːmə/ noun

1 [noncount] a : a funny or amusing quality • He didn't appreciate the humor of the situation. • Someday, you'll see the humor in this. • Everyone likes the gentle humor of his stories of family life. b : jokes, funny stories, etc., of a particular kind • She doesn't care for ethnic humor. • The book is a collection of American humor. — see also GALLOWS HUMOR

2 [noncount] : the ability to be funny or to be amused by things that are funny • His humor is one of his most attractive qualities. • She has a great sense of humor. [=she says funny things and can see the funny side of things] • He has no sense of humor. [=he does not find things amusing]

3 formal : the way someone feels emotionally [singular] She was in a good/bad humor [= (more commonly) mood] all day. [noncount] He answered the reporter's questions with charm and good humor. [=in a friendly and cheerful way] — compare GOOD-HUMORED, ILL-HUMORED

– hu-mor-less (US) or Brit hu-mour-less /ˈhjuːmələs/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a dour and humorless man • The film is completely humorless.

2 humor (US) or Brit humour verb -mors; -mored; -mor-ing [+ obj] : to try to please or satisfy (someone) by doing what is wanted • The only way to get along with him is to humor him. • I know you don't agree, but just humor me. [=listen to me]

hu-mor-ist /ˈhjuːmərist/ noun, pl -ists [count] : someone (such as a writer) who tells funny stories hu-mor-ous /ˈhjuːməɹəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : causing laughter : FUNNY • a humorous story • a humorous writer • The book is very humorous.

– hu-mor-ous-ly adv • a humorously misleading sign humour Brit spelling of HUMOR

1 hump /ˈhʌmp/ noun, pl humps [count]

1 : a rounded lump on the surface of something: such as a : a raised, rounded part of a road • a rough road with many humps [=bulges] and bumps b : a lump on the back of an animal (such as a camel) c : a lump on the back of a person whose spine is curved in an abnormal way

2 the hump Brit, informal : a state in which you are angry or upset • She gets the hump when she loses. = Losing gives her the hump. [=she becomes angry or upset when she loses] over the hump informal : past the most difficult part of something (such as a project or job) • A few more months of hard work should be enough to get/put us over the hump on this project.

– humped /ˈhʌmpt/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a humped back

2 hump verb humps; humped; hump-ing [+ obj]

1 chiefly Brit : to carry (something heavy) • They had to hump [=lug] the supplies far into the jungle.

2 offensive : to have sex with (someone) hump-back /ˈhʌmp,bæk/ noun, pl -backs [count]

1 : HUMPBACK WHALE

2 a : HUNCHBACK 1 b offensive : HUNCHBACK 2

– hump-backed /ˈhʌmpˈbækt/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a humpbacked fish humpback whale noun, pl ~ whales [count] : a type of large whale that has a curved back and very long flippers

humungous variant spelling of HUMONGOUS

hu-mus /ˈhjuːməs/ noun [noncount] : a brown or black material in soil that is formed when plants and animals decay

1 hunch /ˈhʌntʃ/ verb hunch-es; hunched; hunch-ing

1 [no obj] : to bend your body forward and down so that your back is rounded • The generals were hunched [=bent] over the table reading a map.

2 [+ obj] : to raise (your shoulders or back) while bending your head forward especially to hide or protect your face • He hunched his shoulders as he headed out into the storm.

2 hunch noun, pl hunches [count] : a belief or idea about something (especially a future event) that is not based on facts or evidence • My hunch is that the stock is going to go up in value. • “How did you know I'd be here?” “It was just a hunch.” • I had a hunch [=had a feeling] (that) I'd see you here. • She was acting on a hunch. = (chiefly US) She was playing a hunch.

hunch-back /ˈhʌntʃ,bæk/ noun, pl -backs [count]

1 : a back in which the spine is curved in an abnormal way

2 offensive : a person with a hunchback

– hunch-backed /ˈhʌntʃˈbækt/ adj • a hunchbacked old man/woman hun-dred /ˈhʌndrəd/ noun, pl -dreds

1 pl hundred [count] : the number 100 • a/one hundred (of them) • a hundred and one = one hundred and one = (chiefly US) a hundred one [=101] • two/several hundred (of them)

2 hundreds [plural] a : an amount that is more than 200 • Hundreds (and hundreds) (of them) came. = They came in the hundreds. = (chiefly Brit) They came in their hundreds. b — used to refer to a specified century • The bridge was built some time in the sixteen-hundreds. [=the 1600s; the 17th century]

3 [count] : a very large number — usually plural • I've seen that movie hundreds of times. [=many times]

4 [count] US : a hundred-dollar bill : a bill that is worth 100 dollars • Can you give me change for a hundred? • He paid with a couple of hundreds.

ninety-nine times out of a hundred informal : almost always • Ninety-nine times out of a hundred, you can fix the problem by restarting the computer.

– hundred adj, always used before a noun • a hundred employees [=100 employees] • several hundred people • We drove a few hundred miles today. • I've seen that movie a hundred times. [=many times] – hundreds pronoun • Hundreds (of them) came. – hun-dredth /ˈhʌndrədθ/ noun, pl -dredths [count] • one hundredth of a second = one one-hundredth of a second [=1/100 second]

– hundredth adj • the hundredth person to join – hundredth adv • the nation's hundredth largest city hun-dred-weight /ˈhʌndrəd,weɪt/ noun, pl -weight or -weights [count] : a unit of weight equal to 100 pounds in the U.S. or to 112 pounds in the U.K.

hung past tense and past participle of 1 HANG

Hun-gar-i-an /ˌhʌŋˈɡerɪjən/ noun, pl -ans

1 [count] : a person born, raised, or living in Hungary

2 [noncount] : the language of the Hungarian people – Hungarian adj • Hungarian food • a Hungarian word

1 hun-ger /ˈhʌŋɡə/ noun, pl -gers

1 [noncount] a : a very great need for food : a severe lack of food • She has been a leader in the fight against world hun-ger. • Thousands of people there are dying from/of hunger. [=dying because they do not have enough food; starving to death] b : an uncomfortable feeling in your stomach that is caused by the need for food • One sandwich wasn't enough to satisfy his hunger. • hunger pangs

2 [count] : a strong desire • spiritual/sexual hungers : a strong desire for something or to do something • Her students have a genuine hunger for knowledge. • a hunger to succeed = a hun-ger for success — compare THIRST

from hunger US, informal : of very bad quality : very poorly done • The film's scenery is beautiful, but the plot is (strictly) from hunger.

2 hunger verb -gers; -gered; -ger-ing [no obj] literary : to have or feel a strong desire • He hungered to succeed. — usually + after or for • He hungered after success. • The nation hungers for a strong leader. — compare THIRST hunger strike noun, pl ~ strikes [count] : the act of refusing to eat as a way of showing that you strongly disagree with or disapprove of something • She has threatened to go on a hunger strike [=refuse to eat] if her colleagues are not released from prison.

– hunger striker noun, pl ~ -ers [count]

hung jury noun, pl ~ juries [count] law : a jury whose members cannot agree about what the verdict should be • The trial ended with a hung jury and the judge declared a mistrial.

hung over adj [more ~; most ~] : sick because you drank too much alcohol at an earlier time : suffering from a hangover • He woke up groggy and hung over.

hung parliament noun, pl ~ -ments [count] Brit : a parliament in which no political party has a clear majority hun·gry /'hʌŋɡri/ adj hun·gri·er; -est

1 a : suffering because of a lack of food : greatly affected by hunger • There are millions of hungry people throughout the world. • Too many people in the world go hungry every day. [=suffer every day because they do not have enough food to eat] b : having an uncomfortable feeling in your stomach because you need food : feeling hunger • That girl is always hungry. • I'm hungry. When's dinner? • I feel hungry.

2 not used before a noun : feeling a strong desire or need for something or to do something • The prisoners' families were hungry for more information. • They were hungry to learn more. • hungry for success/attention/power — often used in combination • power-hungry politicians

3 always used before a noun : showing hunger or desire • hungry eyes • a hungry look

4 : feeling a strong desire and determination to succeed • The coach wants the players to stay hungry. [=to continue feeling a strong desire to win]

– hun·gri·ly /'hʌŋɡrəli/ adv • The dog stared hungrily at the food on the table.

hung up adj [more ~; most ~] informal

1 US : delayed for a time • She got hung up at the airport. [=she had to be at the airport longer than she expected to be]

2 : thinking or worrying too much about something or someone • Many people are hung up about their physical appearance. — usually + on • He's still hung up on his ex-wife. • students who are hung up on getting perfect grades

hunk /'hʌŋk/ noun, pl hunks [count]

1 : a large lump or piece of something • a hunk of cheese/bread • a steak cut into meaty hunks

2 informal : an attractive man • That actor is such a hunk!

– hunk·y /'hʌŋki/ adj hunk·i·er; -est informal • That actor is so hunky!

hun·ker /'hʌŋkə/ verb -kers; -kered; -ker·ing [no obj] chiefly US : to lower your body to the ground by bending your legs • The hikers hunkered (down) under a cliff until the storm passed.

hunker down [phrasal verb] : to stay in a place for a period of time • The leaders hunkered down at a country estate for difficult peace negotiations.

hunk·y·do·ry /,hʌŋki'dori/ adj, not used before a noun [more ~; most ~] informal : free of trouble or problems : FINE • Everything is hunky-dory right now.

¹hunt /'hʌnt/ verb hunts; hunt·ed; hunt·ing

1 : to chase and kill (wild animals) for food or pleasure [+ obj] The wolf was hunting its prey. • These birds have been hunted almost to extinction. • a gun used for hunting squirrels [no obj] He likes to hunt and fish.

2 : to search for something or someone very carefully and thoroughly [no obj] She hunted around in the closet for a pair of shoes. — often + for • The police are hunting for a killer. • He's hunting for a new apartment. • We went to the mall to hunt for bargains. [+ obj] Police hunted the escaped prisoners through several states. • (US) We went to the mall to hunt bargains.

hunt down [phrasal verb] 1 hunt (something) down or hunt down (something) : to succeed in finding (something) • It may take me a while to hunt down the phone number. 2 hunt (someone) down or hunt down (someone) : to find and capture (someone) • The killer was hunted down with help from his relatives.

hunt out [phrasal verb] hunt (something) out or hunt out (something) : to find (something) after searching for it • It took a while to hunt out the papers, but we finally found everything we needed.

hunt up [phrasal verb] hunt (someone or something) up or hunt up (someone or something) : to succeed in finding (someone or something) • You can hunt up a good car at a fair price if you try.

²hunt noun, pl hunts [count]

1 : an occasion when people hunt wild animals • They went on a hunt. • a bear/fox/pheasant hunt

2 : an act of searching for something or someone • We finally found a good restaurant after a long hunt. • The hunt for the escaped convicts continues. = The hunt is still on for the escaped convicts. = The police are still on the hunt [=are still searching] for the escaped convicts. — see also SCAVENGER HUNT, TREASURE HUNT, WITCH HUNT

3 chiefly Brit : a group of people who hunt foxes together in the hunt US : having a chance to win or succeed in a contest or competition • At this point in the season, both teams are still in the hunt. [=both teams have a chance of winning the championship]

hunt-and-peck /,hʌntn'pek/ noun [noncount] informal : a method of typing that involves looking at the keyboard and using only one finger of each hand to press the keys

hunt·er /'hʌntə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 a : a person who hunts wild animals • a deer hunter b : a person who searches for something • My mother is a bargain-hunter. [=a person who searches for good prices on items to buy] • job-hunters [=people trying to find jobs; job-seekers] — see also BOUNTY HUNTER

2 : a strong horse that people use when they hunt foxes hunt·er·gath·er·er /'hʌntə'gæðətə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a member of a culture in which people hunt animals and look for plants to eat instead of growing crops and raising animals • a tribe of hunter-gatherers

hunt·ing /'hʌntɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the activity or sport of chasing and killing wild animals • His hobbies include hunting and fishing. • The law prohibits the hunting of migratory birds. • big-game hunting • She likes to go hunting. • We went hunting for bear. = We went bear-hunting. — often used before another noun • hunting boots • a hunting accident • the hunting season • a hunting dog [=a dog people use when they hunt] — see also FOXHUNTING, HEAD-HUNTING

2 : the activity of searching for something • bargain-hunting • job-hunting hunt·ress /'hʌntrəs/ noun, pl -ress-es [count] literary : a woman who hunts wild animals hunts·man /'hʌntsmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] formal

1 : a person (especially a man) who hunts wild animals

2 : a person (especially a man) who manages a group of people who are hunting wild animals

¹hur·dle /'hʌdl/ noun, pl hur·dles

1 a [count] : one of a series of barriers to be jumped over in a race b the hurdles : a race in which runners must jump over hurdles • He won a medal in the high hurdles. — usually used with a singular verb • The hurdles is his best event.

2 [count] : something that makes an achievement difficult • The company faces severe financial hurdles this year. • She overcame many hurdles [=obstacles] on her way to earning a college diploma.

²hurdle verb hur·dles; hur·dled; hur·dling [+ obj]

1 : to jump over (something) while running • The horse hur-dled the fence.

2 : to deal with (a problem or difficulty) successfully • She hurdled [=overcame] many obstacles on her way to earning a college diploma.

– hur·dler /'hʌdlə/ noun, pl hur·dlers [count]

hur·dy·gur·dy /,hʌdi'gədi/ noun, pl -dies [count]

1 : a stringed musical instrument that is played by turning a handle

2 : BARREL ORGAN

hurl /'hʌrəl/ verb hurls; hurled; hurl·ing /'hʌlɪŋ/

1 [+ obj] : to throw (something) with force • Someone hurled a rock through the window. • He hurled a chair at me. • It looked like she was going to hurl herself down the stairs.

2 [+ obj] : to say or shout (something, such as an insult) in a loud and forceful way • The protesters hurled insults at us.

3 [no obj] US slang : VOMIT

– hurl·er /'hʌlə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • a baseball team with several talented hurlers [=pitchers]

hur·ly·bur·ly /,hʌli'bʊli/ noun [noncount] : a very active or confused state or situation • the hurly-burly of politics • We left the hurly-burly of city life and moved to the countryside.

hurdle

hur-rah /hʊˈrɑː/ or hoo-ray /hʊˈreɪ/ also hur-ray /hʊˈreɪ/interj — used to express joy, approval, or encouragement • Hurrah! I got the job! • Hip, hip, hooray! — sometimes + for • Hurrah for the home team! — see also LAST HURRAH

hur-ri-cane /ˈhʊrɪˌkeɪn, Brit ˈhʌrəkən/ noun, pl -canes [count] : an extremely large, powerful, and destructive storm with very strong winds that occurs especially in the western part of the Atlantic Ocean

hur-ried /ˈhʊrɪd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : happening or done very quickly or too quickly • The general was forced to make a hurried decision. • She had a hur- ried meeting with her advisers before speaking to the press. •
 a hurried meal/departure

2 : working very quickly or too quickly • a hurried waitress — hur-ried-ly /ˈhʊrɪdli/ adv • a hurriedly scribbled note • depart hurriedly

hur-ry /ˈhʊri/ verb -ries; -ried; -ry-ing

1 [no obj] : to move, act, or go quickly • Take your time.
 There's no need to hurry. • She hurried off to her class. • He hurried after her. • They hurried past us. • Hurry (back) home
 now. • We hurried through the lesson so that we could finish early. • We'll miss our flight if we don't hurry. = If we don't hurry we'll miss our flight. — often + up • If we don't hurry up we'll miss our flight. • Hurry up! We're going to be late!

2 [+ obj] a : to make (someone) move, act, or go quickly •
 She hates to be hurried [=rushed] at dinner. • The teacher hurried us through the lesson. — often + up • Somebody needs to hurry them up so we can leave. • Could you hurry it up a little please? [=could you please do what you are doing a little more quickly?] b [+ obj] : to carry or send (someone or something) more quickly than usual • They hurried the children off to bed. • A messenger hurried [=rushed] the package across town.

3 [+ obj] a : to increase the speed of (something) • He heard the train coming and hurried his pace. [=he began to walk more quickly] b : to do (something) quickly or too quickly • Don't hurry [=rush] your homework. • The quarterback was forced to hurry his throw.

hurry up and wait US, informal — used to describe a situation in which you are forced to spend a lot of time waiting
 • My father says that all he did in the army was hurry up and wait. — sometimes used as a noun phrase • Traveling often involves a lot of hurry up and wait. [=a lot of waiting] hurry noun [noncount] : a need to do something more quickly than usual : RUSH • “Come on, let's go.” “What's the (big) hurry?” [=why do we need to hurry?] • Why the hurry? • Take your time. There's no (great) hurry. • In her hurry to leave she forgot her briefcase.

in a hurry 1 : very quickly • The weather got worse in a hurry. 2 : feeling a strong need to move, act, or go quickly • He was in too much of a hurry to stop and say hello. • teenagers who are in a (big) hurry to grow up [=who are eager to grow up; who want to grow up quickly] • We're not in a/any hurry. = We're in no hurry. [=we do not need to hurry; we have plenty of time] — sometimes used to say that someone does not want to do something • It was getting late, but our guests were not in a/any hurry to leave. = Our guests were in no hurry to leave. [=we wanted our guests to leave, but they did not seem to want to leave] • I'm in no (particular/big/great) hurry to go to the dentist.

hurt /hɜːt/ verb hurts; hurt; hurt-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to cause pain or injury to (yourself, someone else, or a part of your body) • Be careful with that knife or you could hurt yourself. • Ouch! You're hurting my arm! • I hurt my back (while) carrying a heavy box up the stairs. • She was badly/seriously hurt in a car accident. • My tooth/back still hurts me. • Don't worry about the dog—he wouldn't hurt a fly. [=the dog would never bite or attack anyone; the dog is very gentle] synonyms see INJURE b [no obj] : to be a source or cause of pain • My tooth/back hurts (a lot/little). • It hurts [=it is painful] to walk on hot pavement with bare feet. • The injection didn't hurt at all. = It didn't hurt a bit. • Ouch! That hurts! • My arm hurts very badly. = (informally)
 My arm hurts like hell. • My leg hurt. = (chiefly US) My leg was hurting c [no obj] : to feel physical pain • When I woke up this morning I hurt all over.

2 a [+ obj] : to make (someone) sad or upset : to cause (someone) to suffer emotionally • Their lack of interest in her work hurt her deeply. • You're only hurting yourself by holding a grudge against them. • It hurt me to see her go. • It hurts me to say this [=I don't enjoy saying this], but I just don't think you can do the job. • I can't tell him the meal was bad because I don't want to hurt his feelings. [=hurt him; make him sad or upset] b [no obj] : to feel emotional pain or distress • My sister has really been hurting [=has been very upset and unhappy] since her boyfriend left her.

3 : to do harm to (someone or something) : to affect (someone or something) in a bad or harmful way : DAMAGE [+ obj] The lack of rain has hurt the corn crop. • If we lose this game it will seriously hurt our chances of making the playoffs. • These new regulations will hurt small businesses. • hurt profits/sales • There's no doubt that this scandal has hurt her image. • Would it hurt you to cook dinner for once? = It wouldn't hurt you to cook dinner for once. [=you should cook dinner] • As far as he's concerned, what he doesn't know can't/won't hurt him. [=he would rather not know about something; he thinks that if he does not know about something, he cannot be damaged by it, blamed for it, etc.]
 [no obj] The company needs to cut spending, even if it hurts.

— usually used in negative statements • I know he's qualified for the job, but it doesn't hurt [=it helps] that the company president is his mother's best friend. • It wouldn't hurt to try a little harder. [=you should try a little harder] • We may not finish on time, but it won't hurt to try. [=we should try] • “Should I ask her for a job?” “It couldn't/can't hurt (to ask).”
 [=she may give you a job if you ask]

4 [no obj] : to have many problems : to be in a bad situation or condition • Those poor people are hurting and need our help. • The local economy is hurting right now. [=it is doing poorly]

hurt for [phrasal verb] US, informal 1 hurt for (something)
 : to lack (something needed) • Those children are hurting for attention. [=those children need to be given more attention] • The company is hurting for money right now. 2 hurt for (someone) : to have sympathy or pity for (someone) • I hurt for [=feel for] those poor people.

2 hurt adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having a physical injury • Those who are most badly/seriously hurt [=injured] will be cared for first. • She has a hurt back.

2 : feeling or showing emotional pain • She gave him a hurt look. • hurt [=wounded] pride • I was/felt deeply hurt by their refusal to help. [=I was very sad or upset because they refused to help] • His behavior at the party caused a lot of hurt feelings. [=it made many people upset or sad]

3 hurt noun, pl hurts : mental or emotional pain [noncount]
 Her sympathy eased the hurt he felt after his dog's death. • It takes a long time to get past the hurt [=suffering] of a bitter divorce. [count] They felt a great hurt after their bitter divorce. • She tried to put past hurts behind her.

put the/a hurt on US, informal : to injure or damage (someone or something) • If we adopt a more aggressive strategy, we can really put the hurt on our competitors. • They really put a hurt on him. [=hurt/injured him very badly] hurt-ful /ˈhɜːtful/ adj [more ~; most ~] : causing injury or emotional pain; especially : cruel or unkind • She can't forgive him for the hurtful things he said. • hurtful gossip • Their comments were really hurtful to me.

— hurt-ful-ly adv • He spoke hurtfully to her. — hurt-ful- ness noun [noncount]

hur-tle /ˈhɜːtl/ verb hur-tles; hur-tled; hur-tling

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to move or fall with great speed and force • Boulders hurtled down the hill. • comets hurtling through space • We kept to the side of the road as cars and trucks hurtled past us. — often used figuratively • a country hurtling toward disaster

2 [+ obj] : to cause (something or someone) to move or go with great speed and force : HURL • The protesters hurtled bottles at the police. • He hurtled himself into the crowd.

1 hus-band /ˈhʌzbənd/ noun, pl -bands [count] : a married man : the man someone is married to • Have you met her husband? • They were husband and wife [=a married couple] for almost 60 years. — compare WIFE

2 husband verb -bands; -band-ed; -band-ing [+ obj] formal
 : to carefully use or manage (something, such as a resource) • The country has husbanded its resources well.

hus-band-ry /ˈhʌzbəndri/ noun [singular] formal : the activity of raising plants or animals for food : FARMING • crop husbandry — see also ANIMAL HUSBANDRY

1 hush /hʌʃ/ verb hush-es; hushed; hush-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make (someone) quiet, calm, or still • The woman in the seat behind me was trying to hush her baby. • The judge hushed the spectators. — often used as (be) hushed •

The crowd was hushed. • a hushed [=quiet] courtroom • speaking in hushed [=whispering] tones

2 [no obj] : to become quiet • The spectators hushed as the judge entered the courtroom. • The room hushed [=people stopped talking, making noise, etc.] as the theater lights dimmed. — usually used to tell someone to be quiet • Hush, children. I'm going to tell you a story.

hush up [phrasal verb] hush (something) up or hush up (something) : to prevent people from knowing the truth about (something, such as a crime) • hush up a crime/scandal • The city government tried to hush things up when the mayor was arrested.

²hush noun [singular] : a time of silence, stillness, or calm especially after noise • A hush fell/came over the theater. = A hush settled/descended on the theater. [=the theater became quiet; people stopped talking, making noise, etc.]

hush-hush /'hʌʃ,hʌʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : kept secret : known only to a few people • He wants to keep the relationship hush-hush. • She works for a hush-hush government agency.

hush money noun [noncount] : money paid so that someone will keep information secret : money that you pay someone to hush something up • He's accused of paying her hush money to keep their affair secret.

¹husk /'hʌsk/ noun, pl husks [count] : a usually thin, dry layer that covers some seeds and fruits • a corn husk [= (US) shuck] — see color picture on page C4

²husk verb husks; husked; husk-ing [+ obj] : to remove the thin, dry layer that covers some seeds and fruits : to remove the husk from (something) • Please husk [= (US) shuck] the corn while I set the table.

¹hus-ky /'hʌski/ adj hus-ki-er; -est
1 of a voice : sounding somewhat rough • a husky [=hoarse] voice
2 : large and strong • a husky [=burly] laborer

²husky noun, pl hus-kies [count] : a large dog with thick fur that is used for pulling sleds — see picture at DOG

hus-sy /'hʌsi/ noun, pl -sies [count] old-fashioned + offensive : a girl or woman who does things that people consider immoral, improper, etc. • a brazen/wanton hussy ♦ Hussy is now rarely used except in a joking way.

hus-tings /'hʌstɪŋz/ noun
on the hustings : making speeches, meeting people, etc., in order to get people to vote for you : campaigning for a political office • candidates who are (out) on the hustings
the hustings : the political speeches, meetings, etc., that happen before an election • news reports from the hustings

¹hus-tle /'hʌsəl/ verb hus-tles; hus-tled; hus-tling /'hʌsəlɪŋ/

1 [+ obj] : to quickly move or push (someone) often in a rough way • The guards hustled the prisoners into the jail. • The star's manager hustled him out the back door of the theater to avoid the throngs of fans. • She hustled the children (off) to school.

2 [no obj] chiefly US a : to move or work in a quick and energetic way • If we want to catch that bus, we're going to have to hustle. [=rush] b : to play a sport with a lot of energy and effort • He's not the most talented player on the team, but he always hustles.

3 US, informal a : to get (something, such as money) in an illegal or improper way [+ obj] She spent her mornings hustling change [=asking people for money] on the sidewalk. [no obj] hustling for money b [+ obj] : to sell (something illegal, such as drugs) • He's been hustling drugs for a few years. : to sell (something) in an illegal or improper way • They hustle diamonds, furs—whatever people are buying.

4 [+ obj] informal a : to take something and especially money from (someone) by lying or doing something unfair : to swindle or cheat (someone) • She's accused of running an elaborate scam to hustle elderly people. b chiefly US : to earn money by playing (a gambling game) and especially by playing against people who are less skillful than you are • He made a living by hustling pool.

5 [no obj] US, informal : to work as a prostitute hustle up [phrasal verb] hustle up (something) or hustle (something) up US, informal : to quickly get or find (something) • I'll try to hustle up [=rustle up] some tickets to tonight's game. • Let's see if we can hustle up some grub. [=find something to eat]

²hustle noun, pl hustles
1 [noncount] a : energetic activity • I enjoy the hustle and bustle of the city. b chiefly US : effort and energy in playing a sport • The fans admire him for his hustle.

2 [count] informal : a dishonest plan for getting money • She's always trying some kind of hustle [=scam] on the street.
hus-tler /'hʌslə/ noun, pl hus-tlers [count] : a person who hustles: such as a chiefly US : a person who regularly earns money by playing a gambling game • a pool hustler b chiefly US, informal : PROSTITUTE hut /'hʌt/ noun, pl huts [count] : a small and simple house or building • a mud/wooden hut [=shack]

hutch /'hʌtʃ/ noun, pl hutch-es [count]
1 US : a piece of furniture that is used for displaying and storing dishes — called also (Brit) dresser, (Brit) Welsh dresser
2 : an enclosed area or cage for an animal • a rabbit hutch

HVAC abbr heating, ventilating, and air-conditioning; heating, ventilation, and air-conditioning

hwy abbr highway

hy-a-cinth /'hajəsɪnθ/ noun, *pl -cynth*s [count] : a type of plant that is grown in gardens and has flowers that smell sweet

hy-brid /'haɪbrəd/ noun, pl -brids [count]
1 : an animal or plant that is produced from two animals or plants of different kinds • a hybrid of two roses
2 : something that is formed by combining two or more things • The band plays a hybrid of jazz and rock.

— hybrid adj, always used before a noun • a hybrid rose/tree • The car is a hybrid vehicle that uses both electricity and gasoline.

hy-dra /'haɪdrə/ noun, pl -dras
1 Hydra [singular] : a monster in Greek mythology that has many heads
2 [count] : a very complicated and serious problem that cannot be easily solved • trying to slay the hydra of inflation

hy-drant /'haɪdrənt/ noun, pl -drants [count] : FIRE HYDRANT

¹hy-drate /'haɪdreɪt/ noun, pl -drates [count] technical : a substance that is formed when water combines with another substance

²hydrate verb -drates; -drat-ed; -drat-ing [+ obj] somewhat technical : to add water or moisture to (something) • lotions and creams that hydrate the skin : to supply (something) with water • Drink fluids to hydrate the body. — opposite DEHYDRATE — hydrated adj [more ~; most ~] • Remember to stay hydrated. [=to drink enough water] — hy-dra-tion /'haɪdreɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

hy-drau-lic /'haɪdraɪlɪk/ adj
1 : operated by the pressure of a fluid • hydraulic brakes • the airplane's hydraulic system
2 : occurring or used in a hydraulic system • hydraulic fluid • hydraulic pressure

— hy-drau-li-cal-ly /'haɪdraɪlɪkli/ adv • hydraulically controlled brakes hy-drau-lics /'haɪdraɪlɪks/ noun [noncount] : the science that deals with ways to use liquid (such as water) when it is moving hy-dro-car-bon /'haɪdrou,kæbən/ noun, pl -bons [count] technical : a substance (such as coal or natural gas) that contains only carbon and hydrogen

hy-dro-chlo-ric acid /'haɪdrə'klɔrɪk-/ noun [noncount] chemistry : a strong acid that is used especially in scientific experiments and in manufacturing

hy-dro-elec-tric /'haɪdrowɪ'lektɪk/ adj, technical : of or relating to the production of electricity by using machines that are powered by moving water • a hydroelectric dam • hydroelectric power

— hy-dro-elec-tric-i-ty /'haɪdrowɪ'lek'trɪsəti/ noun [noncount]

hy-dro-foil /'haɪdrə'fɔɪl/ noun, pl -foils [count] : a very fast boat that rises partly out of the water when moving at high speeds

hy-dro-gen /'haɪdrədʒən/ noun [noncount] : a chemical element that has no color or smell and that is the simplest, lightest, and most common element hy-dro-ge-nat-ed /'haɪdraɪdʒə'neɪtəd/ adj, technical, of an oil or fat : having hydrogen added • hydrogenated fats/oils • The study showed that partially hydrogenated oils increase the risk of heart disease.

hydrogen bomb noun, pl ~ bombs [count] : a bomb that produces an extremely powerful and destructive explosion when hydrogen atoms unite — called also H-bomb hydrogen peroxide noun [noncount] : a liquid that is used to make things lighter in color or to kill bacteria

hy-dro-plane /'haɪdrə,pleɪn/ noun, pl -planes [count] : a boat that is designed to move over the surface of water at very high speeds hydroplane verb -planes; -planed; -plan-ing [no obj] US, of a vehicle : to slide on a wet road because a thin layer of water on the road causes the tires to lose contact with it • The car started hydroplaning and skidded off the road.

hy-dro-pon-ics /,haɪdrə'pɔ:nɪks/ noun [noncount] technical : a method of growing plants in water rather than in soil
— hy-dro-pon-ic /,haɪdrə'pɔ:nɪk/ adj • hydroponic gardening/vegetables

hy-dro-pow-er /'haɪdrə,pawə/ noun [noncount] : electricity produced from machines that are run by moving water

hy-dro-ther-a-py /,haɪdrə'θerəpi/ noun, pl -pies [count, noncount] : the use of water in the treatment of disease or injury

hy-e-na /haɪ'i:nə/ noun, pl -nas [count] : a large animal of Asia and Africa that eats the flesh of dead animals • a pack of hyenas ♦ The call of the hyena sounds like very loud laughter, and the hyena is sometimes referred to as a laughing hyena. A person who is laughing in a loud or foolish way is sometimes described as laughing like a hyena.

hyena

hy-giene /'haɪ,dʒi:n/ noun [noncount] : the things that you do to keep yourself and your surroundings clean in order to maintain good health • Poor sanitation and hygiene caused many of the soldiers to get sick. • He has very poor personal hygiene. • Brushing your teeth regularly is an important part of good dental/oral hygiene.

hy-gien-ic /haɪ'dʒi:nɪk, haɪ'dʒenɪk/ adj

1 : relating to being clean and the the things that are done to maintain good health : of or relating to hygiene • For hygienic reasons, restaurants should wash silverware and drinking glasses more than once.

2 [more ~; most ~] : clean and likely to maintain good health : having or showing good hygiene • The hygienic conditions of the operating room are maintained by the nursing staff. • The prisoners' living quarters were not hygienic.

— hy-gien-i-cal-ly /haɪ'dʒi:nɪkli, haɪ'dʒenɪkli/ adv

hy-gien-ist /haɪ'dʒi:nɪst, haɪ'dʒenɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : DENTAL HYGIENIST

hy-men /'haɪmən/ noun, pl -mens [count] : a fold of tissue that partly covers the opening of the vagina hymn /'hɪm/ noun, pl hymns [count] : a religious song : a song that praises God • sing a hymn of praise/thanksgiving • a book of hymns = a hymn book — sometimes used figuratively • This sentimental novel is a hymn to childhood and innocence. [=the novel praises childhood and innocence]

hym-nal /'hɪmnəl/ noun, pl -nals [count] : a book of hymns hype /'haɪp/ noun [noncount] informal + often disapproving : talk or writing that is intended to make people excited about or interested in something or someone • There was a great deal of media hype surrounding the senator's announcement. • After months of promotional hype, the band finally released their new album.

hype verb hypes; hyped; hyp-ing [+ obj] informal + often disapproving : to talk or write about (something or someone) in a way that is intended to make people excited or interested • He's being hyped (up) as the next big rap star. • Company executives have been hyping the new software for months.

hype up [phrasal verb] hype (someone) up or hype up (someone) informal : to make (someone) very excited • The announcer was trying to hype the crowd up before the show started. — often used as hyped up • I was so hyped up, I couldn't sleep.

hy-per /'haɪpə/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : very excited, nervous, or active • a hyper [=hyperactive] kid • I get a little hyper when I drink too much coffee.

hyper- /'haɪpə/ prefix

1 : excessively or extremely • hyperactive • hypersensitive

2 : excessive or extreme • hypersensitivity • hypertension

hy-per-ac-tive /,haɪpə'æktɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : extremely active or too active • hyperactive children • All of these wild characters are products of the author's hyperactive [=overactive] imagination.

— hy-per-ac-tiv-i-ty /,haɪpə'æk'tɪvəti/ noun [noncount]

hy-per-bo-le /haɪ'pəbəli/ noun, pl -les : language that describes something as better or worse than it really is [noncount] In describing his accomplishments, he's somewhat given to hyperbole. [=he tends to exaggerate his accomplishments] [count] The customer's letter of complaint was filled with hyperboles [= (more commonly) exaggerations] and outrageous claims.

— hy-per-bol-ic /,haɪpə'ba:lɪk/ adj • hyperbolic [= (more commonly) exaggerated] claims about his accomplishments

hy-per-crit-i-cal /,haɪpə'krɪtɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : criticizing other people or things too strongly or too often • a hypercritical boss • a hypercritical movie review hy-per-drive /'haɪpə'draɪv/ noun [noncount] chiefly US, informal : a state of extremely fast activity • With only a few weeks left before the election, the campaign has shifted into hyperdrive. [=has shifted into overdrive; has become extremely active]

hy-per-in-fla-tion /,haɪpə'rɪn'fleɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : extremely rapid increase in the price of goods and services : extremely rapid economic inflation

hy-per-link /'haɪpə,lɪŋk/ noun, pl -links [count] computers : a highlighted word or picture in a document or Web page that you can click on with a computer mouse to go to another place in the same or a different document or Web page

hy-per-mar-ket /'haɪpə,mɑ:kət/ noun, pl -ets [count] chiefly Brit : a very large supermarket hy-per-sen-si-tive /,haɪpə'sensətɪv/ adj : very sensitive: such as a : having feelings that are very easily hurt • a hypersensitive child • She's hypersensitive about her past. b : very strongly and easily affected or harmed by something (such as a drug) • People who are hypersensitive to the chemical may have violent reactions even to small amounts.

— hy-per-sen-si-tiv-i-ty /,haɪpəsensə'tɪvəti/ noun [noncount]

hy-per-ten-sion /,haɪpə'tenʃən/ noun [noncount] medical : high blood pressure • He's being treated for hypertension.

— hy-per-ten-sive /,haɪpə'tensɪv/ adj • hypertensive patients

hy-per-text /'haɪpə,tekst/ noun [noncount] computers : an arrangement of the information in a computer database that allows a user to get information and to go from one document to another by clicking on highlighted words or pictures

hy-per-ven-ti-late /,haɪpə'ventə'leɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing [no obj] : to breathe very quickly and deeply • The boy panicked and began hyperventilating. ♦ When you hyperventilate you breathe so quickly that you begin to feel dizzy. Hyperventilate is also sometimes used figuratively to describe a person who is becoming very upset or excited but not actually breathing quickly. • The latest economic news has prompted a lot of hyperventilating on Wall Street. [=people on Wall Street are very upset about the news]

— hy-per-ven-ti-la-tion /,haɪpə'ventə'leɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

hy-phen /'haɪfən/ noun, pl -phens [count] : a punctuation mark - that is used to connect words or parts of words

hy-phen-ate /'haɪfə,nert/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] : to connect (words or parts of words) with a hyphen • In English, we hyphenate some compounds but not others.

— hyphenated adj • "Runner-up" is a hyphenated term.

hyp-no-sis /hɪp'nousəs/ noun [noncount] : a state that resembles sleep but in which you can hear and respond to questions or suggestions • He underwent hypnosis to treat his fear of water. • While under hypnosis, she described the horrific accident in detail.

hyp-no-ther-a-py /,hɪpnou'θerəpi/ noun [noncount] medical : the use of hypnosis to help people with emotional and psychological problems

hyp-not-ic /hɪp'nɑ:tɪk/ adj

1 always used before a noun : of or relating to hypnosis • The psychologist put her into a hypnotic state.

2 [more ~; most ~] : having an effect like hypnosis: such as a : tending to cause sleep or relaxation • Riding in a car often has a hypnotic effect on babies. • the steady, hypnotic rhythm of the train b : attractive or interesting in a powerful or mysterious way • Her voice is powerful and hypnotic. [=spellbinding, fascinating] • a hypnotic personality

— hyp-not-i-cal-ly /hɪp'nɑ:tɪkli/ adv • chanting hypnotically

²hypnotic noun, pl -ics [count] medical : a drug that causes sleep

hyp-no-tism /'hɪpnə,tɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : the act or practice of putting people into a state of hypnosis • a psychologist who employs hypnotism to treat his patients hyp-no-tist /'hɪpnə,tɪst/ noun, pl -tists [count] : a person who puts people into a state of hypnosis : a person who hypnotizes people

hyp-no-tize also Brit hyp-no-tise /'hɪpnə,təɪz/ verb -tiz-es; -tized; -tiz-ing [+ obj]

1 : to put (a person) into a state of hypnosis • The therapist hypnotized him and asked him questions about his traumatic experiences in the war. • a hypnotized patient

2 : to hold the attention of (someone) : to attract (someone) in a powerful or mysterious way • He can hypnotize people with his stare. — often used as (be) hypnotized • I was hypnotized [=fascinated] by her beauty.

— hypnotizing adj [more ~; most ~] • hypnotizing beauty

hypo- prefix

1 : under : beneath : down • hypodermic

2 : less than normal or normally • hypotension • hypothermia

hy-po-chon-dria /,haɪpə'kɑːndrɪə/ noun [noncount] : unusual or excessive concern about your health : a tendency to fear or imagine that you have illnesses that you do not actually have • She fueled her hypochondria by reading articles about rare diseases.

hy-po-chon-dri-ac /,haɪpə'kɑːndrɪ,æk/ noun, pl -acs [count] : a person who is often or always worried about being ill • My brother is a real hypochondriac. Every time he reads about some new disease, he thinks he has it.

hy-poc-ri-sy /hɪ'pɑːkrəsi/ noun, pl -sies disapproving : the behavior of people who do things that they tell other people not to do : behavior that does not agree with what someone claims to believe or feel [noncount] When his private letters were made public, they revealed his hypocrisy. • the hypocrisy of people who say one thing but do another [count] Teenagers often have a keen awareness of their parents' hypocrisies.

hyp-o-crite /'hɪpə,kɹɪt/ noun, pl -crites [count] disapproving : a person who claims or pretends to have certain beliefs about what is right but who behaves in a way that disagrees with those beliefs • the hypocrites who criticize other people for not voting but who don't always vote themselves

— hyp-o-crit-i-cal /,hɪpə'krɪtɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • It's hypocritical of you to demand respect from your students when you don't respect them in return. • a hypocritical remark • hypocritical politicians — hyp-o-crit-i-cal-ly /,hɪpə'krɪtɪkli/ adv

¹hy-po-der-mic /,haɪpə'dəɪmɪk/ adj, medical

1 : going under the skin • a hypodermic injection

2 : used for putting fluids into or taking fluids out of the body by going under the skin • a hypodermic needle [=a thin, hollow needle used for giving people injections] • a hypodermic syringe

²hypodermic noun, pl -mics [count] medical : a device that uses a thin, hollow needle for putting fluids into or taking fluids out of the body : SYRINGE

hy-po-ten-sion /,haɪpou'tenʃən/ noun [noncount] medical : low blood pressure

— hy-po-ten-sive /,haɪpou'tensɪv/ adj • hypotensive patients

hy-pot-e-nuse /,haɪ'pɑːtə,nus, Brit ,haɪ'pɑːtə,njuːz/ noun, pl -nus-es [count] mathematics : the long side opposite the right angle of a triangle

hy-po-ther-mia /,haɪpou'θəmiə/ noun [noncount] medical : a condition in which the temperature of your body is very low • She fell into the cold water and nearly died from hypothermia.

hy-poth-e-sis /,haɪ'pɑːθəsəs/ noun, pl -e-ses /-ə,sɪːz/ [count] : an idea or theory that is not proven but that leads to further study or discussion • Other chemists rejected his hypothesis. • put forward a hypothesis = advance a hypothesis • Their hypothesis is that watching excessive amounts of television reduces a person's ability to concentrate. • The results of the experiment did not support/confirm his hypothesis.

hy-poth-e-size also Brit hy-poth-e-size hypodermic /,haɪ'pɑːθəsaɪz/ verb -siz-es; -sized; -sizing [+ obj] : to suggest (an idea or theory) : to make or suggest (a hypothesis) • Psychologists hypothesized that his odd behavior was caused by a chemical imbalance in the brain. • Biologists have hypothesized a relationship between the two species. [=biologists have suggested that there may be a relationship between the two species]

hy-po-thet-i-cal /,haɪpə'θetɪkəl/ adj

1 : involving or based on a suggested idea or theory : involving or based on a hypothesis • a hypothetical argument/discussion • The theory is hypothetical.

2 : not real : imagined as an example • She described a hypothetical case to clarify her point. • a hypothetical question/situation/example

— hy-po-thet-i-cal-ly /,haɪpə'θetɪkli/ adv • Suppose, hypothetically, that you were offered a large sum of money in exchange for revealing company secrets. Would you accept the offer? • We're just speaking hypothetically.

hys-ter-ec-to-my /hɪstə'rektəmi/ noun, pl -mies [count, noncount] medical : an operation to remove a woman's uterus • a surgeon who has performed many hysterectomies

hys-te-ria /hɪ'sterɪə, hɪ'stɪrɪə/ noun [noncount]

1 : a state in which your emotions (such as fear) are so strong that you behave in an uncontrolled way • A few of the children began to scream, and soon they were all caught up in the hysteria. • fits/attacks of hysteria

2 : a situation in which many people behave or react in an extreme or uncontrolled way because of fear, anger, etc. • Wartime hysteria led to many unfair accusations of treachery. • The spreading of the disease caused/produced mass hysteria in the village.

hys-ter-ic /hɪ'sterɪk/ noun, pl -ics [count] usually disapproving : a person who behaves or reacts in an extremely or foolishly emotional way : a hysterical person • He dismisses his critics as a bunch of hysterics who are always predicting disaster. — see also HYSTERIC hys-ter-i-cal /hɪ'sterɪkəl/ also hysterical adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : feeling or showing extreme and uncontrolled emotion : marked by hysteria • crowds of screaming, hysterical fans • By the time the police arrived, the victim had become hysterical. • She burst into shrieks of hysterical laughter.

2 informal : very funny • I think his movies are hysterical.

— hys-ter-i-cal-ly /hɪ'sterɪkli/ adv • The child was crying/laughing hysterically. • His movies are hysterically funny.

hys-ter-ics /hɪ'sterɪks/ noun [plural] : uncontrolled laughter, crying, or extreme emotion : a fit of hysteria • My mother went into hysterics [=she became very upset] when she saw my tattoo. = My mother had hysterics when she saw my tattoo. • The audience was in hysterics [=was laughing very hard] throughout the movie.

HZ abbr hertz

I

i or I /'aɪ/ noun, pl i's or Is or I's or Is /'aɪz/

1 : the ninth letter of the English alphabet [count] The word "ice" begins with an i. [noncount] The word "ice" begins with i.

2 [count] : the number one in Roman numerals

¹I /'aɪ/ pronoun : the person who is speaking or writing — used as the subject of a verb • I feel fine • I think (that) we should leave now. • I like to drive. • I can do that myself. • You and I will be going to the movies together. • My brother and I are five years apart in age. • I am here. • Here I am. — compare ME, MINE, MY, WE usage see ¹ME

²I abbr island, isle

IA abbr Iowa

iamb /'aɪ,æm/ noun, pl iambs [count] technical : a unit of rhythm in poetry that consists of one syllable that is not accented or stressed followed by one syllable that is accented or stressed (as in the words away or above)

— iam-bic /aɪˈæmbɪk/ adj • iambic stanzas/poetry • iambic pentameter

-ian see -AN

Ibe-ri-an /aɪˈbɪrɪən/ adj : of or relating to Spain and Portugal • the Iberian Peninsula • Iberian peoples

ibex /aɪˈbɛks/ noun, pl ibex or ibex-es [count] : a wild goat that lives chiefly in the mountains of Europe, Asia, and northeastern Africa ibid abbr — used in formal writing to indicate that a reference is from the same source as a previous reference ♦ Ibid is an abbreviation of the Latin word “ibidem,” which means “in the same place.”

-ibility see -ABILITY ibis /aɪˈbəs/ noun, pl ibis or ibis-es [count] : a tall bird that has long legs and a long bill that curves downward

-ible see -ABLE

ibu-pro-fen /aɪbjuˈprɒfən/ noun [noncount] medical : a medicine that reduces pain and fever

¹-ic /ɪk/ adj suffix

1 : having the character or form of • panoramic • cherubic

2 a : of or relating to • chivalric b : coming from or containing • acidic

3 : in the manner of : like that of • autocratic

4 : making use of • electronic • atomic

²-ic noun suffix

1 : someone belonging to or connected with • academic

2 : someone affected by • alcoholic

-i-cal /ɪkəl/ adj suffix : ¹-IC • symmetrical • geological

ICBM /aɪˌsɪˌbiːˈɛm/ noun, pl ICBM's or ICBMs [count] : a type of missile that can fly from one continent to another ♦ ICBM is an abbreviation of “intercontinental ballistic missile.”

¹ice /aɪs/ noun, pl ic-es

¹T [noncount] a : frozen water • The steps were coated with ice. • a piece of ice • Ice formed on the car's windows. • The ice melted quickly in the hot sun. • ice crystals/particles/sculptures • ice cubes — see also DRY ICE b : a sheet of frozen water • She skated out onto the ice. • He almost fell through a hole in the ice. — see also BLACK ICE, CENTER ICE c : cubes or pieces of ice • Fill the glass with ice.

2 a [count, noncount] US : a frozen dessert of crushed ice sweetened with fruit juice • (a) raspberry ice b [count] Brit, old-fashioned : a serving of ice cream

3 [noncount] US slang, old-fashioned : diamonds or jewelry • He gave her some ice for her birthday. • She was dripping with ice. [=she was wearing a lot of diamond jewelry]

break the ice informal : to say or do something that helps people to relax and begin talking at a meeting, party, etc. • He told a joke to break the ice. — see also ICEBREAKER

2 cut ice informal : to have importance to someone — usually + with; used in negative statements • His opinion doesn't cut any ice with me. = His opinion cuts no ice with me. [=his opinion is not important to me]

on ice 1 : on top of pieces of ice in order to be kept cool • I'll put the champagne on ice. 2 informal : in the state of being delayed for a time • We'll have to put/keep the project on ice until more funds become available. [=we'll have to stop working on the project until more funds become available] 3 US, informal : in a condition that makes victory certain • With that last goal they put the game on ice. [=they iced the game; they made it certain that they would win the game] on thin ice : in a dangerous situation : in a situation that may cause you to get into trouble • In going against his father's wishes, he was (skating/walking) on thin ice.

²ice verb ices; iced; ic-ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (something) cold with ice • Ice the glasses before you fill them. • ice [=put ice on] a twisted ankle

2 : to cover (something, such as a cake) with icing • Ice [= (US) frost] the cake after it has cooled.

3 US, informal : to make winning or getting (something) certain • The last goal iced [=clinched] the game/win. • His persuasive talk iced [=secured] the contract.

4 ice hockey : to shoot (the puck) down the rink and beyond the opponent's goal

5 US slang, old-fashioned : to kill or murder (someone) • He had all his enemies iced.

ice over/up [phrasal verb] : to become covered with ice • The freezing rain caused the roads to ice over. • As the weather grew colder, the pond iced over. • The wings of the plane iced up during the storm.

ice age or Ice Age noun, pl ~ ages [count] : a time in the distant past when a large part of the world was covered with ice • changes that occurred during the last ice age • a valley formed during the Ice Age [=the most recent ice age]

ice ax noun, pl ~ axes [count] : a cutting tool that is used in mountain climbing ice-berg /aɪsˌbɛɡ/ noun, pl -bergs [count] : a very large piece of ice floating in the ocean the tip of the iceberg : a small part of something (such as a problem) that is seen or known about when there is a much larger part that is not seen or known about • The news is shocking, but we may find out that the stories we've heard so far are just the tip of the iceberg.

iceberg lettuce noun [noncount] : a type of light green lettuce that is often eaten in salads — see color picture on page C4 ice-bound /aɪsˌbaʊnd/ adj : surrounded or blocked by ice • The harbor was icebound. • The ship became icebound.

ice-box /aɪsˌbɔːks/ noun, pl -box-es [count] US, old-fashioned : REFRIGERATOR ice-break-er /aɪsˌbreɪkə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a ship designed to clear a passage through ice

2 : something done or said to help people to relax and begin talking at a meeting, party, etc. • using an old joke as a conversational icebreaker — see also break the ice at ¹ICE ice cap noun, pl ~ caps [count] : a very large and thick sheet of ice that covers the North Pole, the South Pole, or another region • the polar ice cap

ice-cold /aɪsˈkəʊld/ adj : very cold • My hands were ice-cold. • ice-cold beer ice cream /aɪsˈkriːm/ noun, pl ~ creams : a frozen food containing sweetened and flavored cream [noncount] What flavor of ice cream do you like? • chocolate/vanilla ice cream [count] Would you like another ice cream? [=another serving of ice cream] — often used before another noun • an ice-cream parlor/stand/soda ice-cream cone noun, pl ~ cones [count] : a thin, crisp cake that is shaped like a cone and used for holding ice cream; also : one filled with ice cream • We each had an ice-cream cone for dessert.

iced adj : containing small pieces of ice or ice cubes • iced coffee/tea ice field noun, pl ~ fields [count] : a large area of land covered with ice ice fishing noun [noncount] : fishing that is done in winter through a hole that is cut in the ice on a lake, pond, etc.

ice floe noun, pl ~ floes [count] : a large, flat area of ice floating in the ocean ice hockey noun [noncount] : a game played on an ice rink in which two teams of six players on skates use curved sticks to try to shoot a puck into the opponent's goal — called also (US) hockey; compare FIELD HOCKEY ice lolly noun, pl ~ lollies [count] Brit : a piece of flavored ice that is eaten off a stick — compare POPSICLE ice pack noun, pl ~ packs [count]

1 : a container or bag filled with ice that is used to cool part of your body • He had an ice pack on his sore elbow.

2 : a large area of ice on the ocean formed from pieces and sheets of ice that have been pushed together by wind and waves ice pick noun, pl ~ picks [count] : a sharp tool used for breaking off small pieces of ice ice rink noun, pl ~ rinks [count] : an often enclosed area that has a sheet of ice for ice-skating ice sheet noun, pl ~ sheets [count] : a very large and thick area of ice that covers a region ice show noun, pl ~ shows [count] : a show in which ice-skaters perform to music ice skate noun, pl ~ skates [count] : a shoe with a special blade on the bottom that is used for skating on ice • a pair of ice skates ice-skate /aɪsˌskeɪt/ verb -skates; -skat-ed; -skat-ing [no obj] : to skate on ice • I had never ice-skated before.

— ice-skat-er /aɪsˌskeɪtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • There were several ice-skaters at the rink. — ice-skating noun [noncount] • They use the frozen pond for ice-skating. • Let's go ice-skating.

ice storm noun, pl ~ storms [count] : a storm in which falling rain freezes as it lands ice water noun [noncount] US : water that has ice in it : very cold water • a glass of ice water [= (Brit) iced water] ice water in your veins US, informal ✧ If you have ice water in your veins, you remain very calm and controlled in a situation in which other people would become upset or afraid.

ici-cle /'aɪsɪkəl/ noun, pl ici-cles [count] : a hanging piece of ice formed when water freezes as it drips down from something (such as a roof)

ic-ing /'aɪsɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : FROSTING • a cake with chocolate icing icing on the cake : something extra that makes a good thing even better • The concert itself was great, and getting to meet the band afterward was (the) icing on the cake.

icing sugar noun [noncount] Brit : POWDERED SUGAR

icky /'ɪki/ adj ick-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal : having a very unpleasant quality • The trail was icky with mud. • an icky taste icon /'aɪkɒn/ noun, pl icons [count]

1 computers : a small picture on a computer screen that represents a program or function • Click on the icon to open your e-mail program. — see picture at COMPUTER

2 a : a person who is very successful and admired • He has become an icon in the movie business. • a singer who has become a pop icon b : a widely known symbol • The Statue of Liberty has become an American cultural icon.

3 also ikon : a religious image in the Orthodox Christian church

— icon-ic /aɪ'kɒ:nɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • He has achieved iconic status in the movie business.

icon-o-clast /aɪ'kɒ:nə'klæst/ noun, pl -clasts [count] formal : a person who criticizes or opposes beliefs and practices that are widely accepted

— icon-o-clasm /aɪ'kɒ:nə'klæzəm/ noun [noncount] • The iconoclasm of his views made him unpopular. — icon-o-clast-ic /aɪ'kɒ:nə'klæstɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • iconoclastic theories — icon-o-clast-ic-al-ly /aɪ'kɒ:nə'klæstri'kli/ adv

ico-nog-ra-phy /aɪkə'nɒ:grəfi/ noun [noncount] : the images or symbols related to something • Christian iconography • the iconography of the 1960s

-ics /ɪks/ noun suffix

1 : study : knowledge • electronics • linguistics

2 : characteristic actions or activities • heroics • athletics • acrobatics • gymnastics

ICU abbr intensive care unit • She spent several days in (the) ICU after the surgery.

icy /'aɪsi/ adj ic-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : covered with ice • icy roads/sidewalks

2 : very cold • icy weather • an icy cold [=ice-cold] wind

3 : not friendly or kind • an icy [=cold, frigid] stare

— ic-i-ly /'aɪsəli/ adv • His manner was icily formal. — ic-i-ness /'aɪsɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

id /'ɪd/ noun, pl ids [count] psychology : a part of a person's unconscious mind that relates to basic needs and desires — compare EGO, SUPEREGO

1 ID /'aɪ'di:/ noun, pl ID's or IDs : a document, card, etc., that has your name and other information about you and that often includes your photograph [noncount] The guard insisted that we show him some ID. [=identification] [count] The guard insisted that we show him our ID's.

2 ID verb ID's or IDs; ID'd or IDed; ID'ing or IDing [+ obj] informal : to find out the identity of (someone or something) : IDENTIFY • The police have not yet ID'd the victim.

3 ID abbr Idaho

I'd /'aɪd/ — used as a contraction of I had or I would • I'd [=I had] already read the book. • I'd [=I had] better leave. • I'd [=I would] rather do it myself.

ID card noun, pl ~ cards [count] : a card that has your name and other information about you and that often includes your photograph — called also identification card, identity card

-ide /aɪd/ noun suffix, chemistry : a chemical made up of two or more elements • sulphide • cyanide

idea /aɪ'di:jə/ noun, pl ideas

1 [count] : a thought, plan, or suggestion about what to do • My idea is to study law. • Starting her own business seemed like a good idea at the time, but it turned out badly. • I left with the idea that I'd come back later. = I left with the idea of coming back later. • Whose idea was it to leave so early? • My idea was that if we left early we could beat the crowd. •

Buying the car was a bad idea. • I have some ideas for redecorating the room. • He has an idea for a movie. • I'm not sure what to do next. Do you have any ideas? • She's always full of new ideas. • It's a good idea to talk to people who have actually been there. • There's/that's an idea! = There's/that's a good idea! • What's the next big idea in the fashion industry? • Tom has the right idea—while the rest of us are fighting traffic every day, he takes the train to work.

2 [count] : an opinion or belief • That guy has some pretty strange ideas. • "I thought he'd help us." "What gave you that idea?" • Where did you get that idea? • I thought we could handle this ourselves, but my boss had other ideas. [=my boss did not agree]

3 : something that you imagine or picture in your mind [count] I formed a good idea of what the place is like by reading about it. • A hamburger and a milkshake isn't exactly my idea of a gourmet meal! [=it is not what I imagine a gourmet meal to be] • A quiet night at home is my idea of a good time. [noncount] Could you give us some idea of what to expect?

4 [singular] : an understanding of something : knowledge about something • He has a clear idea of his responsibilities. [=he knows what his responsibilities are] • Do you have any idea of what these repairs will cost? • I have no idea what you're talking about. = I don't have the faintest/slightest idea what you're talking about. [=I do not know/understand at all what you're talking about] • "Was it hard?" "You have no idea (how hard it was)!" [=yes, it was very hard] • All right, I get the idea. [=I understand] • I think he made a mistake, but don't get the wrong idea [=don't misunderstand me], I still think he has done a good job overall. • I don't want to give you the wrong idea.

5 the idea : the central meaning or purpose of something • The whole idea [=point, object] of the game is to keep from getting caught. • The idea [=goal, aim] is to get people to attend. • I just don't get/understand the idea behind [=the reason for] this change in the rules. • (informal) Hey! What's the big idea!? [=why are you doing that?]

give someone ideas or put ideas in/into someone's head : to cause someone to think about doing something that probably should not be done • Don't go giving him ideas. • Don't put ideas in/into his head by telling him he'd be happier if he'd quit his job.

1 ideal /aɪ'di:l/ adj : exactly right for a particular purpose, situation, or person : PERFECT • ideal weather • the ideal man/woman • It was an ideal spot for a vacation. • She is an ideal candidate for the job. • The conference provided us with an ideal opportunity to meet new people. • In an ideal world [=a perfect world without problems] there would be no war. • The conditions were far from ideal. [=were not good at all]

2 ideal noun, pl -als [count]

1 : an idea or standard of perfection or excellence • an ideal of romantic love • The organization has remained true to its ideals. [=has continued to work for and support the goals that it considers most worthwhile and important] • He hasn't lived up to his high ideals.

2 : someone or something that is believed to be perfect : someone or something that you admire and want to imitate • She considers the actress her ideal.

ide-al-ism /aɪ'di:jə'lɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : the attitude of a person who believes that it is possible to live according to very high standards of behavior and honesty • youthful idealism • political/religious/romantic idealism

— ide-al-ist /aɪ'di:jə'lɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] • The group was a mix of realists and idealists. — ide-al-is-tic /aɪ'di:jə'lɪstɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • hopeful and idealistic students • She was naïve and idealistic. — ide-al-is-ti-cal-ly /aɪ'di:jə'lɪstɪkli/ adv

ide-al-ize also Brit ide-al-ise /aɪ'di:jə'lɑɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj] : to think of or represent (someone or something) as being perfect • She tends to idealize her job.

— ide-al-i-za-tion also Brit ide-al-i-sa-tion /aɪ'di:jələ'zeɪʃən, Brit aɪ'diə'lɑɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] • The film presents the subject without (any) idealization. — idealized also Brit idealised adj [more ~; most ~] • The movie presents a very idealized version of American life.

ide-al-ly /aɪ'di:li/ adv

1 : in an ideal way : PERFECTLY • His skills made him ideally suited for the job. • They were ideally suited to one another. • The ski slope was situated ideally.

2 — used to say what should happen or be done to produce the best results • Ideally, each student should be taught individually. • Ideally, you should do these exercises daily.

iden-ti-cal /aɪ'dentɪkəl/ adj

1 : exactly the same • We visited the identical place we stopped at last year

2 : exactly alike or equal • They were wearing identical coats. • The boxes were identical in shape. • They drove virtually identical cars. • The results were identical to/with those of the first test.

— iden-ti-cal-ly /aɪ'dentɪkli/ adv • They were dressed identically. • The two words are pronounced identically.

identical twin noun, pl ~ twins [count] : either member of a pair of twins that are produced from a single egg and who look exactly alike — compare FRATERNAL TWIN

iden-ti-fi-ca-tion /aɪ,dentə'feɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : the act of finding out who someone is or what something is : the act of identifying someone or something [noncount]

A member of the family was brought in for identification of the body. • The birds are tagged for easy identification. [count] The police have made a positive identification of the suspect.

2 [noncount] : something that shows who a person is : a document, card, etc., that has your name and other information about you and that often includes your photograph • We were told to carry (some) personal identification at all times. • He needed to show (his) identification before they would cash the check. • You need two forms of identification.

3 [noncount] : a feeling that you share and understand the problems or experiences of another person : the act of identifying with someone • the movie audience's identification with the good guys • They had/felt a (strong) sense of identification with their neighbors.

identification card noun, pl ~ cards [count] : ID CARD

identification parade noun, pl ~ -ades [count] Brit : LINEUP 3

iden-ti-fy /aɪ'dentə'faɪ/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing [+ obj]

1 : to know and say who someone is or what something is • She identified the dog as her lost pet. • He was able to correctly identify the mushroom. • The witness positively identified the suspect in the crime. • She was easily identified by what she was wearing. [=it was easy to see who she was because of what she was wearing] • He has a talent for identifying [=recognizing] good workers.

2 : to find out who someone is or what something is • The corpse was identified on the basis of dental records. • They could not identify the source of the quotation. • They had no difficulty in identifying the problem. • We began by identifying what we needed for the job. • We need to identify the causes of unemployment.

3 : to show who someone is or what something is • His clothes identified him as a clerk. [=his clothes showed that he was a clerk] • an identifying mark/feature [=a mark/feature that shows who someone is or what something is] identify with [phrasal verb] 1 identify (something) with (something) : to think of (something) as being the same as (something else) • It is a mistake to identify [=equate] being healthy with being thin. 2 identify (someone) with (something) : to think of (someone) as being very closely associated with (something) — often used as (be) identified with • She has always been identified with the civil rights movement. • These groups are identified with conservation. 3 identify with (someone or something) : to think of yourself as having the same problems and feelings as someone • Many readers identify with the characters in her novels. • He could identify with the problems the athlete was having. [=he understood the problems because he had had similar problems himself] identify yourself : to say who you are • When the police asked his name, he refused to identify himself.

— iden-ti-fi-able /aɪ,dentə'fajəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a clearly/readily identifiable signature — iden-ti-fi-ably /aɪ,dentə'fajəbli/ adv • The band has an identifiably British sound.

iden-ti-ty /aɪ'dentəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 : who someone is : the name of a person [count] The identity of the criminal/victim is not known. • The face of the witness was hidden in order to protect her identity. [=to keep her name from being known] • The documents proved/established his identity. [=proved/established who he was] • They produced their passports as proof of their identities. [noncount] You will need to show proof of identity. [=something that shows that you are who you say you are] • They arrested the wrong man. It was a case of mistaken identity.

2 : the qualities, beliefs, etc., that make a particular person or group different from others [count] As children grow, they establish their own identities. • She did not want to be known only as the wife of her husband. She insisted on having her own identity. [=on being known for her own qualities, achievements, etc.] [noncount] people who seem to lack individual identity • He has a strong sense of personal identity. [=a strong feeling about exactly the kind of person he is] • His art reflects his cultural/racial identity.

identity card noun, pl ~ cards [count] : ID CARD identity crisis noun, pl ~ crises [count] : a feeling of unhappiness and confusion caused by not being sure about what type of person you really are or what the true purpose of your life is • He is suffering from an identity crisis.

identity parade noun, pl ~ -rades [count] Brit : LINEUP 3 identity theft noun [noncount] : the illegal use of someone else's personal identifying information (such as a Social Security number) in order to get money or credit • How can we protect ourselves against identity theft?

ide-ol-o-gist /aɪdi'ɑ:lədʒɪst/ noun, pl -gists [count] : IDEOLOGUE

ideo-logue /aɪdɪjə,lɑ:g/ noun, pl -logues [count] formal + often disapproving : someone who very strongly supports and is guided by the ideology of a particular group • conservative/liberal ideologues ide-ol-o-gy /aɪdi'ɑ:lədʒi/ noun, pl -gies : the set of ideas and beliefs of a group or political party [count] progressive/liberal/conservative ideologies • the ideology of a totalitarian/capitalist society [noncount] He says that the election is not about ideology.

— ideo-log-i-cal /aɪdɪjə'lɑ:dʒɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] •

The two groups divided along ideological lines. • ideological conflicts — ideo-log-i-cal-ly /aɪdɪjə'lɑ:dʒɪkli/ adv

ides /aɪdz/ noun [plural] : the 15th day of March, May, July, or October or the 13th day of any other month in the ancient Roman calendar • "Beware the ides of March." —Shakespeare, Julius Caesar (1599)

id-i-o-cy /aɪdɪjəsi/ noun, pl -cies

1 [noncount] : extreme stupidity • an act of sheer idiocy

2 [count] : something that is extremely stupid or foolish : an idiotic action or statement • He was complaining again about the idiocies of the people he works for.

id-i-om /aɪdɪjəm/ noun, pl -oms

1 [count] : an expression that cannot be understood from the meanings of its separate words but that has a separate meaning of its own • The expression "give way," meaning "retreat," is an idiom.

2 [count, noncount] : a form of a language that is spoken in a particular area and that uses some of its own words, grammar, and pronunciations : DIALECT

3 : a style or form of expression that is characteristic of a particular person, type of art, etc. [count] a poet's idiom • rock and roll and other musical idioms [noncount] a feature of modern jazz idiom

— id-i-om-at-ic /aɪdɪjə'mætɪk/ adj • an idiomatic expression/phrase [=an expression/phrase that is an idiom] • a use of language that is not idiomatic [=that does not sound natural or correct] — id-i-om-at-i-cal-ly /aɪdɪjə'mætɪkli/ adv • That phrase is idiomatically acceptable/correct.

id-io-syn-cra-sy /aɪdɪjə'sɪŋkrəsi/ noun, pl -sies [count]

1 : an unusual way in which a particular person behaves or thinks • Her habit of using "like" in every sentence was just one of her idiosyncrasies.

2 : an unusual part or feature of something • The current system has a few idiosyncracies.

— id-io-syn-crat-ic /aɪdɪjə,sɪn'krætɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • She has an idiosyncratic [=unusual] singing voice. • His taste in music was very idiosyncratic. • an idiosyncratic writing style — id-io-syn-crat-i-cal-ly /aɪdɪjə,sɪn'krætɪkli/ adv

id-i-ot /aɪdɪjət/ noun, pl -ots [count] : a very stupid or foolish person • Don't be such an idiot! • I really made an idiot of myself [=I acted very stupidly] at the party last night. • Some idiot [=fool] of a driver kept trying to pass me!

— id-i-ot-ic /aɪdi'ɑ:tɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • an idiotic movie • idiotic drivers • My behavior last night was idiotic. — id-i-ot-i-cal-ly /aɪdi'ɑ:tɪkli/ adv

id-i-ot-proof /aɪdɪjət,pru:f/ adj, informal : extremely easy to use or do • idiot-proof software idiot savant noun, pl idiots savants or idiot savants [count] : SAVANT 2

¹idle /'aɪdl/ adj

1 : not working, active, or being used • idle workers [=workers who do not have jobs] • The company's competitor's have not been idle [=they have been active/busy] in recent months. • The factory has been lying/sitting/standing idle [=has not been used] for the past year. • the idle rich [=rich people who do not have to work]

2 : not having any real purpose or value • idle rumors/gossip • There has been a lot of idle speculation about what might happen, but no one really knows. • (formal) It is idle [=useless, pointless] to want what you cannot have. • She said she would leave him, but he knew it was an idle threat. [=he knew that she did not mean it]

3 : not having much activity • the idle days of summer

4 somewhat old-fashioned : trying to avoid work : LAZY • a careless and idle worker • There was a group of idle boys standing on the corner.

— idle-ness /'aɪdl'nəs/ noun [noncount]

²idle verb idles; idled; idling

1 of an engine or vehicle : to run without being connected for doing useful work [no obj] She left the engine idling for a few seconds before she turned it off. • The cars idled in traffic. [+ obj] idle an engine

2 : to spend time doing nothing or nothing useful [no obj] A group of boys idled in the doorway. [+ obj] — + away • We idled away the evening playing cards.

3 [+ obj] US : to cause (someone or something) to stop working : to make (someone or something) idle • The factory closed, idling several hundred workers. • Thousands of workers have been idled by the bad economy. • The factory has been idled by the strike.

idler /'aɪdlə/ noun, pl idlers [count] somewhat old-fashioned : someone who is lazy or does not work • a rich idler idly /'aɪdli/ adv : without much thought, effort, or concern • We sat idly, waiting for something to happen. • I idly wondered what they were doing.

idol /'aɪdl/ noun, pl idols [count]

1 : a greatly loved or admired person • a sports/teen/pop idol • an actor who is the idol of millions • a fallen idol [=a person who is no longer greatly admired] — see also MATINEE IDOL

2 : a picture or object that is worshipped as a god idol-a-try /aɪ'dɑ:lətri/ noun [noncount] : the worship of a picture or object as a god

— idol-a-trous /aɪ'dɑ:lətrəs/ adj • idolatrous worship

idol-ize also Brit idol-ise /'aɪdə,ləɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -izing [+ obj] : to love or admire (someone) very much or too much • The young boy idolized his father. [=he loved his father and thought that he never did anything wrong] • an actor who is idolized by millions — idol-i-za-tion also Brit idol-i-sa-tion /aɪdələ'zeɪʃən, Brit aɪdə,ləɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • The idolization of the novelist continued after his death.

idyll also idyl /'aɪdl/ noun, pl idylls also idyls [count] literary

1 : a simple poem or other piece of writing that describes peaceful country life

2 : a happy and enjoyable scene or experience • a pastoral/romantic idyll

idyl-lic /aɪ'dɪlɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very peaceful, happy, and enjoyable • He had an idyllic childhood. • an idyllic retreat/setting in the countryside • an idyllic summer day

— idyl-li-cal-ly /aɪ'dɪlɪkli/ adv • He had an idyllically happy childhood. • The village is idyllically situated.

i.e. abbr that is — used to introduce something that explains a preceding statement more fully or exactly • The medicine needs be taken for a short period of time; i.e., three to five days. ♦ The abbreviation i.e. comes from the Latin phrase “id est,” which means “that is.”

— -ie also -y /i/ noun suffix, informal

1 : little one • bootie • birdie : dear little one • sonny

2 : someone or something that is • smarty • biggie • toughie

3 : someone belonging to • townie : someone having to do with • druggie

— -ier see ²-ER

¹if /'ɪf/ conj

1 — used to talk about the result or effect of something that may happen or be true • If it rains, (then) we won't go to the park. • If he actually did commit the crime, he deserves to be punished. • If you believe that, you'll believe anything! • Come to the party if you can. • If you really want to know, you should ask. • What will happen if I fail the test? • You should study. If not, you won't pass the test. = If you don't (study), you won't pass the test. • Please arrive early if possible. = Please arrive early if it is possible. • I'll do the work myself if necessary. = I'll do the work myself if it is necessary. • If and when he comes, you can ask him. = When and if he comes, you can ask him.

2 — used to discuss the imaginary result or effect of something that did not happen or that is or was not true • If you had studied, you would have passed the test. • The situation would be funny if it weren't so tragic. = (informal) The situation would be funny if it wasn't so tragic. • The harvest would have been good if it had rained. • The news would be interesting if (it were) true, but it's not true.

3 — used to say that something must happen before another thing can happen • He said he'll come to the party if she comes too. = (more strongly) He said he'll come to the party only if she comes too. = (most strongly) He says he'll come to the party if and only if she comes too.

4 — used to indicate a result that always occurs when something happens • He gets angry if [=when] you disagree with him. • The engine stalls if you let it get too hot.

5 : even though : ALTHOUGH • It was an interesting if unbelievable story. • Her actions were understandable, if not forgivable. • He had to perform an annoying, if necessary, task. • a fair, if tough, boss • The weather was good, if not great.

6 — used to introduce a statement or question about something that is not certain • I'll see if [=whether] I can come. • Do you know if he'll come to the party? • I wonder if it's true (or not). • Frankly, I doubt if he'll pass the exams. • She asked if the mail had come. • We should determine/decide if it is safe to go swimming.

7 a — used to make a polite request or suggestion • Would you mind if I sat here? [=may I sit here?] • If you will/would (be good enough to) follow me, ladies and gentlemen, I'll take you to your seats. • If I could make a suggestion, why don't we sit closer to the front of the theater? • I'd like to stay a little longer, if you don't mind. = I'd like to stay a little longer, if it's/that's all right with you. b — used to state an opinion in a polite way • You're looking particularly lovely today, if I may say so.

8 — used in statements that describe feelings (such as regret) about a possible situation • I'm sorry if you think I insulted you. • I'd be sorry if you thought I had insulted you. • I don't care if we're late.

9 — used in statements and questions that express doubt • I met Brenda last week—if that is/was in fact her real name. • If you're so smart, why aren't you rich?

10 — used to introduce an even stronger alternative to what has just been said • These changes will have little if any impact on the problem. • Few if any of the town's original settlers are left. • Rarely, if ever, does that happen. • His efforts have helped to save thousands, if not millions, of lives. • My car is as fast as yours if not (even) faster.

11 — used to express surprise about meeting someone when it is not expected • So I went to the game and who should I see there if not [=but] my old friend Tom! • Well, if it isn't my old friend Tom! • So I went to the game and who did I see there if it wasn't my old friend Tom!

12 — used to emphasize the truth of a statement • The idea is true if any idea has ever been! [=the idea is certainly true] • “He claims that he's never met her.” “Well, if that isn't the biggest load of nonsense I've ever heard!” [=that is a lot of nonsense; that is completely untrue] • I'll get my revenge if it's the last thing I do! [=I am determined to get my revenge] as if see ²AS

even if see ²EVEN

if anything — used to make a statement that strongly disagrees or contrasts with a preceding statement • We don't see each other too often—if anything we don't see each other often enough! • The economy has not improved. It has gotten worse, if anything.

if it comes to that see ¹COME

if I were you — used when giving advice to people about how they should behave • I'd study more if I were you. [=I think you should study more]

if not for : in the absence of (something or someone) : WITHOUT • If not for modern medicine, fewer babies would survive. • If not for him, I wouldn't be where I am today. — often used in the phrases if it were not for and if it had not been for • If it were not for your donations, many more children would go hungry. • If it hadn't been for him, I wouldn't be where I am today.

if nothing else : at least — used to stress that an approving statement is true even though a stronger statement might not be • If nothing else, he's polite! • The food was hot, if nothing else. [=the food may not have been very good, but at least it was hot] if only — used to talk about something that you want to happen or be true • If only she loved me in return! • If only it would stop raining.

if you ask me — used in statements that express an opinion • If you ask me [=in my opinion], he's a liar.
if you must see ¹MUST
what if see ¹WHAT

if noun, pl ifs [count] : something that is not certain : something that could either happen or not happen • There are too many ifs in this proposal. • They could win if everyone plays his best, but that's a big if. [=it is not likely that everyone will play his best] • (US) She's the most qualified candidate, and there are no ifs, ands, or buts about it! = (Brit) She's the most qualified candidate, and there are no ifs and buts about it! [=it is certain that she is the most qualified candidate]

if-fy /'ɪfi/ adj if-fi-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] informal ¹ : having many uncertain or unknown qualities or conditions : not certain • an iffy situation/proposal/decision • It's iffy [=doubtful] whether he can play in the game.
² : not certain to be good • I'm hoping to play golf tomorrow, but the weather looks a bit iffy. [=there's a chance that the weather will be bad]

if-fy /ə,faɪ/ verb suffix : -FY

g-loo /'ɪ,glu:/ noun, pl -loos [count] : a house made of blocks of snow or ice in the form of a dome

g-ne-ous /'ɪɡniəs/ adj, technical : formed when hot, liquid rock cools and becomes hard • igneous rock

g-nite /ɪɡ'nait/ verb -nites; -nit-ed; -nit-ing

¹ a [+ obj] : to set (something) on fire : to cause (something) to burn : LIGHT • ignite a bonfire • The fire was ignited by sparks. b [no obj] : to begin burning : to catch fire • The paper ignited on contact with sparks. • a material that ignites easily

² [+ obj] a : to give life or energy to (someone or something) • Three wins in a row ignited the team. • The story ignited [=fired] her imagination. b : to cause the sudden occurrence of (something) • Her comments have ignited [=sparked] a controversy. • His proposal is igniting opposition.

— ig-nit-able /ɪɡ'naitəbəl/ adj • a material that is easily ignitable • ignitable fuel

g-ni-tion /ɪɡ'nɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

¹ [count] a : the electrical system in an engine that causes the fuel to burn so that the engine begins working • There's a problem with the car's ignition. b : the device that is used to start a car's engine — usually singular • Put the key in the ignition. • Turn on/off the ignition. — see picture at CAR

² [noncount] : the act of causing something to start burning : the act of igniting something • ignition of the fire

g-no-ble /ɪɡ'noubəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not deserving respect : not noble or honorable • an ignoble past • ignoble thoughts

— ig-no-bly /ɪɡ'noubli/ adv • His career ended ignobly.

g-no-min-i-ous /,ɪɡnə'mɪniəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : causing disgrace or shame • They suffered an ignominious [=humiliating] defeat.

— ig-no-min-i-ous-ly adv • failed ignominiously

g-no-mi-ny /'ɪɡnə,mini/ noun, pl -nies formal : a situation or event that causes you to feel ashamed or embarrassed [noncount] She had to endure the ignominy of being forced to resign. [count] the small/petty ignominies that are a part of everyone's life

g-no-ra-mus /,ɪɡnə'reɪməs/ noun, pl -mus-es [count] : a person who does not know much : an ignorant or stupid person • I can't believe they let an ignoramus like that run the company.

g-no-rance /'ɪɡnərəns/ noun : a lack of knowledge, understanding, or education : the state of being ignorant [noncount] His racist attitudes were born out of ignorance. — often + of • Ignorance of the law is no excuse (for violating it). • Their decisions were made in ignorance of [=without knowing] the true nature of the situation. • When asked about the reasons for these drastic changes, she pleaded/pled ignorance. [=she said that she did not know the reasons] [singular] an appalling ignorance about/of other cultures ignorance is bliss — used to say that a person who does not know about a problem does not worry about it

g-no-rant /'ɪɡnərənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

¹ : lacking knowledge or information • He is an ignorant old racist. • She was ignorant about the dangers of the drug. — often + of • They were ignorant [=unaware] of the facts. • He remains ignorant of the changes. • We were blissfully ignorant of the problems that had occurred.

² : resulting from or showing a lack of knowledge • It was an ignorant mistake. • ignorant opinions

— ig-no-rant-ly adv

ig-nore /ɪɡ'noʊ/ verb -nores; -nored; -nor-ing [+ obj]

¹ : to refuse to show that you hear or see (something or someone) • She tried to ignore him but he wouldn't leave her alone. • I'll ignore that last remark.

² : to do nothing about or in response to (something or someone) • If we continue to ignore these problems they will only get worse. • They ignored the warning signs. • ignoring the poor igua-na /ɪ'gwɑ:nə/ noun, pl -nas [count] : a large lizard that lives in the tropical regions of Central and South America

iguana

ikon variant spelling of ICON 3

il- see IN-

IL abbr Illinois

ilk /'ɪlk/ noun [singular] : sort or kind • The club attracts punk rockers and others of that ilk.

¹ill /'ɪl/ adj

¹ a : not well or healthy : sick or unhealthy • a chronically/critically/terminally ill patient • mentally ill adults — usually used after a verb • I felt ill [=sick] all afternoon. • What's wrong? You look ill. • He had been ill for several years. • More than half of those exposed to the virus eventually become ill. • She suddenly fell ill. = She was suddenly taken ill. = (US) She suddenly took ill. • (US) The sight made her physically ill. [=the sight made her nauseated] • (US) He became violently ill. [=he vomited] ♦ The comparative form illier and the superlative form illest are sometimes used for this sense.

• I have never seen him looking illier. [=worse, (US) sicker] • That's the illest [=worst, (US) sickest] I have ever seen him. b of health : not normal or good • Her ill [=poor] health forced her to retire early.

² always used before a noun : harmful or damaging • That dog can eat almost anything with no ill effects. • They had been subjected to months of ill treatment.

³ always used before a noun : not helpful or lucky • They seem to be plagued by ill [=bad] luck/fortune. • an ill omen ♦ The saying it's an ill wind that blows no good or it's an ill wind that blows nobody (any) good means that something that is bad in most ways is usually also good in some way.

⁴ always used before a noun : not kind or friendly • an angry customer's ill humor/temper • We harbor no ill intentions toward them. • Her comment caused some ill feeling/feelings. [=feelings of anger or resentment] — see also ILL WILL

ill repute see REPUTE

with ill grace see ¹GRACE

²ill adv

¹ : in a bad or imperfect way : BADLY, POORLY • He is being ill served by his advisers. — often hyphenated • He is ill-equipped [=he does not have the experience or preparation that is needed] to handle so much responsibility. • They were ill-prepared for the cold weather. • Her arrival was ill-timed. [=she arrived at a bad time] • a pet ill-suited for travel [=a pet that is difficult to take with you when you travel]

² : in an unfavorable or unkind way • Please don't think ill of me. • He was a good man who never spoke ill of anyone. — see also bode ill at BODE ill afford ♦ If you can ill afford something, you should not do it or get it because it will cause problems. • We can ill afford more bad publicity. • She bought a new car, which she could ill afford.

³ill *noun, pl ill*s

¹ [noncount] : bad or unlucky things • She does not wish ill on/upon anyone. = She does not wish anyone ill. • After the war, the country was changed, for good and for ill. [=in good ways and in bad ways]

2 a [count] : a sickness or disease • They claimed to have a cure for every ill. [=ailment] — usually plural • childhood ills
b ills [plural] : troubles or problems • the ills of society
I'll /'ajəl/ — used as a contraction of I will • I'll call you.
ill-advised /,ɪləd'vaɪzd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not wise or sensible : FOOLISH • an ill-advised decision • You would be ill-advised [=you would be making a mistake] to invest all your money in one company. — opposite WELL-ADVISED — ill-ad-vis-ed-ly /,ɪləd'vaɪzədli/ adv ill-assorted adj [more ~; most ~] : having a mixture of people or things that do not seem to belong together • the room's ill-assorted furniture ill at ease adj [more ~; most ~] : not comfortable or relaxed : nervous or embarrassed • Their stares made us (feel) ill at ease. • He seemed ill at ease when we spoke with him.
ill-bred /'ɪl'bred/ adj [more ~; most ~] somewhat old-fashioned : rude and impolite : having or showing bad manners • His ill-bred behavior embarrassed her at the restaurant. • an ill-bred child — opposite WELL-BRED ill-conceived /'ɪlkən'si:vɪd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : badly planned : not showing good judgment • an ill-conceived attempt to save money ill-con-sid-ered /'ɪlkən'sɪdəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not showing careful thought : ILL-ADVISED, ILL-CONCEIVED • an ill-considered decision ill-de-fined /'ɪldɪ'faɪnd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not easy to see or understand • The property's borders are ill-defined. [=they are not clearly marked] • an ill-defined mission — opposite WELL-DEFINED ill-dis-posed /'ɪldɪ'spəʊzd/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not having a friendly or favorable feeling about someone or something — often + to or toward • She is ill-disposed to joining the organization. • Many people remain ill-disposed toward his plan. — opposite WELL-DISPOSED il-le-gal /'ɪli:gəl/ adj
1 : not allowed by the law : not legal • illegal [=illicit, unlawful] drugs • In this state, it is illegal for anyone under the age of 21 to drink alcohol. • an illegal alien/immigrant [=a foreign person who is living in a country without having official permission to live there]
2 : not allowed by the rules in a game • The team was penalized for an illegal play.
 — il-le-gal-i-ty /,ɪlɪ'gæləti/ noun, pl -ties [noncount] He claims that he was unaware of the illegality of these activities. [count] The campaign was accused of many fundraising illegalities. [=illegal activities] — il-le-gal-ly /'ɪli:gəli/ adv • She was parked illegally in a handicapped parking spot. • Her camera was illegally seized at the border. • people who are in the country illegally
il-leg-i-ble /'ɪlədʒəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not clear enough to read : not legible • illegible handwriting — il-leg-i-bil-i-ty /,ɪlədʒə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] — il-leg-i-bly /'ɪlədʒəbli/ adv • He scribbled his name illegibly on the back of the envelope.
il-le-git-i-mate /,ɪlɪ'dʒɪtəmət/ adj : not legitimate: such as a : born to a father and mother who are not married • an illegitimate child
b : not allowed according to rules or laws • They took over the government in an illegitimate [=illegal] seizure of power. • an illegitimate government c [more ~; most ~] : not reasonable or fair • She thinks that my concerns are illegitimate. • They were fired from their jobs for illegitimate reasons.
 — il-le-git-i-ma-cy /,ɪlɪ'dʒɪtəməsi/ noun [noncount] • high rates of illegitimacy and teenage pregnancy • the illegitimacy of the government — il-le-git-i-mate-ly adv
ill-fat-ed /'ɪl'fætəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : ending in disaster : very unlucky • Everyone on the ill-fated trip died. • an ill-fated decision ill-got-ten /'ɪl'gɑ:tən/ adj : obtained in a dishonest or illegal way • an ill-gotten fortune • ill-gotten gains [=money and other valuable things gotten through dishonest methods] ill-hu-mored (US) or Brit ill-hu-moured /'ɪl'hju:məd/ adj [more ~; most ~] somewhat formal : easily angered or annoyed • ill-humored old men il-lib-er-al /'ɪlɪbrəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not allowing people to think and act as they choose : not liberal • an ill-liberal attitude toward sex • illiberal policies/views il-lic-it /'ɪlɪsət/ adj
1 : not allowed by law : unlawful or illegal • illicit drugs • He was arrested for selling illicit copies of the software.
2 : involving activities that are not considered morally acceptable • She had an illicit affair with her boss. • illicit sex — il-lic-it-ly adv • The drug is sold illicitly on the streets.

ill-informed adj

1 : not having a lot of knowledge especially about current news and events • ill-informed political candidates
2 : not based on facts • an ill-informed decision/opinion — opposite WELL-INFORMED

il-lit-er-a-cy /'ɪlɪtərəsi/ noun, pl -cies

1 [noncount] : the state of not knowing how to read or write • the government's efforts to reduce illiteracy
2 [noncount] : the state of not having knowledge about particular subject • scientific illiteracy [=lack of knowledge about science] • cultural illiteracy • computer illiteracy
3 [count] : a mistake that is made in the use of language : an illiterate statement or expression • His letters contain many misspellings and illiteracies.

¹il-lit-er-ate /'ɪlɪtərət/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not knowing how to read or write • an illiterate person • She didn't want anyone to know that she was illiterate. — opposite LITERATE
2 : having or showing a lack of knowledge about a particular subject • She is politically illiterate and has never voted in an election. • He's illiterate when it comes to computers. — opposite LITERATE
3 : not grammatically correct • an illiterate expression

²illiterate noun, pl -ates [count] : a person who is illiterate •

His parents were illiterates. • a class for computer illiterates ill-judged adj [more ~; most ~] formal : showing poor judgment or thinking • He lost all his money in an ill-judged attempt to start his own company.

ill-man-nered /'ɪl'mænəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

: having or showing bad manners : rude or impolite • an ill-mannered child • an ill-mannered remark — opposite WELL-MANNERED ill-natured adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not friendly or pleasant • an ill-natured man • an ill-natured remark — opposite GOOD-NATURED ill-ness /'ɪlnəs/ noun, pl -ness-es

1 [noncount] : a condition of being unhealthy in your body or mind • Her body was not able to defend itself against illness. • Hundreds of soldiers died from illness and hunger. • He showed no signs of illness. • mental illness
2 [count] : a specific condition that prevents your body or mind from working normally : a sickness or disease • Scientists have not yet found a cure for this illness. • cancer, diabetes, and other illnesses • an acute/chronic illness • She died at the age of 60 after a brief/long illness.

il-log-i-cal /'ɪlədʒɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not showing good judgment : not thinking about things in a reasonable or sensible way : not logical • It is illogical to think that things will change on their own. • an illogical argument • You're being completely illogical.

— il-log-i-cal-ly /'ɪlədʒɪkli/ adv • They illogically decided to stay.

ill-starred /'ɪl'stɑəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] literary : very unlucky : certain to end in disaster • an ill-starred [=ill-fated] romance ill-tem-pered /'ɪl'tempəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : easily annoyed or angered : BAD-TEMPERED • We try to avoid our ill-tempered neighbor.
2 : showing that you are annoyed or angry • an ill-tempered reply ill-timed adj [more ~; most ~] : done or happening at a time that is not good or suitable • an ill-timed question • The movie's release was ill-timed. — opposite WELL-TIMED il-lu-mi-nate /'ɪlu:məneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to supply (something) with light : to shine light on (something) • Candles illuminate [=light] the church. • the part of the moon illuminated by the sun
2 : to make (something) clear and easier to understand • A university study has illuminated the problem.

— illuminating adj [more ~; most ~] • The lecture was very illuminating. • an illuminating discussion

illuminated adj

1 : lit by bright lights • an illuminated entrance
2 of an old book, document, etc. : decorated with gold or colored designs and pictures • an illuminated manuscript from the Middle Ages

il-lu-mi-na-tion /'ɪlu:mə'neɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : light that comes into a room, that shines on something, etc. • The room's only illumination [=lighting] came from a small window. • When taking photographs indoors, use a flash for illumination.

2 [noncount] formal : knowledge or understanding • They traveled to the temple in search of spiritual illumination.

3 [count] : a gold or colored decoration in an old book • an old manuscript with beautiful illuminations

4 illuminations [plural] Brit : lights used as decorations • Illuminations were hung throughout the city.

il·lu·mine /ɪˈluːmən/ verb -mines; -mined; -min-ing [+obj] literary : ILLUMINATE • streets illuminated by gaslight ill-used adj [more ~; most ~] formal : treated in a bad or unfair way • Some of the students felt ill-used. • ill-used factory workers

il·lu·sion /ɪˈluːʒən/ noun, pl -sions [count]

1 : something that looks or seems different from what it is : something that is false or not real but that seems to be true or real • The video game is designed to give the illusion that you are in control of an airplane. • They used paint to create the illusion of metal. • She says that all progress is just an illusion. — see also OPTICAL ILLUSION

2 : an incorrect idea : an idea that is based on something that is not true • She had/harbored no illusions about how much work the project would require. [=she knew the project would require a lot of work] • He was under the illusion [=he mistakenly believed] that he was a good player.

Do not confuse illusion with allusion.

il·lu·sion·ist /ɪˈluːʒənɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : an entertainer who performs magic tricks : MAGICIAN

il·lu·so·ry /ɪˈluːsəri/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : based on something that is not true or real : based on an illusion • an illusory hope • an illusory sense of security

il·lus·trate /ɪˈləˌstreɪt/ verb -trates; -trat-ed; -trat-ing [+obj]

1 : to give examples in order to make (something) easier to understand • He illustrated his lecture with stories of his own experiences in the field. • Please give a few examples to illustrate your point.

2 : to be proof or evidence of (something) • These recent events illustrate [=show, demonstrate] the need for change in the country. • The results illustrate how important it is to wear your seatbelt.

3 : to explain or decorate a story, book, etc., with pictures • The students will write and illustrate their own stories. — often used as (be) illustrated • The book is illustrated with many diagrams and charts.

— il·lus·tra·tor /ɪˈləˌstreɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • an illustrator of children's books

il·lus·tra·tion /ɪˈləˌstreɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a picture or drawing in a book, magazine, etc. • The illustration on page 30 shows the parts of an engine. • a book with many photographs and illustrations

2 [count] : an example or story that is used to make something easier to understand • The illustrations that he provided in his speech were very effective.

3 [noncount] : the act or process of illustrating something: such as a : the act or process of producing or providing pictures for a book, magazine, etc. • They selected photographs to use for the illustration of the book. b : the act or process of giving examples to make something easier to understand • Illustration is the key to good communication. • By way of illustration, [=as an example] let us examine this poem.

il·lus·tra·tive /ɪˈlɑːstrətɪv, Brit ˈɪləstrətɪv/ adj, formal

1 : used to illustrate or explain something • illustrative examples/stories

2 : serving as an example of something • Her struggle is illustrative of [=is a good example of] the difficulties facing women in her culture.

il·lus·tri·ous /ɪˈlɑːstrijəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : admired and respected very much because a lot was achieved • He has had an illustrious military career. • the company's illustrious history/past ill will noun [noncount] : an unfriendly feeling : a feeling of hatred or dislike • We bear/feel/harbor/have/hold no ill will toward each other.

im- see IN-

I'm /ˈaɪm/ — used as a contraction of I am • I'm happy to meet you.

im·age /ˈɪmɪdʒ/ noun, pl -ages

1 [count] : a picture that is produced by a camera, artist, mirror, etc. • She studied her image in the mirror. • The kids sat staring at the images on the TV screen. • painters capturing images of war • black-and-white images of the city — see also MIRROR IMAGE

2 [count] : a mental picture : the thought of how something looks or might look • I can't get the image (of the accident) out of my mind. • When you told the story I got this image (in my mind) of you as a child. • His poem evokes images of the sea and warm summer days.

3 : the idea that people have about someone or something [count] She is worried about what motherhood will do to her image [=reputation] as a rock star. • He is trying hard to improve/protect his image. • The law suit has negatively affected the company's public image. • a tarnished corporate image [noncount] a politician who cares more about image than about telling the truth

4 [singular] a : the form or appearance of someone or something • "... God created man in his own image ..." —Genesis 1:27 (KJV) b : someone who looks very much like another person • He's the (very/living) image of his father. [=he looks like his father] — see also SPITTING IMAGE c : someone who looks very much like a certain kind of person • She was the (very) image of a successful businesswoman.

5 [count] : an interesting or memorable way of showing or describing something in a book, movie, etc. • The book contains many striking/startling images.

6 [count] : a statue or picture that is made to look like a person or thing • Her image still hangs on their living room wall. • images carved in stone • religious images — see also GRAVEN IMAGE

im·ag·ery /ˈɪmɪdʒəri/ noun [noncount]

1 technical : pictures or photographs • They used satellite imagery [=pictures taken from satellites] to see the ice caps.

2 a : language that causes people to imagine pictures in their mind • The book contains a great deal of sexual imagery. b : pictures of people or things in a work of art • The movie was full of biblical/religious imagery. • visual imagery

imag·in·able /ɪˈmædʒənəbəl/ adj : possible for people to imagine • Computers now allow us to do things that were hardly imaginable only a few years ago. • The store has fruits of every kind imaginable. • We tried every imaginable therapy. — often used to give emphasis • We had the worst imaginable weather. = We had the worst weather imaginable. — opposite UNIMAGINABLE

imag·i·nary /ɪˈmædʒənəri, Brit ɪˈmædʒənri/ adj : not real : existing only in your mind or imagination • The two groups were separated by an imaginary line down the middle of the room. • an imaginary world of dragons and unicorns • a child's imaginary friend

imag·i·na·tion /ɪˈmædʒəˈneɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 a : the ability to imagine things that are not real : the ability to form a picture in your mind of something that you have not seen or experienced [noncount] You can find a solution if you use a little imagination. • His plans to build a new stadium are the product of pure imagination. [=they are not based on reality; they are not likely to happen] [count] children with vivid/fertile/overactive imaginations • The author does not tell us what happens to the characters. We have to use our imagination. • He insists that these dangers are real and not just a figment of his imagination. [=something that he has imagined] b [noncount] : the ability to think of new things • Her painting shows a great deal of imagination. [=creativity] • He's a competent writer, but he lacks imagination. • He has no imagination.

2 [noncount] : something that only exists or happens in your mind • Is it just my imagination, or is it getting warm in here? by any/no stretch of the imagination see ²STRETCH capture/catch someone's imagination : to make someone very interested or excited • Her books have captured the imaginations of children from around the world. • The story caught the public imagination. [=the public became very interested in the story] leave (something) to the imagination : to not show or describe all of the parts or details of (something) • Try to leave something to the imagination. • The movie's sex scenes leave nothing to the imagination. [=they show everything] • His explicit description of the crime scene left little to the imagination.

imag·i·na·tive /ɪˈmædʒənətɪv/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : having or showing an ability to think of new and interesting ideas : having or showing imagination • an imaginative [=creative] filmmaker • She wrote an imaginative story about life on the planet Venus. • The restaurant's menu is quite imaginative. • imaginative thinking/writing 2 always used before a noun : of or relating to imagination • a child's imaginative life

— imag-i-na-tive-ly adv • an imaginatively designed menu

imag·ine /ɪ'mædʒən/ verb -ines; -ined; -in-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to think of or create (something that is not real) in your mind • a writer who has imagined an entire world of amazing creatures b : to form a picture or idea in your mind of (something that is not real or present) • He asked us to imagine a world without poverty or war. • It's hard for me to imagine having children. — often + that • Imagine that you are relaxing on the beach. — often + what, why, etc. • It's hard to imagine what it would be like to be so wealthy. • I'm sure you can imagine how I felt. • I can't imagine why she would be so late. [=I do not understand why she is so late] • "Why is she so late?" "I can't imagine." — sometimes used in phrases that express surprise • Can you imagine! A person like him being elected mayor! [=it is surprising or ridiculous to think of a person like him being elected mayor] • Just imagine what such a change would mean! • "This tree is more than 300 years old." "Imagine that." [=isn't that remarkable]

2 : to have or form (an idea or opinion that is not accurate or based on reality) • She imagines that she is very charming. = She imagines herself to be very charming. [=she thinks that she is charming but actually she is not charming] • He was imagining all sorts of terrible things happening. • "What was that sound? I think there's someone in the house!" "Oh, you're just imagining things."

3 : to think or believe (something) • I imagine it will snow at some point today. • It's difficult to imagine that these changes will really be effective. • The company will do better next year, I imagine. • It was worse than they had imagined.

im·ag·ing /ɪ'mædʒɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the process of creating and showing images on a computer • digital imaging technology • the imaging of a human heart — see also MAGNETIC RESONANCE IMAGING imag-in-ings /ɪ'mædʒənɪŋz/ noun [plural] : ideas, stories, etc. that are thought of in your mind but that are not true or real • He has achieved a level of success beyond his wildest imaginings.

imam /ɪ'mɑ:m/ noun, pl imams [count] : a Muslim religious leader im·bal·ance /ɪm'bæləns/ noun, pl -anc-es [count] : a state or condition in which different things do not occur in equal or proper amounts • There is an imbalance between his work life and family life. [=he needs to spend less time at work and more time with his family] • Her depression is caused by a chemical imbalance in the brain. • the problem of racial imbalance in schools im·be·cile /ɪmbəsəl, Brit 'ɪmbə,sɪ:l/ noun, pl -ciles [count] : a very stupid person : an idiot or fool • He drank too much and started acting like a complete imbecile.

— imbecile or im·be·cil·ic /ɪmbə'sɪlɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • imbecilic behavior — im·be·cil·i·ty /ɪmbə'sɪləti/ noun, pl -ties [noncount] the imbecility of his behavior [count] He was repeating all his usual imbecilities about politics.

imbed variant spelling of EMBED im·bibe /ɪm'baɪb/ verb -bibes; -bibed; -bib-ing formal + often humorous

1 [+ obj] : to drink (something) • She imbibed vast quantities of coffee.

2 [no obj] : to drink alcohol • She never imbibes but isn't offended when others do.

im·bro·glio /ɪm'broul,jou/ noun, pl -glios [count] formal : a complex dispute or argument • a political/legal imbroglio

im·bue /ɪm'bju:/ verb -bues; -bued; -bu-ing [+ obj] : to cause (someone or something) to be deeply affected by a feeling or to have a certain quality • A feeling of optimism imbues her works. • His war experiences imbued in him [=caused him to feel] a strong sense of patriotism. — usually + with • His war experiences imbued him with a strong sense of patriotism. — often used as (be) imbued • He was imbued with a strong sense of patriotism. [=he felt very patriotic]

IMHO abbr in my humble opinion — used in e-mail, chat-rooms, etc., to indicate that what is being said is just an opinion

im·i·tate /ɪ'mə,tet/ verb -tates; -tat-ed; -tat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to make or do something the same way as (something else) • Their competitors soon imitated [=copied] the idea. • Her style has been imitated by many other writers.

2 a : to do the same thing as (someone) • She's always imitating [=copying] her older sister. b : to copy (someone's or something's behavior, sound, appearance, etc.) • He's very good at imitating his father's voice. • She can imitate the calls of many different birds.

— im·i·ta·tor /ɪ'mə,tetə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • His style of directing has spawned/inspired a number of imitators.

1im·i·ta·tion /ɪ'mə'teɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : the act of copying or imitating someone or something [noncount] Children learn by imitation of adults. • The restaurant was designed in imitation of a Japanese temple. [count] He did a hilarious imitation of his father.

2 [count] : something that is made or produced as a copy • The real diamonds are in a museum. These are just imitations. • a cheap/poor imitation • The remake of the movie was a pale imitation [=an inferior version] of the original.

2imitation adj, always used before a noun : made to look like something that is valuable : not genuine • imitation pearls • imitation leather im·i·ta·tive /ɪ'mə,tetɪv, Brit 'ɪmətətɪv/ adj, formal : made or done to be like something or someone else • imitative behavior • The architecture is imitative of a Japanese temple.

im·mac·u·late /ɪ'mækjələt/ adj

1 : perfectly clean • The house was always immaculate. [=spotless]

2 : having no flaw or error : PERFECT • She had an immaculate record of service.

— im·mac·u·late·ly adv • an immaculately dressed man

im·ma·te·ri·al /ɪ'mə'tɪrɪəl/ adj : not important or significant • Whether or not he intended to cause problems is immaterial. • The fact that she is a woman is immaterial and irrelevant. — often used in legal contexts • The judge did not admit the evidence on the grounds that it was immaterial. — opposite ²MATERIAL ²

im·ma·ture /ɪmə'tuə, ɪmə'tʃə/ adj : not mature: such as a : not fully developed or grown • The flock included both adult and immature birds. • The fruit was still immature. [=unripe] b [more ~; most ~] : acting in a childish way : having or showing a lack of emotional maturity • emotionally immature adults • His teachers have complained about his immature behavior.

— im·ma·tu·ri·ty /ɪmə'turəti, ɪmə'tʃərəti/ noun [noncount] • His tantrums are a sign of immaturity.

im·mea·sur·able /ɪ'mɛzərəbəl/ adj, formal : very great in size or amount : impossible to measure • The war has caused immeasurable damage. • The new medicine has brought about an immeasurable improvement in her life.

— im·mea·sur·ably /ɪ'mɛzərəbli/ adv • Her life has improved immeasurably.

im·me·di·a·cy /ɪ'mɪ:dɪəsi/ noun : the quality that makes something seem important or interesting because it is or seems to be happening now [noncount] Television coverage gave the war greater immediacy than it had ever before had. [singular] There is an immediacy to watching a live performance that you cannot get from hearing a recording.

im·me·di·ate /ɪ'mɪ:dɪət/ adj

1 a : happening or done without delay • This requires your immediate attention. • The new restaurant was an immediate success. • This crisis calls for immediate action. • The response to the crisis was immediate. b : happening or existing now • The wildfire poses no immediate threat to any houses in the area. • The danger is not immediate. c always used before a noun [more ~; most ~] : important now • Our (most) immediate concern is to provide aid to the victims.

2 always used before a noun a : close to a particular place • They have evacuated everyone in the immediate area/vicinity of the wildfire. • outside the immediate neighborhood/surroundings b : close to a particular time or event • Many people suffered in the war's immediate aftermath. • The effect of the new policy will be unknown for the immediate future.

3 always used before a noun : having no other person or thing in between • Turn right onto Main Street and then take your immediate left. [=quickly turn onto the next street on your left] • He was sitting to my immediate right. • The company president will choose her immediate successor. • She was my immediate predecessor • He referred me to his immediate superior. • Hospital visits are limited to immediate family. [=a person's parents, brothers and sisters, husband or wife, and children]

4 always used before a noun : coming straight from a cause or reason • The immediate [=direct] cause of death was pneumonia. • There is an immediate connection between the two events.

¹im-me-di-ate-ly /ɪ'mi:dijətli/ adv

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition : with no person or thing in between • They live in the house immediately [=directly] behind this one. • the person immediately to my left • Dinner was served immediately after the ceremony.

2 : without any delay • We need to leave immediately. [=at once, right away] • The new law will become effective immediately. • The cause of the problem was not immediately clear. [=is was not known right away]

²immediately conj, Brit, formal : immediately after : as soon as • Immediately you fill out this form, we can start processing your request.

im-me-mo-ri-al /,ɪmə'morijəl/ adj, formal + literary : very old or ancient : from a time so long ago that it cannot be remembered • the immemorial roots of human spirituality • People have been creating art since time immemorial. [=a very long time ago] • stories passed down from time immemorial

— im-me-mo-ri-al-ly /,ɪmə'morijəli/ adv • an immemorially ancient custom im-mense /ɪ'mens/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very great in size or amount • He inherited an immense fortune. • immense power/wealth • Her movies continue to enjoy immense [=enormous, tremendous] popularity. • She is an artist of immense talent.

— im-mense-ly adv • immensely popular/successful/wealthy • We enjoyed ourselves immensely. [=very much] im-men-si-ty /ɪ'mensəti/ noun [noncount] : extremely great size • the immensity of the universe/ocean • She couldn't understand the immensity of their problem.

im-merse /ɪ'məs/ verb -mers-es; -mersed; -mers-ing [+ obj]

1 : to put (something) in a liquid so that all parts are completely covered • Immerse the fabric completely in the dye.

2 : to make (yourself) fully involved in some activity or interest • She had immersed herself in writing short stories. • He immersed himself in the culture of the island. — often used as (be) immersed • He became completely/totally immersed in their culture. • She was immersed in her work.

im-mer-sion /ɪ'məʒən/ noun [noncount]

1 : the act of putting someone or something completely in a liquid or the state of being completely in a liquid • immersion in hot water

2 a : complete involvement in some activity or interest • We were surprised by his complete immersion in the culture of the island. b : a method of learning a foreign language by being taught entirely in that language • He learned French through immersion. • I'm taking an immersion course in German.

im-mi-grant /'ɪməgrənt/ noun, pl -grants [count] : a person who comes to a country to live there • Millions of immigrants came to America from Europe in the 19th century. • The city has a large immigrant population. • an illegal immigrant [=a person who enters and lives in a country without official permission] — compare EMIGRANT, MIGRANT im-mi-grate /'ɪməgreɪt/ verb -grates; -grat-ed; -grat-ing [no obj] : to come to a country to live there — often + to • My grandparents immigrated to America. — sometimes + from • My grandparents immigrated from Hungary. — compare EMIGRATE, MIGRATE

— im-mi-gra-tion /,ɪmə'greɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • waves of immigration from eastern Europe • immigration policies

im-mi-nent /'ɪmənənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : happening very soon • We are awaiting their imminent arrival. • Their arrival is imminent. • These patients are facing imminent death. • The species is in imminent danger of extinction. [=the species is very close to becoming extinct]

Do not confuse imminent with eminent.

— im-mi-nence /'ɪmənəns/ noun [noncount] • the imminence of danger — im-mi-nent-ly adv

im-mo-bile /ɪ'məʊbəl, ɪ'mou,bajəl/ adj

1 : unable to move • The tranquilizer made the animal immobile. • The accident left her immobile.

2 : not moving • The guard stood immobile [=motionless] by the gate.

— im-mo-bil-i-ty /,ɪmou'biləti/ noun [noncount] • physical immobility im-mo-bi-lize also Brit im-mo-bi-lise /ɪ'məʊbə,laɪz/ verb -liz-es; -lized; -liz-ing [+ obj] : to keep (something or someone) from moving or working : to make (something or someone) immobile • Doctors immobilized her wrist by putting it in a cast. • I was immobilized by fear/uncertainty.

— im-mo-bi-li-za-tion also Brit im-mo-bi-li-sa-tion /ɪ,məʊbələ'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] — im-mo-bi-liz-er also Brit im-mo-bi-lis-er /ɪ'məʊbə,laɪzə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • The car comes with an (engine) immobilizer. [=a device that prevents the engine from being started without a key] im-mod-er-ate /ɪ'mɑ:dərət/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : going beyond reasonable limits : not moderate • He talked to us about the dangers of immoderate [=excessive] drinking.

— im-mod-er-ate-ly adv • He drinks immoderately.

im-mod-est /ɪ'mɑ:dəst/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not modest: such as a : having or showing a high or too high opinion of yourself or your worth • Although it might sound immodest of me to say so, I am very proud of what we have accomplished. b of clothing : showing a lot of your body in a way that is considered improper • She wore a rather immodest [=revealing] dress to the party.

— im-mod-est-ly adv • He immodestly named the company after himself. • She was dressed immodestly. — im-mod-es-ty /ɪ'mɑ:dəsti/ noun [noncount]

im-mo-late /'ɪmə,leɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing [+ obj] formal : to kill or destroy (someone or something) by fire • a man who immolated himself as an act of protest

— im-mo-la-tion /,ɪmə'leɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

im-mor-al /ɪ'morəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not morally good or right : morally evil or wrong • Don't condemn her: there was nothing immoral about what she did. • It was immoral of her to tell lies like that. • immoral behavior/acts — compare AMORAL, MORAL

— im-mo-ral-i-ty /,ɪ,məʊ'æləti/ noun [noncount] • sexual immorality • the immorality of their behavior — im-mor-al-ly /ɪ'morəli/ adv

¹im-mor-tal /ɪ'moʊtəl/ adj

1 : not capable of dying : living forever • the immortal soul • immortal gods — opposite MORTAL

2 — used to say that something will last or be remembered forever • immortal [=everlasting] fame • his immortal [=timeless] melodies

²immortal noun, pl -tals [count]

1 : an immortal being (such as a god or goddess) — compare MORTAL

2 : a famous person who will never be forgotten • baseball immortals

im-mor-tal-i-ty /,ɪ,məʊ'tæləti/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of someone or something that will never die or be forgotten : the quality or state of being immortal • She believed in the immortality of the soul. • He found/achieved immortality through his films. — opposite MORTALITY im-mor-tal-ize also Brit im-mor-tal-ise /ɪ'məʊtə,laɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj] : to cause (someone or something) to be remembered forever • The battle was immortalized in a famous poem. • The explorers were immortalized when the mountains were named after them.

im-mov-able /ɪ'mu:vəbəl/ adj

1 : not able to be moved : firmly fixed in place • an immovable object — opposite MOVABLE

2 : not able to be changed or persuaded • He has remained immovable [=steadfast] in his opposition to the proposed law.

im-mune /ɪ'mju:n/ adj

1 not used before a noun a : not capable of being affected by a disease — usually + to • Most people are immune to the disease. b : not influenced or affected by something — + to • They are immune to persuasion/criticism. • She is immune to the power of advertising.

2 not used before a noun : having special protection from something that is required for most people by law • The court ruled that he was immune from prosecution [=that he could not be prosecuted] because of his diplomatic status. • immune [=exempt] from punishment

3 always used before a noun : of or relating to the body's immune system • immune cells • an immune response/reaction immune system noun, pl ~ -tems [count] : the system that protects your body from diseases and infections • a strong/healthy immune system

im-mu-ni-ty /ɪ'mju:nəti/ noun

1 medical : the power to keep yourself from being affected by a disease — usually + to [noncount] They have developed immunity to the virus. [singular] They have developed an immunity to the virus.

2 [noncount] : special protection from what is required for most people by law — usually + from • He was granted immunity from prosecution. — see also DIPLOMATIC IMMUNITY im-mu-nize also Brit im-mu-nise /'ɪmjənaɪz/ verb -nizes; -nized; -nizing [+ obj] : to give (someone) a vaccine to prevent infection by a disease • Many people had to be immunized after being exposed to the disease. — often + against • All the children have been immunized against polio. — im-mu-ni-za-tion also Brit im-mu-ni-sa-tion /'ɪmjənə'zeɪʃən, Brit 'ɪmjənaɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

im-mu-no-de-fi-cien-cy /'ɪmjənaʊdrɪ'fɪʃənsi/ noun, pl -cies [count] medical : a condition in which your body cannot produce enough of the substances or cells that it would normally produce to fight infection

im-mu-nol-o-gy /'ɪmjə'nɒ:lədʒi/ noun [noncount] : a science that deals with the ways in which the body protects itself from diseases and infections

im-mu-ta-ble /'ɪmjʊ:təbəl/ adj, formal : unable to be changed • the immutable laws of nature • immutable opposition

— im-mu-ta-bil-i-ty /'ɪmjʊ:tə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] — im-mu-ta-bly /'ɪmjʊ:təbli/ adv • She was not immutablely opposed to the plan.

imp /'ɪmp/ noun, pl imps [count]

1 : a small creature that plays harmful tricks in children's stories

2 : a child who causes trouble in a playful way : a mischievous child • a lovable imp — see also IMPISH

¹im-pact /'ɪm,pækt/ noun, pl -pacts

1 : the act or force of one thing hitting another [count] No one could have survived such an impact. [noncount] The bomb exploded on/upon impact (with the ground). [=when it hit the ground]

2 [count] : a powerful or major influence or effect • These warnings have been heard so often that they have lost their impact. • The book had a huge impact when it first came out. • We need to be concerned about the environmental impacts of all this construction. • She expects to make an immediate impact at work. — often + on • The stress of her job is having a negative impact on her health. [=is harming her health] • We hope that these programs will have a positive impact on the community. [=will help the community]

²im-pact /'ɪm,pækt/ verb -pacts; -pact-ed; -pact-ing

1 : to have a strong and often bad effect on (something or someone) : AFFECT [+ obj] No one is sure how these changes will impact our relations with other countries. • Both events negatively impacted her life. • The tax increase will impact low-income families the most. [no obj] The poor economy is impacting on/upon small businesses.

2 [+ obj] formal : to hit (something) with great force • A crater was formed at the point where the meteor impacted the planet's surface.

im-pact-ed /'ɪm,pæktəd/ adj, of a tooth : growing under another tooth • impacted wisdom teeth

im-pair /'ɪm'peə/ verb -pairs; -paired; -pair-ing [+ obj] : to make (something) weaker or worse • Smoking can impair your health. • Drinking impairs a person's ability to think clearly. • His memory was so impaired by age that he often forgot where he was. synonyms see INJURE

— im-paired /'ɪm'peəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] • The disease causes impaired vision/hearing in elderly people. — sometimes used in combination • hearing-impaired people [=people with impaired hearing]

im-pair-ment /'ɪm'peəmənt/ noun, pl -ments : a condition in which a part of your body or mind is damaged and does not work well [count] a hearing/memory/visual impairment [noncount] The loud noise caused impairment of her hearing.

im-pa-la /'ɪm'pɑ:lə/ noun, pl im-pa-las or impala [count] : a large brownish African animal im-pale /'ɪm'peɪl/ verb -pales; -paled; -pal-ing [+ obj] : to cause a pointed object to go into or through (someone or something) — often + on • He slipped and impaled his leg on a metal spike. — usually used as (be) impaled • The matador was impaled by the bull's horns. = The matador was impaled on the bull's horns.

im-pan-el or em-pan-el /'ɪm'pæn/ verb -els; US -eled or Brit -elled; US -el-ing or Brit -el-ling [+ obj] law : to choose people to serve on a jury • impanel jurors = impanel a jury im-part /'ɪm'pɑ:t/ verb -parts; -part-ed; -part-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to give (something, such as a quality) to a thing • Her presence imparted a sense of importance to the meeting. • The oil imparts a distinctive flavor to the sauce. • The chemicals imparted a bluish color to the paper.

2 : to make (something) known to someone • He has clever ways of imparting [=conveying, communicating] knowledge to his students.

im-par-tial /'ɪm'pɑ:ʃəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : treating all people and groups equally : not partial or biased • an impartial analysis of the case • an impartial judge/jury/observer

— im-par-tial-i-ty /'ɪm,pɑ:ʃi'æləti/ noun [noncount] — im-par-tial-ly /'ɪm'pɑ:ʃəli/ adv

im-pass-able /'ɪm'pæsəbəl/ adj : impossible to pass, cross, or travel over • The roads were made impassable by the flood/snow.

im-passe /'ɪm,pæs, Brit æm'pɑ:s/ noun, pl -pass-es [count] : a situation in which no progress seems possible • Negotiations are at an impasse. = Negotiations have reached/hit an impasse. • An arbitrator was called in to break the impasse. • She had reached an impasse in her career.

im-pas-sioned /'ɪm'pæʃənd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : showing or feeling very strong emotions • Her lawyer made an impassioned argument in her defense. • an impassioned speech/plea • impassioned [=passionate] animal-rights activists im-pas-sive /'ɪm'pæsɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not showing emotion • an impassive observer • Her face/expression remained impassive throughout the trial.

— im-pas-sive-ly adv • She sat impassively throughout the trial. — im-pas-siv-i-ty /'ɪm,pæ'sɪvəti/ noun [noncount]

im-pa-tient /'ɪm'peɪʃənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 a : not willing to wait for something or someone : not patient • After months of delays, customers are becoming/growing impatient. • Customers have grown impatient with/at the repeated delays. • “Aren't you ready yet?” “Don't be so impatient. There's no need to hurry.” — often + for • He was impatient for the departure of his flight. • She was becoming more impatient for the opportunity to begin working. b : wanting or eager to do something without waiting • She was impatient to leave.

2 : showing that you do not want to wait : showing a lack of patience • an impatient answer/gesture/look

— im-pa-tience /'ɪm'peɪʃəns/ noun [noncount] • He sighed with impatience. • Her impatience with/at the many delays was obvious. • Her impatience to leave was obvious. — im-pa-tient-ly adv • Customers are waiting impatiently for the delays to end.

im-peach /'ɪm'pi:tʃ/ verb -peach-es; -peached; -peach-ing [+ obj] law

1 : to charge (a public official) with a crime done while in office • Congress will vote on whether or not to impeach the President. • impeach a judge

2 formal : to cause doubts about the truthfulness of (a witness, testimony, etc.) • The defense lawyers tried to impeach the witness's testimony by forcing him to admit that he had changed his story.

— im-peach-able /'ɪm'pi:tʃəbəl/ adj • an impeachable offense/crime — im-peach-ment /'ɪm'pi:tʃmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount]

im-pec-ca-ble /'ɪm'pekəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : free from fault or error • The craftsmanship is impeccable. [=flawless] • He speaks impeccable [=perfect] English. • She has impeccable taste in music. • His manners are impeccable.

— im-pec-ca-bly /'ɪm'pekəbli/ adv • He behaved impeccably. • She was impeccably dressed.

im-pe-cu-nious /'ɪmprɪ'kju:nɪəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : having little or no money : POOR • an impecunious student im-pede /'ɪm'pi:d/ verb -pedes; -ped-ed; -ped-ing [+ obj] : to slow the movement, progress, or action of (someone or something) • He claims that economic growth is being impeded by government regulations. • They were accused of impeding [=blocking, hindering] the administration of justice. • The soldiers could not impede the enemy's advance.

im-ped-i-ment /'ɪm'pedəmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count]

1 : something that makes it difficult to do or complete something : something that interferes with movement or progress — often + to • There were no legal impediments to the deal.

2 : a condition that makes it difficult to speak normally • a speech impediment im-pel /'ɪm'pel/ verb -pels; -pelled; -pel-ling [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to feel a strong need or desire to do something • They were impelled [=driven] by their sense of adventure. • His interest in the American Civil War impelled him to make repeated visits to Gettysburg. • She felt impelled to give a speech after the performance.

im-pend-ing /ɪm'pendɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun : happening or likely to happen soon • She's worried about an impending business trip. • We need to prepare for their impending arrival.

im-pen-e-tra-ble /ɪm'penətrəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : impossible to pass or see through • an impenetrable wall/barrier/jungle • The fort's defenses were thought to be impenetrable. • impenetrable darkness/fog

2 : impossible to understand • an impenetrable mystery • an impenetrable secret code

— im-pen-e-tra-bil-i-ty /ɪm,pənətrə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

— im-pen-e-tra-bly /ɪm'penətrəbli/ adv • an impenetrably complex mystery • an impenetrably thick wall

im-per-a-tive /ɪm'perətɪv/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] formal : very important • an imperative duty • It is imperative that the public be informed about these dangers. = It is imperative to inform the public about these dangers.

2 grammar : having the form that expresses a command rather than a statement or a question • “Eat your spinach!” is an imperative sentence. • “Help” in the sentence “Help me!” is an imperative verb. • a verb in the imperative mood — compare DECLARATIVE, INDICATIVE, INTERROGATIVE, SUBJUNCTIVE

3 formal : expressing a command in a forceful and confident way • People resented his imperative tone of voice.

imperative noun, pl -tives

1 [count] formal : a command, rule, duty, etc., that is very important or necessary • She considers it a moral imperative to help people in need. • legal imperatives

2 grammar a the imperative : the form that a verb or sentence has when it is expressing a command • “Eat your spinach!” is in the imperative. b [count] : an imperative verb or sentence • “Go” and “buy” are imperatives in the sentence “Please go to the store and buy some milk.”

im-per-cep-ti-ble /ɪmpə'septəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

: impossible to see or notice • imperceptible changes/differences • an almost imperceptible smile/breeze • These changes will be imperceptible to most people.

— im-per-cep-ti-bly /ɪmpə'septəbli/ adv

im-per-fect /ɪm'pæfɪkt/ adj

1 : having mistakes or problems : not perfect • an imperfect society • It's an imperfect solution to a difficult problem. • He had an imperfect understanding of the task. • imperfect [=defective] clothing

2 grammar : of or relating to a verb tense used to express an incomplete action in the past or a state that continued for a period of time in the past • In “He was singing when I came in,” “was singing” is in the imperfect tense.

— im-per-fect-ly adv • an imperfectly patched hole imperfect noun

the imperfect grammar : the imperfect tense of a verb • a verb in the imperfect

im-per-fec-tion /ɪmpə'fɛkʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a small flaw or bad part • He detected several imperfections in the surface of the jewel. • She tried to hide the imperfection in the cloth. • skin imperfections [=blemishes]

2 [noncount] : the state of being imperfect : lack of perfection • human imperfection

im-pe-ri-al /ɪm'pɪrɪəl/ adj, always used before a noun : of or relating to an empire or an emperor • the Roman imperial age • a member of the imperial family/army • imperial power • the imperial palace

im-pe-ri-al-ism /ɪm'pɪrɪəlɪzəm/ noun [noncount]

1 : a policy or practice by which a country increases its power by gaining control over other areas of the world • British imperialism created the enormous British Empire.

2 : the effect that a powerful country or group of countries has in changing or influencing the way people live in other, poorer countries • Western imperialism • economic/cultural imperialism

im-pe-ri-al-ist /ɪm'pɪrɪəlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who practices or supports imperialism

— imperialist adj • imperialist power/expansion — im-pe-ri-al-is-tic /ɪm,pɪrɪəlɪstɪk/ adj • imperialistic aims/goals

im-per-il /ɪm'perəl/ verb -ils; US -iled or Brit -illed; US -il-

ing or Brit -il-ling [+ obj] formal : to put (something or someone) in a dangerous situation : ENDANGER • The toxic fumes imperiled the lives of the trapped miners. • The financial health of the company was imperiled by a string of bad investments. • a list of imperiled species

im-pe-ri-ous /ɪm'pɪrɪəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : having or showing the proud and unpleasant attitude of someone who gives orders and expects other people to obey them • an imperious manner/tone/gesture • imperious bureaucrats — im-pe-ri-ous-ly adv — im-pe-ri-ous-ness noun [noncount]

im-per-ish-able /ɪm'perɪʃəbəl/ adj, formal : never to be forgotten : lasting forever • imperishable fame • an imperishable masterpiece

im-per-ma-nent /ɪm'pəmənənt/ adj, formal : not lasting forever : not permanent • an impermanent [=temporary] solution • impermanent materials

— im-per-ma-nence /ɪm'pəmənəns/ noun [noncount]

im-per-me-able /ɪm'pəmiʃəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] technical : not allowing something (such as a liquid) to pass through • an impermeable layer of rock • a fabric impermeable to moisture

— im-per-me-abil-i-ty /ɪm,pəmiʃə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

im-per-mis-si-ble /ɪm,pə'mɪsəbəl/ adj, formal : not allowed or permitted : not permissible • Such behavior is impermissible under the new guidelines. • an impermissible breach of etiquette

— im-per-mis-si-bly /ɪm,pə'mɪsəbli/ adv

im-per-son-al /ɪm'pəsənəl/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] a : having or showing no interest in individual people or their feelings : lacking emotional warmth • cold, impersonal cities • a giant impersonal corporation b : not relating to or influenced by personal feelings • We discussed the weather and other impersonal topics. • He maintained an impersonal, professional attitude.

2 grammar : having no specified subject or no subject other than “it” • “Rained” in “it rained” is an impersonal verb. • an impersonal sentence/construction

— im-per-son-al-ly /ɪm'pəsənəli/ adv • They were treated impersonally.

im-per-son-ate /ɪm'pəsə,neɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] : to pretend to be (another person) • He was arrested for impersonating a police officer. • a comedian with a talent for impersonating famous politicians and actors

— im-per-son-a-tion /ɪm,pəsə'neɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] He does a great impersonation of the President. [noncount] He was arrested for impersonation of a police officer.

im-per-son-a-tor /ɪm'pəsə,neɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count] : a person who pretends to be someone else; especially : a person who entertains people by pretending to be another person • an Elvis impersonator [=an entertainer who pretends to be Elvis Presley] • a female impersonator [=a male entertainer who plays the role of a woman]

im-per-ti-nent /ɪm'pɛtɪnənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : rude and showing a lack of respect • She asked a few impertinent questions. • an impertinent young woman

— im-per-ti-nence /ɪm'pɛtɪnəns/ noun [noncount] • I was shocked by the impertinence of her questions. — im-per-ti-nent-ly adv

im-per-turb-able /ɪmpə'təbəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : very calm : very hard to disturb or upset • Although he seems outwardly imperturbable, he can get very angry at times. • an imperturbable demeanor/disposition

— im-per-turb-abil-i-ty /ɪmpə,təbə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] — im-per-turb-ably /ɪmpə'təbəbli/ adv • He sat there imperturbably as they insulted him.

im-per-vi-ous /ɪm'pɛvɪəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 technical : not allowing something (such as water or light) to enter or pass through — usually + to • a substance impervious to light • a coat impervious to rain

2 formal : not bothered or affected by something — usually + to • He seems impervious to criticism.

— im-per-vi-ous-ness noun [noncount]

im-pet-u-ous /ɪm'pɛtʃəwəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : acting or done quickly and without thought : controlled by emotion rather than thought : IMPULSIVE • He's always been an impetuous young man. • an impetuous decision

— im-pet-u-os-i-ty /ɪm,pɛtʃə'wɑ:səti/ noun [noncount]

— im-pet-u-ous-ly adv — im-pet-u-ous-ness noun [noncount]

im-pe-tus /ɪmpətəs/ noun

1 : a force that causes something (such as a process or activity) to be done or to become more active [noncount] His discoveries have given impetus to further research. • The movement is now gaining/losing impetus. [=momentum] [singular] Her work provided the major impetus [=stimulus] behind the movement. — often + for • The tragic accident became an impetus for changing the safety regulations. — sometimes followed by to + verb • His discoveries have given researchers the impetus to try something new.

2 [noncount] technical : a force that causes an object to begin moving or to continue to move im-pi-ety /ɪm'pajəti/ noun [noncount] formal : lack of respect for God : the quality or state of being impious • accusations of impiety

im-pinge /ɪm'pɪŋdʒ/ verb -ping-es; -pinged; -ping-ing impinge on/upon [phrasal verb] impinge on/upon (something) formal : to affect (something) in a way that is unwanted : to have a bad effect on (something) • His lawyers argued that the publicity will impinge on the defendant's right to a fair trial. • Her work is impinging on [=encroaching on, hindering] her social life. • The government wants to avoid impinging upon the affairs of private citizens.

im-pi-ous /'ɪmpijəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : feeling or showing a lack of respect for God : not pious • impious books • He was fearful of seeming impious.

imp-ish /'ɪmpɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing a playful desire to cause trouble : playful and mischievous • an impish grin/smile • an impish face/look

— imp-ish-ly adv • grinning impishly — imp-ish-ness noun [noncount] • his youthful impishness

im-pla-ca-ble /ɪm'plækəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : opposed to someone or something in a very angry or determined way that cannot be changed • He has an implacable hatred for his political opponents. • an implacable [=unyielding] opponent

— im-pla-ca-bly /ɪm'plækəbli/ adv • They are implacably opposed to his proposals.

¹im-plant /ɪm'plænt/ verb -plants; -plant-ed; -plant-ing [+ obj]

1 : to put (something) in a specified place • The police obtained permission to implant [=plant] a recording device in the suspect's home.; especially, medical : to place (something) in a person's body by means of surgery • a hearing aid that is surgically implanted in the ear

2 : to cause (something) to become a part of the way a person thinks or feels • She implanted a love of reading in her students. [=she taught her students to love reading]

— im-plant-able /ɪm'plæntəbəl/ adj • implantable devices

— im-plan-ta-tion /ɪm,plæn'teɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [noncount] the implantation of a hearing aid [count] (chiefly US) a surgeon who has performed many implantations

²im-plant /ɪm,plænt/ noun, pl -plants [count] medical : something placed in a person's body by means of surgery • breast implants

im-plau-si-ble /ɪm'plɑːzəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not believable or realistic : not plausible • She's been making implausible claims. • He gave an implausible excuse for showing up late for work. • The novel has an implausible ending.

— im-plau-si-bil-i-ty /ɪm,plɑːzə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] • the implausibility of the novel's ending — im-plau-si-bly /ɪm'plɑːzəbli/ adv • an implausibly happy ending • Implausibly (enough), the hero was saved at the last minute.

¹im-ple-ment /'ɪmpləmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count] : an object used to do work : TOOL • farming implements • stone implements used in prehistoric times • a sharp-edged implement used to chop wood synonyms IMPLEMENT, TOOL, INSTRUMENT, and UTENSIL mean a device used for doing work. IMPLEMENT is a general word and may refer to anything that is needed to complete a task. • gardening implements such as rakes and hoes TOOL is also a general word but may suggest a device that is designed for a specific job and that requires some skill to be used properly. • carpenter's tools INSTRUMENT suggests a device that can be used for very precise work. • surgical instruments UTENSIL suggests a fairly simple device used for jobs in a person's house. • kitchen utensils

²im-ple-ment /'ɪmplə,ment/ verb -ments; -ment-ed; -ment-ing [+ obj] : to begin to do or use (something, such as a plan) : to make (something) active or effective • The government implemented [=carried out] a series of reforms. • I wondered how I might best implement his plan. • Due to high costs, the program was never fully implemented.

— im-ple-men-ta-tion /ɪmpləmən'teɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • implementation of the plan

im-plic-ate /'ɪmplə,keɪt/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing [+ obj] : to show that someone or something is closely connected to or involved in something (such as a crime) • The evidence implicated many government officials in the conspiracy. [=the evidence showed that many government officials were involved in the conspiracy] • His business partner was implicated in the theft. • Scientists have discovered a gene that is implicated [=involved] in the development of Alzheimer's disease.

im-plic-a-tion /ɪmplə'keɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a possible future effect or result — usually plural • We must consider the long-term implications of the new trade policies. [=we must consider the effect the policies may have in the future] • The closing of the factory has economic implications for the entire community. [=the closing will affect the economy of the entire community] • He needs to be aware of the political implications of his decision.

2 : something that is suggested without being said directly : something that is implied [count] I'm offended by his implication that women can't be good at mathematics. • I resent that/your implication! [noncount] He condemned the court and, by implication, the entire legal system.

3 [noncount] : the fact or state of being involved in or connected to something (such as a crime) : the fact or state of being implicated in something • He was shocked by the implication of his partner in the theft.

im-plic-it /ɪm'plɪsət/ adj

1 : understood though not clearly or directly stated • an implicit agreement/warning/promise • Their plans are based on the implicit [=implied] assumption that the proposal will be accepted. • There is a sense of moral duty implicit in her writings. — opposite EXPLICIT

2 : not affected by doubt : ABSOLUTE, COMPLETE • I have implicit trust/confidence/faith in her honesty.

— im-plic-it-ly adv • In his criticism of the court he implicitly condemns the entire legal system. • I trust her implicitly. [=completely]

im-plode /ɪm'ploud/ verb -plodes; -plod-ed; -plod-ing [no obj] : to collapse inward in a very sudden and violent way • an imploding star — often used figuratively • He warns that the nation's economy is about to implode under the weight of its debt. — compare EXPLODE

— im-plo-sion /ɪm'plouzən/ noun, pl -sions [count, noncount]

im-plore /ɪm'ploʊ/ verb -plores; -plored; -plor-ing [+ obj] formal

1 a : to make a very serious or emotional request to (someone) : BEG • Don't go. I implore you. — usually followed by to + verb • She implored her son not to go. • He implored her to think of the children. b : to say (something) as a serious or emotional request • "Think of the children!" he implored.

2 : to ask or beg for (something) in a very serious or emotional way • He implored their help.

— implo-ri-ly adv [more ~; most ~] • an implo-ri-ly look • an implo-ri-ly request for help — im-plor-ing-ly adv • "Don't go!" she said implo-ri-ly.

im-ply /ɪm'plai/ verb -plies; -plied; -ply-ing [+ obj]

1 : to express (something) in an indirect way : to suggest (something) without saying or showing it plainly • Your remark implies (to me) that you think I'm wrong. • Early reports implied that the judge's death was not an accident. • His words implied a threat. — compare INFER

2 : to include or involve (something) as a natural or necessary part or result • War implies fighting and death.

im-po-lite /ɪmpə'laɪt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not polite : RUDE • It's impolite to talk during the performance. • He made some impolite comments about her appearance. • an impolite child • an impolite word

— im-po-lite-ly adv • They felt they were being treated impolitely. — im-po-lite-ness noun [noncount]

im-pon-der-a-ble /ɪm'pɑːndərəbəl/ adj, formal : not able to be measured or judged exactly • the imponderable vastness of space

— imponderable noun, pl -ables [count] • the imponderables of human nature [=the mysteries of human nature; the questions about human nature that cannot be fully answered or understood]

¹im-port /ɪm'poʊt/ verb -ports; -port-ed; -port-ing [+ obj]

1 : to bring a product into a country to be sold • a dealer who imports cars from Italy to the U.S. — opposite EXPORT

2 computers : to bring (something, such as data) into a file, system, etc., from another source • software that makes it simple to import digital photographs onto your hard drive

– imported adj • imported cars/coffee – im-port-er noun, pl -ers [count] • an importer of Italian cars

2 im-port /'ɪm,pəʊt/ noun, pl -ports

1 a [count] : something that is imported : a product brought into a country to be sold there • This car is an import from Italy. • They sell luxury imports from around the world. b [noncount] : the act of importing something : IMPORTATION • laws affecting the import of foreign goods • an import tax

2 [noncount] formal : IMPORTANCE • This is an issue of little import to voters. • a matter of great import

3 [singular] formal : the meaning of something • Researchers are still debating the import [=meaning] of the test results.

im-por-tance /ɪm'pəʊtəns/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of being important : value or significance • The teacher lectured the students on the importance of mutual respect. • a medical discovery of great/major importance [=a very important medical discovery] • He exaggerated the importance of his role in the rescue mission. • The negotiations have taken on added importance in the wake of the bomb attack. • a matter of little/minor importance • Nothing of importance [=nothing important] was decided.

im-por-tant /ɪm'pəʊtənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having serious meaning or worth • She's an important [=significant] part of the team. • Diet and exercise are important for health. : deserving or requiring serious attention • an important problem • In his editorial, he made several important points. • It's important that you remember to send these forms on time. = It's important for you to remember to send these forms on time. • Scientists have made an important discovery. • Doing her job well is important to her. • The new policy will help businesses and, more important [=importantly], it will create thousands of new jobs. [=it is more important that the new policy will create thousands of new jobs] • critically/crucially/vitally important

2 : having power, authority, or influence • He's one of the most important scholars in his field. • an important artist

im-por-tant-ly /ɪm'pəʊtəntli/ adv

1 [more ~; most ~] — used to say that something is important • More importantly, [=it is more important that] the proposed law will have a harmful effect on funding for public schools.

2 a : in an important way • Her research has contributed importantly to our understanding of the disease. b : in the manner of people who think that they are important : in an arrogant or pompous manner • He strutted to and fro importantly, ordering everybody around.

im-por-ta-tion /ɪm,pəʊ'teɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : the act of importing products • illegal importation of weapons im-por-tu-nate /ɪm'pəʊtʃənət/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : making repeated or annoying requests or demands • an importunate salesman

2 : causing annoyance or trouble • importunate demands

– im-por-tu-nate-ly adv • importunately demanding help im-por-tune /ɪm,pə'tu:n, Brit ɪm,pə'tju:n/ verb -tunes;

-tuned; -tun-ing [+ obj] formal : to ask (someone) for something or to do something in a repeated or annoying way : BEG • He stood on the street corner, importuning passersby for help/money. • He importuned them to help.

im-pose /ɪm'pəʊz/ verb -pos-es; -posed; -pos-ing

1 [+ obj] a : to cause (something, such as a tax, fine, rule, or punishment) to affect someone or something by using your authority • The judge imposed a life sentence. — usually + on or upon • The judge imposed a life sentence on the defendant. • impose [=levy] a tax on liquor • A curfew has been imposed upon the city's youth. b : to establish or create (something unwanted) in a forceful or harmful way • I needed to break free from the limits imposed by my own fear of failure.

2 [+ obj] : to force someone to accept (something or yourself) — + on or upon • He imposed his will on his subjects. [=he forced his subjects to do what he wanted them to do] • He imposes his personal beliefs on his employees. • I don't like having to impose myself on other people.

3 [no obj] : to ask for or expect more than is fair or reasonable • She asked if I wanted a ride, but I declined. I didn't want to impose. [=I didn't want to cause trouble or inconvenience for her] — often + on or upon • I didn't want to impose on her. = I didn't want to impose on her kindness. • You shouldn't impose on/upon your friend's good nature.

im-pos-ing /ɪm'pəʊzɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very large or impressive • He's an imposing man with a powerful voice. • an imposing building • an imposing figure

– im-pos-ing-ly adv • an imposingly large building

im-po-si-tion /ɪmpə'zɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a demand or request that is not reasonable or that causes trouble for someone • Your kids can stay with me the night you're away—it's really not an imposition.

2 [noncount] : the act of establishing or creating something in an official way : the act of imposing something • the imposition of a life sentence on the defendant • the imposition of a tax on liquor

im-pos-si-bil-i-ty /ɪm,pə:sə'bɪləti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [count] : something that is impossible : something that cannot be done or that cannot happen • The blizzard made travel an impossibility. • a logical/mathematical impossibility

2 [noncount] : the quality or state of being impossible • the impossibility of knowing what the future will bring

im-pos-si-ble /ɪm'pə:səbəl/ adj

1 a : unable to be done or to happen : not possible • It's impossible to predict the future. • The heavy rain made it impossible to see the road. • It's logically/mathematically impossible. • It's physically impossible for a child to lift that much at once. • It's virtually/nearly/almost impossible to book a flight just before the holiday. • I find it impossible to believe [=I cannot believe] that he's telling the truth. • an impossible dream b : very difficult • an impossible [=hopeless] situation • These math problems are impossible!

2 [more ~; most ~] of a person : very difficult to deal with : very irritating or annoying • You refuse to help and then criticize me for not doing it right? You're impossible! • My boss is just an impossible woman.

the impossible : something that cannot be done or that is very difficult • Expecting people to do a good job in such a short time is asking the impossible.

– im-pos-si-bly /ɪm'pə:səbli/ adv • The restaurants in this city are impossibly [=extremely, ridiculously] expensive. • impossibly high standards im-pos-tor or im-pos-ter /ɪm'pə:stə/ noun, pl -tors or

-ters [count] : a person who deceives others by pretending to be someone else • He claimed he was an experienced pilot, but he turned out to be an impostor.

im-pos-ture /ɪm'pə:stʃə/ noun, pl -tures formal : the act of deceiving others by pretending to be someone else [non-count] He was accused of imposture. [count] his elaborate impostures

im-po-tent /ɪmpətənt/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : lacking power or strength • an impotent political party

2 of a man : unable to have sex : unable to get or keep an erection – im-po-tence /ɪmpətəns/ noun [noncount] • the impotence [=weakness] of the current regime • sexual impotence – im-po-tent-ly adv • We could only watch impotently [=helplessly] as the fire consumed our home.

im-pound /ɪm'paʊnd/ verb -pounds; -pound-ed;

-pound-ing [+ obj] : to use legal powers to get and hold (something) • The police impounded her car because it was illegally parked. • impound evidence for a trial im-pov-er-ish /ɪm'pə:vərɪʃ/ verb -ish-es; -ished; -ishing [+ obj]

1 : to make (someone) poor • The dictator enriched himself but impoverished his people.

2 : to use up the strength or richness of (something, such as land) • Poor farming practices impoverished the soil.

– impoverished adj [more ~; most ~] • the most impoverished areas [=the poorest areas] of the country • acres of impoverished soil – im-pov-er-ish-ment /ɪm'pə:vərɪʃ-mənt/ noun [noncount] • the impoverishment of the people/soil im-prac-ti-ca-ble /ɪm'præktɪkəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : difficult or impossible to do or use : not practicable • an impracticable plan • an impracticable solution

– im-prac-ti-ca-bil-i-ty /ɪm'præktɪkə'bɪləti/ noun [non-count] • the impracticability of his plan im-prac-ti-cal /ɪm'præktɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not practical: such as a : not easy to do or use : not suitable for the situation • Little sports cars are impractical for large families. • an attractive but completely impractical pair of shoes [=shoes that look nice but are not comfortable for walking] • an impractical plan/solution b of a person : not sensible : not able to deal with practical matters effectively • He was a dreamy and impractical young man.

– im-prac-ti-cal-i-ty /ɪm'præktɪ'kæləti/ noun, pl -ties [count] They adopted the plan despite all its impracticali-

ties. [noncount] the impracticality of the plan — im-prac-ti-cal-ly /ɪmˈpræktikli/ adv • an impractically large book im-pre-ca-tion /ɪmˈpriːkeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] formal : an offensive word or phrase that people say when they are angry : CURSE • He muttered imprecations under his breath.

im-pre-cise /ɪmˈpriːsaɪs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not clear or exact : not precise • imprecise language/measurements • an imprecise description • It's an imprecise translation of the original sentence.

— im-pre-cise-ly adv • The passage had been translated imprecisely. — im-pre-ci-sion /ɪmˈpriːsɪʒən/ noun [noncount]

im-preg-na-ble /ɪmˈpregnəbəl/ adj

1 : not able to be captured by attack : very strong • an im-pregnable fortress • im-pregnable defenses

2 : not likely to be weakened or changed • an im-pregnable reputation • Her arguments seemed im-pregnable.

im-preg-nate /ɪmˈpregneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (a material) to be filled or soaked with something • a cake impregnated with brandy

2 technical : to make (a woman or a female animal) pregnant

— im-preg-na-tion /ɪmˈpregˈneɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

im-pre-sa-rio /ɪmˈpreːsəriˌoʊ/ noun, pl -ri-os [count] : a person who manages a performance (such as a concert or play)

im-press /ɪmˈpres/ verb -press-es; -pressed; -press-ing

1 : to cause (someone) to feel admiration or interest [+ obj] He's trying to impress her. [=he is trying to win her admiration; he wants her to like him] • The candidate impressed us with his qualifications. = The candidate's qualifications impressed us. • What really impressed me was their enthusiasm. = It really impressed me that they were so enthusiastic. — often used as (be) impressed • We were (favorably/deeply/very) impressed by/with his credentials. • I am impressed that you can play the violin so well. • I was particularly/especially impressed by their enthusiasm. [no obj] She's bright, ambitious, and eager to impress.

2 [+ obj] : to put (something) in someone's mind : to produce a clear idea or image of (something) — + on or upon • The speaker tried to impress the dangers of drugs on the children. = The speaker tried to impress on the children how dangerous drugs can be. [=tried to make the children understand very clearly how dangerous drugs can be]

3 [+ obj] : to produce (something, such as a picture) by pushing something against a surface • a design impressed on the book's cover

im-pres-sion /ɪmˈpreʃən/ noun, pl -sions [count]

1 : the effect or influence that something or someone has on a person's thoughts or feelings • Her words made a strong impression (on us). • The candidate made a favorable/positive/good/bad impression. • What was your impression of the candidate? [=what did you think of the candidate?] • My first impression of him was that he was a kind and thoughtful young man. • First impressions are important but can be misleading. • In her journal, she recorded her impressions of the city. • Her kindness left a lasting impression on her students. • I was trying to make an impression. = I was trying to make a good impression. • He's trying to avoid (giving) the impression that he's insensitive. • a fleeting impression

2 : an idea or belief that is usually not clear or certain • It was my impression [=I thought] that admission was free. • I'm sorry if I gave you the wrong impression. [=I'm sorry if I misled you] • I got/had the distinct impression that they didn't mean to stay long. • They gave (us) the impression that they didn't mean to stay long. • an erroneous/false/mistaken impression • I was under the impression [=I thought] that admission was free.

3 : an appearance or suggestion of something • The garden is designed in tiers to give/create the impression of steps. [=the garden is designed so that it looks like steps] • His lifestyle conveyed the impression of great wealth. [=his lifestyle led people to believe that he was very wealthy]

4 : something (such as a design or a footprint) made by pressing or stamping a surface • The child used her hand to make an impression in the mud.

5 : an imitation of a famous person that is done for entertainment • He does a funny impression [=impersonation] of Elvis Presley.

im-pres-sion-able /ɪmˈpreʃənəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : easy to influence • The teacher was accused of forcing his political beliefs on impressionable teenagers. • The book had a profound effect on his impressionable young mind.

— im-pres-sion-abil-i-ty /ɪmˈpreʃənəˈbɪləti/ noun [noncount] • the impressionability of youth

im-pres-sion-ism or Im-pres-sion-ism /ɪmˈpreʃənɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : a style of painting that began in France around 1870, that uses spots of color to show the effects of different kinds of light, and that attempts to capture the feeling of a scene rather than specific details

— impressionist or Impressionist adj • an Impressionist painting

im-pres-sion-ist /ɪmˈpreʃənɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count]

1 or Impressionist : a painter who practices impressionism

2 : an entertainer who does impressions (sense 5)

im-pres-sion-is-tic /ɪmˈpreʃənɪstɪk/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : involving general feelings or thoughts rather than specific knowledge or facts • He wrote an impressionistic account of the battle scene.

2 chiefly US : of or relating to impressionism • an impressionistic painting

— im-pres-sion-is-ti-cal-ly /ɪmˈpreʃənɪstɪkli/ adv • He wrote vaguely and impressionistically about his life.

im-pres-sive /ɪmˈpresɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : deserving attention, admiration, or respect : making a good impression • He has an impressive vocabulary for a 10-year-old. • Her first performance was very impressive. • He has an impressive manner. • a large and impressive [=imposing] building

— im-pres-sive-ly adv • an impressively large vocabulary/building

im-pri-ma-tur /ɪmˈpriːməˌtuər/ noun, pl -turs [count] formal : official approval • He gave the book his imprimatur.

im-print /ɪmˈprɪnt/ verb -prints; -print-ed; -print-ing [+ obj]

1 : to create a mark by pressing against a surface • imprint [=stamp] a design on a sheet of paper • wearing a T-shirt imprinted with the company logo

2 : to cause (something) to stay in your mind or memory • The image of her beautiful face will always be imprinted on my mind. [=I will always remember her beautiful face] • a picture imprinted in my memory

im-print /ɪmˈprɪnt/ noun, pl -prints [count]

1 : a mark created by pressing against a surface : something imprinted or printed • We saw an imprint of a bike tire on the dirt trail. • a fossil imprint of a dinosaur's foot

2 : a strong effect or influence • She was determined to put her imprint on the company. [=to use her ideas and influence to make the company better]

3 technical : a publisher's name on the title page of a book

im-pris-on /ɪmˈprɪzən/ verb -ons; -oned; -on-ing [+ obj] : to put (someone) in prison • He was imprisoned for murder. • He has threatened to imprison his political opponents. — sometimes used figuratively • He has a brilliant mind imprisoned in an unhealthy body.

— im-pris-on-ment /ɪmˈprɪzənˌmənt/ noun [noncount] • He was released after six months' imprisonment. • sentenced to life imprisonment

im-prob-a-ble /ɪmˈpraːbəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not probable : not likely to be true or to happen : UNLIKELY • There really isn't enough evidence to prove that he committed the crime, so it's (highly) improbable that he'll be convicted. • The team made an improbable comeback. • an improbable story

— im-prob-a-bil-i-ty /ɪmˈpraːbəˈbɪləti/ noun [noncount] the improbability of their success [count] The story includes a number of absurd improbabilities. [=improbable events or situations] — im-prob-a-bly /ɪmˈpraːbəbli/ adv • an improbably gifted child

im-promp-tu /ɪmˈpraːmptu, Brit ɪmˈpromptju/ adj : not prepared ahead of time : made or done without preparation • Two of my friends came by unexpectedly, and we had an impromptu little party in my kitchen. • He made an impromptu speech about honor and responsibility.

— impromptu adv • speaking impromptu

im-prop-er /ɪmˈpraːpər/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not proper, right, or suitable: such as a : not correct • The doctor gave him an improper diagnosis. • improper grammar b : not following rules of acceptable behavior : legally or morally wrong • They claim to have evidence of improper police conduct. • improper use of public land c : not suitable for the situation : not appropriate • This is an improper diet for a growing teenager. • improper dress/attire d : not polite • It would be improper for me to ask such a favor of her. • He made some improper remarks. • improper behavior

— im-prop-er-ly adv • He came to school improperly dressed. • She pronounced the word improperly. • behaving improperly

im-pro-pri-ety /ˌɪmprəˈpraɪəti/ noun, pl -ties formal

1 [noncount] a : rude or immoral behavior : improper behavior • He has a reputation for impropriety. • The judge excused herself from the case to avoid any appearance of impropriety. • She was shocked by the young man's impropriety. b : a rude or improper quality • She was shocked by the impropriety of his behavior/language.

2 [count] : a wrong or immoral act : an improper act • He has been accused of financial/sexual improprieties.

im-prov /ˌɪmprəˈv/ noun [noncount] informal : the act of performing without preparation : the act of improvising • a comedian with a talent for improv [=improvisation]

im-prove /ɪmˈpruːv/ verb -proves; -proved; -prov-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make (something) better • This operation will greatly/dramatically/significantly improve her chances of survival. • The advertising campaign has improved sales.

2 [no obj] : to become better • Maybe we'll buy a house when our financial situation improves. • Her writing has improved since the beginning of the school year. • The company has been having steadily improving sales.

improve on/upon [phrasal verb] improve on/upon (something) : to do better than (something previously done) • After months of study, I improved on my original score. • It'll be hard to improve upon the success they had last year.

— improved adj [more ~; most ~] • The campaign resulted in greatly improved sales. • She was voted the most improved player on the team.

im-prove-ment /ɪmˈpruːvmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 [noncount] : the act of improving something : the act or process of making something better • Doctors were amazed by the sudden improvement in her medical condition. • His cooking needs improvement. = There's still room for improvement in his cooking.

2 [count] a : the quality of being better than before • I've noticed a significant improvement in your work since the spring. b : an addition or change that makes something better or more valuable • The editor made some improvements to/in the article before it was printed. • They spent the money on new kitchen cabinets and other home improvements. ✧ An improvement on or (chiefly US) over something is a better version of it or a better way of doing it. • The food isn't fancy, but it's certainly an improvement over what we're served at school.

im-prov-i-dent /ɪmˈprɑːvədənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not providing or saving for the future : not wise or sensible regarding money • Her improvident habits left her with no retirement savings. • an improvident [=irresponsible, unwise] use of public money

— im-prov-i-dence /ɪmˈprɑːvədəns/ noun [noncount] • financial improvidence

im-pro-vise /ˌɪmprəˈvaɪz/ verb -vis-es; -vised; -vis-ing

1 : to speak or perform without preparation [no obj] If you forget any of your lines, try to improvise. • Good jazz musicians know how to improvise. [+ obj] He had to improvise his opening speech when he forgot his notes. • The trumpet player performed an improvised solo.

2 [+ obj] : to make or create (something) by using whatever is available • I wasn't expecting guests, so I had to improvise a meal with what I had in my refrigerator.

— im-pro-vi-sa-tion /ɪmˈprɑːvəˈzeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [noncount] an actor who is good at improvisation [count] His performance featured several clever improvisations.

— im-pro-vi-sa-tion-al /ɪmˈprɑːvəˈzeɪʃənl/ also im-pro-vi-sa-to-ry /ˌɪmprəˈvaɪzəˌtɔːri, Brit ˌɪmprəˈvaɪzətəri/ adj • an improvisational performance • improvisational theater

— im-pro-vis-er also chiefly US im-pro-vis-or /ˌɪmprəˈvaɪzə/ noun, pl -ers also -ors [count] • jazz improvisers

im-pru-dent /ɪmˈpruːdnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not wise or sensible : not prudent • She made some imprudent [=foolish, unwise] investments that she would later regret. • It's politically imprudent to stir up such controversy during an election year.

— im-pru-dence /ɪmˈpruːdns/ noun [noncount] • financial imprudence — im-pru-dent-ly adv • She invested imprudently.

im-pu-dent /ˈɪmpjədənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : failing to show proper respect and courtesy : very rude • The boy was punished for his impudent behavior/attitude. • an impudent [=insolent, disrespectful] soldier

— im-pu-dence /ˈɪmpjədəns/ noun [noncount] • The boy was punished for his impudence. — im-pu-dent-ly adv • He behaved impudently.

im-pugn /ɪmˈpjʊːn/ verb -pugns; -pugned; -pugn-ing [+ obj] formal : to criticize (a person's character, intentions, etc.) by suggesting that someone is not honest and should not to be trusted • He impugned his rival's character. • Her motives have been scrutinized and impugned.

im-pulse /ˈɪmˌpʌls/ noun, pl -pulses [count]

1 : a sudden strong desire to do something • He has to learn to control his impulses. • a natural/creative/sudden impulse • a generous impulse — often followed by to + verb • He had to resist the impulse [=urge] to shout. • My first/initial impulse was to say no. ✧ To do something on (an) impulse or on a sudden impulse is to do it suddenly and without thinking about it first. • He bought a new camera on impulse. • She quit her job on a sudden impulse. An impulse buy/purchase is something that is bought on impulse and that usually is not really needed. • The camera was an impulse buy. Impulse buying is the act or practice of buying things on impulse. • Shopping with a credit card can lead to impulse buying.

2 technical : a small amount of energy that moves from one area to another • an electrical impulse • a nerve impulse [=a wave of electrical energy that is carried through the nerves to the brain]

im-pul-sive /ɪmˈpʌlsɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : doing things or tending to do things suddenly and without careful thought : acting or tending to act on impulse • She's impulsive and often does things that she later regrets.

2 : done suddenly and without planning : resulting from a sudden impulse • He needs to learn to control his impulsive behavior. • She made an impulsive decision to quit her job.

— im-pul-sive-ly adv • She impulsively decided to quit her job. • acting impulsively — im-pul-sive-ness noun [noncount] • Her impulsiveness gets her in trouble. • the impulsiveness of her decision im-pu-ni-ty /ɪmˈpjʊːnəti/ noun [noncount] : freedom from punishment, harm, or loss — usually used in the phrase with impunity • They broke the law with (complete/total) impunity. [=without fear of punishment; very freely and openly] • The rioters set fires and looted with impunity.

im-pure /ɪmˈpjʊə/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not pure: such as a : DIRTY, UNCLEAN • impure water b : mixed with something else that is usually not as good • an impure chemical • selling impure drugs c : sexual in a way that is considered morally wrong • impure thoughts im-pu-ri-ty /ɪmˈpjʊəri/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : the quality or state of being impure • the impurity of the water • moral impurity

2 [count] : an unwanted substance that is found in something else and that prevents it from being pure • The syrup is strained to remove impurities. • The water is free of impurities.

im-pute /ɪmˈpjʊːt/ verb -putes; -put-ed; -put-ing [+ obj] formal : to say or suggest that someone or something has or is guilty of (something) • They're trying to impute selfish motives to my actions. [=they're trying to say that my actions were motivated by selfishness] • He insists that he is not responsible for all the crimes that have been imputed to him. [=the crimes that he has been blamed for]

— im-pu-ta-tion /ˌɪmpjəˈteɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [noncount] the imputation of blame [count] I deny all your imputations of blame.

¹in /ˈɪn, ən/ prep

1 — used to indicate location or position within something • We went for a swim in the lake. • They have a house in the country. • Albuquerque is in New Mexico. • There wasn't a cloud in the sky. • I like to read in bed. [=while sitting or lying on my bed] • He was wounded in the leg. • We had to stand in line for tickets. • Why don't you look it up in the dictionary? • There's something in my eye. [=between my eyelid and my eyeball] • There was fear in their eyes. [=I could tell they were afraid when I looked at their eyes] • I held her in my arms. • He saw his reflection in the mirror.

2 : to the inside of (a room, container, etc.) • She went in [=into] the house. • Don't come in here with those muddy feet! • I threw it in [=into] the garbage.

3 a — used to indicate that someone or something belongs to or is included as part of something • She used to play in [=as a member of] a band. • There are 12 in a dozen. [=a dozen is equal to 12] b — used to indicate the existence of something or someone within a story, movie, etc. • a character in a story • a scene in a movie • He saw it in a dream.

4 a : during (a period of time, a season, etc.) • It happened in the 1930s. • She likes to travel in [=during] the summer. • Call us sometime in [=during] the morning/afternoon/evening. • They plan to open in September. • We haven't seen them in [=for] ages! • Back in those days, we didn't have computers. • an important moment in history • Never in my life have I heard such a thing! • I lost track of them in [=during] all the commotion/confusion. b : at the end of (a period of time) • I'll be there in a minute. • The movie is coming out in a few months. • He got his degree in only three years. c — used to indicate an approximate age or number • a woman in her thirties [=a woman who is between 30 and 39 years old] • Our members number in the thousands. [=more than 2,000]

5 a — used to indicate the method, materials, or form of something • a note written in pencil [=using a pencil] • a note written in French • a symphony in (the key of) C • The book is bound in leather. • They were covered in mud from head to toe. • She gave us 50 dollars in cash. • The measurements are listed in both inches and centimeters. • The shirts come in three sizes. b — used to indicate the color of something • I decorated the room in blues and grays. [=using different shades of blue and gray]

6 a — used to indicate the state or condition of someone or something • We'll be in trouble if we can't get the brakes to work! [=we will experience a situation that is difficult, dangerous, etc.] • She was in and out of trouble for many years. • young people in love [=experiencing romantic love] • Are you in much pain? • I just stood there gaping in amazement. • They're not in any danger. b : to a specified state, condition, or form • They were always getting in [=into] trouble. • The vase broke in [=into] pieces. • They divided the money in [=into] thirds.

7 — used to indicate how people or things are arranged • They stood in a circle. • The chairs were placed in a row.

8 — used to indicate the conditions that are around someone or something • I found her sitting in the dark. = I found her sitting in darkness. • Don't just stand there in the rain!

9 : while or as a result of (doing something) • In trying to please everyone, I ended up pleasing no one. • Many mistakes were made in planning the project.

10 — used to indicate the manner or purpose of something • "No way!" she said in reply. • The remark was made in jest. • They sure left in a hurry! • We held a banquet in his honor. [=to honor him] • They went in search of lost treasure. [=to search for lost treasure] • She moved to the city in hopes of finding a better job. [=with the hope that she would find a better job] • They increased the penalties in an attempt to discourage lawbreakers.

11 — used to make a statement or description more limited or specific in meaning • They are slow in their movements. [=their movements are slow] • The two are alike in some ways/respects. [=they have some similarities] • It measures two feet in length. [=it is two feet long] • The idea works in theory, but not in practice. • In a way, it makes sense. [=it makes sense if you consider a particular fact, idea, etc.]

12 — used to indicate the person who is being described • We've lost a valuable employee in Mike. • In her, you have a true friend.

13 — used to indicate the object of a belief, opinion, or feeling • Have a little faith in them! • Do you believe in ghosts? [=do you think ghosts are real?] • I really don't know what she sees in him. [=I don't know why she likes/loves him] • I have no interest in sports. [=sports do not interest me]

14 — used to indicate a job or area of activity • She has a job in marketing. • I hear he's in advertising. [=he has a job that involves advertising] • She's struggling in math.

15 — used to indicate the existence of something as a part of someone's character • He has no pity in him. • I tried to be tough with them, but I just didn't have it in me. [=I wasn't able to be tough with them]

16 : wearing (something) as clothes • He showed up in his best suit. • the boy in the red jacket • a lady in black [=a lady wearing black clothes]

17 — used to describe how common something is by comparing a smaller number to a larger number • This condition affects one in five [=1 in 5; one out of every five] Americans.

²in /'ɪn/ adv

1 : to or toward the inside of something (such as a building) •

She went in and closed the door. • I lost my keys and now I can't get in. • Please come in! • The burglars broke in through the kitchen window. • The pool is deep. Be careful not to fall in. • Is everyone in [=inside]? Then we can start. • The shot went in. [=into the goal]

2 a : to or toward a place • They flew in yesterday. • The boss called us in for a conference. • The fog was closing in fast. • The tide is coming in. [=towards shore] • Get your orders in early! b : at the place where someone or something arrives after traveling • Is the train in yet? • We expect to get in around noon. [=we expect to arrive around noon]

3 : at or inside a home, office, etc. • The doctor is in. [=the doctor is in his/her office and is available to see patients] • Are your parents in? [=are your parents at home?]

4 : at or to a location that is near to something or that seems near to something • The coach told them to play closer in. [=nearer to the area where the most activity is happening or is expected to happen] • Pull the car further in. [=closer to the curb, house, etc.]

5 a : in a way that will blend into or join with something • Gradually mix in the flour. b : to or at a proper or indicated place • I can't seem to fit this piece in. • Please fill in your name and address on the application. c : in a way that will agree or be in harmony • Do you think he'll fit in with the other kids?

6 : in a way that surrounds something or someone or prevents something or someone from leaving • They fenced in the property. = They fenced the property in. [=they put a fence around the property] • After the blizzard we were snowed in for a week. [=we could not leave our home because of the snow] — sometimes used in combination • a house with a fenced-in yard

7 : in the position of someone who is involved or participating in something • Count me in. [=include me in your plans] • "Does anyone want to go to a movie tonight?" "Sure, I'm in." [=I want to go] • She was in at the beginning/start, when the company began.

8 : in or into a position or job • They voted him in [=they elected him] by an overwhelming margin.

9 : in a friendly relationship with someone • She was in with the city's most powerful people. [=she had friendly relationships with the city's most powerful people]; also : in a specified sort of relationship • He got in good/bad with the boss. [=he was liked/disliked by the boss]

10 : present or in your possession and available for use • Are all the votes/results in?

11 sports : inside the area where players or the ball must stay in sports like tennis, basketball, and American football : not out of bounds • Her serve was just barely in.

all in informal : very tired • I'm all in, I'm going to bed.

in for informal : sure to experience (something) • Boy, is she in for a surprise! — see also have it in for at HAVE

in for it see ¹FOR

in on ♦ If you are in on something you have knowledge about it or are involved in it. • They were all in on the scheme. • The characters are convinced that they're on another planet, but the audience is in on the joke. [=the audience knows they are not on another planet] • I let them in on our little secret. [=I told them our secret]

in that — used to introduce a statement that explains or gives more specific information about what you have just said • The book is good, in that it's well written, but I didn't actually like reading it.

³in /'ɪn/ adj

1 : popular or fashionable • the in thing to do • the in place to go • Tall boots are in [=in style] this year.

2 : aware of and strongly influenced by what is new and fashionable • It's what the in crowd is wearing this season. — see also IN-GROUP, IN-JOKE

⁴in /'ɪn/ noun, pl ins [count] chiefly US, informal : a way of becoming involved in something or of influencing someone • When you're trying to get started in show business, it helps to have an in. • They must have an in with the boss. — see also INS AND OUTS

in. abbr inch, inches — see also INS.

IN abbr Indiana

in- or il- or im- or ir- prefix : not • inconclusive • inaccurate • illogical • immoral • impractical • irrational

in·abil·i·ty /,ɪnə'bɪləti/ noun : the condition of not being able to do something : lack of ability [singular] She has shown an inability to concentrate. [noncount] the inability of the government to cope with the problem in ab-sen-tia /ˌɪnəb'sɛnfijə/ adv, formal : without being present • They presented the award to him in absentia. [=they presented the award to him although he was not there to receive it himself] • She was convicted of the crime in absentia.

in-ac-ces-si-ble /ˌɪnɪk'sɛsəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : difficult or impossible to reach, approach, or understand : not accessible • The area is inaccessible by road. • an inaccessible goal • His prose is inaccessible to many readers.

– in-ac-ces-si-bil-i-ty /ˌɪnɪk'sɛsə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] • The town's inaccessibility discourages tourism. – inac-cessibly adv

in-ac-cu-ra-cy /ˌɪn'ækjərəsi/ noun, pl -cies

1 [noncount] : lack of correctness or exactness : lack of accuracy • I pointed out the inaccuracy of his statement.

2 [count] : a statement that is not correct : an error or mistake • The text is filled with inaccuracies.

in-ac-cu-rate /ˌɪn'ækjərət/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not correct or exact : having a mistake or error : not accurate • The book makes several inaccurate [=false, incorrect] claims. • an inaccurate quotation • Our research isn't complete, so these figures are somewhat inaccurate. [=inexact, approximate]

– in-ac-cu-rate-ly adv • She claims that the newspaper quoted her inaccurately.

in-ac-tion /ˌɪn'ækʃən/ noun [noncount] : failure to do something that should be done : lack of action or activity • The protesters criticized the administration's inaction on environmental issues. • We must consider the consequences of continued inaction.

in-ac-tive /ˌɪn'æktɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not active: such as a : not doing things that require physical movement and energy : not exercising • Inactive people suffer higher rates of heart disease. b : not involved in the activities of a group or organization • an inactive club member c : no longer being used • an inactive mine : not currently being used • the bank's inactive accounts d of a volcano : not capable of erupting e : not having a chemical effect • inactive ingredients

– in-ac-tive-ly adv • inactively traded stocks

in-ac-tiv-i-ty /ˌɪn'æktɪvəti/ noun [noncount] : the state of not acting or moving : lack of activity • His job involved long periods of (physical) inactivity.

in-ad-e-quate /ˌɪn'ædɪkwət/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not enough or not good enough : not adequate • These supplies are inadequate to meet our needs. • We were given very/woefully/wholly inadequate information. • an inadequate leader • I felt inadequate to the task. • Her brother's success and popularity always made her feel inadequate.

– in-ad-e-qua-cy /ˌɪn'ædɪkwəsi/ noun, pl -cies [noncount] feelings of inadequacy [count] I'm fully aware of my own inadequacies as a parent. – in-ad-e-quate-ly adv • He was inadequately prepared for adulthood.

in-ad-mis-si-ble /ˌɪnəd'mɪsəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not able to be allowed or considered in a legal case : not admissible • The evidence was inadmissible in court.

– in-ad-mis-si-bil-i-ty /ˌɪnəd'mɪsə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

in-ad-ver-tent /ˌɪnəd'vɛtənt/ adj : not intended or planned : ACCIDENTAL • an inadvertent error/omission

– in-ad-ver-tence /ˌɪnəd'vɛtəns/ noun [noncount] • mistakes made by/through inadvertence – in-ad-ver-tent-ly adv • I inadvertently [=accidentally, mistakenly] dialed the wrong number.

in-ad-vis-able /ˌɪnəd'vaɪzəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not wise, sensible, or reasonable : not advisable • The procedure is inadvisable because of the risks involved. • It would be highly/very inadvisable to attempt to do this ourselves.

– in-ad-vis-abil-i-ty /ˌɪnəd'vaɪzə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

in-alien-able /ˌɪn'eɪljənəbəl/ adj, formal : impossible to take away or give up • inalienable rights in-am-o-ra-ta /ˌɪnæmə'rɑ:tə/ noun, pl -tas [count] literary : the woman that a man loves • a story about a powerful politician and his inamorata

inane /ɪ'neɪm/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very silly or stupid • I quickly tired of their inane comments/questions/chatter. • The film's plot is inane and full of clichés.

– inane-ly adv • an inanely simplistic idea • She just sat there grinning inanely at the TV. – inan-i-ty /ɪ'nænəti/ noun [noncount] the inanity of their questions [count] the tiresome inaneities [=inane comments or actions] of the political world in-an-i-mate /ˌɪn'ænəmət/ adj : not living : not capable of life • Stones are inanimate. • an inanimate object — opposite ¹ANIMATE in-ap-pli-ca-ble /ˌɪn'æplɪkəbəl, ˌɪnə'plɪkəbəl/ adj, formal : not able to be used in a particular situation : not applicable or relevant • The rules are inapplicable [=irrelevant] in this instance.

in-ap-pro-pri-ate /ˌɪnə'prɒprijət/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not right or suited for some purpose or situation : not appropriate or suitable • We won't tolerate such inappropriate behavior/conduct/language. • Her informal manner seemed wholly/entirely inappropriate to/for the occasion. • The movie's subject matter is inappropriate for small children (to see). = It's inappropriate for small children to see the movie. = It's inappropriate that small children should see the movie.

– in-ap-pro-pri-ate-ly adv • They were dressed inappropriately for such a formal affair. – in-ap-pro-pri-ate-ness noun [noncount] • We were shocked by the inappropriateness of his comments.

in-apt /ɪn'æpt/ adj [more ~; most ~] somewhat formal : not appropriate or suitable : not apt • an inapt [=inappropriate] analogy/metaphor/comparison • His description of the experience as “weird” isn't altogether inapt. [=it is somewhat accurate] — compare INEPT

– in-apt-ly adv • We had lunch at the inaptly named “Good Eats Diner.” – in-apt-ness noun [noncount]

in-ar-gu-able /ˌɪn'ɑːgɹəwəbəl/ adj, chiefly US, somewhat formal : certain or clearly true : not open to argument, doubt, or question • It's an inarguable [=indisputable, unquestionable] fact.

– in-ar-gu-ably /ˌɪn'ɑːgɹəwəbli/ adv • She is inarguably [=unquestionably, indisputably] the world's foremost expert on the subject.

in-ar-tic-u-late /ˌɪn,ɑː'tɪkjələt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 a : not able to express ideas clearly and effectively in speech or writing : not articulate • He's smart, but somewhat inarticulate. • an inarticulate drunk b : not able to speak • I was almost inarticulate with rage.

2 a : not expressed clearly or easily understood • an inarticulate explanation • an inarticulate reply b : not understandable as spoken words • an inarticulate cry • inarticulate murmurs c : not able to be expressed • inarticulate longings

– in-ar-tic-u-late-ly adv • Her only response was to mumble inarticulately. – in-ar-tic-u-late-ness noun [noncount]

in-as-much as /ˌɪnəz'mʌtʃəz/ conj, formal — used to introduce a statement that explains, limits, or gives more specific information about what you have just said • They were lucky inasmuch as no one was hurt in the fire. • They abide by the rules only inasmuch as [=insofar as] it suits them.

in-at-ten-tion /ˌɪnət'enʃən/ noun [noncount] : failure to carefully think about, listen to, or watch someone or something : lack of attention • Many traffic accidents are the result of driver inattention. • They lost several potential clients through their inattention to detail.

– in-at-ten-tive /ˌɪnət'entɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] • inattentive drivers • inattentive behavior – in-at-ten-tive-ly adv • I was listening inattentively and missed what she said. – in-at-ten-tive-ness noun [noncount] • mistakes due to inattentiveness [=inattention]

in-au-di-ble /ɪn'ɑːdəbəl/ adj : impossible to hear : not audible • She spoke so quietly that she was almost inaudible. • The sound is inaudible to humans but can be heard by dogs.

– in-au-di-bil-i-ty /ɪn,ɑːdə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] – in-au-di-bly /ɪn'ɑːdəbli/ adv • He whispered inaudibly to the person beside him.

in-au-gu-ral /ɪn'ɑːgɹərəl/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : happening as part of an official ceremony or celebration when someone (such as a newly elected official) begins an important job : happening as part of an inauguration • the President's inaugural address • They attended the inaugural ball.

2 : happening as the first one in a series of similar events • The new train will make its inaugural [=first] run next week.

– inaugural noun, pl -rals [count] chiefly US • President Franklin D. Roosevelt's first inaugural [=inauguration]

in-au-gu-rate /ɪn'ɑːgɹəreɪt/ verb -rates; -rat-ed; -rat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to introduce (someone, such as a newly elected official) into a job or position with a formal ceremony • He was inaugurated (as President) on the 20th of January.

2 : to celebrate the fact that something (such as a new hospital or school) is officially ready to be used • They inaugurated the new headquarters with a brief ceremony.

3 a : to be the beginning of (something, such as a period of time) • This event inaugurated [=introduced] a new era in our history. b : to begin to use or have (something) for the first time • The airline will inaugurate [=introduce] five new routes this summer.

— in-au-gu-ra-tion /ɪn,ɑːgʲə'reɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] presidential inaugurations • We attended the inauguration of the new museum. [=the event celebrating the fact that the new museum is officially ready to be used] [noncount] a discovery that led to (the) inauguration of a new era in our history in-aus-pi-cious /ɪn,ɑː'spɪʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not showing or suggesting that future success is likely : not auspicious • The team got off to an inauspicious [=unpromising] start/beginning with a series of early losses. • Despite its inauspicious beginnings, the company eventually became very profitable.

— in-aus-pi-cious-ly adv • His movie career started inauspiciously with several box-office flops.

in-au-then-tic /ɪn,ɑː'θɛntɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not real, accurate, or sincere : not authentic • Their Mexican dishes are tasty but somewhat inauthentic. [=they are not quite like real Mexican food]

— in-au-then-tic-ity /ɪn,ɑː'θɛn'tɪsəti/ noun [noncount] in-be-tween /ɪnbrɪ'twiːn/ noun, pl -tweens [count] : a state or position that is in the middle between two other things : a middle position • The switch is either on or off; there's no in-between.

— in-between adj • available in small, large, and in-between sizes in-board /ɪn,bɔːrd/ adj, technical : located inside and towards the center of a boat, car, or airplane • an inboard engine/motor — compare OUTBOARD

— inboard adv • The wheels are inboard of the engines.

in-born /ɪn'boʊn/ adj : existing from the time someone is born : natural or instinctive • Humans have the inborn [=innate] ability to adapt. • She has an inborn talent for music. • That kind of knowledge is acquired, not inborn.

in-bound /ɪn,bəʊnd/ adj : traveling into a place : inward bound • inbound flights [=flights coming to an airport] • The bridge is closed to inbound traffic. [=traffic coming into a city or town] — opposite OUTBOUND in-bounds pass /ɪn'baʊndz-/ noun, pl ~ passes [count] basketball : a pass to start play from a player who is standing out of bounds to a player who is on the court in-box /ɪn,bɑːks/ noun, pl -box-es [count]

1 US : a box or other container on a desk in which letters, notes, etc., that are sent to the desk are placed — called also (Brit) in tray; see picture at OFFICE; compare OUT-BOX

2 computers : a computer folder that holds new e-mail messages • There are five new messages in your in-box.

in-bred /ɪn'bred/ adj

1 : existing as a basic part of a person's nature or character • They have an inbred love of freedom.

2 : born from or produced by animals, plants, or people that are closely related : produced by inbreeding • inbred mice in-breed-ing /ɪn'brɪːdɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : a process by which animals, plants, or people are born from or produced by closely related parents • genetic defects caused by inbreeding

in-built /ɪn'bɪlt/ adj, Brit : BUILT-IN • It comes with several inbuilt features. • She has an inbuilt resistance to change.

Inc. abbr incorporated • Merriam-Webster Inc.

in-cal-cu-la-ble /ɪn'kælkjələbəl/ adj, formal : not able to be calculated; such as a : very large or great • The extent of the damage is incalculable. • The collection is of incalculable value to historians. b : not able to be predicted • The future consequences of their decision are incalculable.

— in-cal-cu-la-bil-i-ty /ɪn,kælkjələ'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

— in-cal-cu-la-bly /ɪn'kælkjələbli/ adv • an incalculably large amount of damage

in-can-des-cent /ɪnkən'desnt/ adj

1 a : white or glowing because of great heat • incandescent gas b : producing bright light when heated • an incandescent light bulb [=a light bulb whose light is produced by the glow of a wire heated by an electric current]

2 a : very impressive, successful, or intelligent • a play full of incandescent [=brilliant] performances b : happy and lively • children with incandescent [=bright] smiles

3 Brit : feeling or showing great anger • She was incandescent with rage. [=she was very angry]

— in-can-des-cence /ɪnkən'desns/ noun [noncount]

in-can-ta-tion /ɪn,kæn'teɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : a series of words used to make something magic happen [count] ritual prayers and incantations [noncount] trying to produce a miracle by incantation

in-ca-pa-ble /ɪn'keɪpəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not able to do something : not capable • an incapable assistant — usually + of • He seemed incapable of understanding the seriousness of the situation. • Some birds are physically incapable of flight. • She's completely incapable of telling a lie.

— in-ca-pa-bil-i-ty /ɪn,keɪpə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

in-ca-pac-i-tate /ɪnkə'pæsə,teɪt/ verb -tates; -tat-ed; -tat-ing [+ obj] : to make (someone or something) unable to work, move, or function in the usual way : DISABLE • The class teaches you how to incapacitate an attacker. • The stroke left her completely incapacitated. • He was incapacitated by the pain. • a computer system incapacitated by software problems

— incapacitating adj • an incapacitating illness/injury — in-ca-pac-i-ta-tion /ɪnkə'pæsə'teɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • physical/mental incapacitation

in-ca-pac-i-ty /ɪnkə'pæsəti/ noun, pl -ties formal : a lack or loss of the ability to do something in the usual or desired way [noncount] Who will run the company in the event of your death or incapacity? [=if you die or become unable to run it] [count] I'm aware of my weaknesses and incapacities. • They have a complete incapacity for dealing with numbers. [=they are not able to deal with numbers]

in-car-cer-ate /ɪn'kɑːsə,reit/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] formal : to put (someone) in prison : IMPRISON — usually used as (be) incarcerated • They were both incarcerated for armed robbery.

— in-car-cer-a-tion /ɪn,kɑːsə'reɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • They were each sentenced to six months' incarceration. [=imprisonment]

¹in-car-nate /ɪn'kɑːnət/ adj, formal : having a human body • an incarnate deity • He treats her as though she's the devil incarnate. [=a human devil; a very evil person] • goodness/evil incarnate

²in-car-nate /ɪn'kɑːneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [+ obj] formal : to represent (something, such as an idea or quality) in a clear and obvious way : EMBODY • He incarnates the nation's political ideals. = The nation's political ideals are incarnated in him.

in-car-na-tion /ɪnkɑː'neɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : one of a series of lives that a person is believed to have had in the past in some religions • He claims that he was a Greek soldier in a previous incarnation. [=in a previous life; when he lived in the past as a different person] — often used figuratively • In an earlier incarnation [=an earlier phase of her life] she was a rock musician. • The TV and movie incarnations [=versions] of the story differ significantly. • The software's latest incarnation [=version] includes many new features. — compare REINCARNATION

2 [count] : a person who represents a quality or idea • She is the incarnation [=embodiment] of goodness. [=she is a very good person]

3 the Incarnation in the Christian religion : the belief in Jesus Christ as both God and a human being • the doctrine of the Incarnation in-cau-tious /ɪn'kaːʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not careful about avoiding danger or risk : not cautious : CARELESS • He offended several people with his incautious remarks. • Their incautious behavior is going to get them into trouble someday.

— in-cau-tious-ly adv • an incautiously worded statement

in-cen-di-ary /ɪn'sendiəri, Brit ɪn'sendiəri/ adj

1 : containing chemicals that explode into flame : producing a fire • The fire was started by an incendiary bomb/device.

2 [more ~; most ~] : causing anger • They use incendiary [=inflammatory] rhetoric to get public attention. • incendiary words/language

¹in-cense /ɪn'sens/ noun [noncount] : a substance that is used often in religious ceremonies to produce a strong and pleasant smell when it is burned

²in-cense /ɪn'sens/ verb -cens-es; -censed; -cens-ing [+ obj] : to make (someone) very angry • Her arrogance so incensed them that they refused to speak to her. • She incensed them with/by her arrogance. • We were incensed (to find) that such behavior was tolerated.

in-cen-tive /ɪn'sentɪv/ noun, pl -tives : something that encourages a person to do something or to work harder [count] Our salespeople are given financial incentives for reaching their quotas. [=if they reach their quotas they are paid more money] • The rising cost of electricity provides a strong/powerful incentive to conserve energy. • The government offers special tax incentives for entrepreneurs. • The company is offering a special low price as an added incentive for new customers. [noncount] employees who lack incentive — opposite DISINCENTIVE in-cep-tion /ɪnˈsepʃən/ noun, formal : the time at which something begins : BEGINNING, START [singular] The project has been shrouded in controversy from/since its inception. • Since its inception, the business has expanded to become a national retail chain. [noncount] We'll assist you at every stage from inception to completion.

in-ces-sant /ɪnˈsɛsnt/ adj : continuing without stopping : not stopping — used to describe something that is unpleasant or annoying • The neighbors were bothered by the dog's incessant barking. • Their incessant talking often distracts the other students.

— in-ces-sant-ly adv • She pestered us incessantly.

in-cest /ɪnˈsɛst/ noun [noncount] : sexual intercourse between people who are very closely related • commit incest • the crime of incest

in-ces-tu-ous /ɪnˈsɛstʃəwəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : involving sexual intercourse between closely related people : involving incest • There were rumors that the father and daughter had had an incestuous relationship. — often used figuratively • lobbyists who have an incestuous relationship [=an excessively close relationship] with politicians

— in-ces-tu-ous-ly adv

¹inch /ɪntʃ/ noun, pl inches [count]

1 : a unit of measurement equal to 1/36 yard or 1/12 of a foot (2.54 centimeters) • It measures six inches from top to bottom. • an insect that is an inch long = an inch-long insect • I'm five feet, two inches tall. = I'm five foot two (inches).

2 : a small amount, distance, or degree • The bullet missed my head by inches [=the bullet came very close to hitting my head] • I begged him to reconsider, but he wouldn't give/budge an inch [=he wouldn't make even a slight change in his opinion or attitude] • I tried to improve the system, but she opposed me every inch of the way. [=she opposed everything that I tried to do] • We searched every inch of the house. [=we searched the house completely] ♦ The expression (if you) give them an inch, (and) they'll take a mile means that if you allow people to have a small amount of something that they want, they will take much more of it. • The school is considering allowing older students to leave the campus for lunch on Fridays, but I'm concerned that if we give them an inch, they'll take a mile. [=students will leave campus more often]

every inch : to the highest degree • He's every inch a winner. [=he's a winner in every way]

inch by inch : by moving very slowly • We made our way inch by inch through the darkened corridor.

within an inch of : almost to the point of (something) • She came within an inch of death/dying. [=she came very close to dying] • They beat him (to) within an inch of his life [=they beat him so badly that he nearly died]

²inch verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition inches; inched; inch-ing : to move very slowly or by a small amount in a specified direction or manner [no obj] We inched along in heavy traffic. • As she neared the finish line, she inched ahead of the other racers. • Gas prices are inching up again. [+ obj] I inched the car into the garage.

in-cho-ate /ɪnˈkəwət/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not completely formed or developed yet : VAGUE • inchoate yearnings • inchoate ideas in-ci-dence /ɪnˈsɪdəns/ noun, pl -denc-es [count]

1 : the number of times something happens or develops : the rate at which something occurs • The drug has been linked with a higher incidence of certain cancers. [=the drug seems to cause certain cancers; people who take the drug seem to be more likely to get certain cancers] • an increased incidence of diabetes • a high/low incidence of criminal behavior • a disease with an incidence of one in 100,000 [=a disease that affects one person out of every 100,000]

2 technical : the angle at which a ray (such as a ray of light) hits a surface • the angle of incidence

in-ci-dent /ɪnˈsɪdənt/ noun, pl -dents

1 : an unexpected and usually unpleasant thing that happens [count] We just want to put that embarrassing incident behind us. • Two people were shot yesterday in two separate incidents. • Aside from a few isolated incidents, the crowd was well-behaved. • a shooting incident • Many such incidents go unreported. [noncount] The suspects were arrested without incident. [=without any unexpected trouble]

2 [count] : an event or disagreement that is likely to cause serious problems in relations between countries • a border incident • The bombing caused/provoked an international incident.

¹in-ci-den-tal /ɪnˈsɪdəntl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : happening as a minor part or result of something else • You may incur some incidental expenses on the trip. • an incidental part of the job • an incidental observation • He writes incidental music for plays. — often + to • This chapter is incidental to the plot.

²incidental noun, pl -tals [count] : something that happens as a minor part or result of something else : something that is incidental — usually plural • We received a bill for tuition plus incidentals. [=incidental expenses] • You should bring enough money to cover incidentals like cab fare and tips.

in-ci-den-tal-ly /ɪnˈsɪdəntli/ adv

1 : as something that is less interesting or important • The report discusses the problem only incidentally. [=in passing] • Not incidentally, the market slump was followed by widespread layoffs.

2 — used to introduce a statement that provides added information or that mentions another subject • I recently met his wife who, incidentally [=by the way], is a well-known author. • This product is the best—and, incidentally [=by the way], the most expensive—of its kind. • Incidentally [=by the way], I saw Susan yesterday and she asked about you.

in-cin-er-ate /ɪnˈsɪnəreɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] : to burn (something) completely • The waste is incinerated in a large furnace.

— in-cin-er-a-tion /ɪnˈsɪnəreɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the incineration of hazardous materials in-cin-er-a-tor /ɪnˈsɪnəreɪtər/ noun, pl -tors [count] : a machine or container that is used for burning garbage, waste, etc.

in-cip-i-ent /ɪnˈsɪpijənt/ adj, always used before a noun, formal : beginning to develop or exist • The project is still in its incipient stages. • an incipient romance [=a romance that is just beginning]

in-cise /ɪnˈsaɪz/ verb -cis-es; -cised; -cis-ing [+ obj] formal : to cut or carve (letters, patterns, etc.) into a surface • The design is incised into the clay.; also : to mark (a surface) by cutting or carving • The clay is incised to create a design. — incised adj • an incised pattern • incised tablets in-ci-sion /ɪnˈsɪʒən/ noun, pl -sions [count] : a cut made in something; especially, medical : a cut made into the body during surgery • a small abdominal incision in-ci-sive /ɪnˈsaɪsɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very clear and direct • an incisive analysis/commentary/observation : able to explain difficult ideas clearly and confidently • She's known for her incisive mind and quick wit.

— in-ci-sive-ly adv • an incisively funny film • He has written incisively about the problem. — in-ci-sive-ness noun [noncount] • the incisiveness of her analysis in-ci-sor /ɪnˈsaɪzər/ noun, pl -sors [count] : a tooth that has a sharp edge for biting : one of the four front teeth of the upper or lower jaw

in-cite /ɪnˈsaɪt/ verb -cites; -cit-ed; -cit-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (someone) to act in an angry, harmful, or violent way • The victim had done nothing to incite [=provoke] the attackers. — often + to • They were clearly trying to incite the crowd to violence. — often followed by to + verb • He incited the students to riot.

2 : to cause (an angry, harmful, or violent action or feeling) • They were arrested and charged with inciting [=provoking] a riot. • The news incited widespread fear and paranoia.

— in-cite-ment /ɪnˈsaɪtmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count] His words were an incitement to riot. [noncount] They were charged with incitement to violence.

in-ci-vil-i-ty /ɪnˈsɪvɪlɪti/ noun, pl -ties formal

1 [noncount] : a rude or impolite attitude or behavior : lack of civility • Never before have I been treated with such incivility! [=rudeness]

2 [count] : a rude or impolite act • We chose to ignore their little insults and incivilities.

incl. abbr include; included; including; inclusive in-clem-ent /ɪnˈklemənt, ˈɪnkləmənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : having rain and storms : STORMY • The game was postponed due to inclement weather. — compare CLEMENT

in-cli-na-tion /ɪnˈklɪneɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : a feeling of wanting to do something : a tendency to do something [noncount] She shows no/little inclination to give in to their demands. • He's a loner by inclination. [count] My first/initial/natural inclination was to say no, but I finally decided to do what she asked. • We can either go now or plan to go later. What's your inclination? [=what are you inclined to do?; what do you want to do?] • I have neither the time nor the inclination to learn about such matters. • a person with artistic inclinations [=a person who wants to do artistic things] • Her natural inclination [=tendency] is to do what other people are doing. • The door has an inclination to stick. [=the door often sticks; the door tends to stick] • He has an inclination to brag. = He has an inclination towards bragging.

— opposite DISINCLINATION

2 [count] : a slanting surface : SLOPE • a steep inclination

3 [count] : the act of bending your head or body forward : the act of inclining your head or body • He acknowledged us with a slight inclination [(more commonly) nod] of his head.

¹incline /ɪnˈklaɪn/ verb -clines; -clined; -clin-ing

1 : to bend forward or to cause (something) to bend forward [no obj] Her head inclined forward. [+ obj] He inclined [(more commonly) nodded] his head slightly. • She listened with her eyes closed and her head inclined.

2 [no obj] : to lean or slope • The road inclines at an angle of about 12 degrees.

3 [+ obj] formal : to cause (someone) to want to do something or to be likely to do something • His love of books inclined him toward a literary career.

4 formal : to think or to cause (someone) to think that something is probably true or correct — followed by to + verb [no obj] I incline to agree with you. [(more commonly) I am inclined to agree with you] [+ obj] The evidence inclines me to think that she isn't guilty. [=makes me think that she probably isn't guilty] — see also INCLINED

²incline /ɪnˈklaɪn/ noun, pl -clines [count] : a slanting surface : SLOPE • We drove up a steep incline to the summit. • You can adjust the incline of the ramp. • a slight incline

inclined /ɪnˈklaɪnd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 not used before a noun : wanting to do something or likely to do something • people who are inclined toward volunteering • Feel free to leave early if you're so inclined. [=if you want to] — usually followed by to + verb • I'm inclined to leave early [=I would like to leave early], if that's OK with you. • She didn't seem inclined [=disposed] to help us. • He's inclined to brag about his accomplishments. [=he often brags about his accomplishments] • The door is inclined to stick. [=the door often sticks]

2 — used with verbs like agree, think, believe, suppose, etc., to express a thought or opinion that is not strong or certain • I'm inclined to agree with you. [=I think you are probably correct] • We're inclined to think she was mistaken. [=we think she was probably mistaken] — see also ¹INCLINE 4

3 : having an interest in or a talent for something • a special school for children who are inclined toward the arts — usually used after an adverb (such as artistically, mechanically, or musically) • She's always been artistically inclined. [=she has always had a talent for art]

4 : having a slope • an inclined surface

include /ɪnˈkluːd/ verb -cludes; -clud-ed; -clud-ing [+ obj]

1 not used in progressive tenses : to have (someone or something) as part of a group or total : to contain (someone or something) in a group or as a part of something • The speakers will include several experts on the subject. • The price of dinner includes dessert. • Admission to the museum is included in the tour package. — opposite EXCLUDE

2 : to make (someone or something) a part of something • The results came in too late for us to include them in the study. • He says he doesn't want to be included in the project. [=he doesn't want to participate in the project] — opposite EXCLUDE

— inclusion /ɪnˈkluːʒən/ noun, pl -sions [noncount] I was surprised by the inclusion of his name in the credits. • the inclusion of parents at the school board meeting [count] The collection has some surprising inclusions. [=it includes some surprising things] included adj, not used before a noun — used to say that someone or something is part of a group or total • Everyone, myself/me included [=everyone, including me], liked the book better than the movie. • We should invite everyone, George included. • The price is $122, tax included. [=including tax]

includ-ing /ɪnˈkluːdɪŋ/ prep : having (someone or something) as part of a group or total • Everyone, including me, liked the book better than the movie. • All his doctors, including the chief surgeon, agree on the diagnosis. • It costs $7.99, not including sales tax. — opposite EXCLUDING

in-clu-sive /ɪnˈkluːsɪv/ adj

1 : covering or including everything • an inclusive fee/tour • an inclusive insurance policy — opposite EXCLUSIVE; see also ALL-INCLUSIVE

2 [more ~; most ~] : open to everyone : not limited to certain people • an inclusive club • an inclusive political movement — opposite EXCLUSIVE

3 not used before a noun : including the stated limits and everything in between • a program for children seven to ten years of age inclusive [=children seven, eight, nine, and ten years of age] • Our assignment is to read pages 10 to 20 inclusive. [=pages 10 to/through 20] inclusive of formal : including (something) • The price is inclusive of tax. [=the price includes tax]

— in-clu-sive-ly adv — in-clu-sive-ness noun [noncount]

— in-clu-siv-i-ty /ɪnˈkluːsɪvəti/ noun [noncount] formal in-cog-ni-to /ɪnˈkɑːɡniːtoʊ/ adv : with your true identity kept secret (as by using a different name or a disguise) • He travels incognito.

— incognito adj • He remained incognito while living there. • The food critic made an incognito visit to the restaurant.

in-co-her-ent /ɪnˈkɑːhɪrənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not coherent: such as a : not able to talk or express yourself in a clear way that can be easily understood • The fever made her incoherent. • He was very upset and practically incoherent after the accident. • an incoherent patient b : not logical or well-organized : not easy to understand • an incoherent story [=a story that does not make sense] • The memo is completely incoherent.

— in-co-her-ence /ɪnˈkɑːhɪrəns/ noun [noncount] • The patient experiences periods of incoherence. • They criticized him for the incoherence of his writing. — in-co-her-ent-ly adv • She responded incoherently.

in-come /ɪnˈkɑːm/ noun, pl -comes : money that is earned from work, investments, business, etc. [noncount] Any income from investments must be reported. • taxable income • Farming is his main source of income. [count] Even on two incomes, we're having a hard time keeping up with our bills. • He earns a good income as a consultant. • What was the company's annual income? • families with low/high incomes • a two-income family [=a family in which both adults have jobs that provide income] • low-income housing [=housing for people who have low incomes]

in-com-er /ɪnˈkɑːmə/ noun, pl -ers [count] Brit : a person who comes to a place to live income tax noun, pl ~ taxes : a tax paid on the money that a person or business receives as income [noncount] Federal income tax will be deducted from your pay. [count] The new law will lower income taxes for most taxpayers.

in-com-ing /ɪnˈkɑːmɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun : coming in: such as a : arriving at or coming to a place • All incoming phone calls are monitored for quality control. • incoming mail/messages • Incoming [=arriving] flights were delayed by the storm. • the incoming tide b : taking a place or position that is being left by another person or group • the incoming president • the incoming [=new] freshman class — opposite OUTGOING in-com-mu-ni-ca-do /ɪnˈkɑːmjʊːnəˈkɑːdou/ adj, not used before a noun, formal : not able to communicate with other people : in a situation or state that does not allow communication with other people • The prisoner was held/kept incommunicado for six weeks. • She remained incommunicado while working on her book.

in-com-pa-ra-ble /ɪnˈkɑːmpərəbəl/ adj : better than any other : having no equal • The quality of their products is incomparable. • an incomparable musician • an incomparable view of the valley

— in-com-pa-ra-bly /ɪnˈkɑːmpərəbli/ adv • an incomparably beautiful view

in-com-pat-i-ble /ɪnˈkɑːpætəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not compatible: such as a : not able to exist together without trouble or conflict : not going together well • incompatible people [=people who do not get along well with each other] • Their personalities were incompatible. • incompatible colors • a policy that is incompatible with my beliefs [=that does not agree with my beliefs] b : not able to be used together • incompatible computer systems • incompatible drugs

• This printer is incompatible with some PCs.

— in-com-pat-i-bil-i-ty /ˌɪnkəm,pætə'bɪləti/ noun, pl -ties [noncount] She sued for divorce on the grounds of incompatibility. • software incompatibility • incompatibility between drugs [count] Certain incompatibilities can prevent the program from running correctly.

in-com-pe-tence /ɪn'kɑ:mpətəns/ noun [noncount] : lack of the ability to do something well : the quality or state of not being competent • mental incompetence • Because of his incompetence, we won't make our deadline. • She was fired for gross incompetence. — opposite COMPETENCE in-com-pe-ten-cy /ɪn'kɑ:mpətənsi/ noun [noncount] : IN-COMPETENCE

¹in-com-pe-tent /ɪn'kɑ:mpətənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not competent: such as a : lacking necessary ability or skills • an incompetent worker/doctor • He is too incompetent to be trusted with such an important responsibility. • The patient is mentally incompetent. b law : not able to take part in a trial • The defendant was declared incompetent to stand trial. • an incompetent witness

— in-com-pe-tent-ly adv • The investigation was handled incompetently.

²incompetent noun, pl -tents [count] : a person who is not able to do something well : an incompetent person • That department is full of incompetents.

in-com-plete /ˌɪnkəm'pli:t/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : lacking some part : not finished : not complete • an incomplete set of encyclopedias • The sentence is incomplete. • She handed in an incomplete assignment.

2 American football, of a forward pass : not caught by the player the ball was thrown to • an incomplete pass

— in-com-plete-ly adv • incompletely digested food • an incompletely understood disease — in-com-plete-ness noun [noncount]

in-com-pre-hen-si-ble /ɪn,kɑ:mpri'hensəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : impossible to understand : not comprehensible • I found his behavior utterly incomprehensible. • It's incomprehensible to me that he could have acted that way. • an incomprehensible theory/decision — in-com-pre-hen-si-bil-i-ty /ɪn,kɑ:mpri,hensə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] — in-com-pre-hen-si-bly /ɪn,kɑ:mpri'hensəbli/ adv

in-com-pre-hen-sion /ɪn,kɑ:mpri'hensjən/ noun [noncount] : lack of understanding • She gave me a look of complete/utter incomprehension. • He viewed the situation with incomprehension.

in-con-ceiv-able /ˌɪnkən'si:vəbəl/ adj : impossible to imagine or believe : not conceivable • It's inconceivable (to me) that anyone could have survived such a violent crash. • The fire caused an inconceivable amount of damage. • After coming this far, to quit now would be inconceivable.

— in-con-ceiv-ably /ˌɪnkən'si:vəbli/ adv • The fire caused an inconceivably large amount of damage.

in-con-clu-sive /ˌɪnkən'klu:sɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not showing that something is certainly true : not conclusive • The results of the test were/proved inconclusive. • inconclusive evidence • an inconclusive argument • The first two rounds of the boxing match were inconclusive.

— in-con-clu-sive-ly adv • The first round ended inconclusively, with no clear winner.

in-con-gru-ous /ɪn'kɑ:ŋgrəwəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : strange because of not agreeing with what is usual or expected • His outburst seemed incongruous to those who know him well. • The style of the porch is incongruous with [=does not match] the style of the house overall. • The modern sculpture seems incongruous [=out of place] among all the antiques.

— in-con-gru-i-ty /ˌɪnkən'gru:wəti/ noun, pl -ties [count, noncount] — in-con-gru-ous-ly adv

in-con-se-quen-tial /ɪn,kɑ:nsə'kwɛnsjəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not important • inconsequential evidence/differences • His opinion is inconsequential.

in-con-sid-er-able /ˌɪnkən'sɪdərəbəl/ adj, formal : not large enough in size or amount to be considered important — used in negative statements • a woman of not inconsiderable wealth [=a wealthy woman] • It was a not inconsiderable accomplishment. [=it was not a trivial accomplishment; it was an important or impressive accomplishment] • He played no inconsiderable role [=his role was important] in resolving the crisis.

in-con-sid-er-ate /ˌɪnkən'sɪdərət/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not thinking about the rights and feelings of other people

: not considerate • an inconsiderate [=thoughtless] remark • He was rude and inconsiderate to the waiter. • There is no excuse for such inconsiderate behavior. — often + of • It was inconsiderate of you to keep me waiting. • She is very inconsiderate of her neighbors.

— in-con-sid-er-ate-ly adv • He treats people inconsiderately.

in-con-sis-ten-cy /ˌɪnkən'sɪstənsi/ noun, pl -cies

1 : the quality or fact of being inconsistent: such as a [noncount] : the quality or fact of not staying the same at different times • Police noticed inconsistency in his two statements. • Customers have been complaining about the inconsistency in the quality of service they have received. • The team's biggest problem has been inconsistency: it has played well at times, but at other times it has played very poorly. b : the quality or fact of having parts that disagree with each other [noncount] There is some inconsistency in her argument. [count] Careful editing of the entire text has eliminated inconsistencies of style.

2 [count] : a difference or disagreement between two statements which means that both cannot be true • We noted a major inconsistency in his story.

in-con-sis-tent /ˌɪnkən'sɪstənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not consistent: such as a : not always acting or behaving in the same way • His pitching has been very inconsistent. [=unreliable] • Customers have been complaining about the inconsistent service they have received. b : not continuing to happen or develop in the same way • The pain has been inconsistent. • Her grades have been inconsistent this school year. c : having parts that disagree with each other • Their descriptions of the accident were inconsistent. • The results of the two experiments were inconsistent. • She was inconsistent in her argument. [=her argument included parts that did not agree with one another] : not in agreement with something • His statements were inconsistent with the truth. [=were not true] • The decision was inconsistent with the company's policy.

— in-con-sis-tent-ly adv • The team has been playing inconsistently all season.

in-con-sol-able /ˌɪnkən'souləbəl/ adj : extremely sad and not able to be comforted • She was inconsolable when she learned that he had died.

— in-con-sol-ably /ˌɪnkən'souləbli/ adv • The child cried inconsolably.

in-con-spic-u-ous /ˌɪnkən'spɪkjəwəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not very easy to see or notice : not conspicuous • an inconspicuous brick building • She tried to remain as inconspicuous as possible so that no one would see her there.

— in-con-spic-u-ous-ly adv • He always dressed inconspicuously in a gray suit.

in-con-stant /ɪn'kɑ:nstənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 literary : likely to change in feelings • an inconstant friend/lover

2 formal : changing often • an inconstant world • the inconstant nature of the business in-con-test-able /ˌɪnkən'testəbəl/ adj, formal : not able to be doubted or questioned : INDISPUTABLE • The evidence against him is incontestable. • an incontestable fact — in-con-test-ably /ˌɪnkən'testəbli/ adv • They proved incontestably that the painting was an original. • incontestably true in-con-ti-nent /ɪn'kɑ:ntənənt/ adj, medical : not having control of your bladder or bowels • special products for incontinent patients

— in-con-ti-nence /ɪn'kɑ:ntənəns/ noun [noncount]

in-con-tro-vert-ible /ɪn,kɑ:ntɹə'vətəbəl/ adj, formal : not able to be doubted or questioned : INDISPUTABLE • incontrovertible evidence/proof

— in-con-tro-vert-ibly /ɪn,kɑ:ntɹə'vətəbli/ adv • proved the point incontrovertibly

¹in-con-ve-nience /ˌɪnkən'vi:njəns/ noun, pl -niences

1 [noncount] : trouble or problems • I hope this delay doesn't cause you any inconvenience. • Bridge repairs cannot be done without some inconvenience to the public.

2 [count] : something that causes trouble or problems : something that is inconvenient • Parking in the city can be a major inconvenience. • The delay was an inconvenience.

²inconvenience verb -niences; -nienced; -niencing [+obj] : to cause trouble or problems for (someone) • I wouldn't want to inconvenience you. • We were inconvenienced by the bad weather.

in-con-ve-nient /ˌɪnkən'vi:njənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

: causing trouble or problems : not convenient • The restaurant is in an inconvenient location. • I can call back if this is an inconvenient time to talk. = I can call back if it's inconvenient for you to talk now. • an inconvenient delay

— in-con-ve-nient-ly adv

in-cor-po-rate /ɪn'kɒpə, reɪt/ verb -rates; -rat-ed; -rat-ing

1 [+ obj] : to include (something) as part of something else • This design incorporates the best features of our earlier models. • a diet that incorporates many different fruits and vegetables — often + in or into • The results of the study were incorporated in the final report. • The committee recommended that we incorporate several new rules into the bylaws.

2 business : to form into a corporation [+ obj] The company was incorporated in 1981. [no obj] The company incorporated in 1981.

— in-cor-po-ra-tion /ɪn,kɒpə'reɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the incorporation of different musical styles • plans for the eventual incorporation of the company in-cor-por-a-ted /ɪn'kɒpə, reɪtəd/ adj : formed into a legal corporation in the U.S. • The company is incorporated in the state of Delaware. — often used in the names of corporations • Merriam-Webster, Incorporated — abbr. Inc.

in-cor-po-re-al /ɪn,kɒpə'ri:əl/ adj, formal : having no physical body or form • incorporeal spirits in-cor-rect /ɪn,kə'rekt/ adj : not correct: such as a : not true or accurate : WRONG • an incorrect answer • The doctor's diagnosis was incorrect. • The story in the newspaper is incorrect. • incorrect information b : having errors or mistakes • a grammatically incorrect sentence • incorrect pronunciation/punctuation/spelling/usage c : not proper or appropriate in a particular situation • Their behavior was incorrect. = It was incorrect of them to behave like that. • The restaurant considers jeans and T-shirts incorrect attire for dinner. — see also POLITICALLY INCORRECT

— in-cor-rect-ly adv • You filled out the form incorrectly. • He answered several questions incorrectly. — in-cor-rect-ness noun [noncount] in-cor-ri-gi-ble /ɪn'kɒrədʒəbəl/ adj : not able to be corrected or changed • an incorrigible gambler/optimist/prankster • an incorrigible habit of playing practical jokes • He is always the class clown and his teachers say he is incorrigible.

— in-cor-ri-gi-bly /ɪn'kɒrədʒəbli/ adv • incorrigibly [= hopelessly, incurably] romantic in-cor-rupt-ible /ɪn,kə'rʌptəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very honest : incapable of being corrupted • He was trusted, respected, and completely incorruptible. • the town's incorruptible mayor

— in-cor-rupt-ibil-i-ty /ɪn,kə'rʌptə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

¹in-crease /ɪn'kri:s/ verb -creas-es; -creased; -creas-ing

1 [no obj] : to become larger or greater in size, amount, number, etc. • Sales increased [= rose] this year. • The store is increasing [= raising] its prices. • Skill increases with practice. • The population is increasing [= growing] dramatically. • The house increased in value.

2 [+ obj] : to make (something) larger or greater in size, amount, number, etc. • They will soon increase [= raise] the price from $50 to $60. • She increased her wealth substantially. • The pilot increased speed. — opposite DECREASE

— increased adj • These symptoms are associated with an increased risk of heart disease. — increasing adj • There has been increasing criticism of his policies.

²in-crease /ɪn'kri:s/ noun, pl -creas-es

1 : the act of becoming larger or of making something larger or greater in size, amount, number, etc. [count] a tax increase • population increases • increases in sales • an increase in life expectancy [noncount] The employees expect some increase in wages. • The construction will probably cause some increase in traffic delays.

2 [count] : the amount by which something is made larger or greater • The report showed increases of between 20 and 30 percent. • an increase of three dollars — opposite DECREASE on the increase : becoming more in size, amount, number, etc. : increasing • The number of college applications is on the increase. [= on the rise] in-creas-ing-ly /ɪn'kri:sɪŋli/ adv : more and more : to an increasing degree • People are becoming increasingly aware of this problem. • Increasingly, scientists are questioning the data. • The situation grew increasingly hopeless.

in-cred-i-ble /ɪn'kredəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : difficult or impossible to believe • The movie tells an in- credible story of survival. • an incredible coincidence • I find his explanation pretty incredible. • Incredible as it may seem, she's had no formal training as an artist. • It's incredible to me that such a lazy person could be so successful.

2 : extremely good, great, or large • a person of incredible [= extraordinary] skill/talent/intelligence • a landscape of incredible beauty • The new job is an incredible opportunity. • We have put an incredible amount of work into this project.

— in-cred-i-bly /ɪn'kredəbli/ adv • The snow fell incredibly fast. • Incredibly, she has had no formal training as an artist. • an incredibly [= extremely] dangerous sport • The exam was incredibly difficult.

in-cre-du-li-ty /ɪn,kri'du:ləti, Brit ɪn,kri'dju:ləti/ noun [noncount] : a feeling that you do not or cannot believe or accept that something is true or real : DISBELIEF • The news of his death was met with expressions of incredulity.

in-cred-u-lous /ɪn'kredʒələs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not able or willing to believe something : feeling or showing a lack of belief • She listened to his explanation with an incredulous smile. • He was incredulous at the news. • Many people were incredulous that such a small fire could have caused so much damage.

— in-cred-u-lous-ly adv • She listened incredulously as he explained his decision.

in-cre-ment /ɪnkrəmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count] : a usually small amount or degree by which something is made larger or greater • They increased the dosage of the drug in small increments over a period of several weeks. • Fines increase in increments of $10. • The volume is adjustable in 10 equal increments. • (Brit) Employees receive an annual increment [= an annual raise in salary; an annual salary increase] of three percent.

— in-cre-men-tal /ɪnkrə'mentl/ adj • incremental changes [= changes that occur in small amounts or very gradually] • incremental additions — in-cre-men-tally /ɪnkrə'mentli/ adv • The business grew incrementally.

in-crim-i-nate /ɪn'krɪmə, neɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to appear guilty of or responsible for something (such as a crime) • Material found at the crime scene incriminates the defendant.

— incriminating adj [more ~; most ~] • incriminating evidence • a very incriminating conversation/document — in-crim-i-na-tion /ɪn,kɪmə'neɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

in-cu-bate /ɪn'kjə, beɪt/ verb -bates; -bat-ed; -bat-ing

1 a [+ obj] of a bird : to sit on eggs so that they will be kept warm and will hatch • The female bird incubates the eggs. b [no obj] of an egg : to be kept warm before hatching • The eggs need to incubate for two weeks.

2 technical : to keep (something) in the proper conditions for development [+ obj] Researchers incubated the cells in the laboratory. [no obj] The cultures must incubate for five more days. • The virus will incubate in the body for several days before the patient experiences any symptoms. — sometimes used figuratively • The plan had been incubating [= developing] in his mind for several weeks.

— in-cu-ba-tion /ɪn'kjə'beɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [noncount] The temperature must remain steady during incubation. • a long incubation period [= a time during which something (such as an egg) is incubating or being incubated] [count] a long incubation

in-cu-ba-tor /ɪn'kjə, beɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count]

1 : a device that is used to keep eggs warm before they hatch
2 medical : a piece of equipment in which very weak or sick babies are placed for special care and protection after their birth

3 business : an organization or place that helps in the development of new businesses in-cul-cate /ɪn'kal, keɪt, ɪn,kal, keɪt/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing [+ obj] formal : to cause (something) to be learned by (someone) by repeating it again and again • The teacher inculcated in her students the importance of good study habits. • A sense of responsibility was inculcated in the students. = The students were inculcated with a sense of responsibility.

in-cum-ben-cy /ɪn'kʌmbənsi/ noun, pl -cies formal

1 [count] : the time during which a person holds a particular office or position • Hundreds of new jobs were created during her incumbency.

2 : the state of holding a particular office or position [noncount] the advantages of incumbency during an election [count] a politician seeking to keep his incumbency

¹in-cum-bent /ɪn'kʌmbənt/ noun, pl -bents [count] : a person who holds a particular office or position • Voters will have the chance to see the incumbent and her opponent in a series of three debates. • Incumbents often have an advantage in elections.

2 incumbent /ɪnˈkʌmbənt/ adj, always used before a noun, formal : holding an office or position • the incumbent president/mayor/senator • incumbent members of Congress incumbent on or incumbent upon formal : necessary as a duty for (someone) • It is incumbent on us to help. [=it is our duty to help] • It is incumbent upon all employees to participate. [=all employees are required to participate] in-cur /ɪnˈkʌ/ verb -curs; -curred; -cur-ring [+ obj] formal : to cause yourself to have or experience (something unpleasant or unwanted) • incur expenses/debt • What did he do to incur such wrath?

in-cur-able /ɪnˈkjərəbəl/ adj

1 : impossible to cure : not curable • an incurable disease

2 : not likely to be changed • He's an incurable romantic. • an incurable gossip/optimist

— in-cur-ably /ɪnˈkjərəbli/ adv • incurably ill • incurably [=hopelessly] romantic in-cu-ri-ous /ɪnˈkjəriəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : having no desire to learn or know more about something or someone : not curious • She is remarkably incurious about the natural world.

in-cur-sion /ɪnˈkɜːʒən/ noun, pl -sions [count] formal : a sudden invasion or attack : an act of entering a place or area that is controlled by an enemy • a military incursion • an incursion into enemy airspace — often used figuratively • an incursion of foreign traders into the domestic market • his only incursion [=foray] into the arts in-debt-ed /ɪnˈdetəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : owing something (such as money or thanks) to someone or something : in debt • heavily/deeply indebted countries/companies — often + to • The museum is deeply indebted to its many generous patrons. • She will forever be indebted to the hospital staff for saving her son's life.

— in-debt-ed-ness noun [noncount] — often + to • She readily acknowledges her great indebtedness to the hospital staff for saving her son's life.

in-de-cen-cy /ɪnˈdiːnsi/ noun, pl -cies

1 [noncount] : a morally or sexually offensive quality : an indecent quality • The book has been criticized for indecentcy. • I was shocked by the indecentcy of their language.

2 : behavior that is morally or sexually offensive : indecent behavior [noncount] He was arrested for public indecentcy. [=for doing something indecent in public, such as exposing his sexual organs] [count] He was accused of sexual indecentcies.

in-de-cent /ɪnˈdiːsnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not decent: such as a : sexually offensive or shocking • indecent photos b of clothes : not covering enough of your body • indecent clothing c : using language that offends people : including behavior or ideas that people find offensive • an indecent joke • indecent language d : not appropriate or proper • He took indecent pleasure in her troubles.

— in-de-cent-ly adv • an indecently short skirt • indecently dressed indecent assault noun [noncount] law : the crime of touching someone sexually without that person's permission indecent exposure noun [noncount] law : the crime of showing your sexual organs to other people in public in-de-ci-pher-able /ɪnˈdiːsɪfərəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : impossible to read or understand : not decipherable • His handwriting is almost indecipherable. • an indecipherable code/message in-de-ci-sion /ɪnˈdiːsɪʒən/ noun [noncount] : difficulty in making a decision • They were paralyzed by indecision.

in-de-ci-sive /ɪnˈdiːsaɪsɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not decisive: such as a : not able to make choices quickly and confidently • an indecisive person • She's always been very indecisive. b : not settling something or making something final or certain • an indecisive battle • The meeting was indecisive.

— in-de-ci-sive-ly adv • The conflict ended indecisively.

— in-de-ci-sive-ness noun [noncount]

in-deed /ɪnˈdiːd/ adv

1 : without any question — used to stress the truth of a statement • Indeed, he is a great poet. = He is indeed a great poet. • This is indeed [=certainly] a matter of great importance. • They were indeed heroes, though they were never honored. • She does indeed work here. • I will indeed be there. • The problem is a serious one indeed. • “Do you know him?” “I do indeed.” = “Indeed I do.” • “Do you know him?”

“Yes, indeed!” [=I certainly do] — often used after very • This is a very nice house indeed. • Thank you very much indeed.

2 — used in response to a statement that is regarded as doubtful or surprising • “I did my best.” “Did you indeed?” • “The project is still on schedule.” “Is it indeed?” • “He claims that it was just a misunderstanding.” “Indeed?”

3 formal — used when making a statement that adds to or strengthens a previous statement • He likes to have things his own way; indeed, he can be very stubborn. • She is quite lovely, indeed a beauty. • Many people objected. Indeed, my uncle complained in writing. • It is possible—indeed, probable—that the crime was an inside job.

4 — used in a question that repeats and emphasizes a preceding question to show that you do not know the answer • “How can we help them?” “How, indeed?” • “When will they come here again?” “When, indeed?”

a friend in need is a friend indeed see FRIEND in-de-fat-i-ga-ble /ɪnˈdiːfætɪgəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : able to work or continue for a very long time without becoming tired : TIRELESS • an indefatigable campaigner • a person of indefatigable patience/enthusiasm/optimism

— in-de-fat-i-ga-bly /ɪnˈdiːfætɪgəbli/ adv • She works indefatigably on behalf of her clients.

in-de-fen-si-ble /ɪnˈdiːfensəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not defensible: such as a : not able to be thought of as good or acceptable • The company adopted an indefensible position on the issue. • His behavior is ethically indefensible. • Slavery is morally indefensible. b : not able to be kept safe from damage or harm • The city is in an indefensible location.

in-de-fin-able /ɪnˈdiːfaɪnəbəl/ adj : impossible to describe or explain • He has an indefinable quality that draws people to him.

— in-de-fin-ably /ɪnˈdiːfaɪnəbli/ adv

in-def-i-nite /ɪnˈdefənət/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not definite: such as a : not certain in amount or length • We're stuck here for an indefinite period of time. • Their plans have been put on indefinite hold. b : not clear or certain in meaning or details : VAGUE • an indefinite answer/boundary • She is indefinite about her plans. • Our plans are indefinite.

— in-def-i-nite-ness noun [noncount] • the indefiniteness of their plans

indefinite article noun, pl ~ -cles [count] : the word a or an used in English to refer to a person or thing that is not identified or specified • In “I gave a book to the boy” the word “a” is an indefinite article and the word “the” is a definite article.; also : a word that has a similar use in another language in-def-i-nite-ly /ɪnˈdefənətli/ adv : for a period of time that might not end • It's foolish to think that economic growth will continue indefinitely. [=forever] • Their vacation has been postponed indefinitely. [=until a later time that has not yet been decided] indefinite pronoun noun, pl ~ -nouns [count] : a pronoun that does not refer to a specific person or thing • “Anyone,” “something,” and “few” are indefinite pronouns.

in-del-i-ble /ɪnˈdeləbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : impossible to remove or forget • Her performance made an indelible [=unforgettable] impression on me. • His achievements left an indelible [=enduring] mark on the era. • an indelible image

2 : producing marks that cannot be erased • an indelible pencil • indelible [=permanent] ink

— in-del-i-bly /ɪnˈdeləbli/ adv • scenes/images indelibly captured on film • two names indelibly [=permanently] linked in the public mind in-del-i-cate /ɪnˈdelɪkət/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not polite : having or showing bad manners or taste : RUDE • Many consider it indelicate to talk about such things in mixed company. • an indelicate question — in-del-i-ca-cy /ɪnˈdelɪkəsi/ noun, pl -cies [count, noncount] • Everyone was shocked by the indelicacy [=rudeness] of his questions. — in-del-i-cate-ly adv

in-dem-ni-fy /ɪnˈdemnəˌfaɪ/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing [+ obj] law

1 : to protect (someone) by promising to pay for the cost of possible future damage, loss, or injury • The policy indemnifies [=insures] you against/for any losses caused by fire. [=the policy promises that if fire destroys things that you own, you will be given money to buy new things]

2 : to give (someone) money or another kind of payment for some damage, loss, or injury • He was required to indemnify [=compensate] his neighbor for the damage he caused.

– in-dem-ni-fi-ca-tion /ɪn,dɛm.nə.fəˈkeɪʃən/ noun [non-count] • indemnification for loss/damages

in-dem-ni-ty /ɪnˈdɛm.nə.ti/ noun, pl -ties law

1 [noncount] : a promise to pay for the cost of possible damage, loss, or injury • an agreement providing indemnity against prosecution/loss — often used before another noun • an indemnity plan/agreement

2 [count] : a payment made to someone because of damage, loss, or injury • has paid $2 million in indemnities

¹in-dent /ɪnˈdɛnt/ verb -dents; -dent-ed; -dent-ing

1 : to start (one or more lines of text) farther to the right than other lines of text [+ obj] The first line of each paragraph should be indented. [no obj] Don't forget to indent when starting a new paragraph.; also [+ obj] : to end (one or more lines of text) farther to the left than other lines of text • The second paragraph is indented from the right margin.

2 [+ obj] : to make the edge of (something) go sharply inward : to create an indentation in (something) • Many tiny inlets indent the coast. [=there are many tiny inlets along the coast]

3 [no obj] Brit : to order something from the person or place that can supply it • We indented (on headquarters) for supplies.

– in-dent-ed adj [more ~; most ~] • an indented paragraph • deeply indented leaves • an indented coastline

²in-dent /ɪnˈdɛnt/ noun, pl -dents [count] : a space at the beginning of a written line or paragraph • Start each paragraph with an indent. • a half-inch indent

in-den-ta-tion /ɪn,dɛnˈteɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 a [count] : a space at the beginning of a written line or paragraph : INDENT • a smaller/larger indentation b [non-count] : the act of indenting a line or paragraph • Our style guidelines call for indentation of the first line of each paragraph.

2 [count] a : a cut in or into the edge of something • A slight indentation [=notch] was cut into the wood. b : an area where the edge of something goes sharply inward • a coastline with many indentations

3 [count] : a small hole or inward curve made by pressure : DENT • There were several small indentations in the surface of the table. • bowl-shaped indentations

in-den-tured /ɪnˈdɛntʃəd/ adj : required by a contract to work for a certain period of time • immigrants who came to the U.S. as indentured servants 200 years ago

in-de-pen-dence /ɪndəˈpɛndəns/ noun

1 : freedom from outside control or support : the state of being independent [noncount] They are fighting for independence from colonial rule. [=fighting because they want to stop being a colony ruled by another country] • Her ambition is to achieve financial independence. [=to earn all the money she needs; to not depend on money given by anyone else] • She asserted her independence from her parents by getting her own apartment. • The country declared (its) independence. [=said that it would no longer accept the rule of another country] • a war of independence [=a war that is fought to gain independence] [singular] He has shown a fierce independence of spirit/thought.

2 [noncount] : the time when a country or region gains political freedom from outside control • A month after independence, elections were held.

Independence Day noun [noncount] : a holiday celebrating the anniversary of a country's independence from another country that ruled it in the past; especially : July 4 celebrated as a legal holiday in the U.S. in honor of the day when the Declaration of Independence was signed in 1776

¹in-de-pen-dent /ɪndəˈpɛndənt/ adj

1 : not dependent: such as a : not controlled or ruled by another country • The country recently became independent. • an independent nation b : not controlled by other people • They have a good deal of independent authority. • an independent investigator [=a person who is not directly involved in a situation or dispute and who is free to investigate problems and make judgments about what should be done] c : not requiring or relying on other people for help or support • She has an independent income. • She is a woman of independent means. [=she has enough money to support herself without help from others] d : not associated with or owned by a larger business • an independent record label • an independent film studio • an independent bookstore • They hired an independent contractor [=a person hired to do work who controls how the work is done] to fix the roof.; also : produced by an independent company • an independent film

2 : separate from and not connected to other people, things,

etc. • Another laboratory has provided independent confirmation of the test results. • She is doing an independent study in Art History this semester. [=a course of study done by a student without an instructor or with help from an instructor but not as part of an organized class] • This car has four-wheel independent suspension. [=each of the four wheels has its own set of supports for the body of the car] — often + of • The women enjoyed rights independent of their husbands. • The speed of the particle is independent of its wavelength. [=is not connected/related to its wavelength]

3 [more ~; most ~] : acting or thinking freely instead of being guided by other people • She is a very independent person. • She has an independent mind/spirit. • She's an independent thinker. • They lead an independent life.

4 politics : not belonging to a political party • independent voters • an independent candidate – in-de-pen-dent-ly adv • They were working independently from/of one another. • Every store is independently owned and operated. • She's independently wealthy. • He continues to live independently despite his injuries.

²independent noun, pl -dents [count]

1 : someone or something that is not connected to others of the same kind • He started publishing a trendy independent [=an independent newspaper or magazine] that covers controversial topics. • The school left the conference to become an independent. [=a school whose sports teams are not associated with a league]

2 or Independent politics : a person who does not belong to a political party • She registered to vote as an Independent.

independent clause noun, pl ~ clauses [count] grammar : MAIN CLAUSE in-depth /ɪnˈdɛpθ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : covering many or all important points of a subject : THOROUGH • an in-depth investigation/analysis • in-depth news coverage • This film takes an in-depth look at life on the farm.

in-de-scrib-able /ɪndrɪˈskraɪbəbəl/ adj : impossible to describe : very great or extreme • indescribable beauty/joy/relief • indescribable pain

– in-de-scrib-ably /ɪndrɪˈskraɪbəbli/ adv • an indescribably delicious meal

in-de-struc-ti-ble /ɪndrɪˈstrʌktəbəl/ adj : impossible to break or destroy • indestructible toys • They claim that the watch is virtually/nearly indestructible. [=unbreakable] • He was 20 years old and felt that he was indestructible. [=he felt that nothing could harm him]

– in-de-struc-ti-bil-i-ty /ɪndəˈstrʌktəˈbɪləti/ noun [non-count] • He had a feeling of indestructibility.

in-de-ter-mi-nate /ɪndrɪˈtəməˌnət/ adj, formal : not able to be stated or described in an exact way • a man of indeterminate [=uncertain] age • an indeterminate number of people • an indeterminate color

– in-de-ter-mi-na-cy /ɪndrɪˈtəməˌnəsi/ noun [noncount] • in-de-ter-mi-nate-ly adv • an indeterminately large number

¹in-dex /ɪnˈdɛks/ noun, pl in-dex-es or in-di-ces /ɪndɛˈsiːz/ [count]

1 pl usually indexes : an ordered list: such as a : an alphabetical list at the end of a book that shows the page where each thing in the list can be found • Look up the recipe for potato soup in the index. • Potato soup is listed under “soup” in the index. b : a group of related things that are in alphabetical or numerical order • The card catalog is an index to the materials in the library.

2 : a sign or number that shows how something is changing or performing • The price of goods is an index [=indication] of business conditions. : a number that indicates changes in the level of something (such as a stock market) when it rises or falls • a stock index • certain economic indexes/indices (Brit) an index-linked pension [=a pension that is linked to an index (such as the retail price index) so that it rises or falls as the index does] — see also CONSUMER PRICE INDEX, RETAIL PRICE INDEX

3 : a device used to point to something (such as a number) the index on a scale

²index verb -dexes; -dexed; -dex-ing [+ obj]

1 : to provide an index for (something, such as a book) — usually used as (be) indexed • an indexed book [=a book that has an index]

2 : to list or include (something) in an index • This search engine has indexed hundreds of millions of Web sites. — often used as (be) indexed • Each term in the book is indexed.

3 : to link wages, benefits, etc., to a measurement of changes in the price of goods and services so that they increase at the same rate — usually used as (be) indexed to • Social security benefits are indexed to inflation. [=social security benefits increase when inflation occurs]

index card noun, pl ~ cards [count] : a thin paper card used especially for creating an alphabetical index

index finger noun, pl ~ -gers [count] : the finger next to the thumb : FOREFINGER — see picture at HAND

In-dia ink /'ɪndijə-/ noun [noncount] US : black ink used especially for drawing — called also (Brit) Indian ink

In-di-an /'ɪndijən/ noun, pl -ans [count]

1 : a person born, raised, or living in India

2 often offensive : NATIVE AMERICAN usage see NATIVE AMERICAN — Indian adj • Indian culture/food/music • a person of Indian descent • an Indian word

Indian corn noun [noncount] US

1 : ¹CORN 1a

2 : corn that has seeds (called kernels) of several different colors on each ear and that is used for decoration

Indian summer noun, pl ~ -mers [count]

1 : a period of warm weather in late autumn or early winter

2 : a happy or pleasant period near the end of someone's life, career, etc. • She is in the Indian summer of her career.

in-di-cate /'ɪndə,keɪt/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing

1 [+ obj] : to show (something) • Our records indicate a depth of 3,000 feet here. • Studies indicate (that) this chemical could cause cancer. • The map indicates where the treasure is buried. : to show that (something) exists or is true • There is nothing to indicate that the two events are connected. • The size of his offer indicates that he is eager to buy the house. • His hot forehead indicates a fever. = His hot forehead indicates that he has a fever.

2 [+ obj] : to direct attention to (someone or something) usually by pointing • The general used a long ruler to indicate on the map exactly where the troops would land. • We asked how to get to the rear entrance, and he indicated a path leading around the right side of the building.

3 [+ obj] : to show or suggest that (something) is needed — usually used as (be) indicated • Further testing is indicated. [=is called for; is necessary] • He feels that a different approach is indicated.

4 [+ obj] : to represent or be a symbol of (something or someone) • A pronoun used as a direct object indicates the person or thing receiving the action. • The markers indicate a distance of 50 yards. • A new paragraph indicates a change in topic. • In “my mother's coat,” the apostrophe and “s” indicate possession.

5 [+ obj] : to say or express (something) briefly • They have indicated their willingness/desire to cooperate. • She indicated [=wrote, said] in her letter that she's planning to arrive next week. • He nodded his head to indicate his approval. = He indicated his approval with a nod of his head.

6 [no obj] Brit : to make a signal which shows that you are going to turn when you are driving a vehicle • You forgot to indicate [= (US) signal] before you made your turn.

in-di-ca-tion /,ɪndə'keɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : something (such as a sign or signal) that points out or shows something [noncount] She gave no indication that she was angry. = She gave no indication [=hint] of her anger. • There is some indication [=suggestion] that the economy is recovering. [count] Her evaluation will give me a good indication of where I stand in the class. • There were indications that he was thinking of changing jobs. • There's every indication that the strike will end soon. [=it appears to be very likely that the strike will end soon]

¹in-dic-a-tive /ɪn'dɪkətɪv/ adj

1 not used before a noun [more ~; most ~] formal : showing something : indicating something — usually + of • His bitter remarks are indicative of the resentment he stills feels over losing his job. [=his bitter remarks show that he still feels resentment over losing his job] • Thin tree rings are indicative of slow growth. [=thin tree rings indicate that a tree has grown slowly]

2 grammar : of or relating to the verb form that is used to state a fact that can be known or proved • In “I walked to school,” the verb walked is in the indicative mood. • an indicative verb form — compare IMPERATIVE, SUBJUNCTIVE

²indicative noun

the indicative grammar : the form that a verb or sentence has when it is stating a fact that can be known or proved • a verb in the indicative

in-di-ca-tor /'ɪndə,keɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count]

1 : a sign that shows the condition or existence of something • Economic indicators suggest that prices will go up. — often + of • The size of the new building is an indicator of how much the company has grown. • Her expression is usually a good/reliable indicator of how she's feeling.

2 a : a pointer or light that shows the state or condition of something • a control panel with various indicator lights b

: a device that shows a measurement : GAUGE • an airspeed indicator c Brit : TURN SIGNAL

indices plural of ¹INDEX

in-dict /ɪn'daɪt/ verb -dicts; -dict-ed; -dict-ing [+ obj] chiefly US, law : to formally decide that someone should be put on trial for a crime • A grand jury is expected to indict him for murder. — often used as (be) indicted • She was arraigned in front of a judge and then indicted by a grand jury three weeks later. • He has been indicted by the grand jury on murder charges.

— in-dict-able /ɪn'daɪtəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • an indictable offense/crime

in-dict-ment /ɪn'daɪtmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 chiefly US, law a [count] : an official written statement charging a person with a crime • The grand jury has handed down indictments against several mobsters. b [noncount] : the act of officially charging someone with a crime : the act of indicting someone • No one was surprised by her indictment. • He is under indictment [=he has been indicted] for perjury by two federal grand juries.

2 [count] : an expression or statement of strong disapproval • She intended the film to be an indictment of the media.

in-die /'ɪndi/ adj, always used before a noun, informal : not connected with or created by a major producer of music or movies : INDEPENDENT • indie rock bands • an indie (record) label • the hit indie film of the year in-dif-fer-ence /ɪn'dɪfərəns/ noun : lack of interest in or concern about something : an indifferent attitude or feeling [noncount] She was amazed that some people could watch the trial with indifference. — often + to • You can go or you can stay. It's a matter of complete indifference to me. [=I do not care at all if you go or stay] • The government has shown complete/utter indifference to the struggles of organized labor. [singular] She watched them with a cool indifference.

— indie noun, pl -dies [count] • This film is not like other low-budget indies.

in-dif-fer-ent /ɪn'dɪfərənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not interested in or concerned about something • She was amazed that people could be so indifferent about the trial. [=could care so little about the trial] • The movie was poorly received by an indifferent public. — often + to • They seem to be indifferent to the problems of poor people.

2 : neither good nor bad : not very good • She was tired and gave a rather indifferent [=unimpressive] performance. • indifferent [=mediocre] leadership • Was the food good, bad, or indifferent?

— in-dif-fer-ent-ly adv • a biography received indifferently by the critics in-dig-e-nous /ɪn'dɪdʒənəs/ adj : produced, living, or existing naturally in a particular region or environment • He grows a wide variety of both indigenous [=native] and exotic plants. • an indigenous culture/language • There are several indigenous groups that still live in the area. — sometimes + to • These birds are indigenous to South America.

— in-dig-e-nous-ly adv

in-di-gent /'ɪndɪdʒənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : lacking money : very poor • Because he was indigent, the court appointed a lawyer to defend him. • The clinic provides free care for indigent patients.

in-di-gest-ible /,ɪndar'dʒestəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not capable of being used in the body as food • indigestible carbohydrates — sometimes + to • a substance that is indigestible to most mammals — often used in an exaggerated way to describe bad or unappealing food • an indigestible meal

2 : difficult to understand : complicated or confusing • Their presentation was an indigestible mass of information.

in-di-ges-tion /,ɪndar'dʒestʃən/ noun [noncount] : an unpleasant feeling (such as pain or a burning sensation) in your stomach or chest that is caused by difficulty in digesting food • The patient complained of indigestion and nausea. • I like spicy foods but they always give me indigestion. • an attack of indigestion • acid indigestion

in-dig-nant /ɪn'dɪgnənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling or showing anger because of something that is unfair or wrong : very angry • She wrote an indignant letter to the editor. • He was/got/became very indignant about/over the changes. • an indignant tone of voice in-dig-na-tion /ˌɪndɪɡˈneɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : anger caused by something that is unfair or wrong • The decision to close the factory has aroused the indignation of the townspeople. • He adopted a tone of moral/righteous indignation.

— in-dig-nant-ly adv • She indignantly [=angrily] denied all the accusations.

in-dig-ni-ty /ɪnˈdɪɡnəti/ noun, pl -ties : an act or occurrence that hurts someone's dignity or pride : an insulting or embarrassing act or occurrence [count] He remembers all the indignities he had to suffer in the early years of his career. • We must endure the indignities of growing old. [non-count] He suffered the indignity of being forced to leave the courtroom. • The indignity of it all was too much to bear.

in-di-go /ˈɪndɪɡou/ noun [noncount] : a deep purplish-blue color — see color picture on page C2

— indigo adj • an indigo sky

in-di-rect /ˌɪndəˈrekt/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : not direct: such as a : not going straight from one point to another • We took an indirect route. • These plants grow best in bright indirect light/sun.

b : not said or done in a clear and direct way • He gave only vague, indirect answers to our questions. • They used indirect methods of investigation. • There were many indirect references to his earlier books. • Looking at her watch was her indirect way of telling him it was time to leave. c : not having a clear and direct connection • Poor nutrition may have been an indirect cause of the disease. • The cigarette stubs were indirect evidence that someone had been smoking in the room.

2 grammar : stating what an original speaker said without exactly quoting the words • “He said that he would call later,” is an example of indirect speech/discourse since his actual words were “I’ll call later.” • an indirect question such as “She asked whether the doctor had arrived” • an indirect quotation

— in-di-rect-ly adv [more ~; most ~] • He was indirectly involved in the robbery. • The disease can be spread directly or indirectly. • He answered our questions indirectly. — in-di-rect-ness noun [noncount] indirect object noun, pl ~ -jects [count] grammar : a noun, pronoun, or noun phrase that occurs in addition to a direct object after some verbs and indicates the person or thing that receives what is being given or done • In “He gave me the book,” the direct object is “book” and the indirect object is “me.” — compare DIRECT OBJECT in-dis-cern-ible /ˌɪndɪˈsɜːnəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : impossible to see, hear, or know clearly • Hidden under vines and moss, the crumbling wall was almost indiscernible. • a change made for indiscernible reasons

in-dis-creet /ˌɪndɪˈskri:t/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not having or showing good judgment : revealing things that should not be revealed : not discreet • He was indiscreet about his love affairs. [=he told people about his love affairs when he should have kept them secret]; also : not polite • Should I ask you how you got that bruise, or would that be indiscreet? [= (more commonly) impolite, rude] • an indiscreet question — in-dis-creet-ly adv • He spoke indiscreetly about his love affairs.

in-dis-cre-tion /ˌɪndɪˈskreʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : lack of good judgment or care in behavior and especially in speech : lack of discretion • He has been criticized for showing indiscretion in his remarks. [=for carelessly saying things that should not be said]

2 [count] : an act or remark that shows a lack of good judgment : an indiscreet act or remark • She committed a few minor indiscretions. • He describes his drug use in college as just a youthful indiscretion. [=a minor mistake made by a young person]

in-dis-crim-i-nate /ˌɪndɪˈskrɪmənət/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving

1 : affecting or harming many people or things in a careless or unfair way • They participated in the indiscriminate slaughter of countless innocent victims. • He objects to the indiscriminate use of pesticides. • an indiscriminate attack

2 : not careful in making choices • She has been indiscriminate in choosing her friends.

— in-dis-crim-i-nate-ly adv

in-dis-pens-able /ˌɪndɪˈspensəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : extremely important and necessary • She is an indispens- able [=essential] part of the team. • an indispensable employee/tool — often + for or to • A calculator is an indispensable tool for solving these problems. • She is indispensable to the team.

— in-dis-pens-abil-i-ty /ˌɪndɪˈspensəˈbɪləti/ noun [non-count]

in-dis-posed /ˌɪndɪˈspouzd/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : slightly ill : not feeling well • He was (somewhat) indisposed by/with a cold. — often used as a polite way of saying that someone is sick or unable to be present without giving a specific reason • He was indisposed and unable to attend the banquet.

2 : not willing or likely to do something — followed by to + verb • Officials are indisposed to grant their request. [=officials do not want to grant their request] in-dis-po-si-tion /ɪnˌdɪspəˈzɪʃən/ noun, formal

1 [count] : a slight illness • He blamed his absence on a minor indisposition.

2 [singular] : lack of willingness to do something — followed by to + verb • The officials have shown an indisposition to grant their request.

in-dis-put-able /ˌɪndɪˈspjuːtəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : impossible to question or doubt : not disputable • He had indisputable [=unquestionable] proof that he had been there. • Her success is indisputable. [=undeniable]

— in-dis-put-ably /ˌɪndɪˈspjuːtəbli/ adv • an indisputably certain fact in-dis-sol-u-ble /ˌɪndɪˈsɑːljəbəl/ adj, formal : impossible to destroy, break up, or get rid of • an indissoluble contract • They are bound together by/with indissoluble [=permanent] ties/bonds.

— in-dis-sol-u-bil-i-ty /ˌɪndɪˈsɑːljəˈbɪləti/ noun [noncount]

— in-dis-sol-u-bly /ˌɪndɪˈsɑːljəbli/ adv • They are indissolubly [=permanently] linked/connected.

in-dis-tinct /ˌɪndɪˈstɪŋkt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not easily seen, heard, or recognized : not distinct or clear • indistinct figures in the fog • a far-off indistinct light • The sound was indistinct [=faint] at first, then gradually became louder.

— in-dis-tinct-ly adv • Her voice could only be heard indistinctly. [=faintly] — in-dis-tinct-ness noun [noncount]

in-dis-tin-guish-able /ˌɪndɪˈstɪŋɡwɪʃəbəl/ adj : unable to be recognized as different : impossible to distinguish clearly from something else • The copy and the original are practically indistinguishable. [=identical] — usually + from • The copy is practically indistinguishable from the original. [=the copy and the original are so similar that it is almost impossible to see any difference between them]

— in-dis-tin-guish-ably /ˌɪndɪˈstɪŋɡwɪʃəbli/ adv • The flavors merged indistinguishably together.

¹in-di-vid-u-al /ˌɪndəˈvɪdʒəwəl/ adj

1 always used before a noun : of, relating to, or existing as just one member or part of a larger group • What are the individual traits/characteristics of the breed? • The doctor carefully evaluates the individual needs of her patients. • Students will receive as much individual attention as possible. • The book is divided into individual [=separate] chapters. Each individual [=particular] case is different.

2 [more ~; most ~] : having a special and unusual quality that is easily seen • She has a very individual style of writing. • a pattern as individual as a fingerprint

3 always used before a noun : intended or designed for one person • individual servings of dessert

— in-di-vid-u-al-ly adv • Each student met individually [=separately] with the teacher. • bowls individually crafted from wood • Individually they don't amount to much, but as a group they're very powerful.

²individual noun, pl -als [count]

1 : a single person : a person who is considered separate from the rest of a group • They promote a philosophy that sacrifices the rights of the individual for the public welfare.

2 : a particular person • They are both rather odd individuals. • Are you the individual I spoke with on the telephone? • She's a very talented individual.

3 : a single member or part of a group • The markings on tigers are unique to each individual.

in-di-vid-u-al-ism /ˌɪndəˈvɪdʒəwəlɪzəm/ noun [noncount]

1 : the belief that the needs of each person are more important than the needs of the whole society or group • a society that believes strongly in individualism

2 : the actions or attitudes of a person who does things without being concerned about what other people will think • He was respected for his self-reliance and individualism.

in-di-vid-u-al-ist /ˌɪndəˈvɪdʒəwəlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count]
: a person who does things without being concerned about what other people will think • The school encourages children to be individualists.
– in-di-vid-u-al-is-tic /ˌɪndəˈvɪdʒəwəlɪstɪk/ also individualist adj • an individualistic approach to jazz music in-di-vid-u-al-i-ty /ˌɪndəˈvɪdʒəˈwæləti/ noun [noncount]
: the quality that makes one person or thing different from all others • She uses her clothing to express her individuality.
• materials that highlight the individuality of each piece in the collection in-di-vid-u-al-ize also Brit in-di-vid-u-al-ise /ˌɪndəˈvɪdʒəwəˈlaɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj]
1 : to make (something) different from other things • The author uses different styles to individualize the characters.
2 : to change (something) so that it fits each person's needs • Teachers should individualize their lessons to address differences in their students. • individualized computer programs – in-di-vid-u-al-i-za-tion also Brit in-di-vid-u-al-i-sa-tion /ˌɪndəˈvɪdʒəwələˈzeɪʃən, Brit ˌɪndəˈvɪdʒəwəˈlaɪˈzeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the individualization of lesson plans individual retirement account noun, pl ~ -counts [count] : IRA in-di-vis-i-ble /ˌɪndəˈvɪzəbəl/ adj, formal + literary : impossible to divide or separate : not divisible • an indivisible nation – in-di-vis-i-bil-i-ty /ˌɪndəˈvɪzəˈbɪləti/ noun [noncount] • He believes in the indivisibility of the mind and soul.
Indo- /ˈɪndou/ combining form : Indian and • He studies Indo-European languages.
in-doc-tri-nate /ɪnˈdɑːktrəˌneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [+ obj] disapproving : to teach (someone) to fully accept the ideas, opinions, and beliefs of a particular group and to not consider other ideas, opinions, and beliefs • The goal should be to teach politics, rather than to indoctrinate students in/with a narrow set of political beliefs.
– in-doc-tri-na-tion /ɪnˈdɑːktrəˌneɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the indoctrination of the new recruits
In-do-Eu-ro-pe-an /ˌɪndouˌjʊrəˈpiːjən/ adj : of or relating to a group of languages that includes many of the languages spoken in Europe, in the parts of the world colonized by Europeans, and in parts of Asia • Hindi, Polish, and English are Indo-European languages.
in-do-lent /ˈɪndələnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not liking to work or be active : LAZY • an indolent young man • She is indolent and irresponsible.
– in-do-lence /ˈɪndələns/ noun [noncount] • Some argue that television encourages indolence. – in-do-lent-ly adv
in-dom-i-ta-ble /ɪnˈdɑːmətəbəl/ adj, formal : impossible to defeat or discourage • Her spirit was indomitable. [=unconquerable] • her indomitable courage/strength/will
– in-dom-i-ta-bly /ɪnˈdɑːmətəbli/ adv • indomitably courageous in-door /ˈɪnˈdoə/ adj, always used before a noun : done, living, located, or used inside a building • an indoor sport • an indoor pet [=a pet that only lives inside] • an indoor pool — compare OUTDOOR in-doors /ˈɪnˈdoəz/ adv : in, inside, or into a building • The game will be played indoors. • He worked indoors all afternoon. • We went indoors when it began to rain. — compare OUTDOORS indorse, indorsement variant spellings of ENDORSE, ENDORSEMENT in-du-bi-ta-ble /ɪnˈduːbətəbəl, Brit ɪnˈdjuːbətəbəl/ adj, formal : certainly true : not able to be doubted • an indubitable truth – in-du-bi-ta-bly /ɪnˈduːbətəbli, Brit ɪnˈdjuːbətəbli/ adv • He was indubitably [=undoubtedly] the most capable officer on the staff.
in-duce /ɪnˈduːs, Brit ɪnˈdjuːs/ verb -duc-es; -duced; -duc-ing [+ obj]
1 somewhat formal : to cause (someone or something) to do something • The advertisement is meant to induce people to eat more fruit. • No one knows what induced him to leave.
2 : to cause (something) to happen or exist • medication to induce vomiting • Her illness was induced by overwork. • drug-induced sleep • a stress-induced illness
3 medical : to give (a pregnant woman) special medicine in order to make her give birth • The mother was induced. : to cause (labor or birth) to begin by giving special drugs to a pregnant woman • They will induce labor to avoid complications.

– in-duc-er noun, pl -ers [count] technical • He uses the herb as a sleep inducer.
in-duce-ment /ɪnˈduːsmənt, Brit ɪnˈdjuːsmənt/ noun, pl -ments formal : something that gives you a reason for doing something and makes you want to do it [count] Was his decision influenced by any illegal financial inducements? • Employees were offered a bonus as an inducement to finish the project on schedule. [noncount] The low interest rate was little inducement for individuals to save money.
in-duct /ɪnˈdʌkt/ verb -ducts; -duct-ed; -duct-ing [+ obj]
1 : to have (someone) officially begin a new job, position, or government office — usually used as (be) inducted; usually + into • The new president was inducted into office last year.
2 a : to officially make (someone) a member of a group or organization • The club will induct six new members this year. — usually used as (be) inducted; usually + into • She was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame. b US : to enroll (someone) for military training or service — usually used as (be) inducted; usually + into • He was inducted into the army.
– in-duct-ee /ɪnˈdʌkˈtiː/ noun, pl -ees [count] chiefly US • After the ceremony, we met the new inductees. [=the people who had just been inducted] in-duc-tion /ɪnˈdʌkʃən/ noun, pl -tions
1 [count] a : the formal act or process of placing someone into a new job, position, government office, etc. • Many people attended the bishop's induction. • The induction ceremony was held at a banquet hall. b US : the formal act of making someone a member of the military • the registration and induction of draftees
2 [noncount] medical : the act of giving a pregnant woman special drugs so that she will give birth • induction of labor
3 [noncount] technical : a kind of reasoning that uses particular examples in order to reach a general conclusion about something
4 [noncount] technical : the process by which an electric current, an electric charge, or magnetism is produced in objects by being close to an electric or magnetic field in-duc-tive /ɪnˈdʌktɪv/ adj, technical : using particular examples to reach a general conclusion about something • inductive reasoning in-dulge /ɪnˈdʌldʒ/ verb -dulg-es; -dulg-ed; -dulg-ing
1 : to allow (yourself) to have or do something as a special pleasure [+ obj] It's my birthday. I'm going to indulge myself and eat whatever I want to eat. — often + in • He indulged himself in the pleasure of a day spent entirely at the beach. [no obj] It's my birthday. I'm going to indulge. — often + in • For our anniversary, we indulged in an expensive dinner.
2 [+ obj] a : to allow (someone) to have or do something even though it may not be proper, healthy, appropriate, etc. • He knows that his aunt is always willing to indulge [=spoil] him. • They always indulged their grandchildren's whims. [=they always allowed their grandchildren to do whatever they wanted to do] b : to patiently allow (someone) to do or say something • Please indulge me while I review the topics we covered yesterday.
3 [+ obj] : to do the things that you want to do because of (a feeling, interest, desire, etc.) • The museum is an excellent place to let children indulge their curiosity about dinosaurs. • She bought a house with a big yard so that she could indulge her passion for gardening.
indulge in [phrasal verb] indulge in (something) : to become involved in (something, especially something that is considered wrong or improper) • Both candidates have promised not to indulge in [=take part in] further personal attacks for the remainder of the campaign.
in-dul-gence /ɪnˈdʌldʒəns/ noun, pl -genc-es
1 [noncount] : the behavior or attitude of people who allow themselves to do what they want or who allow other people to do what they want • She lived a life of selfish indulgence. • They treated the sick boy with indulgence. = They showed great indulgence toward the sick boy. • Ladies and gentlemen, I ask your indulgence [=patience] for a moment while my assistant prepares the next act. — see also SELF-INDULGENCE
2 [noncount] : the act of doing something that you enjoy but that is usually thought of as wrong or unhealthy • his indulgence in forbidden pleasures 3 [count] : something that is done or enjoyed as a special pleasure • She found that she couldn't afford the indulgences she had once enjoyed. • For our anniversary we allowed ourselves the indulgence of an elegant dinner at our favorite restaurant. • Good food is my only indulgence.

in-dul-gent /ɪn'dʌldʒənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 sometimes disapproving : willing to allow someone to have or enjoy something even though it may not be proper, healthy, appropriate, etc. • These children are being spoiled by (overly) indulgent parents. • He gave the child an indulgent smile. — see also SELF-INDULGENT

2 : done or enjoyed as a special pleasure • an indulgent dessert

— in-dul-gent-ly adv • She smiled indulgently.

in-dus-tri-al /ɪn'dʌstrijəl/ adj

1 : of or relating to industry : of or relating to factories, the people who work in factories, or the things made in factories • industrial development • There are thousands of industrial uses for plastic. • an industrial engineer • He had an industrial accident. [=an accident at work]

2 [more ~; most ~] : having a developed industry : having factories that actively make a product • an industrial nation/region/city

3 : coming from or used in industry : made or used in factories • industrial diamonds • an industrial chemical; also : stronger than most other products of its kind • an industrial cleaner

— in-dus-tri-al-ly adv • industrially made glass • Most crops are grown industrially. [=by large corporations and not individual farmers]

industrial action noun, pl ~-tions [count] Brit : JOB ACTION industrial arts noun [noncount] US : a subject that teaches students how to work with tools and machines • Industrial arts is her favorite class.

industrial estate noun, pl ~-tates [count] Brit : INDUSTRIAL PARK in-dus-tri-al-ism /ɪn'dʌstrijə,lɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : a social system in which industry and factories are the basis of a country's economy in-dus-tri-al-ist /ɪn'dʌstrijəlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : someone who owns or manages an industry • a meeting of industrialists to discuss environmental issues in-dus-tri-al-ize also Brit in-dus-tri-al-ise /ɪn'dʌstrijə-,laɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing : to build and operate factories and businesses in a city, region, country, etc. [+ obj] The government hopes to industrialize some of the agricultural regions. [no obj] This region industrialized [=this region gained industry] before the rest of the country.

— in-dus-tri-al-i-za-tion also Brit in-dus-tri-al-i-sa-tion /ɪn,dʌstrijələ'zeɪʃən, Brit ɪn,dʌstrijə,lai'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • The country is in the early stages of industrialization. — industrialized also Brit industrialised adj • industrialized regions/nations industrial park noun, pl ~ parks [count] US : an area outside of a town or city that is designed especially for factories or offices — called also (Brit) industrial estate industrial relations noun [plural] : the ways in which businesses relate to and deal with workers, the government, and the public

Industrial Revolution noun

the Industrial Revolution : the major social and economic changes that occurred in Britain, Europe, and the U.S. in the late 18th and early 19th centuries when new machinery, new sources of power, and new ways of manufacturing products were developed industrial-strength adj, often humorous : stronger, more powerful, or more intense than others of its kind • She was wearing industrial-strength boots. • He served us industrial-strength coffee.

in-dus-tri-ous /ɪn'dʌstrijəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : working very hard : not lazy • He is an industrious worker.

— in-dus-tri-ous-ly adv • She was working industriously.

— in-dus-tri-ous-ness noun [noncount] • He was praised for his industriousness.

in-dus-try /ɪndəstri/ noun, pl -tries

1 a [noncount] : the process of making products by using machinery and factories • He favors policies that promote industry. b [count] : a group of businesses that provide a particular product or service • the automobile/oil/computer industry • the tourist/entertainment industry • She invested in several large industries. • She became so popular that a whole industry grew up around her and her image. — see also CAPTAIN OF INDUSTRY, COTTAGE INDUSTRY

2 [noncount] : the habit of working hard and steadily • She is admired for her industry. [=industriousness]

ine-bri-at-ed /ɪ'ni:bri,etəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : affected by drinking too much alcohol : DRUNK • He was clearly inebriated when he left the bar.

— ine-bri-a-tion /ɪ,ni:bri'eɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • public inebriation [=drunkenness] in-ed-i-ble /ɪn'edəbəl/ adj : not suitable or safe to eat : not edible • inedible mushrooms • The steak was overcooked, but not inedible.

in-ef-fa-ble /ɪn'efəbəl/ adj, formal : too great, powerful, beautiful, etc., to be described or expressed • She felt ineffable [=inexpressible] joy at the sight of her children. • His paintings have an ineffable [=indescribable] beauty.

— in-ef-fa-bly /ɪn'efəbli/ adv • an ineffably beautiful film in-ef-fec-tive /ɪnə'fektɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not producing or having the effect you want : not effective • The treatment was ineffective against the disease. • an ineffective law/leader — in-ef-fec-tive-ly adv • She argued her point ineffectively.

— in-ef-fec-tive-ness noun [noncount] • He has been criticized for his ineffectiveness as a leader.

in-ef-fec-tu-al /ɪnə'fektʃwəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not producing or able to produce the effect you want • an ineffectual politician • an ineffectual struggle — in-ef-fec-tu-al-ly /ɪnə'fektʃwəli/ adv • They struggled ineffectually for reform.

in-ef-fi-cien-cy /ɪnə'fɪʃənsi/ noun, pl -cies : the lack of ability to do something or produce something without wasting materials, time, or energy : the quality or state of being inefficient [noncount] The candidate blamed her opponent for the local government's inefficiency. [count] She claims that money can be saved by reducing inefficiencies.

in-ef-fi-cient /ɪnə'fɪʃənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not capable of producing desired results without wasting materials, time, or energy : not efficient • an inefficient worker • The delivery system was very inefficient. • an inefficient use of fuel — in-ef-fi-cient-ly adv • The engine uses fuel inefficiently.

in-el-e-gant /ɪn'eləɡənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] somewhat formal : not graceful, attractive, or polite : not elegant • an inelegant dancer • inelegant language

— in-el-e-gance /ɪn'eləɡəns/ noun [noncount] formal — in-el-e-gant-ly adv • an inelegantly named car in-el-i-gi-ble /ɪn'elədʒəbəl/ adj : not allowed to do or be something : not eligible • Previously ineligible patients may now be able to participate in the study. • She was ineligible for the contest. = She was ineligible to participate in the contest. • They are ineligible for a loan.

— in-el-i-gi-bil-i-ty /ɪn,elədʒə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

in-eluc-ta-ble /ɪnɪ'lʌktəbəl/ adj, formal : not able to be avoided or changed • You cannot escape an ineluctable [=unavoidable] fate. • an ineluctable conclusion

— in-eluc-ta-bly /ɪnɪ'lʌktəbli/ adv

in-ept /ɪ'nept/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : lacking skill or ability • an inept mechanic • He was completely inept at sports. • a socially inept teenager [=a teenager who is shy or awkward around other people]

2 : showing a lack of skill or ability : not done well • inept planning • He made an inept attempt to apologize.

— compare INAPT

— in-ept-ly adv • It was ineptly done. — in-ept-ness noun [noncount] • the ineptness of the coaching staff in-ept-i-tude /ɪ'neptə,tjuːd, Brit ɪ'neptə,tjuːd/ noun [noncount] : a lack of skill or ability • The team's poor play is being blamed on the ineptitude of the coaching staff. • social ineptitude

in-equal-i-ty /ɪnɪ'kwɑ:ləti/ noun, pl -ties : an unfair situation in which some people have more rights or better opportunities than other people [noncount] social/sexual/economic/racial inequality • They discussed the problem of inequality between students. • He accused the company of inequality in its hiring practices. [count] He has proposed a new system designed to remove inequalities in health care. • the inequalities of education/income in-eq-ui-ta-ble /ɪn'ekwətəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not fair or equal : UNFAIR • They protested the inequitable treatment of employees.

— in-eq-ui-ta-bly /ɪn'ekwətəbli/ adv • The law is being applied inequitably. [=unfairly]

in-eq-ui-ty /ɪn'ekwəti/ noun, pl -ties formal

1 [noncount] : lack of fairness : unfair treatment • She has been a leader in the fight against racial inequity. [=injustice]

2 [count] : something that is unfair • the inequities in wages paid to men and women • educational inequities

Do not confuse inequity with iniquity.

in-erad-i-ca-ble /ˌɪnɪˈrædɪkəbəl/ adj, formal : impossible to remove or forget • an ineradicable problem • She made an ineradicable impression on us.

in-ert /ɪˈnɜːt/ adj

1 : unable to move • an inert and lifeless body

2 [more ~; most ~] : moving or acting very slowly • How does he propose to stimulate the inert economy and create jobs? • a politically inert government

3 chemistry : not able to affect other chemicals when in contact with them : not chemically reactive • an inert gas • inert ingredients

— in-ert-ly adv • He sat inertly in front of the television. — in-ert-ness noun [noncount] • chemical inertness

in-er-tia /ɪˈnɜːʃə/ noun [noncount]

1 a : lack of movement or activity especially when movement or activity is wanted or needed • He blames governmental/bureaucratic inertia for the holdup. b : a feeling of not having the energy or desire that is needed to move, change, etc. • After 10 years in an unsatisfying job she overcame her inertia and went back to school.

2 physics : a property of matter by which something that is not moving remains still and something that is moving goes at the same speed and in the same direction until another thing or force affects it — in-er-tial /ɪˈnɜːʃəl/ adj, physics • an inertial sensor in-es-cap-able /ˌɪnəˈskeɪpəbəl/ adj : impossible to deny or avoid • It's an inescapable truth that these problems have no easy solution. • an inescapable conclusion

— in-es-cap-ably /ˌɪnəˈskeɪpəbli/ adv • an inescapably obvious truth in-es-sen-tial /ˌɪnəˈsenʃəl/ adj, formal : not needed : not essential • inessential details

— inessential noun, pl -tials [count]

in-es-ti-ma-ble /ɪnˈɛstəməbəl/ adj, formal : too great, valuable, or excellent to be measured • He has made inestimable contributions to our society. • inestimable value/worth in-ev-i-ta-ble /ɪˈnevətəbəl/ adj : sure to happen • the inevitable result • Some criticism was inevitable. [=unavoidable]

the inevitable : something that is sure to happen • They're just trying to delay/postpone the inevitable.

— in-ev-i-ta-bil-i-ty /ɪˈnevətəˈbɪləti/ noun [noncount] • the inevitability of change — in-ev-i-ta-bly /ɪˈnevətəbli/ adv • The changes inevitably resulted in criticism.

in-ex-act /ˌɪnɪɡˈzækt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not completely correct or precise : not exact • The measurements were somewhat inexact, but they were close enough. • an inexact word/calculation/description

— in-ex-act-ness noun [noncount]

in-ex-cus-able /ˌɪnɪkˈskjuːzəbəl/ adj : too bad or wrong to be excused or ignored • her inexcusable rudeness • The mistake was inexcusable.

— in-ex-cus-ably /ˌɪnɪkˈskjuːzəbli/ adv • The salesperson was inexcusably rude. • He behaved inexcusably.

in-ex-haust-ible /ˌɪnɪɡˈzɑːstəbəl/ adj : impossible to use up completely : impossible to exhaust • The world's supply of oil is not inexhaustible. • He seems to have inexhaustible energy.

— in-ex-haust-ibly /ˌɪnɪɡˈzɑːstəbli/ adv • We do not have an inexhaustibly large supply of oil.

in-ex-o-ra-ble /ɪnˈɛksərəbəl/ adj, formal : not able to be stopped or changed • an inexorable conclusion • the inexorable rise of a political movement

— in-ex-o-ra-bil-i-ty /ɪnˈɛksərəˈbɪləti/ noun [noncount]

— in-ex-o-ra-bly /ɪnˈɛksərəbli/ adv • We are inexorably linked to the past. • Will a break in negotiations lead inexorably to conflict?

in-ex-pen-sive /ˌɪnɪkˈspensɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : low in price : not expensive • The hotel room was surprisingly inexpensive. [=cheap] • an inexpensive meal

— in-ex-pen-sive-ly adv • Everything at that store is priced fairly inexpensively.

in-ex-pe-ri-ence /ˌɪnɪkˈspɪrɪjəns/ noun [noncount] : lack of experience • He blames his mistakes on inexperience.

— in-ex-pe-ri-enced /ˌɪnɪkˈspɪrɪjənst/ adj [more ~; most ~] • She's an inexperienced driver.

in-ex-pert /ɪnˈɛkspɜːt/ adj, formal : not skillful at doing something • an inexpert tailor • The painting looks to be fake to my inexpert [=untrained] eye.

— in-ex-pert-ly adv • It was inexpertly painted.

in-ex-pli-ca-ble /ˌɪnɪkˈsplɪkəbəl, ɪnˈɛksplɪkəbəl/ adj : not able to be explained or understood • an inexplicable mystery • He had a series of seemingly inexplicable accidents.

— in-ex-pli-ca-bly /ˌɪnɪkˈsplɪkəbli, ɪnˈɛksplɪkəbli/ adv • The files have inexplicably disappeared.

in-ex-press-ible /ˌɪnɪkˈspresəbəl/ adj, somewhat formal : too strong or great to be expressed or described • inexpressible joy/pain

— in-ex-press-ibly /ˌɪnɪkˈspresəbli/ adv • an inexpressibly sad story in ex-tre-mis /ˌɪnɪkˈstri:məs/ adv, formal

1 : at the point of death • a patient in extremis

2 : in a very difficult situation • They are helping a family in extremis.

in-ex-tri-ca-ble /ˌɪnɪkˈstri:kəbəl, ɪnˈɛkstri:kəbəl/ adj, formal : impossible to separate : closely joined or related • He argues that there is an inextricable link between poverty and poor health.

— in-ex-tri-ca-bly /ˌɪnɪkˈstri:kəbli, ɪnˈɛkstri:kəbli/ adv • He claims poverty is inextricably linked to poor health. • Our lives are bound inextricably with others.

in-fal-li-ble /ɪnˈfæləbəl/ adj

1 : not capable of being wrong or making mistakes : not fallible • I never claimed to be infallible. • an infallible memory

2 : certain to work properly or succeed • There is no infallible remedy to these problems.

— in-fal-li-bil-i-ty /ɪnˈfæləˈbɪləti/ noun [noncount] • I never made any claims of infallibility. — see also PAPAL INFALLIBILITY — in-fal-li-bly /ɪnˈfæləbli/ adv • The computer program can infallibly identify each type of file.

in-fa-mous /ˈɪnfəməs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : well-known for being bad : known for evil acts or crimes • an infamous traitor • a city infamous for poverty and crime

2 : causing people to think you are bad or evil • He committed an infamous crime. • (humorous) We experienced some of the city's infamous weather.

— in-fa-mous-ly adv • an infamously shocking crime

in-fa-my /ˈɪnfəmi/ noun, pl -mies

1 [noncount] : the condition of being known for having done bad things or for being evil • He never escaped the infamy his crimes had earned him. • a day of infamy [=an infamous day; a day on which something very bad happened]

2 [count] formal : an evil or terrible act — usually plural • The book recounts the infamies committed by the regime.

in-fan-cy /ˈɪnfənsi/ noun [noncount]

1 : the first part of a child's life : the time in your life when you are a baby • She was often sick during her infancy. • a skill developed in infancy

2 : a beginning : an early stage of development • She has been a member of the church since its infancy. • when the Internet was still in its infancy [=very new]

¹ in-fant /ˈɪnfənt/ noun, pl -fants [count] : a very young child : BABY • The infant was healthy. • a study of health problems that can affect young infants • He showed us a picture of his infant daughter.

² infant adj, always used before a noun

1 : made or suitable for babies • infant formula • an infant bathtub

2 Brit : of, relating to, or for children between the ages of about four and seven • children attending infant school [=a school for young children] • She is an infant teacher.

3 : very new and still developing • our infant steel industry • an infant navy in-fan-ti-cide /ɪnˈfæntəsaɪd/ noun [noncount] : the act of killing a baby

in-fan-tile /ˈɪnfənˌtəjəl/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] disapproving : annoying and childish : very silly in a way that is not appropriate or polite • His behavior was infantile. • infantile jokes

2 always used before a noun, medical : affecting babies or very young children • infantile diseases

infantile paralysis noun [noncount] old-fashioned : POLIO

in-fan-try /ˈɪnfəntri/ noun : the part of an army that has soldiers who fight on foot [noncount] He joined the infantry after leaving school. • The infantry is coming. [plural] The infantry are coming. — compare CAVALRY in-fan-try-man /ˈɪnfəntrimən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] : a soldier who is in the infantry in-fat-u-ated /ɪnˈfætʃəˌwertəd/ adj : filled with foolish or very strong love or admiration — usually + with • He was infatuated with his teacher. • She became infatuated with the charms of city life.

in-fat-u-a-tion /ɪnˈfætʃəˌweɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : a feeling of foolish or very strong love or admiration for someone or something [noncount] The attraction he felt for her was just infatuation, not true love. • They condemn society's infatuation with Hollywood. [count] It was just an infatuation. • She had a series of frivolous infatuations with younger men.

in·fect /ɪn'fekt/ verb -fects; -fect-ed; -fect-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (someone or something) to become sick or affected by disease • If you're sick you should stay home to avoid infecting other people in the office. • The virus has infected many people. • They were unable to prevent bacteria from infecting the wound. — often used as (be) infected • He was infected by a coworker. • He was infected with AIDS.

2 a : to cause (someone) to feel an emotion — usually + with • She has infected everyone with her enthusiasm. [=her enthusiasm has made other people feel enthusiastic too] b of an emotion : to spread to (other people) • Her enthusiasm has infected everyone.

3 of a computer virus : to cause (a computer or computer file) to stop working as it should • The virus has infected many computers. • All the computers in the office were infected by/with the same virus.

infected adj

1 a : containing germs that cause disease • an infected wound b : having a disease caused by germs • infected children

2 : affected by a computer virus • an infected file/computer

in·fec·tion /ɪn'fɛkʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : the act or process of infecting someone or something : the state of being infected • Poor hygiene can increase the danger of infection. • The wound has so far remained free of infection. • steps you can take to decrease your computer's risk of infection

2 [count] : a disease caused by germs that enter the body • viral/bacterial infections • a painful ear infection

in·fec·tious /ɪn'fɛkʃəs/ adj

1 a : capable of causing infection • viruses and other infectious agents b [more ~; most ~] : capable of being passed to someone else by germs that enter the body • an acute infectious illness • a highly infectious disease — compare CONTAGIOUS c : suffering from a disease that can be spread to other people by germs • an infectious patient

2 [more ~; most ~] : capable of being easily spread to other people • Their enthusiasm was infectious. [=contagious] • She has an infectious grin. • infectious laughter

— in·fec·tious·ly adv • infectiously cheerful/enthusiastic

in·fer /ɪn'fə/ verb -fers; -ferred; -fer-ring [+ obj]

1 : to form (an opinion) from evidence : to reach (a conclusion) based on known facts • It's difficult to infer how these changes will affect ordinary citizens. — often + from • She said she was pleased, but her true feelings could be inferred from the look of disappointment on her face. — often + that • I inferred from his silence that he was angry about my decision. — compare IMPLY

2 informal : to hint or suggest (something) : IMPLY • Are you inferring that I'm wrong? ♦ Many people regard this use of infer as an error, but it occurs commonly in spoken English.

in·fer·ence /ɪnfərəns/ noun, pl -enc-es

1 [noncount] : the act or process of reaching a conclusion about something from known facts or evidence • Its existence is only known by inference

2 [count] : a conclusion or opinion that is formed because of known facts or evidence • The program uses records of past purchases to make/draw inferences about what customers will buy in the future. • What inference can we draw from these facts?

in·fe·ri·or /ɪn'fɪrɪə/ adj

1 : of poor quality : low or lower in quality • inferior goods/materials/products • an inferior performer/performance • These pearls are of inferior quality. — often + to • These pearls are inferior (in quality) to others I have seen.

2 : of little or less importance or value • They were considered a socially inferior group. • He always felt inferior around his brother. — often + to • He always felt inferior to his brother.

3 : low or lower in rank • The judges voted to overturn a ruling made by an inferior court.

— in·fe·ri·or·i·ty /ɪn'fɪrɪ'ɒrəti/ noun [noncount] • the inferiority of the cheaper materials • He had a sense of social inferiority among wealthy people.

inferior noun, pl -ors [count] : a person of low rank or status • She treated her employees as social inferiors.

inferiority complex noun, pl ~-plexes [count] : a belief that you are less worthy or important than other people • His shyness is the result of an inferiority complex.

in·fer·nal /ɪn'fənl/ adj, always used before a noun

1 literary : of or relating to hell • the infernal regions of the dead

2 informal + old-fashioned : very bad or unpleasant • Stop making that infernal racket! • an infernal nuisance/pest

— in·fer·nal·ly /ɪn'fənlɪ/ adv • an infernally [=extremely] difficult problem in·fer·no /ɪn'fənou/ noun, pl -nos [count] : a very large and dangerous fire • By the time help arrived, the fire had grown to a raging inferno.

in·fer·tile /ɪn'fətl/ adj : not fertile: such as a : not able to reproduce : not able to produce children, young animals, etc. • infertile married couples • an infertile man/woman b : not suited for raising crops : unable to support the growth of plants • infertile soil • infertile land/fields

— in·fer·til·i·ty /ɪn'fə'tɪləti/ noun [noncount] • male/female infertility • the infertility of the land in·fest /ɪn'fest/ verb -fests; -fest-ed; -fest-ing [+ obj] of something harmful or unwanted : to be in or over (a place, an animal, etc.) in large numbers • Lice infested his scalp. — often used as (be) infested • The area was infested with snakes/insects. [=there was a very large number of snake/insects in the area] • The trees were infested by/with caterpillars. • a neighborhood infested with crime • shark-infested waters — in·fes·ta·tion /ɪn'fɛ'steɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] an infestation of caterpillars [noncount] There were signs of insect infestation.

in·fi·del /ɪnfəd/ noun, pl -dels [count] disapproving : a person who does not believe in a religion that someone regards as the true religion • a holy war against the infidels in·fi·del·i·ty /ɪnfə'deləti/ noun, pl -ties : the act or fact of having a romantic or sexual relationship with someone other than your husband, wife, or partner [noncount] She was convinced that her husband was guilty of infidelity. [count] He has admitted to a number of marital infidelities.

in·field /ɪn'fi:ld/ noun, pl -fields [count]

1 a : the part of a baseball field that includes the area within and around the three bases and home plate • He threw the ball across the infield. — often used before another noun • an infield grounder • an infield hit b : the part of a cricket field that is close to the wickets c : the players who are positioned in the infield • The team has one of the best infields in the league. — compare OUTFIELD

2 chiefly US : the area that a racetrack or running track goes around : the area inside a track

— in·field·er /ɪn'fi:ldə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US • a skillful infielder [=a baseball player who plays in the infield]

in·fight·ing /ɪn'faɪtɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : fighting or disagreement among the members of a group or organization • political infighting

in·fil·trate /ɪn'fɪl'treɪt, 'ɪnfil'treɪt/ verb -trates; -trat-ed; -trat-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to secretly enter or join (something, such as a group or an organization) in order to get information or do harm • The gang was infiltrated by undercover agents. — sometimes used figuratively • An attitude of cynicism has infiltrated the staff. [=the staff has become cynical] b : to cause (someone) to secretly enter or join a group, organization, etc. • Attempts to infiltrate undercover agents into the gang have failed.

2 technical : to pass into or through (something) • Water can easily infiltrate the soil.

— in·fil·tra·tion /ɪnfil'treɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the infiltration of undercover agents into the gang — in·fil·tra·tor /ɪn'fɪl'treɪtə, 'ɪnfil'treɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • The gang discovered an infiltrator among its members.

in·fi·nite /ɪnfənət/ adj

1 : having no limits : ENDLESS • infinite space • an infinite series of numbers

2 : extremely large or great • She has infinite patience when she's dealing with children. • There seemed to be an infinite number of possibilities. • an infinite variety of choices

— in·fi·nite·ly adv • The universe is infinitely large. • infinitely subtle variations • an infinitely large number in·fin·i·tes·i·mal /ɪn'fɪnə'tesəməl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : extremely small • an infinitesimal moment in time • an infinitesimal difference — in·fin·i·tes·i·mal·ly /ɪn'fɪnə'tesəməli/ adv • an infinitesimally small difference in·fin·i·tive /ɪn'fɪnətɪv/ noun, pl -tives [count] grammar

: the basic form of a verb ⇨ In English the infinitive form of a verb is usually used with to ("I asked him to go") except with modal verbs like should and could ("He should go") and certain other verbs like see and hear ("I saw him go"). — see also SPLIT INFINITIVE

— infinitive adj • an infinitive clause/form/phrase

in·fin·i·ty /ɪnˈfɪnəti/ noun

1 [noncount] a : the quality of having no limits or end : the quality of being infinite • the infinity of space b : a space, amount, or period of time that has no limits or end • The view tapers off into infinity. • a series of numbers that continues to infinity

2 [singular] : a very great number or amount • The night sky was filled with an infinity of stars. • an infinity of choices in·firm /ɪnˈfɜrm/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having a condition of weakness or illness that usually lasts for a long time and is caused especially by old age • The clinic provides free care for elderly and infirm people who lack health insurance. • mentally and physically infirm

the infirm : people who are weak, ill, etc. : infirm people • providing care for the elderly and the infirm

in·fir·ma·ry /ɪnˈfɜməri/ noun, pl -ries [count]

1 : a place where sick people stay and are cared for in a school, prison, summer camp, etc. • One of the students became ill and was sent to the infirmary.

2 Brit : HOSPITAL — used especially in names • the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary

in·fir·mi·ty /ɪnˈfɜməti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : the quality or state of being weak or ill especially because of old age • In recent years she has had to reduce her schedule because of age and infirmity.

2 [count] : a disease or illness that usually lasts for a long time • the infirmities of old age

in·flame /ɪnˈfleɪm/ verb -flames; -flamed; -flam·ing [+ obj]

1 a : to cause (a person or group) to become angry or violent • His angry speech inflamed the mob. b : to make (something) more active, angry, or violent • ideas that in-flame the imagination • His comments have inflamed an already tense situation. • inflaming the passions of the mob

2 : to cause (a part of your body) to grow sore, red, and swollen • a chemical that can inflamm the skin inflamed adj [more ~; most ~] of a part of your body : sore, red, and swollen from disease, injury, etc. • an inflamed appendix • inflamed skin in·flam·ma·ble /ɪnˈflæməbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : capable of being set on fire and of burning quickly : FLAMMABLE • highly inflammable chemicals

2 : easily excited or angered • an inflammable temper in·flam·ma·tion /ɪnˈflæməʃən/ noun, pl -tions : a condition in which a part of your body becomes red, swollen, and painful [noncount] The drug is used to reduce inflammation. [count] a chronic inflammation • inflammations of the throat and ears

in·flam·ma·to·ry /ɪnˈflæməˌtori, Brit ɪnˈflæmətri/ adj

1 medical : causing or having inflammation • inflammatory diseases • chronic inflammatory conditions • She had an acute inflammatory reaction to the drug. — compare ANTI-INFLAMMATORY

2 [more ~; most ~] : causing anger • He incited the mob with an inflammatory speech. • inflammatory remarks/language in·flate /ɪnˈfleɪt/ verb -flates; -flat·ed; -flat·ing

1 a [+ obj] : to add air or gas to (something, such as a tire or a balloon) and make it larger • We used a pump to inflate the raft. • inflate [=blow up] a balloon b [no obj] : to become larger by being filled with air or gas • The balloon slowly inflated. — opposite DEFLATE

2 [+ obj] a : to think or say that (something) is larger or more important than it really is • His memoirs inflate [=exaggerate] his contributions to the war effort. b : to cause (a person's ego, reputation, etc.) to become too large or great • All the publicity was inflating his ego. [=was making him too proud and conceited]

3 : to increase prices, costs, etc., in a way that is not normal or expected [+ obj] Economists warn that rapid economic growth could inflate prices. • Increased competition has inflated salaries among professional athletes. [no obj] Rapid economic growth may cause prices to inflate.

— in·flat·able /ɪnˈfleɪtəbəl/ adj • an inflatable raft

inflated adj

1 : filled and made larger with air or gas • an inflated balloon/raft

2 a : too large or high • He has an inflated opinion of his value to the company. [=he thinks he is more valuable than he really is] • He has an inflated ego. [=he has an overly high opinion of himself] • a writer with an inflated reputation • inflated [=exaggerated] claims of greatness b of language : too serious or fancy • an inflated style of writing • inflated [=overblown] language

3 of prices, wages, etc. : too high : increased to a level that is not normal or proper • She objects to the inflated salaries that many professional athletes now receive. • inflated prices

in·fla·tion /ɪnˈfleɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 : an act of inflating something • the inflation of a balloon : the state of being inflated • It's important to maintain proper tire inflation. [=pressure]

2 : a continual increase in the price of goods and services • The government has been unable to control/reduce/curb inflation. • The rate of inflation is high/low/rising. • The annual inflation rate is three percent. [=prices are rising three percent each year] • economic inflation

in·fla·tion·ary /ɪnˈfleɪʃənəri, Brit ɪnˈfleɪʃənri/ adj

1 : of or relating to economic inflation • inflationary theories • inflationary increases

2 [more ~; most ~] : causing, experiencing, or affected by economic inflation : causing, experiencing, or affected by rising prices • He blames the bad economy on the government's inflationary policies. • inflationary pressures • an inflationary environment/period in·flect /ɪnˈflekt/ verb -flects; -flect·ed; -flect·ing grammar : to change the form of a word when using it in a particular way [+ obj] Most nouns in English are inflected for plural use by adding "s" or "es." [no obj] Most nouns in English inflect for plural use by adding "s" or "es." • Most adjectives in English do not inflect for gender or number.

— inflected adj [more ~; most ~] • Some languages are more (highly) inflected than others. [=the words in some languages change their forms for different uses more than the words in other languages] • "Gone" and "went" are inflected forms of the verb "go."

in·flec·tion also Brit in·flex·ion /ɪnˈflekʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : a rise or fall in the sound of a person's voice : a change in the pitch or tone of a person's voice [noncount] She spoke with no inflection. [count] She read the lines with an upward/rising inflection. • vocal inflections

2 grammar a [noncount] : a change in the form of a word that occurs when it has a particular use • Most English adjectives do not require inflection. b [count] : a form of a word that occurs when it has a particular use : an inflected form • "Gone" and "went" are inflections of the verb "go." c [count] : a part of a word (such as a suffix) that is used to change a word's form for a particular use • English has fewer inflections than many other languages.

— in·flec·tion·al also Brit in·flex·ion·al /ɪnˈflekʃənəl/ adj • inflectional rules/forms in·flex·i·ble /ɪnˈfleksəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not flexible: such as a : not easily influenced or persuaded • an inflexible judge b : not easily bent or twisted • inflexible [=stiff] plastic c : not easily changed • inflexible laws/rules • an inflexible deadline/schedule

— in·flex·i·bil·i·ty /ɪnˈfleksəˌbɪləti/ noun [noncount] • the inflexibility of the schedule — in·flex·i·bly /ɪnˈfleksəbli/ adv

in·flict /ɪnˈflɪkt/ verb -flicts; -flict·ed; -flict·ing [+ obj] : to cause someone to experience or be affected by (something unpleasant or harmful) • These insects are capable of inflicting a painful sting. • inflict a wound • inflict pain/injury/punishment/damage — often + on or upon • He shows no regret for the suffering he has inflicted on/upon these innocent people. • They continue to inflict their strange ideas about nutrition on/upon their children.

— in·flic·tion /ɪnˈflɪkʃən/ noun [noncount] • the infliction of a knife wound • the infliction of pain/guilt/humiliation

in·flight /ɪnˈflaɪt/ adj, always used before a noun : made, done, or provided while you are flying in an airplane • an in-flight meal/movie in·flow /ɪnˈfləʊ/ noun, pl -flows : a flow or movement of something into a place, organization, etc. [count] The campaign has seen a massive inflow of funds/money/cash in recent months. [noncount] The vents provide improved inflow of air/water. — opposite OUTFLOW

in·flu·ence /ɪnˈfluːwəns/ noun, pl -enc·es

1 : the power to change or affect someone or something

: the power to cause changes without directly forcing them to happen [noncount] Recent years have seen a decline in the company's influence within the industry. • Her ideas have gradually gained influence in the company. • He used/wielded his influence to reform the company's policies. • She was under the influence of drugs. [=she was affected by drugs] • He came under the influence of new ideas [=he was influenced by new ideas] when he went away to college. • She has remained under the influence of her parents. — often + on, upon, or over • She claims that her personal problems played/had no/little influence upon her decision to resign. • His health problems may have had some influence on his decision. • Her parents still have a great deal of influence over her. • The chairman wields considerable influence over the board's decisions. [singular] Her parents are concerned that her new friends may have a bad influence on her. • Emily Dickinson has had a major influence on his poetry. • His health problems had a big influence on his decision. • They exert a strong cultural/economic influence over their neighbors in the region.

2 [count] : a person or thing that affects someone or something in an important way • My parents have been major influences in my life. • Emily Dickinson has been a major influence on his poetry. • Her parents are concerned that her new friends may be a bad influence on her. • The decision was affected by outside influences.

under the influence : affected by alcohol : DRUNK • He was arrested for driving under the influence.

2 influence verb -ences; -enced; -enc-ing [+ obj] : to affect or change (someone or something) in an indirect but usually important way : to have an influence on (someone or something) • I was deeply/greatly influenced by my parents. • She claims that her decision to resign was not influenced by her personal problems. • No one knows how this decision will influence the outcome of the election. • He's accused of illegally attempting to influence the jury. — sometimes followed by to + verb • No one knows what may have influenced them to commit these crimes.

in-flu-en-tial /ˌɪnfluˈɛnʃəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having the power to cause changes : having influence • She became an (enormously/extremely) influential critic/writer. • a highly/very influential book • His theories have become more influential in recent years. • My parents have been the most influential people in my life. — sometimes + in • She has been influential in establishing programs to help the poor.

— in-flu-en-tial-ly /ˌɪnfluˈɛnʃəli/ adv

in-flu-en-za /ˌɪnfluˈɛnzə/ noun [noncount] medical : a common illness that is caused by a virus and that causes fever, weakness, severe aches and pains, and breathing problems • patients suffering from influenza [=the flu]

in-flux /ˈɪnˌflʌks/ noun, pl -flux-es [count]

1 : the arrival of a large number of people • The city is preparing for a large influx of tourists this summer.

2 : the arrival or inward flow of a large amount of something (such as money) • The company has had a sudden influx of capital.

in-fo /ˈɪnfou/ noun [noncount] informal : INFORMATION • It contains a surprising amount of info for such a little book.

in-fo-mer-cial /ˈɪnfou,məʃəl/ noun, pl -cials [count] chiefly US : a television program that is a long advertisement and that usually includes people talking about and using the product that is being sold in-form /ɪnˈfoʊm/ verb -forms; -formed; -form-ing

1 : to give information to (someone) [+ obj] The book will entertain and inform you. • The arresting officer failed to inform the suspect of his rights. • He failed to inform the suspect that he had the right to remain silent. • We haven't yet been informed of/about her decision. • Frequent reports from the battlefield kept the general informed about how the attack was progressing. • I am sorry to have to inform [=tell] you that your flight has been delayed. [no obj] The book will both entertain and inform.

2 [+ obj] formal : to be or provide the essential quality of (something) : to be very noticeable in (something) • His Catholic upbringing informs all his writing.

inform on also inform against [phrasal verb] inform on/against (someone) : to give information about the secret or criminal activity of (someone) to the police • Despite pressure from the police he refused to inform on the other conspirators.

in-for-mal /ɪnˈfoʊməl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not formal: such as a : having a friendly and relaxed quality • an infor- mal party • We had an informal meeting over lunch. • an informal conversation • an informal writing style • He has an informal manner that puts people at ease. b : suited for ordinary use when you are relaxing • informal clothes • an informal dining area c of language : relaxed in tone : not suited for serious or official speech and writing • He spoke to them in informal Spanish/English. • The term is common in informal contexts. • informal language/speech/writing • an informal word d : done in a way that is not especially careful or scientific • He took an informal poll/survey among his coworkers.

— in-for-mal-i-ty /ɪnˈfoʊmələti/ noun [noncount] • She liked the easy/casual informality of his manner. — in-for-mal-ly /ɪnˈfoʊməli/ adv • We met to discuss the situation informally. • speak/write informally • The word is used informally in this sense. • She was informally dressed in blue jeans.

in-for-mant /ɪnˈfoʊmənt/ noun, pl -mants [count]

1 : a person who gives information to the police about secret or criminal activities : INFORMER • The police were alerted to the plot by a paid informant.

2 technical : a person who gives information about his or her culture or language to a researcher • We learned the language with the help of a native informant.

in-for-ma-tion /ˌɪnfəˈmeɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 : knowledge that you get about someone or something : facts or details about a subject • They're working to collect/gather information about the early settlers in the region. • The pamphlet provides a lot of information on/about/concerning recent changes to the tax laws. • detailed/specific information • He gave the police false/misleading information about his background. • The conference will give us an opportunity to exchange/share information with other researchers. • We can't make a decision until we have more/further/additional information. • The tests have not yet uncovered any new information. • I don't like having to reveal personal/private information when I fill in a job application. • He's accused of withholding useful/valuable/vital information. • My information is [=I have been told, I understand] that he will be arriving early this evening. • We enclose a price list for your information. [=to provide you with information that we think will interest you] ♦ The phrase for your information is sometimes used informally in speech when responding to an annoying statement or question by someone who has accused or blamed you wrongly. • "Are these the best tickets you could get?" "For your information, I had to stand in line for two hours to get these!"

2 US : a service that telephone users can call to find out the telephone number for a specified person or organization : DIRECTORY ASSISTANCE • I couldn't remember his number so I had to call information.

— in-for-ma-tion-al /ˌɪnfəˈmeɪʃənəl/ adj • an informational brochure • informational books

information superhighway noun

the information superhighway : the Internet • He claims he can find out anything he needs to know on the information superhighway.

in-for-ma-tive /ɪnˈfoʊmətɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : providing information • a highly/very/most informative book

in-formed /ɪnˈfoʊmd/ adj

1 : having information • Informed sources told us of the new policy. • fully informed citizens/consumers/voters • Please keep me informed on any changes. [=please tell me about any changes when they happen]

2 : based on information • We need to spend more time researching our options so that we can make an informed choice/decision. — see also informed guess at ²GUESS informed consent noun [singular] medical : a formal agreement that a patient signs to give permission for a medical procedure (such as surgery) after having been told about the risks, benefits, etc.

in-form-er /ɪnˈfoʊmə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who gives information to the police about secret or criminal activities • He worked for the police/government as a paid informant. [=informant]

in-fo-tain-ment /ˌɪnfouˈteɪnmənt/ noun [noncount] : television programs that present information (such as news) in a way that is meant to be entertaining in-frac-tion /ɪnˈfrækʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] formal : an act that breaks a rule or law : VIOLATION • He was penalized for an infraction of the rules. = He was penalized for a rules infraction. • a minor traffic infraction in-fra dig /'ɪnfɹə'dɪg/ adj, chiefly Brit : not appropriate for a person's social position : beneath someone's dignity • Isn't it a bit infra dig to go to a laundrette when you can afford a washing machine of your own?

in-fra-red /,ɪnfɹə'red/ adj, technical : producing or using rays of light that cannot be seen and that are longer than rays that produce red light • infrared radiation/beams • infrared photography

in-fra-struc-ture /'ɪnfɹə,straʃktʃə/ noun, pl -tures : the basic equipment and structures (such as roads and bridges) that are needed for a country, region, or organization to function properly [noncount] More money is needed to save the crumbling infrastructure of the nation's rural areas. • We need to spend more money on maintaining and repairing infrastructure. [count] town/city infrastructures

— in-fra-struc-tur-al /'ɪnfɹə,straʃktʃərəl/ adj • infrastructural maintenance and repair

in-fre-quent /ɪn'fri:kwənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not happening often : not frequent • an infrequent event • We made infrequent stops/visits along the way. • Problems with the network have become a not infrequent occurrence. [=have become a rather frequent occurrence]

— infrequency noun [noncount] • She complained about the infrequency of her son's visits. [=she complained because her son did not visit her often] — in-fre-quent-ly adv • a word that is infrequently used • an error not infrequently made [=an error rather frequently made] by beginners

in-fringe /ɪn'frɪndʒ/ verb -fring-es; -fringed; -fring-ing

1 : to do something that does not obey or follow (a rule, law, etc.) [+ obj] infringe [=violate] a treaty/patent • They claim that his use of the name infringes their copyright. [no obj] (chiefly US) — + on or upon • They claim that his use of the name infringes on their copyright.

2 : to wrongly limit or restrict (something, such as another person's rights) [+ obj] Her rights must not be infringed. [no obj] — + on or upon • He argues that the proposed law infringes upon our guaranteed right of free speech.

— in-fringe-ment /ɪn'frɪndʒmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count] repeated infringements of our rights [noncount] He faces charges of copyright infringement. — in-fring-er noun, pl -ers [count] • a copyright infringer

in-fu-ri-ate /ɪn'fjəri,eɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] : to make (someone) very angry : to make (someone) furious • His arrogance infuriates me! = It infuriates me that he is so arrogant! • I was infuriated by his arrogance.

— infuriated adj [more ~; most ~] • The sales clerk was being shouted at by an infuriated customer. — infuriating adj [more ~; most ~] • He has an infuriating habit of ignoring me. — in-fu-ri-at-ing-ly /ɪn'fjəri,eɪtɪŋli/ adv • an infuriatingly arrogant man in-fuse /ɪn'fju:z/ verb -fus-es; -fused; -fus-ing

1 [+ obj] a : to cause (a person or thing) to be filled with something (such as a quality) • She has infused her followers with confidence. b : to cause (something, such as a quality) to be added or introduced into a person or thing • He has found ways to infuse new energy into his performances. • She has infused confidence into her followers. • His work is infused with anger.

2 : to allow something (such as tea or herbs) to stay in a liquid (such as hot water) in order to flavor the liquid [no obj] The tea should be allowed to infuse for several minutes. [+ obj] You should infuse the tea for several minutes.

in-fu-sion /ɪn'fju:zən/ noun, pl -sions

1 [count] : the addition of something (such as money) that is needed or helpful • The company has received an infusion of cash/capital/funds. = There has been an infusion of cash/capital/funds into the company. • Her ideas have brought a new infusion of vitality to the organization.

2 a [count] : a drink made by allowing something (such as tea) to stay in a liquid (such as hot water) : a drink made by infusing something • a strong infusion of tea • herbal infusions b [noncount] : the act of infusing something • a medicinal drink made by infusion of herbs

1-ing /ɪn, ɪn/ verb suffix or adj suffix — used to form the present participle of a verb • sailing • going

2-ing noun suffix

1 : action or process • running • sleeping • meeting • drawing • washing

2 : product or result of an action or process • a painting • an engraving

3 : something used in or connected with making or doing (a specified thing) • bedding • roofing • scaffolding

in-ge-nious /ɪn'dʒi:njəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very smart or clever : having or showing ingenuity • The book has an ingenious plot. • an ingenious device/plan/solution • an ingenious person • She was ingenious at finding ways to work more quickly. • It was ingenious of him to arrange the schedule so precisely.

— in-ge-nious-ly adv • an ingeniously clever design/solution in-ge-nue (US) or in-gé-nue /'ændʒə,nu:, 'ɑ:ndʒə,nu:, Brit 'ænzə,nju:/ noun, pl -nues [count] : an innocent girl or young woman • In her latest film she plays the part of an ingenue.

in-ge-nu-ity /,ɪndʒə'nu:wəti, Brit ,ɪndʒə'nju:wəti/ noun, pl -ities

1 [noncount] : skill or cleverness that allows someone to solve problems, invent things, etc. • She showed amazing ingenuity in finding ways to cut costs. • It will take considerable/much/some ingenuity to fix these problems.

2 [count] : a clever device or method • musical ingenuities

in-gen-u-ous /ɪn'dʒenjəwəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing the innocence, trust, and honesty that young people often have • an appealingly ingenuous young woman/man • an ingenuous smile/response — compare DISINGENUOUS

— in-gen-u-ous-ly adv • smiling ingenuously — in-gen-u-ous-ness noun [noncount]

in-gest /ɪn'dʒest/ verb -gests; -gest-ed; -gest-ing [+ obj] : to take (something, such as food) into your body : to swallow (something) • The drug is more easily ingested in pill form. — sometimes used figuratively • She ingested [=absorbed] large amounts of information very quickly.

— in-ges-tion /ɪn'dʒestʃən/ noun [noncount] • the ingestion of food/alcohol in-gle-nook /'ɪŋɡəl,nuk/ noun, pl -nooks [count] chiefly Brit : a space with a seat by the side of a large open fireplace in-glo-ri-ous /ɪn'glɒrɪjəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] literary : causing shame or disgrace • an inglorious [=disgraceful] defeat/failure • His command came to an inglorious [=shameful] end when he surrendered the fort.

— in-glo-ri-ous-ly adv • His command ended ingloriously.

in-got /'ɪŋɡət/ noun, pl -gots [count] : a solid piece of metal that has been formed into a particular shape (such as a brick) so that it is easy to handle or store • gold ingots

in-grained /'ɪn,greɪnd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : existing for a long time and very difficult to change : firmly established • an ingrained habit/tradition • These attitudes are very deeply ingrained in the culture.

in-grate /'ɪn,greɪt/ noun, pl -grates [count] formal : a person who does not show proper appreciation or thanks for something : an ungrateful person • a spoiled ingrate in-gra-ti-ate /ɪn'greɪtʃi,eɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] often disapproving : to gain favor or approval for (yourself) by doing or saying things that people like — usually + with • She has tried to ingratiate herself with voters by promising a tax cut.

ingratiating adj [more ~; most ~] often disapproving : intended to gain someone's favor or approval • an ingratiating smile/manner

— in-gra-ti-at-ing-ly adv • smiling ingratiatingly

in-grat-i-tude /ɪn'grætə,tu:d, Brit ɪn'grætə,tju:d/ noun [noncount] : lack of proper appreciation or thanks for something (such as a kind or helpful act) : lack of gratitude • He was hurt by his friends' ingratitude. [=ungratefulness] • an act of ingratitude

in-gre-di-ent /ɪn'gri:dijənt/ noun, pl -ents [count]

1 : one of the things that are used to make a food, product, etc. • He uses only the finest/freshest ingredients in his cooking. • the ingredients of a salad • the ingredients in/of the soap

2 : a quality or characteristic that makes something possible • Honesty is an essential ingredient of/for a successful marriage. • The show has all the ingredients needed to attract a large audience.

in-gress /'ɪn,gres/ noun [noncount] formal : a way to enter a place or the act of entering a place : ENTRANCE • Ingress to and egress from the freeway were made difficult by the construction. — compare EGRESS

in-ground /'ɪn,graʊnd/ adj, always used before a noun, US : located in the ground : not built above the ground • an in-ground swimming pool — compare ABOVEGROUND, UNDERGROUND

in-group /'ɪn,ɡru:p/ noun, pl -groups [count] usually disapproving : a small group of people who share a particular interest or activity and who do not allow other people to join their group in-grow-ing /'ɪn,ɡroʊɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun, Brit : INGROWN • an ingrowing toenail in-grown /'ɪn,ɡroʊn/ adj : having a tip or edge that has grown back into the flesh • an ingrown toenail/hair in-hab-it /ɪn'hæbət/ verb -its; -it-ed; -it-ing [+ obj]

1 : to live in (a place) : to have a home in (a place) • Several hundred species of birds inhabit the island. • This part of the country is inhabited by native tribes. • The island is no longer inhabited. [=no people live there]

2 : to be present in (something) • There is a romantic quality that inhabits all her paintings. • The novel is inhabited by a cast of eccentric characters.

— in-hab-it-able /ɪn'hæbətəbəl/ adj • The house is in such poor condition that it's barely inhabitable.

in-hab-it-ant /ɪn'hæbətənt/ noun, pl -ants [count] : a person or animal that lives in a particular place • The city has more than a million inhabitants. [=residents] in-hal-ant /ɪn'heilənt/ noun, pl -ants [count] medical : a medicine or illegal drug that is breathed into the lungs • The medicine is now available as an inhalant.

in-hale /ɪn'heil/ verb -hales; -haled; -hal-ing

1 : to breathe in [+ obj] This medicine can now be inhaled. • She inhaled the fresh country air. [no obj] He inhaled deeply and exhaled slowly, trying to relax. — opposite EXHALE

2 [+ obj] US, informal : to eat or drink (something) very quickly • After inhaling their dinner, the children ran out the door without even saying goodbye.

— in-ha-la-tion /ɪnhə'leɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, non-count] • (an) inhalation of chemical fumes • Several survivors of the fire are suffering from smoke inhalation. [=a serious injury caused by breathing a lot of smoke]

in-hal-er /ɪn'heilə/ noun, pl -ers [count] medical : a device used for inhaling a medicine in-here /ɪn'hiə/ verb -heres; -hered; -her-ing

inhere in [phrasal verb] inhere in (someone or something) formal : to be a natural part of (someone or something) • He believes that liberty inheres in [(more commonly) is inherent in] humanity as a natural right. • Does selfishness inhere in each of us?

in-her-ent /ɪn'hɪrənt, ɪn'herənt/ adj, formal : belonging to the basic nature of someone or something • He has an inherent sense of fair play. • She believes strongly in the inherent [=fundamental, natural] goodness of all people. — often + in • She believes that goodness is inherent in all people. • There are a number of problems inherent in the design/plan.

— in-her-ent-ly adv • Are people inherently good? • There is nothing inherently illegal about what he did.

in-her-it /ɪn'herət/ verb -its; -it-ed; -it-ing [+ obj]

1 : to receive (money, property, etc.) from someone when that person dies • She inherited the family business from her father. — compare DISINHERIT

2 a biology : to have (a characteristic, disease, etc.) because of the genes that you get from your parents when you are born • Baldness is inherited from the mother's side of the family. • She inherited her father's deep blue eyes. b : to get (a personal quality, interest, etc.) because of the influence or example of your parents or other relatives • She inherited a love of baseball/cooking from her dad.

3 a : to receive (something) from someone who had it previously • When my brother left for college, I inherited his old computer. b : to have to deal with (a situation, problem, etc.) when you take a job or position that someone else had before you • The company's new president will inherit some complicated legal problems. • When the coach quit, her assistant inherited a last-place team.

— in-her-it-able /ɪn'herətəbəl/ adj • an inheritable disease — inherited adj • an inherited estate • inherited [=hereditary] titles • an inherited disease/disorder — in-her-i-tor /ɪn'herətə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • inheritors of the estate • The new coach is an inheritor of a great team legacy. • inheritors of a longtime family tradition

in-her-i-tance /ɪn'herətəns/ noun, pl -tances

1 [count] : money, property, etc., that is received from someone when that person dies • She began her own business with the inheritance she got from her grandfather. • He left sizable inheritances to his children. • an inheritance tax [=a tax on inherited property or money]

2 [singular] : something from the past that is still important or valuable • The buildings are part of the city's architectural inheritance. • our cultural inheritance

3 [noncount] : the act of inheriting something • the inheritance of an estate • the inheritance of a genetic trait

in-hib-it /ɪn'hɪbət/ verb -its; -it-ed; -it-ing [+ obj]

1 : to keep (someone) from doing what he or she wants to do • You shouldn't allow fear of failure to inhibit you. • He was inhibited by modesty. • Fear can inhibit people from expressing their opinions.

2 : to prevent or slow down the activity or occurrence of (something) • drugs that are used to inhibit infection • Strict laws are inhibiting economic growth.

— in-hib-i-tor /ɪn'hɪbətə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • a powerful inhibitor of infection • a growth inhibitor

inhibited adj [more ~; most ~] : unable to express thoughts and feelings freely • She wanted to feel less inhibited. • a shy, inhibited child — opposite UNINHIBITED

in-hi-bi-tion /ɪnhə'bɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : a nervous feeling that prevents you from expressing your thoughts, emotions, or desires [count] — usually plural • After a few drinks, he lost his inhibitions. • a release/relaxation of inhibitions • She seems to have no inhibitions about stating her opinion. [noncount] She laughed loudly and without inhibition. • a loss of inhibition

2 [noncount] technical : the act of preventing or slowing the activity or occurrence of something • inhibition of muscle growth

in-hos-pi-ta-ble /ɪnhə'spɪtəbəl, ɪn'hɑːspɪtəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not hospitable: such as a : not generous and friendly to guests or visitors • It's very inhospitable of him to be so rude to strangers. — often + to • He was inhospitable to his guests. b : having an environment where plants, animals, or people cannot live or grow easily • an inhospitable [=barren] desert/habitat — often + to • soil inhospitable to plant growth c : not ready or willing to accept or consider something — usually + to • a person/company known for being inhospitable [=closed] to new ideas in-house /ɪn'haʊs/ adj, usually used before a noun : created, done, or existing within a company or organization • in-house testing • an in-house investigation/adviser

— in-house adv • All the testing was done in-house.

in-hu-man /ɪn'hju:mən/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 a : very fierce or cruel • inhuman [=savage] punishment • a brutally inhuman tyrant • the most inhuman deeds/crimes b : having or showing no interest in individual people or their feelings : lacking emotional warmth • an inhuman [=impersonal] bureaucracy

2 : not good enough for people to use or live in : extremely poor, dirty, or unhealthy • inhuman living conditions

3 : unlike what might be expected from a human being • He let out an inhuman moan. • She had an almost inhuman desire to succeed. — compare NONHUMAN, SUBHUMAN

— in-hu-man-ly adv • an inhumanly cruel punishment in-hu-mane /ɪnhju:'meɪn/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not kind or gentle to people or animals : not humane • the inhumane [=cruel] treatment of prisoners

— in-hu-mane-ly adv • treating the animals inhumanely

in-hu-man-i-ty /ɪnhju:'mænəti/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of being cruel to other people or to animals • She cannot understand man's inhumanity to man. [=she cannot understand why people treat each other in a cruel way] • the inhumanity [=brutality] of war in-im-i-cal /ɪ'nɪmɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : likely to cause damage or have a bad effect : HARMFUL — usually + to • habits inimical to health • Dry conditions can be inimical to plant life.

2 : not friendly • the judge's inimical glare in-im-i-ta-ble /ɪ'nɪmətəbəl/ adj : impossible to copy or imitate • She delivered the speech in her own inimitable [=unique] style.

in-iq-ui-tous /ɪ'nɪkwətəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : very unfair or evil • an iniquitous deed/war in-iq-ui-ty /ɪ'nɪkwəti/ noun, pl -ties formal

1 [noncount] : the quality of being unfair or evil • a system plagued by corruption and iniquity [=injustice] • a notorious den of iniquity [=a place where immoral things are done]

2 [count] : something that is unfair or evil • the iniquities of slavery

Do not confuse iniquity with inequity.

ini-tial /ɪ'nɪʃəl/ adj, always used before a noun : occurring at the beginning of something • The symptoms are mild in the initial [=early] stages of the disease. • Her initial [=first] reaction was to say no, but she eventually agreed to help.

— ini-tial-ly /ɪˈniʃəli/ adv • The reason I initially [=originally] came here was to find work. • It turned out that the situation was not as serious as we had initially believed. • Initial-ly [=at first], the symptoms are mild.

²*initial* noun, pl -tials

1 [count] : a first letter of a name • President Franklin D. Roosevelt's middle initial stood for "Delano."

2 initials [plural] : the first letters of each of a person's names • She put her initials on each page of the contract. • The initials F.D.R. stood for "Franklin Delano Roosevelt."

³*initial* verb -tials; US -tialed or Brit -tialled; US -tial-ing or Brit -tial-ling [+ obj] : to mark (something) with your initials

• She initialed each page of the contract.

initial public offering noun, pl ~ -ings [count] : the first sale of a company's stock to the public : IPO

¹*ini-ti-ate* /ɪˈniʃi,et/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj]

1 formal : to cause the beginning of (something) : to start or begin (something) • initiate a new project • Doctors have initiated a series of tests to determine the cause of the problem. • The company initiated judicial proceedings against them.

2 : to formally accept (someone) as a member of a group or organization usually in a special ceremony • The new recruits will be initiated tomorrow night. • He was initiated into a secret society.

3 : to teach (someone) the basic facts or ideas about something — usually + into • They initiated her into the ways of the corporate world.

— ini-ti-a-tor /ɪˈniʃi,etə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • the initiator of the project

²*ini-tiate* /ɪˈniʃi,jət/ noun, pl -tiates [count] : a person who is being formally accepted or who has been formally accepted as a member of a group or organization • These secrets are known only to a small group of initiates.

ini-ti-a-tion /ɪˈniʃiˈeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 a [noncount] : the process of being formally accepted as a member of a group or organization : the process of being initiated • his initiation as a member of the club — often + into • her initiation into the sorority b [count] : a ceremony or series of actions that makes a person a member of a group or organization • crimes committed as part of gang initiations • an initiation rite/ritual

2 [noncount] : the act of starting something : the beginning of something • the initiation of therapy • the initiation of judicial proceedings

ini-tia-tive /ɪˈniʃə-tiv/ noun, pl -tives

1 the initiative : the power or opportunity to do something before others do • If you want to meet her, you're going to have to take the initiative and introduce yourself. • The company has the opportunity to seize the initiative by getting its new products to the market before its competitors. • By failing to get its products to the market on schedule, the company has lost the initiative (to its competitors).

2 [noncount] : the energy and desire that is needed to do something • She has ability but lacks initiative. [=drive] ♦ If you do something on your own initiative, you do it because you choose to, not because someone has told you to do it. • I'm doing this on my own initiative. [=because I want to] ♦ If you use your (own) initiative, you decide for yourself what to do instead of waiting to be told by someone else. • You should use your own initiative to come up with a solution.

3 [count] : a plan or program that is intended to solve a problem • The governor has proposed a new initiative to improve conditions in urban schools. • anti-poverty initiatives

in-ject /ɪnˈdʒekt/ verb -jects; -ject-ed; -ject-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to force a liquid medicine or drug into someone or something by using a special needle — often + into • The medicine is injected directly into the muscle. — often + with • The patients were injected with the vaccine. b : to force (a liquid) into something — usually + into • inject fuel into an engine — sometimes used in combination • a fuel-injected engine

2 a : to add (something) to something : to introduce (a particular quality) into something • She told a few jokes to inject a little humor into her speech. • We need to inject some life into this party. b : to provide or add (something needed, such as money) — + into • Several wealthy investors have injected money into the project.

— in-jec-tor /ɪnˈdʒektə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • a fuel injector

in-jec-tion /ɪnˈdʒekʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : the act or process of forcing a liquid medicine or drug into someone or something by using a special needle [noncount] The medicine cannot be taken orally; it must be given/administered by injection. [count] Nurses give the injections. • an injection of a painkiller

2 : the act or process of forcing a liquid into something [noncount] an engine with fuel injection [=a system that injects fuel directly into the cylinders of an engine] [count] injections of fuel

3 [count] : the addition of something (such as money) that is needed to support something • The struggling company needed an injection of cash.

in-joke /ɪnˈdʒoʊk/ noun, pl -jokes [count] : a joke that is only understood by a particular group of people in-ju-di-cious /ɪnˈdʒuˈdɪʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not having or showing good judgment : not sensible or judicious • an injudicious [=unwise] lawsuit • He made several injudicious comments to the press.

— in-ju-di-cious-ly adv

in-junc-tion /ɪnˈdʒʌŋkʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] law : an order from a court of law that says something must be done or must not be done • The group has obtained an injunction to prevent the demolition of the building. — often + against • The court has issued/granted an injunction against the strike.

in-jure /ɪnˈdʒə/ verb -jures; -jured; -jur-ing [+ obj] : to harm or damage (someone or something) • She fell and injured herself. • She fell and slightly injured her arm. • The criticism injured [=wounded] his pride. • The scandal has injured [=tarnished] her reputation. • Several people were badly/seriously/critically injured in the accident. • He believes that the tax will injure [=hurt] small businesses.

synonyms INJURE, HURT, HARM, DAMAGE, and IMPAIR mean to cause something or someone to no longer be healthy or in good condition. INJURE is usually used when the body of a person or animal has been harmed by something, such as an accident. • Two people were badly injured in the accident. • She injured her muscle/leg while running. HURT and HARM are both often used to mean the same thing as INJURE, but HURT often emphasizes physical or emotional pain. • He hurt his back and was unable to walk for a week. • I was hurt by their unkind remarks. HARM often emphasizes a bad change in health. • The plant is poisonous to humans but will not harm deer. DAMAGE is often used when something loses value or becomes less useful. • The table was damaged in shipping. • fruit trees damaged by frost • Very loud music may damage your ears. IMPAIR suggests that something has been made weaker or worse. • a disease that impairs memory/vision • Years of smoking had impaired his health.

injured adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : suffering from an injury : physically hurt or harmed • An ambulance took the injured boy to the hospital. • Her severely/badly injured arm took a long time to heal. • One of the players is injured.

2 always used before a noun a law : having been treated unfairly • A lawsuit is being filed on behalf of the injured party/person. b : showing a feeling that you have been treated unfairly or insulted in some way • He gave her an injured look.

the injured : injured people • The injured were treated at a nearby hospital.

in-ju-ri-ous /ɪnˈdʒurɪəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : causing injury : HARMFUL • injurious behavior • The decision has had an injurious effect. — often + to • behavior injurious to others — in-ju-ri-ous-ly adv • They have been injuriously affected by the decision.

in-iu-ry /ɪnˈdʒəri/ noun, pl -ries : harm or damage : an act or event that causes someone or something to no longer be fully healthy or in good condition [noncount] Hikers need to take sensible precautions to prevent injury. • She's concerned about the risk of injury to her reputation. • The team has been weakened by illness and injury. • Careless use of these tools can cause serious bodily injury. • She survived the accident without injury. • an athlete who is injury-prone [=an athlete who is frequently injured] [count] She fell and suffered an injury to her arm. • His athletic career has been slowed by injuries. • minor/serious/severe injuries

add insult to injury see ²INSULT

do yourself an injury chiefly Brit : to hurt yourself : to become injured because of your own actions • If you keep on lifting those heavy weights, you'll do yourself an injury.

injury time noun [noncount] Brit : time that is added at the end of a game of hockey, soccer, etc., because of time lost when players are injured in-jus-tice /ɪnˈdʒʌstəs/ noun, pl -tic-es : unfair treatment : a situation in which the rights of a person or a group of people are ignored [noncount] The organization is devoted to fighting economic/racial/social injustice. • protection against injustice [count] the injustices of apartheid • The law is part of an effort to correct an old injustice. • He suffered a great/terrible injustice [=wrong] at their hands.

do (someone or something) an injustice : to treat (someone or something) in an unfair way • They did her a great/terrible/grave injustice by not allowing her to file a complaint. • I think you do the book an injustice when you call it “trash.” • The weak punishment does an injustice to the criminal's victims.

¹ink /ɪŋk/ noun, pl inks

1 : colored liquid that is used for writing or printing [noncount] Fill out the form using blue or black ink. • The printer is out of ink. • pen and ink drawings/sketches [count] We're using four different inks for this poster.

2 [noncount] US slang : public attention : PUBLICITY • Her exploits have been getting a lot of ink lately. [=there have been many newspaper stories about her exploits lately]

3 [noncount] biology : the black liquid that is used by some sea creatures for protection • squid ink

— see also RED INK

²ink verb inks; inked; ink-ing [+ obj]

1 : to put ink on (something) • ink the printing block

2 US, informal a : to sign (a document) to show that you accept or agree with what is written on it • They just inked a new partnership agreement/deal. b : to hire (someone) to do something by having that person sign a contract • The team has inked [=signed] both players to a new contract.

ink in [phrasal verb] ink in (something) or ink (something) in : to write or draw (something) in ink • She carefully inked in the letters.

in-kind /ɪnˈkaɪnd/ adj, always used before a noun, US : made up of something other than money • The charity also accepts in-kind donations such as food or clothing.

ink-jet printer noun, pl ~ -ers [count] computers : a printer that works by spraying small drops of ink onto paper — compare LASER PRINTER in-king /ɪŋkɪŋ/ noun, pl -klings [count] : a slight, uncertain idea about something : a slight amount of knowledge about something — usually singular • I didn't have an inkling [=clue] of what it all meant. • Nothing gave me any inkling that it would happen.

ink pad noun, pl ~ pads [count] : a piece of soft material that is soaked with ink and used to get ink onto a rubber stamp ink-well /ɪŋkˌwel/ noun, pl -wells [count] : a small container in the surface of a desk that was used in the past for holding ink

inky /ɪŋki/ adj

1 literary : very dark or black like ink • the inky blackness/darkness of the sea

2 : made dirty by ink • inky hands

in-laid /ɪnˈleɪd/ adj

1 : set into the surface of something in a decorative pattern • inlaid designs/marble

2 : decorated with an inlaid design • an inlaid box/tabletop

¹in-land /ɪnˈlənd/ adv : in, into, or toward the middle of a country : away from the coast • They traveled inland from the sea. • They live inland about three miles.

²inland adj [more ~; most ~] : of, relating to, or in the part of a country that is away from the coast or boundaries • inland transportation routes • an inland sea

Inland Revenue noun

the Inland Revenue : the department of the British government that is responsible for collecting taxes — compare INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE in-law /ɪnˈlɑː/ noun, pl -laws [count] : a person you are related to because of your marriage; especially : the father or mother of your husband or wife — usually plural • She was nervous when she met her in-laws for the first time.

in-law apartment noun, pl ~ -ments [count] US : a small apartment that is part of or next to a house and that is used especially as a place for an older relative to live — called also (US) mother-in-law apartment, (Brit) granny flat

¹in-lay /ɪnˈleɪ/ verb -lays; -laid /ɪnˈleɪd/; -lay-ing [+ obj] : to set pieces of wood, metal, etc., into the surface of (something) for decoration — often + with • The desk is inlaid with ivory. • The carpenter inlaid the furniture with intricate designs.

²in-lay /ɪnˈleɪ/ noun, pl -lays : material that is set into the surface of something for decoration : inlaid material [noncount] decorative/marble inlay [count] The cabinet doors are decorated with inlays.

in-let /ɪnˌlet/ noun, pl -lets [count]

1 : a narrow area of water that goes into the land from a sea or lake • The coast is dotted with tiny inlets.

2 : an opening through which air, gas, or liquid can enter something (such as a machine) • a gas/air inlet

in-line skate noun, pl ~ skates [count] : a shoe with wheels set in a straight line on the bottom that is used for skating • a pair of in-line skates — see picture at SKATE

— in-line skater noun, pl ~ -ers [count] — in-line skating noun [noncount]

in lo-co pa-ren-tis /ɪnˈloukəpəˈrentəs/ adv, law, formal : in the place of a parent • Some feel that the university should act in loco parentis. [=should be responsible for the students in the same way parents are responsible for their children] in-mate /ɪnˌmeɪt/ noun, pl -mates [count] : a person who is kept in a prison or mental hospital • prison inmates in me-mo-ri-am /ɪnməˈmɒrɪəm/ prep, formal : in memory of (someone who has died) — used especially on the stone that marks a grave in-most /ɪnˌmoʊst/ adj, always used before a noun : INNERMOST • She revealed her inmost thoughts and feelings.

inn /ɪn/ noun, pl inns [count]

1 : a house usually in the country where people can eat and rent a room to sleep in • We stayed at a cozy/charming little inn in the country. — often used in the names of hotels • We stayed at the Lakeside Inn.

2 chiefly Brit : a pub • an old country inn

in-nards /ɪnˈɑːdz/ noun [plural] informal

1 : the internal organs of a person or an animal • the chicken's edible innards

2 : the inside parts of something • the robot's complicated innards • tinkering with the car's innards

in-nate /ɪˈneɪt/ adj

1 : existing from the time a person or animal is born • an innate ability/talent • She has an innate sense of rhythm.

2 : existing as part of the basic nature of something • the innate problems of wireless communication — in-nate-ly adv • innately curious in-ner /ɪnər/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : located toward the inside of something : not on or at the edge or outside of something • She led the guests to an inner room. • the inner face of the arch • the inner lining of the jacket — opposite OUTER

2 : not known to or seen by most people • the poem's inner meaning • He wanted to experience the inner workings of the political campaign. [=the parts of the campaign that are only known by the people who work on it]

3 a : of or relating to a person's mind or spirit • inner peace/conflict • his inner life/self • listening to her inner voice • a person's inner beauty b : existing as a part of a person's character • He's trying to get in touch with his inner artist. [=the part of his character that is artistic]

inner circle noun, pl ~ -cles [count] : a small group of people who lead a government or an organization or who are close to its leader — usually singular • The President has an inner circle of advisers.

inner city noun, pl ~ cities [count] : the central section of a large city where mostly poor people live • The mayor is trying to attract new businesses to the inner city.

— inner-city adj, always used before a noun • inner-city kids/neighborhoods/schools/crime inner ear noun, pl ~ ears [count] biology : the part of the ear that is located within your head and that controls hearing and balance — compare OUTER EAR

in-ner-most /ɪnərˌmoʊst/ adj

1 always used before a noun : most private and personal • She revealed her innermost feelings/secrets.

2 : closest to the center or inside of something • Jupiter's innermost moon • the innermost part of the cave — opposite OUTERMOST inner sanc-tum noun, pl ~ -tums [count] somewhat formal : a very private room or place • She was admitted to the building's inner sanctum. — often used figuratively • the inner sanctum of the CIA inner tube noun, pl ~ tubes [count] : a round tube that holds air inside a tire in-ning /'ɪnɪŋ/ noun, pl -nings [count] baseball : one of the usually nine parts of a game in which each team bats until three outs are made • She hit a double in the fourth inning. • He pitched three innings.

innings /'ɪnɪŋz/ noun, pl innings [count] cricket : one of the parts of a game in which a team or player bats had a good innings Brit, informal — used to say that someone who has died lived a long life • We're sad she's gone, but she had a good innings.

inn-keep-er /'ɪn,ki:pə/ noun, pl -ers [count] old-fashioned : a person who owns or manages an inn in-no-cence /'ɪnəsəns/ noun [noncount] : the state of being innocent: such as a : the state of being not guilty of a crime or other wrong act • The defendant maintained/protested his innocence. [=he said that he was not guilty] • He vows that he will prove his innocence in court. — opposite GUILT b : lack of experience with the world and with the bad things that happen in life • the trusting innocence of childhood • The age of innocence was over. c somewhat formal : lack of knowledge about something • Your innocence [(more commonly) ignorance] of the rules is no excuse for such behavior. • I mentioned in all innocence what turned out to be a very painful topic for her. [=I mentioned the topic without knowing that it was so painful for her to talk about it] in-no-cent /'ɪnəsənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not guilty of a crime or other wrong act • He says that he is innocent of the crime. • She was found innocent of all charges. • A person accused of a crime is considered innocent until proven guilty. • Someone told your secret, but it wasn't me. I'm innocent. — opposite GUILTY

2 always used before a noun : not deserving to be harmed • an innocent victim • innocent bystanders

3 : lacking experience with the world and the bad things that happen in life • an innocent child

4 : not intended to cause harm or trouble • an innocent question • I made an innocent mistake; I'm sorry. • innocent [=harmless] fun

5 not used before a noun, somewhat formal : having no knowledge of something • He was entirely innocent of what had happened. [=he did not know what had happened]

— innocent noun, pl -cents [count] • a war that caused the death of thousands of innocents [=innocent people] • She was an innocent when it came to romance. — in-no-cent-ly adv • I innocently mentioned what turned out to be a very painful topic. • She smiled innocently. • Everything started out innocently [=harmlessly] enough.

in-noc-u-ous /'ɪnəˈkjəwəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not likely to bother or offend anyone : INOFFENSIVE • He told a few innocuous jokes. • an innocuous question

2 : causing no injury : HARMLESS • an innocuous gas

— in-noc-u-ous-ly adv — in-noc-u-ous-ness noun [noncount]

in-no-vate /'ɪnəˈveɪt/ verb -vates; -vat-ed; -vat-ing : to do something in a new way : to have new ideas about how something can be done [no obj] The company plans to continue innovating and experimenting. [+ obj] The company innovated a new operating system.

— in-no-va-tor /'ɪnəˈveɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • She is known as a great/brilliant/gifted innovator in her field.

in-no-va-tion /'ɪnəˈveɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a new idea, device, or method • She is responsible for many innovations in her field. • the latest innovation in computer technology

2 [noncount] : the act or process of introducing new ideas, devices, or methods • Through technology and innovation, they found ways to get better results with less work. • the rapid pace of technological innovation

in-no-va-tive /'ɪnəˈveɪtɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : introducing or using new ideas or methods • an innovative approach/solution to the problem • an innovative design

2 : having new ideas about how something can be done • a creative and innovative young designer

— in-no-va-tive-ly adv

in-no-va-to-ry /'ɪnəˈveɪtəri, Brit 'ɪnəˈveɪtri/ adj [more ~; most ~] Brit : INNOVATIVE

in-nu-en-do /,ɪnjəˈwendou/ noun, pl -dos or -does : a statement which indirectly suggests that someone has done something immoral, improper, etc. [count] His reputation has been damaged by innuendos about his drinking and gambling. [noncount] His reputation has been damaged by innuendo. • The movie relies on sexual innuendo for its humor.

Innu variant spelling of INUIT

in-nu-mer-a-ble /'ɪnuːməɾəbəl, Brit 'ɪnjuːməɾəbəl/ adj : too many to be counted : very many • the innumerable [=countless] stars in the sky • There are innumerable errors in the book.

in-nu-mer-ate /'ɪnuːməɾət, Brit 'ɪnjuːməɾət/ adj : unable to understand and do basic mathematics • an innumerate person

— in-nu-mer-a-cy /'ɪnuːməɾəsi, Brit 'ɪnjuːməɾəsi/ noun [noncount] in-oc-u-late /'ɪnəˈkjəˌleɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing [+ obj] medical : to give (a person or animal) a weakened form of a disease in order to prevent infection by the disease — often + against • All the children have been inoculated against smallpox.

— in-oc-u-la-tion /,ɪnəˈkjəˌleɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] in-of-fen-sive /,ɪnəˈfensɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not likely to offend or bother anyone : not offensive • The priest was a mild-mannered inoffensive fellow.

— in-of-fen-sive-ly adv • an inoffensively mild wine — in-of-fen-sive-ness noun [noncount]

in-op-er-a-ble /'ɪnˈɑːpəɾəbəl/ adj

1 medical : not able to be corrected or removed by surgery • an inoperable tumor • a patient with inoperable cancer

2 formal : not capable of being used • The device makes the car inoperable when a key is not used to start it.

in-op-er-a-tive /'ɪnˈɑːpəɾətɪv/ adj, formal

1 : not capable of being used • The accident had rendered the vehicle inoperative.

2 : having no force or effect • With the new federal law in place, the state law has become inoperative.

in-op-por-tune /'ɪn,ɑːpəˈtuːn, Brit 'ɪnˈɒpəˌtjuːn/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : not suitable or right for a particular situation : INCONVENIENT • He always shows up at the most inopportune times.

2 : done or happening at the wrong time • an inopportune sale of stocks

— in-op-por-tune-ly adv

in-or-di-nate /'ɪnˈɔːdnət/ adj : going beyond what is usual, normal, or proper • I waited an inordinate amount of time. • They have had an inordinate number of problems with the schedule.

— in-or-di-nate-ly adv • We had to wait an inordinately long time.

in-or-gan-ic /,ɪnəˈgæɪnɪk/ adj : made from or containing material that does not come from plants or animals • inorganic fertilizer • producing energy from inorganic materials — opposite ORGANIC

— in-or-gan-i-cal-ly /,ɪnəˈgæɪnɪkli/ adv

inorganic chemistry noun [noncount] : a branch of chemistry concerned with substances that contain little or no carbon — compare ORGANIC CHEMISTRY

in-pa-tient /'ɪnˌpeɪʃənt/ noun, pl -tients [count] medical : a patient who stays for one or more nights in a hospital for treatment — often used before another noun • inpatient surgery [=surgery performed on inpatients] • inpatient care/treatment — compare OUTPATIENT

1 input /'ɪnˌput/ noun, pl -puts

1 [noncount] : advice or opinions that help someone make a decision • I need your input on what to have for dinner. • She provided some valuable input at the start of the project.

2 technical a [noncount] : information that is put into a computer • The computer gets its input from a keyboard or mouse. • an input device b [noncount] : something (such as power or energy) that is put into a machine or system • electrical input c [count] : the place at which information, power, etc., enters a computer, machine, or system • This VCR has several audio/video inputs.

3 : the act or process of putting something in or into something else [singular] The job will require a considerable input of money. [noncount] The data is ready for input into/to a computer. — compare OUTPUT

2 input verb -puts; -put-ted or -put; -put-ting [+ obj] : to enter (information) into a computer • She inputted the sales figures into the spreadsheet. — compare OUTPUT

in-quest /'ɪnˌkwɛst/ noun, pl -quests [count] law : an official investigation to find the reason for something (such as a person's death) • a coroner's inquest • The court has ordered an inquest into his death/disappearance.

in·quire or chiefly Brit en·quire /ɪnˈkwajə/ verb -quires; -quired; -quir-ing somewhat formal : to ask for information [no obj] When I inquired, they told me she was not here. — usually + about • I called to inquire about the schedule. • He was inquiring about a friend who used to work here. [+ obj] We inquired the way to the station. • “So, what do you want?” he inquired.

inquire after [phrasal verb] inquire after (someone or something) : to ask for information about (someone or something) • She inquired after my wife’s health. • He greeted us warmly and inquired after our families.

inquire into [phrasal verb] inquire into (something) : to gather or collect information about (something) • A panel has been appointed to inquire into their activities. • The commission should not have inquired into her personal life.

inquire of [phrasal verb] inquire of (someone) formal : to ask (someone) a question • The police inquired of his neighbors if they knew where he was.

— in·quir·er noun, pl -ers [count] inquiring or chiefly Brit enquiring adj, always used before a noun [more ~; most ~]

1 : asking questions : wanting to learn more • He got a call from an inquiring journalist/reporter. • She has an inquiring [=inquisitive] mind.

2 : showing a desire to ask a question or learn more • an inquiring look/gaze

— in·quir·ing·ly /ɪnˈkwajərɪŋli/ adv • She looked at him inquiringly. [=questioningly]

in·qui·ry or chiefly Brit en·qui·ry /ɪnˈkwəri, ˈɪnkwəri/ noun, pl -ries

1 [count] : a request for information • She refused to answer inquiries from the media about her marriage. — often + into • She was told that she could not make an inquiry into [=she could not ask about] the salaries of her coworkers.

2 [count] : an official effort to collect and examine information about something : INVESTIGATION • judicial/legislative inquiries • The board ordered an inquiry to determine whether the rules had been followed. — often + into • The police are conducting an inquiry into (the circumstances of) his death. ♦ In British English, a person who is being questioned by the police as a suspect or a witness is said to be helping the police with their inquiries.

3 [noncount] : the act of asking questions in order to gather or collect information • Further inquiry showed that he had visited the city twice before. • scientific/academic inquiry • The police are pursuing a new line of inquiry.

in·qui·si·tion /ɪnkwəˈzɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 the Inquisition : an organization in the Roman Catholic Church in the past that was responsible for finding and punishing people who did not accept its beliefs and practices • the Spanish Inquisition

2 [count] : a harsh and unfair investigation or series of questions • His political enemies were conducting an inquisition into the details of his personal life.

in·quis·i·tive /ɪnˈkwɪzətɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : tending to ask questions : having a desire to know or learn more • She was very inquisitive [=curious] as a child. • an inquisitive mind

2 disapproving : asking too many questions about other people’s lives • an overly inquisitive neighbor

— in·quis·i·tive·ly adv • She looked at me inquisitively.

— in·quis·i·tive·ness noun [noncount]

in·quis·i·tor /ɪnˈkwɪzətə/ noun, pl -tors [count]

1 : a person who asks many difficult questions in a harsh or unkind way • He had to answer his inquisitors’ questions or be thrown out of school.

2 : a member or officer of the Inquisition

— in·quis·i·to·ri·al /ɪnˈkwɪzətəˈrɪjəl/ adj

in·road /ɪnˈroʊd/ noun, pl -roads [count] — used to describe a situation in which someone or something becomes more successful or important often by making someone or something else less successful; usually plural • We need to protect our company against the inroads of competitors. — usually used with make • Despite the recent inroads made by competitors in the industry, the company is still doing well. • The party hopes to make serious inroads in Congress. [=the party hopes that many more of its members will be elected to serve in Congress] • The sport is making inroads in the U.S. [=it is becoming more popular in the U.S.] in·rush /ɪnˈrʌʃ/ noun [singular] : a fast inward flow or movement into a place • a sudden inrush of water/air

ins. abbr inches

in·sa·lu·bri·ous /ɪnsəˈluːbrɪəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not clean or healthy • the city’s insalubrious air — opposite SALUBRIOUS ins and outs /ɪnzənˈaʊts/ noun

the ins and outs : the details about how something works or is done — often + of • I’m still learning all the ins and outs of American politics.

in·sane /ɪnˈseɪn/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : not sane: such as a : having or showing severe mental illness • an insane person • The murderer was found to be criminally insane.

usage The use of insane to describe a person with severe mental illness is now often considered offensive. The phrase mentally ill is preferred. Insane in this sense now occurs chiefly in such legal phrases as criminally insane and temporarily insane.

b : unable to think in a clear or sensible way • She was insane with jealousy/anger. c — used in the phrase drive/make (someone) insane to describe annoying or bothering someone very much. • That noise is driving me insane. [=it is annoying me very much] • It makes me insane [=I feel very annoyed] when people drive like that.

2 : wild and uncontrolled • He had an insane look in his eyes.

3 [more ~; most ~] : very foolish or unreasonable : CRAZY • She likes to drive at insane speeds. • He had this insane idea that he could get rich by selling old computers.

4 : used for people who have severe mental illnesses • an insane asylum [(now more commonly) a mental hospital]

go insane : to become mentally ill : to go crazy • She went insane and started thinking that everyone was trying to kill her. — usually used in an exaggerated way • I must be going insane. I can’t find my car keys anywhere. • If you don’t stop making that noise, I’m going to go (completely) insane!

the insane : insane people : people who have severe mental illness • a hospital for the insane [(now more commonly) the mentally ill]

— in·sane·ly adv • Her boyfriend was insanely jealous.

in·san·i·tary /ɪnˈsænəˌteri/ adj, chiefly Brit : dirty and likely to cause disease : UNSANITARY • insanitary living conditions • an insanitary bathroom

in·san·i·ty /ɪnˈsænəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : severe mental illness : the condition of being insane • She was found not guilty by reason of insanity. • temporary insanity

2 : something that is very foolish or unreasonable [noncount] His friends thought his decision to quit his job was pure insanity. • Please, no more violence. It’s time to stop this insanity. [count] the insanities of modern life in·sa·tia·ble /ɪnˈseɪjəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : always wanting more : not able to be satisfied • an insatiable appetite/thirst • Her desire for knowledge was insatiable.

— in·sa·tia·bly /ɪnˈseɪjəbli/ adv • an insatiably curious student in·scribe /ɪnˈskraɪb/ verb -scribes; -scribed; -scrib-ing [+ obj]

1 : to write or cut (words, a name, etc.) on something — + on or in • The winner’s name is inscribed on the trophy. • He inscribed a message in the book before giving it to his son. — sometimes used figuratively • The image is inscribed in my memory. [=I remember the image very clearly]

2 : to write words, a name, etc., on (something) • They inscribed the monument with the soldiers’ names. • The book was inscribed with the author’s signature.

in·scrip·tion /ɪnˈskɪptʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] : words that are written on or cut into a surface • The painting had an inscription that read, “To my loving wife.” • the inscription on a stone monument in·scru·ta·ble /ɪnˈskruːtəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : difficult to understand : causing people to feel curious or confused • an inscrutable [=mysterious] expression/smile • an inscrutable work of art • He was a quiet, inscrutable man.

— in·scru·ta·bil·i·ty /ɪnˈskruːtəˈbɪləti/ noun [noncount]

— in·scru·ta·bly /ɪnˈskruːtəbli/ adv

in·seam /ɪnˈsiːm/ noun, pl -seams [count] US : the line where two parts of a pair of pants are sewn together from the top of the inside of the leg to the bottom; also : the length of this line • a 32-inch inseam

in·sect /ɪnˈsekt/ noun, pl -sects [count]

1 : a small animal that has six legs and a body formed of three parts and that may have wings • flies, bees, and other insects [= (chiefly US, informal) bugs] • a swarm of flying insects — often used before another noun • an insect bite • Use plenty of insect spray/repellent to keep the mosquitoes from biting you. — see color picture on page C10

2 : an animal (such as a spider) that is similar to an insect — compare ARACHNID

in·sec·ti·cide /ɪn'sektəsaɪd/ noun, pl -cides [count, non-count] : a chemical substance that is used to kill insects

— in·sec·ti·cid·al /ɪn'sektəsaɪdl/ adj in·sec·ti·vore /ɪn'sektəvoʊ/ noun, pl -vores [count] technical : an animal that eats insects

— in·sec·tiv·o·rous /ɪn'sektɪvərəs/ adj

in·se·cure /ɪn'sɪkjə/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not secure: such as a : not confident about yourself or your ability to do things well : nervous and uncomfortable • I feel shy and insecure around strangers. — often + about • She used to be insecure about her height. • He felt insecure about the idea of becoming a father. • Many young people are insecure about the future. [=they believe that bad things might happen in the future] b : not certain to continue or be successful for a long time • an insecure investment • He has always held low-paying, insecure jobs. [=jobs that people can lose easily] • Most of these families are economically insecure. [=they do not have a dependable source of money] c : not locked or well protected • One of the building's rear doors was insecure. • The country's borders remain insecure.

— in·se·cu·ri·ty /ɪn'sɪkjərɪti/ noun, pl -ties [noncount] They share a sense of insecurity about the future. • job/economic insecurity [count] the insecurities of teenagers in·sem·i·nate /ɪn'seməneɪt/ verb -nates; -nat·ed; -nat·ing [+ obj] technical : to put semen into (a woman or a female animal) in order to cause pregnancy • She was artificially inseminated in January.

— in·sem·i·na·tion /ɪn'seməneɪʃən/ noun [noncount] — see also ARTIFICIAL INSEMINATION in·sen·si·ble /ɪn'sensəbəl/ adj, formal

1 [more ~; most ~] : not able to feel pain, emotions, etc. — often + to • He was insensible to pain. • insensible to fear

2 [more ~; most ~] : not aware of something — often + of • They were insensible [=unaware] of the danger ahead.

3 : not conscious • She was knocked insensible by the collision. • They drank themselves insensible. [=they drank until they became unconscious]

— in·sen·si·bil·i·ty /ɪn'sensə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] • his insensibility to pain — in·sen·si·bly /ɪn'sensəbli/ adv • changes that occur insensibly [=without people being aware that they are occurring]

in·sen·si·tive /ɪn'sensətɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not sensitive: such as a : showing that you do not know or care about the feelings of other people • He's just a rude, insensitive jerk. • a racially insensitive comment [=an offensive comment about a person's race] • It was insensitive of her to say that. b : not responding to or caring about problems, changes, or needs • an insensitive bureaucracy — often + to • The government has been insensitive to the public's demands. • Managers must not be insensitive to the needs of their employees. c not used before a noun : not greatly affected by something — usually + to • He was insensitive to the risks involved in starting a business. • insensitive to pain

— in·sen·si·tive·ly adv • They had acted insensitively. — in·sen·si·tiv·i·ty /ɪn'sensə'tɪvəti/ noun [noncount] • racial insensitivity

in·sep·a·ra·ble /ɪn'sepərəbəl/ adj : not able to be separated • One problem is inseparable from the other. • Growing up, the two of us were inseparable. [=we were very close friends; we spent a lot of time together] • We were inseparable friends.

— in·sep·a·ra·bil·i·ty /ɪn'sepərə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

— in·sep·a·ra·bly /ɪn'sepərəbli/ adv • Your future is inseparably linked/tied to ours.

¹in·sert /ɪn'sɜrt/ verb -serts; -sert·ed; -sert·ing [+ obj]

1 : to put (something) in something • Insert your credit card here. • You need to insert a comma between these two words. • insert a space between paragraphs — often + in or into • He inserted the key in the lock. • She inserted a tape in the VCR. • insert a word in a sentence • Try inserting a couple of jokes into your speech to keep your audience's attention.

2 : to cause (someone) to be involved in an activity • They tried to insert themselves into the conversation.

²in·sert /ɪn'sɜrt/ noun, pl -serts [count] : something that is put into something else • shoe inserts • The pot comes with an insert for steaming.; especially : a small section or piece of paper with information that is placed inside something • advertising inserts in the Sunday paper • Each box includes an insert explaining the product's proper use.

in·ser·tion /ɪn'sɜʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : the act or process of putting something into something else : the act or process of inserting something • Treatment may include the insertion of a tube in his ear.

2 [count] : something (such as a comment) that is added to a piece of writing : something that is inserted • The report contains a number of insertions.

in·ser·vice /ɪn'sɜvəs/ adj, always used before a noun : happening while you are being paid to work • a day of in-service training for teachers

¹in·set /ɪn'set/ noun, pl -sets [count]

1 : a small map or picture that is shown on or next to a larger map or picture in order to show more detail

2 : a piece of something that is added to something larger often for decoration • The floor is decorated with an inset of marble tiles. • velvet dresses with silk insets

²inset verb -sets; -set; -set·ing [+ obj]

1 : to put (something) in something larger for decoration, to give information, etc. • inset a map in a larger map

2 : to put something into (something) often for decoration — usually used as (be) inset • The ring is inset with diamonds. • floors inset with marble tiles

— inset adj • a table with an inset glass top • an inset map/photograph

in·shore /ɪn'ʃoʊ/ adj

1 : moving toward the shore away from the water • an inshore breeze

2 : located near the shore • They fish in the shallow inshore waters of the Atlantic.

— inshore adv • The animals move inshore to feed.

¹in·side /ɪn'saɪd, 'ɪn'saɪd/ noun, pl -sides

1 [count] : an inner side, edge, or surface of something — usually singular • The door can only be locked from the inside. — often + of • I had a sore on the inside of my mouth.

2 a the inside : an inner part of something (such as a building or machine) • The inside of the church is quite beautiful. • I've never seen the inside of a computer before. — often plural • the insides of a computer b [count] informal : the inner parts (such as the heart and stomach) of a person's body — usually plural • I felt like my insides were tied up in knots.

on the inside 1 : on the inner side, edge, or surface of something • The number 22 car tried to pass the leader on the inside (of the track). 2 baseball : on the side of home plate nearest the batter • The next pitch was a fastball on the inside. 3 — used to describe how someone is feeling • She may have seemed happy, but really she was sad on the inside. 4 : in a position within an organization or group • The bank robbers must have had help from someone on the inside. [=someone working for the bank that was robbed] 5 : in prison • He wondered what life was like on the inside.

²inside adj, always used before a noun

1 : located on or near the inner side, edge, or surface of something • an inside wall/corner/door • the inside edge of her foot • (baseball) He struck out on an inside pitch.

2 a : coming from someone within a group or organization : relating to or having information that is known only to a special group of people • inside sources/information • He gave us an inside view of the situation. • I got the inside story from a friend who works there. • It's an inside joke. [=a joke that is understood only by people with special knowledge about something] b : done by someone within a group or organization • No one knows who robbed the bank, but the police suspect that it may have been an inside job. [=that it may have been robbed by or with the help of someone who works in the bank]

³inside prep

1 : in or into the inner part of (something or someone) • We waited inside the store. • Several people were trapped inside the burning building. • She kept her hands inside her pockets. • His feelings were building up inside him.

2 a : within the borders or limits of (something) • He lives inside the city limits. • They make sure to stay inside the law. [=to not break any laws] • She always kept well inside [=she drove slower than] the speed limit. b : before the end of (a period of time) • Their marriage ended inside [=within] a year. • We should hear the results inside [=in less than] an hour.

3 : belonging to (a group or organization) • Sources inside the company indicate that there are disagreements about the change in management.

inside of chiefly US : INSIDE • We waited inside of the store. • He lives inside of the city limits. • The results should be known inside of an hour. • information from sources inside of the company

4inside adv

1 : in the inner part of something • I cleaned my car inside and out. • The candy is chewy inside. • He keeps all his feelings locked up inside. [=he does not express his feelings]

2 : in or into the inner part of a building, room, etc. • We went/stayed inside during the storm. • Step inside and look at our menu.

3 informal : in prison • He got put inside for burglary.

inside out 1 : so that the inner surface becomes the outer surface • He was wearing his socks inside out. • The wind blew my umbrella inside out. 2 informal : very well and thoroughly • She knows this area inside out.

turn (something) inside out informal 1 : to cause (a place) to become disorganized while you are trying to find something • I turned the closet inside out and still couldn't find those shoes. 2 : to change (something) completely • Her life was turned inside out after the accident.

in-sid-er /ɪn'saɪdə, 'ɪn,sɑɪdə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who belongs to a group or organization and has special knowledge about it • Political insiders say that she is planning to run for president. • The book gives fans an insider's view of Hollywood. — opposite outsider

insider trading noun [noncount] finance : the illegal activity of buying and selling a company's stocks while using secret information from a person who works for the company

inside track noun

the inside track : a position that gives someone an advantage over others in a competition • The owner's son has the inside track for the job. • She is on the inside track to get a promotion.

in-sid-i-ous /ɪn'sɪdijəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : causing harm in a way that is gradual or not easily noticed • Most people with this insidious disease have no idea that they are infected. • an insidious enemy

— in-sid-i-ous-ly adv • The disease progresses insidiously.

— in-sid-i-ous-ness noun [noncount]

in-sight /'ɪn,sɑɪt/ noun, pl -sights

1 [noncount] : the ability to understand people and situations in a very clear way • He is a leader of great insight.

2 : an understanding of the true nature of something [noncount] The author analyzes the problem with remarkable insight. — often + into • We need to gain insight into the politics of the region. [count] I had a sudden insight. • Her book provides us with fresh new insights into this behavior.

in-sight-ful /'ɪn,sɑɪtfəl, ɪn'sɑɪtfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing a very clear understanding of something : having or showing insight • Her analysis of the problem was very insightful. • an insightful comment/remark • insightful leaders — in-sight-ful-ly adv — in-sight-ful-ness noun [noncount]

in-sig-nia /ɪn'sɪgnijə/ noun, pl insignia or US in-sig-ni-as [count] : a badge or sign which shows that a person is a member of a particular group or has a particular rank • Their jackets have the school's insignia on the front. • a military insignia — sometimes used figuratively • Both attacks bore the insignia of the terrorist group.

in-sig-nif-i-cant /,ɪnsɪg'nɪfɪkənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : small or unimportant : not significant • They lost an insignificant amount of money. • insignificant details • Looking up at the stars always makes me feel so small and insignificant. • These problems are not insignificant.

— in-sig-nif-i-cant-ly adv • an insignificantly small amount

— in-sig-nif-i-cance /,ɪnsɪg'nɪfɪkəns/ noun [noncount] • feelings of insignificance • (chiefly Brit) Your financial debt pales into insignificance [=seems much smaller] when you compare it with mine.

in-sin-cere /,ɪnsɪn'siə/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not expressing or showing true feelings : not sincere • He said he was sorry, but I could tell that he was being insincere. • insincere praise/flattery • an insincere apology

— in-sin-cere-ly adv • smiling insincerely — in-sin-cer-i-ty /,ɪnsɪn'serəti/ noun [noncount] • the insincerity of his apology in-sin-u-ate /ɪn'sɪnjə,wert/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj]

1 : to say (something, especially something bad or insulting) in an indirect way • Just what are you insinuating? [=implying] — often + that • Are you insinuating that I cheated!?

2 formal : to gradually make (yourself) a part of a group, a person's life, etc., often by behaving in a dishonest way — usually + into • He gradually insinuated himself into her life. • She has managed to insinuate herself into the city's highest social circles.

— insinuating adj [more ~; most ~] • He made an insinuating remark/comment about my weight.

in-sin-u-a-tion /ɪn,sɪnjə'weɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a usually bad or insulting remark that is said in an indirect way • I resent her insinuation that I can't do it without her help.

2 [noncount] : the act of saying something bad or insulting in an indirect way • He criticizes his opponents by insinuation rather than directly.

in-sip-id /ɪn'sɪpəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : not interesting or exciting : dull or boring • an insipid movie/novel

2 : lacking strong flavor : BLAND • The soup was rather insipid.

— in-sip-id-ly adv — in-si-pid-i-ty /,ɪnsə'pɪdəti/ noun [noncount]

in-sist /ɪn'sɪst/ verb -sists; -sist-ed; -sist-ing

1 : to demand that something happen or that someone do something [no obj] I didn't want to go, but she insisted. • "Come on, let's go." "Oh, all right, if/since you insist." [+ obj] — usually + that • She insisted that I (should) go. • The source for my story insisted that I not reveal his/her name.

2 [+ obj] : to say (something) in a way that is very forceful and does not allow disagreement • She insists the money is hers. — usually + that • She kept insisting that she was right. • He insists that these problems are not his fault. • Both men insist that they are innocent.

insist on also insist upon [phrasal verb] 1 insist on/upon (something) or insist on/upon doing (something) : to say or show that you believe that something is necessary or very important • My source insisted on anonymity. • She insists on doing everything her own way. • They adamantly insisted upon (their) being included in the meeting. 2 insist on/upon doing (something) informal : to continue doing (something that other people think is annoying or unimportant) • The people sitting next to us insisted on talking during the entire movie.

in-sis-tence /ɪn'sɪstəns/ noun [noncount]

1 : the act of demanding something or saying something in a way that does not allow disagreement — often + on • I was surprised by their insistence on privacy. • her insistence on being honest — often + that • No one believed him despite his insistence that he was innocent. ✧ If you do something at the insistence of someone or at someone's insistence, you do it because someone tells you that you must do it. • She was fired from her job at the insistence of the mayor. • He enrolled in the army at his father's insistence.

2 : the quality or state of being insistent • He spoke with great insistence of the need for reform. • the insistence of the crashing waves in-sis-tent /ɪn'sɪstənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : demanding that something happen or that someone do something • My friends were insistent that I go. = They were insistent on my going. [=they insisted that I go] • He was insistent about paying for dinner. [=he insisted on paying for dinner; he insisted that he should pay for dinner]

2 : happening for a long time and very difficult to ignore • an insistent drumbeat • We listened to the insistent crashing of waves on the beach.

— in-sis-tent-ly adv • He spoke very insistently of the need for reform.

in-so-far as /,ɪnsə'fɑː/ also in so far as conj, formal : to the extent or degree that • She helped us insofar as she was able. [=she helped us as much as she could] • The news is good insofar as it suggests that a solution may be possible.

in-sole /'ɪn,səʊl/ noun, pl -soles [count]

1 : the bottom of the inside of a shoe

2 : a thin piece of material that you put at the bottom of the inside of a shoe for comfort in-so-lent /'ɪnsələnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] somewhat formal : rude or impolite : having or showing a lack of respect for other people • an insolent [=impudent, disrespectful] child •

Insolent behavior will not be tolerated.
— in-so-lence /ɪn'sələns/ noun [noncount] • The boy was punished for his insolence. — in-so-lent-ly adv

in-sol-u-ble /ɪn'sɑ:ljəbəl/ adj
1 formal : not able to be solved or explained • a seemingly insoluble [= (less formally) unsolvable] dilemma/mystery/problem
2 technical : not able to be dissolved in a liquid • a substance insoluble in water — opposite SOLUBLE in-sol-vent /ɪn'sɑ:lvənt/ adj : not having enough money to pay debts • The company has become insolvent. [=bankrupt] • insolvent debtors

— in-sol-ven-cy /ɪn'sɑ:lvənsi/ noun [noncount]

in-som-nia /ɪn'sɑ:mnijə/ noun [noncount] : the condition of not being able to sleep • She suffers from insomnia.

in-som-ni-ac /ɪn'sɑ:mnɪæk/ noun, pl -ni-acs [count] : a person who is not able to sleep : a person with insomnia in-sou-ci-ance /ɪn'su:sijəns/ noun [noncount] formal : a relaxed and calm state : a feeling of not worrying about anything • her youthful insouciance [=nonchalance]

— in-sou-ci-ant /ɪn'su:sijənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] • his insouciant [= (less formally) carefree] charm

in-spect /ɪn'spekt/ verb -spects; -spect-ed; -spect-ing [+ obj]
1 : to look at (something) carefully in order to learn more about it, to find problems, etc. • The border guard inspected [=examined] their passports. • She had the car inspected by a mechanic before she bought it. • The candles are inspected for damage/defects before being packaged. • After the storm, we went outside to inspect the damage.
2 : to officially visit a school, hospital, etc., in order to see if rules are being followed and things are in their proper condition • He inspected the soldiers' barracks. • inspecting a restaurant for health code violations

in-spec-tion /ɪn'spekʃən/ noun, pl -tions
1 : the act of looking at something closely in order to learn more about it, to find problems, etc. : the act of inspecting something [noncount] Close inspection of the candles revealed some small defects. • On closer inspection, [=when it was examined more closely] the painting proved to be a fake. [count] The mechanic made/did a thorough inspection of the car. = The mechanic carried out a thorough inspection.
2 : an official visit to a school, hospital, etc., in order to see if rules are being followed and things are in their proper condition [count] Regular inspections are required of all restaurants in the area. [noncount] The barracks are ready for inspection.

in-spec-tor /ɪn'spektə/ noun, pl -tors [count]
1 : a person whose job is to inspect something • a building inspector • safety/health inspectors [=people who make sure that a place or thing is safe/healthy]
2 : a police officer who is in charge of several police departments inspector general noun, pl inspectors general [count]

: a person who is in charge of a group of inspectors or a system of inspection

in-spi-ra-tion /ɪnspə'reɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions
1 a [noncount] : something that makes someone want to do something or that gives someone an idea about what to do or create : a force or influence that inspires someone • Where does the inspiration for your art come from? • His paintings take/draw their inspiration from nature. • Her early childhood provided (the) inspiration for her first novel. • Her courage is a source of inspiration to us all. [=her courage makes us all want to be more courageous] • Her most recent plays seem to lack inspiration. [=they are not very original or creative] • divine Inspiration [=inspiration that comes from God] b [count] : a person, place, experience, etc., that makes someone want to do or create something — usually singular • His children are his greatest inspiration. • Her courage is an inspiration to us all. • She truly is an inspiration.
2 : a good idea [singular] She had a sudden inspiration. They would have the party outdoors! [noncount] Deciding to have the party outdoors was sheer inspiration.

in-spi-ra-tion-al /ɪnspə'reɪʃən/ adj [more ~; most ~]
: causing people to want to do or create something : giving inspiration • an inspirational speaker • Her courage is inspirational.

in-spire /ɪn'spaɪə/ verb -spires; -spired; -spir-ing [+ obj]
1 : to make (someone) want to do something : to give (someone) an idea about what to do or create • He inspired generations of future scientists. • Her courage has inspired

us. — often followed by to + verb • She has inspired us to live better lives. • Her early childhood inspired her to write her first novel.

2 : to cause (something) to happen or be created • His discoveries inspired a whole new line of scientific research. • Her first novel was inspired by her early childhood.

3 : to cause someone to have (a feeling or emotion) • The news inspired hope that the war might end soon. • His unusual management style does not inspire confidence. [=it makes people worry about his ability to manage properly]

inspired adj
1 [more ~; most ~] : very good or clever • She gave an inspired performance. • He was an inspired choice for the role. • an inspired guess — opposite UNINSPIRED
2 : having a particular cause or influence • Her comments were politically inspired. [=they were made for political reasons] — often used in combination • Italian-inspired architecture inspiring adj [more ~; most ~] : causing people to want to do or create something or to lead better lives • an inspiring leader • His generosity is inspiring. • an inspiring [=inspirational] true story of one family's struggles to overcome poverty — opposite UNINSPIRING

— in-spir-ing-ly adv • He is inspiringly optimistic.

in-sta-bil-i-ty /ɪnstə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] : the quality or state of being unstable: such as a : the state of being likely to change • Investors are worried about the current instability of the stock market. • political/social instability b : the tendency to change your behavior very quickly or to react to things in an extremely emotional way • The patient has a history of emotional/mental instability.

in-stall /ɪn'stɑ:l/ verb -stalls; -stalled; -stall-ing
1 : to make (a machine, a service, etc.) ready to be used in a certain place [+ obj] New locks were installed on all the doors. • We thought about installing a new phone system. • a newly installed door • The computer comes with the software already installed. [no obj] The software installs easily/automatically on your hard drive.
2 [+ obj] : to put (someone) in an official or important job • The college recently installed its first woman president.
3 [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to be or stay in a particular place • He installed himself on the leather couch. [=he sat down on the couch and stayed there] • They were temporarily installed in the guest bedroom.
— in-stall-er noun, pl -ers [count] • a professional carpet installer

in-stal-la-tion /ɪnstə'leɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions
1 [noncount] : the act or process of making a machine, a service, etc., ready to be used in a certain place : the act of installing something • The cable company offers lower prices and free installation. • These products are designed for easy installation.
2 [singular] : a ceremony in which someone is put in an official or important job • Her installation as president will take place tomorrow.
3 [count] : something (such as a piece of equipment) that is put together and made ready for use • The room contained the company's large computer installation.
4 [count] : a place that is used for training soldiers, keeping military supplies and machinery, etc. • bases, forts, training camps, and other army installations
5 [count] : a work of art that usually has several parts (such as a sculpture, lights, and sound) and that is usually shown in a large space in-stall-ment (US) also chiefly Brit in-stal-ment /ɪn'stɑ:lmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 : any one of a series of small payments that you make over a long time until you have paid the total cost of something [count] He just paid the last installment of a $20,000 loan. • We are paying for the computer in installments. [noncount] (US) We are paying on installment.
2 [count] : any one of several parts of a long book, television program, etc., that are published or shown over a period of time • The first installment of the five-part series will appear tonight at ten o'clock.

installment plan noun, pl ~ plans [count] US : a way of paying for something by making a series of small payments over a long time • We used an installment plan to buy the furniture. • We bought it on the installment plan. — called also (Brit) hire purchase in-stance /ɪnstəns/ noun, pl -stanc-es [count] : an example of a particular type of action or situation : an occasion of something happening • an instance of great courage • These delays are just another instance of bureaucratic inefficiency. • We have seen too many instances [=cases] in which poor families have had to leave their homes. • In most instances the disease can be controlled by medication. • They have decided not to oppose the decision in this instance.

for instance : as an example : for example • Lack of insurance is a problem for a lot of older people, like my grandmother, for instance. • Now, take this car, for instance.

in the first instance formal : before other events happen : as the first thing in a series of actions • You will be seen in the first instance by your own doctor who may then send you to a specialist.

¹in-stant /'ɪnstənt/ noun, pl -stants [count] : a very short period of time : MOMENT • For an instant, I forgot where I was. • The ride was over in an instant. • I knew it was him the instant (that) [=as soon as] I heard his voice. • Come in the house, this instant! [=right now, immediately]

²instant adj

1 : becoming something very quickly • The movie was an instant hit/sensation/success. • He became an instant celebrity with the publication of his first novel. • Her trip made her an instant expert on the region. [=it made her believe that she knew everything about the region]

2 : happening or done without delay : IMMEDIATE • We got an instant response from the company. • The Internet provides instant access to an enormous amount of information. • They took an instant dislike to each other. [=they immediately disliked each other] • He expects instant gratification.

3 of food : able to be made very quickly : partially prepared by the manufacturer so that final preparation is quick and easy • Is this coffee instant or regular? • instant pudding/rice in-stan-ta-neous /,ɪnstən'teɪniəs/ adj : happening very quickly : happening in an instant • We got an almost instantaneous response from the company. • Their deaths were instantaneous.

— in-stan-ta-neous-ly adv • They died instantaneously.

in-stant-ly /'ɪnstəntli/ adv : without delay : IMMEDIATELY • His voice is instantly recognizable. • They instantly fell in love. • She was killed instantly when her car hit a tree.

instant messaging noun [noncount] : a system for sending messages quickly over the Internet from one computer to another computer — instant message noun, pl ~ -sages [count] • We sent each other instant messages all night.

instant replay noun, pl ~ -plays US : a recording of an action in a sports event that can be shown on television immediately after the original play happens [count] They showed the winning goal again in an instant replay. [noncount] We watched the goal again on instant replay. — called also (Brit) action replay

in-stead /ɪn'sted/ adv — used to say that one thing is done or that one thing or person is chosen when another is not chosen, cannot be done, etc. • I was going to write you an e-mail, but I decided to call instead. • I couldn't afford a new car. Instead, I bought a used one. • I don't have any milk—do you mind juice instead? • John couldn't attend the conference so Mary went instead. [=in his place] • They didn't choose me; they chose her instead. • She didn't want to live in the city and longed instead for the peace and quiet of the country. — often + of • I decided to call instead of writing. [=to call and not write] • Instead of buying a new car, I bought a used one. • They chose her instead of [=rather than; and not] me. • He had juice instead of milk.

in-step /'ɪn,step/ noun, pl -steps [count]

1 : the raised middle part of the top of your foot between the toes and the ankle — see picture at FOOT

2 : the part of a shoe, sock, etc., that fits over the instep

in-sti-gate /'ɪnstə,ɡert/ verb -gates; -gat-ed; -gat-ing [+ obj] : to cause (something) to happen or begin • There has been an increase in the amount of violence instigated by gangs. • She blamed him for instigating [=starting] the argument. • The government has instigated an investigation into the cause of the accident.

— in-sti-ga-tor /'ɪnstə,ɡertə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • the instigators of the violence in-sti-ga-tion /,ɪnstə'ɡeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : the act of causing something to happen or begin : the act of instigating something • the instigation of divorce proceedings ♦ Something that is done at the instigation of someone or at someone's instigation is done because that person causes it to be done. • He was hired at the instigation of the company's president. • The changes were made at her instigation.

in-still (US) or Brit in-stil /ɪn'stɪl/ verb -stills; -stilled; -still-ing [+ obj] : to gradually cause someone to have (an attitude, feeling, etc.) • instill character/discipline — usually + in or into • They have instilled a love of music in their children. • The coach is trying to instill in/into the players a feeling of confidence.

in-stinct /'ɪn,stɪŋkt/ noun, pl -stincts

1 a : a way of behaving, thinking, or feeling that is not learned : a natural desire or tendency that makes you want to act in a particular way [count] Our first instinct was to run. • Cats possess a natural hunting instinct. • Seeing the baby aroused all her maternal instincts. [noncount] The decision was based on (gut) instinct. — see also KILLER INSTINCT b : something you know without learning it or thinking about it [count] Her instincts told her that something was wrong. [=she believed that something was wrong even though there was no obvious reason to believe it] • You have to learn to trust/follow your instincts. [=to trust your feelings about what is right or true even when you cannot be sure that it is right or true] • He has been guided throughout his career by his political instincts. [noncount] Mere instinct alerted her to the danger. • He knew by instinct what not to say. • She seemed to know by instinct that something was wrong. — compare INTUITION

2 [count] : a natural ability • He has a strong survival instinct. • an athlete with good instincts — often + for • He has a strong instinct for survival. • She has a natural instinct for making the right decisions in her job. — sometimes followed by to + verb • a strong instinct to survive in-stinc-tive /ɪn'stɪŋktrɪv/ adj : relating to or based on instinct : based on feelings or desires that do not come from thinking or learning • Cats have an instinctive desire to hunt. • an instinctive reaction/response • instinctive behavior

— in-stinc-tive-ly adv • She felt instinctively that something was wrong. = Instinctively, she felt (that) something was wrong. • He knew instinctively what not to say.

in-stinc-tu-al /ɪn'stɪŋktɪfəwəl/ adj : relating to or based on instinct : INSTINCTIVE • instinctual behaviors

¹institute noun, pl -tutes [count] : an organization created for a particular purpose (such as research or education) • They founded an institute for research into the causes of mental illness. • an art institute • a technical institute • the Massachusetts Institute of Technology

²in-sti-tute /'ɪnstə,tu:t, Brit 'ɪnstə,tju:t/ verb -tutes; -tut-ed; -tut-ing [+ obj] formal : to begin or create (something, such as a new law, rule, or system) • By instituting these programs, we hope to improve our children's education. • They have instituted new policies to increase public safety. • The organization was instituted [=established] in 1910.

in-sti-tu-tion /,ɪnstə'tu:ʃən, Brit ,ɪnstə'tju:ʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] a : an established organization • an educational/academic institution • banks and other financial institutions • an institution of higher learning b : a place where an organization takes care of people for a usually long period of time • She committed herself to a mental institution. [=a hospital for people with mental or emotional problems] • a correctional institution [=a prison]

2 [count] a : a custom, practice, or law that is accepted and used by many people • Family visits are a Thanksgiving institution. • She's not interested in the institution of marriage. • the institution of slavery b : someone or something that is very well known and established in a particular field or place • He is an institution in local politics. [=he has participated in local politics for such a long time that people consider him to be a regular part of local politics] • The play has become something of an institution on Broadway.

3 [noncount] : the act of beginning or creating something (such as a new law, rule, or system) : the act of instituting something • the institution of new rules and regulations

— in-sti-tu-tion-al /,ɪnstə'tu:ʃənəl, Brit ,ɪnstə'tju:ʃənəl/ adj • institutional power • institutional funds • institutional living • institutional care in-sti-tu-tion-al-ize also Brit in-sti-tu-tion-al-ise /,ɪnstə'tu:ʃənə,ləɪz, Brit ,ɪnstə'tju:ʃənə,ləɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (a custom, practice, law, etc.) to become accepted and used by many people : to establish (something) as an institution • It will take time to institutionalize these reforms.

2 : to put (someone, such as a mentally ill person) in an institution (sense 1b) • They had to institutionalize their youngest son. • She was institutionalized for seven years.

— in-sti-tu-tion-al-i-za-tion also Brit in-sti-tu-tion-al-i-sa-tion /ˌɪnstəˌtuːʃənələˈzeɪʃən, Brit ˌɪnstəˌtjuːʃənəˌlaɪˈzeɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

institutionalized also Brit institutionalised adj

1 a : created and controlled by an established organization • institutionalized housing • institutionalized religion b : established as a common and accepted part of a system or culture • an institutionalized practice • institutionalized beliefs and values • protests against institutionalized racism

2 [more ~; most ~] — used to describe a person who has been living in an institution (such as a prison) for a very long time and is no longer able to live an independent life in the outside world • After 20 years in prison, he had become completely institutionalized.

in-store /ˈɪnˈstoʊ/ adj : existing, happening, or available in a store • in-store displays/advertising • in-store cafés in-struct /ɪnˈstrʌkt/ verb -structs; -struct-ed; -struct-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to teach (someone) a subject, skill, etc. — usually + in or on • His friend instructed him in English. • Many doctors are instructing their patients on the importance of exercise. • She instructed us on how to interpret the text.

2 a : to give (someone) an order or command • She instructed us that we were to remain in our seats. — usually followed by to + verb • She instructed us to remain in our seats. — often used as (be) instructed • We were instructed to remain in our seats. b law : to give an order or an explanation of a law to (a jury) • The judge instructed the jury that they should disregard the testimony of the last witness.

3 Brit : to hire (a lawyer) to represent you in a legal case • She advised him to instruct a solicitor.

in-struc-tion /ɪnˈstrʌkʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] a : a statement that describes how to do something • You should read each instruction carefully. — usually plural • Our teacher gave us instructions for building the model. = Our teacher gave us instructions on how to build the model. • The manual provides complete/detailed instructions [=directions] for installing the software. • an instruction manual b : an order or command • Their instruction was to deliver the package by five o'clock. — usually plural • We had instructions not to admit anyone. • I gave you explicit instructions to be here by six o'clock. • Don't you know how to follow instructions? [=directions] • I did everything according to your instructions.

2 [noncount] : the action or process of teaching : the act of instructing someone • The after-school program offers/provides reading instruction to students who need it. — often + in • The students are receiving instruction in algebra.

3 [count] computers : a set of letters, numbers, etc., that tells a computer to do something • The computer can handle one million instructions per second.

in-struc-tion-al /ɪnˈstrʌkʃənəl/ adj, always used before a noun : giving information about how to do or use something : providing instruction • We need more instructional materials in our classrooms. • instructional videos • These models are used for instructional purposes.

in-struc-tive /ɪnˈstrʌktɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : providing knowledge or information : helping to instruct someone • It was very instructive [=informative, educational] to watch the doctors work. • an interesting and instructive lesson in-struc-tor /ɪnˈstrʌktər/ noun, pl -tors [count]

1 : a person who teaches a subject or skill : someone who instructs people • a swimming/driving instructor

2 US : a teacher in a college or university who is not a professor • He's a poetry instructor at a local community college.

in-stru-ment /ˈɪnstrəmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count]

1 : a tool or device used for a particular purpose • instruments of torture • The murder weapon was a blunt instrument. [=an object without sharp edges or points] especially : a tool or device designed to do careful and exact work • surgical/laboratory instruments synonyms see ¹IMPLEMENT

2 : a device that measures something (such as temperature or distance) • an instrument designed to measure the Earth's atmosphere • Part of her training as a pilot involved learning to fly by instruments. [=learning to fly only by looking at the instruments in the airplane]

3 : a device that is used to make music • The piano was his favorite musical instrument. • Do you play any instruments? — see also WIND INSTRUMENT

4 : someone or something that can be used to do or achieve something • Movies can be useful instruments of social change. [=movies can be used to cause social change] • She believed that she was an instrument of God. [=she believed that God was using her to do things; she believed that God was acting through her]

5 law : an official document that shows legal rights or duties • a mortgage instrument • stocks, bonds, and other financial instruments

in-stru-men-tal /ˌɪnstrəˈmentl/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : very important in helping or causing something to happen or be done — often + in • He was instrumental in organizing the club. = He played an instrumental part/role in organizing the club. • Her influence was instrumental in bringing the painting to the museum.

2 music : written for or performed on musical instruments : not including singing • They played instrumental music at the wedding. • an instrumental version of a song — in-stru-men-tal-ly /ˌɪnstrəˈmentli/ adv • an instrumentally and vocally beautiful song • He was instrumentally involved in the organization of the club.

in-stru-men-tal-ist /ˌɪnstrəˈmentlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who plays a musical instrument • a talented instrumentalist

in-stru-men-ta-tion /ˌɪnstrəˈmənˈteɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 : a way of writing or arranging music so that it can be performed in a particular style or by particular instruments • jazz instrumentation

2 : a set of instruments • There was a problem with the airplane's instrumentation.

instrument panel noun, pl ~ -els [count] : a flat surface across the front of an airplane's cockpit that contains the instruments used to fly the plane — compare DASHBOARD

in-sub-or-di-nate /ˌɪnsəˈboʊdənət/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not obeying authority : refusing to follow orders • His behavior was unprofessional and insubordinate. • an insubordinate attitude — in-sub-or-di-na-tion /ˌɪnsəˈboʊdəˈneɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • She was fired for gross insubordination.

in-sub-stan-tial /ˌɪnsəbˈstænsjəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not substantial: such as a : not large or important • Their contribution to the fund was insubstantial. • a very insubstantial [=small] amount of money • insubstantial differences b : not strong or solid • The scarf is beautiful but too thin and insubstantial [=flimsy] to keep you warm. c : not real : not made of a real substance • an insubstantial [=imaginary] place • as insubstantial as a ghost

— in-sub-stan-ti-al-i-ty /ˌɪnsəbˈstænsiˈæləti/ noun [noncount] • the insubstantiality of the fabric/evidence in-suf-fer-able /ɪnˈsʌfrəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very bad or unpleasant : too unpleasant to deal with or accept • I can't take any more of her insufferable arrogance. • He's an insufferable bore. • insufferable [=unbearable, intolerable] heat

— in-suf-fer-ably /ɪnˈsʌfrəbli/ adv [more ~; most ~] • an insufferably arrogant woman in-suf-fi-cient /ˌɪnsəˈfɪʃənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] somewhat formal : not having or providing enough of what is needed : not sufficient • The case was thrown out because of insufficient evidence. — often followed by to + verb • There was insufficient evidence to prove their case. — often + for • His income was insufficient for the family's needs.

— in-suf-fi-cien-cy /ˌɪnsəˈfɪʃənsi/ noun, pl -cies [count, noncount] • an insufficiency [=deficiency] of evidence — in-suf-fi-cient-ly adv • insufficiently strong evidence in-su-lar /ˈɪnsʊlə, Brit ˈɪnsjʊlə/ adj [more ~; most ~] : separated from other people or cultures : not knowing or interested in new or different ideas • an insular [=isolated] group • the insular world of boarding schools • an insular [=narrow] way of thinking

— in-su-lar-i-ty /ˌɪnsʊˈlərəti, Brit ˌɪnsjʊˈlərəti/ noun [noncount] • the insularity of the boarding school world in-su-late /ˈɪnsəˌleɪt, Brit ˈɪnsjʊˌleɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing

1 : to add a material or substance to (something) in order to stop heat, electricity, or sound from going into or out of it [+ obj] They used a special type of fiberglass to insulate the attic. [no obj] a material that is able to insulate against cold

2 [+ obj] : to prevent (someone or something) from dealing with or experiencing something : to keep (someone or something) separate from something unpleasant, dangerous, etc. • The company has tried to insulate itself from the region's political turmoil. • I wish I could insulate my children from/against painful experiences.

— insulated adj • insulated windows and doors • an insulated ceiling • insulated wires • Our heating bills are high because our house is poorly insulated.

in-su-la-tion /ˌɪnsəˈleɪʃən, Brit ˌɪnsjuˈleɪʃən/ noun [non-count]

1 : a material or substance that is used to stop heat, electricity, or sound from going into or out of something : a material that insulates something • They used fiberglass insulation.

2 a : the quality or state of being insulated • These materials provide the insulation needed in cold weather. b : the act of insulating something • I hired them to do the insulation of the attic. [=to insulate the attic]

in-su-la-tor /ˌɪnsəˈleɪtə ˌɪnsjuˈleɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count] : a material that allows little or no heat, electricity, or sound to go into or out of something • Metal is not a good insulator.

in-su-lin /ˌɪnsələn, Brit ˌɪnsjʊlən/ noun [noncount] medical : a substance that your body makes and uses to turn sugar into energy ♦ If your body does not produce enough insulin, you will develop diabetes. • His insulin level is too low.

¹in-sult /ɪnˈsʌlt/ verb -sults; -sult-ed; -sult-ing [+ obj] : to do or say something that is offensive to (someone) : to do or say something that shows a lack of respect for (someone) • She felt they had insulted her by repeatedly ignoring her questions. • We were greatly insulted by his rudeness. • They're understandably insulted when no one asks for their opinion on a matter that affects them so much. • You're saying those photos are real? Don't insult my intelligence. [=don't treat me as though I am stupid; don't expect me to believe those photos are real]

²in-sult /ɪnˈsʌlt/ noun, pl -sults [count] : a rude or offensive act or statement : something that insults someone • The fans hurled/shouted insults at the referee as he walked off the field after the game. • Their decision to cancel the project was an insult to all my hard work. • They got into a fight over a minor insult. • We could hear them angrily trading/exchanging insults (with each other). • The assignment was an insult to our intelligence. [=the assignment was too simple]

add insult to injury : to do or say something that makes a bad situation even worse for someone • Most people were forced to work longer hours each week, and to add insult to injury, the company decided not to give pay raises.

insulting adj [more ~; most ~] : rude or offensive : showing a lack of respect • an insulting remark/attitude • insulting language — sometimes + to • jokes/lyrics that are insulting to women — in-sul-ting-ly /ɪnˈsʌltɪŋli/ adv • an insultingly simplistic plot

in-su-per-a-ble /ɪnˈsuːpərəbəl, Brit ɪnˈsjuːpərəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal, of a problem, difficulty, etc. : impossible to solve or get control of : impossible to overcome • They succeeded despite some nearly insuperable [=insurmountable] difficulties. • insuperable barriers in-sup-port-a-ble /ˌɪnsəˈpɔːtəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : more or worse than can be dealt with or accepted • insupportable [=insufferable, intolerable] behavior • an insupportable [=unbearable] burden in-sur-ance /ɪnˈʃərəns/ noun [noncount]

1 : an agreement in which a person makes regular payments to a company and the company promises to pay money if the person is injured or dies, or to pay money equal to the value of something (such as a house or car) if it is damaged, lost, or stolen • life insurance • insurance against theft or damage • health/medical insurance • auto insurance • He was very glad that he had taken out insurance on the boat. [=that he had insured the boat] — see also NATIONAL INSURANCE

2 a : the amount of money a person regularly pays an insurance company as part of an insurance agreement • What's the monthly insurance on your car? [=how much money do you pay each month for insurance for your car?] b : the amount of money that a person receives from an insurance company • After the fire, we used the insurance (money) to buy a new house.

3 : the business of providing insurance • She has a job in insurance. • I work for an insurance company.

4 : protection from bad things that may happen in the future — usually + against • Education provides insurance against instability in the job market. • The contract provides insurance against future price changes.

insurance adjuster noun, pl ~-ers [count] US : a person who works for an insurance company and whose job is to decide how much money the company will pay people when they are injured or when their property is damaged, lost, or stolen — called also (Brit) loss adjuster insurance agent noun, pl ~ agents [count] : a person whose job is to provide people with insurance — called also insurance broker

insurance policy noun, pl ~-cies [count] : ²POLICY

in-sure /ɪnˈʃʊə/ verb -sures; -sured; -sur-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to buy insurance for (something, such as property or health) • He insured the boat. • We insured our house against fire and flood damage. b : to provide insurance for (something, such as property or health) • I found a company that will insure my car for less than I've been paying. • This policy will insure your car against theft.; also : to provide (someone) with insurance • She had difficulty finding a company that would insure her.

2 US : to make (something) sure, certain, or safe : ENSURE • They take great care to insure the safety and security of their home. • We hope that careful planning will insure success.

insure against [phrasal verb] 1 insure against (something) : to make (something bad) less likely to happen usually by planning and preparing • Doctors recommend exercising to insure against health problems. • Despite all of our planning, we can't insure against bad weather. 2 insure (someone) against (something) : to protect (someone) from (something bad) • We can't insure our children against all life's problems.

insured adj : having insurance (sense 1) • an insured person • insured property • All cars in this state must be insured in order to legally be driven. • “I lost the ring.” “Was it fully insured?” — often + against • Was your ring insured against loss?

the insured law : a person who has insurance : a person whose life, health, or property is insured • In the event of an injury, the insured will receive payment in 90 days.

in-sur-er /ɪnˈʃərə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a company that provides insurance • In this policy, the insurer agrees to pay for all medical expenses. • the country's leading insurers

in-sur-gen-cy /ɪnˈsədʒənsi/ noun, pl -cies : a usually violent attempt to take control of a government : a rebellion or uprising [count] The insurgency [=insurrection] has continued for three years. [noncount] a campaign of insurgency in-sur-gent /ɪnˈsədʒənt/ noun, pl -gents [count] : a person who fights against an established government or authority • Insurgents are trying to gain control of the country's transportation system. — often used before another noun • an insurgent group • insurgent attacks in-sur-mount-a-ble /ˌɪnsəˈmaʊntəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] of a problem, difficulty, etc. : impossible to solve or get control of : impossible to overcome • They were faced with several insurmountable obstacles/problems. • insurmountable debt

— in-sur-mount-a-bly /ˌɪnsəˈmaʊntəbli/ adv • insurmountably difficult in-sur-rec-tion /ˌɪnsəˈrekʃən/ noun, pl -tions : a usually violent attempt to take control of a government [count] He led an armed insurrection [=rebellion, uprising] against the elected government. [noncount] acts of insurrection

— in-sur-rec-tion-ary /ˌɪnsəˈrekʃənəri, Brit ˌɪnsəˈrekʃəri/ adj • insurrectionary violence • an insurrectionary group

— in-sur-rec-tion-ist /ˌɪnsəˈrekʃənɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] • a group of armed insurrectionists

in-tact /ɪnˈtækt/ adj : not broken or damaged : having every part • The house survived the war intact. • After 25 years, their friendship remained intact.

in-take /ɪnˈteɪk/ noun, pl -takes

1 : the amount of something (such as food or drink) that is taken into your body [noncount] You should limit your daily intake of fats and sugars. [count] a larger intake of fluids • the recommended daily intakes of selected vitamins

2 [count] : the act of taking something (such as air) into your body • a sudden intake of breath

3 [count] : a place or part where liquid or air enters something (such as an engine) • the fuel intake

4 Brit : the number of things or people that are taken into something (such as an organization) [count] The new intake of Labour MPs includes many women. [noncount] The school's intake of students has increased in recent years.

in-tan-gi-ble /ɪnˈtændʒəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not made of physical substance : not able to be touched : not tangible • Leadership is an intangible asset to a company. • an intangible benefit — intangible noun, pl -gibles [count] • Success may depend upon such intangibles as talent and experience.

in-te-ger /'ɪntɪdʒə/ noun, pl -gers [count] mathematics : any number that is not a fraction or decimal : any whole number or its negative • positive and negative integers • Both 10 and -10 are integers. — compare WHOLE NUMBER in-te-gral /'ɪntɪgrəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very important and necessary • Industry is an integral [=essential] part of modern society. • She had become an integral part of their lives. — often + to • His character is integral [=essential] to the story. • Luck was integral to our success.

— in-te-gral-ly /'ɪntɪgrəli/ adv • She was integrally involved in their lives.

in-te-grate /'ɪntəgreɪt/ verb -grates; -grat-ed; -grat-ing
1 [+ obj] a : to combine (two or more things) to form or create something • The car's design successfully integrates art and/with technology. • She integrates elements of jazz and rock in her music. b : to make (something) a part of another larger thing — usually + into • He feels that these books should be integrated into the curriculum. [=should be included in the curriculum]

2 a : to make (a person or group) part of a larger group or organization — usually + into [+ obj] They have resisted efforts to integrate women into the military. [no obj] Many immigrants have found it difficult to integrate into American culture. b : to end a policy that keeps people of different races apart in (a place, such as a school) [+ obj] She has been a leader in the efforts to integrate [=desegregate] public schools. [no obj] a law requiring schools to integrate — opposite SEGREGATE

— in-te-gra-tion /,ɪntə'greɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the integration of art and/with technology • the integration of women into the military • racial/social integration

integrated adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having different parts working together as a unit • an integrated system of hospitals • an integrated company

2 : allowing all types of people to participate or be included : not segregated • integrated schools • an integrated neighborhood integrated circuit noun, pl ~ -cuits [count] computers : MICROCHIP

in-te-gra-tion-ist /,ɪntə'greɪʃənɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who supports racial integration • integrationists versus segregationists

in-teg-ri-ty /ɪn'tegrəti/ noun [noncount]

1 : the quality of being honest and fair • He has a reputation for integrity [=honesty] in his business dealings. • He's a man of the highest/greatest integrity. • academic integrity • I admire her artistic/personal integrity. • She had the integrity to refuse to compromise on matters of principle.

2 : the state of being complete or whole • Without music, the film loses its integrity. • They are trying to preserve the cultural integrity of the community. • The earthquake may have damaged the building's structural integrity.

in-tel-lect /'ɪntələkt/ noun, pl -lects

1 : the ability to think in a logical way [noncount] She is a woman of superior intellect. [count] She has a sharp/keen intellect. • We were required to read a book every week in order to develop our intellects. • music that appeals to the intellect while still satisfying the emotions

2 [count] : a very smart person : a person whose intellect is well developed • He's recognized as one of the greatest intellects [=minds] currently working in this field.

in-tel-lec-tu-al /,ɪntə'lektʃəwəl/ adj

1 : of or relating to the ability to think in a logical way • a child's intellectual development/growth • intellectual challenges • intellectual activities/exercises

2 [more ~; most ~] a : involving serious study and thought • the social and intellectual life of the campus • the library's commitment to intellectual freedom [=freedom that allows people to think about or study what they want] b of a person : smart and enjoying serious study and thought • a rather intellectual poet

— in-tel-lec-tu-al-ly /,ɪntə'lektʃəwəli/ adv • He has grown both emotionally and intellectually.

intellectual noun, pl -als [count] : a smart person who enjoys serious study and thought : an intellectual person • He thinks that he's an intellectual, but he doesn't know what he's talking about. • She's a hard worker but she's no great intellectual. • a café where artists and intellectuals mingle intellectual property noun [noncount] law : something (such as an idea, invention, or process) that comes from a person's mind • Any song that you write is your intellectual property. • the protection of intellectual property rights [=the rights of a person who has thought of or invented something that other people want to use, profit from, etc.]

in-tel-li-gence /ɪn'telədʒəns/ noun [noncount]

1 : the ability to learn or understand things or to deal with new or difficult situations • She impressed us with her superior intelligence. • a person of average/normal/high/low intelligence • human intelligence — see also ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

2 : secret information that a government collects about an enemy or possible enemy • military intelligence • gathering intelligence about a neighboring country's activities — often used before another noun • intelligence sources/operations • a national intelligence agency; also : a government organization that collects such information • He was appointed (as the) head of army intelligence.

intelligence quotient noun, pl ~ -tients [count] : IQ intelligence test noun, pl ~ tests [count] : a test designed to measure a person's intelligence

in-tel-li-gent /ɪn'telədʒənt/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : having or showing the ability to easily learn or understand things or to deal with new or difficult situations : having or showing a lot of intelligence • highly/very intelligent [=smart] people • She asked some intelligent questions. • He's a hard worker but he's not very intelligent. • an intelligent decision

2 : able to learn and understand things • intelligent beings • Dogs are intelligent animals. • They are looking for signs of intelligent life [=creatures that can learn and understand things] on other planets.

3 : having an ability to deal with problems or situations that resembles or suggests the ability of an intelligent person • intelligent software • an intelligent machine

— in-tel-li-gent-ly adv • He spoke/wrote intelligently about the changes that are needed. • an intelligently designed computer system in-tel-li-gen-tsia /ɪn,telə'dʒentsɪjə, ɪn,telə'gentsɪjə/ noun [singular] : a group of intelligent and well-educated people who guide or try to guide the political, artistic, or social development of their society — usually used with the • Her new book has been embraced by the intelligentsia. • His proposals were ridiculed by the intelligentsia. ♦ Intelligentsia can be used with either a singular or plural verb. • The intelligentsia has/have embraced her new book.

in-tel-li-gi-ble /ɪn'telədʒəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : able to be understood • an intelligible plan • the ability to make complex concepts intelligible to the average reader; especially : clear enough to be heard, read, etc. • His diaries include passages that are barely intelligible. [=almost impossible to read] • Very little of the recording was intelligible. — opposite UNINTELLIGIBLE

— in-tel-li-gi-bil-i-ty /ɪn,telədʒə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] • the intelligibility of the concepts — in-tel-li-gi-bly /ɪn'telədʒəbli/ adv • She has trouble speaking intelligibly. [=clearly, in a voice that is loud enough, etc.]

in-tem-per-ate /ɪn'tempərət/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not temperate: such as a : having extreme conditions • an intemperate [=extremely hot/cold] climate/zone • intemperate [=severe, stormy] weather b : having or showing a lack of emotional calmness or control • He wrote an intemperate [=angry] letter to his congresswoman. • an intemperate discussion c old-fashioned : often drinking too much alcohol • an intemperate drinker

— in-tem-per-ance /ɪn'tempərəns/ noun [noncount] • He later regretted the intemperance of his words. • the intemperance of the weather

in-tend /ɪn'tend/ verb -tends; -tend-ed; -tend-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to plan or want to do (something) : to have (something) in your mind as a purpose or goal • He intended that his daughter would inherit the business. = (Brit) He intended leaving the business to his daughter. • I didn't intend any disrespect. — usually followed by to + verb • I didn't intend to show any disrespect. • He intended to leave the business to his daughter. • She clearly intends to stay here. • He didn't intend to hurt anybody. b : to plan for or want (someone or something) to do or be something • We intended that she come with us. — usually followed by to + verb • We intended her to come with us. • They intended the wedding to be formal. • If everything goes as intended [=if everything happens in the way that has been planned], he will graduate this spring.

2 a : to want (something that you control, provide, or have made) to be used for a particular purpose or by a particular person — often followed by to + verb • The person who donated the computers intended them to be used in classrooms. — often + for • The author intended the book for adults. — usually used as (be) intended • The book was intended for adults. • These computers were intended [=meant] to be used in classrooms. • The bullet was intended for him. [=the person who shot the gun wanted the bullet to hit him] • The film was intended to educate people. • The program is intended to make life easier for working parents. — sometimes + as • It was never intended as a substitute for the real thing. b : to want (something) to express a particular meaning — usually used as (be) intended • What was intended by the author? [=what meaning was the author trying to express?] — often + as • The comment was not intended [=meant] as an insult. • The arrests were intended as a warning to other criminals. — often followed by to + verb • The comment was not intended to be an insult.

¹intended adj : in your mind as a purpose or goal • He was unable to pursue his intended career. [=the career that he wanted/planned to have] • What's your intended destination? • The book failed to reach its intended audience.

²intended noun, pl -eds [count] old-fashioned : a person to whom someone is engaged to be married — usually singular • a young man and his intended

in-tense /ɪn'tens/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very great in degree : very strong • intense [=extreme] heat/cold/pain/pressure • He shielded his eyes from the intense flash of light. • She has an intense dislike for/of her husband's friend. • intense anger

2 a : done with or showing great energy, enthusiasm, or effort • After many years of intense study, he received his medical degree. • an intense effort • School reform is a subject of intense debate. • The work requires intense concentration. b of a person : very serious • He was an intense young man who was very determined to do well in school.

— in-tense-ly adv • an intensely ambitious woman • The students competed intensely for the prize. • He gazed at her intensely.

in-ten-si-fi-er /ɪn'tensə,fajə/ noun, pl -ers [count] grammar : a word (such as really or very) that gives force or emphasis to a statement • “So” can function as an intensifier, as in “I’m so tired.” — called also intensive

in-ten-si-fy /ɪn'tensə,fai/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing

1 [no obj] : to become stronger or more extreme : to become more intense • We could hear the wind howling outside as the storm intensified. • The fighting has intensified.

2 [+ obj] : to make (something) stronger or more extreme : to make (something) more intense • They intensified their efforts to increase sales. • an intensified search for survivors

— in-ten-si-fi-ca-tion /ɪn,tensəfə'keɪʃən/ noun [noncount] a process of intensification [singular] an intensification of violence in-ten-si-ty /ɪn'tensəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : the quality or state of being intense : extreme strength or force • the intensity of the sun's rays • the intensity of the argument

2 : the degree or amount of strength or force that something has [count] hurricanes of different intensities [noncount] The noise grew in intensity. [=the noise became louder] • The sun shone with great intensity.

¹in-ten-sive /ɪn'tensɪv/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : involving very great effort or work • an intensive effort • intensive study/research • an intensive course in business writing

2 grammar : giving force or emphasis to a statement • an intensive pronoun/adverb

3 of farming : designed to increase production without using more land • intensive farming/agriculture

— see also CAPITAL-INTENSIVE, LABOR-INTENSIVE

— in-ten-sive-ly adv • She trained intensively for two years.

²intensive noun, pl -sives [count] grammar : INTENSIFIER

intensive care noun [noncount] : a section of a hospital where special medical equipment and services are provided for patients who are seriously injured or ill • patients in intensive care = patients in the intensive care unit [=ICU]; also : the medical care provided in such a section • Her condition will require intensive care.

¹in-tent /ɪn'tent/ noun, pl -tents [count] : the thing that you plan to do or achieve : an aim or purpose • She thinks I'm trying to make things difficult for her, but that's not my intent. • What was the the writer's intent? • The intent of the law is to protect consumers. • He was charged with assault with intent to kill.

to all intents and purposes also US for all intents and purposes — used to say that one thing has the same effect or result as something else • Their decision to begin bombing was, to all intents and purposes, a declaration of war.

²intent adj [more ~; most ~] : showing concentration or great attention • an intent gaze

intent on/upon (something) : giving all of your attention and effort to a specific task or goal • She seems intent on destroying our credibility. [=she seems to be determined to destroy our credibility] • They were intent on their work [=they were focused on their work] — in-tent-ly adv • She listened intently to the news report.

in-ten-tion /ɪn'tenʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] : the thing that you plan to do or achieve : an aim or purpose • She announced her intention to run for governor. • He seemed to think that I was trying to cause problems, but that was never my intention. • He said he loved her, but he actually had no intention of marrying her. [=he did not intend to marry her] • We have every intention of continuing with this project [=we intend to continue with this project], whatever the cost. • He bought a dog with the intention of training it to attack intruders. • He has good intentions, but his suggestions aren't really helpful. • Sometimes plans don't work out well, despite the best (of) intentions — see also WELL-INTENTIONED in-ten-tion-al /ɪn'tenʃənəl/ adj : done in a way that is planned or intended : DELIBERATE • an intentional drug overdose • an intentional and premeditated killing • I apologize for the omission of your name from the list. It was not intentional. — opposite UNINTENTIONAL

— in-ten-tion-al-ly adv • Investigators suspect that the fire was set intentionally. • The test is intentionally designed to trick students.

in-ter /ɪn'tə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ring [+ obj] formal : to bury (a dead body) • a burial site where people have been interred for over a thousand years — opposite DISINTER

inter- /ɪntə/ prefix

1 : between : among : together • interlock • intertwine • interrelation • interrelate

2 : involving two or more • international • interdepartmental • interfaith in-ter-act /ɪntə'ækt/ verb -acts; -act-ed; -act-ing [no obj]

1 : to talk or do things with other people • They're quiet children who don't interact much. — often + with • She interacts with other children at nursery school.

2 : to act together : to come together and have an effect on each other — often + with • When these two drugs interact (with each other), the results can be deadly.

— in-ter-ac-tion /ɪntə'ækʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] social interactions • the interactions between the two drugs [noncount] ways to encourage more interaction among children in-ter-ac-tive /ɪntə'æktɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : designed to respond to the actions, commands, etc., of a user • interactive software • an interactive Web site

2 : requiring people to talk with each other or do things together • interactive learning

— in-ter-ac-tive-ly adv — in-ter-ac-tiv-i-ty /ɪntə'ræk'tɪvə-ti/ noun [noncount]

in-ter-agen-cy /ɪntə'eɪdʒənsi/ adj, always used before a noun : occurring between or involving different government agencies • an interagency task force in-ter alia /ɪntə'eɪlɪə/ adv, formal : among other things • The collection of paintings included, inter alia, several Rembrandts and several Picassos. [=the collection included several Rembrandts, several Picassos, and other things as well] in-ter-breed /ɪntə'bri:d/ verb -breeds; -bred /-bred/; -breed-ing : to cause animals of two different species to produce young animals that are a mixture of the two species [+ obj] interbreed horses with/and donkeys [no obj] horses interbreeding with donkeys in-ter-cede /ɪntə'si:d/ verb -cedes; -ced-ed; -ced-ing [no obj] formal : to try to help settle an argument or disagreement between two or more people or groups • Their argument probably would have become violent if I hadn't interceded. : to speak to someone in order to defend or help another person • When the boss accused her of lying, several other employees interceded on her behalf.

— in-ter-ces-sion /ɪntə'seʃən/ noun, pl -sions [noncount] Even the intercession of the United Nations failed to bring an end to the war. [count] She thanked them for their intercessions on her behalf.

in-ter-cept /,ɪntə'sept/ verb -cepts; -cept-ed; -cept-ing [+ obj]

1 : to stop and take someone or something that is going from one place to another place before that person or thing gets there • Detectives have been intercepting her mail. • The police intercepted him as he was walking out. • intercept a secret message

2 sports : to catch or receive (a pass made by an opponent) • He intercepted the pass/ball. • (American football) The quarterback has been intercepted twice. [=two passes thrown by the quarterback have been intercepted]

— in-ter-cep-tion /,ɪntə'seɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [non-count] They used a secret code because of the possibility of interception by spies. [count] He has made 143 passes without an interception.

in-ter-cep-tor /,ɪntə'septə/ noun, pl -tors [count] : a fast military plane or missile used to defend against enemy planes or enemy missiles

¹in-ter-change /'ɪntə,tʃeɪndʒ/ noun, pl -chang-es

1 : the act of sharing or exchanging things [count] a friendly interchange [=exchange] of ideas [noncount] electronic data interchange

2 [count] : an area where two or more highways meet that is designed to allow traffic to move from one highway to another without stopping

²in-ter-change /,ɪntə,tʃeɪndʒ/ verb -chang-es; -changed; -chang-ing [+ obj] : to put each of two or more things in the place of the other • We interchanged the two tires. • We interchanged the front tire with the rear tire. [=we put the front tire on the rear and the rear tire on the front]

in-ter-change-able /,ɪntə,tʃeɪndʒəbəl/ adj : capable of being used in place of each other • These words have similar meanings but they're not (freely) interchangeable (with each other).

— in-ter-change-abil-i-ty /,ɪntə,tʃeɪndʒə'bɪləti/ noun [non-count] — in-ter-change-ably /,ɪntə,tʃeɪndʒəbli/ adv • He uses the terms interchangeably.

in-ter-city /,ɪntə'sɪti/ adj, always used before a noun : traveling or occurring between cities • intercity rail services • inter-city trade in-ter-col-le-giate /,ɪntəkə'li:dʒət/ adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US : involving or involved in competition between colleges • intercollegiate sports/athletics in-ter-com /'ɪntə,kɑ:m/ noun, pl -coms [count] : a system which allows a person speaking into a microphone to be heard on a speaker by people in a different room or area • I heard my name called on the intercom. • His secretary's voice came over the intercom, telling him that he had a visitor.

in-ter-com-mu-ni-ca-tion /,ɪntəkə,mju:nə'keɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : communication between people or groups • intercommunication between employees in-ter-con-nect /,ɪntəkə'nekt/ verb -nects; -nect-ed; -nect-ing : to connect (two or more things) with each other [+ obj] The systems are interconnected with/by a series of wires. • These political issues are closely interconnected. [=related] [no obj] The lessons are designed to show students how the two subjects interconnect. • a series of interconnecting stories • interconnecting rooms [=rooms that are connected to each other]

— in-ter-con-nec-tion /,ɪntəkə'nekʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

in-ter-con-ti-nen-tal /,ɪntə,kɑ:ntə'nentl/ adj

1 : traveling or occurring between continents • intercontinental flights/trade/travel

2 : capable of traveling from one continent to another • an intercontinental ballistic missile [=ICBM]

in-ter-course /'ɪntə,kɔ:s/ noun [noncount]

1 : SEXUAL INTERCOURSE

2 formal : communication and actions between people • the unspoken rules of social intercourse

in-ter-de-nom-i-na-tion-al /,ɪntədɪ,nɑ:mə'neɪʃən/ adj : involving different religious groups • an interdenominational service in-ter-de-part-ment-al /,ɪntədɪ,pɑ:t'mentl/ adj : occurring between or involving different departments (as of a college) • interdepartmental research in-ter-de-pen-dent /,ɪntədɪ'pendənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : related in such a way that each needs or depends on the other : mutually dependent • The two nations are politically independent but economically interdependent.

— in-ter-de-pen-dence /,ɪntədɪ'pendəns/ also in-ter-de-pen-den-cy /,ɪntədɪ'pendənsi/ noun [noncount] • the economie interdependence of the two nations — in-ter-de-pen-dent-ly adv • The nations' economies function interdependently.

in-ter-dis-ci-plin-ary /,ɪntə'dɪsəplə,neri/ adj : involving two or more academic, scientific, or artistic areas of knowledge : involving two or more disciplines • interdisciplinary studies

¹in-ter-est /'ɪntərəst/ noun, pl -ests

1 a : a feeling of wanting to learn more about something or to be involved in something [noncount] She told us about her lifelong interest in music. • I have no interest in politics. [=I am not interested in politics] • The kids listened to the speaker for a little while, but then lost interest. • The speaker wasn't able to hold/keep their interest. • I've been following his career with (great) interest. [singular] She took/had an active interest in the political debate. • He expressed/showed an interest in learning more about photography. b [non-count] : a quality that attracts your attention and makes you want to learn more about something or to be involved in something • The stories about his personal life add interest to the book. • He looked through the available magazines, but found nothing of interest. [=nothing interesting] • I thought this article might be of interest to you. • We visited many places of interest on our vacation. • The price of the ticket was a matter of interest to everyone. • a story that has human interest = a human-interest story [=a story that is interesting because it involves the experiences of real people]

2 [count] : something (such as a hobby) that a person enjoys learning about or doing • Music is one of her many interests. • She has a number of outside interests. [=things that she enjoys doing when she is not working]

3 [count] — used when discussing what is the best or most helpful thing for someone • It's in your (own) interest to keep silent. • The judge decided that it would be in the (best) interests of the child to continue living with her mother. • If he refuses to cooperate, he'll be acting against his own interests. [=he'll be acting in a way that is harmful to himself] • a policy that is not in the national/public interest [=that is more likely to harm than to help the nation/public] • The law is intended to protect/safeguard the interests of people who have no health insurance. • He claims that he has her (best) interests at heart. [=that he is concerned about her and wants to help her] • In the interest of [=for the sake of] fairness, we decided to get everyone's opinion before making a decision.

4 [noncount] a : the money paid by a borrower for the use of borrowed money • We pay six percent interest on the loan. • The loan was repaid with interest. • monthly interest payments/charges • interest rates • an interest-free loan [=a loan that the borrower does not have to pay any interest on] b : money paid to you by a bank for the money you have in a bank account • He made about $500 in interest last year. — see also COMPOUND INTEREST, SIMPLE INTEREST

5 [count] : a legal share in a business or property • They offered to buy out his interest in the company.

6 interests [plural] : a group financially involved in an industry or business • This law is opposed by the oil interests. — see also SPECIAL INTEREST

²interest verb -ests; -est-ed; -est-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (someone) to want to learn more about something or to become involved in something • Military history doesn't really interest me. • It might interest you to know that the woman in this photograph is your great-grandmother. • It interested me to learn that she had once lived in California.

2 : to persuade (someone) to have, take, or participate in (something) • Can I interest you in a game of tennis? [=would you like to play tennis?] • Could I interest you in another cup of coffee? [=would you like another cup of coffee?] • The salesman tried to interest me in a more expensive computer.

interested adj [more ~; most ~]

1 a : wanting to learn more about something or to become involved in something • The listeners were all greatly/very interested in the lecture. • students who are interested in archaeology • I'd be interested to learn more about his background. • I'm interested to hear what you have to say. • I was very interested to learn that she had once lived in California. b : having the desire to do or have something • Are you interested in playing tennis? [=would you like to play tennis?] • Would you be interested in another cup of coffee? [=would you like another cup of coffee?] • I asked him if he wanted to play tennis, but he said he wasn't interested.

2 : having a direct or personal involvement in something • The plan will have to be approved by all interested parties.

interest group noun, pl ~ groups [count] : a group of people who try to influence politics or the policies of government, business, etc., in a way that helps their own interests — compare PRESSURE GROUP in-ter-est-ing /'intrɛstɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : attracting your attention and making you want to learn more about something or to be involved in something : not dull or boring • This is one of the most interesting books I've read all year. • It will be interesting to see how she decides to spend the money. • This building has an interesting history. • I don't find politics very interesting. • I found it interesting to learn that she had once lived in California. • Most of what he said wasn't interesting to me.

— in-ter-est-ing-ly adv • He was interestingly dressed. • Interestingly (enough), these animals rarely fight. [=it is interesting that these animals rarely fight]

¹in-ter-face /'ɪntəˌfeɪs/ noun, pl -fac-es [count]

1 : the place or area at which different things meet and communicate with or affect each other • the man-machine interface • the interface between engineering and science

2 a : a system that is used for operating a computer : a system that controls the way information is shown to a computer user and the way the user is able to work with the computer • The software has a user interface that's easy to operate. • a friendly/clunky interface b : an area or system through which one machine is connected to another machine • We installed an interface between the computer and the typesetting machine.

²interface verb -faces; -faced; -fac-ing : to connect or become connected : to connect by means of an interface [+ obj] interface a machine with a computer [no obj] the point at which the two machines interface

in-ter-faith /,ɪntəˈfeɪθ/ adj, always used before a noun : involving people of different religions • an interfaith dialogue in-ter-fer-e /,ɪntəˈfɪə/ verb -feres; -fered; -fer-ing [no obj] : to become involved in the activities and concerns of other people when your involvement is not wanted • I tried to offer advice without interfering. — often + in • I'm sick and tired of the way he's always interfering in my life. • We shouldn't interfere [=meddle] in the affairs of other countries.

interfere with [phrasal verb] 1 interfere with (something) : to stop or slow (something) : to make (something) slower or more difficult • The drug might interfere with a child's physical development. • All of the noise was interfering with my concentration. [=was making it hard for me to concentrate] 2 interfere with (someone) Brit : to touch (a child) in a sexual and improper way — interfering adj • an interfering old busybody — interfering noun [noncount] • I'm sick and tired of all his interfering.

in-ter-fer-ence /,ɪntəˈfɪərəns/ noun [noncount]

1 : involvement in the activities and concerns of other people when your involvement is not wanted : the act of interfering • We had to put up with loud noise and constant interference from the neighbors. • interference in the affairs of another nation • trying to avoid governmental interference

2 : additional signals that weaken or block the main signal in a radio or television broadcast • It was hard to hear the radio program because of all the interference. • electrical interference • The TV picture had a lot of interference.

3 sports : the act of illegally hitting or getting in the way of an opponent • a hockey player receiving a penalty for interference run interference American football : to run in front of the player who is carrying the ball in order to block opponents — often used figuratively • He was able to survive the scandal only because he had several clever assistants who ran interference for him.

in-ter-ga-lac-tic /,ɪntəˈɡælæktɪk/ adj, always used before a noun : existing or occurring between galaxies • intergalactic space/travel in-ter-gen-er-a-tion-al /,ɪntəˈdʒɛnəˈreɪʃənəl/ adj : occurring between or involving people of different age groups • intergenerational conflicts in-ter-gov-ern-men-tal /,ɪntəˈɡʌvənˈmentl/ adj, always used before a noun : occurring between or involving two or more governments • intergovernmental relations • an intergovernmental panel

¹in-ter-im /'ɪntərəm/ noun [singular] : a period of time between events : INTERVAL • The regulations are scheduled to change next winter, and in the interim [=meanwhile], we'll be working hard to make all of the appropriate changes.

²interim adj, always used before a noun : used or accepted for a limited time : not permanent • an interim solution • He served as the college's interim [=temporary] president while the committee searched for a permanent replacement.

¹in-te-ri-or /ɪnˈtɪrɪə/ adj, always used before a noun

1 a : located on the inside of something • an interior [=inner] surface • a large car with lots of interior room • interior walls b : suited for use in the inside or on inside surfaces • interior paint • interior lights. — opposite ¹EXTERIOR

2 : occurring in the mind • interior [(more commonly) inner] thoughts • an interior monologue [=a section of a novel, story, or play in which a character's inner thoughts are expressed]

²interior noun, pl -ors [count]

1 : an inner part, area, or surface • a black car with gray leather interior • the interior of the house — opposite ²EXTERIOR

2 : the part of a country that is far from the coast • They traveled deep into the interior of Australia.

3 : the events and activities of a country that involve the country itself rather than foreign countries • Secretary of the Interior

interior design noun [noncount] : the art or job of planning how the rooms of a building should be furnished and decorated — called also interior decoration

interior designer noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a person whose job is to plan how the rooms of a building should be furnished and decorated — called also interior decorator

interj abbr interjection

in-ter-ject /,ɪntəˈdʒekt/ verb -jects; -ject-ed; -ject-ing formal : to interrupt what someone else is saying with (a comment, remark, etc.) [+ obj] “That's an interesting idea,” he interjected, “but I don't think you've considered all of the details.” • She listened to us, interjecting remarks every so often. [no obj] If I may interject, I have things I'd like to add.

in-ter-jec-tion /,ɪntəˈdʒekʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] grammar : a spoken word, phrase, or sound that expresses sudden or strong feeling • interjections such as “oh,” “alas,” and “wow”

in-ter-lace /,ɪntəˈleɪs/ verb -lac-es; -laced; -lac-ing : to join together (narrow things, such as strings or branches) by crossing them over and under each other [+ obj] Interlace the branches and bend them into a circle. [no obj] The vines interlaced with each other.

— interlaced adj • interlaced fibers/branches in-ter-link /,ɪntəˈlɪŋk/ verb -links; -linked; -link-ing : to connect (two or more things) together : LINK [+ obj] interlink Web sites [no obj] The Web sites interlink.

in-ter-lock /,ɪntəˈlɔ:k/ verb -locks; -locked; -lock-ing : to connect or lock (two or more things) together [+ obj] She interlocked her fingers with his. [no obj] The pieces of the puzzle interlock (with each other).

in-ter-loc-u-tor /,ɪntəˈlɔ:kjətə/ noun, pl -tors [count] formal : a person who is having a conversation with you • He often challenges his interlocutors [=the people he is speaking to] with difficult questions.

in-ter-lop-er /,ɪntəˈloupə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who is not wanted or welcome by the other people in a situation or place • I had hoped to help my neighbors, but they regarded me as an interloper.

in-ter-lude /'ɪntəˌlu:d/ noun, pl -ludes [count]

1 : a period of time between events or activities • She left for a brief interlude. • He has resumed his acting career after a two-year interlude.

2 : a brief romantic or sexual meeting or relationship • They always met in the city for their romantic interludes.

3 : a short piece of music that is played between the parts of a longer one, a drama, or a religious service • an orchestral interlude • a drama with musical interludes in-ter-mar-ry /,ɪntəˈmerɪ/ verb -ries; -ried; -ry-ing [no obj] : to marry a member of a different racial, social, or religious group • The settlers and the native people seldom intermarried.

— in-ter-mar-riage /,ɪntəˈmerɪdʒ/ noun, pl -riag-es [count, noncount]

in-ter-me-di-ary /,ɪntəˈmi:diəri/ noun, pl -ar-ies [count] : a person who works with opposing sides in an argument or dispute in order to bring about an agreement • He served as an intermediary between the workers and the executives.

— intermediary adj • He was an intermediary agent in the negotiations.

¹in-ter-me-di-ate /,ɪntəˈmi:diət/ adj

1 : occurring in the middle of a process or series • an intermediate stage of growth
2 : relating to or having the knowledge or skill of someone who is more advanced than a beginner but not yet an expert
 • I'm taking intermediate French this year. • an intermediate swimming class • an intermediate swimmer intermediate noun, pl -ates [count] : a person who has the knowledge or skill of someone who is more advanced than a beginner but not yet an expert • a class for intermediates

in-ter-ment /ɪn'təmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount] formal : the act of burying a dead person in-ter-mez-zo /ɪntə'met,sou/ noun, pl -zi /-si:/ or -zos [count] : a short part of a musical work (such as an opera) that connects major sections of the work in-ter-mi-na-ble /ɪn'təmənəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : having or seeming to have no end : continuing for a very long time • an interminable war • an interminable wait — in-ter-mi-na-bly /ɪn'təmənəbli/ adv • an interminably long wait in-ter-min-gle /ɪntə'mɪŋgəl/ verb -min-gles; -min-gled; -min-gling : to mix together [+ obj] In her short stories, science fiction and romance are intermingled. = In her short stories, science fiction is intermingled with romance. [no obj] In her short stories, science fiction and romance intermingle. • The colors intermingle perfectly (with each other) in the painting.

in-ter-mis-sion /ɪntə'mɪʃən/ noun, pl -sions [count] : a short break between the parts of a performance (such as a play, movie, or concert) • We'll return after a brief intermission. — called also (Brit) interval in-ter-mit-tent /ɪntə'mɪtnt/ adj : starting, stopping, and starting again : not constant or steady • The patient was having intermittent pains in his side. • The forecast is for intermittent rain. • There are reports of intermittent [=sporadic] fighting along the border.

 — in-ter-mit-tent-ly adv • It has been raining intermittently for the past several days.

in-ter-mix /ɪntə'mɪks/ verb -mix-es; -mixed; -mix-ing : to mix together [+ obj] When they talk, they often intermix English and/or Spanish. [no obj] groups of people that don't intermix (with one another)

in-tern /ɪn,tən/ noun, pl -terns [count] US
1 : a student or recent graduate who works for a period of time at a job in order to get experience • a teaching intern
2 : a person who works in a hospital in order to complete training as a doctor • After medical school, he worked as an intern at the university hospital.

intern verb -terns; -terned; -tern-ing [no obj] US : to work as an intern • After medical school, he interned at the university hospital. — compare ³*INTERN*

in-tern /ɪn,tən, ɪn'tən/ verb -terns; -terned; -tern-ing [+ obj] : to put (someone who has not been accused of a crime) in prison for political reasons especially during a war • They are protesting the government's decision to intern citizens without evidence of wrongdoing. — compare ²*INTERN*

in-ter-nal /ɪn'tənəl/ adj
1 : existing or located on the inside of something • the internal structure of the planet • The theory has some internal inconsistencies. [=some parts of the theory are not consistent with other parts] — opposite EXTERNAL
2 : coming from inside • internal pressures — opposite EXTERNAL
3 a : existing or occurring within your body • a patient who is experiencing internal bleeding • internal organs b : existing or occurring within your mind • internal doubts • internal thoughts — opposite EXTERNAL
4 a : existing or occurring within a country • internal affairs • the office of internal revenue — opposite EXTERNAL b : existing or occurring within an organization (such as a company or business) • The new policy was spelled out in an internal memo
 — in-ter-nal-ly adv • an internally inconsistent theory • a patient who is bleeding internally • This medicine is to be taken internally. [=orally]

internal clock noun, pl ~ clocks [count]
1 : BODY CLOCK
2 : a clock or timing device that is inside a computer internal combustion engine noun, pl ~ -gines [count] : a type of engine that is used for most vehicles : an engine in which the fuel is burned within engine cylinders

in-ter-nal-ize also Brit in-ter-nal-ise /ɪn'tənəlaɪz/ verb

-iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj] : to make (something, such as an idea or an attitude) an important part of the kind of person you are • They have internalized their parents' values.
 — in-ter-nal-i-za-tion also Brit in-ter-nal-i-sa-tion /ɪn,tənələ'zeɪʃən, Brit ɪn,tənə'laɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • internalization of moral standards internal medicine noun [noncount] US : the work of a doctor who treats diseases that do not require surgery • a doctor who specializes in internal medicine

Internal Revenue Service noun
the Internal Revenue Service : the department of the U.S. federal government that is responsible for collecting taxes
 — abbr. IRS; compare INLAND REVENUE

in-ter-na-tion-al /ɪntə'næʃənəl/ adj
1 : involving two or more countries : occurring between countries • international trade • studying international relations • an international agreement • international flights • the international community • international law
2 : made up of people or groups from different countries • an international association of chemists
3 : active or known in many countries • an international star • She has achieved international fame/recognition.
 — in-ter-na-tion-al-ly adv • The process is now recognized internationally. • an internationally televised event international date line noun

the international date line : an imaginary line that runs through the Pacific Ocean from the North Pole to the South Pole and that marks the place where each day officially begins • crossing the international date line — called also date line

in-ter-na-tion-al-ism /ɪntə'næʃənəlaɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : the belief that it is good for different countries to work together • a proponent of economic internationalism
 — in-ter-na-tion-al-ist /ɪntə'næʃənəlist/ noun, pl -ists [count] — internationalist adj [more ~; most ~] • adopting internationalist positions in-ter-na-tion-al-ize also Brit in-ter-na-tion-al-ise /ɪntə'næʃənəlaɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing : to place (something) under international control : to make (something) involve or affect two or more countries [+ obj] internationalize a business • an internationalized economy [no obj] a business that has begun to internationalize

 — in-ter-na-tion-al-i-za-tion also Brit in-ter-na-tion-al-i-sa-tion /ɪntə'næʃənələ'zeɪʃən, Brit ɪntə'næʃənə'laɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] international relations noun [noncount] : an area of study or knowledge concerned with relations between different countries in-ter-ne-cine /ɪntə'neːsɪn, Brit ɪntə'niːsaɪn/ adj, always used before a noun, formal : occurring between members of the same country, group, or organization • a brutal internecine war/battle • internecine feuds • a political party that has suffered because of bitter internecine rivalries

In-ter-net /ɪntə'net/ noun
the Internet : a system that connects computers throughout the world • She spent hours surfing the Internet. — compare INTRANET, WORLD WIDE WEB
 — Internet adj, always used before a noun • an Internet connection • an Internet site

Internet service provider noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : ISP

in-ter-nist /ɪn,tənɪst/ noun, pl -nists [count] US, medical : a doctor who specializes in diseases that do not require surgery : a doctor who specializes in internal medicine in-tern-ment /ɪn'tənmənt/ noun [noncount] : the act of putting someone in a prison for political reasons or during a war : the act of interning someone • protesting the government's internment of citizens without evidence of wrongdoing : the state of being interned • trying to escape internment — sometimes used before another noun • internment camps in-tern-ship /ɪn,tənʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships [count]

1 : a position as an intern • She got an internship at the city newspaper.
2 : the period of time when a person is an intern • He will finish his internship in April.

in-ter-of-fice /ɪntə'ɔːfəs/ adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US : going or happening between people who are part of the same company or organization • an interoffice memo • interoffice mail in-ter-per-son-al /ɪntə'pəsənəl/ adj, always used before a noun [more ~; most ~] : relating to or involving relations between people : existing or happening between people • interpersonal communication • interpersonal skills/relationships in-ter-plan-e-tary /ˌɪntəˈplænəˌteri/ adj, always used before a noun, astronomy : existing or occurring between planets • interplanetary travel • interplanetary space in-ter-play /ˈɪntəˌpleɪ/ noun : the ways in which two or more things, groups, etc., affect each other when they happen or exist together [noncount] — often + between or of • the interplay between the old and the new • enjoys the interplay of three very different flavors [singular] — + of • a complex interplay of light and color in-ter-pol /ˈɪntəˌpoul, Brit ˈɪntəˌpɒl/ noun [singular] : an international police organization that works with the police of different countries to fight crime in-ter-po-late /ɪnˈtəpəˌleɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing [+ obj] formal : to put (something) between other things or parts • He smoothly interpolates fragments from other songs into his own.; especially : to put (words) into a piece of writing or a conversation • He interpolated a very critical comment in/into the discussion.

— in-ter-po-la-tion /ɪnˈtəpəˌleɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

in-ter-pose /ˌɪntəˈpouz/ verb -pos-es; -posed; -pos-ing [+ obj] formal

1 : to place (someone or something) between two or more things or people • The new system has interposed a bureaucratic barrier between doctors and patients. • He tried to interpose himself between the people who were fighting.

2 : to interrupt a conversation with (a comment) • Please allow me to interpose a brief observation.

in-ter-pret /ɪnˈtəprət/ verb -prets; -pret-ed; -pret-ing

1 [+ obj] : to explain the meaning of (something) • interpret a dream • We need someone to interpret these results for us. • How should we interpret the law/rules/decision?

2 [+ obj] : to understand (something) in a specified way • I interpreted his behavior to mean that he disliked me. — often + as • I interpreted his behavior as indicating that he disliked me. • Her comment was meant to be interpreted as sarcasm.

3 [+ obj] : to perform (something, such as a song or a role) in a way that shows your own thoughts and feelings about it • Every actor interprets the role of Hamlet a little differently.

4 [no obj] : to translate the words that someone is speaking into a different language : to repeat what someone says in a different language than the language originally used • I'll need someone to interpret for me when I travel to China. — compare TRANSLATE — in-ter-pret-able /ɪnˈtəprətəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • These results are not easily interpretable.

in-ter-pre-ta-tion /ɪnˈtəprəˌteɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : the act or result of explaining or interpreting something : the way something is explained or understood [count] We did not agree with his interpretation [=explanation] of the results. • There were many interpretations of [=many ways to interpret] his behavior. • a literal/loose interpretation of the law [noncount] The truth will only be found by careful interpretation of the evidence. • His remarks need further interpretation. ♦ If something is open/subject to interpretation it can be understood in different ways • Every art form is subject to interpretation.

2 [count] : a particular way of performing something • an actor's interpretation of the role of Hamlet

— in-ter-pre-tive /ɪnˈtəprətɪv/ or in-ter-pre-ta-tive /ɪnˈtəprəˌteɪtɪv/ adj • a series of interpretive essays in-ter-pret-er /ɪnˈtəprətər/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who translates the words that someone is speaking into a different language • He has now learned English well enough that he can conduct interviews without an interpreter. • He gave his statement through an interpreter. [=an interpreter translated his statement] in-ter-ra-cial /ˌɪntəˈreɪʃəl/ adj : involving people of different races • an interracial marriage in-ter-re-late /ˌɪntərɪˈleɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing

1 [no obj] : to have a close or shared relationship • I like the way the characters interrelate in the novel. • Linguists have found that language interrelates closely with culture.

2 [+ obj] : to make or show a relationship between (things or people) • Linguists have tried to interrelate language with/and culture.

— interrelated adj [more ~; most ~] • a number of interrelated topics • Linguists have found that language and culture are closely interrelated. — in-ter-re-lat-ed-ness noun [noncount] — in-ter-re-la-tion /ˌɪntərɪˈleɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] • understanding the interrelations of/between/among different animal species — in-ter- re-la-tion-ship /ˌɪntərɪˈleɪʃən,ʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships [count, noncount] • the interrelationships among all forms of life in-ter-ro-gate /ɪnˈterəˌgeɪt/ verb -gates; -gat-ed; -gat-ing [+ obj] : to ask (someone) questions in a thorough and often forceful way • interrogate a prisoner of war • The suspect was interrogated (by the police) for several hours.

— in-ter-ro-ga-tion /ɪnˈterəˌgeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] • He conducted a skillful interrogation of the witness. — in-ter-ro-ga-tor /ɪnˈterəˌgeɪtər/ noun, pl -tors [count] • a skillful interrogator

¹in-ter-ro-g-a-tive /ˌɪntəˈrɑːɡətɪv/ adj

1 grammar a : having the form of a question rather than a statement or command • “Did you go to school today?” is an interrogative sentence. b : used to ask a question • an interrogative pronoun such as “who” — compare DECLARATIVE IMPERATIVE

2 formal : asking a question : having the form or force of a question • She had an interrogative expression/look on her face. • an interrogative tone of voice

²interrogative noun, pl -tives [count] grammar : a word (such as who, what, or which) that is used in asking a question

the interrogative : the form that a phrase or sentence has when it is asking a question • “Is this sentence in the interrogative?” “Yes, it is.”

in-ter-rupt /ˌɪntəˈrʌpt/ verb -rupts; -rupt-ed; -rupt-ing

1 : to ask questions or say things while another person is speaking : to do or say something that causes someone to stop speaking [+ obj] Please don't interrupt me (while I'm talking). [no obj] It's not polite to interrupt. • Please don't interrupt (while I'm talking).

2 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to stop happening for a time • His dinner was interrupted by a phone call. • We interrupt this program to bring you a special announcement.

3 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to not be even or continuous : to change or stop the sameness or smoothness of (something) • Every summer periods of cool weather occasionally interrupt the intense heat. — often used as (be) interrupted • The intense heat is occasionally interrupted by periods of cool weather. • a grassy plain interrupted by a lone tree

— in-ter-rupt-ion /ˌɪntəˈrʌpʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] • The dynasty lasted several hundred years, with only a few interruptions. • I wish it were possible to watch television without all the commercial interruptions. • frequent/annoying interruptions [noncount] She spoke for an hour without interruption. • There shouldn't be any interruptions in/to your phone service.

in-ter-scho-las-tic /ˌɪntəˈskəˌlæstɪk/ adj, always used before a noun, US : existing or done between schools • interscholastic sports/athletics in-ter-sect /ˌɪntəˈsekt/ verb -sects; -sect-ed; -sect-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to divide (something) by passing through or across it : CROSS • A dry stream bed intersects the trail in several places. • Line A intersects line B. = Line B is intersected by line A. = Line A and line B intersect each other b [no obj] : to meet and cross at one or more points • Line A intersects with line B. • intersecting lines/paths/streets • The two roads intersect at the edge of town.

2 [no obj] : to share some common area • the place where politics and business intersect [=overlap] = the place where politics intersects with business in-ter-sec-tion /ˌɪntəˈseksjən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : the place or point where two or more things come together; especially : the place where two or more streets meet or cross each other • The accident occurred at a busy intersection.

2 [noncount] : the act or process of crossing or intersecting • two possible points of intersection • the intersection of line A and/with line B in-ter-spere /ˌɪntəˈspəs/ verb -spers-es; -spersed; -spers-ing [+ obj]

1 : to put (something) at different places among other things • You should intersperse these pictures evenly throughout the book. • Some seagulls were interspersed among the ducks.

2 : to put things at different places within (something) — + with • intersperse a book with illustrations — usually used as (be) interspersed • The book was nicely interspersed with illustrations. • The forecast calls for scattered showers interspersed with sunny periods. [=scattered showers with sunny periods between the showers]

¹in-ter-state /ˌɪntəˈsteɪt/ adj, always used before a noun : relating to or connecting different states : existing or occurring between states especially in the U.S. • an interstate highway • interstate commerce/transportation

2 interstate /ˈɪntəˌsteɪt/ noun, pl -states [count] US : a major highway that connects two or more states : an interstate highway • You'll get there quicker if you take the interstate. • Interstate 90

in-ter-stel-lar /ˌɪntəˈstɛlə/ adj, always used before a noun : existing or occurring between stars • interstellar space/gas/dust in-ter-stice /ɪnˈtɛstəs/ noun, pl -stices /ɪnˈtɛstəsiːz/ [count] formal : a small space that lies between things : a small break or gap in something — usually plural • the interstices [=cracks] of/between the bricks

in-ter-tid-al /ˌɪntəˈtaɪd/ adj, always used before a noun, technical : of or relating to the area of the shore that is between the low point and the high point of the tide • animals that live in the intertidal zone in-ter-trib-al /ˌɪntəˈtraɪbəl/ adj, always used before a noun : existing or occurring between tribes • intertribal warfare/politics in-ter-twine /ˌɪntəˈtwain/ verb -twines; -twined; -twining

1 : to twist (things) together [+ obj] — often used as (be) intertwined • The branches are intertwined (with each other) and grow into a solid wall. • Colored ribbons were intertwined in her hair. [no obj] The branches intertwine (with each other) to make a solid wall. • intertwining branches

2 : to be or become very closely involved with each other [no obj] He's always telling stories in which the present and the past intertwine. [+ obj] His fate is intertwined with hers.

in-ter-val /ˈɪntəvəl/ noun, pl -vals [count]

1 : a period of time between events : PAUSE • a three-month interval between jobs • There might be long intervals during/ in which nothing happens. • The sun shone for brief intervals throughout the day.

2 music : the difference in pitch between two notes

3 Brit : INTERMISSION • There will be a 20-minute interval between acts one and two.

at intervals 1 : with an amount of space in between • There are signs at regular intervals along the outside wall. • The chairs were placed at intervals of two feet. 2 : with an amount of time in between • It recurs at (regular) intervals of every six months.

in-ter-vene /ˌɪntəˈviːn/ verb -venes; -vened; -ven-ing [no obj]

1 : to come or occur between two times or events • Twenty years intervened between their first and last meetings.

2 : to become involved in something (such as a conflict) in order to have an influence on what happens • The prisoner asked me to intervene with the authorities on his behalf. • The military had to intervene to restore order. — often + in • We need the courts to intervene in this dispute.

3 : to happen as an unrelated event that causes a delay or problem • We will leave on time unless some crisis intervenes. — intervening adj, always used before another noun • They have spent the intervening years trying to figure out what happened. — in-ter-ven-tion /ˌɪntəˈvenʃən/ noun, pl -tions [noncount] praying for divine intervention • This situation called for military intervention. • The program is able to run without intervention by the user. • medical intervention [=treatment] [count] military interventions

in-ter-ven-tion-ism /ˌɪntəˈvenʃənɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : a government policy or practice of doing things to directly influence the country's economy or the political affairs of another country • a proponent of aggressive economic interventionism

— in-ter-ven-tion-ist /ˌɪntəˈvenʃənɪst/ adj [more ~; most ~] • interventionist policies/government — intervention-ist noun, pl -ists [count] • a die-hard interventionist

in-ter-ver-te-bral disc /ˌɪntəˈvɛtəbrəl/ noun, pl ~ discs [count] : DISC 4

1 in-ter-view /ˈɪntəˌvjuː/ noun, pl -views [count]

1 : a meeting at which people talk to each other in order to ask questions and get information: such as a : a formal meeting with someone who is being considered for a job or other position • The company is holding interviews for several new jobs. ♡ If you have an interview, you have an appointment to speak to someone who could hire you. • I have a job interview tomorrow morning. b : a meeting between a reporter and another person in order to get information for a news story • a journalist conducting/doing interviews with political leaders • an actor who has stopped giving/granting/doing interviews [=an actor who no longer talks to reporters] also : a written or taped record of such a meeting • The interview will be shown on tonight's news. • This library has a large collection of his interviews. • a published interview

2 US, informal : a person who is interviewed : INTERVIEWEE

• He is a very entertaining interview. • She's always been known as one of Hollywood's best/toughest interviews.

2 interview verb -views; -viewed; -view-ing

1 [+ obj] : to question or talk with (someone) in order to get information or learn about that person • The company will start interviewing candidates for the job tomorrow. • Few of the people interviewed for the job seemed at all suitable. • She's been interviewed on television many times. • The police are interviewing [=interrogating] several witnesses.

2 [no obj] US : to participate in an interview for a position (such as a job) • He has interviewed with many companies, but he still hasn't found a job. — often + for • Several people are now interviewing for the position.

— in-ter-view-er noun, pl -ers [count] • an interviewer who is known for asking tough questions in-ter-view-ee /ˌɪntəˌvjuːˈiː/ noun, pl -ees [count] : a person who is interviewed • He asked the interviewee some very personal questions.

in-ter-war /ˌɪntəˈwoʊ/ adj, always used before a noun : occurring between wars; especially : occurring between World War I and World War II • during the interwar years in-ter-weave /ˌɪntəˈwiːv/ verb -weaves; -wove /ˌɪntəˈwouv/; -woven /ˌɪntəˈwouvən/; -weav-ing [+ obj] : to twist or weave (threads, fibers, etc.) together • The long strands of ribbon are interwoven (together). • a house built from poles interwoven with vines • a mat of interwoven fibers — often used figuratively • The two themes are interwoven throughout the poem. • He interweaves advice and amusing stories to create an entertaining book. • His life is closely interwoven with hers.

in-tes-tate /ɪnˈtɛˌsteɪt/ adj, law : not having made a will • He died intestate. [=he did not have a will when he died] in-tes-tine /ɪnˈtɛstən/ noun, pl -tines [count] : a long tube in the body that helps digest food after it leaves the stomach — see also LARGE INTESTINE, SMALL INTESTINE

— in-tes-ti-nal /ɪnˈtɛstən/ adj • the intestinal tract/wall • intestinal tissue • intestinal gas • an intestinal disease — see also intestinal fortitude at FORTITUDE

in-ti-ma-cy /ˈɪntəməsi/ noun, pl -cies

1 : an intimate quality or state: such as a : emotional warmth and closeness [noncount] the intimacy of old friends • the intimacy of their relationship • a fear of intimacy [singular] He felt he achieved a certain intimacy with her. b [noncount] : a quality that suggests informal warmth or closeness • The band liked the intimacy of the nightclub.

2 [noncount] : sexual relations • sexual/physical intimacy

3 [count] : something that is very personal and private — usually plural • They shared intimacies about their private lives.

1 in-ti-mate /ˈɪntəmət/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having a very close relationship : very warm and friendly • an intimate acquaintance • They remained intimate friends throughout their lives. • We have an intimate friendship with our neighbors. = We are on intimate terms with our neighbors. [=we are very close friends with our neighbors]

2 : very personal or private • intimate thoughts/feelings • intimate secrets • sharing an intimate moment • an intimate conversation • (chiefly US) a store that sells intimate apparel [=women's underwear and clothes for sleeping]

3 : involving sex or sexual relations • They are in an intimate and committed relationship. • He denies that they were ever intimate. = He denies that he was ever intimate with her. [=that he ever had sexual relations with her]

4 of a place : private and pleasant in a way that allows people to feel relaxed and comfortable • The room is small and intimate. • an intimate nightclub

5 : very closely related or connected : very close • There is an intimate connection/relationship between diet and health. 6 : very complete • She has an intimate [=very detailed] knowledge of the company. • The story is now known in intimate detail. • an intimate understanding of the process — in-ti-mate-ly adv • She is intimately associated/involved with the production. • The problem is intimately connected with/to our culture. • intimately familiar with the experience • Diet and health are intimately [=very closely] related. • Their careers are intimately linked. • She knows the city intimately. [=very well]

²in-ti-mate /'ɪntəmət/ noun, pl -mates [count] somewhat formal : a very close and trusted friend : an intimate friend • His coworkers knew him as "Robert," but his intimates called him "Robbie."

³in-ti-mate /'ɪntəmeɪt/ verb -mates; -mat-ed; -mat-ing [+ obj] : to say or suggest (something) in an indirect way • He intimated (to us) that we should plan to arrive early.

— in-ti-ma-tion /'ɪntə'meɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] the earliest intimations [=hints] of spring • Even at the beginning, there were intimations [=suggestions] that the project was in trouble. [noncount] He hasn't given any intimation of his plans.

in-tim-i-date /ɪn'tɪmədeɪt/ verb -dates; -dat-ed; -dat-ing [+ obj] : to make (someone) afraid • He tries to intimidate his opponents. • You shouldn't allow his reputation to intimidate you. — often used as (be) intimidated • Many people are intimidated by new technology. • Some people are easily intimidated. • She was intimidated by the size of the campus.

— intimidated adj [more ~; most ~] • I feel less intimidated now than I did when I started the job. — intimidating adj [more ~; most ~] • He is one of the most intimidating men I have ever met. • Speaking in front of a large audience can be very intimidating. — in-tim-i-dat-ing-ly /ɪn'tɪmədeɪtɪŋli/ adv • The system is intimidatingly complex. — in-tim-i-da-tion /ɪn'tɪmədeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • intimidation of jurors/witnesses • enforcing agreement by intimidation or violence — in-tim-i-da-tor /ɪn'tɪmədeɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count]

intl. or Intl. abbr international

in-to /'ɪntu, 'ɪntə/ prep

T : to or toward the inside of (something) • She came into the room/house. • a medicine injected into the bloodstream • Please put the bowl into the sink/cupboard. • They were heading into town. • He jumped into the pool.

2 : in the direction of (something) • You should never look directly into [=toward] the sun. • She was just staring into space. • peering/looking into the past/future

3 — used to describe hitting or touching something or someone • He ran into [=against] a wall. • She bumped into me.

4 : to the state, condition, or form of (something) • She was shocked into silence. • come into being/existence • as day turns into night • I got into trouble again. • her slow descent into madness • converting sunlight into electricity • He translated the poem from Latin into English. • change dollars into euros • breaking up into smaller pieces

5 a — used to say that something or someone has become a part of something • They entered into an alliance. • He was born into a once-proud family. b — used to say that someone has become involved in something (such as a profession) • She wants to get into politics. • He decided to go into farming. [=he decided to be a farmer] c — used to say that someone has been forced or persuaded to do something • He was pressured into doing this by his boss. • I was talked into joining the class.

6 informal — used to say that someone is interested in and excited about (something) • He was never into sports. • I'm really into her music. • I usually enjoy her books, but I just couldn't get into this one.

7 — used to say how long something lasts • The party continued well/far/long/late into the night. • This snow should last well into the spring. • The heat wave will continue into next week.

8 : relating to or concerning (something) • an investigation into the causes of the accident

9 — used to describe dividing one number by another number • Six goes into 18 three times. • Dividing 3 into 6 gives 2. be into (someone) for US, informal : to owe someone (an amount of money) • I'm into him for a thousand dollars.

in-tol-er-a-ble /ɪn'tə:lərəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : too bad, harsh, or severe to be accepted or tolerated : not tolerable • The situation was totally intolerable [=unacceptable] to us. • intolerable [=unbearable] pain/behavior • She divorced him on the grounds of intolerable cruelty.

— in-tol-er-a-bly /ɪn'tə:lərəbli/ adv • intolerably cruel/dull/boring.

in-tol-er-ant /ɪn'tə:lərənt/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] a : not willing to allow or accept something — often + of • He is intolerant of weakness/failure. • They were intolerant of his lifestyle. b disapproving : not willing to allow some people to have equality, freedom, or other social rights • an intolerant [=bigoted] racist

2 medicine : unable to take a certain substance into the body without becoming sick • people who are lactose intolerant [=unable to eat foods that contain lactose] — often + of • patients who are intolerant of certain drugs

— in-tol-er-ance /ɪn'tə:lərəns/ noun [noncount] • intolerance towards/to outsiders • fighting the forces of racism and intolerance • a campaign against religious intolerance • lactose intolerance — in-tol-er-ant-ly adv

in-to-na-tion /ɪntou'neɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : the rise and fall in the sound of your voice when you speak [noncount] identical sentences, differing only in intonation [count] sentences with different intonations

in-tone /ɪn'toun/ verb -tones; -toned; -ton-ing [+ obj]

1 : to speak (a prayer, poem, etc.) in a way that sounds like music or chanting • intone a prayer

2 : to say (something) in a slow and even voice • "Coming soon to a theater near you," the announcer intoned.

in to-to /ɪn'tou,tou/ adv, formal : as a whole : totally or completely • The judge accepted/rejected the testimony in toto.

in-tox-i-cant /ɪn'tə:ksɪkənt/ noun, pl -cants [count] formal : something (such as an alcoholic drink) that causes people to become excited or confused and less able to control what they say or do : an intoxicating substance • The use of intoxicants and stimulants is prohibited. • He was driving under the influence of intoxicants.

in-tox-i-cate /ɪn'tə:ksɪkeɪt/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing [+ obj] somewhat formal

1 of alcohol, a drug, etc. : to make (someone) unable to think and behave normally • The little bit of beer I drank was not enough to intoxicate me.

2 : to excite or please (someone) in a way that suggests the effect of alcohol or a drug — usually used as (be) intoxicated

• He was intoxicated by the power of his position in the government. • He was intoxicated by her beauty.

— in-tox-i-ca-tion /ɪn'tə:ksə'keɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • She drank to the point of intoxication. • He was arrested for public intoxication. [=for being drunk in public] • the intoxication of power in-tox-i-cat-ed /ɪn'tə:ksɪkeɪtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] somewhat formal : affected by alcohol or drugs; especially : DRUNK • He appeared to be very intoxicated. • Driving while intoxicated is illegal.

intoxicating adj [more ~; most ~] somewhat formal

1 : causing intoxication; especially : able to make someone drunk • intoxicating beverages • the intoxicating effects of alcohol

2 : causing someone to have strong feelings of excitement or pleasure • the intoxicating power of his position in the government • her intoxicating beauty

in-tra- /'ɪntrə/ prefix

1 : within something • intramural — opposite EXTRA-

2 : in or into something • intravenous in-trac-ta-ble /ɪn'træktəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : not easily managed, controlled, or solved • an intractable problem • an intractable mystery/question

2 : not easily relieved or cured • a patient experiencing intractable pain • an intractable infection/disease

— in-trac-ta-bil-i-ty /ɪn'træktə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] • the intractability of the problem/disease — in-trac-ta-bly /ɪn'træktəbli/ adv • an intractably complicated problem in-tra-mu-ral /ɪn'trə'mjʊərəl/ adj, US : existing or occurring within a particular group or organization (such as a school) • intramural sports [=sports in which the students of one school compete against each other instead of competing against other schools] in-tra-net /'ɪntrə.net/ noun, pl -nets [count] computers : a network that works like the Internet but can only be used by certain people (such as the employees of a company) • a corporate intranet in-tran-si-gent /ɪn'trænsədʒənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : completely unwilling to change : very stubborn • intransigent enemies/opponents • He has remained intransigent in his opposition to the proposal.

— in-tran-si-gence /ɪn'trænsədʒəns/ noun [noncount] • fighting bureaucratic intransigence — in-tran-si-gent-ly adv

in-tran-si-tive /ɪn'trænsətɪv/ adj, grammar, of a verb : not taking or having a direct object • an intransitive verb • In "I ran" and "The bird flies," "ran" and "flies" are intransitive. — compare TRANSITIVE

— in·tran·si·tive·ly adv • Some verbs can be used both intransitively and transitively.

in·tra·state /,ɪntrə'steɪt/ adj, always used before a noun : occurring within a state • intrastate commerce/trucking • intrastate football rivals in·tra·uter·ine /,ɪntrə'ju:tərən, ɪntrə'ju:tə'reɪn/ adj, always used before a noun, medical : used or occurring within the uterus • an intrauterine growth intrauterine device noun, pl ~ -vices [count] medical : a device that is inserted in the uterus and left there to prevent pregnancy — called also IUD

in·tra·ve·nous /,ɪntrə'vi:nəs/ adj, always used before a noun : through, in, or into a vein : entering the body through a vein • intravenous feedings/drugs • an intravenous needle

— in·tra·ve·nous·ly adv • She is being given the medication intravenously.

in tray noun, pl ~ trays [count] : IN-BOX in·trep·id /ɪn'trepəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] literary + often humorous : feeling no fear : very bold or brave • an intrepid explorer

in·tri·ca·cy /'ɪntrəkəsi/ noun, pl -cies

1 [noncount] : the quality or state of being complex or having many parts : the quality or state of being intricate • She admired the composition for its beauty and intricacy. • the intricacy [=complexity] of the design/plan

2 [count] : something that is complex or detailed : something intricate • I had trouble following all the intricacies in the plot. • the intricacies of English grammar in·tri·cate /'ɪntrəkət/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having many parts • intricate machinery • an intricate [=complex] design/pattern • The movie has an intricate plot.

— in·tri·cate·ly adv • intricately woven fabric • an intricately carved mantel in·trigue /ɪn'tri:g/ verb -trigues; -trigued; -trigu·ing

1 [+ obj] : to make (someone) want to know more about something : to cause (someone) to become interested • Your idea intrigues me. — often used as (be) intrigued • She was intrigued with/by what he had to say.

2 [no obj] formal : to make secret plans — usually + against • They were arrested for intriguing against the government.

in·trigue /'ɪn,tri:g/ noun, pl -trigues

1 [noncount] : the activity of making secret plans • a novel of intrigue and romance • an administration characterized by intrigue and corruption

2 [count] : a secret plan • political intrigues

in·trigu·ing /ɪn'tri:ɡɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : extremely interesting : FASCINATING • an intriguing idea/person/question • The offer is very intriguing.

— in·trigu·ing·ly adv

in·trin·sic /ɪn'trɪnzɪk/ adj : belonging to the essential nature of a thing : occurring as a natural part of something • the intrinsic value of a gem • the intrinsic brightness of a star • intrinsic beauty — often + to • Creativity is intrinsic to human nature. — opposite EXTRINSIC

— in·trin·si·cal·ly /ɪn'trɪnzɪkli/ adv • an intrinsically difficult language • intrinsically evil/valuable in·tro /'ɪn,troʊ/ noun, pl -tros [count] informal : a short introduction to something (such as a performance or a musical work) • a brief intro

in·tro·duce /,ɪntrə'du:s, Brit ɪntrə'dju:s/ verb -duc·es; -duced; -duc·ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (someone) known to someone else by name • introduce two strangers • He introduced his guest. • Let me introduce myself: my name is John Smith. — often + to • He introduced himself to the class. • She introduced her mother to her friends.

2 a : to cause (something) to begin to be used for the first time • They have been slow to introduce changes in procedure. b : to make (something) available for sale for the first time • The designer is introducing a new line of clothes. c : to present (something) for discussion or consideration • He introduced several issues during the meeting. • New evidence was introduced at the trial. • introduce a bill to Congress

3 : to bring (something, such as a type of plant or animal) to a place for the first time — often + to • an Asian plant that has been introduced to America

4 : to speak briefly to an audience about (someone who is about to speak, perform, etc., or something that is about to begin) • She introduced the speaker. • He introduced the show's second act.

5 : to mention or refer to (something) for the first time • The main topics are introduced in the first chapter.

6 : to cause (someone) to learn about or try (something) for the first time — + to • The program introduces children to different sports. • I was introduced to painting in college. • The class introduces students to computer programming. • She helped to introduce Americans to European fashions. = She helped to introduce European fashions to America.

7 : to put or insert (something) into something else • introduce a needle into a vein • The new carpet introduces some color into [=adds some color to] the living room. • The rivalry introduced more drama to/into the competition.

in·tro·duc·tion /,ɪntrə'dʌkʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : the act of making a person known to others by name — usually plural • Once we finished the introductions [=once everyone was introduced], the meeting began. • I'll make the introductions. [=I'll introduce everyone]

2 [noncount] : the act of introducing something; such as a : the act of bringing something into practice or use for the first time • the introduction of telephone service to the area b : the act of making a product available for sale for the first time • Since its introduction last year, over a million copies of the software have been sold. c : the act of presenting something for discussion or consideration • the introduction of evidence at the trial • the introduction of a new topic for conversation • the introduction of the bill to Congress • She told the audience, by way of introduction, that the research was completed a year ago. d : the act of bringing something (such as a plant or animal) to a place for the first time • the introduction of an Asian plant species to America

3 [count] : a statement made to an audience about someone who is about to speak, perform, etc., or something that is about to begin • After a brief introduction, the performer took the stage. ♦ A person who needs no introduction is well-known to the audience. • Our speaker this evening needs no introduction.

4 [count] a : the beginning part of a book, essay, speech, etc., that explains what will follow in the main part • Did you read the introduction? • His introduction outlined the main points of the speech. b : the beginning part of a piece of music

5 [count] : something (such as a book or a course of study) that provides basic information about a subject — + to • The book/course is an introduction to computer programming.

6 [singular] : a person's first experience with something — + to • That concert was my introduction to her music. [=it was the first time I had heard her music]

7 [count] : something that is added or introduced to something else • The plant is a recent introduction from Asia.

in·tro·duc·to·ry /,ɪntrə'dʌktəri/ adj

1 : providing information about someone who is about to speak, perform, etc., or something that is about to begin • I'd like to make a few introductory remarks before we start the program. • the book's introductory chapter

2 : providing basic information about a subject • an introductory text • a class in introductory physics

3 : intended to attract customers when a new product, service, etc., is introduced • a special introductory offer/price in·tro·spec·tion /,ɪntrə'spekʃən/ noun [noncount] : the process of examining your own thoughts or feelings • a moment of quiet introspection

— in·tro·spec·tive /,ɪntrə'spektɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] • As a student, he was very quiet and introspective.

in·tro·vert /'ɪntrə,vət/ noun, pl -verts [count] : a shy person : a quiet person who does not find it easy to talk to other people — opposite EXTROVERT

— in·tro·vert·ed /'ɪntrə,vətəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] • an introverted person/personality in·trude /ɪn'tru:d/ verb -trudes; -trud·ed; -trud·ing [no obj]

1 : to come or go into a place where you are not wanted or welcome • Excuse me, sir. I don't mean to intrude, but you have a phone call. • Would I be intruding if I came along with you? • The plane intruded into their airspace.

2 : to become involved with something private in an annoying way • Reporters constantly intruded into the couple's private life. • He didn't want to intrude upon their conversation.

— in·tru·sion /ɪn'tru:ʒən/ noun, pl -sions [count] The phone call was an unwelcome intrusion. • Please excuse the intrusion. We'll be finished shortly. • They have grown tired of all the intrusions into their private lives. [noncount] These laws are meant to protect citizens from improper government intrusion. • The animals are sensitive to human intrusion into their habitat.

in-trud-er /ɪn'tru:də/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who is not welcome or wanted in a place • The other children regarded him as an intruder.

2 : a person who enters a place illegally • The police arrested the intruder.

in-tru-sive /ɪn'tru:sɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : annoying someone by interfering with their privacy : intruding where you are not wanted or welcome • a loud and intrusive person • She tried to be helpful without being intrusive. • Intrusive reporters disturbed their privacy. • intrusive questions

— in-tru-sive-ness noun [noncount]

in-tu-it /ɪn'tu:wət, Brit ɪn'tju:ət/ verb -its; -it-ed; -it-ing [+ obj] formal : to know or understand (something) because of what you feel or sense rather than because of evidence : to know or understand (something) through intuition • He was able to intuit the answer immediately. • She intuited a connection between the two crimes.

in-tu-i-tion /ɪntu'ɪʃən, Brit ɪntju'ɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : a natural ability or power that makes it possible to know something without any proof or evidence : a feeling that guides a person to act a certain way without fully understanding why • Intuition was telling her that something was very wrong. • "How did you know I would drop by?" "Oh, I don't know. It must have been intuition." • I trusted my intuition [=instincts] and ended the relationship.

2 [count] : something that is known or understood without proof or evidence • I had an intuition [(more commonly) feeling, hunch] that you would drop by.

in-tu-i-tive /ɪn'tu:wətv, Brit ɪn'tju:ətv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having the ability to know or understand things without any proof or evidence : having or characterized by intuition • She has an intuitive mind • an intuitive person

2 : based on or agreeing with what is known or understood without any proof or evidence : known or understood by intuition • She has an intuitive [=instinctive] understanding of the business. • a doctor with an intuitive awareness of his patients' concerns

3 a : agreeing with what seems naturally right • The argument makes intuitive sense. b : easily and quickly learned or understood • The software has an intuitive interface.

— in-tu-i-tive-ly adv • a chef who works intuitively, rather than from a recipe • The solution is intuitively obvious.

In-u-it also In-nu-it /ɪnjuwət, 'ɪnuwət/ noun, pl Inuit or In-u-its also Innuit or In-nu-its

1 [count] : a member of a group of native people of northern North America and Greenland

2 [noncount] : the language of the Inuit people in-un-date /ɪnən,deɪt/ verb -dates; -dat-ed; -dat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (someone or something) to receive or take in a large amount of things at the same time • Hundreds of letters inundated [=flooded] the office. — often + with • The salesman inundated [=overwhelmed] them with information. — often used as (be) inundated • The office was inundated with calls/letters. • She was inundated [=swamped] with requests.

2 formal : to cover (something) with a flood of water : FLOOD • Rising rivers could inundate low-lying areas. — often used as (be) inundated • Low-lying areas could be inundated by rising rivers.

— in-un-da-tion /ɪnən'deɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount]

in-ure /ɪ'nuə, ɪ'njuə/ verb -ures; -ured; -ur-ing [+ obj] formal : to cause (someone) to be less affected by something unpleasant : to cause (someone) to be less sensitive to something unpleasant • Does violence on television inure children to violence in real life?

— inured adj — + to • Are children inured to violence? • We quickly became inured to his sarcasm.

in-vade /ɪn'veɪd/ verb -vades; -vad-ed; -vad-ing

1 : to enter (a place, such as a foreign country) in order to take control by military force [+ obj] invade a country [no obj] The troops invaded at dawn.

2 a : to enter (a place) in large numbers [+ obj] Ants invaded the kitchen. • Tourists invaded the town. [no obj] When tourists invade, the town is a very different place. b [+ obj] : to enter or be in (a place where you are not wanted) • She was invading my space. [=she was too close to me; she was in the place/space where I was or where I wanted to be]

3 : to spread over or into (something) in a harmful way [+ obj] The cancer eventually invaded the brain. • Weeds had in- vaded the garden. • Doubts invaded my mind. [=I began have many doubts] [no obj] Bacteria invaded and caused infection.

4 [+ obj] : to affect (something, such as your life or privacy) in an unwanted way • He thinks people were happier before TV and the Internet invaded our lives. • Photographers invaded her privacy. [=caused her to lose her privacy; intruded on her privacy]

— in-vad-er noun, pl -ers [count] • The city was attacked by invaders from the north.

¹in-val-id /ɪn'væləd/ adj : not valid: such as a : having no force or effect • The judge declared that the contract was invalid. b : not based on truth or fact : not logical or correct • an invalid argument

²in-val-id /ɪnvələd, Brit ɪnvə'li:d/ noun, pl -lids [count] : a person who needs to be cared for because of injury or illness • Her husband has become an invalid. — often used before another noun • She cares for her invalid husband at home

³in-val-id /ɪnvələd, Brit ɪnvə'li:d/ verb -lids; -lid-ed; -lid-ing [+ obj] Brit : to release (someone) from active military service because of illness or injury — usually used as (be) invalided • He was invalided out of the army. • He was invalided home.

in-val-i-date /ɪn'vələ,deɪt/ verb -dates; -dat-ed; -da-tion [+ obj] : to make (something) invalid: such as a : to weaken or destroy the effect of (something) • actions that will invalidate the contract • invalidate a marriage • invalidate an election b : to show or prove (something) to be false or incorrect • The study invalidates earlier theories. • factors that may invalidate the test results in-val-id-i-ty /ɪnvə'lidəti/ noun [noncount] formal

1 : the state of having no force or effect : the state of being invalid • the invalidity of the contract/election

2 Brit : the state or condition of being unable to work because of illness or injury : the state or condition of being invalid • an injured worker forced to live on invalidity benefits in-val-u-able /ɪn'væljəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : extremely valuable or useful • an invaluable experience • Their help has been invaluable to us. • invaluable information/advice in-vari-able /ɪn'verɪjəbəl/ adj : not changing or capable of change : staying the same : not variable • an invariable routine — in-vari-ably /ɪn'verɪjəbli/ adv • He is invariably [=always] courteous. • The disease is invariably fatal.

in-va-sion /ɪn'veɪʒən/ noun, pl -sions

1 : the act of invading something: such as a : the act of entering a place in an attempt to take control of it [count] The enemy launched/mounted an invasion. • the invasion of Poland [noncount] The people live under a constant threat of invasion. b : the act of entering a place in large numbers, especially in a way that is harmful or unwanted [count] The town is gearing up for the annual tourist invasion. • an invasion of/by insects [noncount] protecting the house from insect invasion

2 ♠ An invasion of privacy is a situation in which someone tries to get information about a person's private life in an unwanted and usually improper way. • I consider these questions to be an invasion of my privacy. • Is drug testing an invasion of privacy?

in-va-sive /ɪn'veɪsɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : tending to spread • The cancer is invasive. • invasive plants

2 medical : involving entry into the body by cutting or by inserting an instrument • an invasive medical procedure in-vec-tive /ɪn'vektɪv/ noun [noncount] formal : harsh or insulting words : rude and angry language • a barrage/stream of racist invective in-veigh /ɪn'veɪ/ verb -veighs; -veighed; -veigh-ing inveigh against [phrasal verb] inveigh against (someone or something) formal : to protest or complain about (something or someone) very strongly • Employees inveighed against mandatory overtime.

in-vei-gle /ɪn'veɪɡəl/ verb -vei-gles; -vei-gled; -vei-gling [+ obj] formal

1 : to persuade (someone) to do something in a clever or deceptive way • She inveigled him to write the letter. — usually + into • They tried to inveigle her into taking the job.

2 : to get (something) in a clever or deceptive way • We inveigled the information from him. • He inveigled his way into a position of authority. [=he gained a position of authority by using trickery]

in-vent /ɪn'vent/ verb -vents; -vent-ed; -ven-ting [+ obj]

1 : to create or produce (something useful) for the first time

• Thomas Edison invented the phonograph. • She is credited with inventing a procedure that has helped to save thousands of lives. • invent a new word

2 : to create or make up (something, such as a story) in order to trick people • She invented a clever excuse/story. • We found out that he had invented the stories he told us about his military service.

— in-ven-tor /ɪnˈventər/ noun, pl -tors [count] • Thomas Edison was a great inventor.

in-ven-tion /ɪnˈvenʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 : something invented: such as a [count] : a useful new device or process • The light bulb was one of the most important inventions of the 19th century. b : something (such as a false story) that is made up [count] The stories he told about his military service were just inventions. [noncount] His explanation was pure invention. • Parts of the movie were accurate, but much of it was invention.

2 [noncount] : the act of inventing something • the invention of a new product • the invention of a false story • Don't believe everything she tells you. She's prone to invention. [=exaggeration, lying]

3 [noncount] : the ability to think of new ideas • an artist with exceptional powers of invention — see also necessity is the mother of invention at ¹MOTHER in-ven-tive /ɪnˈventɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing an ability to think of new ideas and methods : creative or imaginative • an inventive child/artist • They have given their new company an inventive name.

— in-ven-tive-ly adv — in-ven-tive-ness noun [noncount]

in-ven-to-ry /ˈɪnvənˌtɔːri, Brit ˈɪnvəntri/ noun, pl -ries

1 [count] : a complete list of the things that are in a place • an inventory of supplies • We made an inventory of the library's collection.

2 chiefly US : a supply of goods that are stored in a place [count] The dealer keeps a large inventory of used cars and trucks. • Inventories at both stores were low. [noncount] How can a small business afford to keep so much inventory?

3 [noncount] chiefly US : the act or process of making a complete list of the things that are in a place : the act or process of making an inventory • We'll be doing inventory on the collection soon. — called also (Brit) stocktaking inventory verb -ries; -ried; -ry-ing [+ obj] : to make a complete list of (the things in a place) : to make an inventory of (something) • We'll be inventorying the collection soon.

in-verse /ɪnˈvɜːs, ˈɪnˌvɜːs/ adj, always used before a noun

1 — used to describe two things that are related in such a way that as one becomes larger the other becomes smaller • The study indicates an inverse relationship between the unemployment rate and inflation. [=as the unemployment rate drops, inflation rises] • My interest in his books declined in inverse proportion to his popularity. [=my interest declined as his books became more popular]

2 technical : opposite in nature or effect • Addition and subtraction are inverse operations.

— in-verse-ly adv

inverse /ɪnˈvɜːs, ˈɪnˌvɜːs/ noun [singular] formal + technical : something that is the opposite of something else • the inverse of your argument inversely proportional adj : related so that as one becomes larger the other becomes smaller • The study indicates that the unemployment rate and inflation are inversely proportional. — compare DIRECTLY PROPORTIONAL in-ver-sion /ɪnˈvɜːʒən/ noun, pl -sions

1 formal : a change in the position, order, or relationship of things so that they are the opposite of what they had been [count] an inversion of the roles of parent and child [noncount] Inversion of the two words changes the meaning of the sentence.

2 [count, noncount] weather : a condition in which air close to the ground is cooler than the air above it • (a) temperature inversion

in-vert /ɪnˈvɜːt/ verb -verts; -vert-ed; -ver-ting [+ obj] formal

1 : to turn (something) upside down • invert a bowl • The lens inverts the image. • The number 9 looks like an inverted 6. • an inverted image

2 : to change the position, order, or relationship of things so that they are the opposite of what they had been • invert the order of two words in a sentence in-ver-te-brate /ɪnˈvɜːtəbrət/ noun, pl -brates [count] : a type of animal that does not have a backbone • Worms are invertebrates. — compare VERTEBRATE

— invertebrate adj • invertebrate species

inverted comma noun, pl ~ -mas [count] Brit : QUOTATION MARK

in-vest /ɪnˈvest/ verb -vests; -vest-ed; -ves-ting

1 : to use money to earn more money : to use your money to purchase stock in a company, to buy property, etc., in order to make future profit [no obj] She has always invested conservatively/aggressively. — often + in • He made a fortune by investing in real estate. [+ obj] She invested her inheritance money. • invested money — often + in • He invested his savings in the business.

2 a : to spend (money) on building or improving something — usually + in [+ obj] The city will invest millions of dollars in two new schools. [no obj] The city plans to invest heavily in its educational system this year. b [+ obj] : to give your time or effort in order to do something or make something better — usually + in • A lot of effort was invested in the project. • We need to invest more time in educating our children. • (chiefly US) She is deeply invested in this project [=she has given a lot of time and effort to this project and cares about it very much] and wants it to succeed.

3 [+ obj] formal : to provide (someone or something) with (something) • The United States Constitution invests the President with certain powers. [=gives certain powers to the President] • The emperor claimed to be invested with power by the gods. • The promotion invested her with confidence. [=made her confident] invest as [phrasal verb] invest (someone) as (something) formal : to give (someone) the power and authority of (a particular position or title) • The group invested her as chairperson.

invest in [phrasal verb] invest in (something) informal : to spend money on (something useful or helpful to yourself) • I am planning to invest in [=buy, purchase] a good coat.

— investing noun [noncount] • I read a book on investing before I bought stocks and bonds. — in-ves-tor /ɪnˈvestər/ noun, pl -tors [count]

in-ves-ti-gate /ɪnˈvestəˌgeɪt/ verb -gates; -gat-ed; -gat-ing

1 : to try to find out the facts about (something, such as a crime or an accident) in order to learn how it happened, who did it, etc. [+ obj] The police are still investigating the murder. • The accident was thoroughly investigated. [no obj] The manager promised to investigate when we pointed out an error on our bill.

2 [+ obj] : to try to get information about (someone who may have done something illegal) • He was investigated for his involvement in the incident.

— in-ves-ti-ga-tion /ɪnˌvestəˌgeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] Police began an investigation into/of the incident. [noncount] The accident is under investigation. [=being investigated] — in-ves-ti-ga-tor /ɪnˈvestəˌgeɪtər/ noun, pl -tors [count] • Investigators revealed their findings.

in-ves-ti-ga-tive /ɪnˈvestəˌgeɪtɪv/ adj, always used before a noun : of, relating to, or involving investigation • investigative methods/work/journalism/reporting in-ves-ti-ga-to-ry /ɪnˈvestɪgəˌtɔːri, Brit ɪnˈvestɪgətri/ adj, always used before a noun : INVESTIGATIVE in-ves-ti-ture /ɪnˈvestəʃə/ noun, pl -tures [count, noncount] formal : a formal ceremony at which someone is placed in an office or given an official rank • the investiture of the Prince of Wales

in-vest-ment /ɪnˈvestmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 a : the act of using money to earn more money : the act of investing money [noncount] He became wealthy by shrewd investment of his money in the stock market. • She got a good return on her investment. [=her investment earned a good profit] • The company hopes to attract foreign investment. [=hopes that foreign people/companies will invest money in it] [count] Buying the house was a good investment. • The financial company offers several kinds of investments. b [count] : an amount of money that is invested in something • Her initial investment was $2,000.

2 [count] : something that you buy with the idea that it will increase in value, usefulness, etc. • The house turned out to be a good investment. [=the house increased in value and they made a good profit when they sold it] • A college education is a very good investment.

3 a : the act of spending money on something that is valuable or expected to be useful or helpful [noncount] The government has set aside money for investment in public transportation. [count] The company needs to make more investments in technology. b [count, noncount] : the act of giving your time or effort in order to accomplish something or make something better • The project will require (a) substantial investment of time and energy.

in-vet-er-ate /ɪn'vetərət/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal + often disapproving

1 : always or often doing something specified • She's an inveterate reader/traveler. • an inveterate liar

2 : always or often happening or existing • her inveterate optimism • his inveterate tendency to overlook the obvious

— in-vet-er-ate-ly adv • inveterately optimistic

in-vid-i-ous /ɪn'vɪdɪəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : unpleasant and likely to cause bad feelings in other people • invidious remarks • an invidious comparison/choice • The boss made invidious distinctions between employees.

in-vig-i-late /ɪn'vɪdʒəleɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing Brit : to watch students who are taking an examination : PROCTOR [+ obj] invigilate an exam [no obj] He was asked to invigilate next week.

— in-vig-i-la-tor /ɪn'vɪdʒəleɪtər/ noun, pl -tors [count]

in-vig-o-rate /ɪn'vɪgəreɪt/ verb -rates; -rat-ed; -rat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to give life and energy to (someone) • A brisk walk in the cool morning air always invigorates me. • He was invigorated by the positive feedback.

2 : to cause (something) to become more active and lively • The mayor has plans to invigorate the downtown economy.

— invigorating adj [more ~; most ~] • an invigorating walk in-vin-ci-ble /ɪn'vɪnsəbəl/ adj : impossible to defeat or overcome : UNBEATABLE • an invincible army • The loss proved that the team is not invincible.

— in-vin-ci-bil-i-ty /ɪn'vɪnsə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

in-vi-o-la-ble /ɪn'vəjələbəl/ adj, formal : too important to be ignored or treated with disrespect • an inviolable oath/law/right

— in-vi-o-la-bil-i-ty /ɪn'vəjələ'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] • the inviolability of the law in-vi-o-late /ɪn'vəjələt/ adj, formal : not harmed or changed • These rights must remain inviolate.

in-vis-i-ble /ɪn'vɪzəbəl/ adj

1 : impossible to see : not visible • Sound waves are invisible. • a thriller about an invisible man • With the telescope we can see details of the planet's surface that are ordinarily invisible.

• It felt like I was invisible at the party. [=no one was paying any attention to me at the party] • She feels as if her success is being blocked by an invisible barrier. • Homelessness is no longer an invisible problem for this city. • a letter written in invisible ink [=ink that can only be seen when it is specially treated in some way]

2 chiefly Brit, finance — used to describe money from foreign countries that is received from providing services (such as banking and tourism) rather than from selling products • invisible earnings • invisible exports

— in-vis-i-bil-i-ty /ɪn'vɪzə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] — in-vis-i-bly /ɪn'vɪzəbli/ adv • a hearing aid that fits invisibly in the ear

in-vi-ta-tion /ɪn'və'teɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a written or spoken request for someone to go somewhere or to do something • We sent out more than 100 invitations for the party. • He accepted/declined our invitation. • an invitation to lunch/dinner • a wedding invitation • You have a standing/open invitation [=you are always welcome; you are always invited] to visit us any time.

2 [noncount] : the act of inviting someone • She attended the fund-raiser at the invitation of the committee chairperson. [=she attended because she was invited by the committee chairperson] • The event is by invitation only. [=only people who have been invited to the event can attend it]

3 [singular] : something that encourages someone to do something or that makes something more likely to happen — + to • She treated his request for help as an invitation to take control of his life. • Leaving valuables unattended is an (open) invitation to thieves (to steal them). • His letter to the newspaper was an invitation to criticism. • Speeding is an invitation to disaster/trouble.

in-vi-ta-tion-al /ɪn'və'teɪʃənəl/ adj, US, sports : limited to people who have been invited to compete • an invitational tournament — invitational noun, pl -als [count] • The tournament is an invitational.

in-vite /ɪn'vaɪt/ verb -vites; -vit-ed; -vit-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to ask (someone) to go somewhere or do something •

He invited a few friends (to come) over to his house after work. • She invited them (to go) out to dinner. • I visited their house once, but they've never invited me back. • I'm planning to invite them for the weekend. • Aren't you going to invite me in for a coffee? • The event is limited to invited guests.

b : to ask (someone) formally or politely to do something • Employees are invited to apply for the new position. • The college invited her to speak at the graduation ceremony. c : to request (something) formally or politely • The company invites suggestions from customers.

2 : to make (something unwanted) more likely to happen • behavior that invites criticism • invite disaster by speeding

2 in-vite /ɪn'vaɪt/ noun, pl -vites [count] informal : INVITATION 1 • Did you send out the invites to the party? • Thanks for the invite!

in-vit-ing /ɪn'vaɪtɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : attractive in a way that makes you want to do something, go somewhere, be near someone, etc. • an inviting prospect • The room is very inviting. [=pleasant, cozy] • He has an inviting [=friendly, warm] smile.

— in-vit-ing-ly adv • desserts arranged invitingly on the table in vi-tro /ɪn'vi:trou/ adj, technical : outside the body • an in vitro study/test • a baby conceived through in vitro fertilization [=fertilization of an egg outside the mother's body]

— in vitro adv • an egg fertilized in vitro

in-vo-ca-tion /ɪn'və'keɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 formal : the act of mentioning or referring to someone or something in support of your ideas : the act of invoking something — + of [count] his repeated invocations of the ancient philosophers [noncount] justifying his position by invocation of the past

2 literary : the act of asking for help or support especially from a god [count] The poem begins with an invocation of the Muses. [noncount] by invocation of God

3 [count] US : a prayer for blessing or guidance at the beginning of a service, ceremony, etc. • They began the meeting with an invocation.

1 in-voice /ɪn'voɪs/ noun, pl -voic-es [count] : a document that shows a list of goods or services and the prices to be paid for them : BILL • Payment is due within 30 days after receipt of the invoice. — see also PRO FORMA INVOICE

2 invoice verb -voices; -voiced; -voic-ing [+ obj] : to send or give (someone) a bill for a purchase or service : to submit an invoice to (someone) • They will invoice you directly.

in-voke /ɪn'vəʊk/ verb -vokes; -voked; -vok-ing [+ obj] formal

1 a : to mention (someone or something) in an attempt to make people feel a certain way or have a certain idea in their mind • He invoked the memory/name of his predecessor. b : to refer to (something) in support of your ideas • She invoked history to prove her point.

2 : to make use of (a law, a right, etc.) • He invoked his Fifth Amendment privileges. • The suspect invoked his right to an attorney.

3 : to ask for help or protection from (something or someone) • They invoked God's mercy. • invoke the authority of the court in-vol-un-tary /ɪn'və:lən,teri, Brit ɪn'vɒləntəri/ adj : not voluntary: such as a : not done or made consciously • Breathing and circulation are involuntary processes. • involuntary bodily movements • When the door burst open, she let out an involuntary shriek. b : not done by choice • involuntary [=forced] labor • The lawyer argued that the client's confession was involuntary. • involuntary unemployment

— in-vol-un-tari-ly /ɪn'və:lən'terəli, Brit ɪn'vɒləntərəli/ adv

in-volve /ɪn'vɒlv/ verb -volves; -volved; -volv-ing [+ obj]

1 a : to have or include (someone or something) as a part of something • Does this involve me? • The accident involved three cars. = Three cars were involved in the accident. • He told us a story involving life on a farm. b : to cause (someone) to be included in some activity, situation, etc. : to cause (someone) to take part in something — usually + in • I didn't intend to involve you in this mess. • The teacher tried to involve all the children in the game. • She involves herself in [=she participates in] everything they do. c : to cause (someone) to be associated with someone or something • She remained involved with the organization for many years.

2 : to require (something) as a necessary part • "Just what does this job involve?" "It involves [=entails] traveling and a lot of overtime." • Renovating the house involved hiring a contractor.

3 : to affect (something) • The disease continued to spread until it involved the entire jaw.

– in-volve-ment /ɪnˈvɔːlmənt/ noun [noncount] • Involve-ment with/in the community is important to him. • Her involvement with the museum lasted over two decades. • He denied any involvement in the crime. • No one knew of their romantic involvement. [=no one knew that they had a romantic relationship]

in-volved /ɪnˈvɔːlvd/ adj
1 [more ~; most ~] : very complicated • a long and involved story • The instructions for assembling the toy are very involved. • The process is quite involved.
2 not used before a noun a : having a part in something : included in something • Those of us who were involved knew exactly what happened. — often + in • He is involved in a lawsuit. • I don't want to become involved in this argument. • This department was not involved in the decision. b [more ~; most ~] : actively participating in something • Students who stay involved get more out of the program. • If you want to make things better, you need to get involved. — often + in • You need to get involved in making things better. • She was so involved [=engrossed] in her work that she didn't hear the phone ring. c : having a romantic or sexual relationship • They quickly became romantically involved. • No one knew that they were involved. — often + with • She became romantically involved with a married man.

in-vul-ner-a-ble /ɪnˈvʌlnərəbəl/ adj : impossible to harm, damage, or defeat • teenagers who think they are invulnerable • The candidate seems to be in an invulnerable position. • The team seems invulnerable this season. — often + to • a city invulnerable to invasion – in-vul-ner-a-bil-i-ty /ɪnˈvʌlnərəˈbɪləti/ noun [noncount]

in-ward /ɪnwəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]
1 always used before a noun : of or relating to a person's mind or spirit • inward [(more commonly) inner] peace • inward feelings
2 : directed or moving toward the inside of something • an inward flow/curve — opposite OUTWARD inward also chiefly Brit in-wards /ɪnwədz/ adv

1 : toward the inside of something • The window faces inward toward the courtyard. • The door opens inward. — opposite OUTWARD
2 : toward the mind or spirit • He turned his attention inward.

in-ward-ly /ɪnwədli/ adv : in a way that is not openly shown or stated : on the inside • He chuckled/smiled/cursed inwardly. • She was outwardly calm but inwardly nervous. — opposite OUTWARDLY

in-your-face /ɪnjəˈfeɪs/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : very direct and forceful : very aggressive • in-your-face advertising • an in-your-face style of basketball — see also in someone's face at FACE

io-dine /ˈajədaɪn, Brit ˈajədiːn/ noun [noncount] : a chemical element that is used especially in medicine and photography

ion /aɪ,ɑːn, ˈajən/ noun, pl ions [count] technical : an atom or group of atoms that has a positive or negative electric charge from losing or gaining one or more electrons

-ion noun suffix
1 a : act or process • validation • refrigeration • rebellion b : result of an act or process • regulation • rejection
2 : state or condition • perfection

io-ta /aɪˈoʊtə/ noun [singular] : a very small amount — usually used in negative statements • That doesn't bother me one iota. [=that doesn't bother me at all] • There isn't an iota of truth in what he says.

IOU /aɪ,ouˈjuː/ noun, pl IOUs [count] informal : a usually written promise to pay a debt • I don't have any cash, so I'll have to give you an IOU. — often used figuratively • The governor has acquired some political IOUs over the years. [=other people owe the governor political favors] ♦ IOU is from the pronunciation of the phrase “I owe you.”

IPA /aɪˈpiːeɪ/ noun [noncount] : a system of symbols that represent all of the sounds made in speech ♦ IPA is an abbreviation of “International Phonetic Alphabet.”

IPO /aɪˈpiːou/ noun, pl IPOs [count] : the first time a company's stock is offered for sale to the public ♦ IPO is an abbreviation of “initial public offering.”

ip-so fac-to /ˈɪpsouˈfæktou/ adv, formal : because of that fact : because of the fact that has just been mentioned • He thinks that anyone wearing a suit and tie is ipso facto a conservative. [=that anyone wearing a suit and tie must be a conservative]

IQ /aɪˈkjuː/ noun, pl IQs [count] : a number that represents your intelligence and that is based on your score on a special test • children with high IQs • They wanted me to take an IQ test. ♦ IQ is an abbreviation of “intelligence quotient.”

ir- see IN-
IRA /aɪˈɑːeɪ/ noun, pl IRAs [count] US : a special account in which you can save and invest money for your retirement without having to pay taxes on the money until a later time ♦ IRA is an abbreviation of “individual retirement account.”

IRA abbr Irish Republican Army • a representative of the IRA • an IRA attack iras-ci-ble /ɪˈræsəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : becoming angry very easily : having a bad temper • an irascible old football coach • He has an irascible disposition/temper.

irate /aɪˈreɪt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very angry • Irate viewers called the television network to complain about the show. • an irate neighbor ire /aɪə/ noun [noncount] : intense anger • He directed his ire at the coworkers who reported the incident. • The proposal has raised/roused/provoked the ire of environmentalists. [=has made environmentalists angry]

ir-i-des-cent /ɪrəˈdesnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : shining with many different colors when seen from different angles • an iridescent gemstone

– ir-i-des-cence /ɪrəˈdesns/ noun [noncount] • The stone shone with a beautiful iridescence.

iris /aɪrəs/ noun, pl iris-es [count]

1 : the colored part of your eye — see picture at EYE
2 pl irises also iris : a plant with long pointed leaves and large blue or yellow flowers — see color picture on page C6

Irish /aɪrɪʃ/ adj : of or relating to Ireland, its people, or the Gaelic language that is spoken in Ireland • Irish culture • the Irish coast • people of Irish descent • Irish grammar

Irish noun, pl Irish
1 [plural] : the people of Ireland : Irish people • the Irish in America • How many Irish are there in England?
2 [noncount] : the Gaelic language of Ireland • Do you speak Irish?

Irish coffee noun, pl ~ -fees [count, noncount] : a drink of hot coffee with sugar, whiskey, and usually whipped cream

Irish-man /aɪrɪʃmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] : an Irish man

Irish-wom-an /aɪrɪʃwʊmən/ noun, pl -wom-en /-wɪmən/ [count] : an Irish woman

irk /ɜːk/ verb irks; irked; irk-ing [+obj] : to bother or annoy (someone) • Drivers were irked by the higher gasoline prices. • It irks me to have to clean up after you.

irk-some /ɜːksəm/ adj [more ~; most ~] : annoying or irritating • the irksome task of cleaning up • irksome rules iron /aɪən/ noun, pl irons

1 [noncount] : a heavy type of metal that is very common, occurs naturally in blood, and is used to make steel and in many products • The bars/chains are (made of) iron. • She has an iron deficiency. [=she does not have enough iron in her blood] — sometimes used figuratively • an athlete with legs/muscles of iron [=very strong legs/muscles] • She has a will of iron. [=she has a very strong will] — see also CAST IRON, WROUGHT IRON
2 [count] : a device with a flat metal base that is heated and is used to press wrinkles out of clothing • a heated iron — see also CURLING IRON, SOLDERING IRON, WAFFLE IRON
3 [count] : a golf club that has a metal head and is identified by a number • a five-iron — compare WOOD
4 irons [plural] : chains placed on a prisoner's arms or legs • They clapped/put the prisoner in irons. • They slapped leg irons on him.
irons in the fire : activities or projects that someone is involved in • Although he won't say exactly what he's working on now, he says he has quite a few irons in the fire.

iron

pump iron see 2PUMP
strike while the iron is hot see 1STRIKE

iron adj
1 : made of iron • iron bars/chains • an iron fence
2 always used before a noun : very strong • He has an iron constitution. [=he is very strong and healthy] • She has an iron will. [=she is very determined to get what she wants] • an iron grip iron man : a man who is very strong and is able to do something (such as play a sport) for a long time without injury or illness rule with an iron fist/hand, rule with a rod of iron see ²RULE

³iron verb irons; ironed; iron-ing : to use a heated iron to make clothing or fabric smooth [+ obj] I ironed the shirt. [no obj] I ironed all morning.

iron out [phrasal verb] iron (something) out or iron out (something) 1 : to remove (wrinkles) in cloth by using a heated iron • She ironed the wrinkles out of the dress. • Do you think we can iron out the creases in those curtains? 2 a : to find a solution to (something) : to fix or correct (something) • It'll take us a while longer to iron out the wrinkles/kinks in the network. [=to fix the small problems in the network] • We haven't been able to iron out our differences. • They're trying to iron things out. [=work out their difficulties] b : to reach an agreement about (something) • The final details of the contract still have to be ironed out.

Iron Age noun

the Iron Age : a period of time between about 3000 B.C. and 1000 B.C. in which people used iron to make weapons and tools • The Iron Age followed the Bronze Age. • an Iron Age tool — compare BRONZE AGE, STONE AGE

iron-clad /'ajən'klæd/ adj

1 : not able to be changed • The company has an ironclad policy/rule against revealing secrets to competitors. • an ironclad promise

2 : too strong to be doubted or questioned • He has an iron-clad alibi. • ironclad proof/evidence

Iron Curtain noun

the Iron Curtain : the political and military barrier in the past that separated the communist countries of Europe from the rest of Europe • a spy novel that takes place behind the Iron Curtain iron-ic /,aɪ'ra:nɪk/ also iron-i-cal /,aɪ'ra:nɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : using words that mean the opposite of what you really think especially in order to be funny • an ironic remark • She has an ironic sense of humor. • an ironic writing style

2 : strange or funny because something (such as a situation) is different from what you expected • It's ironic that computers break down so often, since they're meant to save people time. • It is ironic that the robber's car crashed into a police station.

— iron-i-cal-ly /aɪ'ra:nɪkli/ adv • He wrote ironically [=in an ironic way] about his experiences during the war. • Ironically, [=it is ironic that] the robber's car crashed into a police station.

iron-ing /'ajənɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the activity of using an iron to smooth out clothes or fabric • I hate ironing.

2 : clothes that need to be ironed • a pile of ironing ironing board noun, pl ~ boards [count] : a flat, padded surface on which clothes are ironed iron-mon-ger /'ajən,mɑ:ŋgə, 'ajən,mʌŋgə/ noun, pl -gers [count] Brit : a person who sells iron or metal tools iron-mon-gery /'ajən,mɑ:ŋgəri, 'ajən,mʌŋgəri/ noun [noncount] Brit : tools or equipment used in a house or garden iron-work /'ajən,wɜ:k/ noun [noncount] : fences, railings, decorations, etc., that are made of iron • We admired the ironwork in front of the house.

iron-works /'ajən,wɜ:ks/ noun, pl ironworks [count] : a place where iron or steel is processed or where iron or steel products are made — iron-work-er /'ajən,wɜ:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • He was an ironworker for 20 years.

iro-ny /'aɪrəni/ noun, pl -nies

1 [noncount] : the use of words that mean the opposite of what you really think especially in order to be funny • a writer known for her clever use of irony • "What a beautiful view," he said, his voice dripping with irony, as he looked out the window at the alley. • She described her vacation with heavy irony as "an educational experience." — compare SARCASM

2 : a situation that is strange or funny because things happen in a way that seems to be the opposite of what you expected [count] It was a tragic irony that he made himself sick by worrying so much about his health. • The (awful/bitter) irony is that in trying to forget her, he thought of her even more. That's just one of life's little ironies. [noncount] The irony of the situation was apparent to everyone. • He has a strong sense of irony.

ir-ra-di-ate /ɪ'reɪdi,et/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] technical : to expose (someone or something) to radiation • irradiate a tumor • The food was irradiated to kill any germs — ir-ra-di-a-tion /ɪ'reɪdi'eɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the irradiation of the tumor ir-ra-tio-nal /ɪ'ræʃənəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not rational such as a : not thinking clearly : not able to use reason or good judgment • He became irrational as the fever got worse b : not based on reason, good judgment, or clear thinking • She had an irrational fear of cats. • an irrational prejudice — ir-ra-tio-nal-i-ty /ɪ'ræʃə'næləti/ noun [noncount] • the irrationality of her fear — ir-ra-tio-nal-ly /ɪ'ræʃənəli/ adv • He was behaving irrationally.

ir-rec-on-cil-able /ɪ'rekən'saɪləbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : so different that agreement is not possible • irreconcilable theories • theories that are irreconcilable with each other • They are filing for divorce, citing irreconcilable differences. [=they cannot agree on most things or on important things]

— ir-rec-on-cil-ably /ɪ'rekən'saɪləbli/ adv • The two sides are irreconcilably opposed.

ir-re-cov-er-able /ɪr'ekəvərəbəl/ adj, formal : impossible to recover or get back • The past is irrecoverable. • an irrecoverable loss ir-re-deem-able /ɪr'di:məbəl/ adj, formal : not able to be saved, helped, or made better : HOPELESS • She does not believe that anyone is completely irredeemable. • Without intervention, the country could fall into irredeemable chaos. — ir-re-deem-ably /ɪr'di:məbli/ adv • The government was irredeemably corrupt.

ir-re-duc-ible /ɪr'du:səbəl, Brit ɪr'dju:səbəl/ adj, formal : not able to be made smaller or simpler • They thought the world was made up of four irreducible elements: earth, air, fire, and water. • an irreducible fraction — ir-re-duc-ibly /ɪr'du:səbli, Brit ɪr'dju:səbli/ adv

ir-re-fut-able /ɪr'fju:təbəl, ɪ'refjətəbəl/ adj, formal : not able to be proved wrong : not capable of being refuted • There is irrefutable evidence that he committed these crimes. — ir-re-fut-ably /ɪr'fju:təbli, ɪ'refjətəbli/ adv • The evidence shows irrefutably that he committed these crimes.

¹ir-reg-u-lar /ɪ'regjələ/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : not normal or usual : not following the usual rules about what should be done • His behavior as a teacher was highly irregular. • Her application was handled in an irregular manner.

2 [more ~; most ~] : not even or smooth : not regular in form or shape • an irregular outline • a very jagged, irregular surface • The stone has an irregular shape.

3 [more ~; most ~] a : happening or done at different times that change often • She has been working irregular hours [=she has been working for different amounts of time and at different times on different days] • He has a very irregular schedule. b : not happening at times that are equally separated • The festival has been held at irregular intervals. • an irregular heartbeat

4 grammar : not following the normal patterns by which word forms (such as the past tenses of verbs) are usually created • "Sell" is an irregular verb because its past tense is "sold."

5 US : not able to have normal bowel movements : CONSTIPATED

6 : not belonging to a country's official army • irregular troops/soldiers

— ir-reg-u-lar-ly adv • He has been behaving irregularly. • an irregularly shaped stone

²irregular noun, pl -lars [count] : a soldier who does not belong to a country's official army

ir-reg-u-lar-i-ty /ɪ'regjə'lərəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : the quality or state of being irregular • the irregularity of his behavior

2 [count] a : something that is irregular • an irregularity [=a raised or rough area] on the surface of the jewel • cardiac irregularities b : something that is not usual or proper and that usually indicates dishonest behavior — usually plural • We uncovered irregularities in the town's finances.

3 [noncount] US : the state of not being able to have normal bowel movements : CONSTIPATION • He is suffering from irregularity.

ir-rel-e-vant /ɪ'reləvənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not important or relating to what is being discussed right now : not relevant • His comment is completely irrelevant. — sometimes + to • Her comments were irrelevant to our discussion.

— ir-rel-e-vance /ɪ'reləvəns/ also ir-rel-e-van-cy /ɪ'reləvənsi/ noun, pl -van-cies also -vanc-es [noncount] the irrelevance of his comments [count] He talked about the weather and other irrelevancies. — ir-rel-e-vant-ly adv • He talked irrelevantly about the weather.

ir-re-li-gious /ɪrɪ'liːdʒəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : not believing in or practicing any religion • irreligious people

2 : having or showing a lack of respect for religion • irreligious remarks ir-re-me-di-a-ble /ɪrɪ'miːdiəbəl/ adj, formal : not able to be repaired or corrected • There was an irremediable split between the two sides of the family.

ir-rep-a-ra-ble /ɪ'reprəbəl/ adj, formal : too bad to be corrected or repaired • The oil spill did irreparable harm to the bay. • The damage to their relationship was irreparable.

— ir-rep-a-ra-bly /ɪ'reprəbli/ adv • His business was irreparably injured.

ir-re-place-able /ɪrɪ'pləsəbəl/ adj : too valuable or rare to be replaced : not replaceable • irreplaceable works of art

ir-re-press-ible /ɪrɪ'presəbəl/ adj

1 : impossible to hold back, stop, or control • He has irrepressible curiosity.

2 : very lively and cheerful • an irrepressible child • She has an irrepressible sense of humor.

— ir-re-press-ibly /ɪrɪ'presəbli/ adv • He is irrepressibly cheerful.

ir-re-proach-able /ɪrɪ'proutʃəbəl/ adj, formal : not deserving criticism or blame : having no fault • His conduct as a police officer was irreproachable. • irreproachable manners

— ir-re-proach-ably /ɪrɪ'proutʃəbli/ adv • He acted irreproachably at all times.

ir-re-sist-ible /ɪrɪ'zɪstəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : impossible to resist especially because of strength or attractiveness • The force of the waves was irresistible. • She had an irresistible [=very strong] craving for chocolate. • Women find him irresistible. [=women think he is very attractive]

— ir-re-sist-ibly /ɪrɪ'zɪstəbli/ adv • He was irresistibly attracted to her.

ir-res-o-lute /ɪ'resə'lʊt/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : not certain about what to do : not resolute • He has been criticized as an irresolute [=indecisive] leader.

— ir-res-o-lute-ly adv • He has wavered irresolutely from one opinion to another.

ir-re-spec-tive of /ɪrɪ'spektɪv-/ prep, formal : without thinking about or considering (something) • They are protected by the law, irrespective of race. [=regardless of race]

ir-re-spon-si-ble /ɪrɪ'spɑːnsəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not having or showing maturity or good judgment : not responsible • He's too irresponsible to keep a job for more than a week. • She made irresponsible comments that helped cause the riot. • It would be irresponsible to ignore the threats.

— ir-re-spon-si-bil-i-ty /ɪrɪ'spɑːnsə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] • The students were criticized for their irresponsibility. — ir-re-spon-si-bly /ɪrɪ'spɑːnsəbli/ adv [more ~; most ~] • She acted irresponsibly. • The funds were used irresponsibly.

ir-re-triev-able /ɪrɪ'triːvəbəl/ adj, somewhat formal : impossible to recover or get back • The data was irretrievable after the computer crashed. • the irretrievable breakdown of a marriage

— ir-re-triev-ably /ɪrɪ'triːvəbli/ adv • Their pictures were irretrievably lost in the flood. • Their marriage had broken down irretrievably.

ir-rev-er-ent /ɪ'revərənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing a lack of respect for someone or something that is usually treated with respect : treating someone or something in a way that is not serious or respectful • He has a delightfully irreverent sense of humor. • irreverent portrayals of nuns • an irreverent comedian

— ir-rev-er-ence /ɪ'revərəns/ noun [noncount] • She's a comedian known for her irreverence. — ir-rev-er-ent-ly adv • He joked irreverently about religion.

ir-re-vers-ible /ɪrɪ'vəsəbəl/ adj, somewhat formal : impossible to change back to a previous condition or state • He suffered an irreversible loss of vision. • The crisis has done irreversible harm to the countries' relations.

— ir-re-vers-ibly /ɪrɪ'vəsəbli/ adv • Their relationship has been irreversibly harmed.

ir-rev-o-ca-ble /ɪ'revəkəbəl/ adj, formal : not capable of being changed : impossible to revoke • She has made an irrevocable decision. • an irrevocable change

— ir-rev-o-ca-bly /ɪ'revəkəbli/ adv • Her life has been irrevocably changed.

ir-ri-gate /ɪrə'geɪt/ verb -gates; -gat-ed; -gat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to supply (something, such as land) with water by using artificial means (such as pipes) • irrigate a field • We irrigate our crops.

2 medical : to clean (a wound or a part of the body) with flowing liquid (such as water) • The surgeon irrigated the wound.

— ir-ri-ga-tion /ɪrə'geɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • irrigation of the fields/crops

ir-ri-ta-ble /ɪrətəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : becoming angry or annoyed easily • My father is always irritable after a nap. • I came home from work feeling tired and irritable.

— ir-ri-ta-bil-i-ty /ɪrətə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount] • Side effects include fatigue and increased irritability. — ir-ri-ta-bly /ɪrətəbli/ adv • "What's taking so long?" he asked irritably.

ir-ri-tant /ɪrətənt/ noun, pl -tants [count]

1 : something that makes part of your body sore and painful • dust and other lung irritants • skin irritants

2 : something that is unpleasant or annoying : something that irritates you • The delay was a minor irritant.

ir-ri-tate /ɪrə'teɪt/ verb -tates; -tat-ed; -tat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (someone) impatient, angry, or annoyed • It's his arrogance that really irritates me. • The other passengers were irritated by the child's rudeness.

2 : to make (part of your body) sore or painful • Harsh soaps can irritate the skin.

— irritated adj [more ~; most ~] • I've never seen him looking so irritated. • an area of skin that is very irritated and sore — irritating adj [more ~; most ~] • He's an irritating child. • The child's rudeness was very irritating to us. • Harsh soaps can be very irritating to the skin. — ir-ri-tat-ing-ly /ɪrə'teɪtɪŋli/ adv • He's an irritatingly rude child.

— ir-ri-ta-tion /ɪrə'teɪʃən/ noun [noncount] You'll get over the irritation of being delayed. • harsh soaps that can cause irritation of the skin [count] We had to put up with delays and other irritations. • skin irritations

IRS abbr Internal Revenue Service • He was being audited by the IRS.

is see BE

Is. abbr island

ISBN /ɪˌaɪˌesˌbiːˈen/ noun, pl ISBNs [count] : a number that is given to a book when it is published and that is used to help identify the book — usually singular • Can you give me the 10-digit ISBN? ♦ ISBN is an abbreviation of "International Standard Book Number."

— -ise Brit spelling of -ize

— -ish adj suffix : almost or approximately • The car is greenish. [=the car is a color that is almost green] • She looks to be about fiftyish. [=she looks like she is around 50 years old]

Is-lam /ɪ'slɑːm, 'ɪzˌlɑːm/ noun [noncount]

1 : the religion which teaches that there is only one God and that Muhammad is God's prophet : the religion of Muslims

2 : the modern nations in which Islam is the main religion — Is-lam-ic /ɪ'slɑːmɪk, ɪzˌlɑːmɪk/ adj • Islamic faith/law • the Islamic world is-land /'aɪlənd/ noun, pl -lands [count]

1 : an area of land that is surrounded by water • He lives on an island in the Caribbean. • Long Island • the Greek islands — see color picture on page C7

2 : an area or object that is separated from other things: such as a : a raised area within a road, parking lot, or driveway that is used to separate or direct traffic — called also traffic island b chiefly US : a separate raised area with a flat surface on which food is prepared in a kitchen • a kitchen is-land is-land-er /'aɪləndə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person born or living on an island • Pacific islanders isle /'ajəl/ noun, pl isles [count] literary : ISLAND 1 • a tropical isle — often used in proper nouns • the British Isles • the Emerald Isle [=Ireland] is-let /'aɪlət/ noun, pl -lets [count] : a small island

ism /ɪzəm/ noun, pl isms [count] : a belief, attitude, style, etc., that is referred to by a word that ends in the suffix -ism • Cubism, Impressionism, and other artistic isms • ageism, racism, sexism, and all the other familiar isms

-ism /ɪzəm/ noun suffix

1 a : the act, practice, or process of doing something — used to form nouns from verbs that end in -ize • criticism • plagiarism • hypnotism b : behavior like that of a specified kind of person or thing • heroism c : unfair treatment of a group of people who have a particular quality • racism • sexism

2 : the state or fact of being a specified kind of person or thing • skepticism • fanaticism

3 medical : abnormal state or condition • alcoholism • dwarfism

4 : teachings or beliefs • Buddhism • Marxism • socialism • stoicism • realism

5 a : a word that is from a specified source • a Latinism [=a word or phrase that comes from a Latin word or phrase] b : a word that has a specified quality • a colloquialism isn't /'ɪzn̩t/ — used as a contraction of is not • This isn't the way I expected it to be. • She isn't coming to dinner.

iso-late /'aɪsə,leɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing [+ obj]

1 : to put or keep (someone or something) in a place or situation that is separate from others • These policies will only serve to isolate the country politically and economically. • Certain patients must be isolated in a separate ward. • When he wants to work, he isolates himself in his office and won't talk to anyone. — often + from • Certain patients must be isolated from the others in a separate ward.

2 a : to find and deal with (something, such as a problem) by removing other possibilities • It may take several days to isolate the problem. [=to find out exactly what the problem is] b technical : to separate (something, such as a chemical) from another substance : to get (something) or an amount of (something) that is not mixed with or attached to anything else • Scientists have isolated the gene/virus that causes the disease. — often + from • The chemical/compound was originally isolated from a kind of seaweed.

iso-lat-ed adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : separate from others • The town remains a very isolated community. • The camp is located in an isolated area. • isolated places/populations • She felt isolated [=alone] in her new school. [=she felt unhappy because of being separated from people she knew]

2 : happening just once • The arrest was an isolated incident in his youth. • an isolated instance/case

3 : happening in different places and at different times • There have been reports of isolated [=sporadic] outbreaks of the disease. • a few isolated cases of vandalism

iso-la-tion /'aɪsə'leɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 : the state of being in a place or situation that is separate from others : the condition of being isolated • the isolation of the mountain community • political and economic isolation • a feeling of isolation [=loneliness]

2 : the act of separating something from other things : the act of isolating something • isolation of the gene/virus in isolation : apart from others • The researchers work in isolation. • Their culture developed in isolation [=separately] from the rest of the world.

iso-la-tion-ism /'aɪsə'leɪʃənɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : the belief that a country should not be involved with other countries : a policy of not making agreements or working with other countries

— iso-la-tion-ist /'aɪsə'leɪʃənɪst/ adj [more ~; most ~] • isolationist policies — isolationist noun, pl -ists [count]

iso-met-rics /'aɪsə'metɪks/ noun [plural] : exercises in which muscles are made stronger by pushing against other muscles or against something that does not move

— iso-met-ric /'aɪsə'metɪk/ adj • an isometric exercise

isos-ce-les triangle /aɪ'sɔ:sə,li:z-/ noun, pl ~ -angles [count] mathematics : a triangle in which two sides have the same length

iso-tope /'aɪsə,təʊp/ noun, pl -topes [count] chemistry : any one of various forms in which the atoms of a chemical element can occur • carbon isotopes • radioactive isotopes

ISP /aɪ,es'pi:/ noun, pl ISPs [count] computers : a company which provides the services that make it possible for people using computers to connect to the Internet and to send and receive e-mail ♦ ISP is an abbreviation of "Internet service provider."

Is-rae-li /ɪz'reɪli/ noun, pl -lis [count] : a person born, raised, or living in modern Israel

— Israeli adj • Israeli politicians • a team of Israeli scientists

Is-ra-el-ite /'ɪzri:jə,laɪt, 'ɪzrə,laɪt/ noun, pl -ites [count] : a person who was born in or who lived in the ancient kingdom of Israel is-su-ance /'ɪʃəwəns/ noun [noncount] formal : the official act of making something available or of giving something to people to be used : the act of officially issuing something • the issuance of stock • a visa issuance • the issuance of a search warrant is-sue /'ɪ,ʃu:/ noun, pl -sues

1 [count] : something that people are talking about, thinking about, etc. : an important subject or topic • She is concerned with a variety of social/moral/economic issues. • Water purity is a public health issue. • The President's speech addressed a number of important issues. • campaign issues like education and defense • The company insists that race was not an issue in its decision. [=that its decision was not related to race in any way] • The issue is poverty, not race: to talk about race is simply to confuse the issue. • The case involves some complicated legal issues. • He should stop dodging/avoiding the issue and make a decision now.

2 [count] : the version of a newspaper, magazine, etc., that is published at a particular time • There's an interesting article on page 12 of this issue. • the most recent issue of the magazine/journal • the current/latest issue • The library has a large collection of back issues [=magazines, newspapers, etc., published before the current issue]

3 [singular] : the act of officially making something available or giving something to people to be used : the act of issuing something • Several senators are calling for the issue [=issuance] of new guidelines. • a government-issue gun [=a gun that the government has officially given to someone] — see also STANDARD-ISSUE

4 issues [plural] : problems or concerns • the health issues associated with aging at issue : being discussed or considered • At issue is the city's budget plan for next year. • What is at issue is not the candidate's private life but her politics.

force the issue : to force someone to do something or to make a decision about something • They would never have addressed the problem if that newspaper article hadn't forced the issue. • Neither side is willing to force the issue.

have issues informal 1 : to have problems that make you unhappy and difficult to deal with • He seemed nice enough at first, but it turns out he has (a lot of) issues. • She has serious anger issues. [=she often gets so angry that she is difficult to deal with] 2 : to have reasons for disliking someone or something : to disagree with or disapprove of someone or something — + with • I have some issues with his behavior.

make an issue of : to argue about (something) or insist that (something) be treated as an important problem • I knew they'd made a mistake, but I was too tired to make an issue of it. • They kept making an issue of his smoking. [=they continued to criticize him because he smokes cigarettes]

take issue with : to disagree with (someone or something) • She took issue with the conclusions reached by the study. • I take issue with their whole approach to the problem.

without issue law : without having children • He died without issue.

2 issue verb -sues; -sued; -su-ing

1 [+ obj] a : to give (something) to someone in an official way • The police have issued [=handed out] numerous tickets for speeding in recent days. : to give or supply (something) to (someone) • The jail issued him an orange uniform. = (Brit) The jail issued him with an orange uniform. • Each employee will be issued an identification card. b : to make (something) available to be sold or used • The Post Office will issue a new first-class stamp. • The company plans to raise money by issuing more stock. • The bank will be issuing a new credit card. • the bank's newly issued credit card

2 [+ obj] : to announce (something) in a public and official way • The king issued a decree forbidding all protests. • A severe storm warning has been issued. • The police have issued a warrant for her arrest. • issue a press release

3 [no obj] formal : to go, come, or flow out from some source • A steady flow of lava issued from a crack in the rock.

— is-su-er noun, pl -ers [count] • credit card issuers = issuers of credit cards

1-ist /ɪst/ noun suffix

1 a : a person who does a specified action or activity • typist

b : a person who makes or produces something specified • novelist c : a person who plays a specified musical instrument • pianist • violinist d : a person who operates a specified machine or vehicle • machinist • bicyclist

2 : a person who has a specified job or skill • geologist • hair-stylist • dental hygienist • artist

3 : a person who has particular beliefs — used to form nouns from related nouns that end in -ism • socialist • purist • populist • Methodist • Buddhist • Darwinist

4 : a person who has a particular quality — used to form nouns from related nouns that end in -ism • pessimist • optimist • idealist

2-ist adj suffix : of, relating to, or characterized by a specified quality — used to form adjectives from related nouns that end in -ism • an elitist attitude isthmus /'ɪsməs/ noun, pl -mus-es [count] : a narrow area of land that connects two larger land areas — often used in names • the Isthmus of Panama

-is-tic /ɪstɪk/ also -is-ti-cal /ɪstɪkəl/ adj suffix : of, relating to, or characterized by a (specified) quality — used to form adjectives from related nouns that end in -ism • altruistic • realistic • egotistical

¹it /ɪt, ət/ pronoun

1 : that one just mentioned — used to refer to an object or substance • I caught the ball and threw it back. • He saw the car and immediately wanted to buy it. • She tasted the powder and it was sweet. — used to refer to a living thing whose sex is unknown or is being ignored • I don't know who it is. • "Who is it?" "It's only me." • There is a rosebush near the fence, and it is now blooming. • A fly landed on the table and I swatted it. • He heard the baby crying and brought it some milk. — used to refer to an idea, quality, emotion, etc. • Beauty is everywhere, and it is a source of great joy.

2 — used as the subject of a verb that describes a condition or occurrence • It is cold/hot/raining/snowing outside. • It is (getting) late/dark. • It will soon be summer. • What time is it? • It is ten (minutes) after four (o'clock). • It hurts when I sneeze. • It is almost summer. • It is only a short walk to the beach from here.

3 — used in the place of a noun, phrase, or clause that usually comes later • It hurts me to sneeze. [=to sneeze hurts me] • It is not necessary (for you) to repeat the whole thing. • It makes me happy just to think about her. • It is wonderful being back here again! • It is a long way to the next town. • It is said/believed that he died of a broken heart. • They made it clear that they needed our help. • I take it that there was some problem. • It is me you are looking for. = (formal) It is I you are looking for. • It was here that I lost my way. • It was in this city that the treaty was signed.

4 — used to refer to something that has been done or is being done or is going to be done • We're going to have to do it again. • Quit it! [=stop doing what you are doing] • You've been arguing all afternoon. Now cut it out! [=stop arguing] • Please do it right away. • Okay, go to it! [=do the thing you are going to do]

5 — used as a direct object with little or no meaning • We hoofed it all the way back to camp. [=we walked all the way back to camp] • We decided to rough it on vacation this year. [=to have our vacation somewhere where we would not have our normal comforts] • living it up [=doing exciting and enjoyable things; spending money freely while enjoying life] • She offered to come with me, but I decided to go it alone. [=to go by myself; to go alone]

6 : the general situation : things in general • How's it going? • It hasn't been the same since you left.

7 : something previously discussed or known • When the bell rings, it means that class is over.

ask for it see ASK

do it see ¹DO

in for it see ¹FOR

nothing to it see ¹NOTHING

out of it see ¹OUT

that is it or that's it informal 1 — used to say that something is finished or completed • Okay, that's it. You can go now. 2 — used to say that something is all that is needed or wanted • I came here to visit the museum and that's it. [=that is all I wanted to do here] 3 — used to say that something is correct • "I can't remember his name." "I think it was Brian Johnson." "Yes, that's it." 4 — used in an angry or annoyed way to say that you will not accept any more of something • That's it! I'm leaving!

this is it informal — used to say that this is the most important or final point • Well, this is it—the day we've been waiting for.

²it /ɪt/ noun, pl its [count] : the player in some children's games (such as hide-and-seek and tag) who performs the main action of the game (such as finding or catching other players) • You're it!

ital abbr italic, italicized

Ital abbr Italian

Ital-ian /ɪ'tæljən/ noun, pl -ians

1 [count] a : a person born, raised, or living in Italy b : a person whose family is from Italy

2 [noncount] : the language of the Italians

— Italian adj • Italian food/politics

Ital-ian-ate /ɪ'tæljənət/ adj : showing the influence of the art or culture of Italy • Italianate architecture • a beautiful Italianate painting/villa

Italian dressing noun [noncount] US : a salad dressing that is made of oil, vinegar, and herbs

¹ital-ic /ɪ'tælɪk/ adj

1 : having letters, numbers, etc., that slant upward to the right • These words are italic. • italic type — abbr. ital

2 Italic : of or relating to ancient Italy, the people who lived there, or the languages spoken there • Italic languages/dialects

²italic noun, pl -ics : letters, numbers, etc., that slant upward to the right : italic type [noncount] These words are printed in italic. [plural] The type should be set in italics. • These words are printed in italics. — abbr. ital; see picture at FONT

ital-i-cize also Brit ital-i-cise /ɪ'tæləsaɪz/ verb -ciz-es; -cized; -ciz-ing [+obj] : to put letters, numbers, etc., in italics : to print (text) in italics • italicize a word • italicized text

¹itch /ɪtʃ/ verb itch-es; itched; itch-ing [no obj]

1 : to have or produce an unpleasant feeling on your skin or inside your mouth, nose, etc. that makes you want to scratch • My back really itches. • His eyes began to burn and itch because of his allergies. • My nose itches. [=I have an itchy nose] • This sweater makes me itch. • Most rashes itch.

2 informal : to have a strong desire to do something or for something — always used as (be) itching • I'm itching to get started in my garden again. [=I'm very eager to begin working in my garden again] • She was itching for a fight. • He seemed to be itching for an excuse to say something rude.

— itching noun [noncount] • Rashes can cause intense itching. • Symptoms include minor itching and redness. • This lotion should soothe/stop/relieve the itching. [=itchiness]

²itch noun, pl itch-es [count]

1 : an uncomfortable or unpleasant feeling on your skin or inside your mouth, nose, etc., that makes you want to scratch • I had a slight itch on my back. • Scratching only makes the itch worse.

2 somewhat informal : a constant and strong desire for something or to do something • She's always had an itch for adventure. • He has an itch to travel.

scratch the/an itch chiefly US, informal : to satisfy a desire or need for something • Sign up for a tour of Asia and scratch the itch to travel.

itchy /ɪtʃi/ adj itch-i-er; -est

1 a : feeling or having an itch • My eyes are/feel itchy. • itchy skin • an itchy back b : causing an itch • an itchy rash • This sweater is itchy.

2 informal : feeling a strong desire to do something, to change something, etc. • Voters are itchy for change. • He was itchy to get going. ✧ If you have itchy feet, you have a strong desire to leave a place, job, etc., and go somewhere else. • She's had the same job for five years, and she's starting to get itchy feet. ✧ If you have an itchy finger or itchy fingers, you have a strong desire to do or get something, especially something that other people think is wrong or dangerous. • a movie about a gunman who has an itchy (trigger) finger [=a gunman who wants to shoot his gun; a gunman who is eager or likely to shoot someone]

— itch-i-ness /ɪtʃɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • The chemical causes itchiness and inflammation if it gets on your skin.

it'd /ɪtəd/ — used as a contraction of it would and it had • We knew it'd [=it would] be dark soon. • It'd [=it had] been like that for a while.

-ite /aɪt/ noun suffix

1 : a person born, raised, or living in a specified area • suburbanite • New Jerseyite

2 : a follower or supporter of a specified person or group • Reaganite

item /aɪtəm/ noun, pl items

1 [count] : an individual thing : a separate part or thing • There are several items for sale. • an item [=article] of clothing • an item [=article, piece] of furniture • I need to buy a few household items like soap. • He always orders the most expensive item on the menu. • There are a lot of items on our agenda tonight, so let's start the meeting. — see also COLLECTOR'S ITEM, hot item at ¹HOT

2 [count] : a separate piece of news or information • I saw an item in today's paper about the mayor's campaign plans.

3 [singular] informal : two people who are in a romantic or sexual relationship • They were rumored to be an item. [=a couple]

item·ize also Brit item·ise /ˈaɪtəm,aɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj] : to create a detailed list of (things) • You'll need to itemize [=list] all of your deductions/expenses. • a list of itemized expenses

— item·i·za·tion also Brit item·i·sa·tion /ˌaɪtəməˈzeɪʃən, Brit ˌaɪtəm,aɪˈzeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the itemization of all your expenses

itin·er·ant /aɪˈtɪnərənt/ adj, always used before a noun : traveling from place to place : staying in a place for only a short amount of time • an itinerant preacher/lecturer/performer

itin·er·ary /aɪˈtɪnəri, Brit aɪˈtɪnərəri/ noun, pl -ar-ies [count] : the places you go to or plan to go to on a journey • We planned a detailed itinerary. • Our itinerary included stops at several famous cathedrals.; also : a document in which the places you will be going to are listed • I'll mail you a copy of my itinerary so you'll know where to reach me.

-i·tis /aɪtəs/ noun suffix, medical : inflammation of something specified • tonsillitis • bronchitis • laryngitis — sometimes used humorously to describe having too much of something • Hollywood has a bad case of sequelitis this summer. [=too many movies being shown this summer are sequels]

it'll /ɪt/ — used as a contraction of it will • It'll be good to see her again. • It'll be dark soon.

its /ɪts, əts/ adj, always used before a noun, possessive form of IT : relating to or belonging to a certain thing, animal, etc. • the dog in its kennel • The landscape is beautiful in its own unique way. • Each region has its own customs. : made or done by a certain thing, animal, etc. • The company is hoping to increase its sales. — compare IT'S

it's /ɪts, əts/ — used as a contraction of it is and it has • It's [=it is] going to rain. • It's [=it has] been fun, but I must go now. • It's [=it is] a long way to the bottom. — compare ITS

it·self /ɪtˈself/ pronoun

1 : that same one: a — used as the object of a verb or preposition to refer to something that has already been mentioned • The cat washed itself. • History keeps repeating itself. • The problem should work itself out. • The chain folds back on itself. • The restaurant has built quite a reputation for itself. b — used for emphasis to refer to something that has already been mentioned • I found the envelope, but the letter itself was missing. • That itself was enough of an excuse. • The city itself is fairly small.

2 — used after a noun to say that someone or something has a lot of a particular quality • She was/seemed kindness itself. [=she was extremely kind] • Your cake is perfection itself. [=your cake is perfect]

by itself 1 : on its own : without being directly controlled by a person • The computer shuts off by itself if you don't use it. • The sprinkler will turn on by itself. [=automatically]

2 : with nothing nearby : ALONE • The house stood by itself at the end of the street.

in itself : in its own nature : when considered as something separate from other things • The idea was not in itself bad. •

This is not in itself a new idea. : without anything else added • That's a story in itself. — see also an end in itself at ¹END

it·sy·bit·sy /ˈɪtsɪˈbɪtsi/ or it·ty·bit·ty /ˈɪtiˈbɪti/ adj, informal : extremely small : TINY • a baby taking itsy-bitsy steps • an itsy-bitsy piece of cake

-ity /əti/ noun suffix : quality, state, or degree • availability • stability • absurdity • complexity • salinity

IUD /ˌaɪˌjuːˈdiː/ noun, pl IUDs [count] medical : INTRAUTERINE DEVICE

¹IV /ˌaɪˈviː/ noun, pl IVs [count] US, medical : a device that is used to allow a fluid (such as blood or a liquid medication) to flow directly into a patient's veins • The nurse started an IV. • The patient was hooked up to an IV. — see picture at HOSPITAL ♦ IV is an abbreviation of intravenous.

²IV adj, always used before a noun, US : INTRAVENOUS • IV drug users [=people who inject themselves with illegal drugs]

-ive /ɪv/ adj suffix : doing or tending to do something specified • exhaustive • explosive

I've /ˈaɪv, əv/ — used as a contraction of I have • The food was good, but I've had better. • It was the best movie I've ever seen. • I've got lots of work to do today. = (chiefly Brit) I've lots of work to do today.

ivied /ˈaɪvɪd/ adj : covered with ivy • the college's ivied walls

ivo·ry /ˈaɪvəri/ noun, pl -ries

1 [noncount] : a hard white substance that forms the tusks of elephants and other animals • a carved piece of ivory

2 [noncount] : a slightly yellowish white color — see color picture on page C2

3 [count] informal : a piano key — usually plural ♦ To tickle the ivories is to play the piano.

ivory tower noun, pl ~ -ers [count] disapproving : a place or situation in which people make and discuss theories about problems (such as poverty and racism) without having any experience with those problems • The book was written by some college professor who's spent her entire professional life in an ivory tower. — often used before another noun • an ivory-tower intellectual ivy /ˈaɪvi/ noun, pl ivies [count, noncount] : a plant that has long stems and that often grows on the outsides of buildings • walls covered with ivy = ivy-covered walls — called also English ivy; see color picture on page C6; see also POISON IVY

Ivy League noun [singular] : a group of eight colleges and universities in the eastern U.S. that have been respected for providing an excellent education for a long time — often used before another noun • an Ivy League diploma/degree • an Ivy League university/college ♦ The Ivy League consists of Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Brown, and Cornell universities, the University of Pennsylvania, and Dartmouth College.

-ize also Brit -ise /aɪz/ verb suffix

1 a : to cause to become or become like something specified • Americanize : to become or become like (something specified) • crystallize • unionize b : to treat like something specified • idolize • lionize • commercialize

2 : to talk or write about someone or something in a specified way • satirize • romanticize

3 : to make or suggest something specified • hypothesize • theorize • philosophize

4 : to place someone in something specified • hospitalize • institutionalize

J

j or J /ˈdʒeɪ/ noun, pl j's or js or J's or Js : the 10th letter of the English alphabet [count] a word that begins with a j [noncount] a word that begins with j

¹jab /ˈdʒæb/ verb jabs; jabbed; jab-bing

1 : to push something sharp or hard quickly or suddenly into or toward someone or something [+ obj] The nurse jabbed the needle into his arm. = The nurse jabbed his arm with a needle. • She jabbed her elbow into my ribs. = She jabbed me in the ribs with her elbow. [no obj] He jabbed at the other player with his hockey stick.

2 : to be pushed quickly and suddenly into someone or a part of someone's body [+ obj] The needle jabbed his arm. [no obj] The needle jabbed into his arm.

²jab noun, pl jabs [count]

1 : a quick or sudden hit with something sharp or hard • She gave him a jab in the ribs. — sometimes used figuratively • In his speech, he took a jab at [=criticized] the senator.

2 boxing : a short, straight punch • He threw a right/left jab to his opponent's body. — compare HOOK, UPPERCUT

3 Brit, informal : an injection of something (such as medicine) into your body with a needle • a flu jab [= (chiefly US) shot] jab·ber /'dʒæbər/ verb -bers; -bered; -ber-ing informal : to talk in a fast, unclear, or foolish way [no obj] They jabbered away for hours. [+ obj] She rushed into the room jabbering something about a dog.

– jabber noun [noncount] • listening to their silly jabber

¹jack /'dʒæk/ noun, pl jacks

1 [count] : a device used for lifting something heavy (such as a car)

2 [count] : a playing card that has a picture of a soldier or servant and that is worth more than a ten and less than a queen • the jack of hearts/spades/clubs/diamonds — see picture at PLAYING CARD

3 [count] : a small opening where something connects with a wire to something else • a telephone/stereo jack

4 a [count] : a small usually metal object that has six points and that is used in the game of jacks b jacks [plural] : a child's game in which jacks are thrown and picked up while bouncing and catching a small ball • children playing jacks

5 [noncount] US slang : anything at all — used in negative statements • You don't know jack. = (offensive) You don't know jack shit.

²jack verb jacks; jacked; jack-ing

jack in [phrasal verb] jack in (something) or jack (something) in Brit, informal : to stop doing (something) • He was building a new shed but jacked it in. • He jacked in [=quit, gave up] his job and became a hippie.

jack off [phrasal verb] US, informal + impolite, of a man : MASTURBATE jack up [phrasal verb] jack up (something) or jack (something) up 1 : to lift (something, such as a car) with a jack • He jacked up the car and changed the tire. 2 informal : to increase (something, such as a price) by a large amount • The restaurant has jacked up its prices in recent months.

jack·al /'dʒækəl/ noun, pl -als [count] : a wild dog found in Africa and Asia

jack·ass /'dʒæk,æs/ noun, pl -ass-es [count]

1 : a male donkey

2 chiefly US, informal + impolite : a stupid person : ASS • Some jackass spilled his drink on my shoes.

jack·boot /'dʒæk,bu:t/ noun, pl -boots [count] : a heavy military boot that reaches above the knee — sometimes used figuratively •

They suffered under the fascist jackboot. [=they suffered under fascist rule]

– jack·boot·ed /'dʒæk,bu:təd/ adj • jackbooted thugs

jack·et /'dʒækət/ noun, pl -ets [count]

1 : a piece of clothing that is worn on your upper body over another piece of clothing (such as a shirt) : a usually short and light coat • a suit with a double-breasted jacket • a warm jacket — see color picture on page C15; see also DINNER JACKET, FLAK JACKET, LIFE JACKET, SPORTS JACKET, STRAITJACKET

2 : an outer covering: such as a : a paper cover that protects a book and that can be removed : DUST JACKET b chiefly US : a paper, cardboard, or plastic envelope for holding a record, CD, or DVD — called also sleeve

– see also YELLOW JACKET

jacket potato noun, pl ~ -toes [count] Brit : a potato baked with its skin left on Jack Frost noun — used as a way to refer to frost or cold weather • Jack Frost may arrive early this year.

jack·ham·mer /'dʒæk,hæmə/ noun, pl -ers [count] chiefly US : a heavy tool used to break hard substances (such as concrete) into pieces by a repeated pounding action — called also pneumatic drill

jack-in-the-box /'dʒækənðə,bɑ:ks/ noun, pl jack-in-the-box-es or jacks-in-the-box [count] : a toy that is a small box containing a clown or other figure which jumps up when the box is opened

¹jack·knife /'dʒæk,naɪf/ noun, pl -knives [count]

1 : a small knife that has a folding blade : POCKETKNIFE

2 : a dive in which you bend from the waist and touch your ankles and then straighten out

²jackknife verb -knifes; -knifed; -knif-ing [no obj] : to bend in the middle like a folding jackknife; especially, of a large truck : to have the back part slide out of control toward the front part • The truck jackknifed on the icy road.

jack-of-all-trades /'dʒækəv,ɑ:l'treɪdz/ noun, pl jacks-of-all-trades [count] : a person who has many skills : a person who can do many different jobs ♦ If you are a jack-of-all-trades, master of none, you can do many things but are not an expert in any of them.

jack-o'-lan-tern /'dʒækə,læntən/ noun, pl -terns [count] : a pumpkin that has had its insides removed and a face cut into it for Halloween ♦ You put a candle in a jack-o'-lantern so that light shines out through its eyes, nose, and mouth.

jack·pot /'dʒæk,pɑ:t/ noun, pl -pots [count] : a usually large amount of money won in a game of chance • The lottery jackpot is up to one million dollars.

hit the jackpot 1 : to win all the money that can be won in a game of chance • He hit the jackpot on the slot machine.

2 : to have unexpected success or good luck • He really hit the jackpot with his new restaurant. [=he became very successful with his new restaurant] • They hit the jackpot when they hired her. [=she is a very valuable employee]

jack·rab·bit /'dʒæk,ræbət/ noun, pl -bits [count] : a North American animal that resembles a large rabbit and that is very fast

Jac·o·be·an /'dʒækə'bi:jən/ adj : of or relating to James I of England or the time (1603–25) when he was king • Jacobean drama • a Jacobean mansion

Ja·cuz·zi /dʒə'ku:zi/ trademark — used for a bathtub in which a pump causes water and air bubbles to move around your body

jade /'dʒeɪd/ noun [noncount]

1 : a usually green stone that is used for jewelry — see color picture on page C11

2 : a light bluish-green color — called also jade green; see color picture on page C2

jad·ed /'dʒeɪdəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling or showing a lack of interest and excitement caused by having done or experienced too much of something • He became jaded from years of work as a police officer. • a public jaded by political scandals • a jaded attitude jag /'dʒæg/ noun, pl jags [count] chiefly US, informal : a short period of time when you do something in an uncontrolled way • a crying jag

jag·ged /'dʒægəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having a sharp, uneven edge or surface • a jagged mountain peak • jagged pieces of broken glass

jag·uar /'dʒæ,gwɑː, Brit 'dʒæɡjəwə/ noun, pl -uars [count] : a large, brown, wild cat with black spots that lives in Central and South America — see picture at CAT

¹jail also Brit gaol /'dʒeɪl/ noun, pl jails : a place where people are kept when they have been arrested and are being punished for a crime [count] He was locked up in the county jail. [noncount] He was arrested and sent/sentenced to jail. • He went to jail for his crimes. • He just got out of jail a few weeks ago. • He was kept in jail overnight.

synonyms JAIL, PRISON, and PENITENTIARY all refer to places where criminals are kept. In U.S. English, jail usually refers to a small local place for holding criminals. • He was arrested for drunkenness and spent a night in the city jail. Prison refers to a much larger building for more serious criminals, such as murderers. • He was sentenced to 40 years in a state/federal prison. Penitentiary always refers to a large state or federal prison. • He is serving a life sentence at a federal penitentiary. In British English, there is no clear difference between jail and prison, and the word penitentiary is not now used.

²jail also Brit gaol verb jails; jailed; jail-ing [+ obj] : to put (a person) in jail — usually used as (be) jailed • He was jailed for assaulting a police officer.

jail·bird also Brit gaol-bird /'dʒeɪl,bɜ:d/ noun, pl -birds [count] informal + old-fashioned : a person who has often been in jail or prison jail·break also Brit gaol-break /'dʒeɪl,breɪk/ noun, pl -breaks [count] : an escape from jail or prison jail·er also jail-or or Brit gaol-er /'dʒeɪlə/ noun, pl -ers also -ors [count] somewhat old-fashioned : a person who is in charge of a jail or who guards the prisoners in a jail jail·house /'dʒeɪl,haʊs/ noun, pl -houses [count] US : ¹JAIL — usually used before another noun • a jailhouse informant [=an informant who is in jail]

ja·la·pe·ño also ja·la·pe·no /,hɑ:lə'peɪnjou/ noun, pl -ños also -nos [count] : a small green pepper that is very hot and jackal

is used especially in Mexican cooking — called also jalapeño pepper, jalapeno pepper

ja-lo-py /dʒəˈlɑːpi/ noun, pl -lop-ies [count] informal : an old car that is in poor condition • He fixed up an old jalopy.

¹jam /dʒæm/ verb jams; jammed; jam-ming

1 a : to fill (a place) completely [+ obj] Thousands of people jammed the hall. = The hall was jammed [=jam-packed, packed] with thousands of people. [no obj] Thousands of people jammed into the hall. b [+ obj] : to fill (something, such as a door or a road) so that movement is slow or stopped • People were jamming the exits after the concert. • All the roads and bridges were jammed (with traffic). — sometimes used figuratively • All the telephone lines were jammed with calls from angry customers.

2 a [+ obj] : to press or push (an object) into a tight place • He jammed the book back into the bookcase. • A piece of paper got/was jammed [=stuck] in the copy machine. b : to push (a part of your body, a lever, etc.) suddenly and forcefully [+ obj] She jammed her foot down hard on the brakes. [no obj] She jammed on the brakes. c [+ obj] : to cause (a part of your body) to be painfully crushed, squeezed, etc. • I jammed my finger in the car door. = My finger got jammed in the car door. = I got my finger jammed in the car door. • I jammed [=stubbed] my toe on the chair's leg.

3 a [no obj] : to stop working properly because something inside prevents movement • The copy machine jammed (up) again. • The lock/gun jammed. b [+ obj] : to cause (something) to stop working properly by preventing its parts from moving • A piece of paper jammed the copy machine.

4 [+ obj] : to make (a radio signal or broadcast) impossible to understand by sending out signals or messages that weaken or block it • jam a radio broadcast

5 [no obj] : to play music informally together without preparation • We like to get together and jam (with each other).

6 [+ obj] baseball : to throw a pitch that is close to a batter and that the batter is unable to hit well • The pitcher jammed him with an inside fastball.

²jam noun, pl jams [count]

1 : a situation in which a machine does not work properly because something inside prevents its parts from moving • There's a paper jam in the printer.

2 : a situation in which something (such as a road) is so filled that movement is stopped or slowed • I got stuck in a traffic jam on the way home from work. — see also LOGJAM

3 informal : a difficult situation • He got in/into a real jam with his girlfriend. • She asked her parents for money to help her get out of a jam.

— compare ³JAM

³jam noun, pl jams [count, noncount] : a sweet food made of fruit and sugar thickened by boiling • a jar of raspberry jam money for jam see MONEY

— compare ²JAM

jamb /dʒæm/ noun, pl jambs [count] : a board that forms the side of a door or window — see also DOORJAMB jam-ba-laya /ˌdʒæmbəˈlajə, Brit ˌdʒæmbəˈlajə/ noun [noncount] : a spicy dish of rice cooked usually with ham, sausage, chicken, shrimp, or oysters

jam-bo-ree /ˌdʒæmbəˈriː/ noun, pl -rees [count]

1 : a large party or celebration with music and entertainment • a country music jamboree

2 : a large gathering of Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts jam-mies /ˈdʒæmiz/ noun [plural] US, informal : PAJAMAS ♦ Jammies is a word used mainly by children and when speaking to children.

jam-my /ˈdʒæmi/ adj jam-mi-er; -est

1 : resembling or suggesting jam • jammy flavors

2 Brit, informal : having good luck : LUCKY • He's a jammy bastard. [=lucky guy] jam-packed /ˈdʒæmˈpækt/ adj : filled completely • The theater was jam-packed (with people) for the performance.

jam session noun, pl ~ -sions [count] : a gathering or performance in which musicians play together informally without any preparation : a session in which musicians jam with each other

Jan. abbr January

Jane Doe /ˈdʒeɪnˈdoʊ/ noun, pl ~ Does [count] US, law — used as a name for a woman whose true name is not known or is being kept secret; compare JOHN DOE

jan-gle /ˈdʒæŋɡəl/ verb jan-gles; jan-gled; jan-gling

1 [no obj] : to make a harsh ringing sound • Coins jangled out of the machine.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to make a harsh ringing sound • He jangled his keys loudly outside the door.

jangle nerves ♦ If something jangles your nerves, it makes you feel very nervous and tense. • The pressure of performing jangled her nerves. • He took a deep breath to try to calm his jangled nerves.

— jangle noun, pl jangles [count] — usually singular • the jangle of loose coins

jan-i-tor /ˈdʒænətər/ noun, pl -tors [count] chiefly US : a person who cleans a building and makes minor repairs — called also (Brit) caretaker

— jan-i-to-ri-al /ˌdʒænəˈtorijəl/ adj

Jan-u-ary /ˈdʒænjəri/ noun, pl -ar-ies : the first month of the year [noncount] in (early/middle/mid-/late) January early/late in January • They arrived on January the fourth. = (US) They arrived on January fourth. = They arrived on the fourth of January. [count] Sales are up (for) this January in comparison with the previous two Januaries. — abbr. Jan.

Jap /ˈdʒæp/ noun, pl Japs [count] informal + offensive : a Japanese person ♦ The word Jap is very offensive and should be avoided.

¹Jap-a-nese /ˌdʒæpəˈniːz/ noun

1 the Japanese : the people of Japan : Japanese people • the customs of the Japanese

2 [noncount] : the language of the Japanese • He is learning to speak Japanese.

²Japanese adj : of or relating to Japan, its people, or their language • Japanese history/food • She is Japanese. • The custom is Japanese.

Japanese beetle noun, pl ~ beetles [count] : a small green and brown beetle that is originally from Asia and that causes damage to plants in the U.S. — see color picture on page C10

¹jar /ˈdʒɑː/ noun, pl jars [count]

1 a : a glass container that has a wide opening and usually a lid • a pickle jar b : a clay container that has a wide opening • a pottery jar

2 : the amount of something inside a jar • We ate an entire jar of pickles.

²jar verb jars; jarred; jar-ring

1 : to have a harsh or unpleasant effect on someone or something [no obj] — usually + on • The loud music jarred on my ears. [+ obj] The attack jarred [=shook, rattled] her sense of security. • The loss jarred his confidence in the team.

2 : to hit or shake (something) forcefully [+ obj] The earthquake jarred the tiles loose. • He jarred [=knocked] the ball from his opponent's hands. [no obj] The tiles jarred loose in the earthquake.

3 [+ obj] : to make (someone) feel uneasy • Visitors are often jarred [=unsettled] by the conditions at the hospital.

4 [no obj] chiefly Brit : to look bad or ugly together • The two colors of the wallpaper jar [=clash] (with each other).

— jarring adj [more ~; most ~] • It was jarring to see how frail she was. • a jarring contrast jar-gon /ˈdʒɑːɡən/ noun [noncount] usually disapproving : the language used for a particular activity or by a particular group of people • legal/sports jargon • medical jargon that the layman cannot understand • an academic essay filled with jargon

jar-head /ˈdʒɑːhed/ noun, pl -heads [count] US slang : a member of the United States Marine Corps

jas-mine /ˈdʒæzmən/ noun [noncount] : a plant that has flowers with a very pleasant and sweet smell jaun-dice /ˈdʒɑːndəs/ noun [noncount] medical : a disease that causes a person's skin to turn yellow jaun-diced /ˈdʒɑːndəst/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 medical : having a disease that causes your skin to turn yellow : affected with jaundice • a severely jaundiced patient

2 : feeling or showing dislike, distrust, or anger because of past experiences : likely to think that people, organizations, etc., are bad • a jaundiced critic • She has a very jaundiced view of politics and politicians.

jaunt /ˈdʒɑːnt/ noun, pl jaunts [count] : a brief trip taken for pleasure • a four-day jaunt to the mountains jaun-ty /ˈdʒɑːnti/ adj jaun-ti-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : lively in manner or appearance • jaunty tunes • a jaunty greeting : having or suggesting a lively and confident quality • He struck a jaunty pose for the camera. • She was wearing a jaunty white cap.

— jaunt-i-ly /ˈdʒɑːntəli/ adv • She posed jauntily for the camera. — jaunt-i-ness /ˈdʒɑːntinəz/ noun [noncount]

jar

ja·va /ˈdʒævə, ˈdʒɑ:və/ noun [noncount] US, informal : COFFEE • a hot cup of java

jav·e·lin /ˈdʒævələn/ noun, pl -lins

1 [count] : a long spear that people throw as far as they can as a sport

2 the javelin : an event in which people compete by trying to throw a javelin farther than everyone else • winner of the javelin

¹jaw /ˈdʒɑ:/ noun, pl jaws

1 [count] a : either one of the two bones of the face where teeth grow • He broke his upper/lower jaw. • The crocodile tried to grab him in its jaws. [=mouth] • the jaws of a tiger/shark — often used figuratively • He barely escaped from the jaws of death. [=he barely escaped death] • The team was able to snatch victory from the jaws of defeat [=the team won] by scoring in the final seconds of the game. — see picture at FACE b : the lower part of a person's face — usually singular • I'd like to give that guy a punch in the jaw.

2 jaws [plural] : two parts of a machine or tool that open and close to hold or crush something • the jaws of a vise jaw drops ✧ If your jaw drops, you open your mouth in a way that shows you are very surprised or shocked. • His jaw dropped when he heard who had won.

²jaw verb jaws; jawed; jaw·ing [no obj] informal : to talk in an angry way or for a very long time • The coach was jawing with/at the referee. • She was on the phone jawing with her sister all night.

jaw·bone /ˈdʒɑ:boun/ noun, pl -bones [count] : the bone that forms the lower jaw : MANDIBLE — see picture at HUMAN jaw·break·er /ˈdʒɑ:breikə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : a round, hard candy jaw·line /ˈdʒɑ:lain/ noun, pl -lines [count] : the line of the face formed by the lower jaw : the bottom edge of a person's face • He has a strong jawline.

jay /ˈdʒeɪ/ noun, pl jays [count] : a noisy bird that is often brightly colored — see also BLUE JAY jay·bird /ˈdʒeɪ,bərd/ noun, pl -birds [count] US, informal + old-fashioned : JAY naked as a jaybird : completely naked • He was standing at the window, naked as a jaybird.

jay·walk /ˈdʒeɪ,wɑ:k/ verb -walks; -walked; -walk·ing [no obj] : to cross a street carelessly or at an illegal or dangerous place • The police officer warned us not to jaywalk.

— jay·walk·er noun, pl -ers [count] — jaywalking noun [noncount] • She was arrested for jaywalking.

¹jazz /ˈdʒæz/ noun [noncount]

1 : a type of American music with lively rhythms and melodies that are often made up by musicians as they play • He likes/plays jazz. • She was listening to (some) jazz. — often used before another noun • a jazz band/festival/musician

2 informal a : meaningless or foolish talk • What's all this jazz about you leaving? b : similar things : STUFF • She loves hiking, biking, and all that jazz.

²jazz verb jazz·es; jazzed; jazz·ing

jazz up [phrasal verb] jazz up (something) or jazz (something) up informal : to make (something) more interesting, exciting, or attractive • The company wants to jazz up its image. • She tried to jazz the room up with a new rug.

jazzed adj, not used before a noun [more ~; most ~] US, informal : very excited • He was really jazzed for the game. • She was jazzed (up) to be playing in the band.

jazzy /ˈdʒæzi/ adj jazz·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having the qualities of jazz music • jazzy tunes • a jazzy piano solo

2 informal : bright, lively, or fancy in a way that is meant to attract attention • jazzy decorations • He wore a jazzy suit to the party. • You're looking pretty jazzy [=snazzy] today.

J.D. abbr doctor of jurisprudence; doctor of law

jeal·ous /ˈdʒeləs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : feeling or showing jealousy: such as a : feeling or showing an unhappy or angry desire to have what someone else has • His success has made some of his old friends jealous. — often + of • Some of his old friends are jealous [=envious] of his success. = Some of his old friends are jealous of him because of his success. • He feels jealous of his rich friends. b : feeling or showing unhappiness or anger because you think that someone you love (such as your husband or wife) likes or is liked by someone else • a jealous husband • She became very jealous whenever he talked to other women. • He was in a jealous rage.

2 somewhat formal : very concerned about protecting or keeping something — + of • She was jealous of her good reputation. • He has always been very jealous of his privacy.

— jeal·ous·ly adv • He spoke jealously of his friend's success. • He jealously accused his wife of flirting with other men. • a jealously [=closely] guarded secret

jeal·ou·sy /ˈdʒeləsi/ noun, pl -sies

1 : an unhappy or angry feeling of wanting to have what someone else has [noncount] professional jealousy [=resentment of the success of someone who is in the same profession as you] [count] petty jealousies among political rivals

2 : an unhappy or angry feeling caused by the belief that someone you love (such as your husband or wife) likes or is liked by someone else [noncount] a marriage ruined by infidelity and jealousy • He was driven crazy with jealousy. [count] He was unable to control his jealousies.

jeans /ˈdʒi:nz/ noun [plural] : pants made of a strong cloth (called denim) • He was wearing (a pair of) jeans. — see color picture on page C14

Jeep /ˈdʒi:p/ trademark — used for a small truck that can be driven over very rough surfaces

jee·pers /ˈdʒi:pəz/ interj, informal + old-fashioned — used to express surprise • Jeepers, it's cold out here!

jeer /ˈdʒiə/ verb jeers; jeered; jeer·ing : to shout insulting words at someone : to laugh at or criticize someone in a loud and angry way [no obj] The crowd jeered (at him) when he struck out. • He tried to ignore the jeering crowd. [+ obj] The crowd jeered him when he struck out. • The prisoner was jeered by an angry mob.

— jeer noun, pl jeers [count] • His appearance drew jeers from the crowd.

jeez variant spelling of GEEZ

Je·ho·vah /dʒiˈhouvə/ noun [singular] — used as the name of God in the Old Testament of the Bible

Jehovah's Witness noun, pl ~ -nesses [count] : a member of a religious group that believes that the world will end soon and that tries to get people to become members so they will be saved

je·june /dʒiˈdʒu:n/ adj, formal

1 : not interesting : BORING • the novel's jejune plot

2 : too simple • She made jejune remarks about life and art.

Je·kyl and Hyde /ˈdʒekələnˈhaɪd/ noun [singular] : someone who is sometimes good and pleasant and sometimes very rude or bad • He's a real Jekyll and Hyde who can become violent without warning. • his Jekyll and Hyde tendencies ✧ This term comes from “The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde,” a story by Robert Louis Stevenson. In the story, Dr. Jekyll is a scientist who creates a liquid that changes him from a good man to the evil Mr. Hyde when he drinks it.

jell /ˈdʒel/ verb jells; jelled; jell·ing [no obj]

1 : to become clear and definite : GEL • The idea jelled. • Our plans are finally starting to jell. • A few scenes in the movie don't jell. [=work]

2 : to change into a thick substance that is like jelly • Boil the jam until it begins to jell.

Jell-O /ˈdʒelou/ trademark — used for a fruit-flavored dessert made with gelatin jel·ly /ˈdʒeli/ noun, pl -lies

1 : a sweet and soft food made by boiling sugar and fruit juice until it is thick [count] a selection of different jellies and jams [noncount] He spread some jelly on his toast. • a jar of grape jelly • a peanut butter and jelly sandwich • a jelly doughnut [=a doughnut with jelly inside of it] — sometimes used figuratively • One look from her reduces me to jelly. [=makes me feel very weak and nervous] • Shock and fear turned my legs to jelly. [=made my legs feel very weak]

2 [noncount] Brit : a fruit-flavored dessert made with gelatin ✧ In the U.S., this kind of dessert is known by the trademark Jell-O.

3 [noncount] old-fashioned : a food made from meat juices and gelatin • a meat glaze made with stock and jelly

4 : a substance that is soft and thick like jelly [count] liquid ointments and jellies [noncount] lubricating jelly — see also PETROLEUM JELLY

— jel·lied /ˈdʒelid/ adj • jellied candies — jel·ly·like /ˈdʒeli-lark/ adj • a thick jellylike substance jelly baby noun, pl ~ -bies [count] Brit : a soft candy shaped like a baby and made with gelatin jelly bean noun, pl ~ beans [count] : a candy that is shaped like a bean and has a hard sugar shell with a soft center

jellyfish /ˈdʒɛliˌfɪʃ/ noun, pl jellyfish [count] : a sea animal that has a very soft body and that can sting jelly roll noun, pl ~ rolls [count] US : a thin sheet of cake that is spread with jelly and rolled up — called also (Brit) Swiss roll

¹jem-my /ˈdʒɛmi/ noun, pl -mies [count] Brit : ¹JIMMY

²jemmy verb -mies; -mied; -my-ing [+ obj] Brit : ²JIMMY

je ne sais quoi /ʒənəˌsɛiˈkwaː/ noun [singular] sometimes humorous : a pleasant quality that is hard to describe • Although the sculpture had flaws, it also had a certain je ne sais quoi that made it very appealing. ✧ In French the phrase je ne sais quoi means literally “I know not what.”

jeop-ar-dize also Brit jeop-ar-dise /ˈdʒɛpəˌdaɪz/ verb -diz-es; -dized; -diz-ing [+ obj] : to put (something or someone) in danger • The wrong decision could (seriously) jeopardize your career. • His health has been jeopardized by poor nutrition.

jeop-ar-dy /ˈdʒɛpədi/ noun

in jeopardy : in a situation in which someone or something is exposed to possible injury, loss, or evil : in danger • He is responsible for placing innocent lives in jeopardy. • The wrong decision could place your career in (serious) jeopardy. • Public opinion puts this proposal in serious jeopardy. — see also DOUBLE JEOPARDY

¹jerk /ˈdʒɜːk/ noun, pl jerks [count]

1 informal : a stupid person or a person who is not well-liked or who treats other people badly • That jerk can't do anything right. • Most of the kids are nice, but some are jerks.

2 a : a quick pull or twist • The dead branch came loose after a few jerks. • He felt the jerk of the line as a fish took the bait. • The door was stuck, but I gave it a jerk [=pulled on it very hard and very quickly] and it opened. b : a sudden sharp movement • The car started with a jerk.

²jerk verb jerks; jerked; jerk-ing

1 [+ obj] : to push, pull, or twist (something) with a quick movement • I jerked the door open. • She jerked the phone out of my hand.

2 a : to move (something) with a sharp, quick motion [+ obj] He jerked his head in the direction of the door and said, “Let's go.” [no obj] The car jerked into motion. b always followed by an adverb, adjective, or preposition : to cause (someone) to move suddenly [+ obj] He was jerked awake by the sound of a baby crying. — sometimes used figuratively • She was jerked back to reality by the baby's crying. [no obj] He jerked awake when the baby started to cry.

jerk around [phrasal verb] jerk (someone) around chiefly US, informal : to be unfair or dishonest with (someone) : to lie to or cheat (someone) • I felt like that salesman was trying to jerk me around. — often used as (be/get) jerked around • I felt like I was getting jerked around by that salesman.

jerk off [phrasal verb] informal + impolite, of a man : MAS-TURBATE

jer-kin /ˈdʒɜːkən/ noun, pl -kins [count] : a type of short jacket that has no sleeves and that was worn in the past jerk-wa-ter /ˈdʒɜːkˌwɑːtə/ adj, always used before a noun, US, informal + disapproving — used to describe a small town, village, etc., that is out in the country far from cities • He lives in some jerkwater town in the middle of nowhere.

¹jer-ky /ˈdʒɜːki/ noun [noncount] US : meat that has been cut into long strips and dried • beef jerky

²jerky /ˈdʒɜːki/ adj jerk-i-er; -est

1 : marked by quick rough motions or sudden starts and stops • He made jerky movements. • The movie was jerky and hard to watch.

2 informal : foolish, stupid, or rude • jerky behavior

— jerk-i-ly /ˈdʒɜːkəli/ adv • The train moved jerkily into the station. — jerk-i-ness /ˈdʒɜːkinəs/ noun [noncount] • the jerkiness of her movements • I can't believe his jerkiness!

jer-ry-built /ˈdʒɛriˌbɪlt/ adj, informal + disapproving : built cheaply and quickly : not well-built • jerri-built houses

jer-ry-rigged /ˈdʒɛriˌrɪgd/ adj, chiefly US : made in a quick or careless way : not built or designed well • We'll have to replace the building's jerri-rigged heating system.

jer-sey /ˈdʒɛzi/ noun, pl -seys

1 [count] a : a loose shirt worn by a member of a sports team as part of a uniform • a football jersey b : a shirt made of knitted cloth

jellyfish

2 [count] Brit : SWEATER a

3 [noncount] : a soft knitted cloth • The dress is made of cotton/wool jersey.

4 Jersey [count] : a type of small and light brown cow that produces rich milk • We keep a herd of Jerseys. • Jersey cows

Je-ru-sa-lem artichoke /ˈdʒəˌruːsələm-/ noun, pl ~ -chokes [count] : the root of a plant that looks like a potato and is eaten as a vegetable

¹jest /ˈdʒɛst/ noun, pl jests formal + old-fashioned : something said or done to cause laughter : JOKE [count] It was a harmless jest. [noncount] I didn't mean to upset you; I only said it in jest [=I was only joking]

²jest verb jests; jest-ed; jest-ing [no obj] formal + old-fashioned : to say things that are meant to cause laughter : JOKE • You voted for him? Surely you jest [=you must be joking]

jest-er /ˈdʒɛstə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a man who in the past was kept by a ruler to amuse people by acting silly and telling jokes • the court jester

Je-su-it /ˈdʒɛzuwət, Brit ˈdʒɛzjuət/ noun, pl -its [count] : a man who is a member of a religious group called the Roman Catholic Society of Jesus

Je-sus Christ /ˈdʒiːzəsˈkraɪst/ noun [singular] : the man who Christians believe is the son of God and whose life, death, and resurrection as reported in the New Testament of the Bible are the basis of the Christian religion — called also Christ, Jesus ✧ Jesus Christ, Christ, and Jesus are commonly used as interjections to express surprise and anger. These uses are avoided in polite speech.

¹jet /ˈdʒɛt/ noun, pl jets [count]

1 : a fast airplane that has one or more jet engines • a private/commercial/corporate jet — often used before another noun • a jet airplane/plane • a jet pilot — see also JUMBO JET

2 a : a very strong stream of liquid or gas that comes out through a narrow opening • The telescope has photographed jets of gas shooting out from the distant star. b : a tube that contains and directs a very strong stream of liquid or gas • One of the fountain's jets was blocked.

— compare ³JET

²jet verb jets; jet-ted; jet-ting

1 : to travel by jet airplane [no obj] She jetted (off) from London to New York for a meeting. [+ obj] We jetted our representative from London to New York for the meeting.

2 : to come through a narrow opening with great force [no obj] Steam jetted from the kettle's spout. [+ obj] The geyser jets a tower of water into the air.

³jet noun [noncount] : a hard black stone that is often used for jewelry — compare ¹JET

jet black noun [noncount] : a very dark black color

— jet-black /ˈdʒɛtˈblæk/ adj • He had jet-black hair.

jet engine noun, pl ~ -gines [count] : an engine in which a very strong stream of heated air and gases shoots out from the rear of the engine and pushes the engine forward — see picture at AIRPLANE jet lag noun [noncount] : a tired and unpleasant feeling that you sometimes get when you travel by airplane to a place that is far away • I had bad jet lag after that last trip overseas.

— jet-lagged /ˈdʒɛtˌlægd/ adj • jet-lagged tourists

jet-lin-er /ˈdʒɛtˌlaɪnə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : a large jet airplane used for carrying passengers jet-pro-pelled /ˈdʒɛtprəˈpeld/ adj : moved forward by a jet engine • a jet-propelled missile jet propulsion noun [noncount] : the use of a jet engine to create forward movement of an airplane, missile, etc.

jet-sam /ˈdʒɛtsəm/ noun [noncount] : floating objects that are thrown into the water from a ship — usually used in the phrase flotsam and jetsam • We walked along the flotsam and jetsam that had washed up onto the beach. — often used figuratively • She was sorting through the flotsam and jetsam that had accumulated on her desk. — compare FLOTSAM

jet set noun

the jet set somewhat old-fashioned : wealthy people who often travel to different parts of the world • It was a trend started by the jet set.

— jet-set-ter /ˈdʒɛtˌsetə/ noun, pl -ters [count] • a luxurious hotel that is popular among jet-setters — jet-set-ting /ˈdʒɛtˌsetɪŋ/ adj • jet-setting film stars

Jet Ski trademark — used for a small and fast vehicle that is used on water and carries one or two people jet stream noun, pl ~ streams [count] technical : a strong current of fast winds high above the Earth's surface — usually singular • unusual weather patterns caused by changes in the jet stream jet-ti-son /ˈdʒetəsən/ verb -sons; -soned; -son-ing [+ obj]

1 : to drop (something) from a moving ship, airplane, etc. • The captain gave orders to jettison the cargo. • They jettisoned the fuel and made an emergency landing.

2 : to get rid of (something) • We should jettison these old computers and get new ones. : to reject (something, such as a plan or idea) • They jettisoned plans for a vacation.

jet-ty /ˈdʒeti/ noun, pl -ties [count] : a long structure that is built out into water and used as a place to get on, get off, or tie up a boat

Jew /dʒu:/ noun, pl Jews [count] : someone whose religion is Judaism, who is descended from Jewish people, or who participates in the culture surrounding Judaism — Jew-ish /ˈdʒu:wɪʃ/ adj • a Jewish temple • Are you Jewish?

— Jew-ish-ness noun [noncount]

jew-el /ˈdʒu:l/ noun, pl -els [count]

1 : a valuable stone (such as a ruby or diamond) that has been cut and polished • That diamond is one of world's largest jewels.

2 : a piece of jewelry (such as a necklace or a bracelet) that is made of valuable metal and precious stones — usually plural • She was dressed in an evening gown and jewels.

3 : someone or something that is highly valued or admired • This painting is the jewel in our gallery. • She's a jewel. • The building is regarded as one of the jewels of modern architecture. • He owns several successful businesses but this company is the jewel in the crown, [=this company is the most valuable/important/admired] — see also CROWN JEWEL

4 : the part of a watch that is made of a crystal or a precious stone

the family jewels 1 : jewelry that has been passed from one generation to another • She inherited the family jewels after the death of her grandmother. 2 informal + humorous : a man's sexual organs

— jew-eled (US) or Brit jew-elled /ˈdʒu:ld/ adj • a jeweled sword [=a sword decorated with jewels] • The guests were heavily jeweled. [=the guests were wearing a lot of jewelry]

jewel case noun, pl ~ cases [count] : a clear plastic case in which a CD or DVD is stored — called also jewel box

jew-el-er (US) or Brit jew-el-ler /ˈdʒu:lə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who makes, repairs, or sells jewelry and watches jew-el-ry (US) or Brit jew-el-lery /ˈdʒu:lri/ noun [noncount] : decorative objects (such as rings, necklaces, and earrings) that people wear on their body • silver and turquoise jewelry • a store that sells jewelry • jewelry stores — see color picture on page C11; see also COSTUME JEWELRY

Jew-ry /dʒu:ri/ noun [noncount] formal : Jewish people as a group • American Jewry

jib /ˈdʒɪb/ noun, pl jibs [count]

1 : a small triangular sail near the front of a sailboat

2 technical : the long part of a crane that carries the weight of the object that the crane is lifting jib verb jibs; jibbed; jib-bing [no obj] Brit, old-fashioned : to hesitate or refuse to do or accept something : BALK — usually + at • Investors jibbed at putting more money into the company.

jibe /ˈdʒaɪb/ verb jibes; jibed; jib-ing [no obj] US, informal : to agree with someone or something • His story didn't jibe with the testimony of other witnesses. • What he told me doesn't jibe with my experience. — compare ²JIBE

jibe verb jibes; jibed; jibing [no obj] : to cause a sailboat to change direction by swinging the sail to the opposite side of the boat — compare ¹JIBE

jibe variant spelling of GIBE

jif-fy /ˈdʒɪfi/ noun [singular] informal : a very brief time : MOMENT — usually used in the phrase in a jiffy • I'll be there in a jiffy.

Jiffy bag trademark, Brit — used for a thick, padded mailing envelope jig /ˈdʒɪɡ/ noun, pl jigs [count] : a type of lively dance • She did/danced a little jig; also : the music played for such a dance • Hey, play us a jig!

the jig is up US, informal + old-fashioned — used to say that a dishonest plan or activity has been discovered and will not be allowed to continue • The jig is up: where did you hide the stolen goods?

jig verb jigs; jigged; jig-ging

1 : to move with quick sudden movements [+ obj] He jigged

[=jiggled] his fishing line. [no obj] (chiefly Brit) The horses jigged around nervously.

2 [no obj] : to dance a jig • We jigged to the fiddle music.

jig-ger /ˈdʒɪɡə/ noun, pl -gers [count] : a small cup or glass that is used to measure alcohol; also : the amount held in a jigger • He poured a jigger of whiskey into the glass.

jig-gery-pok-ery /ˈdʒɪɡəriˈpoukəri/ noun [noncount] Brit, informal : dishonest or suspicious activity • There's some jiggery-pokery [=hanky-panky] going on behind the scenes.

jig-gle /ˈdʒɪɡəl/ verb jig-gles; jig-gled; jig-gling : to move or cause (something) to move with quick, short movements up and down or side to side [+ obj] He jiggled the doorknob.

• Try to avoid jiggling the camera. [no obj] His belly jiggled like a bowlful of jelly.

— jiggle noun, pl jiggles [count] • You have to give the doorknob a jiggle to open the door. • It's hard to avoid a few jiggles when you're using a video camera.

jig-saw /ˈdʒɪɡsɔ:/ noun, pl -saws [count]

1 : a machine that has a narrow blade for cutting curved lines in thin pieces of wood, metal, plastic, etc.

2 chiefly Brit : JIGSAW PUZZLE

jigsaw puzzle noun, pl ~ puzzles [count] : a puzzle made of many small pieces that are cut into various shapes and can be fit together to form a picture • We spent many nights working on a jigsaw puzzle of Mount Everest. — often used figuratively • Ecologists no longer view different species as independent, but instead see them as pieces of the same jigsaw puzzle. — called also (chiefly Brit) jigsaw

jigsaw puzzle

ji-had /dʒɪˈhɑ:d/ noun, pl -hads [count] : a war fought by Muslims to defend or spread their beliefs

jilt /ˈdʒɪlt/ verb jilts; jilt-ed; jilt-ing

[+ obj] : to end a romantic relationship with (someone) in a sudden and painful way • She was crushed when he jilted her. — often used as (be) jilted • She was jilted at the altar. [=the man who was supposed to marry her did not show up for the wedding] • a jilted lover

Jim Crow /ˈdʒɪmˈkrou/ noun [noncount] : the unfair treatment of black people in the past in the southern U.S. when laws were passed that did not give them the same rights as white people • the era of Jim Crow • Jim Crow laws

jim-dan-dy /ˈdʒɪmˈdændi/ adj, US, informal : very fine or excellent • We had a jim-dandy vacation.

jim-mies /ˈdʒɪmiz/ noun [plural] US : small and thin pieces of candy often sprinkled on ice cream

jim-my /ˈdʒɪmi/ noun, pl -mies [count] US : a short metal bar used to force things open or as a lever • The burglar used a jimmy to open the window. — called also (Brit) jemmy jimmy verb -mies; -mied; -my-ing [+ obj] US : to force (something, such as a lock, door, or window) open with a metal bar or a similar tool • The burglar jimmied [= (Brit) jemmied] the window (open).

jin-gle /ˈdʒɪŋɡəl/ noun, pl jin-gles [count]

1 : a light ringing sound that is made when metal objects hit each other • I heard the jingle of bells.

2 : a short song that is easy to remember and that is used to help sell a product on television or radio • an advertising jingle jingle verb jingles; jin-gled; jin-gling : to make or cause (something) to make a light ringing sound [no obj] Bells jingled in the distance. • jingling bracelets/bells/coins • a jingling sound [+ obj] She jingled the coins in her pocket.

jin-go-ism /ˈdʒɪŋɡouˌɪzəm/ noun [noncount] disapproving : the feelings and beliefs of people who think that their country is always right and who are in favor of aggressive acts against other countries • When the war began many people were caught up in a wave of jingoisism.

— jin-go-is-tic /ˌdʒɪŋɡouˈɪstɪk/ adj • jingoistic attitudes

jin-ni /ˈdʒɪ:ni/ or jinn /ˈdʒɪn/ also djinn /ˈdʒɪn/ noun, pl jinn or jinns also djinns [count] : GENIE jinx /ˈdʒɪŋks/ noun, pl jinx-es [count] informal : someone or something that causes bad luck • That guy is a jinx; also : a state or period of bad luck caused by a jinx • He felt like he'd finally broken the jinx. • She threatened to put a jinx on him.

jinx verb jinxes; jinxed; jinx-ing [+ obj] informal : to bring bad luck to (someone or something) • I thought they were going to win but I didn't say so because I didn't want to jinx them. • His luck has been so bad he feels jinxed.

jit-ter-bug /ˈdʒɪtə,bʌg/ noun [singular] : a very lively type of dance from the 1940s

– jitterbug verb -bugs; -bugged; -bug-ging [no obj] • Couples were jitterbugging on the dance floor.

jit-ters /ˈdʒɪtəz/ noun

the jitters informal : a very nervous feeling • I always get the jitters before I have to give a speech. = Having to give a speech gives me (a bad case of) the jitters.

jit-tery /ˈdʒɪtəri/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : very nervous • I always get/feel jittery when I have to give a speech. • The latest economic news has made some investors jittery.

¹jive /ˈdʒaɪv/ noun, pl jives informal + somewhat old-fashioned
1 [noncount] US a : informal language that includes many slang terms • She grew up talking street jive. b : deceptive or foolish talk • I'm tired of listening to your jive.

2 [noncount] : a type of fast lively music that was especially popular in the early part of the 20th century • play some jive, also [count] : a dance performed to this type of music • dancing a jive

²jive verb jives; jived; jiv-ing informal + somewhat old-fashioned

1 US : to say foolish or deceptive things to (someone) [+ obj] I know he's just jiving me. [no obj] Don't take him seriously—he's just jiving.

2 [no obj] : to dance to or play jive music • Everyone was jiving to the beat.

Jnr abbr, Brit junior • Dave Smith Jnr

job /ˈdʒɑ:b/ noun, pl jobs [count]

1 : the work that a person does regularly in order to earn money • He took/got a job as a waiter. • She has a high-paying job on Wall Street. • She's trying to get/land/find a job in New York. • The new factory will create thousands of jobs. • They offered him the job but he turned it down. • a part-time/full-time job • a job interview/offer/description • job-hunting • job-hunters • My teenage son is looking for a summer job. [=a job for the summer only] • If the restaurant closes, she'll lose her job. = If the restaurant closes, she'll be out of a job. [=she will no longer have a job] • Although he plays music at night, he hasn't been able to give up his day job. [=the regular job that he does during the day] • You shouldn't blame her for what happened. She was just/only doing her job. [=she was doing things that her job requires her to do] • We wouldn't be having these problems if everyone had just done their job/jobs. [=if everyone had properly done the work they were supposed to do]

2 : a duty, task, or function that someone or something has • It was your job to mow the lawn. = You had the job of mowing the lawn. • The blood's job is to carry oxygen to the different parts of the body. • When I asked her to clean up the mess, she said, "That's not my job." [=I'm not supposed to do that] • Construction of the bridge turned out to be a bigger job than they had expected. • a small job • It's a dirty job, but someone has to do it. • The computer was processing a print job. [=the computer was printing a document or file] • The car needs a brake/valve job. [=the car needs to have its brakes/valves repaired] ♦ Odd jobs are small tasks of different kinds that are not planned and do not happen regularly. • He does odd jobs around the farm. synonyms see ¹TASK

3 — used to describe how well or badly something has been done • Whoever planned the party did a good/great job. [=that person planned the party very well] • He did a bad job of explaining his reasons. [=he did not explain his reasons well] • "I finished the project ahead of schedule." "Good job!"

♦ The phrase a good job is used in informal British English to refer to something fortunate. • It's a good job I had my seat belt on! = I had my seat belt on—and a good job, too! [=it's good/lucky for me that I had my seat belt on] ♦ The phrase a bad job is used in informal British English to refer to something that is very difficult or impossible to do. • I tried my best to persuade him, but in the end I gave it up as a bad job. [=I stopped trying to do it because it could not be done]

4 : something that requires very great effort • It was a real job to talk over all that noise.

5 informal : a thing of some kind • I bought one of those little quilted jobs [=items, numbers] at the craft fair.

6 informal : a criminal act such as robbery • They've finally caught the gang that pulled the bank job. [=the gang that robbed the bank] • Police suspect that the bank robbery may have been an inside job. [=that the bank robbery was done by or with the help of someone who works in the bank]

do a job on US, informal : to damage (something or someone) badly • The collision really did a job on their car. • Moving all that furniture did a job on my back.

do the job informal : to achieve a desired result • The new system isn't working yet, but a few more adjustments ought to do the job. [=do the trick]

fall down on the job see ¹FALL

on the job 1 : while working on a job • He was injured on the job. • New employees are given on-the-job training. 2 Brit slang : having sex • They were in the back room, on the job.

walk off the/your job see ¹WALK

— see also HATCHET JOB, NOSE JOB, PUT-UP JOB

– job-less /ˈjɑːbləs/ adj • The factory closing left 5,000 people jobless. — job-less-ness noun [noncount] • Joblessness [=unemployment] is on the rise.

job action noun, pl ~ -tions [count] US : something (such as a strike or a slowing of work) done by workers to protest bad conditions, low wages, etc. • The union has threatened a job action if wages are not increased. — called also (Brit) industrial action

job lot noun, pl ~ lots [count] Brit : a collection of goods that are being sold as a group • The warehouse bought the pieces as a job lot.

job sharing noun [noncount] : a situation in which two people share the work, hours, and pay of one job • Job sharing is becoming more common. • a job-sharing arrangement

jock /ˈdʒɑ:k/ noun, pl jocks [count]

1 chiefly US, informal + sometimes disapproving : someone who is very involved in sports : ATHLETE • She was a jock in high school and led her basketball team to the state championship. • He's just a dumb jock.

2 US, informal : DISC JOCKEY — see also SHOCK JOCK

¹jock-ey /ˈdʒɑːki/ noun, pl -eys [count]

1 : someone who rides horses in races

2 informal : someone who operates or works with a specified vehicle, device, object, or material • a bus jockey [=a bus driver] • computer jockeys — see also DISC JOCKEY

²jockey verb -eys; -eyed; -ey-ing

1 [no obj] : to do something in an effort to get an advantage • There was a lot of political jockeying at the fund-raiser. — often used in the phrase jockey for position • Several companies are jockeying for position [=are trying to get a better position or situation] in the market.

2 [+ obj] chiefly US : to change the position of (something) by slow and careful movements • The driver carefully jockeyed the truck into a narrow space in the crowded parking lot.

jock-strap /ˈdʒɑ:k,stræp/ noun, pl -straps [count] : a piece of underwear worn by men and boys to protect their sexual organs while playing sports — called also (chiefly US) athletic supporter

jo-cose /dʒouˈkous/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal + literary : very cheerful • his jocose demeanor

– jo-cose-ly adv

joc-u-lar /ˈdʒɑːkjələ/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 : liking to tell jokes • a jocular man who could make the most serious people smile

2 : said or done as a joke • a jocular comment

– joc-u-lar-i-ty /ˌdʒɑːkjəˈlerəti/ noun [noncount] – joc-u-lar-ly adv

jodh-purs /ˈdʒɑːdpəz/ noun [plural] : tight pants that are worn for horseback riding • a pair of jodhpurs

joe /ˈdʒou/ noun, pl joes US, informal

1 or Joe [count] : an ordinary man : GUY • He's just an average/ordinary Joe.

2 [singular] : COFFEE — usually used in the phrase a cup of joe • She starts the day with a cup of joe.

Joe Blow noun, pl ~ Blows [count] US, informal : an average or ordinary man — usually singular • His movies have no appeal for the average Joe Blow. • He's just some Joe Blow from off the streets. — called also (Brit) Joe Bloggs

jo-ey /ˈdʒowi/ noun, pl joeys [count] : a baby kangaroo

¹jog /ˈdʒɑːg/ verb jogs; jogged; jog-ging

1 [no obj] : to run slowly especially for exercise • She jogs three miles a day.

2 [+ obj] : to push or bump (someone or something) lightly • She jogged [= (more commonly) nudged] him with her elbow.

3 [no obj] : to move up and down heavily with a short motion • The bag jogged against her hip as she walked.

jog along [phrasal verb] : to continue in an ordinary or steady way • Their marriage jogged along for several years without any major problems.

jog someone's memory : to cause or help someone to remember something • Maybe this photograph will jog your memory.

– jogging noun [noncount] • Her hobbies include gardening and jogging. • She goes jogging every day. • a jogging suit [=a set of clothes people wear when they jog]

jog noun, pl jogs [count]

1 : a slow run done for exercise • Some people depend on a morning jog to give them energy. • We're going to go for a jog around the park.

2 : a light shake or push • She gave him a jog with her elbow.

jog-ger /ˈdʒɑːgə/ noun, pl -gers [count] : someone who runs for exercise : someone who jogs • joggers out for their morning exercise

john /ˈdʒɑːn/ noun, pl johns [count] chiefly US, informal

1 : a toilet or bathroom • Excuse me, I have to go to the john.

2 : a man who pays money to a prostitute for sex

John Bull /ˈdʒɑːnˈbul/ noun, old-fashioned

1 [noncount] : the people or country of England

2 [singular] : a typical Englishman

John Doe /ˈdʒɑːnˈdou/ noun, pl ~ Does [count] US, law — used as a name for a man whose true name is not known or is being kept secret; compare JANE DOE

John Hancock /ˈdʒɑːnˈhæŋkəːk/ noun, pl ~ -cocks [count] US : a person's signature • He put his John Hancock on the contract. [=he signed the contract]

john-ny /ˈdʒɑːni/ noun, pl john-nies [count] US : a loose piece of clothing that is open at the back and that is worn by someone (such as a hospital patient) who is being examined, treated, etc., by a doctor

John-ny-come-late-ly /ˈdʒɑːniˌkɑːmˈleɪtli/ noun, pl -lies [count] informal : a person who has recently joined a group, started a new activity, etc. : NEWCOMER • When it comes to investing, she's no Johnny-come-lately.

joie de vivre /ˌʒwɑːdəˈviːvrə/ noun [noncount] formal : a feeling of happiness or excitement about life • She is admired for her energy and joie de vivre. ♦ Joie de vivre is a French phrase that means literally "joy of living."

join /ˈdʒɔɪn/ verb joins; joined; join-ing

T a [+ obj] : to put or bring (two or more things) together • She joined [=fastened] the blocks of wood (together) with glue. : to connect (two or more things) • The islands are joined by a bridge. b : to come together with (something) [+ obj] where the river joins the sea [=where the river flows into the sea] • The roads/rivers join [=meet] each other near here. [no obj] the place where two roads/rivers join (together) • Atoms join (together) to make molecules. — often + up • The two paths eventually join up (with each other).

2 a [+ obj] : to go somewhere in order to be with (a person or group) • He insisted that I join them for lunch. • We're going out for lunch. Would you like to join us? • May I join you? • The magician asked for a volunteer from the audience to join him on stage. b : to do something with (a person or group) [+ obj] Everyone here joins me in congratulating you on a job well done! [no obj] All of us join (together) in congratulating you on a job well done! • Several companies have joined (together) to support this policy. • The singer started alone but soon the whole audience joined in. c : to become involved in or part of (something, such as an activity) [+ obj] I joined the line and waited patiently to buy a ticket. • Hundreds of people have joined the effort to save the building from demolition. • He agreed to join the debate. [no obj] — + in • Hundreds of people have joined in the effort to save the building. • She joined in the conversation/fun.

3 : to become a member of (a group or organization) [+ obj] She joined the band/club. • Join the Navy and see the world! [no obj] The Navy offers great career opportunities, so join [=enlist] today! — often + up • More than 100 people have joined up.

if you can't beat them, join them see ¹BEAT

join battle formal : to begin fighting : to engage in battle • troops joining battle against a hated enemy

join forces see ¹FORCE

join hands : to hold the hand of another person • The priest asked us all to join hands and bow our heads in prayer. — often used figuratively • We can accomplish great things if we all join hands and work together.

join (someone) in marriage/matrimony formal : to marry (someone) • a young couple joined in marriage

join the club see ¹CLUB

join the crowd see ²CROWD

join up [phrasal verb] : to meet each other at a particular place • We're planning to join up (with each other) and have a few drinks after the game.

join-er /ˈdʒɔɪnə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 US : a person who joins many organizations • He's not a joiner. He prefers to do things by himself.

2 chiefly Brit : a person whose job is to build things (such as door or window frames) by joining pieces of wood join-ery /ˈdʒɔɪnəri/ noun [noncount] : the work done by a joiner (sense 2)

joint /ˈdʒɔɪnt/ noun, pl joints

1 [count] a : a point where two bones meet in the body • the elbow/knee/shoulder joint • She's been having pain in her muscles and joints. b : a place where two things or parts are joined • seal the joints of the pipes

2 [count] informal a : a particular place • People were running all over the joint. [=everywhere] b : a cheap bar or club • I can't believe we came to a (cheap) joint like this. c : an informal restaurant • a hamburger/pizza joint

3 [count] informal : a marijuana cigarette • smoking a joint

4 the joint US slang : PRISON • five years in the joint

5 [count] chiefly Brit : a large piece of meat for roasting • a joint of beef out of joint 1 of a bone : not in the correct position : out of its socket • His shoulder kept slipping out of joint. 2 informal : not in agreement or order • My schedule has gotten a little out of joint [=disorganized] in the past few weeks. 3 informal ♦ If you have your nose out of joint, you are angry or annoyed. • We had to wait a while, but that wasn't any reason for him to get his nose out of joint.

stink up the joint US, informal : to perform or play very badly • This year the team is really stinking up the joint.

2 joint adj, always used before a noun

1 : combining the work of two or more people or groups of people • It took a joint [=united] effort to get the job done. • a joint session of (both houses of) Congress

2 : done by or involving two or more people • a joint venture • joint research • filing a joint tax return • They had a joint account at the bank. • divorced parents who have joint custody of their child • (Brit) They came in joint third. [=they both finished in third place]

3 : doing something together • joint owners – joint-ly adv • a study conducted jointly by scientists in two countries • jointly owned property

Joint Chiefs of Staff noun [plural] : a group made up of the leaders of the U.S. Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marines that advises the President on important military decisions joint-ed /ˈdʒɔɪntəd/ adj : having joints that allow parts to move • a doll with jointed arms and legs — see also DOUBLE-JOINTED joist /ˈdʒɔɪst/ noun, pl joists [count] : a strong, heavy board that supports a floor or ceiling

1 joke /ˈdʒɔʊk/ noun, pl jokes [count]

T a : something said or done to cause laughter • She meant it as a joke, but many people took her seriously. • Is this your idea of a joke? [=do you think that what you are saying/doing is funny?] • They played a harmless joke on him. • They are always making jokes about his car. • He thought he could embarrass us, but now the joke is on him. [=he is the one who looks foolish] • He just can't take a joke. [=he does not like it when other people make jokes about him] b : a brief story with a surprising and funny ending • I heard a funny joke yesterday. • the punch line of a joke • She's always cracking/telling jokes. • I didn't get/understand the joke. • an inside joke [=a joke that is understood only by people with special knowledge about something] — see also IN-JOKE, PRACTICAL JOKE

2 disapproving : someone or something that is not worth taking seriously • That exam was a joke. • Their product became a joke in the industry. • He's in danger of becoming a national joke. • It's no joke to be lost in the woods. = Being lost in the woods is no joke. [=being lost in the woods is a serious situation]

2 joke verb jokes; joked; jok-ing : to say things that are meant to cause laughter : to make jokes about someone or something [no obj] My friends would joke about the uniform I had to wear at work. • She joked about the possibility of losing her job. • I thought he was joking when he said he might quit, but it turned out that he really meant it. • Don't take it seriously: I was only joking. • She spent a few minutes joking with reporters after giving her speech. • "The report is to be done by tomorrow." "You're joking." = "You must be joking." [=you must be kidding; what you say is very surprising or hard to believe] • It's no joking matter. [=it is no joke; it is a serious matter] [+ obj] She joked that she could always get work as a truck driver if she lost her job.

joking aside or Brit joking apart — used to introduce a serious statement that follows a humorous statement • It looks like this is a job for Superman! But joking aside, this is a serious problem and we're going to need help.

— jok-ing-ly /'dʒoʊkɪŋli/ adv [more ~; most ~] • She spoke jokingly about the possibility of losing her job.

jok-er /'dʒoʊkə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who tells or makes many jokes • a constant joker

2 : an extra card used in some card games usually as a wild card • Jokers are wild in this game.

3 informal : an annoying, stupid, or offensive person • I can't believe I let that joker beat me. • Some joker hit our car.

joke-ster /'dʒoʊkstə/ noun, pl -sters [count] : a person who tells or makes many jokes : JOKER • the family jokester

jok-ey /'dʒoʊki/ adj, informal : tending or intended to make people laugh • a jokey movie • the jokey tone of his stories

— jok-i-ness /'dʒoʊkɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

jol-lies /'dʒɑ:lɪz/ noun

get your jollies US, informal + disapproving : to get a feeling of enjoyment or excitement • She doesn't think much of people who get their jollies from watching violent movies. [=people who enjoy watching violent movies]

jol-li-ty /'dʒɑ:lɪti/ noun [noncount] formal : a happy and cheerful quality or state : the quality or state of being jolly • His jollity is infectious. • a scene of jollity

¹jol-ly /'dʒɑ:li/ adj jol-li-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : full of happiness and joy : happy and cheerful • Our boss was a very jolly man, always laughing. • jolly laughter/singing

2 old-fashioned : very pleasant or enjoyable • She had a jolly time at the party.

²jolly adv, Brit, informal + old-fashioned : very or extremely • a jolly good time/fellow/book • "I've finished my assignment." "Jolly good!" • She learned to be jolly careful in his presence.

jolly well Brit, informal + old-fashioned — used to emphasize anger, annoyance, or disapproval • I'm your father and you'll jolly well do as you're told!

¹jolt /'dʒoʊlt/ verb jolts; jolt-ed; jolt-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to cause (something or someone) to move in a quick and sudden way • The explosion jolted the ship. • He was jolted forward when the bus stopped suddenly. • The loud bang jolted me awake. • The attack jolted the country into action. b [no obj] : to move with a quick and sudden motion • The car jolted [=jerked] forward when he let the clutch out too quickly.

2 [+ obj] : to surprise or shock (someone) • She jolted the medical world with her announcement.

— jolting adj [more ~; most ~] • a jolting ride • a jolting experience

²jolt noun, pl jolts [count]

1 : a sudden, rough movement • the initial jolt [=shock] of the earthquake • I sprang out of bed with a jolt. • The car stopped with a jolt.

2 : a sudden shock or surprise • I got/had quite a jolt when I heard the door slam. • The defeat was quite a jolt to the team. • a severe financial jolt • The stock market suffered a major jolt yesterday.

3 : a small but powerful amount of something • She needed a jolt of caffeine to start her day. • a jolt of electricity • The unexpected praise he received gave him a jolt of confidence.

¹jones /'dʒoʊnz/ noun [singular] US slang : a very strong desire for something or to do something • She has a crazy jones [=craving] for fried chicken. • a basketball/writing jones

²jones verb jones-es; jonesed; jones-ing [no obj] US slang : to have a very strong desire for something or to do something — usually used as (be) jonesing • He was jonesing for a cigarette.

Jones-es /'dʒoʊnzəz/ noun

keep up with the Joneses informal + often disapproving : to show that you are as good as other people by getting what they have and doing what they do • people trying to keep up with the Joneses by buying expensive cars and clothes that they can't afford josh /'dʒɑ:f/ verb josh-es; joshed; josh-ing informal : to talk to someone in a friendly and joking way [no obj] Don't take him seriously. He's just joshing. [+ obj] He's just joshing [=kidding] you.

jos-tle /'dʒɑ:səl/ verb jos-tles; jos-tled; jos-tling : to push against (someone) while moving forward in a crowd of people [+ obj] Everyone in the crowd was jostling each other trying to get a better view. [no obj] — often + for • Everyone in the crowd was jostling for room/space. — sometimes used figuratively • political candidates jostling for position as the election nears

¹jot /'dʒɑ:t/ verb jots; jot-ted; jot-ting [+ obj] : to write down (something) quickly • He paused to jot a few notes on a slip of paper. — usually + down • He jotted down her name and phone number.

²jot noun [singular] informal + somewhat old-fashioned : the smallest amount — usually used in negative statements • She has not changed a/one jot [=has not changed at all] since we last saw her. • It doesn't make a jot of difference.

jot-tings /'dʒɑ:tɪŋz/ noun [plural] : notes that are written down quickly • a story based on the jottings in his notebooks

joule /'dʒu:l/ noun, pl joules [count] physics : a unit of work or energy

jour-nal /'dʒənl/ noun, pl -nals [count]

1 : a book in which you write down your personal experiences and thoughts : DIARY • I've been keeping a journal for several years. • She records her dreams in a journal.

2 a : a newspaper — usually used in titles • the Wall Street Journal b : a magazine that reports on things of special interest to a particular group of people • an academic/scholarly journal • a medical journal — often used in titles • the Journal of the American Medical Association

jour-nal-ism /'dʒənə,lɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : the activity or job of collecting, writing, and editing news stories for newspapers, magazines, television, or radio • investigative/broadcast journalism • She plans to major in journalism when she goes to college. • bad/good/responsible journalism

— jour-nal-ist /'dʒənəlist/ noun, pl -ists [count] • She is an investigative journalist. — jour-nal-is-tic /'dʒənə'listɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] • her journalistic career/experience • journalistic styles/standards/techniques — jour-nal-is-ti-cal-ly /'dʒənə'listɪkli/ adv

¹jour-ne-y /'dʒəni/ noun, pl -neys [count] : an act of traveling from one place to another : TRIP • a long journey across the country • a journey by train/bus • She's on the last leg of a six-month journey through Europe. • We wished her a safe and pleasant journey. — often used figuratively • the journey from innocence to experience • a journey through time • a spiritual journey

²journey verb -neys; -neyed; -ney-ing [no obj] : to go on a journey : TRAVEL • They journeyed across Europe. • She was the first woman to journey into space.

jour-ne-y-man /'dʒənɪmən/ noun, pl -men [count]

1 : a worker who learns a skill and then works for another person — often used before another noun • a journeyman carpenter

2 : a worker, performer, or athlete who is experienced and good but not excellent — often used before another noun • a journeyman musician • a journeyman baseball player

joust /'dʒaʊst/ verb jousts; joust-ed; joust-ing [no obj] of knights in the Middle Ages : to fight on horseback with lances • The knights jousted against each other. — often used figuratively • The two teams jousted [=competed] for first place. • There was a lot of verbal jousting between the lawyers.

— joust noun, pl jousts [count] • a joust between two knights — joust-er noun, pl -ers [count] • an armored joust-er • a skilled verbal joust-er

Jove /'dʒoʊv/ noun

by Jove chiefly Brit, old-fashioned + sometimes humorous — used to express surprise or agreement • By Jove, she's really done it! • By Jove, you're right!

jo-vi-al /'dʒoʊvɪjəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : full of happiness and joy : CHEERFUL • The audience was in a jovial mood. • He's a very jovial man.

— jo-vi-al-i-ty /'dʒoʊvɪ'æləti/ noun [noncount] — jo-vi-al-ly adv

jowl /'dʒawəl/ noun, pl jowls [count] : loose flesh on the cheeks, lower jaw, or throat — usually plural • a man with heavy jowls • a dog with big, floppy jowls

cheek by jowl see CHEEK

— jowly /'dʒəʊli/ adj • a jowly face/man

joy /'dʒoɪ/ noun, pl joys

1 [noncount] : a feeling of great happiness • Their sorrow turned to joy. • I can hardly express the joy I felt at seeing her again. • Seeing her again brought tears of joy to my eyes. • He found great joy in (doing) his work. • She answered the phone and, to her great joy, heard her son's voice on the line.

[=she felt very happy when she heard her son's voice] • They were shouting/jumping for joy. [=they shouted/jumped because they were very happy] — see also (little) bundle of joy at ¹BUNDLE

2 [count] : a source or cause of great happiness : something or someone that gives joy to someone • The flowers are a joy to behold! • What a joy it was to see her again. • the joy of sailing • the joys of parenthood • Her son is her pride and joy. [=her son makes her very proud and happy]

3 [noncount] Brit, informal : success in doing, finding, or getting something • “You’ve spent hours looking for it. Any joy? [=luck]” “No joy whatsoever, I’m afraid. I can’t find it.”

joy·ful /ˈdʒɔɪfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling, causing, or showing great happiness : full of joy • a joyful family reunion • the children’s joyful faces • joyful news • We were joyful at the news.

— joy·ful·ly adv • They greeted each other joyfully. — joy·ful·ness noun [noncount] joy·less /ˈdʒɔɪləs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not feeling, causing, or showing happiness : sad or unhappy • a joyless occasion/person/look

— joy·less·ly adv • He smiled joylessly. — joy·less·ness noun [noncount]

joy·ous /ˈdʒɔɪəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling, causing, or showing great happiness : JOYFUL • a joyous celebration • a joyous day • a mood of joyous anticipation

— joy·ous·ly adv — joy·ous·ness noun [noncount]

joy·ride /ˈdʒɔɪ,raɪd/ noun, pl -rides [count] : a fast car ride taken for pleasure; especially : a ride in a stolen car • Some teenager stole my car and took it for a joyride. — sometimes used figuratively • This movie is a wonderful joyride. [=is very exciting and enjoyable]

— joy·rid·er /ˈdʒɔɪ,raɪdər/ noun, pl -ers [count] — joy·rid·ing /ˈdʒɔɪ,raɪdɪŋ/ noun [noncount] • Some teenager went joyriding in my car.

joy·stick /ˈdʒɔɪ,stɪk/ noun, pl -sticks [count]

1 : an upright lever used to control an airplane — called also stick

2 : a lever used to control the movement of images on the screen in a computer or video game • This game works with either a mouse or joystick.

J.P. abbr justice of the peace

JPEG /ˈdʒeɪ,pɛɡ/ noun, pl JPEGs also JPEG’s [noncount] : a type of computer file used for storing images; also [count] : an image that is stored as this type of file • Most of the pictures are JPEGs. — often used before another noun • a JPEG file/image ✧ JPEG is an abbreviation of “Joint Photographic Experts Group.”

Jr. abbr junior • John Smith, Jr.

ju·bi·lant /ˈdʒu:bələnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling or expressing great joy : very happy • the jubilant winners • a jubilant celebration

— ju·bi·lant·ly adv • The fans celebrated jubilantly.

ju·bi·la·tion /ˈdʒu:bəˈleɪʃən/ noun [noncount] : great happiness or joy • The team’s victory was the cause of great jubilation. [=rejoicing] • the jubilation of the crowd

ju·bi·lee /ˈdʒu:bəˈliː, ˈdʒu:bəˈliː/ noun, pl -lees [count] : a special anniversary; also : a celebration at the time of such an anniversary • a silver/golden/diamond jubilee

Ju·da·ism /ˈdʒuːdɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : the religion developed among the ancient Hebrews that stresses belief in God and faithfulness to the laws of the Torah : the religion of the Jewish people

— Ju·da·ic /ˈdʒuːdeɪk/ adj • Judaic law/heritage/tradition

Ju·das /ˈdʒuːdəs/ noun, pl Ju·das·es [count] : someone who betrays someone else : TRAITOR • He was called a Judas by the press.

jud·der /ˈdʒʌdə/ verb -ders; -dered; -der·ing [no obj] Brit : to shake in a forceful way • The car juddered (and came) to a halt.

— judder noun, pl -ders [count] • The car gave a judder and came to a halt.

Ju·deo·Chris·tian /ˈdʒuːdeɪouˈkrɪstʃən/ adj : relating to both Judaism and Christianity • Judeo-Christian values/tradition

¹judge /ˈdʒʌdʒ/ verb judg·es; judged; judg·ing

1 : to form an opinion about (something or someone) after careful thought [+ obj] You should not judge people by their appearance. • They judged her pie (as) the best. = They judged her pie to be the best. = They judged that her pie was the best. = Her pie was judged (to be) the best. • He was trying to judge the strength of his opponent. • It can be difficult to judge [=estimate] distances/sizes accurately. • We should do whatever we judge to be the right thing. [no obj] Judging from this schedule, we have a busy week ahead. [=this schedule indicates that we have a busy week ahead] • Judging by its smell, I’d say the milk is spoiled. = To judge from its smell, I’d say the milk is spoiled.

2 [+ obj] : to regard (someone) as either good or bad • Who are you to judge me? • He feels that they have judged him unfairly. • Don’t judge her too severely/harshly.

3 [+ obj] law a : to make an official decision about (a legal case) • judge [=try] a case b : to decide about the guilt or innocence of someone • The jury will be asked to judge the defendant’s guilt. • If you are accused of a crime you have the right to be judged by a jury of your peers.

4 [+ obj] : to decide the winner of (a competition) • judge a contest

²judge noun, pl judges [count]

1 a law : a person who has the power to make decisions on cases brought before a court of law • a federal judge • She’s one of the strictest judges in the state. — often used as a title • The case is being heard by Judge Smith. b : a person who decides the winner in a contest or competition • He served as a judge at the baking contest. • a panel of judges

2 a : a person who makes a decision or judgment • “These problems don’t concern you.” “I’ll be the judge of that!” [=I’ll decide if they concern me; I am not interested in your opinion] • “I don’t think we should trust her.” “Let me be the judge of that.” b : a person who is good, bad, etc., at making judgments • She is a good judge of character.

judge·ship /ˈdʒʌdʒ,ʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships [count] chiefly US, law : the position of being a judge • She was appointed to a federal judgeship.

judg·ment or chiefly Brit judge·ment /ˈdʒʌdʒmənt/ noun, pl -ments

1 a [count] : an opinion or decision that is based on careful thought • We have to make a judgment about the value of their services. • In my judgment [=opinion], the stock has performed badly. = It is my judgment that the stock has performed badly. • The judgment of the editors is final. • I agreed to let him join us, even though it was against my better judgment. [=even though I did not think it was the best thing to do] • a snap judgment [=a hasty decision or opinion] • value judgments [=opinions about the worth or value of something] b [noncount] : the act or process of forming an opinion or making a decision after careful thought : the act of judging something or someone • Don’t rush to judgment without examining the evidence. • It would be premature to pass judgment on [=to state an opinion on] his place in history. • Don’t pass judgment on me [=don’t criticize me] until you know all the facts. • “Were his policies good or bad?” “I’ll have to reserve/suspend judgment on that. It’s too soon to know.” — see also LAST JUDGMENT, VALUE JUDGMENT

2 [noncount] : the ability to make good decisions about what should be done • Use your own best judgment. • He showed bad judgment. = He showed a lack of judgment.

3 [count] law : a decision made by a court • The court granted/pronounced a judgment in favor of the plaintiffs. • the judgment of the court • I won a judgment against the bank.

4 [count] formal : something bad or unpleasant that is thought to be a punishment from God — usually singular • a divine judgment against sinners sit in judgment : to say whether or not someone or something is morally good, proper, etc. • He has no right to sit in judgment on/of/over me. [=he has no right to judge me]

judg·ment·al or chiefly Brit judge·ment·al /ˈdʒʌdʒˈmentl/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] disapproving : tending to judge people too quickly and critically • He’s judgmental about everyone except himself. • You should try to avoid being so judgmental. • a very judgmental person

2 : of, relating to, or involving judgment • a judgmental error judgment call or chiefly Brit judgement call noun, pl ~ calls [count] : a decision that is based on your opinion • The rules aren’t clear in this case, so officials are required to make a judgment call.

Judgment Day or chiefly Brit Judgement Day noun [noncount] : the day at the end of the world when according to some religions all people will be judged by God

ju·di·cial /ˈdʒuːdɪʃəl/ adj, always used before a noun

1 a : of or relating to courts of law or judges • judicial power • the judicial system b : ordered or done by a court • a judicial decision/action

2 : responsible for dealing with all legal cases involving the government • the judicial branch of government — compare EXECUTIVE, LEGISLATIVE

— ju·di·cial·ly adv

ju·di·cia·ry /dʒuˈdɪʃəri, dʒuˈdɪʃəri/ noun [noncount] : the courts of law and judges in a country : the branch of government that includes courts of law and judges • the federal judiciary

ju·di·cious /dʒuˈdɪʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : having or showing good judgment : WISE • judicious use of our resources • Judicious planning now can prevent problems later. • a judicious decision

— ju·di·cious·ly adv • judiciously chosen examples — ju·di·cious·ness noun [noncount]

ju·do /dʒuːˈdoʊ/ noun [noncount] : a sport developed in Japan in which opponents attempt to throw or wrestle each other to the ground

jug /dʒʌɡ/ noun, pl jugs [count]

1 a chiefly US : a large, deep container with a narrow opening and a handle • a jug of cider b chiefly Brit : ²PITCHER

2 : the amount held by a jug • a jug of milk/wine

jug·ger·naut /dʒʌɡəˈnaʊt/ noun, pl -nauts [count]

1 : something (such as a force, campaign, or movement) that is extremely large and powerful and cannot be stopped • an advertising/political juggernaut

2 Brit : a very large, heavy truck — called also juggernaut lorry

jug·gle /dʒʌɡəl/ verb jug·gles; jug·gled; jug·gling

1 : to keep several objects in motion in the air at the same time by repeatedly throwing and catching them [no obj] He is learning to juggle. [+ obj] He juggled four balls at once.

2 [+ obj] : to do (several things) at the same time • She somehow manages to juggle a dozen tasks at once. • It can be hard to juggle family responsibilities and/or with the demands of a full-time job. — see also juggling act at ¹ACT

3 [+ obj] : to make changes to (something) in order to achieve a desired result • I'll have to juggle my schedule a bit to get this all to work out.

— jug·gler /dʒʌɡlə/ noun, pl -glers [count] • a juggler at the circus

jug·u·lar /dʒʌɡjələ/ noun, pl -lars [count] : JUGULAR VEIN go for the jugular informal : to attack or criticize an opponent in a very aggressive way • He will very quickly go for the jugular in the debate.

jugular vein noun, pl ~ veins [count] : a large vein in the neck that takes blood from the head to the heart

¹juice /dʒuːs/ noun, pl juices

1 a : the liquid part that can be squeezed out of vegetables and fruits [noncount] a glass of apple/orange/carrot juice [count] a variety of fruit juices b : the liquid part of meat [noncount] the juice of a steak [plural] gravy made with real beef juices

2 [noncount] informal : something (such as electricity) that provides power • Turn on the juice. • His camera ran out of juice because he forgot to replace the battery.

3 [count] : the natural fluids in your stomach — usually plural • digestive/gastric/stomach juices

4 [plural] informal : energy that gives you the ability to do something in a very effective way — used with flow • He can be very tough to beat when he gets his competitive juices flowing. • She came up with some great ideas when her creative juices started flowing.

stew in your own juice/juices see ²STEW

²juice verb juices; juiced; juic·ing [+ obj] : to remove juice from (a fruit or vegetable) • juice a lemon/orange juiced /dʒuːst/ adj [more ~; most ~] US, informal : very excited : full of energy • The band's fans were juiced about the upcoming concert. — often + up • He didn't realize just how juiced up his opponent would be.

juic·er /dʒuːsə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a tool or machine for removing juice from fruit or vegetables • a fruit/lemon juicer

juicy /dʒuːsi/ adj juic·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : containing a lot of juice • The meat is tender and juicy. • fresh, juicy oranges

2 informal : very interesting and exciting especially because of shocking or sexual elements • a juicy scandal • a juicy bit of news/gossip • I want to know all the juicy details.

3 informal : involving or providing a large amount of money • a juicy [=fat] contract • She sued her former boss and won a juicy settlement in court.

— juic·i·ness /dʒuːsinəs/ noun [noncount] ju·jit·su /dʒuˈdʒɪt,suː/ noun [noncount] : a form of fighting without weapons that was developed in Japan : a Japanese martial art juke /dʒuːk/ verb jukes; juked; juk·ing US, sports, informal : to make a false movement in order to deceive (an opponent) [+ obj] He juked a couple of defenders and scored. [no obj] She juked and weaved around the defense. • He juked [=faked] left and went right.

juke·box /dʒuːkˌbɔːks/ noun, pl -box·es [count] : a machine that plays music when money is put into it

juke joint noun, pl ~ joints [count] US, informal : a cheap bar or club that has a jukebox

Jul. abbr July

ju·lep /dʒuːləp/ noun, pl -leps [count] : a drink of bourbon, sugar, and mint served with crushed ice • a mint julep

ju·li·enne /dʒuːliˈɛn/ or ju·li·enned /dʒuːliˈɛnd/ adj : cut into long, thin strips • julienne carrots

— julienne noun, pl -ennes [count] • a julienne of carrots

Ju·ly /dʒuːˈlaɪ/ noun, pl -lys : the seventh month of the year [noncount] in (early/middle/mid-/late) July • early/late in July • They arrived on July the first. = (US) They arrived on July first. = They arrived on the first of July. [count] Sales are up (for) this July in comparison with the previous two Julys. • It happens every July. — abbr. Jul.; see also FOURTH OF JULY

¹jum·ble /dʒʌmbəl/ verb jum·bles; jum·bled; jum·bling [+ obj] : to cause (things) to be mixed together in a way that is not neat or orderly — often + together • Earrings, bracelets, and necklaces were all jumbled together in the box. — often + up • He jumbled the wires up when he moved the TV. — jumbled adj • jumbled thoughts

²jumble noun, pl jumbles

1 [count] : a group of things that are not arranged in a neat or orderly way • The letters formed a meaningless jumble. • a jumble of wires • a jumble of hats and coats

2 [noncount] Brit : unwanted things (such as old clothes) that are being sold in an informal sale • a bag/box of jumble

jumble sale noun, pl ~ sales [count] Brit : RUMMAGE SALE

jum·bo /dʒʌmbou/ adj, always used before a noun : very large • The stadium has a jumbo TV screen. • jumbo shrimp • The soda is sold in small, medium, large, and jumbo sizes.

jumbo jet noun, pl ~ jets [count] : a very large airplane that can carry many passengers

¹jump /dʒʌmp/ verb jumps; jumped; jump·ing

1 a [no obj] : to move your body upward from the ground and often forward, backward, or sideways through the air by pushing with your legs • The cat jumped [=leaped] (up) onto the table. • Grasshoppers were jumping [=hopping] around in the field. • The circus lion jumped through the hoop. • The fans were jumping up and down with excitement. • Everyone was jumping for joy when we found out that we had won an award. b [no obj] : to cause your body to drop or fall down from something by pushing with your legs • The cat jumped down off/from the table. • jump off a bridge c : to move forward through the air and over (something) [+ obj] The runner jumped a hurdle. • The car jumped the curb. [no obj] — + over • The runner jumped over a hurdle. • The car jumped over the curb.

2 [no obj] a : to move quickly • Everyone jumped into/in the pool. • He jumped into/in his truck and drove away. • She jumped up on [=quickly got up on] a chair and began to sing the national anthem. • She jumped up [=she stood up quickly] and ran out the door. — often used figuratively • The team jumped from last place to first place. • If anyone criticizes her husband, she always jumps to his defense. [=she always quickly defends him] • They jumped into action. [=acted immediately] b : to make a sudden movement because of surprise or shock • She jumped when she heard a loud knock late at night. • I almost jumped out of my skin when I heard her say my name. [=I was very surprised when I heard her say my name]

3 [no obj] : to start or go forward quickly • She jumped to an early lead in the race. — sometimes + off • She jumped off to a big lead.

4 [no obj] : to suddenly increase in value or amount • The price of gasoline jumped (by) 10 percent in the spring. = Gasoline jumped in price by 10 percent in the spring.

jukebox

5 [no obj] a : to go in a sudden and unexpected way • She was always jumping from job to job. b : to suddenly go forward to a later point • He jumped to the end of the chapter to find the answers. • The movie jumps ahead/forward to when she was in college.

6 [no obj] : to be lively with activity • The city really jumps on New Year's Eve. • The bar/joint/place was jumping.

7 [+ obj] : to physically attack (a person) especially in a robbery • He was jumped by a mugger while he was walking home from the store.

8 [no obj] : to move or behave in an energetic way especially to please another person • When the boss walks in, everybody is supposed to jump.

9 [+ obj] chiefly US : to get onto (a moving train) • jump a train

10 [+ obj] : to begin moving before (a signal to begin) • The car ahead of me jumped the light. [=started moving before the traffic light turned green]

11 : to move a piece in a board game so that it moves over another piece and lands on the next space [+ obj] She jumped three of my checkers in one move. [no obj] In this version of the game, jumping is not permitted. — sometimes + over • She jumped over three of my checkers.

(go) jump in a/the lake see LAKE jump all over informal : to become very angry at (someone) : to angrily criticize or shout at (someone) • His mother jumped all over [=jumped on] him for wrecking the car.

jump at [phrasal verb] jump at (something) : to eagerly take (a chance, offer, etc.) • She jumped at the chance/opportunity to show her boss what she could do. • He jumped at the offer of a better job.

jump bail see ¹BAIL

jump down someone's throat see THROAT jump in [phrasal verb] informal : to say something about a subject that another person is already talking about : to join a conversation • Jump in if you have any questions.

jump off the page see ¹PAGE

jump on [phrasal verb] informal 1 jump on (someone) : to become very angry at (someone) : to angrily criticize or shout at (someone) • The teacher jumped on [=jumped all over] us for being late. • The coach jumped on him for not playing hard enough. 2 jump on (something) a : to strongly attack or criticize (something) • She was quick to jump on her rival's poor record as governor. b : to get on (a train, bus, etc.) • She jumped on [=hopped] a bus to Denver. • He jumped on a plane and headed home.

jump out at [phrasal verb] jump out at (someone) 1 : to suddenly come at (someone) from a hiding place • The hidden assailant jumped out at them. 2 : to immediately get the attention of (someone) • The sculpture jumps out at you when you enter the house. • I checked for errors, but nothing jumped out at me. [=I did not notice any errors]

jump rope see ¹ROPE

jump ship see ¹SHIP

jump the gun see ¹GUN

jump the queue see ¹QUEUE

jump the track(s) (US) or chiefly Brit jump the rails of a train : to come off the track • Dozens of people were injured when the train jumped the track.

jump through hoops informal : to do a complicated or annoying series of things in order to get or achieve something • We had to jump through a lot of hoops to get a loan from the bank. • It shouldn't be necessary to jump through hoops to get a computer to work properly.

jump to conclusions see CONCLUSION jump to it informal : to begin doing something • We don't have much time to finish this job, so we better jump to it.

²*jump* noun, pl jumps

1 [count] : an act of jumping • He got over the fence with a running jump. [=a jump made while running] — see also HIGH JUMP, LONG JUMP

2 [singular] : a sudden movement because of surprise or shock — usually used in the phrase give a jump • He gave a jump [=start] when she entered the room.

3 [count] a : something to be jumped over • The horse took/cleared the first jump easily but balked at the second. b : something (such as a ramp) that you ride over in order to jump through the air on a motorcycle, bicycle, etc. • a motorcycle jump — see also SKI JUMP

4 [count] : a sudden increase • a jump in the price of gasoline • a jump in sales

a hop, skip, and (a) jump see ²HOP

get/have/gain a/the jump on : to get or have an early advantage over (someone) by acting quickly or doing something first • The company came out with its software earlier than expected and got the jump on its competitors.

one jump ahead ♦ If you are/keep/stay one jump ahead of someone, you have or keep an advantage over someone by learning about or doing something new. • The company has continued to be successful because it always stays one jump ahead of its competitors.

take a running jump Brit, informal + impolite — used to tell someone who angers or annoys you to go away • She told him to (go) take a running jump. [= (US) take a flying leap] jumped-up /ˈdʒʌmptʰʌp/ adj [more ~; most ~] Brit, disapproving : having a too high opinion of your own importance • She thinks that politicians are all just a bunch of jumped-up nobodies.

¹*jump-er* /ˈdʒʌmpə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person or animal (such as a horse) that jumps • a good jumper

2 basketball : JUMP SHOT

— compare ²JUMPER

² jumper noun, pl -ers [count]

1 US : a type of dress that has no sleeves and that is usually worn with a blouse — called also pinaflore

2 Brit : SWEATER, PULLOVER

— compare ¹JUMPER

jumper cables noun [plural] US : a pair of electrical cables that are used to start a car, truck, etc., when its battery is not working by connecting the battery to another source of power (such as another car's battery) : cables used to jump-start a vehicle jumping bean noun, pl ~ beans [count] : a seed that moves when a small insect moves inside it — called also Mexican jumping bean jumping jack noun, pl ~ jacks [count] US : an exercise in which a standing person jumps to a position with the legs and arms spread out and then jumps back to the original position • We did a few jumping jacks to warm up.

jumping-off point noun, pl ~ points [count] : a place or point from which something begins • The essay provides a good jumping-off point [=starting point] for further discussions. • a jumping-off point for a journey — called also jumping-off place jump rope noun, pl ~ ropes US

1 [count] : a rope used in exercise or a children's game that involves jumping over it when it is swung near the ground. — called also (Brit) skipping rope

2 [noncount] : the game of jumping over a jump rope • children playing jump rope jump shot noun, pl ~ shots [count]

: a basketball shot made while jumping

• make/sink/hit a jump shot

jump-start /ˈdʒʌmpˈstɑ:t/ verb -starts; -start-ed; -start-ing [+ obj]

1 : to start (a vehicle whose battery is not working) by connecting its battery to another source of power (such as the battery of another vehicle) • I had to use his truck to jump-start my car.

2 a : to cause (something) to start quickly • Advertising can jump-start a political campaign. • Publishers often attempt to jump-start a new book with TV appearances by the author. b : to give new energy to (something) • a plan to jump-start the economy

— jump-start noun, pl -starts [count] • We had to give the car a jump-start. • give the economy a jump-start

jump-suit /ˈdʒʌmpˌsu:t/ noun, pl -suits [count] : a piece of clothing that consists of a blouse or shirt with attached pants or shorts

jumpy /ˈdʒʌmpi/ adj jump-i-er; -est informal : very nervous : easily frightened • trying to calm jumpy passengers

Jun. abbr June

junction /ˈdʒʌŋkʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count]

1 : a place where two things join • a junction of nerves and muscle

2 a : a place where roads or railroad lines come together • the junction of Route 12 and Route 87 • a railroad junction

b Brit : a road or ramp that you use when getting off a highway : EXIT jump rope

junc-ture /'dʒʌŋktʃə/ noun, pl -tures [count]

1 : an important point in a process or activity • Negotiations between the countries reached a critical juncture. • At this juncture it looks like they are going to get a divorce.

2 : a place where things join : JUNCTION • the juncture of two rivers

June /'dʒu:n/ noun, pl Junes : the sixth month of the year [noncount] in (early/middle/mid-/late) June • early/late in June • They arrived on June the first. = (US) They arrived on June first. = They arrived on the first of June. [count] Sales are up (for) this June in comparison with the previous two Junes. • It happens every June. — abbr. Jun.

jun-gle /'dʒʌŋɡəl/ noun, pl jun-gles [count]

1 : a tropical forest where plants and trees grow very thickly • a dense jungle • jungle wildlife

2 : a harsh or dangerous place or situation in which people struggle for survival or success • the asphalt/concrete/urban jungle [=the city] • life in the corporate jungle • It's hard to succeed in the business world. It's a jungle out there.

3 : a confusing or complex mixture of things • a jungle of alleys • a jungle of environmental laws
the law of the jungle see LAW jungle gym noun, pl ~ gyms [count] US : a structure of metal bars for children to climb on

¹ju-nior /'dʒu:njə/ adj

1 not used before a noun, US a : younger in age • He is six years junior to me. = He is junior to me by six years. [=he is six years younger than I am] b — used chiefly in its abbreviated form Jr. to identify a son who has the same name as his father • John Smith Jr. and John Smith Sr. — compare SENIOR

2 always used before a noun : lower in standing or rank • She is a junior partner in the law firm. • a junior army officer — compare SENIOR

3 always used before a noun : designed for or done by young people • junior hockey/tennis

²junior noun, pl -niors [count]

1 : a person who is younger than another person • He is six years my junior. [=he is six years younger than I am] — compare SENIOR

2 : a person who is of a lower rank than another person • They are my juniors in rank. — compare SENIOR

3 a US : a student in the third of four years in a high school or college • She's a junior at the state college. — often used before another noun • the junior class • the junior prom — compare FRESHMAN, SOPHOMORE, SENIOR b Brit : a student at a junior school

4 US, informal — used like a name for a male child or son • They love to bring junior to the park. • How did you do on the exam, junior?

junior college noun, pl ~ -leges [count] US : a school that has two years of studies similar to those in the first two years of a four-year college junior high school noun, pl ~ schools [count] US : a school usually including the seventh, eighth, and sometimes ninth grades — called also junior high; compare HIGH SCHOOL, MIDDLE SCHOOL, SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL junior school noun, pl ~ schools [count] Brit : a school for children aged 7 to 11

junior varsity noun, pl ~ -ties [count, noncount] US : a team whose members are less experienced and usually younger than members on a varsity team

ju-ni-per /'dʒu:nəpə/ noun, pl -pers [count, noncount] : an evergreen shrub or tree that has tiny fruits that look like berries

¹junk /'dʒʌŋk/ noun [noncount]

1 a : old things that have been thrown away or that have little value • a junk collector • The yard was cluttered with junk like broken bicycles and old washing machines. b : something that is in very poor condition • That car is junk. = That car is a piece of junk. c : material that has no real value or interest • There's nothing but junk on TV tonight. • movies that fill people's minds with junk

2 slang : HEROIN

— compare ²JUNK

²junk noun, pl junks [count] : an Asian boat that is high in the front and has four-cornered sails — compare ¹JUNK

³junk verb junks; junked; junk-ing [+ obj] informal : to get rid of (something) because it is worthless, damaged, etc. • We decided to junk our old computer and buy a new one. • junk an old car — sometimes used figuratively • They had to junk

[=scrap] their vacation plans when their son got sick.

junk bond noun, pl ~ bonds [count] business : a type of bond that pays high interest but also has a high risk junk e-mail noun [noncount] : SPAM

junk-er /'dʒʌŋkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US, informal : an old car, truck, etc., that is in very poor condition • I can't believe he's still driving that old junker.

jun-ket /'dʒʌŋkət/ noun, pl -kets [count] chiefly US : a trip or journey that is paid for by someone else: such as a : a trip made by a government official and paid for by the public • The senator has been criticized for expensive junkets to foreign countries. b : a free trip by a member of the press to a place where something (such as a new movie) is being promoted • a film's press junket junk food noun, pl ~ foods informal : food that is not good for your health because it contains high amounts of fat or sugar [noncount] worrying about kids eating too much junk food [count] eating too many junk foods junk-ie also junky /'dʒʌŋki/ noun, pl junk-ies [count] informal

1 : a person who uses illegal drugs : a drug addict • a heroin junkie

2 : a person who gets an unusual amount of pleasure from or has an unusual amount of interest in something • a news junkie • a political junkie [=a fan of politics] • a sugar junkie

junk mail noun [noncount] : mail that is not wanted : mail that consists mostly of advertising • bombarded with junk mail

¹junky /'dʒʌŋki/ adj junk-i-er; -est chiefly US, informal : of very poor quality • junky furniture junk-yard /'dʒʌŋk,jɑəd/ noun, pl -yards [count] : a place where you can buy, sell, or leave junk • The car was hauled off to the junkyard.

²junky variant spelling of JUNKIE

jun-ta /'hʌntə/ noun, pl -tas [count] : a military group controlling a government after taking control of it by force • a military junta

Ju-pi-ter /'dʒu:pətə/ noun [singular] : the planet that is fifth in order from the sun and that is the largest of the planets

ju-ris-dic-tion /,dʒərəs'dɪkʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : the power or right to make judgments about the law, to arrest and punish criminals, etc. • The court has jurisdiction over most criminal offenses. • His attorney claimed the court lacked jurisdiction in this matter. • The matter falls outside/within the jurisdiction of this court. synonyms see ¹POWER

2 [noncount] : the power or right to govern an area • territory under the jurisdiction of the federal government

3 [count] : an area within which a particular system of laws is used • He was arrested in another jurisdiction.

— ju-ris-dic-tion-al /,dʒərəs'dɪkʃənəl/ adj

ju-ris-pru-dence /,dʒərəs'pru:dəns/ noun [noncount] formal : the study of law • a professor of jurisprudence

ju-rist /'dʒərɪst/ noun, pl -rists [count] : a person who has a thorough knowledge of law; especially : ¹JUDGE 1 ju-ror /'dʒərə/ noun, pl -rors [count] : a member of a jury

ju-ry /'dʒəri/ noun, pl -ries [count]

1 : a group of people who are members of the public and are chosen to make a decision in a legal case • The jury failed to reach a verdict. • The jury found the defendant guilty/innocent. = The jury returned a verdict of guilty/innocent. • She was selected to serve/sit on a jury. • (US) She was selected for jury duty. = (Brit) She was selected for jury service. • I demand my right to a trial by jury. = I demand my right to a jury trial. [=a trial that is decided by a jury] — see also GRAND JURY, HUNG JURY

2 : a group of people who decide the winners in a contest • The jury [=judges] found her pie to be the best.

jury is out informal ✧ If you say the jury is still out on something, you mean that something has not yet been decided or has not yet become clear. • The jury is still out on whether the new company will succeed. [=no one knows yet whether the new company will succeed]

jury panel noun, pl ~ -els [count] US : ¹PANEL 1c

ju-ry-rig /'dʒəri,rɪɡ/ verb -rigs; -rigged; -rig-ging [+ obj] chiefly US : to build or put together (a simple device or structure) using the materials that you have available • He jury-rigged a new antenna out of coat hangers.

— jury-rigged adj • a jury-rigged antenna

¹just /'dʒʌst/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal

1 a : agreeing with what is considered morally right or good

: FAIR • a just society • a just cause for war • a just decision b
: treating people in a way that is considered morally right • a just man
2 a : reasonable or proper • The college treated the allegation with just seriousness. b : deserved and appropriate • They got their just punishment for the crime. • a just reward • We all want to see this criminal get his just deserts. [=get the punishment that he deserves]
— just-ly adv • She is justly [=properly] admired for her charitable work. — just-ness /ˈdʒʌstnəs/ noun [noncount] • the justness of their decision

2 just adv
1 : to an exact degree or in an exact manner • You look just [=exactly] like your father. • The store has just the tool you need. • That's just what I expected. • You have to accept me just as I am. • This shirt fits just right. • She called him a liar and told him he was just like all the other men she'd met. • It's just like you to be jealous every time I speak to another woman. [=you're always jealous when I speak to another woman] — see also just my luck at 1 LUCK
2 a : very recently • The bell just rang. • He was just here a minute ago. • She had just returned when he entered. • She has just acted in her first play. = (chiefly US) She just acted in her first play. • I've just been trying to call you! = (chiefly US) I was just trying to call you! b : at this or that exact moment or time • I was just going to telephone you! • She's just finishing a letter, and she'll be with you shortly. c — used to say that two or more events are happening at the same time or with very little time between them • He confessed just before he died. • The phone rang just as/when we were leaving. • I came just as soon as I heard the news. d — used to emphasize that a moment or time is not far from the present moment • She'll be back in just a minute. [=she'll be back very soon] • I saw her here just yesterday.
3 a : by a small amount • I had just [=barely] enough time to eat breakfast before leaving. • I arrived just in time to see him win. • We could (only) just see the ship coming over the horizon. • The horse's time for the race was just short of the record. = The horse just missed breaking the record. • It should take us just [=slightly] under/over an hour to get there. b : by a small distance • She lives just west of here. • The bathroom is just down the hall. • Just [=directly] across from the bank is a hotel. • The restaurant is just around the corner. — see also just around the corner at 1 CORNER
4 a : nothing more than : ONLY • This is just [=simply] a note to say I love you. • He is just an assistant to the manager. • She was just a baby when her father went off to war. • Is it just a coincidence that I see him everywhere I go? • He has just two months left before his retirement. • “Will you have another drink?” “Well, perhaps just (the) one.” • I don't know him well: I've met him just (the) once. [=I've met him only one time] • “Who is she?” “Oh, just somebody who works in the same office as me.” • I love just you and nobody else but you. • She'll be away from her desk for just a few minutes. = She'll just be away from her desk for a few minutes. • They took a nice field and turned it into just another shopping mall. • He's just another guy trying to get rich without working too hard. b — used to stress the simple truth of a description or statement • We'd like to buy a new car. We just [=simply] don't have enough money. • Sometimes a person just wants to be left alone. • She just wanted to say goodbye. • You'll just have to be patient. • I'm sorry if I seem grouchy. I'm just tired. • The wedding was just wonderful. • I feel just great! • The kids want to camp in the backyard, just for fun. [=simply to have fun] c — used in polite requests • Could I just borrow that pen for a minute? Thanks! • Would you just step this way, please, ladies and gentlemen. d — used for emphasis when you give an order or make a suggestion • Why don't we just forget the whole thing. • Just hold on a minute! Did you say you'd solved the problem?! • Just [=simply] tell him you don't feel like going out. • Just (you) wait until your father sees this mess, young lady! • Don't argue with me: just do it! • Just imagine how silly she'll feel when she realizes that she was wrong. • Just look at the size of that thing! • Just think how happy we could be. e — used to describe what someone does instead of doing what is necessary or expected • Don't just stand there: do something! • She just stood there watching as he walked away. • I can't just pretend nothing happened.
5 — used with words like might and may to refer to something that is possible • I know you don't expect him to succeed, but he might just surprise you. [=he might succeed] • It's a crazy idea, but it just might work! • You know, you just might be right about that.

6 Brit, informal : INDEED • Isn't the city hot, just!
just about : almost or nearly • It was just about time to leave. • The work is just about done. • That is just about the biggest horse I have ever seen. [=that is a very big horse] • That is just about the stupidest thing she has ever done.
just a minute/second/moment 1 — used to ask someone to wait or stop briefly • Just a second and I will get that book for you. 2 — used to demand that someone stop or listen • Just a minute, young lady! You can't park there!
just anyone : any person at all • I don't lend money to just anyone.
just as : to an equal degree as • Our house is just as nice as theirs. • This one is just as good as that one. • She performs just as well as he does. : in the same way as • Just as we hope to be forgiven, so we should forgive others. • Just as I thought/suspected, the door is locked. [=I thought that the door would be locked, and it is] just as soon ♦ If you would just as soon do something, you would prefer to do it. • We asked him to come with us, but he said he'd just as soon stay home.
just as well ♦ If it is just as well that something happens, then it is a good thing, even if it was not expected or intended. • It's just as well she didn't get that job, since she will now be closer to home. • I really didn't want to stay home this weekend, but it's just as well. I have a lot to do.
just because see BECAUSE just like that : very suddenly • The girl vanished just like that. • Just like that it started raining.
just now or just this minute/second 1 : a moment ago • I saw him just now. • I was just this minute thinking about calling you. 2 : at this moment • They are just now heading out the door.
just on Brit, informal : EXACTLY • It was just on midnight.
just so : in a particular way • They feel they have to dress just so to be popular. : arranged in a very neat and tidy way • Everything in her house has to be just so or she gets upset. [=everything has to be exactly as she likes it] just the same see 2 SAME just the thing : the best or perfect thing • I have just the thing for your hair.
just yet : right now — used in negative constructions to say that something is not done yet or true yet but will be soon • I don't have the table finished just yet. • “Are you ready to leave?” “Not just yet.”
not just — used to say that one thing is true and that another thing is also true • She's not just my friend, she's my lawyer.
jus-tice /ˈdʒʌstəs/ noun, pl -tic-es
1 [noncount] : the process or result of using laws to fairly judge and punish crimes and criminals • They received justice in court. • the justice system • the U.S. Department of Justice • criminals attempting to escape justice • The role of the courts is to dispense justice fairly to everyone. • Many people do not believe that justice has been served/done in his case. [=that he has been given proper punishment or fair treatment by the legal system] • His supporters claim that he is an innocent man and that his conviction was a miscarriage of justice. [=an error made in a court of law that results in an innocent person being punished or a guilty person being freed] ♦ Someone who is brought to justice is arrested and punished for a crime in a court of law. • The police couldn't bring the killer to justice. — see also POETIC JUSTICE
2 a [count] US : a judge in a court of law • She is a justice of the state supreme court. — see also CHIEF JUSTICE b Jus-tice — used as a title for a judge (such as a judge of the U.S. Supreme Court) • Justice Marshall
3 [noncount] a : the quality of being fair or just • a sense of justice • I saw no justice in the court's decision. b : fair treatment • We should strive to achieve justice for all people.
do justice ♦ To do justice to something or someone or to do someone or something justice is to treat or show something or someone in a way that is as good as it should be. • Words could never do justice to her beauty. [=could not adequately describe her beauty] • The movie does not do justice to the book. = The movie does not do the book justice. [=the movie is not as good as the book] • a brief summary that does not do justice to [=does not adequately show] the complexity of this issue

obstruction of justice see OBSTRUCTION

pervert the course of justice see ¹PERVERT

justice of the peace noun, pl justices of the peace [count] : a local official who has the power to decide minor legal cases and in the U.S. to perform marriages — abbr. J.P.

jus-ti-fi-ca-tion /ˌdʒʌstəfəˈkeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions : an acceptable reason for doing something : something that justifies an action [count] He tried to present a justification for his behavior. • There is no possible justification for what she did. [noncount] His behavior is without justification. • He told lies in justification of his behavior. [=in order to make people think that his behavior was reasonable] • She noted with some justification that other people had experienced similar problems. [=it was not unreasonable of her to note that other people had experienced similar problems]

jus-ti-fy /ˌdʒʌstəfaɪ/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing [+ obj]

1 : to provide or be a good reason for (something) : to prove or show (something) to be just, right, or reasonable • He tried to justify his behavior by saying that he was being pressured unfairly by his boss. • The fact that we are at war does not justify treating innocent people as criminals. • It's hard to justify the cost of a new car right now. = It's hard to justify spending money on a new car right now. — see also the end justifies the means at ¹END

2 : to provide a good reason for the actions of (someone) • Why should I have to justify myself [=to provide an explanation for my actions] when it was their fault?

3 technical : to position (text) so that the edges form a straight line

— jus-ti-fi-able /ˌdʒʌstəfajəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • They felt justifiable pride in their son. • justifiable expenses

— jus-ti-fi-ably /ˌdʒʌstəfajəbli/ adv • were justifiably proud — justified adj, not used before a noun [more ~; most ~] • She was (perfectly/fully) justified in complaining to her boss. [=she had a good reason for complaining to her boss]

jut /dʒʌt/ verb juts; jut-ted; jut-ting : to stick out, up, or forward [no obj] mountains jutting into the sky — often + out • The peninsula juts out [=projects] into the bay. • The edge of the roof juts out a few feet. [+ obj] — usually + out • He jutted out his jaw in defiance.

jute /dʒu:t/ noun [noncount] : a natural fiber that is used for making rope and cloth

¹ju-ve-nile /ˌdʒu:vənajəl/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] disapproving : unpleasantly childish : IMMATURE • She criticized his juvenile behavior at the party. • juvenile pranks

2 always used before a noun a : relating to or meant for young people • juvenile fiction b : of or relating to young people who have committed crimes • the juvenile justice system • a juvenile court • a juvenile crime [=a crime committed by a young person]

3 : not yet fully grown • juvenile birds/animals

²juvenile noun, pl -niles [count]

1 : a young person : a person who is not yet old enough to be legally considered an adult • She works to keep juveniles away from drugs. • crimes committed by juveniles

2 : a young bird or animal juvenile delinquent noun, pl ~ -quents [count] : a young person who has committed a crime

— juvenile delinquency noun [noncount]

jux-ta-pose /ˌdʒʌkstəˈpouz/ verb -pos-es; -posed; -pos-ing [+ obj] formal : to place (different things) together in order to create an interesting effect or to show how they are the same or different • a display that juxtaposes modern art with classical art

— jux-ta-po-si-tion /ˌdʒʌkstəpəˈzɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] • an interesting juxtaposition of colors

K

k or K /ˈket/ noun, pl k's or ks or K's or Ks

1 : the 11th letter of the English alphabet [count] There is one k in “book.” [noncount] The word ends in k.

2 pl K [count] a informal : THOUSAND • She earned a salary of $30K. • The car costs $35K. b computers : KILOBYTE • The program uses 350K of disk space.

3 [count] baseball, informal : STRIKEOUT • The pitcher had more than 10 Ks in his last game.

K abbr 1 Kelvin • a temperature of 200 degrees K 2 kilometer • a 5K run 3 or k karat

kabob variant spelling of KEBAB

Ka-bu-ki /kəˈbu:ki/ noun [noncount] : a traditional form of Japanese entertainment with singing and dancing

kaftan variant spelling of CAFTAN

kai-ser /ˈkaɪzər/ noun, pl -sers [count] : the title of the ruler of Germany from 1871 to 1918 • Kaiser Wilhelm kale /ˈkeɪl/ noun, pl kales [count, noncount] : a type of cabbage that has wrinkled leaves — see color picture on page C4

ka-lei-do-scope /kəˈləɪdəˌskoup/ noun, pl -scopes

1 [count] : a tube that has mirrors and loose pieces of colored glass or plastic inside at one end so that you see many different patterns when you turn the tube while looking in through the other end

2 [singular] a : a changing pattern or scene • The landscape was a kaleidoscope of changing colors. b : a mixture of many different things • a kaleidoscope of flavors

— ka-lei-do-scop-ic /kəˌləɪdəˈska:pɪk/ adj • kaleidoscopic patterns/variety

ka-mi-ka-ze /ˌkɑ:mɪˈkɑ:zi, Brit ˌkæmɪˈkɑ:zi/ noun, pl -zes [count] : one of a group of Japanese pilots in World War II who were assigned to crash their planes into their targets — usually used before another noun • a kamikaze pilot • a kamikaze attack/mission — often used figuratively • kamikaze drivers [=reckless drivers] kan-ga-roo /ˌkæŋgəˈru:/ noun, pl -roos [count] : an Australian animal that moves by hopping on its powerful rear legs ✧ The female kangaroo has a pouch in which the young are carried.

kangaroo court noun, pl ~ courts [count] : a court that uses unfair methods or is not a proper court of law

ka-put /kəˈput/ adj, not used before a noun, informal

1 : no longer working • Our washing machine is kaput. [=broken] • Our washing machine was working perfectly, and then suddenly it went kaput. [=it broke]

2 : no longer able to continue : completely ruined or defeated • His career is kaput. [=finished, over]

kar-a-o-ke /ˌkeriˈouki/ noun [noncount] : a form of entertainment in which a device plays the music of popular songs and people sing the words to the songs they choose • That bar has karaoke on Saturday night. — often used before another noun • a karaoke bar/club/machine • karaoke music

kar-at (US) or chiefly Brit car-at /ˈkerət/ noun, pl -ats [count] : a unit for measuring how pure a piece of gold is • She was wearing an 18 karat gold bracelet. • Pure gold is 24 karats. — abbr. K or k

ka-ra-te /kəˈrɑ:ti/ noun [noncount] : a form of fighting that was developed in Japan in which your feet and hands are used to kick and hit an opponent : a Japanese martial art — often used before another noun • karate chops/kicks

kar-ma /ˈkɑ:mə/ noun [noncount]

1 often Karma : the force created by a person's actions that is believed in Hinduism and Buddhism to determine what that person's next life will be like

2 informal : the force created by a person's actions that some people believe causes good or bad things to happen to that person • She believes that helping people produces good karma.

kangaroo

ka·ty·did /'keɪtɪ,dɪd/ noun, pl -dids [count] US : a large green insect that looks like a large grasshopper

kay·ak /'kaɪ,æk/ noun, pl -aks [count] : a long narrow boat that is pointed at both ends and that is moved by a paddle with two blades — see picture at BOAT; compare CANOE

ka·zoo /kə'zu:/ noun, pl -zoos [count] : a toy musical instrument that is shaped like a short tube and that produces a buzzing sound when you hum into the smaller end of the tube • play a kazoo

KB abbr kilobyte

KC abbr, Brit King's Counsel

ke·bab /kə'bɑ:b, Brit kə'bæb/ also chiefly US ka·bob /kə'bɑ:b/ noun, pl ke·babs also ka·bobs [count] : a dish made by pushing a long, thin stick (called a skewer) through pieces of meat and vegetables and cooking them on a grill — called also shish kebab

¹keel /'ki:l/ noun, pl keels [count] : a long piece of wood or metal along the center of the bottom of a boat — see picture at BOAT

on an even keel : strong and not likely to fail or get worse : in a stable condition • They struggled to keep the company on an even keel during its early years. • I'm trying to get back on an even keel [=to return to a normal life] now that the lawsuit is settled.

²keel verb keels; keeled; keel·ing

keel over [phrasal verb] informal : to fall down suddenly •

He just keeled over and died. We found out later that he'd had a heart attack. • I almost keeled over with/in laughter.

¹keen /'ki:n/ adj keen·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having or showing an ability to think clearly and to understand what is not obvious or simple about something • a keen intellect/intelligence/mind • She's a very keen observer of the political world. • She made some keen [=acute] observations. • a keen wit

2 : very strong and sensitive : highly developed • The dog has a keen sense of smell. = The dog has a keen nose. • keen [=acute] eyesight/hearing • She had a keen awareness of what was happening. [=she knew exactly what was happening] • She has a keen ear for languages. [=she is able to easily learn and understand languages] • He has a keen eye for details. [=he is good at noticing details]

3 a : very excited about and interested in something • She's a keen tennis player. = She's keen about tennis. • He's a keen student of art history. = He has a keen interest in art history.

b : feeling a strong and impatient desire to do something • He is keen [=eager] to learn more about art history.

4 : strong or intense • After his death, she felt a keen [=profound] sense of loss. • The two firms are in keen competition. • (chiefly Brit) a keen wind

5 informal + old-fashioned : very good : WONDERFUL • Gee, that's keen. ✧ This sense is now usually used in a playful or ironic way. — see also PEACHY KEEN

6 literary : having a sharp edge or point • a keen knife/sword

7 Brit, of a price : very low • They sell reliable products at very keen prices.

(as) keen as mustard Brit : very excited and interested : very enthusiastic • I gave him the job because he was willing to learn and seemed as keen as mustard.

keen on 1 : very excited about and interested in (something) • She's very keen on tennis. • I'm not keen on that idea. [=I don't like that idea] • (Brit) He's mad keen on golf.

2 chiefly Brit : interested in or attracted to (someone) • He's been very keen on her since they met at my party.

— keen·ly adv • They were keenly interested in how well I was doing. • a keenly felt change • The parents were keenly aware of the teacher's importance. — keen·ness /'ki:nəs/ noun [noncount] The keenness of the saw made cutting the board easier. [singular] a keenness of sight

²keen verb keens; keened; keen·ing [no obj] old-fashioned + literary : to make a loud and long cry of sorrow • mourners *keen*ing at a funeral

¹keep /'ki:p/ verb keeps; kept /'kept/; keep·ing

1 [+ obj] : to continue having or holding (something) : to not return, lose, sell, give away, or throw away (something) • She's going to keep the money she found. • I can't decide whether to sell my old car or keep it for another year. • While the company laid off some employees, others had hopes of keeping their jobs. • The shirt will keep [=retain] its shape after many washings. • an actress who has kept her looks/beauty [=continued to be attractive/beautiful] as she has grown older • "The fare is $4." "Here's $5. Keep the change." • He struggled to keep his cool/composure [=to remain calm; to not become upset or angry] • He vowed to keep his silence about what he had seen. [=to not tell anyone about what he had seen]

2 a [linking verb] : to continue in a specified state, condition, or position • I asked them to keep quiet. • keep still/warm • He vowed to keep silent about what he had seen. [=to not tell anyone about what he had seen] • She likes to keep [=stay] busy. • The program teaches kids how to keep safe near water. • Have you kept in touch with your college roommate? [=have you continued to talk to or write to your college roommate?] b [+ obj] : to cause (someone or something) to continue in a specified state, condition, or position • I tried to keep the children quiet during the ceremony. • The local newspaper keeps people informed about what's happening in town. • The article offers tips on how to keep kids safe near water. • The movie will keep you on the edge of your seat. • We need to keep costs under control. • This scarf will help keep you warm. • She keeps herself fit by jogging. • He kept his hands behind his back while we were talking. • Keep both hands on the steering wheel. • It was so cold inside that I kept my coat on. • I promise I'll keep your decision a secret. [=I will not tell anyone your decision] • Keep the mixture chilled until you are ready to serve it.

3 [+ obj] a : to cause or force (someone) to stay in a place • I won't keep you (here) much longer. • The doctors want to keep me in (the hospital) for further tests. • If you're in a hurry, don't let me keep you. • keep a prisoner in jail • She kept the children in the house during the storm. • There was nothing to keep me in the city. b : to cause (someone) to be late • You're late. What kept you? [=what delayed you?; why are you late?]

4 [+ obj] a : to do (something) continuously or again and again — + -ing verb • The teacher asked them to be quiet, but they just kept talking. • The rain kept falling all afternoon. • The dog keeps running away. • Keep walking/driving until you come to a traffic light. — often + on • The band's music just keeps on getting better (and better). • I'll never get this work done if you keep on interrupting me. b : to cause (someone or something) to do something continuously or again and again — + -ing verb • She has a desire for success that keeps her striving to do better. • His boss kept him waiting [=forced him to wait] for over an hour. • They want to keep the company growing. — see also KEEP GOING (below)

5 [+ obj] a : to do what is required by (something, such as a promise) • She always keeps her promises/word. [=she always does what she promises to do; she always does what she says she will do] • He failed to keep his appointment. [=he did not go to his appointment; he missed his appointment] b : to not tell (a secret) • I can keep a secret. • a poorly kept secret [=a secret that has been told to many people] • a well-kept secret [=a secret that has not been told to people] c somewhat formal : to act properly in relation to (something) • He keeps [=observes] the Sabbath. • They keep kosher.

6 [+ obj] a : to store (something) in a specified place • They keep the ketchup in the refrigerator. • I keep my socks in a drawer. • The sheets are kept in the closet. • He keeps his wallet in his back pocket. b : to have or hold (something) for later use instead of using it now • We'll eat some of the cookies now and keep [=save] some for later. • I'll keep my news until later. [=I'll tell you my news later] • (Brit) Would you keep [=US save] a seat for me?

7 [no obj] of food : to continue to be in a good condition • Carrots and potatoes keep well. • The meat will keep in the freezer for several months. — sometimes used figuratively • I have something to tell you, but it will keep. [=I can tell you later]

8 [+ obj] formal : to protect (someone) • May the Lord bless you and keep you. — usually + from • May the Lord keep you from harm.

9 [+ obj] : to produce (something, such as a journal or record) by putting information in a book, document, etc., over a period of time • She kept a diary/journal. • He keeps a detailed record of all his purchases. • She keeps a list of books for future reading.

10 [+ obj] a : to take care of (something) • keep [=tend] a garden • We kept chickens and goats when I was a child. b : to operate (something, such as a business) : MANAGE • They keep [=more commonly run] a bed-and-breakfast. • (chiefly Brit) keep a shop

11 [+ obj] somewhat old-fashioned a : to have (something) available for use • He keeps a car even though he lives in the city. b : to have a continuing sexual relationship with (someone who is not your husband or wife) • a married man who keeps a mistress • She never married but she kept a lover for years. • a kept man/woman [=a man/woman who is kept as a lover by someone]

How are you keeping? Brit — used to ask if someone feels good, bad, happy, well, etc. • “How are you keeping [=how are you doing], Jill?” “Oh, pretty well, thanks.”

keep after [phrasal verb] 1 keep after (someone) informal : to tell (someone) again and again to do something • My kids kept after me to quit smoking, so I finally did. • I wasn't going to audition, but my friends kept after me. 2 keep (someone) after US : to require (a student) to stay at school after classes have ended • The teacher kept him after (school) for misbehaving in class.

keep at [phrasal verb] 1 keep at it : to continue doing or trying to do something • If you keep at it long enough you'll succeed. • The project was difficult, but we kept at it and eventually it was done. 2 keep (someone) at it : to force or cause (someone) to continue doing something • The coach kept us (hard) at it until late afternoon.

keep back [phrasal verb] 1 : to not go near something • The police asked the spectators to keep back. [=stay back] • The guide told us to keep back from the edge of the cliff. 2 keep (someone) back or keep back (someone) a : to not allow (someone) to go near something • The police kept the spectators back. b US : to not allow (a student) to advance to the next grade level — usually used as (be) kept back • Students who fail the exam may be kept back a year. c Brit : to require (a student) to stay at school after classes have ended • She was kept back [= (US) kept after, kept after school] for talking in class. 3 keep (something) back or keep back (something) : to not allow (something) to appear or be known • He struggled to keep back his tears. [=he tried hard not to cry] • The government kept back [=withheld] some crucial information from the media.

keep company [phrasal verb] 1 keep company with (someone) : to spend time with (someone) — usually used figuratively • In her garden, roses keep company with lilies. 2 keep (someone) company : to spend time with (someone who would be alone if you were not there) • I'll keep you company while you wait for the train.

keep down [phrasal verb] 1 : to stay close to the ground or floor • The soldiers were ordered to keep down. [=stay down] 2 keep (someone) down : to prevent (someone) from succeeding, winning, etc. • You can't keep a good man down. [=you can't prevent a good or talented person from succeeding] 3 keep (something) down or keep down (something) a : to prevent (something) from increasing or rising • The company is trying to keep down costs/expenses/prices. • She watered the path to keep the dust down. b : to prevent (something) from coming up from your stomach and into your mouth again • He was so ill that he could only keep down a small amount of food. 4 keep it down — used to ask someone to be quiet • Please keep it down in there. I'm trying to study.

keep from [phrasal verb] 1 keep from (doing something) or keep (someone or something) from (doing something) : to not do or experience (something) : to prevent or stop (someone or something) from doing or experiencing (something) • She found it hard to keep from laughing. [=she found it hard not to laugh] • She's been trying to keep herself from eating too much candy. • An umbrella will keep you from getting wet. • It's difficult to keep from feeling worried about this situation. • He was anxious to keep his son from getting into trouble. • Her happy nature kept her from worrying. • I don't want to keep you from (doing) your work. = I don't want to keep you from working. • She tied the knot tightly to keep it from loosening. • The company has taken steps to keep the building from being broken into again. • It was hard to keep from [=avoid] confusing the twins. 2 keep (something) from (someone) : to not tell (something) to (someone) • What information are you keeping from me? [=what information are you not telling me?] • They think the government is keeping [=withholding] the truth from us.

keep going [phrasal verb] 1 : to continue moving forward • He walked right past me and just kept going. 2 : to continue doing something • I was ready to give up on the search, but they convinced me to keep going. [=to continue searching] 3 keep (someone) going : to make (someone) able to continue doing something at a difficult time • I don't know what keeps her going after all these years. • Their grandson is the only thing keeping them going. 4 keep (something) going : to cause (something) to continue to exist or function • They tried everything they could think of to keep the business going. • He kept the conversation going.

keep house see ¹HOUSE

keep in [phrasal verb] 1 keep (something) in : to not show or express (something, such as an emotion) • You shouldn't keep your anger in all the time. 2 keep (someone) in (something) : to continue to provide (someone) with (something needed or wanted) • It's very expensive keeping my children in clothes that fit. 3 keep in with (someone) chiefly Brit : to remain friendly with (someone) • She's always kept in with the people with power.

keep off [phrasal verb] 1 keep off (something) or keep (someone or something) off (something) : to stop or prevent (someone or something) from being on (something) • Keep [=stay] off the grass. [=do not walk on the grass] • Please keep the dog off the sofa. 2 keep (weight) off : to continue to weigh a lower amount than you formerly weighed : to not regain weight that you have lost • She has managed to keep (most of) the weight off for two years. • Losing weight is not as hard as keeping it off. 3 a keep off (something) : to not talk about (something) • I think we'd better keep off [=avoid] the subject of the war. b keep (someone) off (something) : to prevent (someone) from talking about (something) • We tried to keep them off (the subject of) the war.

keep on [phrasal verb] 1 informal : to continue happening, doing something, working, etc. • The rain kept on [=kept up] throughout the day. • He talked and talked. At one point I thought he would keep on all night. 2 keep (someone) on : to continue to have (someone) as an employee • The chef was kept on even after the restaurant was sold. 3 keep on at (someone) chiefly Brit, informal : to say the same thing to (someone) again and again in a way that is annoying • My parents kept on at me to go back to college.

keep out [phrasal verb] 1 : to not enter a place • The sign on the door said “Keep out!” 2 keep out of (something) a : to not enter (a place) • We were told to keep out of his office. • Please keep [=stay] out of the way. b : to not become involved in (something) • This argument doesn't involve you, so you should just keep [=stay] out of it. 3 keep out (someone or something) or keep (someone or something) out (of a place) : to stop or prevent (someone or something) from entering (a place) • The curtains help keep out the drafts. • Keep the cat out of the bedroom.

keep pace with see ¹PACE

keep score see ¹SCORE

keep tabs on see ¹TAB

keep the faith see FAITH

keep time see ¹TIME

keep to [phrasal verb] 1 keep to (something) a : to stay in or on (something) : to not leave (something) • He kept to the house most of the time. • She keeps to the main roads when she travels. b : to not go beyond (something) • He tried to keep [=stick] to his budget. c : to act or behave in the way required by (something) • Keep to [=abide by, obey] the rules of the game d : to not move away from or change (something) • I wish you'd just keep to [=stick to] the point. • They kept to their story. 2 keep to yourself a or chiefly Brit keep yourself to yourself : to stay apart from other people : to avoid other people • She was a shy girl who kept pretty much to herself. b keep (something) to yourself : to keep (something) secret • He knew what the facts were but kept them to himself. [=he did not tell anyone what the facts were] • She likes to keep things to herself.

keep track see ¹TRACK

keep up [phrasal verb] 1 : to go or make progress at the same rate as others : to stay even with others in a race, competition, etc. • The leader began to run faster, and the other runners found it hard to keep up. — often + with • The other runners struggled to keep up with the leader. • He found it difficult to keep up with the rest of the class. 2 : to continue to know the newest information about something • There is so much happening in the world now that I find it hard to keep up. [=stay informed] • I find it hard to keep up on/with the news. 3 : to continue happening • The rain kept up all night. • The gunfire kept up for a long time. 4 keep up with (someone) informal : to continue to talk to or write to (someone) • She still keeps up with [=keeps in touch with] her old friends from college. 5 keep (someone) up : to prevent (someone) from sleeping • I hope our party didn't keep you up all night! 6 keep (something) up or keep up (something) a : to continue doing (something) • Keep up the good work. • Keep that up and you'll get into trouble! b : to prevent (something) from getting worse, weaker, etc. • We need to keep standards up. • Keep your spirits up! • The house had been kept up [=maintained] nicely. • You need to exercise more to keep your strength up. c ♦ If you keep up your end of something (such as a bargain or agreement) you do what you have promised or agreed to do. • I'm never sure if she will keep up her end of the deal.

keep up appearances see APPEARANCE

keep up with the Joneses see JONESES

keep your chin up see CHIN

keep your distance see ¹DISTANCE

keep your head see ¹HEAD

²keep noun, pl keeps [count] : the strongest part of a castle built in the Middle Ages for keeps informal 1 : forever or permanently • He moved back to the city for keeps. [=for good] 2 : with the understanding that you may keep what you win • playing marbles for keeps your keep : the amount of money you need to pay for food, clothing, a place to live, etc. — used in the phrase earn your keep • She's been living off her parents long enough. It's time for her to get a job and start earning her keep.

keep-er /'ki:pə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 a : a person whose job is to guard or take care of something or someone • a lion keeper • "... am I my brother's keeper?" —Genesis 4:9 (KJV) — see also DOORKEEPER, GAMEKEEPER, GATEKEEPER, SHOPKEEPER, STOREKEEPER, ZOOKEEPER b Brit : CURATOR

2 US, informal : something or someone that is worth keeping : something or someone that is good, valuable, etc. • Hold on to that boyfriend of yours—he's a keeper!

3 : GOALKEEPER

4 American football : a play in which the quarterback runs with the ball • The quarterback gained five yards on a keeper.

finders keepers (losers weepers) see FINDER

keep-ing /'ki:piŋ/ noun

in keeping with 1 a : agreeing with or sharing important qualities with (something) • The decorations in the house are in (perfect) keeping with her personality. • The book is in keeping with novels of the time. [=it is like novels written around that same time] b : in a way that agrees with, obeys, or matches (something) • In keeping with the overall design of the park, the playground will remain small. • The new bus station offers wireless Internet access in keeping with the expectations of modern travelers.

in your keeping ♦ If someone or something is in your keeping, you are expected to protect or take care of that person or thing • What happened to the money that had been left in his keeping? [(more commonly) in his care] out of keeping with : not agreeing with or sharing important qualities with (something) • Her comments revealed a nervousness that seemed out of keeping with her calm appearance. • The modern décor was out of keeping with the church's architecture.

keep-sake /'ki:p,seik/ noun, pl -sakes [count] : something that you keep to help you remember a person, place, or event : a memento or souvenir • We were given books as keepsakes of the trip.

keg /'keg/ noun, pl kegs [count]

1 : a barrel for holding or serving something (such as beer) • We bought a keg (of beer) for the party. — see also POWDER KEG

2 : the amount of something contained in a keg • They drank an entire keg of beer.

keg-ger /'kegə/ noun, pl -gers [count] US, informal : a party at which people drink beer from a keg — called also keg party

kelp /'kelp/ noun [noncount] : a type of brown seaweed • a bed of kelp

Kel-vin /'kelvən/ adj, technical : relating to or having a scale for measuring temperature on which the boiling point of water is at 373.1 degrees above zero and the freezing point is at 273.15 degrees above zero • the Kelvin scale • a temperature of 200 degrees Kelvin — abbr. K; compare CELSIUS, FAHRENHEIT

ken /'ken/ noun

beyond someone's ken : not within the range of what someone knows or understands • These changes occurred for reasons that are beyond my ken. [=reasons that I do not know or understand] • miracles that are beyond human ken [=miracles that cannot be understood by human beings]

ken-nel /'kenl/ noun, pl -nels [count]

1 : a place where dogs are kept while their owners are away • While I was on vacation my dog went to a kennel. — called also (Brit) kennels; compare CATTERY

2 : a container or very small building for a dog or cat to sleep or stay in kept past tense and past participle of ¹KEEP

kerb, kerbside Brit spelling of ¹CURB 1, CURBSIDE

ker-chief /'kəʃəf/ noun, pl -chiefs [count] : a square piece of cloth that is worn around your neck or as a covering for your head

ker-nel /'kən/ noun, pl -nels [count]

1 a : the small, somewhat soft part inside a seed or nut b : a whole seed; especially : one of the yellow seeds that cover an ear of corn • a kernel of corn — see color picture on page C4

2 : a very small amount of something • There's not a kernel of truth in what they say. • kernels of wisdom

3 : the origin or basis of something • the kernel [=germ] of the idea for the book

ker-o-sene /'kerə,si:n/ noun [noncount] chiefly US : a type of oil that is burned as a fuel — often used before another noun • a kerosene heater/lamp — called also (Brit) paraffin

ketch /'keʃ/ noun, pl ketch-es [count] : a type of sailboat that has two masts ketch-up /'keʃəp/ noun, pl -ups [count, noncount] : a thick sauce made with tomatoes • a bottle of ketchup • She put ketchup on her hamburger. — called also tomato ketchup

ket-tle /'ketl/ noun, pl ket-tles [count] : a container used for heating or boiling liquid • a soup kettle; especially : TEAKETTLE • Put the kettle on (the stove) so we can have a cup of tea. • The kettle is boiling. [=the water in the kettle is boiling] — see picture at KITCHEN

kettle of fish informal 1 : a bad situation : MESS • Well, this is a fine/nice/pretty kettle of fish. 2 : something or someone that is being considered or dealt with • I have experience in domestic law, but international law is another kettle of fish. [=matter]

ket-tle-drum /'ketl,drʌm/ noun, pl -drums [count] : a large drum that has a rounded bottom — see picture at PERCUSSION

¹key /'ki:/ noun, pl keys [count]

1 a : a device that is used to open a lock or start an automobile ♦ The usual type of key is a small metal object that you insert into a narrow opening and turn. • You need the key to get into the drawer. • She turned the key and opened the door. • house/car keys • the ignition key of a car • the key to the lock — often used figuratively • That woman holds the key to his heart. — see also LATCHKEY, PASSKEY, SKELETON KEY b : a device that looks like a key and that is used to turn something • a key for winding a clock

2 : something that is necessary in order to do or achieve something — usually singular • If you want to improve your health, exercise is the key. — usually + to • The key to hitting the ball well is following through on your stroke. • Hard work is the key to success.

3 a : something that provides an explanation or solution — usually + to • the key to a riddle b : a list of words or phrases that explain the meaning of symbols or abbreviations • Use the key to decode the symbols. • a pronunciation key

4 a : any one of the buttons of a computer or typewriter that you push with your fingers • He tapped away at the keys, typing his letter. — see picture at COMPUTER; see also FUNCTION KEY, SHIFT KEY b : any one of the parts that you push with your fingers to play a piano or similar musical instrument • She sat down at the piano and put her hands on the keys.

5 music : a system of musical tones based on a scale beginning on the note for which the system is named • the key of C • The symphony changes key from G major to E minor.

under lock and key see ²LOCK

— compare ⁴KEY

²key adj : extremely important • He's a key player/person in the organization. • The key question is "Can we afford it?" • Underline key words and phrases as you read. • Their votes were key in getting the bill passed.

³key verb keys; keyed; key-ing [+ obj]

1 : to enter (information) by using the keys of a computer, typewriter, etc. • The changes to the manuscript are being keyed by the typist. — often + in • In order to gain access to the network, you first have to key in [=type in] your name and password. — often + into • The cashier keyed each price into the cash register.

K

2 US, informal : to have the most important part in (something) • Defense keyed the victory.

key to [phrasal verb] chiefly US 1 key (something) to (something or someone) : to make (something) suitable for (a particular use or type of person) • I try to key my lectures to my audience. — often used as (be) keyed to • The educational program is keyed to the needs of working women. 2 key (something) to (something) : to change (something) in a way that is closely related to (something else) — usually used as (be) keyed to • The amount of money they receive is keyed to the rate of inflation. [=the amount increases or decreases if the rate of inflation increases or decreases] • Diets are keyed to a person's lifestyle and weight-loss goal.

4 key noun, pl keys

1 [count] : a low island or reef

2 the Keys : a group of small islands off the southern coast of Florida

— compare ¹KEY

1 key-board /'ki:boəd/ noun, pl -boards [count]

1 a : a row or set of keys that are pushed to play a musical instrument (such as a piano) — sometimes used before another noun • The piano is a keyboard instrument. b : a musical instrument that is played by means of a keyboard like that of a piano and that produces sounds electronically • She plays the keyboard. — often plural • She plays keyboards.

2 : the set of keys that are used for a computer or typewriter — see picture at COMPUTER keyboard instruments

harpsichord

piano

organ

pipe

pedal

2 keyboard verb -boards; -board-ed; board-ing : to enter (information) into a computer by using a keyboard [+ obj] keyboard [=key] a manuscript [no obj] learning how to key-board

— key-board-er noun, pl -ers [count] — keyboarding noun [noncount] • He is taking a class in keyboarding.

key-board-ist /'ki:boədist/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a musician who plays a keyboard (sense 1b)

key chain noun, pl ~ chains [count] : a device that is used to hold keys and that usually consists of a metal ring, a short chain, and a small decoration — called also key ring

keyed up adj [more ~; most ~] informal : excited or nervous • The students were all keyed up for the test. • I was too keyed up to sleep.

key-hole /'ki:hou/ noun, pl -holes [count] : the opening in a lock into which a key is placed — see picture at DOOR

key lime noun, pl ~ limes [count] : a small lime that is grown especially in the Florida Keys • key lime pie [=a sweet pie that is usually made with key limes]

key-note /'ki:nout/ noun, pl -notes [count] : the most important idea or part of something • Humor is the keynote of the play.

keynote address noun, pl ~ -dresses [count] : the main speech given at a gathering (such as a political convention) • Many of the convention guests left after the keynote address. — called also keynote speech

key-not-er /'ki:noutə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : KEYNOTE SPEAKER

keynote speaker noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a person who gives a keynote address • Senator Williams was the keynote speaker at the convention. — called also keynoter

key-pad /'ki:pæd/ noun, pl -pads [count] : a set of keys or buttons for entering information into a calculator, telephone, etc. • a numeric keypad [=a set of keys or buttons that have numbers on them] — see picture at TELEPHONE

key ring noun, pl ~ rings [count] : KEY CHAIN

key-stone /'ki:stoun/ noun, pl -stones [count]

1 : a large stone at the top of an arch that locks the other stones in place

2 : something on which other things depend for support • Tourism is the city's economic keystone. • the keystone of his faith

key-stroke /'ki:strook/ noun, pl -strokes [count] : the act of pushing down a key on a keyboard • He deleted all of my work with a single keystroke.

key-word /'ki:wəd/ noun, pl -words [count] : a word that is used to find information in a piece of writing, in a computer document, or on the Internet • She typed the keywords "Medieval" and "medicine" into the search engine and pulled up a lot of results. • a keyword search of the database kg abbr kilogram

KGB abbr ♦ KGB is the abbreviation of the Russian name for the former Soviet organization responsible for national security and for collecting information about other countries or foreign groups. • a member of the KGB

kha-ki /'kæki, 'kɑ:ki/ noun, pl -kls

1 [noncount] : a yellowish-brown cloth • a military uniform made of khaki — often used before another noun • khaki pants

2 khakis [plural] : pants made of khaki • a pair of khakis

3 [noncount] : a yellowish-brown color — see color picture on page C3

kHHz abbr kilohertz

kib-butz /kɪ'buts/ noun, pl kib-but-zim /kɪ,but'si:m/ [count] : a farm in Israel on which a group of people live and work together ki-bitz /'kɪbɪts/ verb -bitz-es; -bitzed; -bitz-ing US, informal 1 [no obj] : to talk to someone in a friendly and informal way : CHAT • They sat around kibitzing about their children.

2 : to watch other people and make unwanted comments about what they are doing [no obj] My uncle likes to kibitz when I play poker with my cousins. [+ obj] He likes to kibitz our poker games.

— ki-bitz-er /'kɪbɪtsə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • a kibitzer at a card game

ki-bosh /'kaɪ,bɔ:ʃ/ noun

put the kibosh on informal : to stop or end (something) : to prevent (something) from happening or continuing • His mother put the kibosh on his smoking habit. [=his mother forced him to stop smoking]

1 kick /'kɪk/ verb kicks; kicked; kick-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to hit (someone or something) with your foot • The attacker kicked him in the stomach. • She lost her temper and kicked over the box. • He kicked the ball into the goal. • She kicked the ball to me. • The policeman kicked the door open. b : to move your leg or legs in the air or in water especially in a strong or forceful way [+ obj] The baby kicked his legs in the air. • The swimming instructor reminded the children to kick their legs as they swam. [no obj] The baby kicked with pleasure. • The boy kicked and screamed as his mother carried him out of the room. = The boy was carried out of the room kicking and screaming. — often used figuratively • They told him he needed a computer, but he had to be dragged kicking and screaming into the 21st century. [=he had to be forced to stop doing things the old way and use a computer]

2 [+ obj] sports : to score (a goal) by kicking a ball • He kicked the winning field goal.

3 [+ obj] informal : to completely stop doing (something harmful to yourself) : to put an end to (a bad or dangerous habit) • When he was 25, he kicked his cocaine habit and went back to school. • I've been smoking for years, but this year I'm determined to kick the habit.

4 [no obj] informal : to be full of life and energy — always used as (be) kicking • He's almost 90 years old, but he's still kicking. • The movement is still alive and kicking.

kick around [phrasal verb] informal 1 kick around (a place) or kick around : to spend time in (a place) without having a goal or purpose : to wander around (a place) • After graduation, he kicked around Boston for a while, trying to decide what to do next. = After graduation, he kicked around for a while, trying to decide what to do next. 2 : to be lying somewhere within a general area or place • I think I have a copy of that book kicking around [=lying around] somewhere in my house. 3 a : to be considered or discussed in an informal way over a period of time • These ideas have been kicking around for years. b kick around (something) or kick (something) around : to consider or talk about (ideas, plans, etc.) in an informal way • We should have a meeting to kick around some ideas about possible new products. 4 kick (someone) around or kick around (someone) : to treat (someone) in a very bad or unfair way • He gets kicked around by his older brother.

kick ass US, informal + impolite 1 : to succeed or win in a very impressive way • a lawyer who kicks ass in the courtroom • Our team kicked ass in the soccer tournament. 2 : to use force to achieve some purpose • If they don't start answering my questions, I'm going to go over there and kick some ass. 3 kick someone's ass a : to attack and injure someone severely • Some drunk threatened to kick his ass. • He got his ass kicked by some drunk. b : to defeat someone easily or completely • We got our asses kicked [=we lost badly] in the last game. — see also KICK-ASS

kick back [phrasal verb] chiefly US, informal : to relax and enjoy yourself • After work, he likes to kick back and watch some TV. • I spent the weekend just kicking back.

kick butt US, informal + sometimes impolite — used in the same ways as kick ass (above) • Our team kicked butt in the soccer tournament. • I'm going to go over there and kick some butt. • Some drunk threatened to kick his butt.

kick in [phrasal verb] informal 1 : to begin to work or to have an effect • Once the heat kicks in, it will be a lot more comfortable in here. • waiting for the new law to kick in 2 kick in (something) or kick (something) in US : to give (an amount of money) as your share • CONTRIBUTE • We each kicked in a few dollars for her gift.

kick off [phrasal verb] 1 : to start play in a game (such as American football or soccer) by kicking the ball • Jones will kick off from the 30-yard line. — see also KICKOFF 2 a kick off (something) or kick (something) off : to begin (something, such as a performance, an event, or a discussion) • The chairman's speech will kick off the conference. b : to get started : BEGIN • The conference kicked off with a speech by the chairman. • The game kicks off at 1:00. 3 kick (someone) off (something) : to force (someone) to leave (a team or group) • The coach threatened to kick him off the team if he continued to be late for practice. 4 kick off (your shoes) or kick (your shoes) off : to remove (your shoes) by making a kicking motion • She kicked off her shoes and started to dance. 5 informal : to die • I was so sick that I felt like I might kick off at any time.

kick out [phrasal verb] kick (someone) out or kick out (someone) : to force (someone) to leave a place, group, school, etc. • He was got kicked out [=thrown out] of the school when he was caught cheating again. • They threatened to kick him out (of the bar) if he didn't stop annoying people. • She kicked her husband out (of the house).

kick (someone) upstairs informal : to promote (someone) to a higher but less powerful or important position • He was kicked upstairs, given a fancy title, and stripped of most of his power.

kick the bucket informal + somewhat old-fashioned : to die • He inherited the house after his uncle kicked the bucket.

kick up [phrasal verb] 1 kick up (something) or kick (something) up : to cause (something) to rise upward • The car sped away, kicking up dirt and gravel. 2 informal a kick up (something) or kick (something) up : to cause (something) to become stronger • The praise kicked up her confidence. • The intensity of the game got kicked up a notch when a fight broke out. b : to become stronger • The wind suddenly kicked up. 3 kick up (something) or kick (something) up informal : to cause (something) to happen • The high winds kicked up huge waves. • The service in the restaurant wasn't very good, but we decided not to kick up a fuss/stink [=complain] about it.

kick up your heels US, informal : to relax and enjoy yourself : to have a good and lively time • After exams were over, the students had a little time to kick up their heels.

kick yourself informal : to blame or criticize yourself for something you have done • You've got to stop kicking yourself. It wasn't your fault that the project failed. • He was kicking himself for having forgotten the meeting. • He could have kicked himself [=he was very angry at himself] when he realized that he had forgotten the meeting.

²kick noun, pl kicks [count]

1 a : an act of hitting someone or something with your foot • He gave me a kick in the leg. • If you give the machine a little kick, it should start working again. : a sudden forceful movement with your foot • a karate kick b : an act of hitting a ball with your foot • a soccer kick • a long kick in football — see also CORNER KICK, DROPKICK, FREE KICK, PENALTY KICK, PLACEKICK

2 a : a sudden forceful movement — usually singular • I felt the kick of the engine when it started. • The rifle has a powerful kick. b informal : a quality that produces a sudden powerful effect — usually singular • The drink has a kick [=a strong effect from alcohol] to it. • chili with a kick [=a very hot and spicy flavor]

3 informal : a feeling or source of pleasure • She gets a kick out of watching old movies. [=she enjoys watching old movies] • I got a kick out of seeing her again. = Seeing her again was a kick. • We play for kicks [=for enjoyment], not for money. • He gets his kicks from embarrassing his teammates. [=he enjoys embarrassing his teammates]

4 informal — used with on to say that someone is doing a lot of something for usually a brief period of time • He's been on a health-food kick lately. [=he has been eating a lot of health food lately]

5 : an increase in speed at the end of the race • a runner who has a strong finishing kick

a kick in the teeth informal : something that is very shocking and disappointing • Losing that game was a real kick in the teeth.

kick-ass /'kɪk,æs/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly US, informal + impolite

1 : very tough and aggressive • a kick-ass career woman who is determined to get to the top • an executive with a kick-ass attitude/style

2 : very good or impressive • a kick-ass stereo/movie/song — see also kick ass at ¹KICK kick-back /'kɪk,bæk/ noun, pl -backs [count] : an amount of money that is given to someone in return for providing help in a secret and dishonest business deal • Several company executives were accused of accepting kickbacks.

kick-ball /'kɪk,bɑ:l/ noun [noncount] US : a game for children that is like baseball but that is played with a large rubber ball that is kicked instead of being hit with a bat kick-boxing /'kɪk,bɑ:ksɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : a form of boxing in which fighters are allowed to kick each other with their bare feet

kick-er /'kɪkə/ noun, pl -ers

1 [count] : a person who kicks something; especially : a person who specializes in kicking the ball in a sport like American football

2 [singular] US, informal : a sudden and surprising occurrence, remark, etc. • The real kicker came when the chairman announced that he was quitting.

kick-off /'kɪk,ɔ:f/ noun, pl -offs [count]

1 : a kick that starts play in a game (such as American football or soccer) • a long kickoff • The kickoff (of the game) is at 1:00. [=the game begins at 1:00]

2 : the start of something • At his campaign kickoff, the senator gave a passionate speech about combating poverty. • His speech marked the kickoff of his campaign. — see also kick off at ¹KICK

kick-stand /'kɪk,stænd/ noun, pl -stands [count] : a metal

K

bar on a bicycle or motorcycle that swings down to hold it in an upright position when it is not in use kick-start /'kɪk, stɑ:t/ verb -starts; -start-ed; -start-ing [+ obj]

1 : to start (a motorcycle) by pushing down on a lever with your foot

2 a : to cause (something) to start quickly • Advertising can help to kick-start [=jump-start] a political campaign. b : to give new energy to (something) • a plan to kick-start [=jump-start] the economy

— kick-start noun, pl -starts [count] • a plan to give the economy a kick-start

¹kid /'kɪd/ noun, pl kids

1 [count] informal a : a son or daughter : CHILD • She has to leave early and pick up her kids at school. • He has a wife and two kids. b : a young person • I loved to play hopscotch when I was a kid. [=child] • I wish I could do something to help that poor kid. • I know he seems very mature, but he's really still just a kid. [=he's still very young] • a bunch of college kids [=young people who are attending college] — sometimes used as a form of address • Hey, kid! • You'd better listen to me, kid, because I'm not going to say this twice.

2 a [count] : a young goat b [noncount] : a soft leather made from the skin of a young goat • gloves made of kid • kid leather new kid on the block : someone who has recently joined a particular group • I was the new kid on the block, having just been hired the week before.

— see also KID GLOVES

²kid adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US, informal : younger • my kid brother/sister [=my brother/sister who is younger than I am]

³kid verb kids; kid-ded; kid-ding informal

1 : to speak to (someone) in a way that is not serious : to say things that are not true to (someone) in a joking way [+ obj] It's the truth. I wouldn't kid you about something so important. • I'm not kidding you when I say that this is one of the best meals I've ever eaten. • I panicked when he said the test was tomorrow, but then I realized he was just kidding me. • The test is tomorrow? You must be kidding me! • "The test is tomorrow." "Are you kidding me?!" "I kid you not." [=I am not kidding you] [no obj] Don't be offended by what he said. He was just/only kidding. — often + around • I'm not really angry—I'm just kidding around.

2 [+ obj] : to make fun of (someone) in a friendly way : TEASE • We kidded her about her old car.

3 [+ obj] : to say (something) in a joking way • "I might eat this whole pie by myself," she kidded. • She kidded that she might eat the whole pie by herself.

kid yourself : to fail to admit the truth to yourself : to deceive yourself • If you think he'll help us, you're just kid-ding yourself. • "I think he'll help us if we ask him." "Don't kid yourself—he's only interested in his own problems."

no kidding informal 1 — used to emphasize the truth of a statement • No kidding, the test is tomorrow. 2 — used to ask if a statement is really true • "The test is tomorrow." "No kidding?" 3 — used to show that you are surprised by or interested in what has been said. • "My brother got engaged last month." "No kidding! That's great news!" — often used in an ironic way in response to a statement that is regarded as very obvious • "If we don't start going faster, we're not going to finish on time." "Gee, no kidding."

— kid-der noun, pl -ders [count] • He's quite a kidder. [=he likes to kid around]

kid-die also kid-dy /'kɪdi/ noun, pl -dies [count] informal : a young child • It's a scary movie that might not be appropriate for the kiddies. — often used before another noun • a kiddie movie [=a movie intended for small children] • a kid-die pool for the toddlers kid-do /'kɪdou/ noun, chiefly US, informal — used by an adult to speak to a young person • Pay attention to me, kiddo, or you're going to get hurt!

kid gloves noun

with kid gloves : in a very gentle or careful way : with special care in order to avoid causing damage or offense • He's very temperamental and needs to be treated with kid gloves. • School reform is a sensitive issue, and many politicians treat it with kid gloves.

— kid-glove /'kɪd'glʌv/ adj, always used before a noun • Many politicians give the issue the kid-glove treatment.

kid-nap /'kɪd,næp/ verb -naps; -napped also US -naped; -nap-ping also US -nap-ing [+ obj] : to take away (someone) by force usually in order to keep the person as a prisoner and demand money for returning the person • She had been kidnapped (from her home).

— kid-nap-per also US kid-nap-er noun, pl -nap-pers also US -nap-ers [count] • The kidnapper demanded one million dollars in ransom. — kidnapping also US kid-nap-ing noun [noncount] He was found guilty of kidnapping. [count] There have been several recent kidnappings.

kid-ney /'kɪdni/ noun, pl -neys [count]

1 : either of two organs in your body that remove waste products from your blood and make urine • a patient with a damaged kidney — often used before another noun • kidney failure • a kidney transplant — see picture at HUMAN

2 : an animal kidney used as food • steak and kidney pie kidney bean noun, pl ~ beans [count] : a type of large and dark red bean kidney stone noun, pl ~ stones [count] medical : a hard object like a small stone that sometimes forms in a kidney and that can cause great pain kid stuff or kid's stuff noun [noncount] informal

1 : something that is suited only for children • toys and other kid stuff

2 : something that is very simple or easy • It's time to cut out the kid's stuff and get down to business.

kike /'kaɪk/ noun, pl kikes [count] informal + offensive : a Jewish person ✧ The word kike is very offensive and should be avoided.

¹kill /'kɪl/ verb kills; killed; kill-ing

1 : to cause the death of (a person, animal, or plant) : to end the life of (someone or something) [+ obj] This poison kills rats. • The disease has killed thousands of people. • Three people were killed in the accident. • a chemical that kills weeds • In despair he threatened to kill himself. [=to commit suicide] • If he keeps working this hard, he's going to kill himself. [=he's going to have health problems that cause his death] — often used figuratively • My father will kill me [=he will be very angry] when he finds out that I dented the car. • I'll finish this job if it kills me! [=I am very determined to finish this job] • It wouldn't kill you to help me clean up the kitchen. = Would it kill you to help me clean up the kitchen? [=you should help me clean up the kitchen] [no obj] Drunk driving kills. • a disease that can kill • I've never seen her so angry. If looks could kill, I'd be dead right now. [=she looked at me in a very angry way] — often used figuratively • I'd kill for hair like hers! [=I wish I had hair like hers]

2 [+ obj] : to cause the end of (something) • If she enters the contest, it will kill [=destroy] our chances of winning. • She took an aspirin to kill [=stop] her headache. • taking drugs to kill the pain • Despite protests, the mayor killed the program. • The committee killed the bill. • This delay has killed our chances of finishing the project on schedule. • The editor decided to kill [=to not publish] the controversial news story.

3 [+ obj] informal : to turn (something) off with a switch • She told him to kill the lights. • He killed [=shut off] the engine and got out of the car.

4 [+ obj] informal : to spend (time) doing something while you are waiting • We killed time by reading magazines. • We have a couple of hours to kill before we board the plane.

5 [+ obj] informal a : to cause (someone) to feel extreme pain or to suffer • My feet are killing me. [=my feet hurt very much] • Working these long hours is killing me. b : to make (someone) nervous or unhappy • I'm still waiting to hear if I got the job. The suspense is killing me. • It really kills me to think of how much money I could have made if I had invested in that company.

6 [+ obj] informal : to amuse or entertain (someone) very much • That guy kills me. [=I think he's very funny] • His jokes always kill me. • Her performance killed the audience. [=the audience loved her performance]

7 [+ obj] informal : to drink (something) completely • He killed three beers in less than an hour.

dressed to kill see DRESSED

fit to kill see ¹FIT

kill off [phrasal verb] kill off (something) or kill (something) off 1 : to kill all of (something) : to kill every one of (a group) • Scientists aren't certain what killed off the dinosaurs. • She killed off her relatives to get the inheritance. 2 : to remove (something) completely : to get rid of (something) • The company has become so successful that it has killed off the competition.

kill (someone) with kindness : to treat (someone) in a way that is too kind or helpful and that actually causes harm

kill the clock see ¹CLOCK

kill two birds with one stone : to achieve two things by doing a single action • We can kill two birds with one stone by dropping off the mail when we go the grocery store.

²kill noun, pl kills [count]

1 : an act of killing someone or something • The tiger has made several kills in this area. • The lion was moving in for the kill [=was coming closer to another animal in order to kill it] — often used figuratively • Her political opponents believe that she can be defeated, and they are moving in for the kill.

2 : an animal that has been killed • The lion was devouring its kill. [=the animal that it had killed] — see also ROADKILL

¹kill-er /'kɪlə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person or thing that kills someone or something • The police finally captured the killer. [=murderer] • Heart disease is the leading killer of both men and women. • The chemical is used as a weed killer.

2 informal : something that is very difficult • That exam was a (real) killer. = That sure was a killer of an exam.

²killer adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US

1 : causing death or destruction • a killer tornado

2 informal : very impressive or appealing • She has a killer smile. [=a very attractive smile] • a killer résumé

3 informal : very difficult • a killer exam killer app noun, pl ~ apps [count] : an extremely valuable or useful computer program killer bee noun, pl ~ bees [count] : a dangerous type of bee that is originally from Africa killer instinct noun, pl ~ -instincts [count] : a very strong desire to succeed or win • Her killer instincts have helped her become one of the top tennis players in the world.

killer whale noun, pl ~ whales [count] : a black-and-white whale that kills and eats other animals (such as seals) — called also orca

kill-ing /'kɪlɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count]

1 : an act of killing someone or something • The oil spill is responsible for the killing of thousands of birds. • A series of horrific killings [=murders] have made headlines across the nation. — see also MERCY KILLING

2 informal : a large amount of money — usually singular • He made a killing in the stock market.

kill-joy /'kɪl,dʒɔɪ/ noun, pl -joys [count] disapproving : a person who spoils other people's fun or enjoyment • I don't want to sound like a killjoy, but shouldn't we study tonight?

kiln /'kɪln/ noun, pl kilns [count] : an oven or furnace that is used for hardening, burning, or drying something (such as pottery)

ki-lo /'ki:lou/ noun, pl -los [count] : KILOGRAM

kilo- /'kɪlə/ combining form : thousand • kilogram • kilometer

ki-lo-byte /'kɪlə,bart/ noun, pl -bytes [count] : a unit of computer information equal to 1,024 bytes — abbr. KB; compare GIGABYTE, MEGABYTE ki-lo-gram /'kɪlə,græm/ noun, pl -grams [count] : a unit of weight equal to 1,000 grams — abbr. kg

ki-lo-hertz /'kɪlə,hɜːts/ noun, pl -hertz [count] technical : a unit of frequency equal to 1,000 hertz • a frequency of 80 ki-lohertz — abbr. kHz kilo-li-ter (US) or Brit ki-lo-li-tre /'kɪlə,lɪ:tə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : a unit for measuring the volume of a liquid or gas that is equal to 1,000 liters — abbr. kl ki-lo-me-ter (US) or Brit ki-lo-me-tre /kə'lɑːmətə, 'kɪlə,mɪ:tə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : a unit of length equal to 1,000 meters — abbr. km

kilo-watt /'kɪlə,wɑːt/ noun, pl -watts [count] : a unit of electrical power equal to 1,000 watts — abbr. kW; compare MEGAWATT kilowatt-hour noun, pl -hours [count] technical : a unit of work or energy equal to the amount produced by one kilowatt in one hour — abbr. kWh

kilt /'kɪlt/ noun, pl kilts [count]

1 : a type of skirt traditionally worn by men in Scotland — see color picture on page C16

2 : a woman's skirt that resembles a Scottish kilt — kilt-ed /'kɪltəd/ adj • a kilted Scotsman

kil-ter /'kɪltə/ noun

out of kilter or off kilter — used to describe something that is not in the exactly right position or condition, is not working in the usual or proper way, etc. • Unexpected expenses threw the budget out of kilter. • Our schedule has been knocked off kilter. — see also OFF-KILTER ki-mo-no /kə'mounou/ noun, pl -nos [count] : a loose piece of clothing with wide sleeves that is traditionally worn on formal occasions in Japan — see color picture on page C16

kin /'kɪn/ noun [plural] somewhat old-fashioned : a person's relatives • They are her distant kin. • He and I are kin. [=we are related to each other] • Are you any kin to him? [=are you related to him?] • He's no kin to me. [=he is not related to me] — see also next of kin at ³NEXT

kith and kin see KITH

¹kind /'kaɪnd/ noun, pl kinds [count] : a group of people or things that belong together or have some shared quality : a particular type or variety of person or thing • hawks and other birds of that kind • “What kind of (a) car do you drive?” “The same kind you drive.” • In this city, you'll find many kinds of people. • Most people prefer to be with their own kind. [=with people who are like them] • I like to try different kinds of food. • I know he would never lie to me because he's not that kind (of person). • She described the color as a kind of red. • I think he's an accountant, financial adviser, or something of that kind. • Did you honestly think that I'd agree to do this? What kind of fool do you think I am? [=do you think that I am a fool?] • Boston is my kind of (a) town. [=I like Boston]

all kinds of 1 : a large number or variety of (things or people) : MANY • She reads all kinds of books. • He likes all kinds of sports. 2 chiefly US, informal : a large amount of (something) : plenty of (something) • There's no hurry. We have all kinds of time to get ready.

in kind 1 : in a way that is equal or very similar to what someone else has done for you • If you help me, I promise to return the favor in kind. [=I promise to help you in the same way] 2 business : in goods or services rather than in money • payment in kind rather than in cash kind of informal : to some small degree : SOMEWHAT • It's kind of cold in here. • I think he kind of likes me. • I'm kind of worried.

of a kind — used to say that people or things are the same or are very similar • John and his dad are two of a kind. [=they are very much alike]

of the kind : like the person or thing mentioned • I'd like to go to a movie or a concert, or something of the kind. [=something like that] — often used in negative statements • He said I hung up on him, but I never did anything of the kind. [=I never hung up on him] • This technology is completely new. I've never seen anything of the kind [=anything like it] before. • “He's really pretty arrogant, isn't he?” “He's nothing of the kind. [=he's not arrogant at all] He's a very friendly and helpful man.” • This technology is completely new. Nothing of the kind [=nothing like it] has ever been seen before.

one of a kind : a person or thing that is not like any other person or thing • I don't know how we'll ever replace Mary after she retires. She's really one of a kind.

²kind adj kind-er; -est

1 : having or showing a gentle nature and a desire to help others : wanting and liking to do good things and to bring happiness to others • A kind old woman took the cat in and nursed it back to health. • It was very kind of you to show me the way. • Thank you for your kind words. • a kind smile — often + to • My uncle has always been very kind to me.

2 — used to say that something does not cause harm, is not harsh or unpleasant, etc.; usually + to • Old age has been very kind to her: she still looks great at 84. • a soap that is kind to your hands • The critics have not been kind to her latest novel. [=they have harshly criticized her latest novel]

3 — used to make a formal request • Would you be kind enough to show me the way? = Would you be so kind as to show me the way? [=would you please show me the way?]

kinda /'kaɪndə/ — used in writing to represent the sound of the phrase kind of when it is spoken quickly • It's kinda [=kind of] cold in here. [=it's somewhat cold in here] ♦ The pronunciation represented by kinda is common in informal speech. The written form should be avoided except when trying to represent or record such speech.

kin-der-gar-ten /'kɪndə,ɡɑːtən/ noun, pl -tens [count, non-count] : a school or class for very young children ♦ In the U.S., children in kindergarten are usually about five years old. • My daughter is in kindergarten now; next fall she'll enter the first grade.

— kin-der-gart-ner /'kɪndə,ɡɑːtnər/ or kin-der-gar-ten-er /'kɪndə,ɡɑːtənər/ noun, pl -gart-ners or -gar-ten-ers

K

[count] US • All of the kindergartners [=children in kindergarten] drew pictures of their favorite animals.

kind-heart-ed /ˈkaɪndˈhɑːtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing a kind and gentle nature • A kindhearted neighbor offered to help. • a kindhearted gesture
— kind-heart-ed-ness noun [noncount]

kin-dle /ˈkɪndl/ verb kin-dles; kin-dled; kin-dling

1 a [+ obj] : to cause (a fire) to start burning • using dry twigs to kindle a fire b [no obj] : to begin burning • waiting for the fire to kindle

2 [+ obj] : to cause the start of (something) • A trip to the museum when she was a child kindled her interest in art. • The incident kindled a new national debate.

kin-dling /ˈkɪndlɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : dry twigs, pieces of paper, etc., that burn easily and are used to start a fire • a pile of kindling

¹kind-ly /ˈkaɪndli/ adj kind-li-er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : having or showing a gentle nature and a desire to help others : KIND • A kindly woman helped him find his way home. • a kindly smile

— kind-li-ness /ˈkaɪndlɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

²kindly adv

1 [more ~; most ~] : in a kind way • She always treats animals kindly. • They kindly offered to help us.

2 — used to make a formal request • Would you kindly [=please] pass the salt? — sometimes used in making a request that is caused by annoyance • Would you kindly turn down the music? I'm trying to read. • Kindly leave me alone.

look kindly on/upon : to approve of (something or someone) • Many people do not look kindly on the government's attempt to intervene in this matter. • He says that he will look kindly on any request you make.

take kindly to : to willingly accept or approve of (someone or something) — usually used in negative statements • He does not take kindly to criticism. [=he does not like to be criticized] • She does not take kindly to people who tell her what to do.

kind-ness /ˈkaɪndnəs/ noun, pl -ness-es

1 [noncount] : the quality or state of being kind • You should treat your elders with kindness and respect. = You should show kindness and respect to your elders. • They did it out of the kindness of their hearts. [=they did it because they are kind people and not because they wanted something in return] — see also the milk of human kindness at ¹MILK

2 [count] : a kind act • We thanked her for her many kindnesses. • You would be doing me a great kindness if you agreed to help.

kill (someone) with kindness see ¹KILL

¹kin-dred /ˈkɪndrəd/ adj, always used before a noun, formal

1 : alike or similar • philosophy, political theory, and kindred topics • I believe she and I are kindred spirits/souls.

2 : closely related • kindred tribes • German and English are kindred languages.

²kindred noun [plural] old-fashioned : a person's relatives • He went out to sea, and never saw his kindred again.

ki-net-ic /kəˈnetɪk/ adj : of or relating to the movement of physical objects • kinetic energy/theory • kinetic art [=art that has moving parts] kin-folk /ˈkɪnˌfoʊk/ noun [plural] old-fashioned : a person's relatives : KIN • He settled in the North, but most of his kin-folk remained in the South.

king /ˈkɪŋ/ noun, pl kings

1 : a male ruler of a country who usually inherits his position and rules for life [count] dethrone a king • He pledged his loyalty to the king and queen. • the reign of King James [noncount] He was crowned king. • He became king at a young age.

2 a [count] : a boy or man who is highly respected and very successful or popular • an oil king • He's widely regarded as the king of soul music. b [count] : a boy or man who is awarded the highest honor for an event or contest • He was voted king of the prom. • the homecoming king c : something that is very powerful or that is considered better than all others [count] The lion is known as the king of the jungle. [noncount] It was a time when comedy was king. [=when comedy was the most important or popular form of entertainment]

3 [count] : the most important piece in the game of chess • She won the game by checkmating his king. — see picture at CHESS

4 [count] : a playing card that has a picture of a king and that is worth more than a queen • the king of hearts/spades/

clubs/diamonds — see picture at PLAYING CARD

fit for a king see ¹FIT

king crab noun, pl ~ crabs [count] : a very large type of crab

king-dom /ˈkɪŋdəm/ noun, pl -doms

1 [count] : a country whose ruler is a king or queen • After Queen Mary I died, her half sister Elizabeth ruled the kingdom. • the Kingdom of Jordan — often used figuratively • He was one of the most successful planters in the cotton kingdom. • The office is his own private kingdom.

2 [noncount] : the spiritual world of which God is king • the kingdom of God/heaven

3 [count] : one of the three main divisions into which natural objects are classified • the animal/mineral/plant kingdom

to kingdom come informal : to a state of complete destruction • He took out his shotgun and threatened to blast/blow them all to kingdom come.

king-fish-er /ˈkɪŋˌfɪʃər/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a type of brightly colored bird that has a long, thin bill and that catches fish by diving into water

king-ly /ˈkɪŋli/ adj king-li-er; -est

1 : of or relating to a king • a symbol of kingly authority/power/rule

2 : typical of or suited for a king • a kingly feast • They paid a kingly price/fortune for their new house.

king-mak-er /ˈkɪŋˌmeɪkər/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a powerful person or group who influences decisions about who will become political candidates • the party's kingmakers

king-pin /ˈkɪŋˌpɪn/ noun, pl -pins [count] : a person who controls an organization or activity • kingpins of the movie industry • a mob kingpin [=a man who controls a gang of criminals] • a drug kingpin [=a man in charge of a large group of people who sell illegal drugs]

King's Counsel noun, pl ~ -sels [count] Brit : a barrister who is chosen to represent the British royal family in a court of law — used when Britain is ruled by a king; abbr. KC

king's evidence noun

turn king's evidence Brit, law — used with the same meaning as turn queen's evidence when Britain is ruled by a king; see QUEEN'S EVIDENCE king-ship /ˈkɪŋˌʃɪp/ noun [noncount] : the position of a king • He has all the traits required for kingship.

king-size /ˈkɪŋˌsaɪz/ or king-sized /ˈkɪŋˌsaɪzd/ adj

1 : extremely large • a king-size sandwich • people with king-sized appetites

2 US; of a bed : having a size of 76 inches by 80 inches (about 1.9 by 2.0 meters) — compare FULL-SIZE, QUEEN-SIZE, TWIN-SIZE

king's ransom noun [noncount] informal : a very large amount of money • We paid a king's ransom for that car.

kink /ˈkɪŋk/ noun, pl kinks [count]

1 : a tight bend or curl in something (such as a rope or hose) — usually + in • There was a kink in the chain.

2 chiefly US : a pain especially in your neck or back that is caused by tight muscles — usually + in • I woke up on the bus with a kink [=crick] in my neck.

3 : a small problem or flaw — usually plural • We just installed a new computer program, and we're still working/ironing out the kinks. [=trying to fix the problems]

4 : a strange or unusual part of someone's personality • Everyone's personality has a few kinks. [=quirks]

— kink verb kinks; kinked; kink-ing [+ obj] Kink the hose. [no obj] My hair kinks when it rains.

kinky /ˈkɪŋki/ adj kink-i-er; -est

1 of hair : having many tight bends or curls

2 informal : involving or liking unusual sexual behavior • kinky sex toys • a kinky fantasy • She says her boyfriend is a little kinky.

— kink-i-ness noun [noncount]

kins-folk /ˈkɪnzˌfoʊk/ noun [plural] somewhat old-fashioned : KINFOLK • returning home to her kinsfolk

kin-ship /ˈkɪnˌʃɪp/ noun

1 [noncount] : the state of being related to the people in your family • the bonds of kinship

2 : a feeling of being close or connected to other people [singular] He feels a strong kinship with other survivors of the war. [noncount] feelings of kinship between the team's players and their fans

kins-man /ˈkɪnzˌmæn/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] formal + old-fashioned : a male relative • honoring a dead kinsman

kins-wom-an /ˈkɪnzˌwʊmən/ noun, pl -wom-en /-wɪmən/

[count] formal + old-fashioned : a female relative • writing a biography of his famous kinswoman

ki-osk /'ki:ask/ noun, pl -osks [count]

1 : a small store in a building or on the street where things (such as newspapers or candy) are sold • She sells souvenirs at a kiosk in the mall.

2 : a small structure that provides information and services on a computer screen • You can pick up your plane tickets at one of the airport's kiosks.

¹kip /'kip/ noun, Brit, informal : ²SLEEP [noncount] Try to get a bit of kip. [singular] She went home and had a kip. [=nap]

²kip verb kips; kip-ped; kip-ping [no obj] Brit, informal : ¹SLEEP • Can I kip here tonight? — often + down • We kipped down at a hotel.

kip-per /'kipə/ noun, pl -pers [count] chiefly Brit : a herring that has been preserved with salt and then smoked

— kip-pered /'kipəd/ adj • a kippered herring

kirk /'kæk/ noun, pl kirks

1 [count] Scotland : CHURCH

2 the Kirk : the national church of Scotland • an elder of the Kirk kis-met /'kiz,met/ noun [noncount] : a power that is believed to control what happens in the future : FATE • When we first met each other, we knew it must have been kismet (that brought us together).

¹kiss /'kɪs/ verb kiss-es; kissed; kiss-ing

1 a : to touch (someone) with your lips as a greeting or as a way of showing love or sexual attraction [+ obj] He kissed her on the cheek. = He kissed her cheek. • They kissed each other passionately. • She kissed him good night/goodbye. [no obj] I'll never forget the night we first kissed. b [+ obj] : to touch (something) with your lips • When he got off the plane he knelt down and kissed the ground.

2 [+ obj] : to touch (something) gently or lightly • The tree's branches kissed the ground below.

kiss and make up informal : to become friendly again after a fight or disagreement • It's time for the mayor and the police chief to kiss and make up.

kiss and tell : to tell people about the private details of your romantic relationships • I never kiss and tell.

kiss ass US, informal + impolite 1 or kiss someone's ass or Brit kiss someone's arse : to be nice to people in order to make them like you or give something to you • He says he doesn't want a promotion if he has to kiss ass to get it. 2 kiss my ass — used to show that you are angry at someone • He told me to leave, and I told him he could kiss my ass!

kiss off [phrasal verb] informal 1 impolite — used in angry speech to tell someone to leave and stop bothering you • She told me to kiss off when I asked her to dance. 2 kiss (someone or something) off or kiss off (someone or something) : to reject or ignore (someone or something) in a casual or careless way • My boss kissed off my ideas for a new product. 3 kiss (something) off or kiss off (something) : to accept the fact that you have lost or will never get (something) • You can kiss off [=give up on] any hope of getting tickets to the game. — see also KISS-OFF

kiss (something) goodbye informal : to accept the fact that you have lost or will never get something • They can kiss their vacation plans goodbye now. [=their vacation plans are now ruined] • If you don't start working harder, you can kiss that promotion goodbye. [=you won't be getting that promotion] kiss up to [phrasal verb] kiss up to (someone) US, informal + disapproving : to try to make (someone) like you • She is always kissing up to [=sucking up to] the boss.

— kiss-able /'kɪsəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] • soft, kissable lips

²kiss noun, pl kisses [count] : the act of kissing someone or something • He gave her a kiss on the cheek. • She greeted him with a hug and a kiss. • a tender/gentle/passionate kiss — see also FRENCH KISS blow (someone) a kiss : to kiss the palm of your hand, put your hand flat in front of your mouth, and then blow on it toward (someone) • She blew me a kiss and waved goodbye.

throw (someone) a kiss : to kiss the palm of your hand and move your hand quickly away from your mouth in a waving motion toward (someone)

kiss-and-tell /'kɪsɪd'tel/ adj, always used before a noun : telling private details about romantic relationships • an actress who has written a kiss-and-tell book about the men she knew in her youth • a kiss-and-tell biography

kiss-er /'kɪsə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who kisses • He's a great kisser. [=he is very good at kissing]

2 old-fashioned slang : MOUTH • Punch him in the kisser.

kissing cousin noun, pl ~ -ins [count] old-fashioned : a person and especially a relative who you know well enough to kiss in a formal way when you meet — often used figuratively to describe two things that are similar or closely related • He says politics and show business are kissing cousins.

kiss of death noun [singular] : something that causes something to fail or be ruined — usually used with the • Bad reviews can be the kiss of death for a new movie.

kiss-off /'kɪs,ɔ:f/ noun, pl -offs [count] chiefly US, informal : a quick and rude way of telling someone to go away • The song is a kiss-off to his ex-girlfriend. — see also kiss off at ¹KISS

kiss of life noun

the kiss of life Brit : MOUTH-TO-MOUTH RESUSCITATION

¹kit /'kɪt/ noun, pl kits

1 [count] : a set of tools or supplies that a person uses for a particular purpose or activity • a makeup kit • shaving/sewing kits • an electrician's tool kit — see also DRUM KIT

2 [count] : a set of parts that are put together to build something • He built the shed from a kit. • We bought some goldfish and an aquarium starter kit [=a set of things needed to set up an aquarium]

3 [count] : a collection of written materials about a particular subject • a tourist information kit — see also PRESS KIT

4 [noncount] Brit : clothing or equipment used for a particular purpose • The team wore their new kit. • cricket/football/sports kit

first aid kit see FIRST AID

get/take your kit off Brit, informal : to take off your clothes

• She agreed to get her kit off for the photos.

the whole (kit and) caboodle see CABOODLE

²kit verb kits; kit-ted; kit-ting

kit out/up [phrasal verb] kit out/up (someone or something) or kit (someone or something) out/up Brit : to give (someone or something) the clothing or equipment needed for a particular activity — usually used as (be) kitted out/up • The team was kitted out in new uniforms. • The room was kitted out with balloons and decorations for the party.

kitch-en /'kɪtʃən/ noun, pl -ens [count] : a room in which food is cooked • She wants a house with a large kitchen. — often used before another noun • kitchen counters/cabinets/chairs • They sat down at the kitchen table. • When he goes on vacation he takes along everything but the kitchen sink. [=an extremely large number of things] — see picture on next page; see also SOUP KITCHEN kitch-en-ette /'kɪtʃə'net/ noun, pl -ettes [count] : a small kitchen or a part of a room where food is cooked • a hotel room with a kitchenette

kitchen garden noun, pl ~ -dens [count] chiefly Brit : a garden where you grow fruits and vegetables for your own use kitchen paper noun [noncount] Brit : soft paper that is used for cleaning, wiping up liquid, etc. • a roll of kitchen paper [= (US) paper towels] — called also (Brit) kitchen roll, (Brit) kitchen towel

kite /'kaɪt/ noun, pl kites [count]

1 : a toy that is made of a light frame covered with cloth, paper, or plastic and that is flown in the air at the end of a long string • The children were flying kites.

2 : a type of hawk that has long, narrow wings

as high as a kite informal : greatly affected by alcohol or drugs : very drunk or intoxicated • The driver was as high as a kite.

go fly a kite US, informal + old-fashioned — used to tell someone who is bothering you to go away • When I asked her what was wrong, she told me to go fly a kite.

kith /'kɪθ/ noun

kith and kin old-fashioned : friends and relatives • They invited all their kith and kin to their new home.

kitsch /'kɪʃ/ noun [noncount] : things (such as movies or works of art) that are of low quality and that many people find amusing and enjoyable • The restaurant is decorated with 1950s furniture and kitsch from old TV shows.

— kitschy /'kɪʃi/ adj kitsch-i-er; -est • kitschy horror films kit-ten /'kɪtn/ noun, pl -tens [count] : a young cat have kittens Brit, informal : to become very nervous or upset about something • They had kittens when they saw the mess we made.

K

kitchen

grater

sponge

measuring spoons

bottle opener

can opener (chiefly US), tin opener (Brit)spatula (US), fish slice (Brit)

whisk

colander

dishcloth

potholder (US)

measuring cup (US)

measuring cup (US),
measuring jug (Brit)

mixing bowl

double boiler

mixer

frying pan,
skillet (chiefly US)saucepan, pot

lid

kit·ten·ish /'kɪtɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : cute and playful in a way that attracts attention • kittenish young women kit·ty /'kɪti/ noun, pl -ties [count]

1 informal : a cat or kitten • Come here, kitty, kitty.

2 : the amount of money that can be won in a card game and that is made up of all the bets added together

3 : an amount of money that has been collected from many people for some purpose • She had a $10 million kitty for her campaign.

kit·ty·cor·ner /'kɪti,kɔənə/ adv, US — used to describe two things that are located across from each other on opposite corners • The store is kitty-corner from the park.

ki·wi /'ki:,wi:/ noun, pl -wis [count]

1 Kiwi informal : a person who lives in or is from New Zealand

2 : a bird from New Zealand that cannot fly and that has a long bill

3 : KIWIFRUIT

ki·wi·fruit /'ki:,wi:,fru:t/ noun, pl kiwifruit or kiwifruits [count, noncount] : a small fruit that has green flesh, black seeds, and brown, hairy skin — see color picture on page C5

KJV abbr King James Version ♦ The King James Version is the version of the Christian Bible that is used for quotations in this dictionary.

KKK abbr Ku Klux Klan

kl abbr kiloliter

Klan /'klæn/ noun

the Klan : KU KLUX KLAN • a member of the Klan • a Klan rally

Klans·man /'klænzmə/ noun, pl Klans·men [count] : a member of the Ku Klux Klan

Klee·nex /'kli:,nɛks/ trademark — used for a paper tissue (sense 1)

klep·to·ma·nia /,kleptə'meɪniə/ noun [noncount] : a mental illness in which you have a strong desire to steal things

— klep·to·ma·ni·ac /,kleptə'meɪni,æk/ noun, pl -acs [count]

kludge or kluge /'klu:dʒ/ noun, pl kludg·es or klug·es [count] : an awkward or inferior computer system or program that is created quickly to solve a problem

— kludgy also kludgey /'klu:dʒi/ adj kludg·i·er; -est • a kludgy computer system klutz /'klʌts/ noun, pl klutz·es [count] chiefly US, informal : a person who often drops things, falls down, etc. : a clumsy person • I'm a complete klutz on the dance floor.

— klutzy /'klʌtsi/ adj klutz·i·er; -est

km abbr kilometer

knack /'næk/ noun [singular] : an ability, talent, or special skill needed to do something — usually + for or of • They have a knack for telling interesting stories. • Once you get the knack of riding a bicycle [=once you learn how to ride a bicycle], you'll never lose it.

knack·ered /'nækəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] Brit, informal : very tired or exhausted • She was too knackered to join them for dinner.

knap·sack /'næpsæk/ noun, pl -sacks [count] chiefly US : BACKPACK

knave /'nɛv/ noun, pl knaves [count] old-fashioned

1 : a dishonest man • fools and knaves

2 : a playing card that ranks below a queen and above a 10 : JACK • the knave of hearts

— knav·ish /'nɛvɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a knavish trick

knead /'ni:d/ verb kneads; knead·ed; knead·ing [+ obj]

1 : to prepare (dough) by pressing a mixture of flour, water, etc., with your hands • Knead the dough until it is smooth.

2 : to press and squeeze (a person's muscles) with your hands • He kneaded [=massaged] the muscles in my neck.

¹knee /'ni:/ noun, pl knees [count]

1 : the joint that bends at the middle of your leg • I fell down and hurt my knee. • She suffered a serious knee injury. • His knees trembled/shook with fear. • She dropped/fell/sank to her knees [=she knelt down] and begged for forgiveness. = She got down on her knees and begged for forgiveness. • He got/went down on one knee and proposed to her. • If you want to clean the floor properly, you have to get down on your (hands and) knees [=you have to kneel down on the floor] and start scrubbing. — see picture at HUMAN

2 : the upper part of your leg when you are sitting • His little granddaughter sat on his knee.

3 : the part that covers the knee on a pair of pants • Her jeans had holes at the knees.

4 : a forceful hit with a bent knee • She gave him a knee to the stomach. [=she kneed him in the stomach]

bring (someone) to his/her knees : to completely defeat or overwhelm (someone) • The general vowed he would bring the enemy to their knees. — often used figuratively • The increase in oil prices could bring the economy to its knees. [=it could greatly hurt the economy]

learn (something) at your mother's knee : to learn (something) when you are very young • I learned to speak French at my mother's knee.

on bended knee/knees see ¹BEND weak at/in the knees see WEAK

— see also BEE'S KNEES

²knee verb knees; kneed; knee·ing [+ obj] : to hit (a person) with your knee • His attacker kneed him in the stomach.

¹knee·cap /'ni:,kæp/ noun, pl -caps [count] : a flat bone on the front of your knee — called also patella; see picture at HUMAN

²kneecap verb -caps; -capped; -cap·ping [+ obj] : to shoot or break the knee of (someone) as a form of attack or punishment • They kneecapped one of the hostages.

knee·deep /'ni:'di:p/ adj

1 : reaching as high as your knees • The car was stuck in knee-deep snow.

2 : standing in something that reaches your knees — usually + in • We were knee-deep in snow. — often used figuratively • We were knee-deep in work. [=we were very busy]

— knee·deep adv • We stood knee-deep in snow.

knee·high /'ni:'haɪ/ adj : reaching as high as your knees • knee-high boots • The grass is knee-high. • (informal) I haven't seen you since you were knee-high to a grasshopper. [=since you were very young and small] knee·jerk /'ni:,dʒək/ adj, always used before a noun [more ~; most ~]

1 : occurring quickly and without thought • It was a knee-jerk [=automatic] reaction.

2 disapproving : often reacting quickly and without thought • He said that they were just a bunch of knee-jerk liberals.

kneel /'ni:l/ verb kneels; knelt /'nelt/ also chiefly US kneeled; kneel·ing [no obj] : to move your body so that one or both of your knees are on the floor • The prisoner was ordered to kneel (down) before the king. : to be in a position in which both of your knees are on the floor • She was kneeling on the floor beside her child. • He was kneeling in front of the altar and praying. — see picture at POSITION knee·length /'ni:,lɛŋkθ/ adj, of clothing : reaching the knees • a knee-length skirt • knee-length socks knee·slap·per /'ni:,slæpə/ noun, pl -pers [count] US, informal : a very funny joke or story • That's a real knee-slapper.

knee sock noun, pl ~ socks [count] chiefly US : a sock that reaches your knee — see color picture on page C13 knees·up /'ni:z,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] Brit, informal : a noisy party usually with dancing • We had a knees-up to celebrate his retirement.

knell /'nɛl/ noun, pl knells [count] literary : a sound of a bell when it is rung slowly because someone has died ♦ A death knell is a sign or indication that something will fail or end soon. • The mistake was the death knell for his campaign. • Many people thought that the Internet would sound/ring/toll the death knell for newspapers. [=cause the end of newspapers]

knelt past tense and past participle of KNEEL

knew past tense of ¹KNOW

knick·er·bock·ers /'nikə,bɔ:kəz/ noun [plural] Brit : KNICKERS 1

knick·ers /'nikəz/ noun [plural]

1 US : loose-fitting pants that reach just below the knee — called also (Brit) knickerbockers

2 Brit : PANTIES

get your knickers in a twist Brit, informal : to become upset about something that is not very important • Don't get your knickers in a twist; I'll be ready in a minute!

knick·knack /'nik,næk/ noun, pl -knacks [count] : a small object used for decoration • The shelves were filled with knickknacks.

¹knife /'naɪf/ noun, pl knives /'naɪvz/ [count] : a usually sharp blade attached to a handle that is used for cutting or as a weapon • Each dinner guest gets two forks, a knife, and a spoon. • He pulled/drew a knife on me and threatened to stab me with it. — see picture at PLACE SETTING; see also BUT-like a (hot) knife through butter informal : very quickly and easily • The bill passed through the senate like a hot knife through butter.

TER KNIFE, CARVING KNIFE, PALETTE KNIFE, PARING KNIFE, STEAK KNIFE, UTILITY KNIFE

the knives are out (for someone) — used to say that people are ready to blame or punish someone for something often in a way that is unfair • They lost yet another important game, and now the knives are out for their coach.

twist/turn the knife (in the wound) informal : to say or do things that cause more pain to someone who is already suffering • Any more cuts in government aid to these poor people will be twisting the knife in the wound.

under the knife informal : having a medical operation • I'm going under the knife [=having surgery] tomorrow.

²knife verb knives; knifed; knif-ing

1 [+ obj] : to injure (someone) with a knife • He died after being knifed in the chest.

2 [no obj] : to move easily and quickly like a knife cutting through something • ships knifing through the waves knife-edge /ˈnaɪf,ɛdʒ/ noun [singular] : something that is very narrow or sharp • The path was a knife-edge on the side of a steep hill.

on a/the knife-edge : in a dangerous or important situation in which two very different results are possible • a region resting on a knife-edge after several wars • The election results hung on a knife-edge. • living on the knife-edge of poverty

knife-point /ˈnaɪf,pɔɪnt/ noun

at knife-point — used to describe a situation in which someone is being threatened by a person with a knife • They were robbed at knife-point. [=someone robbed them while threatening them with a knife]

¹knight /ˈnaɪt/ noun, pl knights [count]

1 : a soldier in the past who had a high social rank and who fought while riding a horse and usually wearing armor

2 : a man who is given a special honor and the title of Sir by the king or queen of England • He was made/dubbed a knight.

3 : a chess piece shaped like a horse's head — see picture at CHESS knight in shining armor 1 : a man who behaves in a very brave way • The firefighter who rescued us was our knight in shining armor. 2 : a man who is the perfect romantic partner for a woman • She is still waiting for her knight in shining armor.

— see also WHITE KNIGHT

— knight-ly /ˈnaɪtli/ adj [more ~; most ~] • knightly adventures/quests

²knight verb knights; knight-ed; knight-ing [+ obj] : to give (a man) the rank of a knight • He is to be knighted by the Queen for his career as an actor.

knight-er-rant /ˈnaɪtˈerənt/ noun, pl knights-errant [count] : a knight who traveled in search of adventures in the Middle Ages knight-hood /ˈnaɪt,hud/ noun, pl -hoods : the rank or title of a knight [count] The Queen awarded a knighthood to the famous actor. [noncount] For their bravery, they were rewarded with knighthood.

¹knit /ˈnɪt/ verb knits; knit or knit-ted; knit-ting

T : to make (a piece of clothing) from yarn or thread by using long needles or a special machine [+ obj] She knit a sweater for me. = She knit/knitted me a sweater. [no obj] He likes to knit.

2 [+ obj] a : to closely join or combine (things or people) • Her novels knit (together) science and fantasy. • a style that knits together material from many different sources b : to form (something) by bringing people or things together • a town knit/knitted together by farming — see also CLOSE-KNIT, TIGHT-KNIT

3 [no obj] of a bone : to grow together and heal after being broken • It will take some time for the broken bones to knit (together).

knit your brow/brows : to move your eyebrows together in a way that shows that you are thinking about something or are worried, angry, etc. • She knit her brow and asked what I was doing.

— knit or knitted adj • a red knit shirt • a knitted blouse • closely knit communities [=communities in which people care about each other very much] • a knitted cap — knitter noun, pl -ters [count] • She is a very talented knitter.

²knit noun, pl knits [count] : a piece of clothing that has been made by knitting • cotton knits

knitting noun

1 [noncount] : the action or process of knitting clothing • She enjoys knitting.

2 [singular] : materials that are being used by someone who is knitting • She keeps her knitting in the closet.

knitting needle noun, pl ~ needles [count] : one of two or more long, thin, usually metal or plastic sticks that are pointed at one end and used for knitting — see picture at SEWING knit-wear /ˈnɪt,weə/ noun [noncount] : knitted clothing • a few pieces of knitwear

knives plural of ¹KNIFE

knob /ˈnɑːb/ noun, pl knobs [count]

1 : a round switch on a television, radio, etc. • The left knob [=dial] controls the volume.

2 : a round handle on a door, drawer, etc. • The knob [=door-knob] is stuck and I can't open the door! • a carved walking stick with a silver knob

3 chiefly Brit : a small lump or piece of something • a knob of butter/coal

4 Brit, informal + impolite : PENIS

with knobs on Brit, informal : with extra things added • The movie is just an ordinary thriller with knobs on.

cabinet knob

stove knob

doorknob

knob-bly /ˈnɑːbli/ adj knob-bli-er; -est chiefly Brit : KNOBBY • a knobbly mattress • knobbly knees knob-by /ˈnɑːbi/ adj knob-bi-er; -est chiefly US

1 : covered with small bumps • knobby tires • a knobby mattress

2 : forming hard rounded lumps • knobby knees

¹knock /ˈnɔːk/ verb knocks; knocked; knock-ing

1 [no obj] : to hit something (such as a door) with the knuckles of your hand or with a hard object (such as a knocker) in order to get people's attention • I heard someone knocking (at the door). — usually + on • I knocked on the door but no one answered. • He knocked on the table to call the meeting to order. • Campaign workers have been knocking on doors throughout the neighborhood. [=have been going to each house or apartment in the neighborhood to talk with the people who live there] — sometimes used figuratively • a talented young singer who is knocking on the door of success [=who is very close to achieving success]

2 always followed by an adverb, adjective, or preposition [+ obj] : to hit (something or someone) in a forceful way • The ball knocked him on the chin. • knock one stick against another = knock two sticks together • She knocked the glass from his hand. • He knocked the baseball over the fence. • The ball hit him in the mouth and knocked out one of his teeth. • The wind knocked him backwards. • The wind almost knocked him off his feet. = The wind almost knocked him to the ground. [=the wind hit him so hard that he almost fell to the ground] • The collision knocked him unconscious/senseless. [=caused him to become unconscious] • The collision knocked him flying. [=sent him flying through the air]

3 always followed by an adverb or preposition : to touch or hit someone or something in a way that is not planned or intended [no obj] The dog knocked against the lamp. • My knee accidentally knocked against the table. • Skaters were knocking into each other all over the ice. • I kept knocking against him during the bumpy ride. = He and I kept knocking together during the bumpy ride. [+ obj] I accidentally knocked my knee against the table.

4 [+ obj] : to make (something, such as a hole) by hitting something • He used a hammer to knock a hole in the wall.

5 [+ obj] informal : to criticize (someone or something) • He's always knocking the government. • Don't knock it until you've tried it. [=wait until you try something before criticizing it]

6 [no obj] : to produce a repeated loud noise • The engine was knocking. • The pipes were knocking.

heart is knocking informal ✧ If your heart is knocking it is beating very hard, usually because you are nervous or excited. • His heart was knocking in his chest.

knees are knocking informal ✧ If your knees are knocking they are shaking because you are nervous or afraid. • Her knees were knocking in terror.

knock around also Brit knock about [phrasal verb] informal

1 a knock around/about (a place) or knock around/about : to spend time in (a place) without having a goal or purpose : to wander around (a place) • He spent the summer knocking around (in) Europe. b knock around/about with (someone) Brit : to spend time with (another person) • She was knocking around [=hanging around] with her brother. 2 a : to be considered or discussed in an informal way over a period of time • These ideas have been knocking around [=kicking around] for years. b knock around (something) or knock (something) around : to consider or talk about (ideas, plans, etc.) in an informal way • We knocked the plan around for a while before we came to an agreement. • They knocked around several possible names for the new car. 3 knock (someone) around/about : to beat or hit (someone) badly or repeatedly • The boy was getting knocked around by bullies. — often used figuratively • I really got knocked around at the last staff meeting. 4 chiefly Brit : to be lying somewhere within a general area or place • That jacket is knocking about/around here somewhere.

knock back informal 1 knock (something) back or knock back (something) : to drink or swallow (an alcoholic drink) quickly • He stopped at a bar after work to knock back a few beers. 2 knock (someone) back : to cost (someone) a lot of money • That car must have knocked you back quite a bit. [=you must have spent a lot of money on that car] knock down [phrasal verb] 1 knock (someone or something) down or knock down (someone or something) a : to cause (someone or something) to fall to the ground • He hit him on the chin and knocked him down. • The storm knocked down [=knocked over] several big trees. • Rowdy fans knocked down the fence. • We're planning to knock down [=remove, demolish] a wall to create a bigger room. b Brit : to hit and injure or kill (a person or animal) with a vehicle • She was knocked down [= (Brit) knocked over, (US) hit] by a car while crossing the street. 2 informal a knock (something) down or knock down (something) : to reduce or lower (a price, an amount, etc.) • They knocked down the price of the house by 10 percent. • He wanted $50 for it but I managed to knock the price down to $45. b knock (someone) down : to cause or persuade (someone) to reduce a price • He wanted $50 for it but I managed to knock him down to $45. 3 knock down (an amount of money) US, informal : to receive (an amount of money) as income or salary • He knocks down almost a million dollars a year. 4 knock down (a shot) or knock (a shot) down basketball : to succeed in making (a shot) especially from a long distance • He was knocking down jump shots. 5 knock (something) down or knock down (something) chiefly US, informal : to say no to (an idea, plan, proposal, etc.) : REJECT • His boss knocked down [=shot down] all of his ideas. 6 knock (something) down or knock down (something) US : to take (something) apart • We knocked the bed down so it would fit in the truck.

knock heads US, informal 1 : to argue or disagree • The two of them knocked heads soon after they started working together. 2 : to use angry or forceful methods to control or punish people • I am going in there and knock some heads if they don't start behaving. — often + together • I am going to go in there and knock their heads together if they don't start behaving.

knock in [phrasal verb] knock (a run or runner) in or knock in (a run or runner) baseball : to cause (a run or runner) to score • He knocked in [=batted in, drove in] a run in the second inning with a double to left field.

knock off [phrasal verb] informal 1 knock off or knock (something) off or knock off (something) : to stop doing something (such as work) • We are going to knock off for lunch in 10 minutes. • The boss said we could knock off early today. = The boss said we could knock off work early today. — often used as a command to tell someone to stop doing something immediately • Knock off your fighting right now! • I told you two kids to knock it off! 2 knock (something) off or knock off (something) a : to do or make (something) very quickly • He knocked off 10 paintings in 4 days. • We are planning to knock this project off in a weekend. b : to take (an amount) away from something • He agreed to knock off 10 dollars from the price. [=to reduce the price by 10 dollars] • This shortcut will knock at least 100 miles off the journey. c US : to steal money or things from (a bank or store) • They knocked off [=knocked over] a jewelry store. d chiefly Brit : to steal (something) • They knocked off a lot of valuable merchandise. e US : to make a cheaper copy of (something) • Several other companies knocked off their dress design. — see also KNOCK-OFF 3 knock (someone) off or knock off (someone) a : to kill (someone) • He tried to knock off two men who owed him money. • Did she really want to knock her husband off? b US : to defeat (someone) • They knocked off the best team in the league.

knock on wood see ¹WOOD

knock out [phrasal verb] 1 knock (someone or something) out or knock out (someone or something) a : to make (a person or animal) unconscious • The drug knocked him out. • The force of the collision knocked him out. [=knocked him cold] • He hit his head against the table when he fell and knocked himself out. b boxing : to defeat (an opponent) with a punch that knocks the opponent down for a certain amount of time • He was knocked out in the third round. — see also ¹KNOCKOUT 1 c : to defeat (an opponent) in a competition so that the opponent cannot continue • My team was the favorite to win the championship, but we were knocked out (of the competition) in the third round. d baseball : to cause (a pitcher) to be removed from the game by getting many hits • The starting pitcher was knocked out (of the game) in the fourth inning. 2 knock (something) out or knock out (something) a : to cause (something) to stop working • Missiles knocked out the television station. • The storm knocked out electricity across the state. b : to produce (something) very quickly • a musical group that just keeps knocking out hit records 3 knock (yourself) out informal a : to make (yourself) very tired by doing work • They knocked themselves out trying to build a garage. • I knocked myself out [=I worked very hard] to get the job done on time. b US — used to tell someone to go ahead and do something • “Do you mind if I use this exercise machine first?” “Knock yourself out.” 4 knock (someone) out informal : to make a very strong and good impression on (someone) • Her beauty just knocks me out. [=I think she is very beautiful] • Everyone was knocked out by his suggestion. [=everyone liked his suggestion very much] — see also ¹KNOCKOUT 2

knock over [phrasal verb] 1 knock (someone or something) over or knock over (someone or something) a : to cause (someone or something) to fall to the ground • The dog knocked over the lamp. • The wind was so strong that it almost knocked her over. [=knocked her down] b Brit : to hit and injure or kill (a person or animal) with a vehicle • The dog was knocked over [= (Brit) knocked down, (US) hit] by a car. 2 knock (someone) over or knock over (someone) informal : to greatly surprise or shock (someone) • He was knocked over [=overwhelmed] by the news. • When I found out I had won, you could have knocked me over with a feather. [=I was extremely surprised or astonished] 3 knock (something) over or knock over (something) US, informal a : to steal money or things from (a bank or store) • Three men knocked over [=knocked off] a bank. b : to steal (something) • They knocked over a truckload of goods.

knock (someone) cold : to cause (someone) to become unconscious • He knocked his opponent cold with one punch. • She was knocked cold [=knocked out] by the collision.

knock (someone) dead informal : to make a very strong and good impression on (someone) • Her performance really knocked the audience dead. [=the audience greatly enjoyed her performance] • She told him to go out there on the stage and knock 'em dead.

knock (someone) for a loop see ¹LOOP knock (someone) for six see SIX knock someone's head/block off informal : to hit someone very hard • I'm so angry I'd like to knock his block off.

knock (someone) sideways Brit : to upset, confuse, or shock (someone) very much • The news about his mother's accident really knocked him sideways.

knock some sense into see ¹SENSE knock (something) on the head Brit, informal : to cause the end or failure of (something) • The closing of the airport knocked our holiday plans on the head.

knock spots off see ¹SPOT

knock the (living) daylight out of see DAYLIGHT

knock the stuffing out of see STUFFING knock together [phrasal verb] knock (something) together or knock together (something) : to make or build (something) in a quick or careless way • a rough table that was knocked together from old pieces of wood knock up [phrasal verb] 1 knock (someone) up or knock up (someone) informal a chiefly US, impolite : to make (someone) pregnant • She got knocked up. [=she got pregnant] b Brit : to wake (someone) by knocking on a door • knocked him up at 6 a.m. 2 knock (something) up or knock up (something) Brit : to make or produce (something) quickly • knock up a quick meal

knock your socks off see ¹SOCK

²knock noun, pl knocks

1 [count] a : a hard, sharp hit • He gave him a knock on the head. b : the sound made by a hard hit • There was a loud knock at the door.

2 [count] informal : an experience that makes you less confident or successful for a period of time : a difficult or painful experience • She took some knocks early in her career. • Most performers have their share of knocks [=setbacks] on their way to stardom. — see also HARD KNOCKS (below)

3 [count] informal : a critical or negative comment • He likes praise but can't stand the knocks. — often used in U.S. English in the phrase the knock against • The knock against her is that she can't win the important matches. [=people say that she cannot win the important matches] • One of the knocks against television is that there are too many commercials.

4 : a loud noise produced by an engine when it is not working properly [count] We heard a knock in the engine. [non-count] a type of fuel that reduces engine knock hard knocks : difficult or painful experiences that people have in their lives or careers • He has taken plenty of hard knocks in his life. • The school of hard knocks [=the difficult experiences in his life] taught him how to be tough.

knock-about /'nɑ:kə,bəʊt/ adj, always used before a noun : noisy or rough often in a silly or amusing way • knockabout humor • He lived a knockabout life in the city.

knock-back /'nɑ:k,bæk/ noun, pl -backs [count] Brit, informal : something (such as a criticism or refusal) that makes you less confident or successful • Everyone experiences a few knockbacks in their lives.

knock-down /'nɑ:k,daʊn/ adj, always used before a noun, chiefly Brit, informal, of a price : greatly reduced from the original price : extremely low • Now's your chance to buy these items at knockdown prices!

knock-down, drag-out or knock-down-drag-out adj, always used before a noun, US, informal : very angry or violent • We had a knock-down-drag-out argument.

knock-er /'nɑ:kə/ noun, pl -ers

1 [count] : a small metal device on a door that you move in order to make a knocking sound

2 knockers [plural] informal + sometimes offensive : a woman's breasts knock-kneed /'nɑ:k'ni:d/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having legs that curve inward at the knees • She is tall and knock-kneed.

knock-off /'nɑ:k,ɔ:f/ noun, pl -offs [count] : a cheap or inferior copy of something • That purse is a knockoff. — see also knock off at ¹KNOCK knock-on effect noun, pl ~ -fects [count] Brit : something (such as a process, action, or event) that causes other things to happen : RIPPLE EFFECT • The drought is likely to have a knock-on effect throughout the whole economy.

¹knock-out /'nɑ:k,aut/ noun, pl -outs [count]

1 : an occurrence in which a boxing match ends when a fighter has been knocked down by a punch and is unable to start fighting again before 10 seconds have passed • He won the match by a knockout. • He scored a knockout in the fourth round. — see also TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT

2 informal : a very attractive or appealing person or thing • She's a real knockout in that dress. — see also knock out at ¹KNOCK

²knockout adj, always used before a noun

1 : causing someone to become unconscious • a knockout punch/blow

2 informal : extremely attractive or appealing • a knockout actress/movie

3 Brit, of a contest or competition : designed so that winning teams or players continue to play and losing teams or players do not • The Wimbledon tennis tournament is a knockout competition.

knock-up noun, pl -ups [count] Brit : a time before a tennis game when players hit the ball to each other in order to practice

knoll /'nɒl/ noun, pl knolls [count] : a small hill • a grassy knoll

¹knot /'nɔ:t/ noun, pl knots [count]

1 a : a part that forms when you tie a piece of rope, string, fabric, etc., to itself or to something else • She tied the rope in a knot. • He made/tied a knot in the rope. • untie a knot • loosen/tighten a knot — see also GRANNY KNOT, SLIPKNOT, SQUARE KNOT b : a part where something has become twisted or wrapped around itself • The electrical cord was tangled in knots. • She tried to untangle the knots [=tangles] in the child's hair. — often used figuratively • The project has been tied up in political and legal knots for years. [=nothing has happened with the project for years because of political and legal problems] — see also GORDIAN KNOT

2 : a painful or uncomfortable feeling of tightness in part of your body • a knot in a muscle • massaging the knots out of my back • I was so nervous that my stomach was in knots. [=I had an unpleasant and tight feeling in my stomach]

3 : a dark round mark on a piece of wood that shows where a branch grew • a board full of knots

4 : a way of arranging long hair by twisting it into a round shape at the sides or back of the head • She pulled her hair into a knot [=bun] at the back of her neck.

5 : a group of people who are standing or sitting close together • A knot [=cluster] of people blocked the door.

6 : a unit of speed equal to one nautical mile per hour • Wind is from the north at 12 knots. • sailing at six knots

at a rate of knots see ¹RATE

tie the knot informal : to get married • When are you two going to tie the knot?

tie yourself (up) in knots 1 : to cause problems for yourself because you are being too careful, trying too hard, etc. • The mayor tied himself in knots answering a touchy political question. [=he answered it in a confused or unclear way] 2 : to become very upset or worried • I don't know why they're tying themselves in knots over such a trivial problem.

²knot verb knots; knot-ted; knot-ting

1 [+ obj] : to tie a section of rope, string, fabric, etc., to itself or to something else so that a knot forms : to make a knot in (something) • He knotted his tie so that both ends would be the same length. • knot a string/rope; also : to connect (two or more parts or things) with a knot • Knot the threads together. • She knotted a sweater around her shoulders. [=tied the sleeves of the sweater together around her shoulders]

2 [no obj] : to develop a painful or uncomfortable feeling of tightness — often + up • My stomach knotted [=tensed] up as I waited for the interview.

3 [+ obj] US, informal : to make (the score of a game or contest) equal • He scored a goal that knotted [=tied] the score at 3 all.

knot-ted /'nɔ:təd/ adj

1 : having a knot or knots • a knotted rope/cord/string

2 : KNOTTY 1 • knotted pine get knotted Brit slang — used in speech as a rude way to tell someone to go away or to show that you are annoyed with someone knot-ty /'nɔ:ti/ adj knot-ti-er; -est

1 of wood : having many dark round marks showing where branches grew : having many knots • knotty wood • knotty paneling • knotty pine

2 : difficult or complicated • a knotty problem/situation

¹know /'nu:/ verb, not used in progressive tenses knows; knew /'nu:; Brit 'nju:; known /'nəʊn/; know-ing

1 a : to have (information of some kind) in your mind [+ obj] He knows a lot about the history of the town. • Do you know the answer? • I don't know her name. • Do you know what time it is? • I don't know the words to that song. • They knew a good deal about the problem. • She knows the rules of the game. • He knows everything about horses. = He knows all/everything there is to know about horses. — often + how, why, where, etc. • Do you know why she left this suitcase here? • Do you know where she went? • No one knows (for sure) how long it will take the fix the problem. • He knows perfectly/full well how to do it. [no obj] If you want the answer, ask someone who knows. • "What is she doing?" "Believe me, you don't want to know." [=you would be shocked or upset to learn what she is doing] — often + about • He knows (all) about horses. • b : to understand (something) : to have a clear and complete idea of (something) [+ obj] I don't know much about art, but I know what I like. — usually + how, why, where, etc. • Scientists don't yet know why this happens. • I don't know what to do. • I don't know what you want me to do. • We had almost no money in those days. I don't know how we managed. • I don't know how you could be so careless. • You know perfectly/full well what I am trying to say. [no obj] "How could she do that?" "How should/would I know?" [=I don't know, and you should not expect me to know] • c [+ obj] : to have learned (something, as a skill or a language) • She knows karate/CPR. • He knows Spanish. — often + how • Do you know how to type? • I would go swimming with you, but I don't know how (to swim). [=I never learned to swim]

2 : to be aware of (something) : to realize (something) [+ obj] She knows that many people will not believe her. • I know (that) this isn't easy for you, but you have to keep trying. • As soon as I turned on the light I knew that something was missing. • There was no way for me to know that he was your brother. = How was I to know that he was your brother? • It's wrong and you know it [=you are aware that it is wrong] • "I'm sorry I threw out those bags." "It's okay: you couldn't have known that I needed them." = "It's okay: you had no way of knowing that I needed them." = (Brit) "It's okay: you weren't to know that I needed them." • You ought to know by now that she is always late. • It's impossible to know what will happen next. = There's no way of knowing what will happen next. = There's no knowing what will happen next. • If you've never been to Venice, you don't know what you're missing. [=you would enjoy going to Venice very much] • You know as well as I do that they expect us at 8:00. • You don't know how happy I am to see you. [=I am extremely happy to see you] • You'll never know what this means to me. = You can't know how much this means to me. [=this means a great deal to me] [no obj] As far as I know, they plan to arrive on Monday. [=I believe that they plan to arrive on Monday, but I am not sure] • We're planning a party for George. As you know, he'll be leaving the company next month. — often + about or of • I knew about the problem. [=I was aware of the problem] • Does she know about the meeting? • I don't know of any job openings right now. [=I am not aware of any job openings right now] • I know of her as a poet but not as a novelist. [=I am familiar with her poetry but not with her novels] • Do you know of a good lawyer? [=can you recommend a good lawyer?] • "Does he have relatives nearby?" "Not that I know of." [=I don't think he has any relatives nearby]

3 : to be certain of (something) [+ obj] Everyone else believes him, but I just know (that) he's lying. • I don't know if I can trust her. [=I am not sure that I can trust her] • It's hard to know exactly where the candidate stands on this issue. • I knew he'd forget. • I need to know if they are coming. • "She says she's not coming." "I knew it." [=I was sure that she wouldn't come] • I knew it all along. [=I was always sure of it] [no obj] "They're coming." "Do you know [=are you certain], or are you just guessing?" = "Do you know for sure/certain, or are you just guessing?" • He thinks he got the job but he doesn't know for sure.

4 [+ obj] a : to have met and talked to (someone) : to be acquainted or familiar with (a person) • "Do you know Clara?" "Yes, we've met." • "Do you know Clara?" "We've met but I wouldn't say that I really know her." [=I am not close to her; I don't know much about her] • I've known him for years. He's one of my best friends. • Knowing you, you'll be the first one there. [=because I know you so well, I expect you to be the first one there] • She's the kindest person I know. • To know him is to love him. [=the people who know him feel great affection for him] • We just bought a house here last month, and we're still getting to know our neighbors. [=we're still meeting our neighbors; we're still becoming acquainted with our neighbors] • b : to have experience with (something) : to be acquainted or familiar with (something) • She knows the city very well. • Do you know her painting/writing/work? • Do you know any good restaurants in this area? • We're still getting to know the neighborhood. • The building as we know it [=as it exists now] is quite different from how it looked when it was first built. • This is the end of the organization as we know it. [=the organization has changed and will never again be the same as it was] • c : to have experienced (something) • someone who knows grief well [=someone who has experienced a lot of grief] — usually used as known • I've known failure and I've known success. [=I have failed and I have succeeded]

5 [+ obj] a : to recognize (someone or something) : to identify (someone or something) accurately • "How will I know her?" "She'll be wearing a red sweater." • I would know [=recognize] that voice anywhere. • I know his face [=his face is familiar to me] but I don't remember his name. • I feel like I know this house, but I've never been here before. • I know many of the customers at the café by sight. [=I see them often enough that I recognize them] • b : to recognize the difference between two things : to be able to distinguish (one thing) from another • know right from wrong

6 [+ obj] a : to be sure that (someone or something) has a particular quality, character, etc., because of your experiences with that person or thing — usually followed by to + verb • I've worked with him for many years, and I know him to be an honest man. • I know the business to be legitimate. • b : to think of (someone or something) as having a particular quality, character, etc. — + as • His neighbors knew him as a quiet and friendly person, but the people he worked with saw a different side of him. — often used as (be) known as • She is known as an expert in the field. [=people consider her an expert] • c — used to indicate the name that people know or use for someone or something; + as • Her neighbors knew her as Jill Brown, but her real name was Amy Smith. — often used as (be) known as • Samuel L. Clemens was better/otherwise known as Mark Twain. [=most people called him Mark Twain] • Beethoven's Third Symphony is widely known as the "Eroica." • d — used to say that someone or something has a particular quality, feature, ability, etc., that people know about; + for • Fans of the blues know the city for its live blues clubs. — usually used as (be) known for • The restaurant is known for its desserts. [=the restaurant's desserts are popular, well-known, etc.] • She is known for her ability to work quickly. = She is known for working quickly. • He's known for being late. [=he is often late] • e ♦ Someone who has been known to be or known to do something has been or done that thing in the past. • We've known him to work all night to meet a deadline. = He's been known to work all night to meet a deadline. • I've never known her to be wrong. [=I do not know of any time when she has been wrong] • He's been known to do this kind of thing before.

before you know it : very quickly or soon • We'll be there before you know it. • The game was over before I knew it.

better the devil you know than the devil you don't see DEVIL

don't I know it informal — used to say that you agree with what has just been said • "It's freezing in here!" "Don't I know it." [=I agree]

for all I know informal — used to say that you have little or no knowledge of something • For all I know, he left last night. [=I don't know when he left; it's possible that he left last night] • She may have already accepted another job, for all we know. [=we don't know what she has done; it's possible that she has already accepted another job]

God knows or goodness knows or heaven knows or Lord knows informal 1 — used to stress that something is not known • How long will the meeting last? Heaven knows. • God (only) knows if the reports are true. 2 — used to make a statement more forceful • He finally got a raise. Goodness knows he deserved one. [=he certainly deserved one] • She didn't win, but Lord knows she tried.

have known better days see ¹BETTER

I don't know 1 — used to say that you do not have the information someone is asking for • "What time does the library close?" "I don't know." 2 informal — used to express disagreement, doubt, or uncertainty • "I don't like that guy." "Oh, I don't know, he's not really so bad." • "Which one is your favorite?" "Um, I don't know, maybe the red one." • She thinks we should go now, but I don't know. [=I'm not sure] Maybe we should wait. 3 — used to say that you are uncertain about someone or something • I don't know about you [=you may think or feel differently than I do about this], but I'm leaving. • "She said she'd be here by 5:00." "I don't know about that." [=I'm not sure that will happen] • I don't know about him—he's hard to figure out.

if you must know — used when you are answering a question that you do not want to answer because the information is personal, embarrassing, etc. • "How much did you pay for your car?" "Well, if you must know, it cost about $20,000." • "Why did you leave that job?" "If you must know, I was fired."

I'll have you know see HAVE

I know (it) 1 — used to express agreement • "Hurry up, we're going to be late." "I know, but I can't find my shoe." • "This place is such a mess." "I know it." [=I agree] • "I can't believe he lied." "I know, I know." • "The whole situation is just so stupid." "I know." 2 — used to introduce a suggestion • "What should we do tonight?" "I know [=I have an idea]—how about a movie?"

I wouldn't know — used to say that you have not experienced something • "That restaurant has the best desserts!" "I wouldn't know. I've never been there."

know best or know what's best : to know or understand better than someone else what should be done • I would take the highway myself, but you live here so you know best. • I'll do whatever you say. You know what's best.

know better 1 : to be smart or sensible enough not to do something • You walked home alone? Don't you know better (than that)? • She'll know better than to trust them again. [=she will not trust them again] • There's no excuse for his behavior. He's old enough to know better. • Don't blame him. He's just a child and he doesn't know (any) better. [=he is too young, inexperienced, etc., to be expected to behave properly] 2 : to know or understand the truth about something • She tried to tell me that it wasn't her fault, but I know better. [=I know that it really was her fault] 3 : to know or understand more than other people • You can't tell him what to do. He always thinks that he knows better.

know different/otherwise : to know that something that people think or say is true is not really true • She says she has no money but I know otherwise. [=I know that she does have money]

know from [phrasal verb] know from (someone or something) US, informal : to know anything about or care at all about (someone or something) — used in negative statements • kids who don't know from sports know no boundaries see BOUNDARY

know no bounds see BOUND know (something) backward and forward or Brit know (something) backwards or know (something) inside out or US know (something) inside and out or know (something) like the back of your hand : to know something completely • He knew the process backward and forward. • She knows the business inside and out. • I know this town like the back of my hand.

know (something or someone) for what it/he/she is : to understand what something or someone truly is • Now I know them for what they are—liars. • before scientists knew the disease for what it is—a virus • the friends who know me for what I am [=who truly know and understand me] know (something) when you see it/one : to be able to recognize or identify something immediately • She knows a bargain when she sees it. • I know a liar when I see one. • I'm not sure what I want but I'll know it when I see it.

know the drill see DRILL

know the score see SCORE

know what hit you — used in negative statements to say that something you did not expect surprised you very much • I didn't know what hit me—suddenly I just felt so dizzy. • The company came out with an entirely new line of products last year, and their competitors never knew what hit them. [=their competitors were not prepared and were completely surprised] know what it is or to know what it's like : to have experience with a situation, activity, or condition • He knows what it is to be poor. [=he has been poor] • They know what it's like to have no privacy.

know what you are talking about ✦ If you know what you are talking about, you deserve to be listened to because you have actual knowledge or experience with something and what you are saying is correct. • Take her advice. She knows what she's talking about. • "He said the movie is boring." "Don't listen to him. He doesn't know what he's talking about." [=he is wrong]

know which side your bread is buttered on see BREAD

know your own heart/mind : to be sure of what you want, like, think, etc. • She's a woman who knows her own mind.

know yourself : to understand yourself fully : to understand your own emotions, desires, abilities, etc. • I was so young then. I really didn't know myself.

know your stuff see STUFF

know your way around ✦ If you know your way around a place or thing, you are very familiar with it or are good at using or operating it. • He knows his way around Boston. • She really knows her way around a sailboat. [=she knows how to sail; she is a very good sailor] • They know their way around computers.

let (someone) know : to tell something to someone • Let me know [=tell me] if you're going to the party. • Please let me know if there's anything I can do to help. [=I would like to help; please tell me if you need help] • He's not sure what time he'll arrive—he is going to let us know. • She let the staff know her decision. [=she told the staff her decision]

let (something) be known or make (something) known formal : to tell people something • He let it be known [=he announced] that he intends to run for mayor. • She made her decision known to the staff. [=she told the staff her decision]

make yourself known formal : to introduce yourself : to cause people to know who you are • The candidate made herself known to voters through an aggressive ad campaign. • the movie in which the actor first made himself known to the world might/should have known — used to say that you are not surprised to learn of something • I should have known it would be too expensive. • "She says she's going to be late." "I might have known."

not know someone from Adam informal : to have never met with someone : to not know someone at all • Why should she trust me? She doesn't know me from Adam.

not know the first thing about : to have little or no knowledge about (something or someone) • I don't know the first thing about cooking/sports/children.

not know the meaning of (the word) see MEANING not know your ass from your elbow (chiefly US) or Brit not know your arse from your elbow informal + impolite : to know nothing : to be stupid • Don't take his word for it—he doesn't know his ass from his elbow.

what do you know informal 1 — used to express surprise • She's an astronaut? Well, what do you know! • "He's going to law school in the fall." "Well what do you know about that?" [=I am surprised that he is going to law school] 2 — used to say that someone is wrong about something • "She thinks I should take the job." "What does she know? You should do what you want."

wouldn't you know (it)? informal — used to say that something annoying that has happened is the kind of thing that often happens • I was running late and—wouldn't you know?—I rushed off without my purse. • "He's late again." "Wouldn't you know it?!"

you know informal 1 — used when you are trying to help someone remember something • They live on the other side of town. You know—near the golf course. • He was in our history class—you know [=you remember]—the tall blond guy in the front row. 2 — used for emphasis • You know, we really have to go. • It's cold outside, you know. • You know, you really should write a novel. 3 — used when you are not sure of what to say or how to say it • Would you like to, you know, go out sometime? • We're planning to go shopping and, you know, just hang out.

you know something/what? informal 1 — used to emphasize the statement that comes after it • You know something? I never trusted her. • She lied to me again, but you know what? I really just don't care any more. 2 — used to get someone's attention • Hey, you know what? I'm hungry.

you know what I mean informal — used to suggest that the hearer agrees with and understands what has been said or to ask if he or she does or not • I grew up there, you know what I mean, so I know what it's like. • He's kind of strange. Do you know what I mean? • He's kind of strange, if you know what I mean. — sometimes used in the shortened form know what I mean • He's kind of strange—know what I mean?

you know what they say informal — used to introduce a common saying or a statement that expresses a common belief • Keep trying, and you'll figure it out. You know what they say: if at first you don't succeed, try, try again.

you never know — used to say that it is impossible to be sure about what will happen • You never know—you might win the lottery. • You never know who will show up. • You never know with her parties: anyone could show up.

²know noun

in the know : having knowledge about something : having information that most people do not have • people who are in the know • For those of you not in the know, Jane is the person who founded this organization.

know·able /'nouəbəl/ adj : able to be known • information that is not easily knowable know·all /'nou,ɑ:l/ noun, pl -alls [count] Brit, informal : KNOW-IT-ALL know·how /'nou,hau/ noun [noncount] : knowledge of how to do something well : EXPERTISE • technical know-how • Does he have the know-how to help us do this?

know·ing /'nouɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun [more ~; most ~] : showing that you have special knowledge • a know-ing look/glance/smile • She looked at us in a knowing way.

know·ing·ly /'nouɪŋli/ adv [more ~; most ~]
1 : in a way that shows that you have special knowledge : in a knowing way • She looked at us knowingly. • someone who can speak knowingly about investing 2 : with knowledge of what is being done • Did he knowingly [=deliberately, purposely] withhold information?

know·it·all /'nouət,ɑ:l/ noun, pl -alls [count] informal + disapproving : a person who talks and behaves like someone who knows everything • My neighbor is a real know-it-all, always telling me what to do. — often used before another noun • my know-it-all neighbor — called also (Brit) know-all

knowl·edge /'nɑ:lɪdʒ/ noun
1 : information, understanding, or skill that you get from experience or education [noncount] She has little/no/some knowledge of fashion/history/cooking. • He has devoted himself to the pursuit of knowledge. • a thirst/quest for knowledge [singular] a knowledge of carpentry • She gained/acquired a thorough knowledge of local customs. • I have a reading knowledge of French [=I can read French], but I can't speak it fluently.
2 [noncount] : awareness of something : the state of being aware of something • He claimed to have no knowledge of the plan. = He denied all/any knowledge of the plan. • Did you have any knowledge of her intentions? • The decision was made without my knowledge. [=I did not know about the decision] common knowledge : something that many or most people know • It's common knowledge that she plans to run for mayor.

public knowledge : something that people know because it has been reported in the news • His legal problems are a matter of public knowledge.

safe/secure in the knowledge : feeling safe or secure because you know something specified • They went on vacation, safe in the knowledge that the farm would be well cared for while they were away.

to someone's knowledge : according to what someone knows — usually used in negative statements • "Did anyone arrive late?" "Not to my knowledge." • No one arrived late to my knowledge. [=I am not aware that anyone arrived late, but it is possible that someone arrived late and I don't know about it] to the best of my knowledge — used to say that you think a statement is true but that there may be something you do not know which makes it untrue • To the best of my knowledge [=as far as I know], everyone arrived on time. • I answered their questions to the best of my knowledge. [=I gave the best answers I could based on what I knew, but I might have answered differently if I had known something else]

knowl·edge·able /'nɑ:lɪdʒəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having information, understanding, or skill that comes from experience or education : having knowledge • a knowledgeable person • a knowledgeable observer • He is very knowledgeable about chess. [=he knows a lot about chess]
— knowl·edge·ably /'nɑ:lɪdʒəbli/ adv • She spoke knowledgeably on several topics.

¹known past participle of ¹KNOW
²known /'nəʊn/ adj
1 always used before a noun a : generally accepted as something specified • He's a known expert. • That's a known fact! • a known criminal b : included in the knowledge that all people considered as one group have • There is no known cure for the disease. [=there is no cure that anyone knows about, although a cure may exist that has not yet been discovered] • the earliest known use of a word [=the earliest use that anyone knows about]
2 : familiar to people — used with little, widely, etc. • a widely known story [=a story that many people know] • a little-known writer [=a writer that few people know about] — see also WELL-KNOWN

known quantity see QUANTITY know·noth·ing /'nou,nʌθɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count] : a person who lacks intelligence or knowledge : a stupid or ignorant person • He regards his political rivals as a bunch of know-nothings. — often used before another noun • a bunch of know-nothing politicians

¹knuck·le /'nʌkəl/ noun, pl knuck·les [count]
1 : any one of the thick, bony parts (called joints) in your fingers • She rapped her knuckles on the table. — see picture at HAND
2 : a piece of meat that includes a joint from the leg of an animal • a pork knuckle
a rap on/over/across the knuckles see ¹RAP rap (someone) on/over/across the knuckles see ²RAP

²knuckle verb knuck·les; knuck·led; knuck·ling
knuckle down [phrasal verb] informal : to begin to work hard • It's time to knuckle down and get to work. — often + to • She knuckled down to the task.
knuckle under [phrasal verb] informal : to stop trying to fight or resist something : to agree to do or accept something that you have been resisting or opposing • Despite the pressure, he refused to knuckle under. [=give in] — often + to • He refused to knuckle under to anyone. • He finally knuckled under to the pressure.

knuck·le·ball /'nʌkəl,bɔ:l/ noun, pl -balls [count] baseball : a pitch that is thrown with very little spin by holding the ball with the knuckles or fingertips — called also knuckler knuck·le·head /'nʌkəl,hed/ noun, pl -heads [count] US, informal : a stupid person : DUMMY • Don't be such a knucklehead.

knuck·ler /'nʌkələ/ noun, pl -lers [count] baseball : KNUCKLEBALL

¹KO /,ker'ou/ noun, pl KOs [count] boxing : ¹KNOCKOUT • He scored a KO in the second round.
²KO verb KO's; KO'd /,ker'oud/; KO'ing /,ker'owɪŋ/ [+ obj] boxing : to knock (an opponent) out • He was KO'd in the second round.

ko·ala /kə'wɑ:lə/ noun, pl -al·as [count] : an Australian animal that has thick gray fur, large hairy ears, sharp claws for climbing, and no tail — called also koala bear

kohl /'koul/ noun [noncount] : a type of makeup that is used to put a black or dark gray line or mark around the eyes • eyes rimmed with kohl

kohl·ra·bi /koul'rɑ:bi/ noun [count, non-count] : a type of cabbage that has a large, round stem and that is eaten as a vegetable kook /'ku:k/ noun, pl kooks [count] informal : a person whose ideas or actions are very strange or foolish • a bunch of kooks dressed up in weird costumes • a lovable kook

— kooky /'ku:ki/ adj kook·i·er; -est • another one of his kooky ideas • a kooky outfit/person

kook·a·bur·ra /'kukə,bərə/ noun, pl -ras [count] : a large Australian bird whose call is like loud laughter

Ko·ran also Qur·an or Qur·'an /kə'ræn, kə'rɑ:n/ noun [singular] : the book of sacred writings used in the Muslim religion

— Ko·ran·ic also Qu·ran·ic or Qur·'an·ic /kə'rænik/ adj

Ko·re·an /kə'ri:ʃən/ noun, pl -ans
1 [count] : a person born, raised, or living in Korea : a person whose family is from Korea
2 [noncount] : the language of the Korean people — Korean adj • Korean culture/art/language • the Korean people

ko·sher /'kouʃə/ adj
1 a : accepted by Jewish law as fit for eating or drinking • kosher food • kosher salt/pickles/meat/wine • a family that keeps kosher [=a family that obeys Jewish laws about eating and drinking] b : selling or serving kosher food • a kosher butcher • a kosher restaurant
2 [more ~; most ~] informal : proper or acceptable : RIGHT • Something about this deal is just not kosher.

kow·tow /'kau,tau/ verb -tows; -towed; -tow·ing [no obj] informal + disapproving : to agree too easily or eagerly to do what someone else wants you to do : to obey someone with power in a way that seems weak — usually + to • She refused to kowtow to their demands.

koala

K

kph abbr kilometers per hour

Kraut /'kraut/ noun, pl Krauts [count] informal + offensive : a German person

Krem·lin /'kremlən/ noun

the Kremlin : the government of Russia and the former Soviet Union • an announcement from the Kremlin; also : the buildings of the Russian government in Moscow • We visited the Kremlin when we traveled to Russia.

krill /'kri:l/ noun [plural] : very small creatures in the ocean that are the main food of some whales

kro·na /'krounə/ noun, pl kro·nor /'krou,nor/ [count] : a basic unit of money that is used in Sweden and Iceland; also : a coin representing one krona

kro·ne /'krounə/ noun, pl kro·ner /'krounə/ [count] : a basic unit of money that is used in Denmark and Norway; also : a coin representing one krone

kryp·ton /'krip,tɔ:n/ noun [noncount] : a chemical element that is a colorless gas and that is used especially in electric lights

KS abbr Kansas

ku·dos /'ku:,douz, Brit 'kju:,dos/ noun [noncount] informal : praise or respect that you get because of something you have done or achieved • Kudos to everyone who helped. • The company has earned kudos for responding so quickly to customers' concerns.

Ku Klux Klan /'ku:'klʌks'klæn/ noun

the Ku Klux Klan : a secret organization in the U.S. that is made up of white people who are opposed to people of other races • a member of the Ku Klux Klan — abbr. KKK

kum·quat /'kʌm,kwɑ:t/ noun, pl -quats [count] : a fruit that looks like a small orange

kung fu /,kʌŋ'fu:/ noun [noncount] : a form of fighting without weapons that was developed in China : a Chinese martial art — often used before another noun • kung fu chops/kicks • a kung fu expert/master

Kurd /'kuəd, 'kəd/ noun, pl Kurds [count] : a member of a group of people who live in a region that includes parts of Turkey, Iran, and Iraq

– Kurd·ish /'kuədɪʃ, 'kədɪʃ/ adj • Kurdish people

kvetch /'kvetʃ/ verb kvetch·es; kvetched; kvetch·ing chiefly US, informal : to complain often or constantly [no obj] They're always kvetching about something. [+ obj] They're always kvetching (to us) that nothing is any good.

– kvetch·er noun, pl -ers [count]

kW abbr kilowatt

Kwan·zaa also Kwan·za /'kwɑ:nzə/ noun, pl -zaas also -zas [count, noncount] : an African-American cultural festival held from December 26 to January 1

kWh abbr kilowatt-hour

KY abbr Kentucky

L

¹ or L /'el/ noun, pl l's or ls or L's or Ls /'elz/

1 : the twelfth letter of the English alphabet [count] a word that starts with an l [noncount] a word that starts with l

2 [count] : the Roman numeral that means 50 • LV [=55]

² or L abbr 1 large — usually used for a clothing size • The shirt comes in S, M, L, and XL. 2 left 3 length • The area of a rectangle is L x W. 4 line — used to refer to a line of poetry or of a play • act one, scene two, l 25 ♦ The abbreviation for “lines” is ll. • ll 15–25 5 liter • a 2 L bottle

la /'la:/ noun [noncount] music : the sixth note of a musical scale • do, re, mi, fa, sol, la, ti

LA abbr 1 Los Angeles 2 Louisiana

lab /'læb/ noun, pl labs [count] informal

1 : LABORATORY • working in the lab • a chemistry/computer/crime lab — often used before another noun • a lab animal [=an animal used for experiments in a laboratory] • a lab coat [=a coat worn over the clothes for protection from spills and stains in a laboratory] • a lab report [=a written report of the results of work in a lab]

2 : a class period for laboratory work • I have (a) lab today.

¹ Lab /'læb/ noun, pl Labs [count] informal : LABRADOR RETRIEVER • a black Lab

² Lab abbr, Brit Labour (Party) • Jane Smith MP (Lab)

¹ la·bel /'leɪbəl/ noun, pl -bels [count]

1 : a piece of paper, cloth, or similar material that is attached to something to identify or describe it • The name is prominently displayed on the label. • You should read the warning label before you take any medicine. • (US) a mailing label [=a piece of paper with a mailing address already printed on it]

2 : a word or phrase that describes or identifies something or someone • The word was given the label “obsolete.” • Some people describe him as “selfish,” but he doesn't deserve that label. • Once you give people labels, it's hard to see them as individuals.

3 : a company that produces musical recordings • a major/independent record label • The band has made records for/on/with several different labels in their career.

4 : a name shown on clothes that indicates the store, company, or person who sold, produced, or designed the clothes • a designer label • She always wears designer label jeans.

² label verb -bels; US -beled or -belled; US -bel·ing or -bel·ling [+ obj]

1 : to put a word or name on something to describe or identify it : to attach a label to (something) • Be sure to carefully label the switches so that you don't confuse them. • He labels

his photographs with the date and place they were taken. — often used as (be) labeled • two switches, labeled “A” and “B” 2 : to name or describe (someone or something) in a specified way : to give a label to (someone or something) • Many people have unfairly labeled him (as) “selfish.” — often used as (be) labeled • He has been labeled (as) a nuisance because of his past behavior. • words that are labeled “obsolete”

la·bia /'leɪbiə/ noun [plural] technical : the folds of skin at the outer part of a woman's sexual organs la·bi·al /'leɪbiəl/ adj, linguistics, of a sound : produced by using one or both lips • the labial sounds /f/ and /p/ — labial noun, pl -als [count] • /f/ and /p/ are labials.

¹ la·bor (US) or Brit la·bour /'leɪbər/ noun, pl -bors

1 a : physical or mental effort : WORK [noncount] A day's labor should get the job done. • Getting the job done will require many hours of difficult labor. • menial/manual labor [count] He rested from his labors. ♦ A labor of love is a task that you do for enjoyment rather than pay. • Restoring the old car was a labor of love for him. ♦ When you enjoy the fruits of your labor/labors, you enjoy the things that you have gained by working. • She worked hard for many years, but now she has retired and is able to enjoy the fruits of her labor/labors. b [noncount] : work for which someone is paid • The cost of repairing the car includes parts and labor.

2 [noncount] a : workers considered as a group • an area in which there is a shortage of cheap labor — often used before another noun • a labor dispute • The company sought to cut labor costs by increasing its efficiency. • The company has a history of poor labor relations. [=the workers and the managers of the company have had many disputes] • the labor force [=the total number of people available for working] b : the organizations or officials that represent groups of workers • The proposed new law is opposed by organized labor.

3 : the process by which a woman gives birth to a baby [noncount] She went into labor this morning. • She has been in labor for several hours. • She began to have/experience labor pains this morning. [singular] She had a difficult labor.

4 Labour [singular] Brit, politics : the Labour Party of the United Kingdom or another part of the Commonwealth of Nations • a proposal that is opposed by Labour

² labor (US) or Brit la·bour verb -bors; -bored; -bor·ing [no obj]

1 a : to do work • Workers labored in the vineyard. • He labored for several years as a miner. b : to work hard in order to achieve something • She has labored in vain to convince them to accept her proposal. • Both sides continue to labor [=struggle] to find a solution. • We should honor those who labored so long to make the truth known.

2 : to move or proceed with effort • The truck labored up the hill. • I have been laboring through this book for months.

3 : to repeat or stress something too much or too often • She has a tendency to labor the obvious. • I don't want to labor [=belabor] the point, but I think I should mention again that we are running out of time.

labor under a delusion/misapprehension/misconception ✧ If you continue to believe something that is not true, you are laboring under a delusion/misapprehension/misconception. • He still labors under the delusion that other people value his opinion.

lab-o-ra-to-ry /'læbrəˌtɔːri, Brit 'læbrəˌtɪri/ noun, pl -ries [count] : a room or building with special equipment for doing scientific experiments and tests • experiments conducted in a modern laboratory • a research laboratory — often used before another noun • laboratory experiments/research/studies/tests — see also LANGUAGE LABORATORY labor camp noun, pl ~ camps [count] : a place where prisoners are kept and forced to do hard physical labor

Labor Day noun, pl ~ Days [count, noncount] : the first Monday in September celebrated in the U.S. as a holiday in honor of working people la-bored (US) or Brit la-boured /'leɪbəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : produced or done with great effort • The patient's symptoms included a rapid pulse and labored breathing.

2 : not having an easy or natural quality • The movie's dialogue seems very labored. • labored writing/speech

la-bor-er (US) or Brit la-bour-er /'leɪbərə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who does hard physical work for money • a farm laborer • He has been working as a laborer on a construction project. — see also DAY LABORER la-bor-in-ten-sive (US) or Brit la-bour-in-ten-sive /'leɪbərɪnˌtensɪv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : requiring a lot of work or workers to produce • the labor-intensive task of weaving cloth • The manufacturing process is labor-intensive and expensive. — compare CAPITAL-INTENSIVE la-bo-ri-ous /ləˈbɔːrɪəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : requiring a lot of time and effort • Removing mildew stains is a laborious [=difficult, painstaking] task. • a slow and laborious process/procedure

— la-bo-ri-ous-ly adv • They spent many hours laboriously polishing the silverware. — la-bo-ri-ous-ness noun [non-count]

la-bor-sav-ing (US) or Brit la-bour-sav-ing /'leɪbəˌsərɪŋ/ adj : designed to make a job or task easier to do • a labor-saving device such as a dishwasher labor union noun, pl ~ unions [count] US : an organization of workers formed to protect the rights and interests of its members : UNION

Lab-ra-dor retriever /'læbrəˌdɔːr/ noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a medium to large short-haired dog that is black, yellow, or brown in color — called also Lab, Labrador; see picture at DOG

lab-y-rinth /'læbəˌrɪnθ/ noun, pl -rⁱⁿths [count]

1 : a place that has many confusing paths or passages : MAZE • an immense underground labyrinth • a complex labyrinth of tunnels and chambers

2 : something that is extremely complicated or difficult to understand • The cockpit was a labyrinth of instruments and controls. • a labyrinth of social customs and rules

— lab-y-rin-thine /ˌlæbəˌrɪnθən, Brit ˌlæbəˌrɪnθaɪn/ adj [more ~; most ~] • He found it difficult to follow the movie's labyrinthine [=elaborate, intricate] plot. • the labyrinthine halls of the palace

¹lace /leɪs/ noun, pl lac-es

1 [count] : a cord or string used for tying or holding things together; especially : SHOELACE • I need new laces for these shoes.

2 [noncount] : a very thin and light cloth made with patterns of holes • She wore lace on her wedding gown. — often used before another noun • lace curtains/tablecloth • a white lace scarf

²lace verb laced; lac-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to pull a lace through the holes of (a shoe, boot, etc.) • She was lacing (up) her shoes. b [no obj] : to be tied or fastened with a lace • a dress that laces in the back c [+ obj] : INTERLACE, INTERTWINE • She laced her fingers (together) behind her head.

2 [+ obj] a : to add a small amount of a powerful substance (such as alcohol, a drug, or a poison) to (something, such as a drink) — usually + with • Someone had laced the punch with brandy. • The pills had been laced with poison. b : to add something that gives flavor or interest to (something) — usually used as (be) laced with • a sauce laced with garlic [=a sauce that has had garlic added to it] • conversation laced with sarcasm • Her reports were often laced with witty humor.

lac-er-ate /'læsəˌreɪt/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj] : to cut or tear (someone's flesh) deeply or roughly • The broken glass lacerated his feet. • The patient's hand was severely lacerated. — sometimes used figuratively • Her cruel remarks lacerated his feelings.

— lacerating adj • his lacerating [=extremely harsh] attacks on his critics lac-er-a-tion /ˌlæsəˌreɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a deep cut or tear of the flesh • She suffered lacerations on her legs.

2 [noncount] : the act of cutting or tearing flesh • The broken glass caused severe laceration of his feet.

lace-up /'leɪsˌʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] : a shoe or boot that is fastened with laces • a pair of lace-ups — often used before another noun • lace-up boots/shoes lach-ry-mose /'lækrəˌmɔːs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal + literary

1 : tending to cause tears : MOURNFUL • a lachrymose drama

2 : tending to cry often : TEARFUL • a drama with a lachrymose hero

¹lack /'læk/ verb lacks; lacked; lack-ing : to not have (something) [+ obj] His book lacks any coherent structure. • They lack a good strategy for winning the election. • This painting lacks any artistic value. : to not have enough of (something) • She has never been accused of lacking confidence. • lack money • Many of these people lack the basic necessities of life. [no obj] (chiefly US) — + for • The area does not lack for good restaurants. [=the area has many good restaurants] • She does not lack for confidence.

²lack noun : the state or condition of not having any or enough of something : the state or condition of lacking something [singular] The problem is a lack of money. • a lack of experience • She has been suffering from a lack of sleep lately. [noncount] Her problem is lack of sleep. • There was no lack of interest in the proposal. [=there was much interest in the proposal] • His honesty, or lack thereof, is the real problem. [=the real problem is his lack of honesty] • They called it a comet, for lack of a better term/word. [=because they could not think of a better term/word for it] lack-a-dai-si-cal /ˌlækəˈdeɪzɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling or showing a lack of interest or enthusiasm • a lackadaisical student • His teachers did not approve of his lackadaisical approach to homework.

— lack-a-dai-si-cal-ly /ˌlækəˈdeɪzɪkli/ adv

lack-ey /'læki/ noun, pl -eys [count] disapproving : a person who is or acts like a weak servant of someone powerful • He was nothing but a spineless lackey of the establishment. • a celebrity surrounded by his lackeys

lack-ing /'lækɪŋ/ adj

1 : not having any or enough of something that is needed or wanted • Evidence that supports his claims is lacking. • Her performance was somehow lacking. — often + in • This wine is lacking in any real flavor. [=this wine does not have any real flavor] • The applicant was completely/totally lacking in experience. • The case was found (to be) lacking in merit.

2 : needed, wanted, or expected but not present or available • There was something lacking [=missing] in her performance.

lack-lus-ter (US) or Brit lack-lus-tre /'lækˌlʌstə/ adj [more ~; most ~] : lacking excitement or interest • a lackluster [=dull, mediocre] performance • His writing can be lackluster [=uninspired] at times.

la-con-ic /ləˈkɑːnɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : using few words in speech or writing • a laconic reply/response • a laconic manner/style • laconic humor • He had a reputation for being laconic. synonyms see CONCISE

— la-con-i-cal-ly /ləˈkɑːnɪkli/ adv

lac-quer /'lækə/ noun, pl -quers [count, noncount] : a liquid that is spread on wood or metal and that dries to form a hard and shiny surface • Many coats of lacquer were applied to the table.

— lac-quered /'lækəd/ adj • a lacquered table

la-crosse /lə'kra:s/ noun [noncount] : an outdoor game in which players use long-handled sticks with nets for catching, throwing, and carrying the ball lac-tate /'læk,tet/ verb -tates; -tat-ed; -tat-ing [no obj] technical, of a woman or a female animal : to produce milk • lactating mothers

— lac-ta-tion /læk'teɪʃən/ noun [noncount] lac-tic acid /'læktɪk-/ noun [noncount] technical : a chemical produced by the body in your muscles during exercise lac-tose /'læk,tous/ noun [noncount] chemistry : a type of sugar that is present in milk • people who are lactose intolerant [=unable to digest lactose]

la-cu-na /lə'ku:nə, Brit lə'kju:nə/ noun, pl -nae /-,naɪ/ or -nas [count] formal : a gap or blank space in something : a missing part • She found a lacuna in the historical record.

lacy /'leɪsi/ adj lac-i-er; -est

1 : made of lace • a lacy veil/border

2 : resembling lace • The flower's petals are lacy and delicate.

lad /'læd/ noun, pl lads [count] informal

1 chiefly Brit : a boy or young man • a charming young lad • Life was hard when I was a lad. • Well, lad, I hope you won't make the same mistake again! • He's a good lad at heart. — compare LASS

2 Brit : a man with whom you are friendly : FELLOW, CHAP • They can't treat us like that, can they, lads?! • He was out drinking with the lads [= (US) the guys, the boys] at the pub. ♦ In British English, a man who is a bit of a lad does things that are considered a bit wild, such as getting drunk and having sexual relations with many women. • He was a bit of a lad until he settled down.

lad-der /'lædər/ noun, pl -ders [count]

1 : a device used for climbing that has two long pieces of wood, metal, or rope with a series of steps or rungs between them • climb a ladder — see also STEPLADDER

2 : a series of steps or stages by which someone moves up to a higher or better position • He was moving up the corporate ladder. • climbing the social ladder • She worked her way up from the lowest rung on the economic ladder.

3 Brit : a long hole in a stocking : RUN • She got/had a ladder in her stocking.

— ladder verb -ders; -dered; -der-ing [no obj] Brit • My stockings laddered. [+ obj] laddered tights lad-die /'lædi/ noun, pl -dies [count] chiefly Scotland, informal : a young boy • a wee laddie — compare LASSIE lad-dish /'lædɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] Brit, informal : having qualities or ways of behaving that are considered typical of young men • a laddish actor • laddish horseplay — lad-dish-ness noun [noncount]

lad-en /'leɪdn/ adj [more ~; most ~] : loaded heavily with something : having or carrying a large amount of something • a richly/heavily laden buffet table [=a buffet table on which there is a large amount of food] • sugar-laden junk food — usually + with • mules/trucks heavily laden with supplies • branches laden with fruit • airline passengers laden with luggage — often used figuratively • The song is laden with meaning and feeling. [=the song has/carries a lot of meaning and feeling] • His voice was heavily laden with sarcasm. [=his voice was very sarcastic]

la-di-da /,lə'di'dɑ:/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : acting or talking in a false and annoying way that is thought to be typical of rich and important people • some la-di-da movie star • talking with a la-di-da accent

la-dies /'leɪdɪz/ noun [singular] Brit, informal : LADIES' ROOM — usually used with the • Can you tell me where the ladies is, please? — compare GENTS ladies' man noun, pl ~ men [count] informal : a man who enjoys being with and giving attention to women • He considered himself a real ladies' man.

ladies' room noun, pl ~ rooms [count] US : a public bathroom for use by women and girls — called also (US) women's room, (Brit) ladies; compare MEN'S ROOM

¹la-dle /'leɪdl/ noun, pl la-dles [count] : a large and deep spoon with a long handle that is used for serving a liquid • a soup ladle

²ladle verb ladies; la-dled; la-dling [+ obj] : to take up and lacrosse

carry (a liquid) by using a large spoon : to serve (a liquid) with a ladle • The soup was ladled into the bowls. • ladling the wine into cups — often + out • volunteers ladling out soup to homeless people — sometimes used figuratively • He's always ladling out unwanted advice to his friends.

la-dy /'leɪdi/ noun, pl -dies [count]

1 : a woman who behaves in a polite way • Her mother was always telling her to act like a lady. • She's a real lady.

2 : WOMAN • He bumped into some lady walking to the bus stop. • (chiefly US, informal) She's one feisty/sexy lady, I can tell you! • He helped a little old lady cross the street. — used especially in polite speech or when speaking to a group of women • The lady behind the counter will take your order. • She told her little boy to say "thank you" to the nice lady for helping them. • Would someone please get the/this lady a chair? • Good evening, ladies and gentlemen! • Please step this way, ladies. — sometimes used informally in U.S. English when speaking to one woman • Hey, lady, you forgot your purse! [= (more commonly and politely) excuse me, ma'am, you forgot your purse] — sometimes used informally before another noun • a lady doctor [= (more commonly and politely) a female/woman doctor] ♦ The phrase young lady is used in informal speech as a form of address for a girl or young woman. An angry parent speaking to a daughter, for example, might address her as young lady. • Just where do you think you're going, young lady?! — see also BAG LADY, CLEANING LADY, DRAGON LADY, lady luck at 'LUCK

3 : a woman of high social position • the ladies of society

4 a informal : a man's girlfriend • I've been wanting to meet his new lady. b chiefly Brit, old-fashioned : a man's wife • What would you and your good lady like to drink?

5 Lady : a woman who is a member of the nobility — used as a title • Lady Margaret it ain't over until/till the fat lady sings US, informal — used to say that the final result of something (such as a sports contest) has not yet been decided and could still change • We're losing, but remember: it ain't over till the fat lady sings. [=the game is not over; there is still a chance that we could win]

— see also FIRST LADY, LEADING LADY, OLD LADY

la-dy-bug /'leɪdi,bʌg/ noun, pl -bugs [count] US : a type of small flying insect that has a round red back with dark spots — called also (Brit) la-dy-bird /'leɪdi,bɜ:d/ see color picture on page C10

la-dy-in-wait-ing /'leɪdɪjn'weɪtɪŋ/ noun, pl la-dies-in-wait-ing [count] : a woman whose job is provide help to a queen or princess la-dy-kill-er /'leɪdi'kɪlə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal + somewhat old-fashioned : a man who is known for being very attractive to women and who has relations with many women • He had a reputation as a real lady-killer.

la-dy-like /'leɪdi,lʌk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : polite and quiet in a way that has traditionally been considered suited to a woman • ladylike behavior • encouraging young women to be more ladylike

lady of the house noun

the lady of the house somewhat old-fashioned : the female family member who has the most responsibility for taking care of and making decisions about the household • Is the lady of the house at home?

La-dy-ship /'leɪdi,ʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships [count] chiefly Brit — used in addressing or referring to a woman who is a member of the nobility • Her Ladyship is not at home. • Can I get Your Ladyship anything else?

¹lag /'læg/ verb lags; lagged; lag-ging

1 [no obj] a : to move more slowly than others : to fail to walk or move as quickly as others — usually + behind • One of the hikers kept lagging behind the rest of the group. • We had to stop and wait because someone was lagging behind. b : to be in a position that is behind others — usually + behind • a politician who is lagging behind [=trailing] in the election campaign • The company has lagged behind its competitors in developing new products.

2 [no obj] : to happen or develop more slowly than expected or wanted — usually + behind • Production has continued to lag (far/well/way) behind schedule/demand.

— compare ³LAG

²lag noun, pl lags [singular] : a space of time between two events • There is a lag of a day or two between the time you deposit a check and the time the funds are available for withdrawal. • There is a slight lag between the time when the camera's shutter is pressed and the actual taking of the picture. • Work on the project has resumed after a lag of several months. — called also time lag; see also JET LAG

³lag verb lags; lagged; lagging [+ obj] Brit : to cover (something, such as a pipe) with a special material (called lagging) that keeps it from losing or gaining heat • Be sure to lag [=insulate] the pipe to prevent heat loss. — compare ¹LAG

la·ger /'lɑ:gə/ noun, pl -gers [count, noncount] : a type of beer that is light in color and is aged at cool temperatures • a pint of lager lager lout noun, pl ~ louts [count] Brit, informal : a man who gets drunk and then behaves badly lag·gard /'læɡəd/ noun, pl -gards [count] somewhat old-fashioned : a person or thing that does not go or move as quickly as others • The company has been a laggard in developing new products.

— laggard adj [more ~; most ~] • He was laggard [=slow] in payment of his debts.

lag·ging /'læɡɪŋ/ noun [noncount] Brit : a special material that is used to cover something (such as a pipe) to keep it from losing or gaining heat

la·goon /lə'gu:n/ noun, pl -goons [count] : an area of sea water that is separated from the ocean by a reef or sandbar • a tropical blue lagoon

laid past tense and past participle of ¹LAY laid-back /'leɪd'bæk/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : relaxed and calm • My boss is pretty laid-back about most things. • a laid-back attitude • He enjoyed the restaurant's laid-back style.

lain past participle of ¹LIE

lair /'leə/ noun, pl lairs [count]

1 : the place where a wild animal sleeps • tracking the bear back to its lair

2 : a place where someone hides or where someone goes to be alone and to feel safe or comfortable • the villain's lair • She runs the project from her private lair in the suburbs.

laird /'leəd/ noun, pl lairds [count] : a man who owns a large amount of land in Scotland lairy /'leri/ adj lairy·ler; -est [also more ~; most ~] Brit slang : unpleasantly loud, confident, etc. • When he drinks he gets a bit lairy.

¹lais·sez-faire /,le,sɛɪ'feə/ noun [noncount] economics : a policy that allows businesses to operate with very little interference from the government • a strong advocate of laissez-faire

²laissez-faire adj, always used before a noun [more ~; most ~] economics : favoring a policy that allows businesses to operate with very little interference from the government • laissez-faire capitalism/economics — often used figuratively • She took a laissez-faire approach to managing her employees. [=she allowed her employees to do what they chose to do without much direction from her]

la·ity /'leɪəti/ noun [noncount] : the people of a religion who are not priests, ministers, etc. • a member of the laity • The laity has/have played an important role in the history of the church. — compare CLERGY, LAYMAN, LAYWOMAN lake /'leɪk/ noun, pl lakes [count] : a large area of water that is surrounded by land • They own a cottage at/by/on the lake. • the shores of the lake — often used in names • Lake Michigan — see color picture on page C7

(go) jump in a/the lake chiefly US, informal — used as an angry way to tell someone to go away • I was so mad at him that I told him to go jump in a lake.

lake-front /'leɪk,frʌnt/ noun, pl -fronts [count] chiefly US : the land beside a lake • We went for a walk down at the lakefront. — often used before another noun • lakefront property lake-shore /'leɪk,ʃɔə/ noun, pl -shores [count] : the shore of a lake • Follow this path to the lakeshore.; also : LAKEFRONT • lakeshore condominiums lake-side /'leɪk,sɑɪd/ noun, pl -sides [count] : LAKEFRONT — usually used before another noun • a lakeside home/cottage/community

la-la land /'lɑ:lɑ:/ noun [noncount] informal

1 : the mental state of someone who is not aware of what is really happening — usually used in the phrase in la-la land • I tried to talk to him, but he was off in la-la land. • If that's what she thinks, she's living in la-la land. — called also (Brit) cloud-cuckoo-land

2 La-La Land — used as a nickname for Los Angeles, California • stories about life in La-La Land

lam /'læm/ noun

on the lam US, informal : trying to avoid being caught by the police • two escaped convicts on the lam ♦ If you take it on the lam, you try to escape. This expression is now used mainly to suggest or imitate the language of old movies about gangsters. • She stole a lot of money from her employer and took it on the lam.

la·ma /'lɑ:mə/ noun, pl -mas [count] : a Buddhist priest of Tibet or Mongolia

La-maze /lə'mɑ:z/ adj, always used before a noun, medical : of or relating to a method of preparing women to give birth to children without the use of drugs • taking Lamaze classes • the Lamaze method

¹lamb /'læm/ noun, pl lambs

1 a [count] : a young sheep • She's as gentle as a lamb. • a sacrificial lamb — compare EWE, ¹RAM b [noncount] : the meat of a lamb • leg/rack of lamb • lamb chops

2 [count] informal : an innocent, weak, or gentle person • You poor lamb.

like a lamb to the slaughter : in a very innocent way : without knowing that something bad will happen • He walked into the meeting like a lamb to the slaughter.

mutton dressed as lamb see MUTTON

²lamb verb lambs; lambed; lamb·ing [no obj] of a sheep : to give birth to a lamb • The ewes will lamb soon.

lam·baste or lam·bast /,læm'beɪst, ,læm'bæst/ verb -bastes or -basts; -bast·ed; -bast·ing [+ obj] : to criticize (someone or something) very harshly • The coach lambasted the team for its poor play. • They wrote several letters lambasting the new law.

lam·bent /'læmbənt/ adj, formal + literary

1 : shining or glowing softly • lambent flames • lambent sunlight glinting off the waves

2 : having a light, appealing quality • a writer known for her lambent wit

lamb·skin /'læm,skɪn/ noun, pl -skins [count, noncount] : the skin of a lamb • gloves made of lambskin — often used before another noun • lambskin gloves lambs·wool /'læmz,wʊl/ noun [noncount] : soft wool from lambs — often used before another noun • a lambswool sweater lame /'leɪm/ adj lam·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : having an injured leg or foot that makes walking difficult or painful • a lame horse • The horse had gone lame, and it grew lamer. • The accident left him lame for life.

2 informal : not strong, good, or effective : WEAK • He offered a lame apology/defense/excuse for his actions. • That joke was lame.

3 US, informal : not smart or impressive • She's nice, but her boyfriend is really lame.

the lame : people who are lame • providing care for the sick and the lame

— lame·ly adv • He hobbled lamely down the path. • He lamely listed his excuses. — lame·ness noun [noncount] • a common cause of lameness in horses • the lameness of his excuse la·mé /lə'meɪ/ noun [noncount] : shiny cloth that contains silver or gold threads lame·brain /'leɪm,breɪn/ noun, pl -brains [count] US, informal : a stupid person • Listen, lamebrain, we've had enough of your idiotic suggestions!

— lamebrain or lame-brained /'leɪm,breɪnd/ adj, always used before a noun • lamebrain [=stupid] ideas • The movie is a lamebrained comedy.

lame duck noun, pl ~ ducks [count]

1 chiefly US : an elected official whose time in an office or position will soon end • The President was a lame duck during the end of his second term. — often used before another noun • a lame-duck president

2 chiefly Brit : a person, company, etc., that is weak or unsuccessful and needs help

¹la·ment /lə'ment/ verb -ments; -ment·ed; -ment·ing formal : to express sorrow, regret, or unhappiness about something [no obj] She lamented over the loss of her best friend. • (chiefly US) He was lamenting about rising gasoline prices. [+ obj] She lamented (the fact) that she had lost her best friend. = She lamented having lost her best friend. = She lamented the loss of her best friend. • "I've lost my best friend!" she lamented. — see also LAMENTED

²lament noun, pl -ments [count] formal : an expression of sorrow; especially : a song or poem that expresses sorrow for someone who has died or something that is gone • The poem is a lament for a lost love.

la·men·ta·ble /lə'mentəbəl, 'læməntəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : deserving to be criticized or regretted • The region has a long and lamentable [=regrettable] history of ethnic fighting. • a lamentable [=unfortunate] consequence of the war

— la·men·ta·bly /lə'mentəbli, 'læməntəbli/ adv • Funding for the project was lamentably low. • Lamentably, they were unprepared for the disaster.

lam·en·ta·tion /,læmən'teɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions formal : an expression of great sorrow or deep sadness [count] bitter lamentations for the dead [noncount] words spoken in lamentation for the dead

la·ment·ed /lə'mentəd/ adj, always used before a noun : deeply missed — used to refer to someone who has died • her late lamented husband

¹lam·i·nate /'læmə,neɪt/ verb -nates; -nat-ed; -nat-ing [+ obj] : to cover (something) with a thin layer of clear plastic for protection • laminate a photograph

²lam·i·nate /'læmənət/ noun, pl -nates : a product made by pressing together thin layers of material [noncount] The kitchen counters are made of plastic laminate. [count] plastic laminates

lam·i·na·ted /'læmə,neɪtəd/ adj

1 : made by pressing together thin layers of material • laminated wood • laminated kitchen counters

2 : covered with a thin layer of clear plastic for protection • a laminated photograph

lamp /'læmp/ noun, pl lamps [count]

1 : a device that produces light • turn on/off the lamp • a street lamp • a table/desk lamp • an oil lamp [=a device that produces light by burning oil] — see picture at LIVING ROOM; see also FLOOR LAMP

2 : LIGHT BULB

lamp·light /'læmp,lart/ noun [noncount] : the light of a lamp • We could see the glow of lamplight in the window.

¹lam·poon /læm'pu:n/ verb -poons; -pooned; -poon-ing [+ obj] : to publicly criticize (someone or something) in a way that causes laughter : to mock or make fun of (someone or something) • The politician was lambpooned in cartoons.

²lampoon noun, pl -poons [count] : a piece of writing, a cartoon, etc., that mocks or makes fun of a well-known person or thing • He said such ridiculous things that he was often the target of lampoons in the press.

lamp·post /'læmp,poust/ noun, pl -posts [count] : a post with an outdoor lamp on top lamp·shade /'læmp,ʃeɪd/ noun, pl -shades [count] : a cover that softens or directs the light of a lamp • a silk/glass/paper lampshade

LAN /'læn, ,el,eɪ'en/ noun, pl LANs [count] : LOCAL AREA NETWORK

¹lance /'læns, Brit 'lɑ:ns/ noun, pl lanc-es [count] : a long, pointed weapon used in the past by knights riding on horses

²lance verb lances; lanced; lanc-ing [+ obj] medical : to cut (an infected area on a person's skin) with a sharp tool so that pus will flow out • He had the boil/blister on his arm lanced.

lance corporal noun, pl ~ -rals [count] : a person in the U.S. Marines, the Royal Marines, or the British Army with a rank just below that of corporal lan·cet /'lænsət, Brit 'lɑ:nsət/ noun, pl -cets [count] medical : a sharp tool used for cutting the skin

¹land /'lænd/ noun, pl lands

1 [noncount] : the solid part of the surface of the Earth : an area of ground • arid/fertile/flat land • the land along the highway • The land stretched as far as you could see. • They cleared some land to grow crops. • After two days of sailing, we were miles from land. • They invaded the country by land and by sea. — often used before another noun • land animals [=animals that live on land] • a total land area of two miles • a land battle/war [=a battle/war fought on the ground rather than at sea or in the air] — see also DRY LAND, LAY OF THE LAND, WETLAND

2 : an area of the earth's solid surface that is owned by someone [noncount] They own land in Alaska. • They bought some land and built a house. • a piece/plot of land [plural] His lands extend as far as the eye can see. — often used before another noun • land development/ownership/prices

3 [count] : a country or nation • He was the most powerful politician in the land. • foreign lands • the lands of/in the Far East • He always remained loyal to his native land. [=the country in which he was born] • America, the land of oppor- tunity — sometimes used figuratively • in the land [=realm] of dreams • a land of illusion — see also DREAMLAND, LA-LA LAND, NEVER-NEVER LAND, NO-MAN'S LAND, PROMISED LAND

4 the land : land in the countryside that is thought of as providing a simple and good way of living • He wanted to move/get back to the land. • people who are living off the land [=getting food by farming, hunting, etc.] • farmers working the land [=planting and growing crops]

how the land lies chiefly Brit : the true facts about a situation • Let's see how the land lies before we make any decisions. • We don't know how the land lies.

in the land of the living informal : ALIVE • I hadn't heard from him for years and was glad to find him still in the land of the living.

land of milk and honey : a place where there is plenty of food and money and life is very easy • Many immigrants thought that America was a land of milk and honey.

live off/on the fat of the land see ²FAT

²land verb lands; land-ed; land-ing

1 a [no obj] : to return to the ground or another surface after a flight • The plane landed on the runway. • We watched the seaplanes landing on the water. • The bird landed in a tree. • A butterfly landed on the flower. • Our flight was scheduled to land in Pittsburgh at 4:00. • It was raining heavily at the airport when we landed. • The plane landed safely. b [+ obj] : to cause (an airplane, helicopter, etc.) to return to the ground or another surface after a flight • The pilot was able to land the plane on the runway.

2 a [no obj] : to hit or come to a surface after falling or moving through the air • I fell and landed on my shoulder. [=my shoulder hit the ground when I fell] • He tripped and his plate landed on the floor. [=his plate fell to the floor] • The golf ball landed in the trees. • I could not see where the ball landed. • The cat fell from the tree but landed on its feet. — sometimes used figuratively • He lost his job but landed on his feet [=ended up in a good situation] when he was hired by another company just a few days later. b [+ obj] sports : to complete (a jump or other athletic movement) by landing on your feet • The skater landed all her jumps. • He landed his dismount from the parallel bars perfectly.

3 a [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to be in a specified place or situation • The injury landed her in the hospital. • His carelessness is going to land him in trouble. b [no obj] : to reach or come to a place or situation that was not planned or expected • He landed (up) in jail. [=he ended up in jail] • She took the wrong subway and landed on the other side of town. • The team landed in first place. • Another memo from the boss landed on my desk [=came to my desk] today.

4 [+ obj] : to succeed in getting (something) • He landed the job. • The salesman landed the order. • She landed the lead part in the play.

5 a [+ obj] : to put (someone or something) onto the shore from a ship or boat • The boat landed him close to the beach. • The boat landed its cargo close to the beach. • These craft are designed for landing troops and equipment. b [no obj] : to go onto the shore from a ship or boat • The troops landed on the island. c [no obj] of a ship or boat or its passengers : to reach the shore • Will the cruise ship land [=arrive] on schedule? • The boat landed at dusk. • There was nowhere for the boat to land.

6 [+ obj] : to catch and bring in (a fish) • Farther down the stream he landed a trout.

7 [+ obj] : to hit someone with (a punch, blow, etc.) • During the fight he never landed a punch.

land in your lap see ¹LAP land with [phrasal verb] land (someone) with (something or someone) Brit, informal : to force (someone) to deal with (something or someone unpleasant) • I always get landed with the washing-up.

land·ed /'lændəd/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : owning a large amount of land • the landed gentry/aristocracy/class

2 : including a large amount of land • a landed estate • land-ed wealth land·fall /'lænd,fɑ:l/ noun, pl -falls [count] : the land that is first seen or reached after a journey by sea or air • From the deck of the boat, we saw our first landfall. • They made land-fall [=they reached land] on the fourth day of their journey.

land·fill /'lænd,fɪl/ noun, pl -fills

1 [noncount] : a system in which waste materials are buried under the ground • using landfill to dispose of trash

2 : an area where waste is buried under the ground [count] waste buried in landfills [noncount] Part of the city was built on landfill.

land·form /'lænd,foərm/ noun, pl -forms [count] geology : a natural feature (such as a mountain or valley) of the Earth's surface • landforms created by glaciers land·hold·er /'lænd,houldə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who owns land : LANDOWNER • a large landholder [=a person who owns a large amount of land]

— land·hold·ing /'lænd,houldɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count] • a wealthy man with large landholdings

land·ing /'lændɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 : an act of returning to the ground or another surface after a flight [count] The plane made a smooth/perfect landing. • The helicopter had to make an emergency landing. • The pilot was practicing takeoffs and landings. • a lunar/moon landing [=a landing on the moon] [noncount] Landing in high winds can be dangerous. • Our plane was cleared for landing. — often used before another noun • an airplane's landing lights • a landing zone/site — see also SOFT LANDING

2 [count] : a level area at the top of stairs or between two sets of stairs • We stopped to rest at the first floor landing.

3 [count] : a place where boats and ships load and unload passengers and cargo • I waited at the landing for the ferry.

4 [count] : a military action in which soldiers are brought by boat, airplane, helicopter, etc., to land at a place controlled by the enemy • troop landings landing craft noun, pl ~ craft [count] : a boat or ship designed to bring soldiers and equipment to the shore landing field noun, pl ~ fields [count] : a field where aircraft land and take off : AIRFIELD landing gear noun [noncount] : the wheels and other parts of an aircraft that support its weight when it is on the ground — called also undercarriage

landing strip noun, pl ~ strips [count] : AIRSTRIP land·la·dy /'lænd,leɪdi/ noun, pl -dies [count]

1 : a woman who owns a house, apartment, etc., and rents it to other people

2 : a woman who runs an inn, pub, or rooming house — compare LANDLORD land·less /'lændləs/ adj : not owning any land • landless people land·locked /'lænd,lə:kt/ adj : surrounded by land • a landlocked country land·lord /'lænd,lɔəd/ noun, pl -lords [count]

1 : a person who owns a house, apartment, etc., and rents it to other people — see also ABSENTEE LANDLORD

2 : a man who runs an inn, pub, or rooming house — compare LANDLADY land·lub·ber /'lænd,lʌbə/ noun, pl -bers [count] old-fashioned + humorous : a person who knows very little or nothing about the sea or ships : a person who is not a sailor land·mark /'lænd,mɑ:k/ noun, pl -marks [count]

1 a : an object or structure on land that is easy to see and recognize • The Golden Gate Bridge is a famous/familiar landmark in San Francisco. b US : a building or place that was important in history • The battlefield is a national historical landmark.

2 : a very important event or achievement • The moon landing is a landmark in space exploration. • The decision/ruling was a landmark in legal history. — often used before another noun • a landmark legal case • a landmark court decision • a landmark discovery land·mass /'lænd,mæs/ noun, pl -mass·es [count] : a very large area of land (such as a continent) • continental land-masses

land mine noun, pl ~ mines [count] : a bomb that is buried in the ground and that explodes when someone steps on it or drives over it — sometimes used figuratively • an issue that is an emotional/political land mine [=an issue that could cause great emotional/political damage; an explosive issue]

land·own·er /'lænd,ounə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who owns land • a large landowner [=a person who owns a large amount of land] • a wealthy landowner

— land·own·ing /'lænd,ounɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun • landowning families

¹land·scape /'lænd,skeɪp/ noun, pl -scapes

1 [count] : a picture that shows a natural scene of land or the countryside • She likes to paint landscapes. • a landscape painter/artist

2 [count] : an area of land that has a particular quality or appearance • The farm is set in a landscape of rolling hills. • He gazed out at the beautiful landscape. • a desert/rural/urban landscape — see color picture on page C7

3 [count] : a particular area of activity • The last several years have seen real changes in the political landscape. [=scene]

4 [noncount] : a way of printing a page so that the shorter sides are on the left and right and the longer sides are at the top and bottom — compare PORTRAIT

²landscape verb -scapes; -scaped; -scap·ing [+ obj] : to make changes to improve the appearance of (an area of land) • A professional landscaped the yard. • an area landscaped with flowering shrubs and trees • a beautifully landscaped campus

— land·scap·er noun, pl -ers [count] • He hired professional landscapers to plan a garden. — landscaping noun [noncount] • We admired the beautiful landscaping of the campus/yard. • a landscaping service landscape architect noun, pl ~ -tects [count] : a person whose job is to plan and create large outdoor spaces such as gardens, parks, etc.

— landscape architecture noun [noncount]

landscape gardener noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a person who designs and creates large gardens

— landscape gardening noun [noncount]

land·slide /'lænd,slɑɪd/ noun, pl -slides [count]

1 : a large mass of rocks and earth that suddenly and quickly moves down the side of a mountain or hill • The earthquake triggered a landslide. • They were buried under the landslide.

2 : an election in which the winner gets a much greater number of votes than the loser • The presidential election turned out to be one of the biggest landslides in history. • a landslide victory • She won the election by/in a landslide.

land·slip /'lænd,slɪp/ noun, pl -slips [count] Brit : LANDSLIDE 1

lane /'leɪn/ noun, pl lanes [count]

1 : a narrow road or path • a country lane — often used in the names of streets • Their house is on Maple Lane.

2 : a part of road that is marked by painted lines and that is for a single line of vehicles • traffic lanes • a highway with three lanes = a three-lane highway • The truck's driver kept changing lanes. — see also BREAKDOWN LANE, FAST LANE, PASSING LANE, SLOW LANE

3 : a narrow part of a track or swimming pool that is used by a single runner or swimmer in a race • She moved to the outside lane.

4 : an ocean route used by ships • shipping lanes

5 : a long narrow surface that is used for bowling • a bowling lane

6 US : an area in a store (such as a supermarket) where customers form a line while waiting to pay for the things they are buying • Customers with fewer than 12 items can use the express lane. [=the lane that lets people pay for their items more quickly than other lanes]

memory lane see MEMORY

lan·guage /'læŋgwɪdʒ/ noun, pl -guag·es

1 a [noncount] : the system of words or signs that people use to express thoughts and feelings to each other • spoken and written language • the origin of language — often used before another noun • language acquisition • language skills — see also BODY LANGUAGE b [count] : any one of the systems of human language that are used and understood by a particular group of people • the English language • How many languages do you speak? • a foreign language • French is her first/native language. • The book has been translated into several languages. • He's learning English as a second language. • After a few days in France, I realized that I didn't know the language [=I didn't know the French language] as well as I had thought. • a new word that has recently entered the language • a language instructor/teacher • foreign language classes • A language barrier existed between the two countries. [=people in the two countries did not understand each other because they spoke different languages] — see also SIGN LANGUAGE

2 [noncount] : words of a particular kind • the formal language of the report • the beauty of Shakespeare's language • She expressed her ideas using simple and clear language. • He is always careful in his use of language. • bad/foul/obscene/strong/vulgar language • You'd better watch your language [=be careful about the words you use] when you're talking to her.

3 [noncount] : the words and expressions used in a particular activity or by a particular group of people • the language of diplomacy/lawyers • legal/military language

4 [count] : a system of signs and symbols that is used to control a computer • a programming language

5 [count] : a system of sounds or movements by which animals communicate with each other • the language of bees/dolphins speak/talk the same language : to understand each other well because of shared ideas and feelings • She and I will never get along. We just don't speak the same language.

language arts noun [plural] chiefly US : school subjects (such as reading, spelling, and writing) that relate to using language language laboratory noun, pl ~ -ries [count] : a room with equipment (such as computers or tape recorders) where people can listen to and practice speaking foreign languages — called also language lab lan·guid /'læŋgwəd/ adj, formal + literary : showing or having very little strength, energy, or activity • a long, languid sigh • They proceeded at a languid pace. • It was a hot, languid summer day.

— lan·guid·ly adv • He was leaning languidly against the wall. • The river moved languidly.

lan·guish /'læŋgwɪʃ/ verb -guish·es; -guished; -guishing [no obj] formal + literary : to continue for a long time without activity or progress in an unpleasant or unwanted situation — usually + in • The bill languished in the Senate for months. • She languished in obscurity for many years until the success of her novel made her famous. • an innocent man who has been languishing in prison for years

lan·guor /'læŋgə/ noun, literary : a state of feeling tired and relaxed [noncount] They enjoyed the languor brought on by a hot summer afternoon. [singular] They felt an indefinable languor.

— lan·guor·ous /'læŋgərəs/ adj • a long languorous afternoon — lan·guor·ous·ly adv

lank /'læŋk/ adj, of hair : hanging straight down in an unattractive way • a woman with long, lank hair lanky /'læŋki/ adj lank·l·er; -est [also more ~; most ~] : tall and thin with usually an awkward quality • a lanky teenager • a lanky fashion model

lan·o·lin /'lænələn/ noun [noncount] : an oily substance that comes from sheep's wool and that is used for making soaps and lotions

lan·tern /'læntən/ noun, pl -terns [count] : a light that has usually a glass covering and that can be carried by a handle — see picture at CAMPING; see also MAGIC LANTERN

lan·tern·jawed /'læntən,dʒɑ:d/ adj — used to describe someone whose lower jaw sticks out beyond the upper jaw • a tall lantern-jawed man lap /'læp/ noun, pl laps [count] : the area between the knees and the hips of a person who is sitting down • A child was sitting on his lap. • She held the baby in/on her lap. • He kept his hands in/on his lap. • The students rested the books in/on their laps.

drop/fall into your lap or land in your lap informal ✧ If something good drops/falls into your lap or lands in your lap, it comes to you suddenly in an unexpected way even though you did not try to get it. • This wonderful new job just fell into my lap when I was least expecting it!

drop/dump (something) in/into/on your lap informal ✧ If something is dropped/dumped in/into/on your lap, it is given to you suddenly even though you did not want it or expect it. • Another major problem was dumped into her lap.

in the lap of luxury : in a situation of great ease, comfort, and wealth • She was reared in the lap of luxury.

in the lap of the gods chiefly Brit : not yet decided or certain • The election is too close to call: the result is in the lap of the gods.

— compare ³LAP

lap verb laps; lapped; lap·ping [+ obj]

1 : to cause (something) to partly cover something else — often + over • lap one shingle over another

2 : to go past (another racer who is one or more laps behind you) • When I lapped the runner who was in second place, I knew I'd have an easy victory.

— compare ⁴LAP

lap noun, pl laps [count]

1 : an act of going completely around a track or over a course when you are running, swimming, etc. • The race is 12 laps long. • With one lap remaining, the race was still close. • the last/final lap of the race • (US) He was swimming/doing laps in the pool. [=he was swimming from one end of the pool to the other and then back again] ✧ The winner of a race often takes a victory lap (US) or lap of honour (Brit) by going around the track or over the course alone one more time as a way to celebrate.

2 : a part of a journey • They were in the last lap [=stage, leg] of their trip home from Europe.

— compare ¹LAP

lap verb laps; lapped; lap·ping

1 : to drink by licking with the tongue [no obj] The dog was lapping at the water in the puddle. [+ obj] The cat lapped the water in the dish. — often + up • The dog lapped up the water in the puddle. — often used figuratively • The crowd lapped up every word he said. [=the crowd eagerly listened to and accepted every word he said] • He was making some outrageous claims, but the audience was really lapping it up.

2 of water : to move repeatedly over or against something in gentle waves [no obj] The waves lapped at/against the shore. [+ obj] Waves gently lapped the shore.

— compare ²LAP

— lapping noun [noncount] • the lapping of the waves lap belt noun, pl ~ belts [count] : a seat belt that fastens across your lap lap dancing noun [noncount] : an activity in which a performer (such as a dancer at a nightclub or strip club) makes sexual movements while sitting on the lap of a customer

— lap dance noun, pl ~ dances [count] — lap dancer noun, pl ~ -ers [count]

lap·dog /'læp,dɔ:g/ noun, pl -dogs [count]

1 : a dog that is small enough to be held in a person's lap

2 : a weak person who is controlled by someone else • His coworkers regarded him as the boss's lap dog.

la·pel /lə'pel/ noun, pl -pels [count] : either one of the two folds of fabric that are below the collar on the front of a coat or jacket • He wore a carnation in his lapel. — see color picture on page C15

la·pis la·zu·li /,læpəs'læzəli, Brit ,læpəs'læzjuli/ noun [noncount] : a deep blue stone that is used in jewelry — called also lapis; see color picture on page C11

lapse /'læps/ noun, pl laps·es [count]

1 a : an occurrence in which you fail to think or act in the usual or proper way for a brief time and make a mistake • He blamed the error on a minor mental lapse. • As he grew older he began to have memory lapses. [=times when he forgot things that he should have remembered] — often + in • a lapse in decorum/civility/judgment • a serious lapse in security — often + of • She had a brief lapse of attention/concentration. b : an occurrence in which someone behaves badly for usually a short period of time • moral lapses • a politician who is being accused of ethical lapses [=accused of doing things that are not ethical] c : a change that results in worse behavior • a lapse into bad habits

2 : a period of time between events — often + of • He returned to college after a lapse of several years.

3 : the ending of something that happens when the payments necessary for it to continue are not made — often + of • the lapse of an insurance policy • the lapse of a magazine subscription

lapse verb lapses; lapsed; laps·ing [no obj]

1 : to stop for usually a brief time • After a few polite words the conversation lapsed. • Her interest in politics lapsed while she was in medical school.

2 : to become no longer effective or valid • She didn't pay the premium and her life insurance policy lapsed. • He forgot to renew his driver's license, so it lapsed. • She allowed the magazine subscription to lapse.

lapse into [phrasal verb] lapse into (something) 1 : to begin using or doing (something that should be avoided) for a short period of time • He's a good writer, but he occasionally lapses into jargon. 2 : to begin to be in (a worse or less active state or condition) • The crowd lapsed into silence. • The patient lapsed into [=slipped into] a coma. • He lapsed into unconsciousness. • The society lapsed into decline.

lapsed adj, always used before a noun

1 : no longer believing or following the teachings of a religion • a lapsed Catholic/Mormon

2 : no longer effective or valid • a lapsed insurance policy lap·top /'læp,tɒ:p/ noun, pl -tops [count] : a small computer that is designed to be easily carried • He uses a laptop for business when he travels. — called also laptop computer; compare DESKTOP

lar·ce·ny /'lɑ:səni/ noun, pl -nies law : the act of stealing something : THEFT [non-count] He was arrested and charged with larceny. [count] He has been accused of several larcenies. — see also GRAND LARCENY, PETIT LARCENY

— lar-ce-nous /'lɑ:sənəs/ adj • a larcenous act laptop

larch /'lɑ:tʃ/ noun, pl larches [count, non-count] : a type of tree that is related to the pines and that drops its needles in the winter

¹lard /'lɑ:d/ noun [non-count] : a soft white substance that is made from the fat of pigs and used in cooking

²lard verb lards; lard-ed; lard-ing [+ obj] : to put pieces of fat onto or into (something) before cooking • a roast larded with bacon lard with [phrasal verb] lard (something) with (something) : to add a large amount of (something) to (something) • He always lards his lectures with statistics. [=he always includes many statistics in his lectures] — often used as (be) larded with • a novel larded with clichés • Her comments were larded with phony sentiment.

lar-der /'lɑ:də/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a small room or area where food is kept : PANTRY

¹large /'lɑ:dʒ/ adj larg-er; -est

1 : great in size or amount : BIG • a large room • a large corporation • a large glass of water • It's the largest city in the state. • It's the third largest city in the state. [=there are two other cities that are larger] • These T-shirts are available in three sizes: small, medium, and large. • Which city has the largest population? • Her policies are supported by a large part/portion/percentage of the population. • A large number of workers have filed complaints. • She used to be thin, but she's gotten a bit large [= (less politely) fat] in recent years. • He's a very large man. [= (usually) a tall and heavy man] • He has a very large appetite.

2 : not limited in importance, range, etc. • She's planning to play a larger [=more active] role in the negotiations. • We need to take a/the large view of this issue. [=we need to look at this issue in a broad or general way]

(as) large as life see ¹LIFE

at large 1 : not having been captured • The criminal is still at large. [=free] 2 : as a group : as a whole • His statements do not reflect the beliefs of the public at large. [=the beliefs of most people] • society at large 3 US : not having a specific subject • a critic at large [=a critic who writes about many different things] 4 US, politics : representing a whole state or area rather than one of its parts — used in combination with a preceding noun • a city councilor-at-large

bulk large see ³BULK

by and large see ²BY

in large part or in large measure : not entirely but mostly : LARGELY • The success of the play was in large part due to the director. • The economy is based in large measure [=for the most part] on farming.

larger than life 1 : bigger than the size of an actual person or thing • The statue is larger than life. • a larger-than-life image 2 of a person : having an unusually exciting, impressive, or appealing quality • My grandmother was a remarkable woman who always seemed larger than life to me. • a larger-than-life hero

live large see ¹LIVE

loom large see ¹LOOM

to a large extent see EXTENT

writ large see ²WRIT

— large-ness noun [non-count] • the largeness of the dog • the largeness of the population

²large noun, pl larg-es [count] : something that is sold in a large size : something that is bigger than others of the same kind • These shirts are all larges. • "What size ice-cream cones do you want?" "We'll take three larges and a small."

large intestine noun, pl ~-tines [count] : the end part of the intestine that is wider and shorter than the small intestine — see picture at HUMAN large-ly /'lɑ:dʒli/ adv [more ~; most ~] : not completely but mostly • The story is largely true. • He is largely responsible for the problem. • The economy is based largely on farming.

large-scale adj

1 : involving many people or things • Their equipment isn't suitable for large-scale production. [=it cannot be used to make things in large amounts]

2 : covering or involving a large area • a large-scale network • a large-scale map

lar-ge-ss also lar-gess /lɑ:'ʒes/ noun [non-count] some-what formal : the act of giving away money or the quality of a person who gives away money • He relied on the largesse of friends after he lost his job. • a philanthropist known for his largesse [=generosity] also : money that is given away • projects depending on a flow of federal largesse [=money from the federal government]

larg-ish /'lɑ:dʒɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : fairly large • He has a largish nose.

¹lark /'lɑ:k/ noun, pl larks [count] : any one of several birds that usually have pleasant songs — see also MEADOWLARK, SKYLARK — compare ²LARK

²lark noun, pl larks informal

1 [count] : something done for enjoyment or adventure • (US) She entered the race on/as a lark. = (chiefly Brit) She entered the race for a lark. [=she entered the race just as a way to have fun]

2 [non-count] Brit : activity of a specified kind : BUSINESS • All this housework lark is harder than I thought!

— compare ¹LARK

³lark verb larks; larked; lark-ing

lark about or lark around [phrasal verb] Brit informal : to behave in a silly and enjoyable way • The girls were larking about in the backyard.

lar-va /'lɑ:və/ noun, pl lar-vae /'lɑ:vi:/ [count] : a very young form of an insect that looks like a worm • The larva of a butterfly is called a caterpillar.

— lar-val /'lɑ:vəl/ adj • the larval stage of an insect lar-yn-gi-tis /'lerən'dʒaɪtəs/ noun [non-count] medical : a disease in which your throat and larynx become sore so that it is difficult to talk lar-ynx /'lerɪŋks/ noun, pl la-ryn-ges /lə'rɪn,dʒɪ:z/ or lar-ynx-es [count] medical : the part of your throat that contains the vocal cords — called also voice box

la-sa-gna (chiefly US) or chiefly Brit la-sa-gne /lə'zɑ:njə, Brit lə'sænjə/ noun, pl -gnas [count, non-count] : a type of Italian food that has layers of flat noodles baked with a sauce usually of tomatoes, cheese, and meat — see picture at PASTA las-civ-i-ous /lə'sɪvɪjəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : filled with or showing sexual desire • lascivious acts/thoughts • a lascivious young man • He was arrested for lewd and lascivious behavior.

— las-civ-i-ous-ly adv — las-civ-i-ous-ness noun [non-count]

la-ser /'leɪzə/ noun, pl -sers [count] : a device that produces a narrow and powerful beam of light that has many special uses in medicine, industry, etc. • doctors using a laser to perform delicate eye surgery — often used before another noun • laser surgery • laser technology laser beam noun, pl ~ beams [count] : the narrow beam of light produced by a laser laser disc noun, pl ~ discs [count] : OPTICAL DISK

laser printer noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a computer printer that prints an image formed by a laser beam — compare INK-JET PRINTER

¹lash /'læʃ/ verb lash-es; lashed; lash-ing

1 : to hit (a person or animal) with a whip, stick, or something similar [+ obj] The sailor was lashed for disobeying the captain. [no obj] — + at • The jockey lashed (away) at the horse with his whip.

2 : to hit (something) with force [+ obj] Rain lashed the side of the house. • Waves lashed the shore. [no obj] — + at • Waves lashed at the shore.

3 : to make a sudden and angry attack against (someone) [+ obj] The singer lashed her critics with angry words. [no obj] — + at • The singer lashed back at her critics. — often used in the phrase lash out at • He lashed out at the government for its failure to cut taxes. • The cat suddenly lashed out at me when I tried to pet it.

4 [+ obj] : to cause (a group of people) to become angry or violent — + into • He lashed [=whipped] the mob into a fury with his violent words.

5 of an animal : to move (the tail) from side to side in a forceful way [+ obj] The tiger lashed its tail. [no obj] The tiger's tail was lashing from side to side.

— compare ³LASH

²lash noun, pl lashes

1 a [count] : a hit with a whip • They gave the sailor 50 lashes for disobeying orders. b the lash : the punishment of being hit with a whip • The disobedient sailors were threatened with the lash. c [count] : the thin piece on the end of a whip

2 [count] : EYELASH — usually plural • She has long and beautiful lashes.

3 lash verb lashes; lashed; lashing [+ obj] : to tie (something) to an object with a rope, cord, or chain • They lashed the canoe to the top of the car. • He lashed the logs together to make a raft. • Everything was lashed down securely so that it wouldn't blow away. — compare ¹LASH

lash·ing /'læʃɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 [singular] : the act of hitting someone with a whip as a form of punishment • They gave the sailor a lashing. — often used figuratively • She gave him a lashing for being late. [=she shouted at him angrily for being late] — see also TONGUE-LASHING

2 lashings [plural] : ropes used for tying, wrapping, or connecting things • a ship's lashings

3 lashings [plural] Brit, informal : a large amount of something • She put lashings of butter on her muffin.

lass /'læs/ noun, pl lass-es [count] chiefly Brit, informal : a girl or young woman • a pretty Scottish lass — compare LAD lass·ie /'læsi/ noun, pl -ies [count] chiefly Scotland, informal : a young girl : LASS • when she was just a wee lassie • Don't cry, lassie. — compare LADDIE las·si·tude /'læsə,tu:d, Brit 'læsə,tju:d/ noun [noncount] formal + medical : the condition of being tired : lack of physical or mental energy • Symptoms of the disease include paleness and lassitude.

1 las·so /'læsou, læ'su:/ noun, pl -sos or -soes [count] : a rope with a loop that is used for catching animals (such as cattle or horses)

2 lasso verb -so or -soes; -soed; -so·ing [+ obj] : to catch (an animal) with a lasso • The cowboy lassoed the horse. — sometimes used figuratively • an actor who has lassoed a major role [=an actor who has succeeded in getting a major role]

1 last /'læst, Brit 'lɑ:st/ verb lasts; last-ed; last-ing

1 a [no obj] : to continue in time • How long does the movie last? • The movie lasts (for) about two hours. [=the movie is about two hours long] • The conference starts on Monday and it lasts until Friday. • The game lasted (for) three hours. • Don't worry, the storm won't/can't last. [=the storm will end soon] b [no obj] : to continue in good condition • The car should last 10 years. • I doubt that those boots will last (much longer). • That bridge will last a long time. • Our products are built to last c [no obj] : to continue to be available • These oranges are on sale while they/supplies last. [=they are on sale until they have all been sold] d : to continue to be enough for the needs of someone [no obj] We have enough food to last (for) the rest of the week. [+ obj] We have enough food to last us (for) the rest of the week. • That car should last you ten years. [=you should not have to get another car for ten years]

2 [no obj] a : to be able to continue in a particular situation or condition • I am not sure he will last in his new job. • Can you last a whole day without cigarettes? b : to continue to live • My father is very ill. He may not last much longer. • He may not last (through) the night. [=he may die before the night has ended] • (chiefly Brit) He may not last out the night.

last the distance see ¹DISTANCE

2 last adj

1 a : coming after all others in time, order, or importance : FINAL • He was the last one out of the building. • She succeeded on her last attempt. • These are the last two books in the series. • He was sitting in the last [=back] row. • We are going to the beach for the last week of the summer. • The (very) last time we ever met was at a party. = (Brit) The last ever time we met was at a party. • I'll have my revenge if it's the last thing I (ever) do [=I am determined to get my revenge] b : remaining after the rest are gone • I am down to my last dollar. [=I have one dollar left] • the last cookie in the jar • She said she wouldn't marry him if he was the last man on earth.

2 : belonging to the final part of something • He was tragically killed during the last days of the war. • the last hours of her life = her last hours on earth

3 : most recent • I haven't seen her recently. The last time we met was at a party. • I liked her last [=previous] novel better than this new one. — used to identify a preceding period of time • Last month we went to the museum. • The weather was fine last week, but this week has been rainy, and next week is expected to be cold. • He had trouble last semester in school. • We saw them last week.

4 a : least likely • You are the last person I would expect to see here. [=I never expected to see you here] • That is the last place I would have looked for the ring. [=I would never have expected to find the ring there] b : least desirable • Another bill to pay is the last thing I need right now! c : least important • Right now work is the last thing on my mind. [=I am not thinking about work at all right now]

every last — used as a more forceful way of saying every • Every last soldier was captured. [=every soldier was captured] • He ate every last cookie. [=he ate every cookie]

in the last analysis see ANALYSIS

last gasp : a final attempt or effort made at the very end • This movie may be his last gasp as an actor. • winter's last gasp [=the last bit of winter weather before spring] — see also LAST-GASP

last thing : after everything else • Heat the vegetables last thing so that they don't get cold. : very late • I'll be back last thing (on) Monday night.

on your/its last legs see ¹LEG

the last laugh see ²LAUGH

the last moment see MOMENT

the last straw see STRAW

the last word see ¹WORD

to the last man see ¹MAN

3 last adv

1 : after any others in time, order, or importance • He spoke last at the meeting. • My horse was/finished last in the race. • My horse came in last. = (chiefly Brit) My horse came last. • Last (of all) came the soldiers and tanks. • She was first to arrive at the party and last to leave. : at the end • The best part of the book comes last [=the best part of the book comes at the end] ♦ In figurative use, something or someone that comes last is less important than other things or people. • His job was all he really cared about. His personal life always came last with him.

2 : most recently : on the most recent occasion • I last saw him in the supermarket. • They last went to the beach in June. • This word was last used in the 17th century.

3 — used to introduce a final statement or subject • Last, I'd like to talk about the company's future.

first and last see ²FIRST

last but not least — used to say that a final statement is not less important than previous statements • The television is big, has an excellent picture, and last but not least, it's cheap. • Last but not least, I would like to introduce our new vice president.

4 last pronoun

1 the last : the last person or thing in a group or series • He was the last in line. • It was the last of many delays. • She was the last to leave. • The last of the tests was given today. • This is the first time we've been here, but it definitely won't be the last! [=we will definitely come here again]

2 a the last : the last time someone is seen, something is mentioned, etc. • I guess that is the last we will see of her. [=the last time we will see her] • I hope that we have finally seen the last of them. [=I hope that we will not see them again] • He knew he had not heard the last of his mistake. [=he knew that he would hear again about his mistake] • Don't tell them about your mistake or you'll never hear the last of it [=they'll keep reminding you of it] b : a final action • I've spoken my last on this subject. [=I've spoken for the last time on this subject; I will not be saying anything more on this subject] c informal — used to describe the most recent information you have about someone or something • "Where's Hank these days?" "(The) Last I heard, he was living in New York." [=the most recent information I have heard is that he was living in New York] • "Do you know where my keys are?" "(The) Last I saw [=the last time I saw them], they were in the kitchen."

3 the last a : the end of something • We stayed at the game till/until the last. [=until it ended] • They fought hard to the last. b : the end of someone's life • He was cheerful to the last. [=until he died]

4 a : the final thing or things that have been mentioned previously • They had cats, dogs, and a horse. This last [=the horse] was kept in an old barn. b : the most recent one of something • The week before last [=the week before last week] I saw him at a restaurant. • the night before last breathe your last literary : to die • This is the room where he breathed his last. [=where he breathed his last breath; where he died]

⁵last noun

at last or at long last : after a delay or long period of time • She was at last [=finally] reunited with her sister. • We're finished at last. • "We're finished." "At last!" • It appears that this problem will soon be solved, at long last.

last call noun [noncount] US : the time when the customers in a place where drinks are sold (such as a bar) are told that they can order one more drink before it closes • We stayed till last call. — called also (Brit) last orders

last-ditch /'læst'dɪtʃ, Brit 'lɑːst'dɪtʃ/ adj, always used before a noun : made as a final effort to keep something bad from happening • The troops made a desperate last-ditch effort to keep the town from being captured. • The negotiations were a last-ditch attempt to prevent a labor strike.

last-gasp /'læst'gæsp, Brit 'lɑːst'gɑːsp/ adj, always used before a noun : done or happening at the very end • The store changed its name in a last-gasp [=last-ditch] effort to attract customers. • (chiefly Brit) a last-gasp goal [=a goal scored at the very end of a game] — see also last gasp at ²LAST

last hurrah noun, pl ~ -rahs [count] : a last effort, production, or appearance • The movie was his last hurrah. [=it was the last movie that he appeared in] last-ing /'læstɪŋ, Brit 'lɑːstɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : existing or continuing for a long time • a book with lasting significance • The trip had a lasting effect on her.

— last-ing-ly adv

Last Judgment noun

the Last Judgment : the time when according to some religions all people will be judged by God : JUDGMENT DAY last-ly /'læstli, Brit 'lɑːstli/ adv : at the end • He worked for the company as a manager, treasurer, vice president, and lastly, as president. — used to introduce the last things you are going to say • Lastly, I would like to discuss the company's future plans. — compare FIRSTLY

last minute noun

the last minute : the last possible time when something can be done • You shouldn't wait until the last minute before planning your retirement. • They were making changes to the show right up to the last minute.

— last-minute adj, always used before a noun • last-minute changes to the show • They won the game with a last-minute touchdown.

last name noun, pl ~ names [count] : the name that comes at the end of someone's full name • His first name is John and his last name is Smith. — compare SURNAME

last orders noun [plural] Brit : LAST CALL

last post noun

the last post Brit : TAPS

last rites noun

the last rites : a religious ceremony that is performed by a Catholic priest for someone who is dying • The priest administered the last rites.

¹latch /'lætʃ/ noun, pl latch-es [count]

1 : a device that holds a door, gate, or window closed and that consists of a bar that falls into a holder when it is closed and that is lifted when it is open • He lifted the latch and opened the gate.

2 chiefly Brit : a type of door lock that can be opened from the inside by turning a lever or knob but can only be opened from the outside with a key • I heard her key turn/click in the latch.

on the latch Brit, of a door : closed but not locked • I left the front door on the latch so that she could get in.

²latch verb latches; latched; latch-ing [+ obj] : to close or fasten (something, such as a door) with a latch • latch the gate — compare ³LATCH

³latch verb latches; latched; latching latch on [phrasal verb] informal 1 Brit : to begin to understand something • What he was saying was complicated, so it took me a while to latch on. [=catch on] 2 latch on to (something) or latch onto (something) a : to grab and hold (something) • He latched onto her arm and wouldn't let go. — often used figuratively • The news media has latched on to the scandal. b : to begin using or doing (something) in an enthusiastic way • Many companies have latched onto [=adopted] the trend of using consultants. ; to choose (something) in an enthusiastic way • He latched onto music as a way to relax. 3 latch on to (someone or something) or latch onto (someone or something) : to stay close to (someone or something) • Soon after she got to the party, some strange man latched on to her [=started talking to her] and wouldn't go away.

— compare ²LATCH

latch-key /'lætʃki/ noun, pl -keys [count] : a key for opening an outside door

latchkey child noun, pl ~ children [count] : a young child who is alone at home after school because the child's parents are working — called also latchkey kid

¹late /'leɪt/ adj lat-er; -est

1 : existing or happening near the end of a period of time • It happened in late spring. • His health problems began when he was in his late thirties. [=when he was about 38 or 39 years old] • The problems began in the late 1930s. [=in about 1938 or 1939] • a word first recorded in the late 17th century • It was late (in the evening) when we finally went to bed. — opposite EARLY; see also LATER

2 a : coming or happening after the usual, expected, or desired time • The train is (a half hour) late. • We had a late spring this year. • I'm sorry I'm late. • He made a late payment. = He was late with his payment. = He was late (in) paying. • Hurry up or we'll be late for school. • We arrived late because we got/had/made a late start. [=we started at a later time than we had meant to] • Their warning was too late to help him. — opposite EARLY b : doing something after the usual time or before others usually do • I've always been a late riser. • a late walker [=a child who learned to walk at a later age than most other children] — opposite EARLY

3 always used before a noun : living until recently : not now living • He made a donation to the school in memory of his late wife. • the late John Smith

born too late see BORN

it's getting late — used to say that time is passing and especially that evening or late evening is coming • It's getting late so we should probably go home.

• late bloomer see BLOOMER

late in the day : after the expected or proper time • It's rather late in the day for an apology now, don't you think? [=it's late for an apology; you should have apologized sooner]

late night : a night when you stay awake until a late hour • We're tired today because we had a late night [=stayed up late] last night. — see also LATE-NIGHT

— late-ness noun [noncount] • the lateness of the hour • the lateness of the payment

²late adv later; -est

1 : at or near the end of a period of time or a process, activity, series, etc. • Late in the year he became ill. • It rained late in the day. • Late in his career he moved to the city. • a word first recorded late in the 17th century • They were trailing by a touchdown late in the fourth quarter. • The package should be arriving late next week. — opposite EARLY

2 : after the usual or expected time • She arrived at work (a half hour) late. • He sent in his job application late. • They arrived too late for breakfast. • I like getting up late. • The package arrived late, but better late than never! • She's been working late. • They stayed late. — opposite EARLY as late as : as recently as — used in referring to a time that you think is surprisingly recent • The company is now in serious trouble, but it was reporting record profits as late as last year.

late of formal : having recently lived or worked in (a place, a company, etc.) • The company's new president is Mark Jones, late of Chicago.

of late formal : during a recent period • They have not seen him of late. [=lately, recently] • Of late she has been acting strangely.

late-com-er /'leɪt,kəmər/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who arrives late • Latecomers had to park their cars far from the stadium.

2 : someone or something that has recently arrived or become involved in something : NEWCOMER — often + to • He's a latecomer to the trumpet. [=he started playing the trumpet recently] • The company is a latecomer to the video-game industry.

late-ly /'leɪtli/ adv : in the recent period of time : RECENTLY • He has been feeling better lately. • Lately, she has been worrying about her son.

late-night adj, always used before a noun : happening or appearing late at night • late-night television • late-night comedians la-tent /'leɪtnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] — used to describe something (such as a disease) that exists but is not active or cannot be seen • a latent infection • The house they bought had latent defects.

– la·ten·cy /'leɪtnsi/ noun [noncount] • The disease was in a period of latency. [=the disease was present but had not produced any noticeable symptoms] • the latency period of a disease

¹lat·er /'leɪtə/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : happening near the end of a process, activity, series, life, etc. • among the composer's later works • The early sections of the book are quite different from the later sections. • His later years were tranquil.

2 : coming or happening after a certain time or at a future time • They met again on a later occasion.

²later adv : at a time in the future • I'll talk to you again later. : at a time following an earlier time • They later regretted the decision. • She returned several weeks later. • I saw him again later that morning. • We'll need to know your decision no/not later than next week. [=we'll need to know your decision by next week] ♦ In informal spoken English, later is used especially by young people as a shortened form of the phrase (I'll) see you later to say goodbye to someone. • Later, dudes!

later on : at a time in the future or following an earlier time • We'll talk about this subject some more later on. • They regretted their decision later on.

sooner or later see SOON

¹lat·er·al /'lætərəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : toward, on, or coming from the side • a lateral view of the human body [=a view from the side] • the lateral force of an earthquake

– lat·er·al·ly adv • moved the eyeball laterally [=toward the side]

²lateral noun, pl -als [count] American football : a pass thrown to the side or backward — called also lateral pass

lateral thinking noun [noncount] chiefly Brit : a method for solving problems by making unusual or unexpected connections between ideas

– lateral thinker noun, pl ~ -ers [count]

¹lat·est /'leɪtəst/ adj, always used before a noun : most recent • She's interested in all the latest fashions. • Have you heard the latest news (about it)? • He is the latest person to announce his resignation.

²latest noun [count] : the last possible or acceptable time — usually used in the phrase at the latest • The job will definitely be finished by next year at the (very) latest.

the latest informal 1 : the most recent news or information about something • Have you heard the latest? 2 : the most recent or modern version of something — + in • The store carries the latest in home improvement products.

la·tex /'leɪ,teks/ noun [noncount] : a white fluid produced by certain plants that is used for making rubber; also : a similar material that is used for making various products (such as paint and glue) — often used before another noun • latex paint • latex gloves lath /'læθ, Brit 'lɑ:θ/ noun, pl laths [count] : a long and thin piece of wood that is used in walls and ceilings to support plaster, tiles, etc.

lathe /'leɪð/ noun, pl lathes [count] : a machine in which a piece of wood or metal is held and turned while being shaped by a sharp tool

¹lath·er /'læðə, Brit 'lɑ:ðə/ noun

1 : tiny bubbles formed from soap mixed with water [noncount] The soap and water formed a lot of lather. [singular] The soap and water formed a lather.

2 [singular] informal : a very upset, angry, or worried condition • Her parents were in a lather [=were very upset] when she came home late. • He worked himself into a lather [=he became very upset] thinking of his former wife and her new boyfriend. • Don't get in a lather [=get upset] about something so unimportant.

²lather verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing

1 [+ obj] : to spread lather over (something) • He lathered his face before shaving.

2 [no obj] : to form lather • The soap lathers easily.

¹Lat·in /'lætɪn/ noun, pl -ins

1 [noncount] : the language of ancient Rome

2 [count] : a person born or living in Latin America or in a country (such as Spain or Italy) where a language that comes from Latin is spoken

²Latin adj

1 : based on, relating to, or written in Latin • Latin grammar • Latin poetry

2 : of or relating to the people of Central America and South America • Latin music

3 : of or relating to the people of European countries (such as Spain and Italy) in which languages that come from Latin are spoken • a Latin lover

La·ti·na /lə'ti:nə/ noun, pl -nas [count] : a woman or girl who was born in or lives in South America, Central America, or Mexico or a woman or girl in the U.S. whose family is originally from South America, Central America, or Mexico — compare LATINO

– Latina adj • a famous Latina singer

Latin–American adj : based in or relating to the American countries south of the U.S. where people speak Spanish and Portuguese • a person of Latin-American origin • Latin-American literature • Latin-American leaders

La·ti·no /lə'ti:nou/ noun, pl -nos [count] : a person who was born or lives in South America, Central America, or Mexico or a person in the U.S. whose family is originally from South America, Central America, or Mexico ♦ The singular form Latino usually refers to a man. The plural form Latinos often refers to men and women as a group. — compare LATINA

– Latino adj • Latino children

lat·i·tude /'lætə,tu:d, Brit 'lætə,tju:d/ noun, pl -tudes

1 a : distance north or south of the equator measured in degrees up to 90 degrees [noncount] a map of the world showing lines of latitude and longitude • an island located at 40 degrees north latitude [=at a point 40 degrees north of the equator] [count] located at a latitude of 40 degrees north — compare LONGITUDE 1 b [count] : an imaginary line that circles the Earth at a particular latitude and that is parallel to the equator • Madrid and New York City are on nearly the same latitude. • islands located at different latitudes • The star is only seen from the northern latitudes. [=the northern parts of the world] — compare LONGITUDE 2

2 [noncount] somewhat formal : freedom to choose how to act or what to do • We weren't given much latitude in deciding how to do the job. • The judge has wide/considerable latitude to reject evidence for the trial.

– lat·i·tu·di·nal /'lætə'tu:dənəl, Brit 'lætə'tju:dənəl/ adj

la·trine /lə'tri:n/ noun, pl -trines [count] : an outdoor toilet that is usually a hole dug in the ground

lat·te /'lɑ:,teɪ, Brit 'læ,teɪ/ noun, pl -tes [count] : CAFFE LATTE

lat·ter /'lætə/ adj, always used before a noun : coming or happening near the end of a process, activity, series, life, etc. : LATER • the latter stages of the process • We'll go in the latter half of the year. • In his latter years he became blind.

the latter 1 : the second one of two things or people that have been mentioned • Of these two options, the former is less expensive, while the latter is less risky. • He has cars and trucks, and even though the former are easier to drive, the latter are more useful. 2 : the last thing or person mentioned • Of chicken, fish, and meat, I like the latter best. [=I like meat the best] : the thing or person that has just been mentioned • The President—or, if the latter is too busy, the Vice President—will see you shortly. — compare the former at FORMER lat·ter·day /'lætə,deɪ/ adj, always used before a noun : regarded as a modern version of someone or something from the past • He seems to think he's some sort of latter-day Moses who will lead us out of bondage.

lat·ter·ly /'lætəli/ adv, chiefly Brit, formal

1 : at a later time • He devoted his time to painting, sculpture, and, latterly, to gardening.

2 : during a recent period • His business has grown latterly. [=lately]

lat·tice /'lætəs/ noun, pl -tic-es [count] : a frame or structure made of crossed wood or metal strips

– lat·ticed /'lætəst/ adj • a latticed door

lat·tice·work /'lætəs,wək/ noun, pl -works : a frame or structure made of crossed wood or metal strips [noncount] the intricate latticework of the fence [count] intricate lattice-works — sometimes used figuratively • gazing up at the sky through a latticework of branches laud /'lɑ:d/ verb lauds; laud-ed; laud-ing [+ obj] somewhat formal : to praise (someone or something) • Many people lauded her efforts to help the poor. = Many people lauded her for her efforts to help the poor. • He was much lauded as a successful businessman.

laud·able /'lɑ:dəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] somewhat formal : deserving praise • She has shown a laudable [=praiseworthy, commendable] devotion to her children. • Improving the schools is a laudable goal.

– laud·ably /'lɑ:dəbli/ adv

lau·da·to·ry /'lɑ:də'tori, Brit 'lɔ:də'tri/ adj, formal : expressing or containing praise • a laudatory biography • The play received mostly laudatory reviews.

¹laugh /'læf, Brit 'lɑ:f/ verb laughs; laughed; laugh·ing

1 [no obj] : to show that you are happy or that you think something is funny by smiling and making a sound from your throat • What are you laughing about? • The audience was laughing hysterically. • I've never laughed so hard in my life. • I couldn't stop laughing when I saw what he was wearing. • I laughed out loud when I saw him. • I burst out laughing [=I suddenly started laughing] • He laughed so hard I thought he'd die laughing. • The movie was hilarious. We laughed our heads off. • I laughed until I cried [=I laughed so much that tears came out of my eyes] • (Brit) She was laughing like a drain [=she was laughing very hard] • I didn't know whether to laugh or cry [=I was surprised and shocked] when she told me she was getting married. • It's no laughing matter when you lose your job. [=it's a serious and important thing that people should not joke about] — often + at • She laughed at the joke. • Why is everyone laughing at me?

2 [no obj] a : to think or say that someone or something is foolish and does not deserve serious attention or respect — usually + at • People laughed at his predictions of disaster, but no one's laughing now. b : to not be bothered by something — + at • Sitting inside their tent, they were able to laugh at the weather. • He laughed at danger.

3 [+ obj] : to say (something) in an amused way • "I've never seen anything so ridiculous," he laughed.

4 [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to go, move, etc., by laughing • The audience laughed the singer off the stage. • They laughed him out of town. • He laughed himself sick. [=he made himself sick by laughing too much] ✧ Someone or something that is laughed out of court or (US) laughed out of town is regarded as very foolish and is not accepted or treated in a serious way. • His theories were laughed out of court.

be laughing Brit, informal : to be in a very good situation with nothing to worry about • If they can just close this important deal, they'll be laughing! [=they'll be on easy street] don't make me laugh informal — used as a response to a statement that you think is very wrong or foolish • "I could beat you at chess easily." "Don't make me laugh."

have to laugh ✧ If you say you have to laugh about something, you mean that it is amusing in a certain way, even if it is also unpleasant or foolish. • I had to laugh when I found out that our luggage had been lost. What else could go wrong?

he who laughs last, laughs best or he laughs best that laughs last — used to say that even if you are not successful now you still succeed or win in the end laugh all the way to the bank : to make a lot of money especially by doing something that other people thought was foolish or amusing • People thought his invention was ridiculous, but now he's laughing all the way to the bank.

laughing hyena, laughing like a hyena see HYENA laugh in someone's face : to laugh directly at someone in a way that shows disrespect • When I asked for his help he laughed in my face.

laugh off [phrasal verb] laugh (something) off or laugh off (something) : to laugh about or make jokes about (something) in order to make people think it is not serious or important • The candidate laughed off the question about his marriage. • The injury was serious, but he laughed it off.

laugh on the other side of your face — used to say that a situation will change and someone will stop being happy or pleased • You'll be laughing on the other side of your face when I've finished with you!

laugh up your sleeve : to be secretly happy about or amused by something (such as someone else's trouble) • The mayor's critics were laughing up their sleeves when news of the scandal was first reported.

— laugh·er /'læfə, Brit 'lɑ:fə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

²laugh noun, pl laughs

1 [count] : the act or sound of laughing • He gave a loud laugh. • a nervous laugh • I kept telling jokes, but I couldn't get a laugh. [=make people laugh] • a joke that always gets a big laugh • He'll do anything for a laugh. [=to make people laugh] • I thought her report was good for a laugh [=was amusing], but it didn't have much helpful information. • She's always good for a laugh. [=she always makes people laugh; she is a funny person] • It seemed awful at the time, but we had a (good) laugh about it afterward. [=we laughed about it afterward]

2 informal a [count] : something that causes laughter

: something funny or foolish • The movie has a lot of laughs. • You're going to be a movie star? That's a laugh. b [singular] chiefly Brit : a funny person • He's a real laugh.

a barrel of laughs see ¹BARREL

a laugh a minute informal : someone or something that is very funny • That guy is a laugh a minute. • The movie is a laugh a minute.

for laughs or chiefly Brit for a laugh informal : for amusement • The children were saying every word backward, just for laughs.

play for laughs see ¹PLAY

the last laugh ✧ If you have/get the last laugh, you finally succeed or win after people laughed at or doubted you.

laugh·able /'læfəbəl, Brit 'lɑ:fəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : bad in a way that seems foolish or silly • His attempt at skiing was laughable. • The movie shows a laughable [=pathetic] ignorance of history.

— laugh·ably /'læfəbli, Brit 'lɑ:fəbli/ adv • a laughably small car laughing gas noun [noncount] informal : NITROUS OXIDE laugh·ing·ly /'læfɪŋli, Brit 'lɑ:fɪŋli/ adv [more ~; most ~]

1 : with laughter : in an amused way • He laughingly recalled his friends in college.

2 : in a way that is a joke or that you think is silly, foolish, etc. • a painful and difficult time that some people now laughingly call "the good old days"

laugh·ing·stock /'læfɪŋ'stɔ:k, Brit 'lɑ:fɪŋ'stɔ:k/ noun, pl -stocks [count] : a person or thing that is regarded as very foolish or ridiculous • The team has become the laughing-stock of the league. • The mayor became a laughingstock.

laugh lines noun [plural] US : wrinkles that appear next to the eyes and that are most noticeable when a person is smiling or laughing — called also (Brit) laughter lines

laugh·ter /'læftə, Brit 'lɑ:ftə/ noun [noncount] : the action or sound of laughing • Laughter filled the air. • peals/gales/shrieks of laughter • The audience roared/shrieked/howled with laughter. • The audience erupted in laughter. = The audience burst into laughter. [=the audience suddenly began laughing]

laugh track noun, pl ~ tracks [count] : recorded laughter that is heard during a television or radio program

¹launch /'lɔ:ntʃ/ verb launch·es; launched; launch·ing [+ obj]

1 a : to send or shoot (something, such as a rocket) into the air or water or into outer space • launch a rocket/missile/torpedo • launch a satellite b : to put (a boat or ship) on the water • launch a battleship/lifeboat c : to throw (something) forward in a forceful way • launch [=hurl] a spear • I was terrified when the ferocious animal suddenly launched itself at me. [=suddenly jumped at me]

2 a : to begin (something that requires much effort) • The enemy launched an attack at sunrise. • She's trying to launch a new career as a singer. • launch a business • launch an experiment • The police have launched an investigation into his activities. b : to cause (a person or group) to start to be successful in a career, business, etc. • He helped launch her in her career as a singer. c : to offer or sell (something) for the first time • The company is expected to launch several new products next year. • launch a Web site

3 computers : to cause (a program) to start operating • You can launch the program by double-clicking on the icon.

launch into [phrasal verb] 1 launch into (something) : to suddenly begin doing or saying (something) in an energetic way • He suddenly launched into a speech about taxes. 2 launch (yourself) into (something) : to become involved in (something) in an energetic way • She launched herself enthusiastically into the campaign.

launch out [phrasal verb] : to begin doing something that is new and very different from what you have been doing • It's time to launch out and expand my horizons. • He left the company and launched out on his own.

— launch·er noun, pl -ers [count] • a rocket launcher

²launch noun, pl launches [count] : an act of launching something; such as a : an act of shooting something (such as a rocket or missile) into the air or into outer space • a rocket launch b : an act of beginning a major activity • the launch of an attack • the launch of a new business c : an act or occasion when something new (such as a new product) is first offered or announced • the launch of a Web site • a party to celebrate the launch of a new product/book = a launch party for a new product/book — compare ³LAUNCH

³launch noun, pl launches [count] : a boat that carries passengers to the shore from a larger boat that is in a harbor — compare ²LAUNCH launch·pad /'lɑːntʃ,pæd/ noun, pl -pads [count] : an area from which a rocket is launched — often used figuratively • The program she hosted on local radio was the launchpad for her network career. [=it was the first step that led to her network career] — called also launching pad

laun·der /'lɑːndə/ verb -ders; -dered; -der·ing [+ obj]

1 : to make (clothes, towels, sheets, etc.) ready for use by washing, drying, and ironing them • a freshly laundered shirt
2 : to put (money that you got by doing something illegal) into a business or bank account in order to hide where it really came from • He used a phony business to launder money from drug dealing.

— laun·der·er /'lɑːndəɾə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • a money launderer — laundering noun [noncount] • He has been accused of money laundering.

laun·der·ette /,lɑːndə'ret/ noun, pl -ettes [count] chiefly Brit : a place that has machines to use for washing and drying clothes, towels, sheets, etc.

Laun·dro·mat /'lɑːndrə,mæt/ service mark — used for a place that has machines for washing and drying clothes, towels, sheets, etc.

laun·dry /'lɑːndri/ noun, pl -dries

1 [noncount] : clothes, towels, sheets, etc., that need to be washed or that have been washed • There's a pile of dirty laundry in the laundry basket. • clean laundry • a laundry bag • I have to do the laundry today. [=to wash the dirty clothes, towels, etc.] — see also DIRTY LAUNDRY

2 [count] : a business or place where clothes, towels, sheets, etc., are washed and dried • work at/in a laundry • The patients' sheets are sent regularly to the hospital laundry.

laundry list noun, pl ~ lists [count] informal : a long list of related things • She described a laundry list of goals for the city's schools. • He recited a laundry list of problems.

lau·re·ate /'lorijət/ noun, pl -ates [count]

1 : someone who has won an important prize or honor for achievement in an art or science • a Nobel laureate

2 : POET LAUREATE

lau·rel /'lorəl/ noun, pl -rels

1 [count, noncount] : an evergreen tree or bush with shiny pointed leaves • laurel leaves • wearing a crown/wreath of laurel [=a crown/wreath made from laurel leaves that was awarded and worn around the head as a symbol of honor in ancient Greece]

2 laurels [plural] : honor or fame given for some achievement • They enjoyed the laurels of their military victory. • The player earned his laurels from years of hard work.

look to your laurels chiefly Brit : to work in order to keep your success or position • If she performs this well in the championships, her rivals will have to look to their laurels.

rest/sit on your laurels : to be satisfied with past success and do nothing to achieve further success • Although she won the championship, she isn't resting on her laurels. She is training hard to become even better next year.

la·va /'lɑːvə/ noun [noncount] : melted rock from a volcano • a flow of molten lava

lav·a·to·ry /'lævə'tori, Brit 'lævətri/ noun, pl -ries [count]

1 formal : a room with a toilet and sink ◆ In U.S. English, lavatory is most often used for a room in an airplane. • Smoking is not permitted in the airplane's lavatory. It may also be used for a room in other kinds of public places. • the school's lavatories [(more commonly) restrooms] In British English, lavatory is most often used for a room in a public place but may also be used for a room in a home.

2 Brit : TOILET 1

3 US, technical : a bathroom sink • a wide choice of lavatories on sale at plumbing supply stores

lavatory paper noun [noncount] Brit : TOILET PAPER

lav·en·der /'lævəndə/ noun, pl -ders

1 a [count, noncount] : a plant with narrow leaves and small purple flowers that have a sweet smell b [noncount] : the dried leaves and flowers of the lavender plant used to make clothes and fabrics smell pleasant • a small cloth bag filled with lavender

2 [count, noncount] : a pale purple color — see color picture on page C3

¹lav·ish /'lævɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : giving or using a large amount of something • lavish donors • a cook who is known for her lavish use of spices [=a cook who uses a large amount of spices] • a lavish display of flowers — often + in or with • She is lavish in giving praise to her employees. [=she gives a lot of praise to her employees] • a cook who is lavish with spices

2 : given in large amounts • She has drawn/gained lavish praise [=a great amount of praise] for her charitable works. • a lavish donation

3 : having a very rich and expensive quality • a lavish home • a lavish feast/party

— lav·ish·ly adv [more ~; most ~] • a lavishly generous donor • a lavishly [=richly] illustrated book — lav·ish·ness noun [noncount]

²lavish verb -ish·es; -ished; -ish·ing

lavish on/upon [phrasal verb] lavish (something) on/upon (someone) : to give a large amount of (something) to (someone) • They lavished gifts on us. [=they gave us many gifts] • They lavished attention on their children.

lavish with [phrasal verb] lavish (someone or something) with (something) : to give (someone or something) a large amount of (something) • They lavished us with gifts. • Everyone lavished the children with attention. • The production was lavished with praise by the critics.

law /'lɑː/ noun, pl laws

1 [noncount] a : the whole system or set of rules made by the government of a town, state, country, etc. • People who are supposed to obey the law also need to know their rights under the law. [=according to the law] • The courts exist to uphold, interpret, and apply the law. • state/federal law • Stealing is against the law. [=stealing is illegal] • He denied that he had broken/violated the law. [=that he had done anything illegal] • You have to pay taxes. That's the law of the land. [=the set of rules that exists in a certain place] • The job of the police is to enforce the law. [=make sure that people obey the law] • He's interested in a career in law enforcement. [=a career as a police officer] • (US) Law enforcement officials [=police officials] in the area were alerted of the suspect's escape. — see also MARTIAL LAW b : a particular kind of law • a lawyer who specializes in criminal/contract/immigration law — see also COMMON LAW

2 : a rule made by the government of a town, state, country, etc. [count] A law requires that schools provide a safe learning environment. = There is a law requiring schools to provide a safe learning environment. • In our civics class we learned how a bill becomes a law. • She has proposed a new law to protect people from being evicted unfairly. — often + on or against • Congress passed several new laws on the environment. [=laws relating to the environment] • a law against unfair eviction [=a law that makes unfair eviction illegal] • We need stricter laws against discrimination. [noncount] Schools are required by law to provide a safe learning environment. • The bill will become law at the beginning of the year. • With the majority voting in favor, the bill has been passed into law. [=the bill became a law] • The bill was signed into law by the governor. [=the proposed law became officially active when the governor signed it]

3 the law : the people and organizations (such as the police and the courts) whose job is to find or punish people who do not obey laws • They called in the law [=the police] to determine what should be done next. • He's been in and out of trouble with the law for the last 10 years.

4 [noncount] a : the job of a lawyer : the legal profession • She's been thinking about going into law. [=thinking about becoming a lawyer] • a career in law • The company hired a large law firm [=a group of lawyers who work together as a business] to handle the case. • She practices law [=she works as a lawyer] with a firm in Boston. — see also ATTORNEY AT LAW b : the area of study that relates to laws and how they are used • a professor of law • studying law • going to law school [=a school that trains you to become a lawyer]

5 : a religious rule [count] the body of Islamic laws [noncount] according to Jewish law

6 [count] a : a rule stating that something (such as an art or profession) should be done in a certain way • the laws of poetry • He teaches his students that balance is the first law of architecture. [=balance is the most important principle in architecture] b Brit : a rule in a sport or game • the laws [=rules] of tennis

7 [count] : a statement that describes how something works in the natural world — often + of • the law of gravity • the laws of nature/physics • Newton's laws of motion above the law : not required to obey the law • No one is above the law. [=everyone must obey the law] • He complains that the new policy places corporations above the law. [=that the new policy allows corporations to do things that are not legal]

a law unto yourself ✧ People who are or think they are a law unto themselves act in a way that shows they do not care what kind of behavior other people think is acceptable. • I've warned him that he can't keep behaving this way, but he won't listen. He seems to think that he's a law unto himself. [=that he can do whatever he wants to do]

go to law Brit : to ask a court of law to settle a dispute law and order : a state or situation in which people obey the law : legal control and authority • The police work to preserve law and order. • a breakdown of law and order

lay down the law see lay down at ¹LAY outside the law 1 : not agreeing with the law • actions that may have been outside the law [=illegal] 2 : in an illegal way • Investigators were unable to prove that the business was operating outside the law. [=illegally]

take the law into your own hands : to try to punish someone for breaking a law even though you do not have the right to do that • Police are concerned that the victim's family may try to take the law into their own hands. [=may try to punish the criminal themselves instead of allowing the legal system to do it] the law of averages : the idea or principle that something which can produce different results will produce those results in a regular or predictable way over a period of time • I can't believe that team has lost 12 games in a row. The law of averages says that they should have won at least one game by now.

the law of the jungle — used to describe a situation in which people do whatever they want to or whatever is necessary to survive or succeed • an industry governed by the law of the jungle

the long arm of the law see ¹ARM

within the law 1 : agreeing with the law • He says that everything he did was within the law. [=legal] 2 : in a legal way • With the organization under so much scrutiny, it is even more important that they work/operate within the law. [=legally] your word is law ✧ If your word is law, other people must do what you say • He'll listen to suggestions, but in the end, his word is law.

synonyms LAW, RULE, REGULATION, STATUTE, and ORDINANCE are statements about what people are allowed to do. A LAW is made by a government, and people who live in the area controlled by that government must obey it. • According to a state law, all drivers must pass a written test before they can be fully licensed. A RULE usually does not involve an official government. It typically describes what people are allowed to do in a game or in a particular place (such as a school). • He explained the rules of football. • The rules state clearly that smoking is prohibited on campus. A REGULATION is made by a government to protect people from being harmed. • Safety regulations limit the number of hours an airline pilot can fly each month. STATUTE is a formal word for a law made by a government. • The new statute requires that all passengers in a car wear seatbelts. In the U.S., an ORDINANCE is a law that is made by a local government and applies only to a limited area. • The new city ordinance restricts parking on some streets.

law-abid-ing /'lɑ:ə,baidɪŋ/ adj : obeying the law : not doing anything that the law does not allow • a law-abiding citizen law-break-er /'lɑ:,breɪkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who does something that is not legal : a person who breaks the law • He admitted to being a lawbreaker.

— law-break-ing /'lɑ:,breɪkɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

law court noun, pl ~ courts [count]

1 US : a court of law : COURT 1c • a decision handed down by a law court

2 : a building or room where legal decisions are made : COURT 1b • I have to appear in law court next week.

law-ful /'lɑ:fəl/ adj, formal

1 : allowed by the law • lawful conduct • a lawful search of the property — opposite UNLAWFUL

2 : according to the law • They went to court to determine the property's lawful [=rightful, legal] owner.

— law-ful-ly /'lɑ:fəli/ adv • Companies cannot lawfully [=legally] sell private medical information. • In the wedding ceremony he was asked, "Do you take this woman to be your lawfully wedded wife?" [=do you accept this woman as your wife according to the law?] — law-ful-ness /'lɑ:fəlness/ noun [noncount]

law-less /'lɑ:ləs/ adj

1 : having no laws • the lawless society of the frontier

2 : not obeying the law • a lawless mob

— law-less-ness noun [noncount]

law-mak-er /'lɑ:,meɪkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : someone who makes laws : LEGISLATOR — law-mak-ing /'lɑ:,meɪkɪŋ/ noun [noncount] • the responsibilities of lawmaking — often used before another noun • The legislature functions as the nation's lawmaking body.

law-man /'lɑ:mən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] US : someone (such as a sheriff or marshal) whose job is to make sure that people obey the law • Wyatt Earp was a famous American lawman of the Wild West.

lawn /'lɑ:n/ noun, pl lawns : an area of ground (such as the ground around a house or in a garden or park) that is covered with short grass [count] We had a picnic on the lawn in front of the monument. • a neighborhood with well-kept lawns • He planned to mow the lawn [=cut the grass on his lawn] early Saturday morning. • (US) We're having a lawn party [=an outdoor party on a lawn] to celebrate our daughter's graduation. [noncount] several acres of well-kept lawn — see picture at HOUSE lawn bowling noun [noncount] US : a game in which wooden balls are rolled across an area of grass so that they stop as close as possible to a smaller ball — called also (Brit) bowls

lawn chair noun, pl ~ chairs [count] US : a light chair made to be used outside — called also (Brit) garden chair

lawn mower noun, pl ~ -ers

[count] : a machine used for cutting the grass on lawns lawn tennis noun [noncount] : TENNIS

law-suit /'lɑ:su:t/ noun, pl

-suits [count] : a process by which a court of law makes a decision to end a disagreement between people or organizations • win/lose a lawsuit • a complex lawsuit [=suit] that may take years to resolve • When the newspaper refused to admit that the story was false, the actor filed/initiated a lawsuit against the publisher. [=the actor sued the publisher] • They agreed to pay $100,000 to settle a lawsuit. [=to end a lawsuit before the court made a decision about it]

law-ver /'lɑ:jə, 'lɒjə/ noun, pl -yers [count] : a person whose job is to guide and assist people in matters relating to the law lax /'læks/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : not careful enough : not strict enough • lax regulations/policies • Security has been lax. • The university has been lax about/in enforcing these rules.

— lax-ity /'læksəti/ noun [noncount] • He wrote an essay condemning the moral laxity in society. — lax-ly adv • laws laxly enforced — lax-ness noun [noncount] • their laxness [=laxity] in enforcing these rules lax-a-tive /'læksətɪv/ noun, pl -tives medical : a medicine or food that makes it easier for solid waste to pass through the body [count] The doctor prescribed a laxative. [noncount] a dose of laxative

— laxative adj • The herb has a mild laxative effect.

¹lay /'lei/ verb lays; laid /'leɪd/; lay-ing

1 [+ obj] : to place (someone or something) down gently in a flat position • Lay the fabric carefully on the table. • He laid a gentle hand on her shoulder. • She laid the baby in his crib for a nap. • He says that he never laid a finger/hand on her. [=that he never touched her] — often + down • He laid the newspaper down on the desk. • She laid the baby down for his nap. — see also LAY DOWN (below)

2 [+ obj] a : to place (something) into position on or along a surface : to build or set (something) on or in the ground or another surface • When will they lay the foundation for the addition? • lay tracks for the new railroad • lay pipe/cable/lines • laying bricks — often + down • laying down a new road/carpet — often used figuratively • We are laying the groundwork/foundation [=providing conditions] for additional research. b chiefly US : to spread (something) over a surface • lay plaster/paint • lay wallpaper

3 [+ obj] : BURY 1a • They laid him in his grave.

lawn mower

4 [no obj] informal : to be in a flat position on a surface : LIE
• The book was laying on the table. ✧ The use of lay to mean "lie" occurs commonly in informal speech but it is regarded as an error by many people.

5 [+ obj] a : to beat or strike (something) down with force. The wheat was laid flat by the wind and rain. b : to change the condition of something in a specified way. The mountainside has been laid bare by loggers. [=all the trees on the mountainside have been cut down by loggers] • He laid bare his soul. = He laid his soul bare. [=he revealed his most private thoughts and feelings] • He laid himself open to criticism [=he exposed himself to criticism] with his remarks.

6 of a bird, insect, etc. : to produce (an egg) outside of the body : to push (an egg) out of the body [+ obj] birds that typically lay only two eggs per year [no obj] old chickens that no longer lay — see also lay an egg at ¹EGG

7 [+ obj] — used like make, place, or put in various phrases. She has laid plans [=she has made plans] to cut the staff down to just 15 people. • Even the best-laid plans [=the most carefully made plans] sometimes go wrong. • She lays great stress/emphasis on good manners. [=she stresses/emphasizes good manners very much] • The author lays the blame/responsibility for the state of the environment squarely on the government. [=the author blames the government for the state of the environment]

8 [+ obj] : to make (something) ready : to prepare (something). lay a trap • lay a fire in the fireplace • (Brit) Places were laid (at the table) for three people. [=silverware, glasses, and napkins were put on the table for three people who will be eating there] • (Brit) lay [=set] the table for a meal

9 [+ obj] informal : to risk losing (money) if your guess about what will happen is wrong : BET • lay money on a race

10 [+ obj] informal + offensive : to have sex with someone — usually used in the phrase get laid. All he cares about is getting laid. [=having sex]

lay aside [phrasal verb] lay (something) aside or lay aside (something) 1 : to place (something) to one side. She laid aside [=put aside, set aside] the book she had been reading and turned on the TV. — often used figuratively. Plans for a new school have been laid aside. [=put aside, set aside] • It's time for all of us to lay aside old prejudices. • We need to lay our differences aside so that we can learn to work together. 2 : to keep (something) for special or future use : to reserve or save (something) : to keep (something) for special or future use. She has been able to lay aside [=put aside] a few dollars each week.

lay by [phrasal verb] lay (something) by or lay by (something) : to keep (something) for special or future use. She has been able to lay by [=lay aside] a few dollars each week.

lay charges Brit : to accuse someone officially of doing something illegal. Police are deciding whether to lay charges (against her).

lay claim to see ²CLAIM

lay down [phrasal verb] 1 lay (something) down or lay down (something) a : to clearly state (a rule, standard, guideline, etc.). The company has laid down strict new safety standards. b : to stop using (something). At noon, we laid down the rakes and rested for a while. • The strikers laid down their tools. 2 lay (a weapon) down or lay down (a weapon) : to put (a weapon) down and stop fighting. The police ordered the criminals to lay down their weapons. 3 lay down your life formal : to give up your life for a good purpose : to die for a good cause. heroes who laid down their lives to preserve our nation 4 lay down the law : to make a strong statement about what someone is or is not allowed to do. The agreement lays down the law (to everyone) on what the group allows. • When she came home after midnight, her father laid down the law: if she came home that late again, she would not be allowed to watch TV for a week. — see also ¹LAY 1 (above)

lay eyes on see ¹EYE

lay hold of see ²HOLD

lay in [phrasal verb] lay (something) in or lay in (something) : to get and store (a supply of something) for future use.

They laid in [=laid up] canned goods for the winter.

lay into [phrasal verb] lay into (someone or something) informal : to angrily attack or criticize (someone or something)

• The coach really laid into us for playing so carelessly.

lay it on the line see ¹LINE

lay off [phrasal verb] 1 lay (someone) off or lay off (someone) : to stop employing (someone) because there is not enough work. The company has had to lay off most of the staff. • Costs have increased and many workers have been laid off. [=let go] — see also LAYOFF 2 lay off (something) informal : to stop doing, using, eating, or drinking (something). You should lay off the late nights. [=you should stop staying up so late] • My doctor advised me to lay off caffeine. • He's a much nicer person since he laid off the booze. [=since he stopped drinking alcohol] • I need to lay off fatty foods and lose some weight. 3 lay off or lay off (someone) informal : to leave someone alone : to stop annoying someone. I wish you'd just lay off! • Lay off me! [=stop bothering me] lay on [phrasal verb] 1 lay (something) on or lay on (something) a : to spread (something) over a surface. Try to lay the grout on the surface evenly. — often used figuratively. (informal) My parents have been laying a lot of guilt on me. [=have been saying things that make me feel guilty] • (informal) If you have something to tell me, just lay it on me. [=just tell me] • He laid the flattery on pretty heavily. • She laid on a fake southern accent. [=she spoke with a southern accent although she doesn't usually speak that way] b Brit : to provide (something) for someone. If a lot of people want to come, more coaches will be laid on for them. 2 lay it on (thick) informal : to speak in a way that is exaggerated and not sincere. You should compliment her cooking but don't lay it on too thick or she'll know you don't mean it. • He laid it on pretty heavily and pretended to be interested in what she said.

lay out [phrasal verb] 1 lay (something) out or lay out (something) a : to place (something) on a surface in a carefully arranged way. The wires were laid out along the floor. • Brochures were laid out on a table. • She was laying out the cheese and crackers for the guests. b : to arrange (something) in a particular pattern or design. The garden was laid out in a formal pattern. • Much of Manhattan is laid out in the form of a grid. — see also LAYOUT c : to plan the details of (something). She's been hired to lay out [=map out] the election campaign. • The work for tomorrow is all laid out. d : to explain the details of (something). • He laid out the reasons for his decision. e informal : to spend (money). The city laid out millions of dollars for the new stadium. — see also OUTLAY 2 lay (someone's body) out or lay out (someone's body) : to prepare (someone's dead body) so that it can be seen by family and friends before it is buried. They laid him out in a plain coffin. 3 lay (someone) out or lay out (someone) informal : to make (someone) unconscious : to knock (someone) out. He laid his opponent out with a hard right to the jaw.

lay over [phrasal verb] US 1 : to make a stop in the middle of a journey. Our flight to Italy laid over in Madrid for several hours. 2 lay (someone) over : to cause (someone) to stop in the middle of a journey — usually used as (be) laid over. We were laid over in Madrid for several hours. — see also LAYOVER

lay siege to see SIEGE

lay (someone) to rest see ²REST

lay to rest (something) or lay (something) to rest see ²REST lay up [phrasal verb] 1 lay (something) up or lay up (something) a old-fashioned : to store (something). lay up [=lay in] grain for the winter b : to take (something) out of active use or service. We laid up the boat for the winter. 2 lay (someone) up or lay up (someone) : to cause (someone) to stay at home or in bed because of illness or injury. The flu laid him up for two weeks. — usually used as (be) laid up. He was laid up for six weeks with a bad back. • He was laid up by the flu.

lay waste to : to cause very bad damage to (something). The fire laid waste to the land. [=the fire caused great destruction to the land]

lay your hands on see ¹HAND

the goose that lays the golden egg see ¹GOOSE

²lay noun, pl lays [count] informal + offensive : a person who is being described as a sexual partner. • a great lay • an easy lay [=a person who is very willing to have sex] — see also LAY OF THE LAND

³lay past tense of ¹LIE

⁴lay adj, always used before a noun

1 : not trained in a certain profession : not having a lot of knowledge about a certain thing. • a science magazine written for the lay public • lay and professional readers

2 : belonging to a religion but not officially a priest, minister, etc. • lay preachers

layabout /'leɪəbaʊt/ noun, pl -abouts [count] informal : a lazy person. • an irresponsible layabout • her layabout brother lay-away /'leɪə,weɪ/ noun [singular] US : a way of buying something in which you do not receive the thing you are buying until you have paid the full price by making small payments over a period of time • We bought the table and chairs on layaway, so we won't have them until December. • The store offers a layaway plan for large purchases.

lay-by /'leɪ,baɪ/ noun, pl -bys [count] Brit : an area next to a road where vehicles can stop : TURNOUT

1 layer /'leɪə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : an amount of something that is spread over an area • Everything was covered by a thin layer of sand/dust. • a layer of clouds— see also OZONE LAYER

2 : a covering piece of material or a part that lies over or under another • The top layer of the rug is badly worn but the bottom layer is still OK. • The cake has three layers. • She glued together several layers of paper. • He was wearing several layers of clothing. • rocks that formed in layers from flows of lava • (US) When the weather is cold you should dress in layers. [=you should wear several pieces of clothing on top of one another]— often used figuratively • His novels have many layers [=levels] of meaning. • a dish that has many layers of flavor [=that has many different flavors]

3 : a bird that lays eggs • Their hens were poor layers. [=their hens did not produce many eggs]

4 : a worker who lays something (such as bricks) • a brick layer

2 layer verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing [+ obj] : to form or arrange parts or pieces of something on top of each other : to form or arrange (something) in layers • The next step in the recipe is to layer the pasta and the sauce in the pan. [=to place a layer of pasta in the pan, then a layer of sauce, then another layer of pasta, and so on] • We layered the fruit with whipped cream and served it with cookies. • He layered her hair. [=he cut her hair in sections that were different lengths]— often used as (be) layered • pasta layered with sauce layer cake noun, pl ~ cakes [count] chiefly US : a cake made of more than one layer lay-ette /leɪ'et/ noun, pl -ettes [count] : a collection of basic clothing and other things needed for a new baby lay-in /'leɪ,ɪn/ noun, pl -ins [count] US, basketball : LAYUP • an easy layin

lay-man /'leɪmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count]

1 : a person who is not a member of a particular profession • For a layman, he knows a lot about the law. • a medical journal written in language that is clear to the layman [=clear to someone who is not a medical professional] • The process was explained to us in layman's terms. [=in simple language that anyone can understand]

2 : a person who belongs to a religion but is not a priest, minister, etc. • He's an important layman in his church. — compare LAITY

lay-off /'leɪ,ɑ:f/ noun, pl -offs [count]

1 : the act of ending the employment of a worker or group of workers • The company announced the layoff of several hundred employees. • More layoffs are expected at the factory later this year.— see also lay off at 1 LAY

2 : a period of time during which there is no activity • The band finally has a new album after a three year layoff. • a lay-off of three years

lay of the land noun

the lay of the land US : the arrangement of the different parts in an area of land : where things are located in a place • She knew the lay of the land from hiking through it daily.— often used figuratively • It takes time for new employees to get the lay of the land [=to learn how things are done] in this department.— called also (Brit) the lie of the land

lay-out /'leɪ,aut/ noun, pl -outs [count] : the design or arrangement of something : the way something is laid out • The layout of the apartment was good, but the kitchen was too small. • She designed the page layout for the new magazine.— see also lay out at 1 LAY lay-over /'leɪ,ouvə/ noun, pl -overs [count] US : a period of time when you are not traveling in the middle of a journey : STOPOVER • a two-hour layover

lay-per-son /'leɪ,pəsn/ noun, pl lay-per-sons or lay-peo-ple /'leɪ,pɪ:pəl/ [count] : LAYMAN • a meeting between clergy and laypeople

lay-up /'leɪ,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count] basketball : a shot made from a position that is very close to the basket lay-wom-an /'leɪ,wʊmən/ noun, pl -wom-en /-,wɪmən/ [count] : a woman who belongs to a religion but is not a member of the clergy • a Catholic laywoman— compare LAITY

laze /'leɪz/ verb laz-es; lazed; laz-ing [no obj] : to spend time relaxing • She's been lazing in the sun all afternoon. • While he was sick, he just lazed around the house.

laze away [phrasal verb] laze (something) away or laze away (something) : to relax and do very little for (a period of time) • She lazed away the afternoon lying in the sun.

la-zy /'leɪzi/ adj la-zi-er; -est

1 disapproving : not liking to work hard or to be active • a lazy child who avoided household chores • I should have done more work this weekend, but I was feeling lazy.

2 always used before a noun : not having much activity : causing people to feel that they do not want to be active • a lazy summer day

3 always used before a noun : moving slowly • a hawk flying in lazy circles • a lazy river

— la-zi-ly /'leɪzəli/ adv • The leaves floated lazily down the stream.— la-zi-ness /'leɪzɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • Her parents blame her bad grades on laziness.

la-zy-bones /'leɪzi,bəʊnz/ noun, pl lazybones [count] informal : a lazy person • They're such lazybones they'll never get the work done on time. • Don't be such a lazybones.

lazy Su-san /-'su:zn/ noun, pl ~ -sans [count] chiefly US : a round tray that can be turned and that is used for serving food at a table

lb. abbr, pl lbs. pound • a 5-lb. bag of flour [=a five-pound bag of flour, a bag of flour weighing five pounds] • The baby weighed 8 lbs. at birth. ♦ The abbreviation lb. comes from Latin word “libra,” which means “pound.”

LCD /,ɛl,sɪ:'di:/ noun, pl LCDs [count] : a screen (such as a television screen or the screen on a watch) that works by passing a small amount of electricity through a special liquid ♦ LCD is an abbreviation of “liquid crystal display.”

leach /'li:tʃ/ verb leach-es; leached; leach-ing technical

1 [+ obj] : to remove (a chemical, a metal, etc.) from a substance by the action of a liquid passing through the substance • Even a small amount of rain can leach the toxic material from the soil. : to release (a chemical, a metal, etc.) when a liquid passes through • Certain kinds of treated wood can leach chemicals into the soil.

2 [no obj] of a chemical, a metal, etc. : to be removed from a substance by a liquid passing through the substance • The chemical eventually leaches away from the soil.

1 lead /'li:d/ verb leads; led /'led/; lead-ing

1 a : to guide someone to a place especially by going in front [no obj] You lead and we'll follow right behind you. [+ obj] He led [=took] me into a room in the back of the house. • You lead us and we'll follow right behind you.— often + to • The teacher led the child by the hand to his seat. = The teacher took the child's hand and led him to his seat. • Our hostess led us to the dinner table.— often used as (be) led • The passengers were led onto/aboard the ship by the steward. • The prisoner was led off to jail [=was taken to jail] in handcuffs.— often used figuratively • I gradually led the interview around/back to the subject of his failed marriage. • He says that he will follow the evidence wherever it leads (him). • This leads me to my next point, which is that the building needs a new roof. • The painting's composition leads the/your eye to the figures in the foreground. [=causes you to look at the figures in the foreground] b [+ obj] : to go or be at the front part of (something) • The veterans will lead a parade down Main Street. • lead a march

2 [no obj] : to lie or go in a specified direction • The path leads uphill. • This road doesn't lead to the village as we thought it did. • a set of stairs that leads down to the basement • There was a path leading (off) from the meadow into the woods.— often used figuratively • She realized that their relationship would never lead to marriage. • The investigation into the murder was leading nowhere. [=the investigation was not solving the crime]

3 : to guide the actions of a person or group : to be in charge of a person, group, activity, etc. [no obj] We need to elect someone who can lead. • bosses who lead by example [=who show employees how they should act by acting that way themselves] [+ obj] She leads her employees by setting a good example for them. • She led a successful boycott of the store. • lead an expedition • A visiting professor will be leading the seminar. • lead [=direct] an orchestra • She led the children in a song. [=she sang a song and the children sang with her]

4 [+ obj] : to cause (a person, group, etc.) to do something or to follow some course of action • Her interest in art led her into the field of art history. — usually followed by to or to + verb • His volunteer work in the hospital led him to a career in nursing. = His volunteer work in the hospital led [=inspired] him to become a nurse. • Her experience with cancer led her to consider writing a book on the subject. • The evidence leads me to believe [=makes me believe] that this disease is curable. • We've been led to believe that the labels on food items disclose all ingredients, but it's becoming clear that this is not the case. • I had been led to expect that someone would meet me at the airport, but no one came. • He led me to understand [=he told me or caused me to think] that the deadline was January 7.

5 : to be first, best, or ahead in a race or competition [no obj] the team that is currently leading in the pennant race • At the end of the fourth inning, the Red Sox led by two runs. [+ obj] lead a race • They led their opponents by 20 points at the end of the third quarter. • the team that is leading the league [=the team that is in first place] • a batter who leads the league in home runs [=who has hit more home runs than any other batter] • a runner who is leading the pack/field [=a runner who is ahead of the group of other runners] — often used figuratively • Their company leads the world [=is the most successful company in the world] in developing new technology to assist people with disabilities.

6 [+ obj] : to go through (life) in a certain way : to have (a specified kind of life) • They chose to lead [=live] a quiet life. • He leads a peaceful existence. • It turned out that he had been leading a double life [=deceiving people about his life, not telling the whole truth about his life] • He has always led a charmed life [=he has always been lucky] • She needs to lead her own life [=she needs to make her own decisions about her life]

7 : to begin play in a card game with (a certain card or kind of card) [+ obj] lead trumps • led a spade [no obj] lead with a spade

8 [no obj] : to guide a dance partner through the steps of a dance • I don't know this dance, so I'd prefer it if you lead.

9 [+ obj] law : to ask (a witness) a question in a way that suggests what the answer should be : to ask (a witness) a leading question • The judge ruled that the lawyer was leading the witness.

lead off [phrasal verb] lead off or lead (something) off or lead off (something) 1 : to start something (such as an activity or performance) in a specified way • She led off [=started, kicked off] the presentation with a brief overview of the project. • She led off [=began] with a brief overview of the project. 2 baseball : to be the first batter in an inning • He led off with a walk. [=he was the first batter in his team's half of the inning and he was walked] • He led off the inning with a home run. — see also LEADOFF lead on [phrasal verb] lead (someone) on : to cause (someone) to wrongly continue believing or doing something • She was devastated when she found out that he didn't really love her, and had only been leading her on. [=he had been leading her to believe that he loved her] lead someone a merry chase (US) or Brit lead someone a (merry) dance old-fashioned : to cause a series of troubles or worries for (someone) • He led me a merry chase before I finally got him to agree to a meeting.

lead someone (around) by the nose see ¹NOSE lead someone down/up the garden path informal : to deceive someone : to cause someone to go, think, or proceed wrongly • He believes the average consumer is being led down the garden path by the promises in advertisements.

lead the way : to be the first person to go somewhere • You lead the way, and we'll follow. — often used figuratively • Their company led the way in developing this technology. [=was the first to have success developing the technology]

lead to [phrasal verb] lead to (something) : to result in (something) • a course of study leading to a degree in agriculture • Her investigations ultimately led to the discovery of the missing documents. • His volunteer work in the hospital led to a career in nursing. = His volunteer work in the hospital led to him becoming a nurse. — see also ¹LEAD 1a, 4 (above)

lead up to [phrasal verb] lead up to (something) 1 : to occur in the time that comes before (something) • Many voters were still undecided in the days leading up to [=approaching] the election. 2 : to come before and help to cause (something) • There was a series of errors leading up to the accident. 3 : to come before and help to introduce (something) • a chapter leading up to the main topic of the book • I had no idea what he was leading up to when he started talking about his father.

lead with [phrasal verb] lead with (something) 1 : to begin something (such as a story or speech) with (something specified) • The newspaper story led [=opened, began] with a long report on the funeral. 2 : to begin a series of punches in boxing with (a punch thrown by a specified hand) • The champion led with a left to the body, followed up quickly with a right to the jaw.

the blind leading the blind see ¹BLIND

²lead noun, pl leads

1 The lead a : a position that is ahead of others • They walked single file, with the oldest boy in the lead [=with the oldest boy at the front of the line] • You take the lead [=go first] and we'll follow right behind you. b : a position that is ahead of others in a race or competition • A runner from Kenya is in the lead in the race. [=is leading the race] • A runner from Kenya has/holds the lead • Her car has taken/gained the lead = Her car has gone to/into the lead • He was trailing in the polls last week, but now he has regained the lead — often used figuratively • Their company has taken the lead in developing this new technology.

2 [count] : the amount or distance by which someone or something is ahead in a race or competition — usually singular • Her car had a lead of 12 seconds over the next one. • They had a lead of 20 points. = They had a 20-point lead. • a narrow/slim lead • Our candidate has established a comfortable/commanding lead in the opinion polls.

3 [count] : a piece of information that could help produce a desired result • I'm a good salesman, but I need more leads. [=names of potential customers]; especially : a piece of information that might help in solving a crime • The police have no leads in the case. • Investigators are working on several leads.

4 [count] a : the main role in a movie or play • Her big break came when she got/played the lead in a major Hollywood movie. • He played the lead opposite Bette Davis [=he starred with Bette Davis] in two films. • She got the lead role; also : someone who plays the main role in movie or play • She was the romantic lead in a major Hollywood movie. • Who will be the male/female lead in his next film? b : the main performer in a group • He sang/played lead [=sang/played as the main performer] in the band. — usually used before another noun • the lead singer/guitarist

5 [count] a : the beginning part of a news story • You should edit the lead so that it will grab the audience's attention. b : the most important news story in a newspaper or broadcast • The story of his arrest was the lead in newspapers across the country. • His arrest was the lead story [=the first and most important story] on the evening news.

6 [count] baseball : a position taken by a runner at a distance from a base before a pitch is thrown • The runner on first took a big lead. [=moved several steps toward second base] • The runner had a large lead off second base. [=stood several steps away from second base in the space between second and third base]

7 [count] chiefly Brit : ¹LEASH • train a dog to walk on a lead

8 [count] chiefly Brit : a wire that carries electricity from a source to an electrical device (such as a lamp or radio) : an electrical cord follow someone's lead : to do the same thing that someone else has done • He followed her lead and voted in favor of the proposal.

— compare ³LEAD

³lead /'led/ noun, pl leads

1 [noncount] : a heavy and soft metal that has a gray color • a pipe made of lead — often used before another noun • a lead pipe • lead crystal [=glass made with lead in it] • lead poisoning [=poisoning from eating, drinking, or touching something with lead in it] • lead-free gasoline [=gasoline that does not contain lead]

2 : a thin stick of dark material used in pencils to make marks [noncount] a pencil with black lead • a lead pencil [count] pencils with broken leads

3 [noncount] chiefly US, informal : bullets • They shot him full of lead

get the lead out US, informal : to begin going or moving more quickly • Get the lead out! If we don't leave in five minutes we'll be late for the movie!

go over/down like a lead balloon see ¹BALLOON

— compare ²LEAD

lead·ed /'ledəd/ adj

1 : containing lead • leaded gasoline — opposite UNLEADED

2 : having pieces of glass separated by narrow pieces of lead
• leaded glass • leaded windows • (Brit) leaded lights [=windows with leaded glass] lead·en /'ledn/ adj, literary

1 : having a dull gray color • a leaden sky/sea

2 : feeling heavy and difficult to move • walked with leaden feet

3 : not lively or exciting • leaden [=dull] conversation lead·er /'li:də/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : someone or something that leads others: such as a : someone who guides other people • He acted as our leader [=guide] on the climb. • The tour leader suggested several restaurants in the area. b : someone or something that is ahead of others in a race or competition • She was the leader for most of the race, but she eventually finished second. • He is the league leader in home runs. [=he has the most home runs in the league] • the leader board [=the list of players who are leading a golf tournament] c : a powerful person who controls or influences what other people do : a person who leads a group, organization, country, etc. • The class focused on the great religious/political leaders of the last century. • the leader of an army • a gang leader • a leader of the antiwar movement • Some people are leaders, and some people are followers. • He's a born/natural leader. [=someone who has qualities that a good leader has] d : a person, group, or organization that is the best or most successful in some activity • The company has become a leader in developing new technology. • a market leader [=a product or company that is more successful than all competing products or companies]

2 a : a person who leads a musical group • the leader of a popular big band of the 1930s; specifically, US : the conductor of an orchestra • the orchestra leader b Brit : CONCERT-MASTER

3 Brit : ²EDITORIAL • The Times attacked the government in a leader today.

— see also LOSS LEADER

— lead·er·less adj • a leaderless political movement

lead·er·ship /'li:dəʃɪp/ noun

1 [noncount] a : a position as a leader of a group, organization, etc. • She recently assumed (the) leadership of the company. b : the time when a person holds the position of leader • The company has done very well under her leadership. [=while she has been its leader]

2 [noncount] : the power or ability to lead other people • a politician who lacks leadership • What this country needs is the exercise of strong leadership! • leadership skills

3 [count] : the leaders of a group, organization, or country • The party leadership is uncertain about what to do next. = (Brit) The party leadership are uncertain about what to do next.

lead·in /'li:dɪn/ noun, pl -ins [count] : something that comes before and introduces something else • The short animated movie is a good lead-in to the feature film.

lead·ing /'li:dɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : having great importance, influence, or success • a leading topic of conversation • Their family played a leading part in the settlement of the town. • the leading role in a major Hollywood movie • a leading citizen of the town • She's one of the leading authorities/experts on the stock market.

2 : most important : FOREMOST • What is the leading [=number one] health problem for older women?

leading article noun, pl ~ articles [count] Brit : ²EDITORIAL

leading edge noun, pl ~ edges

1 [count] : the front edge of something that moves • the leading edge of an airplane's wing • the leading edge of a thunderstorm

2 [singular] : the most important or advanced area of activity in a particular field • a company that is at/on the leading edge [=cutting edge] of new developments in technology leading lady noun, pl ~ -dies [count] : an actress who plays the most important female role in a play or movie leading light noun, pl ~ lights [count] : a person who is a very important member of a group, organization, or community • He is one of the leading lights of the labor movement.

leading man noun, pl ~ men [count] : an actor who plays the most important male role in a play or movie leading question noun, pl ~ -tions [count] : a question asked in a way that is intended to produce a desired answer • The judge made it quite clear that the lawyers were not permitted to ask witnesses leading questions. • The interviewer asked a lot of leading questions and was clearly biased.

lead-off /'li:d,ɔ:f/ adj, baseball : batting first at the start of a game or an inning • a leadoff hitter • a batter hitting leadoff = a batter hitting in the leadoff position — see also lead off at ¹LEAD lead time /'li:d-/ noun [noncount] : the time between the beginning of a process or project and the appearance of its results • We will need at least six months lead time before production begins.

lead-up /'li:d,ʌp/ noun [singular] : something that comes before or prepares for something else • the lead-up to the war/trial

¹leaf /'li:f/ noun, pl leaves /'li:vz/

1 : one of the flat and typically green parts of a plant that grow from a stem or twig [count] a maple leaf • a tobacco leaf • tea leaves • I heard the rustle of the autumn leaves. • a pile of dead leaves • The trees drop their leaves in the fall, and new leaves grow again in the spring. [noncount] By the end of April, most trees are in leaf. [=most trees have grown their new leaves] • The trees have not yet come into leaf. — see color picture on page C6

2 [count] : a sheet of paper in a book : PAGE — usually used figuratively • I decided to take/borrow a leaf out of his book [=to do the same thing that he did] and invest some money in the stock market. — see also FLYLEAF, LOOSE-LEAF

3 [count] : a part that can be added to or removed from a table to change the size of its top surface

4 [noncount] : a very thin sheet of metal (such as gold or silver) that is used to decorate something • silver leaf turn over a new leaf : to start behaving or living in a different and better way • I decided to turn over a new leaf and stop worrying so much. • The program helps drug addicts to turn over a new leaf when they get out of jail.

— leaf-less /'li:fləs/ adj • leafless trees — leaf-like /'li:f,laɪk/ adj

²leaf verb leafs; leafed; leaf-ing

leaf out [phrasal verb] US, of a tree : to produce leaves • The tree will leaf out in the spring.

leaf through [phrasal verb] leaf through (something) : to turn the pages of (a book, a magazine, etc.) • She was leaf-ing through the magazine, looking at the pictures.

leafed /'li:ft/ adj : having a specified kind or number of leaves : LEAVED — used in combination • a silver-leafed plant • a four-leafed clover

¹leaf-let /'li:flət/ noun, pl -lets [count] : a printed and often folded sheet of paper that is usually given to people for no cost • Protesters were handing out leaflets condemning the government's environmental policies. • an advertising leaflet

²leaflet verb -let-ed; -let-ing : to give leaflets to many people in (a place) [+ obj] They leafleted several neighborhoods. [no obj] We spent the morning leafleting.

leafy /'li:fi/ adj leaf-i-er; -est

1 : having many leaves or trees • leafy woodlands • leafy trees • a leafy suburb [=a suburb in which there are many trees]

2 : consisting mostly of leaves • leafy vegetables • leafy greens

¹league /'li:g/ noun, pl leagues [count]

1 : a group of sports teams that play against each other • a softball/bowling league • the National Football League — often used figuratively • I enjoy playing chess, but when I tried playing against George, I knew right away that I was out of my league. [=I knew that he was much better than I was] • According to one restaurant reviewer, the two chefs are not even in the same league. [=one of the chefs is much better than the other] • He's a pretty good writer, but he's not in the same league as she is. = He's a pretty good writer, but she's in a different league altogether. [=she is a much better writer than he is] • When it comes to cooking, he's in a league of his own. [=he is a much better cook than anyone else] — see also BIG LEAGUE, BUSH LEAGUE, IVY LEAGUE, LITTLE LEAGUE, MAJOR LEAGUES, MINOR LEAGUE

2 : a group or organization of nations or people united for a purpose • the League of Nations • joined the League of Voters • The league has grown to include 12 member states.

in league (with) : working with someone especially to do something dishonest • She denies that she is in league with [=conspiring with] corrupt officials. • He suspects that they are in league together [=working with each other; working together] against him.

— compare ²LEAGUE

²league noun, pl leagues [count] : any one of several old units of distance from about 2.4 to 4.6 miles (3.9 to 7.4 kilometers) — compare ¹LEAGUE

leagu·er /'li:gə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who belongs to a specified league • a major/minor leaguer [=a player in baseball's major/minor leagues]

league table noun, pl ~ tables [count] Brit : a list of teams, schools, hospitals, etc. that shows them in order from best to worst

¹leak /'li:k/ verb leaks; leaked; leak·ing

1 a : to let something (such as a liquid or gas) in or out through a hole in a surface [no obj] The roof was leaking. [=rainwater was getting into the building through the roof] • The boat leaked badly. [=a lot of water got into the boat through its bottom] • That hose is leaking. [=water is coming out of the side of that hose] • a leaking boat/roof [+ obj] The boat was leaking water. • The cracked pipe leaked fumes into the room. b [no obj] of a liquid, gas, etc. : to come in or go out through a hole in a surface • Fumes leaked through the crack in the pipe. • Air leaked out of the tire. • Water was leaking through a hole in the roof.

2 a [+ obj] : to give (secret information) to someone so that it becomes known to the public • Someone leaked the story to the press. • a leaked story b [no obj] : to become known to the public • We can't let this information leak. [=get out] — usually + out • Eventually, news of the accident leaked out. • Details about the case started to leak out.

²leak noun, pl leaks [count]

1 a : a hole in a surface that lets something (such as a liquid or gas) pass in or out • The boat had developed a bad leak. • The landlord said he would fix the leak in the roof. • One of the car's tires has a slow leak. [=a small hole through which air escapes slowly] • The pipe suddenly sprung a leak. [=began to leak] b : an occurrence in which something (such as a liquid or gas) passes through a hole in a surface • a gas/oil leak • a slow leak of the chemical

2 : a situation in which people learn about information that is supposed to be secret • When a reporter revealed classified information, the source of the leak was investigated. • Security is high because of a fear of leaks before negotiations have been finished. • a security leak

take a leak or Brit have a leak informal + impolite : to pass liquid from the body : URINATE

— leak·proof /'li:k,pru:f/ adj • a leakproof container

leak·age /'li:kɪdʒ/ noun, pl -ag·es

1 a : an occurrence in which something (such as a liquid or gas) passes through a hole in a surface [noncount] Some of the water was lost from the containers because of leakage. [=because it leaked out] [count] trying to prevent accidental leakages b [count] : the amount that is lost when something leaks • Leakages of about 30 percent were reported.

2 : an occurrence in which secret information becomes known [noncount] taking steps to prevent leakage of confidential information [count] leakages of confidential information leaky /'li:ki/ adj leak·i·er; -est : having a hole that allows something (such as a liquid or gas) to pass in or out : having a leak • a leaky boat/pipe • The roof was leaky.

¹lean /'li:n/ verb leans; leaned or Brit leant /'lent/; lean·ing

1 a [no obj] : to bend or move from a straight position • The tree leans to one side. • He leaned back in his chair. • They leaned over the table to smell the flowers. b [+ obj] : to cause (something) to bend or move from a straight position • They leaned their heads back. • He leaned his chair back.

2 a [no obj] : to rest on or against something or someone for support • You can lean on me if you get tired. • She stood leaning on her right leg. • The ladder was leaning against the house. b [+ obj] : to cause (something) to rest on or against something • He leaned the ladder against the house. • The boy leaned his head on his mother's shoulder.

3 a — used to describe what someone wants to do, tends to do, or is likely to do • She hasn't made a decision yet, and I don't know which way she's leaning. — often + toward • She's leaning toward a career in medicine. [=she is probably going to choose a career in medicine] • The mayor is leaning toward closing down the school. b — used to say that someone supports one group or set of beliefs more than another; often + toward • an independent presidential candidate who leans toward the Democrats and their views c — used to say that something is more like one thing than another; often + toward • Her new album leans more toward rock than country.

lean on [phrasal verb] 1 lean on (someone or something) : to depend on (someone or something) for support • He leaned on his family during the crisis. • She was someone you could lean on. 2 lean on (someone) informal : to force or try to force (someone) to do something especially by making threats : to put pressure on (someone) • They were leaning on the governor to pass the law.

lean over backward see ¹BACKWARD

²lean adj lean·er; lean·est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : not having much fat on the body : physically thin, strong, and healthy • She has a lean, athletic body. • a lean racehorse 2 : containing little or no fat • lean meat • (US) lean ground beef

3 : not having or producing much money, food, etc. • Those were lean years for the company. [=the company did not make much money in those years] • a lean budget/profit/harvest

4 usually approving : not using a lot of something (such as words or money) • He had a lean style of writing. [=his writing style did not use too many words]; not wasteful • She ran a lean and efficient company. • We wanted our business to be lean and mean.

— lean·ness /'li:nəs/ noun [noncount]

synonyms LEAN, THIN, and SKINNY mean not having much fat on the body. LEAN suggests a lack of unnecessary fat and may also suggest the muscular body of an athlete. • the strong lean legs of a runner THIN can describe a person whose lack of fat is unhealthy, but it also often describes a person who is considered attractive. • a thin and sickly old man • The room was full of beautiful thin women. SKINNY describes a person who has an extremely thin appearance and who may not be healthy or eat enough food. • skinny children in poor countries • skinny legs lean·ing /'li:nɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count] : a preference for something or tendency to do something — often + toward • Her leaning is toward a career in medicine. — often plural • His political leanings are unknown. • The two painters have similar artistic leanings.

lean·to /'li:n,tu:/ noun, pl -tos [count] : a small and usually roughly made building that is built on the side of a larger building

¹leap /'li:p/ verb leaps; leaped /'li:pt, 'lept/ or leapt /'lept, 'li:pt/; leap·ing

1 a [no obj] : to jump from a surface • The cat suddenly leaped into the air. • Fish were leaping out of the water. • He leaped off the bridge. • The cat leapt down from (the top of) the table. • The boys leaped over the stream. • He made a leaping catch. [=he caught the ball as he jumped] b [+ obj] : to jump over (something) • The horse leaped the stone wall.

2 [no obj] : to move quickly • She leapt up [=she stood up quickly] and ran out the door. • When the alarm went off, she leapt out of bed. • The crowd leapt to its feet. [=stood up quickly in excitement] — often used figuratively • The team leaped from last place to first place. • The conversation leapt from politics to religion. • When other people accused her of being lazy, he leaped to her defense. [=he quickly began to defend her] • They leaped into action. [=acted immediately] leap at [phrasal verb] leap at (something) : to eagerly take (a chance, opportunity, etc.) • She leaped at [=jumped at] the chance/opportunity to show her boss what she could do. • He leapt at the offer of a better job.

3 [no obj] : to suddenly increase by a large amount • The price of gasoline leaped (by) 10 percent.

leap off the page see ¹PAGE leap out at [phrasal verb] leap out at (someone) 1 : to suddenly come at (someone) from a hiding place • The hidden assailant leaped [=jumped] out at them. 2 : to immediately get the attention of (someone) • The picture on the magazine's cover leaps out at you.

leap to conclusions see CONCLUSION

leap to mind see ¹MIND

look before you leap see ¹LOOK

your heart leaps see HEART

— leap·er /'li:pə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

²leap noun, pl leaps

1 [count] a : a long or high jump • She made a graceful leap into the air. • He ran and took a flying leap over the stream. b : the distance that a person or animal jumps • He won the high jump with a leap of six feet.

2 [count] : a great and sudden change, increase, or improvement • She made the difficult leap [=transition] from college to the workplace. • the leap from childhood to adulthood • a leap [=jump] in the cost of automobiles • She has shown great leaps in ability. • Technology has taken a great leap forward.

— see also QUANTUM LEAP

3 [singular] : a serious attempt to do or understand something new • an imaginative leap • It required a leap of the imagination to picture how the project would look when it was completed. ✧ A leap in the dark is something that is done without knowing anything about what the result might be. • He had no experience, so starting his own business was a real leap in the dark. ✧ A leap of faith is a decision to believe that something is true or possible even though other people may doubt it. • He has taken/made a leap of faith in starting his own business. • It takes/requires a leap of faith to believe that this project can succeed.

by/in leaps and bounds : very quickly and greatly • The company grew by leaps and bounds. • Their knowledge has increased in leaps and bounds.

take a flying leap US, informal + impolite — used to tell someone who angers or annoys you to go away • She told him to (go) take a flying leap. [= (Brit) take a running jump]

¹leapfrog /'li:p,frɑ:g/ noun [noncount] : a children's game in which one player bends down so that another player can leap over the back of the first player • play leapfrog

²leapfrog verb -frogs; -frogged; -frog·ging : to move ahead of or beyond (someone or something) in a very quick and sudden way [+ obj] Skipping his last two years of high school, he leapfrogged his classmates and went to college. • This year's technologies are leapfrogging last year's designs. [no obj] — usually + over • She leapfrogged over her more experienced coworkers and became the company's president.

leap year noun, pl ~ years [count] : a year of 366 days instead of 365 with February having 29 days instead of 28 ✧ A leap year occurs every four years. • The year 2004 was a leap year.

learn /'lɔ:n/ verb learns; learned also chiefly Brit learnt /'lɔ:nt/; learn·ing

1 : to gain knowledge or skill by studying, practicing, being taught, or experiencing something [no obj] People learn throughout their lives. • He is learning quickly. • I can't swim yet, but I'm learning. — often + about • We learned about the reasons for the war in our history class. — often + from • We all have the ability to learn from our mistakes. • She learned from experience that when grease catches on fire, you shouldn't put water on it. [+ obj] learn arithmetic • learn a trade • She's interested in learning French. • We had to learn the rules of the game. — often + about • She's been trying to learn more about our family history. — often to + verb • He never learned (how) to dance/swim. • I'm learning to play the guitar. • He learned how not to offend people. • You need to learn (how) to take care of your health.

2 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to be in your memory by studying it : MEMORIZE • I'm trying to learn my lines for the play. • We had to learn the names of the state capitals. • learn the alphabet

3 : to hear or be told (something) : to find out (something) [+ obj] She learned through/from a letter that her father had died. • I later learned that they had never called. • I was surprised when I learned (that) he wasn't coming. • We finally learned the truth about what had happened. [no obj] — + of • We were shocked to learn of her death. [=to find out about her death] • She first learned of the accident on Monday.

4 : to become able to understand (something) through experience [+ obj] learn the difference between right and wrong • He quickly learned what it means to be a father. • We learned that if we wanted a good job, we had to go to college. • I have learned that life isn't easy. • Someday you'll learn that money is not the most important thing in life. • He learned the hard way that crime doesn't pay. [=he found out by being punished for his crimes] — often followed by to + verb • It's important to learn to respect other people. • It's a bad situation, but we'll just have to learn to live with it. [=we will have to accept it and deal with it] [no obj] Someday you'll learn. • Even after all his health problems, he's still eating and drinking too much. Some people never learn.

live and learn see ¹LIVE

— learn·able /'lɔ:nəbəl/ adj • learnable skills learned adj

1 /'lɔ:nəd/ [more ~; most ~] formal : having or showing a lot of learning, education, or knowledge • a learned scholar • We had a learned discussion about politics. • a learned opinion • She has published articles in both learned [=scholarly] journals and popular magazines.

2 /'lɔ:nd/ — used to describe something that people get or have because of learning or experience • Speaking a language is a learned behavior. • a learned response

learn·er /'lɔ:nə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who learns • He is a fast learner. [=he learns fast] • slow learners : a person who is trying to gain knowledge or skill in something by studying, practicing, or being taught • an adult learner • an advanced learner • learners of English as a second language • a learner's dictionary

2 Brit : STUDENT DRIVER

learner driver noun, pl ~ -ers [count] Brit : STUDENT DRIVER

learner's permit noun, pl ~ -mits [count] US : a document that allows a person to learn how to drive a car • After you get your learner's permit, I'll let you drive my car. — called also (Brit) provisional licence

learn·ing /'lɔ:nɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

1 : the activity or process of gaining knowledge or skill by studying, practicing, being taught, or experiencing something : the activity of someone who learns • a computer program that makes learning fun • different methods of foreign language learning • The first year of college was a learning experience.

2 : knowledge or skill gained from learning • They were people of good education and considerable/great learning. • book learning [=knowledge gained from reading books]

learning curve noun, pl ~ curves [count] : the rate at which someone learns something new : the course of progress made in learning something • The job has a very steep learning curve. [=there is a large amount that has to be learned quickly in order to do the job]

learning disability noun, pl ~ -ties [count] : a condition that makes learning difficult • students with learning disabilities — called also (chiefly Brit) learning difficulty

— learning disabled adj • parents with learning disabled children learnt chiefly Brit past tense and past participle of LEARN

¹lease /'li:s/ noun, pl leas·es [count] : a legal agreement that lets someone use a car, house, etc., for a period of time in return for payment • sign a lease • They took out a five-year lease on the house. • We hold leases on both of our cars. • The lease expires next month. = The lease runs out next month.

a new lease on life (US) or Brit a new lease of life : a chance to continue living or to become successful or popular again • This medicine gives patients a new lease on life. • After they made the movie, the book got a new lease on life. [=the book became newly popular] • The band has given this style of music a new lease on life.

²lease verb leases; leased; leas·ing [+ obj]

1 : to use (something) for a period of time in return for payment • She leases a red convertible. • I have leased this house for the last four years.

2 : to allow someone to use (something) for a period of time in return for payment • We leased the house to a young married couple.

¹leash /'li:f/ noun, pl leash·es [count] chiefly US : a long, thin piece of rope, chain, etc., that is used for holding a dog or other animal • put a dog on a leash • Dogs must be kept on a leash while in the park. • The dog saw a cat and was straining at its leash trying to get at it. — often used figuratively • The coach kept her players on a (short/tight) leash throughout the year. [=the coach closely watched and controlled the behavior of her players] • The kids were straining at the leash to get going. [=were very eager to get going] — called also (chiefly Brit) lead

²leash verb leashes; leashed; leash·ing [+ obj] : to put (a dog or other animal) on a leash • You need to leash your dog while in the park. • a leashed dog

¹least /'li:st/ adj, superlative form of ¹LITTLE : smallest in amount or degree • The least [=slightest] noise would startle her. • I try to spend the least (amount of) time possible in the kitchen. = I try to spend the least possible (amount of) time in the kitchen. • We finished without the least help from you. [=without any help from you] • She hasn't shown the least sign of remorse. [=she hasn't shown any remorse]

not (in) the least bit see ¹BIT

take/follow the path/line of least resistance see RESISTANCE

²least noun

the least : something of the lowest importance, strength, value, etc. • Any noise—even the (very) least—would startle her. — often + of • That's the least of my worries/problems. [=I have more important worries/problems to deal with] • We had many things to consider, not the least of which was the safety of our children. [=the safety of our children was very important]

at least ¹ : not less than a specified amount, level, etc. • At least once a year, we visit our grandparents. • We meet at least once a month. = We meet once a month at least. • You must be at least 21 years of age to enter. • He was at least six feet tall. • He must have at least 300 CDs! ² — used to say that something (such as a bad situation) could be or have been worse • The weather was cold, but at least it didn't rain. • I was tired and hungry, but at least I was free. • We don't have much money, but at least we still have each other. ³ — used to indicate the smallest or easiest thing that someone can or should do • Well, he could have at least apologized. ⁴ a — used to indicate that the truth of a statement might change or has changed • We're going to have a picnic, at least if it doesn't rain. • I'm fine for now at least. [=I'm fine for now although I may not be fine later] • He was unknown in the music world, at least until recently. b — used to indicate that the truth of a previous statement is not certain • Her name is Sue, or at least I think it is. • He is coming today. At least that's what he told me.

at the (very) least — used to indicate the least thing that is true, acceptable, desirable, or certain to happen • He wanted to win the race, or at the least, to finish second. • It is, at the very least, an interesting book. • It will change your life or, at the very least, teach you something new. • At the very least, she deserves to be heard.

not (in) the least : not at all : not in any way or respect • It did not interest me in the least. [=it did not interest me at all] • He didn't enjoy it in the least. • That joke was not in the least funny. • We weren't in the least tired. • I'm not the least worried.

the least (someone) can do : the smallest or easiest thing that someone can or should do • The least he could do is tell me what happened. • There's no need to thank me for my help. Considering all the help you've given me in the past, it was the least I could do. [=I do not deserve to be thanked for the small thing I did] to say the least — used to emphasize a statement • She was not happy, to say the least. [=she was very unhappy] • He is, to say the least, hopeful about the future. [=he is very hopeful about the future] • To say the least, they were disappointed that their trip was canceled.

³least adv, superlative form of ²LITTLE : in or to the smallest degree • Who was the least at fault in the case? • He asked me to help him when I least expected it. • That was the least important of her reasons. • That was the least interesting book I have ever read.

last but not least see ³LAST

least of all : especially not • No one, least of all the children, wanted to go home early.

not least formal : especially or particularly • We had many things to consider, not least the safety of our children.

least common denominator noun [noncount] US : LOWEST COMMON DENOMINATOR least-ways /'li:st,weɪz/ or least-wise /'li:st,waɪz/ adv, informal : at least • The weather was cold, but leastways it didn't rain. • He was unknown in the music world, leastwise until recently.

leath-er /'leðə/ noun [noncount] : animal skin that is chemically treated to preserve it and that is used in making clothes, shoes, furniture, etc. — see also PATENT LEATHER

— leather adj • a black leather jacket leath-ery /'leðəri/ adj [more ~; most ~] : looking or feeling like leather • The meat was dry and leathery. [=tough] • the old farmer's leathery, brown skin

¹leave /'li:v/ verb leaves; left /'left/; leav-ing

1 a : to go away from (a place) [+ obj] What time will you leave the office? • Don't leave home without your wallet. • I left the party at seven o'clock. [no obj] We will leave at 10 o'clock. • Are we leaving soon? • She left quickly. • They left by bus. • The train left an hour ago but another will be arriving soon. — often + for • We're leaving for the game in an hour. • The train left from Paris for Barcelona an hour ago. b [+ obj] : to go away from (a place) to live in a different place • They left the country for a new life in the city. • He left town a month ago. • He left home [=left his parent's house and lived somewhere else] after graduating from high school. 2 a [+ obj] : to go away from (a person) • She left her friends and went home. • We left him so that he could do his work. = We left him to his work. = He had work to do, so we left him to it. • We left him doing his work. [=he was doing his work when we left him] b : to stop living with and having a close personal relationship with (someone) [+ obj] His mother left [=abandoned, deserted] him when he was very young. • He left his wife and children. • His wife left him for another man. [no obj] He hasn't been the same since his wife left.

3 a [+ obj] : to give up or stop having (a job, position, etc.) • He left [=quit] his job and went back to school. • a politician who will be leaving office next year b : to stop attending, belonging to, or working for (a school, a group, an organization, etc.) [+ obj] She left school and got a job. • She left our team and joined another one. • He has one more year before he leaves the army. • He's going to be leaving the company soon and starting his own business. [no obj] You must give the company two weeks' notice before leaving. c [+ obj] : to stop participating in (something, such as a game) • The starting quarterback had to leave the game because of an injury. • When did she leave the meeting?

4 [+ obj] a : to go away and allow or cause (something or someone) to remain • Please leave your books at home. • You may leave your things in this room. : to put or bring (something or someone) somewhere and go away • I left the groceries on the table. • Please leave the package by the door. • We left a turkey (roasting) in the oven. • I left my brother at the airport. • They left their dog in the car. b ✧ If you leave someone or something with someone, you allow someone to keep and care for someone or something while you are away. • They went out to dinner and left their children (home) with a babysitter. • We left our dog with the neighbors while we went on vacation. c : to go away and forget or neglect to take (something) • He left [=forgot] his wallet at the restaurant. • I left my homework in my car. • Did you leave your key in the door again? d : to go away permanently without taking (something or someone) • He left nothing in his old apartment. — often + behind • They left behind everything they owned. • We had to leave our family and friends behind. • He left it all behind. [=took nothing with him] • I wanted to leave the past behind. [=forget about the past]

5 [+ obj] : to put (something) in a place for another person to take or have • Did she leave a package for me? • We left a good tip for our waitress. = We left our waitress a good tip. • I left a message (for you) on your answering machine. • He left his name and phone number.

6 [+ obj] a : to allow someone else to deal with or do (something) — often + with • "It's a pretty complicated problem." "Leave it with me: I'll see what I can do." — often + for • You don't have to wash the dishes. Just leave them for me. [=I will wash the dishes] — often + to • Leave your computer problems to the experts. [=let the experts solve your computer problems] • That kind of decision should be left to the parents. • They left the decision (up) to me. • She left it to the readers to decide the story's ending. • I'll leave it (up) to you (to decide) whether or not we go to the movies. • I'll leave you to draw your own conclusions. — sometimes used figuratively • Whether or not we have a picnic will be left (up) to the weather. [=will be determined by the weather] b ✧ In informal U.S. English, you can say leave it to someone (to do something), when someone has acted in a way that is typical or expected. • Leave it to my mom to make everyone feel comfortable. [=my mom always makes everyone feel comfortable] c ✧ If people leave you to do something, they do not help you do it. • He left me to find my own way home. • She was left to finish the job by herself. • I'll leave you to draw your own conclusions. • I was left to fend for myself.

7 [+ obj] : to cause (something or someone) to be or remain in a specified condition or position • Years of pollution has left [=made] the water undrinkable. • Their argument left him angry and confused. • The accident left him paralyzed. • Your kind words leave me speechless. • I'll leave the door unlocked for you. • She left the door/window open. • Did you leave the lights on? • Much was left undone. • Let's just leave it at that. [=let's not change it or discuss it further] — often + -ing verb • They cut down the trees but left the rosebushes standing. • It left them wondering when it would all end. — often + with • I don't want to punish you, but your actions leave me (with) no/little choice. [=your actions make it necessary for me to punish you] • They were left with no option but to sell their car. [=they were forced to sell their car]

8 [+ obj] a : to allow (something) to remain available or unused • He wanted to leave a way out for himself. = He wanted to leave himself a way out. • Please leave space/room for another chair. • Don't eat too much. You need to leave room for dessert. [=you need to leave enough room in your stomach so that you can eat dessert] • That doesn't leave much room for discussion. b ✧ An amount that is left (over) or that you have left (over) is an amount that remains after the rest has been used or taken away. • There is only one piece of bread left. [=remaining] • After feeding 20 people, there was nothing left for me. • How much time do we have left before we can go home? • There was no one left in the city after the parade. • Do we have any pizza left over from last night? • We have many decorations left over from the party.

9 [+ obj] : to cause (something) to remain as a result, mark, or sign • The cut left an ugly scar. • The grape juice left a stain on the carpet. • The rain is leaving a thin layer of ice on the roads. • The thief was careful not to leave any clues. • We promise we won't leave a mess. • His visit left a lasting impression on our family. • The experience left a bad taste in my mouth. [=the experience made me feel bad or disgusted]

10 [+ obj] a : to have (family members) living after your death • He left (behind) a widow and two children. • She leaves (behind) 7 children and 28 grandchildren. b : to give (something, such as money or property) to (someone) after your death • She left a fortune to her husband. • His parents left him a house and a small amount of money.

11 [+ obj] mathematics : to have (a number) as a remainder • Taking 7 from 10 leaves 3.

I must love you and leave you see ²LOVE

leave much to be desired see ¹DESIRE

leave no stone unturned see ¹STONE

leave off [phrasal verb] 1 : to stop before finishing a story, conversation, etc. • Let's begin where we left off. • Where did we leave off in our conversation? 2 leave off (doing something) informal : to stop (doing something) • They finally left off trying to reach an agreement.

leave out [phrasal verb] leave out (someone or something) or leave (someone or something) out : to not include or mention (someone or something) • The movie leaves a lot out of the story. • You left out the best part. • Did everyone get a piece of cake? I don't want to leave anyone out. • They always leave her out of the conversation. • He always feels left out when his friends talk about sports.

leave (someone) guessing see ¹GUESS

leave (someone) in the dust see ¹DUST

leave (someone) in the lurch see ³LURCH

leave (someone or something) alone : to not bother or touch (someone or something) • Please leave the baby alone. She needs to sleep. • Please leave the vase alone.

leave (someone or something) be : to not bother or touch (someone or something) • Please leave [=let] me be.

leave (someone or something) for dead see ¹DEAD

leave (someone) out in the cold see ²COLD

leave (something) to the imagination see IMAGINATION leave well enough alone or Brit leave well alone : to stop changing something that is already good enough • He just doesn't know when to leave well enough alone.

leave you cold see ¹COLD

leave you to your own devices see DEVICE

left at the altar see ALTAR

take it or leave it see ¹TAKE

²leave noun

1 : a period of time when someone has special permission to be away from a job or from military service [singular] He took an unpaid leave from work. • The soldiers were given a two-month leave for the holidays. [noncount] 12 weeks of leave • He took a few months' leave to care for his sick mother. • The company granted her maternity leave. [=time off to take care of a newborn child] • Our professor is on leave this semester. • She is on leave from her law firm. • a soldier on military leave — called also leave of absence; see also COMPASSIONATE LEAVE, FAMILY LEAVE, SHORE LEAVE, SICK LEAVE

2 [noncount] formal : permission to do something • I beg leave to differ with you, sir. • He was found guilty but was granted/given leave to appeal against the verdict. • The soldier was guilty of being absent without (official) leave.

take leave of someone or take your leave formal : to say goodbye to someone • It was late when they finally took leave of their friends and headed home. • After a few minutes of polite conversation, he took his leave.

take leave of your senses : to begin acting or thinking in a very foolish way • Have you taken leave of your senses?

without (so much as) a by your leave old-fashioned : without asking permission • He borrowed my car without so much as a by your leave!

leaved /'li:vd/ adj : having leaves of a particular kind or number — usually used in combination • This bush is red-leaved in autumn. • a broad-leaved tree

¹leav-en /'levən/ noun [noncount]

1 : a substance (such as yeast) that makes dough rise and become light before it is baked — called also leavening

2 literary : something that makes a situation or mood less serious • a serious book that includes a few humorous stories as leaven

²leaven verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing [+ obj]

1 formal : to make (something) less serious and often more exciting • Her jokes leavened [=lightened] the meeting's mood. • He needs to leaven his speeches with more humor.

2 : to add leaven to (bread, dough, etc.) • using yeast to leaven the dough/bread • Some breads are leavened [=made with leaven] and some breads are unleavened.

leav-en-ing /'levənɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : ¹LEAVEN 1

leave of absence noun, pl leaves of absence

1 [noncount] : permission to be away from a job for a period of time • He was granted/given leave of absence.

2 : a period of time when someone has special permission to be away from a job : LEAVE [count] He took two unpaid leaves of absence. [noncount] She has been on leave of absence for almost two years.

leaves plural of ¹LEAF leave-tak-ing /'li:v,tetkɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings formal : an act of going away and saying goodbye [count] He announced his leave-taking [=departure] this morning. • The movie ended with an emotional leave-taking. [=farewell] [noncount] Leave-taking is always difficult for her.

leav-ings /'li:vɪŋz/ noun [plural] old-fashioned : things that remain after an activity is finished • the leavings [=remnants] of our dinner

lech-er /'leʃə/ noun, pl -ers [count] disapproving : a man who shows an excessive or disgusting interest in sex • a dirty lecher

— lech-ery /'leʃəri/ noun [noncount]

lech-er-ous /'leʃərəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : having or showing an excessive or disgusting interest in sex • a lecherous old man

lec-tern /'lektən/ noun, pl -terns [count] : a stand that holds a book, notes, etc., for someone who is reading, speaking, or teaching

¹lec-ture /'lektʃə/ noun, pl -tures [count]

1 : a talk or speech given to a group of people to teach them about a particular subject • a lecture about/on politics • She's planning to give/deliver a series of lectures on modern art. • Several hundred people are expected to attend the lecture.

2 : a talk that criticizes someone's behavior in an angry or serious way • I came home late and got a lecture from my parents. • I gave her a lecture about doing better in school.

²lecture verb -tures; -tured; -tur-ing

1 [no obj] : to give a talk or a series of talks to a group of people to teach them about a particular subject • She lectures (to undergraduates) on modern art at the local college. • She lectures in art at the local college.

2 [+ obj] : to talk to (someone) in an angry or serious way • They lectured their children about/on the importance of honesty. • I lectured her about doing better in school.

lec-tur-er /'lektʃərə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who gives a lecture • We had a guest lecturer in class today.

2 a US : someone who teaches at a college or university on a temporary basis b Brit : someone who teaches at a British college or university and ranks below a professor lec-ture-ship /'lektʃəʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships [count] Brit : a position as a lecturer at a British college or university • He was offered a lectureship. • She has a lectureship in chemistry.

led past tense and past participle of ¹LEAD

LED /,el,i:'di:/ noun, pl LEDs [count] technical : a device that lights up and displays information when electricity passes through it ✧ LEDs are often used to show numbers and words on electronic devices such as digital clocks. LED is an abbreviation of "light-emitting diode."

ledge /'ledʒ/ noun, pl ledges [count]

1 : a narrow, flat surface that sticks out from a wall • a window ledge • birds perched on the ledge of a building

2 : a flat rock surface that sticks out from a cliff • a ledge on the side of the mountain led-ger /'ledʒə/ noun, pl -gers [count] : a book that a company uses to record information about the money it has paid and received

lee /'li:/ noun [singular] : the side of something that is sheltered from the wind • the lee of the ship • on the lee (side) of the mountain — see also LEEWARD

leech /'li:tʃ/ noun, pl leech-es [count]

1 : a type of worm that attaches itself to the skin of animals and sucks their blood

2 disapproving : a person who uses other people for personal gain • a celebrity who is surrounded by leeches who only want his money

leek /'li:k/ noun, pl leeks [count] : a vegetable that has long green leaves rising from a thick white base and that tastes like a mild onion — see color picture on page C4

leer /'liə/ verb leers; leered; leer-ing [no obj] : to look at someone in an evil or unpleasantly sexual way • She complained that some disgusting man was leering at her. • He gave her a leering look.

— leer noun, pl leers [count] • a wicked/sinister leer

leery /'liri/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling or showing a lack of trust in someone or something • a leery attitude • She seemed a little leery [=suspicious] about/of the proposal. • They were leery of their neighbors.

¹lee-ward /'li:wəd, 'lu:wəd/ adj : located on the side that is sheltered from the wind • the leeward side of the island — compare WINDWARD

²leeward noun [noncount] : the side that is sheltered from the wind : the lee side • We turned the boat to leeward. — compare WINDWARD

lee-way /'li:wei/ noun [noncount] : freedom to do something the way you want to do it • They give/allow their students leeway to try new things. • The new rules allow managers (to have) greater leeway in making decisions.

make up (the) leeway Brit : to get back into a good position or situation after you have fallen behind • They're so far behind that they have little hope of making up the leeway on the leaders. [=of catching up with the leaders]

¹left /'left/ adj, always used before a noun

T a : located on the same side of your body as your heart • He felt a pain in his left side. • her left hand/leg b : done with your left hand • He hit him with a left hook to the jaw. — opposite RIGHT

2 : located nearer to the left side of your body than to the right • the left side of the street • a chair's left arm • taking a left turn

two left feet see ¹FOOT

²left adv

T a : toward the left • Please move left. • She ran left and caught the ball. • Taking one step left, he fell to the ground. b : toward the political Left • a political party that has shifted left • His political views are slightly left of center. [=are slightly liberal]

2 US : using the left hand • He bats/throws left. [=left-handed] — opposite RIGHT

left and right or Brit left, right, and centre : in a very quick and uncontrolled way • She has been spending money left and right. : in all directions • He was calling out names left and right. • The police were stopping cars left and right.

³left noun, pl lefts

T [noncount] : a location closer to the left side of your body than to the right : the left side • We read from left to right. — often used with on • As you come down the street, my house will be on your/the left. — often used with to • Move the picture a little to the left. • The picture is to the left of the window.

2 [count] : a turn or movement toward the left • Go to the next intersection and take a left. = (US) Go to the next intersection and make/hang a left. • You'll take two lefts and then a right.

3 [count] : a punch made with the left hand • He hit him with two quick lefts to the stomach followed by a right to the jaw.

4 a the Left : political groups who favor sharing money and property more equally among the members of a society : political groups who support liberal or socialist policies • His nomination is opposed by the country's Left. • The new law is disliked by the Left. • Members of the Left have voiced their opinions on this matter. b the left : the position of people who support the beliefs and policies of the political Left • The party has shifted to the left. [=has become more liberal] — compare RIGHT; see also the far left at ²FAR

⁴left past tense and past participle of ¹LEAVE

left field noun [noncount] : the part of a baseball outfield

leech

that is to the left when you are looking out from home plate • a fly ball to (deep/shallow) left field; also : the position of the player defending left field • He plays left field.

come out of left field US, informal : to be very surprising and unexpected • That question came out of left field.

out in left field US, informal : very strange or unusual • ideas that are out in left field • Her position is way out in left field.

— left fielder noun, pl ~ -ers [count] • a good left fielder

left-hand /'left'hænd/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : located closer to your left hand : located on the left side • Our building will be on the left-hand side. • Please write your name on the upper left-hand corner of the page. • Take a left-hand turn. — compare RIGHT-HAND

2 : made for the left hand • a left-hand glove • left-hand [= (more commonly) left-handed] tools — compare RIGHT-HAND

left-hand-ed /'left'hændəd/ adj

1 : using the left hand more easily than the right hand • a left-handed person • He is baseball's greatest left-handed pitcher. • My sister is right-handed but I'm left-handed.

2 a : made for the left hand • a left-handed glove • She needs left-handed scissors. b : using or done with the left hand • a left-handed catch/punch

3 : swinging from the left side of the body to the right side in sports like baseball and golf • a left-handed batter/hitter

— left-handed adv • She bats left-handed. — left-handed-ness noun [noncount] • They study left-handedness in children.

left-hand-er /'left'hændə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a left-handed person; especially : a left-handed pitcher in baseball • The team has eight right-handers and three left-handers.

left-ist /'leftist/ noun, pl -ists [count] : a person who belongs to or supports the political Left — compare RIGHTIST

— leftist adj [more ~; most ~] • a leftist government • leftist intellectuals

left-over /'left,ouvə/ noun, pl -overs

1 leftovers [plural] : food that has not been finished at a meal and that is often served at another meal • Are we having leftovers again?

2 [count] : a thing that remains after something is finished or ended • The law is a leftover from earlier times.

— leftover adj, always used before a noun • Do you have any leftover pizza from last night?

left-ward (chiefly US) /'leftwəd/ or chiefly Brit left-wards /'leftwədz/ adv : toward the left • Turn the boat leftward. • She stepped leftward into the light. • She has moved leftward in her political beliefs. — compare RIGHTWARD

— leftward adj • a leftward turn left wing noun [singular] : the part of a political group that consists of people who support liberal or socialist ideas and policies : the part of a political group that belongs to or supports the Left • His nomination is supported by the party's left wing but opposed by the right wing.

left-wing /'left'wɪŋ/ adj : of, relating to, or belonging to the political Left : having or supporting ideas and policies that are associated with liberal or socialist groups • left-wing politics/politicians

— left-wing-er /'left'wɪŋə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • a policy opposed by left-wingers

lefty /'lefti/ noun, pl left-ies [count] informal

1 chiefly US : LEFT-HANDER • Our starting pitcher is a lefty. — compare RIGHTY

2 chiefly Brit, disapproving : a person who supports liberal or socialist political policies : LEFTIST • political lefties [=left-wingers]

¹leg /'leg/ noun, pl legs

T [count] : one of the long body parts that are used especially for standing, walking, and running • He sat on a chair with his legs crossed. • He leaned against the wall with his legs spread so the police could search him. • She broke her leg in a skiing accident. • His legs gave way under him and he fell over. • a wooden/artificial leg • the dog's front/back/hind legs — see picture at HUMAN; see also PEG LEG, SEA LEGS

2 : an animal's leg when it is used as food [count] We had chicken legs for dinner. [noncount] Would you like some more leg of lamb?

3 [count] : any one of the long thin parts that support a table, chair, etc. • the legs of a table • a chair with a broken leg

4 [count] : the part of a pair of pants that covers the leg • The legs of these jeans are too long. = These jeans are too long in the leg(s).

5 [count] a : a part of a journey or race • She took the lead in the last leg of the race. • The weather got worse on each leg of the trip. b : any one of several events or games that form a competition • a horse that has won the first two legs of racing's Triple Crown

6 legs [plural] US, informal : lasting appeal or interest • a news story with legs

a leg up informal 1. give someone a leg up a : to hold your hands together so that someone can step into them while climbing up onto something • I don't think I can get on this horse without help. Can someone give me a leg up? b : to give someone an advantage over others • These skills will give you a leg up in the job market. [=they will help you get a job] 2 have a leg up : to have an advantage over others • The company has a leg up on the competition thanks to the recent publicity.

an arm and a leg see ¹ARM

break a leg informal — used in speech to wish good luck to someone (such as a performer)

get your leg over Brit, informal + impolite, of a man : to have sex with a woman not have a leg to stand on : to have no support for what you think, say, or do • He claims that the company cheated him, but without evidence of a written agreement, he doesn't have a leg to stand on.

on your/its last legs informal : very close to failure, exhaustion, or death • The company is on its last legs. • He was on his last legs, but he managed to finish the race. • an old tree that is on its last legs [=that is dying and will not last much longer] pull someone's leg informal : to make someone believe something that is not true as a joke : to trick or lie to someone in a playful way • I panicked when he said the test was tomorrow, but then I realized he was just pulling my leg. • When I got mad, she finally admitted that she was pulling my leg.

shake a leg informal : to go or move quickly • You'd better shake a leg [=hurry up] if you don't want to be late for work. — often used as a command • Shake a leg! You're going to be late!

stretch your legs informal : to stand up and walk especially after sitting for a long period of time with your tail between your legs see ¹TAIL

²leg verb legs; legged; leg-ging leg it chiefly Brit, informal : to run fast especially in order to get away from someone or something • When they saw the police car, they legged it.

leg out [phrasal verb] leg out (a hit) also leg (a hit) out baseball, informal : to successfully complete (a hit) by running fast • He hurt his knee while trying to leg out an infield hit. • She legged out a triple.

leg-a-cy /'legəsi/ noun, pl -cies [count]

1 : something (such as property or money) that is received from someone who has died • She left us a legacy of a million dollars. • a substantial legacy

2 : something that happened in the past or that comes from someone in the past • He left his children a legacy of love and respect. • The war left a legacy of pain and suffering. • We discussed the country's legacy of slavery. [=the ways in which the country is still affected by slavery] • Her artistic legacy lives on through her children.

le-gal /'li:gəl/ adj

1 a : of or relating to the law • She has a lot of legal problems. • legal books • a legal adviser/representative • a country's legal system [=the way that laws are made and controlled in a country] b : based on the law • Do you know your legal rights? • The amount of alcohol in his blood exceeded the legal limit. • He plans on taking legal action against the company. [=he plans on having a court of law settle his argument with the company] • legal proceedings [=actions taken to settle an argument in a court of law]

2 : allowed by the law or by the rules in a game • What you did was not legal. • "Is it legal to fish in this river?" "Yes, it's perfectly legal." • The referee said it was a legal play.

— opposite ILLEGAL

— le-gal-i-ty /li'gæləti/ noun, pl -ties [noncount] They were unsure about the contract's legality. • We questioned the legality [=lawfulness] of the testing. [count] We discussed the complex legalities involved in buying and selling a home.

— le-gal-ly /'li:gəli/ adv • Legally, they cannot do that. • The drug is legally bought and sold in many countries. • This agreement is legally binding. • He is legally blind. [=his vision is bad enough for him to be considered blind according to the law] • He was legally drunk. [=he was drunk according to the law]

legal aid noun [noncount] : money provided by a special organization to pay legal fees for people who cannot pay them themselves le-gal-ese /,li:gə'li:z/ noun [noncount] informal : the language used by lawyers that is difficult for most people to understand : legal jargon • I was confused by the legalese in the contract.

legal holiday noun, pl ~ -days [count] US : a public holiday recognized by law — called also (Brit) bank holiday

le-gal-is-tic /,li:gə'listik/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving : too concerned with legal rules and details • He has a narrow legalistic view of the controversy. • The two sides in the dispute have been engaging in legalistic wrangling.

le-gal-ize also Brit le-gal-ise /'li:gə,laɪz/ verb -izes; -ized; -izing [+ obj] : to make (something) legal • They wanted to legalize gambling in their city. : to allow (something) by law • The government has legalized the use of the new drug.

— opposite CRIMINALIZE

— le-gal-i-za-tion also Brit le-gal-i-sa-tion /,li:gələ'zeɪʃən, Brit ,li:gə,laɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • the legalization of a drug legal pad noun, pl ~ pads [count] : a pad of yellow paper with lines on it for writing legal tender noun [noncount] : money that the law allows people to use for paying debts • Soon after France adopted the euro, the French franc ceased to be legal tender.

leg-ate /'legət/ noun, pl -ates [count] : an official representative sent to a foreign country; especially : an official representative of the pope • a papal legate leg-a-tee /,legə'ti:/ noun, pl -tees [count] law : someone who receives money or property from a person who has died le-ga-tion /li'geɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] : a group of government officials sent to work in a foreign country; also : the building where such a group works

le-ga-to /li'gɑ:tou/ adv, music : in a manner that is smooth and flowing • singing/playing legato — compare STACCATO — legato adj • a legato musical passage leg-end /'ledʒənd/ noun, pl -ends

1 : a story from the past that is believed by many people but cannot be proved to be true [count] I don't believe the legends I've heard about this forest. • the legend of a lost continent [noncount] According to legend, the city was destroyed by a great flood in ancient times. = Legend has it that the city was destroyed by a great flood in ancient times. — see also URBAN LEGEND

2 [count] : a famous or important person who is known for doing something extremely well • He has become a baseball legend. • a guitar-playing legend • She is a legend in her own time. = She is a living legend. [=she has become a legend while still living]

3 [count] a : a list that explains the symbols on a map. b formal : the writing that appears on an object • The gravestone bears the legend "Rest in Peace."

leg-end-ary /'ledʒən,deri, Brit 'ledʒəndri/ adj

1 always used before a noun : told about in a legend • legendary tales • legendary creatures from the sea

2 [more ~; most ~] : very famous or well-known • He is the most legendary football player of his time. • legendary musicians leg-er-de-main /,ledʒədə'mem/ noun [noncount] : skill in using your hands to perform magic tricks : SLEIGHT OF HAND — often used figuratively • financial legerdemain [=trickery] leg-ged /'legəd/ adj : having legs of a specified type or number — usually used in combination with another adjective • a four-legged animal • a long-legged bird leg-gings /'legɪnz/ noun [plural]

1 : pants for women that are made of a material that stretches to fit tightly around the legs — see color picture on page C13

2 : coverings for the legs that are usually made of cloth or leather and worn over pants leg-gy /'legi/ adj leg-gi-er; -est

1 : having long legs — used especially of a woman • a leggy actress

2 of a plant : having very long stalks or stems • The bush has gotten leggy and needs to be pruned.

leg-i-ble /'ledʒəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : capable of being read : clear enough to be read • legible handwriting. • The document is not legible. — opposite ILLEGIBLE

— leg-i-bil-i-ty /ˈlɛdʒəˈbɪlɪti/ noun [noncount] — leg-i-bly /ˈlɛdʒəbli/ adv • He doesn't write legibly at all.

¹le-gion /ˈliːdʒən/ noun, pl -gions [count]

1 a : a large group of soldiers in ancient Rome • a Roman le-gion b : a large group of soldiers : ARMY — used especially in names • the French Foreign Legion

2 : a national organization for former soldiers — used in names • the American Legion • the Royal British Legion

3 : a very large number of people • She has a legion [=multi-tude] of admirers/fans. • Legions of people came to see him perform.

²legion adj, not used before a noun : very many or numerous • Her admirers/fans are legion. [=she has a very large number of admirers/fans]

le-gion-ary /ˈliːdʒəˈneri, Brit ˈliːdʒənəri/ noun, pl -ar-ies [count] : a soldier who is a member of a legion

— legionary adj, always used before a noun • legionary soldiers • a Roman legionary camp

le-gion-naire /ˈliːdʒəˈneə/ noun, pl -naires [count] : a member of a legion (such as the French Foreign Legion, the Royal British Legion, or the American Legion)

Legionnaires' disease also Legionnaire's disease noun [noncount] : a serious disease of the lungs that is caused by bacteria leg-is-late /ˈlɛdʒəˌsleɪt/ verb -lates; -lat-ed; -lat-ing

1 : to make laws [no obj] The state legislated against hunting certain animals. [=the state created laws making it illegal to hunt certain animals] [+ obj] legislate a new law

2 [+ obj] : to control, create, or cause (something) by making laws • They are attempting to legislate morality. • the need to better legislate foreign trade • trying to legislate changes in the current law

leg-is-la-tion /ˈlɛdʒəˌsleɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 : a law or set of laws made by a government • They passed new state legislation this week. • Two new pieces of legislation are being considered. • She introduced/proposed legislation for protecting the environment. • More legislation is needed on this matter. • Certain animals are protected under/by state legislation. • The legislation was vetoed/repealed. • anti-gun legislation

2 : the action or process of making laws • One of the important functions of government is legislation.

leg-is-la-tive /ˈlɛdʒəˌsleɪtɪv, Brit ˈlɛdʒəsleɪtɪv/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : having the power to make laws • the state legislative body/assembly [=the group in a state government that makes laws] • the legislative branch of the government — compare EXECUTIVE, JUDICIAL

2 : relating to the making of laws • She is interested in the legislative process. • legislative power

— leg-is-la-tive-ly adv

leg-is-la-tor /ˈlɛdʒəˌsleɪˌtoʊ, ˈlɛdʒəˌsleɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count] : a person who makes laws : a member of a legislature • Write to your state legislator. • Legislators [=lawmakers] in both parties have supported the idea.

leg-is-la-ture /ˈlɛdʒəˌsleɪʃən/ noun, pl -tures [count] : a group of people with the power to make or change laws • Our legislature passed a law requiring people to wear safety belts. • Each state has its own legislature. • state legislatures

le-git /lɪˈdʒɪt/ adj, informal : ¹LEGITIMATE • What she's doing is perfectly legit. • Is this deal legit? • All I want is a legit chance to succeed.

¹le-git-i-mate /lɪˈdʒɪtəmət/ adj

1 a : allowed according to rules or laws • a legitimate [=legal, lawful] heir/government/business • legitimate means for achieving success • the legitimate use of firearms b : real, accepted, or official • It's not clear that the letter is legitimate [=genuine]; it may be a forgery.

2 [more ~; most ~] : fair or reasonable • We think her concern/excuse is legitimate. = We think she has a legitimate concern/excuse. • There's no legitimate reason for prescribing this medication to a child. • His claim is legitimate.

3 : born to a father and mother who are married • legitimate children — opposite ILLEGITIMATE — le-git-i-ma-cy /lɪˈdʒɪtəməsi/ noun [noncount] • Many question the legitimacy of the law. — le-git-i-mate-ly adv • We earned the money legitimately. [=legally] • He can legitimately [=rightfully] claim to be the best athlete in his class.

²le-git-i-mate /lɪˈdʒɪtəˌmɛrt/ verb -mates; -mat-ed; -mat-ing [+ obj] US : to make (something or someone) legitimate:

such as a : to make (something) real, accepted, or official • slang words legitimated by usage b : to show that (something or someone) is fair or reasonable • Her tendency to be secretive only serves to legitimate their suspicions.

le-git-i-ma-tize /lɪˈdʒɪtəməˌtaɪz/ verb -tiz-es; -tized; -tiz-ing [+ obj] chiefly US : ²LEGITIMATE

le-git-i-mize /lɪˈdʒɪtəˌmaɪz/ also Brit le-git-i-mise verb -miz-es; -mized; -miz-ing [+ obj] : ²LEGITIMATE

leg-less /ˈleɡləs/ adj

1 : having no legs • a legless lizard • broken, legless chairs

2 Brit slang : extremely drunk • get legless on lager leg-room /ˈleɡˌruːm/ noun [noncount] : space in which you can extend your legs when you are sitting • I need a car with more legroom. • airplane seats that offer little legroom — compare HEADROOM leg-ume /ˈleɡjuːm/ noun, pl -umes [count] : a type of plant (such as a pea or a bean plant) with seeds that grow in long cases (called pods); also : these seeds eaten as food • recipes that include legumes like lentils and chickpeas

— le-gu-mi-nous /lɪˈɡjuːməˌnəs/ adj • leguminous plants leg warmer noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a warm covering of usually soft cloth that you wear on your leg leg-work /ˈleɡˌwɜːk/ noun [noncount] : the active physical work that is involved in doing something • I wrote the article myself, but my assistant gathered the information and did most of the other legwork.

lei /ˈleɪ/ noun, pl leis [count] : a necklace of flowers that is given to a visitor in Hawaii

lei-sure /ˈliːʒə, Brit ˈleɪʒə/ noun [noncount]

1 : time when you are not working : time when you can do whatever you want to do • In his leisure [=free time, spare time], he paints and sculpts. • I'd like to write more, but I simply don't have the leisure (to do it).

2 : enjoyable activities that you do when you are not working • I don't have much time for leisure. • She leads a life of leisure [=she does not have to work] • a character described as a lady/man/gentleman of leisure [=a woman/man who does not work and who spends a lot of time doing things for pleasure] — often used before another noun • leisure activities/pursuits • Now that she's retired, she has more leisure time • the leisure class [=people who do not have to work] at leisure or at your leisure 1 : in a way that is not hurried : in a slow and relaxed way • We were able to study the menu at leisure. 2 : when you have free time available • You can look over the contract at your leisure.

lei-sured /ˈliːʒəd, Brit ˈleɪʒəd/ adj, always used before a noun [more ~; most ~]

1 : not having to work : having leisure • the leisured class

2 : not hurried • We set off at a leisured [= (more commonly) leisurely] pace.

lei-sure-ly /ˈliːʒəli, Brit ˈleɪʒəli/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not hurried : slow and relaxed • They strolled along at a leisurely pace. • proceeding in a leisurely fashion • After a leisurely lunch, we went to see a movie.

— leisurely adv • a restaurant where diners are allowed to eat leisurely leisure suit noun, pl ~ suits [count] : an informal suit that includes a jacket and matching pants leit-mo-tiv or leit-mo-tif /ˈlaɪtmouˌtiːf/ noun, pl -tivs or -tifs [count] : something (such as a short piece of music, an idea, or a phrase) that is repeated many times throughout an opera, book, story, etc. • Troubled relationships are the leit-motiv of this novel.

lem-ming /ˈlemɪŋ/ noun, pl -mings [count] : a small animal that lives in northern areas of North America, Europe, and Asia ✧ Lemmings sometimes form large groups that move together. According to legend, these groups sometimes march into the sea, where large numbers of the lemmings drown. Because of this, people are sometimes said to be acting like lemmings when they do something that is harmful or stupid because other people are doing it.

lem-on /ˈlemən/ noun, pl -ons

1 [count, noncount] : a yellow citrus fruit that has a sour taste • The recipe calls for the juice of two lemons. • Garnish it with a slice of lemon. — often used before another noun • lemon juice • lemon trees • a lemon grove — see color picture on page C5

2 [noncount] : a bright yellow color — called also lemon yellow; see color picture on page C2

3 [count] chiefly US, informal : a product that is not made well : a product that does not work the way it should • Our new car is a lemon.

4 [count] Brit, informal : a stupid or silly person
 — lem·ony /'leməni/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a lemony flavor
 • a lemony color
lem·on·ade /,lemə'neɪd/ noun, pl -ades [count, noncount]
 1 : a drink made usually of lemon juice, sugar, and water
 2 Brit : a sweet lemon-flavored drink that contains many bubbles : a lemon soda lemon curd noun [noncount] : a sweet, soft food made with lemon juice, butter, sugar, and eggs lemon law noun, pl ~ laws [count] US : a law that gives a person who buys a car that has a defect the right to return the car or to have the seller pay to have it fixed lemon yellow noun [noncount] : LEMON 2 le·mur /'li:mər/ noun, pl -murs [count] : an animal that is related to monkeys and that lives in trees mostly in Madagascar lend /'lend/ verb lends; lent /'lent/; lend·ing
1 a [+ obj] : to give (something) to (someone) to be used for a period of time and then returned • She often lends us books. = She often lends books to us. • Could you lend me your pen? [=could I borrow your pen?] • I lent our ladder to the neighbors. b : to give (money) to someone who agrees to pay it back in the future [+ obj] Can you lend me 50 cents? [=can I borrow 50 cents from you?] • The bank wouldn't lend us the money. [no obj] Many banks won't lend to people with bad credit.
2 [+ obj] : to make (something) available to (someone or something) • They offered to lend us their services. [=to provide us with their services] • They are glad to lend their support to worthy causes. • It's surprising that he would lend his name to such a venture. [=that he would allow his name to be associated with such a venture]
3 [+ obj] a : to add (something that is needed or wanted) to (something) • A bit of grated carrot lends some color to the dish. = A bit of grated carrot lends the dish some color. • A growing amount of evidence lends weight/credence/credibility to their theory. [=makes their theory seem true or correct] b : to provide (something that is needed or wanted) • She's always there to lend a (helping) hand. [=she's always there to help]
lend an ear see ¹EAR lend itself to ✧ Something that lends itself to a purpose is good or suitable for that purpose. • Her voice lends itself well to (singing) opera. • The topics lend themselves to classroom discussion.
 — lend·er noun, pl -ers [count] • banks and other lenders • borrowers and lenders — see also MONEYLENDER lending library noun, pl ~ -ries [count] : a library that lends books to people who can take them home and then return them at a later time length /'lɛŋθ/ noun, pl lengths
1 a : the distance from one end of something to the other end : a measurement of how long something is [noncount] "What is its length?" [=how long is it?] "It measures 10 inches in length." [=it is 10 inches long] • We walked the entire length of the beach. [=we walked from one end of the beach to the other] • The length of the table is six feet, and its width is three feet. [count] These pins are available in one- and two-inch lengths. • The adult animals reach a maximum length of two meters. — see also FOCAL LENGTH b [noncount] : the size or extent of a piece of writing • Your essay should be no more than 250 words in length. • five pages in length [=five pages long] • a book-length poem [=a very long poem; a poem that has the same number of pages as some books] c [noncount] : the quality or state of being long • Don't be put off by the book's length. [=less commonly] lengthiness] • I was amazed by the length of the ape's arms. [=by how long the ape's arms were]
2 [noncount] : the amount of time something lasts • They want to extend the length of the school year. [=to make the school year longer; to lengthen the school year] • the length of a movie • If you're in town for any length of time [=for more than just a short time], be sure to see the museum.
3 [count] : the length of something used as a unit of measure • Our horse won the race by a length. [=by a distance equal to the length of one horse] • They were two car lengths behind us. • I managed to swim four lengths of the pool. [=to swim from one end of the pool to the other end four times] — see also at arm's length at ¹ARM
4 [count] : a piece of something that is long and thin or narrow • a length of pipe/chain/yarn
5 [noncount] : a measure of how far down on your body something (such as your hair or a piece of clothing) reaches • the length of a skirt • a waist-length jacket [=a jacket that reaches only to your waist] • chin-length hair — see also FLOOR-LENGTH, KNEE-LENGTH, SHOULDER-LENGTH at length 1 : for a long time • We talked at length about the ceremony. • The speaker went on at considerable/great/some length. • No one was questioned at any length about it. [=no one was questioned for a long period of time] 2 : in a full or complete way • The topic will be treated at length in the next chapter. • The book doesn't discuss the topic at any length. [=the book only discusses the topic briefly] 3 literary : after a long time • At length [=finally, in the end, at last], we decided to return home.

go to any length or go to any/extreme/great (etc.) lengths : to make a great or extreme effort to do something • She'll go to any length to avoid doing work. = She'll go to any lengths to avoid doing work. • He went to great lengths to learn the truth.
the length and breadth of : through all parts of (a place) • I've been/traveled the length and breadth of the canyon, but I still haven't found the caves I'm looking for.
length·en /'lɛŋθən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en·ing
1 [no obj] : to become longer • The days lengthened with the approach of spring.
2 [+ obj] : to make (something) longer • Proper care will lengthen the life of the engine. • lengthen a pair of trousers — opposite SHORTEN length·ways /'lɛŋθ,weɪz/ adv, chiefly Brit : LENGTHWISE
 — lengthways adj
length·wise /'lɛŋθ,waɪz/ adv : in the direction of the long side of something • Split the fruit lengthwise and discard the seeds. • a piece of paper folded lengthwise
 — lengthwise adj • a lengthwise cut lengthy /'lɛŋθi/ adj length·i·er; -est [also more ~; most ~]
1 : lasting for a long time • The process is both lengthy and costly. • We got involved in a lengthy [=long] discussion. • a series of lengthy delays • Lengthier trips require more planning.
2 : having many pages, items, etc. • a lengthy criminal record • lengthy [=long] lists
 — length·i·ly /'lɛŋθəli/ adv • a lengthily titled book [=a book with a long title] • She complained loudly and lengthily [=at length] about the poor service. — length·i·ness /'lɛŋθi-nəs/ noun [noncount]
le·nient /'li:njənt/ adj [more ~; most ~] : allowing a lot of freedom and not punishing bad behavior in a strong way : not harsh, severe, or strict • a teacher who is lenient with students who have misbehaved • a lenient teacher • a lenient sentence/punishment/policy • Many people felt that the punishment was too lenient.
 — le·nien·cy /'li:njənsi/ also le·nience /'li:njəns/ noun [noncount] • the leniency of the punishment — le·nient·ly adv
lens /'lɛnz/ noun, pl lens·es [count]
1 : a clear curved piece of glass or plastic that is used in eyeglasses, cameras, telescopes, etc., to make things look clearer, smaller, or bigger • glasses with thick lenses • a camera lens • Make sure the lens of the microscope is clean. — see picture at CAMERA; see also CONTACT LENS, FISH-EYE LENS, OBJECTIVE LENS, TELEPHOTO LENS, ZOOM LENS
2 : the clear part of the eye that focuses light to form clear images lent past tense and past participle of LEND Lent /'lent/ noun [noncount] : a period of 40 days before Easter during which many Christians do not eat certain foods or do certain pleasurable activities as a way of remembering the suffering of Jesus Christ
 — Lent·en /'lɛntən/ adj, always used before a noun • the Lent·en season len·til /'lɛntl/ noun, pl -tils [count] : a type of flat, round seed that is related to the pea and is eaten as a vegetable — often used before another noun • lentil soup
Leo /'li:ou/ noun, pl Leos
1 [noncount] : the fifth sign of the zodiac that comes between Cancer and Virgo and has a lion as its symbol — see picture at ZODIAC
2 [count] : a person born under the sign of Leo : a person born between July 23rd and August 22nd • Are you a Leo or a Virgo?
le·o·nine /'li:jə,nɪn/ adj [more ~; most ~] literary : of, relating to, or resembling a lion • a leonine mane of hair • leo-nine strength leopard /'lepəd/ noun, pl -ards [count] : a large brownish-yellow cat with black spots that lives in Asia and Africa — see picture at CAT a leopard can't change its spots — used to say that people cannot change their basic personalities, habits, etc.

leopard-ess /'lepədəs/ noun, pl -ess-es [count] : a female leopard leotard /'li:jə,tərd/ noun, pl -tards [count] : a piece of clothing that fits tightly and covers the body except for the legs and sometimes the arms • Our aerobics instructor wore a bright red leotard. — often plural in U.S. English • She donned her leotards and headed off to ballet class. — see color picture on page C13

leper /'lepə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a person who has leprosy

2 : someone who is disliked and avoided by other people • After his arrest his former friends treated him like a (social) leper.

leprechaun /'leprə,kə:n/ noun, pl -chauns [count] : a creature in old Irish stories that looks like a very small man ✧ According to legend, if you catch a leprechaun he will show you where treasure is hidden.

leprosy /'leprəsi/ noun [noncount] medical : a serious disease that causes painful rough areas on the skin and that badly damages nerves and flesh

— leprous adj

lesbian /'lezbijən/ noun, pl -ans [count] : a woman who is sexually attracted to other women : a female homosexual • lesbians and gay men

— lesbian adj, always used before a noun • a lesbian relationship — lesbianism /'lezbijə,nizəm/ noun [noncount]

lesion /'li:zən/ noun, pl -sions [count] medical : an injured or diseased spot or area on or in the body • skin lesions • a brain lesion

¹less /'les/ adj, comparative form of ¹LITTLE : not so much : smaller in amount or number • We need less talk and more work! • She finished in less time than I did. • Less detail is sometimes better than more detail. • 8 times 2 is less than 6 times 3. • We made it there in less than six hours. • The whole procedure takes less than five minutes. • The illness affects less than one percent of the population.

no less — used to suggest that something is surprising or impressive • He insists on being driven to the airport, and in a limousine no less! [=it is surprising that he insists on being driven in a limousine] • She was contacted by the president, no less! • The plan was approved by no less (of) an authority than the president himself.

no less than : at least — used to suggest that a number or amount is surprisingly large • No less than half the students failed the test. • She has had no less than [=no fewer than] a dozen job offers.

usage The adjectives less and fewer have similar meanings but are used in slightly different ways. Fewer is used with nouns that can be counted. • classrooms with fewer students • They have fewer than three children. Less is usually used with nouns that cannot be counted. • He makes less money than she does. • The new model uses less power. But less is also more likely than fewer to be used with count nouns that refer to distances and amounts of money. • an investment of less than $2,000 • It's less than 100 miles away. Less is also used in mathematical expressions and in certain phrases. • an angle of less than 180 degrees • Write it in 25 words or less. It is also used instead of fewer with other sorts of plural nouns, although many people still consider this use incorrect. • Less than 10 people showed up. = Fewer than 10 people showed up.

²less adv, comparative form of ²LITTLE : not so much : to a smaller extent or degree • This test seemed much less difficult than the last one. • Which test is the less difficult of the two? • The test is no less difficult for being shorter. [=even though the test is shorter, it is not easier] • Do you have another one that's less expensive? • a less likely possibility • She visits much/far less often than she used to. • They're focusing more on quality and less on quantity. • I like this one (a little) less than the other. • Their band is less concerned with making music than with making money. • The cost is much/far less (of) a problem than we thought it would be.

in less than no time informal : very soon • If we get started now, we'll be finished in less than no time.

less and less : in a way that is gradually smaller, weaker, or less common • The medicine becomes less and less [=decreasingly] effective over time. • We see them less and less each year. = We see them less and less frequently/often each year.

less than : not completely or not at all • She was less than happy with the results. [=she was not entirely happy or she was unhappy] • He was less than honest in his replies. [=he was not completely honest or he was very dishonest]

more or less see ²MORE

much less or chiefly Brit still less — used after a negative statement to say that something is even less likely or possible than the thing previously mentioned • I don't eat eggs, much less meat. • He can't run a mile, much less complete a marathon.

³less pronoun

1 : a smaller number or amount • We've learned to make do with less. [=to survive with less money, fewer possessions, etc.] • He's trying to save more and spend less. • I have less than you do. • I read much/far/even less of the second book than of the first. • I seem to save less each year. • We had exactly one day to get the job done—no more, no less. • Less is sometimes better than more. • Regarding his recent behavior, perhaps the less said, the better. [=his recent behavior has been so bad that it is better to not say anything about it]

2 : something that is smaller or less important than another thing • You're lucky you didn't lose your job for swearing at your boss. People have been fired for less (than that).

could/couldn't care less see ²CARE less and less : an amount that becomes gradually smaller • I seem to save less and less each year. • We see less and less of them each year.

nothing less than see ²NOTHING

think less of see ¹THINK

⁴less prep : after taking away or subtracting (something) • the regular price less [=minus] a discount • We earned two hundred dollars, less travel expenses.

-less /ləs/ adj suffix

1 : not having something specified : without something • childless • friendless • a cloudless sky • my first painless day since leaving the hospital

2 a : never doing or becoming something specified • tireless workers [=workers who never become tired] • ceaseless noise [=noise that never ceases] b : not able to be acted on in a specified way • a dauntless hero [=a hero who cannot be daunted] • countless years [=too many years to be counted]

les-see /lə'si:/ noun, pl -sees [count] law : a person who has an agreement that allows the use of a car, house, etc., for a period of time in exchange for a payment : a person who has a lease on something — compare LESSOR less-en /'lesn/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing : to become less or to cause (something) to become less [no obj] The pain will lessen [=decrease] over time. [+ obj] Medication helps lessen the severity of the symptoms. • Taking a few simple precautions will lessen [(more commonly) reduce] your risk of injury.

¹less-er /'lesə/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : of smaller size • The winner will receive $100; lesser amounts will be given to three runners-up.

2 : of less strength, quality, or importance • A lesser man than he might have simply given up. • the artist's lesser works • She agreed to plead guilty to a lesser charge. — often used in the phrase to a lesser degree/extent • Traffic congestion is a problem in the city and, to a lesser extent, the suburbs. [=it is also a problem in the suburbs, but not as much of a problem as in the city]

lesser evil or lesser of two evils see ²EVIL

²lesser adv : ²LESS • lesser-known writers

les-son /'lesn/ noun, pl -sons [count]

1 a : an activity that you do in order to learn something • You can't go out to play until you've finished your lessons; also : something that is taught • They studied the lessons [=teachings] of the great philosophers. b : a single class or part of a course of instruction • The book is divided into 12 lessons. • Lesson 1: Introduction • She took/gave piano lessons for years.

2 : something learned through experience • political leaders who have failed to learn the lessons of history • I've learned my lesson—I'll never do that again! • We learned our lesson the hard way. [=we learned from an unpleasant experience] • I'm glad they got caught. That will teach them a lesson! [=they will learn that they should not do that again] • Let that be a lesson to you—if you don't take better care of your toys they'll get broken! — see also OBJECT LESSON

3 : a part of the Bible read as part of a church service

les·sor /'le,soʊ/ noun, pl -sors [count] law : a person or company that leases property (such as a car or house) to someone — compare LESSEE

lest /'lest/ conj, formal + literary

1 : for fear that — used to say that you do not want something to happen • He was concerned lest anyone think that he was guilty. = (chiefly Brit) He was concerned lest [=in case] anyone should think he was guilty. [=he was concerned that people would think he was guilty; he did not want anyone to think he was guilty]

2 — used when you are saying something in order to prevent something from happening • And lest you think I'm joking, let me assure you that everything I've said is true. • She's a talented singer and, lest we forget, a fine musician as well. [=we should not forget that she is also a fine musician]

¹let /'let/ verb lets; let; let·ting

1 [+ obj] : to allow or permit (someone or something) to do something • Let them go. • I'll be happy to help you if you'll let me (help you). • A break in the clouds let us see the summit. [=made it possible for us to see the summit] • Don't let this opportunity slip away! • Let me see the bruise. • I don't believe in letting children do whatever they want to do. = I don't believe that people should let children do whatever they want to do. • My philosophy is "Live and let live." [=live your life as you choose and let other people do the same]

usage Let is followed by a verb that has the form of the infinitive without to. • They let him speak. [=they allowed/permitted him to speak] Let is never used as be let; use be allowed or be permitted instead. • They let him speak. [=he was allowed/permitted by them to speak]

2 [+ obj] a — used in speech when you are making a polite offer to help someone • Let me help you with those packages. [=I would be happy to help you with those packages] • Let me do that for you. b — used to introduce a polite statement or request • Let me begin by saying how happy I am to see you here today. [=I want to begin by saying how happy I am to see you] • Please let me know [=tell me] what you decide. c formal — used to introduce a command • "The ambassadors have arrived, your Majesty." "Let them not wait a moment longer; let them enter at once." • Let there be music and laughter! — sometimes used figuratively in a way that is not formal • Let it rain all day—I don't care. d — used to express a warning • Just let her try to do it again! [=she will be in trouble if she tries to do it again]

3 a ♦ Let's and (more formally) let us are used to introduce statements that express a wish, request, suggestion, or command. • Let's [=let us] hope for the best. [=we should hope for the best] • Let's imagine what the world would be like with no war. • Let's suppose that he's right. What then? • Let's get out of here! • Let us all remember [=we should all remember] just how much we have to be thankful for. • I'm not calling her a liar. Let's just say that she tends to exaggerate the truth a little. • Let's see what's on the menu. = Let's have a look at the menu. • "Let's go, shall we?" [=shall we go?] "Yes, let's." • "Let's go." "No, let's not." • Let's not go. = (Brit) Don't let's go. = (US, informal) Let's don't go. b ♦ The phrase let's go is used in speech to tell someone to go or work faster. • Are you still getting dressed? Let's go! We need to leave in five minutes! c ♦ The phrase let us pray is used to introduce a prayer. • Let us pray. Dear God, we thank you for this day... d ♦ The phrases let's face it and let's be honest are used to say that something is true and cannot be denied. • Let's face it: we need more time. • Let's be honest, those two were never right for each other.

4 a [+ obj] : to allow someone to use (something) in return for payment : RENT • They have rooms to let. [=rooms that people can rent to live in] b [no obj] chiefly Brit : to be rented or leased for a specified amount of money • The flat lets [=rents] for 350 pounds a month.

5 always followed by an adverb or preposition [+ obj] : to allow (someone or something) to go, pass by, etc. • Let me out! • She locked the door and refused to let him in. • The guard refused to let us through the gate. • Let me through/past! [=let me move through a group of people, past a barrier, etc.]

let alone 1 — used to refer to something that is even less likely or possible than the thing previously mentioned • I can barely understand it, let alone explain it. 2 let (someone or something) alone : to not bother or touch (someone or something) • Let [=more commonly leave] your sister alone. • All I ask is to be let alone. [=more commonly) left alone] • Would you please let it alone? • I never did learn to let well enough alone. [=to leave well enough alone; to stop changing something that is already good enough]

let bygones be bygones see BYGONES

let down [phrasal verb] 1 let (someone) down a : to fail to give help or support to (someone who needs or expects it) : DISAPPOINT • I promised Mary that I'd help her, and I can't let her down. • It's my fault we lost the game. I let the team down. • He never lets down a friend in need. — sometimes used figuratively • His judgment let him down. [=his judgment was poor; he made a bad decision] b : to make (someone) unhappy or displeased by not being as good as expected • The end of the story really let me down. = I felt let down by the end of the story. [=the end of the story was disappointing] — see also LETDOWN 2 ♦ To let someone down easy/gently is to give someone unpleasant news in a gentle or kind way. • She tried to let him down gently when she told him he didn't get the job. • I knew I had to fire her, but I was trying to think of a way to let her down easy. 3 let (something) down or let down (something) a : to cause or allow (something) to move down gradually • let a bucket down into a well = let down a bucket into a well b : to make (a skirt, a pair of pants, etc.) longer • The pants were a little too short and needed to be let down a little.

— see also let your hair down at HAIR

let fly or let fly with see ¹FLY

let go 1 or let (something or someone) go or let go of (something or someone) or let go (something or someone) : to stop holding or gripping something or someone • I tried to take the ball from him, but he wouldn't let go. • She grabbed my hand and refused to let go. • He let the rope go. = He let go of the rope. = (less commonly) He let go the rope. — often used figuratively • When a child grows up and moves away from home, it can be hard for parents to let go. [=to allow the child to live independently; to not be too involved in the child's decisions, actions, etc.] • I know she disappointed you, but you need to let the past go and move on with your life. [=you need to stop caring or thinking about the past] • You need to let go of the past. • She felt she had been treated wrongly, and she wasn't willing to let it go. [=she wasn't willing to forget how she had been treated] • You're late. I'll let it go this time, but it had better not happen again. • The car is probably worth a lot more, but she agreed to let it go for five thousand dollars. [=she agreed to sell the car for five thousand dollars] 2 or let (yourself) go : to behave in a very free and open way • He really lets go when he's out partying with his friends. • She has a hard time relaxing and letting herself go. 3 let (someone) go a : to allow (someone who is being held as a slave, prisoner, etc.) to be free • They let the prisoner go. = The prisoner was let go. b : to officially make (someone) leave a job • The company let him go at the end of the month. = He was let go at the end of the month. 4 let (yourself) go : to fail to take care of (yourself) • I was very depressed back then and had really let myself go. [=I had stopped taking care of myself]

let it all hang out informal : to show your true feelings : to behave in a very free and open way • When I'm with my friends, I let it all hang out.

let loose see ¹LOOSE

let me see or let's see or let me think — used in speech by someone who is trying to remember something • Let me see, where did I put my keys? • Let's see, how long did it take last time? • What was the name of that restaurant? Let me think. Oh, that's right: "The High Street Café."

let off [phrasal verb] 1 let (someone) off or let off (someone) : to allow (someone) to get off a bus, an airplane, etc. • Could you let me off (the bus) at the next stop, please? • The bus stopped to let off a few passengers. 2 let (someone) off : to allow (someone who has been caught doing something wrong or illegal) to go without being punished • The police officer let her off with just a warning. • They let him off easy/easily/lightly, if you ask me. [=I do not think he was punished as severely as he could/should have been] — often used in the phrase let (someone) off the hook • If you ask me, they let him off the hook too easily. 3 let off (something) : to cause (something) to explode or to be released in a forceful way • let off [=set off] a firecracker • let off pressure — see also let off (some) steam at ¹STEAM

let on [phrasal verb] 1 let (someone) on or let on (someone) : to allow (someone) to get on a bus, an airplane, etc. • They let passengers with small children on (the airplane)

first. • The bus stopped to let on a few more passengers. 2 let on or let on (something) informal : to tell, admit, or show that you know something • He knows a lot more than he lets on. • Don't let on that I told you! • She was unhappy, but she never let on. = She never let on to anyone that she was unhappy. [=she never showed or told anyone that she was unhappy] 3 US, informal : to pretend or seem • She's not as happy as she lets on.

let out [phrasal verb] 1 let (something or someone) out or let out (something or someone) : to release (something or someone) • She let out a scream. [=she screamed] • They let the prisoner out (of prison) for the weekend. = The prisoner was let out for the weekend. • Let the clutch out slowly. — see also LETOUT 2 let (something) out or let out (something) : to make (a shirt, a pair of pants, etc.) larger • The skirt is too tight and needs to be let out a little. • let out a pair of pants — opposite take in at TAKE 3 US, of a school : to end a semester, year, or session • School lets out in June.

let rip see RIP

let sleeping dogs lie see DOG

let (someone) have it informal : to attack, punish, or criticize (someone) in a violent or angry way • When she found out what they'd been doing, she really let them have it.

let (someone) in on (something) : to allow (someone) to know (a secret) • He said he'd let me in on a secret if I promised not to tell anyone else.

let (someone) know see KNOW

let (someone or something) be : to not bother or touch (someone or something) • Please let [=leave] me be.

let (something) be known see KNOW

let (something) slip or let slip (something) see SLIP

let the cat out of the bag see CAT

let the grass grow under your feet see GRASS

let up [phrasal verb] 1 : to stop or become slower • Won't this rain ever let up? • There's a lot of work still to be done. We can't let up now. — see also LETUP 2 let up on (someone) : to treat (someone) in a less harsh or demanding way • The students might respond better if the teacher let up on [=eased up on] them a little. 3 let up on (something) : to apply less pressure to (something) • I let up on [=eased up on] the gas pedal.

let (yourself) in for : to cause (yourself) to have or experience (something bad or unpleasant) • She's letting herself in for a lot of trouble/criticism. • When I agreed to help, I didn't know what I was letting myself in for. [=getting myself into]

2let noun, pl lets [count] tennis : a serve that is not accepted or allowed officially and must be done again • The first serve was a let.

without let or hindrance chiefly Brit, law : without being interfered with • They have the right to vote without let or hindrance. [=without anyone making it difficult or impossible for them to vote]

-let /lət/ noun suffix : small one • booklet [=a small book] • droplet • piglet

let-down /lətˌdaʊn/ noun, pl -downs [count] : something that is not as good as it was expected to be • The news was a letdown. [=disappointment] — see also let down at LET

le-thal /liːθəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : causing or able to cause death • lethal chemicals/weapons • a potentially lethal dose of a drug • He was sentenced to death by lethal injection. • In rare instances, the disease can be lethal. [=more commonly] fatal] — often used figuratively • a pitcher with a lethal fastball [=a very powerful or effective fastball] • a lethal [=very damaging] attack on her reputation synonyms see DEADLY

— le-thal-ly adv • lethally poisonous

le-thar-gic /ləˈθɑːdʒɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling a lack of energy or a lack of interest in doing things • The patient is weak and lethargic. — sometimes used figuratively • a sluggish and lethargic economy

— leth-ar-gic-al-ly /ləˈθɑːdʒɪkli/ adv • moving lethargically

leth-ar-gy /ləˈθɑːdʒi/ noun [noncount] : a lack of energy or a lack of interest in doing things : a lethargic feeling or state • Symptoms of the disease include loss of appetite and lethargy. • I snapped out of my lethargy and began cleaning the house. — sometimes used figuratively • The stock market's recent lethargy is cause for concern.

let-out /lətˌaʊt/ noun, pl -outs [count] Brit, informal : something (such as an excuse or a part of a contract) that makes it possible to avoid doing something • Is there no letout I can use to get out of attending the meeting? — see also let out at LET

let's /ˈlets/ — used as a contraction of let us • Let's do our best.

1let-ter /ˈletər/ noun, pl -ters

1 [count] : any one of the marks that are symbols for speech sounds in written language and that form an alphabet • the letter “a” • “F” is the sixth letter of the English alphabet. • I wrote my name in capital letters.

2 [count] : a written or printed message to someone • write/send/mail a business/love letter to someone • letters to the editor • They always answer the letters they get/receive from their fans. • He asked them for a letter of recommendation/introduction. — see picture at MAIL; see also CHAIN LETTER, COVER LETTER, DEAD LETTER, FORM LETTER, NEWS-LETTER, OPEN LETTER, POISON-PEN LETTER

3 letters [plural] formal : LITERATURE • She's well-known in the field of English letters. — see also MAN OF LETTERS

4 [singular] : the exact meaning of something (such as a law) that is stated in writing • They seem to be more concerned with obeying the letter of the law [=with doing exactly what the law says] than with understanding the spirit of the law.

5 [count] US : a large cloth letter that is the first letter of a school's name, that is awarded to a student for playing on a sports team, and that can be sewn onto a sweater or jacket • He earned his letter in football.

by letter : by sending and receiving letters • We communicated with each other by letter. • a relationship that began by letter to the letter : exactly or precisely • obey the law to the letter

2letter verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing

1 [+ obj] : to write or print letters on (something) : to mark (something) with letters — usually used as (be) lettered • a sign lettered in bright red • The sign was carefully lettered by hand. — often used in combination • a hand-lettered sign

2 [no obj] US : to earn a school letter for playing on a sports team — usually + in • He lettered in football.

letter bomb noun, pl ~ bombs [count] : a bomb that is mailed to someone in a letter or package and that explodes when the letter or package is opened — called also (Brit) parcel bomb

letter box noun, pl ~ boxes [count] Brit : MAILBOX letter carrier noun, pl ~ -ers [count] US : a person who delivers mail

let-ter-head /ˈletərˌhed/ noun, pl -heads [count] : the name and address of an organization (such as a company) that is printed at the top of a piece of paper used for writing official letters • We changed the design of our letterhead.; also [non-count] US : paper that has the name and address of an organization printed at the top • They sent her a letter printed on company letterhead.

let-ter-ing /ˈletərɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : letters written or printed on something • I couldn't read the sign's lettering. • a sign with gold lettering letter opener noun, pl ~ -ers [count] : a device that has a sharp edge or part that is used to cut open envelopes — called also (Brit) paper knife

let-ter-per-fect /ˈletərˌpɜːfɪkt/ adj, US : correct in every detail • Her rendition of the song was letter-perfect.

let-tuce /ˈletəs/ noun, pl -tuces [count, noncount] : a plant that has large leaves that are eaten especially in salads • a head of lettuce • iceberg/romaine lettuce • I like a little lettuce and tomato on my sandwiches.

let-up /lətˌʌp/ noun : a time during which something stops or slows down [noncount] It rained three days without letup. [=it rained continuously for three days] • We worked without letup. [=we worked continuously] [singular] There's been a letup [=break] in the fighting. — see also let up at LET leu-ke-mia or chiefly Brit leu-kae-mia /luˈkiːmijə/ noun [noncount] medical : a very serious disease in which the body forms too many white blood cells

— leu-ke-mic or chiefly Brit leu-kae-mic /luˈkiːmɪk/ adj • leukemic cells/patients

lev-ee /ˈlevi/ noun, pl -ees [count] US : a long wall of soil built along a river to prevent flooding

1lev-el /ˈlevəl/ noun, pl -els

1 a : a specific height [noncount] The pictures were hung on the wall at eye level. • at street/ground level [count] The pictures were hung at different levels. — see also GROUND-LEVEL, SEA LEVEL b [count] : a part of a building that is at a specific height • We were seated in the upper level [=floor] of the restaurant. — see also SPLIT-LEVEL

2 [count] : an amount of something • There was a high level of alcohol/lead in his blood. • a normal level of intelligence • Prices have risen to a new level. • He has shown a remarkable level of patience. [=he has been very patient] • They have demonstrated a high level of interest [=they have been very interested] in this proposal. • They checked the reservoir's water level. [=the amount of water in the reservoir]

3 [count] : a position or rank in a scale : a position that is high or low when compared to others • She rose to the level of manager. • She has reached a rare level of financial success. • These problems affect people at all levels of society. • Can this problem be dealt with at/on a national level or must it be addressed at/on an international level? — see also ENTRY-LEVEL, HIGH-LEVEL, LOW-LEVEL

4 [count] : a way of thinking about, talking about, or dealing with something • The argument appeals to me on a purely intellectual level but fails to reach me on a deeper emotional level. • I'm attracted to the job on many levels. • He studied the changes in the chemical at the molecular level. [=he studied the changes in the molecules of the chemical] • She has enjoyed great success in her professional life, but, on a (more) personal level, this has been a very stressful time. [=this has been a very stressful time in her personal life]

5 [count] : a device used to see when something is exactly flat — called also spirit level; see picture at CARPENTRY descend/sink/stoop to someone's level : to behave as badly as someone who has treated you wrongly • Despite my opponent's personal attacks against me, I refuse to stoop to his level. [=I refuse to behave as badly as he has by attacking him personally]

on the level informal : not false or dishonest • Is this guy on the level? [=is this guy honest?]

2 level adj

1 : having a flat or even surface • We pitched the tent on level ground. • a level floor/road • The recipe calls for a level teaspoon/tablespoon of sugar. [=an amount of sugar that fills a teaspoon/tablespoon exactly without going above its edges]

2 : not going up or down • an airplane in level flight • Interest rates have remained level.

3 a : having the same height as something else — usually + with • The water was level with my waist. • The window is level with the tops of the trees. b : not in front of or behind something or someone else • The boards are level. — often + with • They drew level with the rest of the runners. • Make sure that the ends of the boards are level with each other.

4 chiefly Brit : having the same position, score, or rank : EVEN • The teams are level (with each other) in the standings. • They trailed early in the game, but they drew level [=they tied the score] in the second half. — compare LEVEL-PEGGING

5 : steady and calm • She spoke in a level voice. • It's important to keep a level head [=to remain calm] when you're dealing with a dangerous situation like this one.

your level best : your best effort at doing something • He tried his level best to win the race. [=he tried as hard as he could to win the race] • She did her level best to please her mother. [=she tried very hard to please her mother]

3 level verb -els; US -eled or chiefly Brit -elled; US -el-ing or chiefly Brit -el-ling [+ obj]

1 : to make (something) flat or level • They will level the field. • We need to level the garden before we plant anything.

2 : to knock (someone or something) down to the ground • The earthquake leveled the city. • He leveled his opponent with a right hook.

3 a : to point (a weapon) at someone • The robber leveled a gun at his head. b : to direct (something, such as criticism) at or against someone • They leveled a fraud charge against him. [=they charged him with fraud] • Several complaints have been leveled at the store. • Criticism has been leveled against the government for not responding to this crisis.

4 chiefly Brit : to make (a score) equal : TIE • He scored a goal that leveled the score at 3–3.

level off [phrasal verb] 1 : to stop going up or down • The plane leveled off at 30,000 feet. • The road levels off just before the river. • Business at the restaurant is leveling off. 2 level (something) off or level off (something) : to make (something) flat or even • They used a bulldozer level off the field.

level out [phrasal verb] : to stop going up or down • Divorce rates are leveling out for the first time in decades. • My moods have leveled out.

level the playing field : to make a situation fair for everyone • He wants the government to level the playing field by breaking up large corporations so that smaller companies can compete. — see also LEVEL PLAYING FIELD level with [phrasal verb] level with (someone) informal : to speak honestly to (someone) • He never leveled with his parents about the accident. • Level with me. Why did you do it?

level crossing noun, pl ~ -ings [count] Brit : RAILROAD CROSSING

lev-el-er (US) or chiefly Brit lev-el-ler /'lɛvələ/ noun, pl -ers [count] : something that treats or affects all people the same way • Death is the great leveler. [=death is the same for all people no matter how rich or powerful they may be] lev-el-head-ed /,lɛvəl'hɛdəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing an ability to think clearly and to make good decisions • She is levelheaded about her chances for success as an actress. • a levelheaded assessment of the problem — lev-el-head-ed-ness noun [noncount]

lev-el-peg-ging /,lɛvəl'pɛɡɪŋ/ adj, Brit : even with one another in a contest or competition • The candidates are level-pegging in all the opinion polls.

level playing field noun [singular] : a state in which conditions in a competition or situation are fair for everyone • He wants the government to break up large corporations so that there is a level playing field for smaller companies. — see also level the playing field at ³LEVEL

1 le-ver /'lɛvə, 'li:və/ noun, pl -vers [count]

1 : a strong bar that is used to lift and move something heavy

2 : a bar or rod that is used to operate or adjust something on a machine, vehicle, device, etc. • Pull the brake lever.

3 : something used to achieve a desired result • They used their money as a lever to gain political power.

2 lever verb -vers; -vered; -ver-ing [+ obj] : to lift or move (something) with a lever • He levered the rock out of the hole. — often used figuratively • They tried unsuccessfully to lever him out of his job. [=to force him out of his job] • She levered her way into a position of political power.

le-ver-age /'lɛvərɪdʒ, 'li:vərɪdʒ/ noun [noncount]

1 : influence or power used to achieve a desired result • The union's size gave it leverage in the labor contract negotiations. • The player's popularity has given him a great deal of leverage with the owners of the team.

2 : the increase in force gained by using a lever • I used the leverage of the bar and a wooden block to pry the rock out of the hole.

leverage verb -ag-es; -aged; -ag-ing [+ obj] chiefly US : to use (something valuable) to achieve a desired result • The company wants to leverage its brands more effectively.

leveraged buyout noun, pl ~ -outs [count] chiefly US : a business arrangement in which someone buys a company by borrowing money based on the value of the company that is being bought le-vi-a-than /lɪ'vəjəθən/ noun, pl -thans [count] literary : something that is very large and powerful : GIANT • The factory is a towering leviathan in the middle of the town. • a leviathan corporation

Le-vi's /'li:vəɪz/ trademark — used especially for blue jeans lev-i-tate /'lɛvə,tet/ verb -tates; -tat-ed; -tat-ing : to rise or make (something) rise into the air in a way that appears to be magical [no obj] The woman levitated above the stage. [+ obj] The magician claimed he could levitate a car.

— lev-i-ta-tion /,lɛvə'teɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

lev-i-ty /'lɛvəti/ noun [noncount] somewhat formal

1 : a lack of seriousness • She would not tolerate any levity [=frivolity] in the classroom.

2 : an amusing quality • They managed to find some levity in the situation.

1 levy /'lɛvi/ noun, pl lev-ies [count] : an amount of money that must be paid and that is collected by a government or other authority • The government imposed a levy [=tax] on gasoline.

2 levy verb levies; lev-ied; levy-ing [+ obj] : to use legal authority to demand and collect (a fine, a tax, etc.) • They levied a tax on imports. • The government will levy a fine on the company.

lewd /'lu:d/ adj [more ~; most ~] : sexual in an offensive or rude way • He made lewd remarks/comments to the woman at the bar. • lewd behavior • lewd and lascivious acts

— lewd-ly adv — lewd-ness noun [noncount] • He was arrested for public lewdness.

lex-i-cal /'lɛksɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] linguistics : relating to words or vocabulary • the lexical content of [=the words used in] a statement

lex·i·con /'leksə,kɑ:n, Brit 'leksəkən/ noun, pl -cons [count]

1 : the words used in a language or by a person or group of people • a computer term that has entered the general lexicon

2 somewhat formal : DICTIONARY • a Latin lexicon

lg. abbr large

LH abbr left hand

li·a·bil·i·ty /,ləjə'bɪləti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : the state of being legally responsible for something : the state of being liable for something • The company is trying to limit its liability in this case. • criminal liability [=the state of being responsible for a crime] • The judge cleared me of any/all liability for the accident. [=the judge said that I was not responsible for the accident]

2 [count] : something (such as the payment of money) for which a person or business is legally responsible • a tax liability [=taxes that will have to be paid] — usually plural • business assets and liabilities [=debts]

3 [count] : someone or something that causes problems • His small size was a liability (to him) as a football player. • This scandal has made the vice president a liability (for this administration).

li·a·ble /'ləjəbəl/ adj

1 : legally responsible for something • If someone gets hurt on your property, you could be liable. • The amusement park was held liable in the boy's death. [=a court of law ruled that the amusement park was responsible for the boy's death] — usually + for • He is liable for his wife's debts. [=he is responsible for paying his wife's debts] • They are liable for any damage. [=they will be required to pay for any damage]

2 [more ~; most ~] : likely to be affected or harmed by something — + to • Her condition makes her liable to illness. • liable to injury

3 [more ~; most ~] : likely to do something — + to • You're liable to fall if you're not more careful. • It's liable to rain before we're done. • That guy's liable to say anything. [=he might say anything]

li·aise /li'eɪz/ verb -ais-es; -aised; -ais-ing [no obj] chiefly Brit : to make it possible for two organizations or groups to work together and provide information to each other : to act as a liaison — usually + with or between • Administrators need to liaise with employees at the factory, and the personnel department needs to liaise between the administrators and the employees.

li·ai·son /'li:ə,zɑ:n, li'eɪ,zɑ:n/ noun, pl -sons

1 a [count] : a person who helps organizations or groups to work together and provide information to each other • She acts as a liaison between the police department and city schools. b : a relationship that allows different organizations or groups to work together and provide information to each other [noncount] Administrators need to maintain better/closer liaison with employees. [singular] Administrators need to establish a close liaison with employees.

2 [count] : a secret sexual relationship : AFFAIR • He regretted his liaison with a woman from the office. • sexual liaisons

li·ar /'ləjə/ noun, pl -ars [count] : a person who tells lies • She called him a dirty liar.

lib /'lɪb/ noun [noncount] informal : LIBERATION • women's lib

— lib·ber /'lɪbə/ noun, pl -bers [count] • a women's libber [=a person who supports women's liberation]

li·ba·tion /lə'beɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count]

1 formal : a liquid that is poured out to honor a god • They offered libations at the temple.

2 humorous : an alcoholic drink • We met for a libation after work.

Lib Dem /'lɪb'dem/ noun, pl ~ Dems [count] Brit, informal : LIBERAL DEMOCRAT • Charles Kennedy MP (Lib Dem)

li·bel /'laɪbəl/ noun, pl -bels : the act of publishing a false statement that causes people to have a bad opinion of someone [noncount] He sued the newspaper for libel. • The newspaper was found guilty of libel. [count] The newspaper's attorneys argued that the article was not a libel. — compare SLANDER libel verb -bels; US -beled or chiefly Brit -belled; US -bel-ing or chiefly Brit -bel-ling [+ obj] : to write and publish a false statement that causes people to have a bad opinion of (someone) • The jury found that the article libeled him.

li·bel·ous (US) or chiefly Brit li·bel·lous /'laɪbələs/ adj

: containing an untrue written statement that causes people to have a bad opinion of someone • a libelous magazine article

lib·er·al /'lɪbəərəl, 'lɪbrəl/ adj

1 a [more ~; most ~] : believing that government should be active in supporting social and political change : relating to or supporting political liberalism • a leading liberal thinker • liberal politicians/policies • She is a liberal Democrat who married a conservative Republican. — compare ¹CONSERVATIVE b Liberal Brit : of or belonging to the liberal political party in countries like Canada and the United Kingdom • Liberal voters/policies

2 [more ~; most ~] : not opposed to new ideas or ways of behaving that are not traditional or widely accepted • She has a liberal attitude toward sex. — compare ¹CONSERVATIVE

3 [more ~; most ~] a : generous to others : giving time, money, etc., freely to other people — often + with • She has always been liberal with her donations. b : very large in amount • He made a very liberal donation to the museum. • a cook who uses a liberal quantity of spices [=who uses a large amount of spices]

4 [more ~; most ~] : not strict or exact • a fairly liberal [=loose] interpretation of the law

5 somewhat formal : involving or relating to studies that are intended to give you general knowledge rather than to develop specific skills : relating to the liberal arts • He received a liberal education.

— lib·er·al·ly /'lɪbəərəli, 'lɪbrəli/ adv • The book is liberally sprinkled with humor. • She gave liberally to the charity.

liberal noun, pl -als [count]

1 : a person who believes that government should be active in supporting social and political change : a person who is politically liberal • a policy that is supported both by liberals and conservatives in Congress — compare ²CONSERVATIVE

2 Liberal Brit : a member or supporter of a liberal political party in countries like the United Kingdom and Canada liberal arts noun [plural] : areas of study (such as history, language, and literature) that are intended to give you general knowledge rather than to develop specific skills needed for a profession • the sciences and the liberal arts • She graduated from a liberal arts college in the Midwest.

Liberal Democrat noun, pl ~ -crats [count] : a member or supporter of a British political party that is known as the Liberal Democrats

lib·er·al·ism /'lɪbəərəlɪzəm, 'lɪbrəlɪzəm/ noun [noncount] formal : belief in the value of social and political change in order to achieve progress • political liberalism — compare CONSERVATISM

lib·er·al·i·ty /,lɪbə'ræləti/ noun [noncount] formal : a liberal quality or attitude: such as a : the quality of not being opposed to ideas or ways of behaving that are not traditional or widely accepted • They were shocked by the liberality of her views on sex. b : the quality of being generous : GENEROSITY • He treated his friends with remarkable liberality.

lib·er·al·ize also Brit lib·er·al·ise /'lɪbrə,ləɪz/ verb -lɪz-es; -ized; -lɪz-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make (something) less strict or more liberal • The country began to liberalize its immigration policies. [=to make them less strict]

2 [no obj] : to become less strict or more liberal • The country's immigration policies have begun to liberalize.

— lib·er·al·i·za·tion also Brit lib·er·al·i·sa·tion /,lɪbrələ'zeɪʃən, Brit /lɪbrə,ləɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

lib·er·ate /'lɪbə,reit/ verb -ates; -at-ed; -at-ing [+ obj]

1 : to free (someone or something) from being controlled by another person, group, etc. • Rebels fought to liberate the country. • Soldiers liberated the hostages from their captors.

2 : to give freedom or more freedom to (someone) • Laptop computers could liberate workers from their desks.

3 humorous : to take or steal (something) • He was using materials that he had liberated from a construction site.

— lib·er·a·tor /'lɪbə,reitə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • a liberator of slaves liberated adj [more ~; most ~] : freed from or opposed to traditional social and sexual attitudes or ways of behaving • a liberated woman • a liberated marriage liberating adj [more ~; most ~] : making you feel free • He found that changing jobs was very liberating. • a liberating discovery

lib·er·a·tion /,lɪbə'reɪʃən/ noun [noncount]

1 : the act or process of freeing someone or something from another's control : the act of liberating someone or something • their liberation from slavery • The liberation of the city took weeks.

2 : the removal of traditional social or sexual rules, attitudes, etc. • women's liberation • sexual liberation

lib·er·tar·i·an /ˌlɪbəˈtɛrɪjən/ noun, pl -ans [count] : a person who believes that people should be allowed to do and say what they want without any interference from the government

— libertarian adj • libertarian theories — lib·er·tar·i·an·ism /ˌlɪbəˈtɛrɪjənɪzəm/ noun [noncount]

lib·er·tine /ˌlɪbəˈtiːn/ noun, pl -tines [count] literary : a person (especially a man) who leads an immoral life and is mainly interested in sexual pleasure • libertines of the royal court

— libertine adj [more ~; most ~] • libertine behavior

lib·er·ty /ˈlɪbəti/ noun, pl -ties

1 [noncount] : the state or condition of people who are able to act and speak freely : FREEDOM • a nation that values liberty and democracy • soldiers willing to die in defense of liberty

2 [noncount] : the power to do or choose what you want to • They gave him the liberty to handle the problem himself.

3 [count] : a political right • hard-won liberties such as freedom of the press • personal liberties

at liberty formal 1 : able to act or speak freely — followed by to + verb • You are at liberty to go or stay. • I am not at liberty to say if the rumor is true. 2 : no longer held or kept as a prisoner • a former prisoner who is now at liberty take liberties 1 disapproving : to make important changes to something — usually + with • I think the movie takes too many liberties with the original story. 2 old-fashioned : to be informal and friendly toward someone in a way that is not proper — usually + with • He was accused of taking liberties with several young women.

take the liberty of ♦ If you take the liberty of doing something, you do something without asking for permission to do it. • I took the liberty of making a reservation for us. • I took the liberty of telling them you weren't interested.

li·bid·i·nous /ləˈbɪdənəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : feeling or relating to strong sexual desires • libidinous urges li·bi·do /ləˈbiːdou/ noun, pl -dos technical : a person's desire to have sex. [count] They have healthy libidos. [noncount] Lack of libido may be a sign of depression.

Li·bra /ˈliːbrə/ noun

1 [noncount] : the seventh sign of the zodiac that comes between Virgo and Scorpio and has a pair of scales as its symbol — see picture at ZODIAC

2 [count] : a person born under the sign of Libra : a person born between September 22nd and October 23rd • I'm a Libra.

li·brar·i·an /laɪˈbrerɪjən/ noun, pl -ans [count] : a person who works in a library

li·brary /ˈlaɪbrəri, Brit ˈlaɪbrəri/ noun, pl -brar-ies [count]

1 : a place where books, magazines, and other materials (such as videos and musical recordings) are available for people to use or borrow • I borrowed the book from the school library. • a public library • a library book/card — see also LENDING LIBRARY, REFERENCE LIBRARY

2 : a room in a person's house where books are kept

3 : a collection of similar things (such as books or recordings) • He has an impressive library of jazz records. • a library of computer programs

li·bret·tist /ləˈbrɛtɪst/ noun, pl -tists [count] : a person who writes a libretto li·bret·to /ləˈbrɛtoʊ/ noun, pl -tos or -ti /-ti/ [count] formal : the words of an opera or musical lice plural of ¹LOUSE 1

li·cense (US) or chiefly Brit li·cence /ˈlaɪnsɪs/ noun, pl -cens-es

1 [count] : an official document, card, etc., that gives you permission to do, use, or have something • The restaurant's owner applied for a license to sell liquor. • a liquor license • a fishing license — often used to refer specifically to a driver's license • I have to renew my license. • She was arrested for driving without a license. • He lost his license after he was arrested for drunk driving. • He had to show his license to prove his age. — see also DRIVER'S LICENSE, MARRIAGE LICENSE

2 : freedom to act however you want to — followed by to + verb [noncount] His job as a reporter gives him license to go anywhere and ask anything. [singular] She regards her illness as a license to treat other people badly. [=she thinks that because she is ill she can treat other people badly]

3 [noncount] : the freedom of an artist, writer, etc., to change the way something is described or shown in order to produce a work of art • artistic/poetic/creative license

4 [count] : a document or agreement that allows a certain number of people to use a computer program • We have a license for 10 users.

a license to print money sometimes disapproving : a way of making a large amount of money very easily • He says that if the new law is passed it will give these companies a license to print money.

under license : in a business arrangement where one company gives official permission to another company to do or make something • The company makes computer chips under license from the original manufacturer.

²license also Brit licence verb -censes; -censed; -censing [+ obj]

1 : to give official permission to (someone or something) to do or use something : to give a license to (someone or something) • The restaurant has now been licensed to sell liquor.

2 : to give official permission for (something) • a new drug licensed by the government • The gun was not licensed to him. [=he did not have formal permission to own the gun]

3 : to allow the use of (a name, property, etc.) through a formal agreement • The company licensed its name to others.

licensed adj

1 : having official permission to have or do something : having a license • a licensed physician/teacher • a licensed driver/pilot

2 chiefly Brit : having official permission to sell liquor • a licensed hotel • licensed premises [=a place that has a license to sell liquor]

licensed practical nurse noun, pl ~ nurses [count] : a nurse who has completed a basic level of training and is licensed to provide routine care to sick people — abbr. LPN; compare REGISTERED NURSE li·cens·ee /ˈlaɪnsiː/ noun, pl -ees [count] business : a person or company that has a license to have, make, do, or use something license number noun, pl ~ -bers [count] US : the numbers and letters on a vehicle's license plate — called also (Brit) registration number license plate noun, pl ~ plates [count] US : a metal plate on a vehicle that shows a series of numbers and letters that are used to identify the vehicle — called also (chiefly Brit) number plate; see picture at CAR licensing law noun, pl ~ laws [count] Brit : a law that controls where and when alcoholic drinks may be sold — usually plural

li·cen·tious /laɪˈsɛnfəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : sexually immoral or offensive • licentious behavior

— li·cen·tious·ness noun [noncount]

lichee variant spelling of LYCHEE

li·chen /ˈlaɪkən/ noun [noncount] : a type of small plant that grows on rocks and walls

¹lick /lɪk/ verb licks; licked; lick-ing

1 : to pass the tongue over (a surface, an object, etc.) [+ obj] He licked the stamp before putting it on the envelope. • The dog licked my cheek. = The dog licked me on the cheek. [no obj] The dog licked at the plate.

2 [+ obj] : to take (something) into your mouth with your tongue • She licked the sauce off her finger. • The cat licked the milk off/from her paws.

3 : to lightly touch or go over (a surface) [+ obj] Flames were already licking the ceiling. [no obj] Flames were already licking at/against the ceiling.

4 [+ obj] informal a : to defeat (someone) in a fight or contest • He's pretty big, but I think I can lick him. b : to solve (a problem) • Engineers think they have licked the problem with the rocket engine.

lick someone's boots informal + disapproving : to treat someone powerful with too much respect in order to get approval • He's just the assistant to the manager, there's no need to lick his boots.

lick your lips 1 : to pass your tongue over your lips • She licked her lips while she waited for the food to be served.

2 or US lick your chops : to feel or show excitement because something good is expected to happen • The players knew they would win and were licking their chops as they waited for the game to start.

lick your wounds : to recover from defeat or disappointment • He went home to lick his wounds after losing the election.

²lick noun, pl licks [count]

1 : the act of passing your tongue over something : the act of licking something • He gave the bowl a lick. [=he licked the bowl] • Could I have a lick of your ice cream?

2 informal : a small amount : BIT • It just needs a lick of paint. — often used in negative statements in U.S. English • She couldn't swim a lick. [=she couldn't swim at all] • He hasn't done a lick of work. [=he hasn't done any work] • She thinks he isn't worth a lick. [=she thinks he is worthless]

3 informal : a hard hit • a football player who has taken a lot of licks [=who has been hit hard many times] — often used figuratively in U.S. English • He said some pretty harsh things to her, but she got in a few licks herself. [=she also said some harsh things to him] • The movie has taken its licks from the critics. [=has been harshly reviewed by the critics]

4 informal : a very short part of a piece of music • guitar licks
a lick and a promise 1 US : a quick and careless attempt to do something • They gave the budget problems a lick and a promise and then moved on to the next issue. 2 Brit : the act of washing something quickly or carelessly • He gave the car a lick and a promise.

lick-e-ty-split /ˌlɪkətiˈsplɪt/ adv, US, informal + old-fashioned : very quickly • He ran out the door lickety-split.

lick-ing /ˈlɪkɪŋ/ noun [singular] informal

1 : a severe beating • His father threatened to give him a licking if he didn't stop misbehaving.

2 : a severe defeat • The team got/took a good licking [=was badly defeated] in the first game of the season. — often used figuratively • Many investors took a licking [=lost a lot of money] in the stock market last year.

lic-o-ri-ce or chiefly Brit li-quo-ri-ce /ˈlɪkəriːs/ noun [non-count] : a candy made from the dried root of a European plant lid /ˈlɪd/ noun, pl lids [count]

1 : a cover on a box, can, jar, etc., that can be lifted or removed — see picture at KITCHEN blow the lid off (chiefly US) or chiefly Brit lift the lid on : to reveal the truth about (something) • The investigation blew the lid off corruption in city hall.

2 : EYELID

flip your lid see ¹FLIP

keep a lid on 1 : to keep (something secret) from being known • She tried to keep a lid on the news. 2 : to control (something) : to keep (something) from becoming worse • The government has been unable to keep a lid on inflation.

put a lid on 1 : to stop (something) from growing or becoming worse • These changes are intended to put a lid on rising medical costs. 2 informal : to stop doing or saying (something) • He angrily told them to put a lid on their complaints. [=to stop complaining] • I'm tired of listening to your complaints, so just put a lid on it! [=shut up] 3 or put the lid on : to cause the end or failure of (something) • The government used the army to put a lid on [=stop] the rebellion. • The new official vowed that he would put the lid on violence once and for all. • (chiefly Brit) The rain has really put the lid on our holiday plans. [=has ruined our holiday plans]

lid-ded /ˈlɪdəd/ adj : having a lid or a particular kind of lid • a lidded container • He has heavy-lidded eyes. [=eyes with large/heavy eyelids or with eyelids that are almost closed]

li-do /ˈliːdoʊ/ noun, pl lidos [count] Brit : a public outdoor swimming pool or swimming area

¹lie /ˈlaɪ/ verb lies; lay /ˈleɪ/; lain /ˈleɪn/; ly-ing /ˈlaɪɪŋ/ [no obj]

1 of a person or animal a : to be in a flat position on a surface (such as a bed) • Lie still. • She lay asleep on the bed. • He lay dead on the floor. • The police found him lying unconscious in an alley. • All the dog did was just lie there. — see picture at POSITION b : to move from a standing or sitting position to a flat position on a surface • The doctor asked him to lie [=lie down] on the table. c — used to mark the place where a person is buried • Here lies John Smith. = Here lies the body of John Smith.

2 of things : to be in a flat position on a surface • snow lying on the ground • A note was lying on the table when he came home. • The leaves lay thick on the ground. • He placed a hand on her shoulder, where it lay [=rested] for a moment.

3 a : to be or remain in a specified state or condition • The city lay in ruins. • The book was lying open on the desk. • The factory continues to lie idle. • dishes lying dirty in the sink b always followed by an adverb or a preposition : to be in a specified direction • Our route lay to the west.

4 : to be located in a particular place • The village lies in a peaceful valley. • The river lies along the western edge of the mountains. • Ohio lies east of Indiana. = Ohio lies to the east of Indiana. • A ship was lying in the harbor. • The mountains lay between us and our goal. — often used figuratively • I don't know where the answer lies. [=I don't know where the answer can be found; I don't know what the answer is] • He doesn't know where his future lies. [=he doesn't know what he will do in the future] • The choice lay between fighting or surrendering. [=the choice was between fighting or surrendering] • There is no question about where her loyalties lie. [=about which person, group, etc., she is loyal to] • The problem lies in knowing what to do. • I don't know what to do, and therein lies the problem. [=that is the problem]

5 Brit : to be at a specified level in a competition • They are lying third. = They are lying in third place. [=they are in third place]

how the land lies see ¹LAND

let sleeping dogs lie see ¹DOG

lie ahead : to be in the future • No one knows what lies ahead (of us). [=no one knows what will happen (to us) in the future]

lie around or Brit lie about [phrasal verb] 1 a : to be lying in a disordered way • He always had a lot of clothes lying around his house. b : to be somewhere within a general area or place • I know that pen is lying around here somewhere. 2 : to spend time resting in a lazy way • She spent the whole day just lying around. • My friends and I were lying around by the pool.

lie back [phrasal verb] : to lean backward from a sitting position to a flat position • The doctor asked him to lie back on the table.

lie behind [phrasal verb] lie behind (something) : to be the cause of (something) • Greed lies behind the higher prices.

lie down [phrasal verb] 1 : to move from a standing or sitting position to a flat position on a surface • Lie down on the couch/bed. • I'm tired. I'm going to lie down. • The police ordered him to lay down his weapons and lie down on the ground. 2 lie down on the job : to fail to do your job : to neglect your responsibilities • He says pollution has been getting worse because government regulators have been lying down on the job. 3 ♠ To take something lying down is to accept something bad, such as an insult or unfair treatment, without trying to fight against it. • He vowed that he would not take the court's decision lying down. [=that he would fight against the court's decision] lie in [phrasal verb] Brit : to stay in bed later than usual • She likes to lie in [=sleep in] on Saturdays.

lie in state see ¹STATE

lie in wait see ²WAIT

lie low : to try not to be noticed : to stay hidden or inactive in order to avoid being noticed or found • The prisoners had to lie low after their escape.

lie on/upon [phrasal verb] lie on/upon (someone or something) : to affect someone in a specified way • Sorrow lay heavily on him. [=he felt very sad] • Guilt lies on his conscience. [=he feels very guilty] • Her years lie lightly upon her. [=she seems younger than she is]

lie with [phrasal verb] 1 lie with (someone or something) not used in the progressive tenses — used to say who has the blame or responsibility for something • The blame lies with their mother for not watching them closely enough. • Responsibility for the accident lies with the company. 2 lie with (someone) literary : to have sex with (someone) • when he first lay with her

make your bed and lie in it see ¹BED

— compare ³LIE

²lie noun, pl lies [count] : the position in which something lies on the ground • a golf ball in a difficult lie — see also LIE OF THE LAND — compare ⁴LIE

³lie verb lies; lied; ly-ing [no obj]

1 : to say or write something that is not true in order to deceive someone : to tell a lie • I can't believe you lied to me. • He has been accused of lying about his military record. • She was lying when she told her parents that she had spent the afternoon studying. • She was lying through her teeth. [=she was saying something completely untrue] • (US, informal) You can't trust that guy. He lies like a rug. [=he lies constantly; he is dishonest]

2 : to indicate or suggest something that is not true or accurate • Statistics sometimes lie. [=do not accurately reflect the truth] • You may think that you still look young, but the mirror never lies. [=the mirror shows how you really look]

— compare ¹LIE

⁴lie noun, pl lies [count] : something untrue that is said or written to deceive someone • She told a lie to her parents. • He has been accused of telling lies about his military record. • a bold/brazen/barefaced lie • a complete lie • The accusations are lies, all lies. • The claims he has made are nothing but a pack of lies. • (chiefly Brit) He has woven a tissue of lies [=he has told many lies] about his military record. — see also WHITE LIE give the lie to formal : to show that (something) is not true • Her success has given the lie to the notion that women cannot compete with men.

I tell a lie Brit, informal — used to correct something you have just said • I saw him just yesterday. No, I tell a lie. It was two days ago.

live a lie : to live in a false or deceptive way : to live in a way that does not show who you truly are or what your feelings truly are • Their friends thought that they had a happy marriage, but they were living a lie. [=their marriage was not happy]

— compare ²LIE

lie detector noun, pl ~-tors [count] : a device used to measure the heart rate, breathing, etc., in order to find out if someone (such as a person suspected of a crime) is being honest • The murder suspect failed a lie detector test.

lie-down /'lai,daʊn/ noun [singular] Brit : a brief rest : NAP • They often have a lie-down in the afternoon. — see also lie down at ¹LIE

liege /'li:ʒ/ noun, pl lieg-es [count] : a lord in the time of the Middle Ages lie-in /'lai,in/ noun [singular] Brit, informal : a time in the morning spent lying in bed instead of getting up • They had a nice long lie-in on the first morning of their holiday. — see also lie in at ¹LIE lien /'li:n/ noun, pl liens [count] law : a legal claim that someone or something has on the property of another person until a debt has been paid back • The bank had a lien on our house. [=the bank had the right to take our house if we did not pay back the money we had borrowed to buy it]

lie of the land noun [singular] Brit : LAY OF THE LAND lieu /'lu:, Brit 'lju:/ noun

in lieu of : in place of : instead of • In lieu of flowers, the family of the deceased has requested that donations be made to the church fund. • You can use your ATM card in lieu of cash.

lieut. abbr lieutenant lieu·ten·ant /lu'tenənt, Brit lef'tenənt/ noun, pl -ants [count]

1 : an officer in the army, navy, or air force with a fairly low rank • He was promoted to the rank of lieutenant. • Good morning, Lieutenant Smith. — abbr. Lt.; see also FIRST LIEUTENANT, SECOND LIEUTENANT

2 US : an officer in a fire or police department who has a rank below a captain

3 : an assistant to another, more powerful person : a person who represents and works for someone else • She has her best lieutenants working on a proposal. • one of the mobster's most loyal lieutenants lieutenant colonel noun, pl ~-nels [count] : a military officer who has a rank just below a colonel lieutenant commander noun, pl ~-ers [count] : an officer in the navy or coast guard who has a rank just below a commander

lieutenant general noun, pl ~-als [count] : a military officer who has a rank just below a general

lieutenant governor noun, pl ~-nors [count] : an elected official who is an assistant to the governor of a U.S. state

¹life /'laɪf/ noun, pl lives /'laɪvz/

1 [noncount] : the ability to grow, change, etc., that separates plants and animals from things like water or rocks • He believes that God gives life to all creatures. • the miracle of life • eternal/everlasting life

2 a : the period of time when a person is alive [noncount] She knew what she wanted to do early in life. [=when she was young] • He became famous relatively late in life. [=at a relatively old age] • He became famous later in life. = He became famous in later life. [count] She was happy and healthy for most of her life. • The people in her family tend to have long/short lives. • I've known her all my life. • He is nearing the end of his life. • They spent their whole/entire lives in one town. =

They lived in one town all their lives. • People can expect to change jobs several times in their life/lives. • They've been waiting their whole/entire life/lives for an opportunity like this. • This is the financial opportunity of his life. [=of his lifetime; the best chance in his life to make money] b : the experience of being alive [noncount] What do you really want out of life? • He believes in living life to the fullest. [=in living a very full and rich life] • All this paperwork has made life much more difficult. • The details of everyday/ordinary life can be fascinating. • life in the city/country = city/country life • Sometimes life just isn't fair. • We can laugh at things in movies that would scare us in real life. [=in a real situation; in actual existence] • Oh well, that's life! [=bad things will happen, and you have to deal with them] • Despite the political upheaval, for most people life goes on as usual. [=the activities of life continue in the usual way] [count] What do you really want to do with your life? • Her children say that she has ruined their lives. • She talked about the men in her life. [=the men she has had a romantic or close relationship with during her life] • She has dedicated/devoted her life to helping other people. • All this paperwork has made my life much more difficult. • They're trying to get/put their lives back together. [=to begin living in a normal way after suffering loss, hardship, etc.] • She was the love of my life. [=the person I loved more than any other person at any time in my life] • I've never heard such a silly idea in all my life! [=at any time] = Never in my life have I heard such a silly idea! • They're old enough to run/live their own lives. [=to make their own decisions about how to live] • After all the problems they've had recently, they just want to get/move on with their lives. [=to continue living their lives in the usual way] • I'm not surprised that I didn't get the job. That's the story of my life. [=that's the way things usually or always happen in my life] — often used before another noun • She told us her life story. [=she told us about many of the things that had happened to her in her life] • a lack of life experience [=experience and knowledge gained through living] ♦ If your life flashes/passes before your eyes or if your life flashes/passes before you, many memories from different parts of your life quickly appear in your mind one after the other. • Her life flashed before her eyes when her car was about to crash.

3 [count] a : a specified part of a person's life • He talked about his life as an artist. • the social lives of college students • How's your love/sex life? • They had difficult home lives when they were children. • They are trying to keep their personal/private lives separate from their public lives. • the responsibilities of their family life b : a specified way or manner of living • He lived/led a life of crime. [=he was a criminal] • They have lived/led sheltered lives. • He is trying to make a better life for himself and his family. ♦ Your way of life is how you live your life. • a fisherman's way of life • Most people don't approve of my way of life. • a traditional way of life

4 [count] : the state or condition of being alive • They spared the horse's life. [=they did not kill the horse] • She feels that her life is in danger. = She fears for her life. = She is in fear for her life. [=she feels that she is in danger of being killed] • She risked her life [=she did something very dangerous that could have resulted in her death] to help him. • She gave/sacrificed her life [=she did something that resulted in her death] for her country. • He was running for his life. [=he was running to escape from great danger] • He is fighting for his life. [=he is very sick or injured and may die] • A would-be assassin made an attempt on the President's life. [=tried to kill the President]

5 [noncount] : living things of a specified kind or in a specified place • There may be a great deal of animal/plant life still to be discovered in this region. • forest life • ocean life • Will we ever find intelligent life on other planets?

6 : the time when something can be used : the period when something exists or is useful or effective [noncount] battery life • the life of an insurance policy • They claim that using their product will extend the life of the car. • a warranty that is good for the life of the product [count] a product that extends the lives of the rugs/cars — see also HALF-LIFE, SHELF LIFE

7 [noncount] a : energy and spirit • eyes full of life • (informal) suck the life out of a room [=take all the fun and energy out of a group of people in a room] b : activity and movement • The streets were humming with life. [=the streets were filled with people and activity] • There were no signs of life in the deserted village.

8 [count] : a book that tells about the life of a person : BIOG-

RAPHY • She wrote a life of Napoleon. • Boswell's Life of Johnson

9 [noncount] : the punishment of being kept in a prison for the rest of your life : LIFE IMPRISONMENT • He was found guilty and sentenced to life. = (informal) He got life. = He was given life.

a dog's life see ¹DOG

a life of its own ✧ Something that takes on a life of its own becomes very large, important, or hard to control. • The project soon took on a life of its own and prevented us from getting any other work done. • The story took on a life of its own and began to appear on news broadcasts everywhere.

all walks of life or every walk of life see ²WALK

a matter of life and death : something that is extremely important and often involves decisions that will determine whether someone lives or dies • Being prepared for severe weather can be a matter of life and death. — see also LIFE-AND-DEATH

a new lease on/of life see ¹LEASE

(as) big as life (US) or chiefly Brit (as) large as life informal : in person — used to describe the surprise of seeing someone • I never expected her to come to the party, but there she was, as big as life.

bet/stake your life on ✧ If you would bet/stake your life on something, you are very sure that it will happen. • “Will she keep her promise?” “I’d bet/stake my life on it!”

breathe (new) life into : to give new energy and excitement to (something) • She is credited with breathing new life into contemporary art. • The singer managed to breathe life into some tired old songs.

bring someone or something back to life : to cause someone or something that has died to begin living again • The story is about a mad scientist who tries to bring dead people back to life. — often used figuratively • They’re trying to bring the restaurant back to life by introducing a new menu. • an old theory that is being brought back to life

bring something to life : to make something very interesting, appealing, or exciting • She brings history to life with her books.

come to life 1 : to become very interesting, appealing, or exciting • The movie really comes to life when she appears on the screen. 2 of a place : to become filled with the energy and excitement of active people • Downtown comes to life each night when the clubs open. 3 or sputter/roar (etc.) to life of a machine : to begin working • The engine suddenly roared to life.

depart this life see DEPART for dear life : very tightly or quickly because of fear or danger • He was hanging/holding on to the rope for dear life. • They were running for dear life to get away from the vicious dogs.

for life : for the whole of your life : for the rest of your life • They met in college and have remained friends for life. • He was sentenced to prison for life.

for the life of me informal : in any way at all — used to say that you are unable to remember or understand something • I couldn’t for the life of me remember what her name was. • For the life of me, I can’t think of any reasons why you wouldn’t want a computer at home.

frighten/scare the life out of informal : to frighten (someone) very badly • You (nearly) scared the life out of me when you startled me like that!

from life of a painting, drawing, etc. : from looking at an actual person, object, etc. • drawings done from life rather than from photographs get a life informal : to stop spending time doing or thinking about things that are not important or interesting : to begin to have a more interesting or exciting life • My girlfriend’s parents are nice people, but all they do is watch TV all day. They need to get a life.

larger than life see ¹LARGE

lay down your life see lay down at ¹LAY life depends on ✧ If your life depends on something, then you must do it. • His life depends on how he answers this question. • He was studying as if his life depended on it. — often used in negative statements • I wouldn’t eat that food if my life depended on it. [=I would never eat it]

lose your life : to die • She nearly lost her life in a car accident. • Many lives were lost. [=many people died]

new life ✧ When something takes on (a) new life or when you give something new life or give new life to something, it becomes more active, interesting, etc. • Plain old mashed potatoes take on a new life in this recipe. • Falling interest rates gave new life to the housing market.

not on your life informal — used as a very forceful way of saying “no” or “never” • Do the government’s policies really help the average worker? Not on your life.

risk life and limb : to do something that is very dangerous • They risked life and limb to pull the child from the river.

save someone’s life see ¹SAVE

spring into/to life see ²SPRING

staff of life see ¹STAFF

such is life see ²SUCH

take/claim someone’s life : to cause someone’s death • Two years ago he was diagnosed with the illness that eventually took his life. • The flood claimed many lives. [=caused the deaths of many people] take your own life : to kill yourself • He threatened to take his own life [=commit suicide], but no one believed him.

the life of the party (US) or chiefly Brit the life and soul of the party : someone who is very lively and amusing at a party or other social gathering

the light of your life see ¹LIGHT

the next life or the life to come : a life that is believed by some people to come after death • He believed that he would see his family again in the next life.

the simple life see SIMPLE to save your life see ¹SAVE

true to life see ¹TRUE

— see also FACT OF LIFE, GOOD LIFE, SLICE-OF-LIFE, STILL LIFE

²*life* adj, always used before a noun

1 : of or relating to life • the life force in all things

2 : done as long as a person lives : existing or lasting throughout a person’s life • a life [=lifelong] member • my life savings [=all the money I have saved in my life] • He was given a life sentence in prison.

life-affirming /ˈlaɪfəfərmɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : indicating that life has value : positive and optimistic • Even though the heroine dies at the end, her struggle for a better world gives the movie a life-affirming message.

life-and-death adj : extremely important and serious especially because your survival or life may depend on success • They were engaged in a life-and-death struggle. • He plays every game like it’s life-and-death. — see also a matter of life and death at ¹LIFE life assurance noun [noncount] Brit : LIFE INSURANCE

life-blood /ˈlaɪfˈblʌd/ noun [noncount]

1 : the most important part of something : the part of something that provides its strength and energy • The town’s life-blood has always been its fishing industry. • The neighborhoods are the lifeblood of this city.

2 literary : a person’s blood • the lifeblood that flows through his veins life-boat /ˈlaɪfˌboʊt/ noun, pl -boats [count] : a boat used for saving people’s lives; especially : a small boat that is carried on a ship and that is used for saving the lives of the passengers and crew if the ship sinks life buoy noun, pl ~ buoys [count] : a ring-shaped device that floats in water and that is used to keep a person from drowning life cycle noun, pl ~ cycles [count] biology : the series of stages through which a living thing passes from the beginning of its life until its death • the life cycle of a shark life expectancy noun, pl ~ -cies : the average number of years that a person or animal can expect to live [noncount] improvements in diet that have resulted in greater life expectancy for many people [count] calculating the life expectancies of different social groups — often used figuratively • What is the life expectancy of a new computer? [=how long can a new computer be expected to last or be useful?]

life form noun, pl ~ forms [count] : a living thing of any kind • searching for alien life forms • higher life forms = more complex life forms • primitive/simple life forms

life-giv-ing /ˈlaɪfˌɡɪvɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : giving or having power to create or support life : essential to life • the sun’s life-giving energy life-guard /ˈlaɪfˌɡɑːd/ noun, pl -guards [count] : a person whose job is to protect swimmers from drowning life history noun, pl ~ -ries [count] biology : the full range of changes, habits, and behaviors of a living thing over the course of its life • studying the life history of bears life imprisonment noun [noncount] : the punishment of being kept in a prison for the rest of your life • The murderer was sentenced to life imprisonment.

life insurance noun [noncount] : a type of insurance that pays money to the family of someone who has died life jacket noun, pl ~ -ets [count] : something that is worn over your upper body like a jacket or vest and that is designed to save you from drowning by holding you up when you are in water — called also (US) life vest life-less /'laɪfləs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having no life: such as a : having no living things • a cold and lifeless landscape b : dead or appearing to be dead • a lifeless body c : lacking spirit, interest, or energy • The book's plot was lifeless and predictable.

— life-less-ly adv • His arms fell lifelessly to his sides. — life-less-ness noun [noncount]

life-like /'laɪf,laɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : looking like a real person or thing • a very lifelike doll • The graphics in the video game are more lifelike than we imagined they would be. • a lifelike portrait life-line /'laɪf,laɪn/ noun, pl -lines [count]

1 : something which provides help or support that is needed for success or survival • The river is the town's lifeline. • The new jobs were an economic lifeline for a city in need of help. • The radio was their lifeline to the outside world.

2 : a rope used for saving the life of someone (such as someone who has fallen into water) • They threw a lifeline to the man overboard.

life-long /'laɪf,laɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun : continuing or lasting through a person's life • He had a lifelong love of nature. • a lifelong friendship life of Ri-ley /-'raɪli/ noun

the life of Riley informal + somewhat old-fashioned : a happy and comfortable life with few problems • He's been living/leading the life of Riley.

life-or-death adj : LIFE-AND-DEATH • a life-or-death struggle life peer noun, pl ~ peers [count] : a British peer (sense 2) who has the title "Lord" or "Lady" for life but cannot pass it on to another person after death life preserver noun, pl ~ -ers [count] chiefly US : a floating device that is designed to save you from drowning

lif-er /'laɪfə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal

1 US : a person who spends an entire career in the same job • He was a lifer at the factory. • an army lifer

2 : a criminal who has been sentenced to spend the rest of his or her life in prison • lifers seeking parole life raft noun, pl ~ rafts [count] : a small rubber boat designed for saving the lives of people when a larger boat or ship sinks life-sav-er /'laɪf,servə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : something that saves a person's life • a surgical procedure that has been a lifesaver for many people

2 : something or someone which provides help that is badly needed • This multipurpose tool can be a real lifesaver when something needs fixing. • Frozen dinners can be lifesavers for busy parents. • Thanks so much for offering to help. You're a real lifesaver!

3 chiefly Australia : LIFEGUARD life-sav-ing /'laɪf,servɪŋ/ adj, always used before a noun : designed for or used in saving people's lives • a lifesaving surgical procedure lifesaving noun [noncount] : the skills needed to save the lives of people who are drowning • All lifeguards are trained in lifesaving.

life science noun, pl ~ -ences [count] : an area of science that deals with living things and life processes — usually plural • life sciences such as biology and medicine life sentence noun, pl ~ -tences [count] : the punishment of being sent to prison for the rest of your life • He received a life sentence for his crimes.

life-size /'laɪf'saɪz/ also life-sized /'laɪf'saɪzd/ adj : having the same size as a real person or thing • a life-size image of a dog • a life-size model of a dinosaur • The statue was nearly twice life-size.

life span noun, pl ~ spans [count] : the amount of time that a person or animal actually lives • the average life span of house cats • increase/lengthen the human life span — often used figuratively • Recharging can extend the life span of life jacket

a battery. • the life span of a building/appliance • the life span of a controversy life-style /'laɪf,stajəl/ noun, pl -styles [count] : a particular way of living : the way a person lives or a group of people live • She envied the lavish lifestyles of wealthy people. • Eating right and exercising are essential to having/leading/living a healthy lifestyle.

life support noun [noncount]

1 medical : the equipment, material, and treatment needed to keep a very sick or hurt patient alive • He was removed from life support. • She was put/kept on life support.

2 : the things that are needed to keep someone alive in a place (such as outer space) where life is usually not possible • equipment providing life support for astronauts — life-support /'laɪfsə,pəʊt/ adj, always used before a noun • life-support equipment/machines • There was a problem with the submarine's life-support system.

life-sus-tain-ing /'laɪfsə,stɛɪnɪŋ/ adj : helping someone or something to stay alive : supporting or extending life • life-sustaining medical treatment • The storm brought life-sustaining rain/water to the farms.

life's work also US life-work /'laɪf'wɜ:k/ noun [noncount] : the entire or main work of a person's life • She made photography her life's work.

life-threat-en-ing /'laɪf,θretɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : capable of causing someone's death • a life-threatening disease/emergency • The injury wasn't life-threatening.

life-time /'laɪf,tɑɪm/ noun, pl -times [count]

1 a : the time during which a person is alive • Four editions of the book were printed in his lifetime. [=during his life] • She has had a lifetime of hard work. [=she has worked hard all her life] • a lifetime spent traveling the world • I don't think it will happen in our lifetime. [=the time when we are alive] • She owns enough shoes to last (her) a lifetime. [=to last for the rest of her life] • the thrill of a lifetime [=a great thrill; the most exciting moment or event of a person's life] • This is the opportunity of a lifetime. = This sort of opportunity comes along once in a lifetime. [=this is a very rare opportunity] — often used before another noun • He won a lifetime supply of ice cream. [=free ice cream for the rest of his life] • She was presented with a lifetime achievement award. [=an award for all the work she has done in her life] • a baseball player's lifetime batting average [=batting average measured over a baseball player's full career] b : a very long time • It would have taken me a lifetime to read all those books. • Childhood seems a lifetime ago now!

2 : the time during which something lasts or is useful • a chemical with a lifetime of only a few minutes • the lifetime of a planet/star/comet life vest noun, pl ~ vests [count] US : LIFE JACKET

lift /'lɪft/ verb lifts; lift-ed; lift-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to move (something or someone) to a higher position : RAISE • The paramedics lifted the stretcher into the ambulance. • lift a bucket of water • He lifted his foot from/off the gas pedal. • He lifted his pen from the paper. • She lifted her hands to the sky. • She lifted the child (up) onto her lap. • He lifted his head (up) and looked at us. • She lifted (up) the lid of the box. b [no obj] : to rise up from the ground or some other surface • The balloon lifted [=rose] into the sky.

2 [+ obj] : to move (someone or something) to a higher condition or position • The story lifted him to national recognition. • lifting people from poverty

3 ♦ If your spirits lift or your mood lifts or if something lifts your spirits/mood, you become happier or less sad. • The beauty of the sunrise lifted her spirits. = Her spirits lifted when she saw the beauty of the sunrise.

4 ♦ When a weight/load/burden has been lifted from your shoulders/back, you are able to stop worrying about some large problem or responsibility. • After I finally told my mother about my concerns, I felt as if a weight had been lifted from my shoulders. [=I felt very relieved]

5 [+ obj] : to increase the amount of (something) • The company has been trying to improve the quality of its products without lifting [=more commonly raising] prices.

6 [+ obj] : to make (your voice) louder • He barely lifted [=raised] his voice above a whisper. • The preacher told them to lift (up) their voices and sing.

7 [+ obj] informal a : to take (an idea, plan, etc.) from another source often in a way that is wrong • The plot of the movie was lifted [=taken] from real life. • an idea lifted from another novel b : to steal (something) • Somebody lifted her purse when she wasn't looking. c : to take (something) out of a normal position or setting • lift a word out of context

8 [+ obj] : to stop or remove (something, such as a rule that prevents people from doing something) often for only a short time • lift a blockade • The city has temporarily lifted its ban on smoking in bars.

9 [no obj] of fog, clouds, or smoke : to move up and disappear so that it is possible to see • You can see the mountains when the clouds lift. • We were shocked by what we saw when the fog/smoke finally lifted. [=cleared]

10 [+ obj] : to move (someone or something) from one place to another in an aircraft : AIRLIFT • troops being lifted into enemy territory • supplies being lifted to remote areas

lift a finger see ¹FINGER

lift down [phrasal verb] lift (something) down also lift down (something) : to pick up (something) in order to move it to a lower position • I had to lift the box down from the top shelf to the floor.

lift off [phrasal verb] of an airplane, rocket, etc. : to rise up from the ground or another surface • planes lifting off from the runway • Thousands of spectators watched as the space shuttle lifted off. — see also LIFTOFF lift weights : to exercise by lifting heavy objects (such as barbells) in order to become stronger • He has been lifting weights for exercise.

— lift-er noun, pl -ers [count] • a mechanical lifter — see also WEIGHT LIFTER

²lift noun, pl lifts

1 [count] : the act of raising or lifting something • a slight lift of his eyebrows

2 [count] : a free ride in a vehicle • Can I give you a lift? = Do you need a lift? • I need a lift to the bus station. • I got/hitched a lift [= (US) ride] home after the party.

3 [count] a Brit : ELEVATOR 1 • We took the lift to the fifth floor. b : SKI LIFT

4 [singular] a : a feeling of greater happiness • Her visit really gave me the lift I needed. [=made me feel better and happier] • The coach's speech gave the team a psychological lift. b : an improved state or condition • He claims that a tax cut will give the economy a lift. [=will improve the economy]

5 [noncount] technical : an upward force that makes it possible for aircraft to fly • a wing design that generates more lift

lift-off /'lɪft,ɑːf/ noun, pl -offs : the upward movement from the ground by a rocket, helicopter, or space vehicle as it begins flight [noncount] moments after liftoff • We have liftoff! [count] a series of successful liftoffs • Thousand of spectators gathered to watch the liftoff of the space shuttle. — see also lift off at ¹LIFT

lig-a-ment /'lɪɡəmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count] : a tough piece of tissue in your body that holds bones together or keeps an organ in place • He sprained/tore ligaments in his knee. — compare TENDON

¹light /'laɪt/ noun, pl lights

1 [noncount] : the form of energy that makes it possible to see things : the brightness produced by the sun, by fire, a lamp, etc. • The light was bright/dazzling. • The landscape was bathed/awash in light. • a ray/shaft/beam of light • a source of light = a light source • a photograph taken in low/dim light • the light of the moon • a mixture of light and shadow • The windows let fresh air and light into the room. • a plant that grows best in direct/indirect light [=with light shining directly/indirectly on it] • natural light [=sunlight] • artificial light [=light produced by electric lamps] — sometimes used figuratively • He hates the harsh light of publicity.

2 [count] a : a source of light (such as an electric lamp) • turn/switch on/off the light • a fluorescent light • a light fixture [=a lamp that is permanently attached to a wall, ceiling, etc.] • a warning light • The lights suddenly went out. • The lights suddenly came on. • the twinkling lights of the city below • the bright lights of Broadway • a light switch [=a switch for turning lights on and off] • The lights are on, so there must be somebody at home. — see also NIGHTLIGHT b : a light on a vehicle • His car's battery died because he left his lights on.

3 [singular] : a way of showing or understanding something or someone • The situation looks less serious when looked at in a certain light. [=in a certain way] • I see things in a different light now. [=I see/understand things differently now] • The defendants were shown/depicted in a bad light [=in a way that made them seem bad] by the lawyer. • The news about his marital problems does not place/put him in a good light [=does not make him appear to be a good person] • She tried to explain her behavior in the best light possible. [=in a way that would make her appear as good as possible]

4 [count] : a light or set of lights used to control traffic : TRAFFIC LIGHT • Turn left at the next light. • The light was red. • We were waiting for the light to turn green.

5 [singular] informal : a flame for lighting a cigarette • I need a light for my cigarette. • Do you have a light? • I didn't have any matches, but a stranger gave me a light. [=lit my cigarette for me]

6 [noncount] formal : DAYLIGHT 1 • Things look different by the light of day. • We woke up at first light [=at dawn; at sunrise; when the sun came up] — see also SEE THE LIGHT OF DAY (below)

7 [singular] : a quality in a person's eyes that shows emotion • I saw the light of recognition in her eye.

8 lights [plural] a : light colors : colors that are more white than black • the composition of lights and darks in the painting/photograph b : light-colored clothes • Wash the lights and the darks separately.

according to your lights formal : according to your idea of what is right • You know my views on the matter; but of course you must act according to your (own) lights. [=you must be guided by your own opinions about what is right]

a light at the end of the tunnel : a reason to believe that a bad situation will end soon or that a long and difficult job will be finished soon • They are falling deeper into debt, and there is no light at the end of the tunnel. • The work on our house has been going on for months, but we're finally starting to see a light at the end of the tunnel.

bring (something) to light : to tell people about (something) : to make (something) known • Many new facts were brought to light during the investigation.

cast/shed/throw light on : to help to explain (something) : to make it possible to understand or know more about (something) • She is developing new theories that might shed some light on these unusual phenomena. • I hope my explanation throws light on their behavior.

come to light : to become known • Other details have come to light because of this investigation. • She was angry when it came to light that some people were being promoted unfairly.

hide your light under a bushel see BUSHEL

in someone's light : blocking the light that someone needs to see or read something • She asked him to move back a few steps because he was in her light.

in the cold light of day see ¹COLD

in the light of or US in light of 1 : while thinking about (something that affects the way you see or understand things) • You should think about their advice in light of your own needs. • It is impossible to come to a conclusion in the light of the data we have here. • You should read the story in light of your own experiences. 2 : because of (something) • It's a particularly important topic in light of recent events.

light dawns ♦ When people suddenly understand something that they had not understood before, (a/the) light dawns (on them). • When she saw the guilty look on her husband's face, a light dawned, and she knew he had been lying to her.

more heat than light see ¹HEAT out like a light informal 1 : ASLEEP • As soon as my head hit the pillow, I was out like a light. 2 : UNCONSCIOUS • He took one punch to the jaw and was out like a light.

punch someone's lights out see ¹PUNCH

see the light informal : to suddenly understand or realize the truth of something • Many people doubted his theory, but most of them have now finally seen the light. [=most of them now realize that his theory is correct]

see the light of day 1 : to be seen or used • our fine china, which hasn't seen the light of day in at least 10 years 2 : to become publicly known • Important documents in this case have never seen the light of day. • Her theory first saw the light of day in a well-respected magazine.

set light to chiefly Brit : to cause (something) to begin burning • used a match to set light to [=set fire to] the paper the light of your life : a person you love very much and who makes you happy • His daughter is the light of his life.

trip the light fantastic see ²TRIP

— see also GREEN LIGHT, LEADING LIGHT, NORTHERN LIGHTS, SOUTHERN LIGHTS, sweetness and light at SWEETNESS

²light adj light-er; -est

1 : not dark or deep in color : PALE • light blue • She has a light complexion. • He has light [=fair] skin/hair.

2 a : having a lot of light : BRIGHT • a light and airy room b

: having the light of the day • We're planning to leave as soon as it's light. [=as soon as there is daylight] • We're hoping to arrive while it's still light out. [=to arrive before night has fallen] • In summer it gets light earlier and stays light later than in winter.

— compare ⁴LIGHT

³light verb lights; light-ed or lit /'lɪt/; light-ing

1 [+ obj] : to provide light for (something) • They used candles to light the room. = They lighted/lit the room with candles. • a dimly/poorly lit room • a brightly lit room • a well-lighted place • Our guide used a candle to light the way. [=to show the way that had to be followed]

2 a [+ obj] : to cause (something) to burn • light a match/candle • I lit (up) a cigarette for him. = I lit him a cigarette. — see also LIGHT UP 3 (below) b [no obj] : to begin to burn • waiting for the wood to light light a fire under (someone) US, informal : to cause (someone) to move or work more quickly and effectively • I've never seen him work so hard. Someone must have lit a fire under him.

light into [phrasal verb] light into (someone) US, informal : to attack or criticize (someone) forcefully • He lit into his employees for their sloppy work. [=he criticized them very harshly] • She lit into her opponent and did not let up.

light on/upon [phrasal verb] light on/upon (something) : to find or see (something) by chance • Researchers have lit upon [=found] a solution. • His eye lit on a story in the newspaper.

light out [phrasal verb] US, informal : to leave in a hurry for someplace • He suddenly lit out for home.

light up [phrasal verb] 1 a of a light : to become lit : to begin shining • All of the lights on the display suddenly lit up. — often used figuratively • His eyes/face lit up [=he looked very happy and pleased] when she walked in the room. b informal, of a telephone : to show a light indicating that someone is calling • When the DJ announced a contest, the phones lit up. [=the lights on the phones lit up because many people were calling] 2 light (something) up or light up (something) : to provide light for (something) : to fill (something) with light • light up a room = light a room up • Fireworks lit up the sky. — often used figuratively • A smile lights up her whole face. [=a smile makes her whole face look happy and radiant] • Her smile lights up the room. [=she has an extremely bright and attractive smile] 3 informal : to light a cigarette • I can't wait to light up [=smoke a cigarette] after work.

⁴light adj lighter; -est

1 a : not heavy : having little weight or less than usual weight • This suitcase is light enough for a child to carry. • The truck was carrying a light load. • "How heavy is it?" "Not very: it's actually quite light." • It's very light in weight. = It's of very light weight. • This box is lighter than I thought it would be. • She would like to be a few pounds lighter. = She would like to be lighter by a few pounds. [=she would like to weigh less than she does by a few pounds] • Aluminum is a light metal. • lifting light weights • This box is as light as a feather. [=very light] b : small in size and weight • He has a light build.

2 a : less in amount or degree than usual • Only a light turnout is expected for the election. • Traffic was light this morning. • I have only a light course load this semester. • The stock market was slightly up today in light trading. • light rain/snow • She was wearing light makeup. • light perfume b : not strong or violent : MODERATE • a light breeze c : not great or large • The storm caused only light [=slight] damage. [=the storm did not cause much damage] • light competition • Casualties have so far been light. d : not difficult to accept or bear • a light responsibility : not harsh or severe • light punishment • He was given a surprisingly light sentence for his crimes. e : slight or minor in degree or effect • She has a light cold. • light discipline • These shrubs require only a little light pruning. — opposite HEAVY

3 : not involving a lot of physical effort • light lifting • doing a little light housework • light exercise/exertion • a light practice session • It's a big job, but many hands make light work [=if many people work on it, it will be easier to do] — opposite HEAVY

4 : not loud or forceful • light footsteps • a light tread • a light touch • just a light tap on the ball/shoulder — opposite HEAVY

5 : not important or serious : intended mainly for entertainment • doing some light reading — opposite HEAVY

6 : not dense and thick • He has a light beard. • a light growth of timber • an animal's light summer coat • light fog/smoke • light soil — opposite HEAVY

7 : made with thin cloth and not very warm • a light coat/blanket — opposite HEAVY

8 a : eating, drinking, or using a small amount of something • He's a light eater/smoker/drinker/user. • light alcohol consumption b : producing a small amount of something • a shrub that is a light bloomer [=a shrub that does not produce many flowers] c : not done often or in large amounts • light smoking — opposite HEAVY

9 a : not having a large amount of food : not making your stomach feel full • We ate a light lunch. • a light snack b : made with fewer calories or with less of some ingredient than usual • light beer c : not rich, dense, or thick • light cream • light syrup — opposite HEAVY

10 a : designed to carry a small load or few passengers • a light truck • a refueling point for light aircraft b : not as large and powerful as other weapons, machines, etc. • light artillery • light machinery c of a group of soldiers : having fewer and smaller weapons and less armor than other groups but able to move quickly • light infantry/cavalry light on : having or using a small amount of (something) • a essay that is light on facts but heavy on speculation • She asked him to go light on the mustard. [=to not use a large amount of mustard] light on your feet : capable of moving in a quick and graceful way • He's very light on his feet for such a big person.

light sleeper : someone who wakes up easily • She's a very light sleeper. The slightest noise will wake her.

make light of : to treat (something, such as a problem) in a joking way : to not be serious about (something important) • I don't mean to make light of this very serious issue. • He made light of his recent losses—but you could tell he was worried about them.

— compare ²LIGHT

— light-ness /'laɪtnəs/ noun [noncount] • the lightness of the boxes • the lightness [=delicacy, tenderness] of her touch • the playful lightness of his manner • the lightness of her movements

⁵light adv lighter; -est

eat light US : to eat foods that will not cause you to gain weight • She is careful to eat light and exercise often.

travel light : to travel with little baggage • savvy vacationers who have learned to travel light

light bulb noun, pl ~ bulbs [count] : a glass bulb or tube that produces light when it is supplied with electricity • change a light bulb that has burned out — called also bulb

a light bulb goes off/on chiefly US, informal ✧ When a light bulb goes off/on (in your head), you suddenly understand something or have a great idea • After thinking about the problem for several days, a light bulb went off in her head, and she knew how to solve it.

¹light-en /'laɪtn/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make (something) bright, light, or clear • She tried several dyes to lighten her hair. • He turned on a few lamps to lighten (up) the room.

2 [no obj] : to become bright, light, or clear • The sky lightened [=brightened] as the clouds began to move away but darkened again when the clouds returned.

— compare ²LIGHTEN

— light-en-er /'laɪtnə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • a hair/skin lightener [=a chemical or dye used to make a person's hair or skin less dark]

²lighten verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to make (something) less heavy, difficult, or severe • lighten a burden • Others helped out and lightened his load. • lightening her duties around the house b [no obj] : to become less heavy, difficult, or severe • His workload has lightened in recent weeks.

2 a [+ obj] : to make (something) less sad or serious • He told a few jokes in an attempt to lighten her mood. • lighten the atmosphere/conversation b [no obj] : to become less sad or serious • Her somber mood gradually lightened [=brightened] as the weather improved.

3 [no obj] : to become less forceful • The wind lightened a bit. lighten up [phrasal verb] informal : to become more relaxed and informal : to stop being serious, worried, etc. • He really needs to lighten up and relax a little. — often used as a command • Lighten up (a bit) and enjoy yourself!

— compare ¹LIGHTEN

light-er /'laɪtə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a small device that produces a flame used for lighting something (such as a cigarette) • a cigarette lighter • lighter fluid [=the liquid in a lighter that is its fuel] lighter-than-air adj : able to float in the air • a lighter-than-air balloon light-fingered /'laɪt,fɪŋgəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : skillful at stealing things • He discovered his wallet had been taken by some light-fingered thief.

light-footed /'laɪt,fʊtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : able to move in a quick and graceful way • a light-footed dancer light-headed /'laɪt,hedəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : unable to think and move in a normal way because of a weak and dizzy feeling • I began to feel light-headed from lack of sleep. • Standing up too quickly usually makes her light-headed.

— light-headed-ness noun [noncount] • The patient complained of light-headedness. [=dizziness] light-heart-ed /'laɪt,hɑːtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having or showing a cheerful and happy nature • a light-hearted mood • a lighthearted young woman

2 : not serious • a lighthearted comedy

— light-heart-ed-ly adv — light-heart-ed-ness noun [noncount]

light heavyweight noun, pl ~ -weights [count] : a fighter who is in a class of boxers with an upper weight limit of 175 pounds (79.5 kilograms) : a boxer who is heavier than a middleweight and lighter than a heavyweight light-house /'laɪt,haʊs/ noun, pl -houses [count] : a tower with a powerful light that is built on or near the shore to guide ships away from danger light industry noun [noncount] : the production of small goods that will be sold to the people who use them rather than to another manufacturer — compare HEAVY INDUSTRY

light-ing /'laɪtn/ noun [noncount]

1 a : light that is of a particular kind or that has a particular quality • He prefers natural lighting for his photography. • artificial lighting • The lighting wasn't bright enough. • The street lighting was so dim I got lost. b : the equipment used to provide light • There was a problem with the lighting. • a company that sells lighting equipment

2 : the use of light for a particular purpose in a movie, play, etc. • He's in charge of the lighting for the show.

light-ly /'laɪtli/ adv [more ~; most ~] : in a light manner: such as a : with little weight or force • The rain fell lightly [=softly] on the roof. • She touched his hand lightly. [=gently] • The recipe says that you should beat the eggs lightly. [=gently] b : without care or concern : in a way that is not serious • He talks lightly about the problems he's been having at work. • This is a problem that should not be taken lightly. [=this is a problem that should be treated seriously] c : in a quick and graceful way • She moved lightly across the room. d : in a small amount : to a small degree or extent • lightly [=slightly] salted/roasted peanuts • lightly buttered toast •

These vegetables can be eaten either raw or lightly cooked. • a lightly populated area • Our troops were armed too lightly to take on the heavily armed invaders. e : in a way that is not as harsh or severe as it could or should be • Considering the harm he did, he's gotten off lightly with only a warning. • The judge let her off lightly with a short sentence.

light meter noun, pl ~ meters [count] : a small device used by photographers to measure the amount of light in an area light-ning /'laɪtnɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : the flashes of light that are produced in the sky during a storm • a bolt of lightning = a lightning bolt • a flash of lightning • The tree was hit/struck by lightning. = The tree was hit by a lightning strike.

— compare THUNDER; see also HEAT LIGHTNING

catch/capture lightning in a bottle chiefly US : to succeed in a way that is very lucky or unlikely • He caught lightning in a bottle with the success of his very first book.

lightning never strikes (the same place) twice — used to say that a very unusual event is not likely to happen again to the same person or in the same place like (greased) lightning informal : very quickly • The news traveled across the country like lightning. • moving like greased lightning

lightning adj, always used before a noun : moving or done very quickly • thoughts moving at lightning speed

— lightning adv — used in combination • an athlete with lightning-quick reflexes • making lightning-fast adjustments

lightning bug noun, pl ~ bugs [count] US : FIREFLY

lightning conductor noun, pl ~ -tors [count] Brit : LIGHTNING ROD 1 lightning rod noun, pl ~ rods [count] US

1 : a metal rod that is placed on a building and connected with the ground below to protect the building from being damaged by lightning

2 : someone or something that attracts criticism or gets blamed when things go wrong • He has served well as his boss's lightning rod. [=he takes blame or criticism that might have been directed at his boss] — often + for • He has long been a lightning rod for controversy/criticism. • The company has become a lightning rod for the public's anger.

lightning strike noun, pl ~ strikes [count] Brit : a strike by workers that is done very suddenly light pen noun, pl ~ pens [count] computers : a device shaped like a pen that senses light signals and is used to work with information on a computer screen • writing/drawing with a light pen

light pollution noun [noncount] : light from cities, vehicles, etc., that makes it difficult to see things in the sky (such as stars) at night light show noun, pl ~ shows [count] : a display of moving colored lights lights-out /'laɪts'aʊt/ noun [noncount] : a time when people lighting

track lighting (US)

sconce

chandelier

fluorescent light

desk lamp

table lamp

floor lamp,
standard lamp (Brit)

(such as soldiers, prisoners, or students) are required to turn out the lights and go to bed • Lights-out is at 10 p.m. • They have to be back before lights-out.

light-weight /'laɪt,weɪt/ noun, pl -weights [count]

1 : a fighter who is in a class of boxers weighing from 125 to 132 pounds (57 to 60 kilograms) — often used before another noun • a lightweight boxer • He won the lightweight title.

2 : someone or something that does not weigh as much as others — usually used before another noun • lightweight paper • lightweight cotton/wool/silk • a lightweight jacket

3 : someone or something that has little importance or power • The members of his staff were considered lightweights. • an intellectual lightweight — often used before another noun • He was dismissed as a lightweight artist. • They asked her several lightweight questions.

light-year /'laɪt,jɪə/ noun, pl -years

1 [count] technical : a unit of distance equal to the distance that light travels in one year (about 5.88 trillion miles or 9.46 trillion kilometers) • a star about 10 light-years away

2 light-years [plural] a — used to say that someone or something is much better or more advanced than others • This new technology puts the company light-years ahead [=very far ahead] of its competitors. b — used to refer to a time that is or seems very far away • A cure for that disease is still probably light-years away.

lik-able or like-able /'laɪkəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : easy to like : having pleasant or appealing qualities • Detective Grant is the most likeable character in the novel. • She seems like a friendly, likable young woman.

— lik-abil-i-ty or like-abil-i-ty /,laɪkə'bɪləti/ noun [non-count]

like /laɪk/ verb likes; liked; lik-ing

1 [+ obj] a : to enjoy (something) : to get pleasure from (something) • My son likes baseball. • He likes baseball, but he loves football. • Do you like Mexican food? • I liked the movie a lot more than I thought I would. • She likes (it) that I play the guitar. = She likes the fact that I play the guitar. • She likes it when I play the guitar. [=she enjoys hearing me play the guitar] • I like it very much. = I really like it. = (chiefly Brit) I quite like it. — often + -ing verb • I like playing the guitar. • He doesn't like admitting that he was wrong. — often followed by to + verb • I like to play the guitar. • He doesn't like to admit that he was wrong. b : to regard (something) in a favorable way • I don't like the idea of leaving my mother alone all week. [=I don't think that it would be a good idea to leave my mother alone all week] • I wouldn't like it if you got the wrong idea. = I wouldn't like you to get the wrong idea. = (US) I wouldn't like for you to get the wrong idea. [=I don't want you to get the wrong idea]

2 [+ obj] : to feel affection for (someone) : to enjoy being with (someone) • I don't know what it is about that guy, but I just don't like him. • I think she likes you. [=I think she is attracted to you] • They were political allies who truly/genuinely liked each other. • What is it that you like or dislike about him most? • a much-liked/well-liked colleague • She says she likes him as a friend but she's not attracted to him. • My boss was a tough guy, but I liked him for his honesty.

3 [+ obj] — used to ask about someone's feelings or opinion about something • So how do you like sailing now that you've tried it? [=do you like or dislike sailing?] • "How do you like this weather?" "I don't like it at all!" • "How do you like Mexican food?" "I love it!"

4 [+ obj] a : to want to have (something) — used with would to make a polite suggestion, offer, or request • Would you like another cup of coffee? • "Would anyone like a drink?" "Yes, I'd like one, please." • I'd like (a chance) to reply to the last speaker. b : to want or prefer to do something • Would you like to go sailing? [=do you want to go sailing?] • Despite everything, I (would) still like to think that people are basically good. c — used in various spoken phrases that typically express anger or surprise • She left without saying a word to me. How would you like it if someone ignored you that way? = How would you like being ignored that way? [=don't you agree that it was wrong of her to ignore me that way?] • "So she just left without saying a word. How do you like that?" "Incredible!" • (Brit) "You never listen!" "I never listen? I like that!" [=that's not at all true/fair] • "You're an idiot!" • "How would you like a punch in the nose?!" [=I'm going to punch you in the nose if you keep talking to me that way] • "He thinks he can beat you." • "I'd (just) like to see him try." [=he can't beat me; he would lose if he tried to beat me]

5 [+ obj] : to choose or prefer to have (something) in a specified way or condition • "How do you like your steaks cooked?" "I like my steaks medium rare."

6 [no obj] : to make a choice about what to do, have, etc. • You can leave any time you like. • "What should we do now?" "Whatever you like!" [=whatever you want to do] • We can stay as long as you like. [=as long as you want to stay] • There are plenty of cookies, so take as many as you like.

7 [+ obj] : to do well in (certain conditions) • This plant likes dry soil. • My car does not like cold weather.

if you like 1 a — used to say that you can do something if you want to do it • Have another drink, if you like. b — used to agree politely to a suggestion or request • "Could we stay a little longer?" "Yes, if you like." [=if that's what you want to do] 2 chiefly Brit — used to suggest a possible way of describing or thinking about something • The experience was, if you like [=if you will], a glimpse of the future.

2 like noun, pl likes [count] : something that you like, approve of, or enjoy — usually plural • my likes and dislikes — compare ⁵LIKE

3 like prep

1 : similar to (something or someone) • The house looks like a barn. • Real life isn't at all like life in the movies. = Real life isn't at all like the movies. • It's like when we were kids. • She's not very (much) like her sister. • She's not at all like her sister. • The baby is/looks more like his mother than his father. • "Who is he like?" "He's not like anyone I've ever met before." • I know I used to be selfish, but I'm not like that any more. [=I'm not selfish any more] — used with what in phrases that ask about or refer to the qualities of a person or thing • "What's her new boyfriend like?" [=how would you describe her new boyfriend?] "He's very nice." • I don't know what the food is like in that restaurant. [=I don't know if the food is good or bad in that restaurant] • I thought he was nice, but then I found out what he's really like. [=I found out what kind of person he really is] • She knows what it's like to be lonely. = She knows what it feels like to be lonely.

2 : typical of (someone) • It's just like him to be late. [=he is often late] • It's not like her to be so selfish. [=she is not usually so selfish]

3 : comparable to or close to (something) • It costs something like five dollars. [=it costs about five dollars] • (chiefly Brit) That's nothing like [=nowhere near, not nearly] enough food! • I thought it would only take two or three minutes, but it ended up taking more like half an hour. [=it took about half an hour] • There's nothing like [=nothing better than] a mug of hot chocolate on a cold winter's night.

4 : in a way that is similar to (someone or something) • Quit acting like a fool. • She was screaming like a maniac. • We'll blow it up like a balloon. • He was laughing like a hyena.

5 — used to introduce an example or series of examples • They studied subjects like [=such as] physics (and chemistry). it looks like rain — used to say that you think it is going to rain soon • I was going to play golf, but it looks like rain.

just like that see ²JUST

like father, like son see ¹FATHER

like new see ¹NEW

like so : in the manner shown — used in speech when you are showing someone how to do something • The corner of the cloth should be folded down, like so.

like that 1 : of that kind • I love books like that. 2 : in that manner • Why does she talk like that?

like this 1 : of this kind • I love weather like this. 2 : in this manner • I hate it when it rains like this.

more like it informal — used to say that something is better or more pleasing • "I've done twice as much today as yesterday!" "Well, that's more like it Congratulations!" • It was a long and tiring day, but as the waiter brought me my dinner, I thought to myself, "Well, this is more like it"

4 like adj : having the same or similar qualities • All three sisters have like [= (more commonly) similar] dispositions.

5 like noun, pl likes [count] : a person or thing that is similar to another person or thing • We may never see his like again. [=we may never see another person who is like him again] • It was a beautiful sunset. I've never seen the like before.; also : a group of similar people or things • He and his like [=type] tend to scare people away from the cause. • comparing like with like [=comparing similar people or things] and the like : and others of a similar kind : and so forth • They told stories about ghosts and vampires and the like.

the likes of also the like of 1 : such people as • She has read the complete works of many great writers, including the likes of Jane Austen and Robert Browning. 2 disapproving : such a person as • We have no use for the likes of

you. 3 : the kind or sort of • It was a beautiful sunset, the likes of which I've never seen before. [=I've never seen such a beautiful sunset before]

— compare ²LIKE

⁶like adv

as like as not or like as not : PROBABLY • Like as not the crime will never be solved.

usage Like has many uses in informal speech, especially in the speech of young people. It is commonly used to emphasize a word or phrase. • He was, like, gorgeous. • (chiefly Brit) He was gorgeous, like. It is used in a way that shows you are not sure or confident about what you are saying. • I need to, like, borrow money. • Her father is, like, a scientist or something. • I think it costs, like, 20 dollars. In very informal speech in U.S. English, it is used with the verb be to say what someone thinks, says, etc. • She was telling me what to do and I was like [=I was thinking], "Mind your own business." • She was like, "Are you sure you want to do this?" and I was like "Yeah, why not?" [=she said, "Are you sure you want to do this?" and I said, "Yeah, why not?"] • He's always criticizing everyone but it's like, "Who cares what he thinks?" [=he's always criticizing everyone but no one cares what he thinks]

⁷like conj, informal

T a : the way it would be if • The plane looked like [=as if] it would crash. • It seemed like [=as if] he'd never been away.
b : the way someone would do if • She acts like [=as if] she's better than us.

2 : the same as : AS • You sound just like [=the way] he does. • Does it look like [=the way, as] it did when you began? • Does it look now like (it did) before? [=does it look now as it did before?] • Real life is not like [=as, the way] it is in the movies. • Real life isn't at all like [=the way] the movies are. • Like I said [=as I said] before, you've got to try harder.

3 : in the way or manner that • I did it like [=the way, just as] you told me.

4 : such as • a bag like a doctor carries [=a bag like the kind of bag that a doctor carries] • The book tells you what to do when your car has trouble—like when it won't start. [=as, for example, when it won't start] usage The use of like as a conjunction is regarded by some people as an error. It occurs mainly in speech and informal writing.

-like /,laɪk/ adj combining form

1 : similar to or resembling • a large, apelike man

2 : like that or those of • ladylike steps • childlike innocence • a homelike atmosphere

likeable variant spelling of LIKABLE

like-li-hood /ˈlaɪkliˌhʊd/ noun : the chance that something will happen [noncount] A poor diet increases the likelihood of (developing) serious health problems. [=a poor diet makes it more likely that you will develop serious health problems] • There is no likelihood of that happening. [=there is no chance of that happening] • There is every likelihood that he will be reelected. [=he will almost certainly be reelected] • In all likelihood it will rain tomorrow. [=it is very likely that it will rain tomorrow] [singular] There is a strong likelihood that he will be reelected.

¹like-ly /ˈlaɪkli/ adj like-li-er; -est [or more ~; most ~]

1 — used to indicate the chance that something will happen • The car is likely to break down soon. = It's likely that the car will break down soon. [=there is a good chance that the car will break down soon] • It is/seems highly/very likely that it will rain tomorrow. • She doesn't seem likely to get the job. • She may get the job, but it isn't likely. • "Will she get the job?" "Not likely." [=she probably will not get the job] • It's more than likely [=very probable] that this problem will occur again.

2 : seeming to be true : BELIEVABLE • That seems to be the most likely explanation. ♦ The phrase a likely story is often used in an informal way to say that you do not believe what someone has said. • He says he bought all that chocolate for his daughter, not himself. A likely story!

3 always used before a noun : seeming to be right or suited for a purpose • This looks like a likely spot for a picnic. • They regard him as a likely candidate for the job.

— like-li-ness noun [noncount]

²likely adv [more ~; most ~] : without much doubt : PROBABLY • He'll very likely be late. • It will most likely rain tomorrow. [=it will probably rain tomorrow] • "Will it rain tomorrow?" "Most likely." • She will more than likely not get the job. [=she will very probably not get the job] usage In U.S. English, the adverb likely is often used by itself without most, quite, very, etc. • He will likely [=probably] be late. • It will likely rain tomorrow. This use of likely has sometimes been criticized, but it is very common. It does not occur in highly formal writing.

like-ly-look-ing /ˈlaɪkliˌlʊkɪŋ/ adj like-li-er-look-ing; like-li-est-look-ing [or more ~; most ~] : seeming to be right or suited for a purpose : LIKELY • This is a likely-looking spot for a picnic.

like-mind-ed /ˈlaɪkˈmaɪndəd/ adj : having similar opinions and interests • He joined a local activists' group, hoping to meet like-minded people. [=people who shared his opinions] — like-mind-ed-ness noun [noncount]

lik-en /ˈlaɪkən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

liken to [phrasal verb] liken (someone or something) to (someone or something) : to describe (someone or something) as similar to (someone or something else) • Some critics have likened [=compared] his writing to Faulkner's. • She likened her trip to a pilgrimage.

like-ness /ˈlaɪknəs/ noun, pl -ness-es

1 [count] : a picture of a person : PORTRAIT • a stamp bearing the likeness of a president • The painting is a good likeness of her. [=the painting looks very much like her]

2 : the quality or state of being alike or similar especially in appearance [noncount] People always remarked on his likeness [=resemblance] to his late father. • There's some likeness between them. [count] There's an uncanny likeness between them. • In comparing the two documents, researchers have noted some surprising likenesses. [=similarities]

like-wise /ˈlaɪkˌwaɪz/ adv

1 : in the same way • All of your classmates have begun their projects, and you should do likewise. [=you should also begin your project]

2 : in addition : ALSO • an acclaimed painter who is likewise a sculptor — often used to introduce a statement that adds to and is related to a previous statement • They said that homelessness was increasing. Likewise, unemployment was up.

3 — used in informal speech to say that you share the feelings that someone else has just expressed • "I'm pleased to meet you." "Likewise." [=I'm also pleased to meet you]

lik-ing /ˈlaɪkɪŋ/ noun [singular] : the feeling of liking or enjoying something or someone • The colors are too bright for my liking. [=I like colors that are less bright] — usually + for • He has a (strong) liking for spicy foods. [=he likes spicy foods] • She has a liking for loud music. • She never showed any liking for him.

take a liking to : to begin to like (someone or something) • He took a liking to his new neighbor. • She took an immediate liking to sailing when she tried it for the first time.

to someone's liking : appealing or enjoyable to someone • She reads poetry, but fiction is much more to her liking.

li-lac /ˈlaɪˌlæk, Brit ˈlaɪlək/ noun, pl -lacs

1 [count] : a type of bush with purple or white flowers that bloom in the spring

2 [noncount] : a light purple color — see color picture on page C3

lilt /ˈlɪlt/ noun [singular] : the attractive quality of speech or music that rises and falls in a pleasing pattern • There was a charming lilt to her voice. • a tune with a lilt

— lilt-ing /ˈlɪltɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a lilting melody • a lilting voice • the lilting rhythms of her speech — lilt-ing-ly adv

lily /ˈlɪli/ noun, pl lil-ies [count] : a type of plant that has large white or colorful bell-shaped flowers; also : the flower — see color picture on page C6; see also WATER LILY gild the lily see GILD

lily-liv-ered /ˈlɪliˌlɪvəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal + old-fashioned : lacking courage : COWARDLY • He considers his political enemies a bunch of lily-livered hypocrites.

lily of the valley noun, pl lilies of the valley [count] : a small plant that produces small white flowers shaped like little bells

lily pad noun, pl ~ pads [count] : a large, floating leaf of a plant (called a water lily) that grows in the water of a pond or pool

lily-white /ˈlɪliˌwaɪt/ adj

1 : very white • a lily-white wedding dress • lily-white skin

2 [more ~; most ~] : completely without fault or blame

: morally pure • She's not as lily-white as you might think.

3 chiefly US, disapproving : consisting entirely or mostly of white people • He grew up in a lily-white suburb in the Midwest. • a TV show with a lily-white cast li·ma bean /'laɪmə-, Brit 'li:mə-/ noun, pl ~ beans [count] : a type of flat and pale green or white bean limb /lɪm/ noun, pl limbs [count]

1 : a leg or arm • Many soldiers died in the battle, and many lost limbs. • an artificial limb • a dog with an injured limb

2 : a large branch of a tree • They tied a rope to one of the limbs of the maple tree. — see color picture on page C6 out on a limb : in or into a risky or dangerous position or situation • She went out on a limb to help you. [=she took a chance; she did something that meant she could be criticized or harmed in some way] • If you try to oppose the boss yourself, you're likely to get caught out on a limb.

risk life and limb see ¹LIFE

tear (someone) limb from limb : to attack or kill (someone) in a very violent way • The angry mob would have torn him limb from limb if the police hadn't protected him.

— limbed /'lɪmd/ adj — used in combination • a strong-limbed young man [=a young man with strong arms and legs]

¹lim·ber /'lɪmbə-/ adj : bending easily : FLEXIBLE — used of people or their bodies • a limber gymnast • Yoga requires a limber body.

²limber verb -bers; -bered; -ber-ing

limber up [phrasal verb] : to prepare for physical activity by doing exercises so that your body can move and bend more easily • She limbered up for a few minutes before starting to run. — sometimes used figuratively • She limbered up for the election by learning the relevant statistics.

¹lim·bo or Lim·bo /'lɪmbou/ noun [singular] in the Roman Catholic religion : a place where the souls of people who have not been baptized go after death in limbo 1 : in a forgotten or ignored place, state, or situation • orphaned children left in limbo in foster homes and institutions 2 : in an uncertain or undecided state or condition • After graduating from college, he was in limbo for a while, trying to decide what to do next.

— compare ²LIMBO

²limbo noun [noncount] : a dance or contest in which you have to bend backward and go under a bar which is lowered further after each time you go under it • do/dance the limbo • a limbo dancer — compare ¹LIMBO

¹lime /'laɪm/ noun, pl limes

1 : a small green fruit that is related to the lemon and orange and has a sour taste [count] The recipe calls for the juice of two limes. [noncount] a slice of lime — often used before another noun • lime juice • lime trees — see color picture on page C5

2 [noncount] : LIME GREEN

— compare ²LIME, ³LIME

²lime noun [noncount] : a white substance that is made by heating limestone or shells and that is used in various products (such as plaster and cement) and in farming • He spread lime over the garden to make the soil less acidic. — compare ¹LIME, ³LIME

— lime /'laɪm/ verb limes; limed; lim-ing [+ obj] • lime a garden [=spread lime on a garden]

³lime noun, pl limes [count] chiefly Brit : a type of European tree : LINDEN — compare ¹LIME, ²LIME

lime green noun [noncount] : a bright, light yellowish-green color — see color picture on page C2

— lime-green adj • wearing a lime-green shirt

lime-light /'laɪm,lart/ noun

the limelight : public attention or notice thought of as a bright light that shines on someone • She is a very private woman who never sought the limelight. [=who has never sought to be famous] • She has shunned the limelight. • When his new book caused an unexpected controversy, he was thrust into the limelight once again. [=he was given a lot of unwanted public attention] • an actor who is used to being in the limelight • He doesn't like having to share the limelight with other actors. • He's always trying to grab/steal the limelight from other actors.

lim·er·ick /'lɪmərɪk/ noun, pl -icks [count] : a humorous rhyming poem of five lines lime-stone /'laɪm,stoun/ noun [noncount] : a type of white stone that is commonly used in building

lim·ey /'laɪmi/ noun, pl -eys [count] US, informal + old-fashioned : a British person ♦ Limey can be an insulting word but it is now usually used in a joking way.

¹lim·it /'lɪmət/ noun, pl -its [count]

1 : a point beyond which it is not possible to go • He has reached the limit of his endurance. • In training, she pushed her body to its physical limits. • He tries to be creative within the limits of conventional journalism. • Space travel tests the (outer) limits of human capabilities. • It's important to exercise, but you need to know your limits. [=you need to know how much you are able to do] • I'm trying to be patient with him, but I've just about reached my limit. [=reached the point where I can no longer be patient] • There are limits to what I can put up with from him! • There's no limit to what we can accomplish [=we can accomplish anything] if we work hard enough. • There seems to be no limit to his enthusiasm. = His enthusiasm seems to know no limit(s).

2 : a point beyond which someone is not allowed to go • Parents need to set limits for their children. = Parents need to set/place/impose limits on (the behavior of) their children. • They must not go beyond these limits. = They must not exceed these limits.

3 : an amount or number that is the highest or lowest allowed • Two drinks is my limit. [=I stop after having two drinks] • When you take the test, you'll have a time limit. [=you will have to complete the test within a certain amount of time] • The lower age limit for voting is 18. [=you cannot vote unless you are at least 18 years old] — see also OFF-LIMITS, SPEED LIMIT

4 : an area or line that is at the outer edge of something — usually plural • There are three high schools within the city limits. [=within the city] • They ventured far beyond the limits of civilization. • at the outer limits of the solar system over the limit Brit : having more alcohol in the blood than is legally allowed for someone who is driving • He was arrested for driving over the limit.

the limit informal + old-fashioned : a very annoying or upsetting person or thing • He keeps forgetting his wife's birthday: he really is the limit! [=too much] • He forgot his wife's birthday again. Isn't that the limit!

the sky's the limit — used to say that there are no limits and that anything is possible • You can achieve anything if you really want to. The sky's the limit.

to the limit : to the greatest possible point : as much as possible • Our resources have been stretched to the limit. [=we have used all of our resources] • My schedule is filled to the limit. [=my schedule is completely filled] within limits : without going beyond what is considered reasonable or allowable • They told us that we could do whatever we liked, within (certain) limits.

without limit : without being controlled or stopped : without being limited • allowing costs to increase without limit

²limit verb -its; -it-ed; -it-ing [+ obj]

1 : to stop or prevent an increase in (something) • We need to find ways to limit expenses. : to keep (something) from becoming greater • He tried to limit the damage to his reputation by blaming other people. • A factor limiting our country's economic performance is its lack of resources. • His political enemies have tried to limit [=restrict] his power.

2 : to prevent (something) from being larger, longer, more, etc. : to place a limit on the size or extent of (something) • The hospital limits [=restricts] visits to 30 minutes. • Our lack of money limits our options. — often used (be) limited to • Visits are limited to 30 minutes. [=visits must not be longer than 30 minutes] • The damage from the fire was limited to the rear of the building. [=only the rear of the building was damaged by the fire]

3 : to stop (someone) from having or doing more : to place a limit on (someone) • Our lack of money limits [=restricts] us to fewer options. • Because of our lack of money, we have to limit ourselves to fewer options. — often used as (be) limited to • Guests are limited to visits of no longer than 30 minutes. • We are limited to fewer options by our lack of money.

lim·i·ta·tion /,lɪmə'teɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [noncount] : the act of controlling the size or extent of something : the act of limiting something • a law aimed at the limitation of federal power

2 [count] : something that controls how much of something is possible or allowed • They have placed a limitation on the amount of time we have available. — often plural • There are strict limitations on the uses of these funds. • We'd like to include more material, but space limitations make that impossible.

3 [count] : something (such as a lack of ability or strength) that controls what a person is able to do • He knows his limitations. • physical limitations

damage limitation see ¹DAMAGE

lim·it·ed /'lɪmətəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not high or great in number, amount, etc. • Only a limited number of students will be allowed in the class. • Our country has very limited resources. = Our country is very limited in its resources. • People with limited incomes are hit particularly hard by inflation. • The company has had limited success. • Her language skills are somewhat limited. [=are not very highly developed] • This offer is available for only a limited time. [=for only a short time]

limited edition noun, pl ~-tions [count] : a special book, picture, medal, etc., for which only a small number of copies are produced and sold lim·it·ing /'lɪmətɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : placing a limit on what is possible or allowed • A limiting factor on our country's economic performance is its lack of resources. • As a writer, I find the drama genre to be very limiting.

lim·it·less /'lɪmətləs/ adj : very great or large : having no limit • limitless possibilities • a seemingly limitless supply of material

limo /'lɪmoʊ/ noun, pl lim·os [count] informal : LIMOUSINE

lim·ou·sine /,lɪmə'zi:n/ noun, pl ~-sines [count]

1 : a very large and comfortable car usually driven by a professional driver (called a chauffeur) • The bride and groom rode in a limousine from the church to the reception hall. — see picture at CAR

2 chiefly US : a vehicle (such as a bus or van) that carries passengers to and from an airport

¹limp /'lɪmp/ verb limps; limped; limp·ing [no obj]

1 : to walk in a slow and awkward way because of an injury to a leg or foot • The injured player limped off the court. • The dog was limping slightly.

2 : to go or continue slowly or with difficulty • The damaged ship limped back to port. • The company has somehow managed to limp along despite the bad economy.

²limp noun, pl limps [count] : a slow and awkward way of walking caused by an injury to a leg or foot • We noticed that the dog was walking with a slight limp. • a noticeable/pronounced limp

³limp adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having an unpleasantly soft or weak quality : not firm or stiff • He gave me a very limp handshake. • This plant isn't doing well—look how limp the leaves are. • Her hair hung limp around her shoulders. • I suddenly went limp and collapsed on the floor.

2 : feeling very tired • He was limp with fatigue.

— limp·ly adv • He let his hand hang limply off the couch. • Her hair hung limply around her shoulders. — limp·ness noun [noncount]

lim·pet /'lɪmpət/ noun, pl ~-pets [count] : a type of ocean animal that has a shell and that is able to attach itself to things (such as rocks) very tightly lim·pid /'lɪmpəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] literary

1 : perfectly clear : TRANSPARENT • the limpid waters of the stream • limpid eyes

2 : clear and simple in style • limpid prose

linch·pin also lynch·pin /'lɪntʃ,pɪn/ noun, pl ~-pins [count] : a person or thing that holds something together : the most important part of a complex situation or system • This witness is the linchpin of the defense's case.

lin·den /'lɪndən/ noun, pl ~-dens [count] : a type of tree that has large heart-shaped leaves and yellowish flowers — called also (chiefly Brit) lime

¹line /'laɪn/ noun, pl lines

1 [count] a : a long narrow mark on a surface • I drew a straight line down the page to separate the two lists. • a curved line • Cut the paper along the dotted line. • a horizontal/vertical/diagonal line b : a mark on the ground that shows the edge of the playing area in a sport • a tennis serve that was over the line — see also FINISH LINE, FOUL LINE, GOAL LINE, STARTING LINE

2 [count] : an area or border that separates two places • property lines • After three hours on the road, they finally crossed the state line. • the town line — often used figuratively • They have overstepped the line of good taste. [=they have shown poor taste in their actions] • The community is divided along racial lines. [=people of different races do not like or agree with each other] • Their behavior has crossed the line. [=their behavior goes beyond what is acceptable] • There's sometimes only a very fine line [=a very small difference] between genius and madness. — see also BORDERLINE, DIVIDING LINE, INTERNATIONAL DATE LINE, POVERTY LINE

3 [count] a : a group of people or things that are next to each other in a row • The soldiers formed a line. = The soldiers got into a line. • Their yards were separated by a line of trees. b US : a group of people, vehicles, etc., that are in front of and behind each other in a row while they wait to move forward • The line [=chiefly Brit] queue of fans moved slowly toward the box office. • Everybody had to get in line and wait their turn. • The people were waiting/standing in line ♦ In most areas of the U.S., it is usual to say that people are (waiting/standing) in line for something. • We waited in line for more than an hour to get tickets. In some areas, especially in and near New York City, on line is used instead. • We waited on line for more than an hour.

4 [count] : the outline of a figure, body, or surface — often plural • the car's sleek lines • the lines of a coat • a dress with figure-hugging lines

5 [count] : a long and thin rope, string, etc. • a fishing line • We hung the wet clothes on the line. [=clothesline]

6 [count] a : a pipe for carrying something (such as steam, water, or oil) • There was a break in the water line. — see also PIPELINE b : a wire or set of wires that carries electricity or a telephone signal • During the storm, several power lines were knocked down. • a telephone line

7 [count] : a telephone connection • I'm sorry, the line is busy/engaged. • The line suddenly went dead. • All of our lines are currently busy. Please hold. • There's a call for you on line 2. • Please hold the line. [=please do not hang up the phone] • Mr. Smith is on the line. [=Mr. Smith has called and is waiting to speak with you on the telephone] • The supervisor got on the line [=got on the phone] and explained the problem. • I wasn't able to get him on the line.

8 a [count] : a row of words, letters, numbers, or symbols written across a page • To save space, we'll cut out the last few lines of the article. • a line of poetry • making adjustments to line spacing [=to the amount of space between lines]; also : a space on a page where such a line could be placed • a blank line b lines [plural] : the words that an actor speaks in a play, movie, etc. • All of the actors should have their lines memorized by next Friday. • She fluffed some of her lines but delivered others well. c [count] : a short note or message • Drop me a line [=send me a brief message] while you're away. d [count] : a spoken or written comment • He always comes up with a funny/clever line to help people relax when the situation is tense. • He didn't really answer my question—he just handed/gave me some line about how hard it can be to deal with these issues. • a salesman with a smooth line [=a smooth way of talking] • (US) a guy with a clever pickup line = (Brit) a guy with a clever chat-up line [=a comment made by a man to start a conversation with a woman he is attracted to]

9 [count] : a wrinkle on a person's skin • the deep lines on his face • I noticed the fine lines around her eyes when she smiled. • a worry line [=a wrinkle on a person's face caused by worrying]

10 [count] : the path along which something moves or is directed • a bullet's line of flight • Some civilians got caught in the line of fire. [=they were in the place where bullets were being shot] • She was standing right in my line of sight/vision. [=she was standing right where I was looking]

11 [count] : a railroad track • The train was stopped because a tree had fallen across the line.

12 [count] : PRODUCTION LINE • They had to shut down the line when one of the machines broke down.

13 a [singular] : a series of similar things • This is just the latest in a long line of problems. b [count] : the people in a family : the series of people who are born in a family as years pass • She comes from a long line of farmers. [=there have been many farmers in her family in the past] • He claims that he is descended from a royal line.

14 [count] a : a way of behaving, thinking, etc. • He took a firm line with his son. [=he treated his son in a firm way] • I don't follow your line of reasoning. [=I don't understand the reasoning behind what you are saying] • The police are pursuing a new line of inquiry/investigation. • Our current method isn't working. We need to try a different line of attack — see also HARD LINE b : an official or public position or opinion • He is a politician who has always adhered closely to the party line on just about everything. [=who has always supported the position taken by his political party]

15 [count] : an area of activity or interest • She got a job in the retail line. • That kind of thing isn't really in my line.

[=that kind of thing doesn't really interest me] • He's in a dangerous line of work. [=he has a dangerous job] • I don't know what line of business she's in. • a soldier/policeman/fireman who was killed in the line of duty [=was killed while doing his job]

16 [count] : the position of military forces who are facing the enemy • The enemy soldiers broke through the line. • a secret mission behind enemy lines [=a secret mission in an area controlled by the enemy] — see also FRONT LINE

17 [count] : a group of related products that are sold by one company • a line of clothing = a clothing line • The company is coming out with a new product line.

18 [count] a : a system used for moving people or things from one place to another • a bus line • a steamship line • military supply lines; also : a company that owns or controls such a system • He owns a trucking line. — see also AIRLINE b : a system that allows people to share information • We need to keep the lines of communication open.

19 lines [plural] — used in phrases like along the lines of to refer to something that is similar or close to the thing being mentioned • We need something along the lines of a small cart. = We need a small cart or something along those/similar lines. [=we need a small cart or something like that] • He said he was too busy to help, or something along those lines.

20 [count] American football a : LINE OF SCRIMMAGE b : the players who are positioned on the line of scrimmage • the defensive/offensive line

21 [count] : an amount of an illegal drug (such as cocaine) that is arranged in a thin line so that it can be breathed into the nose through a straw • a line of cocaine along the line informal : during a process or series of events • He seems to have lost his interest in music somewhere along the line. [=at some time in the past]

cross the line see ²CROSS

down the line informal : in the future • If you don't finish school, you'll regret it down the line. • We'll have to correct these problems further down the line.

draw a/the line 1 : to see or understand the difference between things • Where do you draw the line between what is good and bad art? • It is sometimes hard to draw a line between right and wrong. 2 : to refuse to do or allow something : to set a limit — usually + at • We couldn't invite everyone so we drew the line at immediate family members only. • He helps me out a lot but draws the line at cleaning the bathroom.

fall in/into line see ¹FALL

get/have a line on US, informal : to get or have information about (someone or something that you are trying to find) • Have the police managed to get a line on any of the suspects? • She says she has a line on a new car.

hold the line : to not allow any more changes or increases — usually + against or on • We need to hold the line against further expansion into our territory. • The President has vowed to hold the line on tax increases. [=to not allow further tax increases] — see also ¹LINE 7 (above)

hook, line, and sinker see ¹HOOK

in line 1 — used to say that someone should get something or is likely to get something • He's in line for a promotion. = He's in line to get a promotion. [=he is going to be given a promotion] 2 — used to refer to a person or thing that follows or could follow another person or thing • The Vice President is first in line to succeed the President. 3 : doing what other people want or expect : in a state of agreement or cooperation • He says he'll cooperate, but I don't know how much longer we can keep him in line. — see also ¹LINE 3b (above)

in line with : in agreement with • The new policy is in line with the plans that were discussed last year. • My thinking is in line with yours. [=my thinking agrees with yours] • The red one is more in line with what I had in mind. [=is more like what I had in mind]

into line : into a state of agreement or cooperation • It was difficult to get/bring everyone into line. [=to get everyone to agree] lay it on the line informal : to speak very honestly and directly to someone • Let me lay it on the line (to/for you): if your work doesn't improve, you'll be fired.

on line : in or into operation • The new system will be coming on line next month. = The new system will be brought on line next month. [=the new system will begin working next month] — see also ¹LINE 3b (above), ONLINE on the line : in danger of being lost or harmed : at risk • I have to finish this report by tomorrow. My job is on the line. [=I will lose my job if I don't finish this report by tomorrow] • The champ's title is on the line in this fight. [=he will lose the title if he loses the fight] • He put/laid his life on the line [=he risked his life] for his family.

out of line informal : beyond what is reasonable or allowable : not right or appropriate • Your behavior is out of line. • These prices are way out of line with what other stores are charging. • I can't believe that guy was so rude to you! He was really/way out of line. — see also step out of line at ²STEP

read between the lines see ¹READ

take/follow the line of least resistance see RESISTANCE

the end of the line see ¹END

toe the line see ²TOE

— see also BOTTOM LINE, STORY LINE

²line verb lines; lined; lin-ing

1 [+ obj] : to place or form a line along (something, such as a hallway, building, or street) • Students lined the hall, waiting to register for classes. • Shops line the street. = The street is lined with shops. [=there is a line of shops along the street] • a street lined with trees = a tree-lined street — see also LINED

2 baseball : to hit a line drive [no obj] He lined to center field. • He lined out to the shortstop. [=he hit a line drive that was caught by the shortstop for an out] [+ obj] She lined a single to left field. [=she hit a line drive into left field for a single] line up [phrasal verb] 1 : to form a line • The soldiers lined up for inspection. • (US) People lined up [= (chiefly Brit) queued up] at the theater waiting to buy tickets. 2 line (people or things) up or line up (people or things) : to put (people or things) into a line • The teacher lined up the children. • The soldiers were lined up for inspection. • The storekeeper carefully lined up the cans on the shelf. • (US) People were lined up [= (chiefly Brit) queued up] at the theater waiting to buy tickets. 3 line (things) up or line up (things) : to place (things) so that their edges form a straight line : ALIGN • line up (the edges of) two pieces of paper 4 line (something) up or line up (something) : to succeed in getting (something) • He has been trying to line up support for his proposal. • She managed to line up a summer job.

— compare ³LINE

³line verb lines; lined; lin-ing [+ obj] : to cover the inner surface of (something) • I lined the box with paper. • Tapestries lined the walls. • Her gloves were lined with fur. • Books lined the walls of the study. = The study was lined with books.

— see also LINED, LINING line your pockets informal : to take or get a lot of money by doing something illegal or dishonest • corrupt officials who have been lining their pockets at the public's expense [=have been stealing public money]

— compare ²LINE

lin·e·age /'lɪniɪdʒ/ noun, pl -ag·es [count, noncount] : the people who were in someone's family in past times • a person of unknown lineage [=ancestry, descent]

lin·e·al /'lɪniəl/ adj : having a direct family relationship : related by a direct series of parents and children • He claims that he is a lineal descendent of a famous military hero. • a lineal ancestor

— lin·eal·ly adv

lin·e·a·ments /'lɪniəmənts/ noun [plural] formal + literary : the features of a person's body or face — sometimes used figuratively • the lineaments [=features] of his personality • describing the lineaments of the problem

lin·e·ar /'lɪniə/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] a : formed by lines : made up of lines • a linear design b : forming a line : STRAIGHT • a flat, almost linear horizon

2 : of or relating to the length of something • linear measurements

3 [more ~; most ~] : going from one thing to the next thing in a direct and logical way • a linear narrative • linear patterns of thought

— lin·e·ar·i·ty /,lɪni'ərəti/ noun [noncount] • the linearity of the narrative — lin·e·ar·ly adv • thinking linearly

line·back·er /'laɪnbækə/ noun, pl -ers [count] American football : a player on the defending team whose usual position is a short distance in back of the line of scrimmage

lined /'laɪnd/ adj

1 : marked with lines • a sheet of lined paper

2 : having many wrinkles • a deeply lined face • lined skin

3 of clothing : having a thin layer of different material on the inner surface : having a lining • a lined jacket • a lined skirt line dance noun, pl ~ dances [count] : a dance done by a group of people who stand next to each other in a line and who all perform the same movements

— line dancer noun, pl ~ -ers [count] — line dancing noun [noncount] line drawing noun, pl ~ -ings [count] : a drawing made only with lines line drive noun, pl ~ drives [count] baseball : a ball that is hit by the batter and goes in a nearly straight line not far above the ground • He hit a hard/soft line drive to the short-stop.

line-item veto noun [singular] US : a power that allows a president, governor, etc., to officially reject specific parts of a proposed bill without rejecting the entire bill line-man /'laɪnmən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count]

1 American football : a player whose position is on the line of scrimmage • a defensive lineman • an offensive lineman

2 US : a person whose job is to set up and repair power lines or telephone lines

lin-en /'lɪnən/ noun, pl -ens

1 [noncount] : a smooth, strong cloth made from flax • a lin-en tablecloth

2 : tablecloths, sheets, etc., made of linen or a similar cloth [noncount] She washes the linen every week. • (US) a linen closet = (Brit) a linen cupboard [plural] linens, blankets, and towels — see also BED LINENS, TABLE LINEN line of credit noun, pl lines of credit [count] : an amount of money that a person is allowed to borrow • a line of credit of up to $100,000 — called also credit line

line of scrimmage noun [singular] American football : an imaginary line that goes across the field at the place where the football is put before each play begins

¹lin-er /'laɪnə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a large ship used for carrying passengers • an ocean liner • I took a cruise on a luxury liner. • a cruise/passenger liner

2 baseball : LINE DRIVE • He hit a liner to the first baseman. — compare ²LINER; see also AIRLINER, EYELINER

²liner noun, pl -ers [count] : something that covers the inner surface of another thing • the liner of a jacket • We had to replace the swimming pool liner. • The thermos has an aluminum liner. — compare ¹LINER

liner notes noun [plural] chiefly US : information about a record, CD, or tape that is printed on its cover or on a piece of paper placed inside its cover — called also (Brit) sleeve notes

lines-man /'laɪnzmə/ noun, pl -men [count] : an official in a sport such as football, tennis, or hockey who decides if a ball, puck, or player has gone out of the proper playing area

line-up /'laɪnʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count]

1 a : a list of the players who are playing in a game (such as baseball) • The manager has made some changes to the starting lineup. [=the list of players who are playing when the game begins] b : the players on such a list • The team has a powerful lineup.

2 a : a group of people who are going to perform at an event • the show's star-studded lineup (of performers) b : a group of television programs that are shown one after another • tonight's lineup of shows • The networks all had different line-ups for the new season.

3 US : a line of people who stand next to each other while someone tries to identify one of them as the person who has committed a crime • She was asked to pick her attacker out of a lineup. — called also (Brit) identification parade, (Brit) identity parade

-ling /lɪŋ/ noun suffix

1 : one connected with or having the quality of • nestling • earthling • weakling

2 : young, small, or minor one • duckling

lin-ger /'lɪŋgə/ verb -gers; -gered; -ger-ing [no obj]

1 : to stay somewhere beyond the usual or expected time • The tourists didn't linger very long. • She lingered at the art exhibit. • He lingered in bed and missed breakfast. • They lingered over coffee after dinner.

2 a : to continue to exist as time passes • The heat lingered long after the sun had gone down. • The smell of her perfume lingered. • The idea lingered in their minds. — often + on • His unhappiness/resentment lingered on. • The rain lingered on for days. b : to remain alive while becoming weaker — usually + on • He was very ill, but he lingered on for several more months.

— lin-ger-er /'lɪŋgərə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • After sunset

there were a few lingers on the beach. — lin-ger-ing /'lɪŋgərɪŋ/ adj • This latest evidence should remove any lingering doubts/questions about his innocence. • The company is still trying to recover from the lingering effects of the strike. • a long, lingering kiss • a last, lingering look • He suffered a long, lingering [=very slow] death. — lin-ger-ing-ly /'lɪŋgərɪŋli/ adv

lin-ge-rie /,lɪˈndʒəˈreɪ, Brit 'lænzəri/ noun [noncount] : women's underwear and clothing that is worn in bed — often used before another noun • a lingerie shop • the lingerie department in a store

lin-go /'lɪŋɡoʊ/ noun, pl -goes informal

1 [count] : a language • a foreign lingo • It can be hard to travel in a foreign country if you don't speak the lingo.

2 : the special language used for a particular activity or by a particular group of people [count] — usually singular • Basketball has a distinct lingo. • He's starting to pick up the lingo. • She doesn't practice law anymore, but she can still speak the lingo. [noncount] The book has a lot of computer lingo that I don't understand.

lin-gua fran-ca /'lɪŋɡwəˈfræŋkə/ noun, pl lin-gua francas or lin-guae fran-cae /'lɪŋɡwiˈfræŋki/ [count] : a language that is used among people who speak various different languages • English is used as a lingua franca among many airline pilots.

lin-gui-ne or lin-gui-ni /lɪŋ'ɡwiːni/ noun [noncount] : a type of pasta that is long, thin, and flat lin-guist /'lɪŋɡwɪst/ noun, pl -guists [count]

1 : a person who speaks several languages

2 : a person who studies linguistics

lin-guis-tic /lɪŋ'ɡwɪstɪk/ adj : of or relating to language or linguistics • linguistic differences/development • learning about linguistic theory

— lin-guis-ti-cal-ly /lɪŋ'ɡwɪstɪkli/ adv

lin-guis-tics /lɪŋ'ɡwɪstɪks/ noun [noncount] : the study of language and of the way languages work

lin-i-ment /'lɪnəmənt/ noun, pl -ments [count, noncount] : a liquid that is rubbed on your skin to relieve pain or stiffness in your muscles

lin-ing /'laɪnɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings [count] : material that covers the inner surface of something • The coat had a soft lining. • gloves with silk linings • brake linings • the lining of the bladder/stomach • intestinal lining — see also SILVER LINING

¹link /lɪŋk/ verb links; linked; link-ing

T a : to join or connect (two or more things, places, etc.) together [+ obj] A bridge links the island to the mainland. • The rooms are linked by hallways. • He drew a line linking New York and/with/to Los Angeles on the map. • She linked (up) the paper clips to form a chain. • The elderly couple linked arms [=kept their bent arms hooked together at the elbow] as they walked down the street. [no obj] The pipe links (up) to/with the main gas line. b : to connect (someone or something) to a system, network, etc. [+ obj] The network links several terminals. • The computer is linked with/to the fax machine. • providing equipment to link (up) students to the Internet [no obj] Guests can link (up) to the Internet from their hotel rooms.

2 a [+ obj] : to show or prove that a person or thing is related to or involved with something • The study links high cholesterol levels to/with an increased risk of heart attacks. • The police said that they have evidence linking him to these crimes. b ✧ A thing or person that is linked to/with something is connected or related to it in some way. • High cholesterol is linked to an increased risk of heart attacks. • He denied that his business partner was in any way linked to the theft. • Scientists have discovered a gene that is linked to/with [=involved in] the development of Alzheimer's disease. • Your raise is linked to your job performance. [=your raise is related to your job performance; the size of your raise is related to how well you do your job] • He argues that poverty is directly/indirectly linked to/with certain health problems. • My fate is inextricably linked to hers. = Our fates are inextricably linked.

3 : to cause (different groups, countries, etc.) to be joined together [+ obj] The marriage of their children has linked the two families. • These countries are linked in a loose confederation. [no obj] Her company recently linked (up) with three others to form a multinational association.

²link noun, pl links [count]

T a : a relationship or connection between things • Their research shows a link between high cholesterol and an increased risk of heart attacks. [=shows that high cholesterol causes an increased risk of heart attacks] • Police have discovered/established a direct link between the two murders. b : a relationship between people, groups, nations, etc. • The government has established/forged trade links with other countries. • She felt a strong link with/to her ancestors.

2 a : something that allows movement from one place to another • The bridge was the island's link to the mainland. • There are plans to build a rail link from the airport to the city. b : something that allows two or more people or things to communicate with each other • A radio was his only link to the outside world. • a satellite/video link C : HYPERLINK • His Web site includes links to other sites.

3 : a single part of a chain • The chain broke at its weakest link. — often used figuratively • an important link in the chain of events [=an important event in a series of related events] • It is the weak link [=the least strong or successful part] in the company's line of products. • the weakest link in a computer network [=the part of a computer network that is most likely to fail]

4 US : a long, narrow piece of sausage in a series of connected pieces; also : a small sausage that is long and narrow — see also CUFF LINK, LINKS, MISSING LINK

link-age /'lɪŋkɪdʒ/ noun, pl -ag-es

1 : a connection or relationship between two or more things [count] linkages between population growth and disease [noncount] Some researchers doubt that there is any linkage between these phenomena. [=they doubt that these phenomena are connected or related]

2 [count] : a part that connects two or more things • repairing a broken linkage

linking verb noun, pl ~ verbs [count] grammar : a verb (such as appear, be, become, feel, grow, or seem) that connects a subject with an adjective or noun that describes or identifies the subject. • “Look” in “you look happy” and “are” in “my favorite fruits are apples and oranges” are linking verbs. — compare ACTION VERB links /'lɪŋks/ noun, pl links [count] : a golf course • On Saturday morning, he's always out on the links.; especially : a golf course that is next to the ocean • a seaside links

link-up /'lɪŋk,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups

1 [count, noncount] : the act of joining or connecting two things • The maneuver will be done following (the) linkup of the two spacecraft.

2 [count] : a connection that allows two or more people or things to communicate with each other • The interview will be broadcast nationally through a satellite linkup. • A direct telephone linkup has been established.

lin-net /'lɪnət/ noun, pl -nets [count] : a small European bird that is a kind of finch li-no /'laɪnou/ noun [noncount] Brit, informal : LINOLEUM

li-no-leum /lə'noʊliəm/ noun [noncount] : a type of material that is produced in thin sheets, has a shiny surface, and is used to cover floors and counters lin-seed /'lɪn,si:d/ noun [noncount] : the seed of the flax plant linseed oil noun [noncount] : a yellowish oil from the seeds of the flax plant that is used in paint, printing ink, etc.

lint /'lɪnt/ noun [noncount]

1 chiefly US : tiny pieces of cloth or another soft material • I always have lint in my pocket. • The clothes dryer was clogged with lint.

2 Brit : a soft material that is used for covering and protecting cuts and wounds lin-tel /'lɪntl/ noun, pl -tels [count] : a piece of wood or stone that lies across the top of a door or window and holds the weight of the structure above it

li-on /'ləjən/ noun, pl -ons [count]

1 : a large wild cat that has golden brown fur and that lives mainly in Africa • the roar of the lion ♦ The male lion has long, dark hair called a “mane” growing around its neck. — see picture at CAT; see also MOUNTAIN LION, SEA LION

2 : a very important, powerful, or successful person • He was a literary lion among the writers of his time. • a social lion li-on-ess /'ləjənəs/ noun, pl -ess-es [count] : a female lion li-on-heart-ed /'ləjən,hərtəd/ adj : very brave • a lion-hearted hero

li-on-ize also Brit li-on-ise /'ləjə,naɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj] : to treat (someone) as a very important and famous person • She was lionized everywhere after her novel won the Pulitzer Prize.

— li-on-i-za-tion also Brit -i-sa-tion /,ləjənə'zeɪʃən, Brit ,ləjə,naɪ'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] lion's den noun [singular] : a place or situation in which someone must deal with an angry person or group of people • He knew that he would be facing an angry crowd, but he entered the lion's den without hesitating.

lion's share noun [noncount] : the largest part of something • He took the lion's share of the blame [=most of the blame] for the accident. • She claimed the lion's share of the credit for the show's success.

lip /'lɪp/ noun, pl lips

1 [count] : either one of the two soft parts that surround the mouth • the lower/upper lip • thin/thick/full lips • He had a cut on his lip. • He kissed her (right) on the lips. • She was nervously biting her lip. • She had a smile on her lips. [=she was smiling] — see picture at MOUTH; see also stiff upper lip at ¹STIFF

2 [count] : the edge of a cut or hole • the lips of a wound • the lip of a crater

3 [count] : the edge of a container especially where it is slightly spread out • the lip of a pitcher

4 [noncount] informal : rude speech in reply to someone who should be spoken to with respect • Don't give me any of your lip! [=don't talk to me in that disrespectful way]

button your lip/lips see ²BUTTON

fat lip see ¹FAT

lick your lips see ¹LICK

my lips are sealed informal — used to say that you will not tell secret information to anyone • Your secret is safe with me: my lips are sealed.

on everyone's/everybody's lips informal : being said or discussed by many people • The celebrity murder trial was on everyone's lips.

on the lips of informal : being said or discussed by (people) • trendy words on the lips of talk show hosts • a topic that is on the lips of many people

pass your lips see ¹PASS

read lips see ¹READ

smack your lips see ¹SMACK

zip your lip see ¹ZIP

lip-id /'lɪpəd/ noun, pl -ids [count] technical : any one of various substances that contain fat and that are important parts of living cells

li-po-suc-tion /'laɪpə,sʌksən/ noun [noncount] medical : a kind of surgery that removes fat from a person's body lipped /'lɪpt/ adj : having lips of a specified type — used in combination with another adjective • a thin-lipped man [=a man with thin lips] — see also TIGHT-LIPPED lip-py /'lɪpi/ adj lip-pi-er; -est informal : speaking in a rude way that shows a lack of respect • lippy kids • Don't get lippy with me.

lip-read /'lɪp,rɪ:d/ verb -reads; -read /-,red/; -read-ing /-,rɪ:dɪŋ/ : to understand what people are saying by watching the movement of their lips [no obj] a deaf person who knows how to lip-read [=read lips] [+ obj] He was lip-reading the conversation.

— lip-read-er /'lɪp,rɪ:də/ noun, pl -ers [count] • a skillful lip-reader — lip-reading noun [noncount] lip service noun [noncount] : support for someone or something that is expressed by someone in words but that is not shown in that person's actions • She paid/gave/offered lip service to blue-collar workers, but she did nothing to help them. • So far all we've gotten from him is lip service.

lip-stick /'lɪp,stɪk/ noun, pl -sticks [count, noncount] : a type of makeup that is spread on the lips and that comes in the form of a stick • She was wearing bright red lipstick. • I put on some lipstick. — see picture at GROOMING lip-synch or lip-sync /'lɪp,sɪŋk/ verb -synchs or -syncs; -synched or -synced; -synch-ing or -sync-ing : to pretend to sing or say (recorded words) [+ obj] He lip-synched the song that was playing on the radio. [no obj] He lip-synched to the song. • It was obvious that he was lip-synching.

liq-ue-fy also liq-ui-fy /'lɪkwə,fai/ verb -fies; -fied; -fy-ing : to cause (something) to become liquid [+ obj] The intense heat liquefied [=melted] the plastic. • The vegetables were liquefied in a blender. [no obj] The plastic liquefied in the intense heat.

li-queur /lɪ'kɔ, Brit lɪ'kjʊə/ noun, pl -queurs [count, noncount] : a sweet, strong alcoholic drink that is usually flavored with fruits or spices and drunk in small glasses after a meal • a bottle of orange liqueur

liq-uid /'lɪkwəd/ noun, pl -uids : a substance that is able to flow freely : FLUID [count] Water and milk are liquids. • His diet was restricted to liquids. = He was on a liquid diet. [non-count] a bottle of green liquid

²liquid adj

1 : capable of flowing freely like water : not a solid or a gas • Water and milk are liquid substances. • liquid mercury/detergent • The medicine is available in liquid form. • They offered us snacks and liquid refreshments. [=drinks]

2 literary a : shining and clear • She had large liquid eyes. b : clear, smooth, and pleasant in sound • the liquid notes of a bird c : having or showing a smooth and easy style • the liquid grace of the dancer's movements

3 business : made up of money or easily changed into money • liquid assets • liquid funds/investments

liq-ui-date /'likwə,deɪt/ verb -dates; -dat-ed; -dat-ing

1 business a : to sell (a business, property, etc.) especially to pay off debt [+ obj] The owners were ordered to liquidate the company and pay their creditors. • The company is liquidating its assets. • They liquidated the estate. [=they sold the property of the estate] [no obj] The owners were ordered to liquidate. b [+ obj] : to pay all the money owed for (a debt) • liquidate a debt/loan

2 [+ obj] informal : to destroy (something) or kill (someone) • The film is about a professional killer who's hired to liquidate a powerful businessman.

— liq-ui-da-tion /,likwə'deɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [non-count] raising money by the liquidation of assets • The company was forced into liquidation. [count] inventory liquidations — liq-ui-da-tor /'likwə,deɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count]

liquid crystal display noun, pl ~ -plays [count] : LCD li-quad-i-ty /lɪ'kwɪdəti/ noun [noncount]

1 business a : the state of having things that can be easily changed into money • The company has progressively increased its liquidity. b : the quality of being easily changed into money • the liquidity of his investments

2 technical : the quality or state of being liquid li-quad-iz-er /'likwə,daɪzə/ noun, pl -ers [count] Brit : BLENDER

liquify variant spelling of LIQUEFY

li-quer /'likə/ noun : an alcoholic drink; especially : a strong alcoholic drink [noncount] Do you serve liquor? • He drinks beer and wine, but he doesn't drink any hard liquor. [count] vodka, whiskey, and other liquors — often used before another noun • a liquor bottle/store • The restaurant has a liquor license. [=a license that allows it to sell liquor] — see also MALT LIQUOR hold your liquor informal : to be able to drink alcoholic beverages without becoming too drunk • He can't hold his liquor at all.

liquorice chiefly Brit spelling of LICORICE

li-ra /'lɪrə/ noun [count]

1 pl li-re /'li,rei/ or liras : a basic unit of money that was formerly used in Italy; also : a coin or bill representing one Italian lira

2 pl liras : the basic unit of money in Turkey; also : a coin or bill representing one Turkish lira lisp /'lɪsp/ noun [singular] : a speech problem that causes someone to pronounce the letters "s" and "z" like "th" • He spoke with a lisp.

— lisp verb lisps; lisped; lisp-ing [no obj] a child who lisps [+ obj] He lisped (out) his reply. — lisp-er noun, pl -ers [count]

lis-some or chiefly Brit lis-som /'lɪsəm/ adj [more ~; most ~] : thin and graceful — usually used of women • a lissome fashion model

¹list /'lɪst/ noun, pl lists [count]

1 : a series of names, words, numbers, etc., that are usually written down with each new one appearing below the previous one • a long/short list of names • the first/last name on the list = the name at the top/bottom of the list • Make a list of the ingredients you need to bake the cake. • draw up a list • I wrote a list of the books I've most enjoyed. • a growing list of volunteers • a grocery list [=a list of groceries to be bought] • The restaurant has an extensive wine list. [=a list of the wines that are available in a restaurant] • Her first novel was on the best-seller list for two months. [=the list of books that are selling the most copies] • We were included in the guest list. [=the list of people who are invited to something, such as a party] • I have a long list of things to do. = I have a long to-do list. • High on my list (of things to do) is getting the car fixed. • I like all of his books, but this one is at the top of the list. [=this is the best one] — see also CHECKLIST,

DEAN'S LIST; DISABLED LIST, HIT LIST, LAUNDRY LIST, MAILING LIST, SHOPPING LIST, SHORT LIST, WAITING LIST, WISH LIST

2 US, informal : LIST PRICE • The car sells for a list of $30,000.

— compare ⁴LIST

²list verb lists; list-ed; list-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make a list of (names, things, etc.) • He listed the required qualifications for the job. • List the ingredients that you need to bake the cake. • I listed my likes and dislikes.

2 [+ obj] a : to include (something) in a list • Her telephone number is listed [=entered] in the directory. b : to enter information about (someone or something) in a list • The hospital has listed him (as being) in fair condition. • The animal has been listed as endangered/threatened. • He lists himself as a political liberal. [=he says that he is a political liberal]

3 [no obj] US : to have a specified list price • The car lists at/for $30,000.

— compare ³LIST

³list verb lists; listed; listing [no obj] of a ship : to lean to one side • The ship was listing heavily to port/starboard. — compare ²LIST

⁴list noun [singular] : the condition of a ship that is leaning to one side • The ship had a heavy list to starboard. — compare ¹LIST

¹lis-ten /'lɪsn/ verb lis-tens; lis-tened; lis-ten-ing [no obj]

1 a : to pay attention to someone or something in order to hear what is being said, sung, played, etc. • I listened as hard as I could, but I couldn't hear a word of what he said over all that noise. • She listened with interest as he told her about his travels. — often + to • Everyone listened closely/carefully to the firefighter's instructions. • I enjoy listening to classical music. • He turned the radio on and listened to the news. b — used to tell a person to listen to what you are saying • Listen, no one is more concerned about this problem than I am. • Now listen (here), you can't keep treating people this way.

2 : to hear what someone has said and understand that it is serious, important, or true • She tried to warn him of the dangers, but he wouldn't listen. — often + to • Nobody listened to her warnings. • Her ideas are worth listening to. • I told him to be more careful, but he wouldn't listen to me. • You should listen to your father [=you should take your father's advice]: he knows what he's talking about. • The judge refused to listen to their pleas.

listen for or Brit listen out for [phrasal verb] listen for (something) or Brit listen out for (something) : to pay attention to sounds in order to hear (something expected) • We listened for (the sound of) his footsteps. • We saw lightning and listened for the thunder.

listen in [phrasal verb] 1 : to listen to a radio broadcast • We'll have some interesting guests on tomorrow's show, so be sure to listen in. [=tune in] 2 : to listen to a conversation without being part of it • They let me listen in when the plans were presented; especially : to listen secretly to a private conversation : EAVESDROP — usually + on • Someone was listening in on our telephone conversation.

listen up [phrasal verb] chiefly US, informal : to listen closely to what is being said — usually used as a command • Everybody listen up! I have something to say.

— lis-ten-er /'lɪsnə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • She's a good listener. [=she is good at listening to other people and understanding what they are saying] • a radio program that has many listeners

²listen noun [singular] : the act of listening to something • Have a listen to this. [=listen to this] lis-ten-a-ble /'lɪsnəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : pleasant to listen to • He finds some of his son's music very listenable.

listening device noun, pl ~ -vices [count] : a small hidden microphone that is used to secretly listen to and record people • The police planted/installed a listening device in the home of the suspected mobster. — called also bug

list-ing /'lɪstɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings

1 a [count] : a printed list — usually + of • The book includes a listing of local restaurants. b listings [plural] : a printed list of things that includes detailed information about them • The newspaper provides movie listings. [=information about where and when movies are being shown in theaters] • TV listings [=information about when and on what channel television programs will be shown] • job listings

2 [count] : something included in a list • The telephone listing is wrong. [=they listed the wrong telephone number]

3 [count] : the act of including something in a list or the state of being included in a list • The company is seeking a listing on the stock exchange. [=the company wants to be listed on the stock exchange]

list-less /'lɪstləs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : lacking energy or spirit • The heat made everyone tired and listless. • The party was a listless affair. • a listless economy

– list-less-ly adv • The cat was lying listlessly on the bed.

– list-less-ness noun [noncount] Symptoms include depression and listlessness. [singular] He was filled with a listlessness he couldn't explain.

list price noun, pl ~ prices [count] : the price of a product that is shown in a catalog, advertisement, etc. • The car's list price was $30,000, but the actual selling price was less. • We were given a 10 percent discount off the list price.

List-serv /'lɪst,sɜv/ trademark — used for software that allows e-mail messages to be sent to and received from a list of subscribers

¹lit /'lɪt/ past tense and past participle of ³LIGHT

²lit noun [noncount] informal : LITERATURE • I signed up to take a course in American/English lit.

lit-a-ny /'lɪtni/ noun, pl -nies [count]

1 : a prayer in a Christian church service in which the people at the service respond to lines spoken by the person who is leading the service

2 : a long list of complaints, problems, etc. • He has a litany of grievances against his former employer. • The team blamed its losses on a litany of injuries.

litchi variant spelling of LYCHEE lite /'laɪt/ adj, US : containing fewer calories or less fat than usual : LIGHT • lite beer • lite salad dressing li-ter (US) or chiefly Brit li-tre /'li:tə/ noun, pl -ters [count] : a metric unit for measuring the volume of a liquid or gas that is equal to 1.057 quarts • a liter of water

lit-er-a-cy /'lɪtərəsi/ noun [noncount]

1 : the ability to read and write • The program is intended to promote adult literacy among people who have had very little schooling. • Their goal is to achieve basic literacy. • literacy programs/skills/tests

2 : knowledge that relates to a specified subject • computer literacy [=knowledge of how to use a computer] • cultural literacy [=knowledge of the culture you live in]

lit-er-al /'lɪtərəl/ adj

1 : involving the ordinary or usual meaning of a word • I was using the word in its literal sense. • The literal meaning of "know your ropes" is "to know a lot about ropes," while figuratively it means "to know a lot about how to do something."

2 : giving the meaning of each individual word : EXACT • a literal translation of a book

3 : completely true and accurate : not exaggerated • The story he told was basically true, even if it wasn't the literal truth.

4 [more ~; most ~] — used to describe someone who understands words and statements only in the most basic and ordinary way and does not have much imagination • He was a very literal [=literal-minded] man.

– lit-er-al-ness /'lɪtərəlnəs/ noun [noncount]

lit-er-al-ly /'lɪtərəli/ adv

1 : in a literal way; such as a : in a way that uses the ordinary and usual meaning of a word • Many words can be used both literally and figuratively. • He took her comments literally. • He's a sailor who knows his ropes, literally and figuratively. b — used to stress that a statement or description is true and accurate even though it may be surprising • He was literally [=truly, actually] insane. • He was quite literally jumping up and down in his rage. • The party was attended by literally hundreds of people. c : with the meaning of each individual word given exactly • The term "Mardi Gras" literally means "Fat Tuesday" in French. d : in a completely accurate way • The story he told was basically true, even if it wasn't literally true.

2 informal — used in an exaggerated way to emphasize a statement or description that is not literally true or possible • The group literally poured out new ideas. [=the group produced many new ideas] • Steam was literally coming out of his ears. [=he was very angry] • She was literally beside herself with rage.

lit-er-al-mind-ed /'lɪtərəl,məɪndəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

: LITERAL 4 • a very literal-minded man

– lit-er-al-mind-ed-ness noun [noncount]

lit-er-ary /'lɪtə,ri, Brit 'lɪtrəri/ adj

1 a : of or relating to literature • American literary culture/tradition • a literary magazine • Do his books have any liter- ary merit? • Mystery fiction is only one of many literary forms. • literary criticism/theory b : used in literature • a literary word • an essay written in a very literary style • The author uses many literary devices in his work.

2 always used before a noun : having a lot of knowledge about literature : known for reading or writing books • a literary man

3 always used before a noun : relating to the writing and publishing of literature • He entered the literary world right out of college. • She hired a literary agent.

lit-er-ate /'lɪtərət/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : able to read and write • He was barely literate. • She is literate in both English and Spanish. • What percentage of the population is literate? — opposite ILLITERATE

2 : having or showing knowledge about a particular subject • The job requires you to be computer literate. • politically literate — opposite ILLITERATE

– literate noun, pl -ates [count] • computer literates [=people who know how to use computers]

li-te-ra-ti /,lɪtə'ra:ti/ noun

the literati : educated people who know about and are interested in literature • a new novelist who has been embraced by the literati

lit-er-a-ture /'lɪtərəʃ/ noun, pl -tures

1 : written works (such as poems, plays, and novels) that are considered to be very good and to have lasting importance [noncount] She took courses in history and literature. • Her education gave her an appreciation for great literature. • He's an expert in American/German literature. • the literature of the Renaissance [count] studies in different Asian literatures

2 [noncount] a : books, articles, etc., about a particular subject • medical/scientific literature • To be knowledgeable about the latest technology, you've got to keep abreast of the (relevant) literature. b : printed materials (such as booklets, leaflets, and brochures) that provide information about something • Can you send me some literature about your product? • promotional/sales literature

lithe /'laɪð/ adj [more ~; most ~] : moving in an easy and graceful way • a lithe, muscular athlete • the lithe body of a dancer

– lithe-ly adv – lithe-ness noun [noncount]

lith-i-um /'lɪθijəm/ noun [noncount] : a soft silver-white element that is the lightest metal known

lith-o-graph /'lɪθə,græf, Brit 'lɪθə,grɑ:f/ noun, pl -graphs [count] : a picture made by lithography • a book of his finest lithographs

li-thog-ra-phy /lɪ'θɑ:grəfi/ noun [noncount] : a method of printing from a flat surface (such as a smooth stone or a metal plate) that has been prepared so that the ink will only stick to the design that will be printed

– li-tho-gra-pher /lɪ'θɑ:grəfə/ noun, pl -phers [count]

– lith-o-graph-ic /,lɪθə'græfɪk/ adj • the lithographic process • lithographic ink/printing – litho-graph-i-cal-ly /,lɪθə'græfɪkli/ adv

lit-i-gant /'lɪtɪgənt/ noun, pl -gants [count] law : a person who is involved in a lawsuit : someone who is suing another person or is being sued by another person lit-i-gate /'lɪtɪ,ɡert/ verb -gates; -gat-ed; -gat-ing law : to make (something) the subject of a lawsuit : to cause (a case, an issue, etc.) to be decided and settled in a court of law [+obj] They agree to litigate all disputes in this court. [no obj] The company's unwillingness to make a deal increased her desire to litigate.

– lit-i-ga-tion /,lɪtə'geɪʃən/ noun [noncount] • He is involved in litigation against the city. • The case is still in litigation. [=being decided in a court of law] – lit-i-ga-tor /'lɪtə,geɪtə/ noun, pl -tors [count] • She is a famous/successful litigator. [=lawyer]

li-ti-gious /lə'tɪdʒəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : too ready or eager to sue someone or something in a court of law : tending or likely to engage in lawsuits • a very litigious group of people • this litigious age/society in which we live

– li-ti-gious-ness noun [noncount]

lit-mus paper /'lɪtməs-/ noun [noncount] technical : special paper that is used to test how much acid is in a solution ♦ Litmus paper turns red in acid solutions and blue in alkaline solutions.

litmus test noun, pl ~ tests [count] : something (such as an opinion about a political or moral issue) that is used to make a judgment about whether someone or something is acceptable • The party is using attitudes about gun control as a litmus test for political candidates. — compare ACID TEST

litre Brit spelling of LITER

¹lit·ter /'lɪtə/ noun, pl -ters

1 a [noncount] : things that have been thrown away and that are lying on the ground in a public place • We decided to pick up the litter in the park. • roadside litter b [singular] : a messy pile or group of things • Her desk was covered with a litter of legal documents.

2 [noncount] a : dry material that is spread in a container and used as a toilet by animals (especially cats) while they are indoors • cat/kitty litter • (chiefly US) a litter box = (Brit) a litter tray [=a container holding litter for a cat] b : soft and dry material (such as straw) that is spread on the ground for some animals (such as horses) to sleep on

3 [count] : a group of young animals that are born at a single time • a litter of puppies/piglets • He was the runt of the litter. [=the smallest animal in the litter] — often used figuratively in the phrase the pick of the litter • Of all the cars on the market, this one is clearly the pick of the litter. [=the best one]

4 [count] : a covered bed that has long poles on the bottom and that was used in the past for carrying a very important person • The emperor was carried to the palace on a litter.

²litter verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing

1 [+ obj] : to cover (a surface) with many things in an untidy way • Paper and popcorn littered the streets after the parade. • Leaves littered the forest floor. [=the forest floor was covered with leaves] • a desk littered with old letters and bills — often used figuratively • a landscape littered with ugly houses • Dirty words litter his vocabulary. [=his vocabulary includes many dirty words; he says a lot of dirty words] • The book is littered with errors. [=the book contains many errors]

2 [no obj] : to throw or leave trash on the ground in a public place • It is illegal to litter. • He had to pay a fine for littering. — lit·ter·er /'lɪtərə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • Litterers are subject to a fine.

litter bin noun, pl ~ bins [count] Brit : TRASH CAN lit·ter·bug /'lɪtəˌbʌg/ noun, pl -bugs [count] informal : a person who throws or leaves trash in a public place — called also (Brit) litter lout

¹lit·tle /'lɪtl/ adj less /'les/ or less·er /'lesə/ also lit·tler /'lɪtlə/; least /'liːst/ also lit·tlest /'lɪtləst/

1 a : small in size • She has little feet. • a little island/airplane • a little business • Our school is little. • a tiny little fish • This room is littler [= (more commonly) smaller] than that one. b : not tall : SHORT • a little man • a littler [= (more commonly) smaller, shorter] man c : small in amount • I have very little money, so I can't lend you any. • I have less money than I did before. • I got very little sleep last night. • There's little hope of a rescue now. • You have little choice but to pay attention. • The new version bears little resemblance to the original. • These programs have very/precious little chance of succeeding. • The help he offered us was too little, too late. [=it was not as much help as we needed and it was offered too late to be helpful] • There has been little if any improvement. [=there has been almost no improvement] • These trinkets have little or no value. • There was no little sadness in his voice. [=there was a lot of sadness in his voice] d : not having many things or people included • We're having a little party this weekend. • a little group of people • a little village • her little hometown

2 : young or younger • I loved swimming when I was little. • a little boy/girl • He's very proud of his little boy/girl. [=of his young son/daughter] • How's your little one? [=your young(est) son or daughter] • my little brother/sister [=my brother/sister who is younger than I am]

3 always used before a noun : not lasting for a long time • I have to take a little break. • We sat down for a little chat. • We talked for a little while.

4 always used before a noun : not very important • There are a few little problems that still have to be dealt with. • He memorized every little detail of the scene. — sometimes used in an ironic way to describe something important • There's just one little problem we haven't discussed: the company is going bankrupt! • I need to talk to you about the little matter of the money you owe me.

5 always used before a noun : not easily seen, heard, etc. • He gave her a little smile. • She made a little wave with her hand. • She spoke in a quiet little voice.

6 always used before a noun a — used to refer to someone or something in an approving or friendly way • That's a nice little car you've got there. • You poor little thing. • Bless your little heart. b — used to refer to someone or something in a disapproving or critical way • He's a little jerk. • It was a mean little joke. • She has a dirty little secret.

7 always used before a noun : not open to new ideas • people with little [=small, narrow] minds

— lit·tle·ness /'lɪtlɪnəs/ noun [noncount] • the littleness of the room • the littleness of their minds

²little adv less; least

1 a : in a very small amount or degree • She works very little and sleeps even less. • Please speak as little as possible. b : hardly at all : not very much • We had little more than we needed. • She cared little (about) what he thought. • His art is little known in this country. • a little-known fact • She little knew what fate had in store for her. = Little did she know what fate had in store for her.

2 : not very often • She travels little. [=she rarely travels] little by little : by small steps or amounts : GRADUALLY • Little by little, he got better. • The protest gathered strength little by little. • I got to know them little by little.

little more than or little better than : not much more or better than (something) : only slightly more or better than (something) • They ate little more than ice cream and hot dogs all day.

³little pronoun : a small amount or quantity • There is little we can do to help. • Little is known about her life. • They say precious little [=they do not say much] about their job. • They understand little of what is going on. • His argument did little to change their minds. [=his argument did not change their minds]

a little 1 : not much but some • I don't want much: I want just a little bit/piece. • There's a little brown sugar in these cookies. • I have a little money, so I may be able to lend you some. • They offered him a little something to drink before dinner. [=they offered him something to drink] • There was more than a little sadness [=there was much sadness] in his voice. 2 : not much but somewhat or slightly • It bothered me a little. • His house is down the street a little further. • His house is down the street a little. = It's a little down the street. • I'm feeling a little better today. • Repairs will begin in a little [=slightly] more than a month. • He was not a little annoyed [=he was very annoyed] at the interruption. • Her vision of the future was more than a little upsetting. [=was very upsetting] 3 : for a brief time • Please stay here with me a little. • We can walk a little and then catch a cab. 4 : a small amount or quantity • There is only a very little at stake here. • They don't understand much but they do understand a little. • There's still some money in the bank, but only a very little. • They understand more than a little of what is going on. [=they understand much of what is going on] • Don't use too much of this. A little goes a long way. [=a small amount will be enough]

a little bit 1 : to some extent : SOMEWHAT • This one is a little bit bigger than that one. • It bothered me a little bit. 2 chiefly US : a short time • We talked for a little bit. 3 : a small amount of something • The buffet had a little bit of everything. • We have a little bit of time left. • Oh, I'll have just a little bit, thanks.

as little as — used to suggest that a number or quantity is surprisingly small • I could be back in as little as five days.

little wonder see ¹WONDER little bitty adj, chiefly US, informal : very small : TINY • She was living in a little bitty apartment.

Little Dipper noun

the Little Dipper US : a group of seven stars including the North Star in the northern sky that forms the shape of a dipper or ladle and that is smaller than the Big Dipper — compare BIG DIPPER little finger noun, pl ~ -gers [count] : the finger that is farthest from your thumb — called also (chiefly US + Scotland) pinkie; see picture at HAND

little guy noun

the little guy chiefly US, informal : LITTLE MAN

Little League noun [singular] US : a baseball league for boys and girls from 8 to 12 years old • a man who coaches Little League [=who coaches a team in Little League] • a Little League team/game/player/coach — Little Leaguer noun, pl ~ -ers [count] • His son is a Little Leaguer. [=a Little League player] little man noun

the little man chiefly US, informal : an ordinary person who is not wealthy, famous, or powerful — used to refer to such people in general • a politician who portrays himself as a friend of the little man — called also the little guy little people noun [plural]

1 : ordinary people who are not wealthy, famous, or powerful • I'd like to thank all the little people who made my success possible.

2 : people of unusually small size

3 : very small imaginary beings (especially leprechauns) with magical powers • a fairy tale about the little people

little toe noun, pl ~ toes [count] : the smallest toe on the outside of your foot little woman noun

the little woman old-fashioned + humorous + sometimes offensive — used to refer to a man's wife • He bought a bouquet of flowers for the little woman. [=for his wife]

lit-to·ral /'lɪtərəl/ adj, technical : of, relating to, or having a coast • littoral waters • a littoral country [=a country that has a coast]

— littoral noun, pl -rals [count] • the Atlantic littoral [=coastal region] lit·ur·gy /'lɪtədʒi/ noun, pl -gies : a fixed set of ceremonies, words, etc., that are used during public worship in a religion [count] studying the liturgies of different religions [non-count] He was studying Christian liturgy.

— li·tur·gi·cal /lə'tədʒɪkəl/ adj, always used before a noun • The church used Latin as the liturgical language. • the liturgical calendar [=a list of the important holy days in a religion]

liv·able or chiefly Brit live·able /'lɪvəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : suitable to live in : enjoyable to live in • a livable city • They described the house as very/barely livable.

2 US : making it possible to live or to have the things that people need to live properly • livable conditions • People need jobs that will pay them livable wages.

— liv·abil·i·ty or chiefly Brit live·abil·i·ty /,lɪvə'bɪləti/ noun [noncount]

live /'lɪv/ verb lives; lived; liv·ing

1 [no obj] a : to be alive • We learned about the people who lived during colonial times. • I wonder what it was like to live then. • She's one of the greatest writers who ever lived. • It was one of the largest animals that has ever lived. b : to continue to be alive • He lived to the age of 92. • He's very sick and he may not live much longer. • I hope to live (long enough) to see my grandchildren grow up. • I hope I live to see the day when you admit you've been wrong about me! • I'll remember that day for as long as I live. • She's living on borrowed time. [=she is continuing to live after she was expected to die, but she will probably die soon] • Long live the Queen/King! [=may the Queen/King live for many years]

2 [no obj] a : to have a home in a specified place • He lives next door to his parents. • We lived in the city/suburbs/country. • I live on Main St. [=my house is on Main St.] • It's a nice place to visit, but I wouldn't want to live there. • He's still living at home (with his parents). • animals living in zoos b of a plant or animal : to grow naturally in a specified place or area • Tigers don't live in Africa. [=there are no tigers in the wild in Africa] • We've been studying the plants and animals that live in this area.

3 : to spend your life in a certain way or condition [no obj] They live well/simply. • He likes to live dangerously. • They lived peacefully for many years. • animals living in captivity • We know very little about how people in these ancient cultures lived. • They all lived happily ever after. [=they all lived happily for the rest of their lives] • He is living within/beyond his means. [=he can/cannot afford the things that he buys or the way he lives] [+ obj] If she believes that, she's living a fantasy. [=she is not seeing or accepting reality] • They are living the American Dream. [=they are experiencing success in America]

4 [no obj] : to have an enjoyable and exciting life • Now that he's retired he just wants to live a little. [=to spend time doing enjoyable things] • You haven't lived until you've had a piece of my mom's apple pie! [=you would greatly enjoy my mom's apple pie]

5 [+ obj] a : to spend (your life or part of your life) in a specified way • They lived (the rest of) their lives in quiet retirement. • He had lived a childhood free from worry. • She lived her final years in seclusion. • He lived life to the full/full-est. [=he fully enjoyed his life] b : to have (a particular kind of life) • She wants to live [=lead] a more productive life. • They live a normal life. • They are living a life of luxury. • He made a lot of money in the stock market and he's been living the good life [=living the life of a wealthy person] ever since.

6 [no obj] : to continue to exist • The good that people do lives long after they are gone. • That day will always live in my memory. [=I will always remember that day]

7 [no obj] chiefly Brit, informal : to belong in a specified place : to be located or stored • "Where does this book live?" "It goes/belongs on the top shelf."

live a lie see ⁴LIE

live and breathe see BREATHE

live and learn or you live and (you) learn informal — used to say that you have learned something from an experience that is surprising and usually unpleasant • I thought I could trust him, but I couldn't. Oh well, you live and learn.

live and let live : to let others live the way they want to • His philosophy was to live and let live.

live by [phrasal verb] 1 live by (something) : to agree with and follow (something, such as a set of beliefs) • He tried to live by his faith. • a principle I try to live by 2 a live by (doing something) : to survive by (doing something) • They were an ancient people who lived by hunting and gathering. b live by your wits : to survive by doing clever and sometimes dishonest things • Out in the jungle, with no food or shelter, he had to live by his wits. • a young thief who lives by her wits live down [phrasal verb] live down (something) or live (something) down : to stop being blamed or laughed at for (something, such as a foolish or embarrassing error) • He has a very bad reputation to live down. — often used in negative statements • I can't believe I forgot my wife's birthday! I'll never live this down.

live for [phrasal verb] live for (something) 1 : to wait or hope for (something) very eagerly • I live for the day when we'll be together! 2 : to think of (something) as the most important or enjoyable part of your life • She lives for her work. : to think of (something) as a reason for being alive • He's depressed and feels as if he has nothing left to live for.

live in [phrasal verb] chiefly Brit : to live in the place where you work : to live in another person's home • a maid who lives in

live in hope see ²HOPE

live in sin old-fashioned : to live together and have sex without being married • His mother did not want him living in sin with his girlfriend.

live in the past : to think too much about something that happened in the past • You have to accept that he's gone and stop living in the past.

live it up informal : to do exciting and enjoyable things • He's been living it up out in California with his friends.

live large US slang : to live like a very wealthy and successful person • a star who is living large

live off [phrasal verb] live off (something or someone) : to use (someone or something) as a source of the money or other things you need to live • He has been living off his inheritance. • He has been living off his girlfriend. [=his girlfriend has been supporting him financially] • farmers who live off the land live on [phrasal verb] 1 : to continue to exist • His legend lives on. 2 live on (something) a : to have or use (an amount of money) to pay for the things that you need to live • You can't live on this salary. [=this salary does not provide enough money for food, shelter, etc.] b : to have (a particular food) as the only or main food that you eat • They lived mainly/mostly on fruits and berries.

live out [phrasal verb] 1 Brit : to live away from the place where you work • a servant who lives out 2 live out (something) or live (something) out a : to spend the rest of (your life) in a specified way • He lived out (the final years of) his life in quiet retirement. b : to do (the things you have dreamed of doing) • He has finally had the chance to live out his dreams/fantasies.

live through [phrasal verb] 1 live through (something) : to survive (an experience, a troubling time, etc.) : ENDURE • If I can live through this, I can live through anything. 2 live through (someone) US, sometimes disapproving : to enjoy the experiences and achievements of (another person) instead of your own experiences and achievements • She can't live through her daughter.

live together [phrasal verb] : to live with another person and have sex without being married • They lived together for several months before getting married.

live up to [phrasal verb] live up to (something) 1 : to do what is required by (something) • She lived up to her promises. [=she kept her promises] 2 : to be good enough for (something) • He has found it difficult to live up to his name/reputation. [=to be as good/successful as people think he is or should be] • Their vacation didn't live up to their expectations. [=their vacation wasn't as good as they expected it to be]

live with [phrasal verb] 1 live with (something) : to accept and deal with (something unpleasant) • You have to learn to live with [=put up with] other people's mistakes. • I don't agree with his decision, but I'll have to live with it. • Until we get a better answer, we will have to live with not knowing for sure. • Because there was no cure, he had to learn to live with the disease. 2 live with (someone) : to live together and usually have sex with (someone) • She's been living with him since college.

²live /'laɪv/ adj

1 a always used before a noun : having life : living or alive • They object to the use of live animals in scientific experiments. • a live birth [=a birth of a living child or animal] b informal : not imaginary : actually existing — used in the phrase real live • Everyone was excited about seeing a real live celebrity. [=an actual celebrity]

2 a : done in front of an audience : of or involving a play, concert, etc., that is performed in front of people • a night-club with live music/entertainment • The group has just released a live album. [=an album made by recording a performance before an audience] b : watching a performance as it happens • a television program filmed before a live (studio) audience c : broadcast while a performance, event, etc., is happening : not recorded earlier • a live television/radio program • She was nervous about being interviewed on live radio. • The network is providing live coverage of the debate.

3 : carrying an electric current : connected to electric power • Use caution when you are working near live electrical wires. • a live microphone — see also LIVE WIRE

4 always used before a noun a : carrying a charge and capable of exploding or being shot • a live bomb • live ammunition • We had thought the guns were loaded with blanks, but the soldiers were actually shooting live bullets. b : burning without a flame : GLOWING • live coals

5 : not yet decided or settled : still causing discussion, disagreement, or concern • a live issue • a live controversy

6 US, sports : still in play • The ball is live until it goes out of bounds.

7 Brit, of yogurt : containing living bacteria • We sell live yogurt.

³live /'laɪv/ adv : during, from, or at the actual time that something (such as a performance or event) happens • The program was shown live. • We are broadcasting live from downtown. • Here he is—live in concert! • The album was recorded live.

go live : to begin operating or to become available for use • Our new Web site will be going live next month.

liveable chiefly Brit spelling of LIVABLE live action noun [noncount] : a movie or scene in which actors and sets are used : a movie or scene that is not produced by animation • a combination of live action and animation

— live-ac-tion /'laɪv'ækʃən/ adj, always used before a noun • a live-action scene/film/sequence

-lived /'lɪvd/ combining form : having a life of a specified length • long-lived • relatively short-lived

lived-in /'lɪvdɪn/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having a comfortable and appealing appearance or quality that comes from being used for a long time • The room has a lived-in look to it. • a lived-in kitchen

2 : showing the effects of age • a lived-in voice • a lived-in face live-in /'lɪvɪn/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : living in the place where you work • a live-in maid [=a maid who lives in the house where she works]

2 : living with someone else (especially a boyfriend or girlfriend) • a young woman and her live-in boyfriend [=her boyfriend who is living with her] • his live-in girlfriend live-li-hood /'laɪvli,hud/ noun, pl -hoods : a way of earning money in order to live [count] Many fishermen believe that the new regulations threaten their livelihoods. [non-count] (formal) He claims he lost a source/means of livelihood when he was injured.

live-long /'lɪv,lɑːŋ/ adj

(all) the livelong day old-fashioned + humorous : all day • I've been working all the livelong day.

live-ly /'laɪvli/ adj live-li-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : very active and energetic • lively children • a very lively puppy • She has a very lively imagination. [=she imagines

many things]

2 : full of energy, excitement, or feeling • a very lively writing style • The book is lively and well written. • They had a lively debate/discussion. • She takes a lively interest in politics. [=she is very interested in politics]

3 : full of movement or activity • lively streets • a lively dance • A lively atmosphere keeps people coming back to the café. • Trading on the stock market today was rather lively. [=active] step lively (chiefly US) or chiefly Brit look lively : to go or move quickly : HURRY • You'll have to step lively if you don't want to be late for work.

— live-li-ness noun [noncount] the liveliness of the children/discussion/dance [singular] There's a wonderful liveliness about him.

liv-en /'laɪvən/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make (something) more lively, interesting, or exciting • He played some music to liven the atmosphere. — usually + up • She tried to liven up [=enliven] her speech with a few jokes. • He suggested that we liven things up with a friendly bet on the game.

2 [no obj] : to become more lively, interesting, or exciting — + up • The party really livened up after she arrived.

live oak /'laɪv-/ noun, pl ~ oaks [count] : a large type of oak tree that grows in the southern U.S.

liv-er /'lɪvə/ noun, pl -ers

1 [count] : a large organ of the body that produces bile and cleans the blood — see picture at HUMAN

2 : the liver of an animal (such as a calf or a chicken) that is eaten as food [noncount] We had liver and onions for dinner. [count] sautéed chicken livers

liv-er-ied /'lɪvərɪd/ adj, formal : wearing a livery • a liveried servant/chauffeur liv-er-wurst /'lɪvə,wɜːst/ noun [noncount] chiefly US : a type of soft sausage made chiefly of cooked liver • a pound of liverwurst • a liverwurst sandwich — called also (chiefly Brit) liver sausage

liv-ery /'lɪvəri/ noun, pl -eries

1 [noncount] : the business of keeping vehicles that people can hire — usually used before another noun • livery service • a livery cab

2 Brit : the colors or designs that are used on a company's products, vehicles, etc. [noncount] aircraft livery • cars with similar livery [count] cars with similar liveries

3 : a special uniform worn by servants especially in the past [noncount] servants in blue livery [count] servants wearing liveries

lives plural of ¹LIFE

live-stock /'laɪv,stɔːk/ noun : farm animals (such as cows, horses, and pigs) that are kept, raised, and used by people [plural] a market where livestock are bought and sold [non-count] a market where livestock is bought and sold live wire noun, pl ~ wires [count] informal : a very lively and energetic person • She's a real live wire.

liv-id /'lɪvəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very angry : FURIOUS • My father was livid (with rage) when I came home three hours late.

2 literary : having a dark purplish color • a livid bruise

¹liv-ing /'lɪvɪŋ/ adj

1 : not dead : having life • I was taught to respect all living things. • living beings/creatures/animals/plants • His aunt is his closest living relative. • He's one of our greatest living authors. • She's a living legend. [=a very famous and admired person who is still alive] • It was the first time I had ever seen a living, breathing bear in the wild.

2 always used before a noun : currently active or being used • a living faith • living cultures • a living language [=a language that is still being used and spoken by people]

3 always used before a noun : having the form of a person who is alive • He is the living embodiment of cheapness. [=he is very cheap] • I'm living proof that success is possible. [=my success shows that other people can succeed as well]

4 always used before a noun : of or relating to the place, conditions, or manner in which people live • He and his wife have an unusual living arrangement; they work in different cities and only see each other on weekends. • They use their backyard as an outdoor living area. • They're moving to a larger home because they need more living space. • These poor children are being raised in terrible living conditions. • He gave me a tour of his living quarters. [=the rooms where he lives]

5 informal — used to emphasize a noun • You scared the liv- ing daylights out of me! • They threatened to beat the living crap out of him.

in living color : in the bright colors of real life • a television program shown in living color — often used figuratively • His opinions are aired once a week in living color. [=on a television program] in/within living memory : during a time that can be remembered by people who are still alive • These events occurred within living memory.

²living noun, pl -ings

1 [count] : a way of earning money : the money that someone needs to pay for housing, food, etc. — usually singular • His investments provide him with a good living. [=provide him with enough money to live well] • What do you do for a living? [=what is your job?] • He struggled to scratch/eke out a living as a farmer. • He earned a/his living as a cook. = He made a living by working as a cook.

2 [noncount] : a way of living • the challenges of city living • outdoor living • healthy living • It's summertime, and the living is easy. — see also ASSISTED LIVING, COST OF LIVING, STANDARD OF LIVING in the land of the living see ¹LAND living room noun, pl ~ rooms [count] : a room in a house for general family use — usually singular • He is watching TV in the living room.

3 the living : people who are alive • the living and the dead • The world belongs to the living.

living standard noun, pl ~ -dards [count] : STANDARD OF LIVING — usually plural • trying to improve/raise living standards for poor people living wage noun [singular] : an amount of money you are paid for a job that is large enough to provide you with the basic things (such as food and shelter) needed to live an acceptable life • He was barely earning a living wage.

living will noun, pl ~ wills [count] law : a document in which you say what medical decisions should be made if you become too sick or injured to make those decisions ♦ A living will usually says that a very sick or injured person should be allowed to die if there is no real hope of recovery.

liz·ard /'lɪzəd/ noun, pl -ards [count] : a type of reptile that has four legs and a long body and tail

ll abbr lines • ll 15–25

'll — used as a contraction of will • That'll be enough. • I don't know who'll be there.

lla·ma /'lɑ:mə/ noun, pl -mas [count] : a South American animal that has a long neck and thick fur and that is used for its wool and for carrying things lo /'lou/ interj, old-fashioned + literary — used to call attention to something or to show wonder or surprise • Lo, the king approaches! • the adventures we have shared for lo these many years

lo and behold — used to express wonder or surprise; often used in a humorous or ironic way • She appeared on a magazine cover, and lo and behold, she began to get offers to star in movies. • We opened the door, and lo and behold, the delivery man had arrived.

¹load /'loud/ noun, pl loads [count]

1 a : something that is lifted and carried • He lifted the load onto his shoulders. • donkeys hauling/carrying large loads • She was carrying a heavy load of legal documents in her briefcase. • a light load b : an amount that can be carried at one time : an amount that fills something (such as a truck) • He picked up a load of firewood and carried it into the house. • The truck was carrying a full load of sand. • a load of laundry [=the amount of laundry that can fit into a washing machine] — often used in combination • an armload of firewood • a truckload of sand • a boatload of tourists

2 somewhat technical : the weight that is carried or supported by something • Losing weight will lessen the load on your knees. • a load-bearing wall [=a wall that supports the weight of a building]

3 a : something that causes worry or sadness • His death is a heavy load to bear. • The good news has really taken a load off my mind. [=has allowed me to stop worrying; has made me feel relieved] b : a difficult responsibility • There's a lot of work to be done, and you have to carry/bear your share of the load. [=you have to do your share of the work] • I wish there were some way I could help lift this load [=weight, burden] from his shoulders. • The company is trying to reduce its debt load. [=the amount of money that it owes]

4 informal a : a large amount of something • They had a load of trouble. — usually plural • We had loads of fun. • The house has loads of room. • I have loads [=many things] to do today. b — used in phrases like a load of garbage, a load of trash, a load of hot air, etc., to say that something is worthless • I think their ideas are a load of garbage!

living room

5 a : the amount of work done or expected to be done • a full load of teaching work • She's taking a full/heavy course load this semester. — see also CASELOAD, WORKLOAD b technical : the amount of work done by a machine • the load on an engine c technical : the amount of power used by an electrical device or produced by a power source • The electrical system failed because it couldn't handle the load.

get a load of informal : to look at (someone or something) • Get a load of that car! • You should get a load of his pants.

take a load off (your feet) chiefly US, informal : to sit down and relax • You look tired. Come in and take a load off.

²load verb loads; load-ed; load-ing

1 a : to put an amount of something in or on (something) [+ obj] load a truck with packages • We loaded (up) the car and drove off. • Workers were loading and unloading the ships as they came into port. [no obj] We loaded up and drove off. b [+ obj] : to put (an amount of something) into or onto something • load packages on/onto a truck • We loaded our luggage in/into the car and drove off. • Workers were loading cargo on/onto the ships. c [+ obj] : to supply (someone or something) with a large amount of something • Mom loaded me (up) with supplies for the hike. • She loaded the table with all kinds of delicious foods. • My sister loaded [=filled] her plate with mashed potatoes and corn.

2 : to put something necessary into a machine or device so that it can be used [+ obj] load a camera with film = load film into a camera • load a gun (with bullets) = load bullets into a gun • load a tape into the VCR. [no obj] The film didn't load properly.

3 a [+ obj] of a boat, vehicle, etc. : to be boarded by (passengers) • The bus stopped to load a few more passengers. b [no obj] : to go onto something (such as a boat or vehicle) • The passengers loaded on/onto the bus.

4 computers : to cause (a program, file, etc.) to begin being used or displayed by a computer [+ obj] load a program • load a new Web page [no obj] The program takes less time to load than it used to. — see also DOWNLOAD, UPLOAD

5 [+ obj] baseball : to put runners on (first, second, and third base) • He drew a walk to load the bases. • The bases are loaded. [=there are runners on each of the bases] load down with [phrasal verb] load (someone or something) down with (something) : to cause or force (someone or something) to accept or deal with (something difficult) — usually used as (be) loaded down with • The company is loaded down with debt. [=is burdened with debt; has a large amount of debt] • I'm loaded down with homework.

load the dice see ¹DICE

load up on [phrasal verb] load up on (something) informal

1 : to drink or eat a large amount of (something) • people loading up on fatty foods 2 : to get a large amount of (something) • investors who have been loading up on hot stocks — load-er noun, pl -ers [count] • a film loader

load-ed /'ləʊdəd/ adj

1 not used before a noun, informal : very rich • His parents are loaded.

2 a of a gun : having bullets inside • a loaded rifle/pistol • He said he didn't know the gun was loaded. b of a camera : having film inside • Is this camera loaded?

3 — used to describe dice that can be used for cheating because they have weights inside so that particular numbers always result when the dice are thrown • a pair of loaded dice 4 : capable of causing harm or trouble because of a hidden or extra meaning • a loaded term/expression • That word has become so loaded that people are afraid to use it. • a loaded question

5 chiefly US, informal : having a good amount of what is needed or wanted • a fully loaded car [=a car that has many extra features] • This team is loaded. [=this team has many good players]

6 chiefly US slang : very drunk • He went to a bar after work and got loaded.

loaded for bear US, informal : prepared to deal with attacks or criticism : prepared to fight or argue • She went into the interview loaded for bear.

loaded with : having or carrying a large amount of (something) • Her arms were loaded with books. [=she was carrying many books] • The car was loaded with supplies for the trip. • foods that are loaded with [=full of] fat loading dock noun, pl ~ docks [count] chiefly US : an area at the side of a building where goods are loaded onto and unloaded from vehicles — called also (chiefly Brit) loading bay

¹loaf /'ləʊf/ noun, pl loaves /'ləʊvz/

1 [count] : an amount of bread that has been baked in a long, round, or square shape • slicing a loaf of bread

2 [count, noncount] : a dish made from foods (such as chopped meat, eggs, and seasoning) that are pressed together, shaped, and usually baked • a salmon loaf — see also MEAT LOAF

²loaf verb loafs; loafed; loaf-ing [no obj] : to spend time relaxing instead of working • I spent most of the weekend just loafing around the house. • He has been accused of loafing on the job. [=he has been accused of not working when he should be working]

loaf-er /'ləʊfə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a low shoe with no laces — usually plural • He wore loafers with no socks. • slipped on a pair of loafers — see picture at SHOE; see also PENNY LOAFER

2 : a person who does not work hard • She's a lazy loafer.

loam /'ləʊm/ noun [noncount] : a type of soil that is good for growing plants

— loamy /'ləʊmi/ adj loam-i-er; -est • loamy soil

¹loan /'ləʊn/ noun, pl loans

1 [count] : an amount of money that is given to someone for a period of time with a promise that it will be paid back : an amount of money that is borrowed • He took out a loan (from the bank) to pay for the car. • He got a car loan. • He'll need several more years to pay off/back the rest of the loan. • She needed money, so she asked her friend for a loan. • a student loan [=a loan that is used to pay for a student's education] • a bank loan [=a loan that is made by a bank] • a personal loan [=a loan that is made by a bank to someone for a personal need]

2 [noncount] somewhat formal : permission to use something for a period of time • Can I have the loan of your car? [= (more commonly) can I borrow your car?]

on loan : borrowed from someone or something for a period of time • This painting is on loan from the National Gallery. • an actor on loan from another sitcom • Some of the workers were on loan as temporary staff.

²loan verb loans; loaned; loan-ing [+ obj]

1 : to give (something) to (someone) for a period of time : LEND • He loaned his car to me. = He loaned me his car. [=I borrowed his car] • The National Gallery has been kind enough to loan this painting to our museum. — sometimes + out • The National Gallery loaned out the painting to another museum.

2 chiefly US : to give (money) to (someone) who agrees to pay it back in the future : LEND • His mother loaned him the money to buy a new car. • Can you loan me $20?

loan-er /'ləʊnə/ noun, pl -ers [count] US : something (such as a car) that is loaned to someone as a replacement for something that is being repaired • The car he's driving is a loaner. His own car was damaged in an accident.

loan shark noun, pl ~ sharks [count] disapproving : someone who lends money to people and charges a very high rate of interest

— loan-shark-ing /'ləʊn,ʃɑːkɪŋ/ noun [noncount]

loath /'ləʊθ/ also loathe /'ləʊð/ or loth /'ləʊθ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not wanting or willing to do something • She was loath to admit her mistakes. • He was loath to reveal his secrets. [=he did not want to reveal his secrets]

loathe /'ləʊð/ verb loathes; loathed; loath-ing [+ obj] : to hate (someone or something) very much • She loathed him. • They were rivals who truly/bitterly loathed each other. • I loathe having to do this. • It was a habit his wife loathed.

loathing noun [noncount] : a very strong feeling of hatred or disgust • She expressed her intense loathing of/for his hypocrisy. • She regarded his hypocrisy with loathing.

loath-some /'ləʊθsəm/ adj [more ~; most ~] : causing feelings of hatred or disgust : very bad • loathsome behavior • a loathsome hypocrite

loaves plural of ¹LOAF

lob /'lə:b/ verb lobs; lobbed; lob-bing [+ obj] : to hit, throw, or kick (something, such as a ball) so that it goes through the air in a high curving path • She lobbed a throw to the pitcher. • The soldier lobbed a grenade into the bunker. • He lobbed the ball over his opponent's head. — sometimes used figuratively • The reporters lobbed some easy questions at/to her. [=they asked her some questions that were easily answered]

— lob noun, pl lobs [count] • He hit a lob over my head.

¹lob-by /'lə:bi/ noun, pl -bies [count]

1 : a large open area inside and near the entrance of a public building (such as a hotel or theater) • a hotel lobby • I'll meet you in the lobby after the show.

2 : an organized group of people who work together to influence government decisions that relate to a particular industry, issue, etc. • the gun/tobacco lobby • The proposed new law is supported/opposed by the oil lobby.

²lobby verb -bies; -bied; -by-ing

1 : to try to influence government officials to make decisions for or against something [no obj] an organization that has been lobbying for reform of the tax laws • The health-care industry has lobbied against the proposal. [+ obj] an organization that has been lobbying Congress for reform of the tax laws — often followed by to + verb • They were lobbying Congress to reform the tax laws.

2 : to try to get something you want by talking to the people who make decisions [no obj] She has begun lobbying for an interview. [=trying to get an interview] • a player who has lobbied hard to be included in the team's starting lineup [+ obj] I lobbied our company for a new computer.

— lob-by-ist /'lɑ:bɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count] • She was hired as a lobbyist for an oil company.

lobe /'ləʊb/ noun, pl lobes [count]

1 : a curved or rounded part of something (such as a leaf or a part of the body) • the frontal lobe of the brain

2 : EARLOBE

— lobed /'ləʊbd/ adj • deeply lobed leaves lo-bot-o-my /lou'bɑ:təmi/ noun, pl -mies [count] medical

: an operation in which part of the brain is cut in order to treat some mental disorders

— lo-bot-o-mize /lou'bɑ:təmaɪz/ verb -miz-es; -mized; -miz-ing [+ obj] • The patient was lobotomized.

lob-ster /'lɑ:bstə/ noun, pl -sters

1 [count] : an ocean animal that has a long body, a hard shell, and a pair of large claws and that is caught for food — see color picture on page C8

2 [noncount] : the meat of the lobster eaten as food • I had lobster for dinner.

lobster pot noun, pl ~ pots [count] : a trap for catching lobsters

¹lo-cal /'ləʊkəl/ adj

1 a : relating to or occurring in a particular area, city, or town • local news • a local custom • Are you making a local (telephone) call or a long-distance one? • a local newspaper • local and state roads b : located or living nearby • We had dinner at a local restaurant. • The police have arrested a local man for the crime. • This is a local shop for local people: we don't get many outsiders here.

2 of a bus or train : making all the stops on a route • She took the local bus. — compare EXPRESS

3 : involving or affecting only a small area of the body • a local infection • local anesthesia

— lo-cal-ly adv • locally grown corn • The restaurant is known locally for its hamburgers. • Do you live locally? [=in this area]

²local noun, pl locals [count]

1 : a person who lives in a particular area, city, or town : a local person — usually plural • The restaurant is popular with (the) locals.

2 : a train or bus that makes all of the stops along its route — compare EXPRESS

3 US : a local part of a labor union • He's the president of the union local at the factory.

4 Brit, informal : a pub that is near the place where you live : a local pub • my mates down at the local

local area network noun, pl ~ -works [count] computers

: a network that allows the computers in a small area (such as an office) to share equipment (such as printers) and data — called also LAN local authority noun, pl ~ -ties [count] Brit : an organization that is in charge of the public services for a community local color (US) or Brit local colour noun [noncount] : interesting information about a particular place and about the people who live there that is included in a story, movie, etc. • a writer who uses local color in his stories

lo-cale /lou'kæl, Brit ləu'kɑ:l/ noun, pl -cales [count] : the place where something happens • They chose a tropical island as the locale for their wedding. : the place where a story happens in a movie, book, etc. • the film's locale [=setting] • the locale of the story

local government noun, pl ~ -ments [count, noncount] : the government that controls and makes decisions for a local area (such as a town, city, or county)

lo-cal-i-ty /lou'kæləti/ noun, pl -ties [count] : a particular place or area • The plant has only been found in one locality. • a locality with high housing prices

lo-cal-ize also Brit lo-cal-ise /'ləʊkəlaɪz/ verb -iz-es; -ized; -iz-ing [+ obj]

1 : to keep (something) within a limited area : to prevent the spread of (something) • Doctors are trying to localize the infection by using antibiotics.

2 : to find or identify the location of (something) • The computer technician was able to localize the fault quickly.

— lo-cal-i-za-tion also Brit lo-cal-i-sa-tion /,ləʊkələ'zeɪʃən, Brit ,ləʊkə,lai'zeɪʃən/ noun [noncount] localized also Brit localised adj [more ~; most ~] : occurring only within a small area • The storm has caused localized flooding. • a localized infection local time noun [noncount] : the time in a particular part of the world • We'll be arriving in New York at 10:45 local time. [=it will be 10:45 in New York when we arrive]

lo-cate /'ləʊ,keɪt, ləu'keɪt/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing

1 [+ obj] : to find the place or position of (something or someone) • We tried to locate the border of the property. • Can you locate your town on the map? • The missing boy was located by police in the woods. • The mechanic is still trying to locate the source of the problem. • Reporters have been unable to locate the mayor for his comments.

2 a [+ obj] : to put (something or someone) in a particular place • The company chose to locate its factory near the airport. • The guard located [=stationed, positioned] himself by the back door. b [no obj] US : to make an area, city, etc., your home or the place where your business operates • The company located near the airport. • His parents located in Ohio. c ♦ Something or someone that is located in a specified place is in or at that place. • The bathroom is located upstairs. • The company's factory is located [=situated] near the airport. • He was working in Chicago for many years, but he is currently located in New York. • The restaurant is conveniently located just a few minutes from my house.

lo-ca-tion /lou'keɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions

1 [count] : a place or position • This is a lovely location for a house. • The store has a new location. • The company is moving its factory to a different location. • Radar established the precise location of the aircraft.

2 : a place outside a studio where a movie is filmed [count] All of his movies feature lavish sets and exotic locations. [noncount] The picture was filmed on location in the desert.

3 [noncount] : the act of finding where something or someone is : the act of locating something or someone • Fog made location of the harbor difficult.

loch /'lɑ:k/ noun, pl lochs [count] Scotland : a lake or a part of the sea that is almost surrounded by land — used in names • Loch Lomond • Loch Ness

loci plural of LOCUS

¹lock /'lɑ:k/ noun, pl locks

1 [count] : a device that keeps something (such as a door, window, or box) from being opened and that is usually opened by using a key • We had no key so we had to break the lock to open the door. • The thief used a wire to pick the lock. — see also COMBINATION LOCK, PADLOCK

2 [count] : an area in a canal or river that has gates at each end which are opened and closed to control the level of the water in different sections of the canal or river as boats move through it

3 [count] : a method of holding someone so that the person being held cannot move • a leg lock — see also HEADLOCK

4 US, informal a [singular] : complete control of something • He appears to have a lock on the nomination for governor. [=he appears to be sure of getting the nomination for governor] • He has been able to get a lock on the nomination. • There seems to be no danger that the company will lose its lock on the industry. b [count] : someone or something that is certain to have or do something — usually singular • He's a lock for the nomination. = He's a lock to get the nomination. [=he is certain to get the nomination] • The team is a lock to win the championship. c [count] : something that is certain to happen — usually singular • It looks like his nomination is a lock.

5 [count, noncount] Brit : the extent to which the front wheels of a vehicle can be turned • a car on full lock [=a car with its wheels turned as far as possible] lock, stock, and barrel : including everything : wholly or completely • She gave her friend everything she owned, lock, stock, and barrel, and moved away. • He insisted that he be given control of the business, lock, stock, and barrel.

under lock and key : in a room, box, etc., that is locked •
 The jewels are kept under lock and key. • The prisoner is being kept/held under lock and key.

— compare ³LOCK

²lock verb locks; locked; lock-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to fasten (something) with a lock • They locked the door when they left and unlocked it when they returned. • She locked the bicycle to the railing with a chain. • The door was locked. b [+ obj] : to fasten the door, lid, etc., of (something) with a lock • He forgot to lock the car. • They locked the box (shut) with a padlock. • a locked room — often + up • She locked up the house. c [no obj] : to become fastened with a lock • The door locked behind him. [=after he went through it] • The car locks automatically when you start the engine.

2 a [no obj] : to become fixed in one position • The wheels/brakes locked and the car skidded off the road. • Their eyes locked. [=they looked directly at each other without looking away] b [+ obj] : to hold (someone or something) in a fixed position • He locked her in his arms. = He locked her in a tight/close embrace. [=he embraced her tightly/closely] • They were locked in each other's arms. • He locked his fingers around her wrist [=he gripped her wrist very tightly] and refused to let go. • She locked her hands around the steering wheel. • Protesters locked [=linked] arms across the forest road. • His eyes were locked on her as she walked across the room. [=he was looking at her and at nothing else] • Repeat the exercise, being careful not to lock your knees. [=being careful not to hold your knees in a fully extended position] — often used figuratively • They were locked in a contract dispute. • two armies locked in a terrible struggle/fight • She was locked [=trapped] in a loveless marriage.

3 [+ obj] computers : to make (a file, database, etc.) impossible for others to open or change • lock a database • The file is locked for editing.

lock away [phrasal verb] 1 lock (something) away or lock away (something) : to put (something) in a locked container, place, etc. • The jewelry was locked away [=locked up] in a cabinet. 2 lock (someone) away or lock away (someone) : to put (someone) in a locked place (such as a prison) for a long period of time • lock away [=lock up] a criminal • The state locked their sister away in a psychiatric hospital. 3 lock (yourself) away : to stay in a room or place by yourself for a long period of time • He locked himself away in his room while he studied. = He was locked away in his room while he studied.

lock horns : to disagree about how something should be done : to fight or argue • They've locked horns (with each other) over this issue a number of times.

lock in [phrasal verb] 1 lock (someone or something) in : to put or keep (someone or something) in a locked place, room, etc. • She locked her brother in the bathroom. • They locked the jewels in a safe. • They threatened to lock him in jail. • They pushed him into the room and locked him in. 2 lock (something) in or lock in (something) : to do something that makes you sure to get (something that could change, such as a good price, an interest rate, etc.) • If you sign the contract today, you can lock in this low interest rate before it goes any higher.

lock on/onto [phrasal verb] lock on/onto (something) : to use electronic methods to find (a target) • The pilot locked onto the ship and fired a missile. • The missile locked on the target.

lock out [phrasal verb] lock (someone) out or lock out (someone) 1 : to prevent (someone) from entering a place, car, etc., by locking it • I locked myself out accidentally. — often + of • She locked her husband out of the house. 2 : to prevent (workers) from going to work in order to force an agreement • The company has threatened to lock out its factory workers unless they agree to a new contract. — see also LOCKOUT

lock up [phrasal verb] 1 : to lock all of the doors of a building before leaving it • The last employee to leave the store at night has to lock up. 2 lock (something) up or lock up (something) a : to put (something) in a locked container, room, etc. • The money is locked up [=locked away] in a safe. — sometimes used figuratively • Most of his money is locked up in real estate. [=most of his money is not easily available because it is invested in real estate] b chiefly US : to make control or achievement of (something) certain • The team has first place locked up. [=the team is certain of getting first place] • He was unable to lock up enough states to win the election. — see also ²LOCK 1b (above) 3 lock (someone) up or lock up (someone) : to put (someone) in a locked place (such as a prison) for a long period of time • The police should lock him up. [=lock him away] — see also LOCKUP

³lock noun, pl locks

1 [count] : a small bunch of hair • She was nervously tugging on a lock of her hair. — see also FORELOCK

2 locks [plural] literary + humorous : a person's hair • I love her curly locks. [=her curly hair] • her long, flowing locks • golden locks — see also DREADLOCKS

— compare ¹LOCK

lock·er /'lɑ:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : a cupboard or cabinet that has a door which can be locked and that is used to store personal items (such as books, clothes, shoes, etc.) • a school locker — see also FOOTLOCKER

2 US : a cold room in which fresh or frozen foods are stored • a meat locker

locker room noun, pl ~ rooms [count] : a room in a school, sports stadium, etc., for changing clothes and for storing clothes and equipment in lockers — called also (Brit) changing room

lock·er·room /'lɑ:kə,ru:m/ adj, always used before a noun, chiefly US : of, relating to, or suitable to a locker room • the locker-room entrance • locker-room language [=the kind of rough or rude language that is used by athletes in a locker room] • locker-room humor

lock·et /'lɑ:kət/ noun, pl -ets [count] : a small case that is usually worn on a chain around a person's neck • She kept her husband's picture in her locket. — see color picture on page C11

lock·jaw /'lɑ:k,dʒɑ:/ noun [noncount] informal : TETANUS

lock·out /'lɑ:k,aut/ noun, pl -outs [count] : a situation in which an employer tries to force workers to accept certain conditions by refusing to let them come to work until those conditions are accepted — see also lock out at ²LOCK

lock·smith /'lɑ:k,smɪθ/ noun, pl -smiths [count] : a person whose job is to make and repair locks lock·step /'lɑ:k,step/ noun [noncount] : a way of marching in which people follow each other very closely in lockstep chiefly US : in a way that very closely matches someone or something else • Drug use and crime grew in lockstep. [=they grew at the same time and at the same rate] • He refused to march in lockstep with [=to conform with] others in the party.

lock·up /'lɑ:k,ʌp/ noun, pl -ups [count]

1 : a place where prisoners are kept : JAIL • a police station lockup — see also lock up at ²LOCK

2 Brit : a garage (sense 1) that is rented out — called also lockup garage

lo·co /'loukou/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly US, informal : CRAZY • The crowd went loco when she walked out on the stage. • He's not just weird, he's positively loco. — see also IN LOCO PARENTIS lo·co·mo·tion /,loukə'mouʃən/ noun [noncount] technical : the act or power of moving from place to place • studying the locomotion of spiders [=studying how spiders move] • Walking is one form of locomotion.

¹lo·co·mo·tive /,loukə'moutiv/ noun, pl -tives [count] : the vehicle that produces the power that pulls a train

²locomotive adj [more ~; most ~] technical : of or relating to movement from place to place : of or relating to locomotion • the locomotive ability of spiders • locomotive power

lo·cum /'loukəm/ noun, pl -cums [count] chiefly Brit : someone (such as a priest or doctor) who does the work of another person who is away for a short time lo·cus /'loukəs/ noun, pl lo·ci /'lou,ʃaɪ/ [count] formal : a central or main place where something happens or is found • The area became a locus of resistance to the government.

lo·cust /'loukəst/ noun, pl -cysts [count] : a type of grasshopper that travels in very large groups and that can cause great destruction by eating crops • a swarm of locusts lo·cu·tion /lou'kju:ʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count] technical : a particular way of using words : a word or phrase • We were taught to avoid certain locutions when speaking.

lode /'loud/ noun, pl lodes [count] : an amount of a mineral (such as gold or silver) that fills a crack or space in rock — often used figuratively • In her books she mines the seemingly endless lode of her personal experiences. — see also MOTHER LODE lode·star /'ləʊd, stɑː/ noun, pl -stars [count] formal : something or someone that leads or guides a person or group of people • The idea of public service has been a lodestar for her throughout her life.

lode·stone /'ləʊd, stəʊn/ noun, pl -stones [count] : a magnetic rock — sometimes used figuratively • The city is a lodestone [=magnet] for aspiring actors and actresses.

¹lodge /'ləʊdʒ/ verb lodg-es; lodged; lodg-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to provide (someone) with a place to stay for a short period of time • The workers were lodged in temporary camps. • The refugees needed to be lodged and fed. b [no obj] : to stay at a place for a short period of time • We lodged at the resort. — often + with • The guests lodged with their hosts overnight.

2 : to become stuck or fixed in a specified place or position [no obj] The bullet lodged in his brain. [+ obj] The bullet lodged itself in his brain. — often used as (be) lodged • The bullet was lodged in his brain. • A fish bone got/became lodged in her throat. — often used figuratively • a scene that is lodged in my memory [=a scene that I cannot forget]

3 [+ obj] : to present (something, such as a complaint) to someone so that it can be considered, dealt with, etc. : FILE • The group has lodged a grievance. — often + against • She lodged a complaint against her landlord in court. • He disputes the charges that have been lodged against him.

4 [+ obj] chiefly Brit : to place (something, such as money) in something or with someone so that it can be kept safe • The funds were lodged in an offshore account. • The funds were lodged with an offshore bank.

²lodge noun, pl lodges [count]

1 : a house or hotel in the country or mountains for people who are doing some outdoor activity • a hunting/ski lodge

2 : the place where a beaver lives • a beaver/beaver's lodge

3 a : a local group that is part of a larger organization • He's a member of a Masonic lodge. b : a meeting place for the members of such a group • an annual dinner at the lodge

4 a chiefly Brit : a small house used by a person who works on an estate • the gamekeeper's lodge b Brit : a shelter or room for the use of a worker (such as a gatekeeper, doorkeeper, or janitor) at a college • Ask for Professor Jones at the porter's lodge. c Brit : the official residence of the head of a college that is part of a British university and especially Cambridge University • the Master's Lodge

lodg·er /'ləʊdʒə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who rents a room in another person's house lodging noun, pl -ings : a place where a person (such as a traveler) can stay for usually a short period of time : a place to sleep [noncount] There is gas, food, and lodging at the next highway exit. • (Brit) He worked in the kitchen in return for board and lodging. [= (US) room and board] [count] — usually plural • luxury lodgings • It can be difficult to find inexpensive lodgings in the city. • He found lodgings with a family near the university.

lodging house noun, pl ~ houses [count] chiefly Brit, old-fashioned : a house with rooms that can be rented : ROOMING HOUSE

¹loft /'ləʊft/ noun, pl lofts [count]

1 : a room or space that is just below the roof of a building and that is often used to store things • The kids' bedroom has a loft.

2 : a high section of seats in a church or hall • the choir loft

3 chiefly US a : an upper floor of a warehouse or business building especially when it is not divided by walls b : an apartment made on the upper floor of a former warehouse or business building • He rents a converted loft.

4 : HAYLOFT

²loft verb lofts; loft-ed; loft-ing [+ obj] : to hit or throw (something, such as a ball) so that it rises high in the air • He lofted a home run into the stands. • The explosion lofted dust high into the air.

lofty /'ləʊfti/ adj loft-i-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 literary : rising to a great height : very tall and impressive • lofty redwood trees • lofty buildings synonyms see ¹HIGH

2 : very high and good : deserving to be admired • He set lofty goals for himself as a teacher. • lofty ideals/standards

3 : showing the insulting attitude of people who think that they are better, smarter, or more important than other people • The professor spoke with a lofty [=haughty] air. • She showed a lofty disregard for their objections.

— loft-i-ly /'ləʊftəli/ adv • She loftily dismissed their objections. — loft-i-ness /'ləʊftinəs/ noun [noncount]

¹log /'ləʊg/ noun, pl logs [count]

1 a : a long, heavy section of a tree that has fallen or been cut down • a log cabin [=a cabin made from logs] b : a thick piece of wood • Throw another log on the fire.

2 a : the record of travel by a ship or airplane • the captain's log • keep a log b : a record of performance, events, or activities • The mechanic kept a log showing when repairs were done on the truck. • a computer log

as easy as falling off a log see ¹EASY

sleep like a log see ¹SLEEP

— compare ³LOG

²log verb logs; logged; log-ging

1 : to cut down trees in an area for wood [+ obj] Thousands of trees have been logged in this area. • The forest has been heavily logged. [no obj] The company has been logging in this area for many years.

2 [+ obj] : to make an official record of (something) • Part of his job is to log all deliveries. • log incoming phone calls

3 [+ obj] a : to do something for (a specified distance or time) • Truck drivers log thousands of miles every week. • She has only been flying for a few months, but she has already logged more than 80 hours. b chiefly US : to succeed in getting or achieving (something, such as a record of wins) • a pitcher who has logged more than a hundred victories log off or log out [phrasal verb] computers : to end the connection of a computer to a network or system • Remember to log off when you're finished.

log on or log in [phrasal verb] computers : to start the connection of a computer to a network or system — often + to • logged on to the Internet • You need a password to log in (to the network).

³log noun, pl logs [count] : LOGARITHM — compare ¹LOG

lo·gan·ber·ry /'ləʊgən,beri, Brit 'ləʊgənberi/ noun, pl -ries [count] : a red berry that is sweet and juicy; also : the plant that loganberries grow on log·a·rithm /'ləʊgə,riðəm/ noun, pl -rithms [count] mathematics : a number that shows how many times a base number (such as ten) is multiplied by itself to produce a third number (such as 100)

— log-a-rith-mic /,ləʊgə'riðmɪk/ adj — log-a-rith-mi-cal-ly /,ləʊgə'riðmɪkli/ adv

log·book /'ləʊg,bʊk/ noun, pl -books [count] : a written record of activity, events, or travel : LOG • a pilot's logbook log·ger /'ləʊgə/ noun, pl -gers [count] : someone whose job is to cut down trees for wood log·ger·heads /'ləʊgə,hedz/ noun

at loggerheads : in a state of strong disagreement • The two nations are at loggerheads (with each other) over agricultural issues.

log·gia /'ləʊdʒiə/ noun, pl -gias [count] : an area on the side of a building that has a roof and that is open on one side

log·ic /'ləʊdʒɪk/ noun

1 a : a proper or reasonable way of thinking about or understanding something [noncount] If you just use a little logic, you'll see I'm right. • the rules of logic • There's no logic in/to your reasoning. • I can't see the logic in always worrying about the future. = Where's the logic in always worrying about the future? • There's some logic to/in what he says. • She kept the dog, against all logic, after it attacked her. [=her decision to keep the dog was not logical/sensible] • Her decision defies logic. [=her decision makes no sense; her decision is not logical] [singular] There's a certain logic in/to what he says. b [noncount] : a particular way of thinking about something • I could not understand her logic in keeping the dog. [=I could not understand her reason for keeping the dog] • I fail to see your logic. = I fail to see the logic behind/of your reasoning. • faulty logic

2 [noncount] : the science that studies the formal processes used in thinking and reasoning • a professor of logic — see also FUZZY LOGIC

3 [noncount] : the way facts or events follow or relate to each other • The revolution proceeded according to its own logic. • the logic of the situation

4 [noncount] technical : the arrangement of circuits in a computer

log·i·cal /'ləʊdʒɪkəl/ adj

1 [more ~; most ~] : agreeing with the rules of logic : sensible or reasonable • a logical argument/conclusion/decision • Since she helped us before, it's logical to assume that she'll help us again. • He seems to be a logical choice for the job. • She wasn't able to give me a logical explanation for her behavior. • a logical thinker

2 : of or relating to the formal processes used in thinking and reasoning • logical principles/argumentation

– log-i-cal-ly /'lɑ:dʒɪkli/ adv • His argument doesn't proceed logically. • He couldn't explain his decision logically. • Since she helped us before, we can logically assume that she'll help us again.

lo-gi-cian /lou'dʒɪʃən/ noun, pl -cians [count] : someone who is skilled or trained in the formal processes used in thinking and reasoning lo-gis-tics /lou'dʒɪstɪks/ noun [plural] : the things that must be done to plan and organize a complicated activity or event that involves many people • My mother was in charge of the logistics of our camping trip. • Logistics are the key to a successful military campaign. • the logistics of a political campaign — sometimes used with a singular verb • Logistics is the key to a successful military campaign.

– lo-gis-tic /lou'dʒɪstɪk/ or lo-gis-ti-cal /lou'dʒɪstɪkəl/ adj • The festival was a logistical nightmare. [=planning the details of the festival was extremely difficult]

log-jam /'lɑ:g,dʒæm/ noun, pl -jams [count]

1 : a situation in which a large number of logs floating down a river become tangled with each other so that further movement is not possible

2 : a situation in which no progress seems possible • He was called in to try to break the logjam in the negotiations.

logo /'louɡou/ noun, pl log-os [count] : a symbol that is used to identify a company and that appears on its products • T-shirts with corporate logos

lo-gy /'louɡi/ adj lo-gi-er; -est US, informal : not able to think or move normally because of being tired, sick, etc. • feeling logy [=groggy]

– logy noun combining form

1 : area of knowledge : theory : science • theology • biology • musicology • psychology

2 : speech or writing • trilogy

loin /'loɪn/ noun, pl loins

1 a [count] : an area on the back of an animal's body near the tail • a horse's loins b [count, noncount] : meat from this area • pork loin

2 loins [plural] : the area of a person's body that includes the sexual organs • There was a towel wrapped around his loins.
✧ Your child or children can be referred to as the fruit of your loins. A child can be described as springing/coming from the loins of his or her parents. These phrases are usually used in a humorous way.

gird (up) your loins : to prepare yourself for a fight or for some difficult task • The company is girding its loins for what could be a long strike.

loin-cloth /'loɪn,kla:θ/ noun, pl -cloths [count] : a piece of cloth worn to cover the sexual organs especially by men in very hot parts of the world loi-ter /'loɪtə/ verb -ters; -tered; -ter-ing [no obj] : to remain in an area when you do not have a particular reason to be there • Loitering is prohibited outside the theaters. • There was a group of teenagers loitering (around) [=hanging around] in the parking lot.

– loi-ter-er /'loɪtəɾə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

LOL abbr laugh(ing) out loud — used on the Internet, in e-mail, etc., to indicate that something is considered very funny

loll /'lɑ:l/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition lolls; lolled; loll-ing [no obj]

1 : to hang or bend loosely • a dog with its tongue lolling out • Her head was lolling to one side.

2 : to lie or sit in a relaxed or lazy manner • She was lolling by the pool. • He *loll*ed about/around in his pajamas all day.

lol-li-pop or lol-ly-pop /'lɑ:li,pɑ:p/ noun, pl -pops [count] : a round piece of hard candy on the end of a stick

lol-ly /'lɑ:li/ noun, pl lol-lies

1 [count] a chiefly Brit : LOLLIPOP b Brit : ICE LOLLY

2 [noncount] Brit, old-fashioned slang : MONEY

lol-ly-gag /'lɑ:li,gæg/ verb -gags; -gagged; -gag-ging [no obj] US, informal : to spend time doing things that are not useful or serious : to fool around and waste time • He was kicked off the team for lollygagging during practice. • Stop lollygagging around/about and get to work!

– lol-ly-gag-ger noun, pl -gers [count]

lo mein /'lou'mein/ noun [noncount] : a combination of soft noodles, vegetables, and usually meat or shrimp that is served in Chinese restaurants in the U.S. — compare CHOW MEIN

lone /'loun/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : standing, acting, or being alone • a lone traveler [=a traveler who is alone] • a lone gunman • He was the lone [=only, sole] official to vote against the plan. • a lone [=solitary] tree on the hill — see also LONE WOLF

2 Brit : not having a partner (such as a husband or wife) • a lone [=single] parent/father/mother lone-ly /'lounli/ adj lone-li-er; -est [also more ~; most ~]

1 : sad from being apart from other people • He was/felt lonely without his wife and children. • a lonely old man • feeling lonely • She was a lonely child with few friends.

2 : causing sad feelings that come from being apart from other people • It was lonely living out in the country. • She spent too many lonely nights at home. • She had a lonely childhood. • It's lonely at the top. [=powerful and successful people often have few friends]

3 : not visited by or traveled on by many people • a lonely spot in the woods • a lonely stretch of road

– lone-li-ness /'lounlinəs/ noun [noncount]

lonely hearts adj, always used before a noun : intended for lonely people who want to meet someone they can have a romantic or friendly relationship with • a lonely hearts club • the lonely hearts section of the newspaper lon-er /'lounə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a person who is often alone or who likes to be alone • The killer was a loner with no friends.

lone-some /'lounsəm/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly US

1 : sad from being apart from other people : LONELY • He was/felt lonesome for his family.

2 : causing sad feelings that come from being apart from other people : LONELY • The empty house seemed so lonesome.

3 : not visited by or traveled on by many people : LONELY • a lonesome highway • the lonesome frontier

(all) by your lonesome informal : without anyone else : entirely alone • He sat by his lonesome [=by himself] at the dinner table. • She made the cake all by her lonesome.

lone wolf noun, pl ~ wolves [count] : someone who likes to act, live, or work alone : LONER • He had the reputation of being a lone wolf in high school.

long /'lɑ:n/ adj lon-ger /'lɑ:ngə/; long-est /'lɑ:ngəst/

1 a : extending a great distance from one end to the other end : not short • long hair • long legs • a long corridor • The bridge is the longest in the world. • We drove a long distance. • the long/longer side of the building • The pants are a little (too) long for me. [=they should be shorter in order to fit me]

b : extending a specified distance : having a specified length • one meter long • The whale was 50 feet long. • "How long was the race?" "The race was five miles long."

2 a : lasting or continuing for a great amount of time • a long pause/wait • They've had a long and happy marriage. • She finds it hard to sit still for long periods of time. • It's a long movie. • The company has a long tradition of serving its customers well. • I've known them for a long time. [=many years] • I haven't seen them for/in a (very) long time. = (US) I haven't seen them for the longest time. • The changes took a long time to come. = The changes were long in coming. [=the changes did not happen quickly] • It happened a long time ago. [=far in the past; not at all recently] • The test should take an hour at the longest. [=it should not be longer than an hour] • She is used to working long hours. [=she often works for many hours at a time] • He has a very long memory. [=he remembers things that happened far in the past] • someone with long experience in the UN [=someone who has been in the UN many years] • She gave him a long look. [=she looked at him for many seconds] • It's been a long day. [=a difficult day in which time seems to go by slowly] • We took Friday off and went to the coast for a long weekend. [=a weekend with an extra day added to it] b : lasting or continuing for a specified amount of time • The movie is three hours long. [=it lasts three hours] • A day is 24 hours long. — see also DAY-LONG, MONTHLONG, WEEKLONG

3 a : having many pages, items, etc. • a long book/essay/list • The team has had a long streak of wins. b : having a specified number of pages, items, etc. • The book is 300 pages long. • The team's winning streak is 12 games long.

4 of clothing : covering all or most of the arms or legs • a shirt with long sleeves • long pants • a long skirt

5 sports : going beyond the area of play • His second serve was long, so he lost the point.

6 linguistics, of a vowel — used to identify certain vowel sounds in English • long and short vowels • the long "a" in "make" • the long "e" in "sweet" • the long "i" in "ice" • the long "u" in "use" — compare ¹SHORT 8

7 of someone's face : showing sadness • Why the long face? [=you look sad; why are you sad?]

a long way : a great distance • He grew up a long way from here. • Their house is a long way (away) from here. — often used figuratively in various phrases • We've done a lot of work, but we have a long way to go. [=we still have a lot of work to do] • These changes will go a long way toward/towards making the system more efficient. [=these changes will do a lot to make the system more efficient] • The company has really come a long way [=the company has made a lot of progress] since/from its humble beginnings. • These problems go back a long way. [=these problems have existed for a long time] • She and her business partner go back a long way (together). [=she and her business partner have known each other for a long time] as long as someone's arm informal : very long : having many pages, items, etc. • I had a list of things to do that was as long as your/my arm.

at long last see ⁵LAST

how long is a piece of string see ¹STRING

long in the tooth see TOOTH long on : having or providing a good amount of (something) • He was long on criticism [=he said many critical things] but short on useful advice.

long time no see informal — used as a greeting for someone you have not seen for a long time • Well hello there! Long time no see!

not by a long chalk see ¹CHALK not long for this world see ¹WORLD

take the long view see ¹VIEW

the long arm of the law see ¹ARM

²long adv longer; longest

1 : for or during a long time : for many years, days, hours, etc. • The extra food she brought did not last long. • Will he be away (very) long? • They'll have to wait a bit longer. • The mall has long been a popular hangout for teenagers. • They have long been devoted friends. • It's been so long since we've seen each other. • It's been much too long since we've seen each other. • That meeting was way too long. • She's been away so long. [=for such a long time] • We had to leave long before we were ready to go. • Long live the King/Queen! [=may the King/Queen live for many years] — sometimes used in combination • her long-awaited new novel • a long-anticipated announcement

2 : for a specified period of time • The children played all day long. [=throughout the day] • We talked all night long. • all summer/week long

3 : at a time far before or after a specified moment or event • events that occurred long before the discovery of America • He remembered that day long after it had faded from her memory. • The book wasn't published until long after she had died. • He went to bed at 10 o'clock. Not long after/afterward, the phone rang.

4 : for a great distance • The quarterback threw the ball long.
as long as or so long as 1 : SINCE • As long as I'm here, we may as well begin. • As long as you're up, would you mind getting me a drink? • So long as you feel that way I'll leave. 2 : IF • I'll go with you as long as you'll drive. • They can do anything they want, so long as they follow the rules. • As long as she's allowed to go first, she's happy. 3 : during the time that : WHILE • The economy will remain strong as long as there are jobs to go around.

be long — used to ask how much time will be required or to say that something will take only a short amount of time or will happen soon • "Will you be long?" "No, I'll be ready soon." • I'm going out now, but I won't be long. [=I will return soon] • "Have you finished yet?" "No, but I won't be long." [=I will finish soon] • "Will you be much longer?" "No, I'm almost ready." • We've been waiting since morning, but it won't be long now. [=what we have been waiting for will happen/come soon] • It can't be much longer before they give up. [=they will probably give up soon] long ago : at a time in the distant past • events that happened long ago • The announcement was made not long ago. [=the announcement was made recently] • It wasn't so/very long ago that this place was empty field.

long gone : having ended, died, disappeared, etc., at a distant time in the past • Those buildings are long gone now.

long since : at a time in the distant past : long ago • questions that have long since been answered [=questions that were answered long ago] • an animal that has long since disappeared from this region • I long since gave up trying to change her mind.

no longer or not any longer — used to say that something that was once true or possible is not now true or possible • They could wait no longer. = They couldn't wait any longer. [=it was not possible for them to continue waiting] • I can no longer afford the car. [=I could afford the car at some time in the past but I cannot afford it now]

so long informal : ¹GOODBYE • So long (for now)! Have a safe journey home! • She said so long to her friends and family and headed off to college. — sometimes used figuratively • the time of year when we say so long to winter coats [=when we stop wearing winter coats] take long : to require a large amount of time • It won't take long to make dinner. • This is taking longer than I thought (it would).

³long noun

before long : in a short amount of time : SOON • They said they would be finished before long. • Before long the light rain had turned into a heavy downpour. • We expect them to arrive before long. [=before much longer]

for long : for many years, days, hours, etc. : for a long time • I haven't known him for long. • Her life did not remain peaceful for long. • He won't be away for (very) long. [=for (very) much longer] • He didn't work here for long. • She's been away for so long. [=for such a long time]

the long and (the) short of it — used when making a statement that is brief and that tells someone only the most important parts of something • I could give you a lot of reasons for my decision, but the long and short of it is that I just don't want to go.

⁴long verb longs; longed; long-ing [no obj] : to feel a strong desire or wish for something or to do something • We all long for peace. = We all long to live in peace. • I'm longing for the time when I will see you again. = I'm longing to see you again. = How I long to see you again! • He began to feel that the longed-for day of her return would never come.

synonyms see YEARN

long. abbr longitude

long ball noun, pl ~ balls [count] baseball : HOME RUN • a pitcher who has given up a lot of long balls • a batter known for hitting the long ball [=for hitting many home runs]

long-bow /'lɑːŋˌbəʊ/ noun, pl -bows [count] : a large wooden weapon (called a bow) that shot arrows and was used for hunting and fighting in the past

long-dis-tance /'lɑːŋˌdɪstəns/ adj

1 always used before a noun a : going or covering a great distance • long-distance trade routes • long-distance travel • long-distance roads • a long-distance runner b : involving people who are far apart • The two carried on a long-distance courtship/relationship/romance.

2 of a telephone call : connecting to a place that is far away • She made several long-distance (phone/telephone) calls. • Is this call long-distance? — opposite LOCAL — long-distance adv • She called her parents long-distance. [=she made a long-distance call to her parents]

— long distance noun [noncount] chiefly US • You have to pay more for long distance. [=to make long-distance telephone calls]

long division noun [noncount] mathematics : a way of dividing one number by another number that involves several steps which are written out • students learning to do long division long-drawn-out adj [more ~; most ~] : continuing for a long time or for too long • a long-drawn-out investigation • The two sides have been engaged in long-drawn-out [=protracted] discussions.

lon-gev-i-ty /lənˈdʒevəti/ noun [noncount]

1 a : long life : the fact of living for many years • His longevity was remarkable considering he had been so sick when he was a child. • The members of that family are famous for their longevity. [=for living to be very old] b : length of life • Better medical treatment has led to greater longevity. • a study of human longevity

2 : the length of time that something or someone lasts or continues • The longevity of a car's tires depends on how the car is driven. • She's a talented athlete, but many people have doubts about her longevity. [=about how long her athletic career will last] • They're trying to increase the product's longevity.

long green noun [noncount] US, old-fashioned slang : MONEY • was able to rustle up some long green in a hurry — often used with the • The band was raking in the long green.

long-hair /'lɑ:ŋ,heə/ noun, pl -hairs [count]

1 chiefly US, old-fashioned : a person (such as a hippie) who has long hair • Longhairs crowded into the music festival.

2 : a cat that has long fur — compare SHORTHAIR

— longhair adj, always used before a noun • longhair cats long-haired /'lɑ:ŋ'heəd/ adj : having long fur or hair • long-haired cats • a beautiful long-haired girl long-hand /'lɑ:ŋ'hænd/ noun [noncount] : writing that is done by using a pen or pencil rather than with a typewriter or computer • children learning (to do) longhand • She wrote the book in longhand. — compare SHORTHAND

long haul noun [noncount]

1 : a long journey or distance • Driving across the country would be a long haul.

2 chiefly US : a long period of time — usually used in the phrases for the long haul and over the long haul • It's going to be a tough project but we're in it for the long haul. [=we are prepared to work on the project until it is completed] • Will the company be able to succeed over the long haul?

— long-haul adj, always used before a noun • a long-haul flight

long-horn /'lɑ:ŋ,hɔ:n/ noun, pl -horns [count] : a type of cow that has long horns • a herd of longhorns • a Texas long-horn — often used before another noun • a longhorn bull/steer • longhorn cattle

¹long-ing /'lɑ:ŋɪŋ/ noun, pl -ings : a strong desire for something or someone [noncount] They looked with longing toward freedom. • She cast a look of longing at the shop window. [count] She never told anyone about her secret longings. — often + for • They were filled with a deep longing for peace. • He had/felt a longing for her. — often followed by to + verb • The refugees felt a deep longing to return home. • He had a longing to be with her.

²longing adj, always used before a noun : showing a strong desire for something or someone • She looked at the shop window with a longing gaze.

— long-ing-ly /'lɑ:ŋɪŋli/ adv • She gazed/looked longingly at the shop window.

long-ish /'lɑ:ŋɪʃ/ adj : somewhat long • She wore a longish coat/skirt. • He had longish black hair.

lon-gi-tude /'lɑ:ndʒə,tu:d, Brit 'lɒndʒə,tju:d/ noun, pl -tudes

1 : distance measured in degrees east or west from an imaginary line (called the prime meridian) that goes from the North Pole to the South Pole and that passes through Greenwich, England [noncount] a map of the world showing lines of latitude and longitude [count] calculating the longitudes of different places — compare LATITUDE 1a

2 [count] : an imaginary line that circles the Earth at a particular longitude • The regions are on roughly the same longitude. — compare LATITUDE 1b

lon-gi-tu-di-nal /,lɑ:ndʒə'tu:dənəl, Brit ,lɒndʒə'tju:dənəl/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : placed or going along the long side of something • The insect's body is black with yellow longitudinal stripes.

2 : of or relating to longitude • calculating the longitudinal position of a ship

3 : done by observing or examining a group of people or things over time to study how one or two particular things about them change • a longitudinal study of career aspirations among girls from 5 to 17

— lon-gi-tu-di-nal-ly adv

long johns /'lɑ:ŋ,dʒɑ:nz/ noun [plural] : underwear that covers your legs and that is worn in cold weather — called also (US) long underwear; see color picture on page C12 long jump noun

the long jump : an athletic event in which people compete by trying to jump as far as they can • He won a gold medal in the long jump. — sometimes used before another noun • a long jump competition • She set a long jump record at the meet. — called also (US) the broad jump

— long jumper noun, pl ~-ers [count]

long-last-ing /'lɑ:ŋ'læstɪŋ, Brit 'lɒŋ'lɑ:stɪŋ/ adj long-er-last-ing; long-est-last-ing [or more ~; most ~] : existing or continuing for a long time • a book that has long-lasting [=lasting, enduring] significance • The trip had a long-lasting effect on me.

long-life adj, always used before a noun

1 : made to last a long time • long-life batteries

2 Brit : having a substance added that allows something to remain fresh or good for a long time • long-life milk long-lived /'lɑ:ŋ'lɪvd/ adj long-er-lived; long-est-

lived [or more ~; most ~] : living or lasting for a long time • a long-lived woman, still vigorous in her 80s • The members of that family were all long-lived. • The redwood is a long-lived tree. • That fad was relatively/remarkably long-lived. — compare SHORT-LIVED long-lost /'lɑ:ŋ'lɑ:st/ adj, always used before a noun : lost a long time ago : not seen or found for many years • a long-lost masterpiece that has recently been rediscovered • He embraced his old friend like a long-lost brother.

long-play-ing record /'lɑ:ŋ'pleɪŋ-/ noun, pl ~ -cords [count] : LP long-range /'lɑ:ŋ'reɪndʒ/ adj, always used before a noun

1 : able to travel or be used over great distances • long-range bombers/missiles/rockets/weapons • a long-range radio

2 : involving a long period of time • long-range planning • long-range [=long-term] goals/trends • a long-range forecast

long run noun

the long run : a long period of time after the beginning of something • Invest for the long run [=the long term], not to see what you can earn in a few months. • Your solution may cause more problems over the long run. — usually used in the phrase in the long run • It may be our best option in the long run. [=when a greater amount of time has passed] • This deal will cost you more in the long run. [=in the long term] — compare SHORT RUN

— long-run adj, always used before a noun • long-run benefits [=benefits that will exist or continue over a long period of time]

long-shore-man /'lɑ:ŋ,ʃə:mən/ noun, pl -men /-mən/ [count] US : a person whose job is to load and unload ships at a port — called also stevedore, (US) dockworker, (Brit) docker

long shot noun, pl ~ shots [count]

1 : an attempt or effort that is not likely to be successful • I hope to double my profits, but I know that's a long shot.

2 chiefly US : a person or thing that is not likely to win something (such as a contest or race) • The horse was a long shot, but we bet on him anyway. • She always bets on long shots at the racetrack. • a political long shot by a long shot : by a great extent or degree : by far • It was the biggest problem we had—by a long shot.

not by a long shot : not at all • Our work isn't done yet, not by a long shot. [=we still have a lot more work to do]

long-sight-ed /'lɑ:ŋ'saɪtəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] Brit

1 : FARSIGHTED 1 • He needs reading glasses because he is long-sighted.

2 : FARSIGHTED 2 • long-sighted planning for the future

— long-sight-ed-ness noun [noncount]

long-stand-ing /'lɑ:ŋ'stændɪŋ/ adj : lasting or existing for a long time • It was a long-standing tradition for them to camp in the mountains for a week during the summer. • Some long-standing problems are finally being corrected. • their long-standing relationship long-suf-fer-ing /'lɑ:ŋ,sʌfərɪŋ/ adj : suffering for a long time without complaining : very patient during difficult times • his forgiving and long-suffering wife • When the Red Sox won the World Series, their long-suffering fans could finally celebrate.

long suit noun [singular] : something that a person does well : STRONG SUIT • Patience is not her long suit. [=she is not a patient person]

long term noun

the long term : a long period of time after the beginning of something • She is investing for the long term. [=the long run] • I think it's the better choice over the long term. — usually used in the phrase in the long term • an investment that should do well in the long term [=when a greater amount of time has passed] • These changes may improve profits now, but they are going to cost us money in the long term. [=in the long run] — compare SHORT TERM

long-term /'lɑ:ŋ'tɜ:m/ adj : lasting for, relating to, or involving a long period of time • The long-term effects of the medication are not known. • The company has a long-term plan/strategy for success. • His long-term memory is still okay, but his short-term memory is failing. [=he is still able to remember things that happened long ago but it is difficult for him to remember things that happened recently] • long-term care for the elderly • a long-term investment long-time /'lɑ:ŋ'taɪm/ adj, always used before a noun : having been something specified for many years • the longtime chairman of the committee • longtime residents of the neighborhood • her longtime boyfriend/editor/manager/partner • longtime rivals lon-gueur /lɑŋ'gø/ noun, pl -gueurs [count] literary : a boring part of something (such as a book or play) — usually plural • Though not without its longueurs, the opera came to life in the last act.

long underwear noun [noncount] US : LONG JOHNS long-wind-ed /lɑ:ŋ'wɪndəd/ adj : using too many words in speaking or writing • The teacher was known for his long-winded explanations. • a long-winded sermon/speech • a long-winded speaker

— long-wind-ed-ness noun [noncount]

loo /'lu:/ noun, pl loos [count] Brit, informal : TOILET loo-fah /'lu:fə/ noun, pl -fahs [count] : a rough sponge that is made from the dried fruit of a tropical plant and that people use to wash their bodies

1 look /'lʊk/ verb looks; looked; look-ing

1 always followed by an adverb or preposition [no obj] : to direct your eyes in a particular direction • He looked straight ahead and kept walking. • When you take a walk, look around you. • She smiled at me and then looked away. • He looked back the way he had come. • Look both ways before you cross the street. • When I finally reached the top I was afraid to look down. • She looked from one person to the next. • Look in the mirror/box. • They looked off into the distance. • He was looking over his shoulder. — often + at • She looked longingly at the photograph. • "What are you looking at?" "I'm looking at this flower." • looking at the stars through a telescope = looking through a telescope at the stars — see also LOOK AROUND (below), LOOK AT (below), look over your shoulder at ¹SHOULDER

2 a [linking verb] : to seem to be something especially because of appearance • He looks angry. • Her new haircut makes her look young/younger. • That cake looks delicious. • "How does the situation look (to you) now?" "It looks pretty bad/good." • It looks dangerous/unlikely. • a kind-looking woman = a woman who looks kind • The child looked to be about seven years old. • The once-famous star looks to be heading into obscurity. • The year ahead looks to be a profitable one. [=it appears likely to be profitable; I/we expect it to be profitable] — often used in the phrases look as if, look as though, and look like • It looks like it will be hard work. • It looks like it will rain/snow. = It looks like rain/snow. • It looks to me like they're all the same. = It looks like they're all the same to me. • They look like they're all the same to me. • It looked as though he was feeling ill. = He looked as though he was feeling ill. • It looks like she's going to win the tournament again this year. = She looks like she's going to win the tournament again this year. = (Brit) She looks like winning the tournament again this year. [=she seems likely to win the tournament again this year] • He looks like a nice man. = (Brit) He looks a nice man. [=he seems/appears to be a nice man] — see also LOOK LIKE (below) b [+ obj] : to have an appearance that is suitable for (something) • She looks her age. [=her appearance shows her age] • an actor who really looks the part [=whose appearance matches the appearance the character is supposed to have]

3 [no obj] : to try to find something or someone • "I don't know where my keys are." "Try looking in the drawer." • I've looked high and low. = I've looked everywhere. = I've looked all over. • "I still haven't found my keys." "Well, keep looking." • "I'm still trying to find my keys." "Well, look no further—here they are." — see also LOOK FOR (below)

4 [no obj] : to pay attention by directing your eyes at something • You can see many wonderful things in nature if you take the time to stop and look. • The store clerk asked if I needed any help, but I told him I was just looking. [=I was looking at the things being sold in the store but did not plan to buy anything specific]

5 [no obj] a — used to direct someone's attention to something or someone • Look! Over there! Is that a hawk? • Look! There he is! — often + at • Look at those mountains. Have you ever seen anything so beautiful? • Just look at the time! I had no idea it was that late! — often used in phrases like look where, look what, etc. • Look what I found. • Look who's here. • Look how easy it is to do this. b — used in phrases like look where, look what, etc., to warn someone or to express anger or disappointment • Look where you're going. You almost walked into that pole. • Look what you did! You broke it. • Now look what you've done. It's broken. c — used to introduce a statement when you want someone to notice what you are saying • Look, this just isn't going to work. • Look here, you need to start behaving more responsibly.

6 [+ obj] a : to want or try to do something — followed by

to + verb • a company looking to become a leader in the industry • We're looking to create something new. b : to expect something — followed by to + verb • We look to have a good year. = We are looking to have a good year.

7 [no obj] : to have a specified direction : to point or face in a specified direction • The house looks east. • The hotel looks toward the sea.

don't look now — used in speech before a statement to tell someone to be aware of something without looking • Don't look now, but they're coming our way. • Don't look now, but I think we're being followed.

look after [phrasal verb] look after (someone or something) : to take care of (someone or something) • They hired a babysitter to look after the children. • I can look after myself. • He looks after his aging parents. • They asked a friend to look after their house while they were away.

look a gift horse in the mouth see ¹HORSE

look ahead [phrasal verb] : to think about what will happen in the future • The past year has been successful and, looking ahead, we expect to do even better in the coming months. — often + to • Looking ahead to next year, we expect to be even more successful.

look around or Brit look round [phrasal verb] 1 look around/round or look around/round (a place) : to go through a place in order to see what is there : to explore a place • We arrived early at the theater and spent a few minutes looking around. • The kids looked around the shops while we unpacked. 2 look around/round for (something) : to search for (something) • I looked around for my keys but I couldn't find them anywhere. • He is looking around for a new car. — see also ¹LOOK 1 (above)

look at [phrasal verb] 1 look at (someone or something) a : to think about or consider (something or someone) • Just look at how successful she's been. • The company is looking at the possibility of moving to a larger office. • I just haven't looked at him as (being) a potential roommate. • The way I look at [=see] it, you're wrong. • Some people are looking at her as a possible candidate for mayor. • You can make changes in your life. Just look at Tim. [=consider that Tim has made changes to realize that you can also make changes] b : to examine or study (someone or something) • You should have a doctor look at that bruise. • I had the veterinarian look at my cat. 2 look at (something) a : to have (something bad or unpleasant) as a problem or possibility • If you're found guilty, you could be looking at [=facing] five years in prison. b : to read (something or part of something) • I haven't looked at [=read] the newspaper today. • Did you look at that fax yet? — see also ¹LOOK 1, 5a (above)

look back [phrasal verb] : to think about something in the past • Looking back to/at last season, I can see why they didn't win the pennant. • I look back at/on that time with a lot of pride. [=I feel proud when I think about that time] ♦ If you make an important change in your life and never look back, you never return to the way you had been before, and your life is very different from that time onward. • After college, she moved to New York, got a job on Wall Street, and never looked back.

look before you leap : to think or learn about the possible bad results of an action before doing it • If you're planning to invest in your friend's company, I advise you to look before you leap.

look daggers at see DAGGER

look down on [phrasal verb] look down on (someone or something) : to think of or treat (someone or something) as unimportant or not worthy of respect • The family was looked down on for being different. • The other children looked down on me because my parents were poor.

look down your nose at : to think of or treat (someone or something) as unimportant or not worthy of respect • She looked down her nose at her neighbors. • writers who look down their noses at popular culture look for [phrasal verb] look for (something or someone) 1 : to try to find (someone or something) : to search for (someone or something) • We had to wait while he looked for his keys. • I've looked everywhere for my keys but I still can't find them. • She's looking for a new job. • look for a word in the dictionary • The police continue to look for the escaped prisoners. • His taste is—what's the word I'm looking for?—I know, "eclectic." — see also ¹LOOK 3 (above) 2 : to expect (something or someone) • We're looking for better days in the future. • Don't bother looking for me anytime too soon. — often followed by to + verb • You can look for me to arrive around noon. • Economists are looking for the economy to improve in the next few months. 3 look for trouble informal : to act in a way that could cause violence or problems • I could tell that he was looking for trouble as soon as he came in.

look forward to [phrasal verb] look forward to (something) : to expect (something) with pleasure • They're looking forward to their vacation. • He felt he had nothing to look forward to in his life. • She's looking forward to meeting new friends.

look in on [phrasal verb] look in on (someone) : to make a brief social visit to (someone) • I plan to look in on [=drop in on, call on] some old friends when I'm in town.

look into [phrasal verb] look into (something) : to try to get information about (something) • Is there a problem? I could look into it. • Investigators are looking into the cause of the accident.

look like : to have an appearance that is very similar to (someone or something) : to resemble (someone or something) • You look just like your mother! [=you resemble your mother very closely] • That powdered sugar looks like snow. — see also ¹LOOK 2a (above)

look like a million dollars/bucks see MILLION

look lively see LIVELY

look on/upon [phrasal verb] 1 look on : to watch something as it happens without becoming involved • A crowd of people looked on [=stood by] helplessly as the house burned to the ground. 2 look on/upon (someone or something) : to think of or consider (someone or something) in a specified way — + as or with • I've always looked on her as a friend. [=considered her to be a friend] • They looked on reading as an escape from the troubles of life. • He looked upon his son's accomplishments with pride.

look out [phrasal verb] 1 — used to tell someone to be aware of something dangerous • Look out [=watch out] — one of the steps is missing! 2 look (something) out or look out (something) Brit : to succeed in finding (something) • It may take me a while to look out [=hunt down] his phone number for you.

look out for [phrasal verb] 1 look out for (something) : to be aware of and try to avoid (something dangerous or unwanted) • In the winter, drivers need to look out for icy patches on the roads. • In buying a home, there are many potential problems (that) you should look out for. • Look out for [=watch out for] that pothole! 2 look out for (someone or something) : to take care of or protect (someone or something) • I can look out for myself. • She is supposed to be looking out for our interests. ✧ If you look out for number one, you only think about yourself and do what helps you most. • We don't want a senator who's (only/always) looking out for number one.

look over [phrasal verb] look (something) over or look over (something) : to read or examine (something) usually in a quick or hurried way • She looked over the plans on her way out of the office. • He looked over his shopping list as he entered the store. • look a proposal over

look sharp see ²SHARP

look (someone) in the eye also look (someone) in the face : to look directly at (someone who is also looking at you) • I wasn't afraid to look him (right) in the eye and tell him just what I thought of him!

look the other way : to ignore something that should be noticed or dealt with : to turn your attention away from something • We can't just look the other way while these violations of basic human rights continue to occur. • Residents of the neighborhood accuse police of looking the other way as drug dealers become more active there.

look through [phrasal verb] 1 look through (something) a : to read or briefly examine some of the pages of (a book, magazine, etc.) • She was looking [=leafing] through a magazine as she waited in the doctor's office. • look through the pages of a magazine b : to look at the different parts of (a collection or group of things) • I looked through [=went through] all his letters. 2 look through (someone) : to pretend not to see or recognize (someone) in a rude or unfriendly way • We used to be best friends but when she passed me on the street yesterday she looked (right/straight) through me without even saying hello!

look to [phrasal verb] 1 look to (something) : to think about or examine (something) : to direct your attention to (something) • They look to the future with ever-increasing hope. — usually + for • We can look to the past for help in figuring out how to deal with this problem. • look to nature for inspiration 2 look to (someone) : to need (someone) to do something for or give something to you : to depend or rely on (someone) • They look to me to fix the problem. • Many parents look to their children to help them navigate the Internet. — often + for • Many parents look to their children for help in navigating the Internet. • She looked to her friends for help. • They look to you for advice.

look up [phrasal verb] 1 : to get better : IMPROVE • The economy is looking up. • Things started to look up for me when I got the promotion. 2 look (something) up or look up (something) : to search for (something) in a reference book, on the Internet, etc. • If you don't know what a word means, you should look it up (in the dictionary). • look up a telephone number • look up an article in the encyclopedia 3 look (someone) up or look up (someone) : to call or go to see (someone) when you are in the area where that person lives • I told them to look me up if they came to town.

look up to [phrasal verb] look up to (someone) : to respect and admire (someone) • I've always looked up to my older brother. • The kids really look up to their coach.

Look what the cat dragged in! see CAT

look your best see ³BEST

not much to look at informal : not physically attractive • The restaurant isn't much to look at, but the food is good. • The dog isn't much to look at, but he's a great hunting dog.

²look noun, pl looks

1 [count] : the act of looking at something — usually singular • A quick look inside someone's refrigerator can tell you a lot about that person. • Come on inside. Take a look around. • She went inside the building to have a look around. • I wanted to get a look inside the car's engine. — often + at • Just take/have a look at this! • It's our first chance to get a look at the new library. • The witness wasn't able to describe the killer because she didn't get a good look at him. [=she didn't see him clearly] • We took one look at the weather and decided to stay home. [=when we saw how bad the weather was we immediately decided to stay home]

2 [count] : the act of examining or considering something — usually singular • movies that are worth a look [=movies that you should consider seeing because they are good, entertaining, etc.] — usually + at • The report takes a close/revealing/hard look at the public school system. • We need to take a closer look at these issues.

3 [singular] : the act of trying to find something or someone • I don't think you left it here, but I'll take a look around for it. • I took a quick look, but he wasn't there.

4 [count] : the emotions and feelings that can be seen in a person's face or eyes • You should have seen the look [=expression] on her face! • I'll never forget the look in her eyes. • a look of jealousy/pride/remorse • He gave me an angry/dirty look. • They exchanged looks of love. [=they looked at each other lovingly] • I've never seen her so angry. If looks could kill, I'd be dead right now.

5 a [count] : a quality or characteristic that you can see when you look at something : the way that something looks • The painting has an old-fashioned look to it. • The building had the look [=appearance] of a fortress. • a fabric that has the look of leather [=a fabric that has the same appearance as leather] • Judging by/from the look of those clouds, we're going to get some rain. • I don't like the look of those clouds. [=I don't like the way those clouds look; those clouds make me think that there will be a storm, it will rain or snow, etc.] • The restaurant doesn't look very appealing, but looks can be deceiving/deceptive. [=something can be very different from how it seems or appears to be] • From the look of things, that car won't last much longer. [=that car seems unlikely to last much longer] b looks [plural] : physical appearance • Everyone says he's handsome, but I wasn't impressed by his looks.; especially : attractive physical appearance • She's very pretty, but she's not going to get by just on her looks. • He had boyish good looks. • She's worried about losing her looks [=becoming less attractive] as she grows older. c [count] : a style or fashion — usually singular • a new look in women's fashion • They wanted the right look for the company's new logo.

look-alike /'lʊkəlaɪk/ noun, pl -alikes [count] : someone or something that looks like another person or thing • She and her cousin are look-alikes. [=they look like each other; they look very similar] • a young actor who is a John Wayne look-alike [=a young actor who looks like John Wayne]

— look-alike adj, always used before a noun • two look-alike cousins look-er /'lʊkə/ noun, pl -ers [count] informal : a person (especially a woman) who is very attractive • His girlfriend's a real looker.

look-er-on /ˈlʊkəˈɑːn/ noun, pl look-ers-on [count] : a person who watches something • The accident attracted a small group of lookers-on. [= (more commonly) onlookers]

look-in /ˈlʊk,ɪn/ noun [singular] Brit : a chance to succeed or be involved in something • She wanted to apply for the job, but they never let her get/have a look-in.

looking glass noun, pl ~ glasses [count] old-fashioned : ¹MIRROR 1

look-out /ˈlʊk,aut/ noun, pl -outs [count]

1 : a person who watches an area and warns others if there is danger • The troops posted a lookout for the night.

2 : a high place or structure from which you can see a wide area • The mountain road had several lookouts where you could enjoy the view. • a lookout tower be someone's lookout Brit, informal — used to say that someone who makes a bad decision or does something foolish is responsible for the result and will have to deal with it alone • If he wants to spend all his money on expensive clothes, that's his lookout.

keep a lookout for : to watch for (something or someone) • The police officer walked through the neighborhood, keeping a (sharp) lookout for any suspicious activity.

on the lookout for : looking or searching for (something or someone) • An avid shopper, she was always on the lookout for sales. • The police are on the lookout for two men who escaped from custody yesterday.

look-see /ˈlʊkˈsiː/ noun [singular] chiefly US, informal : a quick act of looking at or examining something • They heard the house was for sale, so they drove over to have a look-see.

¹loom /ˈluːm/ verb looms; loomed; loom-ing [no obj]

1 : to appear in a large, strange, or frightening form often in a sudden way • A ship loomed (up) out of the fog. • Storm clouds loomed on the horizon. : to appear in an impressively large or great form • The mountains loom above/over the valley.

2 : to be close to happening : to be about to happen — used especially of unpleasant or frightening things • A workers' strike is looming. • A battle is looming in Congress over the proposed budget cuts. • a looming battle/conflict/problem/storm • The deadline looms closer with each passing day.

loom large : to have great importance or influence • Rising tuition costs loom large in the minds of many parents. • She was a critic who loomed large in literary circles.

²loom noun, pl looms

[count] : a frame or machine that is used to weave threads or yarns to produce cloth

¹loon /ˈluːn/ noun, pl loons [count] informal : a crazy person • That guy is a complete loon. — compare ²LOON

²loon noun, pl loons [count] : a large bird that lives in the northern parts of the world and that eats fish and has a loud and strange cry — compare ¹LOON

loom

loon-ie /ˈluːni/ noun, pl -ies [count] Canada : a coin that is worth one Canadian dollar

¹loo-ny /ˈluːni/ adj loo-ni-er; -est informal : crazy or foolish • loony extremists • Every family includes someone who's a little loony.

²loony noun, pl -nies [count] informal : a crazy or foolish person • the loonies on that late-night television show loony bin noun, pl ~ bins [count] informal + offensive : a hospital for people who are insane ♦ Loony bin is usually used in a joking way. • If you keep acting like that we'll have to send you off to the loony bin.

¹loop /ˈluːp/ noun, pl loops

1 [count] a : a curved part or shape made when something long and thin (such as a rope or thread) bends so that it touches or crosses over itself • a closed loop of rope • a wire with a loop at the end • a loop of string/thread b : something that is shaped like a loop • They rowed along a loop in the river. • The road formed a loop around the pond. • letters formed with lots of loops c : a ring or curved piece used for holding something • a belt loop

2 [count] : an action in which an airplane flies in an upright circle perpendicular to the ground • The pilot did/performed a loop. — see also loop the loop at ²LOOP

3 [count] : a piece of film or tape with the ends joined together so that the same pictures or sounds are repeated continuously; also : a recording that is repeated continuously • The computer-generated images are shown on a continuous loop.

4 [count] computers : a series of instructions that are repeated in a computer program until a specified condition is met

5 the loop : a group of people who know about or have influence or control over something — usually used in the phrases in the loop and out of the loop • She wants to stay in the loop as these changes are being considered. • He claims that he was kept out of the loop when the decision to sell the company was being made.

knock/throw (someone) for a loop US, informal : to cause (someone) to be very amazed, confused, or shocked • The news of her death really knocked me for a loop. • His parents were thrown for a loop when he quit college.

knock (something) for a loop US, informal : to damage or ruin (something) • The town's economy has been knocked for a loop by the factory's closing. • The news has knocked the stock market for a loop.

²loop verb loops; looped; loop-ing

1 : to form or cause (something) to form a loop [no obj] The road loops around the pond. • The necklace is long enough to loop twice around my neck. [+ obj] She looped a string around her finger. • He sat with his arms looped around his knees.

2 : to move or cause (something) to move in a high curving path [no obj] The ball looped over the shortstop's head into left field for a single. • The batter hit a looping single to left field. [+ obj] The batter looped a single to left field. • The quarterback looped a pass downfield.

loop the loop : to perform a loop in an airplane looped /ˈluːpt/ adj, US, informal : drunk or intoxicated • I took one look at her and knew she was looped.

loop-hole /ˈluːp,hoʊl/ noun, pl -holes [count] : an error in the way a law, rule, or contract is written that makes it possible for some people to legally avoid obeying it • She took advantage of a loophole in the tax law. • a tax loophole • His attorney has been hunting/searching for a loophole that would allow him to get out of the deal. • tried to close/plug a loop-hole in the new legislation

loopy /ˈluːpi/ adj loop-i-er; -est

1 : having many loops • loopy handwriting

2 informal : strange or silly • a loopy comedian • a loopy smile/grin • The movie has a certain loopy charm.

¹loose /ˈluːs/ adj loos-er; -est

1 : not tightly fastened, attached, or held • a loose tooth • a loose thread • Some of the shingles on the roof were loose. • The rope was tied in a loose knot. • The nails had been pried loose. • Some of the shingles had come/worked loose. • The boat came loose from its moorings and floated out into the harbor. • The ball popped loose from the shortstop's glove.

2 a : not pulled or stretched tight • a loose belt • loose reins on a horse • loose skin b of clothing : not fitting close to your body : not tight • She was wearing a loose dress/skirt. • a loose [=baggy] sweater

3 : not physically held or contained • The dog was wandering loose in the streets. • The lion had somehow gotten/broken loose [=free] from its cage. — see also LET LOOSE 1 (below)

4 a : not held together in a solid or tight mass • loose dirt • loose rocks • loose sandy soil b : not held together in a bundle, container, etc. • loose sheets of pages • Loose hairs stuck out from under his cap. • She let her hair hang down loose. • You can buy a bag of potatoes or some loose potatoes.

5 : not stiff or tense : flexible or relaxed • He walked with a loose stride. • loose muscles • I never relaxed that day; I just couldn't get loose. • Runners should warm up for a few minutes to get loose. • I tried to stay loose during the game, but I was too nervous. — see also HANG LOOSE (below)

6 : not closely joined or united • Ten advocacy groups from all parts of the country formed a loose alliance/association/coalition to present their shared interests to Congress.

7 a : not exact or precise • a very loose translation • a loose interpretation of the law • This book is only a novel in the loose sense of the word. [=the word "novel" does not usually refer to a book like this; many people would not consider the book a novel] b : not careful in speech : talking too freely • Loose [=careless] talk spread the rumor. • She has a loose tongue. [=she talks too much about things that are private, secret, etc.]

8 sports : not controlled or held by any of the players in a game • a loose ball/puck

9 old-fashioned : not respectable sexually : not decent or moral • He was accused of loose conduct/behavior. • a loose woman • loose morals

10 of solid waste from the body : containing a larger than normal amount of fluid • loose stools, also : producing loose stools • loose bowels • loose bowel movements

all hell breaks loose see HELL

break loose see ¹BREAK

cut loose 1 cut (someone) loose : to stop supporting or employing (someone) • He worked here for a few years but he didn't do a good job, so we finally had to cut him loose. : to end an official relationship or agreement with (someone) • She's been cut loose from her contract. [=the company/organization with whom she had a contract to work has ended the contract] 2 chiefly US, informal : to act in a free and relaxed way after behaving in a way that is controlled • I enjoy cutting loose with friends on weekends.

hang loose chiefly US, informal : to remain calm and relaxed • Just hang loose for a minute. I'll be right back.

have a screw loose, have a loose screw see ¹SCREW

let loose 1 let (someone or something) loose or set/turn (someone or something) loose : to allow (someone or something) to move or go freely • He let/set the dogs loose in the courtyard. • cattle let loose to graze on the green fields — often used figuratively • It's the end of the school year, when schools turn students loose on our towns. • a director who's willing to let her actors loose to interpret their roles however they see fit • how to stop the violence that has been let loose [=loosed] on the city 2 : to produce (something, such as a cry) in a sudden and forceful way • The crowd let loose [=let out] an enormous groan when the pass was intercepted. • She let loose (with) a scream.

play fast and loose see ¹PLAY

— loose-ly adv • The clothes fit loosely. • The term is loosely used by most people. • The rider held the reins loosely as the horse slowed to a walk. • loosely affiliated/allied businesses • The company was loosely organized. • The movie is loosely based on the novel. [=it is based on the novel but many things are different in the movie] — loose-ness noun [noncount] • moral looseness • the looseness of the translation • the looseness of his clothing

²loose adv : in a way that does not fit close to your body • loose-fitting clothing

³loose verb loos-es; loosed; loos-ing [+ obj]

1 : to release or untie (an animal or person) • They loosed the dogs on the prowlers. [=they released the dogs so that they could catch, chase away, etc., the prowlers] — often used figuratively • riots that have loosed an epidemic of violence on the city

2 : to make (something) less tight : LOOSEN • He loosed his grip.

3 : to shoot or fire (something, such as an arrow or a bullet) • The soldiers loosed a volley of rifle fire.

⁴loose noun

on the loose : able to move freely : not controlled or held in a prison, cage, etc. — used especially to describe a dangerous person, animal, or group • The prisoner escaped and is still on the loose. • A killer is on the loose. • An angry mob was on the loose.

loose cannon noun, pl ~ -nons [count] : a person who cannot be controlled and who does or says things that cause problems, embarrassment, etc., for others • a politician who is regarded as a loose cannon by her colleagues loose change noun [noncount] : coins that a person is carrying • He had a few dollars in loose change in his pockets.

loose end noun, pl ~ ends [count] : a part of something (such as a job or story) that has not been completed • We still have one more loose end to deal with before we're finished with the project. — usually plural • The project is almost complete, but we still have a few loose ends to tie up. • All the story's loose ends were wrapped up as the novel ended.

at loose ends (US) or Brit at a loose end : not knowing what to do : not having anything in particular to do • With everyone on vacation she was at loose ends. • Drop by if you find yourself at loose ends this weekend.

loose-joint-ed /'lu:s'ɔɪntəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : able to move in a very free and relaxed way • a loose-jointed [=flexible, loose-limbed] dancer/gymnast loose-leaf /'lu:s'li:f/ adj : designed so that sheets of paper can be added or removed by opening a locking device that holds the sheets of paper in place • a loose-leaf notebook/binder/folder

loose-limbed /'lu:s'limd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : able to move in a very free and relaxed way • a loose-limbed [=flexible, loose-jointed] athlete

loos-en /'lu:sn/ verb -ens; -ened; -en-ing

1 a [+ obj] : to make (something) less tight or firm : to make (something) loose or looser • He used a spade to loosen the soil. • She loosened the cake from the sides of the pan. • loosen a screw • After eating so much I had to loosen my belt. • When the meeting was over he loosened his tie. • She loosened her grip/hold on the rope. [=she began to hold the rope less tightly] — sometimes used figuratively • He has loosened his grip/hold on the company. b [no obj] : to become less tight or firm : to become loose or looser • One of the screws had loosened a bit and had to be tightened. • Her grip loosened.

2 : to become or to cause (something) to become less strict [+ obj] We want to loosen (up) the controls/restrictions that the law has imposed. • Each generation seems to loosen the established standards of behavior. [no obj] Standards of behavior seem to be loosening everywhere.

loosen someone's tongue : to cause someone to talk more freely : to cause someone to say things that would not usually be said • Drinking alcohol can loosen your tongue.

loosen up [phrasal verb] 1 : to make or become less tense : RELAX • He loosens up by exercising. • After a couple of drinks she had loosened up and was talking freely. • He seemed nervous and his friends kept telling him to loosen up. 2 loosen (someone or something) up or loosen up (someone or something) : to cause (someone or something) to relax • He exercises to loosen up his muscles. [=he exercises so that his muscles are not stiff] • I tried to loosen her up [=I tried to get her to relax and feel comfortable] by telling a few jokes.

loos-ey-goos-ey /,lu:si'gu:si/ adj [more ~; most ~] chiefly US, informal : very loose or relaxed • a loosey-goosey attitude

¹loot /'lu:t/ noun [noncount]

1 : something that is stolen or taken by force • After raiding the town, the soldiers helped themselves to any loot that they could find. • The thieves got a lot of loot in the robbery.

2 informal : MONEY • He made a lot of loot selling cars.

²loot verb loots; loot-ed; loot-ing : to steal things from (a place, such as a store or house) during a war or after destruction has been caused by fire, rioting, etc. [+ obj] Rioters looted the stores. • The soldiers were looting every house that they came to. • The supplies had been looted [=stolen] from the warehouse. [no obj] Soldiers swept through the territory, looting, burning, and killing.

— loot-er noun, pl -ers [count] — looting noun [noncount] • There has been widespread looting throughout the city.

lop /'lɑ:p/ verb lops; lopped; lop-ping [+ obj]

1 : to cut branches from (a tree, bush, etc.) • trees that have been heavily lopped

2 : to cut or cut off (something) • badly lopped hair — usually + off • lop off a dead branch • He accidentally lopped off [=chopped off] one of his fingers. — often used figuratively • She offered to lop $20 off the price. [=to reduce the price by $20] • They lopped several million dollars off the budget.

lope /'loup/ verb lopes; loped; lop-ing [no obj] : to run in a relaxed way with long strides • The horses loped easily across/over the fields. • He went loping up the hill. • The outfielder loped after the ball.

— lope noun [singular] • She ran with an easy lope. — lop-ing adj • She ran with a long loping gait. — lo-ping-ly adv • run/move lopingly

lop-eared /'lɑ:p,iəd/ adj : having long ears that hang down • a lop-eared bunny/rabbit • a lop-eared dog

lop-pers /'lɑ:pəz/ noun [plural] : a garden tool used for cutting branches and twigs • a pair of loppers

lop-sid-ed /'lɑ:p,saidəd/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having one side that is lower or smaller than the other • The boat looked lopsided. • The house had a lopsided porch. • a lopsided grin/smile

2 : uneven or unequal • They won the game by a lopsided score of 25–3. • a lopsided vote of 99 to 1 • (chiefly US) He won a lop-sided victory in the recent election. [=he won the election very easily; he had many more votes than the other candidates]

— lop-sid-ed-ly adv — lop-sid-ed-ness noun [noncount]

lo·qua·cious /lou'kwɛɪʃəs/ adj : liking to talk and talking smoothly and easily • a loquacious and glib politician • the loquacious host of a radio talk show

— lo·qua·cious·ly adv — lo·qua·cious·ness noun [non-count] • a politician known for her loquaciousness — lo·quac·i·ty /lou'kwæʃəti/ noun [noncount] formal • a politician known for her loquacity

¹lord /'lɔəd/ noun, pl lords

1 [count] : a man who has power and authority: such as a : a man who ruled over a large area of land in the Middle Ages • a feudal lord b : a very powerful criminal • a crime/drug/gang lord— see also SLUMLORD, WARLORD

2 Lord [singular] a — used as a name for God or Jesus Christ • Ask the Lord for forgiveness. • Praise the Lord. • Oh Lord, hear our prayers. b ♦ Lord is used informally by itself and in phrases to make a statement or question more forceful or to express surprise, anger, etc. • Lord, it's hot out today. • Lord almighty, is it that late already? • Good Lord, what have they done?! • My Lord, what were you thinking?! • Oh my Lord! I can't believe it!

3 a [count] : a man who is a member of the British nobility • He became a lord upon the death of his father. b [noncount] Lord — used as a title for certain British noblemen and male officials of high rank • Lord Churchill • Alfred, Lord Tennyson • Lord Advocate— see also LORD MAYOR

4 the Lords Brit : HOUSE OF LORDS • The government had the support of the Lords.

in the year of our Lord see YEAR

Lord help someone see ¹HELP

Lord knows see ¹KNOW

thank the Lord see THANK

²lord verb lords; lord-ed; lord-ing

lord it over someone : to act in a way that shows you think you are better or more important than someone • She knows she's very smart and lords it over her younger brothers. • He got the only A in the class and was lording it over his classmates.

lord·ly /'lɔədlɪ/ adj lord·li·er; -est [or more ~; most ~]

1 a : having the qualities of a lord • a lordly and dignified man b : suitable for a lord : very large and impressive • a lordly estate

2 : having or showing a feeling of being better than other people • lordly airs of superiority • He regarded his neighbors with lordly disdain.

Lord Mayor noun, pl ~ Mayors [count] : the title of the mayor of the City of London and of some other large cities in Britain and Ireland

lord·ship /'lɔədʃɪp/ noun, pl -ships [count] chiefly Brit

1 Lordship — used as a title when addressing or referring to someone who has the title of lord (such as a member of the nobility, a judge, or a bishop); used with his, your, or their • His Lordship is not at home. • Can I get your Lordship anything else?

2 : the authority, power, or territory of a lord • He inherited a lordship.

Lord's Prayer noun

the Lord's Prayer : a prayer that Jesus Christ taught to his followers

Lordy /'lɔədi/ interj, informal — used to make a statement or question more forceful or to express surprise • Lordy, that girl can sing! • Lordy it's hot today.

lore /'lɔə/ noun [noncount] : traditional knowledge, beliefs, and stories that relate to a particular place, subject, or group • an event that has become part of local lore • forest lore • the lore of sailing— see also FOLKLORE

lor·ry /'lɔri/ noun, pl -ries [count] Brit : TRUCK

lose /'lu:z/ verb los-es; lost /'lɔ:st/; los-ing

1 [+ obj] : to be unable to find (something or someone) • She's always losing her gloves. • Don't lose your keys. • Hold my hand: I don't want to lose you. • The police lost him in the crowd. [=the police were no longer able to find/see him after he went into the crowd] • The airline lost my luggage. [=my luggage did not arrive at the airport I flew into] • He lost the fly ball in the sun. [=he was unable to see the fly ball because he was looking toward the sun] • The letter was lost in the mail. [=it was sent but never delivered to the person it was addressed to]

2 : to fail to win (a game, contest, etc.) [+ obj] lose a battle/game • She lost her bid for reelection. [=she failed to win the election; she was not reelected] • We lost the game by a score of 4–2. • He lost his title in the rematch. • She lost the lawsuit. • The team lost three games but won the next four. [no obj]

The team lost in the finals. • an athlete known for losing with grace • That horse always loses. • He hates to lose when money is involved. • How could she play that well and still lose? — often + to • The Yankees lost to the Red Sox.

3 a [+ obj] : to fail to keep or hold (something wanted or valued) • lose an advantage • The country lost its independence 50 years ago. • The mayor is losing power/influence/support. • He is in danger of losing control of the company. • She lost control of the car and skidded off the road. • I was so angry that I lost control (of myself, of my temper) and yelled at them. • She didn't lose her job but she lost access to all confidential company materials. • The senator lost votes when he angered some of his supporters. • The religious community was losing its younger members. • He hasn't lost his sense of humor. • They had lost all hope of winning the title. • I don't want anything to eat. I've lost my appetite. [=I no longer feel hungry] • She began to lose confidence in herself. [=to feel less confident] • Try not to lose patience with the children. • The accident victim was rapidly losing blood. • I'm sorry I'm late. I lost track of the time. [=I failed to stay aware of the time; I did not realize that so much time had passed] • She lost her balance [=failed to keep her weight spread equally] and fell. b ♦ If you have nothing (else/left) to lose, you cannot make a situation worse by taking a risk. If you have a lot to lose or have too much to lose, you could make your situation much worse by taking a risk or doing something. • You might as well apply for the job. You have nothing to lose and everything to gain. • Some of them are married and have young children—they have a lot to lose. • I can't quit now. I have too much to lose. c : to fail to earn or keep (money) [+ obj] They lost all their money/savings in a poor investment. • The company has been losing money for the past several years. [=it has been spending more money than it has been earning] [no obj] Investors lost heavily when the company's stock failed to meet expectations. d [+ obj] : to have (something) taken from you or destroyed • We lost (electrical) power during the storm. • He lost an arm in the war. [=one of his arms was destroyed or so badly injured that it had to be removed] • They lost everything in the fire. [=all their possessions were destroyed in the fire] • He yelled so much during the game that he lost his voice [=he was unable to speak] for two days. e [+ obj] : to gradually have less of (something) as time passes • Many people who lose weight by dieting eventually gain the weight back. • She has been losing strength in her legs. • He was gradually losing his eyesight. • He's losing his hair. [=becoming bald] • The public seems to have lost interest in the case.

4 [+ obj] : to cause (someone) to fail to win or keep (something) : to cause the loss of (something) for (someone) • One careless statement lost the election for her. = One careless statement lost her the election. [=she lost the election because of one careless statement]

5 a : to decrease in (something) [+ obj] The TV program has lost popularity [=become less popular] in recent years. • The plane was losing altitude. • What will you do if the company's stock loses value when you expect it to gain value? [no obj] What will you do if the stock loses when you expect it to gain? b [+ obj] : to decrease in value by (a specified amount) • His retirement account lost three percent last quarter. c [no obj] : to decrease in value when compared to something else • The dollar lost against the pound last week.

6 [+ obj] a : to experience or suffer the death of (a relative, friend, etc.) • She lost her husband in the war. [=her husband was killed in the war] • He lost his best friend to cancer. [=his best friend died of cancer] • The country lost thousands of young men in/during the war. = Thousands of young men were lost [=killed] in/during the war. = Thousands of young men lost their lives in/during the war. • She's very sick, and the doctors say they're afraid they're going to lose her. [=they're afraid that she is going to die] • I was sad to hear that she lost the baby. [=that her baby died before being born or soon after being born] • a sailor who was lost at sea [=who died at sea] b : to no longer have or be with (someone who leaves) • We'll be sorry to lose you when you leave for your new job. • He begged his wife to forgive him and told her that he didn't want to lose her.

7 [+ obj] : to fail to keep control of (something) • He lost his temper/cool/composure. [=he became angry] • She wondered if she was losing her mind/sanity. [=becoming insane] • He seems to be losing his nerve. [=becoming afraid]— see also lose your head at ¹HEAD

8 [+ obj] a : to fail to use (something, such as time) : WASTE • I don't want to lose this chance/opportunity. • We lost (a good bit of) time in that traffic jam. • She lost no time in getting the project started. [=she got the project started immediately] • We need to get started immediately. There's no time to lose. b of a watch or clock : to show a time that is earlier than the correct time : to run slow by (an amount of time) [+ obj] My old watch loses a minute every day. [no obj] a clock that loses less than any other clock yet invented

9 [+ obj] : to explain something in a way that is not clear to (someone) : to confuse (someone) • I'm sorry. You've lost me [=I don't understand what you're telling me] • I understood the first part of the lecture, but when he started to talk about quantum physics he lost me completely. [=I was completely unable to understand what he was saying]

10 [+ obj] : to succeed in getting away from (someone who is following or chasing you) • She tried to lose them by turning down a side street.

11 [+ obj] informal : to get rid of (something unwanted) • I just can't seem to lose this cold. • Lose the attitude, okay? [=stop having a bad attitude; stop being annoyed, uncooperative, etc.] • You can lose [=remove] that sentence and the paragraph will sound better.

lose contact see ¹CONTACT

lose count see ²COUNT lose face see ¹FACE

lose ground see ¹GROUND

lose it informal 1 : to become insane • He was always a little strange, but now he's completely lost it. 2 : to start behaving in an uncontrolled way because you are angry or upset • I was so angry that I almost lost it.

lose out [phrasal verb] : to fail to keep or get something valued or desired • Whoever benefits from the new government programs, the American taxpayer is bound to lose out in the end. — often + on or to • If you don't invest with us, you'll be losing out on a great opportunity! [=you'll be missing/wasting a great opportunity] • She lost out to a better-known actress for the lead role. [=she did not get the lead role because a better-known actress got it]

lose sleep over see ²SLEEP

lose the plot see ¹PLOT lose touch see ²TOUCH lose your bearings see BEARING lose your grip see ²GRIP

lose your head see ¹HEAD lose your heart see HEART

lose your life see ¹LIFE lose your lunch see ¹LUNCH lose your marbles see MARBLE lose yourself : to give all of your attention or thought to something • He lost himself in his work. • a musician who completely loses herself in the music lose your shirt see SHIRT lose your touch see ²TOUCH lose your way see ¹WAY

— los-able /'lu:zəbəl/ adj • a losable game — los-ing adj • the losing candidate in the race [=the candidate who did not win; the candidate who lost] • The team is on a losing streak. • The team had a losing record/season.

los-er /'lu:zə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 : someone or something that loses a game, contest, etc. • She was a loser in the first round of the tournament. [=she lost in the first round of the tournament] • The team had a reputation for being a loser year after year. • The loser of the bet has to buy drinks for the winner. • She's a good loser. [=she does not become upset or angry when she loses] • He's a bad/poor loser. = (US) He's a sore loser. [=he becomes upset or angry when he loses]

2 : someone who is harmed or put in a worse position as the result of something • Whoever benefits from the new government programs, the real loser will be the American taxpayer.

3 informal + disapproving : a person who is not successful, attractive, etc. • She's a (total, complete) loser. • That guy is a born loser.

finders keepers (losers weepers) see FINDER

loss /'lɑ:s/ noun, pl loss-es

1 a : failure to keep or to continue to have something [non-count] — usually + of • the mayor's loss of support/influence • Surgeons were unable to control the loss of blood in the victim. • Symptoms include insomnia and loss of appetite. • Both accidents were attributed to the drivers' loss of control. • The recession has caused the loss of many jobs. • The accident caused enormous loss of life [=many people died in the accident] [singular] — usually + of • a loss of innocence • The victim died from a loss of blood to the brain. [plural] There have been heavy job losses because of the recession. [=many people have been laid off] b [non-count] : the experience of having something taken from you or destroyed • The storm caused widespread loss of electricity. • soldiers who have suffered the loss of a limb [=soldiers who have had an arm or leg destroyed or so badly injured that it had to be removed]

2 [count] : money that is spent and that is more than the amount earned or received • The company's losses for the year were higher than expected. • profits and losses • They took a loss on the deal. [=the deal cost them money; they lost money on the deal] • The business is operating at a loss. [=the business is spending more money than it is earning] • They sold the property at a (considerable) loss. [=for less than they paid for it] — see also AT A LOSS (below)

3 : failure to win a game, contest, etc. [non-count] A careless error resulted in the loss of the game. [count] The team suffered a 3–2 loss in the last game. • The team has an equal number of wins and losses. • the party's losses in the recent election

4 a : a decrease in something or in the amount of something [singular] The plane experienced a loss of altitude. [non-count] We need to determine the loss in value due to the damage. • The new windows reduce temperature loss by 15 percent. • Don't be concerned about the loss of a few pounds. You're still a healthy weight. • Side effects of the treatment include nausea and hair loss. • memory/weight loss b [singular] : a decrease in value by a specified amount • The stock market had a loss of four percent yesterday.

5 [non-count] a : the death or a relative, friend, etc. — usually + of • She mourned the loss of her parents. • the loss of a dear friend to cancer b : the experience of having someone leave — usually + of • The company has had to deal with the loss [=departure] of several key employees. c : a feeling of sadness that you have when someone dies, leaves, etc. • Their deaths left everyone with a great/deep sense of loss. • The feeling of loss you experienced after your divorce is not uncommon.

6 [singular] : something that causes harm, sadness, etc., to a group or organization • Their deaths were a great loss to the community. • His retirement was a real loss to the company.

7 [singular] : something that is completely destroyed • After the flood, the crops were a total loss. • No one was injured in the accident, but the car was a complete loss.

8 losses [plural] : soldiers killed, wounded, or captured in battle • During the battle the allies suffered/sustained/took/experienced heavy losses.

9 [count] American football : the distance the ball is moved away from the goal during a play • There was a gain of five yards on first down, but a loss of three yards on second down.

at a loss : not able to decide what should be done or said • I don't know what to do. I'm at a (complete) loss. • They were at a loss to explain [=they were unable to explain] why it took so long to correct the problem. — see also LOSS 2 (above) at a loss for words chiefly US : unable to think of anything to say • I was so surprised to see her that I was at a loss for words. [= (chiefly Brit) lost for words] cut your losses : to stop an activity, business, etc., that is failing in order to prevent more losses or damage • With the economy continuing to do poorly, many investors have decided to cut their losses and sell their stocks.

it's your loss ♦ People say that something is your loss when you choose not to do something that they think would help you or that you would enjoy. • If she doesn't want to come to the party, it's her loss.

throw (someone) for a loss : to cause (someone) to be very amazed, confused, or shocked • Recent revelations have thrown me for a loss. [= (more commonly) for a loop]

loss adjuster noun, pl ~ -ers [count] Brit : INSURANCE ADJUSTER loss leader noun, pl ~ -ers [count] business : a product that is sold for less than it is worth in order to attract customers

¹lost past participle of LOSE

²lost /'lɑ:st/ adj

1 : unable to be found • He was looking for his lost keys. • lost baggage/luggage • Many have tried to find the ruins of the lost city. — see also LONG-LOST

2 : not knowing where you are or how to get to where you want to go : unable to find your way • The child was lost. • We took a wrong turn and got lost. • a lost puppy • Hold my hand. I don't want you to get lost.

3 a : no longer held, owned, or possessed • He has been trying to recapture his lost youth. • She's been lagging at the polls, but hopes to recover/recoup lost ground with tonight's debate. [=she hopes to gain again support she had lost] b : no longer known • a lost civilization • It's a lost art. • The original music is lost to us forever. c : no longer available • a lost opportunity/chance [=an opportunity that was not used] • The strike has cost the company millions in lost sales/earnings/revenue. [=sales/earnings/revenue that the company would have had if the strike had not happened] • We need to work faster to make up for lost time. [=we need to work faster because we did not get enough of the work done before now]

4 a : not won • a lost battle : not possible to win • The game was irretrievably/hopelessly lost by the end of the first half. b : not capable of succeeding • Finishing the project on time seemed like a lost cause. [=finishing the project on time seemed impossible]

5 a not used before a noun [more ~; most ~] : lacking confidence and feeling unsure of what to do • When she first moved to the city she felt a bit lost and out of her depth. • I don't know how I ever managed without my computer: I'd be totally lost without it! • I depend on her for everything. I'd be lost without her. b : very unhappy • a lost soul [=a lonely and unhappy person]

6 not used before a noun : so interested in something that you do not notice other things • When he's reading a book he's lost to the world. — often + in • He was lost in his book. • She was lost in thought. [=she was thinking about something and not noticing the people and things around her] • He seems to be lost in a world of his own. • lost in (a) reverie get lost informal : to go away : LEAVE — used in speech as a rude or angry way to tell someone to go away; see also ²LOST 2 (above)

give someone up for lost : to decide that someone cannot be helped or saved • He was desperately ill, and most of the doctors had given him up for lost. [=most of the doctors said that he would die]

he who hesitates is lost see HESITATE lost for words chiefly Brit : unable to think of anything to say • I was so surprised to see her that I was lost for words. [= (chiefly US) at a loss for words]

lost in the shuffle see ²SHUFFLE

lost on : not appreciated or understood by (someone) • The jokes were lost on me. [=I didn't understand the jokes] • The meaning of her remark wasn't lost on him. • The message was lost on those for whom it was intended.

no love lost, very little love lost see ¹LOVE

lot /'lɒt/ noun, pl lots

1 [count] a chiefly US : a small piece of land that is or could be used for building something or for some other purpose • He bought the vacant/empty lot across the street. • They own the house on the corner lot. • a building lot — see also PARKING LOT b : the buildings and land that are owned by a company that makes movies and television programs • We took a tour of the Universal lot.

2 [count] : a small object used to choose the person who will do or receive something ♦ When someone is chosen by lot or when people draw lots or (less commonly) cast lots to choose someone, each person in a group takes a small object or a piece of paper from a container. One of the objects or pieces of paper is different from the others, and the person who takes the different one is chosen. • The winner was chosen by lot. • We drew lots to determine the winner.

3 [singular] : a person's situation in life especially as decided by chance • The organization has done much to improve the lot of underprivileged youth. • Unhappy with her lot in life, she moved to the city to start over. synonyms see DESTINY

4 informal a [count] chiefly Brit : all the members of a group of people — usually singular • Do you know the lot [=bunch, crowd] that hang around the arcade? • That lot will never amount to anything! They're a thoroughly bad lot. • Pipe down, the (whole) lot of you. = Pipe down, you lot. ♦ In British English, a person who is not liked is sometimes described as a bad lot. • He may be a bit wild, but he's not a bad lot once you get to know him. b the lot : all the things of a group • They sell tuxedos, business suits, casual wear . . . the lot. • This one's the best of the lot.

5 [count] : one or more things being sold as one item at an auction • Lot 45 is a dining room set. — see also JOB LOT

a lot 1 also (informal) lots : a large amount • She has done a lot to help other people. • I'd give a lot to be able to write like that! • I'm not asking for a lot. [=much] • They must have paid a lot for that car. • We did quite a lot this morning. • We still have a lot to do. = We still have lots (and lots) to do. 2 : very often • Do they hike a lot? • I've been seeing her a lot recently. 3 — used to say that you feel a particular emotion very strongly • “Did you like the movie?” “Yes, I liked it a lot.” [=very much] • I miss her a lot since she went away. 4 also (informal) lots : to a large degree or extent : MUCH • This is a lot nicer. [=this is much nicer] • There's a lot more to it than I realized at first. [=it's more complicated than it looks] • I'm feeling lots better. • Thanks a lot. [=very much] a lot of also (informal) lots of : a large number or amount of (things, people, etc.) • A lot of people feel that way. • There was a lot of space. = There was lots of space. • We had lots of fun. • You can enjoy yourself without spending a lot of money. • It doesn't make a (whole) lot of difference. • We don't have an awful lot of money/time. [=we don't have much money/time] • (informal) I think their ideas are a lot of garbage/nonsense. [=I think their ideas are very foolish] • (informal) It doesn't make a whole lot of [=very much] difference. • Not a lot of people [=not many people] know that. • “I've brought an umbrella.” “A (fat) lot of good that will do [=that will not do any good] now that it's stopped raining!”

leave a lot to be desired see ¹DESIRE throw in your lot with or cast your lot with : to join or become associated with a person, group, or thing that you hope will win or succeed • During the American Civil War, my great-grandfather threw in his lot with the Confederacy/Union.

loth variant spelling of LOATH

lo-tion /'louʃən/ noun, pl -tions [count, noncount] : a liquid that is rubbed onto your skin or hair • a bottle of suntan lo-tion • styling lotion

lot-tery /'lɑ:təri/ noun, pl -ter-ies

1 [count] : a way of raising money for a government, charity, etc., in which many tickets are sold and a few of the tickets are chosen by chance to win prizes • Which states have lotteries? • a national lottery • a lottery ticket • She acted like she'd just won the lottery. [=won a lottery run by a government] • Do you play the lottery? [=do you buy lottery tickets?]

2 : a system used to decide who will get or be given something by choosing names or numbers by chance [count] They held a lottery to determine who could get a green card. [noncount] Room assignments are determined by lottery.

3 [singular] : an event or situation in which what happens is decided by luck or chance • Life's a lottery, isn't it? It all depends on luck.

lo-tus /'ləʊtəs/ noun, pl -tus-es [count] : a type of flowering plant that grows on the surface of water loud /'laʊd/ adj loud-er; -est

1 : making or causing a lot of noise : strong and noticeable in sound • a loud noise/party • loud music/laughter/applause • She complained in a loud voice. • “Is the television loud enough?” “It's too loud!” — opposite QUIET

2 a of a person : noisy in a way that bothers other people • He's known for being loud and aggressive. b : expressing ideas or opinions in a very open and forceful way — + in • He has been loud in (his) praise of their efforts. [=he has strongly praised their efforts] • Her critics have been loud in (their) disapproval of her policies.

3 : very bright or too bright in color • loud [=gaudy, garish] clothes/colors/jewelry actions speak louder than words see ACTION

out loud : in a way that is loud enough to be clearly heard : ALOUD • She doesn't like to read out loud [=aloud] in class.

— loud adv, not used before a verb • Don't talk so loud! • Say it loud. • They complained loud and long about the decision. • “Can you hear me now?” “Loud and clear.” [=I can hear you very clearly] • talking loud [=talking loudly, loudly talking] — loud-ly adv • loudly singing • complaining/protesting loudly — loud-ness noun [noncount] • She complained about the loudness of the television.

loud-hail-er /,laʊd'heɪlə/ noun, pl -ers [count] Brit : BULLHORN loud-mouth /'laʊd,maʊθ/ noun, pl -mouths [count] informal + disapproving : a loud person : a person who talks too much and who says unpleasant or stupid things

— loud-mouthed /'laʊd,maʊθt/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a loudmouthed heckler loud-speak-er /'laʊd,spi:kə/ noun, pl -ers [count] : a device that is used to make sound (such as music or a person's voice) louder and to send it out so that many people can hear it in a public space • He made an announcement over/on the loudspeaker. = He made an announcement using the loud-speaker.

¹lounge /'laundʒ/ verb lounge-es; lounged; loung-ing [no obj] : to sit or lie in a relaxed way • She was lounging on the sofa. • lounging in bed : to spend time resting or relaxing • He was lounging by the pool all afternoon. • lounging at the bar — often + around or (Brit) about • We spent our vacation just lounging around [=relaxing] on the beach.

— lounge-er noun, pl -ers [count]

²lounge noun, pl lounges

1 [count] : a room with comfortable furniture for relaxing: such as a : a comfortable room where people can spend time while they are waiting in an airport or other public place • an airport lounge • the VIP lounge b : a comfortable room for relaxing in a public building (such as a hotel or school) • (US) the faculty/student lounge • The hotel has a television lounge. c US : COCKTAIL LOUNGE • We gathered in the hotel lounge for a couple of drinks. • a lounge act d Brit : LIVING ROOM

2 [count] chiefly US : a long chair or couch • She sat/reclined on the lounge.

3 [singular] : an act or period of relaxing • They had a long, leisurely lounge by the pool.

lounge chair noun, pl ~ chairs [count] chiefly US : CHAISE LONGUE lounge suit noun, pl ~ suits [count] Brit : BUSINESS SUIT

¹louse /'laus/ noun [count]

1 pl lice /'laɪs/ : a type of small insect that lives on the bodies of people or animals • a problem with head lice

2 pl lous-es informal : a bad or cruel person • Her ex-husband is a real louse.

²louse verb louse-es; loused; lous-ing louse up [phrasal verb] louse (something) up or louse up (something) informal : to do (something) badly • The waitress loused up [=messed up] our order. : to cause (something) to be ruined or spoiled • The weather really loused up our plans.

lousy /'lauzi/ adj lous-i-er; -est

1 informal a : bad or poor • She got lousy grades in high school. • I like the work, but the pay is lousy. • He was a lousy husband. : of poor quality : not good or skillful • They did a lousy job. • a lousy cook/driver • a lousy performance — often + at or with • He is lousy [=terrible] at sports/math/cooking. • She's lousy with kids. b : not well or healthy • We could see that she was feeling lousy. [=feeling ill] • He drank too much and felt lousy the next morning. c : not happy or pleased • I feel lousy [=sorry, bad] about what happened. d : not pleasant • We've been having lousy [=rotten] weather. • It's a lousy, rainy day. e : not right or proper • That's a lousy way to treat a friend. f — used to make an angry statement or description more forceful • That lousy bastard!

2 : infested with lice (see ¹LOUSE 1)

lousy with informal : having too much or too many of (something) • Her family is lousy with money. [=her family is very rich] • That area is lousy with tourists.

— lous-i-ness /'lauzɪnəs/ noun [noncount]

lout /'laut/ noun, pl louts [count] : a stupid, rude, or awkward man • a dumb/drunken lout — see also LAGER LOUT

— lout-ish /'laʊtɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] • a loutish thug

— lout-ish-ly adv • behaving loutishly — lout-ish-ness noun [noncount] lou-ver (US) or Brit lou-vre /'lu:və/ noun, pl -vers [count]

1 : an opening in a door or window that has one or more slanted strips to allow air to flow in and out while keeping out rain and sun

2 : one of the slanted strips of a louver

— lou-vered (US) or Brit lou-vred /'lu:vəd/ adj • a louvered door/window

lov-able also love-able /'lʌvəbəl/ adj [more ~; most ~]

: easy to love : having attractive or appealing qualities • a lovable clown • He has a bad temper, but he's still lovable.

— lov-ably also love-ably /'lʌvəbli/ adv • a lovably strange comedian

¹love /'lʌv/ noun

1 [noncount] : a feeling of strong or constant affection for a person • motherly/maternal love • fatherly/paternal love • brotherly/sisterly love • Children need unconditional love from their parents. — often + for • No one could doubt her love for her family.

2 [noncount] : attraction that includes sexual desire : the strong affection felt by people who have a romantic relationship • a declaration of love • He was just a lonely man looking for love. • romantic love • unrequited love • After all these years, they're still very much in love (with each other). [=they still love each other] — often used before another noun • a love poem/song/letter • a love potion • a love scene/story — see also FREE LOVE, PUPPY LOVE ♦ When people begin to feel romantic love for each other, they fall in love. • They fell (madly/passionately) in love (with each other). This phrase is also used figuratively. • She fell in love with sailing the first time she tried it. ♦ People are sometimes said to fall out of love when they stop loving each other. • It was sad to see how they gradually fell out of love (with each other) after they married. ♦ If people fall in love with each other when they first meet, it is called love at first sight. This phrase is also used figuratively. • When he saw the house, it was love at first sight. [=he loved the house as soon as he saw it]

3 [count] : a person you love in a romantic way • a lost love • You never forget your first love. [=the first person you loved in a romantic way] • He was her one true love. = He was the love of her life.

4 [singular] chiefly Brit a : a kind or helpful person : DEAR • Be a love and carry this inside for me, would you? b — used to address someone in a loving or friendly way • As long as you're up, (my) love, would you mind getting me a drink? • "How do I get to Trafalgar Square?" "Take the Number 24 bus, love."

5 [noncount] : an expression of love and affection • When you see them again, please give them my love. • Mike and Meg send their love, too. • The gift had a note saying "With love from Meg & Mike." — used to express affection at the end of a written message • Thanks for everything. Hope to see you soon. Love, Mike • Be well, my darling, till we meet again! Love and kisses, Meg

6 a [singular] : a feeling of great interest, affection, or enthusiasm for something — often + for or of • We all knew about his love for baseball. • She has a love of history. • a love of good food • "Do you sell your paintings?" "Oh no: I paint just for the love of it." • She's in love with the idea of becoming an actress. b [count] : something about which a person feels great interest or enthusiasm • Baseball was his first love.

7 [singular] : a score of zero in tennis • The score was 40-love.

all's fair in love and war see ¹FAIR

for love or money or chiefly Brit for love nor money informal — used to give added force to a negative statement • We couldn't get him to go along for love or money. [=we failed completely in our attempt to get him to go along] for the love of God also for the love of Mike/Pete informal — used to give added force to an angry statement • For the love of God, quiet down! I'm trying to get some sleep here!

labor of love see ¹LABOR

love is blind — used to say that people do not see the faults of the people that they love make love : to have sex with someone • It was the first time they made love (to/with each other).

no love lost ♦ When there is no love lost or very little love lost between people, they dislike each other. • They were polite with each other, but it was clear that there was no love lost between them.

— love-less /'lʌvləs/ adj [more ~; most ~] • an unhappy loveless marriage

²love verb loves; loved; lov-ing

1 : to feel great affection for (someone) : to feel love for (someone) [+ obj] She obviously loves her family very much. • To know him is to love him. [=the people who know him feel great affection for him] [no obj] You have to love in order to be loved.

2 [+ obj] : to feel sexual or romantic love for (someone) • He swore that he loved her madly. • He loves her, but she doesn't love him back. [=she doesn't return his love] • She said she could never marry a man she didn't love.

3 [+ obj] a : to like or desire (something) very much : to take great pleasure in (something) • He loves good food. • a much-loved old song • I would love it if you came with us. = I would love you to come with us. = (US) I would love for you to come with us. [=I would be very happy if you came with us] — often followed by to + verb • I would love to have you come with us. • She loved to play the violin. • "Would you like to join us?" "Yes, I'd love to (join you)." — often + -ing verb • She loved playing the violin. b informal : to be very amused by (something) • I just love it [=I find it very amusing] when politicians say that they don't care about polls. = I just love how politicians say that they don't care about polls.

4 [+ obj] : to do very well in (certain specified conditions) • This plant loves dry soil.

I must love you and leave you Brit, informal — used to say that you have to leave • I don't want to miss the last train, so I'm afraid I must love you and leave you.

loved one ✧ Your loved ones are the people you love, especially members of your family. • Many of her friends and loved ones visited her in the hospital.

love affair noun, pl ~ -fairs

1 [count] : a romantic or sexual relationship especially between two people who are not married to each other • His wife discovered that he was having a love affair [=having an affair] with another woman. • Theirs was a great love affair. [=they were very much in love]

2 [singular] : a feeling of great interest in and enthusiasm for something — + with • The book describes America's love affair with baseball.

love-bird /'lʌv,bɜd/ noun, pl -birds

1 [count] : a small usually gray or green bird that is a type of parrot

2 lovebirds [plural] informal + humorous : people who are lovers : people who have a romantic relationship • I think I'll leave you two lovebirds alone for a while.

love child noun, pl ~ children [count] : a child whose father and mother are not married to each other when the child is born : an illegitimate child • the love child of a famous actor and one of his fans love handles noun [plural] informal : areas of fat along the sides of a person's waist love-hate /'lʌv'heit/ adj, always used before a noun : feeling or showing a mixture of love and hate • She has a love-hate relationship with her ex-husband. [=she has strong feelings of both affection and hatred for her ex-husband]

love life noun, pl ~ lives [count] : a person's romantic and sexual activities and relationships • At that time, he had virtually no love life. • She doesn't like to talk about her love life.

love-lorn /'lʌv,lɔ:n/ adj [more ~; most ~] : unhappy because of love : feeling love for someone who does not feel the same way • a poem about a lovelorn [=lovesick] young suitor

the lovelorn : people who are unhappy because of love • Her newspaper column offers advice for the lovelorn.

love-ly /'lʌvli/ adj love-li-er; -est

1 : attractive or beautiful especially in a graceful way • She was wearing a lovely dress. • She looks simply lovely in that dress! = That dress looks simply lovely on her! • a lovely bouquet of flowers • The song has a lovely melody. synonyms see BEAUTIFUL

2 : very good or likable • He's a lovely man. [=he's a very good man]

3 : very pleasing : FINE • The hotel has a lovely view. • We enjoyed a lovely dinner. • a singer with a lovely voice • Their children have lovely manners. • How lovely of you to come! • It was lovely to have you here! • (Brit) Isn't the coffee lovely and hot! [=the coffee is pleasingly hot]

— love-li-ness noun [noncount] • the loveliness of the view lovely noun, pl -lies [count] informal : a beautiful woman : a lovely woman • A chorus line of young lovelies danced on the stage.

love-mak-ing /'lʌv,meɪkɪŋ/ noun [noncount] : sexual activity : the act of making love : SEXUAL INTERCOURSE love nest noun, pl ~ nests [count] informal : a place (such as an apartment) where people who are having a love affair meet each other secretly

lov-er /'lʌvə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

1 a : a partner in a romantic or sexual relationship — often plural • They were friends for many years before they became lovers. b : someone with whom a married person is having a love affair • His wife accused him of having a secret lover. • She left her husband and ran away with her lover.

2 : a person who loves something • a lover of music = a music lover • an art lover lover boy noun, pl ~ boys [count] informal : a man who is a woman's lover or who has sexual relations with many women • an actress and her lover boy • an aging lover boy

love seat noun, pl ~ seats [count] US : a seat or sofa for two people love-sick /'lʌv,sɪk/ adj [more ~; most ~] : unhappy because of love : feeling weak, foolish, or unhappy because someone you love does not love you • The movie is a comedy about a lovesick [=lovelorn] teenager.

— love-sick-ness noun [noncount]

love-y /'lʌvi/ noun, Brit, informal — used to address a person in a loving or friendly way • As long as you're up, love-y, would you mind getting me a drink?

love-y-dove-y /,lʌvi'dʌvi/ adj [more ~; most ~] informal : showing a lot of love or affection • a couple of love-y-dove-y newlyweds • politicians who suddenly go/get all love-y-dove-y after criticizing each other for years

lov-ing /'lʌvɪŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : feeling or showing love : AFFECTIONATE • a loving home/family • a loving glance • a loving husband/wife

2 : very careful and thorough • The old house has undergone a loving restoration. • The landscape is described in loving [=painstaking] detail. • The house requires some tender lov-ing care. [=the house needs many repairs]

— lov-ing-ly adv • He gazed at her lovingly. • The old house has been lovingly restored.

low /'lou/ adj low-er; -est

1 a : not rising or extending upward a great distance • low mountains/peaks • low hills • a low building — opposite HIGH b : extending or reaching upward less than other things of the same kind • low boots • a low fence • low [=short] grass — opposite HIGH c : not located far above the ground or another surface • low clouds/altitudes • The sun was low [=near the horizon] in the western sky. • The apartment has low ceilings. — opposite HIGH d always used before a noun : not rising above surrounding land • They have a home in the low country. • The houses are built on low ground. — opposite HIGH e : cut far down at the neck • a low dress • a dress with a low neckline [=a dress with a low-cut neckline]

2 a : less than usual in amount, number, or degree • They were traveling at a low (rate of) speed. • temperatures as low as 10 below zero • He's being treated for low blood pressure. • a low dose of medicine • She earns a low salary. • a low-income family • low heat/humidity/temperatures • low interest rates • low intelligence • Demand for his books has remained low. • a low price — opposite HIGH b : near or at the bottom of a range • Temperatures were in the low eighties. • Her salary is in the low 40s. [=her salary is between about $40,000 and $45,000] — opposite HIGH c : not having enough or the amount needed • Our supply of fuel is get-ting/running low. • The airplane was low on fuel. • We're get-ting/running low on coffee. d : having less than the usual or average amount of something — often used in combination • a low-calorie diet • low-sodium foods • a low-risk investment — see also LOW IN (below)

3 a : not favorable • He holds them in low regard/esteem. = He has a low opinion of them. [=he thinks poorly of them; he regards them unfavorably] • low hopes/expectations • Everyone was in low spirits [=unhappy] because of the rainy weather. — opposite HIGH b : sad or unhappy • She's been feeling pretty low. • a low mood c : not good : below a certain quality or standard • products of low quality • He got low marks/grades throughout college. • low morale • He has pretty low standards when it comes to choosing a hotel. • Our vacation ended on a low note [=it ended in an unpleasant way] when our flight was delayed. • The time we spent waiting at the airport was the low point [=the least enjoyable part] of our vacation. — opposite HIGH d : morally bad • a person of low character • low behavior • a low trick • low standards of conduct — opposite HIGH

4 : below others in power, importance, etc. • Losing weight is a low priority for him. = Losing weight is low on his list of priorities. • officials of low rank — see also LOWER, LOW-RANKING

5 a : not loud : SOFT • a low whisper • a low moan • They were speaking in low voices. [=they were speaking quietly]

b : near the bottom of a range of sounds • a singer with a low [=deep] voice = a singer with a low-pitched voice : occurring near the bottom of the musical scale • a low note — opposite HIGH

6 a : not strong or forceful • low winds b : not bright • plants that grow well in low light c : not hot • The sauce is best when cooked slowly over low heat. • She uses the iron on a low setting when she is working with delicate fabrics.

7 : having qualities that do not appeal to intelligent people • a low style of writing • low humor • low art — opposite HIGH

8 of a river, stream, etc. : having less water than usual • The river is low. — opposite HIGH low in : containing a small amount of (something) • Foods that are low in sodium/fat/calories. • Her diet is low in fat/carbohydrates.

— low-ness noun [noncount]

²low adv low-er; -est

1 : at or to a low place or level • The village is nestled low in the foothills. • The plane circled low over the airport. • He aimed his punches low. • a low-flying airplane • I put the larger books lower down and the smaller books higher up.

2 a : in or to a low or poor condition • a family brought low by misfortune b : at a low rate • Don't value yourself too low. • a low-paid worker

3 : at a low price • buy low and sell high

4 : with a quiet voice : not loudly • speaking low [=softly]

high and low see ²HIGH lie low see ¹LIE

³low noun, pl lows

1 [count] : a low point or level • Prices are at an all-time/record low. • The dollar has fallen to a new low against the Euro. • Have the media reached/hit a new low in bad taste? • The low [=lowest temperature] last night was 25. • The forecast is for showers with lows in the 40s. • He talked about the highs and lows [=the good parts and bad parts] of his college years.

2 [noncount] US : a gear that is used for slow speeds in a vehicle • He shifted into low. — called also (US) low gear

3 [count] weather : an area of low atmospheric pressure • A strong low is expected to bring cloudy skies tomorrow.

⁴low verb lows; lowed; low-ing [no obj] literary : to make the low sound of a cow : MOO • lowing cattle

low-ball /'lou,bɑ:l/ verb -balls; -balled; -ball-ing [+ obj] US

1 : to trick or deceive (someone) by saying that the price or cost of something is lower than it really is • It became clear that the contractor had lowballed us on the cost of materials.

2 : to give a very low or unfairly low offer to (someone) • Management lowballed him in contract negotiations.

low beam noun, pl ~ beams US : the setting of a vehicle's headlights that makes the least bright light [noncount] The car's headlights were on low beam. [plural] Turn on your low beams. — compare HIGH BEAM

low blow noun, pl ~ blows [count]

1 boxing : an illegal punch that hits a boxer below the waist

2 : an action or comment that is very hurtful and unfair • Firing her on her birthday was really a low blow.

low-brow /'lou,brau/ adj [more ~; most ~] often disapproving : not interested in serious art, literature, ideas, etc. • The movie's humor is clearly meant for a lowbrow audience. : relating to or intended for people who are not interested in serious art, literature, ideas, etc. • lowbrow humor • a lowbrow comedy — compare Highbrow, Middlebrow

— lowbrow noun, pl -brows [count] • Critics have dismissed him as a lowbrow.

low-carb adj : containing or having fewer carbohydrates than usual • low-carb foods • a low-carb diet

low-class adj low-er-class; low-est-class [also more ~; most ~] : LOWER-CLASS • a low-class neighborhood low-cut adj [more ~; most ~] of women's clothing : having the opening around the neck shaped in a way that shows the top of the chest • She was wearing a low-cut dress/blouse.

low-down /'lou,daun/ noun

the lowdown : important information or facts about something • Reporters are trying to get the lowdown on what caused the accident. [=trying to find out the truth about what caused the accident] • He gave me the lowdown about the company's vice president.

low-down /'lou,daun/ adj, always used before a noun [more ~; most ~] informal : morally bad : dishonest and unfair • He's just a low-down, good-for-nothing liar!

low-end /'lou,end/ adj low-er-end; low-est-end [also more ~; most ~] US : lower in price and quality than most others • This is a low-end [=inexpensive] camera without the extra features of more expensive models.

¹low-er /'lowə/ adj

1 always used before a noun a : located below another or others of the same kind • her lower jaw/lip • his lower extremities/limbs [=his legs and feet] • the ship's upper and lower decks b : located toward the bottom part of something • The message appeared on the lower portion of the screen. • She felt a pain in her lower leg/back. [=the lower part of her leg/back] • the mountain's upper and lower slopes c : not high above the ground • The forecast is for strong winds at lower elevations.

2 : located toward the south • in the lower and higher latitudes • the lower and upper peninsulas

3 : below another or others in position, rank, or order • higher and lower courts

4 : less advanced or developed • higher and lower animals

²low-er /'lowə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing

1 [+ obj] : to make (something or someone) lower: such as a : to cause (someone or something) to move to a lower position • He slowly lowered himself into the chair. • lower a flag • lower the window • The sailors lowered a life raft (down) to the people in the water. • She lowered her eyes. [=she looked down] b : to reduce the loudness of (something) • Please lower your voice. [=please speak more quietly] c : to reduce the value or amount of (something) • Fuel prices have been lowered in recent weeks. • A combination of diet and exercise can help to lower your cholesterol.

2 [no obj] : to become lower : DECREASE • Prices have lowered. [=more commonly] fallen, gone down] • The property has lowered [=fallen] in value.

lower the bar see ¹BAR

lower yourself : to do something that causes people to have less respect for you : to degrade yourself • I won't lower myself to respond to these accusations. [=I won't respond because I would be degrading myself if I did]

— compare ³LOWER

— lowering noun, pl -ings [count, noncount] • a significant/ slight lowering [=reduction] of cholesterol

³low-er /'lawə/ verb -ers; -ered; -er-ing [no obj] literary, of the sky or clouds : to become dark and threatening • Clouds lowered overhead. — compare ²LOWER

— lowering adj • a gray, lowering sky

low-er-case /,lowə'keis/ adj : having as its typical form a, b, c rather than A, B, C : not capital • lowercase letters — compare UPPERCASE

— lowercase noun [noncount] • letters written in lowercase

lower class noun, pl ~ classes [count] : a social class that is below the middle class and that has the lowest status in a society • a member of the lower class/classes — compare MIDDLE CLASS, UNDERCLASS, UPPER CLASS, WORKING CLASS

low-er-class /,lowə'kla:s, Brit /,lowə'kla:s/ adj : not fancy, wealthy, or expensive • a lower-class theater • lower-class families — compare HIGH-CLASS

lowest common denominator noun [noncount]

1 mathematics : the smallest number that can be divided exactly by all the numbers below the lines in a group of two or more fractions — called also (US) least common denominator

2 disapproving — used to say that the quality of something is poor because it is designed or intended to appeal to the largest possible number of people • The movie appeals to the lowest common denominator. • Television programming has sunk to the lowest common denominator.

low-fat adj : containing or having less fat than usual • a low-fat diet • low-fat dairy products

low gear noun [noncount] US : ³LOW 2

low-grade /'lou'greid/ adj

1 : of poor quality • low-grade food

2 : not very strong or severe • a low-grade fever

low-key /'lou'ki:/ also low-keyed /'lou'ki:d/ adj [more ~; most ~] : quiet and relaxed : not very forceful, emotional, or noticeable • a politician with a low-key style • The party was a low-key affair. • a low-key approach to management

low-land /'loulənd/ noun, pl -lands [count] : an area where the land is at, near, or below the level of the sea and where there are not usually mountains or large hills — usually plural • a village in the lowlands — compare HIGHLAND

— lowland adj, always used before a noun • a lowland region/village — low-land-er /'louləndə/ noun, pl -ers [count] • rivalries between highlanders and lowlanders

low-lev-el /'lou'levəl/ adj

1 : of low importance or rank • The changes will mostly involve low-level jobs/workers.

2 : not strong : low in strength or degree • low-level lighting low-life /'lou,laɪf/ noun, pl -lives [count] US, informal : a bad person : a person of low moral character • a cowardly lowlife • hanging around with a bunch of lowlives

— lowlife adj, always used before a noun • a lowlife bum

low-light /'lou,laɪt/ noun, pl -lights [count] US : something (such as an event or a detail) that is very unpleasant or dull : the worst part of something • That meal turned out to be one of the lowlights of our vacation. — compare HIGHLIGHT

low-ly /'louli/ adj low-li-er; -est : low in rank, position, or importance : HUMBLE • He was working as a lowly clerk. • He resented his lowly status. • her lowly origins
— low-li-ness noun [noncount] • the lowliness of his status

low-ly-ing /'lou'laɪŋ/ adj
 1 : not far above the level of the sea • low-lying land • low-lying hills
 2 : close to the ground • low-lying clouds

low-pitched /'lou'prɪt/ adj low-er-pitched; low-est-pitched [also more ~; most ~] : making a low sound : LOW • The machine made a low-pitched hum. • They talked quietly in low-pitched voices.

low-rank-ing adj, always used before a noun low-er-rank-ing; low-est-rank-ing : having a low rank or position • low-ranking officials

low-rent /'lou'rent/ adj, chiefly US, informal 1 : not of good quality : cheaply made or done • a low-rent movie • They create low-rent [=cheap, inexpensive] versions of current fashions.
 2 : low in moral character or social status • a low-rent thug low-rise /'lou'reɪz/ adj

 1 of a building : not tall : having few floors or stories • a low-rise classroom building
 2 : made up of low-rise buildings • a low-rise housing development

low-risk adj
 1 : not likely to result in failure, harm, or injury : not having a lot of risk • low-risk investments
 2 : less likely than others to get a particular disease, condition, or injury • low-risk patients

low season noun [noncount] : the time of year when a place is least busy or popular : OFF-SEASON

low-slung /'lou,slʌŋ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : low and close to the ground or floor • She drives a low-slung convertible. • a low-slung sofa low-spir-it-ed /'lou'spɪrətəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling sad or depressed • I've never seen her looking so low-spirited.

low-tech /'lou'tek/ adj [more ~; most ~] : not using new electronic devices and technology : technologically simple • low-tech industries • We found a low-tech solution to our problem. • The film's special effects were very low-tech.

low tide noun, pl ~ tides [count, noncount] : the tide when the water is at its lowest point • You can walk across the sand bar at low tide. — compare HIGH TIDE

lox /'lɔːks/ noun [noncount] chiefly US : smoked salmon • bagels and lox

loy-al /'loʊəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having or showing complete and constant support for someone or something : FAITHFUL • The team has many loyal fans. • a loyal customer/supporter • a loyal friend • She has provided the company with many years of loyal service. • fiercely/steadfastly loyal — often + to • She has remained/stayed loyal to her old friends. — opposite DISLOYAL
— loy-al-ly adv • has served loyally for many years

loy-al-ist /'loʊəlɪst/ noun, pl -ists [count]
 1 : a person who is loyal to a political cause, government, or leader • a group of party loyalists [=people who are loyal members of a political party]
 2 : a person from Northern Ireland who believes that Northern Ireland should remain part of the United Kingdom — opposite REPUBLICAN

loy-al-ty /'loʊəlti/ noun, pl -ties
 1 [noncount] : the quality or state of being loyal • the loyalty of the team's fans — often + to • No one questions his loyalty to the cause.
 2 [count] : a loyal feeling : a feeling of strong support for someone or something — usually plural • He was torn by conflicting/divided loyalties. • They shouldn't allow their decision to be influenced by political loyalties.
brand loyalty see ¹BRAND

loz-enge /'lɔːzɪŋdʒ/ noun, pl -eng-es [count]
 1 : a small candy that usually contains medicine • a throat/cough lozenge
 2 : a shape that is formed by four equal straight lines and that has two opposite angles that are smaller than a right angle and two opposite angles that are larger than a right angle • a scarf decorated with a pattern of lozenges [=diamonds]

LP /'el'piː/ noun, pl LP's or LPs [count] : a phonograph record designed to be played at 33¹/₃ revolutions per minute — called also long-playing record

LPN /'el'piː'en/ noun, pl LPN's or LPNs [count] US : LICENSED PRACTICAL NURSE

LSD /'el'es'diː/ noun [noncount] : an illegal drug that causes people to see and hear things that do not really exist

Lt. abbr lieutenant

Ltd. abbr limited — used in business names • Roundy & Son Ltd.

lu-au /'luːau/ noun, pl -aus [count] : a Hawaiian feast

lube /'luːb/ noun, pl lubes [count] informal
 1 : the act of putting lubricant on the moving parts of a vehicle • He took his car to the garage for a lube and oil change. • a lube job
 2 : LUBRICANT 1 • a high-quality lube

lu-bri-cant /'luːbrɪkənt/ noun, pl -cants
 1 [count, noncount] : a substance (such as grease or oil) that causes something (such as a machine part) to be slippery and to move more smoothly • The car's axles need more lubricant.
 2 [count] : something that makes it easier for people to work or talk with each other • using humor as a social lubricant

lu-bri-cate /'luːbrɪkeɪt/ verb -cates; -cat-ed; -cat-ing [+ obj] : to make (something) smooth or slippery : to apply a lubricant to (something, such as a machine or a part of a machine) • lubricate a car engine • lubricate a hinge — lu-bri-ca-tion /'luːbrɪkeɪʃən/ noun, pl -tions [noncount] a hinge that needs lubrication [count] repeated lubrications of the engine

lu-cid /'luːsɪd/ adj [more ~; most ~]
 1 : very clear and easy to understand • a lucid explanation • lucid prose
 2 : able to think clearly • The patient has remained lucid [=clearheaded] throughout his illness. • He is able to recognize his wife in his lucid moments.
— lu-cid-i-ty /'luːsɪdətɪ/ noun [noncount] • the lucidity of the explanation — lu-cid-ly adv • The problem was lucidly explained.

lu-cerne /'luːsən/ noun [noncount] Brit : ALFALFA

Lu-ci-fer /'luːsəfə/ noun [singular] — used as a name of the Devil

¹luck /'lʌk/ noun [noncount]
 1 : the things that happen to a person because of chance : the accidental way things happen without being planned • Our meeting happened by (pure) luck. [=chance] • Her business has been doing poorly, but she's hoping that her luck will change. [=she's hoping that she will begin to have success] • We had good/bad luck fishing. • He's been having nothing but bad/rotten/hard/tough/lousy luck. • He cursed his luck. ♠ When luck is on your side or luck is with you, your luck is good. When luck is against you, your luck is bad. • Our car broke down on the road, but luck was on our side and there was a garage nearby. • I arrived a little late and luck was against me: the last ticket had just been sold.
 2 a : good fortune : good luck • He succeeded through hard work and a little luck. • We need a bit of luck. • If our luck holds [=if our luck continues to be good], we should be able to arrive on time. • Before her husband left for his job interview, she gave him a kiss for luck. [=so that he would have good luck] • I can't believe they gave the job to that guy. Some people/guys have all the luck. [=some people are very lucky] • The success of his first restaurant was just beginner's luck. [=he succeeded because he was lucky, as beginners sometimes are] • With (any) luck [=if we are lucky, if what we want to happen does happen] there'll still be some tickets left when we arrive. • By a stroke of luck, there were still a few tickets left when we arrived. b : success in doing or getting something • Have you had any luck [=success] (in) finding a new apartment? • "I've been looking for a new apartment." "Any luck?" "No, not yet." • I've had no luck in finding a new apartment. • He had no better luck than I did.
as luck would have it — used to say that something happened because of good or bad luck • Our car broke down on the road, but as luck would have it [=as it turned out], there was a garage nearby. • I arrived a little late and, as luck would have it, the last ticket had just been sold.
bad luck or Brit hard luck — used in speech to show sympathy for someone who has failed or has been disappointed • "I didn't get the job." "Bad luck!" best of luck informal — used to say that you hope someone will succeed • We're sorry that you're leaving. Best of luck to you in your new job. — see also WISH SOMEONE (THE BEST OF) LUCK (below) better luck next time — used to say that you hope someone will have more success in doing or trying something in the future • I'm sorry to hear that you didn't get the job. Better luck next time.

down on your luck ✧ When you are down on your luck, your luck is bad. • She's been down on her luck lately. [=she has been suffering through a difficult time lately]

good luck 1 — used to say that you hope someone will succeed • We're sorry that you're leaving. Good luck in your new job. 2 informal — used to say that you think what someone is trying to do is difficult or impossible • "I'm planning to ask for a raise." "Oh, really? Well, good luck (to you)." [=I think it is unlikely that you will get a raise] in luck ✧ When you are in luck, something that you want to do is possible. • "Are there any tickets?" "You're in luck. We still have a few more left."

just my luck informal — used to say that bad or unpleasant things often happen to you because you are unlucky • The last ticket was sold a minute before I got there—just my luck.

Lady Luck or lady luck — used to refer to luck as if it were a woman • He blamed his problems on lady luck.

no such luck informal — used to say that you could not do or have something you wanted • We hoped we could still get tickets, but no such luck—they had all been sold.

out of luck ✧ When you are out of luck, something that you want to do is not possible. • We hoped we could still get tickets, but we were out of luck—they had all been sold.

push your luck or US press your luck ✧ If you are pushing/pressing your luck, you are taking more risks than you should or you are asking for more favors than you should. • "Can I have more time to finish the job?" "Don't press/push your luck. You've already been given extra time."

the luck of the draw — used to say that the result of something cannot be controlled and depends on chance • The weather may be good or bad that day—it all depends on the luck of the draw.

tough luck informal ✧ Tough luck can be used in speech to show sympathy for someone who has failed or has been disappointed, but it is more commonly used in an ironic way to show that you do not feel sympathy for someone. • "I need more time to finish the job." "Tough luck. You knew the job was supposed to be done by today."

try your luck ✧ To try your luck at something is to do something in the hope that you will succeed. • He's trying his luck at starting his own restaurant.

wish someone (the best of) luck : to say that you hope someone will have success • I wish you (the best of) luck in your new job. • I have a job interview this morning. Wish me luck!

— luck-less /'lʌkləs/ adj • a luckless loser

2 luck verb lucks; lucked; luck-ing luck into [phrasal verb] luck into (something) US, informal : to find or get (something) because of good luck • She lucked into a good job.

luck out [phrasal verb] US, informal : to have good luck • We arrived late but we lucked out—there were still a few tickets left.

luck-i-ly /'lʌkəli/ adv — used to say that something good or lucky has happened • Luckily [=fortunately] no one was hurt. [=it was lucky that no one was hurt]

lucky /'lʌki/ adj luck-i-er; -est

1 : having good luck : FORTUNATE • We're lucky that things turned out as well as they did. • You're lucky to have a choice. = You're lucky that you have a choice. • I feel lucky to be alive. • I count/consider myself lucky to know you. • Aren't you the lucky one! [=you are a lucky person] • "I managed to get a ticket!" "Lucky you! They were all sold out by the time I got there." • Tickets were available only for the lucky few. • The lucky winner will be given a brand new car. • I know you'll enjoy the show if you're lucky enough to get a ticket. • Congratulations on getting the job, you lucky dog! • (chiefly US) He's a lucky stiff. [=he's very lucky] • He was always lucky in love. [=he was always lucky in his romantic relationships]

2 : producing a good result by chance : resulting from good luck • He scored a goal on a lucky shot. • Their meeting was a lucky accident. • We got a lucky break. • It was a lucky coincidence that we were both there at the same time. • a lucky find/guess • It's lucky for us that the weather is so good. = We're lucky that the weather is so good. • a lucky coin/charm • This must be your lucky day. [=a day when something good happens because of good luck] • You should thank your lucky stars [=you should be very grateful] that you have a friend like her.

get lucky 1 : to have good luck : to succeed because of good luck • We thought all the tickets might have already been sold, but we got lucky—there were still a few left when we arrived. 2 informal : to succeed in finding or getting someone to have sex with you • He's hoping to get lucky tonight.

third time lucky see ¹THIRD

lucky dip noun, pl ~ dips [count] Brit : a game in which people reach into a container filled with small gifts without knowing what gift they will get — compare GRAB BAG lu-cra-tive /'lu:kɹətv/ adj [more ~; most ~] : producing money or wealth : PROFITABLE • a lucrative job/investment • a lucrative career/contract • The business has proved to be highly lucrative.

— lu-cra-tive-ly adv • lucratively employed lu-cre /'lu:kɹə/ noun [noncount] disapproving + often humorous : money or profit • the lure of lucre — often used in the phrase filthy lucre • He compromised his art for the pursuit of filthy lucre.

lu-di-crous /'lu:dəkrəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] : very foolish : RIDICULOUS • ludicrous ideas/thoughts • a ludicrous statement/suggestion • It's ludicrous [=absurd] to think that he can solve these problems himself.

— lu-di-crous-ly adv • a ludicrously improbable idea — lu-di-crous-ness noun [noncount]

1 lug /'lʌg/ verb lugs; lugged; lug-ging [+ obj] : to pull or carry (something) with great effort • She had to lug her suitcases out to the car by herself. • I was lugging a heavy camera around all day.

2 lug noun, pl lugs [count]

1 : a part (such as a handle) that sticks out like an ear

2 US, informal + humorous : a large and awkward or stupid man • He's just a big lug. — often used in way that shows affection • It's great to see you again, you big lug.

3 US : LUG NUT

luge /'lu:ʒ/ noun, pl lug-es [count] : a small sled used for racing down an ice track

— lug-er /'lu:ʒə/ noun, pl -ers [count]

lug-gage /'lʌɡɪdʒ/ noun [noncount] : the bags and suitcases that a person carries when traveling : BAGGAGE • Passengers are limited to two items of carry-on luggage.

luggage rack noun, pl ~ racks [count]

1 : a shelf for storing luggage on a train, bus, etc.

2 US : a frame on the roof of a car for carrying luggage — called also roof rack

lug nut noun, pl ~ nuts [count] US : a heavy piece of metal that is screwed on to the bolts that hold a wheel on a vehicle

lu-gu-bri-ous /lu'gu:briəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] formal : full of sadness or sorrow : very sad especially in an exaggerated or insincere way • a comic actor known for his lugubrious manner • wearing a lugubrious expression

— lu-gu-bri-ous-ly adv • sighing lugubriously — lu-gu-bri-ous-ness noun [noncount]

luke-warm /'lu:k'wɔɹm/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : slightly warm • a lukewarm [=tepid] bath • I hate drinking lukewarm coffee.

2 : not enthusiastic : not having or showing energy or excitement • Our plan got a lukewarm reception. • The producer was lukewarm about her script.

— luke-warm-ly adv • They reacted/responded lukewarmly to our plan.

1 lull /'lʌl/ verb lulls; lulled; lull-ing [+ obj]

1 : to cause (someone) to fall asleep or become sleepy • The music lulled him to sleep. — often used as (be) lulled • He was lulled to sleep by her soothing voice. • lulled by the gentle rocking of the boat

2 : to cause (someone) to feel safe and relaxed instead of careful and alert — + into • He lulls you into believing his promises. [=he tricks you into believing his promises by making you feel that he can be trusted] — often used as (be) lulled • She was lulled into a false sense of security.

2 lull noun, pl lulls [count] : a brief time when an action or activity stops — usually + in • There were several lulls in the conversation. • a lull in the fighting/action • a lull in the storm

lul-la-by /'lʌləbaɪ/ noun, pl -bies [count] : a song used to help a child fall asleep

lum-ba-go /,lʌm'beɪɡou/ noun [noncount] : pain in the lower back • experiencing an attack of lumbago

lum-bar /'lʌmbə/ adj, always used before a noun, medical

: relating to or lying near the lower back • This seat provides good lumbar support. • the lumbar region

¹lum·ber /'lʌmbə/ verb -bers; -bered; -ber-ing [no obj] : to move in a slow or awkward way • The parade lumbers through town once a year. • We saw an elephant lumbering along the road. • trucks lumbering [=rumbling] down the street • an animal with a lumbering gait — sometimes used figuratively • The economy continues to lumber along. • a big, lumbering [=slow and awkward] bureaucracy — compare ³LUMBER

²lumber noun [noncount]

1 US : wooden boards or logs that have been sawed and cut for use • trees turned into lumber [=timber] • He works for a lumber company. • the lumber industry — see also LUMBER-ING

2 Brit : large objects that are no longer used or wanted • had a clearout of all his old lumber and finally got rid of it

³lumber verb -bers; -bered; -ber-ing

lumber with [phrasal verb] lumber (someone) with (something) Brit, informal : to cause (someone) to have (something) unwanted or unpleasant • His classmates lumbered him with [=saddled him with] an unfortunate nickname. — often used as (be) lumbered with • He's been lumbered with an unfortunate nickname.

— compare ¹LUMBER

lum·ber·ing /'lʌmbərɪŋ/ noun [noncount] US : the activity or business of making lumber from logs • There has been an increase in lumbering in this area. • the lumbering industry

lum·ber·jack /'lʌmbə,dʒæk/ noun, pl -jacks [count] : a person whose job is to cut down trees for wood : LOGGER

lumber room noun, pl ~ rooms [count] Brit : a room for storing old pieces of furniture and other things that are not being used lum·ber·yard /'lʌmbə,jɑ:d/ noun, pl -yards [count] US : a place where wooden boards are kept for sale • He went to the lumberyard [= (Brit) timber yard] to buy wood.

lu·mi·nary /'lu:mə,neri, Brit 'lu:mənəri/ noun, pl -nar-ies [count] : a very famous or successful person : CELEBRITY • luminaries of the art world

lu·mi·nes·cence /,lu:mə'nesns/ noun [noncount] technical : the creation of light by processes that do not involve heat; also : the light created • the luminescence of the watch — lu·mi·nes·cent /,lu:mə'nesnt/ adj [more ~; most ~] • luminescent insects • a luminescent watch dial lu·mi·nous /'lu:mənəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : producing or seeming to produce light : SHINING • luminous stars/galaxies • I saw the cat's luminous eyes in my car's headlights. • a watch with a luminous dial — often used figuratively • the luminous clarity of her writing • a luminous essay

2 a : filled with light : brightly lit • The room was luminous with sunlight. b : very bright in color • a luminous blue

— lu·mi·nos·i·ty /,lu:mə'nɔ:səti/ noun [singular] • measuring a star's luminosity • the luminosity of a typical galaxy — lu·mi·nous·ly adv • colors gleaming luminously in the sunlight • a luminously clear writing style

¹lump /'lʌmp/ noun, pl lumps [count]

1 : a small piece or mass of something • a lump of coal • turning a lump of clay into a beautiful pot • He likes two lumps [=cubes] of sugar with his coffee.

2 : an area of swelling or growth on your body • a cancerous lump • He got a lump on his head after bumping into the doorway.

a lump in your throat : a tight feeling in your throat that you get when you are about to start crying or when you are trying not to cry • The movie's final scene left me with a lump in my throat. = I got a lump in my throat when I watched the film's final scene.

take your lumps or take a lot of lumps US, informal : to be badly beaten or hurt • He took a lot of lumps as a kid growing up in the city. — usually used figuratively • Their first album took its lumps from the critics. [=it was harshly criticized] • The team has taken its lumps [=it has lost many games] this year, but their play has improved recently.

²lump verb lumps; lumped; lump-ing

1 [+ obj] : to put (people or things) together or in the same group • He made the mistake of lumping all their ideas together as foolish. • She often gets lumped in with other modern artists even though her work is different from theirs.

2 [no obj] : to form lumps : to become lumpy • You'll need to stir the mixture constantly to keep it from lumping.

lump it informal : to accept or allow something unpleasant or unwanted — usually used in the phrase like it or lump it • Like it or lump it, the new law goes into effect today. [=it goes into effect whether you like it or not] lump·ish /'lʌmpɪʃ/ adj [more ~; most ~] : heavy and dull or awkward • a slow-witted, lumpish man

— lump·ish·ness noun [noncount]

lump sum noun, pl ~ sums [count] : an amount of money that is paid at one time : a single sum of money • The bonus is paid out in a lump sum. [=it is paid out all at once] • a lump-sum payment

lumpy /'lʌmpi/ adj lump·i·er; -est : having lumps : full of lumps • a lumpy mattress • lumpy mashed potatoes — lump·i·ness /'lʌmpinəs/ noun [noncount]

lu·na·cy /'lu:nəsi/ noun [noncount]

1 a : extreme foolishness • Quitting her job was an act of sheer/pure lunacy. [=madness] b : something that is very foolish • Quitting her job was lunacy. • It would be lunacy [=madness] to try driving home in this storm. • His idea was considered total/sheer/complete lunacy.

2 old-fashioned : extreme mental illness : INSANITY

lu·nar /'lu:nə/ adj, always used before a noun : of or relating to the moon • a lunar rock • the lunar surface • a lunar eclipse • a lunar month [=the time between one new moon and the next, one full moon and the next, etc.]

¹lu·na·tic /'lu:nə,tɪk/ noun, pl -tics [count] informal

1 old-fashioned + sometimes offensive : an insane person • a murderous lunatic • He was raving like a lunatic.

2 informal : a person who behaves in a very foolish way • I almost got into an accident with some lunatic on the highway. • My boss is a complete lunatic. • He was a lunatic out on the ski slopes. [=he was an extremely daring, reckless, or aggressive skier]

²lunatic adj, always used before a noun

1 a old-fashioned + sometimes offensive : designed for insane people • a lunatic asylum b : not sane • a lunatic [=crazy] genius

2 : wildly foolish • He hatched a lunatic plot to overthrow the government. • another of his lunatic ideas • lunatic behavior • a lunatic risk lunatic fringe noun [singular] : the members of a political or social group or movement who have the most extreme or foolish ideas • His nomination is opposed by the party's lunatic fringe.

¹lunch /'lʌntʃ/ noun, pl lunch-es : a light meal eaten in the middle of the day [count] I like to eat/have a healthy lunch every day. • a company lunch [=luncheon] • We took a picnic lunch to the park. • They've brought their own lunches with them. • We discussed the idea over a working/business lunch. [=a lunch during which people talk about business matters] [noncount] What's for lunch? • I had/ate just a sandwich for lunch. • Where do you want to go for lunch? = Where do you want to eat/have lunch? • I bought her some lunch. • She often sits alone at lunch. [=while eating lunch] • We discussed the idea over lunch. [=during lunch; while eating lunch] • I offered to take her out to lunch. [=to take her to a restaurant for lunch] • lunch hour [=the time when the people in a school or company eat lunch] ♢ When people do lunch they have lunch together. This is an informal phrase that is often associated with people in business. • Let's do lunch sometime.

eat/have someone or something for lunch or eat someone's or something's lunch US, informal : to defeat someone or something very badly • The big hardware chain was eating the local store's lunch. [=the big chain was taking a lot of business from the local store] lose your lunch US slang : to throw up : VOMIT • I felt like I was about to lose my lunch.

no free lunch ♢ The expression there is no free lunch or there is no such thing as a free lunch means that it is not possible to get something that is desired or valuable without having to pay for it in some way.

out to lunch informal : not aware of what is really happening : too strange or confused to notice or understand what is really happening • That guy acts like he's out to lunch.

²lunch verb lunches; lunched; lunch-ing [no obj] : to eat lunch • She often lunches in the park. • We lunched on leftovers.

— lunch·er noun, pl -ers [count]

lunch box noun, pl ~ boxes [count] : a box in which a lunch can be kept and carried to school, work, etc.

lunch break noun, pl ~ breaks [count] : the time when people stop working or studying to have lunch : LUNCH

HOOR • Let's go out during our lunch break.

lunch counter noun, pl ~ -ers [count] US

1 : a long counter at which lunches are sold

2 : LUNCHEONETTE

lun-cheon /'lʌntʃən/ noun, pl -cheons [count] : a usually formal lunch that occurs as part of a meeting or for entertaining a guest • a company luncheon • a ladies' luncheon

lun-cheon-ette /,lʌntʃə'net/ noun, pl -ettes [count] US : a small restaurant where lunches are served luncheon meat noun, pl ~ meats [count, noncount] : cooked meat (such as sliced meat or canned meat) that is usually eaten cold • sliced ham, turkey, and other luncheon meats — called also (US) lunch meat lunch hour noun, pl ~ hours [count] : the time when people stop working or studying to have lunch • She likes to go for a walk during her lunch hour.

lunch-room /'lʌntʃ,ru:m/ noun, pl -rooms [count] US

1 : a large room in a school or business where people eat lunch

2 : LUNCHEONETTE

lunch-time /'lʌntʃ,taim/ noun, pl -times : the time in the middle of the day when people usually eat lunch [noncount] It was nearly lunchtime when we got there. [count] They enjoyed the lunchtimes they spent together.

lung /'lʌŋ/ noun, pl lungs [count] : either one of the two organs that people and animals use to breathe air • He filled his lungs with the clean, fresh air. • lung disease/cancer • She shouted at the top of her lungs [=she shouted as loudly as possible] — see picture at HUMAN

¹lunge /'lʌŋdʒ/ noun, pl lung-es [count] : a sudden forward movement • He made a lunge at me with his knife. • He made a desperate lunge for the ball.

²lunge verb lunges; lunged; lung-ing [no obj] : to move or reach forward in a sudden, forceful way • He lunged at me with his knife. • She lunged across the table. • The crocodile lunged at its prey. • The dog lunged for his throat.

lu-pus /'lu:pəs/ noun [noncount] medical : a disease that affects the nervous system, joints, and skin

¹lurch /'lɜ:tʃ/ verb lurch-es; lurched; lurch-ing [no obj]

1 : to make a sudden sideways or forward motion • The boat lurched in the rough seas. • The bus lurched along/down the highway. • The jeep lurched to a stop.

2 : to move or walk in an awkward or unsteady way • She lost her balance and lurched into the counter. • He lurched to his feet. — often used figuratively • Investors worry as the economy lurches towards recession. • He always seems to be lurching from one crisis to another. • The movie lurches from one car chase scene to the next.

²lurch noun, pl lurches [count] : a sudden sideways or forward movement • You could feel the bumps and lurches as the bus moved down the highway. • The train gave a lurch as it left the station. = The train left the station with a lurch. — compare ³LURCH

³lurch noun

leave (someone) in the lurch : to leave someone without help or protection when it is needed • His advisers left him in the lurch when he needed them the most.

— compare ²LURCH

¹lure /'luə/ verb, always followed by an adverb or preposition lures; lured; lur-ing [+ obj] : to cause or persuade (a person or an animal) to go somewhere or to do something by offering some pleasure or gain • advertisers trying to lure [=attract] a younger audience to their products • They lured the bear out of its den. • The suburbs are luring middle-class families away from the city. • The police lured him back to the scene of the crime. • Explorers were lured to the area by tales of a city of gold. • An attractive window display can help to lure shoppers into the store.

²lure noun, pl lures [count]

1 : an appealing or attractive quality — usually singular • Tourists are drawn to the area by the lure of the Arizona sunshine. • The birds find the lure of the feeder irresistible. • He was unable to resist the lure of easy money.

2 : a device used for attracting and catching animals, birds, or especially fish

lu-rid /'lʌrəd/ adj [more ~; most ~] disapproving

1 : causing shock or disgust : involving sex or violence in a way that is meant to be shocking • lurid [=sensational] tabloid headlines • a lurid front-page story • a lurid tale of violence and betrayal • the lurid [=gruesome] details of the crime

2 : shining or glowing with a bright and unpleasant color • a lurid neon sign • the lurid lighting of a nightclub • The light from the fire cast a lurid glow on everything.

— lu-rid-ly adv • luridly sensational headlines • a scene luridly lit by smoky sunlight — lu-rid-ness noun [noncount]

lurk /'lɜ:k/ verb lurks; lurked; lurk-ing [no obj]

1 : to be in a hidden place • The cat was lurking [=hiding] behind the sofa. : to wait in a secret or hidden place especially in order to do something wrong or harmful • She could tell there was someone out there lurking in the shadows. — often used figuratively • Trouble lurks around every corner. • There is tenderness that lurks underneath his tough appearance. • Who knows what evil lurks in the hearts of men? • The idea had been lurking in her mind for some time.

2 computers : to read messages written by other people on the Internet in a newsgroup, chat room, etc., without writing any messages yourself

— lurk-er noun, pl -ers [count]

lus-cious /'lʌʃəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having a very appealing taste or smell : DELICIOUS • luscious fruits • chocolate cake with a luscious whipped cream topping • a luscious wine

2 a : richly appealing • a luscious [=delightful] singing voice

b informal : very physically attractive • an incredibly luscious actress

— lus-cious-ly adv • a lusciously creamy cheesecake — lus-cious-ness noun [noncount]

¹lush /'lʌʃ/ adj lush-er; -est

1 a : having a lot of full and healthy growth • lush grass • lush [=luxuriant] tropical vegetation • The frequent rainfall encourages the lush growth of trees, ferns, and shrubs. b : covered with healthy green plants • lush green fields/farms/pastures • She always wanted to live on a lush Caribbean island. • The hills are lush with deep, thick grass.

2 : having a pleasingly rich quality • a lush and fruity wine • lush color photos • the film's lush imagery • a lush carpet

— lush-ly adv • lushly planted gardens • a lushly [=lavishly] illustrated book — lush-ness noun [noncount] • the lush-ness of the surrounding countryside

²lush noun, pl lush-es [count] informal : a person who is often drunk : DRUNK • He's just an old lush.

¹lust /'lʌst/ noun, pl lusts

1 : a strong feeling of sexual desire [noncount] He was consumed by lust. • He was motivated more by lust than love. [=more by the desire for sex than by affection] [count] satisfying their lusts

2 : a strong desire for something [singular] a lust [=craving, desire] for money/adventure • He was driven by a lust for power. • a lust for life [=a strong desire to live a full and rich life] [noncount] Lust for chocolate drew her into the candy store. — see also BLOODLUST

²lust verb lusts; lust-ed; lust-ing [no obj]

1 : to have a strong sexual desire for someone — usually + after • He lusted after the prettiest girl in the school. — sometimes + for • He had lusted for her for years.

2 : to have a strong desire for something — usually + after • She's been lusting after [=craving] that job for many months. — sometimes + for • investors lusting for profits — sometimes followed by to + verb • a general who lusted to command

lus-ter (US) or Brit lus-tre /'lʌstə/ noun [singular]

1 : the shiny quality of a surface that reflects light • the luster of polished metal • He polished the silverware for hours trying to restore its luster. • the luster of her eyes

2 : an appealing, exciting, or admired quality • The trip loses some of its luster [=it becomes less appealing or exciting] after you've done it several times. • The scandals have tarnished/dimmed his luster. [=damaged his reputation] • the luster [=renown] of the family's name

— lus-ter-less (US) or Brit lus-tre-less adj • dull lusterless eyes • lusterless silverware — lus-trous /'lʌstrəs/ adj [more ~; most ~] • lustrous silk • a lustrous [=shining] surface

lust-ful /'lʌstfəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : feeling or showing strong sexual desire : feeling or showing lust • He looked at her with lustful eyes. • lustful feelings/dreams/thoughts

— lust-ful-ly /'lʌstfəli/ adv • gazing lustfully at one another lusty /'lʌsti/ adj lust-i-er; -est

1 : full of strength and energy • a lusty shout/cry • lusty [=powerful] singing • working with lusty determination

2 : LUSTFUL • lusty teenagers

— lust-i-ly /'lʌstəli/ adv [more ~; most ~] • singing lustily • cheering/applauding lustily — lust-i-ness /'lʌstinəs/ noun [noncount]

lute /'lu:t/ noun, pl lutes [count] : a musical instrument with strings that resembles a guitar and that was played especially in past centuries

Lu·ther·an /'lu:θərən/ noun, pl -ans [count] : a member of one of the Protestant churches that follow the teachings of Martin Luther – Lutheran adj

luv·vie /'lʌvi/ noun, pl -vies [count] Brit, informal : someone (such as an actor or actress) who is very friendly in a way that does not seem sincere lux·u·ri·ant /,lʌg'zəriənt, Brit ,lʌg'zjuəriənt/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : having heavy and thick growth : LUSH • a luxuriant gray beard • luxuriant vegetation

2 : having an appealingly rich quality • a luxuriant symphony • luxuriant colors

– lux·u·ri·ance /,lʌg'zəriəns, Brit ,lʌg'zjuəriəns/ noun [noncount] • the luxuriance of his beard – lux·u·ri·ant·ly adv • a luxuriantly bearded man lux·u·ri·ate /,lʌg'zəri,eɪt, Brit ,lʌg'zjuəri,eɪt/ verb -ates; -at·ed; -at·ing [no obj] : to enjoy something that is appealingly rich or relaxing — usually + in • He spent the morning luxuriating in his bed. • She luxuriated in the beauties of the natural world.

lux·u·ri·ous /,lʌg'zərijəs, Brit ,lʌg'zjuəriəs/ adj [more ~; most ~]

1 : very comfortable and expensive : richly appealing • a luxurious apartment/restaurant • one of the country's most luxurious resorts/hotels • a luxurious fabric/fur

2 : feeling or showing a desire for expensive things • a store that caters to the luxurious tastes of the rich

– lux·u·ri·ous·ly adv • a luxuriously furnished/decorated apartment – lux·u·ri·ous·ness noun [noncount]

lux·u·ry /'lʌkfəri/ noun, pl -ries

1 [noncount] : a condition or situation of great comfort, ease, and wealth • living in luxury • a symbol of luxury • the height of luxury — often used before another noun • a luxury apartment • a luxury car/liner • luxury goods/items

2 a [count] : something that is expensive and not necessary • He spent a fortune on expensive wines and other luxuries. • Right now a new car is a luxury that I can't afford. • On my salary, I can afford few luxuries. b [singular] : something that is helpful or welcome and that is not usually or always available • We were lucky to have the luxury of choosing from among several good options. • We can't afford the luxury of waiting any longer.

in the lap of luxury see ¹LAP

luxury box noun, pl ~ boxes [count] US : an area with a roof and private seats near the top of a sports stadium

¹-ly /li/ adv suffix

1 : in a (specified) manner • sadly • jokingly • slowly

2 a : in a (specified) period of time • The paper is published weekly. b : to a (specified) degree or extent • extremely good • relatively cheap • partially true c : in a (specified) place in a series • secondly • lastly

²-ly adj suffix

1 : similar in appearance, manner, or nature to a (specified) person • queenly • fatherly

2 : characterized by regular occurrence in (specified) periods of time • a weekly paper

ly·chee or li·tchi also li·chee /'li:ʃi:, Brit 'lai,ʃi:/ noun, pl -chees or -tchis [count] : the fruit of an Asian tree that has a hard outer covering and a seed surrounded by sweet flesh; also : the tree that produces this fruit

Ly·cra /'laɪkrə/ trademark — used for a type of cloth that stretches lye /'lai/ noun [noncount] : a strong chemical that is used especially in making soap lying present participle of LIE

ly·ing·in /,ləɪn'ɪn/ noun, pl lyings-in or lying-ins [count] old-fashioned : the time when a woman lies in bed before, while, and after giving birth to a baby

Lyme disease /'laɪm-/ noun [noncount] : a serious disease that is spread by the bite of a small insect (called a deer tick)

lymph /'lɪmf/ noun [noncount] medical : a pale fluid that contains white blood cells and that passes through channels in the body and helps to keep bodily tissues healthy

– lym·phat·ic /lɪm'fætɪk/ adj • lymphatic tissue • the lymphatic system

lymph node noun, pl ~ nodes [count] medical : any one of many rounded masses of tissue in the body through which lymph passes to be filtered and cleaned lynch /'lɪŋʃ/ verb lynch·es; lynched; lynch·ing [+ obj] : to kill (someone) illegally as punishment for a crime • The accused killer was lynched by an angry mob.

lynch mob noun, pl ~ mobs [count] : a crowd of people who lynch or try to lynch someone

lynchpin variant spelling of LINCHPIN

lynx /'lɪŋks/ noun, pl lynx or lynx-es [count] : a large wild cat of North America — see picture at CAT

lyre /'ləjə/ noun, pl lyres [count] : a musical instrument with strings that was used especially in ancient Greece

¹lyr·ic /'lɪrɪk/ noun, pl -ics [count]

1 : the words of a song • a song with a beautiful lyric — usually plural • a song with beautiful lyrics • She knows the lyrics to all her favorite songs. • The song's lyrics made no sense to her. • Who wrote the lyrics for/to this song?

2 : a poem that expresses deep personal feelings in a way that is like a song : a lyric poem • a poet admired for his lyrics

²lyric adj [more ~; most ~]

1 a : expressing deep feelings in a way that is like a song • Greek lyric poetry b : writing lyric poetry • a lyric poet

2 always used before a noun, of an opera singer : having a light and pure voice • a lyric soprano

lyr·i·cal /'lɪrɪkəl/ adj [more ~; most ~] : having an artistically beautiful or expressive quality • She is noted for her lyrical moviemaking style. • a painter known for his lyrical landscapes • a lyrical account of frontier life

wax lyrical chiefly Brit, informal : to talk about something in a very enthusiastic way • He waxed lyrical about the time he spent living in southern France.

– lyr·i·cal·ly /'lɪrɪkli/ adv

lyr·i·cism /'lɪrɪsɪzəm/ noun [noncount] : a quality that expresses deep feelings or emotions in a work of art : an artistically beautiful or expressive quality • poetic lyricism • music rich with lyricism • the lyricism of his paintings

lyr·i·cist /'lɪrəsɪst/ noun, pl -cists [count] : a person who writes the words of a song : a writer of lyrics

M

¹m or M /'em/ noun, pl m's or ms or M's or Ms

1 : the 13th letter of the English alphabet [count] a word that starts with an m [noncount] a word that starts with m

2 [count] : the Roman numeral that means 1,000 • MM [=2,000]

²m abbr 1 male 2 married 3 meter 4 mile

M abbr 1 medium — usually used for a clothing size • The shirt comes in S, M, L, and XL. 2 million ma /'ma:/ noun, pl mas [count] informal : a person's mother • Her ma and pa both said she can't go. • When's supper, Ma?

MA abbr 1 master of arts • She has an MA in English. • Lawrence Smith, MA 2 Massachusetts

ma'am /'mæm/ noun [noncount]

1 US — used to politely speak to a woman who you do not know • May I help you with your luggage, ma'am? [=madam]

2 Brit — used to speak to the Queen or to a woman of high rank in the police or military

mac or mack /'mæk/ noun, pl macs or macks [count] Brit, informal : MACKINTOSH

Mac /'mæk/ noun [singular] US, informal + old-fashioned + sometimes impolite — used to speak to a man who you do not know • Hey, Mac [=buddy], could you move your car?

ma·ca·bre /mə'ka:b, mə'ka:brə/ adj [more ~; most ~] : in-

